"Look at South Carolina. Here our work is, and from the first has been, theoretically upon the New England basis. This is called a mixed Conference, no provision having been made for the white people, except to worship with the colored. As a result, we have no white members in that State. Our best friends from the North who have gone into South Carolina have mostly united with other churches, and the Methodist Episcopal Church in South Carolina is necessarily made up of colored people with a few white missionaries and teachers."

In the steam-cars going to the Centennial grounds we found a negro was the only passenger in a crowded coach, having a whole seat. We noticed divers visitors who talked through their nose preferred to stand up an hour rather than sit with perhaps a Southern Supreme Judge or Congressman. We were told that a rumor ran in a sleeping-car, on a western train, that a negro had a berth, and there was a general muster of indignation Hoosiers.

Every sane man knows Massachusetts could not sleep a night under such a government as disgraces the American name in South Carolina.

In the United States, every worthy citizen reads a newspaper, and owns the paper which he reads. A newspaper is a window through which we look out on all that is going on in the world. Without a newspaper a man is shut up in a small room, and knows little or nothing of what is happening outside of himself. In our day, newspapers keep pace with history and record it. A good newspaper will keep a sensible man in sympathy with the world's current history. It is an ever unfolding encyclopedia, an unbound book forever issuing and never finished.—Christian Union.

The Unsolved Problems. "What shall it profit a man if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul? Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul. How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?

Religious Intelligence.

—Above 80,000 names have been signed to a memorial from women only for the inspection and registration of nunneries in Great Britain.

—The bill of M. Pressense, in the French National Assembly, for securing the freedom of meeting for public worship, has passed to a second reading by the vote of 417 to 107.

—The consecration of the Rev. J. H. H. Brown as the Protestant Episcopal Bishop of the Diocese of Fond du Lac, Wis., is to take place to-day, at St. John's Church, Cohoes, New York.

—The English Independent states that the Congregational church sittings in London amount to two hundred thousand, the accomodation having been doubled during the past twenty-three years.

—The Church Missionary Society, London, has received an additional donation of $25,000 toward the mission in King Mtesa's country, Africa, which was invited through the African explorer, Mr. Stanly.

—A telegram to the Montreal Witness from Oka, an Indian village on the Ottawa river, says that a Protestant Indian church was completely wrecked by a crowd of French Canadian Roman Catholics Thursday.

—The Government of Peru is again in trouble with the Romish Church. The Bishop of Cuzco has carried into effect a Papal brief without the consent of the Government, as the law demands. The Bishop is to be subjected to trial.

—A correspondent of The National Baptist of Philadelphia tells a romantic story of a young man, named Rafidall, formerly a resident of New York, who was captured in Syria by the Bedouins, married a sheik's daughter, and has converted her and others of the tribe to the Christian faith.

—Presbyterians are organized in Utah. The Presbytery, which held its fall session the middle of October last in the First Presbyterian church of Salt Lake City, installed a pastor, voted unanimously in favor of synodical representation, and resolved to sustain the Salt Lake Collegiate Institute. This is the only Presbyterian school of high grade within one thousand miles of Salt Lake City.

—The superintendent of the London Society's mission to New Guinea gives a report of the first year's work done by the little steamer "Ellengowan," presented by Miss Baxter, of Dundee. Eight voyages have been made to the islands in Torres Straits and to the mainland. A large river called "Baxter" has been explored for a distance of 90 miles, and ere long another river is to be entered, in search of healthy locations in the unknown interior of New Guinea. The voyaging among reefs unmarked in the charts is dangerous, and the little vessel, considering the variety of service required of her, has done admiralty well. By this means the superintendent has been enabled to watch over the native teachers, carry them supplies regularly, and remove them, when suffering from sickness in unhealthy localities. Without such a vessel it would be impossible to carry on an enterprise among the most difficult in missionary annals.

—For the past three years there has existed a serious feud among the Baptists of Germany. It had its rise in a quarrel with the parent church in Hamburg and resulted in the withdrawal of some members and the organization of a new church. The parent church, by its influence, threw the new church out of the association, and laid down rules that would prevent the recognition of the church by any other church. At the late triennial meeting of the General Association it was required of the local association that they meet the excluded church and attempt a reconciliation. This was done unsuccessfully. Two or three others were then added to confer with them; and, at last, after several hours conference, when the remaining brethren were nearly worn out with the protracted prayer-meeting which they were continuing for God's blessing on the labor for peace, the parties returned with the report that they had come to satisfactory terms. The whole German Baptist Union now includes 110 churches, with 22,501 members and 1,296 preaching stations. During the past three years 4,874 have been baptized. The expensive China mission will be given up, and the German Baptists will confine their foreign missions to Russia, where their work has great success. The Baptists there are called Stundists.

—The work of the American Board in Japan continues to move forward. It was expected that a new church would be organized at Hiogo about the beginning of August. Hiogo is a large town one mile west of the foreign concession, Kobe, where a flourishing congregation has for some time existed. The few Hiogo Christians want a church "standing by itself," by which they mean that they wish to pay their own incidental expenses and chapel rent. From the Island Shikoku, recently visited by one of the missionaries, the news is likewise encouraging. Some who heard the preaching have taken down their god-shelves and destroyed them. In the old sacred capital, Kiyato, the work moves more slowly. The medical missionary, Dr. Taylor, meets with much opposition on the part of officials, and has been baffled in several attempts to open dispensaries and preaching places. Still, the gospel is now preached at four places in Kiyoto, or every Sabbath, to upward of 250 people. Mr. Atkinson writes to The Missionary Herald:

"The central government does not seem to trouble itself about Christianity in the empire. It can evidently be taught anywhere, provided the local authorities are agreed. The one hinderance is the twenty-five miles treaty limit. We go outside of this limit only on passport for a trip, or as connected with schools or government works."

Our Young People.

BOYS' RIGHTS.

I wonder now if any one
In this broad land has heard,
In favor of down-trodden boys
One solitary word?
We hear enough of "woman's rights,"
And "rights of working men,"
Of "equal rights" and "nation's rights,"
But pray just tell us when Boys' rights were ever spoken of!
Why, we've become so used
To being scrubbed by every one,
And slighted and abused,
That when one is polite to us
We open wide our eyes,
And stretch them in astonishment
To nearly twice their size!
Boys seldom dare to ask their friends
To venture in the house;
It don't chime natural at all
To creep round like a mouse,
And if we should forget ourselves
And make a little noise,
Then ma or auntie sure would say,
"Oh my! those dreadful boys!"
The girls bang on the piano,
In peace, but if the boys
Attempt a tune with fife and drum,
It's "Stop that horrid noise!"
Deafened thus, we lose no time
In beating a retreat
So off we go to romp and tear
And scamper in the street
Perhaps that text the preacher quotes
Sometimes—"Train up a child"—
Means only train the little girls
And let the boys run wild.
But patience, and the time shall come
When we will all be men,
And when it does, I rather think
Wrongs will be righted then.

From Our Little Friends.

DARDANELLE, ARK., Sept. 24, 1876.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: I have been wanting to write you a letter for the ADVOCATE a long time. I have concluded to write this evening. We have a very good Sabbath school; the largest in town, as our church is the strongest. But our Sabbath school is not as large as it was a while back, and there is not as much interest taken in it as there might to be. Rev. O. P. Thomas is our preacher now, but he will be with us but one more Sabbath, as he starts to Conference next week, and I don't suppose he will come back next year, and we all hate very much to give him up, for we all think a great deal of him; but he has been with us already three years, and we can't hope to get him back again next year. I hope we will think as much of our next preacher as we do of him. You can tell Miss Bettie Lewis that her question is found in First Kings, twenty-second chapter and thirty-ninth verse. Now I will ask the boys and girls a Bible question: Where is "A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver?"

I remain, as ever, your friend,

AMANDA A. HOWELL.

COMMERCE, ALA., Oct. 9, 1876.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: As I see you have published my letter before, I thought I would try again. Our camp meeting closed on Tuesday night, October 3. There were five thousand people there on Sunday. It lasted five days and nights. You may tell Miss Naomi M. E. Walker, of Shackleville, Ala., that the word damsel means a girl, and that the word damsel is found in the fourteenth verse of the twenty-fourth chapter of Genesis. I will also ask a question: Who was it that heard the Gentiles had also received the word of God, and where they were when they heard it? The answer is found in the New Testament. They must receive no help in finding the answer. In my next letter I hope I will have something pleasant to tell you about our Sunday school. Fearing you will grow weary with me, I will close.

From your little friend,

J. E. MIXON.

HOUSTON, TEX., Sept. 6, 1876.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: I am nine years old. My pa is an itinerant preacher. He is now getting ready to start to an appointment. We have two Sunday schools at Hillsboro—one Union and one Methodist. You and the little people can guess which I attend. My pa takes three Advocates—the Nashville, the Galveston, and the New Orleans. I would say in answer to Miss Bettie Lewis' question that the answer can be found in the twenty-second chapter and thirty-ninth verse of First Kings. I love to read Uncle Bob's letters in the Western Methodist. I shall quit; my letter is too long now.

Your little friend,

ETHLEMORE V. COX.

Sir Thomas Gresham.

Have you ever thought how great things may depend on little ones? You have heard people say: "Oh, that is only a little thing!" But you should never despise little things, for God himself often works by means of them, and, to illustrate the truth of what I say, I will tell you a story.

About three hundred and fifty years ago a woman with a little baby in her arms was trudging along a country lane—a lane resplendent with spring flowers, and such a one as England alone possesses.

Now I am sorry to say that this woman was very anxious to rid herself of this baby, and so she determined to leave it behind. With this object, after looking up and down the lane very carefully to see that no one was watching her, she clambered over a gate into a field, and, wrapping the baby in its little shawl, she laid it down in the grass so gently as to be sure not to awaken it, and then—never even looking behind her—she climbed over the gate again, and pursued her journey down the lane.

The baby soon awoke and began to cry; and it cried for a long, long time. And at last, worn out, hungry, and hot with the sun—for it was a glorious day—it soon got tired, and dropped off to sleep again.

By and by a schoolboy came down the lane. He was whistling away, and was as happy as he could be, for he had just come out of school, and was going home. He lived at a farm-house a little way further up the lane.

As he went along he gathered some flowers; then he very cruelly chased a butterfly; and then he was naughty enough to pick up a stone and throw it at a bird in the hedge. But just as he came to the gate over which the woman had climbed he heard a grasshopper chirping away so loudly that nothing would do but that he must get over the gate and try and catch the grasshopper.

So over the gate he went; but he had not gone many yards before he saw something that looked like a parcel in the grass. He could not think what it was. But try and picture his astonishment, if you can, when he found a baby fast asleep wrapped up in a shawl!

At first he was not quite certain whether it was alive or not; but of that he was soon convinced, for when he touched it the baby awoke and began to cry. The lad did not quite know at first what to do; but he soon made up his mind, for picking up the baby in his arms he went as fast as he could with it to his mother.

The farmer's wife was a kind woman, and, though she had several children of her own, she at once determined to keep the little orphan, and all the more readily when she heard how wonderfully he had been preserved by a grasshopper.

Years passed away, and the babe became a strong boy; the boy grew to be a man; and then he went to London, and by his own industry and perseverance became a merchant. God blessed all he did, and he rose to be the most noted man in the city.

The order of knighthood was conferred upon him, and the queen—for it was in the days of Queen Elizabeth—used often to send for him to consult him on the great affairs of State.

It was under this queen that English commerce began the rapid career of development which has made us the carriers of the world, and as a mark of this progress Sir Thomas Gresham founded the Royal Exchange.

It was a great day for the city of London, and a great day for Sir Thomas Gresham, for the queen came to dine with him, and to lay the first stone of the great building.

And when it was completed Sir Thomas placed on the topmost pinnacle a grasshopper, to tell you and me, and all the busy toiling city, that we should never despise little things, and that God works in a mysterious way, and can save a valuable life by even such a little thing as a grasshopper.—Children's Friend.

The Hole in the Basket.

A native preacher in the South Seas once gave the following illustration.

He said: "I will relate an ancient story to show how the gods once punished the sin of selfishness.

"Two men went fishing on the reef, and, after many hours, both took up their fishing tackle and baskets to return home. One of the men had been quite successful, and had a full basket. The other, who had not obtained any, asked his fortunate friend to give him a fish. The reply was: 'No, get some yourself; I will not part with mine.' So saying, he shouldered his heavy basket and marched away. The other man walked behind with his empty basket.

"Now there was a small hole in the bottom of the basket of the fortunate fisherman; but he was not aware of it. Presently a fish fell through, quite unknown to its owner. This godsend was eagerly picked up by the man behind, and put into his basket. Ere long another fish fell through, and another, and another. All these were gathered up by the man following. The hole in the bottom of the basket was continually enlarging, so that the larger fish shared the fate of the smaller ones. At length all the fish had slipped away, and still the selfish man remained ignorant of his loss.

"On reaching his home he threw down his basket before his wife, and desired her to cook the fish. Thinking herself mocked, she bitterly reproached her husband for bringing home an empty basket. At this moment his eyes were opened, and too late he discovered that he had lost all through refusing to pity him who had none.

"Beware," said the preacher, "lest we, who have our baskets filled with gospel privileges, should incur the anger of God through failing to pity those who are still in heathen darkness, so that eventually 'the first should be last, and the last first.' It is meet that the heathen should be fellow-heirs with us of the grace of life. Once more let us watch carefully against little sins. Beware of falling off in prayer and reading of the Bible. The little hole at the bottom of the basket, because it was unnoticed, went on increasing until the unhappy man had lost all."

A LITTLE FELLOW'S PRAYER.—A two-year-old little fellow, who had been from home some weeks, was highly delighted when his father came for him, and that night no one but papa must undress the little fellow and put him to bed. When he had been nicely tucked in, and had repeated after his father the beautiful child's prayer, "Now I lay me down to sleep," he quickly remarked: "Pray more," with the evident design of retaining the father as long a time as he might in the sleeping room. The father, for the first time, recited the Lord's Prayer to his boy, who repeated it, two or three words at a time, after the father, until they came to the petition: "Give us this day our daily bread," when the little fellow gratified his appetite by praying, with much emphasis upon the last word, "Give us this day our daily bread and pies."

The Christian Advocate.

Organ of the Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences of the M. E. Church South.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1876.

REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D., Editor.

ROBT. J. HARP, PUBLISHER.

OFFICE—112 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS

Address, on all matters of business, Rev. R. J. HARP, 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

Address all communications designed for publication to Rev. LINUS PARKER, 112 Camp street New Orleans.

AGENTS—All the members of the Patronizing Conferences.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEE.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.
REV. EDWARD WADSWORTH, D. D.
REV. A. J. BRIGGS.
REV. J. W. BUSH.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. H. WATKINS, D. D.
REV. JAMES A. GODFREY.
REV. J. G. JONES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. CHRISTIAN KEENER.
REV. JOHN MATHEWS.
REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D.

CHANGE OF RATES.

The New Orleans Christian Advocate will be furnished to subscribers hereafter at the following rates, including postage

One Year	$2 00
Six Months	1 15
Three Months	75

To all Ministers of the Gospel and widows of deceased traveling preachers, half the above rates.

FREE, ONE YEAR,

to any person forwarding to us four new yearly subscribers, with EIGHT DOLLARS.

The Last Stones in the Arch.

"Some crowding in getting in the last stones in the arch." Thus expressively Bishop Keener refers to the stationing work in one of our old Conferences. Bishops and presiding elders know what it means. How often the nearly-completed arch has to be pulled down by the effort to adjust some one impracticable brick, they know full well, who have wrestled, prayed, and talked beyond the midnight hour. It is just at the point of this arch that the main friction of our itinerant system reaches its most grinding and perplexing climax, and the Bishop is the master workman, upon whom at last comes the terrible responsibility. The itinerancy is in the stationing-room like an inverted pyramid, the single point of which rests upon the mind and heart of the Bishop. Pray for the Bishops, sympathize with them, and remember that whoever suffers they suffer most.

One trouble is with men not generally acceptable, or for whom, for some reason, there never seems to be a place. Such men are not always to be blamed, but often to be pitied. They have done pretty well, but increasing years, ill health, or want of adaptation to the demands of the day, renders them not particularly desirable as preachers and pastors. They very naturally do not wish to locate; neither the supernumerary nor the superannuated relation offers them any change of support, and so they hold on because they feel that they ought to preach, and because they know not what else to do.

Another trouble is that many of our Conferences are crowded. This means usually not that there is no territory left to be occupied, but that there is not a sufficient number of self supporting appointments. There are at this time very few Conferences that for this reason are not full. Even the Conferences needing men, such as the Western, Denver, and Columbia, can give but little assurance of support to men with families. In Louisiana we could station twenty additional preachers if there were any guarantee for their subsistence. The impoverishment of the country is one cause of crowding.

Another, perhaps, is that our young preachers marry too soon. It is seldom that a Conference is so crowded that a young unmarried man of education and promise cannot find admission and work. There is rarely any difficulty in putting this living stone into the arch. It is when the young man comes with a wife, and before he has proved himself as an effective preacher, that there is lack of space for him. Our young men must not marry too soon. If they do, they will find their way often hedged up. Let them learn to preach, and establish character and influence, before they attempt to take care of a family in the traveling ministry.

How does it happen, how can it happen, that the supply exceeds the demand? This cannot well be if we suppose that the candidates offering are called of God. Some, no doubt, make a mistake, but fewer would fall into this error if they were sure of being sent where they are most needed, and of not being housed within the limits of the old Conferences. They may be called, and, if so, there is no surplus, but there is need of distribution. The lack of supporting works would be fewer if the people were more liberal in giving, and thus one cause of crowding would be overcome. Then we need a more generous support of our domestic missions, or, as it should be more properly organized and called, "Our Plan of Church Sustentation." The strong Conferences and appointments through this fund must help the weak so that there shall be an equality, and so that hundreds of waste places now destitute, may be supplied with the gospel. We suspect that God only calls as many preachers as are needed, and that this crowding is a lack of wisdom and liberality on the human side of the question.

It is seldom that Conferences are crowded by the transfer of preachers. This may be the case sometimes, but we imagine the Bishops guard this point. The most crowded Conferences are those that grow their own material. This is notably the case in Kentucky and Tennessee, where they raise preachers in large numbers, and of the best quality. There may be some lack of the heroic missionary spirit in our men, but the main thing is the lack of means to distribute them, or the lack of wisdom and authority in directing them to unoccupied territory.

Methodism is a connectional system, capable of indefinite expansion, and in its polity, genius, and spirit essentially missionary and aggressive. It ought not to be crowded at any point. It is in no "pent-up Utica." Wesley claimed the world for his parish, and surely an Annual Conference should not be straitened. The world is large enough, and the church is rich enough. The straitness is not in God who calls, not in Christ who ordains, nor in the Holy Ghost who qualifies the preacher for his work. Nor is it in our itinerant system, nor in the lack of money, but rather in ourselves. It is thus that a number of causes contribute to that cabinet and episcopal trouble in adjusting—"in getting in the last stones of the arch." We might go on with the reflection that a crowded Conference under some circumstances is a sign of exuberant church and spiritual life, and that the thing to be done is to bring up the grace of giving to the same point. In short, to open the sluices and let this living stream flow forth upon the thirsty grounds that need gospel irrigation. There are in it lessons which condemn us, and others which encourage, while all call for a deeper consecration, and an enterprise commensurate with the glorious gospel with which we are put in trust.

Almost Over.

We refer to the political canvass which has now reached its hight, and, with the election on the seventh instant, will be at an end. Every man who hates lasting, and who loves a serene and pure atmosphere of thought and information, will be glad when the excited passions and bitter animosities shall have subsided. Especially Christian people of the South will be glad to witness a return to fair mindedness and charity on the part of the Northern religious press. Our Methodist brethren of the Northern religious press have as usual, in such emergencies, distinguished themselves by the virulence and acrimony of their tone toward the Southern people, and by the wholesale slanders and misrepresentations which they have uttered against us. The only exception that we have noticed is the Methodist, of New York. This paper has resolutely refused to join in this senseless and unreasonable hue and cry against the South, and has not befouled its columns with stories of Southern outrages connected for political effect.

We had hoped that a better era would follow the work of the fraternal commission, and that sectional asperities would yield to Christian confidence and harmony. So far from it, the utterances of their official papers would seem to indicate that they regard Southern Methodists as the abettors and friends of assassins and murderers. The address published on our first page this week, and signed by Bishop Wightman, and other ministers and citizens of Charleston, expresses the convictions of nearly every member of the Southern Methodist Church. What is true of South Carolina is also true of Louisiana and Mississippi. Our Methodist people are a unit upon the political questions of the hour, because they feel and know that their peace, prosperity, and security can only be assured by honest and capable government. And they know, furthermore, that nine-tenths of the reported outrages in their midst are malicious fabrications. They know well that the intimidation is chiefly against negro Democrats, and that the military power is used unscrupulously to intimidate the people and to thwart their will. The canvass has presented this singular aspect. Not only is there a solid South, but Southern Methodists are solid in their convictions as against a nearly solid Methodism at the North. Whatever our Northern friends may think, there is but one explanation for a solid South. Our condition has been made so intolerable by a corrupt and oppressive government that there is relief only in a change of administration. Were it otherwise, the intelligent people here would be divided as they are elsewhere, and parties would be formed upon ordinary political issues.

Another aspect of the canvass in the South is that the negroes are no longer all on one side. This is one of the most auspicious signs of the times. It promises an era of good feeling between the races. The Northern Republicans cannot believe that the negro would ever voluntarily vote any other ticket than that which they dictate. It must, as they pretend to believe, be the effect of intimidation and violence, and hence the need of troops. But the negro is learning slowly. Education and increasing intelligence are helping him by degrees to understand his true interests, and to assert his independence in the exercise of his right of suffrage. The gift was originally designed to make him a political vassal, and the easily-controlled instrument of party supremacy. But, in the end, those who have so certainly counted on exciting and keeping up an antagonism of races in politics are likely to be disappointed.

So far as we have observed, the political canvass has not as in other years interfered with the industries of the country. The laborers on the farms and plantations have wasted little time in attendance upon barbecues and club meetings, and the crops promise an early gathering. Generally the country is quiet and peaceful, and whites and blacks are industriously pursuing their avocations. Exceptions to this state of things are few, and these few are notably due to incendiary efforts to stir up strife, so as to afford a pretext for military intimidation and arrests. The Calhoun affair in South Carolina is a sample of this sort, and one, we may be sure, that will receive no fair notice, if any, at all, from the New York Advocate, and other Methodist sheets of a still more violent and partisan character.

Something to be specially thankful for is that during this excited canvass our church work has gone on prosperously. Camp meetings have been more numerous than ever, protracted meetings and revivals have been unusually numerous and fruitful, and God has smiled upon all our heritage. In no District Conference we have been at, in none we have heard from, and in none of our Annual Conferences, thus far held, has there been a word said about politics, or a single deliverance on the political questions of the day. Our Southern Church has pursued peacefully, and without let or hinderance, her one and only work of saving souls, and of spreading scriptural holiness over these lands. And, after all, this is the main thing. Nothing but religion can purify the political atmosphere, and bring about a healthier state of affairs throughout the nation.

Hospitality.

A kindly custom, it is said, "as universal as the face of man," and so evidently accordant with the instincts of propriety as to mingle freely with events and revelations of the highest importance in the sacred records. From the large influence of exemplary teaching allowed in the Scriptures to the Abrahamic hospitality, he must have elevated the custom in his practice of it to a higher expression, in like manner as his faith raised belief into the greatest religious power, which established a precedent for all men and all times. Paul reproduced the originality and type-form of his faith in his epistles for general instruction. In like manner our Lord taught the impression of the patriarch's hospitality, and its religious significance in that immortal picture of the rich man and Lazarus, and therein engrossed the lesson with authority and explanation, leaving no doubt of the excellency and far-reaching effects of human kindness.

The main contrast in this parable of antitheses is the contrast between Abraham and the rich man, which Lazarus served to bring out; and the sole contrasting trait as a sufficient exponent of character is hospitality. Lazarus being poor, sick, and friendless, "desired to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table." He was laid at the rich man's gate, to come under his notice, and by this token to appeal to his generosity.

The hardest feelings of indifference to another's need would not deny to Lazarus the crumbs he desired, as they were but the refuse of the daily repast, but it is in evidence that the rich man did not show to Lazarus the common hospitality; in so doing he placed himself in direct contrast with the known principles and conduct of Abraham, who went beyond the common custom, further than the rich man fell below it. The patriarch claimed the privilege of entertaining the strangers who came to his tent, urging the consideration which his lively faith discerned, "for therefore are ye come to your servant." And his generous entertainment was not less owing to his habit of faith and consequent kindness of heart than to his abundant means, for he, too, was a rich man. The rich man is not only designated as a man of wealth, but also that "he fared sumptuously every day." Having a personal taste for, and indulging in the good things of life, he had the opportunity, but lacked the inclination to show proper kindness to the stranger at his gate.

In these strong contrasts which the two examples afforded a fundamental right and wrong is established, and the ground of the divine dissatisfaction with the conduct of the rich man toward Lazarus is fully exposed to view, and the justification of his exclusion from all subsequent kindness is laid in the words: "And it came to pass that the beggar died." Relief came at last, but not as the poor man either desired or expected, and the sad picture of his dying in bodily misery and neglect is intended to reflect against the spacious mansion, the sumptuous table, the dainty beds, and abundant "good things" of the rich man. Death had lingered long to lighten the opportunity for the rich man; but when he entirely failed death came with its relief for Lazarus, and to disclose the gulf of separation between Abraham and the rich man—unlike in life, the contrast is made permanent in the other world.

The angels appeared just as Lazarus awoke from the horror which had settled upon him in the article of death. Of his burial as a pauper there was no need that a word should be said, but it was happy, both for the effect of the representation and for the lesson to be enforced, that Abraham's ancient guests should join the neglected mendicant at the moment when relief from the miseries of one life should make him a stranger and helpless in the other. The memory of that one "desire to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table," and its bitter disappointment of neglect and contempt, would leave the disembodied spirit forlorn and agitated. The mobil of nature having fallen off, the angels could see that a life of intense suffering had imparted a sympathetic tone to the tender spirit, and that earthly desires had but veiled the deeper meaning of spiritual longings. They knew what to do. They bore him to Abraham's bosom. One charm of abiding fascination attaches to the scene in paradise! It is the instance of Abraham's kindness which, having borne the strain of a long life service, reappears in the other world with lightened effect.

Abraham's tent, in all his wanderings, was the scene of hospitable entertainments. In paradise his generosity meets a higher need. He then takes the bruised reed to his bosom.

Natural kindness, purified and exalted by an evangelic faith, bears in its actions a striking resemblance to divine love; whether on the worn path of human life, it divides its bread to strengthen the flesh of the stranger, or greets with hearty welcome the coming of the anxious into the peace and repose of paradise. A taste of kindness leaves a relish in the heart, excites the joy of gratitude, and stimulates the tardy purpose to do likewise. In observing the injunction given on such high authority we may not indulge the hope that we shall ever "entertain angels unawares," but we may humbly strive to imitate the spirit in following the example of Abraham, and in our hospitality show Christian kindness.

DORUS.

Death of Dr. Durbin.

This eminent minister had a more than national reputation, and was universally admired and honored. The Methodist announces his death, and outlines his history and character as follows:

The Rev. John P. Durbin, D. D., died at his home in this city, on Thursday, October 19, in the seventy-sixth year of his age. He had been gradually failing for several weeks. On the Saturday before his death he was afflicted with an apoplectic attack, under the effects of which he slowly sank to rest. Dr. Durbin's life has been one of most distinguished and honored service in the church. He was born in Bourbon county, Ky., in 1800. His early education was only such as the rude district schools of the time afforded. He served an apprenticeship with a cabinet-maker, during the period of which he was converted, in 1818. He took a license to preach, and was sent to Limestone circuit. In 1820 he joined the Ohio Conference, and was appointed to an extensive circuit in the northwestern part of the State. Here he pursued his theological studies, in the cabins where he was lodged as he traversed his circuit. Afterward he was stationed at Hamilton, where he had an opportunity to attend the Miami University, twelve miles distant. This he did during the week, regularly fulfilling his appointments on the Sunday. He soon became one of the most distinguished preachers in our connection, a preacher of national fame. In 1831 he was elected chaplain of the United States Senate; in 1832, professor of Natural Science in the Wesleyan University; in 1833, editor of the Christian Advocate and Journal; and in 1834, president of Dickinson College. In 1842 and 1843 he traveled in Europe and the Levant, and gave to the world, after his return, two books of travel, which rank among the best. In 1845 he returned to the itinerancy as a presiding elder. In 1850 he was appointed, by the bishops, missionary secretary of our church, and was chosen by the General Conference to the same office in 1852. This position he held till 1872, when advancing age compelled him to give it up.

Dr. Durbin's remarkable powers as a preacher are described in many fugitive pieces; but best, perhaps, by Dr. Crooks, in his life of McClintock. We recently printed the passage from that book. His no less remarkable powers as an administrator are monumentally delineated in our Missionary Society. His character had the simplicity, the dignity, the balance, the religiousness, which the world admires in Bishop Janes. Durbin was more nearly a peer of Janes than any other minister of our church. It pleased God to give them both great fields. The misguided and wrong-headed distrust which arrested Durbin on the steps of the episcopacy was overborne by Providence, and made to serve a higher end.

Candid Judgment.

We have had occasion to allude to the partisan bitterness which characterizes the Northern Methodist press in its references to the South. On the other hand, and in most refreshing contrast, the Watchman, a Baptist journal of Boston, and one of the best religious papers in America, contains an editorial which breathes the right spirit. If this spirit could only find a place in the hearts of the Methodists, and of all Northern Christians, the path to fraternity and harmony would at once be cleared of nearly every obstruction. Writing under the heading, "No North, No South," the Watchman says:

The Presbyterians, North and South, have been steadily drawing nearer together, and though the leaders still stand apart on a mere word, yet the feeling prompting to union, we believe, has been steadily gaining. The Methodists, the most belligerent of all, and with their belligerency perpetually aroused by their mutual attitude of rivalry, have, nevertheless, succeeded at length in finding an acceptable basis of fraternal intercourse. Northern and Southern Baptists have learned to trust each other, esteem each other in love for their work's sake, and to act freely together in national organizations. If we fling all this needlessly away, through the excitements of a political campaign, and fall back into mutual distrust, ill-feeling, and sharp antagonism, we shall put off to a very uncertain future the period of union and prosperity toward which we have been steadily approaching.

Ought we not, therefore, as Christians, to look at the reports and rumors which greet us, not from the Northern standpoint only, but from that of the South, as well, assured that from the two extremes we shall have a better opportunity of candidly judging the truth? Let us look then a little at respectable Southern testimony:

We know of no more intelligent and trustworthy witness than the Richmond Religious Herald. It is the organ of Virginia Baptists, who number—including those of West Virginia—over 200,000 communicants. Its editorial corps are Rev. Drs. Ryland and Dickinson, of Richmond, Richard Fuller, of Baltimore, and J. A. Broadus, of the Baptist Theological Seminary in South Carolina—men of broad culture, and national reputations. We have no better men, morally and intellectually, in the land. This issue of the Herald for Aug. 31 contains "An Appeal to Northern Christians."

The "appeal" affirms that occasional outbreaks of passion and deeds of blood are to be expected in an extensive country with a heterogeneous population, and reminds us that there is a class at the South who find their profit in exaggerating the evils that exist; affirms its inability, at present, to decide on the measure of guilt of the different parties in the terrible Hamburg affair, and doubts the ability of any at the North to decide on it. It adds:

"That there is a conflict of races at the South, we do not deny. It exists, to a greater or less extent, wherever different races are mingled. There is, however, in general, a kindly feeling in the South toward the negroes, especially among their former masters. All the stories concerning the intimidation, cruelty, and murders of the freedmen, except in a few cases, growing out of political disturbance in some of the States south of us, are, so far as we can learn, sheer fabrications or gross and deceptive exaggerations. Moreover, all cases of real injustice and violence are condemned and deplored at the South by all good citizens, just as such outrages would be at the North; and, if they are not as promptly and rigorously punished here as they would be there—of which there may be reasonable doubt—it is because a great change in the judicial systems of the States has seriously interfered with the administration of justice."

This statement is emphatic, calm, clear, and covers the whole ground. Of the honesty and general intelligence of the witnesses—substitutionary paper—there is no doubt; the only question can be as to their means of information. As to this last point their editorial position insures them special advantage, and this is increased by their distribution from Maryland to South Carolina, and their means of information must certainly be equal to that of those from whom most of the unfavorable reports come to us. The testimony is surely such as to make us hesitate to indulge in wholesale, wide-sweeping denunciation of the South.

A year ago, Hon. and Rev. H. R. Revels, formerly United States Senator (colored) from Mississippi, but now a devoted minister of the gospel in that State, addressed a letter to President Grant, in explanation of the fact that the freedmen, though "naturally Republicans," had this year largely acted with the Democratic party. He said:

"The bitterness and hate created by the late civil strife, have, in my opinion, been obliterated in this State, except, perhaps, in some localities, and would have long since been entirely effaced were it not for some unprincipled men who would keep alive the bitterness of the past, and inculcate hatred between the races, in order that they may aggrandize themselves by office and its emoluments to control my people, the effect of which is to degrade them. I give you my opinion, that had our State administration adhered to Republican principles, and stood by the platform upon which it was elected, the State to-day, would have been on the highway of prosperity."

The following, also, from the address of Gov. Hubbard, of Texas, recently delivered in Philadelphia, is in point, and appeals strongly to every true heart:

"Want war! Want bloodshed! Sirs we are poor—broken in fortune and sick at heart. Had you stood, as I have stood, by the ruined hearthstones, by the wrecks of fortune which are scattered all along the shore; had you seen, as I have seen, the wolf howling at the door of many a once happy home—widowhood and orphanage starving, and weeping over never-returning sires and sons, who fell with your honored dead at Gettysburg and Manassas; could you hear as I have heard the throbbing of the great universal Southern heart—throbbing for peace and yearning for the old and faithful bye between the States; could you have seen and felt and heard all these things, my countrymen, you would, black or white, Republican or Democrat, take me by the hand and swear that the arm thus uplifted against us, and the tongue which utters the great libel in our name should wither at the socket and become palsied forever at the root. I repeat, again, let our 'spears be turned into pruning hooks and our swords beat into plowshares,' to be mute, everlasting memorials of peace, turning peace and good-will to the American people."

May God so gauble our hearts North and South as to advance the highest welfare of the freedmen, and of our common country and our common Christianity.

Not Approved.

It seems that the Central New York Conference, at its recent session, condemned the work of the fraternal commissioners altogether. In connection with a long report, the following resolutions were adopted with only one dissenting vote. Suppose their General Conference should take the same view of the matter?

Resolved, That while we are anxious to live in peace and harmony with all bodies of people who love our common Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, and who are laboring to give to the world the redemption he has wrought out for it, and while we will cheerfully concur in any measure for promoting peace and unity among brethren which do not involve the sacrifice of principles vital to truth and Christianity, yet in the name of religion and our beloved church, we protest against the acceptance of fraternity on such conditions as restrain one word of our past censure of the Church South for her guilt in support and practice of slavery.

Resolved, That in our judgment the declaration and basis of fraternity adopted by the commissioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church with those of the church South, going back to the past, and recognizing the legitimacy of a distinct ecclesiastical organization which has no other institution for its origin and separate existence than slavery, is a violence to the history and principles of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and seems to us to be in excess of the authority of the commissioners.

Resolved, That the concession of the said commission, of the lawfulness of secession, either ecclesiastically or civilly, is contrary to our traditions and usages as a church, and is replete with untold danger, while unrebuked, to both church and State.

Resolved, That, as an Annual Conference, we respectfully petition the General Conference of 1880 to emphatically and decidedly disapprove the work of those commissioners, so far as it relates to the particulars.

Rev. R. H. Reed was in our office this week, and brings the gratifying report that our church at Donaldsonville has been reorganized of late with a membership of nineteen. The prospects, at that point of the work, are encouraging.

A city missionary was asked the cause of his poverty. "Principally," said he, with a twinkle in his eye, "because I have preached so much without notes."

The well-known but senseless song, "Oh, to be nothing!" has its wish.

Tennessee Conference.

The editor of the Wesleyan Methodist says:

The past year was a prosperous one, spiritually—an increase of 2,000 in the membership, with other signs of progress. Financially, as to the support of the ministry and of missions, there were signs of depression, except in the Nashville district, which maintains its advance position with praiseworthy fidelity. Very searching inquiry was made into the causes of this state of things. In addition to the general stringency of the money market, other reasons for failure were brought to light; and among them the existence of "a local itinerancy;" some worthy traveling preachers have labored for a quarter of a century and more in the same field, moving from one circuit to another adjacent, and back again, until, though respected and loved still, they have lost influence, lost acceptableness, and so failed to "bring up" the collections, and failed otherwise, also. Another reason why there is financial depression, may be found, perhaps, in the "cutting up" of the circuits, these having been divided again and again, until the charges are so weak that after straining to pay their pastors, even meagerly, they think themselves, or are actually, unable to give much, if anything, to missions and other good causes. The time is coming, we believe, if it is not already at hand, when there will be a reaction, a partial return, at least, to the old fashion of large circuits.

APPOINTMENTS.

Nashville District.—R. K. Hargrove, P. E. McKendree, D. C. Kelley, W. R. Lambuth; J. Rains, sup; Elm Street, F. R. Hill; Jasper Nichols, sup.; West End, W. M. Green; Woodbine and Carroll Street, W. H. Wilkes; Arlington, J. W. Hill; Sawrie chapel and City Mission, W. W. Brinsfield; Tulip Street, J. F. McFerrin; Edgefield, W. M. Leftwich; W. R. Warren, sup.; Union, J. G. Myers; White's Creek, W. R. Peebles; Hampton, Alex. Matthews; Nashville Circuit, P. T. Martin; Vanderbilt University, R. A. Young, secretary and financial agent; Secretary Missionary Society, M. E. Church South, J. B. McFerrin; Sunday-school agent, U. S. Bates.

Gallatin District—J. F. Hughes, P. E. Gallatin station, W. H. Hughes; Summer circuit, B. F. Ferrill; Sandersville, W. G. Dorris; Bethpage and Cairo, A. G. Ray; Cairo Bend, J. H. Roberts; J. J. Ellis, sup; Fountain Head, Geo. M. Sanders; Pleasant Grove, John W. Bell; Forest Grove Mission, Geo. W. Johnson; Goodlettsville, A. P. McFerrin; A. C. Matthews, sup; Lebanon station, F. C. Wilkes; A. J. Ford, sup; Lebanon circuit, J. J. Pitman; W. H. Johnson, sup.

Carthage District.—B. M. Stevens, P. E.; Carthage, W. M. Doyle; Mount Olivet, W. Wicher; Alexandria, Wm. Doss; Cumberland, N. B. S. Owings; M. N. Ford, sup; Cokeville Mission, W. N. Sebastian; Livingstone, Geo. D. Byrne; Monroe Mission; Z. W. Moores; Celina, J. H. Chamblis; Gainsboro, E. Dekens; Wartrace, H. S. Kennedy; Goose Creek, B. G. Ferrell; LaFayette Mission, S. W. Bransford; Caney Fork Mission, W. W. Jarrel.

McMinnville District.—J. J. Comer, P. E. McMinnville, A. Mizell; McMinnville circuit, H. B. Reams; A. H. Reams, sup.; Tullahoma; J. R. Reagan; Hillsboro, G. D. Gwinn; R. P. Ganaway, sup.; Bedford, D. H. Merryman, J. F. Corban; Woodbury, W. H. Anthony; Cannon Mission, Eugene A. Carsey; Hickory Creek, G. W. Anderson; Sparta station, S. L. Falls; Sparta circuit, J. H. Nichols; W. N. Moore, sup; Hickory Valley Mission, U. N. M. Berry; Smithville, R. T. McBride; Statesville, John G. Mabry.

Murfreesboro District.—W. D. Sawrie, P. E. Murfreesboro, J. D. Barbee; Stone's River circuit, Alanson Brown; Walnut Grove and Morgan's Chapel, C. T. Henderson; Concord, H. J. Ivie; C. B. Faris, sup.; Shelbyville Station, H. S. McBride; T. B. Marks, sup.; Unionville, G. W. Winn; R. M. Heusely, sup; Nolensville circuit, R. W. Bellamy; Kedron, J. Webster; Kelley Chapel and Smyrna, L. C. Bryan; Cannsville, G. L. Staley; Bellbuckle and Wartrace, T. H. Hoson; Mill Creek, F. S. Petway; J. H. Richardson, sup.; Sinking Creek, John W. Heusley; Soule Female College, J. B. West, President; John R. Thompson, Professor; Selenes Hill Academy, A. T. Crawford, President.

Fayetteville District.—J. B. Allison, P. E. Fayetteville station, R. E. Travis; Mulberry and Lynchburg, W. J. Collier; M. R. Tucker, sup.; Lynchburg circuit, B. J. Craston, Chas. E. Hergiges; Fayetteville circuit, A. R. Farris; Pleasant Plains, W. B. Lowery; W. H. Riggan, sup.; Cornersville, R. A. Reagan; Lewisburg, W. T. Gill; Winchester station, T. A. Kerley, sup.; Salem circuit, J. L. Kellum; Flintville Mission, D. G. Ray; C. Laxon, sup.; Rich Valley, J. P. Funk, Farmington Mission; Phineas L. Darrel; Petersburg circuit, Geo. L. Byron.

Columbia District.—Wellborn Mooney, P. E. Columbia station, J. A. Ormun; J. B. Hamilton, sup.; Nebo and Williamsport, W. G. Heusley; R. G. Linn, Sup.; Mt. Pleasant, S. P. Whitten; Culleoka and Hurricane, G. P. Jackson; Marcella Falls circuit, R. W. Seay, J. C. Putman; Pulaski station, A. G. Dinwiddie; J. S. Marks, sup.; Trinity, F. F. Fugan; Prospect, John A. McFerrin; Richland, T. B. Fisher; Elkton station, P. A. Sowell; Mt. Pisgah, R. L. Fugan; Giles circuit, A. M. Ezell; Martin Female College, R. H. Rivers, Pres't; Lynnville, W. Weakly; J. M. Lacks, sup; Giles College, J. B. Anderson, Prof.

Savannah District.—J. H. Bolton, P. E. Savannah station, R. R. Jones; Savannah circuit, M. J. Mabry, Caleb B. Davis; Lawrenceburg and Pleasant Grove, L. G. Heusley; R. F. Jackson, sup; Wayland Springs circuit, W. T. Dye; Pisgah and Humphsire, J. B. Erwin; Laurel Hill, W. A. Leath; Ashland, W. W. Graves; W. J. Wright, sup; Linden, Geo. W. Coleman; Lobelville Mission, T. B. Malone; Clifton, R. P. Gray; Oakland Mission, D. Sherrell; A. L. Booth, sup.; Henryville, M. A. Erwin; Luweryville, W. P. Warren.

Franklin District.—R. P. Ranson, P. E. Franklin station, John W. Hanner, Jr.; John W. Hanner, Sr., sup.; Harpeth station, C. Clenny; Bethlehem station, J. J. Pitts; Cave Spring, O. G. Halliburton; Douglass, J. M. Jordan; Smith Springs, R. F. Stone; Wesley circuit, A. F. Lawrence; Chapel Hill, R. M. Haggard; Spring Hill circuit, J. G. Rice; Bethesda, S. M. Cherry; Springhill and Thompson Station, J. M. Wright; Brentwood, A. A. Allison.

Centerville District.—T. L. Moody, P. E. Centerville circuit, W. D. Cherry; Santa Fe, E. T. Hartt; Pinewood, W. T. Nesbitt; Yellow Creek, J. H. Woodward; J. G. Hinsun, sup.; Dover, J. W. Rucker; Standing Rock, H. S. Ledbetter; White Oak, Thos. S. Cullum; Ebenezer and Liberty, J. O. Blanton; Waverly circuit, W. P. Hickman; Bon Aqua Springs Mission, E. W. White; Beaver Dam Springs, S. H. Andrews.

Clarksville.—Wm. Burr, P. E. Clarksville station, R. K. Brown; Providence and Bethel, T. J. Duncan; Cedar Hill, W. A. Turner; A. B. Coke, sup; Asbury, Jordan Moore; R. J. Craig; G. W. Brown, sup; Blooming Grove, R. A. Wilson; Red River, Garret W. Martin; Springfield, S. W. Cullom; S. D. Ogburn, sup.; Montgomery, B. F. Haynes; Saline, Allen Tribble; Antioch, A. T. Goodloe; Palmyra, S. M. Griffen; Dickson, John T. Duncan; Cheatham, W. H. Doss; Barton's Creek, J. H. Reynolds; Clarksville Female College, J. R. Plummer, President.

Transferred.—John M. Haynes, Thomas R. Nichols, and Carroll W. Mynatt, to the Arkansas Conference.

The New York Christian Advocate says:

"At the Ohio Conference a class of seven were addressed by the Bishop as candidates for admission. After the address the Committee on Tobacco reported, and by vote it was ordered that no candidates be admitted who use tobacco in any form."

This may all have been right, perhaps it was, but in either case, right or wrong, we are not disposed at present to commend or condemn. But under that order Bishop Asbury, Bishops Soule, Hedding, Morris, Andrew, and Bascom, would all have been shut out, and so, we think, we are not certain, would Bishops McKendree and Roberts. So would Benjamin Abbott, Thomas Wilkerson, Nathan Bangs, and, indeed, nearly all the rest of them. Still that does not prove the Ohio Conference wrong in its action on the subject. These old and worthy men may all have been wrong, "Tempora mutantur et nos mutamur in illis."—St. Louis Christian Advocate

MARRIED.

SPRINGFIELD—LANCASTER.—At the residence of Wade Hascal, near Bilmore, Bossier parish, La., October 10, 1876, by Rev. George M. Liverman, Mr. W. R. Springfield to Miss Katie E. Lancaster.

BENLLIX—MURFF.—At the residence of the bride's father, Rev. Samuel Murff, Oct. 18, 1876, by Rev. A. R. Rowell, Mr. J. G. Benllix to Miss M. T. Murff, all of Attala, Holmes county, Miss.

Publisher's Department.

Notice to Subscribers.

We are now in the most pressing need of the money due to the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE. Our expenses are the same during the dull summer months as in winter. We require about $2,000 per month the year round, and with the strictest economy we will be embarrassed with average receipts less than that amount. We consume from 25 to 30,000 lbs. of paper, which is a cash article. Our compositors and pressmen need their money weekly. All employes have to pay cash for supplies. We have enough due us to meet our necessities, and yet we have to borrow, at a ruinous rate of interest, the money necessary to carry on the business during the summer and fall months. If you have not the amount due us, it is so small you can certainly borrow it without interest. We have waited till cotton and sugar are being marketed before we make this call, and there are hundreds who have promised to remit during the fall. Now let us see. We want the money at once. We request agents not to hold the money till Conference, but send at once.

PIPE ORGAN BUILDERS.—Messrs. Jackson & Gallagher's advertisement will be found on eighth page. These gentlemen have long been engaged in the manufacture of church organs, and possess facilities enjoyed by few houses for doing fine work. Among other churches for whom they have built organs, we will mention the Independent Evangelical Protestant Church and First Methodist Episcopal Church South, of St. Louis. The house claims that they thoroughly test and examine every part of the organ before placing it in position in the church for which it is intended, and churches and those interested should send for their circulars.

WE CALL attention to Mr. J. A. Pozzoni's advertisement to ladies on this page. He claims for his medicated powder that it renders the skin soft and delicate, and possesses other advantages over the ordinary toilette powders used. It can now be procured from the druggist. Mr. Pozzoni will fill orders large or small on being addressed at 607 North Sixth street, St. Louis.

MITCHELL'S OUTLINE MAPS.—Dealers and teachers will do well to note the advertisement of Messrs. J. H. Butler & Co. in to-day's paper. Orders filled on shortest notice.

Acknowledgments of Letters and Funds

RECEIVED BY MAIL,

For the Week Ending October 28, 1876.

A—Edwin Alden $1.50, N. W. Ayer & Son, R. C. Armstrong, Thos. Armstrong, C. G. Andrews $2, R. Abbey $1.50.

B—W. H. Browning, Baker & Sperry, T. W. Black, Bourum & Pease, John Baildige $2.50, A. Bunner $2.50, P. K. Brindley, D. P. Bradford, Box P. 10 cents.

C—Thos. S. Campbell $ 2.50, D. Carley, T. H. Clelland, H. Clegg, Jay B. Copeland, R. B. Crawford, W. H. Chichester $7, D. W. Carter, J. W. Cammack, J. H. Curtiss $5.50, Robert Carter, Campbell Printing Press and Manufacturing Company, John S. Congleton, A. Cauly & Co, E. C. Clements $13.35.

D—Chas. T. Dillingham, Mrs. S. W. Dickinson, O. Dixon & Co, Donaldson & Co.,

E—T. C. Evans, E. A. Emeths, C. E. Evins.

F—L. B. Featherston, L. T. Fitzhugh $25.40, Oliver Fisk, Jesse Fulton $6.50, W. F. Ferris, John Fuley, J. L. Futrell $1.25.

G—H. Griswold, H. B. Graham & Bro., Mrs. A. M. Goodwin.

H—Harper & Bros. J. J. Hunnicutt, Mrs. Martha J. Harvey $10, J. L. Hilison, Noel T. Hamer, $1.55, Alex. Hood, Hitchcock & Walden.

J—H. F. Johnson, J. C. Johnson $3.

K—Kilgore & Gilchrist, Kilgore & Gilleit, Miss S. T. Kennedy.

L—J. B. Lippincott & Co, C. R. Lynch $2, James A. Lee $9.75, W. C. Lewis $3.

M—John S. Miller, John G. McKean $13.00, Wm. E. Mickle, F. M. Martin $27, W. C. Myer, C. O. Moss, Irvine, Miller $1, Robert Moss $1.50, Morgan Envelope Co., J. E. Mason, John P. Marton & Co, F. A. McKechline.

O—James Ormond, T. M. Owen.

P—J. M. Perdue, V. M. Purdy $5.00, H. W. Pool & Co, Pope Bros & Kuleman, J. M. Pruett, C. A. Powell, Mrs. J. A. Peebles $5, Mrs. L. K. Pote, Potter, Ainsworth & Co.

R—A. H. Redford agent two letters, Anson D. F. Randolph, James S. Rencher D. Rublas & Withers, Rowell & Chesman, E. F. F. Ross, Mrs. Mary F. Robertson $2.

S—R. A. Smith, Robert Smylie $150, S. H. Schroeder $2.50, J. B. K. Smith, W. W. Sharpe & Co, Smith, Dixon & Co, S. C. Schwing, A. G. Sill $5.18, W. H. Stuart, H. B. Scott $1, E. O. Stiellow & Co, St. Louis Advertising and Publishing Co.

T—W. R. Tatum, John D. Terrance $2.85, George F. Thompson $10.35, W. P. Tull, E. W. Tarrant 50 cents, James A. Trone.

W—James W. Ward, J. M. Weems, Solomon Wise $16.65, J. Woodbridge, G. B. Williams, B. H. Witt 25 cents, C. W. Warren.

GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINES.—Probably no invention of late years has been of more benefit to over-worked humanity than that of the sewing machine. And its being such an undoubtedly good invention, it has taken the world's short time to be convinced of its use. Witness compared to the time other inventions have had to be held back because of the incredulity of the people. Many of us can remember the time when sewing machines were unthought of, or if you knew there is not a neighborhood which has not several in operation.

That it has lightened the toil of many there can be no doubt. Now Hood's "Song of the Shirt" could not be heard unless the operator was using a wonderless machine, and then it would fall of its significance.

There are in the market many good machines, and a good many that are almost entirely worthless. It is therefore necessary to exercise judgment in the selection as there are few who can afford to buy several machines only for the purpose of testing them. The best plan is to purchase of established reputation, and no risk need be run in purchasing.

The Grover & Baker Sewing Machine has been to fore the public for a good many years, and is considered by carpet-sewers to be a good machine. It is said to be one of the best made and most easily managed for family use. Mr. H. H. Tebbetts, the general Southern agent, and has his office at No. 5 Charters street, in this city. He will gladly give any information in regard to the machines, and to any one calling at his establishment he will be pleased to show the different styles of work that can be done. For further information we would refer our readers to his advertisement in another column.

THE AGE is a progressive one, and improvements are continually suggesting themselves to almost every department of human life. Labor-saving inventions and industries are eagerly sought for, to accomplish in a few hours, time what was usually the toil of days and even weeks. The farm, the household, the workshop, the factory, all possess invaluable evidences of this wonderful age of progress. It remained, however, for the eminent house of Lord & Taylor, well-known as one of the leading dry-goods firms of New York city, to introduce vast improvements in the old shopping method, and to make "shopping easy" for every lady in the country. There is now no reasonable excuse for ladies to fatigue themselves by travel and to undergo its hundred and one annoyances when they can buy every article needed for the wardrobe or household without leaving their homes. Messrs. Lord & Taylor will send on application, free of charge, samples of the newest textiles for autumn and winter wear, with prices attached to each, together with a complete descriptive catalogues of their handsome stock of ladies' and misses' underwear. Selections from these are readily made, orders for goods received filled by the next mail or express, and the transactions are as satisfactorily closed as if the lady herself had visited the establishment. This store is a material improvement for the slow method of former days, as by this system time, money, labor, and annoyances are all saved. The business standing of this eminent house makes its announcement worthy of attention, as they can refer to whom to whom they have referred to.

THE attention of our readers is called to the advertisement of the Boye Manufacturing Company, No. 9 Worcester street, New York, manufacturers of many elastic goods, such as stocking supporters for children, misses, and women, Scotch garters, drawers, supporters, and anklets for men, also the patent Everlasting button that can be attached and detached with ease and rapidity. They are warranted by the manufacturers to be superior to all others, for the following reasons: The elastic is applied without sewing, so that the person can at any time renew the elastic when it wears out. The buttons which always accompany the sewing machine are avoided. The lower buckle holds on firmly, without tearing, and is attached and detached with great ease. And it is a noticeable fact that all who give them a trial will never use any other kind.

THE HOME CORN SHELLER.—Mr. Edward Thompson advertises the above-named instrument in our paper to-day. It will be found valuable in lightening labor, and will, no doubt, meet with a large sale. The following is taken from Chicago Inter-Ocean: "We saw a practical operation of this excellent farm implement at the office of Edward Thompson, 112 and 114 Poydras street, and we do not hesitate to recommend it to every farmer who has any corn to shell." The sheller is simple and strong, and does its work well and quickly, while the price places it within the reach of every farmer in the country.

EUREKA YEAST POWDER.—This yeast powder, manufactured by P. M. Goodwyn, of this city, is highly spoken of by every one whom we have heard. Mr. Goodwyn claims that its ingredients are the purest and best, and that the greatest care is taken in manufacturing. Housekeepers would do well to send for a sample box, and give it a trial. See advertisement.

E. H. ADAMS, late of Bruschman & Adams, advertises his large and excellent stock of dry goods to-day's paper. His store is at 59 Magazine street, only a few doors above the old stand.

"THE OLD RELIABLE" E. OFFNER, late of Sayir & Offner, would call attention to his stock of China and Glassware.

M. L. NAVRA will fill orders from the country for China and glassware with care and dispatch.

STAPLE and fancy dry goods for sale at Levy Bros., 580 Magazine street.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

R. F. W. BACHMAN

Invites the attention of purchasers to the largest, cheapest and most attractive stock of

BOOTS AND SHOES,

of all the leading styles, ever displayed in this city, consisting of LADIES', MEN'S AND CHILDREN'S FINE SHOES, in every variety and style, with a large assortment of BOOTS AND SHOES adapted to Family and Plantation Wear.

R. F. W. BACHMAN,
Dealer in Fine Shoes, 18 Camp street,
Under City Hotel New Orleans, La.

WHEELER & PIERSON,
NOS. 13 AND 15 CAMP STREET,
Opposite the City Hotel,

CLOTHING & FURNISHING GOODS
FOR MEN AND BOYS.

We invite visitors from the country to look at our stock. We keep good Goods, sell at one price, and mark it in plain figures. Clergymen's trade solicited, and a liberal deduction made to them.

WHAT NEXT! Consumptive Cured. When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed, Dr. H. James was experimenting, he accidentally made a preparation of Indian Hemp, which cured his only child of consumption. He now gives this recipe free on receipt of two stamps to pay expenses. Hemp also cures night sweat, nausea at the stomach, and will break a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address Cha's Crook & Co., 1032 Race street, Philadelphia, naming this paper.

THE AMERICAN HOUSE, Boston, needs no recommendation to the generality of travelers, but it may not be amiss to inform those who are contemplating their first visit to the "Hub" that no hotel in that city is better than the American. It is conveniently located, to all lines of travel as well as the business portion of the city, and no effort is spared to maintain the high rank the house has held so long.

THE GRAND HOTEL, of 31st street and Broadway, New York, which by the way is one of the most centrally-located hotels in the country, is conducted by Mr. Henry Mitchell Smith, who has formerly been well known to the public in connection with hotels in Boston, Pittsburg, and Baltimore.

"FOR many years I have heard of Simmons' Liver Regulator, and now regret I so long neglected to use it regularly, for had I known its great virtue sooner it would no doubt have relieved me before, as it has done now, of all the debility and dyspepsia from which I suffered so long. C. E. MENARD."

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WELL WORTH TRYING!

GOODWYN'S
EUREKA YEAST POWDER.

A Planter of Southern industry that gives general satisfaction. Read what prominent physicians of this city who have examined the recipe for making the above powder have to say of them:

"They are perfectly healthful, and certainly must make good bread, and at the same time improve the flavor when mixed with." H. Faget, M. D.

"I regard it as a very excellent and healthful preparation." J. Barrow, M. D.

"The compound is all that can in the shortest time yeast powder." J. Dyer, M. D.

Hear, also, what a few of our lady friends among experienced housekeepers have to say of them. Says Mrs. Phillo, Dauphine: "They are not surpassed, but the best I have ever used." Mrs. J. W. Blackman: "They are splendid." Mrs. Thomas M. Knight, Sr., to the manufacturer: "We never had any satisfaction in our house on the 'Island' until we got your powders." Mrs. Rev. N. A. Graves, writing from Hous. on, Texas, says: "I am delighted with it, and so is every lady friend who has tried it." And so, further added: "Be sure and send with it book the premium at our fair." Rev. H. C. Johnson, President of Straight College, Brookhaven, Miss., who does us always kindness, writing to the publisher of this paper, says: "As he makes the best yeast powder in the world, might it not to have his card in the ADVOCATE?"

If our article that never fails to speak for itself well it is fair trial.

Most of our leading family grocers deal in it.

P. M. GOODWYN, Manufacturer,
No. 122 Perdido street, New Orleans, La.

N. B.—The attention of city and country trade as well as that of steamers is invited to the above. For agents a sample box with instructions sent by mail to any address on application.

HOME
CORN-SHELLER,
$3.50. $3.50. $3.50.

THE BEST HAND CORN SHELLER FOR family use ever invented. Will shell two bushels per hour. It saves every kernel from the cob, and breaks none. Every Machine Warranted. Can be sent by mail to any part of the United States, on the receipt of $3.50, and to those States, on any of the rivers or railroads, at any town on any of the rivers or railroads, at any town on any of the rivers running into the Gulf of Mexico.

EDWARD THOMPSON, General Agent,
112 and 114 Poydras street, New Orleans, La.
Agents wanted in every county.

MITCHELL'S
NEW OUTLINE MAPS.

7 Maps illustrated. A Key goes with each set.

Small Series, with Names $10
Small Series, without Names $10
Large Series, without Names $20

LATEST, BEST, CHEAPEST.

J. H. BUTLER & CO.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

ADOLPH SUTTER,
GLASS STAINER,
Particular Attention Paid to Church Work.
Orders from all parts of the country promptly attended to.
312 N. SEVENTH ST., bet. Pine and Olive,
ST. LOUIS, MO.

PRUSSIAN SALVE For Burns, Bunions, Sprains, Bruises, Crown Scabs, Wants, Frosted Feet, Cancers, and sores. A certain cure. J. H. BICHELE, 119 REED (Main Cross) street, Chestnut st., Philadelphia, Pa. Price 25 cents; sent by mail. Postage 2c. Trade supplied. Agents wanted. J. C. LYONS, Wholesale and Retail Agent, 42 and 44 Camp street, N. O.

NICE HOME LUNCH.
AT GOODWYN'S,
66 ..... Gravier Street 66

GIBSON'S
Stained Glass and Decorative Establishment,
183 & 185 South Eleventh St.,
PHILADELPHIA.

76 VISITING-CARDS, no 2 alike, 1 name, 30 cts. and 3 3c. stamps. 4 packs, 4 names, $1. Prettiest assortment you ever saw. No better work in the world, at any price! Common Cards at Unheard-of rates. Write plain. W. C. CAMMON, 712 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

LORD & TAYLOR,
NEW YORK.

OUR FALL IMPORTATIONS

Are now complete in all departments, and prices are very low. Our stock of

Black, Colored, and Fancy Silks

Is the largest and best assorted in the city, comprising one whole section in each store, and having been purchased and contracted for prior to the recent advance, we are prepared to sell at LAST SEASON'S PRICES!!

OUR

DRESS GOODS DEPARTMENT

Embraces all the novelties in fall and winter costume Cloths, black and colored Cashmeres and Merinos, silkwool and mixed Plaids, Stripes, and Damassee styles, as well as

POPULAR DRESS FABRICS

In all the newest colorings and materials, from ten cents a yard upward.

OUR IMPORTATION OF

INDIA SHAWLS,

From the London auction sales, is very large and attractive, and prices about half former years. Real India, filled centers, at $6, $7.50, $8, and upward. Real Deccas Shawls, at $12 to $15. Striped India Shawls, new designs, only $15. Cloudia Shawls, choice new colors, $14, upward. Also, Paris and Vienna Broche, Paisley, Filled, Plain centers and Stripes, and British and American Woolen Shawls, unrivaled for beauty and solution of value.

Our Ladies' and Children's Suit
—AND—
FURNISHING DEPARTMENT

Is now more thoroughly stocked and equipped than ever before, and we are prepared to fill all orders at once, and to guarantee satisfaction.

Handsome trimmed Suits in Cheviotte, Basket Cloths, Camel's Hair, Alpaca, Combination Suits, etc., in the most important new effects, at prices to tempt the most economical.

By following our directions for self-measurement ladies out of town can be fitted perfectly, economically, and more satisfactorily than by any home-made work.

Mail orders, Cottons and Outfits a specialty, and orders filled on twelve hours notice.

Misses and Children's Costumes and Suits at very reasonable prices.

Ladies' and Children's Underwear.

An immense stock of beautiful and reliable goods at very great reductions.

Ladies' complete outfits, at $20 and upward.
Infant's complete outfits, at $7 and upward.

Full catalogues of this department, with directions for self-measurement, sent free on application to all parts of the country.

OUR STOCK OF

RICH FURS,

On hand and constantly receiving, will be the most beautiful in the city, and at most attractive prices. We also call the particular attention to our large stock of Linen and White Goods, Lace and Embroideries, Housekeepers' Goods, Household Furniture, Blankets and Shawls, Cloaks, Furnishing Goods, Hats, Clothing and Ladies' Boots and Shoes.

The Domestic and Housekeeping
DEPARTMENTS

Are stocked with goods from the large summer auction sales, at prices below cost of manufacture.

Carpets at Grand Street Only,
AND GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.

Velvet Carpets, from $2 up.
Moquettes, from $1.50 up.
Three Plys, from $1.12½ up.
Ingrains best, cheapest and to be in Grades, from 40 cents up.

Headquarters for Linoleum—Best Floor Covering in the World.

Samples of goods sent free on application to all parts of the country.

Orders for goods of every description carefully filled, nothing charged, and goods packed and forwarded to any desired point.

Broadway and Twentieth St.
Grand and Chrystie Sts., N. Y.

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION
A WEEKLY PAPER FOR
YOUNG PEOPLE AND THE FAMILY

THE COMPANION aims to be a favorite in every family—looked for eagerly by the young folks, and read with interest by the older. Its purpose is to interest and instruct—to amuse in the right way—to cultivate a taste for good reading, practical, sensible, and to have as much permanent worth while it attracts for the hour.

It is handsomely illustrated, and has for contributors some of the most attractive writers in the country. Among the

J. T. Trowbridge,	Louisa M. Alcott,
Edward Eggleston,	J. G. Whittier,
James T. Fields,	Louise C. Moulton,
Rebecca H. Davis,	C. A. Stephens,
Mrs. A. D. T. Whitney,	Harriet P. Spofford,
Edward E. Hale,	Julia Ward Howe.

Its forte lies in a perfect fit to the old and young in every contributor's work in the character of its stories of Adventure, Stories of Home, and Letters of Travel, Sketches, Editorials upon Current Topics, Tales, Poetry, Selections for Declaima Historical Articles, Bio's, Biographical Sketches, Anecdotes, Puzzles, Religious Articles, Facts and Incidents.

Subscription Price, $1.75. Specimen copies sent free. Please mention in what paper you read this advertisement.

PERRY MASON & CO.,
41 Temple Place, Boston, Mass.

DOVE EVERLASTING STOCKING SUPPORTER

Child's 15 cts.
Misses' 20 cts.
Women's 25 cts.
Men's Drawer Supporters 25 to 35
Sheath Garters 35 to 50
Straight Armlet 15 to 25

Ask your dealer for them. Send by mail on receipt of price.

DOVE MFG. CO., Worcester, N. Y.

LADIES! A soft and beautiful skin is the desire of every lady of refinement. Pozzoni's Medicated Complexion Powder has been fully tested, and found to perform all that is claimed for it. It renders the skin delicately soft, removes all discolorations, pimples, etc. Mothers can apply it to their children, and it will become a favorite. Prepared only by J. A. Pozzoni, St. Louis, Mo. Sold by all first class druggists, and at depot 607 North Sixth street, St. Louis. (Lindell Hotel.)

MEDICAL.

A STRING OF PEARLS!

Extract of a letter from Hon. Alex. H. Stephens, dated March 8, 1872:

I occasionally use, when my condition requires it, Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator with good effect. It is mild, and suits me better than more active remedies.

Hon. Alex. H. Stephens has greatly improved in health of late.—The State Line Press, West Point, Ga.

Testimony of the Chief Justice of Georgia.

I have used Simmons' Liver Regulator for constipation of my bowels, caused by a temporary derangement of the liver, for the last three or four years, and always, when used according to the directions, with decided benefit. I think it is a good medicine for the derangement of the liver—at least such has been my personal experience in the use of it.—Hiram Warner, Chief Justice of Georgia.

Opinion of the Clergy.

Simmons' Liver Regulator is certainly a specific for that class of complaints which it claims to cure. If any of our fellow-beings are suffering from hepatic disorders, and have doubts in relation to the efficacy of this popular preparation, we can only refer them to the simple and candid argument of Philip to Nathaniel: "Come and see." Try the proposed remedy, and then you can judge for yourselves.—Rev. David Wills, Pastor of Presbyterian Church, Macon, Ga.

Always Keep It On Hand.

I have used Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator myself and in my family for years, and pronounce it one of the most satisfactory medicines that can be used. Nothing would induce me to be without it, and I recommend all my friends, if they want to secure health, to always keep it on hand.—R. L. Mott, Columbus, Ga. (Congressman.)

CAUTION!

Buy no Powders or Prepared Simmons' Liver Regulator unless in our engraved wrapper, with trade marks, stamps and signature unbroken. None other is genuine.

Manufactured only by
J. H. ZEILIN & CO.,
MACON, GA., AND PHILADELPHIA.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS. 4pte

ALL BABYDOM NEEDS
NESTLE'S MILK FOOD,
OR LACTEOUS FARINA,
prepared from Swiss Milk, Brown Bread Crust and Sugar. A fresh supply of the above. Also SMITH'S CRESTED WHITE WHEAT, GRAHAM FLOUR,
PINHEAD OATMEAL,
MONTREAL MILLS OATMEAL,
BROOKS' FAMILY PICKLES,
NEW SHAKER PRESERVES,
GILBERT G. PHELPS, Grocer,
Cor. Prytania and Felicity Road.
50

E. OFFNER,
"THE OLD RELIABLE,"
CROCKERY, CHINA, GLASSWARE,
SILVER PLATED WARE, CUTLERY,
AND
HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS
Still Cheaper than ever before at the Old Stand,
174 ..... Canal Street 174
(Opposite Varieties Theater.)

I SELL THE NEAT FRENCH CHINA DINNER SETS (115 pieces) for $19.50
TEA SETS of the same quality (41 pieces) decorated in six colors, something entirely new, for 6.50
Stone China CHAMBER SETS, only 3.00
Stone China DINNER SETS (121 pieces) for $14.50
All other goods sold equally as cheap, and all goods are guaranteed.
No charge for packing.

The Celebrated Battey Churn,
Making Butter in from three to ten minutes, is sold very cheap.
All orders will have prompt and careful attention.
E. OFFNER,
174 Canal Street,
5p opposite Varieties Theater.

IMMENSE REDUCTION
—AT—
M. L. NAVRA'S
CHINA PALACE.
120 Canal Street, Touro Building.
HAVING IMPORTED AND PURCHASED at auction a very large stock of

Crockery, China, Glassware
AND OTHER
HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS,

I propose to give my customers the benefit of my purchases by selling goods at less prices than ever before.
Look at some of my prices and judge for yourselves:
A real French china DINNER SET, 115 pieces, for $20.00
A real French china TEA SET, 41 pieces, for 8.75
A Stone China DINNER SET, 121 pieces, for 14.50
A Stone China TEA SET, 41 pieces, for 6.50
A Stone China CHAMBER SET, 11 pieces, for 3.50
Decorated CHAMBER SET, 11 pieces, for 5.00
Also the celebrated BUTTER CHURN. Warranted to make butter in from three to five minutes. Orders from the country will receive my best attention.
M. L. NAVRA,
CHINA PALACE,
120 Canal street, Touro building,
5p New Orleans.

DON'T CONTRACT
For your Advertising in Western and Southern Newspapers until you procure a copy of our Book of ADVERTISING
AND HOW AND WHERE TO DO IT.
October Edition, Just Out.
CONTAINING
A list of the best papers for local circulation in places of 2,500 population and upwards.
A list of the best local papers with price and full description of each.
A complete list of the Religious, Agricultural, Commercial, Scientific and Class papers, etc.
A list of the Agricultural papers.
A list of Illustrated papers.
A list of Foreign papers.
A list of papers in Texas, Arkansas and the Territories.
Lists of Religious, Sectarian, and Agricultural papers with prices, circulation, and full and other information on the subject of Newspaper Advertising.
Our book is sent free to advertisers on application.
ROWELL & CHESMAN
Advertising Agents,
THIRD & CHESTNUT STS., ST. LOUIS, MO.

NEW ENGLAND CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC. Largest in the world. 150 students in 9 years. 32 eminent professors. 115 lessons for $15. E. TOURJEE, Music Hall, Boston.

Farm, Garden and Household.

Practical Poultry Hints.

To prevent fowls from flying, cut the primary or flight feathers in one wing only, [illegible] the secondaries or wing coverts. This method will not mar or disfigure the bird in the least, and by so doing many high-flying birds can be kept inclosed by an ordinary picket fence. When this method is followed, the fowls must be provided with low roosting places or ground nests. Strangers, and anything that causes sudden fright, should be kept out of the yards, as the birds are crippled from flying, and in a good degree rendered helpless. Their efforts to escape are futile, and only result in their beating themselves against their prison walls, and an exhaustion of strength to no avail. If they are well fed, kept quiet, with plenty of drink, gravel, and greens, they will do quite as well as when at large, if their inclosures are roomy.

For marking fowls, the best method is to cut the web of the foot and keep a record. This method I do not think as sure as my own. The web of a chicken's foot is small, and if done when young will grow up; besides, it is an injury to the fowl. With aquatic fowls (ducks and geese) it may answer, but for gallinaceous fowls, I prefer sewing a strip of cloth of some high color on the leg. I choose some soft woolen cloth that will not chafe the leg, or feel disagreeable when wet. Scarlet flannel is good. Take a strip about an inch and a half wide, and long enough to wrap firmly about the leg and admit of a close seam. It requires generally two persons to perform the operation, as the bird must be held in one hand, the left, and the leg grasped firmly with the right, while the second person sews the stocking, making it secure, and cutting off all the ends, which makes a clean job of it, leaving no threads or ravellings hanging to worry and perplex the bird. Care should be taken not to get it too tight, neither should it be left too loose. The bird will never mind it at all, but go off about its business, and you have a readily designated mark that can be distinguished at a distance. For different strains, a different color may be employed, and the label may be sewed to a right or left leg, and a record kept accordingly. Should the label wear out and come off, it should be renewed.

Scurvy-leggedness is a disease (if it may be called a disease) which attacks only white and yellow-legged fowls. I never saw a blue or slate-color-legged fowl affected with it. Black or slate-colored legs are generally clean and neat. There are willow legs, black legs, slate legs, white legs and yellow legs. The latter are the prevailing color among the Leghorns, both white and brown, the Brahmas, Cochins, and Dominiques. In the Leghorn, more especially brown, the color is frequently a bright orange, with red flecklings down the outside of the leg. This is very noticeable in the cocks. Yellow legs are very handsome, and preferred by the majority until this plague (scurvy-leggedness) comes upon them. It is really no disease, but simply a collection of parasites under the scales of the legs. If left to its own course, warts and bunches will collect on the legs, which will nearly eat them off, becoming sores. If taken in time, they can be easily and effectually cured. Wash the legs once a day in strong soap suds, after which rub in a little oil to heal. Oftentimes the scales come off, and new ones grow. Why it is that yellow legs are more subject to it than others, is more than I am able to tell, but one thing is certain; it is not wholly the production of filth, else why should not the blue legs suffer the same when treated the same? The Houdans are white-legged; the Spanish, the Hamburgs, and some of the Games are black and slate-colored. The desirable shade for Games is willow. This difficulty should be taken in hand as soon as discovered. If left, excrescences or warts frequently form, the size of a large pea.

To keep free from lice, use plenty of whitewash (good slaked lime,) spread thick with a brush on the roosts, ceilings, nest-boxes, inside and out; in short, whitewash everything. Remove all the droppings, and sprinkle the floor freely with wood ashes or air slaked lime, and keep it dry and dusty. The lice hatch and swarm where the droppings are exposed to the weather, and the fowls roost above. Where fowls lodge on trees in summer, their roosting-places will become literally alive with lice. It is next to an impossibility to find any of the feathered race entirely free from vermin. All the birds of the air are, more or less, tormented with them.—C. B. in Country Gentleman.

Make Your Own Table Syrups.

We find the following by a correspondent of the Sunny South, and it contains so much good sense that we give it to our readers: The nauseous molasses and drugged sirup of the market can be replaced by a healthful sirup at nearly, if not quite, the same money. Perhaps money can be saved, as stated below. There is no reason why people should eat just what the world prepares for them. What one eats ought to be pure, nourishing food; not filthy and poisoned matters made up by bad people to make money.

There are several reasons suggested by economy and convenience for making the manufacture of sirup from sugar a household practice. The dealer who retails sirup has to pay freight on the weight of his contained water. This he exacts from the consumer, in the price at which it is offered. The package in which the sirup is transported is much more costly than the package in which the sugar is conveyed. The difference is added to the manufacturer's price, and is another element of cost to the consumer. The retailer of sugar adjusts his price at the lowest practicable rate of profit, because modern luxury has made it an article of prime necessity, and which will not bear a profit. Not so, however, with sirup, on which a rate of profit equal to the average of that made on the table supplies is required by the dealer.

To make a gallon of sirup of beautiful whiteness and crystal-like transparency, such as is known in our markets as silver drips, or rock candy drips, there are required eight pounds of refined sugar, such as is known by its various names and grades of A or B or extra C, and costing from 10 to 12½ cents per pound, according to locality and distance from the sugar refinery. To this quantity should be added three pints of boiling water, and the whole subjected to slow boiling for a period of fifteen or twenty minutes, after which the solution, while warm, should be strained through a fabric of moderately close texture. This will produce a gallon of sirup, at much less cost than the price demanded in market for the grades of sirup named. For a light yellow or golden sirup, the same quantity of light brown sugar may be employed, and so on through the lower grades of sugar and sirup; but no grade of sugar can be found which will produce so worthless an article as the Cuba molasses generally offered in all markets.

Cost of Fences.

We find by compilation of reports to the Department of Agriculture, that the cash value of the annual farm products of the United States is over $2 450,000,000, while the value of all the live stock, including horses, mules, cattle, sheep, hogs, was, on the first day of February, 1872, $1,659 211,033, or about $800,000,000 less than the value of the annual farm products.

To protect this $2 450,000,000 worth of growing crops from being destroyed by the $1,659,212,933 worth of live stock, we have built 1,619,199,428 rods of fence, inclosing 250,505,614 acres of ground, with an average of 6 46 rods per acre, costing $1 08 per rod, or $6 98 per acre, making a total cost of $1,748,520,185, or about $89,317,192 above the value of all the live stock. The annual decay and cost of repairs cannot be less than ten per cent. of the original cost of fence, or $174,852,918; interest at seven per cent. per annum, $124,319,811; total annual cost, $299,172,729. But this is not all. A fence occupies and wastes an average of one-half rod wide, or one acre for every fifty inclosed, making a total for all the fences of 50,101,123 acres. The gross proceeds per acre for the cultivated grounds in the United States, for the year 1871, amounted to $9 78. Call it $9 per acre, and taking two-thirds as the cost of cultivation, we have $3 as the net proceeds per acre, which would show an annual loss of $150,303 369, which, added to the annual cost to settle up and develop the country, and who have the heaviest burden of taxes to-day, to expend more than all the stock in the country is worth to fence in their crops, and give free range to the stock owners, who need not own or improve, or pay taxes upon a single acre? But people are beginning to believe that when they have fought a piece of land, and paid for it, and pay taxes upon it, they ought to own the land, and the crops growing thereon, and be protected in their rights to do with it as they please, providing that nothing which they do or grow or keep shall interfere with the right of others.—Lutheran Observer.

SURE CURE FOR GAPES.—An experienced chicken-raiser says as soon as a manifestation of gapes in his fowls appears, he confines his chickens in a box, one at a time, sufficiently large to contain the bird, and places a coarse cotton or linen cloth over the top. Upon this he places air-slaked lime, and taps the cloth sufficiently to cause the lime to fall through. This lime dust the fowl inhales, and is made to sneeze, and in a short time the cause of gapes is thrown out in the form of a slimy mass of worms that had accumulated in the windpipe and smaller air-vessels. This remedy he considers superior to any he has ever tried, and he seldom fails to effect a perfect cure.—Vermont Union.

CHEESE FRITTERS.—Beat four eggs very light, and season with salt, mustard, and pepper. Slice thin half a dozen large, sour apples, and half as many thin slices of good cheese as you have slices of apples. Put the cheese to soak in the mixture of egg and seasoning; let it stand a few moments; then put each slice of cheese between two slices of apple; dip the whole into the beaten egg; then fry in hot butter, like oysters, and serve hot.

We have never tried this, but are told it makes an excellent dish for breakfast.

SQUASHES.—Young squashes do not require peeling; cut them in about four pieces, and boil in water with a little salt until tender, from half to three-quarters of an hour; drain them, press between two wooden trenchers or plates until you can squeeze out no more water; throw them back into the vessel they were boiled in, mash them with a potato-masher, add a good piece of butter, pepper, and salt, keeping them hot on the range, and serve in a covered dish.

TO COOK HOMINY.—Take three cups of water to one cup of hominy, boil slowly for three-quarters of an hour; the longer it boils, the better it is; then add half a teacupful of sweet milk to one cup of hominy, then boil ten minutes more; stir it frequently while boiling.

CREAM FOR CAKES.—One pint of milk, three eggs, three tablespoonfuls of sugar, and flour to thicken. One-half cupful will do. Flavor.

A member of a country choir had his hair cut very closely, and, when he had to sing on the following Sunday, "Cover my defenseless head," there was a general titter and a smiling from behind the fans.—Musical World.

EDUCATIONAL.

University of Mississippi.

THE NEXT SESSION OF THE UNIVERSITY of Mississippi, at Oxford, opens

October 4, 1876.

The Faculty is complete, able, and proficient.

The campus, buildings, and apparatus in good repair.

The location is healthy. Church facilities and society excellent.

Tuition free to candidates for the ministry. Tuition fee to others $25. Total expenses need not exceed $.00 to $300 per annum. Students in the Preparatory Department will be required to board with family of the Principal.

For catalogues and information, address

H. M. SULLIVAN,
Secretary Board of Trustees,
Oxford, Miss.

Emory and Henry College

VIRGINIA.

THE collegiate year for 1876-7 begins on the FOURTEENTH OF SEPTEMBER next. It is divided into two terms of twenty weeks each, the first closing January 31; and the second beginning February 1, 1877.

For TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS deposited with the President at the beginning of the year we will give to a student, for the forty weeks, his tuition, board, fuel, room-rent, washing, library and contingent fees.

For information on special points or for a catalogue address E. E. WILEY, President, Emory P. O., Virginia.

EMORY COLLEGE.

THE FALL TERM of this long-established institution opens on Wednesday, SEPTEMBER 6.

Emory College, with a full Faculty and a thorough curriculum, is prepared to do first class college work.

TUITION—Fall Term, $25; Spring Term, $35. Board in good families, from $16 to $20 per month. Food and lodging can be procured at from $10 to $15 per month by boys willing to wait on themselves.

For further information address the President,
ATTICUS G. HAYGOOD,
Oxford, Ga.

State Female College,

MEMPHIS, TENN.

MRS. HARRIET N. COLLINS, PRESIDENT.

ASSISTED by a faculty of ELEVEN officers and teachers of long experience in each department in the institution.

Prices reduced to suit the times. Location beautiful and pre-eminently healthy. Gives a thorough education, with advantages of a home. Superior facilities for instruction in Music and Painting. College year begins SEPTEMBER 11. Send for catalogues containing full particulars. Address

JOHN S. COLLINS, A. B., Secretary.

Quitman M. & F. College.

QUITMAN, VAN BUREN CO., ARK.

FALL SESSION BEGINS MONDAY, SEPT 4. This school, under the patronage of the Arkansas Conference, offers a quiet, healthy retreat to students. Good board can be had at eight to ten dollars per month. Tuition is as low as can be had anywhere, ranging from $1.50 to $3 a month. Tuition free to children of ministers and to young men studying for the ministry.

For further particulars apply to
REV. JAMES A. PEEBLES, President,
Quitman, Van Buren Co., Ark.

Collegiate Institute

AT BATON ROUGE, LA.

THE next session of this School will begin on Wednesday, the FOURTH OF OCTOBER, 1876. This is a family Boarding School for boys. The healthfulness of the location is unsurpassed; instruction thorough in all that is necessary to prepare the student for any grade in college or any pursuit in life. Discipline parental. The constant personal care of the Principal is given to the health, morals and manners of the pupils.

For circulars, with necessary information, apply to
W. R. N. MAGRUDER,
Baton Rouge, La.

MOORE'S SOUTHERN BUSINESS COLLEGE ATLANTA, GA. THE BEST PRACTICAL BUSINESS SCHOOL IN THE SOUTH
SEND FOR CATALOGUES.

Fort Edward Collegiate Institute,

NEW YORK.

$172 PER YEAR. RATES TO SUIT THE times. Facilities never better. Superb brick buildings. Fifteen teachers. A business course, college preparatory, and other graduating courses for both sexes, or any studies may be chosen. Twenty-third year August 31. Winter term December 7. Admission any time proportionally. Address JOS. E. KING, D. D.,
Fort Edward, N. Y.

VAN NORMAN INSTITUTE,
(Founded 1857.)
252 West 59th Street, facing Central Park. Unequaled for beauty and healthfulness. Tuis English, Classical, French, and German Family and Day School for Young Ladies will reopen Sep ember 26, 1876. Its Circular giving full information, will be furnished on application
REV. D. C. VAN NORMAN, LL.D.,
MAD. VEILLER VAN NORMAN, } Principals

MARVIN LINCOLN.

MANUFACTURER OF ARTIFICIAL LIMBS and various kinds of

Surgical Appliances.

The Lincoln Artificial Arm a Specialty.

Artificial Thumbs and Fingers neatly and tastefully applied.

For further information, circulars, testimonials, etc., address MARVIN LINCOLN, No. 8 Hamilton Place, Boston, Mass.

HEATH, PIPPEY & LARA,

IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN

Carpets, Floor Oil Cloths,

UPHOLSTERY GOODS, WALL PAPER, WINDOW Shades, Cornices, Lace and Netting Curtains, Mirrors, Moldings, Chromos, Engravings, Etc.

Frames made to order—a specialty.

No. 99 Camp Street,
NEW ORLEANS.

ATTENTION!

M. ANDRIEU,

159 ..... POYDRAS STREET 159

Home-Made Shoes at $3.50 a Pair.

City made Boots and Shoes of all kinds and styles, made of the very best material and workmanship, and at less prices than any other store in this city. Keeps all kinds for Gents', Boys', Ladies' and Children's wear.

$50 to $200 A MONTH FOR AGENTS.

UNIVERSAL HISTORY.

The great interest in political affairs and in our own stirring history of 100 years makes this book sell faster than any other. Three books in one, handsomely illustrated. Low price, quick sales, extra terms. Send for Circular.

J. C. McCURDY & CO., St. Louis, Mo.

SHELDON COLLINS & CO.,

MANUFACTURERS OF PRINTING INKS, Extra Black Book, News, Card, Job, Wood Cut,

—AND—

Colored Inks of Every Variety.

Office and depot 24 Frankfort street, New York

OPIUM AND MORPHINE HABIT ABSOLUTELY and SPEEDILY CURED. Painless. No publicity. Send stamp for particulars. DR. COULTON, 187 Washington street, Chicago, Ill

VINEGAR—How made in ten hours without drugs. Address F. SAGE, Springfield, Mass.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE JELESO WATER,

NO. 20 CORTLANDT ST., NEW YORK.

WARREN & CO., PROPRIETORS.

URAL MOUNTAIN

JELESO WATER

is a concentration of all the curative qualities of the most celebrated Mineral Springs in the world. Each bottle contains eighty doses and is equal to over one hundred bottles of the Natural Spring Water.

As a tonic it is unsurpassed, having had most remarkable success in curing some of the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Nervousness, and General Debility. It is simple, harmless, and pleasant to take. If used as a gargle in its pure state, on the first appearance of diphtheria and all other throat diseases it works like magic. It arrests the progress of and cures such complaints in less than twenty-four hours. It will greatly alleviate or entirely cure the worst cases of Rheumatism. Eczema and all other diseases of the skin, Prickly Heat, Poisoning by Ivy, Sumac, or Oak are quickly cured by the use of Jeleso Water. We will forward three bottles of the medicine to any part of the United States, free of express age, on receipt of $1 per bottle. Send for Circular, containing testimonials and directions.

Appended are a few of the many certificates sent us:

As a family medicine and tonic it is simply invaluable. In my own case it has cured Dyspepsia of long standing.

JOHN F. MINES,
Managing Editor N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

Permit me to add my testimony to the efficiency of your "Jeleso" in cases of Dyspepsia of long standing. I have used two bottles of it, and I am now thoroughly cured. I shall most cheerfully recommend its use to all my friends; and I consider it an indispensable medicine in every family.

I am most truly yours,
J. D. BARTON.

Supt. Flushing, North Shore, and Central R. R., of Long Island.

101 EAST 23D ST., NEW YORK,
January 29, 1876.

DR. WARREN—Dear Sir: I have used your Jeleso Water as a tonic, also for Dyspepsia and Throat Affections of all kinds with great beneficial results. I believe it to be a very valuable remedy.

DR. E. G. STILLMAN.

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE.

RESPECTFULLY offers her services in selecting, purchasing and forwarding any article of apparel or personal adornment for Ladies' and Children's use, including MILLINERY, DRY GOODS, JEWELRY, BRIDAL TROUSSEAUX, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Trimmings, Underwear, Sewing Machines etc.

Scrupulous care with reference to the price and quality, and fidelity to the interest and fulfillment of the wishes of correspondents, will be sedulously carried out.

Spring and Summer Styles

OF

LADIES' DRESSES,

IN IMPORTED FRENCH PATTERNS,

CENTENNIAL APRONS, RUCHES AND KERCHIEFS, fac-similes of the Fashions of 1776

Just received by

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE,
NO. 96 CANAL STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

GENERAL AGENCY

AMERICAN COTTON TIE CO.

(LIMITED.)

47 CARONDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS,
August 1, 1876.

Notice to Dealers and Merchants Buying and Selling Iron Cotton Ties.

Whereas, sundry unscrupulous persons are offering for sale in this city and other parts of the country, cotton ties having Arrow buckles on, not licensed for sale by us, and some having so-called second-hand Arrow buckles, we caution the public, for their protection, not to purchase any Arrow or Open-Slot Ties whatever from any but our authorized agents, or sold through them. Either new or second hands, using our Arrow and Open-Slot buckles in combination therewith, unlicensed by us, violate our patent rights.

As an additional protection to the public and ourselves, for several years we have stamped our buckles: "Licensed for use once only."

For the AMERICAN COTTON TIE COMPANY (Limited),
F. COOK,
General Legal Agent.

JOSEPH GILLOTT'S

STEEL PENS.

SOLD BY ALL DEALERS

MANUFACTURERS' WAREHOUSE

No. 91 John Street, New York.

JOSEPH GILLOTT & SON.

HENRY HOE, Sole Agent.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

W. M. EVANS,

NO. 33 N. PETERS ST., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

SOLICITS CONSIGNMENTS OF

Wool, Moss, Hides, Rags, Bones, Metals,

And all descriptions of PRODUCE.

Personal and careful attention given to all business intrusted to my care. Quick sales and prompt returns made. Will fill orders for all descriptions of goods at lowest cash prices. Advances made on consignments. P. O. Box 2293.

FAIRBANKS' SCALES.

GUARANTEED U. S. STANDARD.

FAIRBANKS'

COTTON AND SUGAR BEAMS.

Branch House—53 Camp Street.

FAIRBANKS & CO.

ADOLPH SUTTER.

GLASS STAINER.

Particular Attention Paid to Church Work.

Orders from all parts of the country promptly attended to.

212 N. SEVENTH ST., bet. Pine and Olive.

ST. LOUIS, MO.

DO YOUR OWN PRINTING!

NOVELTY PRINTING PRESS.

For Professional and Amateur Printers, Schools, Societies, Manufacturers, Merchants, and others it is the BEST ever invented. 11,000 in use. Prices from $5.00 to $150.00. D. N. J. O. WOODS & CO., Manufacturers and Dealers in all kinds of Printing Material. (Send stamp for Catalogue.) 49 Federal St., Boston.

T. W. ROTHICK,

UNDERTAKER,

271 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Embalming and Disinterring. Bodies carefully shipped. Carriages and Cabs for hire.

GLASS STAINERS

CUTTERS, AND EMBOSSERS.

CHURCH WINDOWS A SPECIALTY.

Estimates and samples on application.

WM. COULTER & SON

102 & 104 E. 2d St., CINCINNATI, O.

ESTABLISHED IN 1835.

LEEDS' FOUNDRY,

Cor. Delord and Foucher Sts.

MISCELLANEOUS.

FACTORS & TRADERS INSURANCE COMPANY.

37 ..... Carondelet Street, ... 37

Premiums for the year ending April 30, 1876	$663,651.82
Losses paid within the year	277,478.76
Reserved for unterminated risks April 30, 1876	86,560.00
Net profits for the year	131,001.76

Cash dividends for the year:
Interest (semi annually) ..... TEN PER CENT.
Premiums ..... TWENTY PER CENT.

Assets, April 30, 1876 ..... $1,368,655.40

This Company continues to issue policies on Fire, River, and Marine Risks at current rates of premium.

E. A. PALFREY, President.
JOHN CHAFFE, Vice-President.
THOMAS F. WALKER, Secretary.

—TRUSTEES—

W. A. Johnson,	W. C. Raymond,
John I. Noble,	T. Lyle Lyon,
John Chaffe,	S. H. Snowden,
Richard Milliken,	S. H. Boyd,
John I. Warren,	Joseph McElroy,
R. T. Buckner,	E. B. Wheelock,
Samuel Friedlander,	Cyrus Bussey,
A. A. Yales,	Wm. J. Behan,
John I. Adams,	H. F. Eshleman,
Isaac Schenck,	W. C. Black,
R. M. Walmsley,	Charles Chaffe,
A. H. May.	L. C. Jurey,
	Wm. Hartwell.

! REDUCTION IN PRICE !

Richardson's

NEW METHOD

FOR PIANO.

—A CARD—

THE PUBLISHERS, BELIEVING THE DEmand of the times should be met, have reduced the price of this famous Method for the Piano Forte to $1 25.

They believe the public will appreciate their action. As to merit and excellence there is no book its equal. It stands as its sales of hundreds of thousands will attest, is attractive, thorough, and successful. It is considered by all fair judges to be the perfection of a piano-instruction book.

First and Foremost,

Price $1.25. Sent postpaid for this price.

Sold by all Music and Book Dealers, and used by the principal teachers in the United States and Canada.

OLIVER DITSON & CO.,
Boston.

C. H. Ditson & Co., 711 Broadway, New York. J. E. Ditson & Co., Successor to Lee & Walker, Phila

SWAIM'S CELEBRATED PANACEA

is not as many persons suppose a patented specific heralded for the cure of all diseases flesh is heir to; but, having enjoyed an established reputation for more than fifty years on account of its great value in diseases termed scrofulous, having been the means of restoration to health of thousands of diseased persons, it has received the indorsement of hundreds of physicians who know its merits, and should be used by all who suffer from diseases arising from impurities of the blood, or even hereditary taint.

Its value in Chronic Rheumatism, Old Ulcers, Chronic Sores, White Swellings, etc., is known to thousands of Southern people.

Prepared at

Swaim's Laboratory,

South Seventh St., below Chestnut St.,

PHILADELPHIA.

LOOK TO YOUR SHIPMENTS.

ODELL & WRIGHT,

85 DECATUR ST., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

COTTON & SUGAR FACTORS,

AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

Obtain Always Best Market Prices.

The sale of Moss, Wool and Hides, and other heavy produce, specialty attended to. Liberal advances in cash or merchandise. We are familiar with the products we handle. We are Sole Agents for the GRANGERS' BRANDS OF FLOUR:

Grangers' Friend XXX, Grangers' Rose XXX, Grangers' Pride XXXX, Grangers' Ezira XXXX, Grangers' Rest XXXX, which we will sell at Western prices. We also purchase Sugar and Molasses for those outside the sugar sections.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Returning thanks for past favors, the undersigned desires to inform his friends and the public that he has removed to

152 and 154 Camp St., cor. Calliope,

WHERE HE CONTINUES TO

BUY, SELL, STORE, REMOVE, PACK And Repair Furniture

of every description. Pictures and Looking-glasses framed. JOHN BOIS,
Nos. 152 and 154 Camp street.

FURNITURE AND MATTRESSES

NO. 155 CAMP STREET.

THE undersigned has a large stock of Furniture, which he will dispose of at prices that will DEFY COMPETITION. Give me a call and see for yourselves.

Furniture taken on storage. Repairs made at lowest rates. All Furniture and Bedding put in perfect repair and delivered to order. Moving, Packing, etc., in full, done at the lowest possible prices on application to

HENRY CUTLOFF,
155 Camp street.

Lower Coast Semi-Weekly Packet.

FOR PORT EADS, SOUTHWEST Pass, Pilot Town, Forts Jackson and St. Philip, Buras Settlement, Pointe-a-la-Hache and all way landings. The new, swift, low-pressure Steamer

MARTHA,

W. S. Bissett, Master,

leaves for above every WEDNESDAY at 12 M., and SATURDAY at 5 P. M.

Returning every MONDAY and FRIDAY.

For freight or passage apply on board, or to LOPE & CARLIN, Agents.

Baxter, Bell & Co.'s Pure Liquid Paints

WARRANTED PURE, AND NOT TO CONtain Water or Alkali. These Paints are of many different shades, and for covering capacity, durability, fineness and beauty of finish they cannot be excelled by any other description of Paint. Liberal discount made to dealers. Send for sample card to the Agents,

SAMUEL M. TODD & CO.,
76 Magazine street, New Orleans.

PRICES REDUCED. Real Quality ARTIFICIAL LIMBS satisfactory or no sale. CHEAPEST IN THE U. S. during CENTENNIAL YEAR.
CHAS. M. EVANS, Manuf'r,
152 West Fourth Street, Cincinnati, O.
Fourth and Market Sts., Louisville, Ky.

MAGIC LANTERNS & SLIDES WANTED. THEO. J. HARBACH, 1430 FOR SALE PHILADA PA

INSURANCE.

New Orleans Insurance Co.

CORNER CAMP AND CANAL STS.

ESTABLISHED IN 1837.

Capital	$100,000
Assets at their market value	$[illegible]
Income for the year 1875	$[illegible]

The company insures FIRE, MARINE AND RIVER RISKS. Issues Marine policies payable in London in case of loss.

President—J. TUYES.
Vice President—A. SCHREIBER.
Secretary—J. W. HINCKS.

DIRECTORS.

Ernest Merlin,	A. M. Bickham,
Placide Forstall,	A. Schreiber,
H. Gally,	J. Tuyes,
Charles Lafitte,	W. A. Bell,
W. Van Benthuysen,	H. Fatio,
Pierre Pontz,	D. D. Rogers.

UNION INSURANCE COMPANY

OF NEW ORLEANS,

3 ..... CARONDELET STREET 3

Near the Union National Bank.

This Company, incorporated in 1857, insures against the risks of Sea, River and Fire, and settles promptly all losses of claims.

A. CHIAPELLA, President.
J. M. CRAWFORD, Secretary.

DIRECTORS.

Victor Maignan,	H. Gally,
L. D. Sarpy,	A. Chiapella,
H. Silloy,	J. Bayle,
H. Labasse,	A. R. Brousseau,
	A. Bonnecaze.

SAVINGS BANKS.

LOUISIANA SAVINGS BANK AND SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY,

51 Camp Street.

CAPITAL ..... $[illegible]

F. C. PALMER, President.
JAS. JACKSON, Vice President.

DIRECTORS.

ED. CONERY,	FRED'K WIND,
J. B. KELLER,	W. H. THOMAS,
W. B. SCHMIDT,	JAS. JACKSON,
	E. C. PALMER.

This Company insures against loss by Burglars, Thieves and Fire at low rates, and its capital gives security to Depositors.

Small Deposits received and 5 per cent. interest per annum, paid semi-annually.

JOHN S. WALTON, Cashier.

NEW ORLEANS SAVINGS INSTITUTION,

156 ..... CANAL STREET 156

Incorporated March 15, 1853.

OFFICERS.

DAVID URQUHART, President.
THOS. A. ADAMS, First Vice President.
THOS. ALLEN CLARKE, Second Vice President.
CHARLES J. LEEDS, Third Vice President.
CHARLES KILSHAW, Treasurer.

TRUSTEES.

Thos. A. Adams,	George Jonas,
Thos. Allen Clarke,	John G. Gaines,
Charles J. Leeds,	Christian Schneider,
Samuel Jamison,	Carl Kolin,
A. Moulton,	T. L. Bayne,
E. A. Palfrey,	David Urquhart.

Interest allowed on deposits.

AGENTS WANTED.

WANTED AGENTS for our new Book, the Story of the Bible, from Genesis to Revelation, in simple language for the young. The author, for twenty years an earnest worker in teaching the scriptures to the young, felt the need of such a work, and hence labored long and earnestly to make the grandest literature in the world accessible to all. This Book will be gladly welcomed by every Parent and Sabbath School Teacher in the land. It is beautifully illustrated, and elegantly bound, and having an immense sale. One agent reports 36 first week, others 79, 81, 41, etc. Also, our "COMPLETE DOMESTIC BIBLE," 2,000 illustrations. Has no equal. For extra terms, address Anchor Publishing Co., St. Louis, Mo.

"DON'T FORGET IT!" Singer's Safe Guard is worth all the Burglar Alarms ever invented. Agents wanted everywhere. Sil ver-plated sample prepaid on receipt of 25 cents. Address A. H. SINGER, 438 Walnut street, Philadelphia, Pa.

AGENTS If you want the best selling article in the world, and a solid Gold Patent Lever Watch, free of cost, write at once to J. BRIDE & CO., 767 Broadway, New York.

YES WE WANT an agent in every town. Easy work at home. Write now and we will start you. $8 a day sure to all. SIMSON & SMITH, 64 Cortlandt st., N. Y.

AGENTS double their money selling "Dr. Chase's Improved" Receipt Book. Address Dr. Chase's Printing-House, Ann Arbor, Mich.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SONG HERALD

BY H. R. PALMER.

For

Singing Classes & Conventions.

A great improvement upon all of Mr. Palmer's former works, containing new ideas throughout. Every page sparkling with

NEW AND BEAUTIFUL MUSIC.

"THE SONG HERALD"

is the legitimate successor of SONG KING and SONG QUEEN, which have had a combined sale of over

350,000 COPIES!

All Other Similar Works are but imitations.

Price, $ 50 Per Dozen. Single Copy sent on receipt of 75 cents. Specimen Pages free.

JOHN CHURCH & CO.,
CINCINNATI, O.

COUNTRY ORDERS

FOR

BOOTS AND SHOES.

PARTIES who wish to buy Boots and Shoes FOR CASH are invited to send to me for a card which explains HOW TO TAKE YOUR OWN MEASURE, thus enabling any one in the country to get a good-fitting Boot or Shoe direct from the city at the LOWEST CITY PRICES. Where we are invoiced with orders that exceed $10 the Freight thereon will be prepaid at our expense. Where the order exceeds $20 we will also pay the cost of sending the money to us, whether by Express, Money Order, Registered Letter, Bank Draft or otherwise.

Goods sent C. O. D. to all points where the Express Company or Packets have agents.

Price list of ready-made goods, also instructions how to take your own measure, will be sent by mail upon application.

GIMBEL'S UPPER CITY BLUE BOOT AND SHOE STORE,
No. 578 Magazine Street,
Sign of the Lady's Foot.
Branch—585 Magazine St., corner St. Andrew.
LOUIS GIMBEL, Agent

CABIN'S CABINS, LUMBER, ETC.

To meet the demand for our Cabins we have added such machinery as enables us to turn them out not only faster, but better and cheaper; so come on with your orders. Not forgetting that as Lumber Merchants we date back a quarter of a century, and with recently established telegraph communication with our Pearl River Mills, we can furnish at short notice anything from a plaster lath to a ship spar.

W. W. CABIN & CO.,
No. 250 Delord street.

MEDICAL.

ANGELL'S HOMEOPATHIC PHARMACY.

...t Julia St., near Camp, New Orleans.

HOMEOPATHIC MEDICINES, BOOKS, CASES, AND ALL OTHER ARTICLES USED IN HOMEOPATHIC PRACTICE.

TO MEET THE DEMAND FOR AIDS TO Domestic Practice, and proved by an extensive experience to be safe, generally successful and peculiarly adapted to family practice, remedies for the following diseases will be furnished by mail or express, with full directions as to their use: For COLDS, COLDS, CATARRH, CROUP, HOOPING COUGH, ASTHMA, FEVER, DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, CHOLERA MORBUS AND INFANTUM, COLIC, DYSPEPSIA, BILIOUSNESS, NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, SORE THROAT, EAR DISORDERS, SORE MOUTH, URINARY AFFECTIONS, PILES, SKIN DISEASES, RHEUMATISM, SCROFULA, SORE EYES, AND GENERAL DEBILITY. 25 cents each.

FOR HEART AFFECTIONS AND CHILL DROPS successful in AGUE AND FEVER when other remedies fail one dollar each.

PHOSPHORATED BITTERS and COLIC DROPS, 25 cents each.

Dr. R. ANGELL, Senior,

continues his visiting and office practice as usual, day or night, and will prescribe and furnish medicine by letter on a full statement of case, if desirable.

First prescription and medicine, three to five dollars; subsequent ones, two to three dollars. Medication alone, free of charge, on inclosing a stamped envelope. Office up stairs 152 Julia street.

DUCONGE'S PECTORAL BALSAMIC SIRUP.

NEARLY half a century has elapsed since the discovery of this wonderful compound. Its well-established virtue and its high reputation in ailments of the Chest, Lungs, Breast and Bowels so well known, and has been tested for so many years by such extensive patronage, that it would be superfluous, at this late day, to dwell at any length on its efficacy in Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Inflammation of the Throat, Stomach or Bowels, Spitting of Blood and Whooping Cough.

It has been found highly beneficial in all Inflammatory disorders, such as Rheumatism, Diarrhœa, Dysentery and Summer Complaint, and especially in those cases of Cholerine which, for want of proper care, so often degenerate into confirmed Cholera.

In all affections of the Lungs, verging on Consumption, it has been found most efficacious in preventing that most awful scourge whosoever may resorted to.

Besides its acknowledged certainty of cure, this truly extraordinary medicine has, over most compounds of the same nature, the decided advantage that, owing to its agreeable flavor, it can be administered without the least difficulty to children, and requires no particular diet. It is also the cheapest, not only because the bottles contain more syrup than any other, but owing to its peculiar composition this Sirup will keep for years without fermenting, and it can be used in families whenever required by simply keeping the bottle well corked.

Directions for Taking the Sirup.—Grown persons may take from four to six spoonfuls in the course of the day, either pure or diluted in a little water, or a less quantity at intervals of three or four hours.

Persons much troubled during the night may take two tablespoonfuls of the Sirup on going to bed, when it will stop the cough and procure a good night's rest.

Children from three to five years old may take from one to six teaspoonfuls during the day, in suitable quantities, at intervals of three to four hours. For sale by

A. CARROUCHE,
Agent for New Orleans, 39 Chartres St.,
And by all druggists.

THE ONLY TRUE AND PERFECT HAIR COLORER!

THE MYSTERY,

Or Turner's Hair Tint!

HARMLESS! BEAUTIFUL! PERMANENT!

This preparation has received the indorsement of the scientific world, and wherever introduced has superseded all other preparations of the kind. No washing or preparation of the hair is necessary before using.

It is free from all Deleterious Ingredients, containing no Lead, Sulphur or other compounds which are injurious to the Hair or Dangerous by Absorption.

All its use saves both time and labor, as a few drops applied with a comb, once a month or so, to the hair or Whiskers, answers the purpose, the natural color being so perfectly assimilated as to defy detection. Its great recommendation is in its application of tint, producing any desired shade, from light brown to the deepest black and entirely free of that dry and burned appearance produced by other Hair Dyes. The Mystery can be applied to a single hair, or spots that have changed color restored to their original shade without spotting all over the head, as is necessary when other Hair Dyes are used.

A sample box sent free by mail to any address, in the United States upon receipt of price, One Dollar, by the inventor and proprietor,

JAMES TURNER, Chemist,
P. O. Box 2531. New Orleans.

Wholesale Agents.—I. L. Lyons, New Orleans; Frederick, Finlay & Co., New Orleans; E. J. Hart & Co., New Orleans, and for sale by Druggists everywhere.

N. JENKINS' ANNIHILATOR.

A PURELY VEGETABLE COMPOUND, for the permanent cure of

Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia.

What the Annihilator will do!

1. From one to two bottles will cure any Acute case of Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia.
2. From two to twelve bottles, according to duration of disease, will cure any case of Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia.

Enquire of the best regulators of the blood known.

N. JENKINS,
106 Camp street, New Orleans.

Wholesale Agents—G. R. FINLAY & CO., New Orleans.

KEEP'S CUSTOM SHIRTS,

Made to measure! The very best 6 for $9.

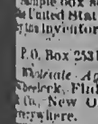
KEEP'S PATENT PARTLY-MADE DRESS SHIRTS, the very best 6 for $7.

ON RECEIPT OF PRICE WITH SIZE OF NECK above, with an elegant set of gold plated studs and sleeve buttons, will be delivered free by express or mail, all charges prepaid, except Callbacks and the Imitation "Keeps shirts are only sold in one quality, the very best. We mean just what we say, and to give every one an opportunity of judging for themselves, without cost, we mail samples and full directions for self-measurement free to any address. We refer to purchasers of Keep's shirts everywhere.

KEEP MANUFACTURING CO.,
165 and 167 Mercer street, New York.

J. A. LACROIX,
PROPRIETOR OF THE
Pontchartrain Cheap Store,
COR. FRENCHMEN AND VICTORY STREETS,
Ladies', Gent.'s, Misses' and Children's
BOOTS AND SHOES
OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.

Always on hand, a full assortment of first-class goods, at prices which defy competition. Call and examine my stock before purchasing elsewhere. My Motto—Quick Sales and Small Profits.



SELF-INKING "BEST" PRINTING PRESS, DUFFY and PRESS &c. Presses from $1 to $6. Rotary Presses from $15 to $125. Send stamps for catalogues.
H. HOOVER & CO.,
50 North 9th street,
Philadelphia.

CANCER Radically Cured without the Knife or Pain, and positively guaranteed.
Prof. I. M. COMINS,
M.D., 113 Lexington Avenue, New York.

MENEELY & COMPANY,
Bell Founders, West Troy, New York.
FIFTY years established. CHURCH BELLS and CHIMES; ACADEMY, FACTORY BELLS, &c. Improved Patent Mountings. Catalogues free. No agencies.

$10 to $25 A DAY SURE MADE by Agents selling our Chromos, Crayons, Picture and Chromo Cards. 125 samples, worth $5, sent postpaid for 84 cents. Illustrated Catalogue free. J. E. BUFFORD'S SONS, Boston. Estab'd 1850.

BUSINESS CARDS.

JNO. F. LUTHER,
79 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK.
MANUFACTURER OF ALL KINDS OF SCHOOL, COLLEGE, CHURCH, CLASS, SOCIETY AND FRATERNITY
PINS, BADGES & MEDALS,
at short notice, and very reasonable.
Fine Presentation Medals a specialty. Orders by mail attended to.

CISTERN-MAKER.

R. BRODERICK,
NOS. 132, 134 AND 136 JULIA ST.,
Between Camp and Magazine, New Orleans.
Constantly on hand an assortment of Cisterns. Second-hand Cisterns always on hand. All orders promptly attended to.

MARTIN WEYDIG,
NO. 170 POYDRAS ST., NEW ORLEANS,
MANUFACTURER OF
SADDLES, HARNESS AND HOSE.
Firemen's and Military Equipments made to order. Dealer in all kinds of Leather and Rubber Hose, Leather and Rubber Pipes, Suctions and Fire Buckets, Horse Sheets and Blankets, Lap Dusters, Buggy Robes, Fly Nets and Whips, and all kinds of Saddlery Hardware. Country orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

A. B. GRISWOLD & CO.,
COR. CANAL AND ROYAL STS.,
WATCHES, JEWELRY, DIAMONDS
AND SILVERWARE.
Watches and Jewelry repaired in the best manner. Goods sent C. O. D., and returnable if not suitable. Everything guaranteed to be as represented.

H. SPIERING,
UPHOLSTERER,
631 ..... MAGAZINE ST. 631
Near Jackson, New Orleans.
Parlor Sets manufactured at New York prices. Spring, Hair and Moss Mattresses made. Loose Covers cut and made to order. Carpets laid, and taken up, cleaned and relaid. All work guaranteed.

G. SCIACCALUGA, IMPORTER,
And Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
GROCERIES, SHIP CHANDLERY, Etc.
Nos. 157 and 159 Old Levee St.,
Between Jefferson and St. Peter, New Orleans.
A full assortment of Paints, Oil, Oakum, Hemp and Manilla Rope. Keep a complete assortment of French and Catalonia Wines, Italian Macaroni and Vermicelli, etc.

EDWARD NALLE. R. G. CAMMACK.
NALLE & CAMMACK,
COTTON FACTORS
AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS
No. 193 Gravier Street, New Orleans.
Liberal cash advances made on consignments of Cotton, Wool, Tobacco, and Produce generally.

COAL ..... COAL ..... COAL.
B. D. WOOD & BROS.,
Corner Camp and Common Streets,
Opposite the City Hotel,
Wholesale and Retail Dealers in all kinds of COAL. Pittsburg Coal delivered by boat-load or less on the coast, and shipped in casks or in bulk at lowest market rates. City trade supplied.

LUMBER—67 PER 1,000 FEET,
AT
J. L. NEVERS,
SUCCESSORS TO
J. C. POOLEY, 345 JULIA STREET.

ANDREW J. AIKEN. JOHN W. WATT.
AIKEN & WATT,
COTTON FACTORS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
16 Union Street, New Orleans, La.
Special attention given to orders for the purchase of all descriptions of Produce, Agricultural Implements and Plantation Supplies.

WOOD ..... COAL ..... LUMBER.
NO. 351 DRYADES STREET, between Clio and Erato streets. Best quality of Oak, Ash and Pine Sawed and Split Wood at lowest rates. Pittsburg and Anthracite Coal and Charcoal at the lowest market prices. Also agent for Abita Mills. Lumber sawed to order at the shortest notice. Orders left at my office, 351 Dryades street, or at 262 Calliope street, will receive prompt attention. Satisfaction guaranteed. SAM. SMITH.

LOUISIANA STEAM SASH, BLIND
—AND—
DOOR FACTORY,
ROBERTS & CO., PROPRIETORS.
501, 503, 505 and 507 Gravier Street,
Country orders solicited. New Orleans.

WILLIAM VELDEN,
DEALER IN
WOOD, COAL AND ICE,
Corner Philip and Prytania Streets,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Meat and Fish kept on ice free of charge.

BOOTS, SHOES AND TRUNKS,
OF VARIOUS QUALITIES AND PRICES
At Low Figures for Cash.
Country Merchants and Planters will do well to give me a call before purchasing elsewhere.
H. MUMME,
No. 551 Magazine street, and
No. 451 Dryades street.

JOHN A. CAHNS,
GENERAL ENGRAVER,
101 ..... CANAL STREET 101
Wedding and Visiting Cards neatly engraved and printed.
Special attention given to Crests, Monograms, Dies, etc. Jewelry and Silverware marked artistically.

ADOLPHE J. LEROY & CO.,
BOOK-BINDERS, RULERS,
AND BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURERS,
92 ..... Camp Street. 92
(Over James A. Breslin's.) New Orleans.
Music Books and Periodicals bound in any desired style.

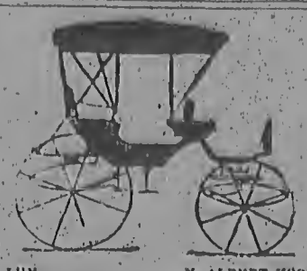
F. H. HARDON,
DEALER IN
MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS
Nos. 27 and 29 Chartres Street,
Bet. Canal and Customhouse,
NEW ORLEANS.

MRS. FRICKE & WILLIAMS (over Braselman & Adams') wish to inform the community that they are in constant receipt of the LATEST FASHIONS. Their style and fit cannot be rivaled, and their punctuality can be testified by their customers. Ladies would do well to call early with their Holiday Dresses, in order to have ample time to display their skill in producing something elegant and tasty. Prices always moderate.
MRS. FRICKE & WILLIAMS.

ED. RABE & CO.,
CARRIAGE & SPRING WAGON
MANUFACTURERS,
Nos. 431 and 433 Sycamore Street,
Bet. Franklin and Woodward, CINCINNATI, O.

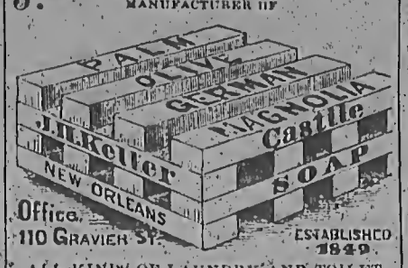
CHROMOS—We have over 3,000,000 of the best selling American and Foreign Chromos ready for delivery. Rare opportunity for experienced solicitors. Send for catalogue. J. LATHAM & CO., Art Publishers, Boston, Mass.

BUSINESS CARDS.



J. A. LUM. N. ALBERT HOOKER.
J. A. LUM & CO.,
MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN
CARRIAGES, HARNESS, ETC.,
162 Gravier and 18 Union Street.
☞ A SPECIALTY MADE OF CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

J. H. KELLER,
MANUFACTURER OF



Office, 110 Gravier St. ESTABLISHED 1849.
ALL KINDS OF LAUNDRY AND TOILET SOAPS.

JOHN I. ADAMS. JAY L. ADAMS. WM. H. RENAUD.
JOHN I. ADAMS & CO.,
WHOLESALE GROCERS,
AND DEALERS IN
PROVISIONS, LARD, OIL, ETC.
Nos. 43, 45 and 47 Peters Street,
(Formerly New Levee street,) New Orleans.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DR. JOHN W. ADAMS,
SURGEON DENTIST.
Office and Residence—NO. 511 DAUPHINE ST.,
(Late Creal men street,) one door from corner of Spain, New Orleans.
Nitrous Oxide Gas administered for the painless extraction of Teeth. Teeth Inserted on Gold, Silver and Vulcanite bases.

A. L. TUCKER,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
(Late of Franklin, St. Mary Parish, La.)
160 ..... COMMON STREET 160
(Up stairs.) New Orleans.

REMOVAL.—A CARD.—In obedience to the expressed wishes of many of my patrons I have removed my office from my residence, on Napoleon avenue, to TIVOLI CIRCLE, west side corner of Leford street. This office has been selected by reason of its affording excellent rooms and fine light, and for its central location and ease of access by car lines.

My patrons must scarcely be reminded that no efforts will be spared to render them the best service. In Dentistry the best is always the cheapest.
J. R. WALKER, D. D. S.

DR. C. J. BICKHAM,
RESIDENCE AND OFFICE,
640 Magazine St., Corner of Jackson,
NEW ORLEANS.
Office Hours—Eight to nine A. M. and three to four P. M.

DR. J. J. LYONS,
NO. 219 CARONDELET STREET,
Between Julia and St. Joseph,
New Orleans, La.

E. T. MERRICK, formerly Chief Justice Louisiana. W. HACK. W. R. FOSTER.
MERRICK, RACE & FOSTER,
ATTORNEYS, COUNSELORS
AND SOLICITORS,
Corner of Camp Street and Commercial Place,
NEW ORLEANS.

GREAT JACKSON ROUTE.
NEW ORLEANS, ST. LOUIS
AND CHICAGO RAILROAD.
On and after Monday, October 9, 1876,
Trains depart and arrive as follows, from Calliope street Depot:

DEPART.

Mail	5.30 P. M.
Accommodation	4.10 P. M.
Sunday Accommodation	5.15 P. M.

ARRIVE.

Mail	11.15 A. M.
Accommodation	9 A. M.
Sunday Accommodation	9.35 P. M.

PULLMAN PALACE SLEEPING CARS TO St. Louis, Chicago, Louisville and Cincinnati.
Only one change of Sleeping cars to Eastern cities.
Accommodation trains run as far as Metairie Cemetery.
Tickets for sale and information given at No. 22 Camp street, corner of Common, under City Hotel.
A. D. SHELDON, Agent.
E. H. FROST, General Manager.

WM. B. RINGROSE,
NO. 172 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS,
DEALER IN
New & Second-Hand Furniture.
Furniture bought, sold and exchanged. Now occupies the large and spacious store, 172 Camp St., between Girod and Julia, just above St. Patrick's Church, for the purpose of taking Furniture on storage at the lowest rates. Jobbing, repairing and moving promptly attended to.

OTTO ZEIL
General Engraver and Book-Binders' Tool Cutter,
Designs made for Side and Back Stamps.
N. W. COR. FOURTH AND MAIN STREETS,
(Second Floor,) CINCINNATI, O.
Hat Trade Mark Gilding Stamps, Shoe Ornamental Stitching Stamps, Binding Braids, Door Plates, etc.

PELICAN
IMPROVED RICE MILLS
J. H. & A. JOHNSON, Proprietors,
154, 156 and 158 Magazine St., New Orleans.
MILLING RATES—No. 1 at 3c. per pound; No. 2 at 2½c. per pound. Address all orders for empty Sacks to P. O. Box 240.

LIME, SAND, BRICKS, ETC.
Lime, Sugar Lime, Cement, Plaster, Plastering Hair, White and Yellow Sand, Fire Clay Paving, Building Country and Arch Bricks, English and Pittsburg Fire Bricks, Large and Small White Shells, Lathes, Shingles, Fire Tiles, Sulphur, Tar Pitch and Rosin at the lowest market rates. For sale by JOHN C. STEWART, 149 Gravier street, and
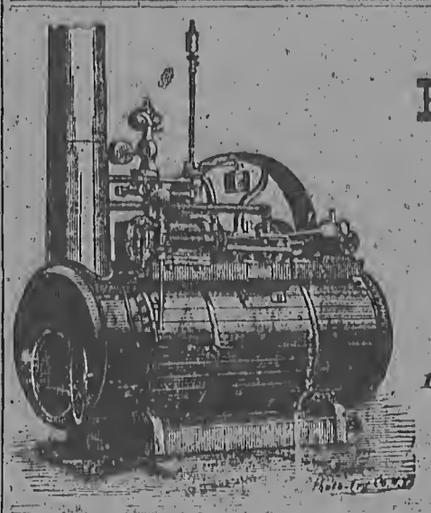
259 Julia, bet. Rampart and Basin Sts.

CARPET WAREHOUSE,
17 ..... CHARTRES STREET 17
CARPETINGS—Wilton, Axminster, Velvet, Brussels Tapestry, Three-Ply, etc.
FLOOR OIL CLOTH—English and American.
MATTINGS—300 rolls White, Check and Fancy.
WINDOW SHADES, Table and Piano Covers.
FURNITURE and CURTAIN GOODS in great variety.
BURLAPS, Table and Enamel OIL CLOTHS.
A. BROUSSEAU.

MISCELLANEOUS.



PAYNE'S
Portable Engines.
5 TO 15 HORSE POWER.
B. J. WEST
SOLE AGENT.
115 and 117 Magazine Street,
NEW ORLEANS.
☞ SEND FOR PRICE LIST, ETC. ☜

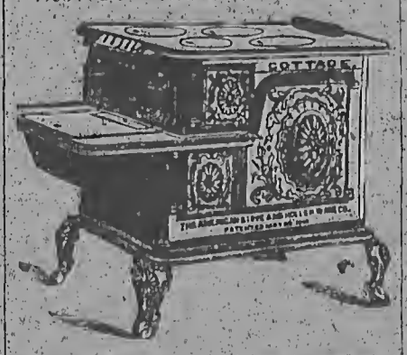
A. A. PARKER,
Fancy and Staple
DRY GOODS.
—ALSO—
Ladies' and Misses' Under Wear.

I AM OPENING A LARGE STOCK OF NEW FALL AND WINTER GOODS AT SUCH Prices as the times REQUIRE and would call special attention to my Homeside Under Wear. It gives general satisfaction as to work and price, and I can not do better than to refer the public to those who have used it.

178 Canal Street, between Baronne and Dryades Sts.,
New Orleans.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Stoves! Stoves! Stoves!



THE CHEAPEST AND THE "BEST."

THE "COTTAGE" COOKING STOVES, TO which I call particular attention, are easily surpassed by any in this market for economy, durability and most perfect BAKING. They carry a uniform heat in the oven and are adapted to burning COAL, COKE or WOOD, without any additional cost. Every one sold under a full guarantee to give satisfaction or they are represented or the money will be refunded.

Also, a variety of other COOKING STOVES of every grade and price, from $15 upward.

HEATING STOVES.

A very large and complete assortment, suitable for Offices, Parlors, Churches, School Rooms etc., all of which are offered at very low prices to suit the times. Also, dealer in

TINWARE OF EVERY KIND

and description, to suit the country and city trade, which is offered at UNPRECEDENTEDLY LOW PRICES FOR CASH. Also, Sole Agent for the manufacture and sale of the Steam Washer, or Woman's Friend.

Will cleanse your clothes WITHOUT RUBBING. Every one sold is FULLY WARRANTED. It saves labor, wear and tear, and the annoyance of washday. It is truly a labor and clothes saving invention. Three hundred thousand have already been sold through the States since 1871.

☞ State and County Rights for sale.
Call and see it at No. 51 Magazine street.
H. W. W. GOODWYN.

"The Best and Cheapest Sunday School Library."

GRAND CHEAP LIBRARY.
No. 2.

50 Choice Illustrated Vols., large 16mo, bound in Muslin, and not in any other Select Library. This Library contains over 12,200 printed pages, profusely illustrated with large, full-page engravings, and many of the smaller size. All the volumes in this Library are valuable and instructive. The price of the Library is $28, from which we make a discount of twenty per cent. to Sunday schools, making the Net Price for 50 Large Books only $22. 40.

The books are different from those in No. 1, and some are larger.

SUNDAY-SCHOOLS—Send for a catalogue. Books of the size of these in this Library are usually sold at from $1 to $1.25 each. Nothing like this Library has been offered at such a small sum.

PUBLISHED BY THE
American Sunday School Union,
1122 Chestnut street, Philadelphia—ALEX. KIRKPATRICK.
7, 8 and 9 Bible House, New York—O. S. SOUTHWICK.
10 Winter street, Boston—J. A. CROWLEY.
48 Dearborn street, Chicago—W. G. PORY.
207 N. Sixth St., St. Louis—S. PAXSON.

TO THE PUBLIC.

ASUPERIOR PARTIES are advertising themselves as being "Sole Agents" of the "best manufacturers of Perique Tobacco" at Grand Point, St. James parish. I would respectfully state that I am of the following manufacturers of Grand Point.

THE DULY AUTHORIZED AGENT

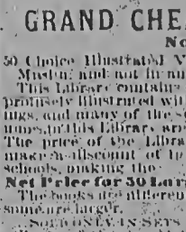
OCTAVE ROUSSEL,
LEWIS ROUSSEL,
ARISTAVE ROUSSEL,
FAST PIERRE,
And many others.
EDMOND BOURGEOIS,
No. 91 Conti street.

J. H. J. RIVET,
DEALER IN
Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines
AND PERFUMERY, AND IMPORTER OF FRENCH PROPRIETARY MEDICINES,
Cor. Bienville and Chartres Sts.,
NEW ORLEANS.
Proprietor of the celebrated Perchaud Bitters.

CHAIR WAREHOUSE.



350 DIFFERENT STYLES OF CANE SEAT CHAIRS, also CAMP CHAIRS, PATENT FOLDING CHAIRS etc.

Specialties—
CHAIRS for OFFICES, PUBLIC HALLS, Schools, COLLEGES, Seminaries, etc. Wholesale and Retail.
I. H. WISLER,
223 & 225 N. Sixth St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Piles! Piles!! Piles!!!

INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL, BLIND, Bleeding, and Itching, positively, perfectly and permanently cured by absorption. The cure is absolutely perfect and permanent. We use neither caustics, nor instruments, and the cure is painless. We refer to thousands of the very best people in Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Pittsburg, and in every State in the Union.

W. A. & W. L. McCANDLISS,
2001 Arch Street,
Philadelphia, Pa.

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENTS WANTED.
Goodyear's Pocket Gymnasium
INDORSED BY THE MOST EMINENT PHYSICIANS.

The most complete system of physical exercisers ever devised for Home Practice.
10,000 in use by men, women, and children.
Used standing, sitting or reclining.
Hundreds of graceful movements.
For homes, offices, schools, hospitals.
Price List.—No. 1 for children 4 to 6 years $1; No. 2, for children 6 to 8, $1.20; No. 3, for children 8 to 10, $1.20; No. 4, for children 10 to 14, $1.50; No. 5, for ladies and children, 14 years and upward, $1.40; No. 6, for gentlemen of moderate strength, $1.50; No. 7, for ladies, children, or gentlemen, No. 8, for gentlemen of extra strength, $2.50. Full set, manufactured, 6 to 8 in two, 8 and two, 8 and 10. No. 7 and 8 are fitted with screw eye and hook to attach to the wall or floor. A pair of No. 7 (4) or 8 (4) make a complete Gymnasium and Dead Lift. Sent postpaid on receipt of price. Exclusive agencies granted in unoccupied territory.

Exclusive rights to sell the Pocket Gymnasium afford the largest possible returns for small investments. Its sales are nearly universal wherever it is placed before the public and its merits fully understood.

For illustrated descriptive circulars, terms, etc., address

Goodyear Rubber Curler Company,
P. O. Box 5,151. 697 Broadway, New York.
RUBBER GOODS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

HOLMAN'S
Fever and Ague and Liver Pad
CURES WITHOUT MEDICINE.
SIMPLY BY ABSORPTION.
The Best Liver Regulator in the World.

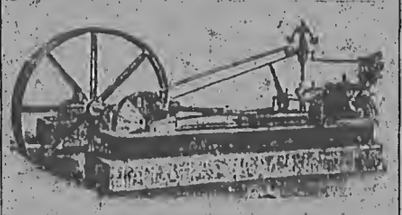
TRADE-MARK.

This only true cure for and preventive of malaria the world over is a Liver Complaint, Dumb Ague, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Chills, Fever, Sugar Sickness, Neuralgia, Bilious Disorders.

None genuine without the Trade-Mark and Signature of the Inventor on the wrapper.

For certificates, &c., see little pink book "Enemy in the Air," sent free on application to HUNTS, HART & CO., Proprietors, Memphis, Tenn., and St. Paul st., New Orleans, La.

Price ..... $2 and $3.



STEAM ENGINES,
BOILERS & MACHINERY
MANUFACTURED BY
L. & E. GREENWALD,
CINCINNATI, OHIO.
Having been established since 1847, we are prepared to supply Hoadley MACHINERY to Southern and Western planters and lumbermen, promptly at low prices.
Refer to John Hornsby, Esq. and Stephen Allen, Esq., of New Orleans; Carl Hy. Hy. Gibson, Esq., of Shreveport, La.

20,000
ORANGE TREES!
BY
W. R. STUART,
OCEAN SPRINGS, MISS.

LOUISIANA SWEET MANDARIN BRAZILIAN, budded on sour stock, and SWEET SEEDLINGS, well rooted. Price, from 20 cents to $1 each, according to age and number wanted.

Also, SOUR SEEDLINGS for grafting or budding, and for ornamental trees, from 10 cents to 25 cents, according to number wanted.

Trees carefully packed and shipped to any point. No fruit tree will stand transplanting and transporting better than the orange.

I make Orange Trees a specialty. 1f

KING SOLOMON
AND THE
IRON WORKER.
The finest Masonic Engravings on Steel ever published. Illustrating a Tradition of the Dedication of the Great Temple at Jerusalem and its Builders. From the Original Painting by Prof. C. Selmscheid.
ENGRAVED BY JOHN SARTAIN,
Chief of Art Bureau Centennial Exhibition.
It is of peculiar interest to Masons, as relating to the work of their ancient brethren.
We want a Few Bright Masons to act as Agents.
"It is Sartain's best work, and we think the finest engraving we have ever seen."—Masonic Review, Cincinnati, O.
"It is a perfect gem of art."—Keystone, Philadelphia.
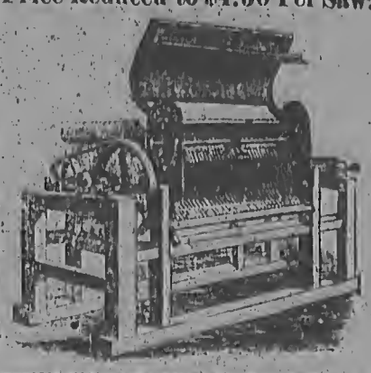
For terms, territory, and circulars, with full information for this and other engravings, address
HEADLEY & CO.,
66 N. Fourth St., Philadelphia.

MACHINERY, TIES, ETC.

DANIEL PRATT'S IMPROVED
"Revolving Head" Cotton Gin.
PATENTED JULY 18, 1871.
Price Reduced to $4.50 Per Saw.



THIS GIN has been in use for the past three seasons, and several recent improvements have been added. It obviates all friction at the ends of the cotton box, prevents the roll from breaking, and gives a Larger Yield of Lint from the Same Amount of Seed than any other Gin in use. The Revolving Head lightens the draft and causes the Gin to run faster with less driving power, thus doing a great deal more work within the same time, while economizing team or animal power than any other Gin. The seed being ginned very close, the length of the staple is increased, producing cotton on this account of a greater market value. This improved value, given by length of staple, with extra production of lint, added to increased amount of work done, more than covers the cost of the Gin in every bale ginned. Testimonials sent by mail on application.

JOS. B. WOLFE & CO.,
GENERAL AGENTS,
59 ..... Carondelet St. 59
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

BEN. F. WOLFE,
AGENT FOR THE STATE OF TEXAS,
23 ..... Main Street. 23
HOUSTON, TEXAS.

OFFICE OF THE
American Cotton Tie Co.,
(LIMITED.)
17 CARONDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS

TO DEALERS IN
IRON COTTON TIES,
Planters and Country Merchants Generally.

We beg to inform you that we are prepared, through our regularly established Agents, to supply the trade in any quantity with the following celebrated Ties:

THE ARROW AND SLIDE SLOT.
BEARD & BRO'S LOCK TIE.
BRANCH, CROOKES & CO.'S LOCK TIE.

We also beg to inform the public that the interests of Messrs. Beard & Bro. and Branch, Crookes & Co. are now merged into and with the AMERICAN COTTON TIE CO. (LIMITED.) The following are the New Orleans Agents:

Stone & Pitt, Ogden & Bell,
Chism & Ibell, Archer & Burland,
William Dillon, H. B. Rambo & Co.

For the American Cotton Tie Co. (Limited:)
R. W. RAYNE & CO.,
General Agents.

Bricks! Bricks! Bricks!
ROY'S BRICK YARD,
ST. BERNARD PARISH, four Blocks below the Slaughterhouse.
The undersigned respectfully informs builders, planters, and all consumers of Bricks, that he is extensively manufacturing Bricks at his old Brick Yard, near the Slaughterhouse, where he has always on hand a large quantity of country-made Bricks and Kentle Tiles, ready to be delivered without detention.
FREDERIC ROY.
Orders left with S. Roy, at P. Cavaroc & Son's Agents, No. 38 Decatur street, or at the Brick Yard, will be promptly attended to.

PLASTER PARIS MODELS FOR Drawing Classes.
BUSTS, MASKS, AND STATUES FROM THE Antique, life size, medium size, small size.
Torsos from life.
Fractions of the Human Body.
Anatomy from the Old Masters.
Animals, Heads of Animals.
Birds, Reliefs.
Brackets, Pedestals, Religious Statues.
Fruit and Flowers in Relief.
Large assortment of Leaves in Relief.
Orders by mail promptly attended to. Goods carefully packed and sent to any part of the United States. Prices to suit the times.
R. PASTELVECCHI,
143 Grand street, New York.

PORTABLE and STATIONARY STEAM ENGINES, STEAM BOILERS.
SAW, FLOUR AND GRIST MILLS.
MILL GEARING MADE
SHAFTING, PULLEYS AND HANGERS.
TURBINE WATER WHEELS A SPECIALTY.
The UNEQUALLED JAS. LEFFEL DOUBLE TURBINE WATER WHEEL 7000 in use.
ADDRESS, POOLE & HUNT,
SEND FOR CIRCULARS. BALTIMORE MD.

REMOVAL—150 PIANOS & ORGANS at half price. The Subscribers will sell their Entire Stock of Pianos & Organs, new and second hand, of six first-class makers, at 50 PER CT. OFF, for cash, previous to removal to their new store, 10 EAST 14th St., UNION SQUARE. Oct. 12. Illustrated Catalogues mailed. Monthly installments received. Agents wanted. Special inducements to the trade. HORACE WATERS & SONS, Manufacturers and Dealers, 481 Broadway, N. Y.

CHALLENGE Stationery Package. The only complete package in the market containing 6 sheets fine ruled letter paper, 6 envelopes, pencil, pen holder, stylish pen, package of Ink Powder and directions to make a bottle of best black Ink in one minute, 50 visiting cards, and your elegant combination lock shown in all colors and colors to match. Sample package, 25 cents; 3 packages with assorted jewelry, $1. 12 packages, 12 styles, $3; sample dozen and combination lock, containing 144 articles, $6. Agents wanted. Second St., Cin., O.

ELECTRO STEREO TYPE FOUNDRY.
WOOD ENGRAVING AND PRINTING.
OHLEN, CAMPBELL & CO., 174, 176 & 178 Elm St., Cin., O.
Presses and Printing Material.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.
Established in 1837.
Superior Bells of Copper and Tin, mounted with the best Rotary Hangings for Churches, Schools, Farms, Factories, Court-houses, Fire Alarms, Tower Clocks &c. Fully Warranted. Illustrated Catalogue sent Free.
Address VANDUZEN & TIFT, Second St., Cin., O.

TEACHERS WANTED—To supply vacancies in Schools, Academies, and Seminaries in the different States. Send for "Mutual Plan." Address American Educational Union, 737 Broadway, N. Y.

New Orleans Markets.

ADVOCATE OFFICE,
New Orleans, Tuesday, Oct. 31, 1876.

MONETARY.

We notice but little change in this department. The fluctuations at the stock board are slight. Most of the favorite securities are firm. Sales of Factors' and Traders' Insurance Company stock at $100 per share, which speaks well for the officers controlling its affairs. State consols selling at 60; city premium bond at 33½; City Gaslight Company at $117 per share. Gold is quoted at 110½@110¾. Exceptional paper, 9 per cent.; A1 paper, 10@12 per cent; second-grade paper, 15@20 per cent. Stock exchange on New York ¼ for commercial, and ½ per cent. discount for bank.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE ASSOCIATED BANKS,

At the close of business, Friday, Oct. 27, 1876.

RESOURCES.

Specie	$80 058 69
Currency	3,110 352 17
Clearing-house exchanges	1,277,130 47
Checks on other local banks and bankers	12 769 32
Domestic and foreign exchange	1,961,758 13
Due from distant banks and bankers	228,395 6
Loans and discounts	11,809,033 24
Other cash assets	3,842 713 68
Total	$22,324,511 36

LIABILITIES.

Circulation	$891,397 50
Deposits	12 0 5,179 27
Due distant banks and bankers	1,4 6,517 15
Other cash liabilities	499 598 25
Total	$14 822,692 17

I. N. MAYNARD, Manager.

COTTON.

From W. C. Wills & Co.'s weekly cotton report, Liverpool, October 13, 1876:

The Position, etc.—The striking feature of the market this week has been the large business done, and the small advance in prices. Why have spinners bought so largely? They were last week, as pointed out in our report under date of 6th instant, about as bare of cotton, as at any time this year, in fact had reduced their supplies about as low as at any time for some years past. Several causes have combined this week to induce them to buy so largely. The October reports of the Cotton Exchanges, so far as received, and the general tenor of the crop advices from America, all seem to point clearly to the conviction that owing to drouth, rust, caterpillars, frost, etc., the crop has been prematurely matured—nearly every boll opened—and that in consequence the picking season will close earlier than usual. This, in connection with the large quantity of old cotton in the interior at the close of last season, it is thought may explain the recent large receipts at the ports; and this view is further strengthened by the fact that the receipts from the first ultimo to the sixth instant were over 21 per cent. larger than last year during the same period, the increase this week promises to be very small, if any.

But the main cause that has induced spinners to buy so largely this week is that within the past week or two a very large business has been done at Manchester, which has placed producers, in many cases, under contract for some months to come, and caused them to hold out for goods and yarns as are most in demand, for an advance more than commensurate with the improvement here in cotton. The large business at Manchester is reported to be due chiefly to a demand for China and Japan, stimulated, it is supposed, by the recent enormous advance in silks, out of which merchants in those countries have made large profits. We have further news of a new commercial treaty having been concluded with China, which opens it is said, five new and important seaports, from whence large quantities of British goods will no doubt be forwarded to interior provinces hitherto in a great measure beyond the boundary of communication.

COTTON STATEMENT.

	Bales.
Stock in New Orleans	148,900
Stock at all ports	561,941
Net receipts since Sept. 1st New Orleans	12 7 5
Against last year	1 1,571
Net receipts at all ports	8 3,987
Net receipts last year	68,4 8
Stock in Liverpool	544 000

DAILY EXCHANGE QUOTATIONS.

Day.	Low Ordinary	Ordinary	Good Ordinary	Low Middling	Middling	Good Middling
Wednesday	8¾	9¼		10¼	10⅝	11⅛
Thursday	8¾	9¼		10¼	10⅝	11⅛
Friday	8¾	9¼		10¼	10⅝	11⅛
Saturday		9¼		10¼	10⅝	11⅛
Monday		9¼		10¼	10⅝	11⅛
Tuesday		9¼		10¼	11	11⅛

DAILY QUOTATIONS AT THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT MARKETS.

Class—Middling.

	Mobile.	Galveston.	Memphis.
Wednesday	10¼	10	10¾
Thursday	10⅜	10¼	10⅝
Friday	10⅜	10¼	10⅝
Saturday	10⅜	10¼	10⅝
Monday	10⅜	10¼	10⅝
Tuesday		10¼	10⅝

DAILY MOVEMENT OF NEW ORLEANS, NEW YORK AND LIVERPOOL MARKETS.

Day.	NEW ORLEANS. Receipts	Sales.	Market.	NEW YORK. Price.	Sales.	Market.	LIVERPOOL. Price.
				Middling			Middling
Wednesday	2,546	4,531	Steady	11¾			6 1-16d.
Thursday	10,792	5,200	Active	11⅞		Buoyant	6 1-16
Friday	4,315	4,300	Firm	11⅞		Active	6 3-16
Saturday	7,112	4,600	Firm	11⅞		Firm	6 3-16
Monday	12,262	5,200	Active	11⅞		Firm	6 3-16
Tuesday	10,615	5,300	Easier	11⅞		Firm	6¼
Total	69,142	33,500			11,651

Report of Dealers' Cash Prices

AT WHICH

COUNTRY ORDERS CAN BE FILLED.

REVISED AND CORRECTED WEEKLY.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

ARTICLES.	FROM	TO
Cotton scrapers	$4 00	— —
Cotton sweeps	3 00	4 50
Cultivators, Diam. and shovel-tooth	6 25	9 00
Cultivators, riding and walking	20 00	35 00
Shovels and spades	6 50	14 00
Axes	9 50	13 00
Shovel plows	2 00	5 50
Half do., with cutters	6 00	8 00
Manly's double-shovel plow	5 00	7 00
Straub's corn mills	115 00	280 00
Corn mills, Coleman's	120 00	475 00
H. J. West's corn mill	200 00	— —
Tunnard's corn and pea planter	15 00	— —
Cotton planter	15 00	— —
Wagons, Carts, Etc.:
Wagon, two-horse	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	100 00	115 00
Wagon, two-horse, thim. skein	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	80 00	100 00
Cane wagon	— —	200 00
Ox wagon	80 00	125 00
Ox cart, complete	115 00	— —
Cane cart	110 00	115 00
Tongue cart, complete	— —	120 00
Plantation cart	— —	55 00
Bagasse cart	65 00	75 00
Iron, ₱ lb.:
Swedes, assorted	7	7½
Hoop	4½	7½
Sheet	4½	7
Nail rods	9	10
Castings, American	4½	5½

BUILDING MATERIAL.

Bricks, ₱ 1,000:
Lake	10 50	14 00
Country	9 00	10 00
English fire	45 00	47 00
Lime, ₱ bbl.:
Western	1 50	1 75
Genteel	2 00	2 25
Plaster Paris	2 25	3 50
Lumber, ₱ 1,000 feet:
Flooring, dressed	16 00	18 00
Flooring, rough	— —	16 00
Ceiling, dressed	10 00	12 00
Weatherboards, dressed	14 00	16 00
Weatherboards, rough	— —	— —
Scantling	10 00	12 00
Shingles, ₱ 1,000	— —	3 75
Nails, best kinds	3 50	— —
Smaller sizes proportionately higher	— —	— —
Glass, ₱ box of 50 feet:
French, 8 by 10	— —	3 50
French, 10 by 12	3 75	4 00
French, 10 by 14 to 12 by 20	4 00	4 25
French, 14 by 18 to 18 by 24	4 25	4 75
White Lead, best, ₱ lb	6	10
Paris Green, ₱ lb	30	— —
Pat. Drier, ₱ lb	12	14
Whiting, ₱ lb	— —	1½
Putty, in bladders, ₱ lb	— —	4½
Linseed Oil, ₱ gall	— —	70

SASH, BLINDS AND DOORS.

Window Sash, 12 lights:

Size of lights.	Sash per pair. Unglazed.	Glazed.	Blinds, per pair.
Small	60	$1 50	$2 00
10x12	65	1 95	2 25
10x16	$1 00	2 95	3 25

Sash Doors:	Single.	Double.
2 feet x 7 feet	$3 50	$4 50
3 feet x 8 feet	4 00	— —
3 feet x 7 feet 6 inches	— —	4 25

Panel Doors:
2 ft. 8 in. x 6 ft. 1½ in. thick	$3 25
2 ft. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	3 45
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	4 00

GROCERIES.

Butter, ₱ lb.:
Western, choice	25	28
Boston, choice	38	40
Coffee, ₱ lb.:
Rio, fair	18½	19½
Rio, good	20	21
Rio, prime	21½	22½
Java, choice O. G.	— —	31
Candles, ₱ lb.:
Star, best brands	— —	15
Chocolate, ₱ lb.:
Cocoa	28	30
Sweet	28	33
Canned Fruits, ₱ doz.:
Peaches, strawberries and pears	2 25	2 50
Corn Meal, ₱ bbl.:
Best K. D.	— —	75
Cheese, ₱ lb.:
Western factory	12½	14
N. Y. cream and English dairy	15½	16
Fish:
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in bbls	— —	29 00
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in kits	— —	3 00
Sardines, quarter boxes	— —	16½
Flour, ₱ bbl.:
Superfine	4 25	4 50
XX	5 25	6 00
XXX	6 25	7 25
Choice XXX	6 75	7 25
Choice family	7 50	8 00
Fruits:
Dried apples, ₱ lb	10	10½
Dried peaches, ₱ lb	9½	10
Raisins, ₱ quarter box	— —	80
Raisins, ₱ half box	— —	1 00
Raisins, ₱ whole box	— —	2 75
Bananas, ₱ bunch	1 00	3 00
Crackers, ₱ lb.:
Soda	5	6
Butter	6	7
Sugar	8	9
Gingernuts	9	12½
Oil:
Coal, in cans, best	35	38
Insurance, in cans	— —	50
Coal, in barrels, best	32	34
Lard, in barrels best	1 10	1 12
Molasses, in barrels.
Common	— —	45
Fair	— —	50
Prime to choice	55	60
Golden and Roquet syrups	80	85
Half bbls. 5c. and Kegs 10c. more.
Rice, Louisiana, ₱ lb.:
No. 2	— —	3
Ordinary	4½	5
Fair	5½	6½
Prime to choice	6½	7½
Soap, in boxes, ₱ lb.:
Keller's magnolia	— —	6
Keller's olive	— —	6½
Starch, ₱ lb	4	5
Salt, in sacks:
Fine	1 30	35
Coarse	1 05	1 10
Sugar, in bbls.:
Fair	— —	10½
Prime	— —	11
Choice	10¾	11½
Yellow clarified	11¼	11¾
White clarified	11¾	12
Crushed	12	12½
Powdered	12	12½
Spices, ₱ lb.:
Allspice	— —	18
Pepper	— —	20
Cloves	— —	60
Cinnamon	— —	82
Teas, ₱ lb:
Black Oolong	— —	1 00
Green Imperial	— —	1 25
Tobacco, manufactured, ₱ lb:
Chewing, common	45	50
Chewing, fair	70	85
Chewing, prime	80	95
Chewing, choice	95	1 00
Smoking	40	1 00

GRAIN AND FEED.

Corn, ₱ bushel:
Yellow, choice	68	70
White, mixed	60	62
Oats, ₱ bushel:
St. Louis	— —	50
Texas	— —	45
Galena	53	55
Bran, choice, ₱ 100 lbs	80	85
Hay, ₱ ton:
Prime timothy	18 00	22 00
Ordinary	— —	14 00
Cottonseed Meal	26 00	28 00

PROVISIONS.

Bacon, ₱ lb.:
Breakfast	14½	15½
Shoulders	8	8½
Sides, clear rib	9½	10
Sides, clear	10½	10¾
Hams, sugar-cured	16½	17½
Mess Pork, ₱ bbl	19	19 25
Dry Salted Meats:
Shoulders	— —	8½
Lard, ₱ lb.:
Memphis in kegs	12½	12½
Choice, in tierces	11½	11¾

HALIBUT STUFFS.

Gunny:
Dundee	10	10½
Jute	13½	13¾
Ties, Arrow, best, per hundred, at 30
Ties and Buckles	— —	3 30
Beard	— —	3 00
Twine, hemp	— —	15

SUNDRIES.

Leather, ₱ lb.:
Sole, hemlock	27	28
Sole, oak	35	40
Harness	35	45
Calf skins, ₱ dozen	20 00	75 00
Tyres, rough, ₱ lb	24	26
Fertilizers, ₱ ton:
Sterrit's raw-bone superphosph.	65 00	— —
Stern's fine-ground bone	45 00	— —
Cotton Seed:
In sacks	11 00	— —

DRY GOODS.

Brown Domestic, ₱ yard:
Standard brands	— —	8
Standard brands, 4-4	— —	10¾
Bleached Domestic, ₱ yard:
Choice brands, 7-8	— —	7½
Choice brands, 4-4	10½	14½
Calico, ₱ yard:
Common brands	5½	6½
Sprague, Allen & Hamilton	6½	7
Ticking, ₱ yard:
Common brands	10	13½
Good	19	22
Osnaburgs:
Eight ounce	11½	12
Stripes	10	14
Checks	14	16
Denims	12	20

BOOTS AND SHOES.

Batchelor mud boots, ₱ doz	26 00	32 00
Common mud boots, ₱ doz	— —	20 00
Common brogans, ₱ doz	12 00	15 00
Batchelor brogans, ₱ doz	15 00	16 50
Russets' brogans, ₱ doz	16 00	19 50

Religious Notices.

To the Presiding Elders and Preachers of the Alabama Conference:

Dear Brethren.—I respectfully request that those of you who will not attend the approaching session of the Annual Conference send me your names as early as practicable. Presiding Elders will please forward at once the names of lay delegates from their respective districts.

Fraternally, J. LEWIS, Jr., Acting Pastor
GREENSBORO, ALA., Oct. 17, 1876. 02t

MISCELLANEOUS.

E. H. ADAMS

RESPECTFULLY ANNOUNCES THE ARRIVAL of further additions to his

ALREADY ATTRACTIVE STOCK OF

DRY GOODS, FANCY GOODS, NOTIONS, ETC.

Special mention is here made of BLACK SILKS, BLACK and COLORED CASHMERES, BASKET SUITINGS, ETC., CORSETS, BUSTLES, FELT SKIRTS, ETC., LINEN SETS, COLLARS, RUCHINGS, ETC., FANCY KNIT WOOLEN GOODS, HOSIERY, ETC.,

KID GLOVES, TIES, RIBBONS, ETC.,

GOODS FOR BOYS AND MEN'S WEAR, BLANKETS, FLANNELS, RUGS, MATTINGS, ETC., ETC., ETC.

—AND—

A Choice Selection of 3-4 and 4-4 Prints.

Having commenced with bottom prices, he has no occasion to announce "GOODS MARKED DOWN."

506 ..... Magazine Street 506
(Four Doors above His Old Stand.)

N. B.—Goods marked in plain figures. One price for all. No fluctuation.

Snyder's Curative PADS.

WORN OVER PART AFFECTED, ABSORB ALL MALARIA FROM THE SYSTEM.

They positively cure the worst cases of Liver, Lung, Heart, Kidney, Spine, Bladder and Womb ailments, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Costiveness, Soreness at pit of Stomach or Bowels, Female Weakness, Sick and Nervous Headache, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, Restlessness, etc., may be entirely eradicated by wearing one of our Pads. Many of our best citizens can attest to their merit.

The Liver and Lung Pad	$2 00
Kidney and Spinal Pad	3 00
Womb Pad for Female Weakness	3 00

☞ Ask your druggists for "Snyder's Curative Pad," and take no other, or inclose the price in a letter to us, and we will send them by mail. Address

E. P. SNYDER & CO.,
Manufacturers and Proprietors,
Indianapolis, Ind.

☞ For sale by L. L. BYONS, New Orleans.

A General Agent wanted for each State South, with whom a liberal contract will be made to supply the wholesale and retail trade.

A Gem worth Reading!—A Diamond worth Seeing!

SAVE YOUR EYES!

Restore your Sight!

THROW AWAY your SPECTACLES,

By reading our Illustrated PHYSIOLOGY AND ANATOMY of the EYE SIGHT. Tells how to Restore Impaired Vision and Overworked Eyes; how to cure Weak, Watery, Inflamed, and Near-Sighted Eyes, and all other Diseases of the Eyes.

WASTE NO MORE MONEY BY ADJUSTING HUGE GLASSES ON YOUR NOSE AND ESTIMATING YOUR FACE. Pamphlet of 100 pages Mailed Free. Send your address to us also.

Agents Wanted,

Gents or Ladies. $5 to $10 a day guaranteed. Full particulars sent free. Write immediately, to DR. J. BALL & CO., P. O. Box 957, No. 91 Liberty St., New York City, N. Y.

SONGS OF GLORY.

By JAS. H. FILLMORE,

has already reached the sale of over 50,000 copies. The new notation (specimen in the above cut) is heartily received as a great help to the mass of singers.

Songs of Glory

is full of sparkling gems of song, fresh and new, and must become immensely popular. Price 35 cts.; $3.60 per doz. by express, $4.20 by mail.

FILLMORE BROS., Cincinnati, O.

WOOD PUMPS

Batchley's Standard Cucumber and Grafton Co.'s Pumps, with cups, flanges and chain in all styles, and all valuable improvements. Manufacturing facilities greatly increased. Stock and assortment LARGE. Prices SMALL. When in town call and see us or send for catalogue, with prices and terms.

C. G. BLATCHLEY, Manuf'r,
506 COMMERCE STREET, PHILADELPHIA.

These pumps can be seen at Centennial Exhibition, Agric'l Hall, Cor. Aisles 9 & N, Column Letter O, No. 10.

TRADE MARK. Manuf. A.C.

Spectacles

Our Pebble Spectacles and Eye Glasses are the best for failing sight. Cut from genuine pebble is transparent and hardness a diamond, they cannot be scratched, one pair will last longer than five pairs of the best glass, and preserve the sight the better. Illustrated Priced Catalogue showing how to order, sent free to any address. Spectacles sold only by mail, and warranted to suit. BARNES & HIRSCH, Opticians, 72 Main St., bet. Fifth and Seventh, Louisville, Ky. 6tw

MAGIC NEEDLE

Threader

A practical success in the operation of sewing Machine Needle. To those using Machines they prove invaluable. Used by the Blind Dumb and Aged. Sewing-Machine Agents and Dealers supplied at wholesale prices. Mailed for 25 cents. WELLS MFG. CO., 25 Sudbury st., Boston, Mass. 4tow

RICHARD FROTSCHER,

SEED MERCHANT,

AND DEALER IN BULBS WARRANTED GARDEN SEEDS.

Nos. 15 & 17 Dumaine St., New Orleans.

I am in receipt of a full stock of Seeds for Fall planting, to which I call the attention of those in need of good and reliable Seeds. Prices moderate. All communications promptly answered.

Genuine Crab Orchard Salts.

THE MILDEST AND BEST GENERAL Purgative in use. Indorsed by the highest medical men in the United States. Persons suffering with costiveness of the bowels or torpid liver will find ready relief by the use of these salts. None genuine except those put up in bottles with the label of the Crab Orchard Springs Salts Company. J. B. WILDER & CO., Agents, Louisville, Ky.

MISCELLANEOUS.

INSANITY.

PRIVATE ASYLUM For the Insane.

CINCINNATI SANITARIUM.

SUPERIOR accommodations for all classes. Separate departments for epileptics and nervous invalids. For terms of admission and circular address W. S. CHIPLEY, M. D. Sup't, College Hill, O.

PHILOSOPHICAL APPARATUS

—FOR—

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES.

To illustrate all departments of Physical Science.

Specialty of Sets of Apparatus for Common and Grammar Schools.

Magic Lanterns and Stereopticons.

Views from all Countries, and a specialty of views to illustrate Scientific Subjects.

Views made to order at reasonable prices. Lists on application. Catalogues ten cents each.

JAMES W. QUEEN & CO.,
924 CHESTNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA.

CARPETS.

ELKIN & CO.,

168 ..... CANAL STREET 168

ARE OFFERING NEW AND CHOICE PATTERNS IN

MOQUETTE,
VELVET,
BRUSSELS,
THREE-PLY,
and INGRAIN CARPETS,

At Greatly Reduced Prices.

FLOOR OIL CLOTHS,
COCOA AND CANE MATTINGS,
CURTAIN GOODS IN REPS, TERRYS, ETC.
ELEGANT UPRIGHT PIANO and TABLE COVERS.
WINDOW SHADES—NEW STYLES.

DRY GOODS.

Direct from New York Market,

—AT—

New York Prices.

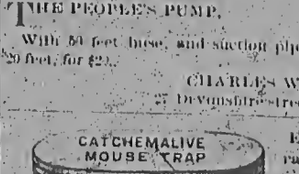
JOHN C. GREEN,

No. 275 Eighth Avenue, New York.

LADIES' SUITS, SACQUES, AND CLOAKS, in all the latest styles and newest fabrics.

DRESS GOODS, SHAWLS, WHITE GOODS, FLANNELS, HOSIERY, UNDERWEAR, HOMESTICS, etc. Goods sent by express C. O. D. to any part of the United States. Order should state quality, color, and price desired, with measure for suits, cloaks, etc. Samples sent free.

R. T. BABBITT'S BABY SOAP.



Only the purest Vegetable oils used in its manufacture. No animal fat and deleterious mineral and poisonous ingredients. Invaluable for the Toilet and the Bath. Used in bathing children, will prevent eruptions, keep the skin soft and smooth; contributes to health, and prevents disease. Does away with all powders, chalk, or other emollients. A certain preventive of chafing, sickness, etc. In ladies, the causes of, but the crying and crossness of childhood. Worth ten times its cost to every mother and family in Christendom. Packed in boxes of 12 cakes at 6 cts. each, and sent free to any address on receipt of $.50. Address For sale by all Druggists. R. T. BABBITT, N. Y.

Send for a Circular

—OF THE—

Centennial Printing Press.

IT IS THE BEST CHEAP PRESS MADE FOR printing Cards, Labels, etc. Only $2 a complete outfit. DAVID W. WATSON, 71 Cornhill, Boston.

SENT FREE,

SAMPLES OF CLOTHS, Fashion Plate, with full directions for ordering Clothing by mail, & guarantee fit, &c.

FREEMAN & WOODRUFF

(A. Freeman, late of Freeman & Barr.)

CLOTHIERS, 211 Broadway, New York.

FIRE! FIRE!! FIRE!!!

GUARD AGAINST IT.

THE PEOPLE'S PUMP.

With 50 feet hose and suction pipe for well of 20 feet, for $20.

CHARLES WIKING,
27 Devonshire Street, Boston.

EACH mouse caught resets the trap. The trade supplied. Sample, post paid, by mail, 50c. STAUFFER, MACREADY & CO., 71 Canal st., New Orleans, La.

1877. ——— Postpaid. ——— $1.60.

THE NURSERY.

A Monthly Magazine for Youngest Readers. Superbly ILLUSTRATED. $1 per year; ten cents for a Sample Number. Subscribe NOW, 1876, and get the last two numbers of this year FREE. JOHN L. HOREY, 34 Bromfield street, Boston.

F. A. McKECHNIE,

Engraver on Wood.

OFFICES 247 Washington street and 174 Congress street, Boston. Orders by mail will receive prompt attention. Printers, send three cent stamps for sample sheet of cuts for Cards and Envelopes.

Dr. C. B. White,

Office and Residence

1407 CANAL STREET.

FOR SALE.

A SMALL CHURCH ORGAN, IN PERFECT order being a No. 440 of Mason & Hamlin's Organ list. Two Manuals. Four sets reeds. Pipe Organ Top, etc. For terms apply to A. H. NELSON, No 57 Camp street.

SAM. HENDERSON,

Cotton Factor, Commission Merchant, and Purchasing Agent.

40 Carondelet Street,
NEW ORLEANS.

Does business on strange principles and at Cheap rates.

SCREENOTVERMIN Exterminator. Bugs, Roaches, Ants, Fleas, Rats, and Mice all flee by mail, on receipt of 50 cents only. W. FICHTENBERG, 78 Fulton street, New York.

TILDEN & REFORM. Now ready for agents. The National Hand Book for voters, with lives of Tilden and Hendricks, and an expose of Rings and Frauds, 500 Pages. Illustrated. $2.50 cents will secure outfit and territory. $100 a month made. R. H. THAT, Pub., 805 Broadway, N. Y.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, ETC.

JACKSON & GALLAGHER,

PIPE ORGAN BUILDERS,

915, 917, 919, Walnut St., St. Louis, Mo.

N. B. Church Organs Tuned and Repaired. Send for Illustrated Catalogue.

☞ I INVITE ☜

THE METHODISTS OF THE SOUTH

TO SEND ME THEIR ORDERS DIRECT.

WE CAN AND DO UNDERSELL NORTHERN HOUSES, as we give easier terms. A stock of 100 Chickering, Dunham, Hale and Hardman Pianos

AND 100 ESTEY & CO. AND MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS

CONSTANTLY ON HAND.

Every Instrument warranted, and guaranteed as represented.

PHILIP WERLEIN,
8p. NOS. 78 TO 90 BARONNE ST., NEW ORLEANS.

MISCELLANEOUS.

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.

CAREFUL OBSERVERS

IN THE MATTER OF

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS

Will find it to their interest to examine

THE EXTENSIVE AND COMPLETE STOCK

OF

HOUSEWARE,

Of every description, &c., by

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,

NO. 29 CAMP AND 116 COMMON ST.,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

And they will establish these facts:

1. OUR STOCK IS THE BEST.
2. OUR PRICES ARE THE CHEAPEST.
3. OUR METHODS ARE THE FAIREST.

With more than thirty years' experience in the Crockery trade, we claim a knowledge of the wants of this community second to no one, and can fill them better than any house in the Southwest. Please note what a little money will do toward adding to your

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS.

$4 00 will buy a White Granite T. A SET of 44 pieces.

$ 50 will buy a French Ch EA SET, same number of pieces

$ 00 will buy a French ma Gold or Colored Band TEA SET, same number of pieces.

$ 00 will buy an elegant Porcelain DeTerre nearly equal to French China in appearance, and far more durable) DINNER SET, comprising 124 pieces, to wit:

12 Dinner Plates,	1 Soup Tureen,
12 Tea Plates,	1 Sauce Boat,
12 Soup Plates,	1 Salad Dish,
12 Preserve Plates,	2 Covered Dishes,
12 Butter Plates,	2 Vegetable Dishes,
12 Tea Cups and Saucers,	2 Pickle Dishes,
12 Dinner Coffee Cups and Saucers,	4 Meat Dishes.

$5 00 will buy the same assorted DINNER SET in the best White Granite Ware.

$ 00 will buy the best White Granite CHAMBER SET known as 11 pieces, comprising everything but Slop Jar and Foot Pads.

$ 35 per dozen will buy the best White Granite DINNER PLATES.

$ 25 per dozen will buy the best White Granite BREAKFAST PLATES.

$ 00 per dozen will buy the best White Granite TEA PLATES.

$ 00 per dozen will buy good Table GOBLETS.

$ 75 per dozen will buy the best Pressed Table GOBLETS.

75 cents will buy a beautiful Glass BERRY SET, Sugar, Cream, Butter and Spoon Holder.

Plain French China DINNER SETS (first choice,) 130 pieces, $30.

Gold Band and Decorated DINNER SETS at extraordinarily low prices and everything else required for housekeeping in any style at prices within the reach of every one.

The above list contemplates first class regular goods, of good shapes and sizes, and will give entire satisfaction wherever they are placed.

Charges for packing and drayage: Dinner sets, $1; Tea sets, 50 cents.

We invite inquiries. Catalogues sent on application.

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,
No. 29 Camp street and 116 Common street,
New Orleans.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LEVY BROS.,

580 MAGAZINE ST., NEW ORLEANS

THE MOST POPULAR

DRY GOODS HOUSE

IN NEW ORLEANS.

Keep constantly on hand a select stock of STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS consisting of Bleached and Unbleached Cotton, Cambrics, Flannel, Dress Goods, Hosiery, Corsets, Ribbons, Cassimeres, Delaines, Merinoes, Blankets, etc.

A Specialty Made of Black Alpaca.

Our HELLA KID Gloves are guaranteed, and money returned or another pair given in case they rip or tear while putting them on.

Orders from the country strictly attended to.

CROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINE DEPOT

MOVED TO

NO. 5 CHARTRES STREET.

A NEW STOCK of the Elastic Stitch and Lock-Stitch Machines, with a complete assortment of Needles, Parts, Attachments, Silk Twist, Spool Cotton, Linen Thread, Oil, etc., just received and for sale at the lowest cash prices. The above goods are manufactured by and for the Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Company, and warranted the best in the market.

Caution to Our Patrons, Grangers and Their Agents.

There are parties here who are selling imitations of our goods, repainting and patching up old Machines to make them look like new, and selling them as such. No new goods of the above make can be purchased in New Orleans except from us, at No. 5 Chartres street. Agents wanted.

H. H. TRUE,
General Southern Agent.

RICHARD RHODES,

LATE P. CHARLEVILLE,

SPORTSMEN'S DEPOT,

55 ST. CHARLES ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Articles of All Kinds for Fishermen.

Rods, Nets, Hooks, Lines, and every desirable article for the Angler, wholesale and retail.

GUNS, RIFLES and PISTOLS of every variety and of direct importation. Also Sporting materials of all kinds, Game Bags, Shot Pouches, Flasks and every article needed by Hunters, will be sold at the lowest prices for cash. Also the celebrated "Dead Shot" Gunpowder, Shot, Eley's Shells, Cartridges, etc., of the best quality, wholesale and retail.

R. RHODES.

J. C. MILLER,

(Formerly of Cassidy & Miller.)

SAIL-MAKER,

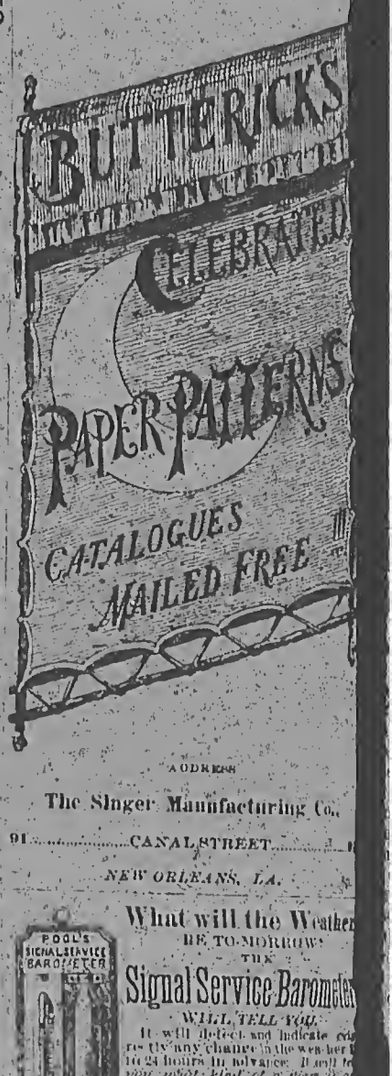
107 ..... POYDRAS STREET 107

Agent for COTTON DUCK of all widths and descriptions. Tents, Tarpaulins and Flags constantly on hand. Awnings, Gallery Curtains and all other work in my line made to order at shortest notice and at lowest prices. J. C. MILLER.
No. 107 Poydras street.

SEND TEN CENTS to L. A. ELLIOT & CO., Fine Art Dealers, 594 Washington st., Boston, for "The Beautiful Home." (Art Hints and list of more than 2400 Engravings, etc.)

MISCELLANEOUS.

LATEST STYLES.



ADDRESS

The Singer Manufacturing Co.,

91 ..... CANAL STREET .....

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

What will the Weather BE TO-MORROW?

THE

Signal Service Barometer

WILL TELL YOU.

It will detect and indicate correctly the any change in the weather from 12 to 24 hours in advance. It will tell you what kind of a storm is approaching and from what quarter it comes—invaluable to navigators, can plan the year's work according to its predictions. It will save you many times its cost in a single season. Every one an accurate thermometer (its low price alone is worth the price of the combination. Will send it, express paid, to any address on receipt of $2. Send Money Order or Registered Letter.

FARMERS

AGENTS WANTED. Send for circular.

H. W. POOL, & CO.,
835 Broadway, New York.

The Boston Traveler says: "We carefully inspected the above described Signal Service Barometer, and found it to be as stated by Messrs. Pool, & Co., who are honorable and reliable."

8p

JUST ISSUED.

OUR NEW

CHURCH RECORD.

THE most complete Historical and Statistical REGISTER ever issued, comprising a Clergyman's Index; Alphabetical Register for Church Members; Register of Official Members, of Baptisms, Marriages and Deaths; Register of Annual Quarterly and Church Conferences; Tables for Church Collections; and an Annual Summary of the Yearly Work and Condition of the Church.

The Register contains about 250 pages, size 10 by 15 inches, of good heavy paper handsomely bound, and will be supplied to Churches for $3 each.

ADDRESS

ROBT. J. HART, Agent,

NOS. 110 AND 112 CAMP STREET,

NEW ORLEANS.

PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRY.

A. H. NELSON,

COMMERCIAL STATIONER

PRINTER, BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURER AND LITHOGRAPHER.

The best assortment of Blank Books in the city. The finest specimens of Lithographic work to be seen in New Orleans.

NO. 57 CAMP STREET.

Sign of the Mammoth LETTER PRESS.

Call and prove

The Christian Advocate.

PUBLISHED BY ROBT. J. HARP, FOR THE ALABAMA, MISSISSIPPI AND LOUISIANA CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH SOUTH.

VOL. 22. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1876. NO. 45.

WINTER WHEAT.

WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT.

The maples redden in the sun;
In autumn gold the beeches stand;
Beat, faithful plow! thy work is done
Upon the teeming land.

Bordered with trees whose gay leaves fly
On every breath that sweeps the sky,
The fresh dark acres furrowed lie,
And ask the sower's hand.

Lead the tired steed, and let him go
To pasture, where the gentians blow;
And we, who till the grateful ground,
Fling we the golden shower around.

Fling wide the generous grain; we fling
Over the dark mold the green of spring;
For thick the emerald blades shall grow
When first the March winds melt the snow,
And to the sleeping flowers below
The early birdbirds sing.

News of the Week.

DOMESTIC.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 31.—The Pioneer ... has a special from Bismarck, ... says: Gen. Miles had a successful fight after an unsuccessful ... with Sitting Bull, on the 21st ... on Cedar Creek, killing a ... of Indians and wounding ...; his own loss being, two ... He chased the Indians ... sixty miles, when they divided, ... portion going toward the agency, ... Sitting Bull toward Fort Peck, ... Miles following.

Gen. Hagen has gone to Fort Peck ... four companies of Infantry and ... for Gen. Miles's command.

Late advices state that Sitting Bull ... the river below Fort Peck on ... 24th, and had sent word to the ... that he was coming in and ... be friendly, but he wanted ... ammunition.

MEMPHIS, TENN., Nov. 1.—A private telegram from Grenada, Miss., ... a destructive fire there last ... Sixteen business houses on ... west side of the square and west ... of Green street burned, including ... Snyder's Bank, postoffice, and ... Lake's grocery store. No further particulars received.

AUGUSTA, Nov. 3.—A party of negroes broke into the residence, six ... from Aiken, S. C., at midnight ... night and murdered Mr. Hauss ... and his nephew, named Past..., both Germans. After robbing ... the murderers fired the dwelling ... over the dead bodies.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 4.—A Pioneer ... special, dated camp in the field, ... Yellowstone, Oct. 27, via Bismarck, D. T., Nov. 4, says: The general commanding the troops on the ... Lowstone, after fighting, defeating and pursuing Sitting Bull and ... confederated tribes under him, ... day accepted the surrender of ... hundred lodges of Indians be... at Cheyenne agency. These ... surrendered five of their principal chiefs as hostages, a guarantee ... their faithful compliance with the ... of the surrender. These bands ... go at once to the agency, and ... their arrival they will embark ... the requirements of the Government. The Indians held as hostages ... this evening for St. Paul under ... of strong guards.

SAVANNAH, Nov. 5.—Total interments to-day four, of which two were ... yellow fever. Capt. Taylor, of ... British bark Cherokee, died at ... to-day.

SAVANNAH, Nov. 6.—Total interments to-day nine, of which six ... from yellow fever.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8, 11:02 A. M.—Herald gives Tilden two hundred and nine electoral votes. The Republicans accept the situation, ... is better than expected, and ... credit, instead of being weaker, ... stronger. Hallelujah!

The Tribune concedes Tilden's election. The Times depends for Hayes' ... upon Florida, Oregon, and ... Jersey. New Jersey has gone ... democratic. The Times claims ... Louisiana and South Carolina. No ... doubt of Tilden's election. ... won at a canter.—Picayune.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The French and ... English papers are dissatisfied with ... Emperor of Germany's statement ... European matters in his speech ... opening of the Imperial Parliament of Germany at Berlin yesterday. ... French papers accept it as a disclaimer of menace to France.

The London Times says editorially: ... important to observe that we ... notice that Germany abides ... will abide the alliance with Russia ... and though it will struggle to ... on good terms with the other ..., the Government of the Emperor's nephew and friend will remain ... most closely knit with the Government at Berlin.

At the Bow-street Police Court to-day, the presiding magistrate, after ... full summing up in the case of ... the American medium, in the ... execution under the vagrant act, ... sentenced the prisoner under the extreme penalty of the law, viz: Three ... months confinement at hard labor in ... House of Correction. Counsel ... for defendant gave notice of appealing which Slade's previous ... was accepted. The sentence of ... Court was received with mingled ... cheers and hisses by the spectators.

MADRID, Nov. 1.—A Reuter telegram from Rome says: Cardinal Antonelli is seriously ill; members of ... diplomatic corps went yesterday ... the Vatican to inquire about his ... condition.

A Rome dispatch to the Daily ... says: Cardinal Antonelli is dying. The Pope, on Sunday, ordered ... consultation of physicians, who declared the Cardinal's case hopeless. ... relations were summoned to his ... bedside, and found him unconscious.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 1.—The Great ... Ship Canal connecting this city ... with the German Ocean was opened to-day with imposing ceremonies, at which the King, members of the Cabinet, and foreign representatives were present.

A grand banquet took place this evening. The city is covered with flags. There is a grand illumination to night, and splendid exhibitions of fireworks are given.

The canal is sixteen miles long, and has at the sea end a harbor covering two hundred and fifty acres, which, however is not yet completed.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 2.—An official telegram received here, from Gen. Ignatieff, announces that the Porte has accepted a two months armistice beginning November 1, and has ordered an immediate cessation of hostilities.

BELGRADE, Nov. 2.—The Servian Government has instructed Gen. Tchernayeff to send a flag of truce to Abdul Kerim, the Turkish commander, to inquire whether he has been notified of the conclusion of an armistice.

It is officially announced that both armies will retain the positions they now hold.

PARIS, Nov. 2.—The Duke de Cazes has declared officially before the budget committee that the Government intends to maintain absolute neutrality in the event of complications in the East.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Montenegro accepts the armistice on the same terms as Servia. It is stated the Austrian Ambassador at St. Petersburg is ordered to go to Livadia, and it is rumored the Turkish Grand Vizier will go there also on a confidential message.

A dispatch from Belgrade to the Times confirms the statement that the armistice, as accepted by the Porte, is unconditional.

MADRID, Nov. 5.—Prime Minister Canovas Del Castillo, addressing a meeting of two hundred and fifty deputies, declared that it was the determination of the Government to retain Cuba at any cost.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The man-of-war Nelson, 7000 tons displacement, 6000 horse power, 20 guns, was launched at Glasgow.

The Times, editorially, says: We think, with the majority of our countrymen, that the chances are in favor of peace, and such a peace as may assure the welfare of the regions concerned, by removing every pretext for agitation.

The Times' Belgrade dispatch says it is rumored that Gen. Tchernayeff will reside in Russia during the armistice. Russian officers express the belief that a thousand Russians fell in the valley of Moravia alone. They openly avenge the Servians of bayoneting Russians who, revolver in hand, attempted to force them to attack the Turks.

The Standard's Belgrade dispatch reports that some wounded Russian officers were robbed and hacked to pieces by the men appointed to carry them to the rear.

The Times, Vienna dispatch says: All the powers except Germany, who will not interfere, have appointed commissioners for drawing a demarkation line.

Turkey, with a majority of the powers, thinks the line should be fixed by the positions occupied by the opposing forces when the armistice was agreed upon, but Russia seems disposed to ask that the Turks withdraw to the frontier.

A dispatch from Rome to Reuter's Telegram Company announces the death of Cardinal Antonelli. The same dispatch also reports that Cardinal Consolini the Parizo, Vicar General of the Pope, is dying.

ROME, Nov. 6.—Monsignor V. Vannutelli, Under Secretary of State, has been appointed successor ad interim of the late Cardinal Antonelli.

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—Minister Von Bulow, Chief of the Foreign Office of the Empire, in a speech before the Reichstag to day on the Eastern Question, declared that the affairs of Turkey were not likely to affect Germany directly or indirectly. The policy of the Government was that Germany should always remain a firm bulwark of peace.

From the Work.

CHURCH DEDICATED.—Mr. Editor: It was the happy fortune of the humble penman of these lines to attend the dedicatory services of the new Methodist church at Jeaneretts, La., of the twenty-ninth instant.

Disappointed in his expectations of receiving assistance, our worthy pastor, Rev. B. F. White, conducted the services alone. No earthly aid could have made the occasion pass off more satisfactorily or pleasantly.

During an able discourse upon that beautiful text, "Surely the Lord is in this place; this is the house of God, and the gate of heaven," it required but a casual glance into the countenance of many an honest worker in the vineyard of the Lord to verify the text as it was repeated from time to time by him who evidently felt it himself.

The church can comfortably accommodate about a hundred and fifty persons. It is a handsome little edifice, and does credit to its architect. It was built this Centennial year, by subscription; in which the liberality of our people has displayed itself in no stinted degree.

At the close of the sermon, our pastor informed the congregation that there was still a debt of some $230 due upon the building, and that, before giving the church to the Lord, it ought to be possessed by the donors. The wisdom and justice of this idea was indorsed in the most forcible and substantial manner by the people present, who numbered about a hundred and fifty all told. Immediately a subscription was raised, which resulted in donations varying from $5 to $50, aggregating considerably more than was required to pay off the debt. After this the church was formally given unto the Lord, and dedicated to his services. We can but repeat the prayer of hundreds who have been instrumental in advancing the cause of Christ and the glory of God. God bless the church at Jeaneretts, and may it be the instrument in thy hands of bringing thousands to thy fold in heaven. Yours truly,

AUDUBON.

NEW IBERIA, October 31, 1876.

MR. EDITOR: We have just closed a series of meetings, in which some good has been accomplished, but not as much as we had desired and prayed for.

The Methodist and Cumberland Presbyterian churches in this community united and held a union meeting, which lasted nearly four weeks, and resulted in much good to both churches; about twenty conversions, some of whom were heads of families, who had never been known to manifest a desire for salvation before. We have had a good meeting at every appointment, the church much revived, and a number of conversions and accessions. There has also been a decided increase in the number of ADVOCATES taken, and the missionary and Conference collections, and we hope to be able to raise the entire amounts assessed by the different boards.

I have just heard of a sad accident which happened to the son of one of your subscribers. Mr. Chelsey Cook went out, just before breakfast, to kill a beef. The gun was heard to fire, and it was supposed by the family that he had killed the beef; but when breakfast was ready, and the family seated at the table, he did not make his appearance; imagine the feelings of his devoted sister, when she went to the front door to call him, and found him lying dead in the front yard. It is supposed he took the gun up, which he had set down by the front porch, at the same time striking the hammer against one of the pillars, which discharged the load into his forehead, killing him instantly. "In the midst of life we are in death."

He was a steady, temperate, and industrious young man, and very kind and devoted to his mother, brothers, and sisters; beloved by all who knew him, and will be a great loss to the community in which he lived. Fraternally yours,

G. R. LYNCH.

VIENNA, PICKENS CO., ALA., Oct. 21, 1876.

WAYNESBORO, MISS.—Mr. Editor: Waynesboro charge consists of three villages on the Mobile and Ohio railroad, reaching from Stateline to Waynesboro station. The lumber and turpentine business has built up otherwise the poorest section of the State unto comparative prosperity. A few capitalists are turning these natural facilities to good account. On this work our church numbers about two hundred, and nearly every person within its limits is a member of some Christian organization, leaving a pastor little else to do than to keep up that we have. The circuit, being a new one, had no parsonage at the commencement of the year, and only about $100 in cash to start the enterprise. Believing the few members, most of whom are poor, unable to meet all of the demands of the year, and build a parsonage too, I wrote seventy-five letters to the members of the Mississippi Conference for assistance, and received about $3. The case was plain. If we built a parsonage, it must be with our own means. We began work, and now I am living in a parsonage, which, with lot, furniture, and improvements, is valued at $1,000. All the assessments have been paid in full. Total amount paid from our little work is between $1,800 and $2,000.

Received by transfer, form, and baptism, about twenty—a few more expected. I pray heaven's richest benefactions upon the considerate and generous people of Waynesboro charge.

H. R. SINGLETON.

HENRY CIRCUIT, ALABAMA CONFERENCE.—Mr. Editor: On Saturday before the fourth Sabbath in October I began my protracted meeting in Abbeville, Henry county, Ala. The attendance at the first service was very small, but increased at the next. On Sabbath, at eleven A. M., the congregation was of good size, and increased in interest and size till the last service—on Thursday night. During the meeting the church was considerably revived, and greatly encouraged. Some professed to realize the pardon of sins, and six valuable members were added to the church. For the first time during several years just passed was the church saluted with the exultant, heaven-born shout. I had no ministerial help, except a few prayers by the venerable Rev. T. W. Craven, now in his eighty-fourth year. The presence of such a faithful witness for the truth was a blessing to all our hearts.

ANGUS DOWLING.

LAWRENCEVILLE, ALA., Oct. 30, 1876.

CORINTH, MISS.—Mr. Editor: Your excellent paper is still a welcome visitor at our house. I feel so glad that you continue those soul-feasting editorials. They do me good. My last Quarterly Conference has just closed, and I will soon be off for Conference again. How short the time seems since I wrote those words a year ago. My charge is between forty and fifty stronger than at the beginning of the year.

Our Sunday-School Missionary Society is the most prosperous work among us; we meet monthly. The interests of the cause are discussed. Teachers give in their monthly collections, which have already about paid the assessment to the church, which the stewards thought was so very large that it never could be collected. All the collections will be in full, except my own, which will be very far behind.

We hope soon to get up a fine interest among the children in our Conference on the missionary question; there is our hope for success among the children.

J. L. FUTRELL.

OCTOBER 21, 1876.

HAZLEHURST, MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.—Mr. Editor: We have just closed a meeting of three weeks' duration, which resulted in a number of conversions, six accessions on profession of faith, and two by letter. Bros. J. T. Heard and C. B. Galloway were with us at intervals during the meeting, and rendered valuable assistance in the pulpit and altar. We have received during the year ten accessions on profession of faith, and six by letter, and have good reasons for believing that the condition of our church is much improved, and that the good work is going on, for which we are thankful.

J. M. WEEMS.

OCTOBER 23, 1876.

Overland—Homeward.

MR. EDITOR: Having got everything ready—tent, provisions, etc.—we "weighed anchor" at Harrisburg, Oregon, on the twenty-fifth ultimo, by a crack of the whip, and began our long retrograde movement toward the battlefields, fortifications, and camping grounds of other days.

MOUNTAINS.

Early on the morning of the twenty-seventh, two days afterward, we crossed the Calapooya mountains, and at night camped near the summit of the Umpqua mountains, where we had a most entertaining and sublime view of five ranges of mountains westward. They were piled up, range above range, and peak above peak, and beyond them were the almost interminable water plains of the Pacific ocean.

Next morning we had the "mirage of the desert," clothed in all of its deceptive beauty. There was a river as large as the Mississippi meandering among these everlasting hills, with the wildest and most romantic banks. So complete was the delusion that we asked the name of the majestic stream. A few miles further, we seemed to be on the tall banks of an immense lake, with green islands here and there, far out in the still, smooth waters. One would hardly grow weary, in gazing upon such a scene, in a whole revolution of the earth about its center. We had not only rivers and lakes of fog, but the rainbows were made of the same material, and there were several of them seen at different times of the day. They were whiter than sunlight, and, of course, exceedingly beautiful.

Just before we reached Roseburg, the county seat of Douglas, we came to "Aunt Sallie's Back Bone," which was a low mountain of oblong proportions. On "the divide" of this range game is said to be very abundant. In fact, this is a common feature of this whole land.

Roseburg is a neat little town, and the present southern terminus of the Oregon and California railroad. The dove of Southern Methodism has a nest here, but the increase, if any, is small.

Round Valley was the next place of interest at which we arrived. It was a beautiful prairie, with a circular fence of mountains, and in a healthy state of cultivation. Here we met a load of corn, the first load we had seen since our departure from your sunny State. As we looked upon it we thought of the quantities of hoe cake, corn-dodger, mush, and hominy it contained, and we coveted, with a longing desire, a dish of this Louisiana flour-bread. In the Willamette Valley but very little corn can be grown, and that of an inferior quality. But in this part of the State old-fashioned corn-fields are common.

The ships of these solid waves were now met with and overtaken for the first time. They are enormous wagons, generally two tied together, carrying about eight or ten thousand pounds, and pulled by six or eight large horses or mules. They have heavy "brakes," like a railroad car, to check their progress in descending the mountains, and great spikes on levers of wood, and hinged on the hinder axletree, to hold the load while ascending, that the horses may rest occasionally. This lever, with spike downward, drags with the business end down, and is ever ready for duty. These ships of the mountains ascend and descend the highest elevations and deepest valleys, averaging about two miles per hour. Their intention is to supply the lack of a railroad through the mountains from Roseburg to Reading, a distance of one hundred and seventy miles. And right well do they fill the end of their existence, although it may take them two weeks or more to haul a load. They supply with goods a number of towns and neighborhoods.

Camp prayers at night were one of the regulations of our party, consisting of eleven persons. Near a bridge, ferry, or stream of water, the camp fire would be kindled; the supper prepared, and discussed in a vigorous way. And after this, prayers would be called. Around the camp fire would be wagons, horses, harness, etc., the lantern, perhaps, tied to a wheel. The evening worshipers occupy all sorts of positions. The Bible is read—a lesson—a hymn is sung. How sweet it sounds upon the still night air among these wild hills and valleys. And there we all stand in prayer to Almighty God our Savior, after which we retire to the sweet rest of night, despite any surrounding dangers.

The Indians are scattered all over this land; but they are only fragments of former grandeur and glory. One night we had an encampment of them very near us, and their only supper was fresh water muscles served up raw. Having eaten all their muscles for supper, there was nothing left for breakfast. An old squaw and her daughter came over to our camp, before they left, and the mother offered her daughter, who was really pretty, to an old gentleman, belonging to our party, for his Cayouse (pony) worth $70. But he had a wife at home, and doubted the propriety of the speculation under the circumstances. At another camp of Indians, we stopped to buy venison, and were surprised to see what quantities of acorns they had gathered, and that they were in all probability to be a part of their food during the great snows of the coming winter. Besides these, they had dried salmon, choke-cherries, peaches, etc., drying. Choke-cherries are a wild berry about the size of an ordinary cherry, but they will nauseate and vomit a persons if he eat many; so I am told.

JAMES E. BRADLEY.

SACRAMENTO CITY, October 25, 1876.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.—Numerous inquiries suggest the fitness of the following notice to the members of the Mississippi Conference:

"The Lee and Katie leave Vicksburg on Friday evening, the Pargoud on Monday evening, and the Natchez on Tuesday evening. I am warranted in saying that these packets are proverbially liberal toward all ministers of the gospel, and members of religious convocations."

W. H. WATKINS.

VICKSBURG, MISS., November 3, 1876.

A Terrible Tragedy.

THREE PREACHERS SHOT FROM THE BUSH.

The following authentic report is from the Rev. W. H. Metheny, of the Arkansas Conference, and relates to an attack on a company of preachers, consisting of himself, and the Revs. B. Williams, A. H. Williams, and George Pledger, who were returning from the annual session of the Arkansas Conference, at Yellville, which adjourned Oct. 23. According to the press dispatches, these preachers were shot by two men, named Hughes and Hall, illicit distillers, who mistook their victims for revenue officers. It is said that men are in pursuit of the guilty parties, and it is to be hoped they will be captured, and brought to punishment according to the laws of the land. We earnestly pray that our brethren, so seriously wounded, will be spared to their families and to the church, of which they are faithful servants. We make room here for Brother Metheny's letter:

Mr. Editor: On our return from Conference, several of us were the subjects of a very sad incident, the particulars of which I give you. It seems the United States marshals had been very active for some time, arresting parties for real, and in some instances, perhaps, supposed violations of law, until a great many citizens had become excited on the subject. Some parties had resolved to resist the authorities, and rumor had it that sixteen marshals were expected in that vicinity to execute the law. The Revs. B. Williams, A. H. Williams, George Pledger, and myself had crossed the Boston Mountain on the morning of Nov. 25, and come down on Hurricane Creek about noon. This, perhaps, was an unusual route for preachers to travel, and especially a number together. We were very anxious to get home, and this was thought by some to be a nearer route. Brothers A. H. Williams and Pledger, young men, traveled together, and they were some distance ahead. They arrived at Fort Douglass, on Big Piney, about five o'clock P. M. We had traveled all day without feeling, and the young men thought it probable we would put up for the night. Brother Williams went into a house to make inquiry for accommodations, and Brother Pledger walked over to a shop just across the road from the house. The back part of the shop, toward the mountain, was all open. He had been standing there but a few minutes when he was shot from the mountain. He fell upon his face and said, "I am killed." The owner of the shop, Mr. Wallace, was the only one present, or in the shop. He ran out by Brother Williams, and told him not to go, or try to go, to his friend. Brother Williams tried to get other parties to help him bring Brother Pledger out of the shop, but none would go. So Brother Williams mounted his horse to ride back and hurry myself and his father, Brother B. Williams, to the scene of carnage. When we got to the shop, we found Brother Pledger lying on his face, pale, helpless, bleeding, and we thought nearly dying. We put him on a blanket and carried him to the house of Mr. Wallace, and sent off immediately for a physician.

After we got Brother Pledger as comfortably situated as we could, Brother B. Williams, myself, and two or three friends who had come to our aid went out behind a large tree from the shop to consult about the most judicious course to pursue during the night—and while there talking, the brush men changed their position, or had others posted across the creek from where Brother Pledger was shot. Brother B. Williams and myself were singled out, and he was shot through the right side just above the hip; and I was shot in the right side, only breaking the skin, but making a very sore place.

After a hard day's ride and much suffering, I reached home last night. Brother A. H. Williams returned as I did, after his mother and Brother Pledger's folks. I greatly fear that Brother Pledger's wound is mortal. The doctor could get no physic to have any effect at all. He suffered greatly through the night, and was no better when we left him yesterday morning. Brother B. Williams has a very bad wound, but the doctor thinks he will recover if his wound is properly managed. We were certainly mistaken for United States marshals; our canes and umbrellas, seen from the mountain, were taken for guns. The whole neighborhood seemed to be in deep sympathy with us, and rendered us every assistance in their power to make us comfortable, and we left our dear brethren with the doctor and kind people there with the pledge that they would receive every needed assistance until their friends could reach them. Oh, let us earnestly pray that God may spare the lives of our dear brethren to bless the church and to accomplish good.

Brother Pledger is a noble young man, deeply pious, and well qualified for the great work for which his Master has called him. Brother B. Williams is one of the oldest preachers in the Arkansas Conference, a good and true man.

I omitted to state in the proper place how Brother Pledger was shot. The ball went in just above his right hip, ranged into his backbone, and, the doctor thinks, lodged in it. He thinks he found it, but is not certain. WM. H. METHENY.

CADIN CREEK, ARK., Oct. 27, 1876.

Western Methodist.

As if you could kill time without injuring eternity.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1876.

MY STRENGTH.

"Unto Thee, O My Strength, will I sing."

Weary and heart sick, when the day is done,
I look back o'er the morning hours that seemed
So full of promise and with hope so bright
My eager heart did yearn to bear its part
In the world's battle. Ah! how brave the hands
I stretched to greet the burdens of each hour!
How strong I seemed, the world how wide and fair!
There was no pain I had not smiled to bear;
There was no cross I could not lightly lift;
There was no hope but in my bosom lighted!
As droop the lilies 'neath the noonside sun,
As sinks the thirsty bird beside the rill,
So perished all the rosy hopes of morn.
So, wearied, sank those eager hands beneath
The cross I could not bear. So cried my heart
For one blest hour of painless, brief repose.
Then spoke there one in tones compassionate:
"O thou rash child! Canst from thy Father stray
And no be lost? Give me thy burdens. Hold
Thou but thy Father's hand, and, clinging thus,
Lean, heavy-laden, on that arm and rest."
My God! I bring my burdens all to thee:
Sorrows and losses, cares, and constant sin.
They are too many for my little strength;
But, safe on thy upholding arm, I see
Thy grace doth make each burden light.
My weakness doth become my strength when e'er
Weighted, I lean on thee. Thou art my strength,
The Rock beneath whose shadow oft I rest,
My Refuge in this desert land. Therefore,
Weary and way-worn when the day is done
I come to Thee, my Helper, trusting that Thou knowest every heartache, every tear;
And thou will comfort me in thy good time.
This is my strength—my Father seeth all.
Alike the sorrow and its ruthlessness, the peace
Made but divisor by the birth of pain;
The cross that shines beneath its unseen crown.

Shreveport District.

MR. EDITOR: As intimated in my last, the meeting at Shreveport closed on Thursday night, September 14. The interest was largely maintained to the last. With efficient ministerial help Bro. Goodwyn would have continued through another week.

A little after daylight, on Friday morning, accompanied by my beloved Texas brother, we arrived at Mr. Moore's, in good time for breakfast.

The cordial greetings—unrestrained, untrammeled country greetings—of friends, with faces bright and full of strong sympathy, is always a fresh benediction. But what must we say of the sweet salutations of wife and children on such a morning and under such influences?

Morning prayers softened our hearts and filled our eyes. The family altar is a precious place. Around it cluster some of the dearest memories of life. The very spirit of calmness, of purity, is there. And could we, as pastors, always be impressed with the fact that we kneel and pray with households in the stead of Christ—as his ambassadors—speaking, praying, as he would if present, more frequently would linger behind us the savor of our office!

A brief call at the pleasant home of Mrs. J. B. Ogilvie did us no harm, but good. Dinner with Bro. and Sister Simpson.

Again on the road. Not to detain you with the evening ride, making a pastoral call or two, in good time we received the hearty salutations of Bro. and Sister Barnes. The pleasure was enhanced, if possible, by meeting here the "singing band" from Friendship church. Bro. Barnes is a local elder, formerly a member of the South Carolina Conference, and a classmate of Bishop McTyeire at Cokesbury. He has an interesting family, and, as far as health will allow, is making full proof of his ministry. Would that such helpful local preachers were many times multiplied!

A season of rest, both to the body and spirit, brought in the first day of the Mooringsport Conference. We are still seven miles away, but soon passed over, however. The people and pastor were ready. The service on Friday night added to the preparation. This is, in one sense, a new work formed only this year. In numbers and finances it is not strong; but in readiness of spirit is equal to its responsibilities. Bro. Robt. Randle, the faithful pastor, is doing the work. His people love him very much. He has made strong friends outside the church, who seem willing to bear an equal share in his support. The Mooringsport country has an inviting appearance. The little town is situated on one of the many lakes lying between Shreveport and Jefferson. It was originally called Fairy Lake. It ought never to have lost its name. The lands are good. The crops this year, though cut off by drouth, are equal to any I have seen. The people are kind-hearted, clever, and hospitable. Ours is a beautiful little church, immediately on the lake bluff. From the pulpit the preacher looks out on and over its bright expanse.

The services up to last night Monday) have increased in interest. There were three sermons on Sunday and yesterday—morning, afternoon, and night. Sickness prevailing throughout the community cut down the congregations, but not the interest. The penitents were not numerous, but deeply engaged. No assured bright conversions to this writing. The meeting continues. I am called away this morning. Bro. Randle is strong, ready, and willing. Leaving him under the guidance of the Divine Spirit, and in the midst of such a people, I look for a good report from his field.

Affectionately,

JOEL T. DAVES.

MOORINGSPORT, LA., Sept. 19, 1876.

Letter from Texas.

MR. EDITOR: Whatever else may be said of Texas, it is a land of balmy air, blooming flowers, and sunny skies. The blustering winds of March, the gentle evening zephyrs, and the soft currents of the summer night alike are fresh and dry. Taking cold from exposure to drafts of air in spring, summer, or autumn is very unusual.

Indian summer is now upon us. We often think of that most beautiful production in your paper, by the editor, entitled: "The Indian Summer of Life." We see it illustrated in all its intensity here. The heavens for the last two months have been like brass and the earth like iron under our feet. This is a thirsty land, where no water is, except in wells. Water and wood are the great needs of Texas. The absence of the latter doubtless accounts for the lack of the other. We have just been out to Mexia (pronounced Mayhayah) and were there informed that there was hardly any running water for nearly two hundred miles westward. Water stands in tanks. These are unlike the beautiful fish "ponds" of Mississippi, or the romantic little "lakes" in Louisiana. They are made by filling in dirt in the most unscientific manner across a "dug out," until it attains a depth of from seven to twelve feet. The water is of a dull leaden color, owing to the color of the soil. But what is a "dug out?" Many of us "green from the old States" have found ourselves looking for it come along the road. But in time we came to know that it was what we called in Mississippi a "gully," and in Louisiana a "ravine," a "ditch," or a "bayou," according to size.

In our last we spoke of the great extent of country in Texas. The extent of the country is only equaled by the rush toward it. The waves of emigration come in like the setting in of a mighty tide from a distant shore. Like grasshoppers, they cloud the sun, they cover the ground, they spread over the whole face of the country, and penetrate the mighty "West," where only a few years since the panther's scream and the Comanche's whoop were heard.

This mighty transfusion is bringing some of the world's best blood to fill the heart of Texas with the bounding pulsations of a nobler life. From the year 1870 to 1876 the population of Texas has increased from 600,000 to a little over 2,000,000. And yet they come. Like gospel grace, the gates of Texas stand open day and night. Her agents are everywhere proclaiming: "Come unto me all ye ends of the earth." And could you be here a year, Mr. Editor, you would think they were coming. Yet there is room. We are hardly in Texas, yet between our meridian and the Louisiana line there is as much territory as both Louisiana and Mississippi contain, besides room for all their people. West of us New York, with all her millions, could be set down several times. Settling up such a country is like the rising of the Mississippi river. Rivers upon rivers, from a hundred mountains must roll down their floods before "the danger line" is reached. "The old Texan" regards this vast influx of strange people just as the English coachman does the advent of the railroad. Those were good old days when "the boys" threw their lariats, cracked their long whips, and staked their ponies around a ranch, or started with "a thousand head of beeves" for a distant market. What glorious times when, after grazing on "mesquit" grass, it took three men to put a saddle on a pony, and a fourth to ride him. When the souvenirs of Texas are written no character will stand out in bolder relief than the Texas cow boy. His blood has bedewed the grass upon his own native plains in many a rough struggle with the Indian and the Mexican. With that same blood he offered a mighty sacrifice for liberty upon the granite hills of Gettysburg, and upon the plains and mountains of Tennessee and Georgia. His reign is over. Agriculture has broken up his ranges and destroyed his pastures. He has "gone west." But a few years more and there will be no more west. All this vast prosperity has been brought by the railroads. The Central has built Denison, Sherman, Dallas, Corsicana, and a host of other towns. The population of these towns aggregate many thousands. Then there are the towns of Fort Worth, Weatherford, Waco, Austin, San Antonio, Palestine, and Cleburn, some of which are already assuming the proportions and commercial importance of cities. Oh! that New Orleans had a railroad direct through Alexandria, Nacogdoches, Palestine, and thence to Waxahachi and Fort Worth. The commerce of New Orleans on this line alone would amount to millions.

Then, Mr. Editor, we could see you all again. Then you would have a cord strait through our heart, and then we would not have to send half way around the world for what we need most. Bishop Pierce has been through Texas to various points. He visited all the Conferences except this, the Northwest Texas. He announced that he would leave the appointments for this Conference "open for the present." However, the "opening" was so large that the Bishop went out at it, and is now, we suppose, in Georgia. He is greatly pleased with Texas, and Texas reciprocates heartily. Our beautiful new church in Fairfield will be dedicated next Sabbath by Rev. J. D. Shaw, a genuine production of Texas, "to the manor born." He is one of the most active and useful of the younger preachers of this Conference. We are going to labor for a revival. Oh! for power from on high to come upon these kind people. We would like to have Bro. Pipes here to help us, as in other days we tried to help him. Come, Mr. Editor, to our Conference. Pray for the prosperity of Zion in this land of promise and of abundance.

Fraternally, R. H. ADAIR.

FAIRFIELD, October 4, 1876.

Preachers' Troubles and Perplexities.

MR. EDITOR: Other people have their troubles as well as preachers, but I have thought that true, faithful preachers feel more sensitively than others the troubles arising from pecuniary embarrassments. A faithful minister, closing up the business of the Conference year, finding himself involved in debt beyond his ability to pay, cannot, like some others, give satisfaction to his creditors by a promise of payment at some future time. He has nothing upon which to base a promise, if, as is the case with many of us, he has no resource besides his salary. What can he do? He may express, with a considerable degree of embarrassment, his regret, but that does not pay the debt, nor help his creditors. He must feel, if an honorable Christian gentleman, that he is injured in his reputation, and crippled, in a degree, in his usefulness. Several preachers, in the bounds of my acquaintance, are in this unfortunate predicament. Many others, of whose circumstances I am not advised, are doubtless in the same category. Some of these preachers have large families, consisting of helpless females. They have lived on the coarsest diet, practiced the most rigid economy in dress, done their own work, the children have been kept from school to avoid expense, and, in some instances, crops have been cultivated in the hope of making enough added to the contributions of the church, to meet family expenses. Yet the contributions are likely to fall so far below the reasonable calculations of these faithful men, as to leave them considerably in debt. I know a number of preachers who are not in a situation to bear the expense of attendance at Conference. They have reluctantly declined, first, because they wish to save for their creditors the money it would require to transport them to and from Conference; secondly, because they do not feel able to buy an outfit that would enable them to make a respectable appearance among strangers. They prefer to stay at home and wear threadbare clothes and dilapidated hats, rather than increase their indebtedness by an outlay of this sort. Now this is no fancy sketch, but is a true and faithful, though sad and painful, and, I may add, shameful statement of facts. All these troubles have come upon these preachers not because of unfaithfulness upon their part, or because of unacceptability, but because the pledges for their support have not been fulfilled. So far as I am advised, the assessments, if paid, would enable every preacher to pay his debts, and leave him enough to dress respectably and go to Conference decently.

SIGMA.

Greeting and Parting.

What a close relationship exists between these two words. Our greetings are scarce over ere the hour of parting arrives. We meet, shake hands in greeting, enjoy a few hours, days, weeks, months, or years at best, and say: "Good-by."

Our paths diverge to meet perhaps no more in this life. When soul meets soul, and hearts commune in Christian fellowship, how sweet the moments seem. How sweet and yet how short. How sad the parting of friends, even though it be for a short time. How inexpressibly sad the parting between those who have no "sure and abiding hope" that there is a greeting in store for them "beyond the bounds of time and space," a greeting that shall know no parting. If the greeting of friends and the enjoyment of each other's society is so sweet on earth, what tongue or pen can describe the ecstatic joys of that greeting of friends that shall be eternal!

These thoughts came to us forcibly while contemplating the partings that will soon take place between the pastor and his flock. Our Conference year is drawing to a close. Our preachers will soon bid us farewell. We may not meet again on the shores of Time, but we hope to meet again "over there in the sunbright clime." We hope and trust that they have all been faithful to their "high calling." We hope that the people have "done what they could."

We part with our young pastor, Rev. M. B. Sharbrough, with many regrets. Our hearts and prayers will go with him. The church has been greatly blessed during the year he has been with us. There have been thirty-two accessions up to the present date. Nearly all were young. Among them was a young man who had once been a member of the church, but had been a backslider for several years, and at last had become a skeptic in religion. Dancing parties have been broken up entirely, and the young people are all taking much interest in good works. Bro. Sharbrough has taken great interest in the cause of missions. He delivered a very able address on the subject last month, and has collected over $50 for missions. A protracted meeting is in progress now at the lower Pearl River church. We hope for a Pentecostal shower before it closes. This is Bro. Sharbrough's last round save one, then comes the parting. "A little while," and there will be a greeting, "beyond the river," at the pearly gates of paradise.

MRS. L. CRARY SADLER.

WEST PEARL RIVER, LA., Oct. 21.

Autumn Leaves.

Nature, in her changes, exhibits her charms in varied beauty, each of which displays unrivaled perfection. The genius of man, ever fertile in its powers, falls far short of the Creator, which we see fully exemplified in the material world.

There is no art, design, or tracery that can equal the pencilings of the great Architect, whose touch combines order, harmony, and beauty.

The blush of summer has faded, and its gaily tinted robes have given place to the mellow hues of autumn. The leaves of red and yellow droop in pensive beauty, or fall trembling to the ground to wither and die. The dying year assumes a more sober yet richer dress of crimson and gold, ere she yields her scepter to the inevitable shadow that waits to fold her in its cold embrace.

We build our castles of hope, and rear our temples of beauty, but alas! they vanish like dissolving views, and realities till the vision.

The soft breath of summer has borne the defiant perfume. The chill winds of autumn sweep away the falling leaves, which carry with them a glorious throng of happy dreams. Summer fades into autumn, autumn into winter, winter into age, and age ends in eternity.

With multitudes the opportunities offered them for improvement is forever lost. The reaper Death has cast his sickle in the broad fields of life, harvesting immortal souls. Happy is he who can bring his sheaves with him.

Work, while it is called to-day, is the precept given to all Christians. We should grasp our oars and ply them with diligence, bravely defying each threatening wave. Onward, onward still, there is no turning back. Life's duties are before us, and there can be no anchorage yet. There are green isles in the distance, rife with the sweet music of waterfalls that caress peaceful, quiet brooks, deep, cool shades, flowers, and birds, and human souls that die not, for so the Father hath planned it. The way is open, and the instinctive, deep, pure love of all that is good and true impels us forward. We should cultivate all true graces that make up the sweet charities of life. Our lives should be made of good and noble deeds which will blossom along the dark currents of life. Blossoms which the angels shall set in the crowns we shall wear forever. Let us cherish the gentle virtues which add so largely to our store of happiness, so that in the evening of life there will be no clouds to skirt the soul's horizon, no winter of the heart.

By the side of the river of life is a tree the leaves of which shall not wither. "There shall be no night." No shadows to darken the pathway made bright by the smiles of God. "Along the shores of that river there are lights that never grow dim."

There are songs that fall in unbroken strains, softly on the ear. The theme of redeeming love shall fill the courts of heaven with its endless reverberations. Undying glories shall rise on the enchanted view.

The soul in her endless flight shall live on, and on, and sing forever, the unchanging love of God.

R. A. THOMS.

CENTREVILLE, MISS.

OBITUARIES.

Correspondents, please write names and dates very distinctly. We follow copy on proper names.

Obituary notices should be forwarded promptly and immediately. Give only points of general interest, such as will help the living. Details of funeral services, and such phrases as "mourn their loss," etc., are not edifying. Verses, either original or select, not admissible in this department. Give the locality distinctly and in full. In the case of infants only a simple announcement of the death, with names and dates, will be published.

☞ All obituaries received are published as soon as convenient. If, after a reasonable time, any such communication fail to appear, let a duplicate be sent instead of a complaint.

MRS. EMMA GRAYSON MAYO was born on the eighteenth of October, 1813, and died in Vidalia, La., October 9, 1876. She was the daughter of Col. William M. and Sarah Tew, of Harrisonburg, La., and was first married to Maj. Frederick Farrar, who was killed at the battle of Murfreesboro. In 1867 she was married to Col. G. Spencer Mayo, of Vidalia, La., whom she leaves with four little daughters, made motherless by her death. Her illness was protracted, and at times very painful, and gave occasion for the exhibition of a patience and a fortitude which were the wonder of every beholder. It was truly sad to see a wife having a good husband and comfortable home, and surrounded by tender and affectionate children, called, in the midst of her days, to part from all the dear objects of her earthly affections. Nothing but Heaven can solve the mystery of such sufferings in life or such untimeliness of death.

Upon visiting her, a few days before her death, we found her patiently awaiting the Master's summons, trusting in Christ Jesus as her Savior, and fearing no evil. When the final day came, she seemed to pass away with its dawning, and was thought, for some moments, to be actually dead; but, being quickly turned in bed, she revived, and afterward asked to take the sacrament of the Lord's Supper with her friends. At times during the day she fell into unconsciousness, as she had several times done during previous days. But when the time to take the holy communion came, she recovered a wonderful presence and clearness of mind, and not only listened to every part of the service, but heartily responded at appropriate times, and even repeated with the minister several of the most devotional portions in feeble yet audible tones, and with the earnestness of a soul that realized Christ as its only Savior. To hear her say: "Lamb of God, that takest away the sins of the world, have mercy upon us," was to be made to feel the sentiment of those words as it were distinct under other circumstances to do. After receiving the communion with her mother, husband, and friends, she said: "I am ready now." "Ready for what," inquired her good husband, who stood by her side. "To hear what is to be said," she replied. On being told that we had nothing to say but to bid her continue her trust in the Savior, she replied: "I do;" and soon after said: "Now let me rest," and passed into a state of unconsciousness, from which she came no more back to earth.

Those bereaved by her death cannot sorrow as those who have no hope, but may rather rejoice that their loss is her eternal gain.

W. L. C. HUNNICUTT.

BRO. S. T. MASSEY, for twenty years a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, in Yazoo City, Miss., died at his home in the above-named place, August 14, 1876. He was born in Caswell county, N. C., June 15, 1817. He was a citizen of Yazoo City, Miss., for thirty years, for many years a steward and trustee. He was a trustee at the time of his death.

Bro. Massey was truly a good man. He was unostentatious, but ever faithful to duty and principle. With him to do right was a living principle. At home, on the street, anywhere, everywhere, Bro. Massey was consistent, conscientious. He loved his church, and was always found in his place on the Sabbath. He was more than usually attached to his church. We shall not soon forget his punctual attendance upon the ordinances of God's house. He was sick for many months, though confined to his bed for but a short time. His disease was pulmonary consumption. He leaves a wife and two sons, who sincerely mourn his loss; and his loss is great to them. They have lost a faithful and considerate husband and father. Oh, that they may follow him to glory. When we think of him our minds are filled with these words: "Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his."

R. D. NORSWORTHY, Pastor.

THE subject of this sketch, Mrs. ANN MCDOWELL, whose maiden name was Bush, was born in Columbia county, Ga., in August, 1801; was married to Col. Joseph McDowell in the year 1826, and died near Brandon, Miss., December 24, 1875. She made a profession of religion and joined the Methodist Church about thirty years ago, and although she was never a religious enthusiast, never demonstrative, yet there was such a consistent life, such evenness of christian deportment as to leave no doubt as to the genuineness of her profession. Her piety breathed out gently through her life, her inward, conscious experience stamping its seal upon her outward deportment. She was characterized by charity, benevolence, artlessness, candor, and the sweetest submission to truth. She loved the church. It was her delight to "attend upon its ordinances, and support its institutions." To her friends she was warmly attached, as was evinced by a hundred tender ministrations she had in love. In her death I am bereft of a most strongly attached friend almost a mother.

To her aged sister, Mrs. Kennon, widow of Rev. Robert L. Kennon, of precious memory, she seemed almost a necessity. But God has ordered their separation, for how long a time none on earth can tell.

She leaves two children, Mrs. Mary Clark, at whose residence she died, and Mrs. Bettie Welch, of Galveston, Texas, and many relatives and friends, who will long feel the influence of her guileless, godly life. Her last illness was brief, and was not expected to terminate fatally. So no dying messages were wafted back to loved ones. But her life was sufficient.

It is painful to record the death of the saints, but it is the joy of the pastor, and glory of the church, to be able to write, when they do pass away: Died in the faith. This is the record of our sainted friend.

WILL. H. LEM

THOMAS OSCAR, SON of Thomas and E. P. Pool, was born May 9, 1857. He professed religion and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church South in 1873, at a protracted meeting held in this place, by Rev. N. A. Cravens, and departed this life, Nov. 3, 1876, being a little over eighteen years old.

Oscar was a young man of fine promise and of great decision of character. Even before he made a profession of religion he withstood all the gins, snares, and traps usually set for young men in a country town. He said, on his dying bed, that he was often insisted upon by older persons to remain all night, and after all were asleep to get up and come down town, and have a general time of drinking, card-playing, etc., but he said his conscience was clear, that he had never once obeyed his parents' advice or known wrong in that direction. He was regarded, by those who knew him, to be a model young man, and many parents pointed their boys to Oscar, as an example worthy of imitation. With such a character before his companions no fears were felt for his consistency. But when he joined the church, and he did not do so until he felt it was his duty, and he did not postpone the confidence of his brethren. He was faithful as a church member, consistent as a Christian. He was loyal to his department, gentlemanly in his bearing, he commanded the respect and admiration of all. With a modesty becoming his age, he would often counsel and admonish persons older than himself, when he saw them going astray. His death is a sad loss to the community. The family and relatives are deeply bereaved; looking upon it from a human standpoint, it is a deep affliction. Yet we weep not as those who have no hope.

Oscar gave every assurance of his preparation, and that he was not only ready but willing to go and be with Christ. He often said to his weeping mother: "Do not weep for me, I shall be better off." Dying of consumption, his sickness was protracted, being confined to his bed for seven months, but he bore his afflictions and confinement with great fortitude and christian resignation.

In the death of Oscar Pool a great light and example has been removed. God grant that his companions may be impressed with the necessity of emulating a life of purity. May God bless and save parents and family in this sad bereavement. Good-by, Oscar, we shall all try to meet you on that beautiful shore, in the sweet by and by.

JOHN A. M

HOUSTON, LA., September 18, 1876.

DIED, at Bay Minette, Ala., September 7, 1876, Miss SHELLA M. aged nineteen years seven months twenty days.

Away from home and its comforts, sympathy and love, with no relative near her couch of suffering, death claimed her fair young girl, and crowned her for her Her father arrived a few hours before death, but it is doubtful whether she ever consciously of his presence. So far as is possible to furnish a substitute for comforts of home, or for friendship to soothe the love which to this one family she had every attention which mother and sister could have given her, and the Lord to something to alleviate her sufferings, which seemed general in the community, told how strong a hold her bright, cheerful, loving nature had fastened in the hearts of those with whom, but a few months before, she was a stranger.

Miss McDonald was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, holding membership at her home near Pascagoula. During a protracted meeting held at Biloxi, in August, she evinced great interest, and we hope, trimmed anew her lamp so that it was ready when the summons reached her. But little can be known of her spiritual state during her last hours, as she was unconscious almost all the time after a relapse which made her case serious. Death terminated her life. Let us hope that she had not postponed preparation for the change which soon or late must come to all, and, learning wisdom from these frequent reminders of the frailty of the tenement which we hold life, so live that we may be ready when we are called to the reckoning with our Master; and, while returning, admit space for prayer and, for praise, let my [illegible] to both these, Lord, confirm me.

G. M. KOO

SALLIE ALETHA, daughter of W. and S. C. Fauchigs, was born in Crystal Springs, Copiah county, Miss., November 28, 1861, and died of consumption, December 12, 1876, at the place of her birth. She joined the Methodist Episcopal Church South, some time in September, 1875. She was of extraordinary intellect, and although her privileges for education in the common schools was limited, yet she memorized and could repeat more pieces than any one in all this section, especially in poetry. She could repeat most of our Methodist hymns that are used in the revivals. Her voice was clear and musical, and sweet, and she delighted in singing the songs of Zion. She had the benefit of the Sabbath school for a part of her years, and could answer more questions than any of similar advantages. The Bible was familiar to her. She was exceedingly intellectual, giving evidence of great usefulness in society. She was dedicated to God in infancy, by baptism, and was raised in the church, and acknowledged her obligations at the time mentioned. She was devout, cheerful, and full of life. Her general health was good; but, alas! when disease took hold of her, no remedy seemed to be of any benefit, and, in two days and a half, she went to the spirit land, leaving many relatives and friends to mourn her loss. The Lord gave, and the Lord has taken away; blessed be his holy name.

A RELATIVE.

JOHN EDWARD, JR., son of John E. and E. H. Surratt, was born in Marshall, Texas, March 20, 1875, and departed this life at Elysian fields, September 14, 1876.

That Savior who said, "suffer little children to come unto me," has taken him home. Look up, fond mother, and trust in the Lord, and soon you may join him in the skies.

R. W. THOMPSON.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1876.

AUTUMN.

BY HOWARD CARROLL.

ear grows splendid. On the mountain steep lingers long the warm and gorgeous light, by slow degrees, into the deep,
Delicious night.

in, with musical, slow mollow leaves long, in the branches in the tender air; from his top the gay Sordello waves
Her scarlet hair.

spring first slid her violets 'neath the l o, summer's fingers op'd, fold after fold, wild, red roses' heart, how born
The leaves of gold,

tliest hill, the lowliest flowering herb,
tairest fruit of season and of clime, er alike the mood of the superb
Autumnal time.

Nature pours her last and noblest wine;
some Bacchante beside the singing streams
s the enchanted day, rapt in divine Impassioned dreams.

here the painted leaves are falling fast,
the vales, beyond the farthest hill, s shadow, dim, and sad, and vast,
And lingers still.

will we hear a voice among the hills,
that mourns among the haunted woods,
the dense mystery of its sorrow fills
The solitudes.

Autumn gilds the frost cold heath,
her tairest festal garments wear,
all noiseless, to his mighty sheaf,
Binds up the year.

ghty sheaf which never is unbound;
reaper whom our souls beseech in vain;
ved lost years that never may be found
Or loved again.

First Appearance of Gypsies.

he day, four hundred and fifty s ago, or thereabouts, there ked at the gates of the city of burg, on the Elbe, as strange a ie rout as had ever been seen by man burgher. There were three dred of them, men and women, panied by an extraordinary ber of children. They were y of skin, with jet black hair eyes; they wore strange gar-
; they were unwashed and ceeded beyond the liberal limits ated by the cold water-fearing s of Luneburg; they had with horses, donkeys, and carts; were led by two men whom described as duke and count.
alone were dressed in some splendor, and rode richly-isoned horses; they were most ious in manner; they seemed to conciliate; they talked g themselves a strange language, they understood the language of country. All they asked was ission to camp for a few days the gates. All the Luneburg-ers turned out to gaze upon mediæval pilgrims, while the duke and count told the authorities their which was wild and romantic but they invented a story to their own objects, no other could have enlisted the sympathies zealous, kindly, unerring, and hearted folk. Many years ttingly explained, while the tears penitence stood in the eyes of all e youngest children, they had Christian community, living odoxy, and therefore happi-
a far-off country known as The Luneburgers had heard Egypt. Crusades had not been fashion more than two hunds; the people still told of things done in Egypt as in the Holy Land. Egypt,
, was about as well known to Europe as it was to the under the Judges. The s came from Egypt. It was d of the phœnix. It was not in the dominions of Prester
It was the country of the mind the infidel. They were happy Christian flock. To ley came the Saracens, an race, worshiping Mah-
Yielding, in an evil hour, to ats and persecutions of their ors, they—here they turned s and wept aloud—they de-Christ. But thereafter they rest, or peace, and a remorse fell upon their souls that they ain to arise, leave their homes, rney to Rome in hope of get-conciliation with the church.
were graciously received by the who promised to admit them into the fold, after seven years enital wandering. They had s of gelt from King Sigis—would the Luneburgers kind-to them?—granting safe con-and recommending them to the protection of all honest people.
Luneburg folk were touched at ght of so much suffering in a so good; they granted the reof the strangers. They al-them to encamp; they ed in curiosity while the black were pitched, the naked babies on the grass, the donkeys
, and the grass kettle slung new Kingsford fire; then they home. The next day the stran-visited the town. In the even-a good many things were missed, ally those unremembered trifles
h a housewife may leave about doorway. Poultry became sud-scarce; eggs doubled in price; marked that purses had been while their owners gazed at the gers; cherished cups of silver not to be found. Could it be ese Christian penitents, these rseful backsliders, these seekers holiness, these interesting pil-so gentle of speech, so courteand humble, were cutpurses and ves? The next day there reed no doubt about the matter at because the gentle strangers taken in the net; red-handed:
the Luneburgers took counsel;
their leisurely way, how to meet se so uncommon, the pilgrims denly decamped, leaving nothing ind them but the ashes of their and the picked bones of the ined poultry. Then Dogberry ed with his brother Verges, and fell to thanking God that they erld of Knaves. This was the historical appearance of gypsies.
s a curious place to appear in,
mouth of the Elbe is a long way
Egypt, even if you travel by which does not appear to have the case; and a journey on land only would have been infinitely e fatiguing, but one would think, e led to some nation on the road before reaching Luneburg. There, however, the gypsies certainly are first heard of, and henceforth history has plenty to say about their doings.

Famous Early Risers.

For very many years a learned Frenchman, M. Dureau de la Malle, took special notice of the times at which various birds left their nests and began their songs or betook themselves to the duties of the day. For thirty years this gentleman was in the habit, during a good part of the spring and summer, of going to bed at seven o'clock in the evening, in order that he might rise again at midnight and be ready to watch the very earliest movements of his feathered friends. By uniformly trenting the birds who built in his garden and grounds with kindness, giving them food and protecting them from harm, M. de la Malle had made the birds into real friends, and he could move about quietly among the trees and shrubs without exciting any alarm on the part of those who would otherwise have been quick to notice his approach and fly beyond his reach.

The most common birds whose habits were noted by the gentleman in question appear to have "turned out" in the mornings of May and June at the following hours:

The greenfinch from one to half-past one.

The linnet from two to three.

The quail from half-past two to three.

The blackbird from half-past three to four.

The red-headed linnet from three to half-past three.

The sparrow from five to half-past five.

The tomtit from five to half-past five.

It will be seen that the greenfinch was the earliest and the sparrow one of the latest risers among the birds observed. Who would have thought that the sparrow would be both the most dishonest and mischievous and the most lazy of birds? I am afraid other thieves are lazy as well.

Of course the rule which M. de la Malle laid down, as above mentioned, was subject to exceptions. Sometimes the birds rose even earlier, and the reason is thus suggested in an interesting extract from the naturalist's statement: "On the fourth of June the red-headed linnet and the blackbird commenced their song at half-past two in the morning. Struck with the anomaly, I went to inspect their nests, and found their broods. I thought at first that it was a manifestation of parental joy; but I soon became convinced of my error. The necessity of laboring more hours to feed the increasing family had hastened their rising by an hour and a half, and I could see, by the moonlight, the parents constantly employed in seeking on the grass and flowers beds the insects which were to serve as nourishment for their offspring."

Sometimes the birds are deceived in the hour. Thus a linnet awoke at half-past twelve and began to sing on a tree close to the window at which the naturalist had placed his lamp. He had mistaken the light of the lamp for that of the sun; but very soon perceived its error, and, confused and ashamed, went to sleep again.

A tame blackbird, which was in the habit of returning every evening to its cage, left hanging in the court, was forgotten one evening, and the cage was not taken in-doors. At midnight, when M. de la Malle's lamp was lighted, the blackbird woke up and began to sing the airs he had been taught. Immediately the wild blackbirds in the garden and shrubbery answered the songs, and from midnight till morning both wild and tame birds sang away as if in emulation.

I wonder whether the habit of getting up very early has anything to do with the birds being able to sing so beautifully. Suppose some of our young readers try the experiment, and, by getting up early, see if they cannot improve their voices.—Christian Weekly.

Few organizations for Christian work have been more blessed or have brought forth more precious fruit than the City Mission of New York, which will celebrate its semi-centennial in December next. The one great object of this evangelizing agency has been the conversion of souls, and thousands have been by it gathered out of the highways and byways, and set in the Redeemer's crown of rejoicing. It is estimated that not less than 400 a year during the past half-century have through its instrumentality been brought into connection with evangelical churches, and the work of the present year will present even a more gratifying record. It may well rejoice as it its approaching anniversary with exceeding joy.

In his lecture on "The Rise and Progress of Methodism in the Nineteenth Century," delivered by Bishop Doggett at Baltimore, he gave the following figures as embraced by the two joint Episcopal Methodisms in this country: institutions of learning, 1,076; in the world there are now connected with Methodism, 27,461 traveling preachers and 81,474 local preachers; contributions annually for religious purposes, $20,000,000; Sunday-school children, 3,500,500; teachers, 600,000; 15,000,000 people having Methodist affinities.

A projects on foot for constructing a ship canal from Manchester, England, to the sea, at an estimated cost of £3,500,000. The possibility of bringing sea water to London is being discussed. It is suggested that the Serpentine could be converted into a miniature sea.

The British and foreign Bible Society has removed the open Bibles from its sales rooms windows in the city of Madrid, and has had its sign painted over. The sale of religious books has been stopped in the provinces, and licensed colporteurs are forbidden to call out their books.

After Many Days.

An old women of eighty wished to become a Christian. But there was a difficulty in the way. So she asked several friends to come with the minister and talk with her. She admitted the truth of all they said, but something held her back.

Said the minister, "Why not give yourself now, within ten minutes?"

Oh, she could not!

"Why not?"

She wanted time, she said; it was too sudden. Ten minutes! Oh, no! she must have time to think about it.

"You are old," said the minister; "how long have you been thinking about it already?"

She paused a minute, and then said slowly, "Fifty years."

"Fifty years!" cried the minister; "and yet you want more time? Isn't fifty years enough?"

That was a new way of looking at it. Fifty years, indeed?

"What shall I do?" she eagerly asked.

"Do nothing," was the answer; "but leave all with God. Let us pray to him to lift the burden."

So they prayed. And suddenly, when she no longer pleaded for time, light came through the darkness, the burden rolled away, and, like a little child, the old woman entered the kingdom.—Congregationalist.

Love descends, not ascends. The might of a river depends not on the quality of soil through which it passes, but on the inexhaustibleness and depth of the spring from which it proceeds. A parent loves the child more than the child the parent, and partly because the parent's heart is larger, not because the child is worthier. The Savior loved his disciples infinitely more than his disciples loved him, because his heart was infinitely larger. Love trusts on, ever hopes and expects better things, and is a trust springing from itself, and out of its own deeps alone.—Rowland Hill.

We are greatly pleased to announce, says the Richmond Christian Advocate of Oct. 19, that a fine revival is in progress at R. M. College, under the labors of Rector Duncan and Brother Clark, the pastor. There have been as many as twenty penitents at the altar at one time. The Lord is blessing the College with his presence in the very opening of the session. Friends of Randolph Macon, there is very reasonably you should rally to the support of Methodist College. Have you read our plan for endowment? It will survive and work if the sisters of the institution is assured.

The building to be occupied by Messrs. Moody and Sankey in Boston is in process of construction. It is on the west side of Tremont street, near Clarendon. It will be of brick, with walls thirty feet high. The audience room will be 201x120 feet in size. The platform will seat five hundred persons, and the floor six thousand. There will be two inquiry rooms, a room for the ministers, one for the singers, and other small rooms. The building will cost twenty-seven thousand dollars.

The Rev. Joseph Cross D. D., LL. D., formerly of the M. E. Church South, joined the Protestant Episcopal Church some years ago, and since that event we believe our old friend and brother has "lived retired" quite as much as he did when with us. We notice in the proceedings of the Wisconsin Conference of the M. E. Church, that Dr. Cross was admitted to membership, and made supernumerary. So he is Methodist again:—peace be with him.—Western Methodist.

EDUCATIONAL WORK IN JAPAN. In a Japanese population of 33,000,000 there have been organized within a few years 18,712 public schools, and 2,500 private schools, with 1,715,000 pupils. There are fifty-one normal institutes, with 5,222 pupils; twenty-one government colleges, with 3,973 students. This system of education is designed to carry the students as high as the best institutions of our land.

We have been crying to God. It is a sublime, inspiring thought, the Christian world praying specially and continuously. But is not he who hears and answers prayer calling upon his people to advance? "Speak unto the children of Israel that they go forward." Let prayer be followed by effort and progress. It is the unions of the two that make a Christian church influential and powerful. Jesus taught his disciples to pray. He instructed them in this duty.

The Christian Missionary Convention which met at Richmond, Va., on the 14th ult., recommended that all preachers of the denomination should on the first Sabbath in December next call the attention of their congregations to the vast importance of a general revival, and that each congregation should make arrangements for a series of meetings to promote that object. St. Louis was selected as the place for holding the next annual convention.

The Rev. Dr. Richard Fuller, of the Eutaw Place Baptist church, Baltimore, died last week. He was one of the most prominent and influential ministers in the Baptist body. He was born in Beaufort, S. C., in 1801, graduated from Harvard College, and became a lawyer. He joined the Episcopal Church, and then became a Baptist, entering the ministry in the latter denomination in 1833.

It will be seen by the appointments, says the Nashville Christian Advocate, that the Rev. J. W. Hanner, D. D., is supernumerary at Franklin, where his son is pastor. The doctor preached to a large congregation in the church at Franklin, on Sunday morning, October 16. We trust he will renew his youth, and in a green old age do good service for the Master.

Religious Intelligence.

—The Free Church Record gives a resume of the foreign mission work of the Reformed Presbyterian Church of Scotland, with which the Free Church has recently effected a union. This work has during the last thirty years been carried on most successfully in the New Hebrides, a group of thirty or forty islands of the Western Pacific. The two largest of these islands is each about 200 miles in circumference. The population of the whole group is about 150,000. Missionary operations are conducted by ten missionaries and seventy native assistants. On two of the islands, Aneityum and Aniwa, the whole population, numbering 1,850, have abandoned heathenism and embraced Christianity. On Eromanga—memorable for the martyrdom, in a former generation, of John Williams, and in latter days for the heroic death of Gordon and his wife—there is now a Christian population of 400 and 30 communicants. These islands formerly were, as many of the group are still, the very darkest places in all Polynesia. Cannibalism prevailed, widows were strangled, infanticide and murder reigned unchecked. Now the Bible or parts of it have been printed in the various languages of the islands on which the missionaries labor. On Aneityum the whole New Testament and the Psalms are in the hands of the people and the Old Testament is ready for the press. School books have also been prepared by the missionaries. Communication between the different islands has been kept up by the mission schooner "Dayspring." This vessel has been the especial charge of the children of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, who during the past ten years have annually contributed $1,500 for its maintenance.

—One hundred years ago Polynesia, with its 12,000 islands, was for the first time clearly made known to the Europeans by the explorations of Captain Cook. Its population was entirely heathen and the vices of its people stood out in sad contrast with the natural beauty of these island groups. Now by far the greater portion of Polynesia has become Christianized. Heathenism is mainly confined to the islands in the western part of the Pacific. The missionary societies, whose labors have been so greatly blessed in other parts of Polynesia, are continuing their labors upon this western section. The London Missionary Society has undertaken the work on New Guinea and the islands at the eastern end. The Melanesian Mission will extend its labors to the Banks and Solomon islands. The Presbyterians will enlarge their work on the New Hebrides. The Wesleyans have included New Britain and New Ireland in their field. The American Board, in connection with the Hawaiian churches, is enlarging its operations in Micronesia. The history of the Polynesian missions warrants us in expecting large results from this concentration of Christian influence upon numerous island groups, some of which have as yet been only partially explored.

—Our readers will have seen in the daily papers an account of the massacre of Roman Catholic Christians in Ning Kwo fu, China. The church was destroyed, the priest tortured and killed, his attendants torn to pieces, the graveyard desecrated, forty buildings destroyed, and 100 members of the congregation murdered. Officials of rank, as well as the mob, were involved in this outrage. The district of Ning Kwo fu is about 200 miles west of Shanghai, in the province Kiangsu. The Roman Catholic mission in this province has since 1841 been under the charge of its earliest promoters, the Jesuits. There are about 180 missionary laborers, mostly Frenchmen, and 30,000 native Christians. Some time ago we reported a similar though less serious outrage upon native Christians connected with the Church Missionary Society. The hatred of the foreigners seems again to be rising to fever heat in China, and the missionaries and their converts are, as usual, the first to suffer from it.

The forty-ninth anniversary of the American Home Missionary Society was held in New York city May 12. The receipts of the society were reported to have been $305,892 82 and its expenditures $295,789, 6, while $65,759 56 of outstanding pledges remained and were becoming due daily. The receipts exceeded those of a former year by $11,329 96. The excess was more than made up by legacies, as the amount of ordinary contributions was less than last year. The expenses also exceeded those of any former year by $9,124.71. The society has in its service 532 ministers in 33 States and territories, supplying in whole or in part 2,222 congregations and missionary stations. The number of pupils in its Sunday schools is 80,753, sixty-seven churches have been organized, thirty-three became self-supporting, and sixty-three church buildings have been built. The additions are reported to have been 11,361, and the conversions 3,410. The committee report favorably of the success of their arrangement of the comity with the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions.

The Yoruba Mission of the Church Missionary Society is the most vigorous work on the West Coast of Africa. During the recent visit of the Bishop of Sierra Leone several ministers were ordained and 183 candidates were confirmed at Abeokuta, the capital, where seven years' exclusion of foreign missionaries has not damped the ardor of the native church. During the Yoruba troubles many of the Abeokuta Christians fled to Ebute Meta, where a new church has now been erected and 77 persons confirmed. At Lagos, the English seaport town of the Yoruba country, the work is very flourishing. On the occasion of the Bishop's visit 301 candidates were confirmed and the three churches of the town were united under a native church committee, such as exists in several parts of Southern India and in Sierra Leone. In this way the energies of the native Christians are developed through self-direction.

Our Young People.

PAPA CAN'T FIND ME.

BY GEORGE COOPER.

No little steps do I hear in the hall;
Only a sweet silver laugh, that is all.
No dimpled arms round my neck hold me tight;
I've but a glimpse of two eyes very bright
Two little hands a wee face try to screen;
Baby is hiding, that's plain to be seen.
"Where is my precious I've missed all the day?
"Papa can't find me," the pretty lips say.

"Dear me! I wonder where baby can be!
Then I go by, and pretend not to see.
Not in the parlor, and not on the stair
Then I must peep under sofas and chairs.
The dear little rogue is now laughing outright,
Two little arms round my neck clasp me tight.
Home will, indeed, be sad, weary, and lone
When papa can't find you, my darling, my own.

A Lamb from Our Fold.

DEAR CHILDREN: I suppose you are all members of the Sabbath school, and have hearts ready to sympathize and hands willing to do all the good they can. Although you are young, you can do much to help your pastor in his labors of love, and you should be up and doing, for you know not how short your time may be. Just two weeks ago the good Shepherd came into our Sabbath school and took one of our little ones into his fold above. He claimed the little pet of all the family, the one we loved the best. We laid her away with many tears, and for our grief was hushed he came again.

Our hearts grew faint when he took the little sister. She was gentle as a saint, and in all her sweet young life gave nothing but love. A short while ago we heard the church bell toll the very next day after burying from sight the sweet cherub who won all our hearts. We thought: "Lo, heaven, dear Lord, thou hast many such." Oh! with what a thrill we heard the tender Shepherd had laid his hand upon this pure little one, that he might bear her up on the mountain-top to meet her loved companion, where she is to-day, and the loving little sisters, always together in life, are not long separated.

If you will only be good and pure there will come a day when in that happier clime the funeral bell will never toll, and there will be no tears of sorrow or disappointment. But you will wander beside the beautiful river, with these little lambs and their tender, loving guide, and sing sweet songs, and strike golden harps upon its silver tide.

S. T. W.

From Our Little Friends.

TOWNSEND, MISS., Sept. 21, 1876.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: You must not expect me to write you a long or very interesting letter, as this is the first one that I have ever written to any paper.

I am so pleased with the children's column myself that I suppose all other little boys and girls are too, and I hope they will read my letter with as much pleasure as I have many in the ADVOCATE.

I am eleven years old. My father is a preacher, and all my brothers and sisters, as well as my dear mamma and grandmother, are members of the church. I joined three years ago, and have always tried to live like Jesus teaches us we ought to. Grandma lives with us, and, though she is now an old lady, she is not afraid of death. I love her very much, and wish she could always live, and be as good and loving as she is now.

We have had a Sunday-school here as long as I can recollect. The children all seem to be interested in it, and are all learning well. We have a good superintendent and teachers, and all the children love them.

Tell Miss Bettie Lewis, of Holmesville, Miss., that in the thirty-ninth verse of the twenty-second chapter of First Kings we are told Ahab built an ivory house.

Ever your little friend,

CHARLIE N. BANCROFT.

WEST FRANKFORT, ILL., Sept. 25, 1876.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: As I have never written you a letter, I thought I would write a short one. I think that you and the printer are very kind to give us young folks such a nice corner in the ADVOCATE. I love printers, because my brother was one. He died, and I have no brother now. I have found the answer to Bettie Lewis's question. It was Ahab that built the ivory house. I had a long hunt for it before I found it. It is in the last chapter of First Kings, thirty-ninth verse. Now I will ask a Bible question: "Who sing a well with staves?" It is in the Old Testament.

Our pastor, Rev. Mr. Sharbrough, will only preach for us twice more. We all like him so well. We hope that the Bishop will send him back to us next year. I am a member of the church, and am trying to live a Christian.

I am, very truly, your friend,

HATTIE E. SADLER.

GRANT, MISS., Sept. 27, 1876.

MR. EDITOR: Pa takes your paper. I like to read it so much. And as so many little girls write to you I will write too. You may tell Miss Bettie Lewis that it was Ahab that built the ivory house. It is found in First Kings, twenty-second chapter and thirty-ninth verse. I want to ask a Bible question too: "Where is the word eternity found in the Bible?" It is in the Old Testament, and is not in the Bible but one time. I will also ask you a question, as I don't understand it: I want you to tell me if you think that Solomon was a good man, and do you think he went to heaven?

LAURA WYNN.

The Little Sparrow.

"You don't mean to say, Tom, that you're going to let that bird loose, when you've brought it so far over the seas with you, and set so much store by it, besides?"

"Aye, but I do, Joe, for I promised him I would."

"Him! What do you mean?" asked the young countryman, as his companion rested the cage on his knee, and began to open the door of the wire prison.

"Little Jim, the boy that was saved with me from the wreck. Leastways he was spared for a little while, but hunger and cold did their work on his frail body, and he died just before the vessel came along that took me off the rock." Here the kind sailor drew his brown hand across his eye and dashed away a tear.

"Well," he resumed, "it's a long story, but I'll try to make a short one of it. You see Jim's father and mother were going out to settle in Australia, and, having a fancy for something homelike about them, they took this cage of English sparrows along, intending to give them their liberty after they got there. When the ship struck, and every soul was drowned but little Jim and me, who were fastened to the rigging, he insisted on my diving down into the cabin after his birds before he'd trust himself to the plank on which we were going to venture our lives.

"It was an awful sight to see the dead bodies that were floating around in that cabin. But I couldn't do them any good, you know, so I just clutched the cage, that was hanging by a hook to the roof, and scrambled on deck again. There was only this one poor little bird left alive. The water had risen and drowned its companions, but it had clung with claws and beak to the top of the cage, and we took it along with us.

All this time the little creature had been sitting on the sailor's finger, turning its bright eye toward him as he smoothed down its soft feathers. Then, as if fearing that his resolution might fail him, Tom gave his favorite a last caress, tossed his hand into the air, and it was gone.

"I owe that sparrow more than its freedom, Joe," said the sailor, as they both stood looking after it. "I've seen when it was with me on that bare rock it would cry, twit, twit, as if to cheer me up. Sometimes it seemed to me it said: 'Fear not, ye are of more value than many sparrows.' Then all the texts I had ever learned about trusting God in time of trouble came fresh into my mind. In those hours of darkness and danger that little bird comforted me and kept me from despair. God has made nothing in vain."—Child's World.

Only a Fly.

Has any one ever told you of the wonders of a fly's body? I suppose not, else you would never think of finding pleasure in hunting me.

God has given me wings, which are so light and nicely fitted to my body that I can fly or walk about just as I please.

I can spread them out, and fly away like a little bird; or I can fold them up, and take a walk wherever I choose.

I can walk with my feet up and my head down, just as well as on the table or on the floor. It is all the same to me.

Perhaps you wonder why I do not fall. My feet are so formed that I can press them firmly to the ceiling, and walk about there without any fear.

But you are too young yet to know how I do that. I only tell you of it now, that you may begin to know how much there is to learn in all the things that God has made.

Have you ever noticed how quickly I fly away when you try to catch me?

I can see you, little boy or girl, even when you try to hide your hand behind me. Perhaps you would like to know how this can be. Let me tell you.

You think that I have only two eyes, like you; but I have many, though they do not move about like yours.

Each of the eyes that you see in my head is made up of a great many little eyes. There are several hundred of them, though each of them is only a little point.

With some of these I look out before me, and with others I look behind. It is with those that I look behind that I see you put your hand behind me.

I hope that I have told you enough to make you feel that you should not try to hurt a little fly.

The man who lives right and is right has more power in his silence than another has by his words. Character is like bells which ring out sweet music, and which, when touched accidentally even, resound with sweet music.

A San Francisco paper reports the baptism of ten Chinamen—three in Sacramento, four in Los Angelos, and three in San Francisco.

It is said that the dying Cardinal Antonelli will leave 20,000,000 francs, besides objects of art to the extent of a further 1,500,000 francs.

The death is announced of Rev. Asher Wright, for forty-three years a missionary among the Seneca Indians.

The Christian Advocate.

Organ of the Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences of the M. E. Church South.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1876.

REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D., Editor.

ROBT. J. HARP, PUBLISHER.

OFFICE—112 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS

Address, on all matters of business, Rev. R. J. HARP, 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

Address all communications designed for publication to Rev. LINUS PARKER, 112 Camp street New Orleans.

AGENTS—All the members of the Patronizing Conferences.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.
REV. EDWARD WADSWORTH, D. D.
REV. A. J. BRIGGS.
REV. J. W. BUSH.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. H. WATKINS, D. D.
REV. JAMES A. GODFREY.
REV. J. G. JONES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. CHRISTIAN KEENER.
REV. JOHN MATHEWS.
REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D.

CHANGE OF RATES.

The New Orleans Christian Advocate will be furnished to subscribers hereafter at the following rates, including postage:

One Year	$2 00
Six Months	1 15
Three Months	75

To all Ministers of the Gospel and widows of deceased traveling preachers, half the above rates.

FREE ONE YEAR

to any person forwarding to us four new yearly subscribers, with EIGHT DOLLARS.

Weak Points in Methodism.

We have only seen notices of Dr. W. J. R. Taylor's article in the Princeton Review on American Methodism in 1876. In it he points out two weak points in Methodism. These are the failure to retain in the denomination the young people who are converted in its Sunday schools, and a lack of aggressiveness in cities.

In reference to the first point we do not know how we stand as compared with Presbyterians and Baptists, but it may be true that we lose more than they in proportion to our numbers. Methodism has always been a feeder to other denominations, but, notwithstanding what she gives to them, she has grown more rapidly than any of them. If our young people are really converted, and make good members of other evangelical churches, they are not lost, and we are contributing not directly to our own numerical strength, but largely to the religious welfare of the Christian world. Whatever the comparative state of the case, and whatever the general good that may flow from our losses, it is, of course, desirable that our children should be kept within our own fold.

We suspect that the young people converted in our Sunday schools are the ones we do not fail to retain in our denomination. Multitudes of our young people grow up in the Sunday school, and leave it unconverted. They have passed their childhood and youth in the schools, have been taught something about the Bible and salvation, but they have not been converted. The teaching has been defective, they have learned little or nothing of the distinctive character of our doctrines and polity, and are left in ignorance of our denominational history. And, more than all, personal religion has not been urged upon them, and the Sunday school has been more of a routine than an organization of spiritual power.

The failure to retain our children is owing largely to defective home training. Where the grown children go off to other churches there is usually something wrong at home. The parents have not done their duty, and their influence has been to repel rather than to attract and secure them to Methodism. Their children have not, as a rule, been well governed, well instructed, nor have they been led to Christ. Parental example and instruction, such as children can venerate and respect, will seldom fail to attach them to the church of their fathers. Other churches may offer greater liberty in the indulgence of worldly amusements, and lax discipline may be a reason of preference, but these considerations will have no influence with young people or old, if they are converted. A religious training which leaves the mind uninformed and the heart unchanged is the very condition of all others most favorable to the operation of motives which govern the most of the young people who leave our church for others. They are easily influenced and led away because they know nothing of experimental religion, and are ignorant of the church in which they have been reared. They have not been indoctrinated and soundly trained in the statutes of Methodism, and they have fallen away because the root of the matter was not in them.

Another cause of failure to retain our young people may be that we have not sufficiently attended to the gratification of cultivated taste in our churches. In the architecture and fitting up of our houses of worship there is often more of barbarism than of refinement, and the music is frequently execrably bad. Either instruments are scouted as ungodly influences, or they are miserably played and poorly supported by choir and congregation. As long as Methodists persist in worshiping in barns or gloomy and unattractive houses, and outrage the taste of educated people by their dull and discordant music, and as long as we continue to glory in the roughness rather than in the power of old fashioned Methodism, there will be some who will seek more congenial surroundings. We are fast mending in these things, but there is still room for improvement.

Pastoral inefficiency stands, no doubt, as another cause. Our system of change is unfavorable to the most effective pastoral influence. There are adequate compensations in other directions, but to get hold of the young people, and to shape their religious course, requires time. Our preachers are not all clear of negligence, however. As a class, they are far less diligent, we fear, in pastoral work than Presbyterians and Episcopalians. The pastor must get well acquainted with the young people, mingle with them and their teachers in the Sunday school, and have an eye to their welfare in the social meetings and in his sermons. Greater carefulness, diligence, and sagacity in the pastorate will help us in retaining our young people. The main point is to get them converted, and after conversion to see to it that they are well instructed and put to work.

As to our lack of aggressiveness in cities, the point may be well taken. Dr. Taylor is no enemy to us in stating his convictions on the subject. In the country Methodism is the stronger; in cities she does not ordinarily keep pace with the Presbyterians and Episcopalians. She does fairly, it may be, but she does not lead these churches in the great centers of wealth and intelligence. This is reported to be so in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, and other great cities. It is perhaps partially true of New Orleans. The itinerancy may not be so well adapted to the highest efficiency in large towns, and the compensation lies in its greater effectiveness elsewhere. As a matter of fact the Methodists, as a class, are poorer than the denominations we have mentioned. People get rich and leave our church; or, being rich, they prefer some other. Social conditions, besides the unspiritual influences of wealth, may have much to do with this fact. Money is an element of progress and aggression in cities. We must have attractive edifices, and the social element must contribute much. And in order to effective missionary work in cities the best ministerial talent, and a large expenditure of money, are needed. Of one thing we are fully persuaded—that short pastorates and unnecessarily frequent changes are detrimental. But our space will not admit of amplification. If these be the two weak points of Methodism, let us study to make them strong, to save our young people and to seek for more aggressive methods in the cities. We must bestir ourselves in regard to those most vital features of our work and mission as a church. To call attention to them will, we trust, contribute something toward building up and fortifying these most vulnerable points in our economy.

Letter from Bishop Keener.

ARKANSAS CONFERENCE.

NEWPORT, ARK., October 26, 1876.

MR. EDITOR: The Arkansas Conference, held at Yellville, closed its session on Monday, October 23. The site of the Conference was near the Missouri line, about midway from east to west. Like Jerusalem, it is begirt with mountains "round about." The roads that lead to it are full of the material used to macadamize with, but as yet are not macadamized. I had, however, a capital outfit at my disposal, and a delightful traveling companion who drove me safely from Newport to Yellville in good time. Bro. Gregory had selected his horse with that accuracy for which the true lobbyist has ever been famous, and had a complete set of steel tires and patent hubs with which to undertake one hundred and twenty miles of rocks that were down hill, three ways at once. Nothing short of this could have borne us over such "jump rock" and long acclivities of Arkansas grit as we steadily encountered on this trip. We might have steamed to San Francisco more easily, and not seen half so much. The autumn was out in all the glory of its dying hour, and the tops of distant forests looked rich and soft as a Turkish carpet. Apples were ripe and abundant, the Indian corn still stood in the field ready for the garner, and a boundless wealth of oak-mast literally strewed the road for a hundred miles. The woods were cheerful with occasional gangs of plump-looking pigs, whom nature had once more made independent of the farmer. One could not but be impressed with the plenty of this State, and the great resources of its soil and climate. Not unfrequently we passed hills which on one side were covered with a blue limestone mold, and on the other with freestone springs.

In addition to this, a clay base offered to the intelligent agriculturist the opportunity of raising his farm to any degree of fertility he might choose. The cotton crops were fair, and beautifully clean and white. We met a number of wagons on the road filled with families on their way to the Arkansas bottoms, seeking employment as pickers. Once in a while a flouring mill, rickety in everything but in its reputation for making a good article of flour, came in sight, quietly grinding away, all unconscious of the new-fangled forces of steam, consuming nothing but the pure mountain rivulet, and doing unweariedly its honest work. The log cabin is the mansion of the great as well as the hovel of the poor all along the route, and I know of no healthier house; full of comfort, hospitality, and children, and less apt to foster pride than any other style of architecture I ever saw. Two rooms and a middle passage is the universal ground-plan of this time-honored structure in which most of the great men of the West and South have been reared.

Why any person should leave or pass through Arkansas in search of a better country is to me a mystery. Here are boundless plains of prairie and bottom lands for cattle and cotton, mountains of rich limestone, granite, iron, and coal, and woods that abound in the best growth of white oak, walnut, and pine, with a climate exactly suited to the laboring white man—neither too cold nor too hot. The White river is navigable all the year, and the Arkansas river during the winter and spring months; and several railways open the State to easy access on every side.

Preachers and people who will move from the Gulf States will find nothing so much like the grand country they leave behind them as this territory and latitude, and here I advise them to come. The Little Rock, White River, and Arkansas Conferences, certainly the two last, present inviting fields, and give an open welcome to the mover.

I found the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE very popular in these regions, and the editor would receive little short of an ovation if he would but pay these Conferences a visit. The publisher of the Western Methodist visited us at Yellville, and was the most popular of all our visitors; I deed, in some respects, no one might hope to displace him. The Conference came very near buying him a pony, just out of good will, and I believe would have done it, but feared that it might discourage the agent of the female college at Little Rock.

With these rambling notes I subjoin the minutes of the Arkansas Conference:

Peter H. Trone, James L. Keener, and William H. Metheny were admitted on trial.

George Pledger, Ambrose H. Williams, David C. Summers, John W. Bryant, and E. Walker, P. B. Summers, and J. P. Caldwell were continued on trial.

James N. Coker was discontinued at his own request.

Benjamin L. Ferguson, Harvey C. Jolly, Thomas E. Sewell, Lucius J. Loxley, and W. J. Stone were admitted into full connection.

John M. Haynes, Thomas R. Nichols, and C. W. Myatt were received by transfer from the Tennessee Conference.

James L. Hays and Benjamin H. Grentmose were elected elders.

Superannuated.—Jesse Griffin, J. M. Barley.

Members in society are 12,408—telling an increase on last year.

About forty per cent. of the claim for widows and orphans was raised. For foreign missions, $597; for domestic missions $91.

The next Conference meets at Fayetteville.

The appointments are:

Fayetteville District.—J. A. Walden, P. E.; Fayetteville station, R. S. Hunter; Hindsboro, T. F. Brewer; Piney Grove, P. B. Summers; Bloomfield, to be supplied (by John W. Maddox;) Huntsville circuit, P. H. Trone; White River, J. W. Shook; Huntsville circuit, George Pledger; Fayetteville circuit, James F. Hall; Center Point circuit, W. H. Corley.

Fort Smith District.—S. H. Babcock, P. E.; Fort Smith, R. McK. Tydings; Fort Smith circuit, to be supplied (by G. W. Stewart;) Greenwood circuit, S. A. Mason; Sugar Loaf circuit, J. L. Hays; Waldron circuit, S. S. Key; Fonche circuit, James L. Keener; Bluffton circuit, N. E. Fair; Danville circuit, James E. Martin; Walnut Tree circuit, Isaiah B. Hickman; Paris circuit, T. E. Sewell; Boonville circuit, G. W. Evans; Charleston circuit, W. J. Stone.

Clarksville District.—H. M. Granade, P. E.; Clarksville station, Thos. M. C. Birmingham; Clarksville circuit, W. H. Metheny; Spadra Creek circuit, Thomas R. Nichols; Altus circuit, Isham L. Burrow, C. H. Gregory, sup.; Ozark and Webb City, F. M. Paine, H. Prickett, sup.; Ozark circuit, to be supplied (by W. F. Jacobs;) Alma and Pleasant Hill, H. C. Jolly; Clear Creek circuit, J. W. Bryant; Van Buren station, B. H. Grenthouse; Roseville station, H. R. Withers; Dover circuit, Burton Williams; Van Buren circuit, to be supplied (by T. T. Arnold;) Central Institute, Isham L. Burrow, president.

Yellville District.—J. M. Clayton, P. E.; Yellville station, B. L. Ferguson; Yellville circuit, to be supplied; Mountain Home circuit, James P. Caldwell, E. C. Jones, sup.; Mountain View circuit, A. H. Williams; Marshall circuit, G. P. R. Vanzandt; Bellefonte circuit, W. R. Knowlton; Carrollton circuit, D. L. Summers; Lead Hill circuit, to be supplied.

Lewisburg District.—Jerome Harralson, P. E.; Lewisburg and Plummersville, J. Loring; Springfield circuit, Carroll W. Myatt; Point Remove circuit, L. J. Lusley; Dardenelle station, W. J. Dodson; Dardenelle circuit, J. J. Roberts; Rupellville circuit, John M. Haynes; Clinton circuit, A. C. Ray; Shoal Creek circuit, to be supplied (by W. W. Weir;) Quitman circuit, Thomas J. Smith; Mount Vernon, T. A. Graham; Pinyville, to be supplied; Quitman College, J. A. Peebles, president.

Orlando P. Thomas and James E. Walker transferred to the Northwest Texas Conference.

DR. M. W. JACOBUS.—Another eminent minister of the Presbyterian Church, says the Christian Intelligencer, has been taken to his reward. The Rev. Melancthon W. Jacobus, D. D., professor in the Allegheny Theological Seminary, died suddenly in his residence in that city on Saturday last. Dr. Jacobus was so well known by many in our church that his death seems almost as if he were one of our own ministers. Previous to his acceptance of the professorial chair at Allegheny he was pastor of the Presbyterian church in Brooklyn, of which Dr. H. J. Van Dyck is now the minister. His commentaries upon the gospels and the Acts, and his later volumes on Genesis and Exodus, have made his name familiar in America and Great Britain as an accomplished biblical critic and evangelical annotator, whose works have been of immense service to ministers and Sabbath-school teachers. He was an eloquent preacher, an able professor, a powerful actor in the benevolent and ecclesiastical affairs of his own church, and, above all, "a good man, full of faith and of the Holy Ghost." He was moderator of the Old School General Assembly in New York and at the adjourned meeting in Pittsburg, in the year of the Reunion, and did much to bring about that great event. Dr. Jacobus was still in the vigor of his active life, and his sudden departure will be greatly mourned by all who knew him.

The Interior of Oct. 26 referring to the Moody and Sankey meetings in Chicago, says:

The meetings in this city during the past week have made a decided advance. The attendance has been uniformly large, and the feeling increasing in solemnity, both among church members and the unconverted. Mr. Moody has preached with great power. His address to Christian workers, on Sunday morning—"To every man his work"—was delivered with overwhelming earnestness and effect. The quantity among ministers and churches is wonderful; all are girding themselves for the work. Friday of last week was devoted to the subject of temperance. Such a revelation of domestic misery as came out through the number of requests for prayer we have never heard before. In the ladies' prayer meeting the requests of wives and mothers, for drunken husbands and sons, came faster than they could be noted; and in the men's prayer meeting not only were there many petitions for sons and brothers, but a score of drunkards stood up to call for help for themselves. Several cases have come under our own notice of drunkards who have already given themselves to God and give good evidence of having entered upon a new life.

Says the Baltimore Episcopal Methodist of November 4:

We have again been favored by the visits of two of our Bishops. Bishop Kavanaugh has been spending a few days in Baltimore, en route for the Centennial, and thence for the Virginia Conference. He preached twice on last Sabbath, with his accustomed power and ability, at St. Paul's in the morning, and at Central at night. Bishop Keener, who has just returned from the Arkansas Conference, delivered a highly suggestive and intellectual discourse on Sunday night at St. Paul's Church. Both of the Bishops seem to be in excellent health. May their useful lives long be spared to the church! Bishop Kavanaugh is a remarkable specimen of a robust and vigorous old age. Though within a few months of seventy five, he has the vim and sprightliness of a young man. His eye may be somewhat dimmed, but neither his mental nor physical force seems to be abated. He is to preside over the Virginia, North Carolina, and South Carolina Conferences, and close up the annual tours of episcopal visitation with the Baltimore Conference in March next.

Flattery is a sickening dose, even to him who gives it.

As we write (Tuesday noon) we are having a bright and cloudless day, business in New Orleans is nearly suspended, and the streets are almost deserted, save at the polling-places. The general hush and quiet are greater than on a Sunday. Still, quiet, and grave in demeanor, there is a deep earnestness pervading the community, and we believe there is also prayerfulness on the part of religious people. Beyond the spoils of office, there are interests at stake of incalculable magnitude. In our down trodden State the anxiety is shared by men, women, and children, by all who sigh for the restoration of confidence and prosperity. May the final disposal be in accord with right. Never was suffrage invested with a greater responsibility. Never do we feel the need of virtue and honor in the people so much as at a time like this, when the country's destiny hangs upon the ballot. As we go to press on Wednesday morning we give but meager returns from the dispatches. It may be a week before the result will be certainly known.

We sincerely sympathize with our friends, Dr. W. G. and Sister Austin, in their late bereavement. Their little orphaned grandson, Edward Austin Ligon, died at Ocean Springs, October 27. He was born June 5, 1875. His mother died when he was but a few days old; his father a few months later. Those who watched by the little sufferer, received his last kisses, and heard his prattle of heaven, and saw the wonderful light that glowed in his face, felt that the better world was very near, and that the angels had come for their precious charge.

DEATH OF REV. JAMES BOWMAN. A private note from Monroe, La., brings the intelligence of the death of this venerable servant of God. He died at his residence in Ouachita parish, La., October 19, in his seventy-ninth year. Bro. Bowman was a local preacher, and had been preaching the gospel for fifty years. His end was peaceful. He died in the triumphs of the faith he had so long lived in and preached. We have the promise of a suitable memoir to be furnished shortly.

Rev. William Butler, D. D., superintendent of the missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Mexico, has arrived in New Orleans, and leaves on the twelfth instant for the city of Mexico. On this, Thursday evening, November 9, at seven o'clock, he will deliver a lecture at Ames Chapel, corner of Calliope and St. Charles street, on the Work of Evangelization in Mexico. It will doubtless richly repay those of every Christian name who may have an opportunity of attending.

A SURPRISE.—It is not often that the editor is overtaken with such a surprise as came upon him one day last week. It came by express from our Bro. Smart, of Ocean Springs. It was no less than a basket of fine oranges, specimens of the fruit which the trees of that wonderful nursery will produce. They were large, sweet, and exactly right as to rind, pulp, and seed. The sort of trees that bore these oranges can be heartily recommended.

Rev. Dr. McCarley, the new pastor of Ames Chapel, Methodist Episcopal Church, entered upon his duties on Sunday, October 29. Dr. McCarley is an able preacher, and an affable and intelligent Christian gentleman. We wish him a prosperous and useful career in the Crescent City.

"Mr. Vanderbilt," says the New York World, of Oct. 9, "had a sudden and rather painful attack yesterday morning, but was speedily relieved, and passed the day even more comfortably than on Saturday. Mentally, he was very bright, and quite talkative. In the afternoon he conversed for an hour or two with Augustus Schell and his nephew, Mr. DeForrest, upon the financial aspect of the country. The present depression would be temporary, he thought, and he was confident that business would soon revive. 'The recuperative power of this country is enormous,' he said, 'and it will not be a great while before you will see things straightened out.' The Rev. Dr. Deems and Mr. William H. Vanderbilt also talked with the Commodore." A note from Dr. Deems speaks encouragingly of the Commodore's health.—Nashville Christian Advocate.

The attendance at the noon and evening meetings during the week, says the Chicago Interior of Nov. 2, is large as ever, while the interest manifested constantly widens and deepens. In the various churches there are great numbers of inquirers who do not make known their feelings at the Tabernacle inquiry rooms, if, indeed, they attend the meetings there with any regularity. The churches will certainly receive large accessions, and of the class of people who are especially desirable because of their promise of future usefulness to the church. The Sabbath Tabernacle meetings are overflowed, and also till Farwell Hall.

Pacific Conference.

This Conference met in San Francisco, October 11, and adjourned the sixteenth. The following the appointments:

San Francisco District.—S. Brown, P. E.; San Francisco, C. Chan; P. Tuggle, supernumerary; Sacramento, I. L. Hopkins; Stockton, H. Mahon; Hicksville, T. D. Woodbridge, W. M. Winters; Jose, E. K. Miller; Santa Clara, Barton; Mountain View, C. P. Gilroy, W. J. Mahon; Hollister, Burnet; Salinas, J. M. Overton; Watsonville, to be supplied (by L. Mead;) Tres Pinos, to be supplied (by J. W. Bell;) Oakland, to be supplied.

Santa Rosa District.—J. C. Simmons, P. E.; Santa Rosa station, O. Branch, O. P. Fitzgerald, supernumerary; Santa Rosa circuit, Shelton; Petaluma, P. F. Healdsburg, B. C. Howard; Cloverdale, W. P. Andrews; Ukiah, Wright; Point Arenas, L. D. Harper Valley, J. C. P. Berger; Lakeport, R. F. Allen; Rockville, K. P. Price; Vacaville, Joel Heppeth; Winters, J. F. Campbell; Isleton, T. D. Lewis; Pacific Methodist College, W. A. Finley, W. Winters agent.

Colusa District.—George Sim, P. E.; Colusa station, T. H. H. Anderson; Colusa circuit, M. McWhorter; Knight's Landing, J. C. Hyde; Woodland, J. M. Ward, superannuary; Wheatland, A. Odom; Bear River, E. H. Robertson; Yuba City, M. C. Fields; Chico station, Renfro; Chico circuit, T. A. Mills; Tehama, J. S. Clarke; Milliville, Atkinson; Princeton, J. Kelsey; Marysville mission, A. L. Hunsaker; Sierra Valley, to be supplied by Brance.)

Visalia District.—H. B. Avery, P. E.; Visalia circuit, S. A. Whipple; Antelope, R. A. Sawrie; Tulare, J. H. Kingston, T. P. Duke; Fresno, Sutton, John Wood, supernumerary; Buchanan, to be supplied (by S. Spears;) Merced, T. A. Atkinson; D. Senter, supernumerary; Maripo, J. M. Alanson; Hopeton, B. H. Sell; Coulterville, to be supplied; Sonora, J. Grunwell; Waterford, Buell; Modesto, W. F. Compton; Grayson mission, to be supplied (by W. F. Mecker;) Ishlen, T. S. Los Banos, G. N. Newton.

Humboldt District.—B. F. Burch, P. E.; Eureka station, R. F. Burch; Arcata, to be supplied; Ferndale, to be supplied (by A. F. Trousdale; Petrolia, to be supplied.

Los Angeles Conference.

APPOINTMENTS.

Los Angeles District.—William Kavanaugh, P. E.; Los Angeles station, Millard J. Law; Wilmington station, A. M. Campbell, superannuary; Los Nietos, William Mc; El Monte and New River circuits, Adams, R. H. Amon; San Bernardino, L. A. Smith; Santa Ana, Walter Featherston; Julian, Thos. Brown.

Santa Barbara District.—J. Craig, P. E.; Carpenteria, S. M. Adams, D. L. Cogdell, supernumerary; Los Olivos, J. W. Leach; Santa Clara, P. O. Clayton; Tehachipe, to be supplied by ——; Woodville, W. dam, A. B. Gill.

Arizona District.—L. J. Hedgpeth, P. E.; Prescott, L. R. Featherstone; Verdi, A. Graves; Salt River, to be supplied (by E. W. Wiley; Tucson, William Monk.

Hugh Gilflin transferred to Northwest Texas Conference.

Next Conference to be held at Los Angeles.

SAVANNAH AND BRUNSWICK. The Southern Christian Advocate Oct. 21 says:

During the past week we have received private letters from Brothers Simmons and Wynn, and had hoped that before going to press we would receive something for publication in this, however, we are disappointed, doubtless, because the claims upon them in their respective fields are sufficient to tax fully their half partially recovered strength. Brother Simmons, when he wrote, had gained sufficient strength to walk out, and hoped to fill his pulpit the ensuing Sabbath. Brother Wynn was still improving, and Sister Wynn, who had suffered a relapse, and been more seriously ill than when first attacked, was again improving with hopeful promise of restoration to health. Later intelligence received through a friend conveys sad and alarming information that Miss Anne Wynn, the beloved and faithful daughter of our esteemed brother, is at last prostrated by the epidemic, and is seriously ill. Most earnestly do we pray, that it may please God to spare her life and sustain her parents the unutterable sorrow which a fatal issue to her sickness would bullet upon their hearts. May the consolation of the Divine Comforter be multiplied to our brother and his wife in these hours of unspeakable anxiety.

FRATERNITY IN PRACTICE.—We were pleased, says the Pacific Methodist, to see an attendance upon the Conference session a number of the ministers of the M. E. Church. They were warmly welcomed. Quite a number of their pulpits were occupied on Sunday by members of the Conference. Rev. J. O. Bramhall preached in the Howard Street Church, Revs. E. K. Miller and J. Simmons at Central, and Rev. W. Compton at Grace Church. "Bully pleasant."

Rev. O. P. Fitzgerald, says the Pacific Methodist of Oct. 27, met with a severe accident on Saturday last, while driving on the Alameda avenue between San Jose and Santa Clara. His horse became frightened and brought his buggy into collision with a passing wagon which threw him out. He was picked up and it was found that his shoulder had been dislocated; he was conveyed to Mrs. McCabe's in San Jose and placed under the care of Dr. Thorne. Later accounts he was improving.

Publisher's Department.

Acknowledgements of Letters and Funds

RECEIVED BY MAIL,

For the Week Ending November 4, 1876.

A—Edwin Alden $2 75, N W Ayer & Son $16 73, F & H T Anthony & Co, (for F Archer, C C Andrews $2 75, T Allen back.

B—Mrs. C M B Bwin $2, C H Bliges, Paul Buchler, W Butler, Mrs C Bonling, J J Billingsby $2, Box P 10 cents, A H Burns.

C—Catching & Ainsworth $28, J H Curtis, Robert Carter & Bros, Claxton, Remsen & Haffelfinger, Lyman Carley, John Church & Co.

D—R B Downer Donaldson & Co, Donnelly, Loyd & Co, Oliver Ditson & Co, Chas T Dillingham, (for J Hicks & Co 75 cents, J Darby, M Duffosi, Daughtry & Smyth $25, Rollin T Davis.

E—Enrich & Co, Eldridge & Bro, J F Ellis.

F—Furness & Wales, D N Foose $1 20, E Faber, J M Franklin $1 85, J L Futrell, M Fluhey.

G—John Gibson, C A Grole $8 40, H H Graham, E T Glenn, M M Graham.

H—P Howard $6, R B Howard $11 45, W L C Hunnicutt, James H Harper, W W Hopper $6 50, Thomas J Harbach, G L Hoffman $1, Louis Homann, M J Hamilton 20 cents, Hecht Bros.

J—Miss Mattie Jones 60 cents.

K—A M Kilpatrick $2, R W Keanon.

L—G M Livermun, W B Lewis $ 55, Ludden & Bates, L H Love, A LeBlanc $3 05.

M—J W McIntyre, Miss Lizzie Maumbee 25 cts, J W Medlock $25, D H Morey, Thos Mount $1, S E Mason, Miss N O McGill 25 cents, H H Montgomery, W L Miller, F H Montgomery, W H Morris $2 40, J C Miller, L Z T Morris.

N—J Nicholson, Tim Nelson & Sons, J T Newcomer.

O—M M Oliver $2

P—J Q Preble, Wm A Parks, Hiss H Packwood, 70 cts, Perry Wm Patterson $2.

Q—S P Richardson, J K Randall, D M Rush, A Mellen, Geo P Rowell & Co, Mrs Mary F Rogers, Col. Henry A Riley, Ed Rohe & Co, R Rubens.

S—W Spilman, Sheldon & Co, R A Smith & Bros, H R Singleton, C M Shoyer, R H Stewart $1, W J Stone, John W Shaw $5, M B Sharbrough, E F Snyder & Co, Smith, Dixon & Co, J T Strother $1 50, W J Stuck $5.

T—F F Taylor, A Trotter $5, R C Tapp, R M Tydings, Miss Lizzie Tull Terro.

W—R K Whitfield, W H Woodruff, D P Winn, W R Watkins, D W Watson, Hattie E Winn $5, R H Whitfield.

Z—One Zell.

RICE, BORN & Co.—We notice that the old and well known firm of Rice Bros. & Co. has been changed as above. It is, however, composed of the same men who by their careful attention to detail have built up the very fine business the firm has enjoyed for years. See their advertisement of the Centennial Bracket saw in another column.

DENTISTRY.—We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Dr. J. R. Knapp. Dr. Knapp has the many years and extensive range in this city, and stands high in his profession. Any one who needs his services can rest assured that careful attention will be given in every case. All of his work is guaranteed.

THE Weed Sewing Machine Company publish the award rendered their machine at the Centennial Exhibition in the American system of sewing machines. Mr. F. C. Adams has charge of the agency in the city, and will cheerfully furnish information concerning anything dealing with this machine.

GLASS STAINING.—Adolph Sutter's card will be found in another column. He will give special attention to staining glass windows for churches, and our friends would do well to look at this fact. All orders will be promptly attended to as soon as possible after they are received.

CENTENNIAL HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES. Every student of history will read the advertisement of the National publishing company in regard to the above work. Those desiring agents wanted, and should not delay in making application for the work. Address the company at their address and territory.

WE would again call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Mr. John C. Ingle, dealer in Dry Goods, No. 279 Eighth Avenue, New York. Mr. Ingle has on hand ladies' suits of all the latest styles and grades, at prices which place them in the reach of all.

SEE the advertisement of A. Sauer & Son, dry goods, on this page. The Messrs. Sauer invite parties to call and inspect their goods before purchasing, and have not doubt they can offer liberal inducements to purchasers.

THE PRUSSIAN SALVE advertised in another column in the paper is well spoken of in the South, and a box will be sent by mail by the manufacturer, J. H. Richardson, for 50 cents, or can be purchased of L. L. Eyges, of this city.

NEW ENGLAND CONSERVATORY of Music. Prof. Tourjee is spoken of highly as a teacher of music, and we call the attention of lovers of the art to his card. His address is Music Hall, Boston.

OUR READERS will do well to note the advertisement of Mr. E. H. Adams. His stock is well and carefully kept, and he guarantees every article made in the 99 cents line.

ADOLPH SUTTER'S Glass Stainer. Art Glass Manufactory, 219 North Seventh street, St. Louis, Mo. Parties desiring to have their churches or residences beautified with stained glass windows, will find it to their interest to correspond with Mr. Sutter, who is prepared to furnish designs and estimates for the same. Mr. Sutter has had many years experience in the business, and has the best facilities for doing work in the most satisfactory manner. Orders from the country will receive prompt attention.

MR. OFFNER'S advertisement of China and Glassware will be found in our paper to-day.

Embroidery goods go to Levy Bros.', 9 Magazine street.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

LUDDEN & BATES' MUSIC HOUSE,

"The Blockade Raised,"

Our friends and patrons throughout the South are respectfully notified that during the late blockade which has now entirely ceased, we have not been closed, but our business has increased, and in our new and elegant warerooms, No. 11 Whitaker street, we are now prepared for a large fall trade, with a magnificent assortment of CHICKERING, HALLET & DAVIS, MATHUSHEK and SOHMER GRAND PIANOS, and MASON & HAMLIN, CHICKERING, SCHOOL and PARLOR ORGANS, which will be sold upon the most favorable terms ever given. Our rates must be doubtful. Low Prices and Easy Terms will do it.

Orders for SHEET MUSIC, MUSIC BOOKS, and small INSTRUMENTS promptly filled. As specimens of our SOUTHERN MUSICAL JOURNAL, still selling $1 worth of music, will be presented to every corresponding to this advertisement, either with an order or by correspondence. Catalogues and price lists free.

LUDDEN & BATES,
Savannah, Ga.

THE American House, Boston, is most favorably known all over the country for spaciousness, convenience of arrangement and liberality of appointments, and above all, in the excellence of management and general economy for the comfort of guests, it has few if any superiors among the hotels of the land.

ASTHMA AND CATARRH.—See Dr. Langell's advertisement. eow

BUSINESS NOTICES.

R. F. W. BACHMAN'

Invites the attention of purchasers to the largest, cheapest and most attractive stock of

BOOTS AND SHOES,

of all the leading styles, ever displayed in this city, consisting of LADIES', GENTS AND CHILDREN'S FINE SHOES, in every variety and style, with a large assortment of BOOTS AND SHOES adapted to Family and Plantation Wear.

R. F. W. BACHMAN,
Dealer in Fine Shoes, 18 Camp street,
te Under City Hotel, New Orleans, La.

WHEELER & PIERSON,
NOS. 13 AND 15 CAMP STREET,
Opposite the City Hotel,

CLOTHING & FURNISHING GOODS
FOR MEN AND BOYS.

We invite visitors from the country to look at our stock. We keep good Goods, sell at one price, and mark it in plain figures. Clergymen's family outfitted, and a liberal deduction made to them.

LADIES! A soft and beautiful skin is the desire of every lady of refinement. Pazzoni's Medicated Complexion Powder has been fully tested, and found to perform all that is claimed for it. It removes the skin delicately soft, removes all discolorations, eruptions, etc. Mothers can apply it to infants with the most exalted satisfaction. Sold by druggists. Sent by mail, free, on receipt of two stamps to pay expenses. Hemp-sized papers, eight sent to any address on the continent, and will break a fresh cuticle in twenty-four hours. Address CHAS. KOCK & Co., 1032 Race street, Philadelphia, naming this paper.

A SOJOURN at the elegant Grand Hotel, of N. W. York, is most pleasant. It is one of the finest of the first-class hotels in New York. It is centrally located in the business quarter, near Fifth Avenue, and is to easy access to Wall street, Park, and all other parts of the city. Persons making a tour to New York in connection with a visit to the Centennial, or in search of summer resorts, will find their comforts enhanced by stopping at the Grand Hotel.

"I HAVE derived some benefit from the use of Simmons' Liver Regulator, and wish to give it a further trial.
HON. ALEX. H. STEPHENS, Georgia.

"I have never seen or tried such a combination of curative, satisfactory and pleasant remedy in my life."—HAMNER, St. Louis, Mo.

A YOUTH'S PUBLICATION. For half a century, the Youth's Companion, of Boston, has been published. It was started in 1827, and is to-day one of the brightest and most vigorous papers with which we are acquainted.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CRESCENT CITY OIL CO.,
23 UNION ST., NEW ORLEANS.
MANUFACTURERS OF
Cotton Seed Oil, Oil Cake,
SOAP STOCK, and COTTON SEED MEAL for Cattle Feeding and Fertilizers.

DIRECTORS.

Thos. D. Mudd,	Chas. E. Kenner,
Chas. W. Tomlin,	J. E. Harris,
Edward Ivy,	Thos. P. Gaither,
John Janney,	DAVID McCOMB,
John A. Myers.

DUNCAN F. KENNER, President.
JOSEPH HERMANN, Secretary.
FRED. STRENTH, Chief Engineer.

To the Ladies and Gentlemen of the Great West.

I WOULD offer my most Valuable Medicine, the result of more than twenty years' experience and study, to the Ladies and Gentlemen of the West, as a sure and safe remedy for all Female Complaints. Also, my PAIN PAINT, which is the Great Pain Cure of the age. Also, Marion's Universal Cough Syrup. Also, Some Fine Old Brandies, Wines and Whiskies, for medicinal purposes. Also, Marion's Universal Liniment, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Sore Throat and Diphtheria, Cramps in Stomach or Bowels. Is two ways to use it. First, internally. Second, PAIN ANNIHILATOR. Sure cure for Cholera, Nervous Headache, Toothache and Neuralgia. Expectorants. Third—EPILEPTIC LINIMENT. For man or beast. Good for Scratches, Bruises, Swellings, Old Sores and Ulcers. Fourth—MARION'S CELEBRATED HAIR RESTORER. Will restore gray hair to its original color. Will stop the hair from falling out, and in a beautiful hair dressing. It is a distilled preparation, contains nothing greasy or dirty. Sold for pamphlet. 25 per bottle. SOAP. The very best for ONE DOLLAR. A sweet and healthy complexion. Sure cure for SCROFULA, and all scrofulous part of the system. Speaking a visit to New York in connection with a visit to the Centennial, or in search of summer resorts, will find their comforts enhanced by shopping at the Grand Hotel.

"I HAVE derived some benefit from the use of Simmons' Liver Regulator, and wish to give it a further trial.
HON. ALEX. H. STEPHENS, Georgia.

"I have never seen or tried such a combination of curative, satisfactory and pleasant remedy in my life."—HAMNER, St. Louis, Mo.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WEED SEWING MACHINE.

(OFFICIAL COPY.)

Centennial Exhibition,
1876.
PHILADELPHIA.

The United States Centennial Commission announces the following as the decision awarded to the

Weed Sewing Machine Company,
OF HARTFORD, CONN.

Product—Shuttle Sewing Machines.
Award—An excellent Shuttle Machine, possessing originality and simplicity of constructive detail; for fine quality of workmanship and materials, and for great adaptability to both cloth and leather stitching.

(signed) J. R. HAWLEY, President.
A. T. GOSHORN, Director General.
J. L. CAMPBELL, Secretary.

The Centennial Bracket Saw
AS A CHRISTMAS GIFT.

EVERYBODY WANTS IT
ALL DELIGHTED WITH IT.

Simplicity, simplicity, simplicity! Two hundred new fancy patterns. Saw 2 inches thick. Cuts a line as fine as a hair. Will make 850 strokes per minute. Power Machine complete, 4 Saw Blades and 2 Designs, all for $4 50.

Hawley's Centennial Saw. It will do all it claims. Without this saw is incomplete. Send for pamphlet, which will be mailed free.

Agents wanted in all the large cities in the land.

RICE, BORN & CO.,
89 AND 91 CAMP STREET,
Branch Store, 37 Magazine street. Warehouse, 115 and 117 Magazine St.
IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN
Foreign and Domestic Hardware.
Builders' Hardware, Brass, Tubing, Stoves and Ranges. House Furnishing Goods, &c. Sole Agents for the CHARTER OAK STOVE.

DR.
J. R. Knapp,
45 CANAL STREET,
FIRST CLASS
DENTISTRY.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH which defy detection, and are guaranteed to be equal to the natural teeth in every respect, etc.
Filling the most delicate cases of decayed teeth for years.
WITHOUT PAIN.
No charge for a consultation.

CORSETS IN GREAT VARIETY.

Important to the Public
A. SHWARTZ & SON
Have special attractions in the large and well selected stock of

CASSIMERES, JEANS,
CLOTHS, FLANNELS,
DOESKINS, BLANKETS

OPENED THIS WEEK.

DRESS GOODS, WHITE GOODS,
HOSIERY, CORSETS,
LADIES' UNDERWEAR,
Which they offer at POSITIVE BARGAINS!

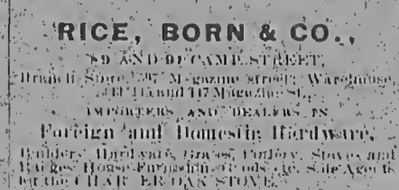
Together with a great many other important attractions.

A. SHWARTZ & SON,
Corner Canal St. and Exchange Place.
Don't fail to call before purchasing elsewhere.

ALEXANDER & BALDWIN, LTD.



Webster's Dictionary.

WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED

THE BEST PRACTICAL ENGLISH DICTIONARY EXTANT. London Standard.

Unanimous verdict of Webster's Pre-eminence in the English-speaking countries. Boston Journal.

Webster's National Pronouncing Dictionary was published in 1869. It contains 3,000 words not found in any other Dictionary. Scribner's Monthly.

Webster's Unabridged is the best English Dictionary we have ever seen. If the work is to be revised, it is desirable that it should be done with the least possible delay. Chicago Tribune.

Webster's Unabridged is the best Dictionary of the English language. Boston Post.

Webster's Unabridged is the best Dictionary of the English language. Boston Traveller.

Webster's Unabridged is the best Dictionary of the English language. Boston Transcript.

Webster's Unabridged is the best Dictionary of the English language. Boston Advertiser.

Webster's Unabridged is the best Dictionary of the English language. Boston Journal.

Webster's Unabridged is the best Dictionary of the English language. Boston Commercial Bulletin.

Webster's Unabridged is the best Dictionary of the English language. Boston Courier.

Webster's Unabridged is the best Dictionary of the English language. Boston Gazette.

Webster's Unabridged is the best Dictionary of the English language. Boston Herald.

Webster's Unabridged is the best Dictionary of the English language. Boston Globe.

Webster's Unabridged is the best Dictionary of the English language. Boston Evening Transcript.

Webster's Unabridged is the best Dictionary of the English language. Boston Evening Gazette.

Webster's Unabridged is the best Dictionary of the English language. Boston Evening Traveller.

Webster's Unabridged is the best Dictionary of the English language. Boston Evening Journal.

Webster's Unabridged is the best Dictionary of the English language. Boston Evening Post.

Webster's Unabridged is the best Dictionary of the English language. Boston Evening Courier.

Webster's Unabridged is the best Dictionary of the English language. Boston Evening Herald.

Webster's Unabridged is the best Dictionary of the English language. Boston Evening Globe.

Webster's Unabridged is the best Dictionary of the English language. Boston Evening Commercial Bulletin.

Webster's Unabridged is the best Dictionary of the English language. *Boston Evening Courier

Farm, Garden and Household.

Orchard Grass.

This valuable (though much neglected) grass is indigenous to the soil of America, and from its adaptability to the various soils, its early and late growth, luxuriant foliage and nutritive qualities, is well entitled to an equality with any grass, either native or foreign, which is being cultivated in this country. Orchard grass, when sown with clover, grows as rapidly, starts in the spring as early, and by this similarity of habit makes a suitable grass to mix with it. For pasturage, we greatly value orchard grass for three reasons: It stands drouth much better than any other, will bear heavier stocking, and comes forward in the spring very early.

We have often been surprised to observe how quickly orchard grass recovers and grows after being closely cropped; a week or ten days of summer's growth will make quite a good pasturage. Orchard grass, also, by its great amount of fibrous roots, tends to improve instead of impoverish the soil, and we have observed that our orchard grass sod generally turns up a dark color on being plowed. It is not at all fit for a lawn, as it sometimes grows in bunches or tussocks, especially when sown thin. The proper quantity, when sown alone, is two bushels to the acre; when sown with clover one bushel is sufficient. Perhaps there are no other two grasses that can be sown together with so great advantage as red clover and orchard grass by their union; the crop is nearly double what it would be if each were sown separately; they grow and flower well together, come to maturity about the same time, and the clover is supported from falling by the uncommon strength of the orchard grass. Mr. William Crozier, of the Beacon Stock Farm, North, L. I., who has had large experience in the cultivation of orchard grass, states that he considers it the most profitable grass a farmer can raise, whether for meadow or pasturage. A ride over his fields during the month of June convinced me of its superior merits. While the timothy meadows in many parts of Long Island were so far backward as scarcely to appear more than six inches high on an average, I found his orchard grass and mammoth clover meadows averaging fully two feet, and in flower. Abundance of his rich succulent herbage was left standing to his horses, etc. His elevated and rolling pasture lands, stocked with Alderneys, Ayrshires, and Devons, amply supplied with sweet herbage, composed of a mixture of grasses in which orchard grass predominates, and with which those pastures are luxuriantly covered. A twenty acre field of oats seeded down with orchard grass and mammoth clover, April 23, was making a fine appearance, the orchard grass being several inches high, and coming up very evenly all over the field. There is no doubt but that his success is, in a great measure, owing to the excellent system he adopts. He recommends thorough pulverization and cleaning of the land, liberal manuring, and liberal seeding, even sowing on a rolled surface and covering with a chain harrow afterward. He has succeeded well with both spring and fall sowing of seeds under the above conditions; he sows from one and a half to two bushels of orchard grass seed, and fifteen pounds of mammoth clover seed per acre, with his spring or winter grain; nearly double that quantity if sown alone. A bushel of good fair orchard grass seed should weigh fifteen pounds to the bushel, cut during the season that intervenes between the flowering and forming of seed.—Extract from John Henderson's Book on Grasses.

GROWING BUCKWHEAT.—A writer in the Chicago Tribune says on this subject:

To raise a good crop of buckwheat the soil should be as well prepared as for other crops. As the grain is never sown till quite late in the season, when there is danger of immediate and protracted drouth, it is advisable to sow it on soil that is tolerably moist. Indeed, the plant from its nature requires a large amount of moisture, and attempts to raise a crop on land naturally quite dry generally result in failure. Every farmer who keeps bees should sow a piece of land with buckwheat; if for nothing more than bee pasturage. It will pay to sow it with a view of subduing land that is full of tough grasses, as its dense shade will result in rotting them. It is an excellent crop to raise to turn under as a green manure. It is the least exhausting crop that can be raised on land, for the plants furnish a very large amount of material that is available for the purpose of fertilization.

But the crop, for several years past, has been one of the best-paying ones that the farmers have raised. The western product has not produced a supply for local demand, and large quantities have been brought from the Eastern States and from Canada. Even the amount brought from a distance has not apparently been enough to supply the market, for what passes for buckwheat flour is chiefly wheat screenings.

FRENCH TOAST.—Beat four eggs very light, and stir them into a pint of cold, rich milk. Slice some nice baker's bread; dip the slices into the egg and milk; then lay them carefully into a skillet of hot lard, and fry brown. Sprinkle a little powdered sugar over each slice when taken out, with a little cinnamon, if that spice is liked. Serve hot. If nicely prepared, this is an excellent dish for breakfast or tea—almost equal to waffles, and much less expensive.

CREAM TOMATO SOUP.—To one quart of sweet milk put one pint of cooked tomatoes. When it comes to a boil add one teaspoonful of soda and a half-teacupful of rolled cracker, and season as for oysters. This soup is very nice.—American Grocer.

CELERY MEDICINAL.—We notice with pleasure, says the Builder, that celery is becoming more common and cheaper in our markets. Its cultivation cannot be too highly recommended to farmers, as by its production they not only grow a profitable plant but confer a benefit on the community, as the habitual daily use of this vegetable is more beneficial to man than most people are aware of. A writer who is familiar with its virtues says: "I have known many men, and women, too, who from various causes had become so much affected by nervousness that when they stretched out their hands they shook like aspen leaves on a windy day, and by a moderate daily use of the blanched footstalks of celery as a salad they became as strong and as steady as other people. I have known others so nervous that the least annoyance put them in a state of agitation, and they were in constant perplexity and fear, who were also effectually cured by a moderate daily use of blanched celery as a salad at meal time. I have known others to be cured of palpitation of the heart. Everybody engaged in labor weakening to the nerves should use celery daily in the season; and onions in its stead when not in season."

We give celery to our canary birds and it cures them of fits. They are little animals, with very delicate nerves, easily frightened, and therefore they need such a remedy, and the relish with which they take it is a proof that their instinct guides them to eat what is good for them.

A manufacturer of perfumery of our acquaintance some years ago began to prepare an extract of celery seed, put up in medicine bottles, and intended to give strength to old or exhausted people who by over indulgence have reached such a state as to require restoratives.

OATMEAL IN THE HOUSEHOLD.—In Great Britain children of all ranks are raised on an oatmeal diet alone, because it causes them to grow strong and healthful and no better food can possibly be found for them. It is also quite as desirable for the student as for the laborer, and for the delicate lady as for her hard-working sister; indeed, all classes would be greatly benefited by its use, and dyspepsia, with all its manifold annoyances, can be kept at a distance. Oatmeal is more substantial food, it is said, than veal, pork, or lamb, and quite equal to beef or mutton, giving as much or more mental vigor, while its great desideratum consists in one's not becoming weary of it, for it is as welcome for breakfast or tea as wheat or Graham bread. It can be eaten with syrup and butter as hasty pudding, or with cream and sugar, like rice. It is especially good for young mothers, upon whose nervous forces too great a demand has been made, and they lose the equilibrium of the system, and become depressed and dispirited. Oatmeal requires to be cooked slowly, and the water should be boiling hot when it is stirred in.—Baldwin's Monthly for Plumber.

OUR FUTURE FENCE.—In reply to our article headed as above in the Rural Man of the 11th instant, we have received the following replies from S. R. Sanders of Murfreesboro, and Mr. W. T. Waters, of Stop Spring, Wilson county, which confirm our opinion that Pyracantha will make a good hedge:

Mr. Sanders says: "As to the Pyracantha, I have had it growing three years; it is four three to six feet high, very dense at the base, and perfectly feathered at this season of the year, being covered with scarlet berries. I am satisfied that with proper attention it will make a very substantial as well as ornamental fence. If it succeeds well it is the cheapest fence our farmers can make. It takes about the same cultivation you would give to corn for three years, nothing more being needed except the proper pruning, as it is grown from cuttings."

Mr. W. T. Waters says: "I have been in the use and cultivation of the shrub, (Pyracantha,) from the time of its introduction by the late Mr. Goron, until about fifteen years ago, I know that it makes a good fence, in the hands of those who will fell the weeds and grass, and prune it in good time."

We should like to hear, on this subject, from Mr. John Barbee, of Grant post-office, Smith county, Tenn.—Rural Sun.

TO MAKE VINEGAR.—Edward Smith, in his new work on "Foods," gives the following simple formula for making vinegar: One gallon of water, one and a quarter pounds of raw sugar, and a quarter pound of yeast. At a temperature of eighty degrees it will be sufficiently acid in three or four days to be drawn off, when an ounce of cut raisins and the same weight of cream of tartar should be added, and after a few weeks the sweet taste will entirely disappear, when it may be bottled.

SAUR GOOSE.—To utilize the remainder of the goose after cutting out the breast for smoking, it is prepared as follows: Cut up the flesh into suitable pieces; then take of vinegar and water equal quantities, enough to cover the meat, add a handful of small onions, and salt, pepper, cloves, etc.; boil together until the meat is done. This, if put in a cool place, will keep well, and makes an excellent dish when warmed up or eaten cold.

For feeding cattle no root is superior to the parsnip. In the Island of Guernsey, a few years ago, and perhaps the same state of things still exists, pigs and cattle were almost entirely fattened on this root. We have always thought that American farmers did not realize the value of this root. One great advantage in raising this root is that it can be stored in the ground and dug in spring when needed.—Dick's Guide.

SPONGE CAKE.—Three cupfuls of flour; two cupfuls of sugar, six eggs, one teaspoonful of soda, two teaspoonfuls of cream of tartar.

EDUCATIONAL.

University of Mississippi.

THE NEXT SESSION OF THE UNIVERSITY of Mississippi, at Oxford, opens

October 4, 1876.

The Faculty is complete, able, and proficient.

The campus, buildings, and apparatus in good repair.

The location is healthy. Church facilities and society excellent.

Tuition free to candidates for the ministry. Tuition fee to others $25. Total expenses need not exceed $101 in $130 per annum. Students in the Preparatory Department will be required to board with family of the Principal.

For catalogues and information, address

H. M. SULLIVAN,
Secretary Board of Trustees,
Oxford, Miss.

Emory and Henry College

VIRGINIA.

THE collegiate year for 1876-7 begins on the FOURTEENTH DE SEPTEMBER next. It is divided into two terms of twenty weeks each, the first ending January 31, and the second beginning February 1, 1877.

For TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS deposited with the President at the beginning of the year we will agree to instruct, for the forty weeks, his pupil, board, fuel, room-rent, washing, library and contingent fees.

For information or special points or for a catalogue address E. E. WILEY, President, Emory P. O., Virginia.

EMORY COLLEGE.

THE FALL TERM of this long-established institution opens on Wednesday, SEPTEMBER 6.

Emory College, with a full Faculty and a thorough curriculum, is prepared to do first class college work.

TUITION—Fall Term, $25; Spring Term, $15. Board in good families, from $10 to $20 per month. Food and lodging can be procured at from $8 to $12 per month by boys willing to wait on themselves.

For further information address the President,
ATTICUS G. HAYGOOD,
Oxford, Ga.

Quitman M. & F. College,

QUITMAN, VAN BUREN CO., ARK.

FALL SESSION BEGINS MONDAY, SEPT. 4. This school, under the patronage of the Arkansas Conference, offers a quiet, healthy retreat to students. Board can be had at eight to ten dollars per month. Tuition is as low as can be had anywhere, ranging from $1.50 to $3 a month. Tuition free to children of ministers and to young men studying for the ministry.

For further particulars apply to
REV. JAMES A. PEEBLES, President,
Quitman, Van Buren Co., Ark.

Collegiate Institute

AT BATON ROUGE, LA.

THE next session of this School will begin on Wednesday, the FOURTH OF OCTOBER, 1876. This is a Family Boarding School for boys. The healthfulness of the location is unsurpassed. Instruction thorough and full. Text is necessary to prepare the student for any grade in college or any pursuit in life. Discipline parental. The constant personal care of the Principal is given to the health, morals and manners of the pupils.

For circulars with necessary information, apply to
W. H. N. MAGRUDER,
Baton Rouge, La.

MITCHELL'S NEW OUTLINE MAPS.

Maps in a set. A Key goes with each set.

Small Series, with Names $15
Small Series, Without Names $15
Large Series, Without Names $20

LATEST, BEST, CHEAPEST.

J. H. BUTLER & CO.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

MOORE'S SOUTHERN BUSINESS UNIVERSITY ATLANTA, GA. PRACTICAL BUSINESS SCHOOL IN THE SOUTH

SEND FOR CATALOGUES.

Fort Edward Collegiate Institute,

NEW YORK.

$172 PER YEAR. RATES TO SUIT THE times. Facilities unequalled. Superb buildings. Fifteen teachers. A business college, college preparatory, and other graduating courses for both sexes, or any studies may be chosen. Twenty-third year August 31. Winter term December 7. Admission any time proper. Locality. Address JOS. E. KING, D.D.,
Fort Edward, N.Y.

MARVIN LINCOLN,

MANUFACTURER OF ARTIFICIAL LIMBS and various kinds of

Surgical Appliances.

The Lincoln Artificial Arm a Specialty.

Artificial Hands and Fingers generally. Carefully supplied.

For further information, circulars, testimonials, etc., address MARVIN LINCOLN, No. 8 Hamilton Place, Boston, Mass.

HEATH, PIPPEY & LARA,

IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN

Carpets, Floor Oil Cloths,

UPHOLSTERY GOODS, WALL PAPER, WINDOW Shades, Cornices, Lace and Nailing Lace Curtains, Mirrors, Mouldings, Chromos, Engravings, Etc.

Frame Maker Orders a Specialty.

No. 99 Camp Street,
NEW ORLEANS.

ATTENTION!

M. ANDRIEU,

159 ..... BOURBON STREET 159

Home-Made Shoes at $3.50 a Pair.

Only best Boots and Shoes in all kinds and Cost made of the very best material and workmanship, and at less prices than any other store in this city. Keeps all kinds for Gent's, Ladies' Ties and Children's wear.

$50 TO $200 A MONTH FOR AGENTS.

UNIVERSAL HISTORY.

The great interests of nations and in our own fireside history of 100 years makes this book sell faster than any other. Three books in one. Ultimately illustrated. Low price, quick sales, extra terms. Send for Circular.

J. C. McCURDY & CO., St. Louis, Mo.

SHELDON COLLINS & CO.,

MANUFACTURERS OF PRINTING INKS, Extra Black Books, News, Card, Job, Wood Cut, and—

Colored Inks of Every Variety.

Office and Depot 26 Frankfort street, New York

GIBSON'S

Stained Glass and Decorative Establishment,

123 & 125 South Eleventh St.,

PHILADELPHIA.

CENTENNIAL SLIDES READY.

MAGIC LANTERNS SLIDES WANTED THEO. HARRAH ALSO FOR SALE IN PHILADA. PA.

Please send for Catalogue.

OPIUM AND MORPHINE HABIT ABSOLUTELY and SPEEDILY CURED. Painless. No publicity. Send stamp for particulars. DR. CARLTON, 187 Washington street, Chicago, Ill.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE JELESO WATER,

NO. 20 CORTLANDT ST., NEW YORK.

WARREN & CO., PROPRIETORS.

URAL MOUNTAIN JELESO WATER

is a concentration of all the curative qualities of the most celebrated Mineral Springs in the world. Each bottle contains eighty doses, and is equal to over one hundred bottles of the Natural Spring Water.

As a tonic it is unsurpassed, having had most remarkable success in curing some of the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Nervousness, and General Debility. It is simple, harmless, and pleasant to take. If used as a gargle in its pure state, on the first appearance of Diphtheria and all other throat diseases it works like magic. It arrests the progress of and cures such complaints in less than twenty-four hours. It will greatly alleviate or entirely cure the worst cases of Rheumatism.

Eczema and all other diseases of the skin, Prickly Heat, Poisoning by Ivy, Sumac, or Oak are quickly cured by the use of Jeleso Water. We will forward three bottles of the medicine to any part of the United States, free of expressage, on receipt of $1 per bottle. Send for Circular, containing testimonials and directions.

Appended are a few of the many certificates sent us:

As a family medicine and tonic it is simply invaluable. In my own case it has cured Dyspepsia of long standing.

JOHN F. MINES,
Managing Editor N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

Permit me to add my testimony to the efficiency of your "Jeleso" in cases of Dyspepsia of long standing. I have used two bottles of it, and I am now thoroughly cured. I shall most cheerfully recommend its use to all my friends; and I consider it an indispensable medicine in every family. I am most truly yours,

J. D. BARTON,
Supt. Flushing, North Shore, and Central R.R., of Long Island.

101 EAST 23D ST., NEW YORK,
January 29, 1876.

DR. WARREN—Dear Sir: I have used your Jeleso Water as a tonic, also for Dyspepsia and Throat Affections of all kinds, with great beneficial results. I believe it to be a very valuable remedy.

DR. E. G. STILLMAN.

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE

RESPECTFULLY offers her services in selecting, purchasing and forwarding any article of apparel or personal adornment for Ladies and Children's use, including MILLINERY, DRY GOODS, JEWELRY, BRIDAL TROUSSEAUX, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Trimmings, Underwear, Sewing Machines, etc.

Scrupulous care with reference to the price and quality, and fidelity to the interest and fulfillment of the wishes of correspondents, will be sedulously carried out.

Spring and Summer Styles

OF

LADIES' DRESSES,

IN IMPORTED FRENCH PATTERNS,

CENTENNIAL APRONS, RUCHES AND RUCHETTES, designed to the Fashions of 1776.

Just received by

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE,
NO. 66 CANAL STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

GENERAL AGENCY

AMERICAN COTTON TIE CO.

LIMITED,

17 CARONDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS.

August 1, 1876.

Notice to Dealers and Merchants Buying and Selling Iron Cotton Ties.

Whereas, sundry unscrupulous persons are offering for sale in this city and other parts of the country, cotton ties having Arrow buckles on, not heretofore sold by us, and some buying second-hand Arrow buckles, we warn on the public, for their protection, not to purchase any Arrow or Open-Slot Ties whatever from any but our authorized agents, or sold through them. Either form of pieced bands, using our Arrow and Open-Slot buckles in combination therewith, unlicensed by us, violate our patent rights.

As an additional protection to the public and ourselves, for several years we have stamped our buckles: "Licensed for use only."

For the AMERICAN COTTON TIE COMPANY (Limited.)

F. COOK,
General Legal Agent.

JOSEPH GILLOTT'S

STEEL PENS.

SOLD BY ALL DEALERS

MANUFACTURERS' WAREHOUSE

No. 91 John Street, New York.

JOSEPH GILLOTT & SON

HENRY HOE, Sole Agent.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

W. M. EVANS,

NO. 33 N. PETERS ST., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

SOLICITS CONSIGNMENTS OF

Wool, Moss, Hides, Rags, Bones, Metals,

And all descriptions of PRODUCE.

Personal and careful attention given to all business intrusted to my care. Quick sales and prompt returns made. Will fill orders for all descriptions of goods at lowest cash prices. Advances made on consignments. P. O. Box 258.

FAIRBANKS' SCALES.

GUARANTEED U. S. STANDARD.

FAIRBANKS'

COTTON AND SUGAR BEAMS.

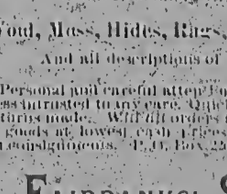
Branch House—53 Camp Street.

FAIRBANKS & CO.

DO YOUR OWN PRINTING!

NOVELTY PRINTING PRESS.

For Professional and Amateur Printers, Schools, Societies, Manufacturers, Merchants, etc. Send stamp for Circular. Prices, $3.00 to $150.00. Over 2,000 in use. Specimen Book of Printing Material, 25 cents. 29 Federal St., Boston.



Child's ..... 15 to 20c.
Misses' ..... 20 to 30c.
Women's ..... 25 to 35c.
Men's Drawer Supporters ..... 25 to 50
Scotch Garters, 30 to 50c.
Straight Armlet, 15 to 35c.

Ask your dealer for them. Sent by mail on receipt of price.

DOVE MANF. CO., 6 Worcester st., N. Y.

T. W. ROTHICH,

UNDERTAKER,

271 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Embalming and Disinterring. Bodies carefully shipped. Carriages and Cabs for hire.

GLASS STAINERS

LETTERS, AND EMBOSSERS.
CHURCH WINDOWS, A SPECIALTY
Estimates and Samples on application.
WM. COULTER & SON
102 & 104 E. 2d St., CINCINNATI, O.

ESTABLISHED IN 1825.

LEEDS' FOUNDRY,

Cor. Delord and Poucher Sts.

MISCELLANEOUS.

FACTORS' & TRADERS INSURANCE COMPANY,

37 ..... Carondelet Street 37

Premiums for the year ending April 30, 1876 ..... $966,651.82
Losses paid within the year 277,478.76
Reserved for unterminated risks April 30, 1876 ..... 86,593.00
Net profits for the year 137,001.76

Cash dividends for the year:
Interest (semi-annually) ..... TEN PER CENT.
Premiums ..... TWENTY PER CENT.

Assets, April 30, 1876 ..... $1,388,855.40

This Company continues to issue policies on Fire, River, and Marine Risks at current rates of premium.

E. A. PALFREY, President.
JOHN CHAFFE, Vice-President.
THOMAS F. WALKER, Secretary.

—TRUSTEES—

W. A. Johnson, W. C. Raymond,
John L. Noble, T. Lyle Lyon,
John Chaffe, S. H. Snowden,
Richard Milliken, S. H. Boyd,
John L. Warren, Joseph McElroy,
R. T. Buckner, E. B. Wheelock,
Samuel Friedlander, Cyrus Bussey,
A. A. Yates, Wm. J. Behan,
John L. Adams, B. F. Eshleman,
Isaac Scherck, W. C. Black,
R. M. Wilkinson, Charles Chaffe,
A. H. May, L. C. Jurey,
Wm. Hartwell.

FOR SINGING SCHOOLS!

Make them doubly interesting by introducing

THE ENCORE!!

By L. O. EMERSON. 75 cts. $7.50 per dozen.

THE ENCORE

Contains a First-Class Elementary Course, with the best kind of exercises, first, tunes in one, two, three, or four parts, for practice.

THE ENCORE

Contains by pages filled with bright, wide-awake, easy glees and four-part songs. Thus it is a good Glee Book as well as Singing School Book.

THE ENCORE

Contains 50 Hymn tunes and Anthems of the best character.

MR. L. O. EMERSON,

(Half a million of whose books have been sold), has never been excelled as composer and arranger of music exactly adapted to the public taste. His skill in this matter is infallible. Try it.

THE ENCORE.

For sale by all prominent dealers. Specimens mailed, post-free, for 75 cents.

OLIVER DITSON & CO.,
Boston.

C. H. Ditson & Co., 711 Broadway, New York. J. E. Ditson & Co., Successor to Lee & Walker, Phila.

As not a few persons suppose a patent specific heretofore for the cure of all diseases, about to be put, having enjoyed an established reputation for more than fifty years on account of its great value in diseases termed Scrofulous, having been the means of restoration to health of thousands of sufferers, it has received the indorsement of hundreds of the most eminent men in the country, who know its merits, and should be used by all who suffer from diseases arising from impurity of the blood, or even hereditary taint.

Its value in Chronic Rheumatism, Old Ulcers, Chronic Sores, White Swellings, &c., is known to thousands of Southern people.

Prepared by

Swaim's Laboratory,

South Seventh St., below Chestnut St.,

PHILADELPHIA.

LOOK TO YOUR SHIPMENTS.

ODELL & WRIGHT,

95 DECATUR ST., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

COTTON & SUGAR FACTORS,

AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

Obtain Always Best Market Prices.

The sale of Moss, Wool and Hides and other heavy produce specially attended to. Liberal advances in cash or merchandise. We are Jobbers of the products we handle. We are Sole Agents for the ORANGE BRANDS OF FLOUR:

Orangers' Fruit XXX, Orangers' Hope XXX, Orangers' Pride XXXX, Orangers' Extra XXXX, Orangers' Best XXXX, which we will sell at Western prices. We also purchase Sugar and Molasses for those outside the sugar sections.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Returning thanks for past favors, the undersigned desires to inform his friends and the public that he has removed to

152 and 154 Camp St., cor. Calliope,

where he continues to

BUY, SELL, STORE, REMOVE, PACK And Repair Furniture

of every description. Pictures and Looking-glasses framed.

JOHN ROSS,
Nos. 152 and 154 Camp street.

FURNITURE AND MATTRESSES

NO. 155 CAMP STREET.

THE undersigned has a large stock of Furniture, which he will dispose of at prices that will DEFY COMPETITION. Give us a call and see for yourselves.

Furniture taken on storage. Repairs made at lowest prices. All Furniture and Bedding put in perfect repair and delivered to order. Moving, Packing, etc., in full, done at the lowest possible figure consistent to

HENRY PUHOFF,
155 Camp street.

Lower Coast Semi-Weekly Packet.

FOR BAYOU TEAS, SOUTHWEST Pass, Pilot Town, Forts Jackson and St. Philip, Barataria, Terrebonne, Pontchartrain, Attakapas and all way landings. The new, swift, low-pressure Steamer

MARTHA,

W. S. Russell, Master,

leaves for above every WEDNESDAY at 12 M., and SATURDAY at 5 P. M.

Returning every MONDAY and FRIDAY.

For freight or passage apply on board, or to BITE & CARLIN, Agents.

Baxter, Bell & Co.'s Pure Liquid Paints.

WARRANTED PURE, AND NOT TO CONTAIN Water or Alkali. These Paints are of many different shades, and for covering capacity, durability, fineness and beauty of finish they cannot be excelled by any other description of Paint. Liberal discount made to dealers. Send for sample card to the Agents,

SAMUEL M. TODD & CO.,
70 Magazine street, New Orleans.

CARRE'S CABINS, LUMBER, ETC.—To meet the demand for our Cabins we have added such machinery as enables us to turn them out not only faster, but better and cheaper; so come on with your orders. Not forgetting that as Lumber Merchants we date back a quarter of a century, and with recently established telegraph communication with our Pearl River Mills, we can furnish at short notice anything from a plaster lath to a ship spar.

W. W. CARRE & CO.,
No. 350 Delord street.

INSURANCE.

New Orleans Insurance Co.

CORNER CAMP AND CANAL STS.

ESTABLISHED IN 1805.

Capital $200,000 00
Assets at their market value 852,827 46
Income for the year 1875 ..... 624,106 10

The company insures FIRE, MARINE AND RIVER RISKS. Issues Marine policies payable in London in case of loss.

President—J. TUYES.
Vice President—A. SCHREIBER.
Secretary—J. W. HINCKS.

DIRECTORS.

Ernest Merith, A. M. Bickham,
Placide Forstall, A. Schreiber,
R. Gally, J. Tuyes,
Charles Lallue, W. A. Bell,
W. Van Benthuysen, D. Fazio,
Pierre Poutz, D. R. Rogers.

UNION INSURANCE COMPANY

OF NEW ORLEANS.

3 ..... CARONDELET STREET 3

Near the Union National Bank.

This Company, incorporated in 1856, insures against the risks of Sea, River and Fire, and settles promptly all losses of claims.

A. CHIAPELLA, President.
J. M. CRAWFORD, Secretary.

DIRECTORS.

Victor Maignan, R. Gally,
L. D. Sarpy, A. Chiapella,
R. Salvo, J. Bayle,
H. Labasse, A. R. Brousseau,
A. Bonnecaze.

SAVINGS BANKS.

LOUISIANA SAVINGS BANK AND SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY,

51 Camp Street.

CAPITAL $500,000

E. C. PALMER, President.
JAS. JACKSON, Vice President.

DIRECTORS.

EDW. CONERY, FRED'K WING,
J. B. KELLER, W. H. THOMAS,
W. B. SCHMIDT, JAS. JACKSON,
E. C. PALMER.

This Company insures against loss by Burglary, Theft and Fire at low rates, and also gives security to depositors.

Small Deposits received and six per cent. interest per annum, paid semi-annually.

JOHN S. WALTON, Cashier.

NEW ORLEANS SAVINGS INSTITUTION,

150 ..... CANAL STREET 150

Incorporated March 15, 1855.

OFFICERS.

DAVID PROCHART, President.
THOS. B. ADAMS, First Vice President.
THOS. ALLEN CLARKE, Second Vice Pres't.
CHARLES J. LEEDS, Third Vice President.
CHARLES KILSHAW, Treasurer.

TRUSTEES.

Thos. A. Adams, George Jones,
Thos. Allen Clarke, John G. Gaines,
Charles J. Leeds, Christian Seiler,
Samuel Jamison, Carl Kohn,
A. Montieu, T. L. Boyce,
E. A. Palfrey, David Urquhart.

Interest allowed on deposits.

AGENTS WANTED

LOOK!

BOOK AGENTS, We have just issued the most complete Family Bible published. Our Bible contains ALL 200 ILLUSTRATIONS, and we are the only publishers who issue a Bible containing these illustrations. Agents wanted everywhere. Circulars, terms, etc., free. Address NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., F. A. Battelle, Pres., 505 & 507 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.

$10 to $25 A DAY SURE MADE by agents selling our FOR CASH goods. Don't waste time on worthless articles. Circulars free. Sample Chromo Cards, 12 Scrap Pictures, and 20 page illustrated Catalogue, 10c. Address J. H. BUFFORD'S SONS, Boston. Established 1830.

"DON'T FORGET IT!" Singer's New Combination Needle is worth all the Rest of the Sewing Machine Needles ever invented. Agents wanted. Can be sent by mail. Sample prepaid on receipt of 25 cts. Address A. H. SINGER, 418 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

AGENTS If you want the best selling article in the world, at a Solid Gold Pencil Lever Watch, free of cost, write at once to J. BUTLER & CO., 767 Broadway, New York.

YES WE WANT an agent in every town. Easy work at home. Write us and we will start you. Send for Circular. SIMONDS & SMITH, Clyde, N. Y.

AGENTS double their money selling Chase's Improved Lightning Rod Belts. Address Dr. Chase's Printing House, Ann Arbor, Mich.

MISCELLANEOUS

SONG HERALD

BY H. R. PALMER.

HERALD

FOR

Singing Classes & Conventions.

A great improvement upon all of Mr. Palmer's former works, containing new ideas throughout. Every page sparkling with

NEW AND BEAUTIFUL MUSIC.

"THE SONG HERALD"

is the legitimate successor of SONG KING and SONG QUEEN, which have had a combined sale of over

$350,000 COPIES!

All Other Similar Works are but Imitations.

Price, $7.50 Per Dozen. Single Copy sent on receipt of 75 cents. Specimen Pages free.

JOHN CHURCH & CO.,
CINCINNATI, O.

COUNTRY ORDERS

FOR

BOOTS AND SHOES.

PARTIES who wish to buy Boots and Shoes FOR CASH are invited to send for the price card which explains HOW TO TAKE YOUR OWN MEASURE, thus enabling any one in the country to get a good-fitting Boot or Shoe almost from the city at the LOWEST CITY PRICES. Where we are favored with orders that cover the Freight thereon will be prepaid to any railroad depot in the State. Where the order exceeds $20 we will pay the cost of sending the money to us, whether by Express, Money Order, Registered Letter, Bank Draft or otherwise.

Goods sent C. O. D. to all points where the Express Company or Parkets have agents.

Price list of ready-made goods, also instructions how to take your own measure, will be sent by mail upon application.

GIMBEL'S UPPER CITY BLUE BOOT AND SHOE STORE,

No. 578 Magazine Street.

Sign of the Lady's Boot.

LOUIS GIMBEL, Agent.

PRINTING PRESSES $3 to $35 SEND 10 CTS. FOR W. V. EDWARDS, 36 CHURCH ST. N. Y.

PRICES REDUCED. Best Quality ARTIFICIAL LIMBS and Surgical Appliances. CHEAPEST IN THE U. S. during CENTENNIAL YEAR. CHAS. M. EVANS, Manufr., 152 West Fourth Street, Cincinnati, O. Fourth and Main Cars.

VINEGAR—How made in ten hours without drugs. Address F. SAUER, Springfield, Mass.

MEDICAL.

ANGELL'S HOMEOPATHIC PHARMACY.

152 Julia St., near Camp, New Orleans.

HOMEOPATHIC MEDICINES, BOOKS, CASES, AND ALL OTHER ARTICLES USED IN HOMEOPATHIC PRACTICE.

TO MEET THE DEMAND FOR AIDS TO Domestic Practice, and proved by an extensive experience to be safe, generally successful and peculiarly adapted to family practice, remedies for the following diseases will be furnished by mail or express with full directions as to their use:

COUGHS, COLDS, CATARRH, CROUP, HOOPING COUGH, ASTHMA, FEVER, DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, CHOLERA, MORBUS AND INFANTUM, WORMS, COLIC, DYSPEPSIA, BILIOUSNESS, NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, SORE THROAT, EAR DISORDERS, SORE MOUTH, URINARY AFFECTIONS, GRAVEL, PILES, SKIN DISEASES, RHEUMATISM, FALLS, SORE EYES, AND GENERAL DEBILITY, 25 cents each.

HEART AFFECTIONS AND CHILL DROPS successful in AGUE AND FEVER when other remedies fail, one dollar each.

HOMŒOPATHIC BITTERS and COLIC DROPS, 25 cents each.

Dr. R. ANGELL, Senior,

continues his visiting and office practice as usual, day or night, and will prescribe and furnish medicine either on a full statement of case, if preferable.

Prescription and medicine, three to five dollars; subsequent ones, two to three dollars; consultation advice, free of charge, on receipt of stamped envelope. Office up stairs, 152 Julia street.

DUCONGE'S PECTORAL BALSAMIC SIRUP.

NEARLY half a century has elapsed since the discovery of this wonderful compound. Its well established virtue and its high reputation in diseases of the Chest, Lungs, Throat and Bowels are well known, and has been tested for so many years by such extensive patronage, that it would be superfluous, at this late day, to dwell at any length on its efficacy in Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Inflammation of the Throat, Stomach or Bowels, Spitting of Blood and Whooping Cough.

It has been found highly beneficial in all inflammatory disorders, such as Rheumatism, Diarrhœa, Dysentery and Summer Complaint, and hence in those cases of Cholerine which, for want of proper care, so often degenerate into confirmed Cholera.

In affections of the Lungs, verging on Consumption, it has been found most effectious, in proving that most awful scourge whenever it was resorted to.

Besides its acknowledged certainty of cure in this extraordinary medicine has, over most compounds of the same nature, the decided advantage of owing to its agreeable flavor, it can be administered without the least difficulty to children, and requires no particular diet. It is also the cheapest, not only because the bottles contain more syrup than any other, but owing to its peculiar composition the Sirup will keep for years without fermentation, and it can be used in doubtful weather whenever required, simply keeping the bottle well corked.

Directions for Taking the Sirup. Grown persons take from two to six spoonfuls in the course of the day, either pure or diluted in a little water; less quantity at intervals of three or four hours.

Persons much troubled during the night may take a tablespoonful out of the Sirup on going to bed, which will stop the cough and procure a good night's rest.

Children from three to five years old may take from one to six teaspoonfuls during the day, in smaller quantities, at intervals of three to four hours.

For sale by

A. CARROUCHE,
Agent for New Orleans, 70 Chartres St.
And by all druggists.

THE ONLY TRUE AND PERFECT HAIR COLORER

THE MYSTERY,

OR TURNER'S HAIR TINT:

HARMLESS, BEAUTIFUL, PERMANENT.

This preparation has received the indorsement of the scientific world, and wherever introduced has superseded all other preparations of the kind. No washing or preparation of the hair is necessary when using.

Free from all Deleterious Ingredients, such as Lead, Sulphur or other compounds which are injurious to the Human System when Poisonous by Absorption.

It will be seen, both time and labor, as a few applications with a comb, once a month or so, to the hair or Whiskers, answers the purpose. The natural color being so perfectly restored as to defy detection. Its great recommendation is to do away with those cases of Underine which, for want of proper care, so often degenerate into confirmed Baldness.

In all affections of the Lungs, verging on Consumption, it has been found most effectious, in proving that most awful scourge whenever it was resorted to.

Besides its acknowledged certainty of cure in this extraordinary medicine has, over most compounds of the same nature, the decided advantage of owing to its agreeable flavor, it can be administered without the least difficulty to children, and requires no particular diet. It is also the cheapest, not only because the bottles contain more syrup than any other, but owing to its peculiar composition the Sirup will keep for years without fermentation, and it can be used in doubtful weather whenever required, simply keeping the bottle well corked.

Directions for Taking the Sirup. Grown persons take from two to six spoonfuls in the course of the day, either pure or diluted in a little water; less quantity at intervals of three or four hours.

Persons much troubled during the night may take a tablespoonful out of the Sirup on going to bed, which will stop the cough and procure a good night's rest.

Children from three to five years old may take from one to six teaspoonfuls during the day, in smaller quantities, at intervals of three to four hours.

For sale by

A. CARROUCHE,
Agent for New Orleans, 70 Chartres St.
And by all druggists.

THE ONLY TRUE AND PERFECT HAIR COLORER

THE MYSTERY,

OR TURNER'S HAIR TINT:

HARMLESS, BEAUTIFUL, PERMANENT.

This preparation has received the indorsement of the scientific world, and wherever introduced has superseded all other preparations of the kind. No washing or preparation of the hair is necessary when using.

Free from all Deleterious Ingredients, such as Lead, Sulphur or other compounds which are injurious to the Human System when Poisonous by Absorption.

It will be seen, both time and labor, as a few applications with a comb, once a month or so, to the hair or Whiskers, answers the purpose. The natural color being so perfectly restored as to defy detection. Its great recommendation is to do away with those cases of Underine which, for want of proper care, so often degenerate into confirmed Baldness.

In all affections of the Lungs, verging on Consumption, it has been found most effectious, in proving that most awful scourge whenever it was resorted to.

Besides its acknowledged certainty of cure in this extraordinary medicine has, over most compounds of the same nature, the decided advantage of owing to its agreeable flavor, it can be administered without the least difficulty to children, and requires no particular diet. It is also the cheapest, not only because the bottles contain more syrup than any other, but owing to its peculiar composition the Sirup will keep for years without fermentation, and it can be used in doubtful weather whenever required, simply keeping the bottle well corked.

Directions for Taking the Sirup. Grown persons take from two to six spoonfuls in the course of the day, either pure or diluted in a little water; less quantity at intervals of three or four hours.

Persons much troubled during the night may take a tablespoonful out of the Sirup on going to bed, which will stop the cough and procure a good night's rest.

Children from three to five years old may take from one to six teaspoonfuls during the day, in smaller quantities, at intervals of three to four hours.

For sale by

A. CARROUCHE,
Agent for New Orleans, 70 Chartres St.
And by all druggists.

N. JENKINS' ANNIHILATOR.

A PERFECT VEGETABLE COMPOUND, for the permanent cure of

Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia.

What the Annihilator will do:

From one to two bottles will cure any fresh attack of Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia.

From two to twelve bottles, according to duration of disease, will cure any case of Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia, however long standing.

It is one of the best regulators of the circulation of the blood known.

N. JENKINS,
109 Camp street, New Orleans.

Wholesale Agents—L. LYONS, New Orleans; Kelly & Co., New Orleans; E. J. Hart & Co., New Orleans, and for sale by Druggists everywhere.

KEEP'S CUSTOM SHIRTS,

Made to measure. The very best 6 for $9.

KEEP'S PATENT FAIRLY MADE DRESS SHIRTS, the very best 6 for $7.

ON RECEIPT OF PRICE I offer to the above, with an elegant set of gold plated collar and sleeve buttons, will be delivered free of charge by express, except to Alaska and the Territories. Keep's shirts are unsurpassed in quality, style and fit. We mean just what we say, and to give every one an opportunity of judging for themselves without cost, we send them and will duly refund the full measurement to any address. We refer to purchasers of shirts everywhere.

KEEP MANUFACTURING CO.,
Nos. 103 and 107 Mercer street, New York.

J. A. LACROIX,

Proprietor of the

Pontchartrain Cheap Store,

N. E. FRENCHMEN AND VICTORY STREETS,

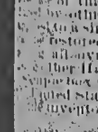
Ladies', Gents', Misses' and Children's

BOOTS AND SHOES

OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.

Always on hand, a full assortment of first-class goods at prices which defy competition. Call and examine my stock before purchasing elsewhere; for Motto—Quick Sales and Small Profits.

"SELF-INKING" BEST



PRINTING PRESS. OTTE Pad PRESS $50. Presses from $1 to $6. Rotary Presses from $15 to $25. Send stamps for catalogues.

M. HOWARD & CO.,
50 North 9th street,
Philadelphia.

CANCER Radically Cured without the Knife or Pain, and positively guaranteed.

Prof. L. M. COMINS, M. D., 345 Lexington Avenue, New York. Hundreds of specimens can be seen at his office, and as many living witnesses attest these facts. Send stamp for book.

MENEELY & COMPANY,

Bell Founders, West Troy, New York,

FIFTY years established. Church BELLS and CHIMES; ACADEMY, FACTORY BELLS, etc. Improved Patent Mountings. Catalogues free. No agencies.

BUSINESS CARDS.

JNO. F. LUTHER,

70 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,

MANUFACTURER OF ALL KINDS OF SCHOOL, COLLEGE, CHURCH, CLASS, SOCIETY AND FRATERNITY

PINS, BADGES & MEDALS,

at short notice, and very reasonable.

Fine Presentation Medals a specialty. Orders by mail attended to.

CISTERN-MAKER.

R. BRODERICK,

NOS. 132, 134 AND 136 JULIA ST.,

Between Camp and Magazine, New Orleans.

Constantly on hand an assortment of Cisterns. Second-hand Cisterns always on hand. All orders promptly attended to.

MARTIN WEYDIG,

NO 170 POYDRAS ST., NEW ORLEANS,

MANUFACTURER OF

SADDLES, HARNESS AND HOSE.

Firemen's and Military Equipments made to order. Dealer in all kinds of Leather and Rubber Hose, Leather and Rubber Pipes, Suctions and Fire Buckets, Horse Sheets and Blankets, Lap Dusters, Buggy Robes, Fly Nets and Whips, and all kinds of Saddlery Hardware. Country orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

A. B. GRISWOLD & CO.,

FOR CANAL AND ROYAL STS.,

WATCHES, JEWELRY, DIAMONDS,

AND SILVERWARE.

Watches and Jewelry repaired in the best manner. Goods sent C. O. D. and returnable if not suitable. Everything guaranteed to be as represented.

H. SPIERING,

UPHOLSTERER,

651 ..... MAGAZINE ST. 651

Near Jackson, New Orleans.

Parlor sets manufactured at New York prices. Curling Hair and Moss Mattresses made. House Conversed and made to order. Carpets laid, and taken up, cleaned and relaid. All work guaranteed.

G. STACCALEGA, IMPORTER,

And Wholesale and Retail Dealer in

GROCERIES, SHIP CHANDLERY, Etc.

Nos. 157 and 159 Old Levee St.,

Between Bienville and St. Peter, New Orleans.

A full assortment of Paints, Oil, Oakum, Hemp and Manilla Rope. Keep a complete assortment of French and Italian Wines, Italian Macaroni and Vermicelli, etc.

EDWARD SALLE. R. C. CAMMACK.

SALLE & CAMMACK,

COTTON FACTORS

AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS

No. 181 Gravier Street, New Orleans.

Liberal cash advances made on consignments of Cotton, Wool, Tobacco, and Produce generally.

COAL ..... COAL ..... COAL.

B. D. WOOD & BROS.

Corner Camp and Common Streets,

Opposite the City Hotel.

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in all kinds of COAL. Pittsburg Coal delivered by Boat-load or less on the coast, and shipped to cars or on bulk at lowest market rates. City trade supplied.

LUMBER—87 PER 1,000 FEET.

AT

J. L. NEVERS'

SUCCESSORS TO

J. C. PORTLEY, 315 JULIA STREET.

ANDREW J. AIKEN. JOHN W. WATT.

AIKEN & WATT,

COTTON FACTORS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

40 Union Street, New Orleans, La.

Special attention given to orders for the purchase and all descriptions of Produce. Agricultural Implements and Plantation supplies.

WOOD ..... COAL ..... LUMBER.

NO. 351 DRYADES STREET, between Clio and Erato streets. Best quality of Oak, Ash and Pine Sawed and Split Wood at lowest rates. Pittsburg and Anthracite Coal and Charcoal at the lowest market prices. Also agent for Aiken Mills' Lumber sawed to order at the shortest notice. Orders left at my office, 351 Dryades street, or at 52 Baronne street, will receive prompt attention. Satisfaction guaranteed. SAM. SMITH.

LOUISIANA STEAM SASH, BLIND

AND

DOOR FACTORY,

ROBERTS & CO., PROPRIETORS,

201, 203, 305 and 307 Gravier Street,

Connecting with Gravier street car. New Orleans.

WILLIAM VELDEN,

DEALER IN

WOOD, COAL AND ICE,

Corner Philip and Prytania Streets,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Meat and Fish kept cool free of charge.

BOOTS, SHOES AND TRUNKS,

OF VARIOUS QUALITIES AND PRICES

At Low Figures for Cash.

Country Merchants and Planters will do well to give me a call before purchasing elsewhere.

H. MUMME,
No. 61 Magazine street and
No. 60 Dryades street.

JOHN A. CAIRNS,

GENERAL ENGRAVER,

101 ..... CANAL STREET 101

Wedding and Visiting Card Dies engraved and printed.

Special attention given to Arms, Monograms, etc. Jewelry and Silverware engraved in artistic leaf style.

ADOLPHE J. LEROY & CO.,

BOOK BINDERS, RULERS

AND BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURERS,

99 ..... Camp Street 99

Over Times-Democrat, New Orleans.

Music Books and Periodicals bound in any desired style.

F. R. HARDON,

DEALER IN

MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS,

Nos. 27 and 29 Chartres Street,

Bet. Canal and Customhouse,

NEW ORLEANS.

MRS. FRICKE & WILLIAMS (over Breselman & Adams') wish to inform the community that they are in receipt weekly of the LATEST FASHIONS. Their style and finish cannot be rivaled, and their punctuality can be testified by their customers. Ladies would do well to call early, while their Holiday Dresses, in order to have ample time to display their skill in producing something elegant and tasty. Prices always moderate.

MRS. FRICKE & WILLIAMS.

ED. RABE & CO.,

CARRIAGE & SPRING WAGON

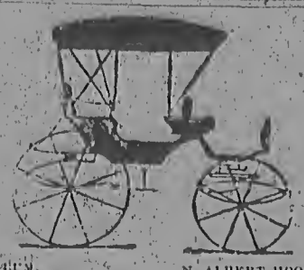
MANUFACTURERS,

Nos. 431 and 433 Sycamore Street,

Bet. Franklin and Woodward, CINCINNATI, O.

CHROMOS—We have over 3,000,000 of the best selling American and Foreign Chromos ready for delivery. Rare opportunity for experienced solicitors. Send for catalogue. J. LATHAM & CO., Art Publishers, Boston, Mass.

BUSINESS CARDS.



J. A. LUM. N. ALBERT HOOKER.

J. A. LUM & CO.,

MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN

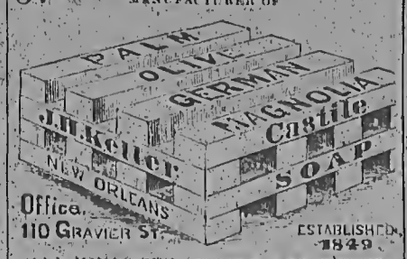
CARRIAGES, HARNESS, ETC.,

162 Gravier and 13 Union Street.

A SPECIALTY MADE OF CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

J. H. KELLER,

MANUFACTURER OF



Office, 110 GRAVIER ST. ESTABLISHED 1849.

ALL KINDS OF LAUNDRY AND TOILET SOAPS.

JOHN L. ADAMS. JAY L. ADAMS. WM. B. RENAUD.

JOHN L. ADAMS & CO.,

WHOLESALE GROCERS,

AND DEALERS IN

PROVISIONS, LARD, OIL, ETC.,

Nos. 43, 45 and 47 Peters Street,

(Formerly New Levee street), New Orleans.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DR. JOHN W. ADAMS,

SURGEON DENTIST,

Office and Residence—NO. 511 DAUPHINE ST.,

Half square above Canal street cars, four squares from Lafayette Square, New Orleans.

Nitrous Oxide Gas administered for the painless extraction of Teeth. Teeth inserted on Gold, Silver and Vulcanite bases.

A. L. TUCKER,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

(Late of Franklin, St. Mary Parish, La.)

140 ..... COMMON STREET 140

(Up stairs.) New Orleans.

REMOVAL.—A CARD.—In obedience to the expressed wishes of many of my patrons I have removed and offer my professional services at my residence on Napoleon avenue, to PAYTHEWAY, L'Ouest & Co.'s corner of Prytania street, which has been selected by reason of its all-healthy location and ease of access to my patrons.

My patrons need scarcely be reminded that no efforts will be spared to render them the best service. In Dentistry there is always room for improvement.

J. R. WALKER, D. D. S.

DR. C. J. BICKHAM,

RESIDENCE AND OFFICE,

611 Magazine St., Corner of Jackson,

NEW ORLEANS.

Office Hours—Eight to nine A. M., and three to four P. M.

DR. J. J. LYONS,

NO. 219 CARONDELET STREET,

Between Julia and St. Joseph,

New Orleans, La.

P. T. MCHENRY, formerly Chief Justice Louisiana. G. W. ELLIS. W. H. YOUNG.

MERRICK, RACE & FOSTER,

ATTORNEYS, COUNSELLORS,

AND SOLICITORS,

Corner of Camp Street and Commercial Place,

NEW ORLEANS.

GREAT JACKSON ROUTE.

NEW ORLEANS, ST. LOUIS

AND CHICAGO RAILROAD.

On and after Monday, October 9, 1876, trains depart and arrive as follows, from Calliope street Depot:

DEPART.

Mail ..... 6 A. M.
Accommodation ..... 5 P. M.

ARRIVE.

Mail ..... 11.15 A. M.
Accommodation ..... 9 A. M.

PULLMAN PALACE SLEEPING CARS To St. Louis, Chicago, Louisville and Cincinnati.

Only one change of Sleeping Cars to Eastern cities.

Accommodation Train runs as far as McComb City.

Tickets for sale and information given at No. 22 Camp street, corner of Common; and at Hyde & Goodrich's, Gravier street.

A. B. SHELTON, Agent.
S. H. FROST, General Manager.

WM. B. RINGROSE,

NO. 171 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS,

DEALER IN

New & Second-Hand Furniture.

Furniture bought, sold and exchanged. Novelties received daily. Also, stoves, crockery and glassware, stores, 17 Camp street, and 1 and 3 Julia street, corner St. Patrick's Church. Packing and taking Furniture to store a specialty. Job work, repairing and upholstering promptly attended to.

OTTO ZEIL

General Engraver and Book-Binders' Tool Cutter,

Designs made for Stamps and Block Stamps. N. W. COR. FOURTH AND MAIN STREETS, Up Stairs, CINCINNATI, O.

Hot Trade Mark Working Stamps, Stove Ornamental Stenciling Stamps, Burning Brands, Door Plates, etc.

PELICAN IMPROVED RICE MILLS

J. H. & A. JOHNSON, Proprietors,

154, 156 and 158 Magazine St., New Orleans.

MILLING RATES—No. 1 at 1c. per pound; No. 2 at ½c. per pound. Address all orders for empty Sacks to P. O. Box 738.

LIME, SAND, BRICKS, ETC.

Lime, Sugar, Lime, Cement, Plaster, Plastering Hair, White and Yellow Sand, Fire Clay Paving, Building, Pointing and Arch Bricks, English and Pittsburg Fire Bricks, Large and Small White Shells, Laths, Shingles, Fire Tiles, Sulphur, Tar, Pitch and Rosin at the lowest market rates. For sale by JOHN C. STEWART,
15 Gravier street, and
509 Julia, bet. Rampart and Basin Sts.

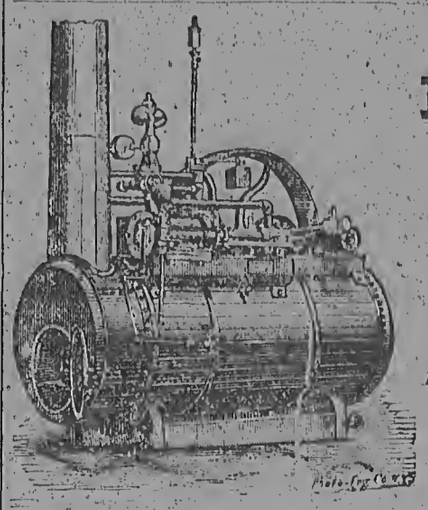
CARPET WAREHOUSE,

17 ..... CHARTRES STREET 17

CARPETINGS—Wilton, Axminster, Velvet, Brussels, Tapestry, Three Ply, etc.
FLOOR OIL CLOTH—English and American.
MATTINGS—800 rolls White, Check and Fancy.
WINDOW SHADES, Table and Piano Covers.
FURNITURE and CURTAIN GOODS in great variety.
RUGS, Table and Enamel OIL CLOTHS.

A. BROUSSEAU.

MISCELLANEOUS.



PAYNE'S

Portable Engines.

5 TO 15 HORSE POWER.

B. J. WEST

SOLE AGENT

115 and 117 Magazine Street,

NEW ORLEANS.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST, ETC.

A. A. PARKER,

Fancy and Staple

DRY GOODS.

—ALSO—

Ladies' and Misses' Under Wear.

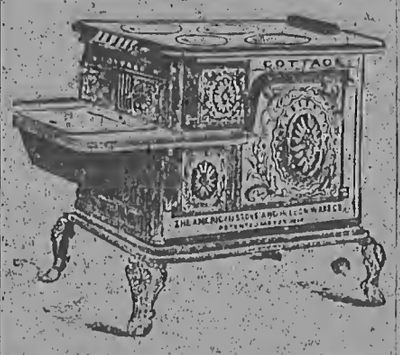
I AM OPENING A LARGE STOCK OF NEW FALL AND WINTER GOODS AT SUCH Prices as the times REQUIRE and will call special attention to my Homemade Under Wear. It gives general satisfaction, as to work and prices. I cannot do better than to refer the public to those who have used it.

178 Canal Street, between Baronne and Dryades Sts.,

New Orleans.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Stoves! Stoves! Stoves!



THE CHEAPEST AND THE "BEST."

THE ADVANTAGES OF KING STOVES ARE: Their Perfect Patented Circulators insure a thorough and uniform heat in every room, and can be adapted to burning COAL, COKE or WOOD with equal economy. Every stove is fitted with a Duplex Grate, which can be changed from one to the other in a few minutes. Every stove will be guaranteed.

A FULL STOCK of other COOKING STOVES of every grade and price, from $5 upward.

HEATING STOVES.

A very large and complete assortment, suitable for offices, Parlors, Churches, School Rooms, etc., all of which are offered at VERY LOW prices to suit customers. Call and see.

TINWARE OF EVERY KIND

and Household Goods, at the cheapest and only trade which is offered at UNPRECEDENTEDLY LOW PRICES. CALL AND SEE. Sole Agent for the Universal Self-Sealing Jar.

Steam Washers or Woman's Friend.

With a house full of ladies WITHOUT HUSBANDS I have come to sell it. FULLY WARRANTED. It saves labor, it washes and cleans in a few minutes every article of clothing in the family. It is only a matter of half an hour's time this saving machine is on. Three hundred thousand have already been sold throughout the United States and Canada. Call and See it at No. 12 MAGAZINE Street.

Agents wanted in every locality.

C. W. W. GOODWAY.

The Best and Cheapest Daily Sale of Library

GRAND CHEAP LIBRARY.

No. 2.

Choicely Illustrated Works, large 12mo, bound in Muslin and not in any other Series of Library. This Library contains over 1,000 original engravings, previously illustrated with large full page engravings and many of the subscribers will be familiar with the titles, to many of the books, as they are the most popular of the day. The price of the Library is $2 without which any magazine, consisting of 12 numbers, of the Sunday Echo, making the

Net Price for 50 Large Book only $22. 0,

The books are all different from those in No. 1, and some are larger.

Specimen pages sent for examination.

Books of the same class as those in this Library are usually sold for $1.50 to $2 each. Nothing like this Library has been offered to the public.

Each Book is complete in itself.

PUBLISHED BY THE

American Sunday School Union,

Publication rooms, 1122 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. ALEX. KING, Publisher.

For sale and exhibition at Bible House, New York; U. S. Sunday School Depository, 1122 Chestnut street, Philadelphia; 26 Bromfield street, Boston; 66 Madison street, Chicago; 9 S. Sixth street, St. Louis; 58 Carondelet street, New Orleans.

TO THE PUBLIC.

A SOUTHERN PATENT for sale or exchange for machinery. Address, Agent, 10 Bienville street, New Orleans. Per order of Board of Trustees of Grand Bank, St. James parish, Louisiana. Specimen of work and terms can be seen at the office of the Agent, 10 Bienville street, New Orleans.

THE DULY AUTHORIZED AGENT of the best wing manufacturers and Grand Bank of Louisiana

CAMPBELL'S
CAMP STOOL AND CHAIR,
FOLDING CHAIR,
U. S. PATENTED,
And other others.
EDMOND ROUSSEL,
No. 1 Carondelet street.

H. J. RIVET,

DEALER IN

Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines,

AND PERFUMERY, AND IMPORTER OF FRENCH PROPRIETARY MEDICINES,

Cor. Bienville and Chartres Sts.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Proprietor of the celebrated Cleveland Bitters.

CHAIR WAREHOUSE.

CARPET RENOVATED,
CANE SEAT CHAIRS,
also CAMP CHAIRS, BASINET CHAIRS, FOLDING CHAIRS,
etc.

Specialties
BATHS for the HEAD,
BED RAILS, SPRINGS,
CASTERS, Sidebars,
etc., Wholesale and Retail.

J. H. WISLER,
708 & 710 N. Sixth St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Piles! Piles!! Piles!!!

INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL BLIND, Bleeding and Itching, positively perfectly and permanently cured by absorption. The cure is absolutely perfect and permanent. We use neither caustics nor instruments, and the cure is painless. We can refer to thousands of the very best people in Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Pittsburg, and in every State in the Union.

W. A. & W. H. McCANDLESS,
2001 Arch Street,
Philadelphia Pa.

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENTS WANTED.

Goodyear's Pocket Gymnast,

The most complete system of physical exercise ever offered to the public. Designed for the use of men, women, children, boys, young men, office-seekers, invalids, hospitals; Price, Nos. 1 and 2, $1.50; No. 3, $2; No. 4, $2.50; No. 5, $3; No. 6, $4; No. 7, $5; No. 8, $6; No. 9, $7; No. 10, $8; No. 11, $9; No. 12, $10. Sent by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Exclusive agencies granted to responsible parties.

Experienced agents wanted for the Pocket Gymnasium, to whom liberal terms will be given. Send for circulars, testimonials, etc. Address

Goodyear Rubber Corset Company,
No. 1 Broadway, New York.
Sole Manufacturers of RUBBER GOODS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

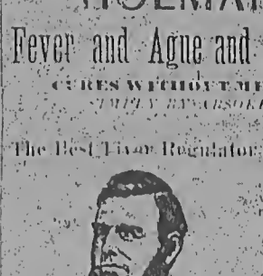
HOLMAN'S

Fever and Ague and Liver Pad

CURES WITHOUT MEDICINE.

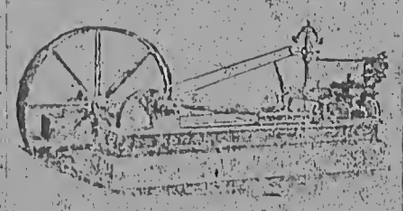
SAFELY BY ABSORPTION.

The Best Time Regulator in the World.



TRADE MARK.

For sale by all druggists at retail at the following Prices: $2 and $3.



STEAM ENGINES,

BOILERS & MACHINERY

OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS

L. & E. GREENWALD,

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Have always on hand a large assortment of Second-hand Machinery, which we offer at low prices. Correspondence solicited. Buyers, please call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere.

20,000

ORANGE TREES!

W. R. STUART,

OCEAN SPRINGS, MISS.

KING SOLOMON

AND THE

IRON WORKER.

The finest Masonic Engraving ever offered for sale, published illustrating a tradition of the Dedication of the Great Temple at Jerusalem and its Outlines. From the Original Painting by Prof. C. Schnessele.

ENGRAVED BY JOHN SARTAIN.

Chief of Art Bureau Centennial Exhibition.

It is of peculiar interest to Masons as its relation to the work of their ancient brethren.

We want a Few Right Hustlers to act as Agents.

It is Sartain's best work, and we think the finest engraving we have ever seen.—Missouri Republican, Cincinnati, O.

It is a perfect gem of art.—Keystone, Philadelphia.

For terms, territory, and circulars, with full information for this and other engravings, address

BRADLEY & CO.,
66 N. Fourth St., Philadelphia.

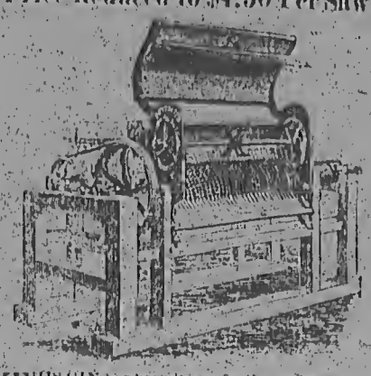
MACHINERY, TIES, ETC.

DANIEL PRATT'S IMPROVED

"Revolving Head" Cotton Gin.

PATENTED JULY 15, 1873.

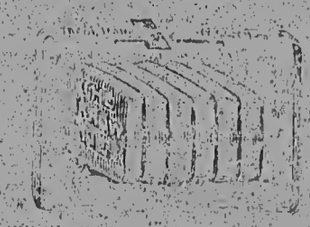
Price Reduced to $4.50 Per Saw.



THIS GIN has been in use for the past three seasons, and several recent improvements have been added. It obviates all friction at the ends of the roll in box, prevents the cott from Breaking, and gives a Larger Yield of Lint from the same Amount of Seed than any other Gin in use. The Revolving Head lightens the draft and causes the saw to run faster with less driving power, thus doing a great deal more work within the same time while consuming less or no fuel power than any other Gin. The seed in ginning is very close, the length of the staple is increased, producing cotton on this account of a greater market value. This improved gauge, given by length of staple, with extra production of lint added to increased amount of work done, more than covers the cost of the Gin over others, by bales ginned. Testimonials sent by mail on application.

JOS. B. WOLFE & CO.,
GENERAL AGENTS,
59 ..... Carondelet St. 59
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

BEN. F. WOLFE,
AGENT FOR THE STATE OF TEXAS,
22 ..... Main Street 22
HOUSTON, TEXAS.



OFFICE OF THE

American Cotton Tie Co.,

LIMITED.

17 CARONDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS

TO DEALERS IN

IRON COTTON TIES,

Planters and Country Merchants Generally.

We beg to inform you that we have prepared, through our resident agent, this book A Caution to offer the trade to any quantity with the following schedule of Prices:

THE ALLOW AND STEEL-LOCK.
BEARD & BRO.'S LOCK TIE.
BRANCH, CROOKS & CO.'S LOCK TIE.

We also beg to inform the public that the interests of Messrs. Beard & Bro., and Branch, Crooks & Co. are represented in and with the AMERICAN COTTON TIE CO. (LIMITED.) The following are the No. 1 Agents in Texas:

Stone & Tait ..... Galveston.
Grimm & Bro. ..... Victoria & Rockland.
William Dillon ..... D. L. Bankhead & Co.

For the American Cotton Tie Co. (Limited.)

R. W. RAYNE, Secretary.
New Orleans.

Bricks! Bricks! Bricks!

ROY'S BRICK YARD,

ST. BERNARD PARISH, four Bricks below the Shanklin House.

The undersigned respectfully informs builders, planters, and the inhabitants of Jefferson and St. Bernard parishes, that he has established himself in the above line in his old Brick Yard near the Slaughter-house, where he has always on hand a large quantity of Common and Pressed Bricks, and Arch Bricks, ready to be delivered without detention.

FREDERIC ROY.

Orders left with S. Roy, at C. Dreyer & Son's Agents, No. 43 Decatur street, near the Brick Yard, will be promptly attended to.

PLASTER PARIS MODELS FOR

Drawing Classes.

BUSTS, MASKS, ANTIQUITIES FROM THE Antique, Hands, Feet, Animals, etc.

Discount to the Trade.

Lectures on the Human Head.
Anatomy of the Cat Model.
Ornamental Vases of Antique.
Hands, Feet and Arms.
Busts, Heads, Figures, Animals.
Fruit and Flowers in Relief.
Large assortment of Heads and Busts.

Send for Catalogue and Price List. Orders executed and sent by mail or express. Terms cash. Goods packed and sent only per order. Catalogues sent to Colleges, Academies and Schools free of charge.

RICHARD & BROTHER,
Plaster Cast Manufacturers,
No. 4 Dey street, New York.

CHALLENGE STEAM POWER PRESS

ELECTRO & STEREO TYPE FOUNDRY.

WOOD ENGRAVING AND PRINTING.

CAMPBELL & CO., 10, 12 & 14 Spruce St., Cor. Gold, New York.

Presses and Printing Material.

SURE SHOT VER with Exterminator for Roaches, Ants, Bed Bugs, Rats, and Mice. Put up by mail on receipt of 50 cents each.

W. H. TIEFFENBERG,
No. 1050 Second street, New York.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.

Established in 1837.

Manufacture a Superior Quality of Bells for Churches, Schools, Farms, Factories, Court Houses, Fire Alarms, Plantations, Chimes or Peals. Warranted satisfactory. Prices and Circulars sent free.

VANDUZEN & TIFT, Cincinnati, O.

75 VISITING CARDS, no 2 alike, 1 name, 1 pack, 4 names, $1. 30 cts. and a 3ct. stamp. Prettiest assortment you ever saw. No better work in the world, at any price! Common Cards at Unheard-of-rates. Write plain. W. C. CANNON, 712 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

TEACHERS WANTED—To supply vacancies in Schools, Academies, and Seminaries in the different States. Send for "Mutual Plan." Address American Educational Union, 547 Broadway, N. Y.

New Orleans Markets.

ADVOCATE OFFICE,
New Orleans, Tuesday, Nov. 7, 1876.

MONETARY.

The excitement incident to the election has prevailed to such an extent as to almost suspend business in this department, and transfers of currency and stocks have been effected only to the extent demanded by the exigencies of the hour. Confidence in the near future unshaken, as prices of stocks and bonds indicate. Quotations are as follows: Exceptional paper, 9 per cent. per annum; A1 paper, 10@12 per cent. per annum; Second-grade paper, 15@18 per cent. per annum; A1 mortgage paper, 9@10 per cent per annum. Canal railroad stock, 93 bid per share; Citizens Bank, 70 bid per share; Germania National Bank, 120 bid per share.

EXCHANGE.—New York bank sight, ¼ per cent. discount. London, 60 days, 528½. Gold, 110⅝@110½.

SUGAR AND MOLASSES.—As the cool weather period approaches shipments of these products increase, and the operators are preparing for the usual combat at the sugar landing. A prosperous year to them as well as to our hard-working friends in the country. Quotations, with market, firm:

GENERAL MARKET.

We are indebted to Messrs. Miller, Dothonte & Co., for the following provisions circular:

NEW ORLEANS, November 2, 1876.

DEAR SIR: The stock of bacon and bulk meats is light, and especially so of dry salted shoulders and sides, which are generally in larger demand and consumption here than any of the other products of the hogs. Dry salted shoulders are preferred the year round, and the newly-cured fresh lots sell at higher prices than old meats in summer and winter, but dry salted clear, and clear rib sides, mostly during the winter months, as will be seen by the quotations we give below. Dry salted shoulders sell as well loose as packed. But in dry salted sides a difference of ½c@¾c more is made when packed in boxes, half-casks, or casks of good countenage. Bacon should be packed, whether in boxes, half-casks, or casks of good countenage, as shipped loose is objectionable here. The average monthly capacity of this market at present is as follows:

MONTHLY CAPACITY.
Pork in barrels	bbls	7,500
Bacon, sides, and shoulders	casks	1,100
Dry salted sides and shoulders	lbs	1,500,000
Hams, mostly canvassed	tierces	1,200
Refined and packers' lard	tierces	2,000
Refined and packers' lard	kegs	3,000

The stock on hand to-day is as follows: 2,200 barrels of pork, 500 casks of bacon, sides and shoulders, 85,000 pounds of dry salted meats, 200 tierces of hams, 1,301 tierces of lard, 1,500 kegs of lard.

News from the "Jetties" are favorable, and it is believed there will be plenty of water, at both passes at the mouth of the Mississippi river, in a few weeks, which will give this port important facilities for the cheap handling of produce, and the Western packers will find here soon an unlimited market for the disposition of their surplus hog products.

COTTON.

The following tables, if closely noticed, will show the movement daily and indicate the feeling here, in Liverpool and New York. The sales in Liverpool foot up the largest for many weeks, reaching 125,000 bales.

DAILY EXCHANGE QUOTATIONS.

Day.	Low Ordinary	Ordinary	Good Ordinary	Low Middling	Middling	Good Middling
Wednesday	9¾	10⅝	11	11⅜	11⅝	11⅞
Thursday	10⅛	11	11⅜	11⅝	11⅞	12
Friday	10⅝	11⅜	11⅝	11⅞	12	12⅛
Saturday	10⅝	11⅜	11⅝	11⅞	12	12⅛
Monday	10⅝	11⅜	11⅝	11⅞	12	12⅛
Tuesday

DAILY QUOTATIONS AT THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT MARKETS.

Class—Middling.

	Mobile.	Galveston.	Memphis.
Wednesday	10⅜	10⅜	10⅜
Thursday	10⅝	10⅝	10⅝
Friday	11@11⅛	11	10⅝
Saturday	11⅛	11⅛	11⅛
Monday	11@11⅛	11⅛	11⅛
Tuesday			11⅛

DAILY MOVEMENT OF NEW ORLEANS, NEW YORK AND LIVERPOOL MARKETS.

Day.	Total.	Sales.	Market.	Price.	Sales.	Market.	Price.
Wednesday	3,383			Middling			Middling
Thursday	9,840	Strong.	Firm.	11⅝	15,000	Active.	6 7-16
Friday	11,521	Active.	Firm.	11⅝	15,000	Excited.	6 7-16
Saturday	6,761	Strong.	Firm.	11⅝	15,000	Buoyant.	6 7-16
Monday	4,570	Quiet.	Firm.	11⅝	15,000	Advance.	6 7-16
Tuesday	6,981	Quiet.	Firm.	11 3-16	15,000	Firm.	6⅜
Total	43,054	7,283			125,000

	Receipts.	Sales.	Stock.
Wednesday	4,000	4,000	43,000
Thursday	4,000	4,000	43,000
Friday	4,000	4,000	43,000
Saturday	4,000	4,000	43,000
Monday	4,000	4,000	43,000
Tuesday	4,000	4,000	43,000
Total	24,000	24,000

COTTON STATEMENT.

	Bales.
Stock at all the United States ports	661,897
Stock at New Orleans	176,505
Net receipts at New Orleans	241,937
Net receipts last year	208,513
Increase	33,444
Net receipts at all ports of the United States	1,039,721
Net receipts last year	891,137
Increase	157,583
Stock in Liverpool	474,000
Of which American	160,000
World's cotton supply, November 3	2,085,728
Last Year, same date	2,030,946

Report of Dealers' Cash Prices

AT WHICH

COUNTRY ORDERS CAN BE FILLED

REVISED AND CORRECTED WEEKLY.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

ARTICLES.	FROM	TO
Cotton scrapers	$4 00	— —
Cotton sweeps	3 00	4 50
Cultivators, plant, and shovel tooth	6 25	9 00
Cultivators, riding and walking	20 00	35 00
Shovels and spades	0 35	14 00
Axes	9 50	13 00
Shovel plows	3 00	5 50
Half do., with colters	6 00	8 00
Mann's adoddle-shovel plow	5 00	7 00
Straub's corn mills	115 00	280 00
Corn mills, Coleman's	120 00	425 00
Hall, West's corn mill	200 00	— —
Tennard's corn and pea planter	15 00	— —
Cotton planter	15 00	— —
Wagons, Carts, Etc.:
Wagon, two-horse	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	100 00	115 00
Wagon, two-horse, thimble skein	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	90 00	100 00
Cane wagon	— —	200 00
Ox wagon	80 00	125 00
Ox cart, complete	115 00	— —
Cane cart	110 00	115 00
Tongue cart, complete	— —	120 00
Plantation cart	— —	85 00
Bagasse cart	65 00	75 00
Iron, Bills:
Sweden, assorted	7	7½
Hoop	4½	7½
Sheet	4½	7
Nail rods	9	14
Castings, American	4½	5½

BUILDING MATERIAL.

Bricks, ₱ 1,000:
Lake	10 50	14 00
Country	9 00	10 00
English fire	45 00	47 00
Lime, ₱ bbl.:
Western	1 50	1 75
Cement	2 00	2 25
Plaster Paris	2 25	2 50
Lumber, ₱ 1,000 feet:
Flooring, dressed	16 00	18 00
Flooring, rough	— —	16 00
Ceiling, dressed	10 00	12 00
Weatherboards, dressed	14 00	16 00
Weatherboards, rough	— —	— —
Scantling	10 00	12 00
Shingles, ₱ 1,000	— —	3 75
Nails, best brands	3 20	— —
Smaller sizes proportionately higher	— —	— —
Glass, ₱ box of 50 feet:
French, 8 by 10	— —	3 50
French, 10 by 12	3 75	4 00
French, 10 by 14 to 12 by 20	4 00	4 25
French, 14 by 18 to 18 by 20	4 25	4 75
White Lead, best, ₱ lb	6	10
Paris Green, ₱ lb	30	—
Pat. Dryer, ₱ lb	12	14
Whiting, ₱ lb	— —	1½
Putty, in bladders, ₱ lb	— —	4½
Linseed Oil, ₱ gall	— —	70

SASH, BLINDS AND DOORS.

Size of Sights.	Sash per pair. Unglazed.	Glazed.	Blinds per pair.
Window Sash, 12 lights:
8x10	60	$1 50	$2 00
10x12	65	1 95	2 25
10x16	$1 00	2 95	3 25

	Single.	Double.
Sash Doors:
3 feet x 7 feet	$3 50	$3 75
3 feet x 8 feet	4 50	— —
3 feet x 7 feet 6 inches	— —	4 25
Panel Doors:
2 ft. 8 in. x 7 ft. 1¾ in. thick	— —	$3 25
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1¾ in. thick	— —	3 45
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1¾ in. thick	$3 75	4 00

GROCERIES.

Butter, ₱ lb.:
Western, choice	25	28
Goshen, choice	38	40
Coffee, ₱ lb.:
100, fair	18¾	19¾
100, good	20	21
100, prime	21¾	22¾
Java, choice O. G.	— —	34
Candles, ₱ lb.:
Star, 6-1 brands	— —	15
Chocolate, ₱ lb.:
Cocoa	38	40
Sweet	48	53
Canned Fruits, ₱ doz.:
Peaches, strawberries and pears	2 25	2 50
Corn Meal, ₱ bbl.	— —	75
Cheese, ₱ lb.:
Western factory	12	14
N. Y. cream and English dairy	15	16
Fish:
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in pbls	— —	22 00
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in kits	— —	3 00
Sardines, quarter boxes	— —	15
Flour, ₱ bbl.:
Superfine	4 25	4 50
XX	5 75	6 00
XXX	6 25	6 75
Choice XXX	6 75	7 25
Choice family	7 50	8 00
Fruits:
Pineapples, ₱ lb	10	10
Dried peaches, ₱ lb	7	10
Raisins, quarter box	— —	80
Raisins, half box	— —	1 50
Raisins, ₱ whole box	— —	2 75
Bananas, ₱ bunch	1 00	3 00
Crackers, ₱ lb.:
Soda	5	6
Butter	6	7
Sugar	8	9
Gingernuts	9	12½
Oil:
Coal, in cans, best	36	38
Insurance, in cans	— —	50
Coal, in barrels, best	32	33
Lard, in barrels, best	1 10	1 12
Molasses, in barrels:
Common	— —	45
Fair	— —	50
Prime to choice	55	60
Golden and Rio	80	85
Half barrels 5c and Kegs 10c more.
Rice, Louisiana, ₱ lb.:
No. 2	— —	3
Ordinary	4½	5
Fair	5¾	6¼
Prime to choice	6¾	7¼
Soap, in boxes, ₱ lb.:
Keller's magnolia	— —	5
Keller's olive	— —	6½
Starch, ₱ lb	4	5
Salt, in sacks:
Fine	1 30	35
Coarse	1 05	1 10
Sugar, in bbls.:
Fair	— —	10¾
Prime	— —	11
Choice	10¾	11¼
Yellow clarified	11¼	11¾
White clarified	11¾	12
Crushed	12	12¾
Powdered	12	12¾
Spices, ₱ lb.:
Allspice	— —	18
Pepper	— —	20
Cloves	— —	60
Cinnamon	— —	33
Tea, ₱ lb.:
Black Oolong	— —	1 00
Green Imperial	— —	1 25
Tobacco, manufactured, ₱ lb.:
Chewing, common	45	50
Chewing, fair	50	55
Chewing, prime	60	65
Chewing, choice	85	1 00
Smoking	40	1 00
Grain and Feed.
Corn, ₱ bushel:
Yellow, choice	68	70
White, mixed	60	62½
Oats, ₱ bushel:
St. Louis	— —	61
Texas	— —	45
Galena	53	55
Bran, choice, ₱ 100 lbs	— —	80
Hay, ₱ ton:
Prime timothy	18 00	22 00
Ordinary	— —	14 00
Cotton Seed Meal	26 00	28 00
Provisions.
Bacon, ₱ lb.:
Breakfast	11¾	11¾
Sloughters	8	8¼
Sides, clear rib	9¾	10
Sides, canvassed	10¼	10¾
Hams, sugar-cured	16¾	17¾
Mess Pork, ₱ bbl.	19	19 25
Dry Salted Meats:
Sloughters	— —	8¼
Lard, ₱ lb.:
Choice, in kegs	12¾	12¾
Choice, in tierces	11¾	11¾
Baling Stuffs.
Bagging:
India	10	10¾
Jute	13¼	13¾
Ties, Arrow, best, per hundred, at 30	— —	— —
Iron and buckles	— —	3 30
Heard	— —	3 00
Twine, hemp	— —	15
Sundries.
Leather, ₱ lb.:
Sole, hemlock	27	28
Sole, oak	35	40
Harness	35	45
Calf skins, ₱ dozen	20 00	75 00
Texas, rough, ₱ lb	24	26
Fertilizers, ₱ ton:
Stern's raw-bone superphosph.	35 00	— —
Stern's fine-ground bone	45 00	— —
Cotton Seed:
In sacks	11 50	— —
Dry Goods.
Brown Domestic, ₱ yard:
Standard brands, ¾	— —	9
Standard brands, 4-4	— —	10¾
Bleached Domestic, ₱ yard:
Choice brands, ¾	— —	7¾
Choice brands, 4-4	10¾	14¾
Calico, ₱ yard:
Common brands	4½	5½
Choice brands, Allen & Hamilton	6¾	7
Ticking, ₱ yard:
Common brands	10	13½
Good	19	22
Osnaburgs:
Eight ounce	11¾	12
Stripes	10	14
Checks	14	18
Denims	17	20
Boots and Shoes.
Batchelor mud boots, ₱ doz	36 00	42 00
Common mud boots, ₱ doz	— —	30 00
Common brogans, ₱ doz	12 00	15 00
Batchelor brogans, ₱ doz	15 00	18 50
Russets' brogans, ₱ doz	16 00	19 50

Religious Notices.

To the Presiding Elders and Preachers of the Alabama Conference:

Dear Brethren. I respectfully request that those of you who will not attend the approaching session of the Annual Conference send me your names as early as practicable. Presiding Elders will please forward at once the names of lay delegates from their respective districts.

Fraternally, J. LEWIS, Jr., Acting Pastor
GREENSBORO, ALA., Oct. 17, 1876. 026-5t.

MISCELLANEOUS.

E. H. ADAMS

RESPECTFULLY ANNOUNCES THE ARRIVAL of further additions to his

ALREADY ATTRACTIVE STOCK OF

DRY GOODS, FANCY GOODS, NOTIONS, ETC.

Special attention is here made of BLACK SILKS, BLACK and COLORED CASHMERES, BASKET SUITEENS, ETC., CORSETS, BUSTLES, FELT SKIRTS, ETC., LINEN SETS, COLLARS, RUCHINGS, ETC., FANCY KNIT WOOLEN GOODS, HOSIERY, ETC.,

KID GLOVES, TIES, RIBBONS, ETC., GOODS FOR BOYS AND MEN'S WEAR, BLANKETS, FLANNELS, RUGS, MATTINGS, ETC., ETC., ETC.;

—AND—

A Choice Selection of 3-4 and 4-4 Prints.

Having commenced with bottom prices, he has no occasion to announce "GOODS MARKED DOWN."

596.....Magazine Street.....596

(Four Doors above His Old Stand.)

N. B.—Goods marked in plain figures. One price for all. No deviation.

Snyder's Curative PADS.

WORN OVER PART AFFECTED, ABSORB ALL MALARIA FROM THE SYSTEM.

They positively cure the worst cases of Liver, Lung, Heart, Kidney, Spine, Bladder and Womb ailments, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Costiveness, Soreness at pit of Stomach or Bowels, Female Weakness, Sick and Nervous Headache, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, Restlessness, etc., may be entirely eradicated by wearing one of our Pads. Many of our best citizens can attest to their merit.

The Liver and Lung Pad	$2 00
Kidney and Spinal Pad	3 00
Womb Pad for Female Weakness	3 00

☞ Ask your druggists for "Snyder's Curative Pads," and take no other, or unless the price is a better one, and we will send them by mail. Address

E. F. SNYDER & CO.,
Manufacturers and Proprietors,
Indianapolis, Ind.

☞ For sale by J. L. LYONS, New Orleans.

A General Agent wanted for each State South, with whom a liberal contract will be made to supply the wholesale and retail trade. 85-om

A Gem worth Reading!—A Diamond worth seeing!

SAVE YOUR EYES!

Restore your Sight!

THROW AWAY your SPECTACLES,

By reading our Illustrated PHYSIOLOGY AND ANATOMY of the EYE SIGHT, Tells how to Restore Impaired Vision and Overworked Eyes; how to cure Weak, Watery, Inflamed, and Near-Sighted Eyes, and all other Diseases of the Eyes.

WASTE NO MORE MONEY BY ADJUSTING HUGE GLASSES ON YOUR NOSE AND DISFIGURING YOUR FACE. Pamphlet of 100 pages Mailed Free. Send your address to us also.

Agents Wanted,

Gents or Ladies. $5 to $10 a day guaranteed. Full particulars sent free. Write immediately, to DR. J. BALL & CO., (P. O. Box 957) No. 91 Liberty St., New York City, N. Y.

Songs of Glory.

By JAS. H. FILLMORE,

has already reached the sale of over 50,000 copies. The new notation (specimen in the above cut) is heartily received as a great help to the mass of singers.

Songs of Glory

is full of sparkling gems of song, fresh and new, and must become immensely popular. Price 35 cts; $3.60 per doz. By express, $24 per 100. FILLMORE BROS., Cincinnati, O.

WOOD PUMPS

Blatchley's Standard Common and Grafton Cork Pumps, with copper lined cylinders of new styles, and all valuable improvements. Manufacturing facilities increased to meet the steady and increasing demand for the best and cheapest PUMP. SMALL. When in town call and see us or send for circular with prices and terms.

C. G. BLATCHLEY, Manuf'r,
506 COMMERCE STREET, PHILADELPHIA.

These pumps can be seen at Cotton Exhibition, Agric'l Hall, Cor. Annette and N. Columbian Lot C, No. 10.

IRA W. PORTER & CO. Agents,
Mobile, Ala.

SENT FREE,

SAMPLES OF CLOTHS, Fashion Plate, with full directions for ordering Clothing by mail, all guaranteed, by

FREEMAN & WOODRUFF
(A. Freeman, late of Freeman & Hurr)
CLOTHIERS, 211 Broadway, New York.

J. F. RANDOLPH. J. L. DUNNICA.

RANDOLPH & DUNNICA,
Commission Merchants,
59 POYDRAS STREET,
New Orleans.

Agents for Millers in St. Louis & Southern Illinois.

KEEP CONSTANTLY ON HAND ALL THE grades of Flour, kiln-dried Corn Meal, and Sprague, Allen & Hamilton ..... Cotton, Sugar, Molasses and other Consignments will have careful and prompt attention. 91-wkm

RICHARD FROTSCHER,
SEED MERCHANT,
AND DEALER IN BUIST'S WARRANTED GARDEN SEEDS,
Nos. 15 & 17 Dumaine St., New Orleans.

I am in receipt of a full stock of Seeds for Fall planting, to which I call the attention of those in need of good and reliable Seeds. Prices moderate. All communications promptly answered.

MISCELLANEOUS.

INSANITY.

PRIVATE ASYLUM
For the Insane.
CINCINNATI SANITARIUM.

SUPERIOR accommodations for all classes. Separate departments for epileptics and nervous invalids. For terms of admission and circular address W. S. CHIPLEY, M. D. Supt.
College Hill, O.

CHURCH ORGANS.

WM. H. CLARKE & CO.,
CHURCH ORGAN BUILDERS,
INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

Builders of the large Organ in Roberts Park M. E. Church, Indianapolis, and other large Organs in various parts of the United States. Specifications and details furnished to Church Committees without charge. Special facilities for the construction of instruments of every size for the southern climate. Address P. O. Box 110.

N. B.—Mr Clarke is well known as the author of popular works of Organ Music, familiar to all organists. 6m-new DRY ROGERS' in Powder.

CITRATE OF MAGNESIA.

DURING the past twenty-five years it has received universal satisfaction as a pleasant aperient. It is the best medicine for Headache, Sickness of the Stomach, Heartburn, and all complaints arising from acid in the blood, and a specific for Biliousness and Malarial fevers. It cools the blood and regulates the bowels. It is superior to Sarsaparilla and most mineral waters. For sale by all druggists. Prepared by A. Rogers & Sons, New York City. 1-new

MIAMI MEDICAL COLLEGE

OF CINCINNATI.—Next session will commence Oct. 1, 1876. Preliminary session from Sept. 15. Professors' tickets, $40.

FACULTY.—John A. Murphy, M. D., Dean; E. Williams, M. D.; Wm. Cheadroba, M. D.; Wm. H. Taylor, M. D.; J. B. Pough, M. D.; W. H. Mussey, M. D.; B. F. Richardson, M. D.; T. H. Kearney, M. D.; J. C. Mackenzie, M. D.; W. R. Davis, M. D. For circulars address WM. H. TAYLOR, M. D., No. 329 West Seventh street. 1-new

D. LANGELL'S ASTHMA & CATARRH REMEDY.

Having struggled twenty years between life and death with ASTHMA, I experimented by compounding roots and herbs and inhaling the medicine. Fortunately discovered a sure cure for ASTHMA and CATARRH. Warranted to relieve any case of Asthma instantly, so the patient can lie down to sleep. By mail, $1.00 per box. Address D. LANGELL, Apple Creek, Ohio. For sale by Druggists. 1-new

ROSE-BUDS IN WINTER.

STRONG POT ROSES, specially prepared for fall planting and quick bloom, sent safely by mail postpaid. Five splendid varieties, all labeled, for $1; 12 do. $2; 18 do. $3; 26 do. $4; 75 do. $5. For fewer plants each additional, one magnificent Premium Rose to every dollar's worth ordered. Send for our new Guide to Rose Culture, and choose from over 300 finest sorts. Address the DINGEE & CONARD CO., Rose Growers, West Grove, Chester Co., Pa. 1-new

PHILOSOPHICAL APPARATUS

—FOR—

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES.

To illustrate all departments of Physical Science.

Specialty of Sets of Apparatus for Common and Grammar Schools.

Magic Lanterns and Stereopticons.

Views from all countries and a specialty in views to illustrate Scientific Subjects.

Views made to order at reasonable prices. Lists on application. Catalogues 10c each.

JE SES. CHEYNEY
Nos. 1 and 3 Bond street, New York.
Successor to James M. Queen & Co.

CARPETS.

ELKIN & CO.,
108.....CANAL STREET.....108

ARE OFFERING NEW AND CHOICE PATTERNS IN MOQUETTE
VELVET
BRUSSELS
THREE PLY
and INGRAIN CARPETS
At Greatly Reduced Prices,
FLOOR OILCLOTHS
CORNICE AND CANE MATTINGS
CURTAIN GOODS IN REPS, TERRYS, ETC.
ENGLISH CHENILLE AND LABLE COVERS,
WINDOW SHADES NEW STYLES

DRY GOODS.

Direct from New York Market,

—AT—

New York Prices.

JOHN C. GREEN,
No. 275 Eighth Avenue, New York.

LADIES' SUITS, SACQUES, AND CLOAKS, in all the latest styles and newest fabrics.

DRESS GOODS, SHAWLS, WHITE GOODS, FLANNELS, HOSIERY, UNDERWEAR, DOMESTICS, etc. Goods sent by express C. O. D. to any part of the United States. Under-shirts and all quality, color, and price desired, with measure for same, always on hand. Samples sent free.

B. T. BABBITT'S BABY SOAP.

Only for nursery, vegetable ingredients used in its manufacture. No artificial and deceptive colors to cover common and deleterious ingredients. UNRIVALED for the Toilet and the Bath. Used in bathing children, will prevent eruptions, keep the skin soft and smooth, cure chafing in the groin, and prevent disease. Throw away with all powders, chalk, or other emollients. A certain preventive of chafing, itching, etc., in babies. The causes of half the crying and crossness of childhood. Worth ten times its cost to every mother and family in Christendom. Packed in boxes of 12 cakes of 6 ozs. each, and sent free to any address on receipt of $2.00. Address
For sale by all Druggists. B. T. Babbitt, N. Y.

FIRE! FIRE!! FIRE!!!

GUARD AGAINST IT.

THE PEOPLE'S PUMP,

With 50 feet hose, and suction pipe for well of 23 feet, for $25.

CHARLES W. KING,
27 Devonshire street, Boston.

EACH mouse caught resets the trap. The trade supplied. Sample, postpaid, by mail, 50c. STAUFFER, MACREARY & CO., 71 Canal st., New Orleans, La.

F. A. McKECHNIE,
Engraver on Wood.

OFFICES 237 Washington street and 178 Congress street, Boston. Orders by mail will receive prompt attention. Printers, send three-cent stamp for sample sheet of cuts for Cards and Envelopes.

Dr. C. B. White,
Office and Residence,
167 CANAL STREET.

SAM. HENDERSON,
Cotton Factor, Commission Merchant, and Purchasing Agent.
46 CARONDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Does business on Grange principles, and at Grange rates.

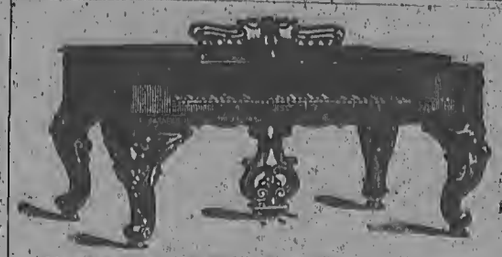
MISCELLANEOUS.

JACKSON & GALLAGHER,

PIPE ORGAN BUILDERS,

915, 917, 919, Walnut St., St. Louis, Mo.

N. B. Church Organs Tuned and Repaired. Send for Illustrated Catalogue.



My Instruments are fully guaranteed.

I AM PREPARED

To furnish all persons with Pianos, Organs, and Musical Merchandise.

You would be surprised to know how accommodating I am. If can do business with me (wherever you live), I can save you 25 to 50 per cent.

Address me direct, or through your preacher.

PHILIP WERLEIN,
NOS. 78 TO 90 BARONNE ST.,
NEW ORLEANS.

ALWAYS ASK FOR ESTERBROOK'S STEEL PENS. Works Camden, N. J. NEW-YORK OFFICE 26 John St.

LITH. ACME CO. PHILA.

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.

CAREFUL OBSERVERS

IN THE MATTER OF

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS

Will find it to their interest to examine

THE EXTENSIVE AND COMPLETE STOCK

OF

HOUSEWARE,

Of every description, kept by

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,

NO. 29 CAMP AND 116 COMMON ST.

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

And they will establish these facts:

1. OUR STOCK IS THE BEST.
2. OUR PRICES ARE THE CHEAPEST.
3. OUR METHODS ARE THE FAIREST.

With more than thirty years' experience in the Crockery trade, we claim a knowledge of the wants of this community second to no one, and can fill them better than any house in the Southwest.

Please note what a little money will do toward adding to your

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS.

$4 00 will buy a White Granite TEA SET of 44 Pieces.

$6 50 will buy a French China TEA SET, same number of pieces.

$10 00 will buy a French China Gold or Colored Band TEA SET, same number of pieces.

$18 00 will buy an elegant Porcelain Decorated equal in French China in appearance, and far more durable, DINNER SET, comprising 124 pieces, as viz:

12 Dinner Plates,	1 Soup Tureen,
12 Tea Plates,	1 Sauce Boat,
12 Soup Plates,	1 Salad Dish,
12 Preserve Plates,	2 Covered Dishes,
12 Butter Plates,	2 Vegetable Dishes,
12 Tea Cups and Saucers,	2 Pickle Dishes,
12 Dinner Coffee Cups and Saucers,	4 Meat Dishes.

$15 00 will buy the same assorted DINNER SET in the best White Granite Ware.

$4 00 will buy the best White Granite CHAMBER SET, known as 11 pieces, comprising everything but slop Jar and Foot Tub.

$1 35 per dozen will buy the best White Granite DINNER PLATES.

$1 25 per dozen will buy the best White Granite BREAKFAST PLATES.

$1 10 per dozen will buy the best White Granite TEA PLATES.

$1 00 per dozen will buy good Table GOBLETS.

$1 75 per dozen will buy the best Pressed Table GOBLETS.

75 cents will buy a beautiful Glass BERRY SET, Sugar, Cream, Butter and Spoon Holder.

Plain French Cotton DINNER SETS (first choice,) 130 pieces, $30.

Gold Band and Decorated DINNER SETS at extraordinarily low prices and everything else required for housekeeping in any style at prices within the reach of every one.

The above list contemplates first class regular goods, of good shapes and sizes, and will give entire satisfaction wherever they are placed.

Charges for packing and drayage: Dinner sets, $1; Tea sets, 50 cents.

We invite inquiries. Catalogues sent on application.

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,
No. 29 Camp street and 116 Common street,
New Orleans.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LEVY BROS.,

580 MAGAZINE ST., NEW ORLEANS

THE MOST POPULAR

DRY GOODS HOUSE

IN NEW ORLEANS.

Keep constantly on hand a select stock of STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS, consisting of Bleached and Unbleached Cottons, Calicoes, Flannel, Dress Goods, Hosiery, Corsets, Ribbons, Cassimeres, Delaines, Mermoes, Blankets, etc.

A Specialty Made of Black Alpaca.

Our BELLA Kid Gloves are guaranteed, and money returned or another pair given in case they rip or tear while putting them on.

Orders from the country strictly attended to.

CROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE DEPOT

MOVED TO

NO. 5 CHARTRES STREET.

A NEW STOCK of the Elastic Stitch and Lock Stitch Machines, with a complete assortment of Needles, Parts, Attachments, Silk Twist, Spool Cotton, Linen Thread, Oil, etc., just received and for sale at the lowest cash prices. The above goods are manufactured by and for the Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Company, and warranted the best in the market.

Caution to Our Patrons, Grangers and Their Agents.

There are parties here who are selling imitations of our goods, repainting and patching up old Machines to make them look like new, and selling them as such. No new goods of the above make can be purchased in New Orleans except from us, at No. 5 Chartres street. Agents wanted.

H. H. TRUE,
General Southern Agent.

RICHARD RHODES.

LATE F. CHARLEVILLE,

SPORTSMEN'S DEPOT,

55 ST. CHARLES ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Articles of All Kinds for Fishermen.

Rods, Nets, Hooks, Lines, and every desirable article for the Angler, wholesale and retail.

GUNS, RIFLES and PISTOLS of every variety and of direct importation. Also Sporting materials of all kinds, Game Bags, Shot Pouches, Flasks, and every article needed by Hunters, will be sold at the lowest prices for cash. Also the celebrated "Dead Shot" Gunpowder, Shot, Eley's Shells, Cartridges, etc., of the best quality, wholesale and retail.

R. RHODES

1877.—Postpaid.—$1.60.

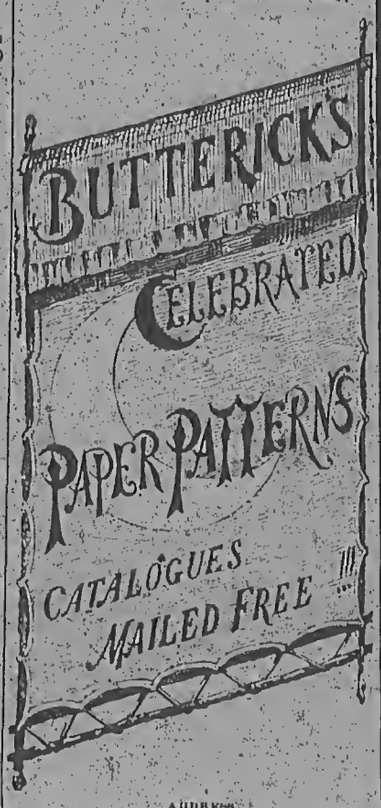
THE NURSERY.

A Monthly Magazine for Youngest Readers, SUPERBLY ILLUSTRATED. ☞ Send ten cents for a Sample Number. Subscribe NOW, 1876, and get the last two numbers of this year FREE.

JOHN L. SHOREY,
32 Brownfield street, Boston.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LATEST STYLES.



ADDRESS

The Singer Manufacturing Co.,

91.....CANAL STREET.....91

NEW ORLEANS, LA. 8p

What will the Weather BE TO-MORROW?

THE

Signal Service Barometer

WILL TELL YOU.

It will detect and indicate correctly any change in the weather 12 to 24 hours in advance. It will tell you what kind of a storm is approaching and from what quarter it comes—invaluable to navigators.

FARMERS

can plan the work according to the predictions. It will save to times its cost in a single season. There is an accurate thermometer on the bed, which alone is worth the price of the combination. Will send it express paid, to any address, on receipt of $2. Send Money Order or Registered Letter.

AGENTS WANTED. Send stamp for circular.

H. W. POOL & CO.,
835 Broadway, New York.

The Boston Traveler says: "We carefully inspected the above described Signal Service Barometer, and found it to be as stated by Messrs. Pool & Co., who are honorable and reliable." 8t

JUST ISSUED.

OUR NEW

CHURCH RECORD.

THE most complete Historical and Statistical REGISTER ever issued, comprising a General Index; Alphabetical Register for Church Members; Register of Official Members, of Baptisms, Marriages and Deaths; Register of Annual, Quarterly and Church Conferences; Tables for Church Collections; and an Annual Summary of the Yearly Work, and Condition of the Church.

The Register contains about 250 pages

The Christian Advocate.

PUBLISHED BY ROBT. J. HARP, FOR THE ALABAMA, MISSISSIPPI AND LOUISIANA CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH SOUTH.

VOL. 22. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1876. NO. 46.

WAITING.

Do the lilies know, when they open bud,
That they have not a leaf to wear?
Or the grass, when the wind and rain
Fall at her matted hair?

Do the little brooks struggle and moan
When the ice has frozen their feet?
Or the moss turn gray as a stone,
Because of the cold and sleet?

Do the buds that the leaves left bare,
To strive with their wintry fate,
In a moment of deep despair
Destroy what they cannot create?
Oh, nature is teaching us there
To patiently wait and wait.

Transcript.

News of the Week.

DOMESTIC.

LOUISIANA, TEXAS, Nov. 9.—A sixteen block, embracing thirteen stores, burned here last night. Two-thirds of the stocks were saved in a damaged conditions. The loss is about $28,000. Only five were insured, and their loss ($15,000) will be nearly covered. The buildings were old and almost valueless. Bricks are being hauled for a new block to replace that destroyed.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10.—The centennial closed in accordance with the programme.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The following gentlemen have consented to go to Florida to be present at the counting of the votes in that State: Manton Marble, W. E. Niblock, Senator Wm. Eaton, Gen. W. B. Franklin, of Connecticut; Hon. L. O. Saltonstall, of Massachusetts; J. O. Broadhead, of Missouri; J. B. Reed, S. J. Brownsend and Sollars, of Pennsylvania.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Dispatches received by the National Democratic committee last night, from New Orleans, say the situation is unchanged.

The Herald still gives Hayes the second votes and Tilden 181, with one doubtful. It says, referring to the doubtful States, as far as additional and failed returns go, they point, as before, to Democratic success.

The Herald's New Orleans special of the twelfth says: United States Marshal Pitkin telegraphed Gen. B. F. Butler to-night, soliciting his presence here, and thinks he will come.

The Times says its dispatches from Florida, Louisiana and South Carolina confirm previous reports that they have all been carried by the republicans.

The Times' Washington dispatch says: Gen. Sherman had an interview with the President on Sunday last in reference to the movement of troops.

Gen. Sheridan left Chicago on Sunday night, under orders to take command at New Orleans, and make such disposition of the troops as will secure republic peace in any emergency.

The Times dispatch quotes Secretary Cameron: "The action of the President in the premises has been taken to insure a fair return, to furnish the people of the country with satisfactory evidence that the verdict of Tuesday, whatever it may be, is declared, has been free from fraud."

SAVANNAH, Nov. 13.—There is a very large fire in the depot cotton-yard of the Georgia Central railroad. A warehouse, twenty empty cars and about one thousand bales of cotton are already burned. The fire is still burning, and the wind is high in the direction of some ten thousand bales. The white and colored people are working shoulder to shoulder in their efforts to save it. The fire has been burning since 8 10 last night.

Total interments to day three, of which two were from yellow fever.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The Attorney General of Florida has telegraphed to Baltimore stating that Tilden's majority there is 1,200.

Senator Gordon telegraphs from Georgia that Tilden has carried North Carolina.

Ex-Attorney General Williams, Congressman elect Brown, of Indiana, and other prominent Republicans concede Tilden's election. The news is quiet.—Picayune.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13, 2:00, M.—A telegram received from the United States marshal of Charleston says: Hampton's majority is 1,500, and Tilden's 1,000."

Col. Lafitte, formerly of the Charleston Courier, telegraphs: "South Carolina is unmistakably democratic."—Picayune.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 13. The State Board of Canvassers will reconvene to-day. They say not more than two-thirds of the counties have been heard from officially, and will not give figures from those. Democrats claim theirs from one representative on each board of managers. No doubt of the election of the Democratic State ticket. Tilden is claimed by a small majority.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 13.—Semi-official returns from all the counties in Ohio show a majority for Hayes of 7,332.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13.—Official returns from 55 counties gives Hayes a majority of 1,490. Eleven counties to be heard from, which in 1872 gave 61 Republican majority.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The Times' Vienna dispatch says: Russia is having further difficulties regarding the line of demarkation. She now proposes an arrangement compelling the Turks to quit the valley of the Morava.

The Press Association is informed that the African explorer Gordon intends to continue his explorations in consequence of having discovered a branch of the White Nile, which may possibly enable him to avoid the rapids which hitherto barred his progress, and open a water communication from Victoria Nyanza to Khartoom.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The Times dispatch from Berlin says: A preliminary conference will meet at Constantinople shortly to arrange the peace programme which is to be discussed and settled by the second and more formal conference. The negotiations are proceeding favorably.

The Russian minister of finance has drawn up a report on the finances of the empire, in which he strongly deprecates war.

American coin to the amount of $225,000 was withdrawn from bank yesterday for New York.

The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Telegraph reports Russia as yielding consent to the English proposal that all future action be decided by the conference, and shall respect the territorial integrity of Turkey. This assent was obtained by the friendly but firm attitude of England.

Rev. Samuel Waddy, D. D., who was made president of the Wesleyan Methodist Conference in 1874, is dead.

CALCUTTA, Nov. 9.—The district of Backergunge was ravaged by a cyclone on Tuesday last. A thousand native houses were destroyed. The town of Dowlutkhin was submerged by a wave, and five thousand are believed to have perished.

BOMBAY, Nov. 9.—The Times of India announces that relief works have been established in the Sholapore district, where the Times, on the sixth instant, reported there were prospects of a famine, and forty-five thousand of the inhabitants have been in employment.

CRONSTADT, Nov. 9.—This port and roadstead is ice-bound, and navigation stopped. The River Divina is frozen, and navigation closed. The River Neva is also choked with floating ice from Lake Ladoga.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—The Post publishes an official announcement of Russia's formal acceptance of the English proposal for a conference at Constantinople, on the basis of the integrity and independence of Turkey. The proposal, as accepted by Russia, includes the condition that the powers jointly and severally renounce all intention of aggrandizement.

LONDON, Nov. 11. A dispatch to the Exchange Telegram Company, from St. Petersburg, says: The Golos publishes a speech delivered by the Czar in Moscow yesterday, in reply to an address of citizens. The Czar said during his entire reign his energies have been directed to maintain right and justice for the Eastern Christians; unfortunately his efforts have been in vain. A conference of the powers is now about to meet at Constantinople. Russia would maintain her demands now, as the presence would compel Russia to take arms; in that event he reckoned on the support of his subjects. The speech was received with enthusiastic cheers.

ROME, Nov. 12. Cardinal Simeoni, recently Papal Nuncio at Madrid, has been appointed successor of Cardinal Antonelli as Secretary of State to the Pope.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Dispatches from Calcutta estimate the loss of life by the cyclone at forty thousand. Calcutta itself narrowly escaped.

The reports of famine from Bombay are worse. A water famine is feared in some districts.

The Berlin correspondent of the Times says: Russian papers abound with warlike reports. It is announced that Russia is likely to obtain from Holland money for a large amount of railway shares.

The Vienna correspondent of the Times confirms the report that the Servian army is to be mobilized in a few days. Russia will send a note to the powers that the reforms demanded by all can only be fulfilled by Turkey if Russia is prepared to defend them.

The Standard's dispatch from Berlin says the Czar's speech has produced a most startling impression in political circles there.

The Czar's speech in Moscow, on Friday last, has a depressing effect on the Stock Exchange.

A heavy gale prevailed on the coast on Saturday and Sunday nights. A number of ship disasters reported.

From the Work.

MR. EDITOR: The following is the annual report of the Ladies' Wesleyan Society, Methodist Episcopal Church South, Jackson, Miss., for the fiscal year ending November 9, 1876:

Cash on hand, November 9,	$ 48 25
Receipts for work,	31 00
Receipts for honorary members,	25 00
Receipts for donations,	30 00
Receipts for dues,	151 00
Total,	$285 25
Amount expended,	285 25
Amount outstanding debts,	100 00

Officers.—Mrs. Thos. Green, president; Mrs. William J. Brown, vice president; Mrs. John T. Buck, treasurer; Mrs. E. R. Steadman, secretary.

Number of active members, 9.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. E. R. STEADMAN, Sec.

The foregoing report is sent to you for publication in accordance with a resolution adopted by our Church Conference on last Sabbath.

This society was organized on the twenty-eighth day of August, 1874, for the purpose of supplying the wants of the parsonage, and to promote sociability among the ladies of the church. The total receipts since its organization are sixteen hundred and nine dollars and five cents, all of which have been judiciously expended for the benefit of the parsonage.

The society is conducted about as follows: The ladies meet together on a stated evening in each week, at the residence of some one of the members—alternating as circumstances may dictate—and make reports of what each one has accomplished during the past week—that is, the work done, the amounts received for donations, dues, honorary members, etc.—and also to supply the necessary wants of the parsonage, and to make up a programme of operations for the ensuing week, which they generally endeavor to carry out. They take an active interest in the workings of the society, and seem to vie with each other in promoting and building up their good "work of love," which shall stand as a monument to their memory and as an example for generations yet unborn. Truly, it may be said of them: "They do all they can."

We hope this report of the Wesleyan Society of Jackson, Miss., will be an encouragement to our ladies everywhere, and that they will immediately go to work and organize similar societies throughout all of our Conferences. The good that they may thereby accomplish can only be estimated by eternity itself.

Very respectfully,

H. H. HIXIS,
Church Conference.

MOSS POINT, MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE—Mr. Editor: In the three districts embraced in this circuit the various interests have been steadily progressive throughout the year. Within the bounds of the work this year there have been three distinctive revivals, at which over seventy additions up to this date will have been made by profession and seventy-five by certificate. The amounts assessed to us for Bishops' and Conference claimants have been fully met. Of the $75 missionary money apportioned to this charge, $50 are in hand, part of which was raised by our juvenile missionary society at Moss Point. On the principle of financial support we will come up to Conference with our full pro rata.

Will you permit me to say in this connection, we record an interesting incident which occurred at the parsonage recently. Two weeks since the ladies of my congregation contrived and executed a very agreeable surprise donation party, by which the contents of our store room and wardrobe were enhanced in value about $50. In connection therewith an elegant supper was contributed, which was gracefully served by a committee of ladies, and much enjoyed by all the visitors.

A. McCAUGHAN.

MR. EDITOR: We have closed our protracted meetings on the Raleigh circuit. We have had a glorious success this year in swelling our numbers. If the reception of members into the church, though we have had some glorious revivals on the circuit, and we have baptized all the Methodist children in the bounds of the circuit. Finances are very low; claims not met, and I do not think they will be met by Conference. There have been some twenty-five conversions, and over one hundred penitents at our altars.

JOHN H. EVANS, P. C.

CLOSE COMMUNION.—The latest argument for close communion runs thus: "Those who oppose close communion overlook the fact that Christians do not commune with each other, but with the Lord."

The object, then, of close communion is to prevent all Christians, outside of the Baptist Church, from "communing with the Lord." Semel insanivimus omnes.

EZRA.

The American Colonization Society expected to send a company of some thirty or forty emigrants to Liberia, November 1, by the bark Jasper. The people are from Columbia, S. C., Wilmington, N. C., Philadelphia and New York. Among the passengers on board were the Rev. Bishop Haven, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who visits the west coast of Africa by appointment, to preside at the Liberia Conference, which takes place in Monrovia, in January; Rev. J. T. Gracey, of the Genesee Conference; and Rev. Mr. Day, of the Muhlenberg mission in Liberia.

CONFERENCE SESSIONS.

CONFERENCE.	PLACE.	BISHOP.	TIME.
Denver	Colorado Springs	Marvin	Aug. 25
Western	Nebraska City	McTyeire	Aug. 30
St. Louis	Washington	McTyeire	Sept. 6
Missouri	Hannibal	McTyeire	Sept. 13
Kentucky	Nicholasville	Keener	Sept. 13
Columbia	Corvallis, Ore.	Marvin	Sept. 13
W. Virginia	Churchtown	Kavanaugh	Sept. 20
Illinois	Jacksonville	Pierce	Sept. 20
S. W. Missouri	Miami	McTyeire	Oct. 4
Tennessee	Columbia	Keener	Oct. 4
Louisville	Louisville	Wightman	Oct. 4
Pacific	San Francisco	Marvin	Oct. 11
Indian Mission	Vinita, Ind. T.	McTyeire	Oct. 12
Holston	Bristol	Wightman	Oct. 18
Arkansas	Yellville	Keener	Oct. 18
Los Angeles	S. Bernardino	Marvin	Oct. 20
West Texas	Seguin	Doggett	Oct. 25
Central Miss.	Grassy Fork	Doggett	Nov. 1
N. W. Texas	Calvert	Doggett	Nov. 8
North Texas	Longview	Doggett	Nov. 15
Memphis	Memphis	Pierce	Nov. 15
Virginia	Richmond	Kavanaugh	Nov. 15
N. Mississippi	Sarilla	Pierce	Nov. 22
Texas	Huntsville	Doggett	Nov. 29
N. Carolina	Greensboro	Kavanaugh	Nov. 29
Wilmington	Kenansville	Keener	Nov. 29
Mississippi	Natchez	Wightman	Nov. 29
Alabama	Greensboro	Pierce	Dec. 6
N. Georgia	Sparta	Pierce	Dec. 6
S. Georgia	Sandersville	Pierce	Dec. 13
S. Carolina	Chester	Kavanaugh	Dec. 13
N. Alabama	Decatur	McTyeire	Dec. 14
Little Rock	Arkadelphia	Keener	Dec. 13
Louisiana	Trenton	Wightman	Dec. 13
East Texas	Henderson	Doggett	Dec. 13
Florida	Monticello	Pierce	Jan. 11
Baltimore	Alexandria	Kavanaugh	Mar.

Assassins Apprehended.

REMORSEFUL ARREST OF THE MURDERERS OF THOMAS C. WEST.

Several gentlemen from Woodville, Miss., who arrived last night, via Bayou Sara, on the Gov. Allen, report that three negroes were arrested in West Feliciana, charged with the assassination of Capt. Thomas C. West, the candidate on the Democratic ticket for sheriff. It is said that these negroes confessed that they were instigated to commit the deed by E. L. Weber, Radical candidate for senator. The gentlemen stated that E. L. Weber was fortified in his house, in Bayou Sara, with a garrison of about eighty negroes, but that the troops would aid, if necessary, in effecting his arrest.

Thomas C. West was assassinated on last Saturday night, at what is called the "Star Hill" plantation, in lower West Feliciana. He was on his way with a party, composed of the members of his club, to attend a Democratic procession, and was shot by parties who lay in ambush. He expired the day before the election. Capt. West was, at the time of his death, in the prime of life, and the head of quite a large family.

He was a man of most estimable qualities, admired and respected by almost every member of the community. He was a type of the true Southern man, brave to a fault, generous and hospitable, courteous to all, a firm friend, and a magnanimous enemy. The dastardly murder of this gallant man excited almost beyond endurance the oppressed and long suffering whites, but their just desire for vengeance against the perpetrators of this foul crime was restrained, and the election passed off quietly and peaceably. The vote was the largest ever polled in the parish, and the Democrats elected their candidates by over four hundred majority. At length West Feliciana is rescued from the grasp of the Radicals and given a hope of prosperity in the future. The assassination of Capt. West is but one of a series of murders of white men which have been perpetrated in the parish since reconstruction. In 1868 Mr. Winter, a prominent lawyer and highly respected citizen, was shot down on the very threshold of his home; and it is but a few months ago, since, by a happy chance, was prevented the massacre of several white families.

Capt. West was among those residents of West Feliciana who were recently dragged from their homes by deputy marshals on a most frivolous charge, gotten up by the Radicals to make political capital.—New Orleans Picayune, November 10.

To the Members of the Mississippi Conference.

Members attending the Conference, which will convene at Natchez, November 29, will please report themselves at Donaldson & Co.'s book store, on Main street.

The Pargoud leaves Vicksburg on Monday afternoon at about five o'clock, and the Natchez at the same hour on Tuesday. The one usually reaches the city of Natchez during the morning of Tuesday, and the other early on Wednesday night.

In coming up the Lee arrives at Natchez on Wednesday night, and the Katie on Tuesday evening.

Members of examining committees, by taking the Pargoud above and the Katie below, may reach Natchez in time for afternoon and night work on Tuesday. To be in Natchez early on Tuesday morning one must leave points above on the Friday previous, and points below on Saturday.

These packets usually carry members of Conference at half fare. The Mobile and Ohio, the Vicksburg and Meridian, and the New Orleans, St. Louis and Chicago railroad companies have each been requested to pass members both ways for one fare; to which request we expect response in accordance with their usual liberality. Members and delegates who do not expect to attend Conference will confer a favor by informing the undersigned of that fact.

W. L. C. HUNNICUTT.

NATCHEZ, November 10, 1876.

German Mission Conference.

MR. EDITOR: The German Mission Conference convened at Grassy Fork, Texas, November 2, Bishop D. S. Doggett presiding. He enjoyed the best of health, and did excellent work. Both in the chair and pulpit he was more than equal to the occasion. Dr. A. H. Redford accompanied the Bishop. We could not want a better connectional officer than the doctor. His talks are pertinent and impressive. J. B. A. Ahrens was elected secretary. The collections for the Bishops' fund and missions exceeded our apportionment. Nearly all the brethren reported improvement and increase. Peace and good will prevailed. Five brethren of the Methodist Episcopal Church (North) were introduced to the Conference. The action of the Joint Commission was duly indorsed. At the same time the German brethren of the Methodist Episcopal Church, North, by resolution, were asked not to molest us any longer with overtures for organic union with them, we being perfectly content with our present church relations. Next year the Conference will meet in Dryades Street Church, in New Orleans. By resolution Bro. Harp is requested to keep on hand a large supply of German books, in order that our brethren may have their orders filled at his Book Depot. Early on Monday morning the Bishop read out the

APPOINTMENTS.

Houston District, Fr. Nordenhaum, P. E.; Houston station, John Prinzing; Houston mission, C. A. Grote; Galveston mission, F. A. G. Bahe; Bellville mission, H. Hass; Industry mission, J. C. Kopp, Jr.; Grassy Fork and Giddings, William Eieser; Long Prairie, to be supplied; Lake Charles, A. Schrenkeisen, principal of Houston District High School, in Industry, H. Ehers.

New Braunfels District.—J. A. Schaper, P. E.; New Fountain mission, Jacob Kern; Friedrichsburg mission, G. Buchschacher; Llano mission, F. W. Hardt; Yorktown mission, G. Mueller, supply; New Braunfels mission, J. C. Kopp, Sr.; Cibolo and Cimalapoe, Jacob Beier; Weimar, Charles Thomas.

New Orleans District.—J. B. A. Ahrens, P. E.; Dryades street, J. A. Pauly; Craps street, J. B. Az Ahrens; Soniparu street, John G. Krauter; Carrollton, C. J. Weimers; St. Tammany, Christian Evers; Mobile, to be supplied; editor of Pionier-freund, J. B. A. Ahrens.

The Methodist, speaking of the recent action of the Central New York Conference, says:

The action of the Central New York Conference upon the settlement between Northern and Southern Methodism looks like an attempt at nullification. The commissioners had full powers and made a bargain. The brethren in the Central do not like the bargain, and gravely propose to unmake it. It is not easy to characterize this action. For the present we only call attention to its effect on the few irreconcilables in the South, who will now point to these resolutions as a proof that our church is a faith-breaker.

The Cape May settlement is a bargain, which cannot be broken and made over again. It is a perfectly honorable bargain, too, and if the brethren of the Central will study it a little they will retract their nullification heresy.

DISTRICTING THE NORTHERN BISHOPS.—We do not much regret, says the Methodist, the break-down of the attempt to district the Bishops for it has practically broken down. We presume the original idea of making dioceses out of the members of the board is no longer entertained. That idea was one of the attempts to solve the diocesan problem. All that remains of it is a plan to distribute the residences of the Bishops, and we may fairly infer, from the action of the last General Conference, that a large discretion is now vested in the individual Bishops. It was not thought necessary to provide by mandatory resolutions for local supervision on the Pacific coast, and we presume it was well understood that Bishop Peck expects to end his days in Syracuse. The Conferences on the Pacific coast must, like other Conferences, themselves provide for necessary diocesan work.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.—Members of the Conference, on their arrival at Trenton, will report at J. Moore's drug store, where they will be assigned homes during the Conference session.

Those coming by the Vicksburg, Shreveport and Texas railroad will pay full fare coming, and return free on presentation of certificate to the conductor. H. O. WHITE, P. C.

TRENTON, November 10, 1876.

The Protestant pastors of Chicago have united with Messrs. Moody and Sankey in a call for a "Christian Convention," at the Tabernacle, November 22 and 23, to discuss topics in connection with the revival.

Books and Periodicals.

A HISTORY OF TEXAS. For use in schools and for general readers. By Rev. H. S. Thrall, A.M. New York: University Publishing Company, 1876.

This is a duodecimo of 225 pages, and contains a brief history of Texas from the earliest settlement to the year 1876. Mr. Thrall has enjoyed the best opportunities for obtaining reliable data, and he has given, in a condensed and compact form, the results of much industrious toil.

ROMAN HISTORY. The Early Empire. From the accession of Julius Cæsar to the downfall of Augustulus. By W. W. Capes, M.A. With two maps. New York: Scribner, Armstrong & Co.

This is one of the series entitled Epochs of Ancient History, and is one of the most interesting. It is a model of historical writing, in style, method and condensation.

—China and her Neighbors is the title of a stout pamphlet by Rev. Young J. Allen, and published at Shanghai, China, by the American Presbyterian Mission Press. It is a tract for the times, designed to promote peace and encourage progress by setting forth the motives and objects of foreigners in coming to China, and the spirit and manner in which the demands of the situation should be met by the imperial government. The work contains several neatly executed maps. The title page alone is in English, and beyond what it says we can give no account of the contents. The material is a very thin and fine rice paper, and the pages in Chinese characters are clearly and beautifully printed. We are obliged to the author for a copy. We shall keep it as an interesting and instructive curiosity.

Our Sunday school periodicals for December are very good. The illustrations and reading matter in the Visitor are unusually excellent. Altogether the Magazine, Visitor and Little People make up a rare budget of good things for the Sunday schools. We are nearing the end of the year. Let the schools not neglect to order largely and liberally for the coming year.

—Ward's Valley Monthly for October has: The Ultima Thule of Scientific Rationalists; Johnson and Goldsmith; Rambles and Ramblers Afield; Legend of Heart's Ease; The Land of Sinim; Fruits of the South, and other articles. This number closes the third volume of the Valley Monthly, and is about the best number yet issued.

—The Salutation, by L. O. Emerson, Oliver Ditson & Co., publishers, is a collection of new sacred music, consisting of hymn tunes, anthems, motets, designed for public worship. It also contains a complete system of elementary instruction, glees, four-part songs and choruses, for singing schools and musical conventions.

—The Encore, also by L. O. Emerson, Oliver Ditson & Co., publishers, is a collection of secular and sacred music, and pronounced by good judges to be a work of merit.

—The Ladies' Repository for November has among other articles of interest: Rev. John L. Smith, D. D.'s gleanings from Bossuet Literature; Genius and Precious Stones; John Wyclif, a Pioneer Reformer; Four National Emblems; Gilbert Mathier; Marquis de Lafayette; Tyrean Purple; Memories of Early Methodism.

—Wide-Awake for November, besides a great many fine pictures and interesting articles, has a pattern sheet for a doll's entire wardrobe. The little girls will go into rapture over this new feature of the Wide-Awake.

—The Aldine, part 17, has the following fine engravings: Messalina; Temporary Possession; In the Highlands of Norway; Mont St. Michel; A Public Scrivener in Tunis; The Turkish Barber; The Bryant Vase; Carved Book Cover in Boxwood; A Hard Problem.

—The Galaxy for November has: Burgoyne's Original Order Book; The American Character; Recent English Fiction; On Reading Shakspeare; What shall We Eat? Fighting by Machinery, and other articles. Scientific Miscellany in this number is particularly full and interesting.

—The Atlantic Monthly for November has: The Battles about Atlanta; In Two Worlds; Poetry at the Centennial; The Fair of Muses; Old Woman's Gossip, and other articles. Recent literature in this as in all the numbers of the Atlantic is full and discriminative.

Do not quarrel with the narrowness of the way—ye cannot afford to have it widened.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1876.

THEN AND NOW.

Here is the same old manse on,
With its quaint, moss-covered towers;
And the Sabbath sunlight streaming
On the cleam of the garden flowers

And the wind clover far in the fields
Calling to honey-bee;
And the stately, silent elms are fanned
With its mid-day breeze.

The swallows have come as of yore, fed,
From over the sultry sea,
And the cry of the quail is heard
To the lowing of the wandering kine.

The lark, as he sings,
Sings up in the deep of the sky;
But the thatch of the nest is gone, fled,
To those dear old days long by.

'Twas here that Lee came, a ruddy youth,
Like ripest ale, fleet of foot as flowers,
And her low, sweet lisping laughter
Made cricket's chirrup seem pathos to lovers.

But now, in its mound of brightness,
The place seems cold and dead;
And it feels like a book of beauty
When the light of the soul has fled.

All hushed is each lonely chamber,
That echoed to songs of old;
The ghosts are now all vacant,
And the hearths are dark and cold.

Yet the face I had here of yore, had,
No heart but mine could know,
And the glimpses of heaven she gave me
In the dear olden long ago.

But they went out from, when she left me
Mid the fades of the Autumn air;
There's a gravestone over the hills, hill—
The height of my heart as there.

Dudley's Monthly.

Our Sunday School System.

MR. EDITOR: A good friend of mine, residing in New Orleans, an able an experienced Sunday school worker, with whom I have had repeated consultations on the subject of improved methods of conducting Sunday schools, whose opinions and judgment I appreciate very highly, has called my special attention to an article in your paper of the twenty-sixth ultimo, written by Rev. T. Y. Abernethy, on the subject of introducing "Doctrinal Lectures" into our Sunday schools as a part of their weekly instruction. My friend asks me to express my views on the subject through your paper, which, with your permission, I propose briefly to do.

In the first place I wish to express my hearty appreciation of the suggestion of Bro. Abernethy, and hereby return him my thanks for the service he has rendered the cause of truth and a sound Methodistic system of religious instruction in our church schools.

As matters now stand, and as they have stood for years, we have no system of instruction worth the name. An effort was made six years ago, in the General Conference at Memphis, in accordance with a recommendation of a large and intelligent Sunday School Convention, held in the city of New Orleans, in April, 1870, by the leading Sunday school workers of our church, to introduce a well-digested system of Sunday school instruction, under a regular curriculum or course of study by which the Scriptures would be systematically studied, our peculiar doctrines set forth, and a clear and distinct system of Christianity, as held by our church, would have been set forth; but when the memorial of the convention was presented, and referred to the committee on Sunday schools, that committee seemed to be so occupied with the new scheme of the "International Lessons" that the memorial was thrown aside and scarcely noticed. Now what have we as a result?

1. We have no system at all. We have the International Lessons gotten up by members of one of the Calvinistic churches, and put into our hands, as Methodists, to be taught our children, with the plea that there is nothing sectarian in them. If this was their only plea it would be a fatal one in my judgment; we want something distinctively Arminian or Methodistic. When did our church ever gain anything by being so mingled and mixed up with others as to lose its individual and distinctive features? But not being sectarian is one of the least objections to these International Lessons proper.

There is no system whatever in the selection of the lessons, the mode of treating them, nor in the selection from some portion of the Old Testament and the New. The whole plan—every lesson is distinct and is independent of all others. Where is the progressive system here? It presents a mass of loose material, out of which, under a skillful master builder, a fine superstructure could be erected; but as here presented it is without foundation, without form and void, so far as any intelligent system is concerned.

The only plea I have ever heard urged in favor of this "International Lesson" plan is that "all the schools of the United States and Canada are studying the same lesson on the same day." And pray, what advantage is there in that? especially if they are all wrong. If the merits of this plan (for we cannot call it a system) depend wholly upon the mere fact that each school has the same lesson—good or bad—then in the judgment of all sensible men it has no merit at all.

How long will the Sunday school workers of the Methodist Church trifle away their precious time in following in the lead of such phantoms as have been concocted and put in operation by the Calvinists and other churches who are not in sympathy with us in doctrine or in any way that tends to advance and promote our interests as a distinct and independent body of Christians?

Yes, I like Bro. Abernethy's suggestion: Let us have a system of Methodist doctrinal lectures in our Sunday schools, and let this form a part of a well-considered system of Bible and Christian studies as we understand and teach them.

We shall need additions to our stock of Sunday school publications to carry out our plan. 1. We want a brief work on the history, chronology and biography of the Bible. 2. A second volume suited to our system on the prophecies both of the Old and New Testaments. Some of the most convincing truths to sustain Christianity are found in the prophecies. 3. We want a volume suited to our plan for advanced Sunday school scholars, giving a condensed, clear view of Christianity as set forth in the New Testament, something after the plan and style of Harris' "Great Teacher."

These topics are merely named as specimens of the kind of books our system will require. Others, or a modification of these, may be found necessary when the system may be finally adopted.

The great advantages of some such system must be manifest to every reflecting Sunday school worker.

1. With a definite plan or course of study, like every other school, we shall have our work all before us, and can pursue it understandingly. We have a beginning, progress and end.

2. A scholar having finished the course, graduates and receives his or her diploma, and will be fitted for any place in the church or Sunday school.

3. Say what you please about it, but at last a well-conducted Sunday school is nothing more nor less than a juvenile theological school.

This cannot be denied, and if so, then let us square ourselves toward it as such, and as speedily as possible adjust everything pertaining to it to meet the demands as such, and conduct it with a steady view to graduate its students as thoroughly educated Christians. Does a knowledge of theology belong to preachers alone? Does not the interest of the church and the spirit of the age require that we take this true ground at once? Does not prophecy declare that this shall be the heritage of all, when all shall know the Lord, from the least to the greatest?

Then, if this position is right, let us constitute in all our churches a juvenile theological school, or institution as such.

Very truly,

B. T. KAVANAUGH.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 7.

Modern Infidelity.

MR. EDITOR: We have been greatly exercised for some time past at the rapid advance of a proud and boasting infidelity. The high-sounding, all-along our line, shop, jangling, its-this-and-that-and-the-other-thing with the loud, bold and ominous note, with the ring and ghastly truth: Idiots of a present salvation through the atoning blood of Jesus Christ. They are at work recruiting and drilling their forces for the coming grand and momentous struggle between light and darkness, truth and falsehood. Their position seems to be a strong one, and hence they feel confident not only of victory, but also of routing the army of the cross, "horse, foot and dragoons." And it must be confessed that they are much more in earnest in their work of death than the masses of Zion's camp to thwart their purposes.

Through their missionaries and papers that spread out and cover the land they utter and write down and proclaim their thunders of wrath against the whole camp of Israel. We have them now in our midst, and they draw the crowd that seldom go to church; and these agents of darkness are filling their heads and hearts with lies.

They declare the Bible to be not only a fable, but "a nasty book," which must be expelled from the schools, from all virtuous families, and given to the bats and owls of society. They profess to know of no future for man beyond the dismal gates of death. Science, their only guide, has not revealed it to them—rather discourages them even to entertain it for a moment. Man, according to their theory, is only a fully-developed monkey—the result of evolution, which seems to be the grandest word in their vocabulary. Of course they not only assume, but reason that there is no divine intelligence or universal mind who hath created all things and directs all for good. They declare that the creation is simply the result of gravitation or motion, which results from force. They assert in the most bitter spirit that "Christianity is only superstition and ignorance," or, as one of their papers expressed it some time ago, "superstition sowed in the boot of ignorance." They intend to break down the Sunday law, to keep God's name out of the Constitution of the United States, to inaugurate "women's rights," and make them the law of the whole land, to close our churches, to dismiss the "vagabond clergy," and invite them to earn their own bread by the sweat of their own faces, and, in a word, to turn the world upside down.

Their grand charge against us—"superstition and ignorance"—we protest against with both hands up, and propose to show briefly, however, that it is a boomerang thrown by them at us, but which returns to them with crashing and destructive force.

"Superstition," according to Webster, means, among other things, "to believe what is absurd, or to believe without evidence."

Now suppose one of their teachers was standing by the great engine of the "Centennial buildings," and some one would say to him: "Grand engine, sir; tremendous horse-power; perfect in all its parts; moves all the machinery in this vast establishment; but the most wonderful part of the story is that it had no intelligent builder; simply the result of law or motion—blind motion, on the basis of evolution; that it was once a toadstool, and finally in the lapse of ten thousand years it assumed this form." Would not the infidel say with much vigor: "Sir, it is absurd even to talk so, much more to believe it, and try to get others to do the same. Why, sir, although I never saw the builder, and know nothing about him, yet this great engine exhibits design, as a whole, and in every part; therefore there must have been a designer of intelligence equal to the work before us."

And yet when this same infidel looks upon a grander engine, the sun, which runs not the Centennial works, but the whole solar system, without noise and without friction, he loses all his senses, and becomes a "fool," and in the face of the most overwhelming matter-of-fact evidence declares in his mad ravings that "there is no God," no universal mind "who hath hung the earth upon the empty place and the world upon nothing." That though the whole creation exhibits design—intelligent design of the very highest order—yet there is no intelligent designer; that all of it is only the result of gravitation or blind motion, of which he knows nothing as to its origin.

Why this is absurdity or superstition in its very worst form, and hence infinitely worse than ancient infidelity. Truly might Bacon say in his "Essay on Atheism": "I had rather believe all the fables of the legends and the Talmud and the Alkoran than that this universal frame is without a mind, and therefore God never wrought so much to convince atheists, for his ordinary works convince it."

And therefore cursed Christianity of "heathens," which, as the light of the world, is changing all nations in true science, as well as moral and religion! Oh, how absurd, how superstitious is infidelity, particularly in its first stage of condition, or when it is fully fledged, and assumes the form of atheism.

JAMES M. BRADLEY.

CLARKSVILLE, GEORGIA, Sept. 4, 1876.

A renowned clergyman lately preached rather a long sermon from the text: "Thou art weighed in the balance and found wanting." After the congregation had listened about an hour, some began to get weary and went out; others soon followed, greatly to the annoyance of the minister. Another person started, whereupon the parson stopped in his sermon and said: "That's right, gentlemen; as fast as you are weighed, pass out." He continued his sermon at some length after that, but no one disturbed him by leaving.

Jones finds that drinking like a fish makes his head swim.

Shreveport District.

MR. EDITOR: My last closed on the eve of departure from Mooringsport. I have since learned that with much good to the church the meeting continued until Thursday night, the twenty-first instant. There were a few conversions, and several penitents left at the altar. Our route lay through the head of the lake which, you will remember, cuts off travel in the rainy season, via the residence of Mr. Parnell.

As you knew this country, Mr. Editor, twenty years ago, it was the eye of northwestern Louisiana. Greenwood was the happy center of a happier people. It was one of the most desirable sections in all our now sadly-stricken State. Its pulpits were filled by the very best ministerial talent the church could command. A ride to-day of twenty or thirty miles in almost any given direction would fill your heart with sadness. There are immense open fields, once rich in production, dilapidated fences, decrepit gates, large, and, of old, elegant residences unoccupied, dying orchards and decaying out-houses, that speak only of departed peace and prosperity. We meet here and there, in the midst of these sorrowful changes, a few of the choice "spirits of old"—iron links connecting "the former and latter times." The only hope left us seemingly is the prominent one in a change of government in the approaching election. Four years more of the present rule will banish from their homes every one that can get away. The wonder is that our people are as cheerful, hopeful and strong as they are.

Early in the day Tuesday I brought us, my Texas brother and I, to the hospitable home of Mrs. J. B. Ogilvie, where I met my family, and thankful to find all well.

The Saturday morning services of the Caddo quarterly meeting at Friendship were deeply interesting. The congregation was not large, but fairly representative. The entire afternoon was given to the business of the Quarterly Conference. Our brother beloved, L. B. Cassity, supply for this circuit, was recommended to the Annual Conference for admission on trial into the traveling connection.

The Shreveport district, Mr. Editor, can boast of as clever "officials" as any in the church. Those on the Caddo circuit can't be excelled by the cleverest on this the cleverest of districts. Every dollar of their financial responsibility this year will be met. The same may be said, I hope, of many other "boards" before the year closes.

The Sabbath services were profitable. The sacrament of baptism, the service of formal reception into the church, and the administration of the holy communion, following the morning sermon, were impressive and solemn. Bro. Robert Randle, of the Mooringsport charge, gave us an appropriate and effective sermon, from "According to your faith be it unto you," in the afternoon. Quite a number of sincere penitents came forward to the altar. Monday's and yesterday's services, with the added help of our dear Bro. Godwyn, from Shreveport, greatly increased the already deepening interest of the meeting. Tuesday's services were specially grateful—a large increase of penitents, and hardly a dry eye and not perhaps an unmoved heart in the house. Five additions to the church to this writing. The meeting will doubtless continue all the week. The people are ready and anxious for it.

JOHN T. DAVIS.

SHREVEPORT, LA.

Love is the only grace that shall live with us in heaven; there we shall need no repentance, because we shall never sin; no faith, because we shall see God face to face, but love will abide forever. "Love never faileth." We shall cultivate all the graces and run parallel with eternity. God is to be loved more than his mercies; many love their deliverance more than their deliverer. Oh, preserve your love to God. Keep it burning on the altar of your heart! Love is like oil on the wheels of a chariot—it helps God's service. Does love grow cold? make use of the ordinances as sacred fuel to keep the holy fire burning.

Bishop Whipple illustrates the cost of the Indian war rather strikingly. He recently remarked to a correspondent of the Omaha Herald that if ten soldiers were placed in a line with an Indian at one end, and the American people could be brought to understand that in order to secure the scalp of that one Indian it would require the sacrifice of the ten soldiers and an expenditure of $500,000 in money, they might be led to inquire whether the scalp was really worth the outlay.

"Now, John, suppose there's a load of hay on one side of the river and a donkey on the other, how can the donkey get the hay without getting wet?" "I give it up." "Well, that's just what the other donkey did," said John's friend.

It is exceedingly bad husbandry to harrow up the feelings of your wife.

OBITUARIES.

Correspondents, please write names and dates very distinctly. We follow copy on proper names.

Obituary notices should be forwarded promptly and immediately. Give only points of general interest, such as will help the living. Details of funeral services, and such phrases as "mourn their loss," etc., are not edifying. Verses, either original or select, not admissible in this department. Give the locality distinctly and in full. In the case of infants only a simple announcement of the death, with names and dates, will be published.

☞ All obituaries received are published as soon as convenient. If after a reasonable time any such communication fail to appear, let a duplicate be sent instead of a complaint.

NOT DEAD, BUT SLEEPING.

To-day we cut the fragrant sod
With breaking hands inactive,
And lay this well beloved of God,
Our precious darling, under.

Oh, hearts that ache, and aching rest!
Oh, tears, so bloodly raining!
Our hearts are weak, yet being rent,
Too strong for our restraining.

Sleep, darling, sleep! though cold rain sweeps
Thy little cot-made dwelling,
Thou will not know, so far below,
What winds and waves are swelling.

Father, we will be comforted;
Thine was the gracious giver.
We yield him up, not dead, not dead,
To dwell with thee forever.

Take thou our child—ours for a day—
Tidings with the ages blossoms.
This little sleeping head we lay
In the Redeemer's bosom.

Christian Intel.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. A. L. CLINTON.

Mrs. Anne L. Clinton was the daughter of Mr. Henry and Mrs. Elizabeth Knox Hanna, who were people of influence in the community where they lived. They died when their daughter was just entering into young womanhood a time in life's history when a mother's care and love are most needed.

God does not forget the prayers and labors of his servants. So the godly example of these pious Presbyterian people realized that "God is the father of the fatherless." These children did not meet a cheerful home, but longed for and needed motherly influence and teaching. Each of them was very fortunate in receiving such care. Annie, as we called her, went to live with Mrs. Bowman, a very superior person, who gave a mother's care and counsel to the young, motherless child; and well did Annie Hanna repay her debt of gratitude to her adopted mother. There were few daughters who would devote themselves to an own mother as she did to Mrs. Bowman when lingering sickness came upon her. Day after day, night after night, Annie, with rare devotion, was found at her post, while among the little children and nursing the sick mother. At last death claimed the mother from her little children. He heard and gave from the orphan young girl. But God raised up true friends for the motherless. She made her home with Dr. Wimans' family, and became as a "child of the house," imbibing from that estimable Christian woman, my mother, lessons that sang to her through life, of industry, prudence and piety. We children viewed her as an older sister. She was of a genial, happy disposition, and made many friends. She took an active interest in the welfare of others, and was adopted in our family connection as one of us.

I do not know when she assumed voluntary relationship to the church. She was a baptized child, but from my earliest recollection she was a true, consistent, humble Christian. I have sometimes thought that Presbyterian children who become Methodists make the best of members.

Mrs. Clinton was married to the Rev. Thomas Clinton at my father's house. It is a rather singular coincidence that Mr. Clinton thought he was marrying a poor orphan girl, and she that she was following the fortunes of a penniless circuit preacher, while in truth each of them was the possessor of a small competency. For several years after marriage their home was in Williamson county, but at length were born to them Martha (now Mrs. Mary. As Uncle Clinton was then one of the leading men of this work, the management of the farm and most of matters of outdoor business devolved upon her, and nobly did she discharge her trust, attending well to the affairs of the domestic circle. About the year [illegible] they removed to St. Helena, La., where they received a lovely, congenial home [illegible] and dedicated to God, and open to the calls of humanity. Many a way-worn soldier of the cross and weary pilgrim found rest and refreshment there. Many a fatherless child will keep the memory of that home fresh in their hearts, and bless the dear friends who made it so.

A friend of mine said to me, speaking of her father (Uncle Clinton), "I never knew a person to have so great a desire to do good to others." And this was true. Where would he hear of a case of need, but he was there to relieve it. The poor and needy were his especial care. The precious dust of [illegible] by the hand of [illegible] the gospel to her people, touching the heart to the more tender sympathies of our nature, did not forget the [illegible] weep for Christian kindness. [illegible] Lord [illegible] and [illegible] Thy will be done." [illegible]

I cannot say more of Mrs. Clinton than this: She was worthy to be the mother of her children, the wife of her husband, the member of her church.

M. S. W.

REV. JAMES LONG was born April 2, 1792, in the State of Maryland, and died January 27, 1876, near Gillsville, Jones county, Miss., of the advanced age of eighty-three years, nine months and three days. He died full of honors and well stricken in years. He emigrated, at a very early age, from the Middle States to the West, and was married in or near the town of Chillicothe, O., October 16, 1817, to Miss Mary Ann Kirkman, with whom he lived happily for many years, and by whom he raised nine children—seven sons and two daughters. Bro. Long embraced religion and joined the Methodist Church at the early age of sixteen years, either in the State of Maryland or the far west. Not long after his conversion a soft, yet powerful voice spoke unto him with irresistible force, and said: "Go and preach my gospel." He was at once convinced, by the force of these words, that they were no less than divine, and, like all brave soldiers of the cross, he provided himself with the necessary equipage (Bible, hymn book and Discipline), and went out into the field to fight the battles of the Lord under the blood-stained banner of Immanuel. For many years or upward he was a zealous minister of the Methodist Protestant Church, and content with the field of labor assigned him by the Annual Conference. It mattered much or little for his services he received, or if not paid at all he did not murmur or censure his congregations. In his early days he traveled a circuit one year and received only $2 50, the entire fruit of probably at about middle age, for many years a useful minister and citizen of Mississippi. Being an ardent lover of the doctrines of our beloved Church he still pursued the duties of his calling with untiring energy and unabating zeal, preaching on almost every hill-side and in every valley, in his beaming years. In his old age he was called to endure a severe trial that of parting with [illegible] who, had been a faithful companion and loving friend, sharing his griefs and joys for half a century. She died triumphantly September 3, 1850. Our brother's child having all left him, he was now alone, but finds his bereavement with becoming grace, bowing with humble submission to the will of him who doeth all things well. He married the second time, November 1857, to Mrs. A. A. E. Gordon, in whom he doubtless found the same helpmeet as in his former companion. It was his lot to soothe the pillow of affliction and to close his eyes in death by skillfully arranging the pillows and talking to him about the Savior whom he so much loved. Throughout his long life Brother Long was a devoted Christian, strictly enforcing the laws of family discipline, faithful in performing family worship morning and night. He was ordained deacon in the Methodist Protestant Church, but the cares of this life, and the infirmities of old age, prevented his entering the field of labor as a minister. He was a man of prayer, and often prayed to die, so that he would go to the angels in heaven. Finally, he reached the last gasping breath, and his ransomed soul was set at liberty, and was carried by angels to the golden city, to dwell with God forever, above all things desired. Peace to his ashes.

WILLIAM [illegible].

DIED, at her residence in [illegible] county, Ala., on the fourth day of [illegible] Mrs. Molly De Vaughn, in the seventy-first year of her age. She was the [illegible] John and Margaret Wilson, and was born in Mecklenburg county, N. C., on the twenty-fourth of July, 1776. Early in life she married Alexander Vaughn, by whom she had nine children, [illegible] with whom she lived nearly forty-five years in the enjoyment of domestic life. In the [illegible] lights of the Church, her station, [illegible] wife and mother, [illegible] knew well how to [illegible] and parental authority with maternal affection. Although possessed of [illegible] she was that happiness consisted not in indolence and show, but in the active discharge of duties, hence she trained an approving conscience; hence she trained her four daughters (who attend the funeral) to the active business of life, and now that they have homes of their own, like the daughters of Job, there are none of all the land that excel them in prudence, industry and economy in making home happy. Full of old prospections. I am informed that many years ago she embraced religion, having strong predilections for the Presbyterian Church, and none being in her reach she joined no church; but a strong religious influence pervaded the whole of her life afterward, as manifested in her reverence for religion, her fear of God and her [illegible] in the holy Scriptures. A few days before her death she converse freely with a minister of this good, her native state. She was perfectly willing to go when her Maker should call for her. Her last sickness was so rapid that she had but few premonitions as to the attack, and there [illegible] of the future when dying. She was followed to the grave by her neighbors, [illegible] tears and mournful silence. While she lay in her coffin, at the [illegible] mouth, her children stood, and from their hearts called her blessed, and thanked God for the example set before them, and the instruction given in childhood, and [illegible] Thus a noble pattern of domestic life and a mother, in Israel has passed away. A great, that, like Elijah, her simple mantle has fallen on the mothers of the rising generation. Then should we have more [illegible] in prosperous homes. From the history of the [illegible] forever our relations have strong [illegible] to [illegible] while they mourn her absence, [illegible] abiding where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest.

A FRIEND.

SAMUEL CREECE COLEMAN, son of S. C. and Sisadelle Coleman, died in Scott county, Miss., September [illegible], aged years, six months and twenty-five days.

The above brief notice can only be appreciated by those who have lost only child. The world at large passes things by as scarcely worthy of men set in this case as in thousands of others the issues of eternity depend upon the sults of the stroke, and we rejoice to know that the ministry of this little one has been in vain. The father has since made his feet to the testimonies of the Lord, united with the church, and can say with [illegible] made haste and delayed not to keep thy commandments." No wonder the blessed Savior loved little children, for through their pure ministry so many of his saints are being brought to heaven.

R. B. CRAWFORD.

Wherever public worship has been established and regularly maintained, idolatry has vanished from the face of the earth. There is not a temple now, to a heathen god, where the word of God is read. The idol seems to have the power the [illegible] had, which once contained it, make Dagon fall and be broken before it.—Bishop Simpson.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1876.

REMEMBERED DAYS.

I remember a stone behind the mill,
Where blackbirds sang,
And sheepbells rang,
Far off, and all things else were still
But the rising breeze
In the pictured trees,
And the noise of water about the mill.

I remember a maid in her sweet youth,
Whose gentle days
In village ways
Were passed to simple works of truth;
The summer's day
Sped fleet away,
And a dread of love, in a time of youth.

I remember the spring in girth of green,
The light thereof glee
That came to me
With the coming of love at seventeen;
The stealth that went
Like wonderful scent
Into soul—that time on the dais of queens.

Although I know the days are spent
That love was sped
When cometh the head
Of summer's close of joy, repent
Yet o'er the lay stay
In whiter days
And sings its joyals consummate.

Christian Leader.

Is Venus Inhabited?

For there is nothing in what we have learned about Venus which would not agree well with the idea that the planet is a world like our own earth, where people like ourselves could live very comfortably. For it would not matter much to us, probably, if the year was shortened by a few months and the day by an hour—supposing always that our animals and vegetables were so modified as they could thrive under the change. In fact if any one leaves the temperate regions to visit the tropics, he has to undergo a greater change. For there in England where I am writing, and throughout the United States the seasons change from the heat of summer to the cold of winter, and back again to the heat of summer, in twelve months; but at the equator the greatest heat occurs in spring and autumn, or at intervals of only six months. So far as the length of the year is concerned, therefore, an American or an Englishman would very well bear the change to the shorter year of Venus, where the interval between the successive periods of greatest heat amounts to seven and a half months.

But when we consider some other things we see that Venus, beautiful though she looks, would not be a comfortable home for us. In the first place, we know that if we drew a little nearer to the sun than we are, we should receive much more heat from it. In fact it is easily calculated that if our earth were placed in the path of Venus it would receive about twice as much heat from the sun as we do now. This would be quite enough to show us why, in going on to that planet, and figuring out allowances for keeping cool, such telescopes as we have can never be found. When we look, however, about the planet's equator does not seem to be what creatures living there would find more comfortable than we should be in the climate in which we were put when Venus is just where she is. On the contrary, so far as we can judge, we know that the seasons on our earth are caused by the fact that the axis is slanted a little. If the axis were upright there would be no seasons. If it were more slanted, the contrast between summer and winter would be greater. Now Venus has an axis still more slanted than the earth's, so that her seasons must be strongly marked indeed. Thus the heat of summer even there may be even more terrible than we thought just now.

But there is yet another point to be noticed. You know that on the upper slopes of lofty mountains there is snow all the year round, even in the torrid zone. That is because the air is so rare that it does not act like a blanket to keep in the warmth which is given off by the earth. Now, however, about the planet's atmosphere, which is a sort of clothing for it, as it were, to keep the heat from escaping. Now, if the air of Venus were very rare, something of the same sort might happen on that planet. Just as people who live in cold zones seek the high mountain ranges in the hottest seasons of the year, and find there a temperate climate, so the inhabitants of Venus might find it possible to bear the sun's intense heat if the air of the planet were rare, like that above the snow-line in our mountainous regions. But it seems that, on the contrary, the air of Venus is even denser than ours. And it seems also to be of such a nature, which is just the kind of air that keeps the heat in most. The air of Venus is, in fact, so dense and moist that it must be very uncomfortable to live in, quite apart from the intense heat that is to be found there. It would be very uncomfortable for creatures like ourselves.

There cannot be moisture in the air of a planet unless there are seas and oceans on the planet's surface. No doubt, then, Venus has her continents and oceans, her islands and promontories, and inland seas and lakes, very much as our earth has. Then there must be rivers on the land and currents in the ocean. There must be clouds and rain, wind and storm, thunder and lightning, and perhaps snow and hail.

Whether the planet is an inhabited world or not it would be difficult to say. Perhaps it is a world getting ready for use as a home for living creatures. Some astronomers think that the sun is gradually parting with his heat. If millions of years hence the sun should only give out half as much heat as now, perhaps Venus would be as comfortable a place to live in as our earth is now. That may seem to us a long time for a planet to wait; but it is not long to him in whose eyes "one day is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day."—Richard A. Proctor, in St. Nicholas.

Means Against Backsliding

BY REV. R. C. HENDERSON.

These are perilous days in our churches and pastors. May our watchman not slumber. Gracious visits of God's spirit have quickened and delighted us. Now comes the pressure of a busy season; our members feel too weary to attend prayer meetings; courage fails from the revival of extraordinary signs of success; pride destroys power—a pride born of unsisted accessions to our strength and numbers. "Woe to them that are at ease in Zion." Why should the revival spirit flag? One is discouraged at the rapidity of the encroachments of sloth and quiet and cowardice.

Where lies the remedy? In prayer. This all God's servants, who have impressed truth on the world, will tell us. In the old prayerbooks of the training of a religious teaching, prayer stands first, meditation and temptation follow. "It is half a study when prayed properly," is another maxim. Hervey: "Prayer and Bible reading is morning and evening food."

Augustine, quoted by Baxter: "A preacher must labor to be heard understandingly, willingly and obediently; and let him not doubt but he will effect this more by pious prayers than by the power of oratory. At the very time he is coming, let him raise his voice to God, and lift his soul with fervent desire." Baxter adds: "Prayer must carry on our work as well as preaching. He does not preach heartily to his people who does not pray for them. When our own hearts are out of order, and we do not prevail with God to mind and help them, we are like to be very unsuccessful in our work."

Finney: "By regard to my own experience I feel the spirit of prayer to be of vital importance. I have frequently, in an hour I did not expect it, and sometimes when I found myself unable to preach with power and liberty, or in other words by myself, obtained power in prayer. There are cases where I have been unable to prevail with God in prayer for days together, and have been obliged to preach without power. Sooner or later, we must fall back on this dependence on God. Our acknowledgment of our weakness is our power. It is as this, a humiliating lesson, but a needful one. We are tempted when we begin to neglect the closet. Upon the neglect of audible vows to God our devotion is often the cause of miserable failures in the closet and the pulpit. Ambrose said the tears and not the praises of the penitent are the minister's reward. Tears never come into the eyes of an audience unless both preacher and people have wept before God alone."

It is not necessary here to impress the necessity of study and human learning; no Christian worker can know too much. But even study, and study of the Bible, can never take the place of communion with God himself.

Why, then, should the work cease amidst the excitement of this summer's campaign? The devil is pushing his forces forward. It were criminal to desert the advantage we have gained through the past few months of triumph.—Herald and Preacher.

Royalty and Cold Dinner.

Figaro has interviewed John Brown, with the following result: "Her majesty leads a very regular life, I believe," I said. "Yes; it is generally the same day after day," was the reply. "She gets up about nine in the morning, and has breakfast in her apartments. Then she walks up and down the terrace until she comes indoors to sign her papers. The documents are all put ready for her to sign, with the corner turned down where she is to write. But her majesty, woman-like, will insist upon reading most of them, and of seeing what is inside. However, she rarely makes an alteration. After this, which often takes two or three hours, she sees the Princess Beatrice (that bless her) and has lunch. Then she will, if it is fine, take a walk in the grounds with the Princess Beatrice and Prince Leopold, when he or she will drive out, and I have to attend her. Then she comes home, and one of the ladies reads to her until it is time to prepare for dinner. After dinner the ladies read to her again, and she looks over pictures and things, and goes to bed very early." "The dinner is rather a still affair, I suppose?" I said. "Well, still is hardly the word for it," was the reply. "The guests assemble, and dinner is generally announced before her majesty enters the room. The minister is waiting, and the people invited sit at the table, and there is a pause. Then the Queen enters, everybody rises. Her majesty makes a bow and sits down, and the guests resume their seats. The footmen serve the dishes in solemn silence, and not a word is spoken. Her majesty usually makes two or three remarks during the dinner, but no one speaks unless the Queen speaks to him, and the company is more like a Quakers' meeting than anything else. Before the dessert her majesty generally rises, bows and leaves the room, but the guests—ladies and all—remain. The Princess Beatrice generally leaves with her mother. Then the conversation becomes more general after her majesty has left, and at the end of the dinner Lady Biddulph, or Miss Cadogan, or somebody rises, the ladies leave the room, the gentlemen remaining standing. Then the gentlemen usually go to the smoking or billiard-room, and the ladies to the drawing-room. Sometimes the Queen will go into the drawing-room in the course of the evening, but not very often. And the gentlemen are all in court dress, which is usually very tightly fitting, so they can't enjoy their dinner much. I don't envy them a bit."

The Pint of Ale.

A Manchester calico printer was, on his wedding day, asked by his wife to allow her two half pints of ale a day as her share of extra comforts. He made the bargain, but not cheerfully, for though a drinker himself (believing, no doubt, that he could not well do without) he would have preferred a perfectly sober wife. They both worked hard. John loved his wife, but he could not break away from his old associations at the alehouse, and when not in the factory or at his meals he was with his boon companions. His wife made the small allowance meet her housekeeping expenses—keeping her cot neat and tidy and herself as well, and he could not complain that she insisted upon her daily pint of ale, while he, very likely, drank two or three quarts. Once in a while the wife succeeded by gentle, loving artifice, in drawing her husband home an hour or two earlier than usual, and very rarely she persuaded him to spend a whole evening in her company. They had been married a year, and the morning of their wedded anniversary John looked with real pride upon the neat and comely person of his wife, and, with a touch of remorse in his look and tone, he said:

"Mary, we'n had no holiday since we were wed, an' ody that I haven't a penny i' th' world wod take a jaunt to th' village and see the mither."

"Would like to go, dohny," she asked.

There was a tear with her smile, for it touched her heart to hear him speak tenderly as in the old times.

"If thee'd like to go, John, I'll stand treat."

"Then stand treat, Mary! Hast got a fortin left thee?"

"Nay, but I'm gotten the pint o' ale," she added.

"Gotten what, wife?"

"The pint o' ale," she repeated.

And thereupon she went to the hearth, and from beneath one of the stone flags drew forth a stocking from which she poured upon the table the sum of "three pondys 17s. 5d." exclaiming:

"See, John, thee can have the holiday."

"What is this?" he asked in amaze.

"It is my daily pint o' ale, John."

He was conscience-stricken as well as amazed.

"Mary, hasn't thee had any share? Then I'll ha' no more fro' this day."

And he was as good as his word. They had their holiday with the old nothing, and Mary's little capital, saved from the "pints o' ale," was the seed from which, as the years rolled on, grew shop, factory, warehouse, country seat and carriage, with health, happiness, peace, honor and renown.

SIMPLE FAITH.—"God always hears which we scrape the bottom of our barrel." So said the child of a poor widow to his mother, one morning, after she had prayed as only the needy can: "Give us this day our daily bread." Beautiful faith of childhood! Why may it not be ours! God always hears the prayers of his children; and he knows when to answer. Our spiritual as well as temporal wants are known to him, and every sincere cry for help enters his compassionate ear. When we feel entirely our dependence on him; when our stock of pride and self-confidence is exhausted; when earthly friends and earthly comforts fail us; the humble cry of "Oh, my Father!" the oftquest brings the speedy answer: "Here, my child." God always hears when we have touched the depths of need, and cry to him for help.—Christian Statesman.

God men have tried the Bible, in youth and in old age; in sickness and in health; in business and at home; in life and in death. Lawyers have tried it; statesmen have tried it; society has tried it in its churches, its education and its laws; the devil has tried it; but it is not worn out. It is not effete; it is ever young and never old; it is God's book; we need no other; the longer it is tried the more satisfactory it is proved; it is the word of the Lord, which abideth forever.—Dr. Hall.

Religious Intelligence.

—Two hundred years ago the Friends, or Quakers, were three times as numerous as they are to-day.

—The great grandson of Dr. Carey, the pioneer of English missions in India, has recently become the medical missionary of the Baptist mission at Delhi.

—The Church Missionary Society (Anglican) reports forty-six baptisms in Western India the past year, and a total of three hundred and eighty-six communicants.

—Prof. Max Muller wrote several years ago: "From what I know of the Hindoos, they seem to me riper for Christianity than any other nation that ever accepted the gospel."

—Dr. Butler has received $7,000 of the $12,000 which he designed to raise for the Mexican mission, besides guarantees for the expenses in publishing sixteen religious works in Spanish.

—The Presbyterian gives the following statement of relative Protestant denominational strength in Philadelphia: Baptists, 51 churches and 16,507 communicants; Protestant Episcopal, 70 churches and 18,127 communicants; Methodist Episcopal, 75 churches and 19,751 communicants; Presbyterian, 72 churches and 22,035 communicants.

—The first colored Baptist church in Philadelphia was formed in 1809. There are now five such churches in that city, with an aggregate of 1,600 members. In the First church George Thompson, of England, delivered some telling lectures on slavery years ago, when few churches were allowed for such purposes. These churches have sent out several ministers and one missionary to Africa, Mr. Herndon.

—The Old Catholics of Germany have 60 ordained priests, 9 students of theology, a faculty of theology in Bonn, a bishop, and 17,000 made members of mature age, who, with their families, represent a body comprising 49,351 souls. The Old Catholics of Switzerland number 53,350 souls. The ordained priests are not fewer than 30. In Berne they have a theological faculty, and since the seventh of June they too, like their brethren in Germany, have a bishop in the person of Prof. Herzog, of Berne. In the two countries, then, organized Old Catholicism has 120 priests, ministering to 122,731 souls in 69 larger or smaller congregations. The consecration of Dr. Herzog, the newly-elected Old Catholic Bishop of Switzerland, took place at Rheinfelden, on Sunday, August 20, and Bishop Reinkens was the consecrator. The name of his province will be "The Christian Catholic Church of Switzerland."

—The English Wesleyan missionaries on the Gold Coast, Africa, have resolved to reopen missions in the King of Dahomey's dominions. At Little Popoe, one of the States or divisions, and at Abgway they have been welcomed by the kings and rulers of the respective States. The caboceer of Little Popoe gave the missionary, Mr. Williams, lodgings in his own compound, and afforded him assistance in making known his intentions to the people. Mr. Williams told them "the mission would find teachers and missionaries, but they must build a school and chapel, and pay school-fees, ranging from one penny to six pence for each child per week, according to the instruction given, and must also buy school books for their children. The chiefs, after consultation among themselves, came to the conclusion that they would enter the old custom of the mission granting everything free, and they, on their part, would grant a piece of land for mission purposes." At Ashway the authorities not only received Mr. Williams kindly, but promptly handed him the deed of a dwelling house and extensive grounds for mission purposes. At the religious services Mr. Williams closely repeating the Lord's Prayer in English, when, to his surprise, the caboceer rose and distinctly repeated it after him. It was ascertained that the caboceer had been a pupil in the mission school formerly conducted in the Popo country. What he had learned had not, however, led him to abandon idolatry, for his house was filled with fetiches. Mr. Williams gives a list of twenty towns where he thinks missions might be opened.

—The fortieth annual report of the Foreign Committee of the Protestant Episcopal Mission Board is rather discouraging in its tenor. The total receipts for the year ending October 31, 1875, were $80,721, being $10,275 less than those of the previous year, and $24,585 less than those of the year before that. Very many churches have contributed nothing, and those which have made offerings have given less than 45 cents per member on an average. The missionary force has been somewhat decreased. The bishops who have been elected for Liberia and China have invariably declined the offered appointments. The fields occupied by the Board are the following: Liberia, where war has seriously interrupted the work in the Cape Palmas district, while the whole field suffers from lack of supervision since the death of Bishop Auer. In China the central stations are Shanghai, Wuchang and Hankow. There are 6 missionaries, 170 communicants and 190 scholars. The hospital is an important institution at Shanghai. At Peking Dr. Schereschewsky finished his translation of the Old Testament into the Mandarin language before leaving for America. The Japan mission is under the vigorous jurisdiction of Bishop Williams, and has the two stations Tokio (Yedo) and Osaka. There are 3 missionaries, 3 teachers, 20 native communicants and 146 scholars. Haiti has a bishop and 9 native clergymen. The girls' school at Athens, Greece, with 169 pupils, is in a very flourishing condition. There is also an excellent school connected with the board at Joppa, Palestine, which has 75 pupils. The board has 38 missionaries, 22 of whom are Liberians, Haitians and Chinese, 2 physicians and 13 missionary ladies.

Our Young People.

THE BOY THAT LAUGHS.

BY GEORGE COOPER.

There was a funny little boy,
The happiest ever born;
His face looked like a beam of joy
A morning first of all the morn.

How his fun tumble on his nose,
And whirled it in a grimace;
His very handkerchief, to you, suppose,
He struck, did funny base?

His very smile to each word he spoke
His laugh to something grander
Is ripples over rills or rocks,
Or waves on snowy sand.

He laughed the moment he awoke,
And till he slept he'd play;
He'd laugh a dozen times a joke,
His best—and not his last.

No night knew the day more gay,
No sunset make him cry;
He'd laugh a dozen times a day,
And then not quit till night.

From Our Little Friends.

MR. EDITOR:—I have been so much pleased with the Child's Corner in your paper, since so many little girls have written letters for it, that I look forward for the day the paper is to come with great pleasure and impatience. I have often urged my father to help me to write one, and see how my name looks in print.

I am six years old, and have been taught so far at home by my mother. I love to read, and hear my mother read, and my only Sunday school is to read the first chapter of John.

I live in the country, and have had a fine time eating melons and nuts of various kinds that we raise on the farm. My grandpa, grandma, uncle and aunt live where I was born, and the trees are now bearing. We have many things to be thankful for in a country life, as well as its disadvantages.

I believe I know who made the ivory house. The first letter of this name is A, and the last letter is H. Met with a solution.

Our preacher is Mr. John Lee, who is now having stirring times at all his appointments.

I should like to know, Mr. Editor, if I am a member of the church. I have been baptized and say prayers and sing a hymn at night, and want to grow in grace.

I will close by stating a fact in the Bible for the young folks to explain. The oldest man that ever lived died before his father did.

Yours respectfully,

MAY MILES.

MR. EDITOR:—I see in almost every number of the ADVOCATE one or more letters from the little folks. I noticed in a late number a Bible question proposed by Miss Bettie Lewis, asking what little boy or girl could tell who it was that built the ivory house. You will please say to her that it was Ahab. It is found in First Kings, twenty-second chapter and thirty-ninth verse. I see that some of the little writers have to read a good many chapters to find certain passages of Scripture. If they will procure a concordance it will relieve them of that trouble. I don't mention this to make them read their Bibles less, but when a question is propounded they can answer it more promptly.

I have spent the most of my time at school until this year. We are deprived of a Sabbath school in our neighborhood, but I try to make up its loss by reading my Bible. I will close for the present, lest I weary you. Your young friend,

H. D. KIMBALL.

DEAR MR. EDITOR:—As you were so kind as to publish my first letter, I now venture to write again, as I promised in my former one. Last year we got our church and school-house burned down, consequently we have had no Sunday school, and but little preaching this year, and part of that under a live oak grove. We have just had our new church completed, within six hundred yards of father's house, and was dedicated last Sunday by our circuit preacher, R. N. Shoffner. He has been with us two years, and we think the Conference will send him back on our circuit again. We hope to have a Sunday school soon.

I expect we will have to send to you for a charity. My grandpa, John Carnes, still lives, but is almost helpless. He is eighty-four years old. I felt sorry when I found out what was the sin the Jews committed that kept them from entering into the promised land.

Your little friend,

ANNIE TORRENS.

DEAR MR. EDITOR:—As you are so kind and have a place for little folks' letters, I will write you a few lines. I will tell Miss Sophia and Sallie Lou which they asked the questions of. They can find the answer in the third chapter and third verse of Jonah, and as I have never asked them a question, I will ask them one: Where is the word phantasy found in the Bible, and who was that hand given to, and why was the name given to him?

Some time ago we had a short letter from China, I think, written by Thos. It is the prettiest one I have ever read. My grandpa's neighborhood is the richest well of his Sunday school. He makes the prettiest and most interesting speeches at the prayer meeting I ever heard. He says something about the grapevine, and I would like to know what it means.

Your friend and cousin,

BENNET.

That One Door.

A certain Count de Damfis was a very rich and very pugnacious man. He was the owner of his own castle, and his nearest neighbor was a poor knight. One day the knight received a challenge from the count, and he was invited to a grand feast. At the conclusion of the repast the count made a speech in which he boasted of his wealth. He was the richest man in all the country round about. He had a castle with a hundred doors, and he was the most influential man alive. As the chevalier's vassal flattery was unbounded, he was delighted to hear his master's praises sounded.

One among the guests, however, said nothing for a time. When each man had made his speech he uttered the following singular observation upon the happiness of the host:

"Sir Knight," he said, "in order that your felicity should be complete, you require but one thing, but that is a very important item."

"And what thing is it?" demanded the Knight, opening wide his eyes.

"One of your doors must be walled up," replied his guest.

At this strange rejoinder several of the guests began to laugh, and Gerard himself looked as much as to say: "This man has gone mad." Wishing, however, to have the clue to the enigma, he continued: "But which door do you mean?" he determined.

"I mean that through which you will one day be carried to your grave," replied the other.

These words struck both guests and host, and made the latter reflect most seriously. The proud man remembered the vanity of all things earthly, and from thenceforward he no longer thought only of the perishable treasures he had since so gloried in. He was completely altered, and only made use of his riches for good works.

"Many" says Adam Smith, "is an animal that makes bargains. No other animal does this: no dog exchanges bones with another."

The habit of being always employed is a great safeguard through life, as well as essential to the culture of every virtue.

The Christian Advocate.

Organ of the Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences of the M. E. Church South.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1876.

REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D., Editor.

ROBT. J. HARP, PUBLISHER.

OFFICE—112 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS

Address, on all matters of business, Rev. R. J. HARP, 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

Address all communications designed for publication to Rev. LINUS PARKER, 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

AGENTS—All the members of the Patronizing Conferences.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.
REV. EDWARD WADSWORTH, D. D.
REV. A. J. BRIGGS.
REV. J. W. RUSH.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. H. WATKINS, D. D.
REV. JAMES A. GODFREY.
REV. J. G. JONES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. CHRISTIAN KEENER.
REV. JOHN MATHEWS.
REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D.

CHANGE OF RATES.

The New Orleans Christian Advocate will be furnished to subscribers hereafter at the following rates, including postage:

One Year	$2 00
Six Months	1 15
Three Months	75

To all Ministers of the Gospel and widows of deceased traveling preachers, in the bounds of the Conference,

FREE ONE YEAR

to any person forwarding to us four new yearly subscribers, with EIGHT DOLLARS.

Elijah's Mantle.

Paul reminds us, in one place, that he owned a cloak. He had left it at Troas, with Carpus, and from Rome he writes to Timothy to bring it, "and the books, but especially the parchments." This is all we know concerning an apostle's cloak,—Whether it ever reached its owner, and what became of it, we cannot tell. If it had been Peter's cloak it would, beyond a doubt, have been preserved in the Vatican or somewhere else. Elijah's mantle comes down to us with its rich historical associations, and reference to it adorns our reflections upon the enthusiasy of the great and good.

The prophet's mantle had seen hard and distinguished service. We first hear of it at Horeb, when, after the still small voice, "he wrapped his face in his mantle, and went out and stood at the entering in of the cave." It was with him, we may suppose, at the Brook Cherith, at Zarephath, at Carmel, and his constant companion throughout his eventful career. The gray overcoat of Napoleon was not better known to the French army than was that mantle to Israel, and to the court of Ahab. It seemed, from long use and association, to partake of the identity and personality of the wearer. As if invested with something sacred and supernatural, the prophet smote and divided the waters of Jordan with it, and after the translation Elisha wields it with like miraculous power. It had seen hard and distinguished service, but it was not worn out. It was a prize and a cherished legacy to the successor of Elijah. The mantles of the prophets, to be worth remembering and inheriting, must be of this sort. The service they have seen, and the condition they are in when cast off, are mainly important. It is not every man, nor even every good man, from whom a mantle of power falls when he is called away from his earthly course.

The prophet casts off his mantle as he enters the chariot. It fell from him. It gravitated to the earth, while the changed and spiritualized man ascended. The mantle had been the companion of his toils and sufferings, and had ministered to his comfort. So far as it was the type of his earthly ministry and activity, and so far as it witnessed to his bodily weakness and exposure, it was meet that it should be left. It was no longer needed for protection and comfort, and the ministry which it might represent was at an end. The prophet must leave his mantle. Flesh and blood can as easily inherit the kingdom of God as that the saint can take his mantle with him to heaven. His personal work and mission in this world is ended, and here he must leave them to be taken up by others, and, in the providence of God, to be perpetuated until the day of judgment.

Elijah had trained a man for the purpose, anointed him by divine command, and he was ready and qualified to take up the fallen mantle. Moses had his Joshua, Christ his apostles, Paul his Timothy. Martyrs and confessors and saints, as their mantles have dropped from them in death, have left their life-work to others of like heroism and devotion. As one generation throws off its mantle of labor and suffering, it is taken up by another; and thus, while God translates his workmen, the work goes on. There are only a few in the roll of the centuries who stand out as pre-eminent, and who have impressed their individuality and personal greatness upon the world. Augustine, Luther, Calvin, Wesley, are almost alone in their eminence. Abraham, Moses, Elijah, Paul, tower above thousands of inferior note. The mantles of such men, in the hands of after generations and churches, go on working moral miracles, and smiting and parting the waters of the Jordan.

Elijah left his mantle—his work and ministry—to Elisha and the faithful of all time; but that which he could neither leave nor bestow was the vital thing. The spirit of Elijah was the Spirit of God, and God alone could give a "first-born's" portion to him who sought it. The mantle had its glorious memories, and was a thing almost sacred; but it was a rag at best, and of little value, without the more excellent gift. To attain to the power of Elijah's ministry, the spirit that moved and sanctified him must fall upon his successor. A succession of mantles is one thing; a succession in and of the Holy Ghost is quite another. The mantle of church polity and ordinances, without spirituality, is a worthless shell. The mantle of a creed, worn without an inward life, is a cold and effete affair. Our denominational names, and our pride in the memory and achievements of our founders, are empty and absurd unless the Spirit accompanies. What is the cloak of Wesley worth, or that of Luther or Paul, unless the Spirit that blessed them, and made them what they were, inform and stir our souls? To see men strutting in the gowns of the apostles, without the spirit of the apostles, is as ludicrous as it is sacrilegious. The old fable of the conceited ass that invested himself with a lion's skin comes up in spite of us. The literal mantle, the clothing and millinery of a religious order, are in the line of a belittling superstition. But all that is merely outward in forms, theologies and symbols of faith, and the traditions of the fathers, are the embodiments of enervation, without the higher and divine gift.

Nine hundred years after Elijah ascended a man appeared "in the spirit and power of Elijah." The main thing in John was "the Spirit and the power." Outwardly like the Tishbite, as became his peculiar mission, rugged, austere and abstemious, mantled in the same ministry of a reformer, and with like outward conditions, that which made the Baptist an Elijah was that he came in the spirit and power of Elijah. The true prophetical ministry, without the Spirit, is an impossibility. Neither Elijah's mantle nor Paul's cloak can make a saint or a preacher unless a double portion of the Spirit—that of the first-born and heir—be poured upon him.

A Brief History of the New Orleans Christian Advocate.

No. 1.

From an early day the leading branches of Wesleyan Methodists in every land have availed themselves of the periodical press to disseminate the pure truths of Christianity, with a knowledge of everything important connected with their church polity, including the religious experience, holy and useful lives of their members, closed by their triumph in death. This has ever been one of the strong arms of the church in accomplishing her great mission of reforming the world and spreading scriptural holiness over all lands. The first Methodist periodical of which I had any personal knowledge from reading it was the Methodist Magazine, published in New York, by Joshua Soule and Thomas Mason, "for the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States." Its publication commenced in January, 1818, and it was first issued in monthly numbers. I have the Magazine and its successor, the Quarterly Review, in bound volumes, to 1852, and a rich treasury it is. The Magazine had only been published a few years when the growth of the church demanded the publication of weekly church papers in various localities, far to the northeast and north of the Mississippi Conference, as it was then bounded. Most of these weekly papers were patronized, to some extent, by our people in Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana, especially the Nashville Christian Advocate, edited first by Thomas Stringfield, and afterward by J. B. McFerrin. But none of these papers fully met the wants of the great Southwest. They were too far from us. Then our communications made the round trip by our slow mail facilities, and got back after an absence of from four to eight weeks, and they had grown cold and lost half their interest. We felt the need of a church paper published somewhere in the Gulf States, and our leading ministers and laymen began to take practical views of the subject. Nothing, however, had taken a definite shape until our delegates were on their way up the Mississippi and Ohio rivers to the Louisville convention, in the spring of 1845. The subject was brought up on the steamer Sultana, and pretty thoroughly discussed by our delegates, and the conclusion was that it was very important to the interests of the church in the Southwest to establish an additional member of the Christian Advocate family in the city of New Orleans. In case our plan should succeed in a short time, we selected William H. Watkins for our editor, because, in addition to his literary and theological qualifications, he had been acclimated to the yellow fever, and could reside safely in New Orleans. As the Methodist Episcopal Church South was then organizing under the recently adopted Plan of Separation, nothing further was done in reference to our contemplated paper, except occasional private discussions and correspondence, until the session of the Mississippi Conference, held in Natchez, in December, 1845.

At the session of the Mississippi Conference, held in December, 1846, in the city of Natchez, David O. Shattuck, seconded, I believe, by William H. Watkins, offered the following resolution, viz.:

Resolved, That we deem the publication of a weekly religious journal somewhere in the bounds of Louisiana an important auxiliary in the spread of scriptural holiness through the Mississippi valley.

The Conference was ready to adopt the resolution, when J. B. McFerrin, the publisher and editor of the Nashville Christian Advocate, who was present in the interest of his paper, which was extensively patronized in the Gulf States, rose up, and, in one of his characteristic speeches, opposed with great earnestness the establishment of an additional paper in the Southwest. Mr. McFerrin, among other reasons for opposing our cherished project for establishing a weekly church journal in New Orleans, doubtless had his eye on the patronage he might lose from the Nashville Christian Advocate in the Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences by the successful establishment of such a rival. He succeeded, for the time, in defeating Judge Shattuck's resolution, but the importance of publishing a church paper in the great emporium of the Southwest was looked to as inevitable at no distant day. Opposition only tended to concentrate the energies of those who were deeply interested in the enterprise. Nothing very tangible, however, was done until the meeting of the General Conference in St. Louis, in May, 1850, when Jefferson Hamilton, of the Alabama Conference, and B. M. Drake, of the Mississippi Conference, offered the following resolution, viz.:

Resolved, That the Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Arkansas Conferences be authorized to establish a paper at such point as they may select; and that the Bishop presiding in said Conferences shall be authorized to appoint an editor, when requested to do so.

This resolution was amended, on the motion of James Boyle, so as to exempt the General Conference from any pecuniary liabilities in connection with the paper, and, after laying on the table awhile, was called up and passed, though its passage is not found in the printed journal. Our delegates, however, assured us of its passage, and we now looked on the speedy publication of the paper as a fixed fact. The delegates to the General Conference from the patronizing Conferences appointed an executive committee in New Orleans to ascertain the probable cost of publishing such a paper, the number of subscribers necessary to sustain it, and to prepare and issue a specimen number, with an address to the members of the church in the patronizing Conferences, urging their hearty support, all of which was done before the meeting of the Mississippi Conference, in Yazoo City, December 4, 1850. On the first day of the Conference we appointed Messrs. Drake, Walton, J. B. Walker, Watkins, Pearce, Campbell and J. G. Jones a committee to report on all matters connected with the early publication of the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE. This committee made an elaborate report, concurring with what had already been done, and giving all the details as to how the paper should be commenced and its publication continued thereafter, and affectionately asking the earnest co-operation of the Alabama and Louisiana Conferences; all of which was adopted. More anon.

J. G. JONES.

PORT GIBSON, November, 1876.

The Political Situation.

The past week has been one of intense excitement and suspense. At this writing, Tuesday, November 14, one week after the Presidential election, the result is still in doubt. According to the New York Herald Hayes is sure of 185, and Tilden of 184 electoral votes, while there remain 19 doubtful. Tilden lacks only one vote. The States still doubtful are South Carolina, Florida and Louisiana. The vote of any one of these States will elect Tilden. Hayes, to be elected, must get them all. The popular vote of these States seems to be Democratic. Louisiana has given about 8,000 majority for Tilden and Nicholls. From the most reliable information we can obtain we judge this to be the case.

The only ground of suspense is in regard to the action of a partisan Returning Board, which has the counting of the vote, and from which there is no appeal. Pretexts can be found, if the inclination and interests of the members of the board so dispose them, to throw out as many polls as they choose.

The representative men of both parties from the North and West are gathering in New Orleans for the purpose of witnessing the count, and the eyes of the whole nation are directed mainly to this point. From the interest specially manifested in the result in Louisiana we infer that the vote of this State is generally regarded as that which is to decide the national ticket. The Returning Board, composed of five men, and constituted with reference to the perpetuation of a party, has twice—in 1872 and 1874—defeated the popular will, in coalition with the President and the Federal bayonets. That it will do so again is probable, unless the pressure for a fair count, which the presence of so many distinguished men from all parts of the United States is calculated to exert, shall overcome the opportunity, the power and the disposition to defraud the State and the nation. The wrongs of our State have now assumed a national character, and if not at once redressed they will at least be exposed to the gaze not only of our own country, but to the whole civilized world.

Our city is thronged with United States soldiers; the custom-house and other public buildings are filled with armed men. In the light of the history of the past few years, the meaning of this massing of troops, after an election that has been most quiet and peaceful, is easily interpreted.

It is difficult to say when the present and somewhat alarming suspense will be ended. If the result rests with our Returning Board, weeks may elapse before their decision will be declared, and it is not impossible that the question of who is to be our next President may remain unanswered until the electoral votes shall be counted at Washington. In any event our prayer is: God save the country!

Rev. Mr. Blauvelt Suspended.

The Rev. Augustus Blauvelt, of Kingston, New York, whose erratic views in religious studies have bored the readers of Scribner's Monthly for some years past, has, says the New York Observer, suddenly come to grief. At least he is suspended from the ministry, and it is to be hoped he is sorry for that.

It is now three years since he somehow contracted the erroneous idea that he could see further into a millstone with his naked eye than the smartest man with spectacles. Then he told what he saw. Not Flint with his tea-kettle, nor Slade with his slate, made more discoveries than this Dutch dominie on the Hudson. Had he drank the Heidelberg tun of beer he could not have forgot more of the Heidelberg Catechism than he did before he went off into his vagaries of theology. What those vagaries are, it is not ours to repeat. We never could see what he was after, except to bring into discredit the truths and the teachers of our holy religion as held by the Reformers and the orthodox churches, while he had nothing to propose as a substitute worth attention. Nor would his speculations have been noticed had they appeared in the Atlantic Monthly, the Independent or the Christian Union. But when Dr. Holland gave them hospitality in Scribner, and denounced their reviewers with willing zeal, they got a hearing to which their intrinsic importance gave them no claim, and the religious papers were exercised in regard to their possible influence. We shall not soon forget the criticisms which Dr. Holland inflicted upon us because we permitted the most venerable and distinguished theologian in this country to express his views in regard to Blauvelt's essays. But we have been through so many such experiences that we take them as a matter of course when exposing quackery in the pulpit or the press. The pen of truth unmasks the lurking devil, as Ithuriel's spear with a touch found Satan in a toad.

It was the platform on which this man stood that made him conspicuous. He was a minister, in good standing, in an orthodox church, and with that prestige attacked its doctrines. And we have yet to learn of the first person, old or young, learned or unlearned, who has found anything in his crude conceptions worth receiving—anything to make truth more intelligible, error more hateful, or the Bible more or less attractive. It was simply a foolish assault, by a man of no learning, upon the orthodox faith of the church to which he belonged, and the assault had nothing to commend it to the respectful consideration of the intelligent mind. In these respects it was very like the resurrection heresy propounded by Prof. Bush, or the pre-existence nonsense of Dr. Edward Beecher; both of these vagaries had bigger fathers than Mr. A. Blauvelt; both of them died at their birth, and on their little tombstones was inscribed the epitaph:

"If I was to be so soon done for,
What in the world was I begun for."

Bible Dancing.

We agree with the Western Methodist that the cure of the dancing mania is religious intelligence and experience. Unconverted people in the church are likely enough to dance, if they can be converted this will reform them. The Western confutes the arguments from the Bible usually adduced by the dancers:

The conviction is general, if not universal, among Methodists—that is, among those who breathe the spirit of Methodism—that dancing is altogether irreconcilable not only with spirituality, but even with all the obligations, great and small, which are assumed by men and women, young as well as old, when they take upon themselves the vows required in becoming Methodists; yea, in becoming Christians, of whatever order. Christianity, not merely in its highest forms, but even in its lowest, if it be Christianity at all, demands non-conformity to this world, and an observance of the sobrieties and decencies of life, and so condemns dancing by members of the church. There is not a word in the holy Bible which can be justly quoted in favor of dancing, as it is practiced in these times. A careful writer, after examining the passages of Scripture so glibly quoted in favor of dancing, and showing their true meaning, thus sums up his conclusions:

Having carefully examined every text in the Old and New Testaments in which the word occurs, we are led to the following conclusions:

1. That dancing was a religious act among idolaters, as well as worshipers of the true God.

2. That it was practiced as the demonstration of joy for victories and other mercies.

3. That the dances were in the day-time.

4. That the women danced by themselves; that the dancing was mostly done by them.

5. No instance is recorded in which promiscuous dancing by the two sexes took place.

6. That, when the dance was perverted from a religious service to mere amusement, it was regarded as disreputable, and was performed by the "vain fellows."

7. The only instances of dancing for amusement mentioned are of the worldly families described by Job, the daughter of Herodias, and the "vain fellows." Neither of these had any tendency to promote piety.

8. That the Bible furnishes not the slightest sanction for promiscuous dancing as an amusement, as practiced at the present time. The dancing professor of religion must not deceive himself with the impression that he is justified by the word of God. If he still holds on to the practice, let him find his justification from other sources, and say frankly: I love the dance, and am determined to practice it, Bible or no Bible.

Death of Rev. George Pledger.

With profound sorrow, says the Western Methodist, we announce the death of the Rev. George Pledger, of the Arkansas Conference. An account of the murderous attack upon him and three other preachers by illicit distillers, who mistook them for officers of the law, appeared in our last issue. The Rev. A. H. Williams writes:

"Bro. George Pledger died from a wound received while returning from Conference last Friday evening, October 27, 1876. He was about nineteen years of age, a noble boy, and had just spent one year successfully in the Itinerant ministry, passed his examination and received a second appointment. He had started out with zeal and love for the cause, and we had gone as far as Fort Douglass, on Big Piney, when we were fired on by some parties supposing us to be marshals. Bro. Pledger lived only two days after being wounded. He was ready to die, he said, but, oh! so anxious to get well, that he might work for the Master. Oh, he was a noble boy; all who knew him loved him. The preachers of the Conference loved him, and the people he served loved him, and sent a large petition for his return; everybody with whom he met loved him—he loved everybody and tried constantly to do good. His talk in the Conference love-feast on Sunday morning will long be remembered. How fully consecrated he was to the Master's service, how simple and child-like, and how true! A noble boy and good, he is gone. His stay was brief, his career short, very short. We will meet him again, if faithful, for he is gone to heaven. He went in our advance, and will be there to welcome us. God will raise up some one else to do the work he: he loved so well, and he will be happy and at rest in heaven. Let us follow on. His mother came, but too late to see him die. Already his eyes were closed in death. Of course she wept and mourned her loss. We tried to comfort her by conversing of his many noble traits of character, and with the assurance that he was now at rest and happy in heaven. Be comforted and satisfied, father, mother, sisters, brothers, and all, for he has gone safe. Let us only live faithful, and very soon we shall see him above."

A postal card from the Rev. W. H. Metheny gave us the first information of the death of Bro. Pledger, and besides, he wrote (October 30) that Bro. B. Williams was better, but perhaps not out of danger. Bro. Metheny's wound was not dangerous, though he was still suffering considerably from it.

Many profess themselves ready to die for Christ, yet cannot bear the cross of humiliation without complaint.

The Departure.

Preparatory to the departure of Bishop Marvin and Rev. E. K. Hendrix on their long and perilous journey around the world, a special service was held in St. Paul's Church on Tuesday evening. Brother Hendrix preached a sermon of great clearness and beauty from the text "Can any good thing come out of Nazareth?" The logical inferences of the preacher were powerful arguments sustaining the cause of foreign missions. Bishop Marvin spoke briefly of the missionary work of our church, and called for a thank-offering from the audience to aid in the mission cause. After this the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered. It was a most solemn and impressive service, made the more touching from the fact that our beloved brethren were for the last time, prior to their departure, breaking bread around the altar to assist in the consecration. Among them were Rev. Dr. Scott, of St. John's Presbyterian Church, Rev. Dr. Gibson, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Rev. Samuel Brown, E. K. Miller, H. Burris and several others. The altar was afterward several times filled with members of our own and other churches of the city.

At the conclusion Bishop Marvin led in singing his favorite hymn "Oh, come, angel bands," the large congregation joining in with great fervor. After the benediction came the leave-taking, and many tears were shed, as crowds of loving friends pushed forward to clasp the hands of the two noble men who were going to the uttermost parts of the earth in the cause of the Master.

Wednesday morning a company gathered at the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's dock to see the friends well away on their journey, and at twelve M. the good steamer Alaska cast loose her moorings and dropped into the stream. The Bishop and Bro. Hendrix were in the best and perfect health, and began the passage under the most favorable auspices. They bore with them the loving regards of a host of friends. God be with them and return them to their homes in safety.

Pacific Conference.

Bishop Marvin, writing to the Nashville Advocate, says:

Finances are somewhat improved, in spite of the distressing stringency of the times. The work of church building is going on hopefully, and the general outlook is decidedly encouraging. There had been many revivals, some of them of great extent and power, and everywhere we find a greater increase than that which appears only in figures.

The Sunday school work is prosperous. Conference is prosecuted with much vigor and success. Nearly all our schools are supplied with our own literature, and the brethren report the fact that some union schools have taken it on account of its unsectarian excellency. In fact a brother said he knew of one school of another denomination which was supplied with it from intelligent conviction of its value.

The Pacific Methodist College is doing a great work, but like all colleges in new countries it is straitened for money. O! for an endowment of $500,000. What a grand work we would do with such aid as this! President Fitzgerald had resigned his position, and the Rev. Dr. W. W. Finley was elected in his place for the present. The doctor was for a time the president of Corvallis College, in Oregon, and managed its affairs with eminent ability and success. He is a man of great energy, and will, I doubt not, do an excellent work here.

It was only a few days ago that we heard of the death of Hon. John McVea. He died at his residence in Clinton, La., on the thirteenth of October last, in the fifty-fifth year of his age. Judge McVea was a graduate of Louisiana now Centenary College, and was ever an ardent friend and supporter of that institution. For many years serving on the Board of Trustees, and aiding in its support most heartily. He served ably and acceptably in the Legislature of the State, and also as Judge of the ——— Judicial District. From his youth up he was an exemplary Christian, a devoted Methodist, filling at times the offices of steward, class-leader and Sunday school superintendent. An honored and eminent citizen, useful and devoted Christian, his death is a sad loss to us. May the bereaved family. Rev. L. Forsyth has furnished an obituary which will appear next week.

We can assure Bro. Clark, the gifted and excellent editor of the Methodist Recorder, that our reference to the Northern Methodist press was intended only for the journals of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The Recorder has been free from calumnies against the South, and its course, so far as we know, has been marked by fairness and truth. The paper is one of the best, and its editor is in high esteem among our people.

Bishop Keener reached home on Saturday, November 11. After a few days of needed rest he will leave for Arkansas, to hold the White River Conference, at Batesville, November 29, and the Little Rock, at Arkadelphia, December 13.

Prof. Huxley is pithily described by the New York Observer as the "man who has fathered a theory that the first man had no father."

Publisher's Department.

Acknowledgments of Letters and Funds

RECEIVED BY MAIL.

For the Week Ending Nov. 11, 1876.

A—N W Ayer & Son, American Sunday School Union, M H Archer, D Appleton & Co, Author's Publishing Company, American Lead Pencil Company, American News Company, Geo F Archer $2.65, James M Ager $1.

B—Baker, Pratt & Co, J H Butler & Co, W P Burton, J W Bell 25 cents, Miss C Bayre $30, R H Brewer $2, Mrs Bonling $2.10, Alex Brown $2, John C Black, G W Brown $10, A J Brown $1, Miss S Blain, J L Blackburn $16.50.

C—Cowperthwait & Co, J H Curtis, J M Curtis $4.50, Lyman Curley $5.85, James Collins & Co $12, S F Chambers, J M Comins, B Cramer, Cumming & Sons, B Carraline $2, P J Carroll.

D—E P Dutton & Co, Daniel Dennett, R B Dwyer, Eugene Duchamp $25, Charles T Dilling-ham, Dodd & Mead, R T Dietz, Donaldson & Co.

E—Esterbrook Steel Pen Manufacturing Company, John D Emack.

F—John L Ferguson, L T Fitzhugh, E N Fresh-man & Bros, G T Freeman $1.

G—W W Graham $6.25, W B Godbey, C T Gilray $10, H T Gray $2, John Gibson.

H—J S Hale & Son, D M Huff, Hecht Bros, C K Henderson $2, Louis Howann, W W Hopper, J D Harper, Harper & Bros, Robert T Hamilton, J L Huckabee $1.

I—Ivison, Blakeman, Taylor & Co, B Ilfelder.

J—S J James & Co, W H Johnson, J C Johnson, J W Jones $5, John A H Jones, B F Jones $6, A D Jenkins.

K—Kilgore & Gillett $21.

L—J B Lippincott & Co, Limerick & Co, A L Lester $10, N O Lauz.

M—John W McMaster $3.50, W F Mathews $4.50, Morgan, Havelope Company, Lucien Minor, John Murphy $2, W H Morris $2, Curtis, Thomas J Mangham $2.25, John J Mix & Co $5.25, J F Mason, Mrs Louise McNair, E A Morel $7.75, W P Mosely & P H Mose.

N—F J Newell, J W Nicholson, A T Nor, Co $12.

O—James Ormond, Oxley & Worrall.

P—A Powell $5.25, P Pilie $5.

R—J K Rimpel three letters $3, Benjamin Rayer $1.25, H B Rosse Charles Reston $2, C F Rumf, George Routledge & Sons, Booker P Rowell & Co, Ira Rebberson.

S—Sheldon & Co, St Louis Advertising and Publishing Company $1.35, D P Scarborough $1.75, J W Sprake, J A Sabey $2.25, J J Smith $2.50, Smith & Cusack, R Singleton, J J Snyder, T D Sewell, J S Shirley, W W Sharpe & Co, H L Sel-man $1.

T—E C Tenn.

U—Universal Publishing Company.

W—Ira Watson, David W Watson, S S Wood-ward, N Walking $4.

The official report of the Centen-

A Centennial committee from the Singer Sewing Machine Company is noticed in our paper to-day. The award in favor of the Singer machine, is conclusive evidence of the positive superiority of that machine over all competitors. The Singer machine is constructed on scientific principles, and has been tested by the most practical mechanical skill in the world. Wherever it has been exhibited it has received the highest premium awarded for sewing machines. The Singer machine is the best machine for family use, and for manufacturing purposes. It is the cheapest machine in the market, because it is the most durable. It will do more work, and do it better, than any other machine. It is the only machine that can be relied on to do all kinds of work. Those who desire to purchase a machine should call at the Singer office, and examine for themselves. Terms to suit purchasers.

The Complete Cotton Cleaner will

Be advertised in the paper. We have had an opportunity to speak favorably of this machine before, and only now call attention to it as it seems to be admirably adapted to the purpose for which it was designed, that of cleaning the cotton of dirt, trash, &c., before ginning, thereby materially benefiting the staple. Planters, Merchants, Brokers, &c., will do well to write for circulars, &c., to the well known manufacturers, Messrs. Allison Brothers, Memphis, Tenn., or their agents, Messrs. Frierson & Co., Carondelet street, New Orleans, who will take pleasure in giving information upon application.

ELECTRO-MAGNETIC CORDIAL.—

We call attention to the advertisement of this valuable remedy, which will be found in another column. It is highly recommended by those who have used it, and we have no doubt that it will prove a valuable remedy for the diseases for which it is recommended. Those interested can send for circulars containing the names of those who have used it, and publishing testimonials from persons who have used it. Mr. H. Dawes, of the Arcade, and well known to our readers, is agent, and will fill any orders from druggists, country merchants, or others. See advertisement.

Dr. A. Jones, of 111 North sixth street, St. Louis, advertises in several newspapers published in that city. The doctor says his medicines are not patented, and that they are generally prescribed by the best practicing physicians. He will answer any inquiries either by letter or in person, if any one calling at his office will first call the attention of those interested to the card, addressed "To the Ladies and Gentlemen of the Great West."

RICE AND CORN MILLS.—We call

attention to J. Foerster's advertisement. His mills are justly celebrated, and we very recently noticed the fact that the Board of Health had ordered to mute this of Rice, which has a large establishment, conveniently located, and with ample facility for doing good work, reasonable prices. Communications can be addressed to him at the mills, and will be promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

The Centennial Exposition Described and Illustrated, by Hon. John L. Hayes, is the name of a new book announced by J. Thompson & Co., Philadelphia. It will contain a full and interesting account of the Centennial Exposition, and will be issued in numbers, at 25 cents each. Agents wanted. See advertisement.

The Complete Cotton Cleaner will be advertised in the paper. We have had an opportunity to speak favorably of this machine before, and only now call attention to it as it seems to be admirably adapted to the purpose for which it was designed, that of cleaning the cotton of dirt, trash, &c., before ginning, thereby materially benefiting the staple. Planters, Merchants, Brokers, &c., will do well to write for circulars, &c., to the well known manufacturers, Messrs. Allison Brothers, Memphis, Tenn., or their agents, Messrs. Frierson & Co., Carondelet street, New Orleans, who will take pleasure in giving information upon application.

ELECTRO-MAGNETIC CORDIAL.—

We call attention to the advertisement of this valuable remedy, which will be found in another column. It is highly recommended by those who have used it, and we have no doubt that it will prove a valuable remedy for the diseases for which it is recommended. Those interested can send for circulars containing the names of those who have used it, and publishing testimonials from persons who have used it. Mr. H. Dawes, of the Arcade, and well known to our readers, is agent, and will fill any orders from druggists, country merchants, or others. See advertisement.

Dr. A. JONES, of 111 North sixth street, St. Louis, advertises in several newspapers published in that city. The doctor says his medicines are not patented, and that they are generally prescribed by the best practicing physicians. He will answer any inquiries either by letter or in person, if any one calling at his office will first call the attention of those interested to the card, addressed "To the Ladies and Gentlemen of the Great West."

RICE AND CORN MILLS.—We call

attention to J. Foerster's advertisement. His mills are justly celebrated, and we very recently noticed the fact that the Board of Health had ordered to mute this of Rice, which has a large establishment, conveniently located, and with ample facility for doing good work, reasonable prices. Communications can be addressed to him at the mills, and will be promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

Centennial Family Bible.—

The St. Louis Bible Publishing Company advertise the Family Bible and Library of Encyclopedia in this paper. Agents who wish to undertake the sale of this work should address the company at once for terms and territory. Parties wishing to purchase can address the house in St. Louis, it will be found convenient.

GUNPOWDER.—Hoyle & Engel-hardt, No. 42 Canal street, advertise Dupont's gunpowder, shot, caps, etc. In the paper to-day they invite dealers and sportsmen to call and see them at their new store, as they will be pleased to see their friends and others, and will give all needed information as to prices, etc.

FOR HAYDEN, 27 and 29 Chartres street, invites the attention of his many old friends and customers to his new and elegant stock of fall goods, consisting of the latest styles in millinery and fancy goods. He has lately returned from the North, where he had a large assortment of additions to the already fine stock. Remember the place is 27 and 29 Chartres street. The advertisement will be found on this page.

FRED. YEAKEL, manufacturer of watches, clocks and jewelry, desires to call the attention of the public to his fine stock, which is to be closed out to settle the partnership now existing under the style of Jost & Yeakel. Our readers would do well to refer to his advertisement in another column, and get his terms before purchasing.

THE "CENTENNIAL" TIE.—We

call the attention of those of our readers who are interested in listing ties to the advertisement, in another column, of the Centennial Ruling Tie, which is the invention of Mr. R. C. Ludlow, vice president and superintendent of the Ludlow Sayler Wire Company of St. Louis.

Our representative, on a late visit to St. Louis, had an opportunity of examining this tie in Mr. Ludlow's office, and from conversation with him was given the following points on which these ties are claimed to be superior to those now used. First, it is claimed they are but little more than half the price of the loop or flat tie. Second, They are stronger than the loop ties. This is fortified by the presidents of two compress companies in St. Louis. Third, A bale can be tied closer, or, in other words, can be held nearer to the press size with these ties than with other ties. Fourth, Cotton in these ties is less exposed to damage by becoming wet than in the flat ties. The broad surface of the latter retains the moisture a long time, and the cotton becomes rotted or stained, and must suffer a reduction in price or incur the expense of a picking. The new tie, on the contrary, covers so little space that the steam can penetrate all around it, and absorb the moisture from the cotton at once. There are other meritorious features connected with these ties. We recommend our friends to investigate and give them a trial. Address R. C. Ludlow, 219 and 221 Market street, St. Louis, Mo.

CRESCENT CITY OIL COMPANY.—

The merchants of our city are beginning to see the necessity of manufacturing establishments in our midst, as is shown by the manufactories started here within the last year. One of the most important of these is the Crescent City Oil Company for the manufacture of cotton seed oil, cake, etc. Recognizing the want for an establishment of this sort, Messrs. L. E. Kenner, A. L. Harris, T. P. Leathers and others, the latter part of June last, commenced the erection of their extensive works, which have been completed and in operation for a short time. The company possesses ample facilities with which to work, and is under the management of Carl Schmidt. Leon D. Kenner is president and Joseph H. Beggs, secretary. The office of these gentlemen is at 24 Union street. We would call attention to the advertisement in another column.

THE professional card of Dr. W.

G. A. Stirling appears in this issue. Dr. Stirling is a graduate of the Medical College of Louisiana, and has been engaged in the practice of his profession in New Orleans for more than thirty years. His long experience in treating diseases of the lungs, throat and bronchial tubes, and his many friends and patrons, both in this city and elsewhere, should secure him a liberal share of public patronage. See advertisement.

JOSEPH PETERS, 311 Morgan street,

Lafayette square, calls attention to his stock of stoves and ranges. These are the best in the market, and are offered at low prices. Mr. Peters has a large number of workmen employed in his establishment, and is prepared to fill orders promptly. See his advertisement.

COAL.—As the cold weather is about here, it is time to think of coal. We would call attention to the advertisement of Mr. Mason, who will deliver coal at the lowest market rates. Mr. Mason is a reliable man, and will give satisfaction to his customers. See his advertisement.

OUR readers throughout the country are requested to favor us with copies of their county papers containing notices of meetings, sales, &c., of interest to the farming community. The price of the Sugar is clear, and we would call attention to the advertisement of Mr. Thompson elsewhere. We would call attention to the advertisement of Mr. Thompson elsewhere.

WE CALL ATTENTION to the card of Dr. T. J. Fowler, dentist, to be found in another column. Dr. Fowler has been practicing his profession in this city for a number of years, and is a skilful dentist. We would call attention to his card.

BOOTS AND SHOES.—We call attention to the advertisement of Messrs. E. Bailey, Jr., & Co., Camp street, and one will find there a full assortment of boots and shoes, at reasonable prices. Those in want of anything in their line would do well to call at their establishment.

DRY GOODS.—E. H. Adams, 56

Magazine street, has a large and well selected stock of dry goods, as can be seen on visiting his store. He will be pleased to see his friends and customers, and will do all he can to please them.

HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS.—Father will be pleased to see his children and mothers at the advertisement of Jackson & Orleans, at the sign of the Bedstead, St. [illegible].

DRESS GOODS, hosiery, corsets, etc., are advertised for sale at [illegible].

SEE the advertisement of Nefen's mirror and glass engraving establishment.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

MESSRS. CRADDOCK & CO., 1032 RACE ST., PHILADELPHIA. Your Hempex a grand remedy, and the praise it has received from those who have used it is well deserved. I find it my self and have also used it in my family with the best results. Nothing can be better for all kinds of coughs, consumption, Kidney disease, Inflammation of the Bowels and Night Sweats. My wife, who has been an invalid for years, and has taken many patent medicines without benefit, thought of trying Hempex, and is now entirely restored to health. Hempex is the best medicine I ever used. Faithfully yours,

PROF. R. GUTHMAN,
No. 44 Spruce street, Philadelphia.

N. B.—The following speaks for itself: I have been using Hempex for a severe cough, and find it to be the best medicine I ever used. It has entirely relieved me, and I recommend it to all who are afflicted with a cough. Yours truly, Rev. Mr. Johnson, Pastor of Methodist Church, Camden, N. J. Hempex, 50 cents and $1 per bottle. Sold by all druggists. Send for circular. CRADDOCK & CO., 1032 Race St., Philadelphia.

WHEELER & PIERSON,
NOS. 63 AND 65 CAMP STREET,
Opposite the City Hotel,
CLOTHING & FURNISHING GOODS
FOR MEN AND BOYS.

We invite visitors from the country to look at our stock. We keep good goods, sell at low prices and mark it in plain figures. Clergymen's trade solicited, and a liberal deduction made to them.

LADIES! A soft and beautiful skin is the desire of every lady of refinement. Pozzoni's Medicated Complexion Powder has been thoroughly tested, and found to perform all that is claimed for it. It regulates the skin, beautifies it, removes all discolorations, flushes, eruptions, etc. Mothers can apply it to infants who become troubled with a scaly or humid state of the skin. Price 50 cents and $1 per box. Sold by all first class druggists and at depot No. 105 North 4th street, St. Louis. (Lindell Hotel.)

THE fame of the palatial Grand

Hotel of New York is due to its elegance and perfection as a complete first-class hotel. Its desirable location, in a convenient and most attractive part of the city, its superiority of accommodations, and its thorough and efficient management, endears it to all travelers who stop there. The best advertisement of the Grand is the recommendation of travelers who have visited New York, and stopped under its spacious roof.

THE American House, Boston, always reckoned one of the best of hotels, like good wine, seems to improve with age. Its location is unsurpassed for parties, either on business or pleasure, and it has few equals in its thousand conveniences, for the comfort and pleasure of its guests.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

R. F. W. BACHMAN

invites the attention of purchasers to the largest, cheapest and most attractive stock of

BOOTS AND SHOES,

at all the leading styles, ever displayed in this city, consisting of LADIES', GENTS AND CHILDRENS FINE SHOES, in every variety and Color with a large assortment of BOOTS AND SHOES adapted to Family and Plantation Wear.

R. F. W. BACHMAN,
Dealer in Fine Shoes, 18 Camp Street,
Under City Hotel New Orleans, La.

THE ROAD TO HEALTH.—Cleanse

the stomach, bowels and blood from all the acrid, corrupt and offensive accumulations and you remove the cause of most diseases, and thus preserve good health, and also save large doctor's bills. The most effectual and reliable remedy for this purpose is Simmons' Liver Regulator—purely vegetable. Theatrial of one bottle or package will prove to the most skeptical the virtues of this medicine.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE TRUTH AT LAST.

OFFICIAL REPORT

OF THE

Centennial Awarding Committee

ON THE

SINGER SEWING MACHINE.

THE United States Centennial Commission announce the following report as the basis of an award to the SINGER MANUFACTURING COMPANY, Elizabeth, N. J., for their FAMILY SEWING MACHINE:

REPORT.

A Sewing Machine, capable of executing the following points of construction, viz: A needle bar operated from the end of a rotating shaft in the overhanging arm, carrying the supply of cotton to the carrier, thereat transversely to the line of motion of the arm of a rotating shaft, a reciprocating shuttle-needle, and a straight needle-bar, all in connection with the direction of feed;

Are excellent for the following reasons:

A SUPERIOR

Family Machine, embodying the greatest number of the approved mechanical devices, important positive motions, the various parts of simple construction, good workmanship, excellent quality and finish of work, [illegible] and adaptation to its purposes.

(Signed) A. T. GOSHORN, Director General.
J. R. HAWLEY, President.
[illegible], Assistant Secretary.

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.

WE HAVE JUST OPENED FROM [illegible]

A FULL LINE OF

FRENCH LACE CURTAINS,
EMBROIDERED LACE BARS,
NOTTINGHAM CURTAINS,
In White & Ecru.

Including the very best [illegible] ever shown here.

COUNTERPANES,
FRENCH CRETONNES,
From the lowest to the highest grades.

ALSO

COMFORTS, BLANKETS,
And Everything pertaining to the above.

D. H. HOLMES,
135 CANAL AND 15 BOURBON ST.,
NEW ORLEANS.

NOVELTY IRON WORKS.

New Orleans Possessing Stock Account which can be furnished under the patent and prices for operation.

JANUARY 1, 1877.

Golding's Standard Press.

Five Patents secured.

Exclusive and Territorial Rights and Drawings Apply to PATENTEE at the NOVELTY WORKS, Corner Delord and Bolivar Streets.

J. FOERSTER'S

RICE AND CORN MILLS,

NOS. 109 AND 111 DELLA ST. AND 164, 166 AND 168 MAGAZINE STREET,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

MILL STONES,

No. 1 Rice, [illegible] per pair.
No. 2 Rice, one half [illegible] per pair.
Eight sacks Brand [illegible] for [illegible].
[illegible] Empty sacks furnished.

F. R. HARDON,

(Successor to)

MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS,

Nos. 27 and 29 Chartres Street,

Between Canal and Bienville streets,

NEW ORLEANS.

HYDLE & ENGELSHEIM,

SOLE AGENTS FOR

DUPONT'S GUNPOWDER,

And Wholesale Dealers in the celebrated "E. I. DU PONT" Percussion Caps, Bar Lead, Shot, etc.,

NO. 32 CANAL STREET,

Corner of Tchoupitoulas, New Orleans.

L. C. MACLIN,

OFFICE—31 CAROLINE LEET STREET,

Wholesale and Retail Dealer in Pittsburg, Virginia Cannel and Lathrop Coal.

Full weight guaranteed.
Yard—Corner Second and Tchoupitoulas sts.

BE READY FOR AGENTS—THE

CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION

DESCRIBED AND ILLUSTRATED.

A graphic pen-picture of its history, grand buildings, wonderful exhibits, curiosities, great days, etc. Profusely illustrated. Thoroughly popular, and very cheap. Is selling immensely. 5,000 Agents wanted. Send for full particulars. This is the chance of 100 years to coin money fast. Get the only reliable history. HUBBARD BROS., Publs., 723 Sansom St., Philadelphia, Pa.

CAUTION! Be not deceived by preparations, books assuming to be official, and telling what will happen in August and September.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

C. C. C.

The Complete Cotton Cleaner, a New, Valuable and Money making Machine for every Cotton producer or ginner—thoroughly removes all Dust, Dirt, Sand and light Trash from cotton before ginning, and improves the quality of the lint from one to four grades.

Nothing learned to work—not one of those complicated affairs—but light, simple, and easily adjusted to either Horse or Steam power, requiring little or no lint and draft, is readily understood, simple in operation, not liable to get out of order, and will pay for itself in less than ten days' work.

Manufactured and sold by

Allison Brothers, Memphis, Tenn.

Send for Circulars and Price list.

FRIERSON & CO., Agents, 77 Carondelet St., New Orleans, La.

ELECTRO-MAGNETIC CORDIAL.

The discovery of Dr. S. A. Richmond, a combining medium, whereby the vital energies, unique function of the great nerve-centers of the system, are brought into direct relation with the blood. Its ingredients are charged with electricity, as they are compounded, thereby repairing the wasted nerves and adding the due quantity of electricity. The nerves are vitalized, and the [illegible] of electricity through the debilitated frame, is thereby restored, giving strength and health to the whole system

Farm, Garden and Household.

Rules for Making Bouquets.

1. The color of the vase to be used is of importance. Gaudy reds and blues should never be chosen, for they conflict with the delicate hues of the flowers. "Bronze or black vases, dark green, pure white or silver always produce a good effect, and so does a straw basket, while clear glass, which shows the graceful clasping of the stems, is perhaps the prettiest of all.

2. The shape of the vase is also to be thought of. For the middle of a dinner-table a round bowl is always appropriate, or a tall vase with a saucer-shaped base. Or, if the center of the table is otherwise occupied, a large conch-shell, or shell-shaped dish, may be swung from the chandelier above, and, with plenty of vines and feathering green, made to look very pretty. Delicate flowers, such as lilies of the valley and sweet peas, should be placed by themselves in slender tapering glasses; violets should nestle their fragrant purple in some tiny cup, and pansies be set in groups, with no guyer flowers to contradict their soft velvet hues; and—this is a hint for summer—few things are prettier than balsam blossoms or double variegated bollyhocks, massed on a flat plate, with a fringe of green to hide the edge. No leaves should be interspersed with these; the plate will look like a solid mosaic of splendid color.

3. Stiffness and crowding are the two things to be specially avoided in arranging flowers. What can be uglier than the great tasteless bunches into which the ordinary florist ties his wares, or what more extravagant? A skillful person will untie one of these, and, adding green leaves, make the same flowers into half a dozen bouquets, each more effective than the original. Flowers should be grouped as they grow, with a cloud of light foliage in and about them, to set off their forms and colors.

4. It is better, as a general rule, not to put more than one or two sorts of flowers into the same vase. A great bush with roses and camellias and carnations and feverfew and geraniums growing on it all at once would be a frightful thing to behold; just so a monstrous bouquet made up of all these flowers is meaningless and ugly. Certain flowers such as heliotrope, mignonette and myrtle mix well with everything; but usually it is better to group flowers with their kind—roses in one glass, geraniums in another, and not try to make them agree in companies.

5. When you do mix flowers, be careful not to put colors which clash side by side. Scarlets and pinks spoil each other; so do blues and purples, and yellows and mauves. If your vase or dish is a very large one, to hold a great number of flowers, it is a good plan to divide it into thirds or quarters, making each division perfectly harmonious within itself, and then blend the whole with lines of green and white and soft neutral tint. Every group of mixed flowers requires one little touch of yellow to make it vivid; but this must be skillfully applied. It is good practice to experiment with this effect. For instance, arrange a group of maroon, scarlet and white geraniums with green leaves, and add a single blossom of gold-colored calceolaria; you will see at once that the whole bouquet seems to flash out and become more brilliant.—From "Flowers in Winter," St. Nicholas.

TO OBTAIN LIGHT WITHOUT THE USE OF MATCHES.—To obtain light instantly without the use of matches, and without the danger of setting things on fire, take an oblong phial of the clearest glass, put into it a piece of phosphorous about the size of a pea, upon which pour some olive oil, heated to the boiling point, filling the phial about one-third full, then cork the phial tightly. To use it, remove the cork and allow the air to enter the phial and then re-cork it. The whole empty space in the bottle will then become luminous, and the light obtained will be equal to that of a lamp. As soon as the light grows weak its power can be increased by opening the phial and allowing a fresh supply of air to enter. In winter it is sometimes necessary to heat the phial between the hands to increase the fluidity of the oil. Thus prepared, the phial may be used for six months. This contrivance is now used by the watchmen of Paris in all magazines where explosive or inflammable materials are stored.

A CHEAP FERTILIZER.—First gather any quantity of swamp muck into a pile to dry. Measure off six barrels of this (or any other rich, black earth) into another pile, and add the following salts, previously dissolved in a barrel or more of water, viz.: forty pounds of nitrate of soda, sixty pounds of sulphate of ammonia, and half a bushel of common salt. Then, add a barrel of ashes, a barrel of plaster of Paris, and a barrel of ground bones. Mix all well together, and use in the same manner as Peruvian guano.—Cottage Hearth.

COAL ASHES FOR PEAR TREES.—Coal ashes have a wonderful effect upon pear trees, especially those growing in light soil. Our ashes of last winter were used around trees in liberal quantities, and those treated have outgrown anything in the orchard. Some that were even sickly, and apparently ready to give up their hold on life, have been restored to perfect health by these remedies.—Peninsula News.

CORN OYSTERS.—Grate six ears of sweet corn; add half a pint of cold milk, a scant teaspoonful of pepper, half as much of salt, and half a teacup of flour. Mix well together, and fry in hot butter.

Oftentimes a man ransacks the whole house for a pin, and, not being able to find one, drops into a chair with disgust, and is immediately rewarded for the search.

MEDICAL

Judgment of the Public!

DURING THE PAST FIVE YEARS THE public have carefully observed the wonderful cures accomplished from the use of VEGETINE. From its first many an afflicted sufferer has been restored to perfect health, after having expended a small fortune in procuring medical advice and obtaining poisonous mineral mixtures.

Its medical properties are Alterative, Tonic, Solvent, and Diuretic. There is no disease of the human system for which the VEGETINE cannot be used with perfect safety, as it does not contain any mineral or poisonous compound. It is composed exclusively of barks, roots and herbs; it is very pleasant to take, operates mildly, and is safe and reliable as the following evidence will show.

Valuable Evidence.

[illegible] Rev. Col. Walker, D. D., being pastor of Bowdoin Square Church, Boston, and a resident of Roxbury, he [illegible] to be found in Boston every day, [illegible] the rest of the week [illegible] with reference to VEGETINE. The Rev. Mr. Walker [illegible] VEGETINE [illegible] Valuable.

Prevented [illegible] TRANSIT STREET, [illegible] Boston, Mass., Dec. 1, 1875. MR. H. R. STEVENS: Dear Sir—I have been using with my family the high value I place upon your VEGETINE. My family have used it for the last two years. In nervous disorders it is invaluable, and I recommend it to all who may be troubled with indigestion, biliousness, or who may require a tonic or alterative medicine. Yours truly, E. WALKER, Formerly Pastor of Bowdoin Square Church, Boston.

A Walking Miracle.

MR. H. R. STEVENS: Dear Sir—I am a [illegible] Virginia traveler. I want to inform you what VEGETINE has done for me. Last Christmas I was made helpless, suffering on my left side. I could not move my arm, nor can I say all I suffered. Medicine after medicine was given me, which I took, but all to no purpose, when it was suggested that you [illegible] which I procured, and to the surprise of many, before I had taken one bottle I was able to walk without crutch or cane, and in two weeks from that time I was able to ride on horseback. I am a walking miracle, and I feel it my duty to say to the world that VEGETINE has done it all. Yours truly, WILLIAM PAYNE.

Reliable Evidence.

MR. H. R. STEVENS: Dear Sir—For the last three years I have been afflicted with a humor, which appeared in the form of pimples on my face, and finally extended over my whole body, causing me the most intense suffering and pain. I was induced to try your VEGETINE, and am happy to say that after taking a few bottles I was entirely cured, and have remained so ever since. I have also used it in my family for Dyspepsia, and can recommend it as a reliable remedy. Yours truly, MRS. L. GORE, [illegible] Mass.

PREPARED BY H. R. STEVENS, Boston, Mass.

Vegetine is Sold by All Druggists.

SWAIM'S CELEBRATED PANACEA

Is not as many persons suppose [illegible] the herald of [illegible] but, having [illegible] been the means of RESTORING TO HEALTH [illegible] OF DISEASE PERSONS, it has received the [illegible] of HUNDREDS OF GOOD MEN who know its merits, and should be used by all who suffer from diseases arising from impurities of the blood, or of a hereditary taint.

Its value in CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, GOUT, ULCERS, CANCERS, SCROFULOUS SWELLINGS, etc., is known to thousands of Southern people.

Prepared at

Swaim's Laboratory,

South Seventh St., below Chestnut St.,

PHILADELPHIA.

To the Ladies and Gentlemen of the Great West:

I WILL OFFER my most Valuable Medicines, the result of more than twenty years' experience and successful practice. First—The PAIN PAINT, which never fails to cure Cholera, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Sore Throat, and Diphtheria, contains no opium or narcotics. It is vegetable extract 50 per bottle. Second—PAIN ANNIHILATOR. Sure cure for Chronic Nervous Headache, Toothache and Neuralgia. 50 per bottle. Third—EPILEPTIC LINIMENT, for men or beasts. Good for Sprains, Bruises, Swellings, Old Sores, and Ulcers. 50 per bottle. Fourth—The World's Renowned CHILL AND FEVER CURE, warranted to cure every case if directions are strictly followed. 50 per box. Fifth—The Vegetable Combination HAIR RESTORER, without lead or sulphur runs baldness, removes dandruff, stops the hair from falling out, and is a beautiful hair dressing. It is all that is required to give full satisfaction. Sold by all druggists at 50 per bottle. A liberal discount to the trade. I tender you my compliments for past favors, and solicit a continuance. Thanking you, Yours truly, A. JONES, M. D.

Office—No. 111 North Sixth Street, St. Louis, Mo. Consultation free, either in person or by letter.

F. A. McKECHNIE,

Engraver on Wood.

OFFICES 26 Washington street and 178 Congress street, Boston. Orders by mail will receive prompt attention. Proofs sent three cent stamp for each sheet of cuts for cards and envelopes.

Dr. C. B. White,

Office and Residence,

167 CANAL STREET.

SAM. HENDERSON,

Cotton Factor, Commission Merchant, and Purchasing Agent,

43 CARONDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Does business on Grange principles, and at Grange rates.

EDUCATIONAL.

University of Mississippi.

THE NEXT SESSION OF THE UNIVERSITY of Mississippi, at Oxford, opens

October 4, 1876.

The Faculty is complete, able, and proficient.

The campus, buildings, and apparatus in good repair.

The location is healthy; church facilities and society excellent.

Tuition free to candidates for the ministry. Tuition fee to others $25. Total expenses need not exceed $200 to $250 per annum. Students for the Preparatory Department will be required to board with family of the Principal.

For catalogue and information, address

H. M. SULLIVAN,
Secretary Board of Trustees,
Oxford, Miss.

Emory and Henry College

VIRGINIA.

THE collegiate year for 1876-7 begins on the FOURTEENTH OF SEPTEMBER next. It is divided into two terms of twenty weeks each, the first closing January 31, and the second beginning February 1, 1877.

For TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS deposited with the President at the beginning of the year we will give to a student, for the forty weeks, tuition, board, fuel, room-rent, washing, library and contingent fees.

Further information by special private or by catalogue address E. L. WILEY, President, Emory P. O., Virginia.

EMORY COLLEGE.

THE FALL TERM of this long established institution opens on Wednesday, SEPTEMBER 6.

Emory College, with a full Faculty and a thorough curriculum, is prepared to do first class college work.

TUITION—Full course, $25; Spring Term, $15. Board in good families, from $16 to $20 per month. Food and lodging can be procured at from $10 to $12 per month by boys willing to wait on themselves.

For further information address the President,

ATTICUS G. HAYGOOD,
Oxford, Ga.

Quitman M. & F. College.

QUITMAN, VAN BUREN CO., ARK.

FALL SESSION BEGINS MONDAY, SEPT. 4. This school, under the patronage of the Arkansas Conference, offers a quiet, healthy retreat to students. Good board can be had at eight to ten dollars per month. Tuition is as low as can be had anywhere, ranging from $1.50 to $3 a month. Tuition free to children of ministers and to young men studying for the ministry.

For further particulars apply to

REV. JAMES A. FEEBLES, President,
Quitman, Van Buren Co., Ark.

Collegiate Institute

AT BATON ROUGE, LA.

THE next session of this School will begin on Wednesday, the TWENTY-FOURTH OF OCTOBER, 1876. This is a Family Boarding School for boys. The healthfulness of the location is unsurpassed. Instruction thorough in all that is necessary to prepare the student for any academic college or any pursuit in life. Discipline parental. The constant personal care of the Principal is given to the health, morals and manners of the pupils.

For circulars with references address or apply to

W. H. N. MAGRUDER,
Baton Rouge, La.

MOORE'S SOUTHERN BUSINESS UNIVERSITY ATLANTA, GA. THE BEST PRACTICAL BUSINESS SCHOOL IN THE SOUTH. SEND FOR CATALOGUE.

Fort Edward Collegiate Institute,

NEW YORK.

$172 PER YEAR PAYS TUITION IN the Classical, Scientific, Military, Normal, Law, Telegraphic, Telegraphic, Telegraphic

MEDICAL.

ANGELL'S

HOMEOPATHIC PHARMACY,

137 Julia St., near Camp, New Orleans.

HOMEOPATHIC MEDICINES, BOOKS, CASES, AND ALL OTHER ARTICLES USED IN HOMEOPATHIC PRACTICE.

TO MEET THE DEMAND FOR AIDS TO Domestic Practice, and proved by an extensive experience to be safe, generally successful and reliable adaptable to family practice, remedies for the following diseases will be furnished by mail or express, with full directions as to their use:

For Cholera, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Hoarseness, Asthma, Fever, Diarrhea, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus and Infantum, Worms, Colic, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Neuralgia, Headache, Sore Throat, Ear Disorders, Sore Mouth, Urinary Affections, Fevers, Piles, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Scrofula, Sore Eyes, and General Debility 25 cents each.

For Heart Affections, and Chill Drops successful in Malarian Fever when other remedies fail, one dollar each.

Concentrated Bitters and Colic Drops, 25 cents each.

Dr. R. ANGELL, Senior,

Continues his visiting and office practice as usual, night and day. Will prescribe and furnish medicine by letter on a full statement of case, if desirable.

For prescription, and medicine three to five subsequent ones, two to three dollars. Consultation alone, free of charge, on inclosing stamped envelope. Office, upstairs 152 Julia street.

THE ONLY TRUE AND PERFECT HAIR COLORER!

THE MYSTERY,

Or Turner's Hair Tint!

HARMLESS! BEAUTIFUL! PERMANENT!

This preparation has received the indorsement of the scientific world, and wherever introduced has superseded all other preparations of the kind. No washing or preparation of the hair is necessary before using.

Free from all Deleterious Ingredients, containing not Lead, Sulphur, or other colorants which are injurious to the Hair or Person, all by Analysis.

And its use saves both time and labor, as a few applied with a comb, once a month or so, to the hair or Whiskers, answers the purpose, the natural color being so perfectly assumed as to defy detection. Its great recommendation is in its tint of teint, producing any desired shade, from light brown to the deepest black, and not a trace of that dry and harsh appearance produced by other Hair Dyes. The Mystery can be applied to a single hair, or spot that have changed, to restore to their original shade without impairing all over the head, as is necessary when other Hair Dyes are used.

Sample sent free by mail to any address in the United States on receipt of price, One Dollar, by the inventor and proprietor,

JAMES TURNER, Chemist,
P. O. Box 2511. New Orleans.

For sale by L. L. Lyons, New Orleans; Geo. R. Finlay & Co., New Orleans; E. J. Hart, New Orleans, and druggists generally.

N. JENKINS' ANNIHILATOR.

A PURELY VEGETABLE COMPOUND, for the permanent cure of

Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia.

Be Incredulous!

From one to two bottles will greatly benefit any case of Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia.

From two to twelve bottles, according to duration of disease, will cure any case of Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia.

It is one of the best regulators of the circulation of the blood known.

N. JENKINS,
106 Camp street, New Orleans.

Wholesale Agents—A. B. FINLAY & CO., New Orleans.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Bricks! Bricks! Bricks!

ROY'S BRICK YARD,

ST. BERNARD PARISH, four blocks below the Slaughterhouse.

The undersigned respectfully informs Builders, Planters, and all consumers of Bricks, that he is exclusively manufacturing Bricks at his old Brick Yard near the Slaughterhouse. Where he has always on hand a large quantity of country-made Bricks and Kettle Tiles, ready to be delivered without detention.

FREDERIC ROY,

Orders left with S. Roy, at C. Cavarroc & Son's Store, No. 28 Decatur street, or at the Brick Yard, will be promptly attended to.

J. A. LACROIX,

PROPRIETOR OF THE

Pontchartrain Cheap Store,

Cor. FRENCHMEN & VICTORY STREETS,

Ladies', Gents', Misses' and Children's

BOOTS AND SHOES

OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.

Always on hand, a full assortment of first-class goods at prices which defy competition. Call and examine my stock before purchasing elsewhere. My Motto—Quick Sales and Small Profits.

JNO. P. LUTHER,

79 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,

MANUFACTURER OF ALL KINDS OF

SCHOOL, COLLEGE, CHURCH, CLASS, SOCIETY AND FRATERNITY

PINS, BADGES & MEDALS,

at short notice, and very reasonable.

Presentation Medals a specialty. Orders by mail attended to.

Lower Coast Semi-Weekly Packet.

FOR PORT EADS, SOUTHWEST Pass, Pilot Town, Fort Jackson and St. Philip, Buras Settlement, Pointe a la Hache and all way landings. The new, swift, pleasure Steamer

MARTHA,

W. S. Bassett, Master,

Will leave above every WEDNESDAY at 12 M. SATURDAY at 5 P. M.

Returning every MONDAY and THURSDAY.

For freight or passage apply on board, or to MITE & PAILIN, Agents.

CISTERN-MAKER.

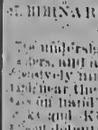
R. BRODERICK,

NOS. 132, 134 AND 136 JULIA ST.,

Between Camp and Magazine, New Orleans.

Constantly on hand, an assortment of Cisterns. Second-hand Cisterns always on hand. All orders promptly attended to.

ST. SELF-INKING "BEST"



PRINTING PRESS, OUTFIT and PRESS 40c. Presses from $10 to $60. Rotary Presses from $15 to $150. Send stamps for catalogues.

H. HOWKER & CO.,
54 North 4th street,
Philadelphia.

MENEELY & COMPANY,

Bell Founders, West Troy, New York.

FIFTY years established. Church Bells and Chimes; Academy, Factory Bells, etc. Improved Patent Mountings. Catalogues free. No agencies.

CARPET WAREHOUSE,

17 CHARTRES STREET 17

CARPETTINGS—Wilton, Axminster, Velvet, Brussels Tapestry, Three-Ply, etc.
FLOOR OIL CLOTH—English and American.
MATTINGS—500 rolls White, Check and Fancy.
WINDOW SHADES, Table and Piano Covers.
FURNITURE and CURTAIN GOODS in great variety
BURLAPS, Table and Enamel OIL CLOTHS.
A. BROUSSEAU.

BUSINESS CARDS.

J. F. HOHRBACHER,

MANUFACTURER AND DEALER IN

BOOTS AND SHOES,

NO. 237 CAMP STREET,

Between St. Joseph and Delord, New Orleans.

Country orders promptly attended to.

MARTIN WEYDIG,

NO 170 POYDRAS ST., NEW ORLEANS,

MANUFACTURER OF

SADDLES, HARNESS AND HOSE.

Firemen's and Military Equipments made to order. Dealer in all kinds of Leather and Rubber Hose, Leather and Rubber Pipes, Suctions and Fire Buckets, Horse Sheets and Blankets, Lap Dusters, Buggy Robes, Fly Nets and Whips, and all kinds of Saddlery Hardware. Country orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

A. B. GRISWOLD & CO.,

COR. CANAL AND ROYAL STS.,

WATCHES, JEWELRY, DIAMONDS

AND SILVERWARE.

Watches and Jewelry repaired in the best manner. Goods sent C. O. D. and returnable if not suitable. Everything guaranteed to be as represented.

H. SPIERING,

UPHOLSTERER,

151 MAGAZINE ST. 151

Near Jackson, New Orleans.

Parlor Sets manufactured at New York prices. Spring, Hair and Moss Mattresses made. Loose Covers cut and made to order. Carpets laid, and taken up, cleaned and relaid. All work guaranteed.

G. SCIACCALUGA, IMPORTER,

And Wholesale and Retail Dealer in

GROCERIES, SHIP CHANDLERY, Etc.

Nos. 157 and 159 Old Levee St.,

Between Jefferson and St. Peter, New Orleans.

A full assortment of Palm Oil, Bakana, Henry and Manilla Rope. Keeps a complete assortment of French and Catalonia Wines, Italian Macaroni and Vermicelli, etc.

EDWARD SALLE. H. T. CAMBACK.

SALLE & CAMBACK,

COTTON FACTORS

AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS

No. 123 Gravier Street, New Orleans.

Liberal cash advances made on consignments of Cotton, Wool, Leaf or Manufactured Tobacco.

COAL. COAL. COAL.

B. D. WOOD & BROS.

Corner Camp and Common Streets,

Opposite the U. S. Mint.

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in all kinds of COAL. Pittsburg Coal delivered by boat or less in the cargo, and shipped in casks or in bulk at lowest market rates. Yard—Corner Camp and Common streets.

LUMBER AT PRESENT PRICES.

J. L. NEVERS,

Contractor for

JETTY WORK,

P. O. Box 315. 11 LAFAYETTE STREET.

WOOD. COAL. LUMBER.

NO. 851 DRYADES STREET, between Third and Fourth streets. Best quality of Oak, Ash and Pine Sawed and Split Wood always on hand. Pittsburg and Anthracite Coal and Charcoal at the lowest market prices. Agent for Ayer & Mills' Lumber Shingles. Lumber sawed to order at the shortest notice. Orders left at my office, 30 Dryades street, or at 252 Hagan street, will receive prompt attention. Satisfaction guaranteed. SAM. SMITH.

LOUISIANA STEAM SASH, BLIND

—AND—

DOOR FACTORY,

ROBERTS & CO., PROPRIETORS,

301, 303, 305 and 307 Gravier Street,

Country orders solicited. New Orleans.

WILLIAM VELDEN,

DEALER IN

WOOD, COAL AND ICE,

Corner Philip and Prytania Streets,

NEW ORLEANS.

Meat and Fish kept in Ice free of charge.

BOOTS, SHOES AND TRUNKS.

OF VARIOUS QUALITIES AND PRICES

At Low Figures for Cash.

Country Merchants and Planters will do well to give me a call before purchasing elsewhere.

H. MEMME,
No. 51 Magazine street, and
No. 61 Dryades street.

JOHN A. CAIRNS,

GENERAL ENGRAVER

101 CANAL STREET 101

Wedding and Visiting Cards neatly engraved and printed.

Special attention given to Crests, Monograms, etc. Letters dry-die and Silver Plate Marks of all descriptions.

ADOLPHE B. LEROY & CO.,

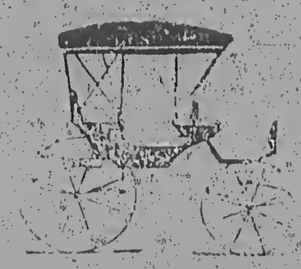
BOOK BINDERS, RULERS,

AND BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURERS,

102 Camp Street 102

(Over James A. Gresham's) New Orleans.

Music Books and Pamphlets bound in handsome style.



J. LUPA & CO.,

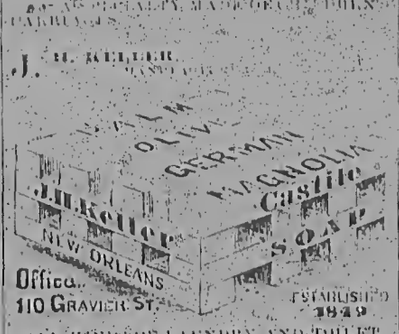
MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN

CARRIAGES, HARNESS, ETC.,

162 Gravier and 15 Union Street.

All Carriages made by us fully warranted.

J. H. KELLER,



Office, 110 Gravier St. ESTABLISHED 1849

ALL KINDS OF LAUNDRY AND TOILET SOAPS.

JOHN L. ADAMS. JAY L. ADAMS. WM. B. RENAUD.

JOHN L. ADAMS & CO.,

WHOLESALE GROCERS,

AND DEALERS IN

PROVISIONS, LARD, OIL, ETC.,

Nos. 13, 15 and 17 Peters Street.

(Formerly New Levee street.) New Orleans.

PELICAN.

IMPROVED RICE MILLS.

J. B. & A. JOHNSTON, PROPRIETORS.

154, 156 and 158 Magazine St., New Orleans.

MILLING RATES—No. 1 at 5c. per pound; No. 2 at 4c. per pound. Address all orders for empty Sacks to P. O. Box 296.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DR. W. C. AUSTIN,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE,

Corner Jackson and Magazine Streets,

New Orleans.

Entrance on Jackson street, Upper City Hotel. Office hours—8 to 10 A. M. and 2 to 5 P. M.

GEORGE J. FRIEDRICHS,

DENTIST,

153 St. Charles Street 153

NEW ORLEANS.

DR. JOHN W. ADAMS,

SURGEON DENTIST,

Office and Residence—NO. 511 DAUPHINE ST.,

(Last square on Esplanade street, Upper side, from corner of Spain, New Orleans.

Nitrous Oxide Gas administered for the painless extraction of Teeth. Teeth inserted on Gold, Silver and Vulcanite bases.

A. L. TICKER,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

(Late of Franklin, St. Mary Parish, La.)

100 COMMON STREET 100

(Upstairs.) New Orleans.

REMOVAL.—A CARD.—In obedience to the expressed wishes of many of my patrons, I have removed my office from my residence, on Napoleon avenue, to TIVOLI CIRCLE, west side, corner of Delord street. Parties will please direct accordingly. I am thus enabled to resume my regular hours and give better attention and ease of access by car lines.

My patrons need entertain no apprehension that my efforts will be stinted. Prosthetic Dentistry in all its branches. In Dentistry the Arts always take the lead.

J. R. WALKER, D. D. S.

DR. C. J. BICKHAM,

RESIDENCE AND OFFICE,

649 Magazine St., Corner of Jackson ave.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Office Hours—Eight to nine A. M. and three to four P. M.

DR. J. J. LYONS,

NO. 219 CARONDELET STREET,

Between Julia and St. Joseph,

New Orleans.

E. T. MERRICK, Jr., Notary Public, Louisiana. G. W. BACE. W. R. FOSTER.

MERRICK, BACE & FOSTER,

ATTORNEYS, COUNSELORS

AND SOLICITORS,

Corner of Camp Street and Commercial Place,

NEW ORLEANS.

MISCELLANEOUS.

GREAT JACKSON ROUTE.

NEW ORLEANS, ST. LOUIS

AND CHICAGO RAILROAD.

On and after Monday, October 9, 1876, trains depart and arrive as follows, (train time):

Depot

Arrive:

Mail

Accommodation

PULLMAN PALACE SLEEPING CARS

Run through to Louisville and Cincinnati.

Only one change of Sleeping cars to Eastern cities.

Annihilation every 24 hours to Memphis.

Tickets for sale and information given at No. 22 Camp street, corner of Common, and at the Hotel.

A. D. SHELDON, Agent.
E. B. FROST, General Manager.

Songs of Glory.

By JAS. R. FILLMORE.

has already reached the sale of over 50,000 copies. The new collection in the above cut is bearing its name as a great help to the mass of singers.

Songs of Glory

is full of spark-bright gems of song, fresh and new, and must become immensely popular.

35 cts., $3.60 per doz., by express, $4.00 per doz.

FILLMORE BROS., Cincinnati, O.

PLASTER PARIS MODELS

For Drawing Classes.

BUSTS, MASKS, ANIMALS, FRUITS, Vases, Medallions, and Casts from the Fractions of Human Face. Anatomy, Heads of Animals, Birds, Rabbits, Snakes, Shells, Fruit and Flowers, etc.

Large assortment of busts in imitation of marble, and colored and gilded, for the United States Centennial.

E. LAVIELLE III
United States, New York.

GET THE BEST.

WM. B. RINGROSE,

No. 1220 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS,

DEALER IN

New & Second-Hand Furniture.

Furniture bought, sold and exchanged. Now occupies the largest and finest Store, 1220 Camp St., between Third and Julia, just above St. Peter's Church. Call or address me if taking Furniture to Storage at the lowest rates. Jobbing in packing and moving promptly attended to.

ED. BABE & CO.,

CARRIAGE & SPRING WAGON

MANUFACTURERS,

Nos. 131 and 133 Sycamore Street,

Between Franklin and Woolworth, CINCINNATI, O.

"STIRESHOT" VICK, Rat Exterminator. Mice, Roaches, Ants, Fleas, Rats, and Mice sent free by mail on the receipt of 50 cents, only.

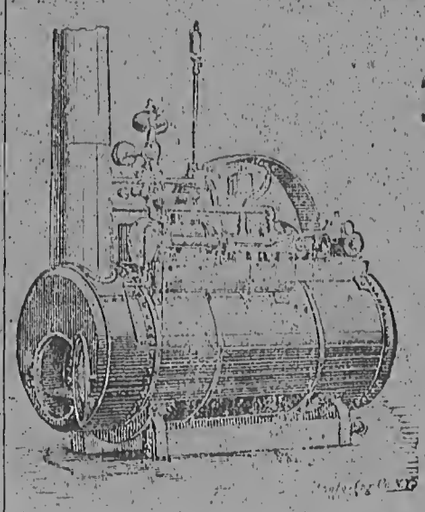
WM. CICHTENHERG,
74 Fulton street, New York.

LIME, SAND, BRICKS, ETC.

Lime, Sugar Lime, Cement, Plaster, Plastering Hair, White and Yellow Sand, Fire Clay Paving, Building Cumby and Arch Bricks, English and Pittsburg Fire Bricks, Large and Small White Shells, Laths, Shingles, Fire Tiles, Sulphur, Tar Pitch and Rosin at the lowest market rates. For sale by

JOHN P. STEWART,
65 Gravier street, and
249 Julia, bet. Rampart and Basin Sts.

MISCELLANEOUS.



PAYNE'S

Portable Engines.

5 TO 15 HORSE POWER.

B. J. WEST

SOLE AGENT,

115 and 117 Magazine Street,

NEW ORLEANS.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST, ETC.

A. A. PARKER,

FANCY AND STAPLE

DRY GOODS.

ALSO

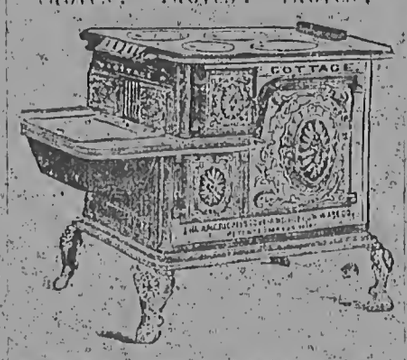
Ladies' and Misses' Underwear.

I AM OPENING A LARGE STOCK OF NEW FALL AND WINTER GOODS AT 81 and 83 Camp street, which will be sold at Retail at Wholesale Prices. Also, Homemade Underwear for Ladies and Gentlemen.

115 Canal St., between Baronne and Dryades Sts.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Stoves! Stoves! Stoves!



THE CHEAPEST AND THE "BEST."

THE "COTTAGE" RANGE STOVE IS the best Stove in the market for the money. It burns COAL or WOOD, and is the most economical Stove ever made. Also, a variety of COAL STOVES, between $5 and $10, to suit the times. Also, a variety of WOOD STOVES, between $5 and $10, to suit the times.

HEATING STOVES.

A very large assortment of Heating Stoves for Offices, Parlors, Churches and Halls, at all prices, which are offered at reduced prices to suit the times. A call solicited.

TINWARE OF EVERY KIND

and description to suit the market, and all trade, which is offered at UNUSUALLY LOW PRICES FOR CASH. Agent for the celebrated Stove and Steel Ovens.

Steam Washer, or Woman's Friend.

We are now selling the CELEBRATED PUBLIC WARRANTED Steam Washer, and the Advantages and Economy of this Washer have already been fully tested in this City. Parties desiring to test it can have one sent to their residence on trial. Call and examine it at No. 81 Camp street, New Orleans.

W. W. GOODWYN.

GRAND CHEAP LIBRARY.

No. 2.

Now Ready, Vol. 2 of the Standard Novels, containing in Monthly Volumes of the Library Edition, printed from large, fine, new plates, on tinted paper, and bound in extra cloth, gilt back and side. All the Novels, Romances and Tales of the Standard Authors. The price of each Volume is 50c. from which we allow a discount of 25 per cent. to Schools, Colleges, Libraries, Clubs, Societies, Reading Rooms, Institutes, Asylums, Hospitals, Steamboats, Railroads, Hotels, Public Institutions, Ships, Barracks, Forts, Camps, Armies, Navies, Etc.

Net Price for 50 Large Book Size Volumes, $22.

The Cheapest Publication Ever Issued in Novel and Romance.

SUBSCRIPTIONS Received for Complete Sets, or Single Volumes, at the Rate of 50 Cents per Volume.

Send for Catalogue.

American Sunday School Union,

Branch Store, 1122 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. ALEX. KINMOND, Agent for the Southern States, New York Office, 10 Bible House.

TO THE PUBLIC.

A CERTAIN PARTY has made arrangements with a number of the principal Publishers of Books in the United States, and has established a Depot in the City of New Orleans, for the sale of Books at Publishers' Prices, and is now prepared to fill orders for Books, Periodicals, Stationery, etc., at the lowest rates.

THE DELTA AUTHORIZED AGENT

Will receive orders for Books, Periodicals, Stationery, etc., at the lowest rates.

H. J. RIVET,

Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines

AND PERFUMERY, AND IMPORTER OF FRENCH PERFUMERY AND TOILET GOODS.

Cor. Bienville and Chartres sts.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Prompt attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.

CHAIR WAREHOUSE.

PARLOR CHAIRS, CANE SEAT CHAIRS, CAMP CHAIRS, PARLOR ROCKING CHAIRS, KITCHEN CHAIRS, OFFICE CHAIRS, Special Chairs for HALLS, CHURCHES, PUBLIC HALLS, Schools, Colleges, Seminaries, Etc. Wholesale and Retail.

T. H. WISLER,
No. 25 N. SIXTH St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

KEEP'S CUSTOM SHIRTS,

Made to measure. The very best 6 for $6.

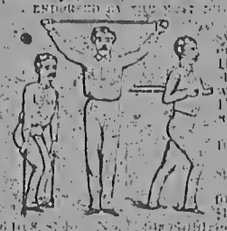
KEEP'S PATENT PARTLY MADE DRESS SHIRTS, the very best 6 for $7.

ON RECEIPT OF PRICE EITHER OF the above, with an elegant set of gold-plated collar and sleeve buttons, will be delivered free in any place reached by Express, except California and the territories. Keep's shirts are only made by one quality, the very best. We mean just what we say, and to give every one an opportunity of judging for themselves without cost, we mail samples and full directions for self-measurement free to any address. We refer to purchasers of Keep's shirts everywhere.

KEEP MANUFACTURING CO.,
105 and 107 Mercer street, New York.

AGENTS WANTED.

Goodyear's Pocket Gymnasium



ENDORSED BY THE MOST EMINENT PHYSICIANS.

The most complete system of physical development ever offered for sale. Invaluable for Home Practice. A perfect gymnasium without apparatus. Takes up no room. Weighs only 2 pounds. Can be carried in the vest pocket. Will last a lifetime. Is always ready for use. Is the cheapest and best exercising apparatus now known. Is highly recommended by the most eminent physicians. Is adapted to the use of both sexes and all ages. Is the most perfect and complete apparatus ever invented. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the house. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the office. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the parlor. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the bedroom. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the nursery. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the kitchen. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the dining room. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the library. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the study. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the hall. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the closet. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the garret. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the cellar. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the yard. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the garden. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the orchard. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the field. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the forest. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the mountain. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the valley. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the river. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the lake. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the ocean. Is the only apparatus that can be used in the world.

Price List

Goodyear Rubber Curler Company,
Broadway, New York.

HOLMAN'S

Fever and Ague and Liver Pad

CURES WITHOUT MEDICINE.

A PERFECT ABSORPTION.

The Best Liver Regulator in the World.

None genuine without the Trade Mark and Signature of the Inventor on the Wrapper.

For Certificates, read Little Book to be had of druggists, and send for one if not obtainable on application to HOLMAN, BLAIR & CO., Proprietors, Memphis, Tenn., & 66 Gravier street, New Orleans. For sale by druggists generally.

Price $2 and $3.

20,000

ORANGE TREES!

W. R. STUART,

OCEAN SPRINGS, MISS.

I HAVE A LARGE AND HANDSOME BEARING GROVE of SWEET SEEDLING ORANGE TREES, from 2 to 4 feet high, for sale at low prices. Address as above.

KING SOLOMON

AND THE

IRON WORKER.

A Condition of the Dedication of the Great Temple at Jerusalem, and its Builders.

BRADLEY & CO.,
Nos. 8 North Fourth St. and 7 Minor St., Philadelphia.

Piles! Piles!! Piles!!!

I HAVE A SURE REMEDY FOR PILES and all diseases of the Rectum. Will be in attendance at my office, No. 1 Astor House, New York, Saturdays, from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M. Pamphlet free.

W. W. WARD, M. D.

No. 1 Astor House,
New York.

OTTO ZEIL,

General Engraver and Book-Binders' Tool Cutter,

Designs made for Side and Back Stamps, N. W. Cor. FOURTH AND MAIN STREETS, (Second Floor) CINCINNATI, O.

Has Trade Mark, Gilding Stamps, Shoe Ornamental Stitching Stamps, Lettering Brands, Dies, Plates, etc.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.

Established in 1837.

Superior Bells of Copper and Tin, mounted with the best Rotary Hangings for Churches, Schools, Farms, Factories, Court-houses, Fire Alarms, Tower Clocks, etc. Fully Warranted. Illustrated Catalogue sent Free.

Address A. Vin. BALDWIN, Second St., Cin.

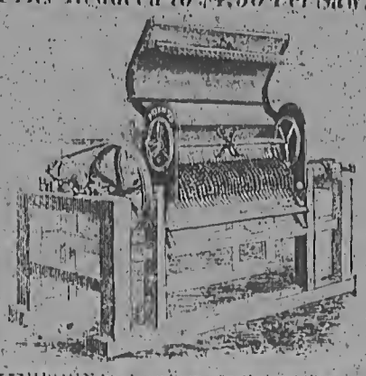
MACHINERY, TIES, ETC.

DANIEL PRATT'S IMPROVED

"Revolving Head" Cotton Gin.

PATENTED JULY 15, 1873.

Price Reduced to $4.50 Per Saw.



THIS GIN has been in use for the past three seasons, and several recent improvements have been added. It obviates all friction at the ends of the cotton lint, prevents the roll from breaking, and gives a Larger Yield of Lint from the Same Amount of Seed than any other Gin in use. The revolving head lightens the draft and causes the Gin to run faster with less driving power, thus doing more ginning and more work with the same time, while the ginning stand or animal power draft any other Gin. The seed being ginned very close, the length of the staple is increased, producing cotton on this account of greater market value. This improved value, given by length of staple, with extra production of lint, added to the increased amount of work done, more than covers the cost of the Gin in a very few bales ginned. Testimonials sent by mail on application.

JOS. B. WOLFE & CO.,

GENERAL AGENTS,

50 Carondelet St 50

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

BEN. F. WOLFE,

AGENT FOR THE STATE OF TEXAS,

22 Main Street 22

HOUSTON, TEXAS.

OFFICE OF THE

American Cotton Tie Co.,

(LIMITED.)

15 CARONDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS

TO DEALERS IN

IRON COTTON TIES,

Planters and Country Merchants Generally,

We beg to inform you that we are prepared, through our regularly established Agents, to supply the trade in any quantity with the following celebrated Ties:

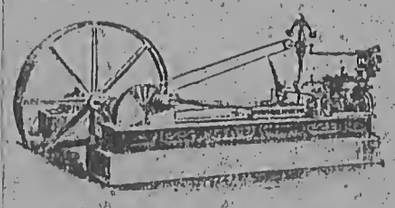
THE ARROW AND SIDE SLOT.
BEARD & BRO'S. LOCK TIE.
BRANCH, CROOKS & CO'S LOCK TIE.

We also beg to inform the public that the interests of Messrs. Beard & Bro., and Branch, Crooks & Co. are now merged into and with the AMERICAN COTTON TIE CO. (LIMITED.) The following are the New Orleans Agents:

Stone & Tutt, Cohen & Boyd, William Talbot, Fitz Gus American Cotton Tie Co. (Limited.)

Ogden & Bell, Archer & Bousland, D. L. Randell & Co.

B. W. RAYNE & CO.,
General Agents.



STEAM ENGINES,

BOILERS & MACHINERY

MANUFACTURED BY

I. & E. GREENWALD,

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Have been established since 1847, and are prepared to supply the best MACHINERY to Southern and Western Planters and buyers, promptly, at low prices.

Refer to Isaac Bursten, Esq., and Stephen Allen, Esq., of New Orleans; and H. H. Gibson, Esq., of Shreveport, La.

The Cheapest, Simplest and Strongest Tie in the market. Send for Circular. Address

E. G. HEDGES,
Cairo, Ill.

CHALLENGE

Stamping Co.'s Patent Embossing Presses, for Stamping Business Cards, Envelopes, Billheads, Labels, Etc., in Gold, Silver, Bronze, Colors, Etc., without Ink. Send for Circulars.

L. SHOCKLEY, 27 Rudd St., New York.

ELECTRO STEREO

TYPE

FOUNDRY.

WOOD ENGRAVING AND PRINTING.

DUNN, CAMPBELL & CO., 176, 178 & 178½ Elm St., Cin., O.

Presses and Printing Material.

75 VISITING CARDS, no 2 alike, 1 name, 30 cts. and a 3ct. stamp. 4 packs, 4 names, $1. Prettiest assortment you ever saw. No better work in the world, at any price! Common Cards at Unheard-of rates. Write plain. W. C. CANNON, 712 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

TEACHERS WANTED—To supply vacancies in Schools, Academies, and Seminaries in the different States. Send for "Mutual Plan." Address American Educational Union, 747 Broadway, N. Y.

New Orleans Markets.

ADVOCATE OFFICE,
New Orleans, Tuesday, Nov. 14, 1876.

MONETARY.

Market unchanged, with no disposition to speculate discernible in buyer or seller. The deep feeling of the public shows itself most plainly through its financial movement. All parties, from the heavy capitalist down to the retail dealer, are waiting the developments of political combinations. Should Tilden and Nicholls receive a just count they will be elected, which would do much toward enthusing our people with enterprise.

Premium bonds sold as high as 33⅞. Consols held at 96@96⅜. Gold, 110⅛@110⅜. Sight exchange on New York, ½ per cent. discount. Exchange on London, 527. Rate of interest, New York, 3 per cent. Rate of interest, Liverpool, 2 per cent. Exceptional paper, 8@9. Second-grade paper, 12@18.

COTTON.

The following is from the weekly cotton report of Messrs. W. C. Watts & Co., Liverpool, dated October 27, 1876:

The crops of cotton grown in America and in Egypt last season 1875-76 were so largely in excess of the preceding season—say about 964,000 bales—that very many naturally suppose it cannot all have been used; that there must be somewhere a large invisible supply—in the hands of spinners—or else the production of goods and yarn must have been so excessive as to have overstocked the markets of the world. But American spinners took last season 167,000 bales more than the season before, and Europe received from India, Brazil and other minor sources to supply about 528,000 bales less, which reduced the excess in 1875-76, as compared with 1874-75, to 269,000 bales, out of which is to come any excess there may have been in European consumption. The leading authorities estimate the supplies held by European spinners on the first instant at from 50,000 to 150,000 bales larger than one year before. From an article in a late number of the New York Commercial Chronicle we infer that American spinners held very little if any more cotton at the beginning of this season than at the same time last year. During the past twelve months or more the complaints of the dullness and prostration of trade in nearly all parts of the world have been more general and persistent than for many years past; it seems therefore unreasonable to suppose that buyers of goods, etc., would under such circumstances have stocked themselves heavily; and that they have not done so would seem to be borne out by the fact that a very large business has been done in Manchester recently.

DAILY EXCHANGE QUOTATIONS.

Day.	Middling.	Low Middling.	Good Ordinary.	Low Ordinary.	Ordinary.	Strict Good Middling.	Good Middling.	Strict Low Middling.	Middling.
Wednesday	10	9⅝	9¼	8¾	8⅜	10⅜	10	9⅞	9¾
Thursday	10⅛	9¾	9⅜	8⅞	8½	10½	10⅛	9⅞	9¾
Friday	10⅛	9¾	9⅜	8⅞	8½	10½	10⅛	9⅞	9¾
Saturday	10⅛	9¾	9⅜	8⅞	8½	10½	10⅛	9⅞	9¾
Monday	10⅛	9¾	9⅜	8⅞	8½	10½	10⅛	9⅞	9¾
Tuesday	10⅛	9¾	9⅜	8⅞	8½	10½	10⅛	9⅞	9¾

DAILY QUOTATIONS AT THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT MARKETS.

Cents—Middling.

	Mobile.	Galveston.	Memphis.
Wednesday	11⅛	11⅛	11⅛
Thursday	11⅛@11⅜	11⅛	11⅛
Friday	11⅜	11⅜	11⅜
Saturday	11⅜	11⅜	11⅜
Monday	11⅜	11⅜	11⅜
Tuesday	11⅜	11⅜	11⅜

DAILY MOVEMENT OF NEW ORLEANS, NEW YORK AND LIVERPOOL MARKETS.

Day.	NEW ORLEANS. Receipts.	Sales.	Market.	Price.	NEW YORK. Receipts.	Sales.	Market.	Price.	LIVERPOOL. Receipts.	Sales.	Market.	Price.
Wednesday	2,117	1,750	Active.	11⅛	1,793	1,000	Firm.	11 13-16				Middling
Thursday	2,515	2,500	Excited.	11⅛	1,000	Quiet.		11 13-16
Friday	1,000	500	Easy.	11⅜	1,000	Quiet.		11 13-16
Saturday	1,000	500	Easy.	11⅜	1,000	Steady.		12 1-16
Monday	1,000
Tuesday	1,000
Total	14,752

COTTON STATEMENT

	Bales.
Stock at all the United States ports	755,466
Stock at New Orleans	201,6[illegible]
Net receipts at New Orleans	214,98[illegible]
Net receipts last year	220,624
Increase	16,281
Net receipts at all ports of the United States	1,240,[illegible]
Net receipts last year	1,016,527
Increase	223,[illegible]
Stock in Liverpool	298,242
Of which American	148,000
World's cotton supply, November 3	2,220,[illegible]
Last Year, same date	2,112,751

GENERAL MARKET.

Breadstuffs.—No operations of any magnitude to notice. Holders are firm at quotations.

Provisions.—Dull. Sales confined to order business. Even they are not large.

Grain and Feed.—As usual at this season, but much demand. Dealers supply the local demand at quotations.

Hardware, Dry Goods, Etc.—Rather more doing in these departments. As the stock of country merchants must be kept up, they order from month to month, and in many instances by every trip of their respective packets.

Rice.—Receipts moderate; demand good. We quote: Prime 5½c., no choice in market, fair 4½c., common 3½c., No. 2 at 2½c.

Report of Dealers' Cash Prices

AT WHICH

COUNTRY ORDERS CAN BE FILLED.

REVISED AND CORRECTED WEEKLY.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

ARTICLES.	FROM	TO
Cotton scrapers	$0 00	— —
Cotton sweeps	3 00	4 50
Cultivators, Diam. and shovel-tooth	6 25	9 00
Cultivators, riding and walking	20 00	35 00
Shovels and spades	11 25	14 00
Axes	9 50	13 00
Shovel plows	3 00	5 50
Half-inch, self-cutters	6 00	8 00
Manly's double-shovel plow	5 00	7 00
Straub's corn mills	115 00	240 00
Corn mills, Coleman's	120 00	425 00
H. E. Wet's corn mill	200 00	— —
Edgehill's corn and pea planter	15 00	— —
Cotton planter	15 00	— —
Wagons, Carts, Etc.:
Wagon, two-horse	85 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	100 00	115 00
Wagon, two-horse, thin skein	85 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	90 00	100 00
Cane wagon	— —	200 00
Ox wagon	80 00	125 00
Ox cart, complete	115 00	— —
Cane cart	110 00	120 00
Dearborn cart, complete	— —	120 00
Plantation cart	— —	55 00
Bagasse cart	65 00	75 00
Iron, ₰ lb.:
Swedes, assorted	7	7½
Hoops	7½	7¾
Steel	6½	7
Nail rods	9	10
Castings, American	4	5½

BUILDING MATERIAL.

Bricks, ₰ 1,000:
Lake	10 50	14 00
Country	9 00	10 00
English, dry	45 00	47 00
Lime, ₰ bbl.:
Western	1 50	1 75
Cooper	2 00	2 25
Plaster Paris	2 25	2 50
Lumber, ₰ 1,000 feet:
Flooring, dressed	16 00	18 00
Flooring, rough	— —	16 00
Ceiling, dressed	10 00	12 00
Weatherboards, dressed	13 00	16 00
Weatherboards, rough	— —	— —
Scantling	10 00	12 00
Shingles, ₰ M	— —	3 75
Nails, in 1-brad lots, ₰ lb.:	3 50	— —
Smaller sizes, proportionately higher	— —	— —
Glass, ₰ box of 50 feet:
French, 8 by 10	— —	3 50
French, 10 by 12	3 75	4 00
French, 10 by 14 to 12 by 20	4 00	4 25
French, 14 by 18 to 18 by 26	4 25	4 75
White Lead, best, ₰ lb.	— —	10
Paris Green, ₰ lb.	34	— —
Pat. Dryer, ₰ lb.	12	14
Whiting, ₰ lb.	— —	1½
Putty, in bladders, ₰ lb.	— —	4½
Linseed Oil, ₰ gall.	— —	70

SASH, BLINDS AND DOORS.

Window Sash, 12 lights: Size of sash, in lights.	Sash per pair. Unglazed.	Glazed.	Blinds, per pair.
8x10	$0 60	$1 70	$2 00
10x12	85	1 05	2 25
10x16	$1 00	2 35	3 25

Sash Doors:	Single.	Double.
3 feet x 7 feet	$4 50	$3 50
3 feet x 8 feet	4 50	— —
3 feet x 7 feet 6 inches	— —	4 25

Panel Doors:
2 ft. 6 in. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	$3 25
2 ft. 8 in. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	3 45
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	4 00

GROCERIES.

Butter, ₰ lb.:
Western choice	31	32
Goshen, choice	34	36
Coffee, ₰ lb.:
Rio, fair	18½	19½
Rio, good	20	21
Rio, prime	21½	22½
Java, choice O. G.	— —	31
Candles, ₰ lb.:
Star, best brands	— —	15
Chocolate, ₰ lb.:
Cocoa	35	60
Sweet	18	33
Canned Fruits, ₰ doz.:
Peaches, strawberries and pears	2 25	2 50
Corn Meal, ₰ bbl.:	3 15	3 25
Cheese, ₰ lb.:
Western factory	12	14
N. Y. cream and English dairy	15	16
Fish:
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in bbls.	— —	27 50
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in kits	— —	3 00
Sardines, quarter boxes	— —	15½
Flour, ₰ bbl.:
Superfine	4 25	4 50
XX	5 75	6 00
XXX	6 25	6 75
Choice XXX	6 75	7 25
Choice family	6 75	8 00
Fruits:
Dried apples, ₰ lb.	10	10½
Dried peaches, ₰ lb.	9	10
Raisins, ₰ quarter box	— —	1 85
Raisins, ₰ half box	— —	1 60
Raisins, ₰ whole box	— —	2 75
Bananas, ₰ bunch	1 50	3 00
Crackers, ₰ lb.:
Soda	5	6
Butter	6	7
Sugar	8	9
Ginger nuts	9	12½
Oil:
Coal, in pans, best	36	38
Illuminance, in casks	— —	30
Coal, in barrels, best	32	33
Lard, in barrels, best	1 10	1 12
Molasses, in barrels:
Common	— —	45
Fair	47	50
Prime to choice	51	53
Robbed and Hogshead syrups	82	86
Half bbls. 5c. and Kegs 10c. more.
Rice, Louisiana, ₰ lb.:
No. 2	— —	3
Ordinary	4½	5
Fair	5¼	5¾
Prime to choice	6¼	6¾
Soap, in boxes, ₰ lb.:
Keller's magnolia	— —	5
Keller's olive	— —	6½
Starch, ₰ lb.	4	5
Salt, in sacks:
Fine	1 30	35
Coarse	1 05	1 10
Sugar, in bbls.:
Fair	7	8¼
Prime	8	10¼
Choice	10	10¾
Yellow clarified	11	11¼
White clarified	12	12
Crushed	12	12
Powdered	12	12¼
Spices, ₰ lb.:
Allspice	— —	18
Pepper	— —	22
Cloves	— —	32
Cinnamon	— —	32
Tea, ₰ lb.:
Black Oolong	1 25	1 50
Green Imperial	1 25	1 50
Tobacco, manufactured, ₰ lb.:
Chewing, common	45	50
Chewing, fair	50	60
Chewing, prime	60	75
Chewing, choice	65	1 00
Smoking	80	1 00

GRAIN AND FEED.

Corn, ₰ bushel:
Yellow, mixed	66	68
White, mixed	65	66
Oats, ₰ bushel:
St. Louis	— —	41
Texas	— —	35
Galena	— —	45
Bran, Choice, ₰ 100 lbs.	— —	75
Hay, ₰ ton:
Prime timothy	19 00	22 00
Ordinary	— —	16 00
Cotton Seed Meal	26 00	28 00

PROVISIONS.

Bacon, ₰ lb.:
Breakfast	11¾	12½
Shoulders	8½	8¾
Sides, clear rib	9¾	10
Sides, clear	9¾	10
Hams, sugar-cured	15½	16
Mess Pork, ₰ bbl.	— —	18 50
Dry Salted Meat:
Shoulders	— —	8¼
Lard, ₰ lb.:
Choice, in kegs	11¾	12
Choice, in tierces	11	11½

BAGGING STUFFS.

Bagging:
Jotta	10	10½
Jute	13¼	14
Ties, Arrow, best, per bundle, at 30 days:
Thread buckle	— —	3 30
Beard	— —	3 50
Twine, hemp	— —	16

SUNDRIES.

Leather, ₰ lb.:
Sole, hemlock	27	28
Sole, oak	35	40
Uppers	35	45
Calf-skins, ₰ dozen	20 00	75 00
Texas, rough, ₰ lb.	24	26
Fertilizers, ₰ ton:
Sterry's raw bone superphosph.	65 00	— —
Stern's tip-ground bone	45 00	— —
Cotton Seed:
In sacks	11 00	— —

DRY GOODS.

Brown Domestic, ₰ yard:
Standard brands	— —	8
Standard brands, 4-4	— —	10¼
Bleached Domestic, ₰ yard:
Choice brands	— —	7½
Choice brands, 4-4	10½	11½
Calico, ₰ yard:
Common brands	4½	6½
Sprague, Allen & Hamilton	6½	7
Ticking, ₰ yard:
Common brands	10	13½
Good	16	22
Osnaburgs:
Eagletonmere	13½	12
Stripes	10	14
Checks	14	18
Denims	14	20

BOOTS AND SHOES.

Batchelor and boots, ₰ doz	36 00	42 00
Common mid boots, ₰ doz	— —	30 00
Common brogans, ₰ doz	12 00	15 00
Batchelor brogans, ₰ doz	15 00	16 50
Russets' brogans, ₰ doz	16 00	19 50

Special Notices.

A Gem worth Reading!—A Diamond worth Seeing!

SAVE YOUR EYES!

Restore your Sight!

THROW AWAY your SPECTACLES,

By reading our Illustrated PHYSIOLOGY AND ANATOMY of the EYESIGHT. Tells how to Restore Impaired Vision and Overworked Eyes; how to cure Weak, Watery, Inflamed, and Near-Sighted Eyes, and all other Diseases of the Eyes.

WASTE NO MORE MONEY BY ADJUSTING HUGE GLASSES ON YOUR NOSE AND DISFIGURING YOUR FACE. Pamphlet of 100 pages Mailed Free. Send your address to us also.

Agents Wanted,

Gents or Ladies. $5 to $10 a day guaranteed. Full particulars sent free. Write immediately, to DR. J. BALL & CO., (P. O. Box 6574) No. 91 Liberty St., New York City, N. Y.

THE SCHOOL FOR BOYS.—Rev. F. M. Grace, A. M., once a professor in the East Tennessee University, and afterward president of Hiwassee College, puts into his paper, the New Age, Birmingham, the following notice:

"Hiwassee College closed its annual exercises May 25. We learn from the identical catalogue that the number of students was one hundred and eighty-six, many of them from Alabama and other gulf States. There is no better school in the world for a boy than Hiwassee. Address President John H. Brunner, Hiwassee College, East Tennessee."

Religious Notices.

To the Presiding Elders and Preachers of the Alabama Conference:

Dear Brethren.—Respectfully request that those of you who will not attend the approaching session of the Annual Conference send me your names as early as practicable. Presiding Elders will please forward, at once, the names of lay delegates from their respective districts.

Fraternally, J. LEWIS, Jr., Acting Pastor
GREENSBORO, ALA., Oct. 17, 1876. 42-5t.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Snyder's Curative PADS.

WORN OVER PART AFFECTED, ABSORB ALL MALARIA FROM THE SYSTEM.

They positively cure the worst cases of Liver, Lung, Heart, Kidney, Spine, Bladder and Womb ailments, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Costiveness, Soreness at pit of Stomach or Bowels, Female Weakness, Sick and Nervous Headache, Chills and Fever, Numb Aging, Restlessness, etc., may be entirely eradicated by wearing one of our Pads. Many of our best citizens can attest to their merit.

The Liver and Lung Pad	$2 00
Kidney and Spinal Pad	3 00
Womb Pad for Female Weakness	3 00

☞ Ask your druggists for "Snyder's Curative Pad," and take no other, or inclose the price in a letter to us, and we will send them by mail. Address

E. F. SNYDER & CO.,
Manufacturers and Proprietors,
Indianapolis, Ind.

☞ For sale by I. L. LYONS, New Orleans.

A General Agent wanted for each State South, with whom a liberal contract will be made to supply the wholesale and retail trade. 39 3m

E. H. ADAMS

RESPECTFULLY ANNOUNCES THE ARRIVAL of further additions to his

ALREADY ATTRACTIVE STOCK OF

DRY GOODS, FANCY GOODS, NOTIONS, ETC.

Special mention is here made of BLACK SILKS, BLACK and COLORED CASHMERES, BASKET SATTEENS, ETC., CORSETS, BUSTLES, FELT SKIRTS, ETC., LINEN SETS, COLLARS, RUCHINGS, ETC., FANCY KNIT WOOLEN GOODS, HOSIERY, ETC., KIDGLOVES, TIES, RIBBONS, ETC., GOODS FOR BOYS AND MEN'S WEAR, BLANKETS, FLANNELS, RUGS, MATTINGS, ETC., ETC., ETC.

—AND—

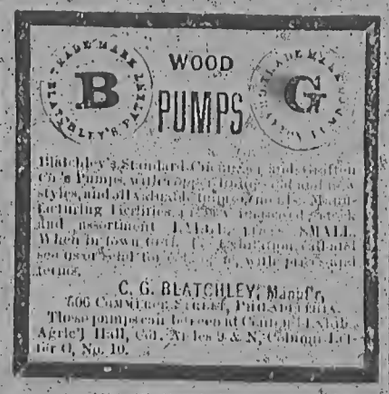
A Choice Selection of 3-4 and 4-4 Prints.

Having commenced with bottom prices, he has no occasion to announce "GOODS MARKED DOWN."

500 ..... Magazine Street 500

(Four Doors above Jackson Street.)

N. B.—Goods marked in plain figures. One price for all. No deviation. 39



Blatchley's Standard Ornamental and Combination Pumps, with copper lining of all sizes and styles, and all wood pumps. One of the Manufacturing Facilities in New England for neat and assortment. SMALL Wells in town and country. Estimates cheerfully and promptly furnished. Call and see specimens at Cambridge Agricultural Hall, Cor. Arlington and Beverly Sts., Boston, or address C. G. BLATCHLEY, Manufacturer, with price and terms.

C. G. BLATCHLEY, Manufr.
706 Commerce Street, Philadelphia.

These pumps can be seen at Cambridge Agricultural Hall, Cor. Arlington and Beverly Sts., Boston, Exhibitor's No. 10.

IRA W. PORTER & CO., Agents,
Mobile, Ala.

FAIRBANKS' SCALES.

GUARANTEED U. S. STANDARD.

FAIRBANKS'

COTTON AND SUGAR BEAMS.

Branch House—53 Camp Street.

FAIRBANKS & CO.

CRESCENT CITY OIL CO.,

23 UNION ST., NEW ORLEANS.

MANUFACTURERS OF

Cotton Seed Oil, Oil Cake

SOAP STOCK, and COTTON SEED MEAL, for Cattle Feed and Fertilizers.

DIRECTORS:

Thos. D. Miller, Duncan F. Kenner,
John W. Towle, J. L. Harris,
Edward Ivy, Thos. P. Leathers,
John Janney, David C. McCan,
John A. Morris.

DUNCAN F. KENNER, President.
JOS. H. DUGGAN, Secretary.
FRED. STRENBY, Chief Engineer.

FIRE! FIRE!! FIRE!!!

GUARD AGAINST IT.

THE PEOPLE'S PUMP.

With 50 feet hose, and suction pipe for well of 20 feet, for $24.

CHARLES W. KING,
27 Devonshire street, Boston.

MISCELLANEOUS.

INSANITY.

PRIVATE ASYLUM
For the Insane.
CINCINNATI SANITARIUM.

SUPERIOR accommodations for all classes. Separate departments for epileptics and nervous invalids. For terms of admission and circular address W. S. CHIPLEY, M. D. Supt.
College Hill, O.

LORD & TAYLOR,

NEW YORK.

OUR FALL IMPORTATIONS

Are now complete in all departments, and prices are very low. Our stock of

Black, Colored, and Fancy Silks

is the largest and best assorted in the city, occupying one whole section in each store, and having been purchased and contracted for prior to the recent advance, we are prepared to sell at LAST SEASON'S PRICES!!

OUR

DRESS GOODS DEPARTMENT

Embraces all the novelties in fall and winter fabrics—Cloths, black and colored Cashmeres and Merinos, all-wool and silver Plaids, stripes, and Damassee styles, as well as

POPULAR DRESS FABRICS

In all the newest colorings and materials, from 12½ cents a yard upward.

OUR IMPORTATION OF

INDIA SHAWLS,

From the London auction sales, is very large and attractive, and prices about half former years. Real India, filled centers, at $65, $75, $85, and upward; Real Deeca Shawls, at $12 to $75; Cashmere India Shawls, new designs, only $15; Cloth Shawls, choice new colors, $11 upward. Also, Paris and Vienna Brioche, Paisley, filled, plain centers and stripes, and British and American Wisdon Shawls, unrivaled for beauty and substantial value.

Our Ladies' and Children's Suit

—AND—

FURNISHING DEPARTMENT

Is now more thoroughly stocked and supplied than ever heretofore, and we are prepared to fill all orders at once, and to guarantee satisfaction. Handsomely-trimmed Suits in Cashmere, Basket Cloths, Cashmeres, Hair, Alpaca, Cashmere Suits, etc., in the most beautiful new styles, at prices to tempt the most economical.

By following our Directions for self-measurement, ladies' suits of every kind can be fitted as promptly, and more satisfactorily than by any homemade work.

Mourning Costumes and outfits a specialty, orders filled on twelve hours' notice.

Misses' and Children's Clothing very reasonable prices.

Ladies' and Children's Underwear.

An immense stock of beautiful and desirable goods, at very great reductions.

Ladies' complete outfits, at a great saving.

Ladies' complete outfits, at a great saving.

Full catalogues of this department, with directions for self-measurement, sent to all parts of the country.

A STOCK OF

RICH FURS,

Of every description, for Ladies, Misses and Children, at the lowest prices. Our stock of Furs is the largest and most complete in the city, and we are confident that we can offer greater inducements than any other house. We have each year a large number of Seal Sacques and Muffs, made from Skins selected by ourselves, and of the best quality. Also, Seal Caps, Seal Gloves, Seal Trimmings, Beaver and Astrachan Cloth, Beaver and Astrachan Trimmings, Hosiery, Gloves, Underwear, Corsets, Bustles, Ribbons, Velvets, Silks, Satins, Dress Trimmings, Buttons, Fringes, Laces, Embroideries, Handkerchiefs, Parasols, Sun Umbrellas, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Housekeeping Linens, Flannels, Blankets, Quilts, Table Damasks, Towels, Napkins, Doylies, Crashes, Ticks, Sheetings, Shirtings, Cottonades, Denims, Cassimeres, Cloakings, Dress Goods, Shawls, Suits, Cloaks, Millinery Goods, Housekeeping Linens, Hosiery, Gloves, Corsets, Underwear

The Christian Advocate.

PUBLISHED BY ROBT. J. HARP, FOR THE ALABAMA, MISSISSIPPI AND LOUISIANA CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH SOUTH.

VOL. 22. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1876. NO. 47.

NOVEMBER.

BY WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT.

Yet one smile more, departing, distant sun!
One mellow smile through the soft autumn air,
Ere o'er the frozen earth the loud winds run,
Of snows arrested o'er the meadows bare,
One smile on the brown hills and naked trees,
And the dark rocks whose summer wreaths are cast
And the blue gentian flower, that in the breeze
Nods lonely, of her beautiful race the last.

Yet a few sunny days, in which the bee
Shall murmur by the hedge-flat skirts the way,
The cricket chirp upon the russet lea,
And man delight to linger in thy ray.
Yet one rich smile, and we will fare to bear
The piercing winter frost and winds, and darkened air.

News of the Week.

DOMESTIC.

BOSTON, Nov. 14.—The third Church Congress of the Protestant Episcopal Church opened this morning at St. Paul's church. Bishop Paddock called the congress to order and delivered the opening address. Rev. Samuel Osgood, of New York, read a paper on the true place of art in Christianity.

SAVANNAH, Nov. 14.—Twenty-five hundred bales of cotton, twenty empty and twenty loaded cars of freight burned. Fire under control. A warehouse containing fertilizers was also destroyed.

From the best information obtainable, 1,800 bales of cotton were destroyed and some 250 bales were damaged; 33 cars were totally destroyed, 50 barrels of whisky and a large quantity of bacon, lumber, fertilizers, cotton ties and buckles also destroyed. The railroad officials cannot give positive figures yet. Most of the cotton burned was through cotton.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Official reports to the Department of Agriculture indicate that the season has been extremely favorable for gathering cotton, except in some portions of North Carolina. Frost has injured the top crop in the northern belt, notably in Arkansas. The fiber is cleaner than usual and of superior quality in the southern belt. Drouth in the Gulf States, rain-storms in the Carolinas, the boll worm in the Southwest, and the caterpillar in certain locations near the Gulf States, are the chief causes of injury to the crop. The harvest will be completed at a much earlier date than usual.

The crop must be smaller than that of last year, however favorable and long the remaining season for gathering in comparison with the last crop. The percentages of the Atlantic coast States are relatively larger by reason of the poor returns of 1875, and smaller in the Southwest from comparison with the remarkable yield of that region. They are as follows: North Carolina 92, South Carolina 96, Georgia 110, Florida 110, Alabama 77, Mississippi 78, Louisiana 83, Texas 100, Arkansas and Tennessee 101.

The average is between 88 and 89, indicating, without reference to the remainder of the picking season, nearly nine-tenths of the crop of 1875.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—A Sidney Nebraska) dispatch says: Passengers on the stage from Red Cloud agency say the Cheyennes have left their camp on Oakland Creek and gone north to join Crazy Horse. These Indians are better fighters even than the Sioux, and this exodus will add great strength to the force opposed to Gen. Crook.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 15.—The eighty-second Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South of Virginia commenced its session here to-day. Bishop H. H. Kavanaugh, of Kentucky, presided.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The annual convention of the Methodist Missionary Commission assembled to-day, Bishop Scott presiding. Present—Bishops Simpson, Ames, Boreman, Harris, Foster, Wiley and Merrill. $200,000 was decided as a limit to be spent on mission work for the coming year. The day was occupied in routine business.

A resolution was adopted providing for the appointment of a committee of nine to consider the subject of formal relations between the General Conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church (North) and the Methodist Episcopal Church South, and recommend such action as they deem proper.

SAVANNAH, Nov. 15.—The Medical Society have just declared the epidemic at an end, and hereby notify absentees that they can return.

Total interments to-day four, of which two were from yellow fever.

The City Council to-night approved the action of the Georgia Medical Society and health officers in declaring the epidemic at an end and advising absentees to return.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The Methodist Missionary Committee this evening appropriated $50,000 for the Indian branch, $8,000 for the Bulgarian branch, $16,000 for the Italian branch and $20,000 for the Mexican branch. Compared with last year's appropriations, they show a decrease of over ten per cent.

The Missionary Committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church appropriates a total of $625,000, and a committee has been appointed to aid the sects in raising the money.

AUGUSTA, Nov. 17.—A posse of six men was sent out by Trial Justice Mulligan, near Lawtonville, S. C., yesterday, to arrest a party of negroes for beating a colored man. After the arrest was made the posse was surrounded by an armed body of blacks, and two whites, William Shoemun and Abe. Delonch, were shot. Shoemun's body was found this morning, with his head chopped open.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The concentration of troops in Washington has added greatly to the excitement respecting the election. All sorts of pretexts and falsehoods are sent out by the administration to cloak their purposes, but there is no doubt that these are preliminary steps to bringing here a large military force. This proceeding is seriously injuring the Republican party at the North. Prominent gentlemen say that the bringing of soldiers here will not be of any advantage to Hayes.

Senator Patterson, of South Carolina, expressed the opinion to-day that the State Supreme Court would not sustain the State canvassers in their recent action.

Several companies of soldiers have arrived here and others are coming. This is made the basis for sensational paragraphs about massing the army in the District.

There are assurances that these troops are merely en route, and their movements have no strategic or political significance. It is likely, however, as the District has no local government, that the army will police the ten mile square until after the fourth of March.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 20.—The Legislature of this State, more than two-thirds Democratic, met to-day and organized. It elects Senator Ransom.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Nov. 20.—Tilden's majority in Alabama is 34,384.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The Post, in a conspicuous paragraph, confirms the report that Russia is about to mobilize her army. It is stated Russia intends, after January, to levy all her taxes in gold. This increases her tariff twenty per cent. Most of the special correspondents take a gloomy view of the situation. The Post's Berlin dispatch reports Russian journals as saying war is determined on.

A Reuter telegram from St. Petersburg says: The Czar has ordered the mobilization of part of the Russian army. A circular of Prince Gortschakoff, the Russian premier, to Russian representatives abroad, explaining this measure, says:

"The Czar does not wish war, and will, if possible, avoid it. He is, however, determined that the principles of justice which have been recommended as necessary by the whole of Europe shall be carried out in Turkey under efficacious guarantees."

LONDON, Nov. 15.—The Standard's Constantinople special says Turkey is preparing vigorously for war. Torpedoes have been placed at the east end of the Bosphorus, and the forts have been strengthened.

The New Free Press of Vienna says: England possesses the clearest proofs of Russia's ulterior designs. She has communicated these to Count Von Buest, the Austrian embassador in London. A complete agreement is established between England and Austria.

The Post to-day, in its financial column, says: London underwriters are taking five shillings per hundred pounds for risk of capture on steamers now loading in Russian ports.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The Standard's Vienna special says the force which Russia will mobilize in accordance with the recent ordinances numbers 895,292 infantry, 26,788 cavalry, and 624 rifled, breech-loading cannon. The rifles are of the American Berdan pattern.

Because of the state of the weather, military men estimate that at least a month will be required before the force can be concentrated on the Pruth.

The Standard's Berlin dispatch says: A most trustworthy correspondent telegraphs from Paris that Germany positively refuses to participate in the exhibition of 1878.

The Post's Berlin dispatch says: Preparations have been made for the concentration of the Russian army of the Vistula, which is to be reinforced by the Imperial Guards.

The Standard's Berlin dispatch says: Intelligence from Warsaw indicates an impending Polish rising. The government has posted placards in Warsaw prohibiting any gathering in the streets.

In this connection the Financier says: The news of the proclamation of a state of siege in Poland arrived in London last night.

The correspondents say Austria contemplates a partial mobilization of her army, for the reason that she believes Russia will call in next year's contingent recruits, numbering 200,000 men, instead of waiting till April, the usual time.

The first military train, with 16,000, left St. Petersburg yesterday for Kischenoff.

All the railway companies in Russia are ordered to place their railways at the absolute disposal of the government.

MADRID, Nov. 16.—At yesterday's session of Congress the minister of the interior introduced a bill restoring the electoral law formerly prevalent in Spain. This bill abolishes universal suffrage, abolishes voting by departments, and grants suffrage only to persons paying a certain amount of taxes and to members of certain professions.

HAMBURG, Nov. 16.—The public prosecutor has instituted proceedings against the captain of the Franconia for manslaughter. He was recently discharged by the English courts for want of jurisdiction.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The Standard says: Great activity prevails in Woolwich arsenal. An imperative order was issued, yesterday, that the production of rifle ball cartridges be increased to two million per week. The usual quantity manufactured weekly is five hundred thousand.

The Press Association reports that the authorities of Devonport dockyard have received orders to prepare the iron-clad turret ships Cyclops and Hydra for immediate active service.

Correspondents say the entire contingent of the Russian army has been sent out of the Polish provinces for service in the field. Russian garrisons remain in Warsaw and other Polish cities.

A number of Russian officers who intended to quit Belgrade have been ordered to remain.

Soldiers on furlough in Ireland are ordered to join their regiments.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Reuter, from Calcutta, states that later accounts say that one hundred and twenty thousand persons perished during the cyclone which passed through Eastern Bengal on the thirty-first of October. The government is taking active steps for the relief of the distressed population.

ROME, Nov. 18.—A telegram from Constantinople says Turkey agrees unconditionally to a conference.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The Standard's dispatch from Berlin says the Russian police profess that they have discovered a plot in Poland. The Roman Catholic bishop of Zytomerz, in the province of Volhynia, has been arrested and imprisoned at Moscount. Several Polish curates have been thrown into prison at Warsaw.

All dealers in arms are subjected to stringent regulations.

Turkey has sent a note to Bucharest asserting her right to send troops to Wallachia in the event of Russian invasion.

A telegram has been received in Vienna stating that Gen. Tchernayeff has been superseded in the chief command of the Servian army by Gen. Semeka, formerly commander of the Russian military district of Odessa.

The Berlin Post asserts that several Americans have applied to the Russian government for letters of marque to be used against English shipping in the event of war.

Official returns at Calcutta give the loss of life by the cyclone at two hundred and fifteen thousand.

The Calcutta Pioneer says the Indian government is preparing a strong contingent for Egypt in case of war.

The Daily News' Vienna correspondent says positively that neither Germany nor Austria would oppose Russia's entrance into Roumania.

The strength of the Russian army now in process of mobilization is a quarter of a million. The ships of the Russian Black Sea Navigation Company have been impressed.

The Madrid Imparcial says: Marshal Serrano has determined to retire to private life.

Sunday papers generally take a more hopeful view of the situation. The Times says this morning: Matters open so fairly that we are perhaps led to be too sanguine in holding that peace is assured.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

From year to year we have been accustomed to pause in our daily pursuits, and set apart a time to offer our thanks to almighty God for the special blessings he has vouchsafed to us, with our prayers for a continuance thereof. We have at this time equal reason to be thankful for his continued protection, and for the many material blessings his bounty has bestowed. In addition to these favors, accorded to us as individuals, we have especially occasion to express our hearty thanks to almighty God that by his providence and guidance our government, established a century ago, has been enabled to fulfill the purpose of its founders in offering an asylum to the people of every race, securing civil and religious liberty to all within its borders, and meting out to every individual alike justice and equality before the laws. It is, moreover, especially our duty to offer our humble prayers to the Father of all mercies for a continuance of his divine favor to us as a nation and as individuals.

By reason of all these considerations, I, Ulysses S. Grant, President of the United States, do recommend to the people of the United States to devote the thirtieth day of November next to the expression of their thanks and prayers to almighty God, and, laying aside their daily avocations and all secular occupations, to assemble in their respective places of worship, and observe such day as a day of thanksgiving and rest.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington this twenty-sixth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and first.

U. S. GRANT.

By the President:
HAMILTON FISH,
Secretary of State.

TO THE SECRETARIES OF THE CONFERENCES OF THE M. E. CHURCH SOUTH.—I will be much obliged if you will send to my address a copy of the minutes of the session for 1876. I will either pay for said copy, or return a copy of the minutes of the South Carolina Conference. Address

A. M. CHITTEZHENG,
Camden, S. C.

Startling discovery of a little three-year-old: "Why, pa, there's a hole in your hair."

From the Work.

SALEM CIRCUIT, PRATTVILLE DISTRICT, ALABAMA CONFERENCE.—Mr. Editor: I have just closed my fourth protracted meeting on this circuit, which resulted in great good. I commenced at New Salem on the second Sunday in last month, which lasted six days, and resulted in great good. The church was wonderfully revived. Eighteen accessions and some converted.

I commenced a meeting at Friendship on the third Sunday in October. The Lord met with us there in soul-saving power, and wonderfully blessed us. On the fourth Sunday, at Pleasant Grove, we had a most glorious meeting. The happy shouts of new-born souls were heard upon the right and left. The church was wonderfully blessed. The Methodists, Baptists and Presbyterians united, and rejoiced together, drinking of the same fountain. I was assisted by Bro. Oglesby, a Presbyterian minister; also by Bro. Autman, a local preacher, who rendered efficient help. On the fifth Sunday I commenced a meeting at Pleasant Valley, and was assisted by Bro. Autman, local preacher. There we held an eight-day meeting. Vast numbers were converted. The church was powerfully revived. The oldest and hardest cases in the country were stirred to the center, forsaking the world and joining the church.

Mr. Editor, I must say these meetings were characterized by good behavior, full attendance, and the work was deep and real.

J. M. BROWN, P. C.

MR. EDITOR: The outlook for the church on Summit circuit is encouraging. We have had during this year about twenty-five accessions and several conversions. There is an improvement in the attendance upon the social meetings, and the ordinances of the church, especially infant baptism. We organized a society of the Methodist Episcopal Church South in McComb City, last Sabbath evening, numbering fifteen. Several members of the Methodist Episcopal Church went into our organization. Indeed they of the Methodist Episcopal Church advised us to organize. Gen. A. M. West, president of the Mississippi Valley Company, kindly offers to give us a lot on which to build a church. We now have the use, by the kind invitation of the trustees, of the Presbyterian church. Our indefatigable presiding elder, James A. Godfrey, was with us in McComb City, and took part in the organization.

We are doing all we can for the ADVOCATE.

Your brother in Christ,
IRA B. ROBERTSON, P. C.
SUMMIT, MISS., Nov. 10, 1876.

YAZOO CITY, MISS.—Mr. Editor: For two weeks past our church and community have been enjoying a series of discourses from the Rev. Dr. C. K. Marshall, of Vicksburg, Miss. It is not necessary for me to say that we have been charmed and edified by his sweet, earnest, eloquent and truly gospel preaching. He is indeed a wonderful preacher. He has really blest us all. Much good has been accomplished on every hand by this distinguished minister of the gospel of the grace of God. Long may he yet live to bless his race. Long will he live in the hearts of the people of this town and church. Many have been the resolves of repentance and better living on the part of souls who have sat beneath his blessed ministry during these two weeks. And now that he is gone our hearts go with him. Long may he live. May he live forever.

R. D. NORSWORTHY, Pastor.
YAZOO CITY, MISS., Nov. 4, 1876.

Texas Correspondence.

MR. EDITOR: The Northwest Texas Conference occupies a territory perhaps unsurpassed, in some respects, by any region of similar size and compactness of shape on the face of this globe. For richness of soil, for abundance of streams, for diversity of crops, for agreeableness and salubrity of climate, for railway lines already traversing its heart in various directions, and yet to be built, for the abundance of water near, if not upon, the surface—what new country can equal it? The people of the States seem at last to be waking up to consider the advantages here presented as a home for themselves, and the prospects for the prosperity of their posterity.

Our status as a church within these bounds is very commanding, and is steadily advancing. Your correspondent came here nine years ago. He found here three or four thousand Methodists and twenty-eight effective preachers. This year we expect a report at Conference of not far from eighteen thousand members and over one hundred itinerants.

For the most of these years, according to the recollection of your correspondent, the ratio of increase has been about twenty-five per cent. on the number of the previous year. Many seem to think that the most of these are from immigrants with their letters, but this is only an inferior factor considerable, it is true, but far from affording a majority. The vast majority are brought in upon profession of faith. Yet many of these, we doubt not, may previously have made such profession before coming to our State, and from which they had fallen.

The northwestern portion of our territory has usually been considered the frontier, and unsafe from the depredations of Indian raids. But such apprehensions now no longer torture the insecure settlers. The settlements farther west keep off the savages from counties that, three or four years ago, were not infrequently the scene of his thefts, and now and then of the shedding of human blood. But, thank God, as we do most devoutly, there seems no danger now. Seeing this, immigrants are pouring in by scores, by hundreds and by thousands.

Your readers may rest assured that they need not fear settling in Texas where they will long be out of the reach of the Methodist itinerant. They move along with the vanguard of civilization, and sometimes in advance; and as the woodman's ax fells the forest he rears the crucial ensign, gathering beneath its folds the flocks of frontiersmen, who form the basis of the coming society, and so shape the destiny of the rising State.

Palo Pinto county at the present affords as inviting a field for the immigrant as any other part of the State; at least, so do many who have traveled widely in the State suppose. The writer, after having traversed nearly half the counties in the State, wishes to say: "Alabama—here we rest." A copy of a circular, written by our preacher in charge, is inclosed, all or part of which you might do well to republish in your widely-read columns.

Our country is filling up so rapidly that the choice places must all soon be settled, and the price of such must take a rapid rise. The price of lands on the western border of our county has heretofore been low, and this has kept down the price of the rear. But now that the wave is rolling on from the Pacific, as well as from the Atlantic, they must soon meet; and as soon as this occurs, as soon as there is no more new, unsettled territory—then what a rebound there will be in the price of lands all over the country, beginning, in the most marked manner perhaps, where the opposite waves meet, and roll back their gathered floods to either shore! Happy the family, then, that secures a permanent homestead while lands are cheap. Oh, how lightly this lordly privilege is esteemed in this country! What a princely heritage our grandchildren will regard it! Let your readers who contemplate leaving your State come and see us before concluding to settle elsewhere.

S. D. AKIN.

West Texas Conference.

This Conference was held at Seguin, October 25-31.

APPOINTMENTS.

San Antonio District.—J. H. Walker, P. E. San Antonio station, H. S. Thrift; San Antonio City mission, J. S. Woolls; Pleblo circuit, H. A. Graves; Floresville circuit, J. E. Vernor; Medina circuit, T. H. Woolls; Uvalde circuit, J. F. Denton; Sabinal circuit, H. T. Hill; Kerrville circuit, A. J. Potter; Bandera mission, I. Kingsbury.

San Marcos District.—O. A. Fisher, P. E. San Marcos station, J. S. Tillett, R. H. Belvin, sup.; San Marcos circuit, J. B. Denton; Lockhart circuit, W. J. Joyce; Seguin station, B. Harris; Gonzales circuit, W. H. H. Biggs; Blanco circuit, H. W. South; Mountain City circuit, J. W. Vest; Thompsonville circuit, E. H. Holbrook; Perdenales mission, L. W. Harrison; Menard mission, to be supplied.

Victoria District.—A. A. Killough, P. E. Victoria station, J. C. C. Black; Lagesville circuit, E. Y. Seale; Smedles mission, J. F. Honeycutt; Clinton circuit, J. W. DeVilbiss; Cuero circuit, J. W. Brown; Hallettsville circuit, J. E. Cook; Boxville circuit, N. W. Kelth; Texana circuit, A. G. Nolen; Moulton circuit, W. T. Thornberry.

Corpus Christi District.—A. F. Cox, P. E. Corpus Christi station, C. M. Rogers; Rockport circuit, to be supplied; Lagarto circuit, E. H. Duval; Oakville and Beeville, T. S. Garrett, supply to be supplied; Helena circuit, W. H. Cocke; St. Mary's mission, C. R. Shapard; Goliad circuit, H. G. Horton; Rancho circuit, M. A. Black.

Rio Grande Mission District.—A. H. Sutherland, P. E. Corpus Christi mission, Encarnacion Rodriguez; San Diego and Presenas, Dorotteo Garcia; Concepcion, Eubiano Garcia; San Antonio City, Jose Maria Casanova; Rio Grande City and Roma, Clemente A. Vivero; Laredo, Santiago Tafolla; Lodi and Graybush, Gumercindo Paz; San Antonio River, Jesus Acosta; Hidalgo, Trinidad Arnendarez; Eagle Pass, Antonio Molina; Brownsville, to be supplied.

Transferred.—Wesley Smith, to the Texas Conference; J. H. Tucker, to the Northwest Texas Conference; H. P. Bowen, to the Mississippi Conference.

Books and Periodicals.

RUSSELL MORTON. A story of real life. By Timothy Titcomb. Nashville, Tenn.: Publishing House of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. 1876.

We have deferred the notice of this little volume, hoping for opportunity to read it; but, as the opportunity has not yet come, and may not for some time, we must advise our readers to get the book and judge for themselves. It first appeared in numbers in the Nashville Advocate, and is commended by our contemporaries of the press as an admirable story, and one that will entertain and profit the young people. There is no risk in buying this book, and it is the sort of literature that we should support to displace the mischievous and pernicious fictions which are too much bought and read even in religious families.

WATCHMAN, WHAT OF THE NIGHT? By the Rev. John Cumming, D. D., F. R. S. E.

This voluminous and irrepressible interpreter of prophecy is still writing. This is his latest, but, if he lives, it will not be his last. In the present aspect of the world's affairs he sees signs of the end. The Crescent wanes, the Jew looks eastward, the Three Unclean Spirits are unmistakably manifested, England is the Tarshish of Prophecy. The great hail storm is explained, the day and the hour, and the roll-call are exhibited, and there is a chapter on Babylon Fallen, Fallen, Fallen! There is much evangelical truth in the book, shrewd and acute conjectures, and some expositions of prophecy that commend themselves to our convictions. The good doctor is earnest, deeply impressed with the correctness of his views, and intent on waking up the world to a sense of the nearness of the end. The reading of the work may be something better than mere devout recreation. The volume is a stout one, of over 500 pages, most tastefully printed and bound.

JEHOVAH—JESUS; THE ONENESS OF GOD; THE TRUE TRINITY. By Robert D. Weeks. New York: Judd, Mead & Co. For the author. 1876.

The author, as we understand him, rejects the threefold distinction of persons in the Godhead, and contends that Christ and the Holy Ghost are identical with the Father. His views are not new, and we need hardly say that they are utterly at variance with a sound interpretation of the Scriptures.

Our Publishing House at Nashville has just issued a Methodist Catechism for small children, by Rev. Alexander M. Thigpen, of the North Georgia Conference, and edited by Dr. Cunningham, Sunday school secretary. The infant classes in our Sunday schools should be supplied with this catechism, and parents will find it excellent for home use. It is, we think, well adapted to its purpose: simple, comprehensive, well arranged.

The American Agriculturist for November is a fine number of this splendid publication. The illustrations are unusually numerous and well executed.

The following note brings intelligence of a deep affliction. The parents have our sincere sympathy in their sorrow.

MR. EDITOR: I have just returned from Madison station, and the death-bed of little Ernest, infant son of our dear brother, Rev. Beverly Carradine. He passed away yesterday, after an illness of ten days. The afflicted father left last night for Yazoo City to bury his little one with the loved ones who have gone before. His wife is yet prostrate from a severe and almost fatal sickness of four months. Yours truly,

CHAS. B. GALLOWAY.
JACKSON, MISS., November 17, 1876.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1876.

FOR THE ADVOCATE.

A HOME IN GOD'S BOSOM.

BY O. J. W.

Seek not to abide in the mansion's pride,
Where the marble its splendor is lending
Though the walls be of gold, it is brilliantly cold
Where the diamond and ruby are blending.

But turn to the breast that offers thee rest,
And a haven of eternal love
No king's diadem can rival this gem
Seek a home in God's bosom above.

'Tis a heart ye can trust as kindly and just,
And a love that is warmly sincere
A world of true gladness, a life without sadness
And joys never marred with a tear.

TENSAS PARISH, LA., Nov. 10, 1876.

Homeward-Bound.—California.

MR. EDITOR: Umpqua valley would not be called or looked upon as such by the ordinary observer, as it is covered over with low ranges of hills; but as it is walled in by mountains it is made to come under that head. After leaving this singular vale we passed through a canyon twelve miles long, which serpentined its rocky way between and over monstrous elevations, not unfrequently reaching thousands of feet above the dark and tangled abyss through which noisy waters usually found their way. The head would grow dizzy at the steep descent. A stone of large size rolled from these high points would tear and dash its way down until the sound died away in the distance. Streams abound in all this mountainous region, cold and clear. The music of cataracts, of falling waters, the sounds of waving leaves and limbs, the singing of birds of strange color and plumage, formed a chorus of praise, to him who liveth forever and ever, delightful to hear. Little flakes and stars of gold can be gathered with every handful of sand and gravel, but not enough to pay. Fir trees abound, and many of them are over two hundred and fifty feet high. The arbor vitæ is also very abundant, and obtains its full dimensions, occasionally measuring from four to five feet through.

Having gone beyond this region where the giants of the olden time seem to have built up their fortifications and towers, we descended into Rogue-river valley. This is the rendezvous of the famous Jack Rabbit, which is as tall as a fawn, with almost endless ears, so far as length is involved. It is swift of foot, and makes a most inviting dish to the weary and hungry wayfarer. The chapparal and other small growth covered the plains about us, and clambered up the mountains, together with fir, pine and white oak, though the woods were not by any means dense.

Having passed these green gates of the valley, we entered upon a wild and gloomy desolation. The plains between the low hills were only sand and gravel. The hills themselves were entirely nude of all vegetation, except a scrawny tree here and there; while great and small rocks lay everywhere, as God had placed them, in the cradle period of "old time."

The valley improved as we advanced, and human habitations were quite common, and even villages, some of which we passed through. We saw peach and apple orchards, vegetables, and many other delightful things, which made us feel that we had got into the outer circle of human society again.

But we have arrived at the southern extremity of Oregon, and now October 4 enter

CALIFORNIA.

Two years ago we passed through this State from east to west. Now we began to traverse it from the north toward the south. As we progressed the State fell all the time in our estimation. No people, no water, no cattle and horses, no grass—a wretched and scattered growth—while sand, gravel and volcanic stones abounded. We saw old deserted gold mines, which originated golden trains of thought as we passed along.

TABLE ROCK

came to our relief by rearing its huge proportions many hundred feet above the valley about it. It was flat on its summit, covering a half mile in area. On almost every side perpendicular, it was a strange and sublime sight, and worthy the brush and canvas of the best painter. Many battles between the native tribes, and betwixt them and the "long knives" of a later period, were no doubt witnessed by this mighty bulwark of nature. O that it could write a book!

PILOT ROCK

came next to view. It looked like a gigantic castle of feudal days, and built on the very top of the mountain. It can be seen at long range, and is a guide to the immigrant over the plains, and westward bound.

MOUNT SHASTA

came next in the great diorama of nature, and rose in power and majesty before our wondering gaze. His companion, Little or Black Butte, was not a great way off. We were fully forty miles from it, if our informant was correct, and yet it seemed only a mile or two distant. We were awed into silence by this monarch of mountains in these parts. He stood before us about seventeen thousand feet high, diademed with snow and rock in alternation, and wrapped with the heavy firs of the forest, bordered with snow, for his great-coat. His queen, who was not far distant, was almost as tall; and, though she had laid aside her pearly crown, she wore a splendid head-dress of fir, and was magnificently appareled in her court dress of black.

The snow on Mount Shasta extended down his sides for thousands of feet; while vast steeples, domes and shapeless masses of black rock projected through it. The snow in places could not have been less than a hundred feet deep, though none had fallen this season. As it melted slowly, it brought into life many streams of icy water, which flowed down on all sides, and was quite refreshing to the hot and thirsty, whether man or beast. One side of Mount Shasta is quite steep, and said to be inaccessible to man; while the other side is sloping, much broken, covered with fir, and filled with grizzly bears, California lions, and other ferocious beasts of prey. Its top has a number of jagged points of rock, which inclose an old crater. Judging from signs or appearances, the whole original top must have been blown off. The base and far beyond, extending to many miles, is covered thick with fire-burnt stones, together with multitudes of little hills of sand, gravel and broken stone, pushed up from below. They were solidified bubbles of the once molten sea of fire which doubtless existed at some remote period of the unknown past. For four days we were journeying about the base of this mountain, sometimes approaching as near as eleven miles, when it seemed only a few hundred yards off, and as a tremendous storm-cloud almost over our heads.

A BOTTLE OF WHISKY.

One of our party—the guide—who had been over the road before, unfortunately bought a bottle of this material in a sly way, and, throwing himself partially under its baleful influence, he took the wrong road, which we, traveled a half day before we learned the fact; and we were lost about two days. Being some little distance ahead of us, as usual, trying to find our way to the right road, he grew weary and sat down behind a monster saw-log, which had been hauled from the mountains and strangely left here in this desert. He suddenly rose up as our wagon approached. The horses took fright, wheeled to the left in an effort to run away, and snapped the tongue short off. Now we were in a fix. A hot day, no shade, no water for miles, no hay nor any sort of grass, no milk for baby, and no wagon shop. It appeared to be a desperate case; but our driver was a man for the extremity, and we were soon righted, and reached a camping ground in good time. So much for having a bottle of liquor aboard. But this letter is already too long.

JAMES E. BRADLEY.

SACRAMENTO CITY, CAL., Nov. 4, 1876.

Hath God Forgotten to be Gracious?

With what emphasis this interrogation may be put to the world when we consider the magnitude of the blessings God has so profusely scattered around the footsteps of all men, and their present condition. From the clasping of infant hands in prayer upon the mother's knee, or the spiritual lullabies inwrought into the texture of the child-heart; the indelible pictures photographed in life's glad morning upon the child-brain; of mother's secret tears and prayers, of father's voice in communings with God; the family altar, its old, old Bible, and morning and evening devotions; life's Eden of innocence at Sabbath school and in the house of God; the working of God's Spirit within the heart, and penitential tears shed in secret; the memory of loved ones' death-beds; the vows made when affliction came, and the ever-present voice of conscience calling to repentance and faith in Jesus—these, or most of these, cords by which God has been endeavoring to bind the sinner to his own great heart, must be broken before he can wallow in the mire of sin. How deep, then, is the degradation of the sinner of the nineteenth century! How sore the disease that festers in the breast of him who has, in this day of illumination and gospel advantages, given himself up to the leprosy of sin! As we view man's state—his God-given, everywhere present and abundant privileges—we can but look through a shower of tears to heaven, exclaiming: "After all these things, O God, canst thou be gracious? Can these dry bones live?" We bless thee for an answer, deep as the lowest sinner, broad as the universe, and as high as heaven! "Whosoever cometh unto me I will in no wise cast out." O that the world would knock at once at mercy's door for pardon! But there is one character more sad and desperate than the worldling. It is the lifeless churchling. In infancy he was dedicated to God by baptism, and as the crystal drops fell from the minister's fingers upon his head, a mother shed happy tears, and laid her little lamb gently in the Good Shepherd's arms, to be folded to his bosom. He was educated and nurtured in the Sunday school; converted while yet young, and made a member of the church. He was conspicuous for his energy, and most assiduous in ministries of love. Faith, prayer and purity were his delight. He fared like a prince at the banquets of God's means of grace, and often made the church ring with his notes of joy, or the woods echo with his shouts of praise at camp meeting. But how are the mighty fallen! What syren fascination has charmed him away from Christ? Who slew this giant? Did God orphan him? "Hath he forgotten to be gracious?" No! no! The sad old story—calamity came upon him in the shape of worldly prosperity. The culture of his piety was neglected for the culture of sugar, corn and cotton—the accumulation of heavenly graces for the scraping together of a few miserable dollars—time once spent in gathering heavenly manna, spent in planning where to stow away his "much goods." Yes, a flock of eagles swooped down upon his piety, and with golden beak and talon dragged out its life, and left its skeleton to bleach beneath the sun of God's righteous indignation. These are the men my soul pities. They are in nearly all of our churches. We hold to them if by any means we may save them. The world is staggering over them down to death. The best revival our churches could have would be to reduce the membership down to actual Christians. If men will serve the devil, let them not ask the church to sanction it by retaining their names. If men will be stumbling blocks, let them not lie stark dead round our church altars. They who always try to do right, and always fail—passionate men and women, who pray and repent, and rejoice and sin—who are never in the narrow way but when they happen to cross it going to and fro, harassed by doubts and fears and perplexities, haunted with the phantoms of broken vows and unfulfilled covenants—who know no peace—how can they know peace, and yet fall into sin? I have an unbounded compassion for such, and if I were to speak them my mind I should say: "Brethren, cease trying any longer—do, do." Strike out with dying urgency for the cross of Christ. Make a clean breast of your life-time sin; believe—pray. Pray until God's bolts of mercy shatter the black clouds of your guilt, until the sunshine of God's love illuminate your soul, and the heavenly dove descend into it with the olive branch of peace; for God hath not forgotten to be gracious."

ALFRED E. CLAY.

OBITUARIES.

Correspondents, please write names and dates very distinctly. We follow copy on proper names. Obituary notices should be forwarded promptly and immediately. Give only points of general interest, such as will help the living. Details of funeral services, and such phrases as "mourn their loss," etc., are not edifying. Verses, either original or select, not admissible in this department. Give the locality distinctly and in full. In the case of infants only a simple announcement of the death, with names and dates, will be published.

☞ All obituaries received are published as soon as convenient. If, after a reasonable time, any such communication fail to appear, let a duplicate be sent instead of a complaint.

REV. JAMES BOWMAN was born May 10, 1798. He was a native of South Carolina. His parents emigrated to Tennessee when he was quite a youth. From Tennessee they removed to Mississippi, and thence to Louisiana, in which State Uncle Bowman spent his long and useful life. For many years he was a resident of East Feliciana parish. In 1846 he removed to Tensas parish, where he resided until 1863. During the war he removed to DeSoto parish. He afterward returned to Tensas, thence to Morehouse, and thence to Ouachita parish, where he died of pneumonia, October 19, 1876. Ever since I can recollect, Uncle Bowman has been a local elder in the Methodist Church. At the last Quarterly Conference for his circuit, held at his house, he stated that his "character had passed" its annual review before forty-eight Quarterly Conferences. How long he was a professor of religion I have no means of ascertaining. In some respects Uncle Bowman was a remarkable man. He commenced life very poor, reared a large family, and at the outbreak of the war was a man in affluent circumstances. His energy was absolutely untiring, and his capacity for endurance was equal to his energy. The dim sight and faltering steps and unsteady hand had no effect to diminish his energy. His motto for daily work was: "Not slothful in business." He prospered in his business above many who had a fairer start than he had, and the reason was that "he worked mightily." Uncle Bowman's religion was of the demonstrative type. Whether he preached or prayed, or talked in love-feast or class meeting, the hearers would soon see that his religion was manifesting itself in an unmistakable manner. He was very earnest and importunate when he prayed and when he preached. The big tears rolling down his cheeks exhibited the deep sympathy that was in his soul. His love for Jesus was intense, and years seemed to intensify it more. When I was a boy I would wonder that he prayed for his "last days to be his best days," and I have lived to see his prayer answered. When he moved to his last place of residence religion was at a very low ebb. The Sabbath was but little regarded, and the claims of God were unheeded by most of his neighbors. His duty seemed clear to him, and, though threescore and ten years had passed over him, he bravely buckled on his armor, drew his glittering sword, and went into the fight for the Master. For awhile it seemed to be a single-handed encounter, but with the courage and skill of a veteran he fought on until the great Captain bade him cease. He then had the satisfaction of seeing most of his neighbors converted, and a flourishing church of nearly fifty members in his community. The last quarterly meeting at his church, held about ten days before his death, seemed to be a precious season to Uncle Bowman. He particularly enjoyed a sermon preached on "the Christian's rest." His last public exhortation to his neighbors was so solemn that it appeared to come from the borders of the spirit land. His death was unexpected to himself and family, but he showed no fear. The religion he had professed for more than half a century was abundantly able to sustain him in the last hour. He spoke of his departure with calmness—said he "was going home," and that his "faith in God sustained him." Thus the aged servant of God laid off his armor and entered into rest. The church is greatly bereaved. His family has sustained an irreparable loss. The pastor has lost a valuable helper. The community mourn over the darkening of its brightest light. But "precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints."

C. W. CARTER.

JUDGE JOHN MCVEA departed this life on the thirteenth of October, 1876, in Clinton, La., in the fifty-fifth year of his age.

It has seldom been our duty to record the death and write the obituary of one so distinguished and excellent as the subject of the following brief notice. The Hon. John McVea was born in the north of Ireland, on the fourth of November, 1821, and was brought to this country about ten years after. He was brought to a knowledge of the truth by the preaching of the late Rev. I. Wall, of precious memory, in his fifteenth year, while a student at the Louisiana (now Centenary) College. During his collegiate course he was distinguished by orderly deportment, diligence in study and earnest piety. Before he was twenty he graduated with the honors of his class, and soon after began to study law, which he pursued with success, and became one of the most successful and popular lawyers of this State. He was, by the suffrages of the people of his parish, sent to the Legislature, and then to the Senate, in both of which he served the people faithfully and honestly. He occupied also with acceptability the judicial bench of the fifth district of this State. In all these positions and relations he maintained his Christian character, and love for God and his church. Although constantly occupied by the duties of his profession and the ordinary cares of life, he was faithful in the church as steward, class-leader and Sabbath school superintendent. Wherever he went, wherever he was, he was distinguished as an intelligent and faithful Christian gentleman. Some years after the death of his first wife—a most excellent lady, by whom he had three daughters and a son—he married Miss Emily W. Watt, of New Orleans, who, with her three little daughters, survive to mourn his absence from their delightful home. Sad indeed have been the months to them since the kind husband and tender father was stricken by a strange disease, which baffled medical skill, and induced a mental imbecility painful to see, although it was evident that the cloud was darker on our side than on his. By various indications, given us by him, we were induced to believe that he knew far more than he was able to express.

We rejoiced to discover, through all his protracted and strange affliction, that his heart was with God.

The church has seldom lost a better friend, the State a better citizen, or the family a better husband and father. May God protect and direct the widow and fatherless.

J. L. FORSYTH.

ADOLPHUS HILL WARE, only son of Gustavus A. Ware and Rebecca Hill Jones, was born in Jackson, Miss., May 8, 1847, and died in New York city, July 29, 1876, after a severe and painful illness of twenty-six days.

Alone, among strangers, far from kindred and friends, "suffering greatly to see one familiar face," and in circumstances of extreme distress, thus died one of the noblest, most unselfish and generous of young men—a young man of superior mental endowments, of the strictest integrity, and of a pure and earnest life.

Being left an orphan in the tender years of childhood, his whole subsequent life was tinged by this misfortune, to which was added a depressing, life-long malady—epilepsy. Ardent and patriotic to an intense degree, he joined the army of northern Virginia before he was sixteen years of age, and won, by his bravery and faithfulness, the esteem and affection of his commanders and his compatriots in arms.

He joined the Protestant Episcopal Church—the church of his parents—over two years ago, which act was in his case a sincere and heartfelt surrender of himself to the God who made him. His life since that hour, though marked by pain and misfortune, has been consistent, earnest and prayerful. He loved to acknowledge God as his "best friend," and enjoyed the services of the public sanctuary.

For months past he seemed to realize the near approach of death, and looked forward to it as a sweet release. His spoken and written expressions of love and faith in "the blessed Savior" shine out with precious luster against the background of his unfortunate life. They lift the hearts that bleed for him from the weariness and bitterness of earth to the eternal rest and peace of that bright clime where the presence of our Lord will be our exceeding joy.

L. S.

MRS. ANNIE E. TOWNSEND, daughter of Mr. B. T. and Mrs. C. C. Marshall, was born May 4, 1845, and died at her father's residence, in Carroll county, Miss., in great peace, September 15, 1876. She was happily converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church South in the fall of 1869, under the ministry of the Rev. P. A. Johnston. She was married to Mr. E. F. Townsend December 28, 1875, with whom she lived sweetly until she died.

As a daughter she was obedient and kind, always submitting her desires to the will and judgment of her aged parents. Though for several years she had entire control of the domestic affairs, she was never too old or wise to consult her parents' wishes, and from early childhood she was remarkable for finding pleasure in making her parents happy.

As a sister she was kind and good at home; therefore few sisters are loved as she was.

As a Christian she was uniformly exemplary. None knew her but to regard her as a good woman. Her religion not only made her a member of the church, but kind, patient, generous and humble, and not a few of the many who have found a pleasant home at Bro. Marshall's will remember with admiration the kindness of that now sainted lady. The religion that she loved and practiced in life was her solace in death, enabling her to feel that "though I die, yet shall I live," and to say to her aged mother: "I die happy. Glory, hallelujah!"

As a sufferer she was called to endure what few ever realize—death by pain, and conscious until death; but she endured as a Christian only can, feeling that it was but a step to that country where pain and death are strangers. While living she had made ready to die, and to live after death; therefore she rests in peace.

She leaves a tender babe to try the realities of this rude world without a mother, a devoted husband, two aged parents, many relatives and friends to mourn their loss, to all of whom we tender our sympathy, and ask God to help them to submit with a willing mind to this mysterious providence.

THOMAS J. NEWELL.

MISS MARY A. LONNERGAN was born October 10, 1845, and died July 18, 1876, in St. Clair county, Ala. She embraced religion and joined the church in her tenth year, and from her conversion to the grave she was a meek and faithful Christian. She was afflicted in body, from her fourteenth year, till death released her from suffering. She was truly a practical Christian in all the relations of life. Her life was in the main unlike that of most young ladies of our day. The cross of Christ to her had attractions that far surpassed those of the ball-room, where so many seek pleasure and happiness. Under no circumstances of life was she ever willing to compromise her religious obligations. As she approached the last river her faith and trust were unshaken, and the love of God filled her soul, and she could say: "Oh, glorious hope!" She conversed of death as if it were but to be a pleasant visit from this vale of sorrow to the land of rest. Her death was calm and peaceful, and may her godly admonitions never be forgotten.

R. G. RAGAN.

JOHN ASHLEY DUTY, son of John W. and Pamelia Duty, was born in 1858, in Claiborne parish, and died in Shiloh, March 12, 1876. Johnny was richly endowed with those qualities of mind and heart that elevated him in the scale of moral excellence above the class of young men with whom he was associated. From childhood he was sober, serious, though cheerful, truthful and studious. Possessing a very brilliant mind, he acquired knowledge very rapidly; and, being blessed with excellent educational advantages, he was rising rapidly in the literary world, and bid fair to be a shining light. He was converted at the Alabama camp meeting last year, and neither before nor since that event can any one say that Johnny was out of place. True to his obligations to society, kind to his classmates, obedient and devoted to parents, and respectful to all, he was beloved by all, and all felt his loss greatly. But we weep not as others who have no hope.

J. W. HEARN.

PRESTON F. COOPER, son of Rev. Preston and Lucretia Cooper, died in Oktibbeha county, Miss., September 24, 1876, of congestion of the bowels.

He joined the church under Bro. A. B. Stewart, but owing, it may be, to his retiring disposition he never made any great show in religion. In 1872 he married a Miss Anne Greenwood. He was a kind husband and an affectionate father. He leaves a young wife and two little children, a mother, brothers, sisters and friends to cherish his memory. During the past year he had been very different in prayer and reading the Bible. His sickness was short; death came very unexpectedly; was sick only three days. He died easy, calmly, quietly, as if spreading sails for a better land. The last words falling from his lips, just before dying, were: "O how sweet! Let us get ready and go." We are reminded of our Savior's words: "Therefore be ye also ready, for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh."

R. BRADLEY.

B. E. PICKETT died at his residence in Madison county, Miss., October 11, 1876. He was born in Rutherford county, N. C., in 1810; moved to Mississippi in 1835; and joined the church in 1852, at a camp meeting near Sulphur Springs.

For twenty-four years Bro. Pickett was a consistent member of our church, much respected for his goodness, and deeply pious. No one could be with him long without being convinced that he was an earnest Christian. I was with him a short time before he died, and prayed and talked with him. He assured me all was well—the prospect bright. He leaves a wife and a large family.

The writer was called upon to marry a young couple, and from the place of joyousness and happiness to preach the funeral sermon of our departed brother. Such is life. One generation passeth away and another cometh.

R. BRADLEY.

DIED, at her residence near Spring Ridge, Hinds county, Miss., after a long illness, MRS. SARAH H. BUTLER, wife of John H. Butler, deceased, in the fifty-ninth year of her age. The deceased was the daughter of Sarah and William Brown, Sr., was a member of the Baptist Church, and died in the faith of the same. She leaves eight children, two of whom only are in their minority. May the Lord care for them. She was well fortified by faith in the Redeemer, even a living faith, her last words being: "O how I love Jesus! Martha, don't you love Jesus? Thank God for such comfort at the decease of our last sister. We are alone in the world of all our mother's children. The great and blessed promises of Jesus fill our lonely, sorrowing heart still, while we wait and pray and watch to be ready.

Her brother, B. L. B.

A BEAUTIFUL PRAYER.—A poor Irish woman asked a wealthy lady, the owner of a beautiful flower garden in Detroit, for a flower or two to put on the coffin of her dead child. The good lady invited her to be seated, and very shortly brought a magnificent cross and wreath. The afflicted one was overcome, and, as soon as she was able to express herself, she said most fervently: "May our blessed Redeemer meet you at the gates of heaven with a crown of flowers more beautiful than these!" A most touching prayer, in which many will join the afflicted mother.

A rush of thoughts is the only conceivable prosperity that can come to us.—Emerson.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1876.

OVER-NIGHT.

Yesterday a forward bud
With a promise filled the room,
And to-day there in its stead
Blessing, stands a rose in bloom.

Yesterday we thought to see
Leaf by leaf its life outbloom,
Or to feel the moment blight
When the bud became a rose.

So a child we keep a child
As we keep a hyacinth down?
All at once, a blush, a glance,
Comes the maiden woman grown.

Life, O Life, your every chance
We waylay and flash surprise;
But it comes another way,
In an unimagined guise.

Watch and listen when we may—
Out of love or out of fear—
Something will go by unseen,
Or unheard that we would hear.

But I hope with all my hope
I may know the now unknown;
Some hope hear the now unheard,
See, and not with eyes alone.

And indeed I make no doubt,
Soon or late, this perfect sight
Through the dark will come to me,
As the rose came—overnight.

Fertility of Palestine.

The account which the Bible gives of the fertility of the land of Canaan, when it was taken by the Israelites, has been a stumbling difficulty with some of the readers of the Bible. In Deuteronomy viii, 7, 8, we read:

"For the Lord thy God bringeth thee into a good land: a land of brooks of water, of fountains and depths that spring out of valleys and hills; a land of wheat, and barley, and vines, and fig trees, and pomegranates; a land of olive oil, and honey."

Those who have looked upon some of the barren portions of Palestine at certain seasons of the year have wondered how it ever could have corresponded to such a description, and the enemies of the Bible have not failed to make the most of this point. We find a satisfactory article on this subject in the last quarterly statement of the English Palestine Exploration Fund. In a paper by Lieut. Conder, of the exploration party, he says:

"No expression in the passage above quoted is inapplicable to modern Palestine. The land is not said to be beautiful or romantic; the lawns and forests, which the survey party were stated two years ago to have surveyed, are not noticed in the Bible; the palm trees, which modern artists so freely introduce, are not noted; the good things of the earth only are enumerated; and it is still be what it still is, or is at least capable of becoming, a good land. The 'brooks of water' are admitted by all scholars to be the present Wadys, filled in some cases by perennial streams, but generally dry in summer. The 'fountains' are the modern Ayns; the 'depths' the deep blue pools which form the sources of many a stream throughout the country. The 'valleys,' or small plains, and the 'hills,' are unchanged; wheat, barley, vines, olives, figs and pomegranates are still the principal products of the soil; and the Duns, translated 'honey,' is the modern Dibs, a syrup prepared from the grape lees, which forms an important article of food among the peasantry. There is probably no natural product of the country noticed in the Bible not to be found in modern Palestine."

In answer to the question, "How are we justified in supposing any great change to have occurred?" Lieut. Conder goes on to consider first the questions of climate and of water supply, and then to take separately the various natural divisions of the country (all of which are noted in Scripture), in order to see how far a change in cultivation or in natural products is to be traced in each. After going through the whole of Palestine, from "Dan to Beersheba," he briefly sums up the deductions, which appear to him to be the natural outcome of the facts collected, as follows:

1. The climate of Palestine is capable of great improvement by drainage, but has always been to a certain extent malarious in the plains. These, and especially the Jordan valley, will always be unfitted to European constitutions, but may be made salubrious for the indigenous population.

2. The seasons in Palestine are unchanged, and there is no evidence of any very remarkable falling off in the amount of rain, though the data are not sufficient for a definite conclusion on the subject.

3. The spontaneous growth resembles in character that mentioned in the Bible. In some districts it has greatly decreased, in others it has spread; woods of timber trees have decreased in extent, but still exist in part of the districts formerly occupied by them.

4. Cultivation and drainage have still been neglected, and the richness of the soil makes it certain that very little labor would make an enormous change in the productiveness of the country.

5. The present water supply answers exactly to that described in the Bible, in the Talmud, and in the Targums, and depends entirely on geological formation.

6. The north of Palestine is, and has apparently always been, more fruitful than the south.

7. The Judean hills are unchanged in appearance, at least since the twelfth century, and were probably always the most barren-looking of all the districts. The deserts to the east and south appear also to be unchanged.

To sum up, in conclusion, the change in Palestine is one of degree only, and not of kind. The curse of the country is bad government and oppression. Justice and security of person and property once established, Palestine would become once more a land of corn, vines and olives, rivaling in fertility and in wealth its ancient condition, as deduced from careful study of such notices as remain to us in the Bible and in the later Jewish writings.—New York Observer.

Philosophy is but dry bread; men will not live upon it, however wholesome. They require the succulent food and exciting cup of religion.

Certainties, not Opinions.

Dr. Henry Warren, of Brooklyn, recently delivered before a scientific association an address on "Scientific Certainties, not Opinions, About Alcohol." Some of these certainties, he said, were that alcohol is never assimilated to the human system, nor changed into any other compound in the living body; hence it never can be food; that it has no power to aid, but rather retards, the digestion of food; that it is not a source of strength, nor a producer of animal heat; that the microscope shows the blood deteriorated, the brain injured by it, and that statistics prove that life is shortened by its use. The lecture was very interesting, as each assertion was well illustrated as well as proved. It would do good service if printed in tract form for general circulation among the people as a temperance tract. Its close was as follows:

"Allow me, to come down from things mathematical, sure and minutely measurable, and introduce a single deduction, which has nevertheless all the force of a demonstration, namely: That drinkers of all grades are a terribly vitiated lot of humanity. This is seen in the sureness with which contagious diseases smite them down. Four-fifths of those who were swept away by the dreadful visitation of the cholera, in 1832, were addicted to intoxicating drinks. Drunkards and tipplers were searched out with such unerring certainty as to show that the arrows of death were not indiscriminately flung. In St. Petersburg and Moscow the whole population ceased to drink spirits, so sure were they that they drank death. Out of a thousand deaths, only two were members of a temperance society. And at that time every temperate person was a member. Of thirty thousand victims in Paris, nearly every one was a user of intoxicating liquors. Nine-tenths of those who died in Poland were of the same class. In some towns every drunkard was swept away. Monsieur Huber saw two thousand one hundred and sixty persons perish in twenty-five days in a town in Russia. He says: 'Persons given to drinking were swept away like flies.' In Pitts, containing twenty thousand inhabitants, every drunkard fell. Dr. Sewall stated that, of two hundred and four cases of cholera in the Park Hospital, New York, there were only six temperate persons, and they recovered. Out of three hundred and sixty-six who died in Albany, three hundred and twenty-six were habitual drinkers; while of those who drank no spirits whatever there were only seven."

Preaching to Doctors.

The Rev. Dr. Gatty recently preached at Sheffield, England, to the members of the British Medical Association, during the annual meeting. We give the following suggestive extract from his discourse upon the appropriate text: "They that are whole need not a physician, but they that are sick:"

"Some of the smaller philosophers of our own time regard the Bible as the sacred book common to all forms of religion, and so far to be respected, but only to be trusted when it does not clash with their own deductions. That man should have come perfectly formed, by an act of creation, from the hand of his Maker, is to them less credible than that he should be the slow result of a process of evolution, no satisfactory traces of which can be shown, while all palpable experience contradicts the doctrine. I do not know where science gives a more reliable history of the generation of man than is to be found in the one hundred and thirty-ninth Psalm. So far as the records of the by-gone world extend, they exhibit man, both intellectually and physically, as quite equal to his descendants at the present day. Moses was, at least, as great a law-giver as the first Napoleon. The biography of Joseph and his family, written more than three thousand years ago, has literary merit, surpassing in its own style of simplicity and pathos any authorship of any other age or country. David has shown us in his Psalms that he knew human thoughts and feelings quite as profoundly as Shakespeare himself, and of the sermon on the mount and the parables of Christ are not unique and supreme in sublimity of expression as well as doctrine, I want to know why all the religious teachers of the world have failed to produce what we can listen to with the same life-long attention? Is there, nevertheless, a fossil, still deeply hidden, but not beyond the final reach of discovery, which shall prove that grapes once grew on thorns, and figs on thistles; or, in other words, that man, by some infernal effort, protracted through ages, released himself from the form and nature of a lower brute, and has since advanced by the position of being able to tell the history of his own origin? There is, however, one degrading vice peculiar to man, and at the present time a national disgrace, which is certainly no inheritance from any lower animal. The drunkard is only to be found in the ranks of humanity, and this terrible moral fact brings to the candid mind an assurance that what revelation tells us must be true—that God made man upright, but they sought out many inventions by which the noblest handiwork of the Creator has become degraded and debased."

"If you are to take 'sentiment' out of the world, you must take all the flowers, the poetry, the music, the sunshine, the blue of the skies, the balm of the air, beside a greater number of beautiful things than there is time to name. And who of all prosaic mortals would consent to inhabit the earth as it would then be? The cold spirit that would abolish all sentiment would perish in a world as frigid as that."

"Are these eggs poached?" inquired a customer of a colored restaurant-keeper at an Alabama station. "Yes, sah," replied Sambo. "Dey is—but is de chickens wat laid 'em war."

A Bit of Old Venice.

There they sat and drowsed and dreamed, a half score of nurslings, in their rags and their dirt and loveliness. The poor little senses were overcome by the delicious twilight and the spring-time spell that a knot of white hyacinths in a soup-pot on the table had woven about them. Their heads were golden and tangled and unkempt, their innocent faces flushed with the warm air, their bare legs crossed over their weary knees, their coarse cotton garments half torn from their shoulders.

I thought of one Gian Bellini, who in the olden time wandered about Venice and laughed with the children of the street, saw them splash their feet in the cool canals in the morning, saw them nestling to their mothers' arms at night, heard them singing about the windows or thrumming their old mandolins in the moonlight, crouching at a palace door with their rags dropping apart. He gathered them all into his thoughts, this large-hearted man of the people, and, when he painted angels praising the heavenly hosts, what were they but little Venetian children, singing and playing with that divine unconsciousness that you can see in their dream-filled eyes? They are lost in their own music, never thinking that the celestial multitude will care because they wear shabby serge and their bare brown legs are dingy with the miles they have walked, carrying their heavy harps, and because their hair falls tangled on their shoulders. A chanting angel in heaven and a threshold on earth were one to Bellini. He judged so wisely, the dear old master.—Charlotte Adams, in Appleton's Journal.

A SHORT-LIVED ISLAND. During the night of July 10, 1831, a little island appeared in the Mediterranean Sea, about fifty miles from Marsala, in Sicily, thrown up by volcanic action. When first seen by Captain Swinburne, of a British man-of-war, it was about two hundred and forty feet in diameter, and was in fact a crater, from which steam and cinders were still issuing to the height of several hundred feet. The spectacle was a grand one as witnessed by the seamen, the eruption being accompanied by a loud roaring noise, and discharges of forked lightning within the ascending column of hot steam and cinders. About four months after this the spot was visited by a British frigate, having on board Walter Scott, who was on his way to Malta, in search of health. The volcanic action had so far ceased that he was able to land and examine this little dependency of Great Britain. Mounted upon the shoulders of a stout sailor, he rode almost to the top of the island, where he found two dolphins and a rabin, all dead; no doubt from the hot temperature. On one side steam was bubbling from the ground, which spread itself all around the base of the island, surrounding it with a cloak. The atmosphere, strongly impregnated with brimstone, was almost suffocating; and if a hole was dug in the ground it was at once filled with boiling water. It was fortunate that the great man did not defer his visit, for shortly after the island disappeared, existing now only as a shoal.

A REMARKABLE FISH STORY.—A remarkable incident occurred at Brown & Hall's saw mill, in Acton, while a pine log was being sawed up into lumber. The outside slab and fore barrel had been cut off, and while the workmen were turning over the log they were surprised to see a large toad poke his head out of a hole in which he was imbedded, and where he had barely escaped being cut up by the saw. How the stranger got there was a mystery, as he was completely encased in the wood, with no possible means of ingress or egress. As the log was the fourth or fifth from the butt of the tree, his position must have been at least fifty or sixty feet from the ground, and he had no doubt grown up with it from infancy, being probably hundreds of years old. The animal was quite flat, and nearly as large as a man's hand. He was perfectly blind, but when taken from his bed he made use of his limbs to crawl away. The tree was perfectly sound with the exception of a decayed spot of about a foot in length below the hollow place in which he was imbedded. How did he get there, and what did he live on?—Bramlo Globe.

An Aberdeen laird, who kept a very good poultry-yard, strangely enough could not command a fresh egg for his breakfast. One day, however, he met his grieve's wife going toward the market, and, very suspiciously, with a nice basket. On passing and speaking a word he discovered the basket was full of beautiful white eggs. Next time he talked with his grieve he said to him: "James, I like you very well, and I think you serve me faithfully; but I cannot say I admire your wife." To which the cool reply was: "O' deed, I'm no surprised at that, for I dinna muckle admire her mysel."

Ida Lewis, the heroine, now has the charge of the Lime Rock lighthouse, and lives there with her mother and her dogs. She has not much regard for the tyrant sex, although she has saved so many from drowning. When complimented upon the interior painting of her house, which she lluted herself, she said: "The government gives us men to do this, but we'd have to board them, and I'd rather do anything in the world than have men in the lighthouse. I like dogs better."

A Scotchman, being examined by his minister, was asked: "What kind of a man was Adam?" "Oh, just like ither folk." The minister insisted on having a more special description of the first man, and pressed for a further explanation. "Weel," said the catechumen, "he was just like Joe Simpson, the horse dealer." "How so?" asked the minister. "Weel, nabody got onything by him, and many lost."

Religious Intelligence.

—Bishop Haven has sailed for Liberia, to visit the Methodist missions there. He will be absent several months.

—The Baptists have been holding meetings at Allatown, Indian Territory. Eight Indians, including Chief Jumper's daughter, have been baptized.

—The centennial anniversary of the old Mission Dolores at San Francisco was celebrated October 8, with a pontifical mass and other ceremonies.

—The Presbyterian missionaries in India, representing in all eleven branches of the Presbyterian Church, have decided to form a "Presbyterian Alliance."

—The Boston City Missionary Society reports for the first eight months of this year 23,411 visits made to 6,945 families; 105,524 religious papers and tracts circulated; over 400 children gathered into Sabbath schools; 1,125 meetings held; 3,151 garments given away; and pecuniary aid afforded in 6,203 cases of want.

—A Roman Catholic paper states that the Old Catholic Congress at Breslau (the proceedings of which have not yet reached us) has resolved to get a declaration from the Prussian government as to whether it would eventually oppose the abolition of the law concerning obligatory celibacy. It was also decided to take the votes of Old Catholic priests and communities on the marriage question.

—The high school for the science of Judaism, founded at Berlin in 1873, has published its second annual report. The lectures are given gratuitously, and are accessible to matriculated students of the University of Berlin. Students of Protestant theology frequent them also. The endowment of the high school amounts now to 101,000 marks, and its annual revenue to 32,000 marks. There are four professors employed at the institution, of whom Dr. Steinhal, professor of the Berlin University, is the president.

—The Archbishop of Canterbury, in a recent address to the dean and chaplain of his diocese, said he did not think that the controversy of the present day was with superstition. He did think that it was a growing infidelity, and if the clergy of the church were not equal to the emergency some great catastrophe might befall not only the church, but the nation. "A learned clergy was never more wanted than at the present time—a learned and zealous clergy, a clergy understanding the wants of the age, and ready and able to minister to them."

—It appears from a table of statistics published in "Sadlier's Directory" that the Roman Catholics are rapidly increasing the number of their parochial schools in this country. Twenty or thirty years ago they had hardly made a beginning. Now they have not less than 1,700 of these schools, with perhaps 200,000 scholars. The largest number of schools is in the diocese of Vincennes, which has 145. Cincinnati comes next, with 140. New York is credited with only 85; and yet, if the elaborate article in the World of a recent date is correct as to its information, 26,000 scholars attend these schools. The figures do not agree.

—Few persons have any adequate idea of the extensive part the women of this country are bearing in mission work. The following statement of the amounts raised by the five principal American Women's Foreign Missionary Societies will therefore be read with interest: The Woman's Union Missionary Society of the United States, between their organization in 1860 and April, 1876, raised $363,622 12. The Woman's Board of the Congregational American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, organized in 1868, raised, up to 1876, $411,671 87. The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, organized in 1869, raised, up to February, 1876, $319,480. The Woman's Board of the Presbyterian Missionary Society, organized in 1870, raised, up to February, 1876, $306,831 66. The Woman of the Baptist Union organized their society in 1874, and up to January, 1876, had raised $183,000. The grand total contributed by these female societies amounts to $1,705,568 65. The total number of missionaries on the foreign field now supported by them is 287.

—From the report of the proceedings of the sixty-seventh annual meeting of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions are derive the following interesting items: The receipts for the year were $365,122, being a falling off of $50,000. Three missionaries have died during the year: Mrs. John N. Gulick, of North China; Dr. Henry S. West, of Western Turkey; and Rev. M. Peck, of India. Twenty-seven missionaries have returned to this country for rest or medical treatment, and ten have severed their connection with the Board. Twenty have returned to their fields of labor, and twenty-two new laborers have been sent out. The total number of workers now employed by the board is 1,188, of whom 388 are from this country and the remainder natives. There are 155 ordained missionaries, 7 of whom are physicians; 11 physicians and male assistants; and 222 female assistants. The number of native pastors is 124, of native preachers and catechists 283, of native school teachers 475, and of native helpers 205. The number of missions is 43, with 80 stations and 517 outstations. There are 287 churches, an increase of 14; and 12,871 church members, the additions for the year being 1,638 the largest number of conversions reported since 1868. The number of training and theological schools is 41, a decrease of 3; and of scholars in them 705, a decrease of 105. There are 23 boarding schools for girls, with 732 scholars; and 577 common schools, with 22,010 scholars; other adults under instruction 979—an aggregate of 24,250 scholars, against 22,523 last year.—Christian Intelligencer.

Our Young People.

THE TWO FORTRESSES.

I know a little fortress where Numbers of people hide.
I wonder, my young friends, if you
Have ever been inside?

Some think it's a fortress sure,
(Although in truth 'tis not;)
Whether the careless love to run,
"Oh, called, "I quite forgot."

You "quite forgot" that mother called
To-day when you were reading?
You let her wait upon herself,
While you went on unheeding?

You "quite forgot" to leave your game
As tidy as you ought?
And then, O how ashamed you felt
When visitors were brought?

This morning you "forgot" to pray,
And everything went wrong;
Cross words, unkindness, bitter thoughts,
Have teased you all day long.

And now to build your character
This fortress is to use.
For those around you plainly see
"Forgot" is a lame excuse.

For if you always "quite forget,"
Folks feel they cannot trust you;
And if lose respect and forfeit love,
All little good will do.

There's one more little fort
That I should like to mention;
Conscience and Duty are its guards.
Especially, "I'll pay attention."

Will you not come and learn this fort?
Disciple of Care, prevention
Twill prove you, if you say and mean
Henceforth, "I'll pay attention."

From Our Little Friends.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: I've heard mamma and sister read your paper every week for the last year, till it put me in the notion to write. I am seven years old. I can't read well enough to read your paper, but I love to hear mamma read about the angels. What has become of Grandpa Goodale that he doesn't write for us again? I liked his story so much. We haven't any Sunday school now. I have visited your city three times. I cannot remember the first time I was there. I like you so much for giving us little folks a corner in your paper. If you will publish this I will promise to write again.

From your little friend,

MAMIE FLOYD.

I Can't Help It.

That was what Harry Day always said when he was told of any of his bad habits: "I can't help it," which really meant: "I don't wish to help it," because we knew well enough that when every one of us "help doing wrong if we try in the right way."

Once Harry came upon an old story in a worn, soiled book which he rooted out of a chest in the lumber closet, and this story set him thinking, as it may, perhaps, set some young folks thinking about the reason why it is necessary to resist what is bad in its earliest beginning.

"Long ago there lived an old hermit who had left the busy world for a cell in the desert, and who was reputed to be learned and wise.

"Many people used to visit the lonely man, that they might receive his advice, and once a youth came to him who begged to stay with him for a time as his pupil.

"The hermit consented, and the first day he led his young companion into a small wood near to their humble dwelling. Looking round, he pointed to a very young oak tree just shooting from the ground.

"'Pull up that sapling from the root,' said he to his pupil, who obeyed without any difficulty. They went on a little farther, and the old man pointed to another tree, but also a young one, whose roots struck deeper. This was not so easy to pull up as the first had been; but with several efforts it was accomplished.

"The third had grown quite tall and strong, so that the youth was a long time before he could tear it up; but when his master pointed to a fourth, which was still larger and stronger, he found that, try as he might, it was impossible to move it.

"'Now remember and take heed to what you have seen,' said the hermit. 'The bad habits and passions of men are just like these trees of the wood. When young and tender they may be easily overcome, but let them once gain firm root in your soul, and no human strength is sufficient to get rid of them. Watch over your hearts and do not wait till your faults and passions have grown strong before you try to uproot them.'"

That was the end of the story; but, as I have said, it set Harry Day thinking, and when "I can't help it" was rising to his lips he was ashamed to utter it. So he set himself to the work of mastering his temper, his idleness, and all that conscience told him was amiss. Though this is a work that is not done in an hour or a day, a month, or even a year, it will be effected at last perhaps after many failures by prayer and by perseverance; nay, it must be done unless we wish to become the servants and the slaves of sin.

Letter from a Japanese Girl.

The subjoined letter was written by a bright little girl in Japan to her little friend, now a student in this country, and cannot but be read with feelings of surprise and pleasure. Excepting the proper names, it is an exact copy.

YEDO, June 10, 1876.

"MY DEAR COUSIN: I am very glad that I can send a letter again to you. I wish I could write very often, but I cannot write as well as you. Now I will tell you about our school. We have two good teachers in the school, and two Japanese translation teachers, and a Japanese writing and reading teacher. We all get up at five o'clock in the morning, and dressing takes one hour, and we eat breakfast at half-past six. After that we have morning prayers with our teachers, about one hour. After prayer we have different kinds of house work, until nine. From nine to twelve we are learning Chinese and Japanese reading and writing, which are divided into four classes. When Japanese lessons are finished we have recess. Then, after going into the wash-room and washed our hands, we have dinner. When we hear the bell ring we all go to the school-room and begin to learn. I wish to tell you something more about school, but have not time enough, because our Japanese examination is coming very soon; so please excuse me.

"I am very glad, indeed, because lately, even in such a dark country, there are a great many Christian people. I was baptized last year, in July. That time there were beside me fifteen other persons baptized. Oh! I am so happy indeed. But my parents and little sister do not believe yet the true God. So only this one thing troubles me. I am always praying for your health and happiness to our Father in heaven. So please pray for my parents and sister, that they will become Christians. I wish to see your kind parents in America, but I think I cannot go, neither can they come. But our Savior is the same; therefore, though I cannot meet them in this world, we shall meet in the happy home above. Please give my love to your teachers, and all your dear friends also.

"With much love, your affectionate cousin,

A. M."

More About Toads.

A lady sends to the Mirror the following, which will specially interest our little gardeners:

"I can think of so many things interesting about this discarded, not to say abused, brown animal, that I know not what to say first. I will mention a very few.

First, I like them because they remove so many disagreeable insects from my sight and hearing. I always pet them. The greatest blessings to my garden, next to the sunshine and the rain, are robins and toads. By the way, I counted what a robin would eat of caterpillars in the rate that I saw him during one hour, and it was three thousand per week!

The toads are just as useful in their way; continually watching, with their long tongues curled up inside their mouths, ready to snap any little mosquito or biting fly that happens in their way. I would like to have fifty in my garden at once if they would not quarrel after their breakfasts, or dinners, or suppers; I cannot endure quarrelers. I wish that everybody that does not like them would give them to me. But that would not be best. They could not spare them from their own land, although they might not know it; and my garden and land might be overstocked, and I should be sorry to starve on them.

I always stop and pat them. Do you know how funnily and meekly they bow their heads when patted gently with a little stick? Seeming to like one's lordship, not trying to hop away, at least the old and wise ones do not. I do not think I could let a toad sit beside me and help me eat my dinner, and kiss it afterward, as I heard a little girl did with her pet toads.

But my long acquaintance with them as servants has shown me without a doubt that they are one of God's perfectly harmless creatures, and a great blessing, snapping up all the insects in their way. I take every one I find in the road and bring it home safe—the dear little waifs! I use my finest handkerchief to confine it till I get home; I took two home from the field in an empty berry-pail with leaves. Once or twice I had no pail or handkerchief, and I gladly took my hat to carry them to my garden in. Yes, Mr. Toad is good.

DISAGREEABLE HABITS.—Nearly all the disagreeable habits which people take up come at first from mere accident or want of thought. They might easily be dropped, but they are persisted in until they become a second nature. Stop and think before you allow yourself to form them. There are disagreeable habits of body, like scowling, winking, twisting the mouth, biting the nails, continually picking at something, twirling a key or tumbling at a chain, drumming with the fingers, screwing and twisting one's hair, or whatever you can lay your hands on. Don't do any of these things. Learn to sit quietly, like a gentleman. I was going to say, but I am afraid even girls fall into such tricks sometimes. There are much worse habits than these, to be sure; but we are speaking only of very little things that are only annoying when they are persisted in. There are habits of speech also, such as beginning every speech with "you see," or "you know," "now-a," "I don't care," "tell you what," "tell you now." Indistinct utterance, sharp nasal tones, a slow drawl, avoid them all. Stop and think what you wish to say, and then let every word drop from your lips just as smooth and perfect as a new silver coin. Have a care about your ways of sitting and standing and walking. Before you know it you will find your habits have hardened into a coat of mail that you cannot get rid of without a terrible effort.—Little Corporal.

A minister in a Scotch seaport town was descanting before a large audience upon the peril of unrepentant sinners as they drifted down the stream of time. He compared their life to a tempest-tossed bark, bowing under the hurricane, every bit of canvas torn from its spars, and driving upon adjacent breakers. At the climax of his skillfully elaborated metaphor, the minister shouted: "And how, O how shall the poor mariner be saved?" An old salt in the gallery, with his whole soul absorbed in the scene, sprang to his feet and screamed: "Let him put his helm hard down, and bear up 'round the waves."

It is a good sign when the Lord blows off the blossoms of our forward hopes in this life, and taps the branches of our worldly joys to the very root, on purpose that they should not thrive. Lord, spoil my fool's heaven in this life, that I may be saved forever.—Rutherford.

The Christian Advocate.

Organ of the Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences of the M. E. Church South.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1876.

REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D., Editor.

ROBT. J. HARP, PUBLISHER.

OFFICE—112 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS

Address, on all matters of business, Rev. R. J. HARP, (12 Camp street, New Orleans.

Address all communications designed for publication to Rev. LINUS PARKER 112 Camp street New Orleans.

AGENTS—All the members of the Patronizing Conferences.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.

REV. EDWARD WADSWORTH, D. D.
REV. A. J. BRIGGS.
REV. J. W. RUSH.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

REV. W. H. WATKINS, D. D.
REV. JAMES A. GODEREY.
REV. J. G. JONES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

REV. CHRISTIAN KEENER.
REV. JOHN MATHEWS.
REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D.

CHANGE OF RATES.

The New Orleans Christian Advocate will be furnished to subscribers hereafter at the following rates, including postage:

One Year	$2 00
Six Months	1 15
Three Months	75

To all Ministers of the Gospel and widows of deceased traveling preachers, half the above rates.

FREE ONE YEAR

to any person forwarding to us four new yearly subscribers, with EIGHT DOLLARS.

Our Mexican Border Mission.

Through a recent report of Rev. A. H. Sutherland, presiding elder of the Mexican Mission district of the West Texas Conference, to Bishop Keener, we learn that our Mexican mission on the border is doing well. Six Mexican preachers were received on trial at the Conference in Seguin, October 21, to wit: Jesus Acosta, Antonio Molina, Gumercindo Paz, Luciano Garcia, Trinidad Armendares, Santiago Tefollo. Referring to them, Bro. Sutherland says: "These all appear divinely called and providentially sent. I urged none of them forward. Two, Gumercindo Paz and Antonio Molina, I encouraged, but only from such convictions and circumstances as required it. Instead of being untimely fruit, I am convinced that they are all legitimate evidences of the genuineness of the work of God among the Mexicans on this border. They are all very anxious and zealous to go immediately to their respective appointments." For lack of funds to support them, only one has as yet been sent to his appointment. This one, Gumercindo Paz, has entered upon his work—Lodi and Graytown. Bro. Sutherland says: "Lodi and Graytown are places on the San Antonio river, embracing a population of twelve or fifteen hundred Mexicans. At Lodi, on the fifteenth of October, I baptized and took into the church six Mexicans and one American, and organized a church, with all its institutions. A fine opening is there, and much promise. All the appointments are very important—centers from which thousands are accessible, and I hope it will be possible to send the preachers to them soon. You may be sure that I will do my best to fill them with the regular appointees. From Conference I told the preachers to go to their homes until I could hear from you; and I hope you will be able to help us soon."

God has called six men, given them to the church, the field for them "is white to harvest," but the church holds back the needed means. The missionary board appropriated to this border mission $6,060. This is exhausted in affording a very meager support to the men already in the work, leaving nothing for these new recruits, and for extending the operations of the mission. The presiding elder appeals to Bishop Keener for help, but what can he do? The board has appropriated what it can. The friends of Christ and of missions must come to the rescue. It is God's way of calling for money—the voice of his providence, and of his grace to awaken the church. Bro. Sutherland says he has found a fit man for Brownsville circuit—a man found in answer to prayer—but he needs means to enable him to enter on the work.

He concludes his communication to the Bishop: "Dorateo Garcia was admitted into full connection in the Conference, and Casanova, of San Antonio, ordained deacon. My heart rejoices in this work, and I feel called to it. I expect to see planted in every Spanish-speaking nation the doctrines and discipline of our church. I have appealed to the five Texas Conferences to each to send out and support in as many large Mexican towns on the Rio Grande one of its younger and more efficient members. Could this be done, we will in two years and a half, I think, have fifty preachers in these Texas and Mexican borders, regular and local, proclaiming the wonderful works of God."

From the statistical report of this mission district we gather the following leading items: Members, 256; baptisms—adults, 109. Infants, 34; Sunday schools, 8; pupils, 185. The appointments for this year are: A. H. Sutherland, P. E. Corpus Christi, Encarnacion, Rodriguez; San Diego, and Presenas, Doroteo Garcia; Rio Grande City and Roma, Clemente A. Vivero; Hidalgo, Trinidad Armendarez; Laredo, Santiago Tafolla; Eagle Pass, Antonio Molina; San Antonio, Jose Maria Casanova; San Antonio River, Jesus Acosta; Lodi and Graytown, Gumercindo Paz; Concepcion, Luciano Garcia; Brownsville circuit, to be supplied.

It will be seen that we have in the Mexican border the beginning of a prosperous work. It is organized and operating after the Methodist way, and for the time of its existence the progress has been most gratifying and encouraging. With our church planted at the center in the city of Mexico, and with this well-organized advance from the border, we may soon spread our banners over the whole land. The forces working from the center and from the circumference will soon meet, and Southern Methodism will ere long embrace the entire Mexican republic. God is converting the people, and calling native preachers to his ministry. Will the church now do her part in furnishing the means to evangelize Mexico?

We notice that Dr. Wright, who had been selected as superintendent of our mission in the city of Mexico, has received an appointment in the Tennessee Conference. We suppose, therefore, that he declines going to the mission, and that another man must be obtained. In a recent interview with Dr. Butler, superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal Church missions in Mexico, he spoke highly of our church and work in the city of Mexico, and regarded it as of great and immediate importance that our operations there and on the border should be pushed with vigor, as the prospects for evangelizing the whole country are brightening every day. We confess that our attention and interest have of late been unusually drawn toward our mission in Mexico. Money, men, prayer, expended in this direction, will pay well. Three times the amounts which the missionary board can afford to appropriate is needed for the most effective and successful prosecution of our work in that country. We cannot but hope that with the subject pressed upon their attention our people will respond to this call of providence upon their love for Christ and his cause.

A Brief History of the New Orleans Christian Advocate.

NO. II.

Committees of publication were appointed by each of the patronizing Conferences, who were required to meet in New Orleans, February 5, 1851, for the purpose of carrying into effect the object of their appointment. The joint committee met and elected Rev. H. N. McTyeire editor and business manager, and the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE soon started on its career of usefulness and consequent popularity. Like all other church enterprises, with no endowment but the voluntary patronage of the members and adherents of our denomination, it had to struggle with a limited support for several years; but under the judicious and popular editorship of Mr. McTyeire, supported by the activity of the preachers, as agents, in the patronizing Conferences, its circulation gradually increased until it was very generally taken by the reading portion of our church in the bounds of the three Conferences.

While the paper had become a general favorite among our people, but few thought of the importance of extending its circulation and consequent usefulness by special donations to the publishing fund. Our editor and business manager had to work hard, use rigid economy and live cheap to keep the ADVOCATE on elevated ground. But in the midst of our limited means God raised up one dear friend who gave us a high lift in our time of need. I refer to our dear sainted brother, William C. Currie, late of Carroll parish, La. I think it was about twenty years ago that he presented the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE with a new engine, which has run the press from that time until the present day. A few more gifts of the same value ($500,) either in money or needed material, would greatly extend the usefulness of our paper. We endow our colleges and universities for the purpose of enhancing their usefulness to the present and future generations; why not endow our religious press, so as greatly to extend its power of diffusing light and a knowledge of salvation everywhere? If we had the means of sending it gratis awhile to thousands who now have no knowledge of it, or who do not feel at present able to pay for it, multitudes of them would learn to appreciate its value, and become life-long, paying subscribers.

In 1858 H. N. McTyeire was elected to the editorial management of the Nashville Christian Advocate, and was succeeded at New Orleans by Rev. Clayton C. Gillespie, under whose editorial control the paper continued to live and prosper until the city fell into the hands of the Federal army in the spring of 1862. The paper was promptly suspended by the Federal occupation of the city, and remained suspended over three years. Our other church papers sooner or later shared the same fate, so that we were left literally without church intercommunication for many long, weary months, and even years, together. The privation was inexplicably great to ourselves and families. We looked on it as a dire calamity, only to be endured because we could not help it. Our brethren in New Orleans saved the books, and, I think, most of the material of the office.

The Mississippi Conference which met in Lexington, Miss., November 1, 1865, rejoiced to receive a circular from Revs. J. C. Keener, J. B. Walker and Linus Parker, of the Louisiana Conference, proposing to resume the publication of the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, at $5 per annum in advance, as soon as the patronizing Conferences could secure one thousand subscribers. The circular was also laid before the Louisiana and Alabama Conferences. Rev. R. J. Harp visited our Conference in the interest of the paper, and, after setting forth the great importance of its early republication—what it would cost on the lowest terms, and informing us that the books showed an outstanding debt due the office from ante-bellum subscribers of about $12,000, a portion of which, at least, could be collected if the preachers would receive the accounts and collect them as far as they could—proposed to act as agent for it in the way of receiving funds and subscribers. The Conference cordially approved the circular from our brethren in New Orleans, and at once agreed to co-operate with them and Mr. Harp in the resuscitation of our much-needed and much-loved ADVOCATE. The other patronizing Conferences did the same. It is true the sum of $5 per annum looked like a high price for the paper, but we could no longer live satisfied without its weekly visits to edify, comfort and cheer our hearts, and we resolved to have it. Our former editor was gone, and by common consent Rev. J. C. Keener was invited to ascend the tripod and conduct the editorial department.

With only about $250 in hand to begin with, the paper was soon issued. Its reappearance occasioned general joy. It was like the visit of a long-absent friend. Its weekly visits have been unbroken from its reappearance until now. In any other hands, or in any other place than New Orleans, I cannot see how the paper could have lived through the first five years after its publication was resumed. It had no cash capital as an endowment to resort to in time of need. All its current expenses must be promptly met or its issues must cease. How was it done? I will tell the reader. Our ministers in New Orleans, who edited and published the paper, all had pastoral charges in and near the city, and their generous membership paid them such salaries as pastors as would enable them to support their families, while they gave what time they could spare to the editorial and business management of our indispensable official organ. Fifty years ago our church was very small and feeble in New Orleans, and the old Mississippi Conference, as it then was, had frequent calls to help the little struggling band to build their first churches. But God has prospered and multiplied them, and they have more than refunded us the principal, with compound interest, in furnishing us with one of the very best church papers in the whole connection; until we could get our shoulders fairly under it again. I could write much more in connection with the history of our paper, but it is not necessary. I will come to the main object I have in view in my next article, which I intend shall be the last of the series.

J. G. JONES,

PORT GIBSON, November, 1876.

Among the Indians.

Bishop McTyeire had the holding of the Indian Mission Conference this year. From his very entertaining account in the Nashville Christian Advocate we quote:

Our late Conference at Vinita, in the Indian Territory, was well attended by the preachers; but I missed the large attendance of Indian men and women and children that was a feature of interest at the Conference five years ago, held at Boggy Depot. The latter place is in the interior; they camped near the church, and the picturesque groups around evening fires, and their songs, I cannot forget. The flaming red of blankets and dresses was in keeping with the ripe sumac berries and frosted leaves. Vinita is a new town, newly come up, on the upper edge of the Cherokee nation, at the junction of the A. and P. railroad with the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad, which passes down through the Territory.

Next year the Conference will meet at Stringtown, in the Choctaw nation. Then and there the peoples will turn out. The peoples—for within a Territory of the size of Tennessee more than a dozen tribes are dwelling on their reservations.

Our missions are mostly confined to the Cherokees, Creek or Muskogees, Choctaws and Chickasaws. The Baptist Church divides these with us. The Presbyterians also have missions. Other churches are doing a little with the Shawnees, Kickapoos, Senecas and Quapaws. The great Seneca tribe, so famous in history, is reduced to about nineteen men, with their families. The remnant of the Modocs dwell quietly on a reservation—small, but sufficient for them. One can hardly realize that this handful of Indians lately gave such trouble to the United States army on the Pacific coast; but there they had the brave Capt. Jack to lead them, and the lava beds to hide in. A Missourian, on their border, said to me: "Afraid of them? No. Why, Newton county could clean out the whole race in thirty-five minutes."

No hiding-places in these prairies. They manifest more industry and disposition to be civilized than any other tribe that has lately been gathered here, having already two hundred acres of land plowed, and pretty comfortable cabins. Capt. Jack's widow is here, and "Scar-faced Charlie" and others, about whom the telegrams were once so abundant.

The white preachers, who in the true spirit of missionaries, without the eclat, devote themselves to this work, were all on hand—Bros. Harrell, Ewing, Walker, Shapard, McSparrar and Bryce. Lately Bro. Coward, of South Carolina, has been added to them; two young men, Bros. Derrick and Parsons, also. The rest of the work is done by Indians, full-bloods or less, assisted by a few local (white) preachers.

On Sunday I had the pleasure of dedicating the new church—frame. Dr. McFerrin took up a collection for finishing it, and then presented it. The Missionary Society has stock in that house, and the secretary's collection added more. The Indian is by nature a nil admirari; but the secretary's manner of "lifting a collection" excited even his wonder. We named it "McFerrin chapel."

The Rev. Mr. Wright, agent of the American Bible Society, made us an opportune visit. He held up the little tract in which the society gives a specimen of the languages wherein it has printed God's holy word; that one verse, John iii, 16, being translated into one hundred and sixty-four languages. In our small Conference, at the agent's call, one member stepped up and read the verse first in English, then in Chickasaw; another read it in Cherokee, another in Creek, another in Delaware.

On Sunday, October 29, after sermon, we ordained deacons—one full-blood Chickasaw and three full-blood Creeks. In the afternoon three elders were ordained—one only having Indian blood—Cherokee. He was a lay delegate to the General Conference at Louisville, and is one of the rising men of his church and nation.

About Indian names the Bishop says:

The habit of naming persons after some fancied resemblance or accidental event seems to prevail among all Indians. One of the white brethren gave account of a good meeting in a certain place, and, to show how faithful our missionaries in the past had been, he instanced that seven heads of families were converted and joined the church—men of influence in their tribe—and six of them had been baptized in infancy. (By the way, does not that beat some of our white settlements?) The preacher added that he was greatly assisted at the meeting by a godly interpreter, Bro. Horse-fly, and by an excellent local preacher, Bro. Tick-eater. I scanned the faces of the audience in vain for a smile at the mention of those names. There was no more expression than if Bro. Smith or Bro. Jones had been spoken of. Next day James Horse-fly arrived. After introduction we had an easy chat, and, handing him a pencil and piece of paper, I asked him to write his untranslated, original name. With a delicate hand and neatly he wrote: "Il-lul-Dahmmggee." But Tick-eater—I was curious for his arrival, as he was expected. At an afternoon meeting one of the old missionaries introduced him—a portly, fine-looking man about forty, substantial farmer and stock-raiser, and supposes, once a year, a whole Quarterly Conference. "When did you get here?" He pointed his finger up to meridian. "And what is your Indian name?" He spelled it out—t'o-cu-dages-Keh. The same word means tick and gourd; so he is sometimes called Gourd-eater. Verily, he looks as little like he was brought up on that diet as one will find in a day's journey.

The following will be interesting to other than east Alabama people:

I put in a paragraph or two here for readers of the Advocate who have lived in east Alabama. When, in 1837, my father moved into that newly-opened region of country between Montgomery and Columbus, known as the Creek nation, the tribe had just been removed to their Western home. Their deserted houses and villages were standing, and I often visited them and longed for the gift of poetry. From their peach trees we gathered fruit, and melons from the volunteer vines. An influential and wealthy family remained a few years after the body of Creeks emigrated—Paddy Carr and his people. His picture may be seen in the gallery of famous Indians at Washington city. In 1838 and 1839 Paddy Carr and his young men came out hunting near our settlement, at the head of Hatchechubbee and Cowikee creeks. Those were notable occasions for a boy of fourteen. I saw Indians and ponies and great deer-slaying, and on one occasion a bear was killed and her cubs captured. From a young fellow—Sixty—nephew of Paddy, I got my first pony. His companion—Tallapoosa—had skill and reputation in those hunting excursions. Paddy Carr has left one grandchild in the nation. His brother Tom and Sixty also are dead, but Tallapoosa has long been a local preacher, and, under the name of William Burgess, was ordained deacon on Sunday. He was a convert under the first missionaries sent to his tribe. He identified himself to me by descriptions of various persons and places, and not least, by the flesh marks of aforesaid pony, and by incidents in the capture of the cubs. How changed! Meek in manner, with an expression of benevolence on his countenance, agreeable to habitual inward piety, he bowed a head well silvered with age. But a greater change appeared in another venerable man who joined us in the afternoon in the laying on of the hands of the presbytery. Him I had never seen before; but in the Creek war of 1836, and for following years, his name was as familiar to the inhabitants of east Alabama as Sitting Bull's now is—Jim McHenry. He is the only Indian I saw with long, flowing white beard—a dignified and striking figure in any assembly. Though president of one of the two councils of his nations, he does good work as a circuit preacher. The name of his circuit, Broken Arrow, will be familiar to the dwellers on Chattahoochee river about Fort Mitchell, and shows how they have imported names from the old nation to the new. These two had pleasant talk with me, inquiring about original settlers—the Crowells, Aberombies, Howards. It was a joyful fact to McHenry that John Crowell and George Stewart, son of the old Columbus merchant, were local preachers. "Where is his postoffice?" I gave Chunnenuggee. "Will write him a letter," was the reply.

Our missionary work among the Indians has produced abundant results, and there is good prospect of a large and gratifying harvest. The Bishop gives us facts and figures:

The gospel has done great things for the tribes of this Territory. No part of our missionary work gives me more satisfaction in the contemplation. They have numerous day schools. Our manual labor school—Asbury—under Bro. Harrell, is turning out teachers for them; and so our female school—New Hope—under Bro. Shapard. These are boarding schools, largely sustained by the church. Walter Dungan, a Cherokee member of the Conference, is superintendent of the National Orphan Asylum. A good type of Christianity has been promulgated. We have been fortunate in missionaries. It was noticeable in their reports that in nearly every circuit more infants were baptized than adults—an example some of their neighbors, who fight great, learned, pitched battles for the Abrahamic covenant, would do well to imitate.

Last year the members (Indian) were 4,159; this year, 4,142—a decrease of 17. Yet there has been faithful labor. Deaths are many. Bro. Jesse Walker, presiding elder, reported 73 in the Chickasaw district alone. We endeavored to enforce on the Conference the general policy of calling out their own young men into the itinerant ranks; also to impress them with the fact that the gospel among them, as among other peoples, depends, instrumentally, upon native preachers. The four ordained deacons came up as local preachers. They ought to have been, in the regular work long ago. Coldins (the Chickasaw) is a man of exceptional intelligence—fourteen years a preacher. He is an excellent interpreter; preferring to interpret not sentence by sentence, but to hear the sermon through, and then render it in its entirety, from text-taking to peroration. Willis Folsom, the Choctaw interpreter, has remained local, though more than average man. So Horse-fly and Tick-eater, Ballinch and others.

Concerning the other Conferences west of the Mississippi which I have attended this fall, I did not write. They are strong, and other chroniclers tell of them. But of this last I feel it a duty and a pleasure to say something, if by any means I might interest the church elsewhere in its behalf, and endear it to those who conscientiously contribute to missions. This is missionary ground, and well repays the outlay. On small stipends laborers toil cheerfully. Whatever history may record hereafter, heaven is gathering fruit every year, and the transforming power of the gospel has many living witnesses among these Indian tribes.

I must not omit to mention the benefit and happiness bestowed on the Conference session by the presence of the first missionary, who came out from East Tennessee in 1838—Father Cummings. He wept for the consolation, and his prayers and benedictions were as incense. He is the only one superannuated—two others having died the past year. They, too, were veterans: Thomas Ruble had labored in the nation since 1841, and died, aged sixty-five; John T. Robinson, aged seventy-six, had been in this field since 1850. Let this short roll of the dead be enriched by another name of which, though humble, affectionate mention was made on the Conference floor. Nellie, the widow of the most eloquent of the native preachers, John F. Boot, had died during the year; a widow, indeed, for twenty-seven years. Her life and death were fit fruit of Christian missions. God bless our Indian preachers and people!

A heart may be felt through kid gloves—if it is there.

Continued Suspense.

The Presidential election is still at this writing (Tuesday, November 21,) undecided. We believe State canvassers of South Carolina have declared a small majority for Hayes, but the case has been taken to the Supreme Court, and waits its action. It would appear that the official count in Florida has not yet been declared. The Louisiana Returning Board is at work, and will not complete its labors and announce the result before about the sixth of December. This board is composed of Republican partisans, who have twice already defranded the people of their expressed will, and we have no reason to suppose that they will now be governed by principles of equity and justice. It is the evident purpose of the President of the United States to force the count in this State in favor of the Republicans. Practically we have a military dictatorship. It is reported that army and navy forces are being concentrated at Washington, indicating that after the doubtful States have been secured by the strong arm, the same power will be marshaled at Washington to overawe Congress, and to carry out the purposes of a despotism which have been so alarmingly developed in our State for the last four years. We cannot disguise the fact that much anxiety is felt throughout the nation, and there are forebodings of trouble if a President shall be foisted upon the country by political fraud and military force. At present business is generally paralyzed, and from Maine to Texas people wait with bated breath to hear the result. We hope that the suspense will soon be ended, and that this supreme crisis in our nation's history will be passed in safety.

At the Conferences.

The Mississippi Conference meets at Natchez, November 29. The Alabama at Greensboro, December 6, and the Louisiana at Trenton, December 13. The editor of this paper will be able probably to spend three or four days at each, and hopes to see the brethren face to face. We shall come with the usual capacious but empty wallet, pencils sharpened, and an abundance of double-ruled account paper, ready to settle accounts, receive subscriptions, and hear and redress all errors and grievances. Please to have your memoranda all ready; be sure of names, postoffices and dates, and bring along a host of new subscribers. It is a good way to close up the year's work by insuring the ADVOCATE to the people you leave behind. Whoever is returned to a work well stocked with our church papers will find it in good liking, and it will be "as the smell of a field which the Lord hath blessed." The Bishops will take due notice that all the preachers in our patronizing Conferences must have good appointments. Those who have been most diligent in circulating our religious periodicals are specially deserving of commendation. We would put in a good word for them, but it is not necessary. Our Bishops and presiding elders are too sagacious and wise to overlook this mark of faithfulness and efficiency.

The Rev. R. H. Porter, presiding elder of the Macon district, North Mississippi Conference, says the Western Methodist, writes us that in certain portions of the Macon and Winona districts of the North Mississippi Conference, Southern Methodism has suffered somewhat as a result of demonstrations in favor of the action of the Joint Commission on Fraternity. Two, if not more, of our preachers attended a Northern Methodist camp meeting, and assisted in a "glorification time" over the basis of fraternity agreed upon at Cape May. Previously the Northern Methodist churches thereabouts were all dwelling in numbers and influence; but since their recognition by our preachers they have been at work with renewed vigor, and have broken up one of our churches by "taking in," at one time, thirty-eight members from it. The Northern Methodist presiding elder is going about trying to induce our members to go over in advance of the whole Southern Methodist Church! He uses freely the names of our preachers who attended his camp meeting, and represents them as panting after the warm bosom of the "mother church." These things, we are told, have taken place in a dark corner of the country, but the damage is so much the greater on account of the ignorance of the people!

Well, well, what can we say in view of abuse of fraternity so glaring and so mischievous? If the brethren would only circulate our church literature, and the people would read even the bare official documents, there would be no danger of bad men thus succeeding in their evil designs.

The thought that certain of our friends are dead never loses its strangeness. The pain may be measurably relieved by the passing years, but the unutterable strangeness of the thought that those who were once with us are hidden from earthly eyes forever will always remain.

Violent asseverations or affected blunders look not more suspicious than strained sanality or over-offended modesty.—Zimmerman.

CONFERENCE SESSIONS.

CONFERENCE.	PLACE.	BISHOP.	TIME.
Denver	Colorado Sp'gs	Marvin	Aug. 25
Western	Nebraska City	McTyeire	Aug. 30
St. Louis	Washington	McTyeire	Sept. 6
Missouri	Hannibal	McTyeire	Sept. 13
Kentucky	Nicholasville	Keener	Sept. 14
Columbia	Corvallis, Ore.	Marvin	Sept. 15
W. Virginia	Charleston	Kavanaugh	Sept. 20
Illinois	Jacksonville	Paine	Sept. 20
S. W. Missouri	Mount	McTyeire	Oct. 4
Tennessee	Columbia	Keener	Oct. 4
Louisville	Louisville	Wightman	Oct. 4
Pacific	San Francisco	Marvin	Oct. 11
Indiana Miss'n	Vincennes, Ind. T	McTyeire	Oct. 12
Holston	Bristol	Wightman	Oct. 18
Arkansas	Yellville	Keener	Oct. 18
Los Angeles	S. Bernardino	Marvin	Oct. 20
West Texas	Seguin	Doggett	Oct. 25
German Miss.	Grassy Fork	Doggett	Nov. 1
N. W. Texas	Calvert	Doggett	Nov. 8
North Texas	Longview	Doggett	Nov. 15
Memphis	Memphis	Pierce	Nov. 15
Virginia	Richmond	Kavanaugh	Nov. 17
N. Mississippi	Sardis	Pierce	Nov. 22
Texas	Huntsville	Doggett	Nov. 29
N. Carolina	Greensboro	Kavanaugh	Nov. 29
White River	Batesville	Keener	Nov. 29
Mississippi	Natchez	Wightman	Nov. 29
Alabama	Greensboro	Paine	Dec. 6
Virginia	Sparta	Pierce	Dec. 7
Georgia	Shadersville	Pierce	Dec. 13
S. Carolina	Chester	Kavanaugh	Dec. 13
N. Alabama	Decatur	McTyeire	Dec. 13
Little Rock	Arkadelphia	Keener	Dec. 13
Alabama	Trenton	Wightman	Dec. 13
East Texas	Hegelersville	Doggett	Dec. 13
Florida	Monticello	Pierce	Jan. 11
Baltimore	Alexandria	Kavanaugh	Mar. —

The Richmond Christian Advocate, on the eve of the meeting of the Virginia Conference, says of the churches in Richmond:

The churches in this city have had a year of gracious success. Bro. Cheatham's charge has revived and strengthened. Nicholson Street was blessed with a revival. Bro. Ray has done a good work, and well done. Trinity is flourishing, as will every charge of Bishop Doc. Dr. Edwards, who can count larger sheaves all along his remarkable life than any other minister in our Conference, leaves Centenary strong and advancing. As a hint in another column tells, Bro. Steel has pleased and profited Broad Street. Bro Peterson has served Clay Street to its entire satisfaction and with astonishing success.

Over in Manchester Bro. Vandervoort has pushed his work briskly. Things grow under his hand.

MARRIED.

SUTHERLAND—HAND.—At the residence of bride's mother, near Waynesborough, Miss., Nov. 2, 1876, by Rev. H. B. Singleton, Mr. W. Fitzgerald and Miss Fannie Hand.

CLARK—MAGRUDER.—At Woodville, Miss., Nov. 2, 1876, by Rev. W. L. C. Humphreys, Mr. W. W. Pearce, of British Honduras, and Miss Kate J. Magruder, daughter of Mrs. E. A. Magruder, of Madison county, Miss.

PRICE—DITTO.—At the residence of the bride's father, Evergreen, La., October 12, 1876, by Rev. Fred. White, Mr. V. T. Price and Miss S. A. Ditto.

VINCENT—TALIAFERRO.—At the residence of the bride's father, Evergreen, La., October 24, 1876, by Rev. Fred. White, Mr. B. O. Vincent and Miss Virginia Taliaferro.

LITTLE—BARTON.—At Harrington, near Memphis, residence of the bride's father, Nov. 2, 1876, by Rev. J. P. Walker, Louis H. Little, Jr., of Grant, Miss., and Emily Barton, eldest daughter of Rev. W. P. Barton, of North Mississippi Conference.

Publisher's Department.

Monthly Accounts of Letters and Funds

RECEIVED BY MAIL,

For the Week Ending Nov. 18, 1876.

A Agelrows $3.25, D Appleton & Co, Mansfield $1.25, T V Atherthy, Philip Aben $1, John W Bryant, Box P2 reeds, Boorum & Pease, C H Briggs $1.25, Julia A Butler, R Bahling, A R Burns $2, George V Byrd 4 cents, H P Binford $10, L K Barber $4.30, F E Brame $2, A S Barnes & Co, S L Brown 25 cents, M A Black, — William J Carleton, M M Clark, Miss Fairchew $2, John M Clayton, T H Cooper $2, C W Cassell, Miss M C Caldwell 25 cents, Cutter & Thomas S Campbell $2, W H Covington, A M Clotworthy.

D—Donaldson & Co, Robert A Davis $1.50, C W Charles T Dillingham, F B Dallas $2, Andrew Dickson.

E—E E Evans $3.63, Eagle Pencil Company.

F—W Fichtenberg, John H Ford, Leroy W Fell, W F Ferris, H M Friend, Fillmore Dr. Mrs L R Fellows, 3 cents.

G—A J Gaston.

H—Hitchcock & Walden, R S Hamilton $1.20, Hart & Bro, J D Hatfield, W A Harris, J S and $2.50, George M Hermon, S J Hawkins, George M Hill, Mrs M A Hawkins $2.

I—Ivison, Blakeman, Taylor & Co, Mrs E W $1.25.

J—H F Johnson, R W Jones $1, A Jones.

K—Kilgore & Billett $188.85, J L Kenner $1.

L—E A LeBlanc, Limerick & Co $1.10, J T Littlejohn, W S Lagrone $8.70, W B Lewis $5, W A Lacey, N V Lane 75 cents, Lanahan & Bates $5.50, James A Ledyard.

M—J M Mason, L P Meador $1, J E Mason $8.10, N McMillan $10.60, R P W Morris, C P Mc-Gee, W R McKowen, H D McKinnon, T Mc-Donald $9, Irvin Miller, Morgan Envelope Depot, P H Moss $25, Mrs Lucy Marsh $2.

N—H F Neil, J T Newspaper, John W Nichols, agent.

O—W P Owen, James Ormond.

P—S M Pettengill & Co, J S Peavey $1.75, John Pierce $5.50.

R—Robinson & Wilbers $1.20, T J Rogers $2, George P Rowell & Co, H W Robinson, Edward Rowe & Co $.6, G W Reames, Robert J Randle, P Lanahan, Ira H Robertson $6, J K Rumbold, A H Reid agent.

S—D Seligson & Co, H W Swalland $2.10, S H Steeber $10, George H Stinson, Green B Smith $10, Thomas M Smith $12, Jacob Schreiner $10, Belle Smith, Charles L Shirley, Henry St Smith & Son.

T—John F Tate, W C Tait agent $8.75, J E Tennyson $2.

V—R A Voorhees 2 cents, John E Vernon.

W—A R Winfield, John F Wynn $5, Simon Wise, Thomas Williams 5 cents, Wilson Winkler, Todd Williams, Wilson Sewing Machine Co, Wright, H S Weeks $1, David Wallace $5, S W Walker $5.

The Howe Sewing Machine Company's silver lecture will be seen in another column. The company claim that no machine rested at the Centennial Exposition a fortnight and that the Howe far good work and durable action. They invite those interested to call and examine the machines at the office of Mr. D. H. Perry, the agent, at 181 Canal street.

Mr. Perry has also Mme. Demorest's paper patterns for sale, which will be sent by mail on receipt of price.

Catalogues of the machines and patterns sent on application.

Capt. B. T. Walshe advertises hats and men's undergarments in our paper today. It is well known that the captain keeps an excellent assortment, and any one purchasing of him will be satisfied with the quality of the articles sold. At this store can also be obtained children's clothing of every kind. A specialty is made of this branch of business. Note the prices published, and call at the store, 110 Canal street.

None of the attractions of the upper part of Levy Bros.' dry goods establishment.

The Novelty Iron Works of William Golding are advertised to-day. This is an important industry, and one in which Mr. Golding seems to be extraordinarily successful. Work can be done here as well as in Northern cities, and under the immediate supervision of the party ordering, if desired. One of our city papers speaks as follows of these works:

"Among the iron foundries of New Orleans, the Novelty Works, at the corner of Delord and New Levee streets, stands pre-eminent for its ability in doing difficult and particular work. When there is a job that requires great skill in handling and boldness in the undertaking, it somehow finds its way to Mr. Golding's foundry, just as naturally as does water seek its level. Previous to the establishment of the Novelty Works by this able mechanic, such work always went abroad, and the money paid for it was lost to our community. Our iron-masters somehow preferred to permit this to be the case to risking the risks incidental to new departures, or perhaps did not feel that they were sufficiently supplied with necessary facilities to enable them to realize a profit on such jobs.

"But Mr. Golding was educated in a school where great undertakings were of every-day occurrence, and where nothing in reason was deemed impossible. Therefore, since the establishment of his works, the business has taken a new departure in this city, and very few heavy jobs are permitted to be carried away, no matter how great they may be."

Mr. Philip Werlein, the piano and organ dealer, Nos. 79, 81, 82 and 83 Baronne street, New Orleans, is prepared to supply all persons with pianos and organs. Mr. Werlein's reputation in the piano business extends throughout our Southern country. He solicits the Southern trade, and will assiduously endeavor to please. This house has supplied during the past thirty years an immense number of pianos with pianos, and many churches with organs. Mr. Werlein's Chickering's world renowned new scale pianos, and Hale's improved pianos, Mason & Hamlin and Estey & Co.'s organs are instruments which have a wide reputation. Mr. Werlein will give his personal attention to orders, and feels confident of his ability to give satisfaction, as will be par

Cancer.—We call attention to the advertisement of Dr. J. Mc Coskrie, at Lexington avenue, New York. Dr. Coskrie claims that he has discovered a cure for the terrible disease of cancer, and that with a little use of the knife and without pain he guarantees a cure in those cases. He has been for ten years a physician in the Medical College of New York, and is a graduate of a medical college. Any one who is afflicted with cancer would do well to address the doctor at once, and learn the mode in which he proposes to operate. No charge will be made for such advice, and all are invited to call.

The attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement of D. H. Holmes. As the public is well aware throughout the country, it will not be necessary for us to do more than remark that a complete assortment of holiday goods has just been opened for the inspection of the friends and customers of the house. Ladies can find at this establishment everything in the dry goods line, and are assured of careful and courteous attention. Its one of the best-ordered stores we know of, and we are glad to see that its business is continued to increase.

Commission Merchants.—The card of Messrs. Aiken & Watt will be found on this page. These gentlemen have been engaged in the commission business for a number of years, and are well known as worthy citizens of the community. They possess ample facilities for carrying on a large business, and will give careful attention to the orders of their friends. They purchase cotton, sugar, etc., on commission, and receive consignments of the same. Those wishing to sell cotton will find it to their interest to call on this firm.

Dry Goods.—P. W. Mohr, 619 Magazine street, has for some time called attention to his stock of dry goods, which he is offering at low prices for cash. His stock is very carefully selected in the Garden District, and we speak for him a liberal share of the patronage of our friends in that section. See advertisement on the page.

Job Printing.—For cheap and satisfactory job work, current and the Pelican Book and Job Office, advertised in another column. They solicit country orders, which will be promptly attended to. We have had much work done at this place and always satisfactory both in quality of workmanship.

We again call attention to the advertisement of Snyder's Curative Pads. These pads are for sale at from $2 to $5, and will be sent on application to E. E. Snyder & Co., Indianapolis, Ind., if they cannot be procured from the local druggist. For particulars we refer our readers to the advertisement.

Boots and Shoes.—In the Third District Mr. J. D. Crassons has a full assortment of boots and shoes. He will manufacture to order shoes of any description, and solicits a share of the public patronage. His store is at 26 Frenchmen street. Our readers will note it, and go.

Coal.—Our readers in need of coal are referred to the advertisement of L. C. Macin. We have frequently bought coal from this firm and always got satisfaction. They will sell at reasonable rates to all customers, and at the lowest market prices.

E. Offner's China, glass and crockery establishment, 171 Canal street, is a place to purchase from.

Churches in need of an organ would do well to communicate [illegible] ladies.

For China or glassware go to Navra's China Palace on Canal street.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

LADIES! A safe and beautiful skin is the desire of every lady. Pozzoni's Medicated Complexion Powder has been tried, tested and found to perform all that is claimed for it. If you desire a rich delicate skin, remove all discolorations, eruptions, etc., and give your face a healthy tint which becomes elevated by its purity of ingredients, try this. It has been for years a favorite with the ladies of the South and West, and is now rapidly growing in favor in the East. Sold by all first class druggists and fancy goods dealers. Depot 107 North Sixth street, St. Louis. (Limited Time.)

What Next! Consumption Cured. When death was hourly expected, Dr. Hagan's Magnolia Balm was experimented with, and the wonderful curative properties of the Indian plant, which cured his family of consumption. He now gives this recipe free of charge to relieve sufferers. Hemp also cures night sweats, nausea at the stomach, and will break a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address Chas. Duce & Co., 1032 Race street, Philadelphia, naming this paper.

The Youth's Companion, of Boston, is a thoroughly wide-awake paper, having among its contributors such writers as T. B. Aldrich, Edward Eggleston, Edward Everett Hale, James T. Fields, J. G. Whittier, H. A. Stephens, Louisa M. Alcott, Rebecca Harding Davis, Julia Ward Howe, Mrs. A. D. T. Lemonwen, Louise Chandler Moulton. No writers more attractive in the country, and no publication for young people more enterprising and useful.

The Liver is more frequently the seat of disease than is generally supposed, for upon its regular action depends, in a great measure, the powers of the stomach, bowels, brain, and the whole nervous system. Regulate that important organ by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator, and you prevent most of the diseases that flesh is heir to.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

R. F. W. BACHMAN

Invites the attention of purchasers to the largest, cheapest and most attractive stock of

BOOTS AND SHOES,

of all the leading styles, ever displayed in this city, consisting of LADIES', GENT'S AND CHILDREN'S FINE SHOES, in every variety and style with a large assortment of BOOTS AND SHOES adapted to Family and Plantation Wear.

R. F. W. BACHMAN,
Dealer in Fine Shoes, 18 Camp street,
Under City Hotel, New Orleans, La.

WHEELER & PIERSON,

NOS. 13 AND 15 CAMP STREET

Opposite the City Hotel,

CLOTHING & FURNISHING GOODS

FOR MEN AND BOYS.

We invite visitors from the country to look at our stock. We keep good Goods, sell at one price, and mark it in plain figures. Clergymen's trade solicited, and a liberal deduction made to them.

Ragged Stockings and patched-leg boys are not seen on Bet where SILVER TIPS are worn. Parents, remember this—they last twice as long. A saving-Wire-Quilted Soles.

Asthma and Catarrh.—See Dr. Langell's advertisement. sauv

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE TRUTH AT LAST

IN REGARD TO

Sewing Machine Awards by the Centennial Commission.

THE Commission Grant's award of equal merit to all of the leading Sewing Machine Companies.

No one received higher awards than the HOWE. As it was unanimously decided that the Centennial display of work by this Company has never been equaled.

The Howe was the first, and is consequently the oldest Machine in the market.

To-day we can conscientiously claim the most durable Machine of any the most perfect Stitching and the greatest range in work, and further can prove our claim by a practical demonstration.

Late improvements make it one of the lightest running of all Machines to use in use.

For the sake of cheap, catch-penny advertisements, we will stoop to no false representations.

With the conflicting and bewildering claims of the different Companies before the public we only invite an examination of the Howe in our salesrooms.

THE HOWE MACHINE COMPANY,
183 CANAL ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Send for price list.

ATTENTION, LADIES!

Mme. Demorest's CUT PAPER PATTERNS of the latest fashion, put up in illustrated envelopes, with full directions for use. Sent by mail to any address on receipt of price. Catalogue free. Address D. P. PERRY, 181 and 183 Canal Sts., New Orleans.

FOR CHEAP

PRINTING

SEND TO THE

Pelican Book and Job Office,

112 & 114 POYDRAS ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Country orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

Dry Goods Cheap for Cash.

THE ATTENTION of Housekeepers and Tailoresses to Wool at Fancy and Staple DRY GOODS is called to the fact that

P. W. MOHR,

619 MAGAZINE ST., NEW ORLEANS,

is selling his entire stock at unprecedented low prices. Call and judge for yourself.

ANDREW J. AIKEN. JOHN W. WATT.

AIKEN & WATT,

COTTON FACTORS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

No. 24 Union Street, New Orleans, La.

Special attention given to orders for the purchase or shipment of Cotton, Grain, Agricultural Implements and Plantation Supplies.

COAL. COAL.

H. & C. TYLER,

CARONDELET ST.

will sell Pittsburg, Anthracite and Cannel COAL, bright grades to suit customers, at the lowest market rates. H. & C. TYLER.

J. D. CRASSONS,

BOOT AND SHOE STORE,

No. 26 FRENCHMEN STREET,

Between Victory and Marengo, Third District, New Orleans.

A large assortment of Boots and Shoes always on hand, and made to order. Ladies', Children's and Gentlemen's shoes manufactured to order.

L. C. MACIN,

Office, 31 Carondelet street, Wholesale and retail dealer in Pittsburg, Virginia Cannel and Anthracite

COAL.

Full weight guaranteed. Yard, corner Second and Tchoupitoulas streets.

OPIUM AND MORPHINE HABIT ABSOLUTELY and SPEEDILY CURED. Painless. No publicity. Send stamp for particulars. DR. CARLTON, 157 Washington street, Chicago, Ill.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

SHIRTS! SHIRTS!

AND

WARM UNDERGARMENTS!

AT

UNUSUALLY LOW PRICES!

NO COMMON GOODS.

Notice Prices of Undershirts:

Good warm Merino ..... 50c and upward
Good English Merino ..... $1.50 and upward
Best all wool ..... $2 all sizes
Best Shaker, red or white ..... $2 all sizes
Good Twilled Red Flannel ..... $1.50 all sizes
Best, Cotton Flannel, all Sizes ..... $1.25 and $1.50

Prices of Drawers equally low, except in Linen, those of very best quality are only 75 cents per pair, all sizes. In knit goods, of Cartwright & Warner and other celebrated makes, a full line of sizes on hand, and at popular prices.

New Styles of Scarfs. All our Shirts are dressed in price, but not in quality. A good White Shirt, any style, $2.25 and upward. A stylish Colored Shirt, any style, from $1 to $1.50. Besides a full assortment of the finer grades, kind not to be found below.

A very large stock of HALF HOSE. British Half Hose, cashmere seams $3 and $4 per dozen. A full line of Fancy Half Hose, $4 to $5, and only at Walshe's can "Lord Balbriggan" Half Hose, from Smyth & Co.'s, be found.

See the new stock of DRESSING ROBES, from $11 to $40.

A new assortment of UMBRELLAS, made with elegant selected sticks.

New Pocket-Books, Pocket Wallets, Staple Scarf Pins, Sleeve Buttons, Watch Chains and Charms; also all grades of FASHIONABLE NECK-WEAR, embracing all that is new in silk and wool. White and Fancy POCKET HANDKERCHIEFS, and French Hemstitched Linen.

New styles of COLLARS AND CUFFS are worth a visit to see.

Kid, Castor, Cloth, and other styles of GLOVES, in all sizes and color.

Remember, NO COMMON STOCK, but good goods at low prices.

B. T. WALSHE,

NO. 110 CANAL ST., NEAR ST. CHARLES,

NEW ORLEANS.

N.B. Special attention called to a small and choice stock of Boys' and Children's clothing, suggested for the Holidays, now opening and offered at New York immediate cost prices.

NEW MUSIC BOOKS.

A BRILLIANT LIST.

The Encore. 75 cts. By L. O. Emerson. For Singing Schools, Conventions, etc.

The Whippoorwill. 50 cts. By W. O. Perkins. Popular collection of songs for Common Schools.

The Shining River. 35 cts. By E. S. Kelly. A gem for the Sabbath School Song Book.

The Salutation. $1.38. By L. O. Emerson. 208 pages. First-class collection of Sacred Songs, Quartets, Choruses, etc., for Conventions, Singing Classes, etc.

Biographical Sketches of 100 Eminent Musical Composers. 182 pages. By L. H. Crandall. Very interesting.

Dictionary of Musical Terms. 35 cts. Useful & Practical. A magnificent book for the Piano. Finely bound.

THE WORLD OF SONG.

The Very Best of the Season.

Bound volume of popular songs. In Boards, $1; Cloth, $1.50; Gilt, $2.

Either book mailed, post free, for retail price.

OLIVER DITSON & CO.,
BOSTON.
C. H. Ditson & Co., J. E. Ditson & Co.,
711 Broadway, New York. 1228 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.

LOOK!

BOOK AGENTS, We have the best and fastest selling books, and the finest and most complete prospectuses ever published. Over 10 new books with ILLUSTRATIONS, and we give extra terms, with large premiums to good agents. For circulars, terms, etc., address ANCHOR PUBLISHING CO., E. A. Hutchinson, Pres't, 520 Pine St., St. Louis, Mo.

E. OFFNER,

"THE OLD RELIABLE."

CROCKERY, CHINA, GLASSWARE, SILVER PLATED WARE, CUTLERY, AND

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS

Sold Cheaper than ever before at the Old Stand,

171 Canal Street 171

Opposite the Varieties Theatre.

I SELL THE REAL FRENCH CHINA DINNER SETS 112 pieces for $15
TEA SETS of the same quality 44 pieces, decorated in six colors, something entirely new, for $7.50
Silver Plated CHAMBER SETS, only $18
Stone China DINNER SETS 121 pieces, for $12
All other goods sold equally as cheap, and all goods are guaranteed.

☞ No charge for packing.

The Celebrated Butter Churn,

Making Butter in from three to five minutes, sold very cheap.

All orders will have prompt and careful attention.

E. OFFNER,
171 Canal Street,
opposite Varieties Theatre.

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.

WE HAVE JUST OPENED FROM INVOICE

AN ELEGANT assortment of

FRENCH LACE CURTAINS,
White and Ecru,
EMBROIDERED LACE BARS,
NOTTINGHAM CURTAINS,
In White and Fancy Colors,

the last being entirely new and very handsome.

COUNTERPANES,
FRENCH CRETONNES,
From the lowest to the highest price,

ALSO

COMFORTS, BLANKETS,

And Everything pertaining to Housekeeping,

D. H. HOLMES,

133 CANAL AND 15 BOURBON ST.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Miss Louise Schmitt,

First Premium Patent Corset Maker.

Corsets for Ladies and Children with detective figures are made to order, and guaranteed a perfect fit. No. 254 Camp street, between Delord and Calliope. The Magazine and Prytania street cars both convenient.

Chromos—We have over 3,000,000 of the best selling American and Foreign Chromos ready for delivery. Rare opportunity for experienced solicitors. Send for catalogue. J. LATHAM & CO., Art Publishers, Boston, Mass.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE TRUTH AT LAST.

OFFICIAL REPORT

OF THE

Centennial Awarding Committee

ON THE

SINGER SEWING MACHINE.

THE United States Centennial Commission announce the following report as the basis of an award to the SINGER MANUFACTURING COMPANY, Elizabeth, N. J., their FAMILY SEWING MACHINE.

REPORT.

A shuttle Sewing Machine, embodying the following points of construction, viz: A needle bar operated from the end of a rotating shaft in the overhanging arm, a shuttle supported in a shuttle carrier, moved across and back in the line of its movement, and a rotating shuttle, a four-motioned positive feed and a straight needle, as seen from above, combined with the adjustment of the

SINGER

FAMILY MACHINE

for the following reasons:

A SUPERIOR

Family Machine, embodying the greatest number of most approved mechanical devices for rapid, positive motion; the various parts, simplicity of construction, good workmanship, excellent quantity and quality of work done, artistic finish, and for completeness of display.

A. T. GOSHORN, Director-General.
J. R. DAWLEY, President.
ATTEST—MYER ASCHE, Assistant Secretary.

WEED SEWING MACHINE.

OFFICIAL COPY.

Centennial Exhibition,

1876,

PHILADELPHIA.

The United States Centennial Commission announce the following as the basis of an award to the

Weed Sewing Machine Company,

OF HARTFORD, CONN.

[illegible] Sewing Machine.

A very elegant Shuttle Machine, possessing originality and simplicity of construction, the best finish of workmanship and materials, and for ease of management and durability in both cloth and leather stitching.

Signed J. R. DAWLEY, President.
A. T. GOSHORN, Director-General.
J. CAMPBELL, Secretary.

The Centennial Bracket Saw

AS A CHRISTMAS GIFT.

EVERYBODY WANTS IT.

ALL DELIGHTED WITH IT.

Simplicity Saw.

Both Wheels Visible.

Will cut your Saw two inches Thick or the finest fancy work. Will make a stroke per minute. No 2 Foot Power Machine complete, 1 saw Blades and 2 Drills for all for $4.50.

Boys, address in full plain with Postage Stamp for 32 page Illustrated Catalogue, and Price List, and learn how you can make money in the country. Will send C.O.D. if desired.

RICE, BORN, & CO.,

89 AND 91 CAMP STREET,

Branch Store, 505 Magazine street. Warehouse, 76, 78 and 80 Magazine st.

DEALERS IN

Foreign and Domestic Hardware,

Builders' Hardware, Grates, Cutlery, Stoves and Ranges, House Furnishing Goods, Sole Agents for the CHARTER OAK STOVE.

IMMENSE REDUCTION

M. L. NAVRA'S

CHINA PALACE.

129 Canal Street, Touro Building,

HAVING IMPORTED AN ENTIRE PURCHASED at auction a very large stock of

Crockery, China, Glassware

AND OTHER

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS,

I propose to give my customers the benefit of my late purchase, and will sell at less prices than ever before.

☞ Look at Show Window for prices and judge for yourselves.

A real French China DINNER SET, 93 pieces, for $20
A real French China TEA SET, 44 pieces, for $7.50
A Stone China DINNER SET, 121 pieces, for $12
A Stone China TEA SET, 44 pieces, for $4.50
A Stone China CHAMBER SET, 11 pieces, for $4.50
The largest CHAMBER SET, 11 pieces, for $6.50

Also the celebrated BETTER TEA PLATE. Warranted to stand hotter or cold drinks without cracking. Orders from the country will receive the best attention.

M. L. NAVRA,
CHINA PALACE,
129 Canal street, Touro Building,
New Orleans.

J. FOERSTER'S

RICE AND CORN MILLS,

509 & 511 DELAUNE AND 114, 116 AND 118 VALVERDE STREET,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

MILLING EXACT.

No. 1 Rice, 1 cent per lb. less than the highest.
No. 2 Rice, one half cent per lb. less.
Eight sacks of Bran returned for every 100 lbs. of Rice received. Empty sacks 10 cents.

KEEP'S CUSTOM SHIRTS,

Made to Measure, The very best 6 for $9.

KEEP'S PATENT PARTLY MADE LINEN SHIRTS, the very best 6 for $7.

On receipt of price, either of the above, with size of collar and wristband plainly indicated, for, $6 sleeve buttons, will be delivered free in any place reached by [illegible] except Alaska, Oregon and the Territories. Keeps shirts are only made in one quality, the best. We mean just what we say, and receive every one an opportunity of judging for themselves without cost, we mail samples and full directions for self-measurement free to any address. We refer to purchasers of Keep shirts everywhere.

KEEP MANUFACTURING CO.,
165 and 167 Mercer street, New York.

F. R. HARDON,

DEALER IN

MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS,

Nos. 27 and 29 Chartres Street,

Bet. Canal and Customhouse,

NEW ORLEANS.

MEDICAL.

A STRING OF PEARLS!

Extract of a letter from Hon. Alex. H. Stephens, dated March 8, 1872:

I owe a lengthy note, when my condition requires it. Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator with good effect. It is mild, and suits me better than more active remedies.

Hon. Alex. H. Stephens has greatly improved in health of late. The State Line Press, Rome, Ga.

Testimony of the Chief Justice of Georgia.

Your excellent Simmons' Liver Regulator has come under my observation in the treatment of my family, and in the case of the grave-digger, which I attended for the last three or four years, and always, when medicine according to the directions, with decided benefit. I think it a good medicine for the derangement of the liver, as I have such has frequently personal experience in the use of it. Hon. Logan E. Bleckley, Chief Justice of Georgia.

Opinion of the Clergy.

Simmons' Liver Regulator is certainly a specific for that class of complaints which it claims to cure. Many of our fellow beings are suffering from hepatic disorders, and have called my attention to the efficacy of this popular preparation, we can only offer them the simple and candid argument of Philip to Nathaniel: "Come and see." Try the proposed remedy, and then you can judge for yourselves.—Rev. Thomas Hicks, Pastor of Presbyterian Church, Macon, Ga.

Always Keep It On Hand.

I have used Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator myself, and in my family for years, and pronounce it one of the most satisfactory family medicines that can be used. Nothing would induce me to be without it, and I can recommend all my friends; if they want to secure health, to always keep it on hand. R. F. Mc Dowell, Columbia, Co., Georgia.

CAUTION!

Buy no Powders or Prepared Simmons' Liver Regulator, unless in our engraved wrapper, with trade mark, stamp and signature unbroken. None other is genuine.

Manufactured only by

J. H. ZEILIN & CO.,
MACON, GA., AND PHILADELPHIA.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS. 1y apto

ELECTRO-MAGNETIC CORDIAL.

Samaritan Nervine.

Electro-Magnetic Liniment.

Electro-Magnetic Ointment.

CANCER CURED WITHOUT the KNIFE or PAIN, and positively guaranteed by DR. J. M. COMINS, M.D., 34 Lexington Ave., New York. Hundreds of Specimens can be seen at this office, and as many living witnesses as you desire. Send stamp for book.

MISCELLANEOUS.

HOME CORN-SHELLER,

$3.50. $3.50. $3.50.

The BEST HAND CORN SHELLER FOR family use ever invented. Will shell two bushels per hour. Removes every kernel from the cob and breaks none. Every Machine Warranted. Agent sold in the past fifteen months. The demand of 4 months of this Sheller in the South, and for any town in any of the Rice States, and for any town in any of the Rice States, and for any town in any of the Rice States

Farm, Garden and Household.

The House Fly.

Prof. Packard has an interesting article on this subject in the Naturalist, from which we take the following paragraphs:

If, in its winged condition it is one of the most disagreeable features of dog-days, and people wonder why flies were ever made at all, it should be remembered that flies have an infancy as maggots, and the loathsome life they lead as scavengers cleanses and purifies the August air, and lowers the death rate of our cities and towns. Thus, while stables and piggeries and filth are tolerated by city and town authorities, the young of the house fly, the flesh fly and blow fly, with their thousand allies, are doing something toward purifying the pestilential air, and averting the summer brood of cholera, dysentery, diphtheria, typhus and typhoid fevers, which descend like harpies upon the devoted cities and towns. It may be regarded as an axiom that when flies most abound then filth, death-dealing and baleful, is most abundant, and filth diseases such as we have named most do congregate.

The life of the house fly may be summed up as follows: It lives one day in the egg state, from five days to a week as a maggot, from five to seven days in the pupa state—in all, from ten to fourteen days in the month of August—before the winged adult period. It is often asked how long-lived a fly is. Most of the flies which are born in August live for a month or six weeks, and die at the coming of frost, either of chill or the attacks of fungoid plants. A few probably winter over and survive until mid-summer, and thus maintain the existence of this useful species, to which civilized man owes more than he can readily estimate, and with which he can dispense only when the health of our cities and towns is looked after with far greater vigilance and intelligence than is perhaps likely to be the case for several centuries to come.

CASTOR BEANS.—Among the farm products assuming prominence in the West is the castor bean. Within the last few years the consideration of this product has been urged on farmers, who received all statements with an incredulous spirit, as though the castor bean fever was and never could be of any value on the farm. But if they sell for $1 per bushel, and an acre produces a goodly number, and if the demand for them continues, why not experiment in this direction? We are not among those who favor headlong experiments, but favor a course in which the farmer makes his business ing of greater possibilities without much risk. Any good corn land will produce castor beans, and a half bushel will plant eight acres. The hills should be four or five feet apart, four or five seeds in a hill. If the cut worms do not do the work for you, thin to one or two stalks in a hill. The yield is about twenty bushels to the acre.

MARYLAND BISCUITS.—Three parts flour, one tablespoonful of lard, one pint of cold water, salt to taste; make into a stiff dough, and work until the dough cracks, then bake. We have not tried this, but have often heard of it, and are now assured on good authority that they are very nice.

MISCELLANEOUS.

FOLEY'S

Celebrated Gold Pens

AND PENCILS.

THE FINEST AND BEST.

CIRCULAR.—To those engaged in mercantile pursuits, any invention that will facilitate their labor is highly worthy of notice, as well as of extensive patronage. One of the most important inventions of the present age is that of a pen that possesses the necessary qualities of firmness in mark and durability in use. Pre-eminently such are those of JOHN FOLEY, manufacturer of Fine GOLD PENS AND PENCILS, No. 2 Astor House. Their superior value is owing to the long time he has been engaged in sincerity in their manufacture. We, the subscribers, who know the value of FOLEY'S PENS from constant use of them for a number of years, cheerfully recommend them to those who wish for the best and most perfect Gold Pen ever made.

Signed by the following gentlemen and over one thousand others.

J. E. Williams, Pres. Metropolitan National Bank, A. S. Cue, Pres. American Exchange Nat'l Bank, J. A. Beardsley, Cashier Nat'l Bank of N. America, Wm. A. Fall, President Union Exchange Bank, C. H. Lowry, Pres. Nat'l Bank of the Republic, D. D. Tappan, Pres. Gallatin National Bank, C. F. Thorpson, Cashier Continental Bank, L. G. Ogden, Cashier New York Ex. Nat'l Bank, Clark, Dodge & Co. George H. Arthur & Co, White, Morris & Co. H. T. Morgan & Co, Vermilye & Co. American Express Co, Winslow, Lanier & Co. Adams Express Co, Chas. Dennis, Vice Pres. Atlantic Mutual Ins. Co, Isabel D. Smith, Pres. Commercial Ins. Co, Russell Walker, Pres. Mercantile Mutual Ins. Co, Wm. E. Jenkins, President Bank of America, A. W. Lewis, Cashier Eutaw National Bank, Wm. H. Cox, Cashier Mechanics National Bank, J. Buell, Pres. Importers and Traders' Nat'l Bank, J. M. Crane, Cash't Shoe and Leather Nat'l Bank, Wells, Fargo & Co. T. Ketchum & Co, United States Express Co. S. B. Chittenden & Co, Barclay & Livingston, Johnston & Higgins, A. T. Wainwarth, Vice Pres. Home Fire Ins. Co, Morris Franklin, Pres. New York Life Ins. Co.

JOHN FOLEY,

GOLD PEN MANUFACTURER,

No. 2 Astor House, Broadway, N. Y.

Supply many of the leading Publishers and Jewelers of New Orleans.

Piles! Piles!! Piles!!!

INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL BLIND Bleeding and Itching Piles perfectly and permanently cured by absorption. This cure is absolutely perfect and permanent, while neither salves nor instruments and the cutting knife are used. We can refer to thousands of the very best people in Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore and Boston, and in every State in the Union.

W. A. & W. L. McCANDLESS,

No. 1011 Arch Street,

Philadelphia, Pa.

FIRE! FIRE!! FIRE!!!

GUARD AGAINST IT.

THE PEOPLE'S PUMP.

With 30 feet Hose, and suction pipe for well of 30 feet, for $75.

CHARLES WORTHY,

Devonshire street, Boston.

MEDICAL

Judgment of the Public!

DURING THE PAST FIVE YEARS THE public have carefully observed the wonderful cures accomplished from the use of VEGETINE. From its use many an afflicted sufferer, has been restored to perfect health, after having expended a small fortune in procuring medical advice and obtaining poisonous mineral medicines.

Its medical properties are Alterative, Tonic, Solvent, and Diuretic. There is no disease of the human system for which the VEGETINE cannot be used with perfect safety, as it does not contain any mercurial or poisonous compound. It is composed exclusively of barks, roots, and herbs; it is safe and reliable, as the following evidence will show:

Valuable Evidence.

The following unsolicited testimonial from Rev. O. T. Walker, D. D., formerly pastor of Hawdon Square Church, Boston, and at present settled in Providence, R. I., must be deemed as reliable evidence. No one should fail to observe that this testimonial is the result of two years experience with the use of VEGETINE in the Rev. Mr. Walker's family, who now pronounces it invaluable.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., 187 TRANSIT STREET, H. R. Stevens, Esq.—I feel bound to express with my statement the high value I place upon your VEGETINE. My family have used it for the last two years. In nervous debility it is invaluable, and I recommend it to all who may need an invigorating, refreshing tonic.

O. T. WALKER,

Formerly Pastor of B. Warren Square Church.

A Walking Miracle.

MR. H. R. STEVENS—Dear Sir:—Feeling a strong gratitude for what VEGETINE has done for me. Last Christmas Scrofula made its appearance in my system—large running sores appearing on me as follows: one on each of my arms, one on my neck, which extended to the scalp, one on my cheek, which ate into the skull bone, one on my left leg, which became so bad that two physicians came to amputate the limb, though upon examination they concluded not to do so, as my whole body was a mass of Scrofula; they dismissed my case as incurable. Then I PURCHASED FIVE DOLLARS worth of your VEGETINE, which was painful the most I could endure, and kept on taking it for months, when I discovered a change for the better. All my neighbors say a miracle has been performed in my case. I am perfectly sound and well, and can go about my business, which I have not been able to do for years. I am now engaged in the manufacture of Boots and Shoes, and am working hard at the bench, and can truly say I owe my present health and ability to work entirely to the use of VEGETINE. I have recommended it to many others, and shall continue to do so, as I believe it the best medicine in the world.

M. PAYNE,

Cor. Magazine and Walnut streets,

Cambridge, Mass.

PREPARED BY

H. R. STEVENS, Boston, Mass.

Vegetine is Sold by All Druggists.

Reliable Evidence.

MR. H. R. STEVENS—Dear Sir:—I can most cheerfully add my testimony to the great number you have already received in favor of your great and good medicine, VEGETINE, for I do not think enough can be said in its praise, for I was troubled over thirty years with dyspepsia, nervousness, catarrh, and had such bad coughing spells that it would seem as though they would never breathe any more; and VEGETINE has cured me, and I feel to thank God at the same time, that there is so good a medicine as VEGETINE, and I can think it one of the best medicines for coughs and weak sinking feelings at the stomach, and advise everybody to take The VEGETINE, for it can safely be given to one of the best medicines that ever was.

MRS. L. GORE,

Cor. Magazine and Walnut streets,

Cambridge, Mass.

PREPARED BY

H. R. STEVENS, Boston, Mass.

Vegetine is Sold by All Druggists.

SWAIM'S CELEBRATED PANACEA

Is not as many persons suppose a patented specific prescribed for the cure of all diseases flesh is heir to, but, having enjoyed an established reputation for MORE THAN FIFTY YEARS on account of its great value in diseases peculiar to females, having been the means of RESTORATION TO HEALTH OF THOUSANDS OF INVALID PERSONS, it has received the unbounded confidence of HUNDREDS OF PHYSICIANS who know its merits, and should be used by all who suffer from diseases arising from impurities of the blood or even hereditary taint.

Use only "SWAIM'S PANACEA AND LIVER PILLS." Each bottle of the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA has upon the outside wrapper the signature of the proprietor, J. SWAIM.

Prepared by

Swaim's Laboratory,

South Seventh St., below Chestnut st.,

PHILADELPHIA.

To the Ladies and Gentlemen of the Great West.

I WILL Deliver my most Valuable Medicine, the result of more than twenty years' experience and extensive practice, free of charge, under the most positive guarantee to cure or refund the money in every case of Chronic Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Sour Stomach, and Indigestion, Ulcerations of the Stomach, Pain in the Region of the Kidneys, Nervous Headache, Toothache, and Neuralgia, $1 per bottle. Child's PREPARATION for WORMS, for men or boys, 50 cents per bottle. Family Liniment for Sprains, Bruises, Swelling, Cuts and Sores, and Lame Back, 50 cents per bottle. For the World's Renowned CURE-ALL AND HEALER CURE, warranted to cure every case of Diseases arising from Impure Blood, or Disorder of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Bowels, Nerves, Skin, Head, or Blemishes of any kind, $1 per bottle. The Great Vegetable Compound. HAIR DYE, STOMACH, without fear of disappointment, and is a beautiful Dark Brown. Sold by all Druggists and Perfumers everywhere. Remember the name and place, and call for no other. Address all communications to the Doctor himself, and they will receive prompt attention. Consultation free. Office hours from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays excepted. Address

DR. C. B. WHITE,

No. 111 North Eighth Street, St. Louis, Mo.

Cor. Eighth and Olive streets, entrance on Eighth, 2 doors north of Olive.

F. A. McKECHINE,

Engraver on Wood.

OFFICE—N. Carondelet street and 1st Cross street, Hickory, Carlton, &c., and will receive prompt attention. Orders sent by River Coal Stamped in Sand in Slate, Cakes for Cards and Envelopes.

Dr. C. B. White,

Office and Residence,

113 CANAL STREET.

SAM. HENDERSON,

Cotton Factors, Commission Merchant, and Forwarding Agent,

LEVEE, NEW ORLEANS.

Will give strict attention to Consignments, Purchases and Sales of Cotton, Sugar, Molasses, Grain, Bagging, Rope, Iron Ties, Groceries, Provisions, &c., &c.

Liberal Cash Advances made on Consignments.

EDUCATIONAL.

University of Mississippi.

THE NEXT SESSION OF THE UNIVERSITY of Mississippi, at Oxford, opens

October 4, 1876.

The Faculty is complete, able and proficient. The campus, buildings, and apparatus in good repair.

The location is healthy. Church facilities and society excellent.

Tuition free to candidates for the ministry. Tuition fee to others $25. Total expenses need not exceed $100 to $300 per annum. Students in the Preparatory Department will be required to board with family of the Principal.

For catalogues and information, address

H. M. SULLIVAN,

Secretary Board of Trustees,

Oxford, Miss.

Emory and Henry College

VIRGINIA.

THE collegiate year for 1876-7 begins on the FOURTEENTH OF SEPTEMBER next. It is divided into two terms of twenty weeks each, the first ending January 31, and the second beginning February 1, 1877.

For TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS deposited with the President at the beginning of the year, we will give to a student, for the forty weeks, his tuition, board, fuel, room-rent, washing, library and contingent fees.

For information on special points, or for a catalogue address

E. E. WILEY, President,

Emory P. O., Virginia.

EMORY COLLEGE.

THE FALL TERM of this long-established institution opens on Wednesday, SEPTEMBER 6.

Emory College, with a full Faculty and a thorough curriculum, is prepared to do first class college work.

TUITION—Fall Term, $25; Spring Term, $25. Board in good families, from $20 to $25 per month. Food and lodging can be procured at from $10 to $13 per month by boys willing to work on themselves.

For further information address the President,

ATTICUS G. HAYGOOD,

Oxford, Ga.

Quitman M. & F. College,

QUITMAN, VAN BUREN CO., ARK.

FALL SESSION BEGINS MONDAY, SEPT. 4. This school, under the patronage of the Arkansas Conference, offers a quiet, healthy retreat to students. Good board can be had at eight to ten dollars per month. Tuition is as low as can be had anywhere, ranging from $1.50 to $4a month. Tuition free to children of ministers and to young men studying for the ministry.

For further particulars apply to

REV. JAMES A. PEEBLES, President,

Quitman, Van Buren Co., Ark.

MOORE'S SOUTHERN BUSINESS UNIVERSITY ATLANTA, GA. THE BEST PRACTICAL BUSINESS SCHOOL IN THE SOUTH. SEND FOR CATALOGUES.

Fort Edward Collegiate Institute,

NEW YORK.

$172 PER YEAR. RATES TO SUIT THE times. Facilities never better. Superb brick buildings. Fifteen teachers. A business course, college preparatory, and other graduating courses for both sexes or any studies they may be chosen. Twenty-third year. August 31. Winter term December 7. Admission any time proportionally. Address JOS. E. KING, LL. D.,

Fort Edward, N. Y.

MISCELLANEOUS.

MITCHELL'S NEW OUTLINE MAPS.

Maps in a set. A Key-print with each set.

Small Series, with Names	$10
Small Series, without Names	$10
Large Series, without Names	$20

LATEST, BEST, CHEAPEST.

Sold by BUTLER & CO.,

Philadelphia, Pa.

COUNTRY ORDERS

FOR

BOOTS AND SHOES.

PARTIES who wish to buy Boots and Shoes FOR CASH are invited to send for me for a card which explains HOW TO TAKE YOUR OWN MEASURE, thus enabling any one in the country to get a good-fitting Boot or Shoe direct from the city at the LOWEST CITY PRICES. Where we are favored with orders that exceed $5 the Freight thereon will be prepaid at our cost. Where the order exceeds $20 we will also pay the cost of Sending the money to us, whether by Express, Money Order, Registered Letter, Bank Draft or otherwise.

Goods sent C. O. D. to all points where the Express Company or Packets have agents.

Price-list, card, measure-blanks, and instructions how to take your own measure, will be sent by mail upon application.

GIMBEL'S UPPER CITY BLUE BOOT AND SHOE STORE,

No. 378 Magazine Street,

Second door above Lady's Door.

LOUIS GIMBEL, Agent.

NOVELTY IRON WORKS.

Now Building Presses on Stock Account, and offering for sale Second-hand the Three Sizes now ready for operation:

JANUARY 1, 1877.

Golding's Standard Press.

(Five Patents Pressed.)

Exclusive control of State Rights and Districts for Sale. Apply to PATENTEE at the

NOVELTY WORKS,

Corner Peters and Poland streets.

ATTENTION!

M. ANDRIEU,

159 DAUPHIN STREET 159

Home-Made Shoes at $3.50 a Pair.

Gaiters, Boots and Shoes for all kinds and styles, made of the very best material and workmanship, and at less prices than any other Store in this city. Keeps all kinds for Gent's, Ladies', and Children's wear.

$50 TO $200 A MONTH FOR AGENTS.

UNIVERSAL HISTORY.

The great Universal History of Nations and in our own Centennial, by Edward Eggleston. This book sell faster than any other. Larger book to name, handsomely illustrated. Low price, quick sales, extra terms. Send for circulars. Address

J. C. McCURDY & CO., St. Louis, Mo.

SHELDON COLLINS & CO.,

MANUFACTURERS OF PRINTING INKS, Extra Blue & Black, News, Card, and Wood Cut,

AND

Colored Inks of Every Variety.

Office and depot, 26 Frankfort street, New York.

GIBSON'S

Stained Glass and Decorative Establishment,

123 & 125 South Eleventh St.,

PHILADELPHIA.

CENTENNIAL SLIDES READY.

MAGIC LANTERNS & SLIDES WANTED THEO. J. HARBACH. ALSO FOR SALE. PHILA'A, PA.

Please send for Catalogue.

$55 to $77 a Week to Agents. Samples Free. P. O. VICKERY, Augusta, Me.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE JELESO WATER,

NO. 20 CORTLANDT ST., NEW YORK.

WARREN & CO., PROPRIETORS.

URAL MOUNTAIN

JELESO WATER

is a concentration of all the curative qualities of the most celebrated Mineral Springs in the world. Each bottle contains eighty times and is equal to over one hundred bottles of the Natural Spring Water.

As a tonic it is unsurpassed, having had most remarkable success in curing some of the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Nervousness, and General Debility. It is simple, harmless, and pleasant to take. If used as a gargle in its pure state, on the first appearance of diphtheria and all other throat diseases it works like magic. It arrests the progress of and cures such complaints in less than twenty-four hours. It will greatly alleviate or entirely cure the worst cases of Rheumatism. Eczema and all other diseases of the skin, Prickly Heat, Poisoning by Ivy, Sumac, or Oak are quickly cured by the use of Jeleso Water. We will forward three bottles of the medicine to any part of the United States, free of expressage, on receipt of $1 per bottle. Send for Circular, containing testimonials and directions.

Appended are a few of the many certificates sent us:

As a family medicine and tonic it is simply invaluable. In my own case it has cured Dyspepsia of long standing.

JOHN F. MINES,

Managing Editor N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

Permit me to add my testimony to the efficiency of your "Jeleso" in cases of Dyspepsia of long standing. I have used two bottles of it, and I am now thoroughly cured. I shall most cheerfully recommend its use to all my friends; and I consider it an indispensable medicine in every family.

I am most truly yours, J. D. BARTON,

Supt. Flushing, North Shore, and Central R. R., of Long Island.

101 EAST 25th ST., NEW YORK,

January 29, 1876.

DR. WARREN—Dear Sir: I have used your Jeleso Water as a tonic, also for Dyspepsia and throat affections of all kinds with great beneficial results. I believe it to be a very valuable remedy.

DR. E. C. STILLMAN.

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE

RESPECTFULLY offers her services in selecting, purchasing and forwarding any article of apparel or personal adornment for Ladies' and Children's use, including MILLINERY, DRY GOODS, JEWELRY, BRIDAL TROUSSEAUX, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Trimmings, Underwear, Sewing Machines, etc.

Scrupulous care with reference to the price and quality, and fidelity to the interest and fulfillment of the wishes of correspondents, will be sedulously carried out.

Spring and Summer Styles

OF

LADIES' DRESSES,

IN IMPORTED FRENCH PATTERNS,

CENTENNIAL APRONS, RUCHES AND KERCHIEFS, facsimiles of the Fashions of 1776.

Just received by

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE,

No. 98 CANAL STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

JOSEPH GILLOTT'S

STEEL PENS.

SOLD BY ALL DEALERS

MANUFACTURERS' WAREROOMS,

No. 91 John Street, New York.

JOSEPH GILLOTT & SON,

HENRY HOE, Sole Agent.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

W. M. EVANS,

NO. 23 N. PETERS ST., NEW ORLEANS, LA.

SOLICITS CONSIGNMENTS OF

Wool, Moss, Hides, Rags, Bones, Metals,

And all description of PRODUCE.

Personal and careful attention given to all business intrusted to my care. Quick sales and prompt returns made. Will fill orders for all descriptions of goods at lowest cash prices. Advances made on consignments. P. O. Box 238.

B. T. BABBITT'S BABY SOAP.

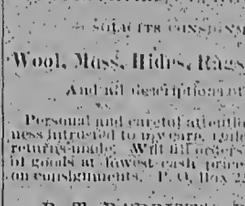
Only one purest vegetable oils used in its manufacture. No artificial and deceptive colors to cover common and adulterated materials. Is specially prepared for the FOLLY and the BATH. Used in bathing children, will prevent eruptions. Keep it in the bath and smooth the rough hands to heal the sore and prevent illness. Dispels away with all powders, chalk, or other emollients. A certain preventive of chafing, rash, etc., in babies. The cause of all that the crying and crossness of baby hood. Worth ten times its cost to every mother and family in Christendom. Packed in boxes of 12 cakes of 3 ozs. each, and sent free to any address on receipt of $2.50. Address

For sale by all Druggists, B. T. BABBITT, N. Y.

DO YOUR OWN PRINTING!

NOVELTY PRINTING PRESS.

For Professional and Amateur Printers, Schools, Societies, Manufactories, Merchants, the HOME



DOVE MANUFACTURING Co., 6 Water St., N. Y.

ADOLPH SUTTER,

GLASS STAINER.

Particular Attention Paid to Church Work.

Orders from all parts of the country promptly attended to.

218 N. SEVENTH ST., bet. Elliz and Olive,

ST. LOUIS, MO.

FOR LADIES ONLY.

LADY AGENTS WANTED to sell Made Griswold's SKIRT SUPPORTING CORSET, and universally approved, such is gradually superseding all others. Application only to MME. GRISWOLD, 2 Fred St. (eighth street), New York.

T. W. ROTHICK,

UNDERTAKER,

227 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Embalming and Disinfecting. Bodies carefully shipped. Coffins and Cases for Hire.

GLASS STAINERS

CUTTERS AND EMBOSSERS,

CHURCH WINDOWS A SPECIALTY.

Cameos and Sacred Subjects.

WM. COULTER & SON,

ESTABLISHED IN 1875.

LEEDS' FOUNDRY,

Cor. Delord and Poydras Sts.

VINEGAR—How made in ten hours without drugs. Address P. S. A. CO., Springfield, Mass.

SAVINGS BANKS.

LOUISIANA SAVINGS BANK AND SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY,

51 Camp Street.

CAPITAL.....$500,000

E. C. PALMER, President.
JAS. JACKSON, Vice President.

DIRECTORS.

ED. CONERY, FRED'K WING,
J. H. KELLER, W. H. THOMAS,
W. B. SCHMIDT, JAS. JACKSON,
E. C. PALMER.

This Company insures against loss by Burglars, Thieves and Fire at low rates, and its capital gives security to Depositors.

Small Deposits received and Six per cent. interest per annum, paid semi-annually.

JOHN S. WALTON, Cashier.

NEW ORLEANS

SAVINGS INSTITUTION,

158 .....CANAL STREET.....158

Incorporated March 15, 1855.

OFFICERS.

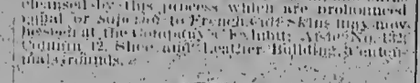
DAVID URQUHART, President.
THOS. A. ADAMS, First Vice President.
THOS. ALLEN CLARKE, Second V. President.
CHARLES J. LEEDS, Third Vice President.
CHARLES KILSHAW, Treasurer.

TRUSTEES.

Thos. A. Adams, George Jonas,
Thos. Allen Clarke, John G. Gaines,
Charles J. Leeds, Christian Schneider
Samuel Jamison, Carl Kohn,
A. Moulton, T. L. Bayne,
E. A. Palfrey, David Urquhart.

Interest allowed on deposits.

MISCELLANEOUS.



BY H. R. PALMER.

HERALD

FOR

Singing Classes & Conventions.

A great improvement upon all of Mr. Palmer's former works, containing new ideas throughout. Every page sparkling with

NEW AND BEAUTIFUL MUSIC.

"THE SONG HERALD"

is the legitimate successor of SONG KING and SONG QUEEN, which have had a combined sale of over

350,000 COPIES!

All Other Similar Works are but Imitations.

Price, $3.60 Per Dozen. Single Copy sent on receipt of 75 cents. Specimen Pages free.

JOHN CHURCH & CO.,

CINCINNATI, O.

The Centennial Manufacturing Co.,

No. 1011 Walnut St., Philadelphia.

Whose Powder Polish has become so well known for its labor-saving properties in the cleaning of all Painted Walls, Wood Work, Glass, Tin and Copper Ware, etc., and the removing of any grease spots or other soils from the most delicate carpets, woollen or silk materials without the slightest fear of any injury or fading, it containing no acid or deleterious substance whatever, as to be considered an indispensable necessity to every family, which has once tried it. The Company are now offering for sale a new article adapted to the Farmer's and Stockman's trade, called TANNEHINE.

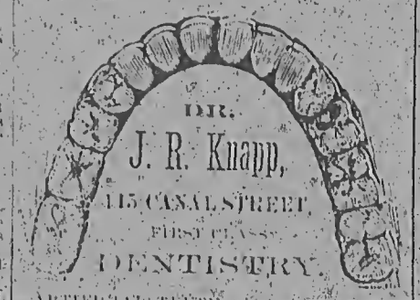
This article, which has been in use a short time on the ranches, has attracted the attention of the Shoe and Leather Reporter, the Harness and Farming Journal, and the Polytechnic Review, all of which papers speak in the highest terms of it, and there seems no doubt that it will completely revolutionize the method of cleaning leather on the grain side, for the coloring.

Samples and all information with regard to it can be had on application to the office of the Company, 102 Walnut street, and will be forwarded free of charge to any address sent for them, and skins cleansed by this process which are pronounced equal or superior to French dressed skins by many dressers at the Company's Tannery, Nos. 132 to 138 Commerce, 12, Shoe and Leather Building, Centennial grounds.



DR.

J. R. Knapp,

115 CANAL STREET,

FIRST CLASS

DENTISTRY.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH, which, in case of decay, and are unobservable and serviceable to wear, at GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.

Filling decayed teeth stops to last for years.

WITHOUT PAIN,

By means of a new invention.

All work guaranteed, Consultation free.

Call and examine work and prices.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Returning thanks for past favors, the undersigned desires to inform his friends and the public that he has removed to

152 and 154 Camp St., cor. Calliope,

WHERE HE CONTINUES TO

BUY, SELL, STORE, REMOVE, PACK

And Repair Furniture

of every description. Pictures and Looking-glasses framed. JOHN BOIS,

Nos. 152 and 154 Camp street.

FURNITURE AND MATTRESSES

NO. 133 CAMP STREET.

THE undersigned has a large stock of Furniture, which he will dispose of at prices that will defy competition. Give me a call and be convinced.

Furniture taken on storage. Repairs made at low rates. All Furniture and Bedding got in perfect repair and delivered to order. Moving, Packing, etc., in fact done at the lowest possible rates on application to

HENRY PHOFE,

133 Camp street.

YOUR ATTENTION IS RESPECTfully called to the choice stock of

NEW AND SECOND HAND

BAROUCHES, ROCKAWAYS,

Top and No-Top Buggies, Spring Wagons, etc., which are offered at extra bargains within the next sixty days, in exchange for Boots to close up the account with my former partner, David Jost, deceased. All Vehicles warranted as represented, call, examine and secure a bargain.

DAVID JOST, late (1875) Jost & Yenkel, 9 and 11 S. Second St., St. Louis, Mo.

Baxter, Bell & Co.'s Pure Liquid Paints

WARRANTED PURE, AND NOT TO CONtain Water or Alkali. These Paints are of equal brilliancy of shades, and for covering capacity and durability, fineness and beauty of finish, they cannot be excelled by any other description of Paint. A liberal discount made to dealers. Send for Sample Card to the Agents.

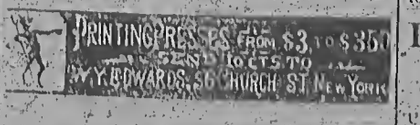
SAMUEL M. TODD & CO.,

78 Magazine street, New Orleans.

CARPETS, CARPETS, LUMBER, ETC.—To meet the demand for our Patent we have added such machinery as enables us to turn them out not only faster but better and cheaper; so call on with your orders. Not forgetting that as Lumber Merchants, we date back a quarter of a century, and with recently established Telegraph communication with our Pearl River Mills, we can furnish at short notice anything from a plaster lath to a ship spar.

W. W. CARRE & CO.,

No. 350 Delord street.



PRICES REDUCED. Best Quality CENTENNIAL FAMILY SEWING MACHINE IS ONLY $25.

CENTENNIAL YEAR.

J. M. EVANS, Manager.

Nos. 132 and 134 Camp street.

INSURANCE.

FACTORS' AND TRADERS' Insurance Company,

37.....Carondelet Street.....

Premiums for the year ending April 30, 1876.....
Losses paid within the year.....
Reserved for unterminated risks April 30, 1876.....
Net profits for the year.....

Cash dividends for the year:
Interest (semi-annually).....TEN PER CENT.
Premiums.....TWENTY PER CENT.

Assets, April 30, 1876.....

This Company continues to issue policies on River, and Marine Risks at current rates of premium.

E. A. PALFREY, President.
JOHN CHAFFE, Vice-President.
THOMAS F. WALKER, Secretary.

—TRUSTEES—

W. A. Johnson, W. C. Raymond,
John L. Noble, T. Lyell Lyon,
John Chaffe, S. H. Snowden,
Richard Milliken, S. H. Boyd,
John L. Warren Joseph McHatton,
R. P. Buckner, E. R. Wheelock,
Samuel Friedlander, Cyrus Bussey,
A. A. Yales, Wm. J. Behan,
John L. Adams, H. F. Fishing,
Isaac Scherck, W. C. Black,
R. M. Walmsley, Charles Claiborne,
A. H. May, L. C. Jore.
Wm. Hartwell.

New Orleans Insurance Co

CORNER CAMP AND CANAL STS.

ESTABLISHED IN 1865.

Capital.....
Assets at their market value.....
Income for the year 1875.....

The company insures FIRE, MARINE & RIVER RISKS. Issues Marine policies payable in London in case of loss.

President—J. TUYES,
Vice President—A. SCHREIER,
Secretary—J. W. HINCKS.

DIRECTORS.

Ernest Merlin, A. M. Bickham,
Placide Forstall, A. Schreiber,
H. Gally, J. Tuyes,
Charles Lafitte, W. A. Bell,
W. Van Benthuysen, B. Falio,
Pierre Pontz, D. D. Rogers.

UNION INSURANCE COMPANY

OF NEW ORLEANS.

3.....CARONDELET STREET.

Near the Union National Bank.

This Company, incorporated in 18.., insures the risks of Sea, River and Fire, and settles promptly all losses of claim.

A. J. CHAPELLA, President.
J. M. CRAWFORD, Secretary.

DIRECTORS.

Victor Maginnan, H. Gally,
L. E. Sarpy, A. Chapella,
Ba Sadler, J. Fayle,
H. Ladasse, A. R. Brousseau,
A. Bonmarito.

AGENTS WANTED.

READY FOR AGENTS—THE

CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION

DESCRIBED AND ILLUSTRATED.

A graphic pen-picture of its history, grand buildings, wonderful exhibits, curiosities, great days, etc. Profusely illustrated. Big money for agents, and very cheap. Is selling immensely. 3,000 Agents wanted. Send for full particulars. This is the chance of 100 days to coin money. Don't waste time. Get the only reliable history. BURR BROS., Pubs., 723 Sansom St., Philadelphia, Pa.

CAUTION! Be not deceived by premature books assuming to be official, and telling what will happen in August and September.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE CENTENNIAL HISTORY OF THE U. S.

The great interest in the thrilling history of our country makes this the fastest selling book ever published. It contains a full account of the Great Centennial Exhibition.

CAUTION.—Old, incomplete and Unreliable works are being circulated; see that the book you buy contains 518 Fine Engravings and 1,000 Pages. Send for circulars and extra terms to Agents. Address NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., St. Louis, Mo.

In Press—Outfits Ready—The

CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION

Described and Illustrated.

A graphic pen-picture of its history, grand buildings, wonderful exhibits, curiosities, great days, etc. Profusely Illustrated. Immensely popular, and very cheap. Just out. Immensely. 3,000 Agents wanted. Send for full particulars. This is the chance of 100 days to coin money. Don't waste time. Get the only reliable history.

N. D. THOMPSON & CO.,

Publishers, St. Louis, Mo.

CAUTION! Be not deceived by premature books assuming to be official, and telling what will happen in August and September.

Potter's American Monthly.

50,000 ILLUSTRATED, Best Family Magazine in the country, at $1 for 1877. Send for one year for $1.75 for copies for 2 months for 50, and a copy of Potter's Bible Cyclopedia. 3,000 Illustrations, price $25. A $10 to the person sending this club. Sample to all News Stands, 15 cents per number. Special Terms to Agents.

1877 J. E. POTTER & CO., Phila.

AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE FOR OUR NEW

Centennial Family Bible,

AND BIBLICAL ENCYCLOPEDIA.

The best and cheapest in the market. Over 1,000 Historical Illustrations, Liberal commissions allowed. For terms and circulars write immediately to the ST. LOUIS BIBLE PUB. CO., 213 Locust street, St. Louis, Mo.

$10 to $25 A DAY SURE! By Agents selling our Chromos, Frames, &c. Three new Chromo cards, 12 samples, worth $1, and 30 best selling articles, Illustrated Catalogue and Terms, all for 10 cents. J. LATHAM & CO., Boston.

"DON'T FORGET IT!"—Singer's Safety Guard is worth all the Burglar Alarms ever invented. Agents wanted everywhere. A nickel-plated safety pin sample, and a solid Gold Patent Lever Watch, free of cost, will be sent at once to J. BRIDE & CO., 767 Broadway, New York.

YES WE WANT an agent in every town. Easy work at home. Write now and we will start you. $30 a day sure. Will show you how. SUN & SMITH, 61 Cortlandt st., N. Y.

AGENTS double their money selling Chase's Improved Receipt Book. Address Dr. Chase's Printing-House, Ann Arbor, Mich.

MARVIN LINCOLN.

MANUFACTURER OF ARTIFICIAL LIMBS and various kinds of

Surgical Appliances.

The Lincoln Artificial Arm a Specialty.

Artificial Thumbs and Fingers neatly and successfully supplied.

For further information, circulars, testimonials, etc., address MARVIN LINCOLN, No. 8 Hamilton Place, Boston, Mass.

HEATH, PIPPEY & LARA.

IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN

Carpets, Floor Oil Cloths,

UPHOLSTERY GOODS, WALL PAPER, Window Shades, Cornices, Lace and Muslin Curtains, Mirrors, Moldings, Chromos, Engravings, Etc.

Frames made to order—a specialty.

No. 90 Camp Street,

NEW ORLEANS.

MEDICAL.

ANGELL'S

HOMEOPATHIC PHARMACY,

52 Julia St., near Camp, New Orleans.

HOMŒOPATHIC MEDICINES, BOOKS, CASES, AND ALL OTHER ARTICLES USED IN HOMŒOPATHIC PRACTICE.

TO MEET THE DEMAND FOR AIDS TO Domestic Practice, and proved by an extensive experience to be safe, generally successful and peculiarly adapted to family practice, pamphlets for the following diseases will be furnished by mail or express, with full directions as to their use:

For CROUPS, COLDS, CATARRH, CROUP, HOOPING COUGH, ASTHMA, FEVER, DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, CHOLERA MORBUS, AND INFANTUM, COLIC, DYSPEPSIA, BILIOUSNESS, NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, SORE THROAT, EAR DISCHARGES, SORE MOUTH, URINARY AFFECTIONS, BOILS, PILES, SKIN DISEASES, RHEUMATISM, SCROFULA, SORE EYES, AND GENERAL DEBILITY. 25 cents each.

FOR HEART AFFECTIONS AND CHILL DROPS successful in AGUE AND FEVER when other remedies fail, one dollar each.

PHOSPHORATED BITTERS and COLIC DROPS, 25 cents each.

Dr. R. ANGELL, Senior,

resumes his visiting and office practice as usual, day or night, and will prescribe and furnish medicine by letter on a full statement of case, if desirable.

First prescription and medicine, three to five dollars; subsequent ones, two to three dollars. Consultation alone, free of charge, on inclosing stamped envelope. Office up stairs 52 Julia street.

THE ONLY TRUE AND PERFECT HAIR COLORER!

THE MYSTERY,

OR Turner's Hair Tint!

HARMLESS! BEAUTIFUL! PERMANENT!

This preparation has received the indorsement of the scientific world, and wherever introduced has superseded all other preparations of the kind. No washing or preparation of the hair is necessary before using.

It is free from all Deleterious Ingredients, and no Lint, Sediment or other evidence is left which can be detected by the Most Powerful Microscope.

As its use saves both time and labor, as a few applied with a comb once a month or so, to hair or Whiskers, answers the purpose, the exact color being so precisely assimilated to every tint, producing any desired shade, weight brown to the deepest black, and not restoring that dry and burned appearance produced by other Hair Dyes. The Mystery can be used to shade half, or spots that have changed, restored to their original shade without injuring the hair, as well as all over the head, as is necessary when other Hair Dyes.

Sample box sent free by mail to any address in United States upon receipt of price. One bottle, the inventor and proprietor,

JAMES TURNER, Chemist,
P. O. Box 2701. New Orleans.

Wholesale Agents—J. L. Lyons, New Orleans; Leek, Finlay & Co., New Orleans; E. J. Hart, New Orleans, and for sale by Druggists everywhere.

N. JENKINS' ANNIHILATOR.

JENKINS' VEGETABLE COMPOUND, for the permanent cure of

Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia.

Beat the Annihilator will do.

From one to two bottles will cure any case of Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia.

Four to six bottles, according to duration of disease, will cure any case of Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia.

Is offered to the afflicted as a regulator of the circulation of the blood known to

N. JENKINS,
No. 1 Lampard street, New Orleans.

Wholesale Agents—E. R. FINLAY & CO., New Orleans.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Bricks! Bricks! Bricks!

ROY'S BRICK YARD,

BURGUNDY PARISH, four Blocks below the Slaughterhouse.

The undersigned respectfully informs builders, and all consumers of Bricks, that he is actively manufacturing Bricks at Roy's Brick Yard near the Slaughterhouse, where he has always on hand a large quantity of country-made Brick and Kettle Pile, ready to be delivered at short notice.

FREDERIC ROY.

Interested with S. Roy, at C. Favrot & Son's, No. 35 Decatur street, or at the Brick Yard, will be promptly attended to.

J. A. LACROIX,
PROPRIETOR OF THE
Pontchartrain Cheap Store,
N. FRENCHMEN AND VICTORY STREETS.

Ladies', Gents', Misses' and Children's

BOOTS AND SHOES

OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.

Always on hand, a full assortment of first-class goods at prices which defy competition. Call and examine my stock before purchasing elsewhere. Motto—Quick Sales and Small Profits.

JNO. F. LITHER,
29 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,
MANUFACTURER OF ALL KINDS OF
SCHOOL, COLLEGE, CHURCH, CLASS, SOCIETY AND FRATERNITY
PINS, BADGES & MEDALS,
at short notice, and very reasonable.

For Presentation Medals, a specialty. Orders shall attended to.

Lower Coast Semi-Weekly Packet,

FOR PORT EADS, SOUTHWEST Pass, Pilot Town, Forts Jackson and St. Philip, Buras Settlement, Pointe a la Hache and all way landings. The new, swift, pressure Steamer

MARTHA,

W. S. Bassett, Master,

Leaves for above every WEDNESDAY at 12 M., SATURDAY at 5 P. M.

Returning every MONDAY and FRIDAY.

For freight or passage apply on board, or to HITE & CARRIN, Agents.

CISTERN-MAKER.

R. BRODERICK,

Nos. 132, 134 AND 136 JULIA ST.,

Between Camp and Magazine, New Orleans.

Constantly on hand an assortment of Cisterns and Hand Cistern always on hand. All orders promptly attended to.

SELF-INKING "BEST"

PRINTING PRESS OUTFIT and PRESS $10. Presses from $4.50 to $65. Rotary Presses from $40 to $125. Send stamp for catalogues.
H. HOOVER & CO.,
50 North 4th street,
Philadelphia.

MENEELY & COMPANY,

Bell Founders, West Troy, New York.

Fifty years established. CHURCH BELLS and CHIMES; ACADEMY, FACTORY BELLS, etc. Improved Patent Mountings. Catalogues free.

CARPET WAREHOUSE.

17 CHARTRES STREET 17

All GRADES—Wilton, Axminster, Velvet, Brussels Tapestry, Three-Ply, etc.

OIL CLOTH—English and American.

MATTINGS—800 rolls White, Check and Fancy.

WINDOW SHADES, Table and Piano Covers, FURNITURE, and CURTAIN GOODS in great variety.

RUGS, Table and Enamel OIL CLOTHS.

A. BROUSSEAU.

BUSINESS CARDS.

J. F. HOHRBACHER,

MANUFACTURER AND DEALER IN

BOOTS AND SHOES,

NO. 237 CAMP STREET,

Between St. Joseph and Delord, New Orleans.

Country orders promptly attended to.

MARTIN WEYDIG,

NO. 170 POYDRAS ST., NEW ORLEANS,

MANUFACTURER OF

SADDLES, HARNESS AND HOSE.

Firemen's and Military Equipments made to order. Dealer in all kinds of Leather and Rubber Hose, Leather and Rubber Pipes, Suctions and Fire Buckets, Horse Sheets and Blankets, Lap Dusters, Buggy Robes, Fly Nets and Whips, and all kinds of Saddlery Hardware. Country orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

A. B. GRISWOLD & CO.,

120 CANAL AND ROYAL STS.,

WATCHES, JEWELRY, DIAMONDS

AND SILVERWARE.

Watches and Jewelry repaired in the best manner. Goods sent C. O. D., and returnable if not suitable. Everything guaranteed to be as represented.

H. SPIERING,

UPHOLSTERER,

651 MAGAZINE ST. 651

Near Jackson, New Orleans.

Parlor Sets manufactured at New York prices. Spring, Hair and Moss Mattresses made. Loose Covers cut and made to order. Carpets laid, and taken up, cleaned and stored. All work guaranteed.

G. SCIACCALUGA, IMPORTER,

AND WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALER IN

GROCERIES, SHIP CHANDLERY, Etc.

Nos. 157 and 159 Old Levee St.,

Between Jefferson and St. Peter, New Orleans.

A full assortment of Italian, Tar, Oakum, Hemp and Manilla Rope. Every article in assortment of French and Catalonian wines. Italian Macaroni and Vermicelli, etc.

COAL. COAL. COAL.

B. D. WOOD & BRO'S.,

Corner Camp and Common Streets,

Will receive and keep on consignment COAL, Pittsburg Coal delivered to any boat or part of coast, and shipped on orders at short notice. Trade mark, Crown and Anchor.

LUMBER AT ALL TIMES.

J. A. NETTER,

SUCCESSOR TO

J. A. FOLEY, 315 DELTA STREET

WOOD COAL LUMBER.

NO. 351 BAYADES STREET, between Ursulines and Erato streets. Respectfully offers for sale Oak, Ash and Pine Cordwood and Split Wood, at lowest rates. Pittsburg and Anthracite Coal and Charcoal at the lowest market rates. Also agent for WILLIAMS' Patent Saw Set, for sale at the shortest notice. Orders left at the office, 351 Bayades street, or at 32 Bank Rope street, will receive prompt attention. Satisfaction guaranteed.

SAM SNEED.

LOUISIANA STEAM SASH, BLIND AND DOOR FACTORY.

ROBERTS & CO., PROPRIETORS,

301, 303, 305 and 307 Gravier Street,

Country orders solicited. New Orleans.

WILLIAM VELDEN,

DEALER IN

WOOD, COAL AND ICE,

Corner Philip and Prytania Streets,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Steel and Fish kept on ice free of charge.

BOOTS, SHOES, AND TRUNKS,

OF VARIOUS QUALITIES AND PRICES

At Low Figures for Cash.

Country Merchants and Planters will do well to give me a call before purchasing elsewhere.

H. MEMME,

No. 91 Magazine street, and No. 61 Dryades street.

JOHN A. CAIRNS,

GENERAL ENGRAVER,

101 CANAL STREET 101

Wedding and Visiting Cards neatly engraved and printed.

Special attention given to Crests, Monograms, etc., etc. Jewelry and Silverware marked artistically.

ADOLPHE J. LEROY & CO.,

BOOK BINDERS, RULERS,

AND BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURERS,

92 Camp Street 92

(Over James A. Gresham's) New Orleans.

Music Books and Periodicals bound in any desired style.

J. A. LEH & CO., N. ALBERT HOOKER.

J. A. LEH & CO.,

MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN

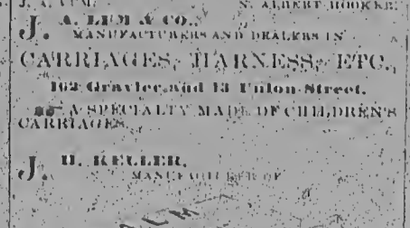
CARRIAGES, HARNESS, ETC.,

102 Gravier and 13 Union Street.

A SPECIALTY MADE OF CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

J. H. KELLER,

MANUFACTURER OF



Office, 110 Gravier St. ESTABLISHED 1849.

ALL KINDS OF LAUNDRY AND TOILET SOAPS.

JOHN I. ADAMS. JAS. I. ADAMS. WM. H. RENAUD.

JOHN I. ADAMS & CO.,

WHOLESALE GROCERS,

AND DEALERS IN

PROVISIONS, LARD, OIL, ETC.,

Nos. 13, 15 and 17 Peters Street,

(Formerly New Levee street.) New Orleans.

PELICAN

IMPROVED RICE MILLS.

J. B. & N. JOHNSON, PROPRIETORS,

154, 156 and 158 Magazine St., New Orleans.

MILLING RATES—No 1 at 50 per pound; No. 2 at 3c. per pound. Address all orders for empty sacks to P. O. Box 230.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DR. W. G. AUSTIN,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE,

Corner Jackson and Magazine Streets,

New Orleans.

Entrance on Jackson street (Upper City Hotel.)

Office hours—8 to 10 A. M. and 2 to 5 P. M.

GEORGE J. FRIEDRICHS,

DENTIST,

155 St. Charles Street 155

NEW ORLEANS.

DR. JOHN W. ADAMS,

SURGEON DENTIST,

Office and Residence—No. 341 DAUPHINE ST.,

(Late Creatmen street,) one door from corner of Spain, New Orleans.

Nitrous Oxide Gas administered for the painless extraction of Teeth. Teeth inserted on Gold, Silver and Vulcanite bases.

A. E. TUCKER,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

(Late of Franklin, St. Mary Parish, La.)

100 COMMON STREET 100

(Up stairs.) New Orleans.

REMOVAL.—A CARD.—In obedience to the expressed wishes of many of my patrons I have removed to my residence, on Napoleon avenue, 16 TIVOLI CIRCLE, west side, corner of Delord street. Puts off of this locality by reason of its affording excellent roofing and light, and its central location and ease of access by car lines.

My patrons need scarcely be reminded that no effort will be spared to render them the best service. In dentistry the best is always the cheapest.

J. R. WALKER, D. D. S.

DR. C. C. CHICHAM,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE,

Corner Prytania St. and Jackson,

NEW ORLEANS.

Office hours—From 10 to 12 A. M. and three to four P. M.

DR. J. J. LYONS,

No. 2 Dryades Street,

New Orleans.

P. L. SEGUREAU, Former, Chief Inspector Louisiana Q. C. R. R.

W. FOSTER

SEGUREAU, RACE & FOSTER,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

AND SOLICITORS,

Corner of Carondelet and Commercial Place,

New Orleans.

MISCELLANEOUS.

GREAT JACKSON ROUTE.

NEW ORLEANS, ST. LOUIS AND CHICAGO RAILROAD

On and after Monday, October 9, 1876, trains will depart and arrive as follows, from Depot, Hope street, Depot.

DEPART. ARRIVE.

Mail 11 A. M. 4 P. M.

Accommodation 5 P. M. 11 A. M.

PULLMAN PALACE SLEEPING CARS to Louisville, Chicago, Kansas City and Cincinnati.

Only one change of Sleeping cars to Kansas City.

Through Mail train runs daily to Memphis.

Tickets for sale and information given at No. 42 Camp street, corner of Common, and at City Hotel.

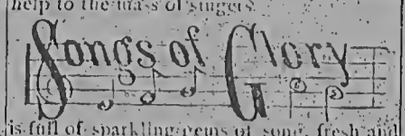
A. R. SHELTON, Agent.

E. D. FROST, General Manager.

SONGS OF GLORY.

By JAS. H. FILLMORE,

has already reached the sale of over 50 000 copies. The new notation (specimen in the above cut), is heartily received as a great help to the mass of singers.



is full of sparkling gems of song, fresh and new, and must become immensely popular. Price 35 cts., $3.60 per doz. by express, $4.20 by mail.

FILLMORE BROS., Cincinnati, O.

PLASTER PARIS MODELS

For Drawing Classes.

BUSTS, MASKS AND STATUES FROM THE Antique, Busts, medium size, small size. Figures from the Elgin Marbles. Anatomical Figures (Flaxman). Animals, Heads of Animals. Reliefs. Reliefs, Pedestals, Religious Statues. Fruit and Flowers in Relief. Large assortment of Leaves in Relief. Orders by mail promptly attended to. Goods carefully packed and sent by any part of the United States, at the lowest rates of freight.

R. CASTELUCCHI,
14 Grand street, New York.

H. J. RIVET,

DEALER IN

Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines

AND PERFUMERY AND IMPORTER OF FRENCH PROPRIETARY MEDICINES,

Cor. Bienville and Chartres Sts.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Proprietor of the celebrated Perchuel Bitters.

GET THE BEST.

YOU NO AMERICA'S Unlikers Wire the best. Presses from $4 to $75. The CENTENNIAL, just the Press for Boys. Complete Printing Office, $5. Before Ayer's, send 2 cent Stamp for new complete catalogue. C. W. WATSON, No. 7 Chapel, Boston.

WM. B. RINGROSE,

NO. 172 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS,

DEALER IN

New & Second-Hand Furniture.

Furniture bought, sold and exchanged. Now occupies the large and spacious store, 172 Camp street, between Girod and Julia, just above St. Patrick's Church, for the purpose of taking Furniture on storage at the lowest rates. Jobbing, repairing and moving promptly attended to.

SURESHOT VERMIN Exterminator. Bugs, Roaches, Ants, Flies, Rats, and Mice soon freed by mail, on the receipt of 50 cents, only.

W. FICHTENBERG,
76 Fulton street, New York.

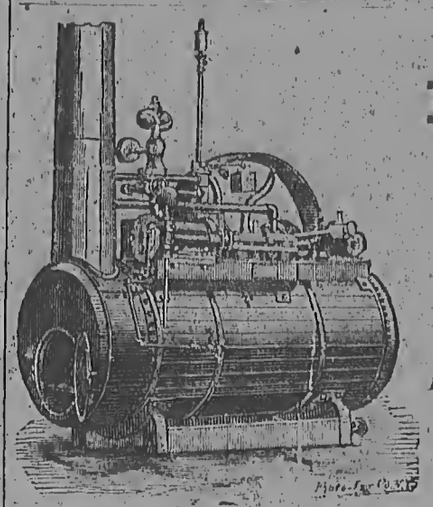
BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.

Established in 1837.

Superior Bells of Copper and Tin, mounted with the Patent Rotary Hangings, for Churches, Schools, Farms, Factories, Court Houses, Railroads, Steamboats, etc. Also Chime and Peal Bells. Illustrated Catalogue sent free.

Vanduzen & Tift, 102 & 104 Second St., Cincinnati, O.

MISCELLANEOUS.



PAYNE'S

Portable Engines.

5 TO 15 HORSE POWER.

B. J. WEST

SOLE AGENT

115 and 117 Magazine Street,

NEW ORLEANS.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST, ETC.

C. C. C.

The Complete Cotton Cleaner, a New, Valuable and Money-making Machine to every Cotton producer or ginner.—Thoroughly removes all Dust, Dirt, Sand and light Trash from cotton before ginning, and improves the quality of the lint in a manner to Forestall

No planter should be without one. Light, simple, and easily adjusted to either Horse or Steam power, requiring little or no fuel and little attention, and will pay for itself in less than ten days' work.

Manufactured and sold by

Allison Brothers, Memphis, Tenn.

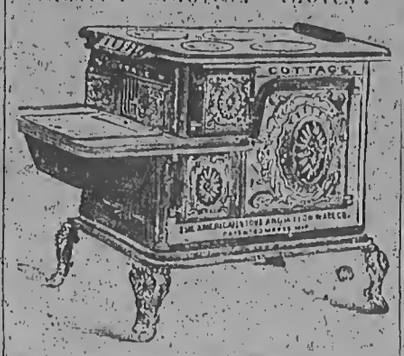
Send for Circulars and Price List.

FRIERSON & CO., Agents, 17 Carondelet St., New Orleans, La.

ALWAYS ASK FOR ESTERBROOK'S STEEL PENS. Works Camden, N. J. NEW-YORK OFFICE, 26 JOHN ST.

FOR SALE BY ALL STATIONERS. Samples & Prices on application.

Stoves! Stoves! Stoves!



THE CHEAPEST AND THE "BEST."

THE COTTAGE COOKING STOVES, to which I call particular attention, are unsurpassed, in any stove made for economy, durability, and most perfect BAKING. They carry a uniform heat all over the oven and can be adapted to burning COAL, WOOD OR COAL AND WOOD. For WOOD without any additional fixtures. Some sold under a full warranty. Free to those who represented to the money will be refunded.

Also a variety of other COOKING STOVES at every price, from $10 upward.

HEATING STOVES,

A large assortment of offices, portable, suitable for Churches, Schools, Stores, Banking Rooms, etc., at prices which defy competition. Every box Stove to suit the times. Also Grates.

TINWARE OF EVERY KIND,

and description, to suit the country trade, on which I defy all UNPRECEDENTED LOW PRICES FOR CASH. Agent for the unparalleled sale of Cole's

Steam Washer, or Woman's Friend.

Will clean a common cloth in WITHOUT RUBBING. Every one sold IS FULLY WARRANTED. It saves labor, wear and tear, and the consequence of washday. It is truly a beloved and cherished saving machine. Three hundred thousand have already been sold throughout the States since 1874.

Agents and County Rights for sale.

Call and see at No. 31 Magazine street.

C. W. WATSON.

The Best and Cheapest Sunday School Library.

GRAND CHEAP LIBRARY.

No. 2.

50 Choice Illustrated Vols., large type, bound in Muslin and Lasting, and not to any other Select Library. This Library contains over 12,000 printed pages, profusely illustrated with large full page engravings and many of the smaller size. All the volumes in this Library are valuable and instructive. The price of the Library is $25, from which we make a discount of twenty per cent. to Sunday Schools making the

Net Price for 50 Large Books only $22.00.

The books are different from those in No. 1, and some are larger.

SUNDAY SCHOOL SETS.—Sunday school libraries of the size of these in this Library are usually sold at from $45 to $75. Nothing like this Library has been offered before at a small sum.

PUBLISHED BY THE

American Sunday School Union,

1122 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. ALEX. KIRKPATRICK,

8 and 10 Bible House, New York. A. S. SEFIELD,

16 Winter street, Boston. J. A. CROWELL,

98 Dearborn street, Chicago. W. R. PEET,

207 N. 8th St., St. Louis. S. PAXSON.

TO THE PUBLIC.

A CERTAIN PARTIES are giving themselves out as the Sole Agents of the manufacturers of Perique Tobacco at Pointe Coupee, St. James parish, I would respectfully state that I am of the following manufacturers of Grand Pointe de LAVE ROUSSEL,

THE DULY AUTHORIZED AGENT

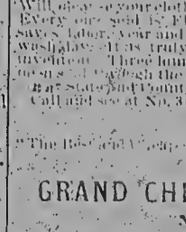
LEWIS DUPUY,
ARTHUS LAVE-ROUSSEL,
E. ST. PIERRE,
And many others.

EDMOND BOURGEOIS,
No. 78 Carondelet street.

CHAIR WAREHOUSE.



50 DIFFERENT STYLES of CANE SEAT CHAIRS, also CANE CHAIRS CAMP CHAIRS AND FENCE FOLDING CHAIRS, etc.

Specialties:

CHAIRS for CHURCHES, PUBLIC HALLS, Schools, COLLEGES, Seminaries, etc. Wholesale and Retail.

T. H. WISLER,
21 & 23 N. Sixth St.
Philadelphia, Pa.

LIME, SAND, BRICKS, ETC.

Lime, Sugar Lime, Cement, Plaster, Plastering Hair, White and Yellow Sand, Fire Clay Paving, Building, Country and Arch Bricks, English and Pittsburg Fire Bricks, Large and Small White Sands, Lath, Shingles, Fire Tiles, Sulphur, Tar, Pitch and Resin at the lowest market rates. For sale by

JOHN C. STEWART,
66 Gravier street, and
500 Julia st. Rampart and Davis Sts.

ACENTS WANTED.

Goodyear's Pocket Gymnasium

ENDORSED BY THE MOST EMINENT PHYSICIANS

The most complete system of physical exercise ever devised for Home Practice. Lady or child can use by day or night. Invaluable for Delicate, Nervous, and Children. For Standing, Sitting or Recumbent Movements. For homes, offices, schools, hospitals.

Price List—No. 1 for children 3 to 6, $1.20; No. 1, for children 6 to 11, $1.50; No. 2, for ladies and children 11 years and upward, $2.00; No. 3, for gentlemen of moderate strength, $2.50; No. 4, used by ladies, children, or sports, $3.00; No. 5, for gentlemen of extra strength, $3.50. Full set, 5 pulleys, $10. Set No. 1, for children, $2.50; No. 2, for ladies and children, $3.00; No. 3, for gentlemen, $3.50; No. 4, for athletes, $4.00; No. 5, for athletes, $4.50. Each set is furnished with a screw eye and hook, to attach to the wall or floor. A pair of No. 2 sets, or a No. 3 make a complete gymnasium and Health Lift. Sent postpaid on receipt of price. Exclusive agencies granted in unoccupied territory.

Exclusive rights to sell the Pocket Gymnasium afford the largest possible returns for small investments. Its use is universal. Wherever it is placed it gives the most unbounded satisfaction. Its merits justify this declaration.

For full descriptive circulars, terms, etc., address

Goodyear Rubber Curler Company,
P. O. Box 5,643. 697 Broadway, New York.
MANUFACTURERS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION OF RUBBER GOODS.

HOLMAN'S

Fever and Ague and Liver Pad

CURES WITHOUT MEDICINE.

ACTING BY ABSORPTION.

The Best Liver Regulator in the World.

The only sure cure for and preventive of malaria, chills and fever, bilious fever, dumb ague, fever and ague, remittent fever, and all diseases of the liver, stomach, kidneys, and bowels.

Note genuine without the Trade Mark and signature of the Inventor on the wrapper.

For sale by druggists, and sent by express on application to

JAMES HART and Proprietors,
Memphis, Tenn.,
and Customhouse st., New Orleans.

Price $2 and $3.

20,000

ORANGE TREES!

BY

W. R. STUART,

OCEAN SPRINGS, MISS.

LOUISIANA STATE MANDARIN, BRAZILIAN (budded on sour stock, and SWEET SEEDLINGS, well rooted. Price, from 20c. up to $1 each, according to age and number wanted.

Also SOUR SEEDLINGS for grafting or budding, and for ornamental purposes, from 2 feet to 5 feet high, according to number wanted.

Trees are all packed and shipped from point. No charge for packing and boxes. Trees guaranteed to reach their destination in good order. Terms cash. Trees a specialty.

KING SOLOMON AND THE IRON WORKER.

The finest Moses & Pizzagalli Steel ever published. The finest Tradition of the Dedication of the Great Temple of Jerusalem and Its Builders. From the original Paintings by Prof. E. Seesselle.

ENGRAVED BY JOHN SARTAIN.

Photo-Lithographed by Mercantile Lithographic Co., New York.

Pronounced by the Press and Artists, as regards to the work of their ancient brethren.

We want a Few Bright Men to act as Agents.

It is Sartain's best work, and we think the finest engraving we have ever seen.—Philadelphia Press.

It is a perfect work of art.—Evening Telegraph, Philadelphia.

For terms, circulars and specimens, with full information for this and other engravings, address

BRADLEY & CO.,
86 N. Fourth St., Philadelphia.

OTTO ZEIL,

General Engraver and Book-Binders' Tool Cutter,

Designs made for Side and Back Stamps.

N. W. COR. FOURTH AND MAIN STREETS, (Second Floor) CINCINNATI, O.

Hat Trade Mark Gilding Stamps, Shoe Ornamental Stitcher Stamps, Burning Brands, Door Plates etc.

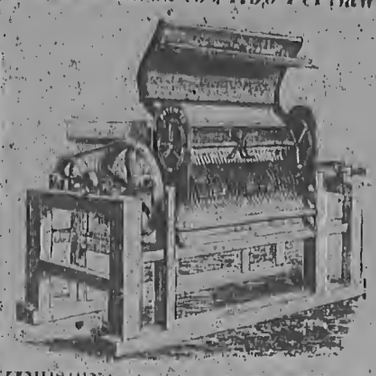
MACHINERY, TIES, ETC.

DANIEL PRATT'S IMPROVED

"Revolving Head" Cotton Gin.

PATENTED JULY 15, 1873.

Price Reduced to $4.50 Per Saw.



THIS GIN has been in use for the past three seasons, and several recent improvements have been added. It obviates all friction at the ends of the cotton box; prevents the roll from breaking, and gives a Larger Yield of Lint from the Same Amount of Seed than any other Gin in use. The Revolving Head lightens the draft and causes the Gin to run easier with less driving power, thus doing a great deal more work within the same time. A bale even among the seed or cultural power than any other Gin. The Seed being ginned very clean, the length of the staple is increased, producing cotton on this account of a greater market value. This improved Gin alone, given by length of staple, with extra production of lint, added to increased amount of work done, more than covers the cost of the Gin in every particular. Testimonials sent by mail on application.

JOS. B. WOLFE & CO.,

GENERAL AGENTS,

30 Carondelet St 30

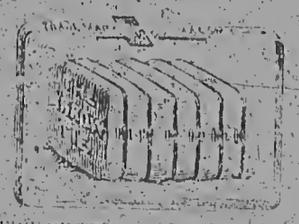
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

BEN. F. WOLFE,

AGENT FOR THE STATE OF TEXAS,

22 Main Street 22

HOUSTON, TEXAS.



OFFICE OF THE

American Cotton Tie Co.

(LIMITED.)

37 CARONDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS

TO DEALERS IN

IRON COTTON TIES,

Planters and Country Merchants Generally.

We beg to inform you that we are prepared, through our regularly established Agents, to supply the trade in any quantity with the following celebrated Ties:

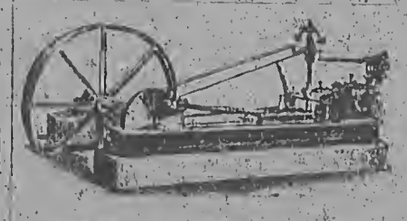
THE ARROW AND SIDE SLOT.
BEARD & BRO'S LOCK TIE.
BRANCH, CROOKES & CO'S LOCK TIE.

We also beg to inform the public that the interests of Messrs. Beard & Bro. and Branch, Crookes & Co. are now merged into and with the AMERICAN COTTON TIE CO. (LIMITED.) The following are the New Orleans Agents:

Stone & Tutt, Ogden & Bell,
Christ & Bro'l, Archer & Borland,
Williams, Dillon, D. L. Rankett & Co.

For the American Cotton Tie Co. (Limited)

R. W. PAYNE & CO.,
General Agents.



STEAM ENGINES,

BOILERS & MACHINERY

MANUFACTURED BY

I. & E. GREENWALD,

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Having been established since 1847, we are prepared to supply the best MACHINERY to Sawmill and Woodworking planters and buyers, promptly at low prices.

Refer to Isham Harrison, Esq., and Stephen Alfred, Esq., of New Orleans, and H. H. Gibson, Esq., of Shreveport, La.

The Cheapest, Simplest, and Strongest TIE in the market. Costs about one-half the price of other ties. Traveling salesmen wanted on liberal commissions. Address

H. G. LITTLOW,
21 and 23 Market street, St. Louis, Mo.

STATIONARY AND PORTABLE ENGINES, STEAM BOILERS FOR FLOUR AND GRIST MILLS. MILL GEARING MADE. PATTERNS. SHAFTING, PULLEYS AND HANGERS. IMPROVED DESIGNS. A SPECIALTY. The UNEQUALLED JAS. LEFFEL DOUBLE TURBINE WATER WHEEL. 7000 in use. Address POOLE & HUNT, BALTIMORE, MD. SEND FOR CIRCULARS.

CHALLENGE Stationery Package. The most complete package for home use ever offered. Contains 3 sheets of paper, 3 envelopes, 1 pencil, 1 penholder, 1 gold pen, package of Pen Ink, 1 ink eraser, 1 rubber, 1 lead pencil, 1 box of wafers, 1 box of sealing wax, 1 almanac, 1 pack of cards, and many other articles, all packed in a neat box, and sent to any address on receipt of 50 cents. Agents wanted. Send for circular and terms to agents.

T. STOCKMAN, 27 Beekman St., New York.

ELECTRO & STEREO TYPE FOUNDRY.

WOOD ENGRAVING AND PRINTING.

QUINN, CAMPBELL & CO., 174, 176 & 178 Elm St., Cin. O.

Presses and Printing Material.

76 VISITING CARDS, no 2 alike, 1 name, 30 cts. and 3 ct. stamp. 4 packs, 4 names, $1. Prettiest assortment you ever saw. No better work in the world, at any price! Common Cards at Unheard-of rates. Write plain. W. C. CANNON, 712 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

TEACHERS WANTED—To supply vacancies in Schools, Academies, and Seminaries in the different States. Send for "Mutual Plan." Address American Educational Union, 737 Broadway, N. Y.

New Orleans Markets.

ADVOCATE OFFICE,
New Orleans, Tuesday, Nov. 21, 1876.

MONETARY.

Premium bonds sold as high as 311. Consols held at 96@97. Gold, 110¼@110¾. Sight exchange on New York, ¼ per cent. discount. Exchange on London, 527. Rate of interest, New York, 3 per cent. Rate of interest, Liverpool, 2 per cent. Exceptional paper, 8@9. Second-grade paper, 12@18.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE ASSOCIATED BANKS,

At the close of business, Friday, Nov. 17, 1876.

RESOURCES.

Specie	$104,219 14
Currency	2,596,302 00
Clearinghouse exchanges	1,859,521 71
Checks on other local banks and bankers	35,210 05
Domestic and foreign exchange	2,033,877 76
Due from distant banks and bankers	270,403 38
Loans and discounts	12,611,141 52
Other cash assets	3,810,980 59
Total	$23,470,256 56

LIABILITIES.

Circulation	$893,197 50
Deposits	12,272,073 88
Due distant banks and bankers	1,101,522 91
Other cash liabilities	196,042 71
Total	$15,357,837 16

J. N. MAYNARD, Manager.

COTTON.

The following is from the weekly cotton report of Messrs. W. C. Watts & Co., Liverpool, dated November 3, 1876:

The Position, Etc.—Never before in the history of this market was so large a business done in cotton as yesterday, when not only were 40,000 bales sold on the spot, but it is supposed about as much more was sold on shippers' samples, or for future delivery or arrival. What is somewhat surprising is that such an unprecedented business should have been done and prices advanced only about an 1d. per lb. On the twenty-first of June, 1865, 40,000 bales were sold, of which only 5,000 were American, and the actual weight was very much smaller than the sales of yesterday; yet on that occasion middling American advanced ¾d. per lb.—say from 18½d. to 19¼d.—and two days later, notwithstanding sales of only 20,000 and 15,000 bales, prices further advanced ¼d. On the twenty-ninth of September, 1865, 35,000 bales were sold, and the next day 40,000 bales were sold, and prices in the two days advanced for middling American 3d. per lb.—say from 21d. to 24d.

Another strange feature about the market this week is that this activity should have occurred in the face of enormous receipts at the American ports, for these now promise to be about 200,000 bales this week, against 175,000 same week last year, which brings up the excess to date—since the first of September—to about 100,000 bales, and, so far as receipts are a criterion, point to a crop largely in excess of last season. But, from the tenor of advices received here, the impression seems to gain ground that the receipts at the ports so far are no criterion of the ultimate yield, for it is said that owing to drouth, rust, frost, etc., that the plants are now dead; has no late squares or bolls to mature; that picking will this season close much earlier than usual, whereas last season it was prolonged, owing to the vitality of the plant and the mildness of the autumn and winter, until January and February in many sections of the Southwest. So far as we can judge, popular estimates now range here from 4,000 000 to 4,400,000, or an average of 4,250,000, which it is generally believed will be far from supplying the wants of the world, as pointed out in our last report.

DAILY EXCHANGE QUOTATIONS.

Day.	Low Ordinary	Ordinary	Good Ordinary.	Low Middling.	Middling.	Strictly Good
Wednesday	10¾	11	11¼	11¾	12	12¼
Thursday	10¾	11	11¼	11¾	12	12¼
Friday	10¾	11	11¼	11¾	12	12¼
Saturday	10¾	11	11¼	11¾	12	12¼
Monday	10¾	11	11¼	11¾	12	12¼
Tuesday	10¾	11	11¼	11¾	12	12¼

DAILY QUOTATIONS AT THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT MARKETS.

Cotton—Middling.

	Mobile.	Galveston.	Memphis.
Wednesday	11@11¼	11¾	11
Thursday	11	11¾	11
Friday	11	11¾	11
Saturday	11	11¾	11
Monday	11@11¼	11¾	11
Tuesday	11	11	11

MOVEMENT OF NEW ORLEANS, NEW YORK AND LIVERPOOL MARKETS.

NEW ORLEANS.

Day.	Receipts.	Sales.	Market.	Price.
Wednesday	10,000	Active	Firm	Middling 12 3-16
Thursday	3,000	Quiet	Steady	12 3-16
Friday	1,350	Quiet	Steady	12 3-16
Saturday	1,312	Dull	Dull	12 3-16
Monday	1,500	Dull	Dull	12 3-16
Tuesday	1,450	Quiet	Steady	12 3-16
Total	18,612

NEW YORK.

Day.	Receipts.	Sales.	Market.	Price.
Wednesday	3,500	Active	Firm	Middling 12 3-16
Thursday	3,500	Quiet	Steady	12 3-16
Friday	3,500	Quiet	Dull	12 3-16
Saturday	3,500	Dull	Dull	12 3-16
Monday	3,500	Dull	Dull	12 3-16
Tuesday	3,500	Quiet	Steady	12 3-16
Total	21,000

LIVERPOOL.

Day.	Receipts.	Sales.	Market.	Price.
Wednesday	44,000	34,000	Active	Middling 6 11-16
Thursday	44,000	34,000	Active	Middling 6 11-16
Friday	44,000	34,000	Active	Middling 6 11-16
Saturday	44,000	34,000	Active	Middling 6 11-16
Monday	44,000	34,000	Active	Middling 6 11-16
Tuesday	44,000	34,000	Active	Middling 6 11-16
Total	264,000	204,000

COTTON STATEMENT.

	Bales.
Stock at all the United States ports	833,417
Stock at New Orleans	231,645
Net receipts at New Orleans	39,164
Net receipts last year	31,511
Increase	8,653
Net receipts at all ports of the United States	1,168,731
Net receipts last year	1,270,855
Increase	102,124
Stock in Liverpool	420,000
Of which American	161,000
World's cotton supply, November 3	2,591,000
Last year same date	2,222,000

Report of Dealers' Cash Prices

AT WHICH

COUNTRY ORDERS CAN BE FILLED,

REVISED AND CORRECTED WEEKLY.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

ARTICLES.	FROM	TO
Cotton scrapers	$4 00	— —
Cotton sweeps	3 00	4 50
Cultivators, plain, and shovel-tooth	6 25	9 00
Cultivators, riding and walking	20 00	35 00
Shovels and spades	6 35	14 00
Axes	9 50	13 00
Shovel plows	3 00	5 50
Half do., with cutters	6 00	8 00
Manly's double-shovel plow	5 00	7 00
Straub's corn mills	115 00	250 00
Corn mills, Coleman's	120 00	425 00
B. J. Wise's corn drill	200 00	— —
Tunnard's corn and pea planter	15 00	— —
Cotton planter	95 00	— —
Wagons, Carts, Etc.:
Wagon, two-horse	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	100 00	115 00
Wagon, two-horse, thim. skein	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	80 00	100 00
Cane wagon	— —	200 00
Ox wagon	80 00	125 00
Ox cart, complete	110 00	125 00
Cane cart	110 00	115 00
Tongue cart, complete	— —	120 00
Plantation cart	— —	55 00
Bagasse cart	65 00	75 00
Iron, ₰ lb.:
Swedes, assorted	7	7½
Hoop	4½	5
Sheet	6½	7
Nail rods	— —	10
Castings, American	4½	—

BUILDING MATERIAL.

Bricks, ₰ M.:
Lake	10 50	14 00
Country	9 00	10 00
English dry	45 00	47 00
Lime, ₰ bbl.:
Western	1 50	1 75
Cement	2 00	2 25
Plaster Paris	2 25	2 50
Lumber, ₰ 1,000 feet:
Flooring, dressed	16 00	18 00
Flooring, rough	16 00	16 00
Ceiling, dressed	10 00	12 00
Weatherboards, dressed	14 00	16 00
Weatherboards, rough	— —	— —
Scantling	10 00	12 00
Shingles, ₰ 1,000	— —	3 75
Nails, best brands	3 50	— —
Smaller sizes proportionately higher	— —	— —
Glass, ₰ box of 50 feet:
French, 8 by 10	— —	3 50
French, 10 by 12	3 75	4 00
French, 10 by 14 to 12 by 20	4 00	4 25
French, 14 by 18 to 18 by 30	4 25	4 75
White Lead, bed, ₰ lb	11	10
Paris Green, ₰ lb	30	—
Pat. Dryer, ₰ lb	12	14
Whiting, ₰ lb	— —	1¾
Putty, in bladders, ₰ lb	— —	3½
Linseed Oil, ₰ gall	— —	70

SASH, BLINDS AND DOORS.

Window Sash, 12 lights:

Size of lights.	Sash, per pair. Unglazed.	Glazed.	Blinds, per pair.
8x10	$0 75	$1 70	$2 00
10x12	65	1 35	2 25
10x16	$1 00	2 05	3 25

Sash Doors:	Single.	Double.
3 feet x 7 feet	$3 50	$3 70
3 feet x 8 feet	4 00	— —
3 feet x 7 feet 6 inches	— —	4 25

Panel Doors:

2 ft. 8 in. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	$3 25
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	3 45
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	$3 75 4 00

GROCERIES.

Butter, ₰ lb.:
Western, choice	— —	26
Goshen, choice	34	36
Coffee, ₰ lb.:
Rio, fair	18½	19¾
Rio, good	20	21
Rio, prime	21½	22½
Java, choice O. G.	— —	31
Candles, ₰ lb.:
Star, best brands	— —	15
Chocolate, ₰ lb.:
Cocoa	— —	31
Sweet	28	33
Canned Fruits, ₰ doz.:
Peaches, strawberries and pears	2 25	2 50
Corn Meal, ₰ bbl.:
Best, K. D.	3 15	3 25
Cheese, ₰ lb.:
Western factory	12½	14
N. Y. cream and English dairy	15½	16
Fish:
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in bbls	— —	22 00
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in kits	— —	3 00
Sardines, quarter boxes	— —	15½
Flour, ₰ bbl.:
Superfine	4 25	4 50
XX	5 75	6 00
XXX	6 25	6 75
Choice XXX	6 75	7 25
Choice family	7 00	8 00
Fruits:
Dried apples, ₰ lb	10	10½
Dried peaches, ₰ lb	9½	10
Raisins, ₰ quarter box	— —	1 60
Raisins, ₰ half box	— —	1 60
Raisins, ₰ whole box	— —	2 75
Bananas, ₰ bunch	1 00	3 00
Crackers, ₰ lb.:
Soda	— —	8
Butter	— —	7
Sugar	— —	9
Gingersnaps	— —	12½
Oil:
Coal, in cans, best	— —	38
Insurance, in cans	— —	31
Coal, in barrels, best	— —	33
Lard, in barrels, best	1 10	1 12
Molasses, in barrels:
Common	— —	45
Fair	— —	50
Prime to choice	50	53
Golden and Etoquet drips	80	85
Half bbls. 5c and kegs 10c. more.
Rice, Louisiana, ₰ lb.:
No. 2	— —	3
Ordinary	4½	5
Fair	5½	5¾
Prime to choice	6¼	7½
Soap, in boxes, ₰ lb.:
Keller's magnolia	— —	5
Keller's olive	— —	6½
Starch, ₰ lb	4	5
Salt, in sacks:
Fine	1 30	35
Coarse	1 05	1 10
Sugar, in hhds.:
Fair	— —	8½
Prime	— —	10
Choice	10	10¾
Yellow clarified	11	11¼
White clarified	11	11¾
Crushed	12	12¼
Powdered	12	12¼
Spices, ₰ lb.:
Allspice	— —	18
Pepper	— —	20
Cloves	— —	32
Cinnamon	— —	32
Tea, ₰ lb.:
Black Oolong	— —	1 00
Green Imperial	— —	1 25
Tobacco, manufactured, ₰ lb.:
Chewing, common	45	50
Chewing, fair	50	55
Chewing, prime	60	65
Chewing, choice	85	1 00
Smoking	40	1 00

GRAIN AND FEED.

Corn, ₰ bushel:
Yellow, choice	— —	55
White, mixed	— —	54
Oats, ₰ bushel:
St. Louis	— —	44
Texas	— —	42
Galena	— —	45
Bran, choice, ₰ 100 lbs	— —	1 10
Hay, ₰ ton:
Prime timothy	18 00	22 00
Ordinary	— —	14 00
Cotton Seed Meal	26 00	28 00

PROVISIONS.

Bacon, ₰ lb.:
Breakfast	11	11½
Shoulders	8	8½
Sides, clear rib	9	9½
Sides, clear	9½	10
Hams, sugar-cured	15	16
Mess Pork, ₰ bbl	— —	18 50
Dry Salted Meat:
Shoulders	— —	8
Lard, ₰ lb.:
Choice, in kegs	11	12
Choice, in tierces	11	11½

BAILING STUFFS.

Bagging:
India	10	10½
Jute	13	14
Ties, Arrow best, per bundle, at 30 lbs and buckles	— —	3 50
Rope	— —	3 50
Twine, hemp	— —	16

SUNDRIES.

Leather, ₰ lb.:
Sole, hemlock	33	38
Sole, oak	38	43
Harness	35	45
Calf skins, No. 1	70 00	75 00
Texas, rough, ₰ lb	24	26
Fertilizers, ₰ ton:
Sterrit's raw-bone superphosph	55 00	— —
Sterrit's ground bone	45 00	— —
Cotton Seed:
In sacks	11 00	— —

DRY GOODS.

Brown Domestic, ₰ yard:
Standard brands	— —	9
Standard brands, 4-4	— —	10½
Bleached Domestic, ₰ yard:
Choice brands	— —	12½
Choice brands, 4-4	— —	14½
Calico, ₰ yard:
Fashion brands	4½	5½
Sprague, Allen & Hamilton's	6½	7
Ticking, ₰ yard:
Covenant brands	10	13½
Good	10	12
Osnaburgs:
Eight ounce	11½	12
Stripes	10	14
Checks	14	18
Denims	13	20

BOOTS AND SHOES.

Balcher and brogs, ₰ doz	36 00	42 00
Campaign and boots, ₰ doz	— —	30 00
Cavalcade brogans, ₰ doz	42 00	45 00
Balcher brogans, ₰ doz	15 00	16 50
Roseau brogans, ₰ doz	16 00	19 50

Special Notices.

A Gem worth Reading!—A Diamond worth Seeing!

SAVE YOUR EYES!
Restore your Sight!
THROW AWAY your SPECTACLES,
By reading our Illustrated PHYSIOLOGY AND ANATOMY of the EYESIGHT. Tells how to Restore Impaired Vision and Overworked Eyes; how to cure Weak, Watery, Inflamed, and Near-Sighted Eyes, and all other Diseases of the Eyes.
WASTE NO MORE MONEY BY ADJUSTING HUGE GLASSES ON YOUR NOSE AND DISFIGURING YOUR FACE. Pamphlet of 100 pages Mailed Free. Send your address to us also.

Agents Wanted,

Gents or Ladies. $5 to $10 a day guaranteed. Full particulars sent free. Write immediately to DR. J. BALL & CO., (P. O. Box 957) No. 91 Liberty St., New York City, N. Y.

Religious Notices.

To the Presiding Elders and Preachers of the Alabama Conference:

Dear Brethren:—I respectfully request that those of you who will not attend the approaching session of the Annual Conference send me your names as early as practicable. Presiding Elders will please forward at once the names of lay delegates from their respective districts.

Fraternally, J. LEWIS, Jr., Acting Pastor
GREENSBORO, ALA., Dec. 17, 1876. 629-5t.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WELL WORTH TRYING.

GOODWYN'S

Eureka Yeast Powder.

TRADE MARK H F

A Product of Southern Industry that Gives General Satisfaction.

Read what prominent physicians of this city, who have examined the receipt for making the above Powders, have to say of them:

"They are perfectly healthful, and certainly must make good bread, and at the same time improve the flour they are mixed with."—Wm. H. Austin, M. D. "I regard it as a pure, excellent and healthful preparation."—C. J. Bickham, M. D. "The compound is all that can be desired in a yeast powder."—J. J. Lyons, M. D.

Hear also what a few of our lady friends among experienced housekeepers have to say of them. Says Mrs. Philip Hallmann: "They are not only good, but the best I have ever used." Mrs. J. W. Blackman: "They are splendid." Mrs. Thomas McKnight, Sr., to the manufacturer: "We never had any satisfaction in our house in the biscuit question till we got your powders." Mrs. Rev. N. A. Cravens, writing from Ilous on, Texas, says: "I am delighted with it and so is every lady friend who has tried it," and she further adds: "Biscuit made with it took the premium at our fair." Rev. H. F. Johnson, President Whitworth Female College, Brookhaven, Miss., who uses Goodwyn's Eureka, writing to the publisher of this paper, says: "As he makes the best yeast powder in the world, ought he not to have his card in the ADVOCATE?"

It is an article that never fails to speak for itself when it is fairly tried.

Most of our leading family grocers deal in it.

P. M. GOODWYN, Manufacturer,
No. 122 Terpsichore street, New Orleans, La.

N. B.—The attention of city and country trade as well as that of families is invited to the above. For 25 cents a sample box with instructions sent by mail to any address on application.

WOOD PUMPS

B — G

Blatchley's Standard Chemisted and Graft & Co.'s Pumps, with copper linings and all styles, and all valuable improvements. Manufacturing facilities greatly increased; stock and assortment LARGE, prices SMALL. When in town to the Big Exhibition, call and see us or send for catalogue, with prices and terms.

C. G. BLATCHLEY, Manuf'r,
506 Commerce street, Philadelphia.

These pumps can be seen in Centen'l Exhib., Agric'l Hall, Cor. Aisles 9 & N, Colonna Letter O, No. 10.

IRA W. PORTER & CO., Agents, Mobile, Ala.

FAIRBANKS' SCALES.

GUARANTEED U. S. STANDARD.

FAIRBANKS'

COTTON AND SUGAR BEAMS.

Branch House—53 Camp Street.

FAIRBANKS & CO.

CHURCH ORGANS.

WM. H. CLARKE & CO.,

CHURCH ORGAN BUILDERS,

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

Builders of the large Organ in Roberts Park M. E. Church, Indianapolis, and other large Organs in various parts of the United States. Specifications and details furnished to Church Committees without charge. Special facilities for the construction of instruments of every size for the Southern climate. Address P. O. Box 189.

N. B.—Mr. Clarke is well known as the author of popular works of Organ Music, familiar to all organists. sp-ow

DRY ROGERS' In Powder.

CITRATE OF MAGNESIA.

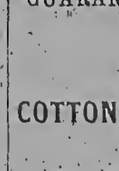
DURING the past twenty-five years it has received universal satisfaction as a pleasant aperient. It is the best medicine in Headache, Sickness of the Stomach, Heartburn, and all complaints arising from acidity, bilious and malarial fevers. It cools the blood and regulates the bowels. It is superior to Saratoga and most mineral waters. For sale by all druggists. Prepared by A. Rogers & Sons, New York City. eow

MIAMI MEDICAL COLLEGE

OF CINCINNATI.—Next session will commence Oct. 1, 1876. Preliminary session from Sept. 15. Professors' ticket, $70

FACULTY—John A. Murphy, M. D., Dean; E. Williams, M. D.; Wm. Clendenin, M. D.; Wm. H. Taylor, M. D.; J. H. Dougle, M. D.; W. H. Massey, M. D.; H. P. Richardson, M. D.; T. H. Kearney, M. D.; D. C. Mackenzie, M. D.; W. B. Davis, M. D. For circulars address WM. H. TAYLOR, M. D., No. 321 West Seventh street. sp-ow

D. LANGELL'S ASTHMA & CATARRH REMEDY.



Having struggled twenty years between life and death with ASTHMA, I experimented by compounding roots and herbs and inhaling the medicine. I fortunately discovered a sure cure for ASTHMA and CATARRH. Warranted to relieve any case of Asthma instantly, as the patient can be known to sleep. By mail, $1.00 per box. Address D. LANGELL, Apple Creek, Ohio. For sale by Druggists. eow

FREE! Samples best article ever sent free to ladies or gents. Business respectable, profitable and pleasant for clergyman, teachers and others of genteel appearance and average ability. Send your letters and address B. F. RAY & CO., Chicago.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LORD & TAYLOR,

NEW YORK.

OUR FALL IMPORTATIONS

Are now complete in all departments, and prices are very low. Our stock of

Black, Colored, and Fancy Silks

Is the largest and best assorted in the city, occupying one whole section in each store, and having been purchased and contracted for prior to the recent advance, we are prepared to sell at

LAST SEASON'S PRICES!!

OUR

DRESS GOODS DEPARTMENT

Embraces all the novelties in fall and winter costume Cloths, black and colored Cashmeres and Merinos, all-wool and mixed Plaids, Stripes, and Damassee styles, as well as

POPULAR DRESS FABRICS

In all the newest colorings and materials, from ten cents a yard upward.

OUR IMPORTATION OF

INDIA SHAWLS,

From the London auction sales, is very large and attractive, and prices about half former years. Real India, filled centers, at $65, $75, $85, and upward. Real Decca Shawls, at $12 to $75. Striped India Shawls, new designs, only $15. Checked Shawls, choice new colors, $11, upward. Also, Paris and Vienna Broche, Paisley filled, plain centres and stripes, and British and American Woolen Shawls, unrivaled for beauty and substantial value.

Our Ladies' and Children's Suit

—AND—

FURNISHING DEPARTMENT

Is now more thoroughly stocked and equipped than ever heretofore, and we are prepared to fill all orders at once, and to guarantee satisfaction.

Handsomely-trimmed Suits in Cashmere, Basket Cloths, Camels' Hair, Alpaca, Combination Suits, etc., in the most beautiful new effects, at prices to tempt the most economical.

By following our directions for self-measurement ladies out of town can be fitted perfectly, economically, and more satisfactorily than by any homemade work.

Mourning Costumes and Outfits a specialty, and orders filled on twelve hours notice.

Misses and Children's Costumes and Suits at very reasonable prices.

Ladies' and Children's Underwear.

An immense stock of beautiful and reliable goods, at very great reductions.

Ladies' complete outfits at $25 and upward.

Infants' complete outfits, at $5 and upward.

☞ Full catalogues of this department, with directions for self-measurement, sent free on application to all parts of the country.

OUR STOCK OF

RICH FURS,

Purchased and being manufactured, will be the most beautiful in the city, and at most attractive prices. We also call particular attention to our large stocks of Linens and White Goods, Laces and Embroideries, Upholstery Goods, Household Furniture, Hosiery and Gloves, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Boys' Clothing, and Ladies' Boots and Shoes.

The Domestic and Housekeeping

DEPARTMENTS

Are stocked with goods from the largest auction sales, at prices below cost of manufacture.

Carpets at Grand Street Only,

AND AT GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.

Velvet Carpets, from $2 up.
Body Brussels, from $1.50 up.
Tapestries, from $1 up.
Three-Plys, from $1.12½ up.
Ingrains, best $1; cheapest 35 cents.
Oil Cloths, from 30 cents up.

☞ Headquarters for Linoleum—Best Floor Covering in the World.

Samples of goods sent free on application to all parts of the country.

Orders for goods of every description carefully filled without charge, and goods packed and forwarded to any destination.

Broadway and Twentieth St.
Grand and Chrystie Sts., N. Y.

CARPETS.

ELKIN & CO.,

168.....CANAL STREET.....168

ARE OFFERING NEW AND CHOICE PATTERNS IN

MOQUETTE,
VELVET,
BRUSSELS,
THREE PLY,
and INGRAIN CARPETS,

At Greatly Reduced Prices,

FLOOR OIL CLOTHS,
COCOA AND CANE MATTINGS,
CURTAIN GOODS IN REPS, TERRYS, ETC.,
EMBROIDERED PIANO and TABLE COVERS,
WINDOW SHADES, NEW STYLES.

PHILOSOPHICAL APPARATUS

FOR

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES.

To illustrate all departments of Physical Science.

Specialty of Sets of Apparatus for Common and Grammar Schools.

Magic Lanterns and Stereopticons.

Views from all Countries, and a specialty of views to Illustrate Scientific Subjects.

Views made to order at reasonable prices. Lists on application. Catalogues ten cents each.

JESSE H. LEVENEY,
Nos. 1 and 3 Bond Street, New York
Successor to James M. Queen & Co.

PRUSSIAN SALVE

FOR
CORNS, BUNIONS, Sprains, INGROWN NAILS, Warts, FROSTED FEET, CANCERS and SORES. A certain Cure.

J. H. RICHELDERFER,
Manufacturer,
1012 Chestnut street,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Price, 75 cts., Sent by mail.

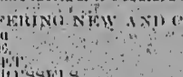
TRADE MARK. For sale by Druggists. Trade supplied. Agents wanted.

L. L. LYONS, Wholesale and Retail Agent, 12 and 14 Camp street, New Orleans.

ROSE-BUDS IN WINTER

STRONG POT ROSES, specially prepared for fall planting and quick bloom, sent safely by mail postpaid. Five splendid varieties, all labeled, for $1; 12 do $2; 19 do $3; 26 do $4; 35 do $5. For ten cents each additional, one magnificent Premium Rose in every dollar's worth ordered. Send for our new Guide to Rose Culture, and choose from over 300 finest sorts. Address the DINGEE & CONARD CO., Rose Growers, West Grove, Chester Co., Pa. eow

The Unique Hair Crimper.



SOME-THING NEW.

IT IS NOVEL, SIMPLE, LIGHT, EASILY adjusted, and does not break the hair; does not wear out. Mailed, one pair 15 cents, two pairs 25 cents. Large discount to dealers. Agents wanted. WELLS MFG. CO., 27 Sudbury st., Boston, Mass. eow

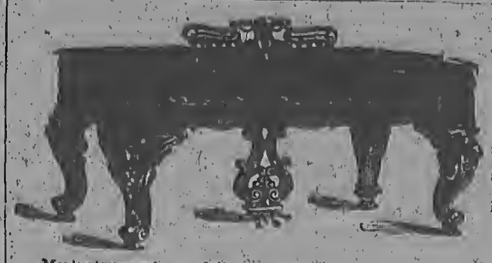
MISCELLANEOUS.

JACKSON & GALLAGHER,

PIPE ORGAN BUILDERS

915, 917, 919, Walnut St., St. Louis, Mo.

N. B. Church Organs Tuned and Repaired. Send for Illustrated Catalogue.



My instruments are fully guaranteed.

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.

CAREFUL OBSERVERS

IN THE MATTER OF

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS

Will find it to their interest to examine

THE EXTENSIVE AND COMPLETE STOCK

OF

HOUSEWARE,

Of every description, kept by

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,

NO. 29 CAMP AND 116 COMMON ST.,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

And they will establish these facts:

1. OUR STOCK IS THE BEST.
2. OUR PRICES ARE THE CHEAPEST.
3. OUR METHODS ARE THE FAIREST.

With more than thirty years' experience in the Crockery trade, we claim a knowledge of the wants of this community second to no one, and can fill them better than any house in the Southwest.

Please note what a little money will do toward adding to your

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS.

$4 00 will buy a White Granite TEA SET of 44 pieces.
6 50 will buy a French China TEA SET, same number of pieces.
10 00 will buy a French China Gold or Colored Band TEA SET, same number of pieces.
18 00 will buy an elegant Porcelain De Terre (nearly equal to French China in appearance, and far more durable) DINNER SET, comprising 121 pieces, to wit:

12 Dinner Plates,	1 Soup Tureen,
12 Tea Plates,	1 Sauce Boat,
12 Soup Plates,	1 Salad Dish,
12 Preserve Plates	2 Covered Dishes,
12 Butter Plates,	2 Vegetable Dishes,
12 Tea Cups and Saucers,	2 Pickle Dishes,
12 Dinner Coffee Cups and Saucers.	4 Meat Dishes.

15 00 will buy the same assorted DINNER SET in the best White Granite Ware.
4 00 will buy the best White Granite CHAMBER SET, known as 11 pieces, comprising everything but Slop Jar and Foot Tub.
1 35 per dozen will buy the best White Granite DINNER PLATES.
1 25 per dozen will buy the best White Granite BREAKFAST PLATES.
1 00 per dozen will buy the best White Granite TEA PLATES.
1 80 per dozen will buy good Table GOBLETS.
1 75 per dozen will buy the best Pressed Table GOBLETS.
75 cents will buy a beautiful Glass CERRY SET.
Sugar, Cream, Butter and Spoon Holder.
Plain French China DINNER SETS (first choice,) 109 pieces, $35.
Gold Band and Decorated DINNER SETS at extraordinarily low prices and everything else required for housekeeping in any style at prices within the reach of every one.
The above list contemplates first class, regular goods, of good shapes and sizes, and will give entire satisfaction wherever they are placed.
Charges for packing and drayage: Dinner sets, $1; Tea sets, 50 cents.
We invite inquiries. Catalogues sent on application.

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,
No. 29 Camp street and 116 Common street,
New Orleans.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LEVY BROS.,

580 MAGAZINE ST., NEW ORLEANS

THE MOST POPULAR

DRY GOODS HOUSE

IN NEW ORLEANS.

Keep constantly on hand a select stock of STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS, consisting of Bleached and Unbleached Cotton, Calicoes, Flannel, Dress Goods, Hosiery, Corsets, Ribbons, Cassimere, Deskins, Merinoes, Blankets, etc.

A Specialty Made of Black Alpaca.

Our BELLA Kid Gloves are guaranteed, and money returned or another pair given in case they rip or tear while putting them on.

Orders from the country strictly attended to.

GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE DEPOT

MOVED TO

NO. 5 CHARTRES STREET.

A NEW STOCK of the Elastic Stitch and Lock-Stitch Machines, with a complete assortment of Needles, Parts, Attachments, Silk Twist, Spool Cotton, Linen Thread, Oil, etc., just received and for sale at the lowest cash prices. The above goods are manufactured by and for the Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Company, and warranted, the best in the market.

Caution to Our Patrons, Grangers and Their Agents.

There are parties here who are selling imitations of our goods, repainting and patching up old Machines to make them look like new, and selling them as such. No new goods of the above make can be purchased in New Orleans except from us, at No. 5 Chartres street. Agents wanted.

H. M. TRUE,
General Southern Agent.

RICHARD RHODES,

LATE F. CHARLEVILLE,

SPORTSMEN'S DEPOT,

55 ST. CHARLES ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Articles of All Kinds for Fishermen.

Rods, Nets, Hooks, Lines, and every desirable article for the Angler; wholesale and retail.

GUNS RIFLES and PISTOLS of every variety and of direct importation. Also Sporting materials of all kinds, Game Bags, Shot Pouches, Flasks, and every article needed by Hunters, will be sold at the lowest prices for cash. Also the celebrated "Dead Shot" Gunpowder, Shot, Eley's Shells, Cartridges, etc., of the best quality, wholesale and retail.

R. RHODES.

HOYLE & ENGELSHEIM,

SOLE AGENTS FOR

DUPONT'S GUNPOWDER,

And Wholesale Dealers in the celebrated ST. LOUIS SHOT, Percussion Caps, Bar Lead, Etc.,

NO. 32 CANAL STREET,

Corner of Tchoupitoulas, New Orleans.

1877.——Postpaid.——$1.60.

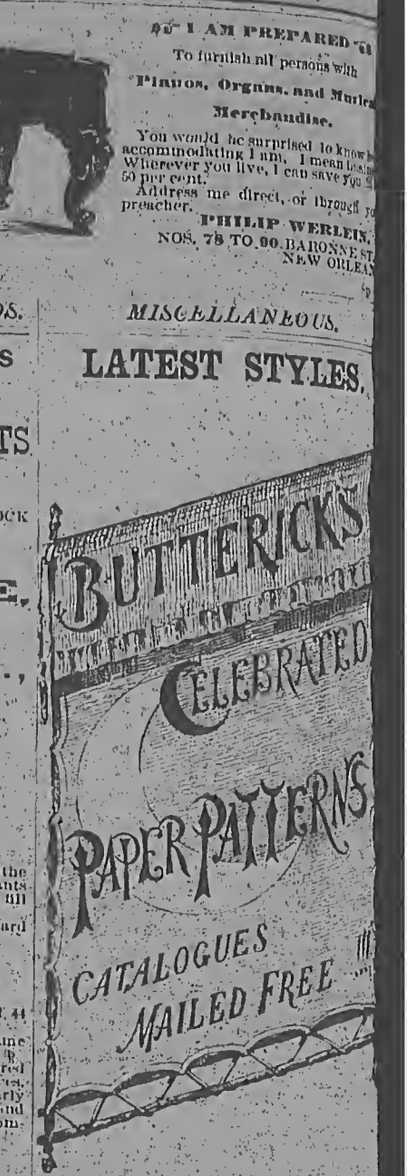
THE NURSERY.

A Monthly Magazine for Youngest Readers. 80 PAGES, ILLUSTRATED. ☞ Send ten cents for a Sample Number. Subscribe NOW, 1876, and get the last two numbers of this year FREE.

JOHN L. SHOREY,
1 Bromfield street, Boston.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LATEST STYLES.

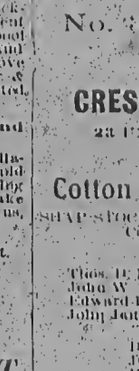


ADDRESS

The Singer Manufacturing Co.,

91.....CANAL STREET.....

NEW ORLEANS, LA.



What will the Weather BE TO-MORROW?

USE

Signal Service Barometer

WILL TELL YOU.

It will detect and indicate every change in the weather 12 to 24 hours in advance. It will tell you what kind of a storm is approaching and from what quarter it comes—invaluable to navigators.

FARMERS

our plan in our work according to its predictions. It will save you its cost in a single season. There is an accurate thermometer attached which alone is worth the price of the combination. Will send by express paid, to any address on receipt of $2. Send Money Order or Registered Letter.

AGENTS WANTED. Send for circular.

H. W. POOL & CO.,
835 Broadway, New York.

The Boston Traveler says: "We carefully inspected the above-described Signal Service Barometer, and found it to be as stated by Messrs. Poole & Co., who are honorable and reliable."

PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRY.

A. H. NELSON,

COMMERCIAL STATIONER,

PRINTER, BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURER AND LITHOGRAPHER.

The best assortment of Blank Books in the city. The finest specimens of Lithographic work ever seen in New Orleans.

NO. 57 CAMP STREET,

Sign of the Mammoth LETTER PRESS.

Call and prove my statements.

CHAS. D. LALLANDE,

IMPORTER AND DEALER IN

HARDWARE AND CUTLERY,

38

The Christian Advocate.

PUBLISHED BY ROBT. J. HARP, FOR THE ALABAMA, MISSISSIPPI AND LOUISIANA CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH SOUTH.

VOL. 22. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1876. NO. 48.

AUTUMN DAYS.

BY T. B. ALDRICH.

Gaunt shadows stretch along the hill;
Cold clouds drift slowly west;
Soft flocks of vagrant snowflakes fill
The blue bird's empty nest.

The wan sea moans on lonely shores
Above the studying sands,
Like skeletons, the sycamores
Uplift their wasted hands.

The air is full of sounds of grief,
Weird voices touched with pain—
The pathos of the falling leaf,
And murmurs of the rain!

News of the Week.

DOMESTIC.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—The Great Republic has arrived, and reports a typhoon in the vicinity of Yokohama on the 15th of October.

European war rumors had depressed the silk market.

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—The Christian Convention opened at the Tabernacle to-day. Two thousand delegates were present from all over the Northwest, and three thousand more are en route. After the close of the meeting three hundred ministers joined Mr. Moody in the inquiry-room to pray for baptism of the Holy Spirit.

ATLANTA, GA., Nov. 21.—Hon. A. H. Stephens is here on his way to Washington. His health is much improved.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 21.—The official vote of Pennsylvania is: Hayes, 384148; Tilden, 366,291; Cooper, 7,072.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 22.—The Board of State Canvassers yesterday made a report to the Supreme Court, stating the persons who had received the highest number of votes for the offices for which they were candidates. Appended to the report of results was a memorandum of the Board stating that in their opinion certain irregularities which affected some of the Republican candidates should be corrected, and also that the vote of Laurens and Edgefield counties, which gave a large Democratic majority, should be excluded in consequence of fraud and intimidation.

This morning the court passed an order commanding the Board to issue certificates of election to all persons who were shown by the report of the Board to have received the highest number of votes for members of the Legislature, excluding the counties of Edgefield and Laurens. The court also to-day took up the case of the electors, and issued a rule on the Board to show cause why they should not correct the statements of the County canvassers by the precinct returns in their possession. Pending these proceedings of the court, and notwithstanding their own resolution that they would take no action until their powers and duties had been defined by the court, the board held a session without the knowledge of any of the parties on the Democratic side, and issued certificates to all the members of the Legislature, except Laurens and Edgefield counties, thus securing a majority of the Legislature to the Republican side, thus securing the defeat of Hampton and the election of Chamberlain, and issued certificates of election to the Hayes and Wheeler electors, and to the Republican State ticket, correcting the errors which defeated their own candidates, and ignoring errors of the same character which would have elected the Democrats. The board then adjourned sine die.

This action of the board has created much excitement, but the citizens are determined to rely upon the courts and exhaust all legal means of redress. It is currently believed that the action of the board was taken under directions from Washington, and rumors on the street credit a prominent judicial official, who has recently arrived here, with being the bearer of the authorities at Washington.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Tweed landed to-day from the tug Catalpa, at Pier No. 4, North River. Tweed was taken by Sheriff Connor to Ludlow-street jail.

Tweed was taken to jail through the gate, and not by the office, as usual. All he remarked on being placed in his cell by the warden Watson was: "I thought I would come and see you again!" No person will be allowed to see him to-night, and no one but the watchmen will be permitted to enter the corridor. Experience of his escapes has made the officials of Ludlow-street very watchful. He will be treated precisely as other prisoners, and allowed no privileges. His rooms are much smaller than those he previously occupied. The windows open on the court-yard, and no access can be had to the apartment except through the warden's room, while in the corridor a watchman is continuously on guard.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The Tilden and Hendricks Club have abandoned their idea of a procession, so as not to give a pretext to the administration for filling the city with troops.

Members are beginning to arrive, and the city has an air of gloom and business depression. The action of the South Carolina canvass is condemned, even by Republicans.

SAVANNAH, Nov. 23.—The epidemic here is over, and travelers need fear no danger in coming to or passing through this city on their way to Florida or any points south. All restrictions have returned, and business is going on as usual.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Hon. Abram S. Hewitt has written the following letter to Gen. Wade Hampton:

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE.
New-York, Nov. 24, 1876.

My Dear Sir: Your admirable address to the people of South Carolina is the subject of universal commendation here; in fact the prudence, the forbearance and the self-control of your people under the most exasperating provocations is beyond all praise. I can only trust that in the existing situation in which you will find yourself next week no outbreak will occur. It is most too much to expect that there will be no indiscreet men in South Carolina who may provoke the collision, but, nevertheless, the providence of God has so far guided you and your people in all your difficulties that your friends rest in calm confidence upon the wisdom and good fortune which have so far attended your actions. You may rest assured that your Northern brethren have consecrated themselves to the work of your deliverance, and will never cease their efforts until you are restored to that freedom wherewith you were made free by the labors and sacrifices and wisdom of our forefathers and your forefathers.

God give you and your people all the wisdom and all the patience needed in this hour of trial and in this crisis of the destiny of our common country. We have no fifth in the justice of the people of the United States, and we do not entertain a doubt of the final verdict which they will pass upon the occurrences of the last two weeks. This verdict will surely vindicate their majesty and re-establish free government upon a lasting basis.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

ABRAM S. HEWITT,
Chairman National Democratic Committee.
To Gen. Wade Hampton, Columbia, S. C.

The Herald this morning warns the Louisiana Overturning Board that its secret sessions will not be tolerated, and calls on Northern Republicans to assemble in mass meeting and let those political gamblers know that they must stop.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 25.—The Supreme Court has just entered judgment of $1,500 fine each, and commitment of all the members of the Board of Canvassers to jail, until released by order of the court.

The court is now proceeding with the case against United States District Attorney Corbin, counsel of the board, for contempt. There is considerable suppressed excitement.

ATLANTA, GA., Nov. 25.—Tilden's official majority in Georgia is 51,181.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 25.—The Board of State Canvassers have completed their labors. The footings of the vote cast for Presidential electors are: Democrats, 522,612; Republicans, 489,547.

The majority for Lucius Robinson, Democrat, for Governor, 30,460. The vote for Peter Cooper (greenback) electors, 1,987; for Green C. Smith electors, 2,556. Tilden's majority over all, 28,719.

BROWNSVILLE, TEXAS, Nov. 27.—Five American citizens went over to Matamoras yesterday on a visit, and were insulted and assaulted by Mexican officers, and then arrested and driven into prison, and were timed this morning from $20 to $150 each or two months' hard labor on the public works. This outrage has created profound excitement on this side, and others of hundreds of men are coming in to aid in their rescue, if necessary. Unless our government takes steps to prevent a repetition of these outrages there is great danger of an early conflict on this border.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—European advices are threatening. The attitude of the Porte, according to late Constantinople advices, is not reassuring. Russia is providing an immense number of soldiers for a winter campaign.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 27.—The following dispatch, signed by Senator Gordon, of Georgia, Senator Johnson, of Virginia, Gen. Wade Hampton, several circuit judges, large numbers of State senators and representatives, white and colored, and many other prominent citizens of the State, has just been sent:

To the President of the United States:

We, the undersigned, visitors from a distance, committee of the Democratic members elect of the South Carolina Legislature, the Democratic Executive Committee, and citizens, having just seen by an Associated Press dispatch that Gov. Chamberlain had applied for United States troops to be placed under his orders at the assembling of the Legislature to-morrow, send this solemn protest against the troops being placed under command of Gov. Chamberlain. We have no objection to the presence of troops, and will co-operate with them in preserving the peace, but we protest against the use of the United States army for controlling the organization of the Legislature, and enforcing the inauguration of Gov. Chamberlain, who has been defeated by the white and colored voters at the ballot-box. There is not the remotest danger of a disturbance of the peace by the Democrats. If it occurs it will be at the instigation of Gov. Chamberlain, whose partisans have taken the only lives lost. In the late exciting canvass in this State not one drop of blood has been shed in any political disturbance except by Republicans. It is literally true that the Democrats received their greatest majorities in the counties where the United States soldiers were stationed. What pretense, therefore, is there for Gov. Chamberlain's demand for troops to keep the peace? We refer for confirmation of these statements to the commander of the United States forces at this place and elsewhere in the State.

FOREIGN.

HAVANA, Nov. 21.—Two thousand troops arrived from Spain to-day. Spanish gold 219@220. Sugar firm; exchange dull.

HAVANA, Nov. 22.—A French steamer has arrived from Vera Cruz, with dates from the city of Mexico of November 12. The political situation has become much complicated. Ex-Chief Justice Iglesias proclaimed himself provisional President of the republic, and located his seat of government at Leon, in the State of Guanjanto, the Legislature and government of which sustain him.

A portion of the procession escorting Iglesias to Leon attacked the American missionaries with the cry of "Death to Protestants." The missionaries barricaded themselves in a house until the police rescued them.

Two ex-judges of the Supreme Court and several deputies have joined Iglesias. He has established a regular cabinet, and appointed ministers of war, foreign affairs, etc.

Troops are marching upon Guanjanto, and the flight of Iglesias with his government may be expected in a very short time.

No other State has seconded Iglesias' movement in Guanjanto.

Lerdo de Tejada is receiving congratulatory dispatches and offers of support from all parts of the country.

Gomez Palacio, the former commissioner at Washington, and Alas and Ramirez, judges of the Supreme Court, are in close imprisonment on the charge of conspiracy.

Four thousand pronunciados took possessions of Apizaco, where the Puebla railroad branches off from the Mexico and Vera Cruz railway, interrupting all travel and communication between those two cities. It was hoped that railway communication would be re-established on the fourteenth. In the meantime a mail line was established by private individuals, with postage rates at $2 per ounce.

Gen. Diaz continues to hold Oaxaca.

Mr. Foster, the United States minister, has arrived at Mexico.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—A dispatch to the Standard from Madrid reports that two prominent ministers, one of whom is a citizen of the United States, were recently forbidden to hold religious services by the mayor of the village of Danes, near the French frontier, in the province of Santander.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—A special to the Standard, dated Constantinople, November 23, announces that the Sultan has decreed absolute abolition of the slave trade throughout the Ottoman empire.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The Standard's dispatch from Berlin says: While Russia does not interfere with German interests, Germany feels morally obliged to support Russia's claims at the coming conference. Should war be unavoidable, Germany would not object to the invasion of Bulgaria by Russia.

Memphis Conference.

This Conference met at Memphis, November 15-20, Bishop Pierce presiding. The following items and appointments we copy from the Western Methodist:

Located, T. G. Randle; superannuated, T. F. Sanders, M. D. Robinson, D. M. K. Collins, R. S. Swift, J. E. Beck, H. B. Covington, Jeremiah Moss, W. L. Duckworth, S. B. Adams, J. A. Fife, P. T. Scruggs; superannuated, J. M. Major, C. C. Glover, T. J. Neely, R. H. Burns, B. Peebles, T. P. Davidson, J. C. Crews, P. C. Wells; died during the past year, Thos. Taylor, J. G. Glasgow. The characters and official administration of the preachers, one by one, were examined, and all passed except W. W. Scott, expelled. David Leith, having returned to Scotland and entered the ministry of another church, is withdrawn; Sampson T. Lane, withdrawn. Number of local preachers, 268; members, 31,453 (a slight decrease here, and decrease also in most of the statistical returns); infants baptized, 682; adults baptized, 2,050; Sunday schools, 289; Sunday-school teachers, 2,071; Sunday-school scholars, 14,232; collected for superannuates and widows and orphans of preachers, $1,673.20; for foreign missions, $3,955.90; for domestic missions, $1,125; making together $5,050.90. The next session of the Conference is to be held in Brownsville.

APPOINTMENTS.

Memphis District.—John Moss, P. E. First church, S. B. Surratt, P. T. Scruggs, sup.; Central, J. A. Heard; Hernando street, L. H. Evans; Safarian street mission, J. G. Acton; Georgestreet mission, L. D. Mullins; Springdale, J. P. Walker; Bartlett, D. R. S. Rosebrough; Bethlehem, E. E. Hamilton; Collierville and Moscow, W. M. McFerrin; LaGrange and Saulsbury, J. C. Clark; Middletown, P. P. Holman, J. A. Fife, sup.; Macon, P. L. Boswell, H. S. Taylor, S. B. Adams, sup.; editor Western Methodist, W. C. Johnson; Bellevue Female College, W. P. Pidmore, president; State Female College, J. S. Collins, professor.

Somerville Dist.—A. H. Thomas, P. E. Somerville, W. D. F. Hafford; Bolivar and Grand Junction, S. B. Lowe; Bolivar mission, D. A. Ross; Whitesville, R. V. Taylor; Dancyville, A. R. Wilson; Stanton, A. C. Smith; Braden, G. H. Martin; Covington, A. P. Scruggs; Covington circuit, W. P. Burke; Mount Zion and Pleasant Ridge, C. B. Haskerville; Randolph, to be supplied; Gratitude and Bethuel, J. M. Spence; Ealbury, R. S. Harris.

Jackson District.—W. T. Harris, P. E. First church, E. C. Slater; East Jackson, G. K. Brooks; Jackson circuit and city missions, W. H. Leigh, G. T. Sullivan; Humboldt, J. S. White; Brownsville, G. Jones; Brownsville circuit, J. Perry, W. L. Duckworth, sup.; Denmark, J. B. Sykes; Mifflin, A. F. Hendrix; Pinson, R. H. Painey; Henderson, B. F. Blackman; Purdy, E. L. Fisher; Adamsville, to be supplied (by John Shipp; T. F. Sanders, sup.; Memphis Conference Female Institute, A. W. Jones, president, A. B. Jones, professor; Jackson District High School, W. M. Patterson, principal.

Dyersburg District.—R. H. Mahon, P. E. Dyersburg station, T. G. Whitten; Newbern, W. A. Cook; Kenton, M. M. Taylor; Yorkville, N. Sullivan; Trimble mission, R. M. King; Trenton, J. M. Scott; Trenton circuit, R. A. Umstead; Alamo and Bell's station, W. B. Seward; Alamo circuit, Q. L. Parker; Friendship, B. F. Peebles; Woodville, John Randle; Hale's Point mission, to be supplied (by W. A. Yancy; Ripley and Durhamville, J. C. Hooks; Ripley circuit, C. J. Mauldin; Ashport, J. J. Brooks.

Dresden District.—B. A. Hayes, P. E. Dresden, C. Y. Rankin; Union City and Troy, N. Futrell, J. E. Beck, sup.; Dresden circuit, W. C. Sellers, E. M. Majors; Cottage Grove, R. E. Graves; McKenzie circuit, E. B. Plummer, H. B. Covington, sup.; Boydsville circuit and mission, T. J. Simmons; Fulton, F. L. Beard, Jeremiah Moss, sup.; Dukedom, J. T. C. Collins; Hickman, W. T. Rolling; Tiptonville, J. D. Bush; Troy, J. H. Collins, M. D. Robinson, sup.; Obion mission, T. E. Ball; Hickman circuit, E. Bynum, W. H. Frost, sup.

Paducah District.—N. P. Ramsey, P. E. Paducah, S. W. Moore; Paducah circuit and city mission, C. D. Davis; Mayfield, J. H. Maxwell; Columbus, G. W. Wilson; Hopkinsville, J. V. Fly; Blandville mission, to be supplied by J. J. Smith; Clinton, R. L. West; Milburn, J. M. Flatt; Milburn mission, to be supplied by M. Mason; Wingo, J. G. Pirtle; Benton, J. A. Russell; Wadesboro, G. T. Peoples; Brinsburg, W. G. Duffy; Birmingham, H. C. Gamble; Pine Bluff mission, to be supplied by L. B. Lee; Murray, B. B. Riesenhoover; Paducah District High School, C. J. Nugent, to be transferred.

Paris District.—J. M. Witt, P. E. Paris, W. Moore; Paris circuit, E. R. Nelson; Spring Hill, J. S. Harris; Paris Landing, J. D. Sullivan; Camden, F. B. Davis; D. M. K. Collins, sup.; Huntingdon, H. M. Sears; Trezevant, W. H. Evans; South Fork mission, T. C. Ellis; Salem, W. O. Lanier; Lexington, J. S. Renshaw; Decaturville, W. Hay; Saltillo, T. J. McGill, R. S. Swift, sup.; Morgan's Creek, to be supplied (by S. W. Enochs; McKenzie and Milan, A. L. Pritchett; Lavinia, W. T. C. Young.

Transferred.—L. G. Rogers, to White River Conference; J. W. Atkinson, to Pacific Conference, and appointed to Stockton.

Health of Alabama.

It is a very common error to suppose that this State, with the other Southern States, is any less healthy than other sections. The fallacy of this can be shown by comparison of the largest city (Mobile) with that of other cities, not only on this continent, but in Europe. Thus, taking one year, we see the mortality for the following cities was:

London	1 in every 41
Paris	1 in every 42
Mobile	1 in every 36
Philadelphia	1 in every 34
New York	1 in every 33
New Orleans	1 in every 31

Alabama has a lower death rate than Arkansas, Connecticut, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Missouri, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia or New Mexico.

It may again be contended for Alabama that it is not greatly subject to those diseases which are incident to warm climates, while it possesses a remarkable immunity from those which are characteristic of older ones, such as consumption; the death rate by this is especially light.

So manifest are the sanitary advantages of Alabama that one eminent physician, residing at Mobile, has not hesitated to express his opinion that the climate and health of even the worst portions are equal to those of the Northern States. To be perfectly candid, if there are any parts of the State unhealthy for the white population, they are the river lands and alluvial cotton lands. The pine hills, however, are exceptionally healthy, and the remainder of the cotton lands reasonably so, quite as much so as most parts of Europe.

It is hoped that the foregoing brief remarks on the climate of Alabama will have the effect of showing in a convincing manner that no person need entertain any fear of taking up a residence in this State on account of its climate. On the contrary, the latter, so far from being an objection, is a recommendation which those who prefer conditions favorable to health, with an immunity both from arctic rigors and torrid heats, will not think lightly of.—New York South.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.—The Mobile and Montgomery railroad will pass the preachers to and from Conference for six cents per mile, round trip. Tickets at the principal stations, with coupons which will return them. Secretary's certificate will not do. The Mobile and Ohio railroad grants no favors.

W. A. McCARTY.

Fraternity.

As our Conference may be disposed to consider this interesting question, I venture to define the position of the Church South, as I understand it, and to assign reasons why we should concur in the action of the joint commission. I do this the more readily because the subject demands the utmost freedom of opinion, as well as the utmost caution in expression. There should be nothing obscure, and nothing concealed; for a mistake at this point would entail upon us evils more to be deplored than silent alienation; and it would be fatal to the hopes of good men. I think we are justly sensitive when we are called a "secession" by men in high places; or when any terms are employed to disparage us as rightful claimants to an origin in the organization of the "Methodist Episcopal Church, in the United States of America," at Baltimore, A. D. 1784.

In an editorial, provoked by the captious spirit of the New York Central Conference, the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE of November 2 lets drip the idea that the Church South "gets its doctrines, usages and forms of government" from the Methodist Episcopal Church. Now the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States of America existed as essentially in the South as in the North prior to the adoption of the Plan of Separation by the first General Conference of the church in 1844; and we were an integral part of that ecclesiastical connection. The Church South was not created by the Plan of Separation, by the convention in 1845, or by the General Conference in 1846. It had its people and their pastors, its Conferences and its Bishops, its discipline and its usages, its theology and its history; indeed, the whole machinery of an ecclesiastical system, was then in vigorous, healthful operation, and has so continued, without interruption, up to this moment. The unity of the Methodist Church, in "doctrine, usage and form of government," was not disturbed, and the General Conference, which had been created by the common consent of the whole church, and was empowered to make all needful rules and regulations for the government of the church, with specified restrictions, divided the territory occupied in common, under a single judicature, into two coequal General Conference jurisdictions. Nor would our claim to the original Methodism have been vitiated had we adopted the cumbrous form into which we were shaped by the Conference of 1784. But we proceeded in the direction, and on the plane occupied by the whole body, appending "South" to our baptismal cognomen, as in legal distinction from our brethren of the Northern jurisdiction. The Plan of Separation was alike the warrant for the altered jurisdiction of the Church North as well as South, and in adopting the Plan of Separation the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States of America resolved itself into two coordinate Methodist Churches, with a defined territorial boundary. Their jurisdiction, like ours, was limited by law, and the restrictions imposed were binding on both. They, like ourselves, adjusted themselves to a boundary fixed by consent of contracting parties, and were in all essentials as much a new organization as the Church South. They had no doctrines, usages or forms of government new or strange to us, or which they held by any tenure that could exclude us; and the General Conference of the Church North, in 1848, was no more the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States of America than was the General Conference of the Church South in 1846. The first article of the Plan of Separation provides for "a separate ecclesiastical connection." There were to be two "connections," ecclesiastically alike, occupying a territory once under a single jurisdiction, each connection having a boundary fixed by a plan mutually agreed upon, and either as organically the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States of America as the other. Indeed there was nothing left, as the peculiar characteristic of either connection, distinguishing it as in any manner the favored heir of the history and fortunes of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States of America, but to each appertained all the franchises of the original organization, and out before both lay the vast fields of Christian enterprise into which, side by side, they might enter, and in harmony toil until Christ should claim all kingdoms as his own.

It is not true, then, that, according to a just and proper use of language we are in any sense more new or recent in origin than the Church North. Our history as a Methodist Church, having all the elements of an ecclesiastical system, goes back not in parallel lines, but in essential unity with the Church North, to a common origin in 1784. We occupy the very soil rendered hallowed to us as bearing the footprints of Wesley; we administer the same discipline, preach the same doctrines and affirm, in the language of the joint commission, that "the two churches constitute one Methodist family, though in distinct ecclesiastical connections."

We regret somewhat that Dr. Fowler, in this otherwise judicious reply to these dissentients, should have, without need, characterized American "slavery as the sum of all villainies." Besides being a wrong done to Mr. Wesley and to us, it stirs up to feed an infamous slander, and to confront these accusers of the brethren with the facts of their own history; and because he knew that our involuntary yet constitutional connection with that institution had been made a pretext for the frantic abuse the Church North had seemed to luxuriate in inflicting upon us. That issue we thought was dead—not slain by the silent yet omnipotent evolution of a great moral principle, but crushed out by a mob in defiance of the compact of the constitution, and at the sacrifice of the equality of the States of the Union. And we say to Dr. Fowler that although the Southern condition is changed, and our people are rejoiced that slavery is at an end, Southern sentiment the profound consciousness that no moral obliquity attaches to us by reason of slavery abides the same. As the members of the Conference may not have seen the deliverance of the New York Central Conference I quote a single paragraph: "If such concessions be true and just" as are made by the joint commission, "we are unable to see why our agitation of the anti-slavery question was not wholly wrong, and why all the blame and responsibility of the great secession does not fall upon the Methodist Episcopal Church." They dare not encounter the facts of history or the sober judgment of the chosen men of their own General Conference. It cannot be "true," for that would put us in the wrong! So it seems that if we are not "a secession"—if we are a "legitimate Methodism;" if we are, part and parcel of the Methodism organized in 1784—then "all the blame and responsibility of the great secession falls on the Methodist Episcopal Church." This is to new phenomenon. A conscience has glared out with eyes of fire upon slumbering guilt in other latitudes, and why not in central New York, and upon a body of graveolivites. Ah, yes, if this be so, then "we were verily guilty concerning our brother." I would to God that they may only bring to the limits meet for repentance.

I affect no new light upon this old and worn subject, but I have not seen these views taken; and regarding it, as I do, a fair and logical presentation of the question, and clearly vindicating our history, and justifying the basis of fraternity so fully recognized by the joint commission, I have felt at liberty to present them.

Fraternity, floating mistily upon the outlook of good and noble men, has resolved itself into a great fact. It has taken on a form of corporeliness, and under its lifted banner the friends of Jesus in both connections may rally. Its living, beating spirit lifted the joint commission into being and produced the duality. It remains for us to foster this spirit until the demon of discord shall be driven out to herd with the swine, and both run violently down a steep place, and be choked in the sea of political corruption.

W. H. WATKINS

Jackson, Miss.

INQUIRY FOR RELATIVES.—The subscriber has six brothers and one sister, if they still live. They were in Texas, but I have not heard from them in many years. I am sick and poor, and am in needy circumstances, and if any of these brothers or my sister should read this, let them remember me. My postoffice is Yazoo City, Miss. Texas papers will please copy this.

A. J. MEEK.

YAZOO CITY, MISS., Nov. 10, 1876.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1876.

GOD'S ANVIL.

FROM THE GERMAN.

Pain's furnace heat within me quivers,
God's breath upon the flame doth blow
And all my heart in anguish slivers,
And trembles at the fiery glow;
And yet I whisper, As God will!
And in his hottest fire hold still.

He puts and lays my heart, all heated,
On the hard anvil, crushed so
In his own fair shape to beat it
With his great hammer, blow on blow;
And yet I whisper, As God will!
And in his heaviest blows hold still.

He takes my softened heart and beats it,
The sparks fly off at every blow;
He turns it o'er and o'er and heats it,
And lets it cool and makes it glow,
And yet I whisper, As God will!
And in his mighty hand hold still.

Why should I murmur? For the sorrow
Thus only longer-lived would be;
Its end may come, and will, to-morrow,
When God has done his work in me;
So I say, trusting, As God will!
And trusting to the end, hold still.

He kindles for my profit purely
Affliction's glowing, fiery brand,
And all his heaviest blows are surely
Inflicted by a master-hand.
So I say, praying, As God will!
And hope in him, and suffer still.

Red River Parish, La.

MR. EDITOR: The church has a grand work to do in this Red river region. The notion is becoming quite popular that the people of this valley have, since the war, placed themselves beyond the reach of reclaiming mercy. I have no sort of sympathy with this feeling.

I suppose a straight line from the upper to the lower border of my district would measure at least one hundred miles. Red river runs directly through the district. Its meanderings must be equal to three or four miles for one—say three hundred and fifty miles of Red river valley land in our territory. There are many cultivated, clever people living on either bank.

I could name neighborhoods in which there has not been a sermon preached since the war, and I have yet to meet the man who is not liberal and seemingly anxious to have preaching. At two points, particularly, strong appeals have been made directly for service. One gentleman offered $100 for a monthly appointment. Another offered $125 for the same service. I would have sent preachers to these and other points if they could have been had. I do so wish you would make calls editorially for transfers—for young men, strong and devoted. Some of the older Conferences are crowded to suffocation. Here is a wide, white harvest. If the church at home cannot furnish the supplies we must have them from abroad. There is ample territory in the Shreveport district for another one large enough for full work.

I will now give you some account of the camp meeting at Ratcliff's Mills, ten or twelve miles eastward from Coushatta. I believe our young brother, Allen, is entitled to the credit of its existence and location. Its existence is a living fact; its location is good. There is "much water" near by, a very important item in the count. The woods—rich, glorious, musical woods—God's grand tabernacle—invite to prayer and meditation.

Parting with you at Coushatta, at noon on Friday, the twenty-ninth ultimo, we reached the camp ground in good time for the opening service. The sermon and service following were in harmony with the occasion.

This is only the second year of the enterprise. There are not many permanent tents erected yet. It is to be hoped that another season will see the ground fully occupied. I believe the people have the spirit in them, and the will to do it. Here is a fine opportunity for many of our Red river friends to show what manner of spirit is in them. The springs possess medicinal properties, inviting to a short summer's stay, independent of the grand work to be accomplished in a camp meeting.

As for the meeting itself, I can say that it was good; not, perhaps, in the numbers attending, in penitents, or conversions or accessions. Still it was a gracious success. It is prophetical of grand futures. Many a soul was blessed and reblessed until there was no room in a poor human heart to contain the fullness. And, peradventure, among the interesting young men so brightly converted, one or more will be "sent in the harvest."

The preachers' daily reunion and prayer meeting was a special feature I would commend to others. This was held after the three o'clock P. M. services, at the same time that the brethren were occupied, on one side and the sisters on the other. We occupied a sort of central place. In full hearing of the singing and praying on either side, we were, if possible, inspired with a stronger sense of our responsibility. The effect of these daily reunions was manifestly good. We were selected and strengthened. It brought us nearer to each other. It tendered and mellowed our hearts. It was a good example to the membership. It had its weight with the world.

JOHN T. DAVIS.

OCTOBER 4, 1876.

OBITUARIES.

Correspondents, please write names and dates very distinctly. We follow copy on proper names.

Obituary notices should be forwarded promptly and immediately. Give only points of general interest, such as will help the living. Details of funeral services, and such phrases as "mourn their loss," etc., are not edifying. Verses, either original or select, not admissible in this department. Give the locality distinctly and in full. In the case of infants only a simple announcement of the death, with names and dates, will be published.

☞ All obituaries received are published as soon as convenient. If, after a reasonable time, any such communication fail to appear, let a duplicate be sent instead of a complaint.

HENRY WINBOURNE DRAKE, son of Rev. B. M. Drake, D. D., was born in Jefferson county, Miss., August 22, 1828. He was the first of twelve children. He was dedicated to God in baptism when an infant, the rite being administered by Rev. John C. Burruss. He was converted at the Centenary camp meeting, held at the Bethel camp ground, in the year 1839, being at that time eleven years old. At this camp meeting, the proposition being made that every Christian should select some special friend for whom to pray, Dr. Winans said to Dr. Drake: "If you will pray for my son I will pray for yours." Before the meeting closed both young men came forward to ask prayers, and young Drake professed conversion. His mother says that he never expressed a doubt of his having been converted at this time. When about fifteen years of age he was placed under the care of his uncle, Prof. W. H. N. Magruder, of Centenary College, then located near Braudon, Miss. On the removal of the college to Jackson, La., he also removed with it, and completed his college course there, and was graduated at the age of nineteen. Having gone thus far, the next step was to choose his life employment, and in making this choice he gave a decided preference to the profession of the law. To enable him to fulfill his desire of attending lectures in Yale College, he taught school one year in Franklin county, Miss. He returned from Yale at the age of twenty-one, and taught school for another year in Waterproof, La. In 1851, being twenty-three years of age, he was elected to the chair of ancient languages in Centenary College, which position he held with credit to himself and honor to the college until compelled by ill health to resign. On the twenty-first of September, 1852, he was married to Miss Lizzie Miller, daughter of James Miller, Esq., of Waterproof, La. While filling a professor's chair in Centenary he suffered from several severe hemorrhages from the lungs, and his physicians advising to a more active life, he resigned his professorship and removed to Tensas parish, La., where he engaged in planting. In January, 1863, he joined the Confederate army, in which he served until he was called by the voice of the people to represent them in the Legislature of the State. During the remainder of the war he resided in Bienville parish. Here death invaded his happy family, and he had to surrender two sons. At the close of the war he returned to Tensas parish, and endeavored by planting to repair his broken fortune, but without much success. Realizing his situation, and sensible of his obligations, he gave up all his property and accepted a situation as teacher in Floyd, Carroll parish. The school not being as remunerative as he anticipated, he now saw the way open to engage in the practice of the law, which he did with ardor and zeal. From Floyd he removed again to Tensas parish, and settled in Waterproof, where he was engaged in the practice of his profession at the time of his death, October 6, 1876. In all these places in which he lived he let his light shine in such a way that no one could make a mistake as to where he stood religiously. Though an unobtrusive man, he was firm in his adherence to the cause he espoused, and with all the zeal of his ardent nature he espoused the cause of religion. He was not a noisy professor of piety. Not long ago he said in love-feast: "I have not always been able to rejoice on the mountain-top, but I have always been able to see the gleam from the top." Bro. Drake was a man who was phonetic home, often singing with his family the beautiful songs of Zion and conversing upon religious topics. As a church member he never forgot the obligations which rested upon him. When called to the stewardship he was a good steward, and one of the pastor's safest advisers. As a Sunday school superintendent he was prompt and faithful. His fidelity to those obligations was so conspicuous that his different pastors spoke to him freely and frequently on the subject of preaching, but he was not conscious of a call to the holy office. He would say: "I fear to run before I am called." "I am willing to read sermons, and address the Sunday school, but the pulpit is too sacred a place for me." The beauty of Bro. Drake's character was revealed clearest in his own home, around the family hearthstone. No one ever spent a day there without leaving with regret, and with a heart full of kindly feelings. A respectful, loving, child-like simplicity characterized his attentions to his aged mother, and he ever exhibited a tender but earnest solicitude for the welfare of the younger members of his family. A sweet gentleness was daily manifested in his association with his wife and children. His sympathy with every form of suffering was deep and genuine, and "the blessing of him that was ready to perish" came upon him. Bro. Drake was one of the most open-hearted men I have ever seen. There was no "sham" about him. His character for probity was so great that a gentleman said to me last year: "I have found one honest lawyer, and that is Winbourne Drake." He was one of the most earnest men I have met. Whatever he found to do, he did it with his might. He was a most delightful and entertaining companion, because his mind was well filled with useful knowledge, of which he seemed always to have complete control. Bro. Drake was a true patriot, an earnest Christian, a sincere friend, a dutiful son, a gentle husband, a loving father and a good scholar.

We naturally suppose that such a character, exhibited by such a life, would have no fears when called to give account of his stewardship. And we find this the case with Bro. Drake. When informed of his condition he regretted that he had not been sooner apprised of it, but prepared himself for the struggle. He joined with his family in singing "The Gate Ajar," "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," committed his wife and children to God, sent his last love to mother and brothers, bade his family good-by, and telling his wife, if permitted, he would be the first to welcome her on the blessed shore, he breathed his spirit out to him who gave it. The family, the church, the community, have sustained a loss which cannot be repaired. The writer feels that he has lost a very dear friend and a most valuable adviser. May God sanctify this loss to the good of every one who knew and appreciated Henry Winbourne Drake.

C. W. CARTER.

IT BECOMES our painful duty to record the sudden and unexpected death of two of our most promising young men, viz: J. J. LIGON and A. C. GRIFFITH, who were passengers on board of the ill-fated steamer Southern Belle.

The young men were bosom friends, each engaged in mercantile business, and alike united for their sterling qualities and manly virtues. By their assiduity to business and strict integrity they merited and received the esteem and confidence of all who knew them, and were rapidly rising in popularity and wealth, with every prospect of long life and future usefulness. But, alas! who can insure earthly happiness? In one short moment all their fair prospects were blighted, and their bodies consumed by the terrible conflagration that enveloped that noble packet.

The history of our community furnishes no parallel to the sadness and gloom depicted upon the countenance of every one, regardless of age, sex or condition, occasioned by the dreadful catastrophe.

They were affectionate and dutiful sons. May a merciful Providence sustain the heart-broken parents in their great bereavement.

JOHN J. LIGON, oldest son of W. B. and Ann Ligon, was born in Pike county, Miss., July 6, 1848. He became early impressed with the necessity of a change of heart, and in his fifteenth or sixteenth year united with the Methodist Episcopal Church South, at a meeting held at China Grove, Miss. In the fall of 1863 his father moved into our community with his family, consisting of himself, his wife and five children. But two of that family now remain; the others have passed on to the spirit world. As soon as they had become settled among us, those who had been members of China Grove presented letters from the same, and were received into the communion of Pipkin chapel.

Young John engaged heartily in the duties of the Sabbath school and prayer meetings, and gave bright evidence of future usefulness; but, like too many young converts who run well in the Christian course for a time, the pleasures of earth, the deceitfulness of riches, and the cares of this world caused him to falter in the good cause. But in justice to his memory be it said that when convinced of an error, none was more ready than he to make amends for the same.

At a recent protracted meeting, conducted by President C. G. Andrews, of Centenary College, at Pipkin chapel, we believe he was constrained to "consider his ways," and from remarks made by him to the writer, subsequent to the meeting, we are led to believe that, like the prodigal son, he had resolved to return to his Father.

A FRIEND.

MRS. ELIZA ANN LITTLEJOHN was born in Montgomery county, N. C., July 22, 1813, and died in Jefferson, Texas, October 31, 1876. She was the daughter of Angus and Sallie M. Chisolm. She was married to Rev. William Littlejohn, in Tennessee, on September 10, 1833; so that for forty-three years this precious wife and mother adorned the home of her husband and children. To her sympathy they looked, and at every remove of life to her their hearts steadily turned. I remember my first visit, in company with Bishop Paine, to this Christian home—the cheerfulness, hospitality and unaffected care of parents and children for the comfort of their guests. And it was always so; for many years did this noble woman minister to the men of God, who passed that way, with the tenderness of a sister. Her testimony began in 1839, when she professed religion, and increased in depth and fullness to the very end of her career, to the nearness and goodness of her Lord; for the last several years abounding in labors and zeal, she went about doing good in aiding, as she best could, the poor and the sick, and in teaching the young the way to Christ. Her death was sudden; sitting up in bed, apparently better, all at once she fainted and died! Before she thought to have approached the stream she was over! What a transition must that be from sharp pain to glory! How easy to us, now that Christ has prepared the route; for "if we suffer with him we shall reign with him." Among the many noble spirits with whom the travel of life has thrown me I shall ever be grateful for the friendship of our dear sister, and shall see her, I doubt not, in heaven very near her Lord.

J. C. KEENER.

REV. B. S. PORTER was born October 8, 1825, in Dallas county, Ala., and professed religion when quite a boy. He was married to Miss A. R. White, December 19, 1841, in Tully county, Miss. He joined the Methodist Episcopal Church South in the fall of 1847, at Bethel church, in Tully county, Miss. He afterward moved to the State of Texas, where he was licensed to preach in 1856. He then removed to this State, and was ordained deacon in 1865. Bro. Porter was an effective preacher, acceptable wherever he changed to be, always magnifying his office as a true disciple of Christ. He carried his religion wherever he went. In all the business scenes of life he was the same uncompromising Christian, resolving to "know nothing save Christ crucified."

In 1869 he was appointed by the Louisiana Conference to the Pleasant Hill and Manny circuit, in connection with the writer. During that year his love and zeal for the church excited him to labor beyond his physical and mental ability. His health failed, and with it his mind gave way; but God, in his good providence, afterward restored him to his mind, and the embrace of his heart-broken family, where he lingered on the shores of mortality for four years more. His affliction was great, but in all he was submissive. Just before the soul and body were dissolved, being informed that he was dying, he asked: "Is this death?" Then, in the language of a greater one, he said: "How sweet is death!" Leaning on the promises, with an eye fixed on the mansion, he exclaimed: "Home! O blessed home!" Thus he died in the triumphs of a living faith, on the thirteenth of October, 1876.

J. M. F.

ELIZABETH LOUISA, daughter of Felton D. and Pejum A. Conley, was born in New Orleans, December 25, 1862; was received into the Methodist Episcopal Church South, September 20, 1874, and died in Trenton, La., of swamp fever, August 10, 1876, after about forty hours' great suffering. Bettie was a little Christian, and proved it by her life. She had a very quiet and retiring disposition. She was never better satisfied than when sharing with her mother in all her toils and griefs. Though her sickness was of such a character, and her suffering so great, she bore it all with Christian fortitude. When she realized that she had swamp fever, and would surely die, she said to her mother: "I am going home, mother, I am going home." Although she has been taken away so early in life, she has accomplished a work for the Master. We sorrow not as others that have no hope, for we feel assured that she has gone to engage in the delightful service of the Master in the sun-bright climes of eternal bliss. Her pastor,

H. O. WHITE.

MRS. SARAH DICKY SMITH was born in Hancock county, Ga., March 7, 1805. In her eighteenth year, at Concord camp ground, Putnam county, Ga., she was converted, and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, and was married to William Stubbs, February 9, 1825, in Putnam county, Ga. She was made a life member of the Missionary Society, at Society Hill, Macon county, Ala., in 1850. She was the mother of eight children, six of whom are still living. All are members of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. One son is a faithful steward in the Methodist Episcopal Church South. She was a leader, and was eloquent in public prayer. She died as she had lived—in sight of heaven—fully resigned to the will of her Master, yet desirous to live for her family and church. Her house was the home of the way-worn itinerant, and her greatest desire and delight was to make them comfortable and happy under her roof. She leaves behind an afflicted but loving companion, with many relatives and friends, to mourn their loss; but to her it is eternal gain. Her seat in church was never vacant when it was possible for her to fill it. She is very much missed from Good Hope church, of which she was a member. She died July 10, 1876, in Leake county, Miss.

R. A. SMILEY.

DIED, at the residence of his parents, in the parish of Natchitoches, La., W. E. MARTIN. He was born on the twenty-eighth of May, 1857, and departed this life on the nineteenth of October, 1876, aged nineteen years, four months and twenty-two days.

Willie was a good boy, and loved by all who knew him. He was taken off very unexpectedly—called away from his many friends, kind brothers and sisters, and loving parents. The amiable disposition of this young man entitled him not only to our respect, but to an enduring memory. His death has created a feeling never to be forgotten. It is sad, sad indeed, to part from a dutiful son, a loving brother and an affectionate friend; but oh! what a glorious consolation that he has departed this world of trouble to enter into a never-ceasing home of glory. We have a hope, a blessed hope, in his last moments he prayed to his heavenly Parent to save his soul. He then folded his bereaved mother closely to his bosom and said: "Oh! Lord, I pray, have mercy on me." He then breathed his last.

We have indeed lost a dear, dear friend; but as a solace to the bereaved family we rejoice in the consolation that their loss is his eternal gain.

"Though lost to sight,
To memory dear."

A friend, H. E. A.

MRS. MARY E. BAUGHN, daughter of James T. and Martha A. Cone, and consort of W. P. Baughn, was born in Meriwether county, Ga., September 2, 1835; joined the Methodist Episcopal Church South in 1850; married W. P. Baughn, in Aberdeen, Miss., December 22, 1852, and died at Sandy Point, Brazoria county, Texas, August 18, 1876.

Sister Baughn was a true woman, a devoted wife, an affectionate mother, a good neighbor, a firm friend, and a sincere, earnest Christian. Her faults were as few as mortality is heir to. Her virtues are stamped upon the memory of this community with an indelibleness that time and care can never efface. She was ever cheerful and pleasant and agreeable, with a smile and good word for every one, and I never heard her speak the slightest evil of anybody. This community has a rich legacy in the memory of her godly deeds and Christian life. She, "being dead, yet speaketh," for her noble example and labor of love will lure the hearts not only of husband and children, but of numerous friends, heavenward for years and years to come, even down to the ripe and mellow days of old age. The church has lost a power—she has won a harp and crown.

THOS. B. CHEEVES, P. C.

W. W. YORK was born in Lawrence district, S. C., in 1809. He professed religion and joined the Methodist Church in 1819, and died at his home, in Union county, Ark., on the twentieth of June, 1876.

A friend to the preacher, a lover of Jesus and his people, an earnest worker in his cause, he will be missed by all. For a long time prostrated upon a bed of suffering, his patience was very great. There was no murmuring nor repining, but a calm submission to the Master's will.

Before his death he had the sacrament of the Lord's Supper administered to himself and family, with a few of his neighbors. He exhorted every one to meet him in heaven, and died peacefully. His wife and children hope to meet him up yonder.

F. D. VANVALKENBURGH.

DIED, of typhoid fever, on the fourth of September, 1876, at her father's residence in St. Helena parish, La., MISS GERTRUDE ADDISON, aged thirteen years, ten months and thirteen days. She was born in the same parish, November 17, 1862. She was the second daughter of Mr. William S. and Mrs. Jane Addison. The writer knew her from her youth up. As a daughter she was obedi[ent] ever ready to submit to her paren[ts]; as a sister she was kind and a[f]fectionate; as a friend she was [k]ind and gentle. She never belonged [to] any church, but about two w[eeks] before she died there was a mig[hty] change wrought in her.

She was taken sick on the m[or]ning of the twenty-sixth of Au[gust] and was sick ten days. Just b[efore] she passed away she called [to] that were near and dear to her, [to] make them promise to meet h[er] heaven. As the angels seem[ed] gather around her dying bed, to [bear] her spirit away on their s[oft] wings to her immortal home, [she] had a sweet smile on her brow [al]though she had fallen asleep [in] Jesus.

WM. A. POWELL, L. P.

THE committee appointed to [pre]pare resolutions in regard to [the] death of GABRIEL LYONS, a mem[ber] of the Methodist Episcopal Chu[rch] South at Plaquemine Brulee, [in] Landry parish, La., have adopt[ed] the following:

Whereas, God in his wisdom has removed from us by death our [be]loved and lamented brother, Gab[riel] Lyons, thereby vindicating his [just] claims upon the jewels of ear[th]; therefore,

Resolved, That in his death the whole community were saddened beyond the experience of many years.

Resolved, That in his death the church here has lost one of her most effective members, while the church triumphant has plucked a gem for mother earth with which to deck her crown of rejoicing.

Resolved, That in his death we believe real and true Christian fortitude and resignation were never more sublimely displayed, nor undoubted truth that

"Jesus can make a dying bed
Feel soft as downy pillows are" more powerfully exemplified to those who witnessed the sad yet joyful scene.

Resolved, That although we deeply deplore his loss, yet we mourn not as those who have no hope; that our sympathies are in accord with the feelings of the truly afflicted family, and that our prayers ascend to heaven in behalf of his wife, husband and wife, father, and sons, when the chilling blasts of life with them have passed away.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Opelousas Journal and to the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE for publication, and one to the bereaved family.

R. R. LYONS,
J. B. CLARK,
H. S. HAMPTON,
Committee.

THOMAS BRUCE HARRIS was born in Warren county, Miss., October 1851, and died at his father's residence, September 3, 1876.

The death of this dear young man has saddened the hearts of many in this community besides those bound to him by consanguinity. Bruce, as he was called, was a noble young man—but few such in our country. He professed religion in his sixteenth year, under the preaching of Rev. Roberts, and joined the church at Beechland. From the day he took the vows of the church he lived a consistent Christian; and when I say this I mean all I say. But so loved of our heavenly Father has seen fit to take our beloved Bruce—one who we all loved.

On Sabbath the writer of this preached his funeral sermon to a large and weeping congregation, at the close of which we placed his remains in the old family grave-yard, there to rest till the trump of God shall wake it. May the Lord bless the broken-hearted family, and help them to give up their Bruce to Jesus.

E. M. FEATHERSTON.

DANIEL EMRICK was born December 8, 1821, and died July 13, [1876]. He was a cripple from the age of twenty-one. He spent a large portion of his life away from God; among his dying words were exhortations to the young not to follow his example in that particular. Some time before his death he made his peace with God, and he left us assuring his loved ones that he was going to heaven.

He was one of a family of eleven children, all of whom are gone but three, and all died in the church. Most of the family that are left are members of the church. O that they may be faithful, that they may not be separated in the world to come!

LEWIS R. FEATHERSTON.

DIED, at Camden, Ark., November 5, 1876, WILLIAM MARVIN, first son of Rev. A. and Mary Gottschall, aged four months and eleven days.

Bro. Gottschall has but recently moved to Camden, and has experienced constant affliction in his family since the first day of his arrival. The little bud just transplanted to bloom in heaven has been one of the victims. For four or five long weeks its cries of anguish have wrung the hearts of father and mother, and his anguish has been turned to delight as its cries to praise. Thank God for the gospel which tells us where our children have gone.

R. R. A.

The greatest misfortune of all is not to be able to bear misfortune.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1876.

SAILING AWAY.

BY PAMELA H. GOODWIN.

A horrying crowd, an out-bound ship,
A clasp of hand, a touch of lips
From weighing anchor waters drip—
Sailing away.

A last, long gaze thro' shade and light,
Over whitening waste a gleam of white,
To meet, ah, when? We pass from sight—
Sailing away.

The surge of death breaks on life's strand,
A fear, a smile, a wave of hand,
Our treasure ships one oor from land,
And all away.

Come back!" come back!" we cry in vain;
The silence mocks our longer pain,
Never to wait till o'er the main
We sail away.

Father, hear our fervent prayer—
May parting here be one thing there—
Not even a wave of dark despair
Sailing away!

How to be Happy.

BY THE LATE REV. JAMES HAMILTON, D. D.

The writer of the book of Ecclesiastes was a man of vast and varied earthly knowledge, and his originality was equal to his information. He was a poet and a moralist, a sagacious politician and a wise monarch. He had splendid taste in architecture and landscape gardening, and his enormous wealth enabled him to convert into palpable realities the visions of his gorgeous imagination. Thus favored and favored, he commenced a search after happiness. He sought for it in intellectual pursuits, in pleasures both coarse and refined, in the fascinations of power and fame. But the result of all his inquiries is summed up in the melancholy refrain: "All is vanity and vexation of spirit."

Do you ask for modern instances of a similar kind? We could call to court nearly as many witnesses as we have been Nimrods—mighty hunters after happiness. We might ask the statesman, and, as we wished him a happy new year, Lord Dundas would answer: "It had need be better than the last, for I never knew one happy day in it." We might ask the successful lawyer, the wariest, driest, most self-complacent of them all would answer, as Lord Eldon was privately recorded to have done, when the whole bar envied the chancellor: "A few weeks will send us to dear Encombe, at a short rest-place between vexation and the grave." We might ask the golden millionaire: "You must be a happy man, Mr. Roth-child!" "Happy! happy! What! Happy when, as you are going to dine, you see a letter placed on your hand, saying: 'If you do not send me £50 I will blow your brains out'? Happy when you have to sleep with pistols under your pillow?" We might ask the world-famed warrior, and get for answer the "Miserere" of the Emperor Charles the fifth, or the sigh of a broken heart from St. Helena. We might ask the brilliant courtier, Lord Chesterfield would tell us: "I have enjoyed all the pleasures of the world, and I do not regret them. I have been behind the scenes. I have seen all the coarse pulleys and dirty ropes which move the gaudy machines; and I have seen and smelt the tallow candles which illuminate the whole decoration to the astonishment of an ignorant audience." We might ask the dazzling wit, and, with a flash of glory, yet disgust with the creatures, who adored him, Voltaire would confess the science of his existence into the word—"Ennui." And we might ask the world's poet, Lord Byron, and would be answered with an imprecation by that splendid genius,

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

The Christian Advocate.

Organ of the Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences of the M. E. Church South.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1876.

REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D., Editor.

ROBT. J. HARP, PUBLISHER.

OFFICE—112 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS

Address, on all matters of business, Rev. R. J. HARP, 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

Address all communications designed for publication to Rev. LINUS PARKER, 112 Camp street New Orleans.

AGENTS—All the members of the Patronizing Conferences.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEE.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.
REV. EDWARD WADSWORTH, D. D.
REV. A. J. BRIGGS.
REV. J. W. RUSH.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. H. WATKINS, D. D.
REV. JAMES A. GODFREY.
REV. J. O. JONES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. CHRISTIAN KEENER.
REV. JOHN MATHEWS.
REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D.

CHANGE OF RATES.

The New Orleans Christian Advocate will be furnished to subscribers hereafter at the following rates, including postage:

One Year	$2 00
Six Months	1 15
Three Months	75

To all Ministers of the Gospel and widows of deceased traveling preachers, half the above rates.

FREE ONE YEAR

to any person forwarding to us four new yearly subscribers, with FOUR DOLLARS.

Examinations of Character.

"Giving no offense in anything, that the ministry be not blamed," is only one side of the statement, but it is an important one. The more positive aspect of ministerial duty, however, carries us into the very heart of the admonition: "But in all things approving ourselves as the ministers of God." This approval is in such things as "patience, afflictions, necessities, distresses," and thus through an extended inventory.

The purity of the Christian ministry is vital to its success. A stain here inflicts greater damage than when it falls upon other members of the church. The world looks for the highest type of moral excellence in those occupying the position of teachers, and administering the sacraments. Loss of confidence in their integrity and virtue effectually destroys their influence, and with the unwary and thoughtless brings Christianity itself under suspicion. The greater danger is not from flagrant and open vice, but from carelessness and imprudence. The appearance of evil is an actual and damaging sin in those who preach the gospel. In them an indiscretion is a grave offense, magnified and intensified by the greater power of mischief which their calling gives it. It takes a church or community a long time to get over one case of disorder or scandal in its pastors. Recklessness in regard to character, trifling upon the very edge of sin, and venturing to the farthest limits of morality, even where overt acts are not committed, are crimes in the minister of God. He must live so as to be above all reasonable suspicion. If he does not do this he deserves to be dealt with as one who has forfeited the respect of the people, and has rendered himself unworthy of the confidence of his brethren. He must be judged even by a higher standard than that which ordinarily applies to laymen. The ministry must be above reproach in the matter of morals.

Our system of close annual examinations of character of the local preachers in the Quarterly Conference, and of the traveling preachers in the Annual Conference, is admirably calculated to secure this most desirable end. In neither of these bodies should this duty be performed in a hasty or superficial manner. It is one of the most responsible and difficult in the range of Conference business. Faithfulness in its performance is the guarantee that our people have that their new pastors are men of God, and deserving of their confidence and affection. The passage of a preacher's character is the sufficient and highest testimonial that a Methodist preacher can have. Having passed this investigation without censure, he is entitled to a cordial reception and a liberal support by the people to whom he is sent. As our churches have no voice in the selection; their only protection and assurance are in the fidelity and carefulness of the Conference examinations.

Charity and Christian forbearance should not be excluded, but any undue laxity will have the tendency to impair the confidence of the people, and lead them to undervalue the indorsement of those who deserve it. Those who sit in judgment on a doubtful case are really judging themselves. To allow the guilty to escape is to impair the value of their own credentials. The examination of character, to be worth anything, must be strict, impartial and thorough. If vigilance is not maintained at this point the Conferences will themselves be distrusted and dishonored, and the doors to a corrupt ministry will be thrown wide open. It is sometimes the duty of the Conference to vindicate a member from unjust complaint and accusation. The value, however, of an acquittal to the innocent depends upon the uniform firmness and justice which characterize Conference investigations. If these be not searching and discriminating, the most favorable verdicts will come to be regarded with suspicion. It is almost inevitable that good men should make mistakes, but we may be sure that none are more hurtful than those that permit imprudent and impure men to go out as accredited ministers of Jesus Christ. Men who give unreasonable offense—who do not approve themselves as the ministers of God, especially approve themselves "by pureness, by knowledge, by long suffering, by kindness, by the Holy Ghost, by love unfeigned, by the word of truth, by the power of God, by the armor of righteousness on the right hand and on the left"—are not to be commended and vouched for by the vote of an Annual Conference.

It has been thought by many, and the conviction is still entertained, that examination with closed doors would contribute to a thorough and effective examination of character. This was the old way, and is now, unless the Conference, by vote, directs the doors to be opened. In most of our Conferences the examination is with open doors. To close them is an inconvenience, and some contend that the impression upon the public is unfavorable. But, on the other hand, closed doors would be favorable to greater candor, and would save the feelings of those whom it may be the duty of the Conference to instruct and admonish. If, however, there must be open doors, this should not be allowed to suppress the truth, nor to enfeeble the course of justice. "That the ministry be not blamed" should be the subject of watchful anxiety with every minister for himself, and in the discharge of his duty toward his brethren and the church.

At the same time we should guard against unreasonable and puerile grounds of censure and complaint. Offenses of this sort against charity and common sense are sometimes witnessed in our Conferences. Words are spoken, reflecting on a brother, that ought not to be uttered; and matters personal, domestic and private, which have nothing to do with character and administration, are ventilated in a manner as shocking to propriety as they are afflictive to those whom they are calculated to injure. Our zeal for the purity of the ministry should be accompanied by that charity which "doth not behave itself unseemly."

Thanksgiving.

The chief truth underlying the appointment of a day of thanksgiving is the recognition of the existence of God, and that he is our creator and preserver. This is not all that the Christian would like to have, but it is even more than forty millions of people can agree upon. The materialists would rule out any mention of God, and fail to see anything but an absurd superstition in the whole affair. People of deistical notions, after the fashion of Hume and some of his cotemporaries, can find nothing in their conceptions of God to warrant gratitude or thankfulness at one time more than another. Our Hebrew citizens can consistently thank God, but they cannot tolerate the name of Christ in connection with a presidential proclamation, or in worship. In their own way, and in accord with their several convictions, people will give thanks. Prelatical, high church folks, Catholics, and some others, will look upon the appointment of a day by the President as interfering with churchly prerogatives, as a high-handed usurpation.

The majority of Protestant Christians, however, will not stand much upon the order or form of the matter, but will pray and give thanks "through Jesus Christ." Neither will they stumble at the fact that the proclamation comes from no very devout source, and that they are called to give thanks at a time when it would be more appropriate to put on sackcloth, and devote the day to fasting. It is well always to give thanks, "and praise is comely for the upright in heart." God has done his part toward making us a great, prosperous and free people, and, if we are not all of these, it is no fault of his. Thousands of people are this day without bread and raiment, and the country was never more sorely pressed and straitened in its business and finances. But so far as this state of things is due to political causes the nation has itself to blame. The present crisis, which has unsettled everything, and is entailing distress, bankruptcy and want upon multitudes, is the result of years of oppression and despotism which the majority has left unrebuked. God is not the author of sin. He has not made the corruption, dishonesty and moral pollution which stalk abroad in society and rule in high places.

God has done his part for our welfare in that he has given us fruitful seasons, and has sent his rain and sun upon the just and the unjust. No general visitations of pestilence have been among us, there have been no overwhelming earthquakes, no far-spreading and devastating storms. The miseries that are upon us, and those that threaten, are of our own making, as a nation. The people, as a people, must condemn themselves for the misfortunes they suffer, while they have God to thank for all the blessings they enjoy. Virtue and piety are the only roads to national prosperity and happiness. Without these, good crops, benign seasons, good health and inexhaustible material resources will be in vain.

Attributing, as we do, our sufferings to the vileness of man, we do not doubt that God in his providence will somehow overrule the strife and wickedness of men for good. He is ever educing good out of evil, and mercifully guides the storm which human passion and selfishness raises. We must not, in our painful consciousness of political abuses, and a limited commercial prosperity, overlook the many blessings given, in our domestic relations, in our deliverance from famine, and in at least the moderate supply of things necessary. Under the rank wild grass, and beneath the dark forest branches, there are many humble but beautiful and fragrant flowers. Beneath this frowning autumnal sky there are some hardy blossoms of rare brilliance and splendor. People happy in their homes without luxuries, but with many comforts, should not crush the bloom at their feet while gazing with troubled brows upon the general troubles of the land. Let us be fair and honest, and give thanks for the things we have.

If we cannot give our gratitude a national turn, we can, as individuals, give glory to God for his providential care, and the more heartily that in the midst of national disturbance and financial distress we have had preservation and things necessary. The Christian dwells apart—he walks with God. The secret of the Lord is with him, and he finds occasion for thanksgiving and praise where other souls are only given to distrust and murmuring. The nation has held together a hundred years, and we, as individuals, are yet alive, and the Lord reigneth. Let us thank God and take courage.

A Brief History of the New Orleans Christian Advocate.

NO. III.

As soon as the clouds of war began to pass away the three patronizing Conferences resumed their former relation to the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE—filled up their publishing committees, and set them to work to retrieve the suspended prestige of our adopted organ. But, alas! times were hard, and getting harder. Our people had been reduced to poverty. What little money they could command was all consumed in the support of their families, and in paying the most exorbitant taxes. The paper was not self-supporting; the patronizing Conferences could not consistently involve themselves in pecuniary liabilities. The Publishing Committee felt greatly embarrassed. What could be done to insure the continuance of the paper? At this perplexing crisis Rev. R. J. Harp, the agent of our Book Depository in New Orleans, generously proffered to take the paper as publisher, and become responsible for all its pecuniary liabilities, and depend for his compensation on any net proceeds that might accrue. Most nobly has Bro. Harp fulfilled his part of the contract with the Publishing Committee. With Rev. L. Parker as editor, he has been giving us one of the cheapest and most unexceptionably good papers to be found in the whole Christian Advocate family in the South or North. His materials and mechanical execution are next to faultless. The editorial and publishing departments are indorsed by the three patronizing Annual Conferences, and, so far as I have noticed, by all the District Conferences. But, as one of the Publishing Committee, I regret to say, up to a late date Bro. Harp has received no pecuniary compensation for his almost superhuman labors in publishing our most excellent paper. By then he pays for his superior materials, pays the editor a more living salary, pays his employees, and all the incidental expenses of the publication, he has nothing left for himself. I feel that this is a hardship from which we must relieve him. "The laborer is worthy of his hire." Mr. Harp gives the Publishing Committee, at its annual session, an itemized account current of the expenses of the publication, and the proceeds of the paper from subscribers and advertisers, and we cordially approve of all he does; but we are not satisfied to have him perform such a Herculean work for the church without a just compensation, at least enough to keep him unembarrassed. Persons not acquainted with the cost of publishing a first-class paper have but little knowledge of the immense cost of such an enterprise. The joint committee of publication have examined Bro. Harp's disbursements, supported by unquestionable vouchers, and know that to make things work easy, and keep our paper on a solid and safe foundation, we must have, within the next few months, at least four thousand additional paying subscribers. The first preacher I mentioned this much-needed additional list of subscribers to, replied he did not know how they could be obtained. I believe if we can only get the preachers and other church officials, with the members, once awakened to an active canvass on the subject, we can get the needed four thousand in three months after our ensuing Conferences. Let each of the three patronizing Conferences obtain thirteen hundred and thirty-three new subscribers and we have the required number. How easy one united and persistent effort would accomplish the much-desired object! And this would not only place our paper on a remunerative financial basis, but the revelations of eternity only would make known the vast amount of good done to the souls of men. We have read of many gracious revivals, resulting in many additions to the church, this year, in our patronizing territory. If we would have these new members grow in grace, and in their turn make stable, intelligent and useful Methodist Christians, we must place our church organ at once in their hands. I sincerely wish each of our patronizing Conferences, to meet this winter, would formally resolve to raise at least its pro rata share of the indispensable four thousand. Let us get them, brethren.

J. C. JONES.

PORT GIBSON, November, 1876.

Our Sunday School System.

MR. EDITOR: I have read with care the communications of Bro. Abernethy and Dr. Kavanaugh on "Our Sunday School System." As the questions discussed by these brethren involve matters of very grave importance, and as there seems to be some misapprehension as to our present system, it may be proper for me to say a few words on the subject. Dr. Kavanaugh says: "We have no system at all." In this I think he is mistaken.

1. We have a regular system of Sunday school lessons. Not, as he asserts, "the International Lessons, gotten up by members of one of the Calvinistic churches, and put into our hands, as Methodists, to be taught our children, with the plea that there is nothing sectarian in them." We have no such thing. We use the selection of Scripture texts known as the "International Texts," but not one word of note or comment by any man, church or school in the world. For example, the first lesson for January, 1877, is: "The Kingdom Divided.—First Kings xii, 12-20." This is all—every word. The eighth verse of the twelfth chapter is suggested as a "golden text," which may be used or not. I generally use the verse suggested, because it seems to me appropriate. These "International Texts" are not selected by "one of the Calvinistic churches," but by a committee of evangelical Christian ministers and laymen, of which Dr. J. H. Vincent, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, is chairman—a sound Arminian Methodist.

Again, Dr. Kavanaugh makes a mistake in calling the Sunday School Times "the official organ of these lessons." There is no "official organ of these lessons." The Bible is the only "official organ" of which I know anything in this connection. I have no more to do with the Sunday School Times than Dr. Kavanaugh has. I read it, and respect it as an excellent paper, but I do not use its notes or comments, for my own periodicals are printed before the Sunday School Times comes to hand, and could not therefore, if I wished, use its expositions. If Dr. Kavanaugh wished to examine "our system" why did he not take our church periodicals—our Sunday School Magazine, Lesson Papers, Visitors and Little People? What have we to do with the Sunday School Times? He might as well judge us by the New York Observer. We have a system, and by it we are willing to be judged. It is as Methodistic as our theological standards, for it is conformed in all its doctrinal teachings to these great authorities. I use, in preparing my expository notes on the lessons, Clarke, Benson, Summers, Whedon, Watson, Wesley, Lange, and "such like."

2. We have a system of Sunday school libraries sufficiently extensive to cover the whole field of "juvenile theological schools." We have theology, biography, biblical history, sacred geography, etc. Our Sunday school library contains such books as Fletcher's Appeal, Watson's Apology, Summers on Holiness, Wesley on Perfection, Fletcher on Perfection, Refutation of Payne, Allelve's Adam, Baxter's Call, Divine Providence, Essay on Apostasy, Dairyman's Daughter, besides a good supply of well-written books suited to the small children. No church in the land has furnished its Sunday schools with a better selection of safe, sound books in Christian literature than the Methodist Episcopal Church South. Dr. Summers devoted some of the best years of his life to the work of collecting and arranging the Sunday school library. Dr. Haygood made many valuable additions to it.

3. We have also an extensive system of catechetical instruction for our Sunday schools. We use the Wesleyan Catechisms—standards throughout the Methodist world—none better in our language—Caper's Catechisms, Summers' Catechisms, McTyeire's Catechisms, and a number of others, sanctioned by the authorities of the church. The only publication, besides our periodicals, brought out this year is a Methodist catechism. We publish in every number of the Weekly Sunday School Visitor a lesson from the Wesleyan Catechism. Are these "phantoms concocted and put in operation by the Calvinists," of which Dr. Kavanaugh speaks?

As to the "doctrinal lectures" which my good brethren want, I must refer them to the pastors of the churches. This is properly pastoral work, with which, of course, I have nothing to do. Every faithful minister of God will see to it that the children of his congregation are not "neglected in the daily ministrations," and that they are properly instructed in the doctrines of the church. This he may do in person by lectures, or otherwise, as he deems best. It ought to be done faithfully.

Now have we "no system at all?" Have we not a good system? Are we not well furnished? If it earnest, prayerful workers we want. We have tools enough.

W. G. E. CUNNYNGHAM,
Sunday School Secretary.

NASHVILLE, TENN., Nov. 21, 1876.

The Week of Prayer.

The Evangelical Alliance has issued the following programme for the week of prayer, January 7-14, 1877:

Sunday, Jan. 7.—Sermons: Christian fellowship—First John i, 7.

Monday, Jan. 8.—Thanksgiving and confession, in the review of the past year.

Tuesday, Jan. 9.—Prayer: For the Holy Spirit on the universal church—Joel ii, 28; for its deliverance from error and corruption, and its increase of faith, activity, holiness and Christian charity.

Wednesday, Jan. 10.—Prayer for families; for the unconverted; for the sons and daughters at school and college, and for those abroad; for any in sickness, trouble or temptation; and for those who have been recently "added to the church."

Thursday, Jan. 11.—Prayer for nations; for rulers, magistrates and statesmen; for philanthropic and benevolent institutions; for a pure literature, the spread of sound education among the people, and maintenance of peace.

Friday, Jan. 12.—Prayer for Christian missions to the Jews and Gentiles—Luke xxx, 47; for Sunday schools; and for the conversion of the world to Christ.

Saturday, Jan. 13.—Prayer for the observance of the Christian Sabbath; for the promotion of temperance; and for the safety of those "who go down to the sea in ships, that do business in great waters."

Sunday, Jan. 14.—Sermons: One Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all.—Ephes. iv, 5, 6.

We were shocked last week, says the Nashville Christian Advocate of Nov. 25, by the sad news of the sudden death of Mr. James H. McFerrin and his wife. They resided near Wittsburg, Arkansas. The venerable mother of our dear brethren, the McFerrins, resided with them, deceased. She will now reside with her only remaining daughter, Mrs. Apple white, in the same neighborhood. We most deeply sympathize with the extensive family connection—in which, by the way, there had been no death for more than half a century, except that of the Rev. James McFerrin, the old patriarch of the family, and a daughter whose heart was broken by the sudden death of her son by drowning. The present stroke is indeed severe, as it came without any warning. A memoir may be expected in the Advocate. A son-in-law of the deceased, Mr. John M. Simmons, writes thus to the doctor and his brother, the Rev. A. P. McFerrin:

DEAR RELATIVES: I have sad, sad news to communicate to you: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McFerrin are both dead. Mother was found dead last Monday morning, November 6, in the garden. No one knows the cause. We suppose, however, it was apoplexy. Mr. McFerrin had had two third-day chills, but was attending to business. He had the third chill on Wednesday evening; congestion took place. A physician was sent for, but he could not relieve him, and he died on Thursday morning, November 9, about eight o'clock. We are very much grieved at our great loss.

Northern Methodist Missions.

The Missionary Committee of the Northern M. E. Church met last week in New York. The papers state that the committee appointed to consider what amount should be made the limit to be appropriated for the missionary work of the ensuing year, reported in favor of fixing it at $525,000, and that in addition the sum of $100,000 be appropriated toward the payment of the outstanding indebtedness of the committee, amounting to nearly $240,000. This makes a total to be raised next year of $625,000. The report was adopted, and the committee appointed to assist the secretaries in raising the money called for. It was resolved to prohibit European missions from taking up any new charges or making any appointments in any new territory without the consent of the presiding Bishop. The sums to be appropriated in each missionary district were discussed, and in every case a reduction on last year's appropriations was made, owing to the financial depression and impossibility of raising larger sums of money. The following were appropriated: Liberia, $7,000; South America, $7,500; Foochoo, China, $13,000; Kinkaiang, $7,000; Pekin, $8,250; Germany and Switzerland, $20,000; Denmark, $7,500; Norway, $10,500; Sweden, $8,000; Japan, $15,000; Chinese mission in California, $9,000; India mission, Central New York Conference, $300; Detroit, $700; Puget Oregon and Washington, $300; Michigan, $700; Northern New York, $250; Western New York, $200; Wisconsin, $200; Indian mission in California, $500; Colored mission, Central Alaska, $2,500; Delaware, $1,000; Florida, $3,500; Texas, $1,000; Detroit, $1,500; Kentucky, $5,000; Louisiana, $6,500; Michigan, $1,500; Minnesota, $5,000; Missouri, $5,000; Nevada, $2,500; Northwest Iowa, $4,500; Oregon, $2,100; Rocky Mountain, $6,000; St. Louis, $3,500; Southern California, $2,000; Tennessee, $5,000; West Virginia, $1,500; Wisconsin, $1,000; Arizona, $2,000; contingent fund, $25,000; incidental expenses, $25,000; office expenses, $14,000; disseminating missionary information, $20,000. This puts the committee $5,480 over their total limit, and they made that amount up by taking small amounts off many districts. We in the South think it would be both fraternal and economical to stop the appropriations—at least many of them—for the support of men who are operating within our borders. Send the money to "the regions beyond."—Nashville Christian Advocate.

TO THE ALABAMA CONFERENCE: Dear Brethren: The various roads by which you come to Greensboro offer the following terms:

The Western, Selma, Rome and Dalton, Alabama Central, Selma, Mobile and Montgomery will give return tickets to those paying one fare. The Mobile and Montgomery road will sell round-trip tickets to Montgomery. The Mobile and Ohio will sell excursion tickets to Meridian to parties of nine or ten applying together. The Montgomery and Eufaula will sell excursion tickets at their office, from December 2 to December 9, to remain good till December 16. The Mobile and Girard has been applied to, but not heard from. Fraternally,

J. LEWIS, JR.

Mrs. Martha Kennon, widow of the sainted Dr. R. L. Kennon, died at Newton, Miss., November 2. Sister Kennon, we believe, was in her eightieth year at the time of her death. She was in attendance at the Seashore camp meeting in July last, and seemed to greatly enjoy the services. She appeared then to be in tolerable health, in her usual cheerful spirits, and with mental faculties unimpaired. Rev. R. S. Woodward has furnished a memoir, which will appear shortly.

NO ARMOR FOR THE BACK.—Let me advise you to wear no armor for your back when you have determined to follow the track of truth. Receive upon your breastplate of righteousness the sword-cuts of your adversaries; the stern metal shall turn the edges of your foeman's weapon. Let the right be your lord paramount, and for the rest be free and your own master still. Follow the truth for her own sake; follow her in evil report; let not many waters quench your love to her. Yield to no established rules if they involve a lie. Do not evil that good should come of it. "Consequences?"—this is the devil's argument. Leave consequences to God, but do right. If friends fall thee, do the right. If foemen surround thee, do the right. Be genuine, real, sincere, true, upright, god-like. The world's maxim is: Trim your sails and yield to circumstances. But if you would do any good in your generation, you must be made of sterner stuff, and help make your times rather than be made by them. You must not yield to customs, but, like the anvil, endure all blows, until the hammers break themselves. When misrepresented, use no crooked means to clear yourself. Clouds do not last long. If in the course of duty you are tried by the distrust of friends, gird up your loins and say in your heart: I was not driven to virtue by the encouragement of friends, nor will I be repelled from it by their coldness. Finally, be just and fear not; "corruption wins not more than honesty;" truth lives and reigns when falsehood dies and rots.—Spurgeon.

Books and Periodicals.

HOME HARMONIES. A collection of Saturday night reflections for home corners. By Mark M. Pomeroy, New York: G. W. Carleton & Co., publishers.

The author, better known as Brick Pomeroy, is a clever writer, simple, popular, illustrative in style, and abounding in a certain type of moral and religious sentiment. We feel, however, in reading these reflections, that there are defects at the root of the author's religious doctrines and convictions, and that there is more of worldly wisdom than of grace in the lessons which he aims to inculcate.

COMMUNION WINE AND INTEMPERANCE, BUNYAN'S PILGRIM'S PROGRESS, AND INTOXICATING LIQUORS. By James Miller. With an inquiry showing the tracks of the wine-cup among the churches. By W. M. Boston: Lee & Shepard, publishers, 1877.

From a hasty glance at the contents and chapters of this pamphlet we gather that the author holds that the use of unfermented wine only is countenanced in Scripture, that Bunyan's immortal work is mischievous in promoting intemperance, and that much drunkenness is occasioned by the use of fermented wine in the Lord's Supper. Paper cover, 131 pages. Price, thirty five cents.

THE WINGED LION, OR STORIES OF VENICE. By Prof. James DeMille.

Illustrated, 12mo, 323 pages. Price, $1.50.

—We are glad to learn that the third edition of Dr Haygood's excellent book, "Our Children," has been called for, and is now in press. This work is one of great merit, and its circulation will do incalculable good. We hope that forty editions may be called for, and that it be a standard in our Methodist families for generations.

NOTICE.—Any of the members of the Louisiana Annual Conference who may desire to go to Trenton by rail can procure round-trip tickets from New Orleans to Jackson for full fare and one fifth one way, and return free. The Vicksburg and Texas road takes us to Monroe for full fare going, and returns us free. The time by rail from New Orleans to Trenton is twenty-four hours.

J. B. WALKER.

CONFERENCE SESSIONS.

CONFERENCE.	PLACE.	BISHOP.	TIME.
Denver	Colorado City	Marvin	Aug. 23
Western	Nebraska City	McTyeire	Aug. 30
St. Louis	Washington	McTyeire	Sept. 6
Missouri	Hannibal	McTyeire	Sept. 13
Kentucky	Nicholasville	Kavanaugh	Sept. 13
Columbia	Corvallis, Ore.	Marvin	Sept. 13
W. Virginia	Charleston	Kavanaugh	Sept. 18
Illinois	Jacksonville	Paine	Sept. 20
W. Missouri	Miami	McTyeire	Oct. 4
Tennessee	Palmyra	Keener	Oct. 4
Louisville	Louisville	Wightman	Oct. 4
Pacific	San Francisco	Marvin	Oct. 11
Indian Mission	Visalia, Cal. T	McTyeire	Oct. 12
Holston	Bristol	Wightman	Oct. 18
Arkansas	Vellville	Keener	Oct. 18
Los Angeles	S. Bernardino	Marvin	Oct. 20
West Texas	Seguin	Doggett	Oct. 25
German Miss	Grassy Fork	Doggett	Nov. 1
N.W. Texas	Calvert	Doggett	Nov. 8
North Texas	Longview	Doggett	Nov. 15
Memphis	Memphis	Pierce	Nov. 15
Virginia	Richmond	Kavanaugh	Nov. 15
N. Mississippi	Sardis	Pierce	Nov. 22
Texas	Huntsville	Doggett	Nov. 29
N. Carolina	Greensboro	Kavanaugh	Nov. 29
White River	Batesville	Keener	Nov. 29
Mississippi	Satartia	Wightman	Nov. 29
Alabama	Greensboro	Paine	Dec. 6
N. Georgia	Sparta	Pierce	Dec. 6
Georgia	Sandersville	Pierce	Dec. 13
S. Carolina	Chester	Kavanaugh	Dec. 13
N. Alabama	Decatur	McTyeire	Dec. 13
Little Rock	Arkadelphia	Keener	Dec. 13
Louisiana	Trenton	Wightman	Dec. 13
East Texas	Hendersonville	Doggett	Dec. 13
Florida	Monticello	Pierce	Dec. 11
Baltimore	Alexandria	Kavanaugh	Mar.

Publisher's Department.

PAYNE'S PORTABLE ENGINES are advertised by B. J. West in another column. Mr. West has also machinery of every description, and invites planters and others interested to correspond with him. He has been engaged in this business for many years, and is perfectly familiar with the wants of planters in the South. Any one in the city wishing to examine the engines can call at the stores on Magazine street, and will find Mr. West a pleasant gentleman to deal with.

A. B. GRISWOLD & CO.—This old and well-known jewelry house, at the corner of Canal and Royal streets, is still prepared to fill all orders for watches, jewelry, silverware, etc. This firm is thoroughly reliable in every respect, and there is not a better place in the South to purchase jewelry that we are aware of. Parties ordering can rely upon the judgment of Messrs. Griswold & Co. if not able to be present to select in person. For particulars see advertisement.

DRY GOODS.—Our friends will note J. A. Braselman's advertisement on this page, headed "Country Orders." For cash this house will fill any orders by mail or express at the shortest notice. Mr Braselman is the successor of the firm of Braselman & Adams, who made a reputation in this line of business. In the advertisement will be found particulars as to remittances, shipments, etc. Send on orders, and they will be satisfactorily filled.

COMMISSION MERCHANTS.—Messrs. Lange & Legendre, whose card is published in our paper to day, solicit a share of the patronage of our country friends. We notice they have appended a list of references, though that is hardly necessary, as they are well known, and have built up a nice business in the line they have been in New Orleans. We commend them to the courtesy of our friends.

NEW ORLEANS SAVINGS INSTITUTION.—This we believe to be one of the best institutions of its kind in the South. It was founded by the late Dr. Mercer in 1835, and has been ever since it went into operation, under the management of careful financiers. Deposits of any sum from $1 up are received. It is a good place to place money for safe keeping. See advertisement.

COAL.—For coal, we would refer our readers to the advertisement of Messrs. W. G. Wilmot & Co. They are prepared to fill orders at wholesale and retail, to parties in the city or country. This firm deals largely in coal, and consumers will consult their own interest in getting their prices before purchasing. Their office is at 56 Poydras street.

ANY ONE in need of a sewing machine is referred to the advertisement of the Weed Sewing Machine Company, 182 Canal street, of which R. C. Adams is the manager. Mr. Adams will be found polite, and always ready to attend to the wants of his customers. And will sell a good machine on reasonable terms.

Acknowledgments of Letters and Funds

RECEIVED BY MAIL,

For the Week Ending Nov. 25, 1876.

A—D Appleton & Co, Adams, Blackmer & Co, American Sunday School Union, George P Archer.

B—Boorum & Pease, J Bride & Co $13, F R Brown & Co $4.25, Miss Boyce, Daniel Beatty & Co, J H Butler & Co, Baker & Sperry, Henry A Breed, A S Bishop, Barnes & Wilkinson, Thomas W Brown $3.15, W T Billing, J W Beathard $1.25, J M Brown $10, John C C Black.

C—S C Collins, M M Clark, V L Cooper, W Chamberlain $2, Catching & Ainsworth, Mrs S C Chapman, B Carradine $3.50, A C Calhoun $3, Robert Carter & Bros, Lyman Carley $8.25, M S Crain.

D—E P Dutton & Co, P A Dicks, Charles H Dickson & Co, H C Dalton, W B Dennis $75, J W DeWhiss, Donaldson & Co.

E—H Eastland & Co, I V Eunchs $9, C Edwards 25 cents.

F—J L Futrell, I T Fitzhugh $2.65, H W Featherstun, H M Friend, A C Finley $1, W F Ferris $50, W E Farrell.

G—George W Graves, William W Gamble.

H—R H Howard $2.65, J F Hines, R S Hunter, Holloman & Bro, J D Harper, M J Hamilton, S E Hudson, Thomas W Hines, E J Hale & Sons, Robert F Hamilton.

J—Mrs A R James, B Jones $8.55, Miss F A Johnson, J F Joor, P O Johnson $2, Jackson & Gallagher.

K—William Kendrick & Son, Theodore E Kelly, Kilgore & Gillett.

L—J G Lane, W S Lagroue $1, C Hearl Leonard, J B Lippincott & Co.

M—W H Morris, F A McKeelline, W P Mosley $3, Morgan Envelope Company, J T Metcalfe $1.50, J C McCurdy & Co, J E Mason, P A F Martin, W H Methany $5, C K Marshall, I Z T Morris.

N—J T Newcomer, New York Stamp Paint Company, T J Newell, R H Norsworthy $2.

O—B E Osborne Detroit.

P—W A Pythe $3, M Park, W T Pattie $4.10, S M Pettengill & Co, Miss Emmie Patton 25 cents.

R—J H Richardson, George P Rowell & Co, J K Randall $20.96, W W Ridgeway, Robinson & Co, A H Redford agent two letters, J M Reuss $6.75, W N Raines $4, Ira B Robertson.

S—W J Scott $2, St Louis Advertising and Publishing Company $10, H H Sullivan, Street & Smith, C E Saunders $4, E G Selchow & Co three letters, T D Smith, J W Saufley $2, L E Stockell, Smith, Dixon & Co, S H Schroeder, S C Schwing $10.50, George S Scofield.

T—Joseph Townsend, O E Tucker $5, John H Torrance $2, C E Tennison.

V—W H Vaughn, H Vickman 25 cents.

W—W H Woodard, D L Wright, J Weaver & Co, C M Wilt, J C Welch $4, H G Walsche, B W Worden, Miss L Wyse.

IRON COTTON TIES.—The advertisement of B. W. Rayne & Co. will be found in our paper to day. Messrs. Rayne & Co have in addition to the famous Arrow Tie the ties of Branch Crooks & Co, and Beard & Bros. They are the general agents of the American Cotton Tie Co. Limited. Planters can rely on the information from this house or its agencies to be all they are represented to be. The ties can usually be procured of stores in towns and country, and where this is not the case an order addressed to any of the agencies in this city will receive attention.

There are no better or more honorable gentlemen in this country than those composing the company for fair dealing and business straightforwardness. They are a credit to the business community, and just such a company to deserve the encouragement and patronage of good men. We always take pleasure as we should now in calling attention to their advertisement.

WE WOULD call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Messrs. Reed, Barry & Co. The old firm of Rice Bros. & Co. is too well known throughout the country for many years. Lately the style of the firm has been changed, but the same men have remained, and will continue to give their attention to the shoe business as the house enjoys. Our readers will note particularly the advertisement of the Bracket Saw, a cut of which will be seen. It is an ingenious little machine, and those who purchase it will no doubt derive pleasure and profit from its use. Orders and communications addressed to this house will be satisfactorily attended to.

ON THIS PAGE will be found the advertisement of J. A. Bourg, commission merchant. Mr. Bourg will attend to the sale of cotton and country produce generally. He solicits a share of the patronage of our readers. His office has been removed to 117 Decatur street, to which place orders can be addressed, or to P. O. Lock Box 87. Mr. Bourg will endeavor to give satisfaction to those who deal with him.

COOPERAGE.—Sugar planters and others interested will find the advertisement of T. A. Beck on this page. Mr. Beck will fill orders at very short notice, as he keeps constantly on hand a large assortment of hogsheads, barrels and kegs. His office is at 23 and 25 North Front street, near the sugar sheds, where samples can be seen and purchases made.

PIPE ORGAN BUILDERS.—Messrs. Jackson & Gallagher have built some of the finest organs in the country.

E. OFFNER will be pleased to meet purchasers at his China and glassware establishment.

LEVY BROS.' dry goods establishment is at 580 Magazine street.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

H. F. W. HACHMAN

invites the attention of purchasers to the largest, cheapest and most attractive stock of

BOOTS AND SHOES,

to all the tea trade sales ever displayed in this city, consisting of LADIES', GENTS AND CHILDREN'S FINE SHOES, in every fashionable style with a large assortment of BOOTS AND SHOES adapted to Family and Plantation Wear.

H. F. W. HACHMAN,
Dealer in Fine Shoes, 15 Camp street,
Under City Hotel New Orleans, La.

WHEELER & PIERSON,
NOS. 13 AND 15 CAMP STREET
Opposite the City Hotel,
CLOTHING & FURNISHING GOODS
FOR MEN AND BOYS.

We invite visitors from the country to look at our stock. We keep good goods, sell at low prices, and mark it in plain figures. Clergymen's trade solicited, and a liberal deduction made to them.

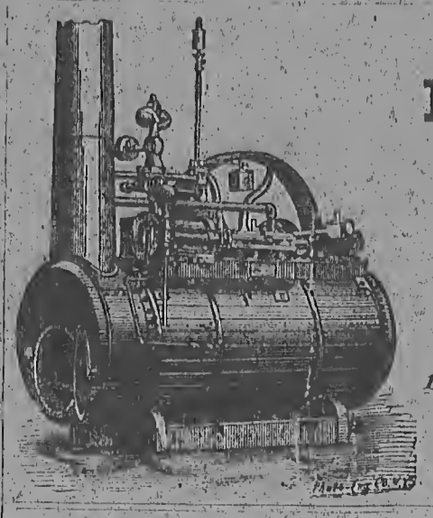
LADIES! A soft and beautiful skin of refinement, Pascall's Medicated Complexion Powder has been fully tested, and found to perform all that is claimed for it. It renders the skin delicately soft, removes all discolorations, eruptions, etc. Mothers can apply it to infants who become chafed with a surety of immediate relief. Price 50 cents and $1 per box. Sold by all first-class druggists, and, postpaid, by North Sixth street, St. Louis. (Lindell Hotel.)

WHAT NEXT? Consumption Cured. When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed, and Dr H. James was experimenting, he accidentally made a preparation of Indian Hemp, which cured his only child of consumption. He now gives this recipe free on receipt of two stamps to pay expenses. Hemp also cures night sweat, nausea at the stomach, and will break a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address CRADDOCK & CO., 1032 Race street, Philadelphia, naming this paper.

IT IS not the quantity eaten that gives strength, life, blood and health. It is the thorough digestion of the food taken, let it be much or little. Therefore do not stimulate the stomach to crave food, but rather assist digestion after eating by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator.

FROM Maine to California millions of children are wearing SILVER TIPPED Shoes. Why not? They are the cheapest, and never wear through at the toe. Also try Wire Quilted Soles.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS



PAYNE'S

Portable Engines.

3 TO 15 HORSE POWER.

B. J. WEST,

SOLE AGENT,

115 and 117 Magazine Street,

NEW ORLEANS.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST, ETC.

NATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHER

Edited by M. C. HAZARD. Is undoubtedly the best Teachers' Help published. Has the most thorough, helpful and inspiring lessons, the best corps of contributors, and the most popular editorial departments. Needs only to be examined in order to be taken. Terms, $1.50 per year. Clubs of five or more receive six Lesson Papers with each copy. Sample copy sent free on application to

ADAMS, BLACKMER, & LYON PUB. CO., CHICAGO.

COUNTRY ORDERS.

PARTIES residing in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas and Eastern States, who buy their BUY GOODS FOR CASH, are invited to send for samples, which will be forwarded to them Free of Cost and Postage Paid; and where I can furnish with an order which exceeds $1 (the People have it will be prepaid at my expense. Where the order exceeds $20 I will pay the cost of sending the Money, whether by Express, Money Order, Registered Letter, Bank Draft or otherwise.

The new postal law permits parcels weighing four pounds or less to be sent by mail, at the rate of one cent per ounce, so that parties ordering less than $10 worth can have their purchases sent by mail through their postoffices at very slight expense. And where they desire packages sent by mail they should make provision for the postage. Goods sent C. O. D. to all points where the Express Company or Parties have agents.

As a part of my accommodation I will purchase articles outside of my line, which is confined to Fancy and Staple Dry Goods, but will not pay the freight thereon unless the order for Dry Goods brought is more than $5. No charge will be made for purchasing articles out of my line to a limited extent.

Articles not corresponding to order can be returned.

Should I not be able to fill your order the money will be refunded.

No charge made for Packing, Boxing, Stenciling, Drayage or Insurance.

My personal attention given to Country orders.

Having a resident buyer in NEW YORK constantly buying bargains, both at the large Auction sales and at private sale, I am enabled to sell a large portion of my stock at very low prices, as the investment saves the advantages of the bargains thus realized. I am receiving new goods by every steamer from the North and Europe.

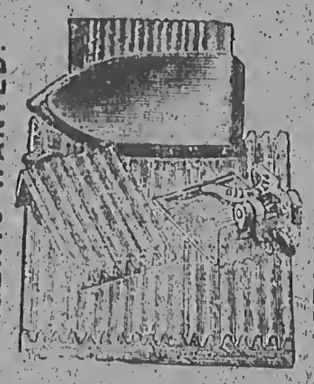
I have been in business more than TWENTY YEARS and the many years' business afford a strong record of fair dealing, to which I refer the people.

J. A. BRASELMAN,
No. 101 and 103 Magazine street,
Cor. St. Andrew, New Orleans.

RELIABLE ASSORTMENT

HOME

Smoothing, Glossing, Fluting and Crimping Iron.



ACENTS WANTED. ACENTS WANTED.

LATELY IMPROVED.

EVERY Iron and its attachments heavily Nickel Plated and highly polished. The cheapest, handsomest and best Glossing, Fluting and Crimping Iron in the world.

Its low price places it within the reach of every family, while its beautiful appearance, evident practicability, and unrivalled superiority over all others, illustrates its sale in every house.

The cut above shows the Iron resting with its handle behind the fluting guard, showing its Rounded Point for ironing gathers, its Smoothing Face, and Glossing Heel. On the board are the Fluting and Crimping Plates, the former to be used in connection with the coarse board, and the latter or Crimping Plates, with the finer board standing behind the Iron. The thin plate shows the inside of attachment to the Iron, which is so simple that a child can adjust them properly.

We want agents in every county in the Union for this beautiful, useful and salable article, to whom exclusive agencies will be given on the most liberal terms, affording an unsurpassed opportunity to make money.

Our limited space does not permit of an explanation of the merits of this Iron, nor an outline of the advantageous terms upon which we grant agencies; therefore to give us an opportunity to explain more fully the Iron and our terms, we ask all who read this to send their address on a postal card on receipt of which we will send circulars, giving full terms and particulars.

In order that those who desire an agency, or those ordering where we have no agent, may have an Iron to see and test, a sample complete, with all attachments, directions, stamp receipts, order books, circulars and large posters will be sent on receipt of $2.50. Don't fail to get one, we guarantee you will be delighted with it.

Address all orders and letters to

HOME IRON CO.,
Box 900, Pittsburg, Pa.

Please state what paper you saw this in.

COAL.

Pittsburg, Anthracite and Cannel Coal,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

Coal by boat or barge load, delivered to shippers on upper or lower coast. Steamers coaled at New Orleans and Baton Rouge.

Coal in sacks for shipment to country customers by rail or steamboat.

W. G. WILMOT & CO.
Gen'l Office and Depot, Canal street, New Orleans.

J. A. BOURG.

COMMISSION MERCHANT,

117 DECATUR STREET 117
Near Old Levee.

P. O. Lock Box 87. NEW ORLEANS.

Will attend to the sale of Cotton, Sugar, Rice, Moss, Hides, Wool, Eggs, Poultry, Game of all kinds, Beeswax, Honey and every description of Garden Produce. Country orders solicited.

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

SPLENDID HOLIDAY NOVELTIES! NEW Year's Stories, New Year's Presents, New Year's Pictures, New Year's Music, New Year's Cabinet Gems, New Year's Chromos, New Year's Poetry, New Year's Chromo Book Marks, New Year's Household, New Year's Fashions, New Year's Greetings, and other Holiday Novelties, with rare Literary Gems and full-size Patterns, in the splendid Holiday January Number of DEMOREST'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE, 25 cents, post free. Yearly, $2, with a splendid Premium. Do not fail to see or send for the January number, with the beautiful Cabinet and Artistic Oil Chromos; worth several times the cost of the Magazine. Sold everywhere.

FREE! Sample bottle of article that will sell to every lady in the land, sent free to ladies or agents. Business respectable, profitable and pleasant for clergymen, teachers and others of genteel appearance and average ability. Send your letters and address H. F. Hay & Co., Chicago.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

SHIRTS! SHIRTS!

AND

WARM UNDERGARMENTS!

AT

UNUSUALLY LOW PRICES!

NO COMMON GOODS.

Notice Prices of Undershirts:

Good warm Merino ..... 65 and upward.
Good English Merino ..... $1.50 and upward.
Best all wool ..... $2—all sizes.
Best Shaker, red or white ..... $2—all sizes.
Good Twilled Red Flannel ..... $1.50—all sizes.
Best Cotton Flannel, all sizes ..... $1.25 and $1.50.

Prices of Drawers equally low, except in Jean. These, of very best quality, are only 75 cents per pair, all sizes. In finer goods, of Cartwright & Warner and other celebrated makes, a full line of sizes on hand, and at popular prices.

New Styles of Shirts. All our Shirts produced in series, but not in quality. A good White Shirt, any style, $1.25 and upward. A stylish Colored Shirt, any style, from $1 to $3.50. Besides a full assortment of the finer grades, and all at reduced prices.

A very large stock of HALF HOSE. British Half Hose, without seams, $2 and $1 per dozen. A full line of Fancy Half Hose, $3 to $9, and only at Walshe's can "Red Balbriggan" Half Hose, from Smyth & Co.'s, be found.

See the new stock of DRESSING ROBES, from $11 to $40.

A new assortment of UMBRELLAS, made with elegant selected sticks.

New Stock of Hanks, Toilet Articles, Studs, Scarf Pins, Sleeve Buttons, Watch Chains and Charms, also all correct styles of FASHIONABLE NECK WEAR, embracing all that is new in silk and wool. White and Fancy POCKET HANDKERCHIEFS, and English and French Suspenders.

New styles of COLLARS AND CUFFS are weekly added to stock.

Kid, Castor, Chilli and other styles of GLOVES, in all sizes and colors.

Remember—NO COMMON STOCK, but good goods at low prices.

B. T. WALSHE,

NO. 110 CANAL ST., NEAR ST. CHARLES.

NEW ORLEANS.

N. B.—Special attention called to Wendell and choice stock of Boys' and Children's Clothing, consigned to me for immediate sale, and offered at New York manufacturer's prices. 5p 1c

THE TRUTH AT LAST.

OFFICIAL REPORT

OF THE

Centennial Awarding Committee

ON THE

SINGER

SEWING MACHINE.

THE United States Centennial Commission announce the following as the basis of an award to the

Weed Sewing Machine Company,

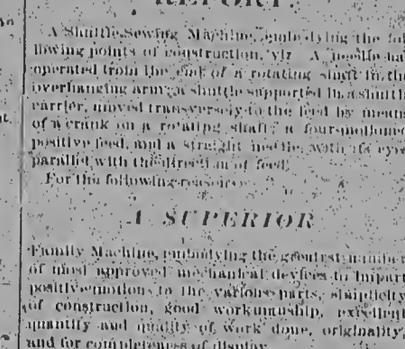
OF HARTFORD, CONN.

Product.—Shuttle Sewing Machines.

Award.—An excellent Shuttle Machine, possessing originality and simplicity of constructive detail for fine quality of workmanship and materials, and for great adaptability to fashionable and leather stitching.

(Signed) J. C. HAWLEY, President.
A. T. GOSHORN, Director General.
H. T. CAMPBELL, Secretary.

Stoves! Stoves! Stoves!



THE CHEAPEST AND THE "BEST."

THE "COTTAGE" COOKING STOVES, to which I call particular attention, are surpassed by any in this market for economy, durability and most perfect BAKING. They carry a uniform heat to the oven, and can be adapted to burning COAL, COKE or WOOD, without any additional cost. Every one sold under a full guarantee to do as they are represented or the money will be refunded.

Also, a variety of other COOKING STOVES of every grade and price, from $15 upward.

HEATING STOVES.

A very large and complete assortment, suitable for Offices, Parlors, Churches, School Rooms, etc., all of which are offered at very low prices to suit the times. Also, dealer in

TINWARE OF EVERY KIND

and description, to suit the country and city trade, which is offered at UNPRECEDENTEDLY LOW PRICES FOR CASH. Also, Sole Agent for the manufacture and sale of the Steam Washer, or Woman's Friend.

Will cleanse your clothes WITHOUT RUBBING. Every one sold is FULLY WARRANTED. It saves labor, wear and tear, and the annoyance of washday. It is truly a labor and clothes saving invention. Three hundred thousand have already been sold through the United States since 1871.

State and County Rights for sale.

Call and see at No. 34 Magazine street.

C. W. W. GOODWYN.

MEDICAL.

A STRING OF PEARLS!

Extract of a letter from Hon. Alex. H. Stephens, dated March 8, 1872:

"I occasionally use, when my condition requires it, Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator with good effect. It is mild, and suits me better than more active remedies."

Hon. Alex. H. Stephens has greatly improved in health of late. The State Line Extra, West Point, Ga.

Testimony of the Chief Justice of Georgia.

I have used Simmons' Liver Regulator for constipation of my bowels, caused by a temporary derangement of the liver, for the last three or four years, and always, when used according to the directions, with decided benefit. I think it is a good medicine for the derangement of the liver—at least such has been my personal experience in the use of it.—Hiram Warner, Chief Justice of Georgia.

Opinion of the Clergy.

Simmons' Liver Regulator is certainly a specific for that class of complaints which it claims to cure. If any of our fellow beings are suffering from hepatic disorders, and have confidence in the efficacy of this popular preparation, we can only offer them the simple and candid argument of Philip to Nathaniel—"Come and see." Try the remedy named remedy, and then you can judge for yourselves.—Rev. Parish Willis, Pastor of Presbyterian Church, Macon, Ga.

Always Keep It On Hand.

I have used Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator myself, and in my family for years, and pronounce it one of the most satisfactory medicines that can be used. Nothing could induce me to be without it, and I recommend all my friends, if they want to secure health, to always keep it on hand.—R. L. Mott, Columbus, Ga., (Congressman.)

CAUTION!

Buy no Powders or Prepared Simmons' Liver Regulator unless in our engraved wrapper, with trade mark, stamp and signature unbroken. None other is genuine.

Manufactured only by

J. H. ZEILIN & CO.,
MACON, GA., AND PHILADELPHIA,
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

ELECTRO-MAGNETIC CORDIAL.

The discovery of Dr. S. A. Richmond's Electro-Magnetic Cordial and Nervine is creating more than a nine days' wonder in the medical world. Physicians are charged with murder in the many cases attacked, having their medical science and practice laid bare and their electricity powerless to cure. Druggists are charged with swindling the people by selling worthless stuff for the genuine article, and the people are charged with credulity in purchasing the same. Dr. Richmond's Cordial is the genuine article, and is guaranteed to do all that is claimed for it. It is the greatest blood purifier in the world. All the leading organs of the body are toned into healthful action by the use of this Cordial. It is the greatest known remedy for the cure of Nervousness, Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Hysteria, Dyspepsia, Impure Blood, Female Weakness, Spermatorrhœa, Impotency, Sexual Debility, Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Nervous Prostration, Epilepsy, Fits, St. Vitus' Dance, Sleeplessness, Nervous Irritability, Mental Depression, Loss of Memory, Hysterical Complaints, Pain in the Back, Universal Lassitude, Premature Old Age, Barrenness, Impotency, Involuntary Emissions, Wakefulness, Lassitude, Pain in the Head, Dizziness, Nervous Headache, Neuralgia in the Heart, Hot Hands, Cold Feet, Indigestion, Constipation, Costiveness, Blotches on the Face, Disease of the Bladder and Kidneys, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Eyeballs, Universal Prostration of the System, and all diseases arising from a disordered state of the stomach, liver, bowels or generative organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. Dr. Richmond's Electro-Magnetic Cordial is a great remedy for the cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Spitting of Blood, Pain in the Side, Shortness of Breath, Hoarseness, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Pain in the Chest, Liver Complaint, and all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. It is a certain cure for Chronic Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, Sick Stomach, Vomiting, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Cramps, Pains and Spasms of the Stomach, Bowels, etc. In fact, Dr. Richmond's Electro-Magnetic Cordial is worth more than a whole library of Medical works. It is the greatest blood purifier in the world. Our best physicians and friends say they never saw its equal. When once you try our medicines, you will never be without them. Take any other. Don't be always deceived. Ask for the best, and a perfect cure is guaranteed or money refunded. All these medicines are sold by Druggists everywhere. If not found in your drug store, send orders direct to us and they will be promptly filled. Inclose stamp for circular, giving names of references, and a number of the most wonderful cures ever performed.

Address

MRS. A. RICHMOND, 719 Chestnut St., St. Louis, Mo.

For Sale by

H. J. RIVET, 38 Charires Street, New Orleans.

CANCER CURED WITHOUT the KNIFE or PAIN and positively guaranteed by Prof. J. M. COMINS, M. D., 35 Lexington Ave., New York. Hundreds of specimens can be seen at his office, and the many living witnesses attest these facts. Send stamp for book.

Samaritan Nervine.

DR. RICHMOND'S SAMARITAN NERVINE is the most wonderful MEDICAL DISCOVERY known to the world, it being charged with Electricity. Spoke will tell the story. It is a source of happiness for millions of suffering humanity, thousands of lives saved after all other remedies failed. It is a sure cure for EPILEPTIC FITS, CONVULSIONS, SPASMS, ST. VITUS' DANCE and all HYSTERICAL AFFECTIONS. It is the only known positive and sure cure for EPILEPSY.

Electro-Magnetic Liniment.

There is no pain which Dr. Richmond's Electro-Magnetic Liniment will not relieve, no sore (long standing or not) which it will not cure. This is strong language but it is true. It has cured more cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lockjaw, Pains, Sprains, Swellings, Caked Breasts, Scalds, Burns, Salt Rheum, Earache, etc., upon animals than any liniment in the world. Its penetrating power is wonderful. It reaches the very seat of pain, and relieves in a few minutes. It is a counter-irritant, and all-healing pain reliever. Cripples throw away their crutches, the lame walk, poisoning dogs are rendered harmless, and the wounded are healed without a scar. It is no humbug in its setting up, as to other articles ever before sold, and it does just what it claims to do, or what it pretends to do. Those who have suffer from Rheumatism, Pain or Swelling gladly advise to suffer if they will not use Dr. Richmond's Electro-Magnetic Liniment.

Electro-Magnetic Ointment.

Dr. Richmond's Electro-Magnetic Ointment is the best ever made, it is without question the discovery of the 19th century. Its wonderful curative powers in all diseases of the skin, both acute and chronic. It works like a charm in Carbuncles, Ulcerated Leg, Tumors, Cancers, Felons, Corns, and all other diseases of the skin. As a remedy for Piles there is nothing to equal it. Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Scalds, Burns, Bruises, Chilblains, Tetter, Scrofula, Ringworm, Barber's Itch, Frosted Limbs, Chilblains, Fever Sores, etc., it stands unrivalled in the world. Our best physicians and friends say they never saw its equal. When once you try our medicines, you will never be without them. Take any other. Don't be always deceived. Ask for the best, and a perfect cure is guaranteed or money refunded. All these medicines are sold by Druggists everywhere. If not found in your drug store, send orders direct to us and they will be promptly filled. Inclose stamp for circular, giving names of references, and a number of the most wonderful cures ever performed.

Address

MRS. A. RICHMOND, 719 Chestnut St., St. Louis, Mo.

For Sale by

H. J. RIVET, 38 Charires Street, New Orleans.

MISCELLANEOUS.

E. OFFNER,

"THE OLD RELIABLE."

CROCKERY, CHINA, GLASSWARE,
SILVER-PLATED WARE, CUTLERY
AND
HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS

Sold Cheaper than ever before at the Old Stand,

171 Canal Street 71

Opposite Varieties Theat.

I SELL THE REAL FRENCH CHINA DINNER SETS (115 pieces) for $19.50
TEA SETS of the same quality (44 pieces) decorated in six colors, something entirely new, for 6.00
Stone China CHAMBER SETS, only 3.00
Stoned China DINNER SETS (124 pieces) for 13.50
All other goods sold equally as cheap, and all goods are guaranteed.

No charge for packing.

The Celebrated Butter Churn,

Making Butter in from three to ten minutes, is sold very cheap.

All orders will have prompt and careful attention.

E. OFFNER,
171 Canal Street,
6p opposite Varieties Theater.

COAL ..... COAL.

H. & C. TYLER,

9 CARONDELET ST. 9

will sell Pittsburg, Anthracite and Cannel COAL, in qualities to suit customers, at the lowest market rates.

H. & C. TYLER.

Farm, Garden and Household.

Fall Hints.

The season of cultivation is about closing, the crops are about all made that required the hoe and plow, and the campaign in the vegetable garden about finished; but a few steps should now be taken for the next year's cropping. Fall plowing should be thoroughly applied where necessary, as it saves labor in the spring. Though we may plow this fall, it is not to say that the same land should not be replowed in the spring; not at all. The fall plowing is an aid; there is good done by giving the deep and thorough plowing in the fall. It should always be done deep and thorough; it is the ultest season to put in the subsoil plow, and, if needed, to bring up the subsoil. But in shaping up ideas and opinions relative to garden culture and higher farming, it is always prudent, if possible, to haul and spread the manure in at the time of fall plowing. All this done saves much time in the spring.

Onions.—It is now time to make preparations for the planting of onions for next year's crop, both for green in spring and dried tubers next summer. Seek the richest spot in the garden, and thoroughly plow and harrow; drill off in rows two feet apart with one-horse plow, and plant the potato onion about ten inches to a foot apart in the row. The large or medium size tubers are the most profitable to plant. After planting the surface should have a coat of manure spread over, two or three inches thick, and that well rotted and strong. The manure acts as a protection, and by spring will have reached out all the ingredients, and the refuse can be worked into the soil in the spring to lighten up. The onion crop should be thoroughly worked and kept clean.

The shallots or green onions in spring are generally of a culled bulk, generally the smaller ones assorted from the potato onions, or the overgrown sets are best to plant for this special vegetable. They should be planted in every other furrow about seven or nine inches deep, and in very rich ground, from three to five inches apart. After planting the surface should have spread over it from three to four inches of good rotted manure. They should have an early working in the spring.—Southern Agriculturist.

BE SUITABLE WITH YOUR CATTLE.—Said a farmer to me last spring: "When we were drawing our manure I stayed in the yard, because I could put on better loads; and the cows commenced to give more milk right off." Now this man is an active, industrious, intelligent, experienced farmer; and yet, when he is piling manure in the yards, his cows give a perceptible increase in their milk. Why? One of his handsome grade short-horns that he is proud of, seeing him around, goes up to him and says, as plain as a cow can say: "Give me a lock of hay," and he gives it to her. Another says: "Mr. Stevens, don't you think that rack wants cleaning out?" and on looking he finds to his surprise that there is a lot of dirt and wet hay seeds and rubbish at the bottom. He scrapes it, and rubs it clean with some straw; and as soon as his load is filled, and while he is waiting for the next wagon, he gets a little food and puts it in the rack, and the cows eat it and feel grateful. Between then and the next load he takes the curry-comb and brush and gives one of the cows a good cleaning. The other cows come around him, and he has a gentle word and a friendly pat for each of them. He is a good-looking man, and the cows like to look at him. He is a gentleman, and his presence has a soothing effect. They chew the cud of contentment and peace. As he goes past the pump he asks them if they want a little fresh water. They had not thought about it, but they drink just a little to please him. And so it goes on all day. No wonder the cows give more milk at night.—American Agriculturist.

ALFALFA OR LUCERNE.—Alfalfa, the Pacific Rural Press says, was transplanted into Greece from Persia nearly five hundred years before the Christian era. At present it is largely cultivated in England, France and other parts of Europe, and gives great satisfaction as a forage plant. It is being introduced quite extensively into our own country, and, though as yet California is far ahead in its culture, alfalfa will, we take it, be a prominent crop in all places where the winters are not too severe. Perhaps even more noticeable than its rapid and enormous growth is its great hardiness and ability to withstand our long dry seasons, and to remain fresh and green when nearly everything else succumbs. On the pampas of South America it thrives, and appears rather to enjoy the drouth than otherwise. The power to withstand great heat and dryness comes from the long, searching roots, which are sent deeply down into the soil, to find the moisture that is inaccessible to other less energetic vegetation.

To determine the age of eggs, dissolve about four ounces of common salt in a quart of pure water, and then immerse the egg. If it is one day old, it will descend to the bottom of the vessel; but if three days, it will float in the liquid. If more than five days old, it will come to the surface and project above in proportion to its increased age.—London Live Stock Journal.

To separate honey from wax, put honeycomb and all in a tin pan upon a moderately warm stove, adding a tablespoonful of water to each pound of honey. Stir occasionally with a piece of wire until the contents of the pan are in a liquid condition. Do not allow boiling to begin. Remove the pan from the fire and set it aside to cool. The cake of wax, to which all impurities will adhere, may then be carefully lifted off with a knife.

MEDICAL

Judgment of the Public!

DURING THE PAST FIVE YEARS THE public have carefully observed the wonderful cures accomplished from the use of VEGETINE. From its use many an afflicted sufferer has been restored to perfect health, after having expended a small fortune in procuring medical advice and obtaining poisonous mineral medicines.

Its medical properties are Alterative, Tonic, Solvent, and Diuretic. There is no disease of the human system for which the VEGETINE cannot be used with perfect safety, as it does not contain any metallic or poisonous compound. It is composed exclusively of barks, roots, and herbs; it is very pleasant to take; every child likes it. It is safe and reliable, as the following evidence will show:

Valuable Evidence.

The following unsolicited testimonial from Rev. O. T. Walker, D.D., formerly pastor of Howdoin Square Church, Boston, and at present settled in Providence, R. I., must be deemed as reliable evidence. No one should fail to observe that this testimonial is the result of two years experience with the use of VEGETINE in the Rev. Mr. Walker's family, who now pronounces it invaluable:

PROVIDENCE, R. I., 161 TRANSIT STREET.
H. R. Stevens, Esq.: I feel bound to express with my signature the high value I place upon your VEGETINE. My family have used it for the last two years. Its nervous fluidity it is invaluable, and I recommend it to all who may need an invigorating, renovating tonic.

O. T. WALKER,
Formerly Pastor of Howdoin Square Church, Boston.

A Walking Miracle.

MR. H. R. STEVENS: Dear Sir—Though a stranger, I want to inform you what VEGETINE has done for me. I was Christmas Scrofula, made its appearance in my system in large running ulcers, appearing on me as follows—one on each of my arms, one on my thigh, which extended to the seat, one on my head, which ate into the skull bone, one on my left leg, which became so bad that two physicians came to amputate the limb, though upon consultation they concluded not to do so, as my whole body was so full of scrofula they deemed it advisable to cut the sore, which was painful beyond description, and there was a part of a matter out from this one sore. The physicians all gave me up to die and said they could do no more for me. Both of my legs were drawn up to my seat, and it was thought if I did get up again I would be a cripple for life.

While in this condition I saw VEGETINE advertised, and commenced taking it in March, and followed on with it until I had used sixteen bottles, and this morning I am going to plow corn, a well man. All my townspeople say it is a miracle to see me round walking and working.

In confession, I will say, when I was suffering such great suffering, from that dreadful disease, scrofula, I prayed to the Lord to take me out of the world, but as VEGETINE has restored to me the rich blessings of health, I desire more than ever to live, that I may be of some service to my fellow men, and I know of no better way to add suffering humanity than to bestow you this statement of my case, with an earnest hope that you will publish it, and it will afford me pleasure to reply to any communication which I may receive therefrom.

I am, sir, very respectfully,
WILLIAM PAYN.

Reliable Evidence.

MR. H. R. STEVENS—Dear Sir—I will most cheerfully add my testimony to the great multitude you have already received in favor of your great and good medicine, VEGETINE, for I do not think enough can be said in its praise, for I was troubled over thirty years with that dreadful disease, Catarrh, and had such bad sensations in my head that I would scream as though I could never breathe any more, and VEGETINE has cured me, and I desire to thank God all the time that there is so good a medicine as VEGETINE, and I also think it one of the best medicines for coughs and hard sinking feeling at the stomach, and advise every body to take the VEGETINE, for I can assure them it is one of the best medicines that ever was.

MRS. E. TRUE,
Cor. Magazine and Walnut streets,
Cambridge, Mass.

PREPARED BY
H. R. STEVENS, Boston, Mass.

Vegetine is Sold by All Druggists.
nrm

SWAIM'S CELEBRATED PANACEA

Is not as many persons suppose a patented specific heralded for the cure of all diseases flesh is heir to, but, having enjoyed an established reputation for MORE THAN FIFTY YEARS on account of its great value in diseases, settled on failure, having been the means of RESTORATION TO HEALTH OF THOUSANDS OF DISEASED PERSONS, it has received the indorsement of HUNDREDS OF PHYSICIANS who know its merits, and should be used by all who suffer from diseases arising from impurities of the blood, or even hereditary taint.

Its value in CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, OLD ULCERS, HUMORS OF BONES, WHITE SWELLINGS, is known to thousands of Southern people.

Prepared at
Swaim's Laboratory,
South Seventh St., below Chestnut St.,
PHILADELPHIA.

J. FOERSTER'S
RICE AND CORN MILLS,
NOS. 109 AND 111 JULIA ST. AND 104, 106 AND 108 MAGAZINE STREET,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
MILLING RATES.
No. 1 flour, three quarter cent per pound.
No. 2 flour, one half cent per pound.
Eight sacks of bran returned for every 100 sacks of flour received. Empty sacks furnished.

F. A. McKECHNIE,
Engraver on Wood.
OFFICES 26 Washington street and 178 Congress street, Boston. Orders by mail will receive prompt attention. Artists please send three cent stamp for sample sheet of cuts for Cards and Envelopes.

Dr. C. B. White,
Office and Residence,
107 CANAL STREET,

SAM. HENDERSON,
Cotton Factor, Commission Merchant, and Purchasing Agent,
40 CARONDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS.
Does business on Strictly principles and at Closest rates.

F. H. HARDON,
DEALER IN
MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS,
Nos. 27 and 29 Chartres Street,
Bet. Canal and Customhouse,
NEW ORLEANS.

$55 to $77 a Week to Agents. Samples Free. P. O. VICKERY, Augusta, Me.

EDUCATIONAL.

Emory and Henry College
VIRGINIA.

THE collegiate year for 1876-7 begins on the FOURTEENTH OF SEPTEMBER next. It is divided into two terms of twenty weeks each, the first closing January 31, and the second beginning February 1, 1877.

For TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS deposited with the President at the beginning of the year we will give to a student, for the forty weeks, his tuition, board, fuel, room-rent, washing, library and contingent fees.

For information on special points or for a catalogue address E. E. WILEY, President, Emory P. O., Virginia.

EMORY COLLEGE.

THE FALL TERM of this long-established institution opens on Wednesday, SEPTEMBER 6.

Emory College, with a full Faculty and a thorough curriculum, is prepared to do first-class college work.

TUITION—Fall Term, $25; Spring Term, $35. Board in good families, from $10 to $20 per month. Food and lodging can be procured at from $10 to $13 per month by boys willing to wait on themselves.

For further information address the President, ATTICUS G. HAYGOOD, Oxford, Ga.

Quitman M. & F. College.
QUITMAN, VAN BUREN CO., ARK.

FALL SESSION BEGINS MONDAY, SEPT. 4. This school, under the patronage of the Arkansas Conference, offers a quiet, healthy retreat to students. Good board can be had at eight to ten dollars per month. Tuition as low as can be had in any where, ranging from $1.50 to $3 a month. Tuition free to children of ministers and to young men studying for the ministry.

For further particulars apply to REV. JAMES A. PEEBLES, President, Quitman, Van Buren Co., Ark.

MOORE'S SOUTHERN BUSINESS UNIVERSITY, ATLANTA, GA. THE BEST PRACTICAL BUSINESS SCHOOL IN THE SOUTH. SEND FOR CATALOGUES.

MISCELLANEOUS.

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.

WE HAVE JUST OPENED FOR INSPECTION A complete assortment of

FRENCH LACE CURTAINS,
Without a Peer.
EMBROIDERED LACE BARS,
NOTTINGHAM CURTAINS,
In White and Fancy Colors.

The art of doing something new and very fashionable.

COUNTERPANES,
FRENCH CRETONNES,
From the lowest to the highest prices.

ALSO

COMFORTS, BLANKETS,
And Everything pertaining to Housekeeping.

D. H. HOLMES,
133 CANAL AND 15 BOURBON ST.,
NEW ORLEANS.

MITCHELL'S NEW OUTLINE MAPS.

7 Maps in a set. A Key gratis with each set.

Small Series, with Names $10
Small Series, without Names $10
Large Series, without Names $20

LATEST, BEST, CHEAPEST.

J. H. BUTLER & CO.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

COUNTRY ORDERS
FOR
BOOTS AND SHOES.

PARTIES who wish to buy Boots and Shoes FOR CASH are invited to send to me for a card which explains HOW TO TAKE YOUR OWN MEASURE, thus enabling any one in the country to get a good-fitting Boot or Shoe direct from the city at the LOWEST CITY PRICES. Where we are favored with orders that exceed $10 the Freight thereon will be prepaid at our expense. Where the order exceeds $20 we will also pay the cost of sending the money to us, whether by Express, Money Order, Registered Letter, Bank Draft or otherwise.

Goods sent C. O. D. to all points where the Express Company or Packets have agents.

Price list of ready-made goods, also instructions how to take your own measure, will be sent by mail upon application.

GIMBEL'S UPPER CITY BEE HOOT AND SHOE STORE,
No. 578 Magazine Street,
Sign of the Lady's Shoe.
LOUIS GIMBEL, Agent.

NOVELTY IRON WORKS.

Now fulfilling Processes on Stock Account, which can be furnished under the finest guarantees, ready for operation

JANUARY 1 NEXT.

Golding's Standard Press.
(Five Patents secured.)

Exclusive control of State Rights and Districts for sale. Apply to PATENTEE at the NOVELTY WORKS, Corner Peters and Delord streets.

ATTENTION!
M. ANDRIEUX,
150 POYDRAS STREET 150
Home-Made Shoes at $3.50 a Pair.
City-made Boots and Shoes of all kinds and styles, made of the very best material and workmanship and at less prices than any other store in this city. Keeps all kinds for Gents, Boys, Ladies, and Children's wear.

SHELDON COLLINS & CO.,
MANUFACTURERS OF PRINTING INKS,
Extra Black, Book, News, Card, Job, Wood Cut,
AND
Colored Inks of Every Variety,
Office and depot 26 Frankfort Street, New York.

GIBSON'S
Stained Glass and Decorative Establishment,
123 & 125 South Eleventh St.,
PHILADELPHIA.
CENTENNIAL SLIDES READY.

MAGIC LANTERNS & SLIDES WANTED. THEO. J. HARBACH. ALSO FOR SALE. PHILA'A, PA.
Please send for Catalogue.

PRICE'S REPEATER,
CHARLESTON, S. C.
CHARLESTON IN 1876 is doing CENTENNIAL YEAR.
CHAS. M. PRICE, Agent,
For West Carolina, Commission, Forwarding and Merchandise, Louisville, Ky.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE JELESO WATER,
NO. 20 CORTLANDT ST., NEW YORK.
WARREN & CO., PROPRIETORS.

URAL MOUNTAIN JELESO WATER

is a concentration of all the curative qualities of the most celebrated Mineral Springs in the world. Each bottle contains eighty doses, and is equal to over one hundred bottles of the Natural Spring Water.

As a tonic it is unsurpassed, having had most remarkable success in curing some of the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Nervousness, and General Debility. It is simple, harmless, and pleasant to take. If used as a gargle in its pure state, on the first appearance of Diphtheria and all other throat diseases it works like magic. It arrests the progress of and cures such complaints in less than twenty-four hours. It will greatly alleviate or entirely cure the worst cases of Rheumatism. Eczema and all other diseases of the skin, Prickly Heat, Poisoning by Ivy, Sumac, or Oak are quickly cured by the use of Jeleso Water. We will forward three bottles of the medicine to any part of the United States, free of expressage, on receipt of $1 per bottle. Send for Circular, containing testimonials and directions.

Appended are a few of the many certificates sent us:

As a family medicine and tonic it is simply invaluable. In my own case it has cured Dyspepsia of long standing.

JOHN F. MINES,
Managing Editor N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

Permit me to add my testimony to the efficiency of your "Jeleso" in cases of Dyspepsia of long standing. I have used two bottles of it, and I am now thoroughly cured. I shall most cheerfully recommend its use to all my friends; and I consider it an indispensable medicine in every family.

I am most truly yours,
J. D. BARTON,
Supt. Flushing, North Shore, and Central R. R., of Long Island.

161 EAST 23D ST., NEW YORK,
January 29, 1876.

DR. WARREN—Dear Sir: I have used your Jeleso Water as a tonic, also for Dyspepsia and Throat Affections of all kinds with great beneficial results. I believe it to be a very valuable remedy.

DR. E. G. STILLMAN.

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE

RESPECTFULLY offers her services in selecting, purchasing and forwarding any article of apparel or personal adornment for Ladies and Children's use, including MILLINERY, DRY GOODS, JEWELRY, BRIDAL TROUSSEAUX, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Trimmings, Underwear, Sewing Machines, etc.

Scrupulous care with reference to the price and quality, and fidelity to the interest and fulfillment of the wishes of correspondents, will be sedulously carried out.

Spring and Summer Styles
OF
LADIES' DRESSES,
IN IMPORTED FRENCH PATTERNS,
CENTENNIAL APRONS, RUCHES AND KERCHIEFS, the Studies of the Fashions of 1876.
Just received by
MRS. H. MOGRIDGE,
NO. 90 CANAL STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

JOSEPH GILLOTT'S
STEEL PENS.
SOLD BY ALL DEALERS
MANUFACTURERS' WAREHOUSE
No. 91 John Street, New York.
JOSEPH GILLOTT & SON
HENRY HOE, Sole Agent.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

W. M. EVANS,
NO. 33 N. PETERS ST., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,
SOLICITS CONSIGNMENTS OF
Wool, Moss, Hides, Rags, Bones, Metals,
And all descriptions of PRODUCE.

Personal and careful attention given to all business intrusted to my care. Quick sales and prompt returns made. Will fill orders for all descriptions of goods at lowest cash prices. Advances made on consignments. P. O. Box 2265.

B. T. BABBITT'S BABY SOAP.

Only the purest vegetable oils used in its manufacture. No artificial and deceptive odors to cover common and deleterious ingredients. UNRIVALED for the TOILET and the BATH. Used in bathing children, will prevent eruptions, keep the skin soft and smooth, chilblains to health, and prevent disease. Does away with all powders, chalk, or other emollients. A certain preventive of chafing, rashing, etc. In babies, the cause of, half the crying and crossness of babyhood. Worth ten times its cost to every mother and family in Christendom. Packed in boxes of 12 cakes of 6 ozs. each, and sent free to any address on receipt of $2.50. Address. For sale by all Druggists. B. T. Babbitt, N. Y.

DO YOUR OWN PRINTING!
NOVELTY PRINTING PRESS.
For Professional and Amateur Printers, Schools, Societies, Manufacturers, Merchants, and others. BEST ever invented. Can do work as perfect as $1,000 Steam Power Presses. Will print Cards, Circulars, Labels, Tags, Envelopes, Billheads, Programmes, Ruled Forms, Checks, Drafts, Bill Heads, Letter Heads, Cards, Tickets, Pamphlets, Books, Newspapers, and all kinds of Printing Material. Send for Circular. 49 Federal St., Boston.

Children's 15 to 45c.
Misses' 20 to 50c.
Women's 25 to 60c.
Men's 16 to 50c.
Suspenders 25 to 60c.
Scotch Garters 25 to 50c.
Straight Armlet 15 to 75c.
Ask your dealer for them. Sent by mail on receipt of price.
DOVE MANF'G CO., 8 Worcester St., N. Y.

ADOLPH SETTER,
GLASS STAINER.
Particular Attention Paid to Church Work.
Orders from all parts of the country promptly attended to.
219 N. SEVENTH ST., bet. Pine and Olive,
ST. LOUIS, MO.

FOR LADIES ONLY.
LADY AGENTS WANTED to sell Mme. Gips Wolff's SKIRT SUPPORTING CORSET, universally approved, and is gradually superseding all others. Application only to MME. GIPS-WOLFF, 24 East Sixteenth street, New York.

T. W. BOTHICK,
UNDERTAKER,
271 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS,
Embalming and Disinterring Bodies carefully shipped. Carriages and Cabs for hire.

GLASS STAINERS
CUTTERS AND EMBOSSERS.
CHURCH WINDOWS A SPECIALTY.
Estimates and Samples on application.
WM. COULTER & SON
99½ & 101 E. 5th St., CINCINNATI, O.

ESTABLISHED IN 1825.
LEEDS' FOUNDRY,
Cor. Delord and Poydras Sts.
VINEGAR—How made in ten hours without drugs. Address P. SAGE, Springfield, Mass.

SAVINGS BANKS.

LOUISIANA SAVINGS BANK AND SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY,
51 Camp Street.
CAPITAL $500,000

E. C. PALMER, President.
JAS. JACKSON, Vice President.

DIRECTORS.

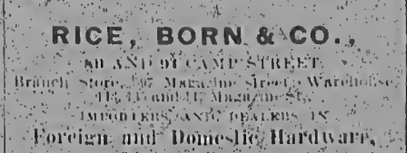
ED. CONERY, FRED'K WING,
J. H. KELLER, W. H. THOMAS,
W. B. SCHMIDT, JAS. JACKSON,
E. C. PALMER.

This Company insures against loss by Burglers, Thieves and Fire at low rates, and its capital gives security to Depositors.

Small Deposits received and Six per cent. interest per annum, paid semi-annually.

JOHN S. WALTON, Cashier.

MISCELLANEOUS.



FOR
Singing Classes & Conventions.

A great improvement upon all of Mr. Palmer's former works, containing new ideas throughout. Every page sparkling with

NEW AND BEAUTIFUL MUSIC.

"THE SONG HERALD"

is the legitimate successor of SONG KING and SONG QUEEN, which have had a combined sale of over

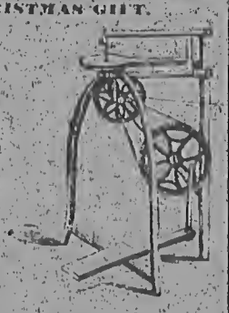
350,000 COPIES!

All Other Similar Works are but Imitations.

Price, $7.50 Per Dozen. Single Copy sent on receipt of 75 cents. Specimen Pages free.

JOHN CHURCH & CO.,
CINCINNATI, O.

The Centennial Bracket Saw
AS A CHRISTMAS GIFT.



EVERYBODY WANTS IT.
A LADY DELIGHTED WITH IT.
Simplicity simplified! With it you can saw two inches thick of the finest bijou work. Will make 600 strokes per minute. No 2 Foot-Power Machine complete, Saw Blades and Designs, all for $1.50.
Boys 7 years old can, With it, become scientific and profitable mechanics.
Will saw 12 inches in a log.

RICE, BORN & CO.,
80 AND 91 CAMP STREET.
Branch Store, 37 Magazine Street. Warehouse 10, 12 and 14 Magazine St.
IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN
Foreign and Domestic Hardware,
Builders' Hardware, Glass, Cutlery, Stoves and Ranges. House Furnishing goods, Agents for the CHARTER OAK STOVE.

KEEP'S CUSTOM SHIRTS,
Made to measure. The very best 6 for $6.
KEEP'S PATENT FACTLY MADE DRESS SHIRTS, the very best 6 for $6.
ON RECEIPT OF PRICE, EITHER OF THE above, with an elegant set of gold plated sleeve and sleeve buttons, will be delivered free in any place in the United States, except California and the territories. Keep's shirts are now made in one quality, the very best. We mean just what we say, and to give every one an opportunity of judging for themselves without cost, are mail samples and full directions for self-measurement free to any address. We refer to purchasers of Keep's shirts everywhere.
KEEP MANUFACTURING CO.,
67 and 69 Mercer Street, New York.

TO THE PUBLIC.
Returning thanks for past favors, the undersigned desires to inform his friends and the public that he has removed to

152 and 154 Camp St., cor. Calliope,
WHERE HE CONTINUES TO
BUY, SELL, STORE, REMOVE, PACK
And Repair Furniture
of every description. Pictures and Looking glasses framed.
JOHN BOIS,
Nos. 152 and 154 Camp street.

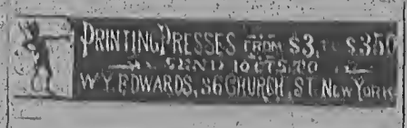
FURNITURE AND MATTRESSES
NO. 155 CAMP STREET.
THE undersigned has a large stock of Furniture, which he will dispose of at prices that will DEFY COMPETITION. Give us a call and see for yourself.
Furniture taken on storage. Repairs made at lowest rates. All Furniture and Bedding put in perfect repair and delivered to order. Moving, Packing, etc., in city done at the lowest possible prices on application.
HENRY PFHOFF,
155 Camp Street.

Piles! Piles!! Piles!!!
INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL, BLIND, Bleeding, and Itching, positively perfectly and permanently cured by description. The cure is absolutely perfect and permanent. We use neither ligatures nor instruments, and the cure is painless. We can refer to thousands of the very best people in Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Pittsburg, and in every State in the Union.
W. A. & W. L. McCANDLESS,
924 Arch Street,
Philadelphia, Pa.

YOUR ATTENTION IS RESPECTfully called to the choice stock of
NEW AND SECOND HAND
BAROUCHES, ROCKAWAYS,
Top and No-Top Buggies, Spring Wagons, etc., which are offered at extra bargains within the next sixty days, on account of having to close my business account with my former partner, Jacob Lee, deceased. All Vehicles warranted as represented. Call, examine and secure a bargain.
FRED. YEAKEL (late Lee & Yeakel),
136 and 138 S. Second St., St. Louis, Mo.

Baxter, Bell & Co.'s Pure Liquid Paints
WARRANTED PURE, AND NOT TO CONtain Water or Alkali. These Paints are of many different shades, and for covering capacity, durability, fineness and beauty of finish they cannot be excelled by any other description of Paint. Liberal discount made to dealers. Send for sample card to the Agents.
SAMUEL M. TODD & CO.,
78 Maiden lane street, New York.

CARRE'S CABINS, LEATHER, ETC.
To meet the demand for our Cabins we have added such machinery as enables us to turn them out not only faster but better and cheaper; so come on with your orders. Not forgetting that as Lumber Merchants we date back a quarter of a century, and with recently established telegraph communication with our Pearl River Mills, we can furnish at short notice anything from a planter, full Gear and Ship Spar.
W. W. CARRE & CO.,
No. 130 Delord street.



L. C. MACLIN,
Office, 70 Carondelet street, wholesale and retail dealer in Pittsburg, Virginia Cannel and Anthracite
COAL.
Full weight guaranteed. Yard, corner Second and Tchoupitoulas streets.

CHROMOS—We have over a dozen of the best selling American and Foreign Chromos ready for delivery. Rare opportunity for Experienced Solicitors. Send for catalogue. J. LAPHAM & CO., Art Publishers, Boston, Mass.

INSURANCE.

FACTORS' AND TRADERS' Insurance Company,
37 ..... Carondelet Street 37

Premiums for the year ending April 30, 1876 ..... $666,854.92
Losses paid within the year 277,473.76
Reserved for unterminated risks April 30, 1876 ..... 86,350.00
Net profits for the year 131,031.76

Cash dividends for the year:
Interest (semi-annually) ..... TEN PER CENT.
Premiums ..... TWENTY PER CENT.

Assets, April 30, 1876 ..... $1,358,655.19

This Company continues to issue policies on Fire, River, and Marine Risks at current rates of premium.

E. A. PALFREY, President.
JOHN CHAFFE, Vice-President.
THOMAS F. WALKER, Secretary.

—TRUSTEES—

W. A. Johnson, W. C. Raymond,
John L. Noble, T. Lyell Lyon,
John Chaffe, S. H. Snowden,
Richard Milliken, S. H. Hardy,
John L. Warren, Joseph McElroy,
R. T. Blackmar, E. B. Wheelock,
Samuel Friedlander, Cyrus Bussey,
A. A. Yales, Wm. J. Behan,
John L. Adams, B. F. Eshleman,
Isaac Scherck, W. C. Black,
R. M. Walmsley, Charles Chaffe,
A. H. May, T. C. Jurey,
Wm. Hartwell.

New Orleans Insurance Co.
CORNER CAMP AND CANAL STS.
ESTABLISHED IN 1805.

Capital $500,000
Assets at their market value 642,252
Income for the year 1875 624,000

The company insures FIRE, MARINE AND RIVER RISKS. Issues Marine policies payable in London in case of loss.

President—J. TUYES.
Vice President—A. SCHREIBER.
Secretary—J. W. HINCKS.

DIRECTORS.

Ernest Merlin, A. M. Beckham,
Placide Forstall, A. Schreiber,
H. Gully, J. Tures,
Charles Taillie, W. A. Bell,
W. Vanbenthuysen, D. Fallo,
Pierre Poutz, D. D. Rogers.

AGENTS WANTED.

LOOK!
BOOK AGENTS, We have best selling books, and the finest and most complete family Bibles published. Our Bibles have 2,000 ILLUSTRATIONS, and we give extra terms, with large premiums to good agents. For circulars, terms, etc., address ANCHOR PUBLISHING CO., E. A. Hutchinson, Pres., 538 Pine St., St. Louis, Mo.

READY FOR AGENTS—THE
CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION
DESCRIBED AND ILLUSTRATED.
A graphic pen-picture of its history, grand buildings, wonderful exhibits, curiosities, great days, etc. Profusely Illustrated. Thoroughly popular, and very cheap. Is selling immensely. 5,000 Agents wanted. Send for full particulars. This is the chance of 100 years to coin money fast. Get the only reliable history. HUBBARD BROS., Pubs., 723 Sansom St., Philadelphia, Pa.

CAUTION! Be not deceived by premature books, assuming to be official, and telling what will happen in August and September.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE CENTENNIAL
HISTORY OF THE U. S.
The great interest in the thrilling story of our country makes this the best time to introduce it. It contains a full description of the Great Centennial Exhibition.
CAUTION.—Old, incomplete and unreliable works are being circulated. See that the book you engage contains 518 Fine Engravings and 1,062 Pages. Send for circulars and extra terms to Agents. Address NATIONAL PUBLISHING Co., St. Louis, Mo.

In Press—Out this Week—The
CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION
Described and Illustrated.
A graphic pen-picture of its history, grand buildings, wonderful exhibits, curiosities, great days, etc. Profusely Illustrated. Thoroughly popular, and very cheap. Is selling immensely. 5,000 Agents wanted. Send for full particulars. This will be the chance of 100 years to coin money fast. Get the only reliable history.
N. D. THOMPSON & CO.,
Publishers, St. Louis, Mo.

CAUTION! Be not deceived by premature books, assuming to be official, and telling what will happen in August and September.

Potter's American Monthly.
50,000 ILLUSTRATED Best Family Magazine in the country, at $3 for 1877. 5 copies one year, for $13; 10 copies for $25, and a copy of Potter's Bible Encyclopedia, quarto, 3,000 illustrations, price $25, given to the person sending this club. Sold by all News-stands, at 25 cents a number. Special Terms to Agents.
1877. J. E. POTTER & CO., Phila. Pa.

AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE
FOR OUR NEW
Centennial Family Bible,
AND BIBLICAL ENCYCLOPEDIA.
The best and cheapest in the market. Needs no Illustrations. Liberal commissions allowed. For terms and circulars write immediately to the ST. LOUIS BIBLE PUBLISHING CO., 415 Locust street, St. Louis, Mo.

$50 to $200 A MONTH FOR AGENTS.
UNIVERSAL HISTORY.
The great interest in all nations and in our Centennial History of 100 years makes this book sell faster than any other. Three books in one. Fully illustrated. Low price, quick sales, great terms. Send for Circular.
J. C. McCURDY & CO., St. Louis, Mo.

$10 to $25 A DAY. SURE. Made by Agents selling Chromos, Crayons, Picture and Chromo Cards. (25 samples, with $5 worth, postpaid for 50 cents. Illustrated Catalogue free. J. B. BUFFORD'S SONS, Boston. Established 1837.

DON'T FORGET IT! Shinger's Safety Guard is worth all the Hinged Mats ever invented. Agents wanted everywhere. Sent postpaid for sample on receipt of 25 cents. Address A. H. SINGER, 43 Walnut street, Philadelphia, Pa.

AGENTS If you want the best selling article in the world, and a solid Gold Patent Lever Watch, free of cost, write at once to J. HILL & CO., 767 Broadway, New York.

YES WE WANT an agent in every town. Easy work at home. Write now and we will start you. $8 a day sure. Gold Mine. YES SON & SMITH, 41 Cortlandt St., N. Y.

AGENTS double their money selling Chase's Improved Hall Receipt Book. Address Dr. Chase's Printing House, Ann Arbor, Mich.

MARVIN LINCOLN.
MANUFACTURER OF ARTIFICIAL LIMBS and various kinds of Surgical Appliances.
The Lincoln Artificial Arm a Specialty.
Artificial Thumbs and Fingers neatly and tastefully applied.
For further information, circulars, testimonials, etc., address MARVIN LINCOLN, No. 8 Hamilton Place, Boston, Mass.

HEATH, TIPPEY & LARA,
IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN
Carpets, Floor Oil Cloths,
UPHOLSTERY GOODS, WALL PAPER, Window Shades, Cornices, Lace and Nankin Curtains, Mirrors, Mouldings, Chromos, Engravings, Etc.
Frames made to order a specialty.
No. 90 Camp Street,
NEW ORLEANS.

MEDICAL.

ANGELL'S
HOMEOPATHIC PHARMACY,

132 Julia St., near Camp New Orleans.

HOMEOPATHIC MEDICINES, BOOKS, CASES AND ALL OTHER ARTICLES USED IN HOMEOPATHIC PRACTICE.

TO MEET THE DEMAND FOR AIDS TO Domestic Practice, and proved by an extensive experience to be safe, generally successful and peculiarly adapted to family practice, remedies for the following diseases will be furnished by mail or express, with full directions as to their use:

For Coughs, Colds, Catherh, Croup, Hooping Cough, Asthma, Fever, Diarrhea, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus and Infantum, Worms, Colic, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Neuralgia, Headache, Sore Throat, Ear Disorders, Sore Mouth, Urinary Affections, Gravel, Piles, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Scrofula Sore Eyes, and Nervous and General Debility—Fifty Cents each.

For Heart Affections, and Chill Drops, successful in Ague and Fever when other remedies fail—$1 each.

Phosphorated Bitters and Colic Drops—Fifty Cents each.

DR. R. ANGELL, SR.,

continues his visiting and office practice as usual, day or night, and will prescribe and furnish medicine by letter on receipt of full statement of case, if relievable.

First prescription and medicine, three to five dollars; subsequent ones, two to three dollars. Consultation alone, free of charge, on inclosing stamped envelope. Office hours, 132 Julia street.

THE ONLY TRUE AND PERFECT HAIR COLORER!

THE MYSTERY,
Or Turner's Hair Tint!

HARMLESS! BEAUTIFUL! PERMANENT!

This preparation has received the indorsement of the scientific world, and wherever introduced, has superseded all other preparations of the kind. No washing or preparation of the hair is necessary before using.

It is free from all Deleterious Ingredients, such as Lead, Sulphur or other compounds which are injurious to the Hair or Person by Absorption.

And its use saves both time and labor, as a few drops applied with a comb, once a month or so, to the Hair or Whiskers, answers the purpose. The natural color being so perfectly assumed as to defy detection. Its great recommendation is in its gradation of tint, producing any desired shade, from light brown to the deepest black and the absence of that dry and burned appearance produced by other Hair Dyes. The Mystery can be applied to a single hair or spots that have changed, can be restored to their original shade without applying all over the head, as is necessary when using other Hair Dyes.

Sample box sent free by mail to any address in the United States upon receipt of price, One Dollar, by the inventor and proprietor.

JAMES TURNER, Chemist,
P.O. Box 2350. New Orleans.

Wholesale Agents—L. L. Lyons, New Orleans; Whelpley, Furlay & Co., New Orleans; E. J. Hart & Co., New Orleans, and for sale by Druggists everywhere.

N. JENKINS' ANNIHILATOR.

A PURELY VEGETABLE COMPOUND, for the permanent Cure of

Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia.

What the Annihilator will do:

1. From one to two bottles will cure any first attack of Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia.
2. From two to twelve bottles, according to duration of disease, will cure any case of Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia.
3. It is one of the best regulators of the circulation of the blood known.

N. JENKINS,
167 Camp Street, New Orleans.
Wholesale Agents—R. R. FINLAY & CO., New Orleans.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Bricks! Bricks! Bricks!

ROY'S BRICK YARD,

ST. BERNARD PARISH, four Blocks below the Slaughterhouse.

The undersigned respectfully informs builders, planters, and all consumers of Bricks, that he is extensively manufacturing Bricks at his old Brick Yard, near the Slaughterhouse, where he has always on hand a large quantity of country-made Bricks and Kettle Tiles, ready to be delivered without detention.

FREDERIC ROY.

Orders left at Messrs. Roy, at C. Cotarro & Sons', Agents, No. 35 Bienville street, or at the Brick Yard, will be promptly attended to.

J. A. LACROIX,
PROPRIETOR OF THE
Pontchartrain Cheap Store,
108, FRENCHMEN AND VICTORY STREETS.

Ladies', Gents', Misses' and Children's
BOOTS AND SHOES
OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.

Always on hand, a full assortment of first-class goods at prices which defy competition. Call and examine my stock before purchasing elsewhere. My Motto—Quick Sales and Small Profits.

JNO. P. LUTHER,
70 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,
MANUFACTURER OF ALL KINDS OF
SCHOOL, COLLEGE, CHURCH, CLASS, SOCIETY AND FRATERNITY
PINS, BADGES & MEDALS,
at short notice, and very reasonable.

Fine Presentation Medals a specialty. Orders by mail attended to.

Lower Coast Semi-Weekly Packet.

FOR PORT EADS, SOUTHWEST Pass, Pilot Town, Forts Jackson and St. Philip, Buras Settlement, Pomme-de-Hache and all way landings. The new, swift, low-pressure Steamer

MARTHA.

W. S. Jossell, Master,
leaves for above every WEDNESDAY at 12 M., and SATURDAY at 5 P. M.
Returning every MONDAY and FRIDAY.
For freight or passage apply on board, or to
HITE & CARLIN, Agents.

CISTERN-MAKER.

R. BRODERICK,

NOS. 132, 134 AND 136 JULIA ST.,

Between Camp and Magazine, New Orleans.

Constantly on hand an assortment of Cisterns. Second-hand Cisterns always on hand. All orders promptly attended to.

$7. SELF-INKING "BEST"

PRINTING PRESS, OUTFIT and PRESS $10. Presses from $4 to $60. Military Presses from $5 to $12. Send stamp for catalogues.
H. HOOVER & CO.,
56 North 9th street,
Philadelphia.

MENEELY & COMPANY,
Bell Founders, West Troy, New York.

FIFTY years established. Church BELLS and CHIMES. ACADEMY, FACTORY BELLS, etc. Improved Patent Mountings. Catalogues free. No agencies.

CARPET WAREHOUSE.

17 CHARTRES STREET 17

CARPETINGS—Wilton, Axminster, Velvet, Brussels Tapestry, Three-Ply, etc.
FLOOR OIL CLOTH—English and American.
MATTINGS—800 rolls White, Check and Fancy.
WINDOW SHADES, Table and Piano Covers.
FURNITURE and CURTAIN GOODS in great variety.
BURLAPS, Table and Enamel OIL CLOTHS.
A. BROUSSEAU.

BUSINESS CARDS.

J. D. CRASSONS,
BOOT AND SHOE STORE,
NO. 26 FRENCHMEN STREET,
Between Victory and Moreau, Third District, New Orleans.

A large assortment of Boots and Shoes always on hand, and made to order. Ladies', Children's and Gentlemen's Shoes manufactured to order.

J. F. HOHRBACHER,
MANUFACTURER AND DEALER IN
BOOTS AND SHOES,
NO. 237 CAMP STREET,
Between St. Joseph and Delord, New Orleans.
Country orders promptly attended to.

MARTIN WEYDIG,
NO. 170 POYDRAS ST., NEW ORLEANS,
MANUFACTURER OF
SADDLES, HARNESS AND HOSE.

Firemen's and Military Equipments made to order. Dealer in all kinds of Leather and Rubber Hose. Leather and Rubber Pipes, Suctions and Fire Brickets, Horse Sheets and Blankets, Lap Dusters, Buggy Robes, Fly Nets and Whips and all kinds of Saddlery Hardware. Country orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

H. SPIERING,
UPHOLSTERER,
651 MAGAZINE ST. 651
Near Jackson, New Orleans.

Parlor Sets manufactured at New York prices. Spring Hair and Moss Mattresses made. Loose Covers cut and made to order. Carpets laid, and taken up, cleaned and relaid. All work guaranteed.

G. SCIACCALUGA, IMPORTER,
And Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
GROCERIES, SHIP CHANDLERY, Etc.,
Nos. 157 and 159 Old Levee St.,
Between Jefferson and St. Peter, New Orleans.

A full assortment of Paints, Oil, Oakum, Hemp and Manilla Rope. Keeps a complete assortment of French and Catalonia Wines, Italian Macaroni and Vermicelli, etc.

EDWARD NALLE. R. C. CAMMACK.

NALLE & CAMMACK,
COTTON FACTORS
AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
No. 103 Gravier Street, New Orleans.

Liberal cash advances made on consignments of Cotton, Wool, Tobacco, and Produce generally.

COAL. COAL. COAL.
B. D. WOOD & BROS.,
Corner Camp and Common Streets,
(Opposite the City Hall.)

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in all kinds of COAL. Pittsburg Coal delivered by boat-load or less on the coast, and shipped in casks or in bulk at lowest market rates. City trade supplied.

LUMBER—$7 PER 1,000 FEET.
AT
J. L. NEVERS'
SUCCESSORS TO
J. V. POOLE, 315 DELLA STREET.

WOOD. COAL. LUMBER.
NO. 351 BIENVILLE STREET, between Clio and Erato streets. Best quality of Oak, Ash and Pine Sawed and Split Wood at lowest rates. Pittsburg and Anthracite Coal and Charcoal at the lowest market prices. Also agent for Avilla Mills. Lumber sawed to order at the shortest notice. Orders left at my office, 351 Bienville street, or at 322 Carondelet street, will receive prompt attention. Satisfaction guaranteed.

SAM. SMITH.

LOUISIANA STEAM SAWMILL BLIND
—AND—
DOOR FACTORY,
ROBERTS & CO., PROPRIETORS
301, 303, 305 and 307 Gravier Street,
Country orders solicited. New Orleans.

WILLIAM VELDEN,
DEALER IN
WOOD, COAL AND ICE,
Corner Philip and Prytania Streets,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Meat and Fish kept on ice free of charge.

BOOTS, SHOES AND TRUNKS,
OF VARIOUS QUALITIES AND PRICES
At Low Figures for Cash.

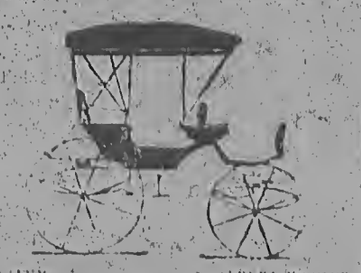
Country Merchants and Planters will do well to give me a call before purchasing elsewhere.
H. MUMME,
No. 51 Magazine street, and
No. 51 Bryades street.

JOHN A. CAIRNS,
GENERAL ENGRAVER,
101 CANAL STREET 101

Wedding and Visiting Cards neatly engraved and printed.
Special attention given to Crests, Monograms, etc., etc. Jewelry and Silverware marked artistically.

ADOLPHE J. LEROY & CO.,
BOOK BINDERS, RULERS,
AND BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURERS,
92 Camp Street. 92
(Over James A. Gresham's.) New Orleans.

Music Books and Periodicals bound in any desired Style.



J. A. LEM & CO. N. ELBERT MOORE.

J. A. LEM & CO.,
MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN
CARRIAGES, HARNESS, ETC.,
102 Gravier and 13 Union Street.
A SPECIALTY MADE OF CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

J. H. KELLER,
MANUFACTURER OF

Office, 110 Gravier St. ESTABLISHED 1849

ALL KINDS OF LAUNDRY AND TOILET SOAPS.

JOHN L. ADAMS. JAY L. ADAMS. WM. H. RENAUD

JOHN L. ADAMS & CO.,
WHOLESALE GROCERS,
AND DEALERS IN
PROVISIONS, LARD, OIL, ETC.,
Nos. 13, 15 and 17 Peters Street,
(Formerly New Levee Street.) New Orleans.

PELICAN
IMPROVED RICE MILLS,
J. H. & A. JOHNSON, Proprietors,
154, 156 and 158 Magazine St., New Orleans.

MILLING RATES—No. 1 at 6c. per pound, No. 2 at 5c. per pound. Address all orders for plain Sacks to P. O. Box 202.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DR. W. G. AUSTIN,
OFFICE AND RESIDENCE,
Corner Jackson and Magazine Streets,
New Orleans,
Entrance on Jackson street (Upper City Hotel.)
Office hours—8 to 10 A. M. and 3 to 7 P. M.

GEORGE J. FRIEDRICHS,
DENTIST,
155 St. Charles Street 155
NEW ORLEANS.

DR. JOHN W. ADAMS,
SURGEON DENTIST,
Office and Residence—NO. 531 DAUPHINE ST.,
(Late Creatman street) one door from corner of Spain, New Orleans.

Nitrous Oxide Gas administered for the painless extraction of Teeth. Teeth inserted on Gold, Silver and Vulcanite bases.

A. L. TUCKER,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
(Late of Franklin, St. Mary Parish, La.)
100 COMMON STREET 100
(Upstairs.) New Orleans.

RENOVAL.—A CARD.—In obedience to the expressed wishes of many of my patrons I have removed my office from my residence, on Napoleon avenue, to TIVOLI CIRCLE, west side, corner of Behlen street. This office has been selected by reason of its affording excellent rooms and fine light, and for its central location and ease of access by car lines.

My patrons need scarcely be reminded that no efforts will be spared to render them the best services. In Dentistry the best is always the cheapest.

A. R. WALKER, D. D. S.

DR. C. J. BICKHAM,
RESIDENCE AND OFFICE,
616 Magazine St., Corner of Jackson,
NEW ORLEANS.
Office Hours—Eight to nine A. M. and three to four P. M.

DR. J. J. LYONS,
NO. 219 CARONDELET STREET,
Between Julia and St. Joseph,
New Orleans.

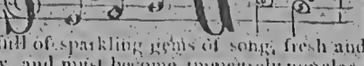
E. T. MERRICK, former Chief Justice Louisiana. G. W. RACE. W. R. FOSTER.

MERRICK, RACE & FOSTER,
ATTORNEYS, COUNSELLORS
AND SOLICITORS,
Corner of Camp Street and Commercial Place,
New Orleans.

MISCELLANEOUS.

GREAT JACKSON ROUTE.

NEW ORLEANS, ST. LOUIS
AND CHICAGO RAILROAD



On and after Monday, October 9, 1876, Trains depart and arrive as follows, from Canal-Hope Street Depot:

DEPART.
Mail	7:30 A. M.
Accommodation	4:15 P. M.
ARRIVE.
Mail	11:45 A. M.
Accommodation	7:30 A. M.

PULLMAN PALACE SLEEPING CARS TO St. Louis, Chicago, Louisville and Cincinnati.

Only one change of Sleeping Cars to Eastern cities.

Accommodation train runs as far as Metairie only.

Tickets for sale and information given at No. 22 Camp street, corner of Common, under City Hotel.

A. D. SHELDON, Agent.
E. D. FROST, General Manager.

By JAS. H. FILLMORE,
has already reached the sale of over 50,000 copies. The new notation (specimen in the above cut) is heartily accepted as a great help to the mass of singers.

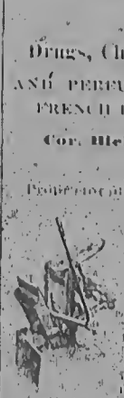
Songs of Glory
is full of sparkling gems of song, fresh and new, and must become immensely popular. Price, 35 cts.; $3.60 per doz. by express, $4.20 by mail.
FILLMORE BROS., Cincinnati, O.

PLASTER PARIS MODELS
For Drawing Classes.

BUSTS, MASKS AND STATUES FROM THE Antique, in the size, medium size, small size. Various prices.
Fractions of the Human Body.
Anatomy from the Old Masters.
Animals. Heads of Animals.
Birds, Shields.
Brackets, Pedestals, Red chalk Statues.
Fruit and Flowers in Relief.
Large assortment of Leaves in Relief.
Orders by mail promptly attended to. Goods carefully packed and sent to any part of the United States. Prices to suit the times.
H. PASTELAFQUE,
145 Grand street, New York.

H. J. RIVET,
DEALER IN
Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines
AND PERFUMERY, AND IMPORTER OF FRENCH PROPRIETARY MEDICINES,
Cor. Bienville and Chartres Sts.,
NEW ORLEANS.
Proprietor of the celebrated Pyrethrum Bitters.

GET THE BEST.



Send 8¢ AMERICA for Index to ADVERTISEMENTS, the Best, Newest and Cheapest Guide to the CENTENNIAL. Sent free. Publishers' Prices for 3000 Newspapers. Office of Publication, 10 Spruce St., New York. Send stamp for new complete catalogue. P. W. WATSON, No. 7 Franklin Square, Boston.

WM. B. RINGROSE,
NO. 672 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS,
DEALER IN
New & Second-Hand Furniture.

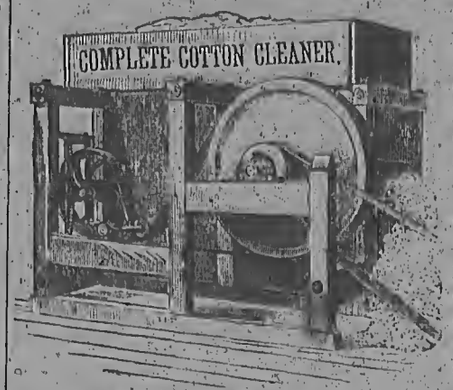
Furniture bought, sold and exchanged. Now on exhibition the largest and most complete stock of Furniture ever offered for sale in this city. Parties wishing to purchase Furniture at the lowest prices will find it to their advantage to call at this establishment before purchasing elsewhere. Packing and shipping promptly attended to.

SURE SHOT VERMIN Exterminator, for Rats, Roaches, Ants, Flies, Bugs, Fleas, Rats, and Mice. Send Free by mail on the receipt of 50 cents only.
W. FICHTENBERG,
78 Fulton street, New York.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY,
Established in 1837.
Superior Bells of Copper and Tin, mounted with the Latest Improved Hangings, for Churches, Schools, Farms, Factories, Court Houses, Fire Alarms, Steamboats, Plantations, etc. Illustrated Catalogue sent Free.
Vanduzen & Tift, 102 and 104 Second St., Cin.

MISCELLANEOUS.

C. C. C.



The Complete Cotton Cleaner, a New, Valuable and Money-making Machine to every Cotton producer or ginner,—thoroughly removes all Dust, Dirt, SAND and light TRASH from cotton before ginning, and improves the quality of the lint from one to four grades.

No gin house should be without one of these "cleaners". It is light, simple, and easily adjusted to either Horse or Steam power, occasioning little or no increased draft, is readily understood, simple in operation, not liable to get out of order, and will pay for itself in less than ten days work.

Manufactured and sold by
Allison Brothers, Memphis, Tenn.
☞Send for Circulars and Price list.☜
FRIERSON & CO., Agents, 77 Carondelet St., New Orleans, La.

NEW MUSIC BOOKS.
A BRILLIANT LIST!

The Encore. (75 cts.) By L. O. EMERSON. For singing Schools, Conventions, etc.

The Whippoorwill. (50 cts. By W. O. PERKINS. Capital collection of Songs for Common Schools.

The Shining River. (35 cts.) By W. O. PERKINS. Very beautiful Sabbath School Song Book.

The Salutation. ($1.38.) By L. O. EMERSON. First-class collection for Choirs, Singing Schools, etc.

Biographical Sketches of 100 Eminent Musical Composers. ($2.) By L. B. URBINO. Very interesting.

Dictionary of Musical Terms. ($5.) STAINER & BARRETT. A magnificent work. Illustrated. Elegantly bound.

JUST OUT

! THE WORLD OF SONG. !
THE VOCAL GEM OF THE Season.
Elegant volume of popular Songs. 176 Pages, $2.50. Boards, $3. Cloth, $3.50.
Either book mailed, post-paid, for retail price.
OLIVER DITSON & CO.,
BOSTON.
C. H. Ditson & Co., 711 Broadway, New York. J. E. Ditson & Co., Stevens, Walker & Co., Philadelphia.

The Best Sunday School Singing Books are published by the American Sunday School Union,

1122 Chestnut street, Philadelphia—ALEX. KIRKPATRICK, Jr.
Depositories: 8 and 10 Bible House, New York—C. S. SCOFIELD.
26 Winter street, Boston—J. A. CROWLEY.
58 Dearborn street, Chicago—W. R. PORTER.
806 N. Sixth St., St. Louis—S. PAXSON.

TO THE PUBLIC.

A CERTAIN PARTIES are advertising themselves as being "Sole Agents" of the "best manufacturers of Perique Tobacco" at Grand Point, St. James parish. I would respectfully state that I am of the following manufacturers of Grand Point Perique:

THE DULY AUTHORIZED AGENT

DE LAVE-ROUSSEL,
LEWIS ROUSSEL,
AUGUSTAVE ROUSSEL,
F. ST. PIERRE,
And many others.
EDMOND HOUMAS,
No. 19 Gravier street.

The Centennial Manufacturing Co.,
No. 109 Walnut St., Philadelphia,

Whose "Powder Polish" has become so well known for its labor-saving properties in the cleansing of all Painted Walls, Wood Work, Glass, Tin and Copper Ware etc., and the removing of any grease spots or other stains from the most delicate Carpets, Woolen or Silk materials without the slightest fear of any dissipation, it contains, and no need of deleterious substance whatever, as to be considered an indispensable necessity to every family which has once tried it. The Company are now offering for sale a new article adapted to the Tanner's and Leather Finisher's trade, called

TANNERINE.

This article, which has been for a short time on the market, has attracted the attention of the Shoe and Leather Reporter, The Harness and Carriage Journal, and the Polytechnic Review, all of which papers speak in the highest terms of it, and there seems no doubt that it will complete to revolutionize the mode of tanning or leather on the grain side, for the coloring.

Samples and all information will in regard to it may be had upon application to the office of the Company, 107 Walnut street, and will be forwarded free of charge to any address sent to them, and skins prepared by this process which are guaranteed equal, or superior to French Calf Skins may now be seen at the Company's Exhibit, Aisle No. 12, Column 2, Shoe and Leather Building, Centennial Grounds.

LIME, SAND, BRICKS, ETC.

Lime, Sugar Lime, Cement, Plaster, Plastering Hair, White and Yellow Sand, Fire Clay, Paving, Building, Pointing and Arch Bricks, English and Pittsburg Fire Bricks, Large and Small White Shells, Laths, Shingles, Fire Tiles, Sulphur, Tar, Pitch and Rosin at the lowest market rates. For sale by
JOHN C. STEWART,
(Successor to THE
143 Travers street, and
310 Bayou Road, between Derbigny and Roman Sts.

NEW ENGLAND CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC, Largest in the world. 1500 students in 10 years. 32 eminent professors. 10 lessons for $10. E. TOURJEE, Music Hall, Boston.

CHAIR WAREHOUSE.

50 DIFFERENT STYLES of CANE SEAT CHAIRS, also CAMP CHAIRS, PATENT FOLDING CHAIRS, etc.

Specialties
CHAIRS for CHURCHES, PUBLIC HALLS, Schools, COLLEGES, Societies etc. Wholesale and Retail.
C. H. WISLER,
2126 & 2128 Sixth St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Dry Goods Cheap for Cash.

THE ATTENTION of Housekeepers and all others is now called to Prints and Staple Dry Goods Sales of the last week.

P. W. MOHR,
610 Magazine St., New Orleans.

Advertising his entire stock at unprecedented low prices. Unequaled bargains for ready sales.

OTTO ZELL,
General Engraver and Book-Binders' Tool Cutter,
Over the Odeon, Side and Back Stairs,
No. 108 FOURTH AND MAIN STREETS,
Second Floor, CINCINNATI, O.

Trade Mark, Lettering Stamps, Show Ornamental Stitching Stamps, Burning Brands, Ivory Plates, etc.

MACHINERY, TIES, ETC.

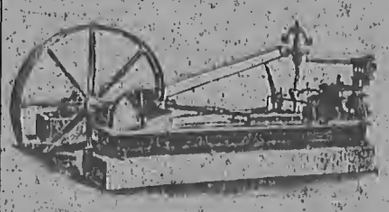
DANIEL PRATT'S IMPROVED
"Revolving Head" Cotton Gin.
PATENTED JULY 13, 1875.

Price Reduced to $4.50 Per Saw.

THIS GIN has been in use for the past three seasons, and several recent improvements have been added. It obviates all friction at the ends of the cotton box, prevents the roll from breaking, and gives a Larger Yield of Lint from the Same Amount of Seed than any other Gin in use. The Revolving Head lightens the draft and causes the Gin to run faster with less driving power, thus doing a great deal more work within the same time, while consuming steam or animal power less than any other Gin. The seed being ginned very close, the length of the staple is increased, producing a return on this account of a greater market value. This improved value, given by length of staple, with the extra production of lint, added to increased amount of work done, more than covers the cost of the Gin in every two bales ginned. Testimonials sent by mail on application.

JOS. B. WOLFE & CO.,
GENERAL AGENTS,
59 Carondelet St 59
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

BEN. F. WOLFE,
AGENT FOR THE STATE OF TEXAS,
22 Main Street. 22
HOUSTON, TEXAS.



STEAM ENGINES,
BOILERS & MACHINERY
MANUFACTURED BY
I. & E. GREENWALD,
CINCINNATI, Ohio.

Having been established since 1837, we are prepared to supply the best MACHINERY of Eastern and Western planters and buyers promptly at low prices.

Refer to John Burnside, Esq., and Stephen A. Fenner, New Orleans, and H. J. Gibson, Esq., Shreveport, La.

The Cheapest, Simplest, and Strongest TIE in the market. Costs about one half the price of other ties. Traveling salesmen wanted on liberal commissions. Address R. C. LUDLOW,
29 and 31 Market Street, St. Louis, Mo.

PORTABLE and STATIONARY
STEAM ENGINES, STEAM BOILERS.
SAW, FLOUR AND GRIST MILLS.
MILL GEARING MADE
Without Patterns.
SHAFTING, PULLEYS AND HANGERS
OF IMPROVED DESIGNS, A SPECIALTY.
The UNEQUALLED JAS. LEFFEL DOUBLE
TURBINE WATER WHEEL, 7000 in use.
ADDRESS, POOLE & HUNT,
SEND FOR CIRCULARS. BALTIMORE, MD.

KING SOLOMON
AND THE
IRON WORKER.

The finest Masonic Engravings on Steel ever published. Illustrating a Tradition of the Workmen employed in the Erection of the Great Temple at Jerusalem and its Builders. From the Original Painting by Prof. C. Schussele.

ENGRAVED BY JOHN SARTAIN,
Chief of Art Bureau, Centennial Exhibition.

Rush your Orders for this work to Messrs. as the work of their agents is limited.

We want a few Right Persons to act as Agents.

For Specimen, Terms, Territory, and Circulars, address the Publishers,
J. E. HOWARD & CO.,
No. 1 Bible House, New York.

CHALLENGE

Is a combination of Pen and Pencil, containing a specially prepared Fountain Pen-holder, with pen, and package of Ink Powder, which makes a Gallon of jet black ink in one second. Also a complete, elegant, useful and Celebration set, suitable for the holiday trade, from 50 cts. to $10. Sample package, including set of 3 pens, by mail, 15 cts. Liberal terms to dealers. Circulars and testimonials to Agents.

F. SACHSMAN, 27 Bond St., New York.

ELECTRO STEREO
TYPE FOUNDRY.
WOOD ENGRAVING AND PRINTING.
CLOSS, PARTRIDGE & CO., 174, 176 & 178 Elm St., Cin., O.

Presses and Printing Material.

MISS LOUISE SCHMITT,
First Premium Patent Corset Maker.

Corsets for Ladies and Children with detached figures are made to order, and guaranteed a perfect fit. No. 265 Camp street, between Behrel and Calliope. The Magazine and Prytania Street cars both pass the door.

75 VISITING CARDS, 30 cts. Add a 3ct. stamp. no. 2 alike, 1 name, 50 cts. 4 packs, 4 names, $1. Prettiest assortment you ever saw. No better work in the world, at any price! Common Cards at Unheard-of rates. Wide plain, W. C. CANNON, 712 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

TEACHERS WANTED—To supply vacancies in Schools, Academies, and Seminaries in the different States. Send for "Mutual Plan." Address American Educational Union, 737 Broadway, N. Y.

Goodyear's Pocket Gymnasium
ENDORSED BY THE MOST EMINENT PHYSICIANS.

The most complete system of physical exercise ever devised for Home Practice.

Used in daily use by men, women, and children.

Used standing, sitting or reclining.

Hundreds of graceful movements.

For ladies, offices, schools, hospitals.

Price List.—No. 1, for children 4 years of age, $1.00; No. 2, for children 6 to 10, $1.50; No. 3, for children 10 to 14, $2.00; No. 4, for ladies and children 14 years and upward, $2.50; No. 5, for gentlemen of moderate strength, $3.00; No. 6, for gentlemen of extra strength, $3.50; No. 7, used by ladies, children, or gents, $4.00; No. 8, for gentlemen of extra strength, $5.00. Full set, simply one inch thick and two feet and two inches long, $5.00. No. 7 and 8 are fitted with a screw eye and hook to attach to the wall or floor. A pair of No. 7 (Price $4) makes a complete Gymnasium and Health Lift. Sent postpaid, on receipt of price. Exclusive agencies granted in unoccupied territory.

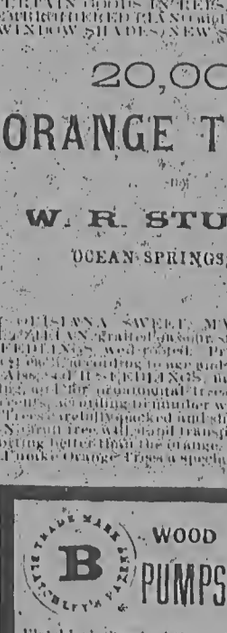
Exclusive rights to sell the Pocket Gymnasium afford the largest possible returns for small investments. Its sales are nearly universal wherever it is placed before the public and its merits fully understood.

For illustrated descriptive circulars, terms, etc., address

Goodyear Rubber Cutter Company,
P. O. Box 5129. 807 Broadway, New York.
RUBBER GOODS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

HOLMAN'S
Fever and Ague and Liver Pad
CURES WITHOUT MEDICINE.
SURE BY RE-ABSORPTION.

The Best Liver Regulator in the World.



The only true cure of Fever and Ague, Chronic, Intermittent, Remittent, Bilious Fever, Dumb Ague, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Debility, Female Weakness, Nervous Prostration, Bilious Diseases, etc.

None genuine without the Trade Mark and Signature of the inventor, on the wrapper.

For certificates, read the little blue book "Facts in Point," sent free on application to JUNIUS HART & CO., Proprietors, Memphis, Tenn., & 51 Custom House, New Orleans.

Price $2 and $3.

For sale by wholesale and retail druggists.

CARPETS.

ELKIN & CO.,
108 CANAL STREET 108
ARE OFFERING NEW AND CHOICE PATTERNS IN MOQUETTE
VELVET
BRUSSELS
THREE PLY
and INGRAIN CARPETS.
At Greatly Reduced Prices.
FLOOR OIL CLOTHS
INDIA AND CANE MATTINGS
CERTAIN GOODS IN REES, TERRYS ET.
EMBROIDERED PIANO and PARLOR COVERS
WINDOW SHADES, NEW STYLES

20,000
ORANGE TREES!
—AT—
W. R. STUART,
OCEAN SPRINGS, MISS.

LOUISIANA SWEET, MANDARIN, BIVALLEAN Grafted on Bitter Stock, and SWEET SEEDLINGS, well rooted. Prices, from 20 cts. to $1 each, according to age and number wanted.

Also, CHERIMOLIAS, for grafting on Seedling, or their ornamental trees, from 15 cents to $2 each, according to size wanted.

Trees carefully packed and shipped to any locality. Send for free well-illustrated and descriptive pamphlet, containing information for this and other contemplated plantings, address

BRAILEY & CO.,
66 N. Fourth St., Philadelphia.

PHILOSOPHICAL APPARATUS
FOR
SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES.

To illustrate all departments of Physical Science.

Magic Lanterns and Stereopticons.

Views from all Countries and a specialty. A new 67 illustrative Science. The Subjects Views made to order at reasonable prices. Send for Catalogue and Terms each on application.

JAMES A. CHENEY,
No. 1 and 3 Bond street, New York.
Successor to James M. Spencer & Co.

CHALLENGE

Is a combination of Pen and Pencil, containing a specially prepared Fountain Pen-holder, with pen, and package of Ink Powder, which makes a Gallon of jet black ink in one second. Also a complete, elegant, useful and Celebration set, suitable for the holiday trade, from 50 cts. to $10. Sample package, including set of 3 pens, by mail, 15 cts. Liberal terms to dealers. Circulars and testimonials to Agents.

F. SACHSMAN, 27 Bond St., New York.

ELECTRO STEREO
TYPE FOUNDRY.
WOOD ENGRAVING AND PRINTING.
CLOSS, PARTRIDGE & CO., 174, 176 & 178 Elm St., Cin., O.

Presses and Printing Material.

MISS LOUISE SCHMITT,
First Premium Patent Corset Maker.

Corsets for Ladies and Children with detached figures are made to order, and guaranteed a perfect fit. No. 265 Camp street, between Behrel and Calliope. The Magazine and Prytania Street cars both pass the door.

75 VISITING CARDS, 30 cts. Add a 3ct. stamp. no. 2 alike, 1 name, 50 cts. 4 packs, 4 names, $1. Prettiest assortment you ever saw. No better work in the world, at any price! Common Cards at Unheard-of rates. Wide plain, W. C. CANNON, 712 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

TEACHERS WANTED—To supply vacancies in Schools, Academies, and Seminaries in the different States. Send for "Mutual Plan." Address American Educational Union, 737 Broadway, N. Y.

WOOD PUMPS
Blatchley's Standard Cemented and Galvanized Cog Pumps, with copper boxes, adapted to all styles, and all climates and improvements. Main Gearing to Pumps is covered, safe, and economical. PRICE SMALL. When in town call. Or, take it to the nearest agent and test it for use, with privilege of trying.

C. G. BLATCHLEY, Manufr.,
1001 Cherry street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The above pumps can be obtained of Gen'l Agents Allen & Hall, 1st Ave., Atlanta, Ga.; Jno. C. Stewart, No. 143 Travers street, New Orleans, La.; Tra W. Porter & Co., Agents, Mobile, Ala.

PRUSSIAN SALVE
FOR
CORNS, BUNIONS, SPRAINS, INGROWN NAILS, WARTS, FROSTBITES, FELONS, CANKERS, and SORES. A certain Cure.
A. HUPTFELDT, DEPEW & CO.,
Manufacturers,
1004 Chestnut Street,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Price, 50 cts. Sent by mail. For sale by Druggists. Trade supplied. Agents wanted.

L. L. LYONS, Wholesale and Retail Agent, 21 and 23 Commercial Place, New Orleans.

ANDREW ALLEN. JOHN W. WATT.

ALLEN & WATT,
COTTON FACTORS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
16 Union Street, New Orleans, La.

Special attention given to receipt and forwarding of all descriptions of Produce. Agricultural Implements and Plantation Supplies.

OPIUM AND MORPHINE HABIT ABSOLUTELY AND SPEEDILY CURED. Painless. No publicity. Send stamp for particulars. DR. CARLTON, 181 Washington street, Chicago, Ill.

New Orleans Markets.

ADVOCATE OFFICE,
New Orleans, Tuesday, Nov. 28, 1876.

MONETARY.

The dullness caused by the political imbroglio is gradually disappearing, owing to the immense crops of sugar, cotton and rice which are coming to market, and must be sold to meet the maturing paper of cotton factors and merchants; hence less pressure is manifested; the call for discounts being somewhat lighter than heretofore. Stocks of various kinds are firm. Confidence in consols and premium bonds is shown by the steadiness of price. The former have been sold at 58@58¼, and the latter at 32c.

Gold is steady at 100¼ here, while in New York it closed at 108.

Sterling Exchange.—For currency, 521@522; for gold, 480@482.

Commercial paper unchanged, nor is there any material change of the values of securities.

SUGAR AND MOLASSES.

Sugar.—The receipts have accumulated, so that the stock offering is quite large. Prices are firm, the stock being mostly in the hands of second parties. We quote (per pound, by hogshead, from levee): Fair to fully fair, 7¼@8¼c.; strictly prime, 8¼c.; choice, 8¾c.; yellow clarified, 9¼@9¾c.; white clarified, 11@11¼c.; centrifugals, 8¼@8¾c.

Molasses.—Owing to heavy receipts the market is not so strong. Sales at the following prices: Common, 37½c.; fair, 40c.; prime, 43@46c.; choice, 48c. per gallon.

COTTON.

The movement this week has been free and the market active. Prices tending upward since Thursday, middling cotton and the lower grades having changed prices at the rate of ⅛c. a day until to-day, with sales of 57,850 bales. For the daily condition of the staple see tables, which are carefully compiled from the records of the Cotton Exchange.

DAILY EXCHANGE QUOTATIONS.

Day.	Low Ordinary	Ordinary	Good Ordinary	Low Middling	Middling	Good Middling.
Wednesday	10¾	11	11¾	11
Thursday	10¾	11	11¾	11¼
Friday	10¾	11	11¾	12
Saturday	10¾	11	11¾	12⅛
Monday	11	11¼	11¾	12¼
Tuesday	11	11¼	11¾	12¼

DAILY QUOTATIONS AT THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT MARKETS.

	Class—Middling. Mobile	Galveston.	Memphis.
Wednesday	11	11	11
Thursday	11	11	11
Friday	11 @11¼	11	11
Saturday	11 @11¼	11	11
Monday	11 @11¼	11	11
Tuesday	11 @11¼	11	11

DAILY MOVEMENT OF NEW ORLEANS, NEW YORK AND LIVERPOOL MARKETS.

Day.	Total.	Sales.	Market.	Price.	Sales.	Market.	Price.
			NEW ORLEANS.		NEW YORK.		LIVERPOOL.
Wednesday	9,000	Easy	Middling	12 3-16	12,000	Firm	Middling 6 1-16d.
Thursday	11,200	Active		12 3-16	14,000	Firm
Friday	11,000	Active		12 3-16	12,000	Firmer	6 1-16d.
Saturday	9,150	Easy		12 5-16	12,000	Firmer	6 1-16d.
Monday	11,000	Firmer		12 5-16	25,000	Buoyant	6 1-16d.
Tuesday	11,013	Firm		12 7-16	25,000	Advance	6¼d.
Total	57,850				95,000

COTTON STATEMENT.

	Bales.
Stock at all the United States ports	894,639
Stock at New Orleans	247,778
Net receipts at New Orleans	417,509
Net receipts last year	361,779
Increase	52,730
Net receipts at all ports of the United States	1,710,953
Net receipts last year	1,455,891
Increase	255,062
Stock in Liverpool	445,000
Of which American	367,000
World's cotton supply, November 3	2,155,953
Last year, same date	1,810,289

GENERAL MARKET.

Provisions.—Active and advancing. Jobbers effect sales at outside figures, and orders are marked slightly higher.

Grain and Feed.—As usual at this season, not much demand. Dealers supply the local demand at quotations.

Hardware, Dry Goods, Etc.—Rather more doing in these departments. As the stock of country merchants must be kept up, they order from month to month, and in many instances by every trip of their respective packets.

Rice.—Receipts moderate; demand good. We quote: Prime 5¾c., no choice in market, fair 4¾c., common 3¾c., No. 2 at 2¾c.

CATTLE MARKET.

Choice corn-fed beeves are in demand at 4@5c. ₮ lb. gross.

Fat grass-fed beef cattle sell readily at $25@$35 ₮ head. Poor cattle dull at $12@$20 ₮ head.

Fat calves, up to year olds, $7@$12 ₮ head. Poor ones very dull at $5@$8 ₮ head.

Fat sheep in demand at $3@$5 ₮ head. Poor ones unsalable.

Hogs, corn-fed, at 5@6c. ₮ lb. gross. Mast-fed dull at 3@4c ₮ lb. gross.

Milch cows sell according to quantity of milk given. Choice fancy milkers, giving 4 to 5 gallons per day, $80@$100 ₮ head. Fair milkers, say giving from 1½ to 3 gallons per day, $35@$75 ₮ head. Common stock very hard to sell at $18@$25 ₮ head.

Report of Dealers' Cash Prices

AT WHICH

COUNTRY ORDERS CAN BE FILLED.

REVISED AND CORRECTED WEEKLY.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

ARTICLES.	FROM	TO
Cotton scrapers	$4 00	— —
Cotton sweeps	3 00	4 50
Cultivators, Diam. and shovel-tooth	6 25	9 00
Cultivators, riding and walking	20 00	35 00
Shovels and spades	9 35	14 00
Axes	9 60	12 00
Shovel plows	3 00	5 50
Half do., with cutters	6 00	8 00
Manly's double-shovel plow	5 00	7 00
Straub's corn mills	115 00	280 00
Corn mills, Coleman's	120 00	425 00
B. J. West's corn mill	200 00	— —
Tunnard's corn and pea planter	15 00	— —
Cotton planter	15 00	— —
Wagons, Carts, Etc.:
Wagon, two-horse	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	100 00	115 00
Wagon, two-horse, thim. skein	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	90 00	100 00
Cane wagon	— —	200 00
Ox wagon	80 00	125 00
Ox cart, complete	115 00	— —
Cane cart	110 00	115 00
Tongue cart, complete	— —	120 00
Plantation cart	— —	55 00
Bagasse cart	65 00	75 00
Iron, ₮ lb.:
Swedes, assorted	7	7½
Hoop	4½	7½
Sheet	4½	7
Nail rods	9½	10
Castings, American	4½	5½

BUILDING MATERIAL.

Bricks, ₮ 1,000:
Lake	10 50	14 00
Country	9 00	10 00
English fire	45 00	47 00
Lime, ₮ bbl.:
Western	1 50	1 75
Cement	2 00	2 25
Plaster Paris	2 25	2 50
Lumber, ₮ 1,000 feet:
Flooring, dressed	18 00	18 00
Flooring, rough	— —	16 00
Ceiling, dressed	10 00	12 00
Weatherboards, dressed	14 00	16 00
Weatherboards, rough	— —	12 00
Scantling	10 00	12 00
Shingles, ₮ 1,000	7 50	8 75
Nails, best brands	3 50	— —
Smaller sizes proportionately higher	— —	— —
Glass, ₮ box of 50 feet:
French, 8 by 10	— —	3 50
French, 10 by 12	3 75	4 00
French, 10 by 14 to 12 by 20	4 00	4 25
French, 14 by 16 to 16 by 20	4 25	4 75
White Lead, best, ₮ lb.	6	10
Paris Green, ₮ lb.	30	— —
Pat. Dryer, ₮ lb.	12	14
Whiting, ₮ lb.	— —	1½
Putty, in bladders, ₮ lb.	— —	3½
Linseed Oil, ₮ gall.	— —	70

SASH, BLINDS AND DOORS.

Window Sash, 12 lights:

Size of lights.	Sash, per pair. Unglazed.	Glazed.	Blinds, per pair.
8x10	60	$1 70	$2 00
10x12	65	1 95	2 25
10x16	$1 00	2 95	3 25

Sash Doors:	Single.	Double.
3 feet x 7 feet	$3 50	$3 70
3 feet x 8 feet	4 00	— —
3 feet x 7 feet 6 inches	— —	4 25

Panel Doors:

2 ft. 5 in. x 7 ft. 1 in. thick	$3 25
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	3 45
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	$3 75 4 00

GROCERIES.

Butter, ₮ lb.:
Western, choice	24	26
Goshen, choice	31	36
Coffee, ₮ lb.:
Rio, fair	18½	19¾
Rio, good	21	21
Rio, prime	21½	22½
Java, choice O. G.	—	31
Candles, ₮ lb.:
Star, best brands	— —	15
Chocolate, ₮ lb.:
Cocoa	28	60
Sweet	18	33
Canned Fruits, ₮ doz.:
Peaches, strawberries and pears	2 25	2 50
Corn Meal, ₮ bbl.:
Best, K. D.	3 18	3 25
Cheese, ₮ lb.:
Western factory	12½	14
N. Y. cream and English dairy	15½	16
Fish:
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in bbls	— —	22 00
Mackerel, extra No. 2, in kits	— —	3 00
Sardines, quarter boxes	— —	15½
Flour, ₮ bbl.:
Superfine	4 75	5 00
XX	5 75	6 00
XXX	6 25	6 75
Choice XXX	6 75	7 25
Choice family	7 50	8 00
Fruits:
Dried apples, ₮ lb.	10	10½
Dried peaches, ₮ lb.	9½	10
Raisins, ₮ quarter box	— —	80
Raisins, ₮ half box	— —	1 60
Raisins, ₮ whole box	— —	2 75
Bananas, ₮ bunch	1 00	3 00
Crackers, ₮ lb.:
Soda	5	6
Butter	6	7
Sugar	8	9
Gingernuts	8	12½
Oil:
Coal, in cans, best	35	38
Pasturine, in cans	— —	50
Coal, in barrels, best	32	33
Lard, in barrels, best	1 10	1 12
Molasses, in barrels:
Common	39	42
Fair	44	45
Prime to choice	48	50
Golden and Roquet syrups	80	85
Half bbls. 5c and kegs 10c. more.
Rice, Louisiana, ₮ lb.:
No. 2	— —	3
Ordinary	4½	5
Fair	5¼	5¾
Prime to choice	6¾	7¾
Soap, in boxes, ₮ lb.:
NXX Palm	— —	—
Keller's magnolia	— —	5
Keller's olive	— —	6½
Starch, ₮ lb.	3	5
Salt, in sacks:
Fine	1 30	35
Coarse	1 05	1 10
Sugar, in bbls.:
Good fair	— —	8
Prime	— —	9
Choice	10	9¾
Yellow clarified	10¼	10¾
White clarified	10¾	11¾
Crushed	12	12¾
Powdered	12	12¾
Spices, ₮ lb.:
Allspice	— —	18
Pepper	— —	20
Cloves	— —	45
Cinnamon	— —	45
Tea, ₮ lb.:
Black Oolong	— —	1 00
Green Imperial	— —	1 25
Tobacco, manufactured, ₮ lb.:
Chewing, common	45	50
Chewing, fair	50	55
Chewing, prime	60	65
Chewing, choice	65	1 00
Smoking	40	1 00

GRAIN AND FEED.

Corn, ₮ bushel:
Yellow, choice	57	60
White, mixed	58	60
Oats, ₮ bushel:
St. Louis	— —	44
Texas	— —	45
Galena	— —	50
Bran, choice, ₮ 100 lbs.	78	80
Hay, ₮ ton:
Prime timothy	18 00	22 00
Ordinary	— —	14 00
Cotton Seed Meal	26 00	28 00

PROVISIONS.

Bacon, ₮ lb.:
Breakfast	14½	14¾
Shoulders	8½	8¾
Sides, clear rib	9½	9¾
Sides, clear	10	10
Hams, sugar-cured	13½	14
Mess Pork, ₮ bbl	18 75	19 25
Dry Salted Meats:
Shoulders	— —	8¼
Lard, ₮ lb.:
Choice, in kegs	11¾	12
Choice, in tierces	11	11½

BALING STUFF.

Bagging:
India	10	10½
Jute	12½	13¾
Ties, Arrow, best, per bundle, of 38 iron and buckle	— —	3 30
Beard	— —	3 50
Twine, hemp	— —	16

SUNDRIES.

Leather, ₮ lb.:
Sole, hemlock	27	28
Sole, oak	35	40
Harness	35	45
Calf-skins, ₮ dozen	20 00	75 00
Texas, rough, ₮ lb.	24	26
Fertilizers, ₮ ton:
Stern's raw-bone superphosphate	65 00	— —
Stern's fine-ground bone	45 00	— —
Cotton Seed:
In sacks	11 00	— —

DRY GOODS.

Brown Domestic, ₮ yard:
Standard brands, ⅞	— —	8
Standard brands, 4/4	— —	10¼
Bleached Domestic, ₮ yard:
Choice brands, ⅞	— —	7½
Choice brands, 4/4	10¾	14¾
Calico, ₮ yard:
Common brands	4½	5½
Sprague, Allen & Hamilton	6¾	7
Ticking, ₮ yard:
Common brands	10	13½
Good	19	22
Osnaburgs:
Eight-ounce	11½	12
Stripes	10	14
Checks	14	18
Denims	12	20

BOOTS AND SHOES.

Bacon, ₮ lb.:
Breakfast	14½	14¾
Shoulders	8½	8¾
Sides, clear rib	9½	9¾
Sides, clear	10	10
Hams, sugar-cured	13½	14
Mess Pork, ₮ bbl	18 75	19 25
Dry Salted Meats:
Shoulders	— —	8¼
Lard, ₮ lb.:
Choice, in kegs	11¾	12
Choice, in tierces	11	11½

Batchelor mud boots, ₮ doz	36 00	42 00
Common mud boots, ₮ doz	— —	30 00
Common brogans, ₮ doz	12 00	18 00
Batchelor brogans, ₮ doz	15 00	16 50
Russetts' brogans, ₮ doz	16 00	19 50

Special Notices.

A Gem worth Reading!—A Diamond worth Seeing!

SAVE YOUR EYES!

Restore your Sight!

THROW AWAY your SPECTACLES,

By reading our Illustrated PHYSIOLOGY AND ANATOMY of the EYE SIGHT. Tells How to Restore Impaired Vision and Overworked Eyes; how to cure Weak, Watery, Inflamed, and Near-Sighted Eyes, and all other Diseases of the Eyes.

WASTE NO MORE MONEY BY ADJUSTING HUGE GLASSES ON YOUR NOSE AND DISFIGURING YOUR FACE. Pamphlet of 100 pages Mailed Free. Send your address to us also.

Agents Wanted,

Gents or Ladies. $5 to $10 a day guaranteed. Full particulars sent free. Write immediately, to DR. J. BALL & CO., (P. O. Box 957), No. 91 Liberty St., New York City, N. Y.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Snyder's Curative PADS.

WORN OVER PART AFFECTED, ABSORB ALL MALARIA FROM THE SYSTEM.

They positively cure the worst cases of Liver, Lung, Heart, Kidney, Spine, Bladder and Womb ailments, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Costiveness, Soreness at pit of Stomach or Bowels, Female Weakness, Sick and Nervous Headache, Chills and Fever, Insub Ague. Restlessness, etc., may be certainly eradicated by wearing one of our Pads. Many of our best citizens can attest to their merit.

The Liver and Lung Pad	$3 00
Kidney and Spinal Pad	3 00
Womb Pad for Female Weakness	3 00

☞ Ask your druggists for "Snyder's Curative Pad," and take no other, or inclose the price in a letter to us, and we will send them by mail. Address

E. F. SNYDER & CO.,
Manufacturers and Proprietors,
Indianapolis, Ind.

☞ For sale by I. L. LYONS, New Orleans.

A General Agent wanted for each State South, with whom a liberal contract will be made to supply the wholesale and retail trade. 8p 0676

WELL WORTH TRYING.

GOODWYN'S

Eureka Yeast Powder.

TRADE MARK H F T

A Product of Southern Industry that Gives General Satisfaction.

Read what prominent physicians of this city, who have established the recipe for making the above powders, have to say of them:

"They are perfectly healthful, and certainly must make good bread, and at the same time improve the flour they are mixed with."—Wm. H. Austin, M. D. "I regard it as a pure, excellent and healthful preparation."—C. J. Bickham, M. D. "The compound is all that can be desired in a yeast powder."—J. J. Lyons, M. D.

Hear also what a few of our lady friends among experienced housekeepers have to say of them. Says Mrs. Philip Hallaran: "They are not only good, but the best I have ever used." Mrs. J. W. Blackman: "They are splendid." Mrs. Thomas McKnight, Sr., to the manufacturer: "We never had any satisfaction in our home on the biscuit question till we got your powders." Mrs. Rev. N. A. Cravens, writing from Houston, Texas, says: "I am delighted with it and so is every lady friend who has tried it," and she further adds: "Biscuit made with it took the premium at our fair." Rev. H. F. Johnson, President Whitworth Female College, Brookhaven, Miss., who uses Goodwyn's Eureka, writing to the publisher of this paper, says: "As he makes the best yeast powder in the world, ought he not to have his card in the ADVOCATE?"

It is an article that never fails to speak for itself, when it is fairly tried.

Most of our leading family grocers deal in it.

P. M. GOODWYN, Manufacturer,
No. 122 Terpsichore street, New Orleans, La.

N. B.—The attention of city and country trade as well as that of families is invited, to the above. For 25 cents a sample box with instructions sent by mail to any address on application.

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION
A WEEKLY PAPER FOR
YOUNG PEOPLE AND THE FAMILY

THE COMPANION aims to be a favorite in every family—looked for eagerly by the young folks, and read with interest by the older. Its purpose is to interest while it amuses; to be judicious, practical, sensible, and to have really permanent worth, while it attracts for the hour.

It is handsomely illustrated, and has for contributors some of the most attractive writers in the country. Among these are:

J. T. Trowbridge,	Louisa M. Alcott,
Edward Eggleston,	J. G. Whittier,
James T. Fields,	Louise C. Moulton,
Rebecca H. Davis,	C. A. Stephens,
Mrs. A. H. Lenowens,	Harriet P. Spofford,
Edward E. Hale,	Julia Ward Howe.

Its reading is adapted to the old and young; is very comprehensive in its character. It gives

Stories of Adventure,	Stories of Home and
Letters of Travel,	School Life,
Editorial upon Current	Tales, Poetry,
Topics,	Selections for Declama-
Historical Articles,	tion,
Biographical Sketches,	Anecdotes, Puzzles,
Religious Articles,	Facts and Incidents.

Subscription Price, $1.75. Specimen copies sent free. Please mention Howland paper you read this advertisement.

PERRY MASON & CO.,
41 Temple Place, Boston, Mass.
6ow

FAIRBANKS' SCALES.

GUARANTEED U. S. STANDARD.

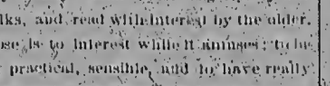
FAIRBANKS'

COTTON AND SUGAR BEAMS.

Branch House—53 Camp Street.

FAIRBANKS & CO

MAGIC NEEDLE Threader



A practical article for Threading the Sewing Machine Needle. To those using Machines they prove invaluable. Used by the Blind in all Asylums. Sewing Machine Agents and Dealers supplied at wholesale prices. Mailed for 25 cents. WRIGHT MFG. CO., 35 Sudbury st., Boston, Mass. 6ow

MISCELLANEOUS.

LORD & TAYLOR, NEW YORK.

OUR FALL IMPORTATIONS

Are now complete in all departments, and prices are very low. Our stock of

Black, Colored, and Fancy Silks

Is the largest and best assorted in the city, occupying one whole section in each store, and having been purchased and contracted for prior to the recent advance, we are prepared to sell at

LAST SEASON'S PRICES!!

OUR

DRESS GOODS DEPARTMENT

Embraces all the novelties in full and whole costume Cloths, black and colored Cashmeres and Merinos, all-wool and mixed Plaids, Stripes, and Damassee styles, as well as

POPULAR DRESS FABRICS

In all the newest colorings and materials, from ten cents a yard upward.

OUR IMPORTATION OF

INDIA SHAWLS,

From the London auction sales, is very large and attractive, and prices about half former years. Real India, dyed centers, at $65, $75, $85, and upward. Real Deccn Shawls, at $12 to $75. Striped India Shawls, new designs, only $15. Cheddu Shawls, choice new colors, $14, upward. Also, Paris and Vienna Brodie, Paisley filled, plain centers and stripes, and British and American Woolen Shawls, unrivaled for beauty and substantial value.

Our Ladies' and Children's Suit

—AND—

FURNISHING DEPARTMENT

Is now more thoroughly stocked and equipped than ever heretofore, and we are prepared to fill all orders at once, and to guarantee satisfaction.

Handsomely trimmed Suits in Cashmere, Basket Cloths, Camels' Hair, Alpaca, Combination Suits, etc., in the most beautiful new effects, at prices to tempt the most economical.

By following our directions for self-measurement, ladies out of town can be fitted perfectly, economically, and more satisfactorily than by any homemade work.

Mourning Costumes and Outfits a specialty, and orders filled on twelve hours notice.

Misses and Children's Costumes and Suits at very reasonable prices.

Ladies' and Children's Underwear.

An immense stock of beautiful and reliable goods, at very great reductions.

Ladies' complete outfits, at $5 and upward.

Infants' complete outfits, at $5 and upward.

☞ For embroideries of this department, with directions for self-measurement, sent free on application to all parts of the country.

OUR STOCK OF

RICH FURS,

On hand and being manufactured, will be the most beautiful in the city, and at most attractive prices.

We also call particular attention to our large stocks of Linens and White Goods, Laces and Embroideries, Upholstery Goods, Household Furniture, Hosiery and Gloves, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Boys' Clothing, and Ladies' Boots and Shoes.

The Domestic and Housekeeping DEPARTMENTS

Are stocked with goods from the large summer auction sales, at prices below cost of manufacture.

Carpets at Grand Street Only,

AND at GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.

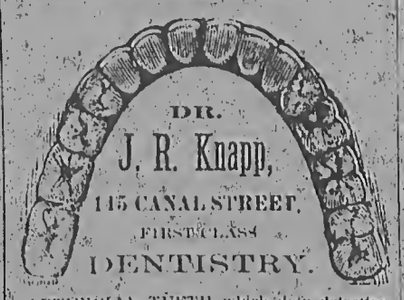
Velvet Carpets, from $2 up.
Body Brussels, from $1.50 up.
Tapestries, from $1 up.
Three-Plys, from $1.12½ up.
Ingrains, best $1; cheapest 35 cents.
Oil Cloths, from 30 cents up.

☞ Headquarters for Linoleum—Best Floor Covering in the World.

Samples of goods sent free on application to all parts of the country.

Orders for goods of every description carefully filled without charge, and goods packed and forwarded to any destination.

Broadway and Twentieth St.
Grand and Chrystie Sts., N. Y.



DR. J. R. Knapp,
115 CANAL STREET,
FIRST-CLASS DENTISTRY.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH which defy detection, and are comfortable and serviceable to wear, at GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.

Filling decayed Teeth so as to last for years, WITHOUT PAIN,

By means of a new invention.

All work guaranteed. Consultations free. Call and examine work and prices. 8p

THE TRUTH AT LAST

IN REGARD TO

Sewing Machine Awards by the Centennial Commission.

THE Commission grants awards of equal merit to all of the leading Sewing Machine Companies.

None receive Higher awards than the HOWE.

It was unanimously decided that the Centennial display of work by this Company has never been equaled.

The Howe was the first, and is consequently the oldest Machine in the market.

Today we can conscientiously claim the most durable Machine, doing the most perfect stitching and the greatest range of work, and further, can prove our claim by a practical demonstration.

Late improvements make it one of the lightest running first class Machines in the market.

For the sake of a high sounding advertisement we will stoop to no false representations.

With the conflicting and bewildering claims of the different Companies before the public we can only invite an examination at the sales-room of

THE HOWE MACHINE COMPANY,
183 CANAL ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Send for price list.

ATTENTION, LADIES!

MME. DEMOREST'S CUT PAPER PATTERNS, of the latest fashions, put up in illustrated envelopes, with full directions for use. Sent by mail to any address on receipt of price. Catalogue free. Address MME. P. DEMOREST, 183 Canal St., New Orleans.

FOR CHEAP

PRINTING

SEND TO THE

Pelican Book and Job Office,

113 & 115 POYDRAS ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Country orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

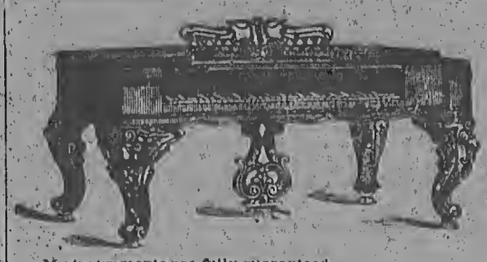
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, ETC.

JACKSON & GALLAGHER,

PIPE ORGAN BUILDERS,

915, 917, 919, Walnut St., St. Louis, Mo.

N. B. Church Organs Tuned and Repaired. Send for Illustrated Catalogue.



My instruments are fully guaranteed.

☞ I AM PREPARED ☜

To furnish all persons with Pianos, Organs, and Musical Merchandise.

You would be surprised to know how accommodating I am. I mean business. Wherever you live, I can save you 25 to 50 per cent.

Address me direct, or through your preacher.

PHILIP WERLEIN,
NOS. 78 TO 90 BARONNE ST.,
NEW ORLEANS.
6p

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.

CAREFUL OBSERVERS

IN THE MATTER OF

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS

Will find it to their interest to examine

THE EXTENSIVE AND COMPLETE STOCK

OF

HOUSEWARE,

Of every description, kept by

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,

NO. 29 CAMP AND 116 COMMON ST.,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

And they will establish these facts:

1. OUR STOCK IS THE BEST.
2. OUR PRICES ARE THE CHEAPEST.
3. OUR METHODS ARE THE FAIREST.

With more than thirty years' experience in the Crockery trade, we claim a knowledge of the wants of this community second to no one, and can fill them better than any house in the Southwest.

Please note what a little money will do toward adding to your

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS.

$4 00 will buy a White Granite TEA SET of 41 pieces.
6 50 will buy a French China TEA SET, same number of pieces.
10 00 will buy a French China Gold or Colored Band TEA SET, same number of pieces.
18 00 will buy a elegant Porcelain DeTerre (nearly equal to French China in appearance, and far more durable) DINNER SET, comprising 124 pieces, to wit:

12 Dinner Plates,	1 Soup Tureen,
12 Tea Plates,	1 Sauce Boat,
12 Soup Plates,	1 Salad Dish,
12 Preserve Plates	2 Covered Dishes,
12 Butter Plates,	2 Vegetable Dishes,
12 Tea Cups and Saucers,	2 Pickle Dishes,
12 Dinner Coffee Cups and Saucers,	4 Meat Dishes.

15 00 will buy the same assorted DINNER SET in the best White Granite Ware.
4 00 will buy the best White Granite CHAMBER SET, known as 11 pieces, comprising everything but Slop Jar and Foot Tub.
1 35 per dozen will buy the best White Granite DINNER PLATES.
1 25 per dozen will buy the best White Granite BREAKFAST PLATES.
1 10 per dozen will buy the best White Granite TEA PLATES.
1 00 per dozen will buy good Table GOBLETS.
1.75 per dozen will buy the best Pressed Table GOBLETS.
75 cents will buy a beautiful Glass BERRY SET, Sugar, Cream, Butter and Spoon Holder.
Plain French China DINNER SETS (first choice,) 160 pieces, $30.

Gold Band and Decorated DINNER SETS at extraordinarily low prices, and everything else required for housekeeping in any style at prices within the reach of every one.

The above list contemplates first class, regular goods, of good shapes and sizes, and will give entire satisfaction wherever they are placed.

Charges for packing and drayage: Dinner sets, $1; Tea sets, 50 cents.

We invite inquiries. Catalogues sent on application.

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,
No. 29 Camp street and 116 Common street,
New Orleans.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LEVY BROS.,

530 MAGAZINE ST., NEW ORLEANS

THE MOST POPULAR

DRY GOODS HOUSE

IN NEW ORLEANS.

Keep constantly on hand a select stock of STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS, consisting of Bleached and Unbleached Cotton, Calicoes, Flannel, Dress Goods, Hosiery, Corsets, Ribbons, Cassimere, Delaines, Merinoes, Blankets, etc.

A Specialty Made of Black Alpaca.

Our BELLA Kid Gloves are guaranteed, and money returned or another pair given in case they rip or tear while putting them on.

Orders from the country strictly attended to.

CROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE DEPOT

MOVED TO

NO. 5 CHARTRES STREET.

A NEW STOCK of the Elastic Stitch and Lock-Stitch Machines, with a complete assortment of Needles, Parts, Attachments, Silk Twist, Spool Cotton, Linen Thread, Oil, etc., just received and for sale at the lowest cash prices. The above goods are manufactured by and for the Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Company, and warranted the best in the market.

Caution to Our Patrons, Grangers and Their Agents.

There are parties here who are selling imitations of our goods, repainting and patching up old Machines to make them look like new, and selling them as such. No new goods of the above make can be purchased in New Orleans except from us, at No. 5 Chartres street.

Agents wanted.

H. H. TRUE,
General Southern Agent.

RICHARD RHODES.

LATE F. CHARLEVILLE,

SPORTSMEN'S DEPOT,

53 ST. CHARLES ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Articles of All Kinds for Fishermen.

Rods, Nets, Hooks, Lines, and every desirable article for the Angler, wholesale and retail.

GUNS RIFLES and PISTOLS of every variety and of direct importation. Also Sporting materials of all kinds, Game Bags, Shot Pouches, Flasks, and every article needed by Hunters, will be sold at the lowest prices for cash. Also the celebrated "Dead Shot" Gunpowder, Shot, Eley's Shells, Cartridges, etc., of the best quality, wholesale and retail.

R. RHODES.

H. OYLE & ENGELSHEIM,

SOLE AGENTS FOR

DUPONT'S GUNPOWDER,

And Wholesale Dealers in the celebrated ST. LOUIS SHOT, Percussion Caps, Bar Lead, Etc.,

NO. 33 CANAL STREET,

Corner of Tchoupitoulas, New Orleans.

1877. ——— Postpaid. ——— $1.60.

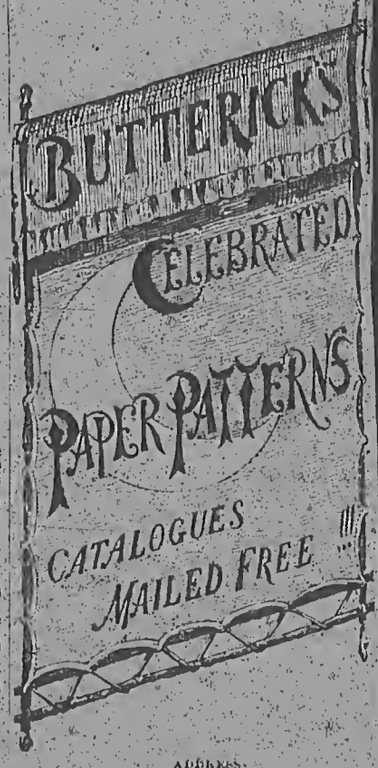
THE NURSERY.

A Monthly Magazine for Youngest Readers. BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED. ☞ Send ten cents for a Sample Number. Subscribe NOW, 1876, and get the last two numbers of this year FREE.

JOHN L. SHOREY,
36 Bromfield street, Boston.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LATEST STYLES.



ADDRESS

The Singer Manufacturing Co.,

91 ..... CANAL STREET 91

NEW ORLEANS, LA. 8p

What will the Weather BE TO-MORROW?

THE

Signal Service Barometer

WILL TELL YOU.

It will detect and indicate correctly any change in the weather 12 to 24 hours in advance. It will tell you what kind of a storm is approaching and from what quarter it comes—invaluable to navigators.

FARMERS

can plan their work according to its predictions. It will save 5 times its cost in a single season. There is an accurate thermometer attached, which alone is worth the price of the combination. Will send it, express paid, to any address on receipt of $2. Send Money Order or Registered Letter.

AGENTS WANTED. Send 10cts. for circular.

H. W. POOLE & CO.,
835 Broadway, New York.

The Boston Traveler says: "We carefully inspected the above described Signal Service Barometer, and found it to be as stated by Messrs. Poul & Co., who are honorable and reliable."

8p

PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRY.

A. H. NEILSON,

COMMERCIAL STATIONER,

PRINTER, BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURER AND LITHOGRAPHER.

The best assortment of Blank Books in the city. The finest specimens of Lithographic work to be seen in New Orleans.

NO. 57 CAMP STREET,

Sign of the Mammoth LETTER PRESS.

Call and prove my statements.

CHAS. D. LALLANDE,

IMPORTER AND DEALER IN

HARDWARE AND CUTLERY,

38 TCHOUPITOULAS STREET

AND

No. 36 Peters Street,

NEW ORLEANS.

CRESCENT CITY OIL CO.,

23 UNION ST., NEW ORLEANS,

MANUFACTURERS OF

Cotton Seed Oil, Oil Cake

SOAP STOCK, and COTTON SEED MEAL for Cattle Feed and Fertilizing.

DIRECTORS.

Thos. H. Miller,	Duncan F. Kenner,
John W. Touhy,	J. L. Harris,
Edward Ivy,	Thos. P. Leather,
John Janney,	David Mc Cap,
	John A. Morris.

DUNCAN F. KENNER, President.
JOS. H. DUGGAN, Secretary.
FRED. STRENBY, Chief Engineer.

J. C. MILLER,

(Formerly of Cassidy & Miller.)

SAIL-MAKER,

107 ..... POYDRAS STREET 107

Agent for COTTON DUC

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1876.

Wanted—A Squeezer.

The London Athenæum, alluding to a "felt want" in England, humorously illustrates the subject in the allegory and moral below. We think if England needs a "Squeezer," the demand is much more imperative in this country, where almost every other man and woman has become a "voluminous" writer for the papers and magazines, and a large portion of them have an "itching palm" to print a book. The "Squeezer" can't come too soon.

The library of the Indian kings was composed of so many volumes that a thousand camels were necessary to remove it. But once on a time a certain prince, who loved reading much and other pleasures more, called a Brahmin to him, and said: "Books are good, O Brahmin, even as women are good, yet surely, of both these goods a prince may have too many; and then, O Brahmin, which of these two vexations is sorest to princely flesh it were hard to say; but as to the books, O Brahmin, squeeze 'em!" The Brahmin, understanding well what the order to "squeeze 'em" meant for he was a book man himself, as there goes much water and little flavor to the making of a very big pumpkin, so there goes much words and few thoughts to the making of a very big book, set to work, aided by many scribes—striking out all the idle words from every book in the library; and when the essence of them had been extracted, it was found that ten camels could carry that library without ruffling a hair. And therefore the Brahmin was appointed "Grand Squeezer" of the realm. Ages after this, another prince, who loved reading much and other pleasures a good deal more, called the Grand Squeezer of his time and said: "Thy duties are neglected, O Grand Squeezer! Thy life depends upon the measure of thy squeezing." Thereupon the Grand Squeezer in fear and trembling set to work, and squeezed and squeezed, till the whole library became at last a load that a foal would have laughed at, for it consisted of but one book, a tiny volume containing four maxims. Yet the wisdom in the last library was the wisdom in the first.

The moral is obvious.

The literature of our country is already in a fair way of dying for the want of a Grand Squeezer, and unless such a functionary is appointed within the next ten years, it will be smothered by itself. Yet our government will keep granting pension after pension to those whom the Duke of Wellington used to call "the writing fellows" for adding to the camels' burden, instead of distributing the same amount among an army of diligent and well-selected squeezers. We say an army of squeezers, for it is not merely that almost every man, woman and child among us who can write, prints, while nobody reads, and to judge from the "spelling bees" nobody even spells, but that the fecundity of man as a "writing animal" is on the increase, and each one requires a squeezer to himself. This is the alarming thing. Where are we to find so many squeezers? Nay, in many cases, there needs a separate sub-squeezer for the writer's every book. Take, for instance, the case of the Carlyle squeezer—what more could he expected from him in a lifetime than that he should squeeze "Frederick the Great"—that enormous rank and pungent "haggis"—from which, properly squeezed, such an ocean would flow of "oniony liquid" that compared with it the famous "haggis deluge" of the "Noctes," which nearly drowned in gravy "Christopher," "the Shepherd" and "Tickler" in Ambrose's parlor, would be, both for quantity and flavor, but a "beaker full of the sweet south?" Yet what would be the squeezing of Mr. Carlyle; what would be the squeezing of De Quincey, or of Landor, or of Southey, to the squeezing of the tremendous Prof. Wilson—the mighty Christopher, who for about thirty years literally talked in type upon every matter of which he had any knowledge, and upon every matter of which he had none; whose "words, words, words" are indeed, as Hallam with unconscious irony says, "as the rush of mighty waters." What would be left after the squeezing of him it would be hard to guess; for, says the Chinese proverb, "If what is said be not to the purpose, a single word is already too much."

The Green Fields of the Moon.

When the moon is at the full, the unassisted eye readily distinguishes on her face certain gray spots more or less sharply separated from the brighter portions. Through the telescope these spots appear as broad level spaces, resembling terrestrial seas. Indeed, the earlier observers mistook them for seas, and by that name (Latin, mare) they are known to this day. They are not seas, however, but ancient sea-beds, now probably nearly, if not quite, destitute of water; vast arid basins like the Sahara, or the great interior Utah basin of our own continent.

Examined more closely, these dried up sea beds—to which Nelson applies the irregular but convenient plural mares—are seen to have a rolling surface like some of our Western prairies, or to be traversed by numerous long ridges, resembling the wave-like sand hills which give so marked and peculiar an appearance to the deserts of western Australia, the levelor portion being dotted with low mounds interspersed with small crater pits. In many places formations of an apparently alluvial character abound, while the ancient coast lines show distinct traces of water action. Two of these lunar plains—Mare Humorum and Mare Chrisium—are walled in completely by lofty mountains, presenting stupendous precipices to the vanished sea. The larger mares are more like ocean beds. They run together as terrestrial oceans do, and sometimes merge into the brighter continental regions, without a distinct line of demarkation. In other places they show a rugged coast line, rising into cliffs and peaks, and pierced at times by valleys and ravines.

One of the most conspicuous of these lunar ocean beds, also one of the deepest, is known as the Mare Serenitatis. Its area is nearly one hundred and twenty-five thousand square miles. Within its dark gray border, from thirty to eighty miles wide, is an extensive inner plain, which at times represents a fine, clear light green tint, with a central streak of pure white; the green area lying lower apparently than the gray exterior. The green tint is difficult to catch, except under favorable conditions, and is much weakened by the effect of numerous small, white, round spots and gray ridges.

Another of the moon's green plains was discovered by Madler in the Mare Humorum, already mentioned. This is one of the smallest as well as most distinctly bordered of the gray plains. Its area is fifty thousand square miles. The greater portion of its interior is distinctly tinged a dusky green, sometimes very marked, affording a strong contrast with the pure gray of the borders and high inclosing ridges. On the west the green area extends nearly to the edge of the mare, but elsewhere, as in the Mare Serenitatis, it is separated from the border by a narrower, darker gray fringe, except on the northwest, where the gray and green areas merge insensibly into each other.

Still another area of green is observed in the Mare Chrisium, one of the most conspicuous of the moon's dark plains. It is completely inclosed, and is, perhaps, the deepest of the lunar mare. Its area is seventy-eight thousand square miles. Its general tint is gray mixed with an unmistakable tinge of green, especially under high examination. This portion of the moon is seen to the best advantage for several days before and after the moon is full. The evidence is not of a character to justify a positive assertion that the mythical man in the moon may have abundant pasturage for his cattle; but his case ceases to be absolutely hopeless when a thoroughgoing selenographer can say, as Nelson does, that the moon may possess an atmosphere that must be regarded as fully capable of sustaining various forms of vegetation of even an advanced type, that it does not appear how it can justly be questioned that the lunar surface in favorable positions may yet retain sufficiency of moisture to support vegetation of many kinds, and that in a very considerable portion of the entire surface of the moon the temperature would not vary sufficiently to materially affect the existence of vegetable life.

Who can tell but that the aforementioned man in the moon may not follow the plan of the African tribe which Livingstone tells of, and keep himself and his cattle in extensive lunar caverns, where the temperature is uniform and water abundant; driving them forth upon these green fields for a fortnightly feed when the sun is up for its long days and the grass in good condition? Jules Verne ought not to neglect so inviting a field of exploration.—Scientific American.

Funeral Farces.

An old proverb says there can be no play without a fool in it. A corpse should be more indispensable to a funeral than a fool to a play; nevertheless, there have been funerals without one. Weary of making watches that would not go, Charles the Fifth took to mortifying his flesh and making himself miserable generally, until he brought himself to such a melancholy pass that nothing would do but he must celebrate his own obsequies before he was ready to take his proper part in them. No opposition was offered to the indulging of his whim; although Charles was only an ex-emperor, his will was law in the little domain he ruled in his retirement. Accordingly a tomb was erected in the monastery chapel, a coffin made, and all the necessary "properties" for the performance provided. At the time appointed, the monks and the imperial domestics, carrying black tapers, fell in behind the coffin and the shroud-enwrapped hero of the strange comedy; and all, making believe to the best of their ability, marched with solemn faces and slow steps to the chapel, where Charles, resigning his part of chief mourner, was laid in the coffin to listen to the chanting of his own requiem, and join audibly in prayer for the repose of his yet unparted soul. Then the coffin and its tenant were deposited in the tomb, and the assistants at this odd ceremony retired, carefully closing the chapel doors as they departed. When he was tired of his solitary confinement, Charles arose and returned to his apartments, to be seized the next day with a fever which quickly rendered a real funeral necessary, an funeral celebrated in much more regal fashion than the mock one that preceded it. Charles the Fifth's ill-ending farce was imitated by a burgher of Ghent. For his story we are indebted to a correspondent of Notes and Queries, who disinterred it from a journal kept by an officer in Marlborough's army, who made one of the garrison of the castle of Ghent after the peace of Utrecht. When the authorities of Ghent were made aware that they would have to find accommodation for the allied army, they were puzzled to know how it was to be done, until a poor button-maker named Farrazine offered to find quarters for any number of men at a cost of a penny a man. His offer was accepted, and he contrived to execute his part of the bargain to everybody's satisfaction, and made a fortune out of it, too. With wealth came ambition, and he did not rest till the rank of gentleman was accorded to him, when he set up his coach, put his servants into livery, and held his own with the best citizens of Ghent. Even then he was not happy. He took it into his head to build himself a tomb in the church of the Capuchin friars, a privilege for which the fraternity made him pay handsomely. When the monument was finished it far excelled anything in Ghent. He then gave the friars another handsome present to go into procession from his house before his coffin, which was sumptuously adorned with escutcheons, carried by four of the novices, himself following as chief mourner, and a crowd of people following him; and, indeed, it was a most ridiculous sight to see the sycophants singing their anthems before that foolish man's coffin; and when they had deposited the coffin in the monument, where it was to remain till his death, at which time they were to take it out of the monument and return with it to his house in the same manner they carried it thither, and then return back with the corpse to the monument. But, behold, Farrazine died soon after, who, having not left so large a legacy for praying his soul out of purgatory as the friars expected, though he had paid them well for everything, yet, thinking it not sufficient, these ungrateful wretches pulled down his monument, threw it and his coffin out of the church, nor would they say one mass for his soul. So after all the money he had laid out for a pompous funeral, poor Farrazine was privately buried in the church-yard of a remote chapel. He left one prodigal son, who lived to spend all, and at last died in gaol."—All the Year Round.

WEBSTER'S POWER.—It was my good fortune often to hear Webster at Faneuil Hall in his palmiest days. I have seen him when every nerve was quivering with excitement, when his gestures were most violent, when, he was shouting at the top of his clarion voice, when the lightnings of passion were playing across his dark face as upon a thunder cloud. I marked the terrible effect, when, after repeated assaults—each more damaging than the preceding—upon the position of an opponent, he launched with superhuman strength the thunderbolt that sped straight to its mark, and demolished all before it. The air seemed filled with reverberations of the deep-mouthed thunder. In a speech which he delivered in Boston, shortly after "nullification" times, I remember his referring to Hoyle's speaking of "one Nathan Dane." Mr. Webster always considered Dane as the author of the celebrated Northwestern Ordinance, by which that large territory was consecrated forever to freedom. He exclaimed very scornfully: "Mr. Hayne calls him one Nathan Dane. I tell you, fellow-citizens, that, as the author of the Northwestern Ordinance, Nathan Dane's name is as immortal as if it were written on yonder firmament, blazing forever between Orion and Pleiades." It is impossible to give an idea of the effect which Webster's delivery of those words produced. Throwing back his head, raising his face toward the heavens, lifting both arms in front of him, and pointing upward to the overarching sky so magnificent was his attitude, and so thrilling the tones of his voice, that we almost seemed to see the starry characters shining in eternal lustre upon the firmament. The effect was sublime. I have never seen it equaled upon the stage, not even by the greatest actor.—American Exchange.

THE POWER OF PRAYER.—A most interesting circumstance took place at the Primitive Methodist chapel, South street, Islington, London, on Sunday morning, June 11. The Rev. C. Jupp preached, after which he called upon a gentleman a stranger to pray. He respectfully declined to engage in prayer, stating that he was a Roman Catholic. An open-air service was announced to take place at three o'clock, when our friend joined the company, and paid the most devout attention. The people were invited to attend our little chapel in the evening, to hear the gospel preached by the Rev. E. Middleton, from Canada. In the evening we had a large attendance, and also the stranger above referred to, who sat with downcast look, but evidently hungering and thirsting after righteousness. The Rev. E. Middleton gave us a very able sermon from Ephesians iii. 15, after which a prayer meeting was held. Just as we were about to close the prayer meeting the stranger stood up, and, with tears rolling down his cheeks, desired us to pray for him. He said he was a Roman Catholic priest, was ignorant of the plan of salvation, but had resolved to give himself to God, and abandon his profession. We offered prayer on his behalf, and pointed him to Christ. He wept his way to the cross, ventured his all upon the Savior, and believed to the saving of his soul. The stranger informed me afterward that his father and mother were Roman Catholics, and had brought him up in the same faith; but they had become Protestants of late, and a brother of his, a Primitive preacher, had made him promise that when he arrived in London on his way to Rome he would attend a Primitive Methodist chapel.—Correspondent of London Primitive Methodist.

People who are troubled about dying are seldom troubled as they should be about living. "Be ye ready," said Christ. Ready for what? Life and death. He who is "ready" for every day that comes to bless him is ready for both of these.

A clergyman walking through a church-yard, and observing that the dead were indiscriminately praised, wrote on the gate post the following: "Here lie the dead, and here the living lie."

Miss Emily Faithful says the superficial education of girls, "like dipping them into a weak solution of accomplishments, forms a coating that will not stand time or wear."

Which is the most obedient church instrument, the bell or the organ? The bell, because it will speak when tolled; but the organ will be blowed first.

Scientific.

—It is stated that a Russian scientific congress is to meet at Warsaw next September, at which the question of adopting the Gregorian calendar in Russia will be discussed.

—Dr. Rees, of Gray's Hospital, London, having analyzed the dust collected upon the green cotton lining of bed-canopies, now becoming fashionable, has found them to contain a large and really dangerous quantity of arsenic. This dust is easily inhaled by the sleeper.

HOW ARTIFICIAL BUTTER IS MADE.—Agents are employed to visit slaughter-houses and buy up all the beef suet. This is carted to the factory and cleaned: Then it is put into meat choppers and minced fine. It is afterward placed in a boiler with as much water in bulk as itself. A steam pipe is introduced among the particles of suet, and they are melted. The refuse of the membrane goes to the bottom of the water, the oily substance floats and is removed. This consists of butter matter and stearine. A temperature of eighty degrees melts the former, and leaves the stearine at the bottom. The butter matter, or cream, is drawn off, about thirteen per cent. of fresh milk is added, and the necessary salt, and the whole is churned for ten or fifteen minutes. The result is Orange county at half the usual cost. The stearine is sold at twelve cents a pound to the candle-maker, and the refuse at one cent a pound to the manufacturer of food for cattle.

In the Repertorium fur Meteorologie, volume 5, No. 4, St. Petersburg, Baron F. Wrangell has written a very suggestive paper on the causes of the bora at Noworossisk, a local wind characterized by peculiar violence and destructiveness to shipping in that part of the north Caucasian coast. The author rests his explanation exclusively on the physical peculiarities of the district, and recognized physical laws. To the northeast of the bay, where the bora is most severely felt, and at a distance of about two miles, lies the mountain range of the Waradah, about eleven miles in length, which, as regards winds, cuts off all communication between the coast and the interior, except over the ridge of the chain; and, further, has several valleys on the landward side of the range looking to northeast. It follows that on particular occasions, notably when the wind is in the northeast and light, the air resting on the bay and shore adjoining will be widely different in temperature, humidity, and consequently density, from the air on the other side of the range. Observations render it highly probable that it is just on such occasions that the bora occurs.

—The occurrence of crocodiles in the United States has recently been placed beyond question. For a long time the two accredited American species of crocodiles were supposed to be confined to the West Indies and South America; and when, in 1870, Prof. Jeffries Wyman described a skull from Florida the question was hardly considered settled—not that the ascribed occurrence had not the most trustworthy authority, but because it was supposed that even this eminent naturalist might have been imposed upon, seeing how frequently specimens of natural history from various extra-limital localities are brought to Florida and passed upon the curiosity hunters, who annually throng that State. In the last number of the American Naturalist Mr. W. T. Hornaday describes at length and with particularity several specimens he himself procured. The locality of these captures was a narrow, deep and tortuous stream, known as Arch creek, which flows from the Everglades into the head of Biscayne Bay. The species is considered to be the Crocodilus acutus, called by Gray Molinia Americana. The writer elaborately describes a series of six specimens, with pictorial illustrations of the skulls, showing the wide difference between these reptiles and the ordinary alligator (A. Mississippiensis) of the same region. His largest male specimen was fourteen feet in length; another, a female, mensured ten feet eight inches. He states that Prof. Ward, of Rochester, has also lately received a specimen from Lake Worth, ninety miles north of Biscayne Bay.

—A St. John's, N. H., local journal gives the account of a new fire-proof window shutter for large warehouses, which a manufacturer in that city has invented. It is thus described: The invention has for its object the connection of all the window shutters upon each row, or upon each side of a store-house or other building, so that they may be closed or opened at the same time, and from any floor of the building upon which the operator may happen to be. The shutters are of iron and are hollow, running on wheels on a rail above them. They are connected together by hollow rods, so that they may be kept parallel and all move together. The wheels are attached to each shutter, and the rail on which they travel is protected by a hood or cornice, from the ice or snow. The hollow pipes are at the bottom. In the walls of the building are rods working up and down, and to them are attached balance weights which keep taut the chain by which the shutters are moved. On the inside of one of the shutters, on each story, is a tap to which a hose may be attached. In case of fire a person in the inside of the building can turn a crank, or pull down one of the perpendicular rods in the wall, and the shutters of all the front, or of any one story, will be instantly closed. The balance weights cause the arrangement to work so easily that a boy can operate all the shutters of any building with great ease. So soon as they are closed a hose is applied to the tap on the inside, and the water fills the hollow shutters, passing from one to another by the pipes at the bottom. In this way the shutters are kept cool in the midst of a fire, no matter how near it may be. The water is liberated little by little by small holes in the pipes. A model of this apparatus was exhibited at the Centennial.

DOWN WITH THE PRICES!

IMPORTANT NEWS FOR THE LADIES!

LATEST STYLES!

LIST OF A FEW OF THE LAST

NEW STYLES OF PAPETERIES

RECEIVED DURING THE MONTH.

Each Box contains One Quire of Paper, with Envelopes to match. Sent by mail on receipt of price.

METROPOLITAN ..... Price, 25 cents.
Assorted colors, and handsomely put up.

MOGUL ..... 25 cents
Assorted colors and sizes—very popular.

OUR BOYS ..... 25 cents
Assorted colors, red and blue edges embossed.

DAISY ..... 25 cents
Assorted colors, embossed flower emblem—choice.

LITTLE CORPORAL ..... 25 cents
Damask paper, colored edges, children's size.

EUGENIE ..... 25 cents
Assorted styles, with six steel pens.

MAGNET ..... 30 cents
Assorted tints, with paper assorted inside.

FLORA ..... 30 cents
White, ruled, with embossed flower emblem.

TOILET ..... 30 cents
Assorted colors, with cake of perfumed soap.

COMPANION ..... 30 cents
Assorted colors, with bottle of violet ink.

BANNER ..... 35 cents
White, assorted sizes, with red and blue border.

EXSIGN ..... 35 cents
White, regular size, with colored edges.

JOSEPHINE ..... 40 cents
Assorted damask paper, embossed with flowers.

MONUMENTAL ..... Price, 40 cents
White and cream, embossed memorial hall, etc.

TOURISTS ..... 40 cents
Assorted tints, with bottle of ink, pen and pencil.

CREST ..... 40 cents
Assorted tints, with wax and taper for sealing, etc.

LAUREL ..... 40 cents
White, with handsomely embossed envelopes.

MEMORIAL ..... 50 cents
White, ruled, large size, embossed picture.

LEXINGTON ..... 50 cents
Damask, assorted colors, embossed, new style.

ELDORADO ..... 60 cents
Cream, extra paper, gilt edges, handsome box.

LANCERS ..... 60 cents
White, cross-ruled, bordered edges—fine as silk.

SALMAGUNDI ..... 60 cents
White, ruled, gilt edges, embossed—perfection.

SILVER THREADS ..... 65 cents
Assorted colors, gilt and silver edges—nobby.

DELAWAVIA ..... 75 cents
Perfection wove, ruled, Court Bath.

HAMILTON $1
Contains two quires of paper and envelopes, assorted styles and tints, extra handsome box.

Other New Goods on hand and received every week. 1000 other kinds of Papeteries, plain and fancy, on hand to select from, and cheaper than ever. At the

BOOK DEPOT,

Nos. 110 and 112 Camp Street, New Orleans.

ROBERT J. HARP, AGENT.

PRACTICAL REFORM and STRICT ECONOMY

Are the two things to be practised in purchasing supplies where they can be bought cheapest.

Merchants, Lawyers and Dealers in Stationery,

Desiring to economize in their office expenses at the same time buying FIRST CLASS ARTICLES in this branch of business; including all articles of Blank Books, Pens, Pencils, Envelopes, Paper, Ink, etc., will consult their interests by calling at HEADQUARTERS,

Nos. 110 and 112 Camp Street, New Orleans.

ROBERT J. HARP, AGENT.

THE LATEST!

THE CHEAPEST! THE BEST!

OF NEW STYLES OF PAPETERIES.

Each box containing one quire of Paper, and Envelope to match. Mailed, post paid, on receipt of price.

STANWIX ..... Price, 20 cents.
Contains embossed pen, violet ink and blotter.

CALEDONIAN ..... 30 cents.
Fine white ruled tinted paper.

OTTAWA ..... 30 cents.
Damask assorted colors, new style box.

PERUVIAN ..... 35 cents.
Assorted colors, gilt edges, extra.

ENGLISH ..... 35 cents.
White, flower stamped, ruled.

HANOVER ..... 35 cents.
White, ruled, plain and good.

CYPRESS ..... 40 cents.
White and cream, stamped flower emblem.

CROWN ..... Price, 50 cents
Assorted colors, gilt edges, large size.

CANTERBURY ..... 60 cents
Assorted colors, mansard box, very heavy.

CENTRAL ..... 75 cents
White, bordered edges, cross ruled, etc.

BRUNSWICK ..... 75 cents.
Cream, extra fine, new patent box.

MANSARD ..... 75 cents.
White, flower stamped, very handsome.

WINSBOROUGH $1
Silver edges, fine paper, nobbiest thing out.

Also sixty other styles, at prices from 50 cents to $2 a box, and new goods constantly arriving at

NOS. 110 AND 112 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS.

ROBERT J. HARP, AGENT.

SCHOOL BOOKS!

The Largest Stock in the City.

THE MOST COMPLETE LINE IN THE SOUTH.

SPECIAL ATTENTION of dealers and teachers is invited to my immense stock of these staple goods, and catalogues mailed free to any address.

This being the GENERAL SUPPLY DEPOT for the TRADE of the SOUTHWEST, as well as the PUBLIC and PRIVATE SCHOOLS of New Orleans and the principal COLLEGES and ACADEMIES of Ole and adjoining States, enables us to offer the best possible discount to large buyers.

The immense quantity of SCHOOL BOOKS handled during the season, and our unsurpassed facilities for procuring Stock, insures us against competition in all this branch of business.

Also Slates, Blackboards, Globes, Maps and other material constantly on hand.

Write for prices and discounts to

ROBERT J. HARP, AGENT,

Book Depot, Nos. 110 and 112 Camp St.

Protection of Buildings from Lightning

Prof. Clerk Maxwell read an abstract of a paper before the Mathematical and Physical Science Section of the British Association at the recent meeting at Glasgow, in which he stated that those who erected lightning conductors had paid great attention to the upper and lower extremities of the conductor—having a sharp point above the building and the lower extremity carried into the earth as far as possible. The effect was to tap, or, as it were, to gather the charge by facilitating the discharge between the atmospheric fermentation and the earth. That would cause a greater number of discharges than would have otherwise occurred; but each of them would be smaller than those which would have occurred without a conductor. That arrangement was therefore more for the benefit of the surrounding country, and for the relief of the clouds laboring under an accumulation of electricity, than for the protection of the building on which the conductor was erected. What was really wanted was to prevent the possibility of an electric discharge taking place within a certain region. An electrical discharge could not occur between two bodies unless the difference of their potentials was sufficiently great compared with the distance between them. If, therefore, they could keep the potentials of all bodies within a certain region equal or nearly equal, no discharge could take place between them. That might be secured by connecting all these bodies by means of good conductors, such as copper wire ropes. It would, therefore, be sufficient to surround a powder mill with a conducting material, to sheath its roof, walls and ground floor with a thick sheet of copper, and then no electrical effect could occur within it on account of any thunder storm outside. There would be no need of any earth connection. They might even place a layer of asphalt between the copper floor and the ground so as to insulate the building. If the mill were struck, it would remain charged for some time, and a person standing on the ground outside or touching the wall might receive a shock, but no electrical effect would be perceived inside even by the most delicate electrometer. A sheathing of copper was by no means necessary in order to prevent any electrical effect taking place. Suppose a building was struck by lightning, it was quite sufficient to inclose it with a network of a good conducting substance. For instance, if a copper wire were carried around the foundation of a house, up each of the corners and gables, and along the ridges, that would be a sufficient protection for an ordinary building against any thunder storm in England; but it might be well, to prevent theft, to have it built in the wall, and then it would be necessary to have it connected with some metal, such as lead or zinc, on the roof. It need scarcely be added, said the professor, that it is not advisable during a thunder storm to stand on the roof of a house so protected, or to stand on the ground outside, or to lean against the walls.

The superiority of some men is merely local. They are great because their associates are little.

In this simple fact, that we cannot accurately foresee the future, lies a refuge from despair.—Leaves.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1876.

WEDDING BELLS.

Far off in other years,
One flowery summer time,
There floated to my ears
A joyous wedding chime.

I listened to its sound,
And to't seemed to say
Fond hearts and true are bound
In love this blessed day.

Love that shall grow through life
Brighter than burnished gold,
Unouched by worldly strife
Till heart and lips are cold.

"Has earth such joy?" I cried;
"'Tis but a poet's rhyme.
The love that shields the bride
Grows cold and faint with time.

Fond faith is turned to doubt;
It lives with but our youth;
When years have found us out,
Farewell to trust and truth."

But still the wedd log-bells
Hang their triumphant strains:
O, doubting heart! when fifty years
Have passed, see what remains.

* * * * *

The years have rolled away,
Slow, swift and bright and sad,
And now the golden wedding day
Makes loving hearts more glad.

For here, grown bright with time,
Is youth's first faith and joy,
And love is proved, once more,
Pure gold without alloy.

So trembling bride, I ween,
Such rapture ever knew
As now is hers, who looks beyond,
With the past in view.

O, perfect trust! O, faith so sure!
There is no room for fears,
Unite with heavenly love to bless
The bride of fifty years.

New York Post.

Quiet Girls.

It would be affectation to pretend that admiration, when it is openly expressed, is not very sweet to girls. Extremely few people are above the influence of vanity, and maidens, as a class, are certainly not among those who are. There is no valid reason why they should be condemned upon this account. To wish to be thought well of is a perfectly laudable ambition; indeed, it is to be feared that if most persons did not desire to be held in favorable estimation, the world would be a very much worse place than it is. The misfortune is that many well-meaning individuals mistake notoriety for admiration, and in so doing are naturally led to indulge in excesses and follies of various kinds. It is to be regretted that this is particularly true so far as regards a number of girls, who, lacking knowledge of the world and an insight into human nature, are contaminated when they are thrown into association with young men and women of a certain order. You will see them, in their desire to attract notice, unsteadily balancing themselves upon the line which separates the polite from the unpolite, and coquetting with what public opinion has decided to be naughty. No doubt their intentions are in most cases perfectly innocent, and if they were not applauded by unprincipled flatterers, who, being tinged with badness themselves, like to make others the same, they would not continue to indulge in their little indiscretions. Unhappily, they are encouraged to believe that they are favorably distinguishing themselves when they are outraging good taste. There are men who like a girl who talks at a great rate, and indulges in those descriptions of sneering and backbiting which are often mistaken for wit. There are conceited snobs who love a young woman ten times as much as they would otherwise do if they see that she treats those whom she does not deem it politic to conciliate with something very much resembling insolence. There are beaux who appreciate the creature who is everlastingly giggling, smirking, posing herself in what she deems picturesque attitudes, and shouting utter nonsense at the top of her voice. Quiet girls see this. They perceive, farther, that because they lack what seem to be supposed to be accomplishments, but which are really social vices, they are ignored. Over and over again are the sweetest-natured, as well as the cleverest, women stigmatized as dull, stupid and prim, because they are disinclined to shriek and to show all the teeth in their head to the first male who philanthropically condescends to indicate that he is disposed to look with favor upon them.

Quiet girls may feel the manner in which they are often treated, or they may not. It is to be hoped, however, that they have the good sense to perceive that they will gain nothing by attempting to imitate their faster and more gushing sisters. The chances are that if they have the inclination they lack the peculiar talent which will enable them to do so successfully. Thus if they do attempt to be noisy, flippant, and publicly spiteful at the expense of their neighbors, the probability is that they will make a bungle of the whole business, and end by feeling thoroughly ashamed of themselves. To try to do a discreditable thing and fail is, perhaps, the most bitter of all failures, and this is a fact which should speak emphatically to those girls who are contemplating some audacious step in order to escape from the obscurity in which they hopelessly languish. It may as well be stated that to be a noisy, forward, self-assured member of society it is necessary that a girl shall have no deep feelings upon any subject, that she shall not think upon matters outside the special sphere of her operations, and that she shall have no person's welfare so much at heart as her own. In a word, she must neither possess a squeamish taste nor a tender conscience. Now, hosts of quiet girls are burdened with those incumbrances; hence, perhaps, their constant humiliation. If you want to find a girl who is a treasure in the home in which she lives; who does real, honest, substantial work; who possesses the strongest affection of those who thoroughly know and understand her; and who is endowed with as noble a soul as she has a pure mind, look for a quiet girl. It is from the ranks of the quiet girls that the best wives, and the truest friends, and the hardest workers come. Of the women who really distinguish themselves by their intellectual achievements the majority are subdued and modest—yet lively and pleasant enough if properly approached—in company. Often treasures, the existence of which has been unsuspected, have been revealed in quiet girls. It always will be so; for a genuine woman will never show the sterling stuff of which she is made to the first impertinent inquisitor, who may be unworthy alike of her confidence and her regard. She will continue to astonish those who pretend to understand her by rising to heights, when she is summoned thither, which are unapproachable to her complacent and courted critics. Yet, in spite of all this, it may happen that quiet girls of the best type may lack the wit, the adaptability to that with which they have no sympathy, the gilbness, and that unlimited faith in themselves, which must be possessed by those who desire to attract the notice of the more shallow portion of society. The truth is that the noisy girl is as much the product of education and training as anything else, and it may as well be frankly admitted that in her own horrible way she is unapproachable.

We do not wish to be misunderstood. We have no desire to imply that all quiet girls are endowed with genius and the virtues, for some are simply fools who would be noisy enough if they could find anything to say. What we do protest against is the habit which prevails of slighting quiet girls, and speaking ill of them before they have been fairly tried; and of paying sickening homage to the conceited chatterboxes of little moral sense or principle. What we would indicate is that while noisy damsels will often turn out to be gaudy impostors, many quiet ones will amply repay the time, trouble and love which any one may bestow upon them.—The Liberal Review.

Origin of Life and Mind.

Life began ten thousand ages or more after the earth began to form. Whence is this life? Prof. Huxley seems to find it in some protoplasm or gelatinous substance. Was this one of the original elements of the nebulous matter? If so, how did it come through that terribly heated temperature? If it did not exist till after the temperature had cooled, how did it come in? Prof. Huxley has been the most determined opponent in our day of the spontaneous generation of life, and is thereby left without a means of generating the life of plants and animals. Darwin himself feels obliged, in order to account for the phenomenon, to suppose that there were four or five germs created by God. Tyndall thinks that Darwin has at this point fallen into a weakness; but, meanwhile, has no means whatever of accounting for the appearance of life. Mr. Darwin further calls in a pangenesis—which is just another name for the vital force of the old naturalists—in order to account for the generation of new animals. But he does not tell us, and evidently cannot tell us, whence this pangenesis, which cannot come from development, of which it is the source, and not the product. Herbert Spencer prefers to bring in physiological units.

Whence comes sensation? There was a moment when sensation, pleasurable or painful, was felt for the first time in the universe. Was this at the beginning? If so, one wonders how the sentient substance came through the heat, where, so far as we can judge, it must have been suffering intolerable anguish, without the power of relieving itself by self-destruction.

Had the protoplasm self-consciousness? I rather think that neither Prof. Huxley nor Prof. Tyndall would say that it had. Animals from the very first have sensations, and also, at least the higher ones, ideas and very curious instincts, by which they make provision for coming evils of which they can have no conception. Finally, in the last of the innumbered ages we have man with his intelligence, his conscience and free will, all attested by consciousness. Will evolutionists pretend that on any rational or inductive principle they can tell how these new powers came into being and into action? When the book of Genesis tells us how these agencies did come in, and in particular how man appeared, science has and can have no facts to lead us to discredit it.—Dr. McCosh, in Popular Science Monthly.

The late Prince Consort was not jocose, but he was genial and desirous to please. He told an anecdote of himself at one of the meetings of the Trinity Board, which will bear repetition. When Balmoral was being built for himself and the Queen, he, knowing the pride of the Highland chieftains, made it a point to call upon them and pay his respects. Early one morning he went to the castle of The MacFarquharson and knocked several times without eliciting any reply beyond the deep baying of some mastiffs and staghounds. Persevering, he saw the massive door cautiously opened just ajar, and a bronzed face, surmounted with a shaggy mass of red hair, thrust itself forth between the door and the jamb, "What for," asked the owner of the shock of red hair, "ye mak' sic a awfu' din this unearthly hour o' the mora?" "I desire to see the MacFarquharson," answered the Prince. "Are ye daft, mon? What for should the MacFarquharson rise the see sicean a loon as ye?" Wha be ye?" And here the gillie opened the door to its fullest extent, letting the visitor see four or five big dogs close behind him. Unreal alarm the Prince replied: "I am Prince Albert, the Queen's husband." The natural hue of the Highlandman's face became incarnadined with indignation as he exclaimed: "You a prince! A pretty chiel, you, for a prince! Gang awa' the noo, or I'll set the dogs on ye." But here the MacFarquharson himself, who had heard the voice of his servitor, rushed, half dressed, to the rescue, and the father of the British kings to be was saved from dismemberment.

THE HOLIDAYS ARE COMING!

PREPARE IN TIME!

STANDARD HOLIDAY GOODS

FOR

Lawyers, Preachers, Doctors, Teachers, Students and the Public Generally—Now in Store.

Webster's Unabridged Dictionary.

Latest Revised Edition. Price, $12. Is just what your Preacher wants, and every family should have one.

Worcester's Unabridged Dictionary.

Latest Revised Edition. Price, $10.

The Standard Family and Pulpit Bibles.

From $5 to $50 each. New styles of binding. Suitable for Family or Church presentation.

Sunday School and Pocket Bibles.

Assorted patterns and sizes, from thirty cents to $15 each. The very thing for Teachers and Scholars.

HYMN BOOKS

in a variety of sizes and bindings, from fifty cents to $10 each. Sent by mail on receipt of price.

POETICAL WORKS.

Handsomely bound, gilt sides and edges, comprising thirty-five standard authors. Sent by mail on receipt of price, $1.50 per volume.

JUVENILE WORKS,

such as CHATTERBOX, LITTLE FOLKS, NURSERY, PEEP SHOW, LITTLE PRATTLER, WIDE AWAKE, ROBINSON CRUSOE, ARABIAN NIGHTS, SANFORD AND MERTON, SWISS FAMILY, PILGRIM'S PROGRESS, etc. Beautifully illustrated and nicely bound. Sent, prepaid, on receipt of price, $1.50 each.

TOY BOOKS,

from the smallest Alphabet Book for five cents to the largest illustrated Cloth Book at $1. Sent by mail on receipt of price.

ALPHABET BLOCKS

and Alphabet Cards, Building Blocks, Paper Dolls, Acrobats, Masquerade, Expression Blocks, Menagerie, Ye Hero, John Gilpin, and hundreds of other juvenile games, from twenty-five cents to $2 each.

ONE DOLLAR will pay for a very nice book for children of any age, mailed to your address.

In addition to the above we have all the Standard Commentaries—most suitable gifts for Pastors and Students—Histories and Standard Works generally, Bible Dictionaries, Encyclopedias, Gold Pens, Writing Desks, Albums, etc. Write for what you want early, before the stock is culled, or call at the Book Depot, Nos. 110 and 112 Camp Street.

ROBERT J. HARP, AGENT.

The Way to Treat an Enemy.

Old Billy Piper was a Baptist preacher of the hard-shell or ironside order, who lived many years ago in the State of Virginia, on the eastern side of the Blue Ridge. He was an honest, upright man, and had many eccentricities about him, but was entirely destitute of mental culture. From his odd way of expressing himself he was often more amusing than instructive or edifying in the remarks which he made when he entered the sacred desk. He delivered all his sermons in a sing-song, whining tone of voice, and was remarkable for entertaining his congregation with every anecdote that, in his opinion, was adapted to arrest their attention or to give them instruction.

On one occasion he introduced into his sermon the following narrative to show what wonderful mistakes people often make in interpreting the word of God:

"Brethren, as I was coming to church this morning I saw something in the road before me, but could not tell what it was. At first I thought it was a stump; but when I got nearer to it, behold, I found out that it was a man a-kneeling down in the road, and a-praying. I said to him: 'Friend, what are you doing here?' He replied that one of his neighbors had done him an injury, and that the Bible said if you would pray for your enemy, by so doing you would bring down coals of fire upon his head. 'That is what I am now doing; and I intend to stay here, and pray for him until I burn him up.' Brethren, don't you think he was a fool?"

Mr. Piper, no doubt, went on to show how deplorably ignorant on the subject of religion the man must be who imagines that by his prayers he can bring down fire from heaven, as Elijah did, to consume his enemies, but that portion of his discourse is not distinctly remembered by any one. It cannot, however, be denied that the passage in the Bible, imperfectly quoted by the man so importunate in his prayers by the wayside, is a beautiful one—Rom. xii, 19, 20:

"Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath; for it is written, Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord. Therefore, if thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink; for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire on his head," and thereby soften his heart and subdue his enmity toward you, and conquer all his angry and malignant feelings. The allusion in the passage is to the heaping of coals of fire upon broken pieces of iron or other metal to melt them, or to make them soft enough to assume any desired shape or form.—Times of Blessing.

A remark of an old minister is commended to all the preachers who are tempted to complain of a small congregation: "It is as large a congregation, perhaps, as you will want to account for at the day of judgment."

Exploration of Tibet.

The journey of Pundit Nain Sing through Tibet, described in the last number of the Geographical Magazine, is, besides its great interest and importance, a really wonderful exploit. Starting from western Tibet, in the disguise of a Lama pilgrim, he followed eastward the long series of lakes which, at an elevation of thirteen thousand seven hundred to fifteen thousand feet, extend along the plateau for some eight hundred miles. The most westerly of these, the Pangong lake, was examined by some of the officers of Forsyth's mission, but the country to the eastward of this was never before visited by any educated traveler. At the eastern end of the Pangong lake the Pundit found the waters sweet, while at the western end they are brackish. The vast plains and hill sides are pastured by countless herds of antelopes, wild asses and the gigantic Ovis Ammon. At the eastern extremity of the series is the great Tengri Nor lake, already visited by the Pundit on a former occasion. To the north of this he discovered numerous great lakes, hitherto quite unknown, and which appear to receive the drainage of the northern range of the Himalayn, which separates the plateau from the valley of the Brahmaputra. The position of this range, as well as of the lakes and other prominent features of the country along his route, he has determined by hundreds of astronomical and other observations. The lakes, he says, abound in fish, and are covered with wild fowl. He also visited the gold mines to the north, of which the produce exported amounts, he says, only to £8,000 a year. But, considering the abundance of gold in the country—for the temples contain great numbers of statues and other objects in solid gold—and the richness of the washings in the streams in eastern Tibet and southwestern China, this cannot, we think, adequately represent the total production. We are strongly inclined to think that here, rather than in the pastoral wealth of the country, would be found the means of payment for the teas and other produce of India, if this trade should ever be opened. The Pundit's homeward route lay through Lhasa, where, however, on this occasion, he was only able to remain two days. Before crossing the Brahmaputra river he followed its course for some thirty miles hitherto unexplored. The width at the furthest point seen was five hundred yards, with a depth of twenty feet, and a sluggish current. On his way thence to Assam he was detained, though on the verge of British territory, at Tawang, for several months, and among other services has surveyed the Tawang route from Assam into Tibet.—The Academy.

Brick-makers die very young, not because the gods love them particularly, but because theirs is such a kiln business.

THE NEW ORLEANS

CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

A Weekly Family Newspaper.

ESTABLISHED IN 1850.

DEVOTED TO

RELIGIOUS & LITERARY CULTURE,

AND THE

ADVANCEMENT OF CHRISTIAN CIVILIZATION.

IT WILL BE FOUND TO CONTAIN ARTICLES FOR

COMFORTING THE DISTRESSED,

ENLIGHTENING THE YOUTH,

Reforming the Vicious and Cheering the Aged.

IN ITS YOUTH'S DEPARTMENT

IT WILL GIVE

True Pictures of Life, Sharp Delineations of Character,

EXPOSE PREVALENT VICES,

AND DISCOVER

The Hidden Snares which Endanger the Young.

IN ITS SECULAR DEPARTMENT

WILL BE INSERTED

The Choicest Original and Selected Articles

ON

Domestic Economy, Agriculture, Horticulture, Stock-Raising,

AND BE INTERSPERSED WITH

Letters, Sketches, Travels, Voyages,

ANECDOTES AND POETRY.

ALSO WITH

Criticisms of Books and Periodicals.

REPLETE WITH INFORMATION RELATING TO

SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERIES,

HISTORICAL FACTS,

CURRENT EVENTS AND

GENERAL NEWS.

CONTAINS VALUABLE RECIPES FOR

Relieving Suffering, Preventing Disease, Promoting Health,

AND ASSISTING

The Manufacturer, the Farmer and the Housekeeper.

IT WILL GIVE

THE MARKET REPORTS AND PRICES CURRENT

OF THE NEW ORLEANS MARKET EACH WEEK.

A number of our subscribers have interested themselves in getting their neighbors to subscribe, actuated solely by convictions of its beneficial influence upon society. Some of these have sent us from

TWENTY TO THIRTY SUBSCRIBERS.

CANNOT EACH READER secure at least ONE NEW SUBSCRIBER, and forward the name, or turn over the same to the nearest Agent? How could he bestow a greater benefit upon a family, spiritually and intellectually, for so small an effort?

Price, Including Postage, $2 Per Annum.

ADDRESS

ROBERT J. HARP, Publisher,

110 AND 112 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

The Christian Advocate.

PUBLISHED BY ROBT. J. HARP, FOR THE ALABAMA, MISSISSIPPI AND LOUISIANA CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH SOUTH.

VOL. 22. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1876. NO. 49.

SNOWFLAKES.

Whenever a snowflake leaves the sky
It looks and looks to say "Good by!
O cold-hy, dear cloud, so cool and gray!"
Then lightly travels on its way.

And when a snowflake finds a tree,
"Good-by!" it says—"Good-day to thee!
Thou art so bare and lonely, dear,
I'll rest and call my comrades here."

But when a snowflake brave and meek,
Lights on a rosy maiden's cheek,
It starts—"How warm and soft the day!
'Tis summer!"—and it melts away.

M. M. D., in St. Nicholas.

News of the Week.

DOMESTIC.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—The Washington library sale to-day attracted numerous bidders. The building was quite spirited, on some of the fine works, bearing the imprint of the Washington coat of arms and marked by the generals autograph. The prices realized were satisfactory to the sellers. The volumes averaged about $8 each, and the sum realized for the lot was $1 65. The proceeds of the entire collection sold to-day, Gen. Washington's own library, that formerly owned by other members of his family, and the few books sold on other accounts, was about $5,000.

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 28.—The board met at ten o'clock. The face of the returns shows Hayes, 7,450; Tilden, 7,418; Republican majority, 32. The Republicans give notice of contest in 19 counties, the Democrats in 9. Dade county not in; will not give 25 majority. The Democrats claim 23 votes in Clay county, which were evidently omitted, and will be conceded, leaving the Republican majority 19. There are two returns from Baker county, the first giving 94 Democratic majority and the second 41 Republican majority. The last and latest is signed by the judge and sheriff but not by the clerk, and the difference is made by throwing out several Democratic precincts.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 28.—The Democratic members elect to the House of Representatives met at seven P. M. in Carolina Hall. Sixty-four Democrats and two Republicans participated, and were sworn in by Judge Cook. The House organized and will claim recognition to-morrow. This leaves fifty-eight members in the Republican House, one less than the quorum claimed by them, and five less than the number which the Democrats claim is necessary for a quorum. Each House will demand of the Secretary of State the returns of the vote for Governor. All quiet to-night. The Supreme Court has not yet decided the question of counting the electoral vote.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 28.—Jones, clerk of the House, called the roll; 9 answered, which he declared a quorum. E. W. M. Mackey beat N. Myers, colored, for Speaker. No Democrats were present. Mackey took the chair. In explanation of these proceedings it may be stated that a full House consists of 124, and 63 is a quorum. Democrats, including the nine disputed members, are 64 in number; Republicans, when all present, 60. The Republicans claim that a majority of those to whom credentials have been issued makes a quorum. The House went to work with 59 members, and the members were sworn in. Mr. Jones, the former clerk, was sworn in.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Nov. 28.—Gen. John T. Morgan was nominated by the Democratic caucus for the United States Senate.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—A special, dated on the field, with Gen. McKenzie, Nov. 25, says: Fighting all day. The village contains two hundred lodges and five hundred warriors. The camp was at a war dance when attacked by McKenzie.

The Indians took to the rock, whence it is difficult to dislodge them. We are camping on the battle-field, though hostile guns are flashing from behind hundreds of bushes.

The volunteer Indians behaved well in the charge, but afterward became indifferent to anything but plunder.

We captured two hundred and fifty ponies and killed about twenty Indians.

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 30.—In Baker county the Democrats produced an affidavit from the clerk of the court certifying that the returns which give the Democrats ninety-five majority were true, and the only returns from the county of Baker; that it was the only one that he had been called on to certify to or that was filed in his office; that he had no knowledge of any other canvass having been made than the one by which the true return was made up, and that he had never been notified that such a canvass was going to be held, or asked to participate in it, as the law requires he should be; that no return had been handed to him with the request that he forward it to the Secretary of State, as the law requires he shall do. They presented further certified copies of each of the precinct returns in Baker county, regularly signed by the precinct inspectors, which footed up precisely the result that was recited in the true return.

COLUMBIA, Nov. 30.—The Democratic House took peaceable possession of the State legislative hall at their regular hour of convening, eleven o'clock this morning, and proceeded to work under their organization. The Republican House entered the hall at twelve, their regular hour of meeting.

Both speakers are on the stand—Wallace (Democrat) in the chair, Mackey (Republican) at the clerk's desk. A debate is progressing. Republican members; Hamilton and Myers, denounce the action of the Republican House as illegal and unconstitutional.

Everything is peaceable and good temper prevails. No persons are allowed in the hall except members.

The Democrats are cheerful and confident; the Republicans are anxious and dispirited. Some of the members say they want a settled government, and are for South Carolina rather than for the men who have ruined her.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30.—The ceremonies attending the unveiling of the monument symbolizing religious liberty erected on the Centennial grounds by the Hebrew order known as the I. O. B'nai B'rith, took place shortly after noon to-day.

CHEYENNE, Dec. 1.—McKenzie's victory was most complete. The entire village, with stores, was captured, leaving the Indians wholly destitute. The Indian loss is about twenty-five, with a large number of wounded. McKenzie will combine with Crook and attack Crazy Horse on the Rosebud river.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1.—The main building was purchased by the International Exhibition Company for $250,000.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—In the caucus Randall beat Cox by ten votes for speaker. There were only two candidates. The vote stood: Randall, 73; Cox, 63. It was resolved to send committees at once to Louisiana, South Carolina and Florida to ascertain the facts regarding the electoral votes in those States.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 4.—The Senate met at noon. Mr. Blaine, of Maine, and Messrs. Chaffee and Teller, the senators from Colorado, and Price, the new senator from West Virginia, vice Caperton, deceased, were sworn in.

The new senators from Colorado drew for their respective terms, when Mr. Chaffee secured the long term, ending March 1, 1879, and Mr. Teller the short term, ending March 1, 1877. Committees were appointed to notify the President and House of Representatives that the Senate was ready for business, and at 12:30 a recess for three-quarters of an hour was taken.

House.—The House was called to order by Chief Clerk Adams, and a motion was made to elect a speaker. Mr. Banks appealed from the decision of the clerk that a speaker should be elected before the new members were sworn in.

The election of speaker preceded all other business. Mr. Randall, of Pennsylvania, was elected speaker.

Mr. Randall addressed the House, thanking the members for the honor conferred.

The committees to go to South Carolina, Florida and Louisiana were ordered—six to Florida, nine to South Carolina and fifteen to Louisiana. The House adjourned.

The South Carolina committee consists of Saylor, of Ohio; Abbott, of Massachusetts; Slinger, of Pennsylvania; Eden, of Illinois; Jones, of Kentucky; Phillips, of Missouri; Banks, of Massachusetts; Lawrence, of Ohio; and Lapham, of New York.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The London dispatch from Pesth says: The Turks are preparing for the struggle with terrible earnestness, and the Russians are hurrying their preparations to take the field.

A dispatch from Calcutta to the Times says: The loss of life from the cyclone was underestimated; ninety per cent. of the plow cattle were lost. Sickness prevails. Fears of destitution are renewed by the warlike tone of European correspondents.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 4.—Soon after the dual houses had been called to order Speaker Wallace announced that as there were one hundred special constables in the State House to eject the Democratic members, and as he feared such a movement would be resorted to and bloodshed would ensue, he adjourned the legally elected House to meet at Carolina Hall, where they are now in session.

The Republicans then went into secret session in the State House. The town is full of people, and great excitement prevails.

COLUMBIA, S. C., 5.45 P. M., Dec. 5.—The Republican senators and Radap House, in joint session, have just declared the vote for Governor, The Edgefield and Laurens vote is thrown out, and Chamberlain declared elected by a majority of 3,200.

Counting these two counties would have given Hampton a majority of over 1,000 by Republicans' own figures. The Democratic senators absented themselves. The inauguration will probably be hurried through at once.—New Orleans Times.

FOREIGN.

HAVANA, November 28, via Key West, 29.—On November 18 a severe fight took place on the plains of Almanas, between Remedios and Sonet Spirtus. Spanish accounts say their force, numbering three hundred infantry, was attacked by three hundred infantry and six hundred insurgent cavalry. A portion of the Spanish force was ambushed and cut to pieces. Both parties claim a victory. The Spanish lost thirty-three killed and fifty nine wounded. Among the latter were six officers. The insurgents left twenty-four dead on the field and carried off their wounded. Private accounts say the Spanish lost one hundred and seventy killed and wounded.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—Reuter telegrams from St. Petersburg announce that the following semi-official statement is published in that city:

The Marquis of Salisbury's conversations with Count Andrassy and Prince Bismarck will probably have convinced him that the intimate relations between the three Imperial courts remain unchanged, and that Russia has been hitherto restrained from taking extreme measures by the consideration which is due the Emperors of Germany and Austria. Russia will not put forward the occupation of Bulgaria as her principal demand at the conference, but her representative will positively declare that the projected Turkish constitution cannot be discussed; that autonomy for the provinces must be guaranteed, and that occupation appears to be the best means of rendering such guarantee efficacious. Should the other powers be willing to participate in the occupation, Russia would even now prefer such a solution. But if not, Russia, in order to attain the objects sanctioned by the Berlin memorandum, will undertake occupation single-handed. The foregoing forms the general basis of the Russian demands. If Turkey, as is reported, should reject every proposal of autonomy, the Porte would merely attend the conference to protest against every point offered for discussion.

The statement concludes by affirming that Russia is determined to maintain her position against all protests or evasions that the Porte may offer.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—A special dispatch from Berlin to the Times says: An order, which is in preparation, for calling out all Russians under fifty years of age is regarded as proof that the government is preparing for all contingencies, and has depressed the St. Petersburg bourse.

LONDON, Dec. 2.—A special dispatch to the News from Vienna says the commander of four mobilized army corps has arrived at Kichenetf.

The Opinion newspaper, of Rome, says the Marquis of Salisbury's declaration excludes the idea of England going to war with Russia, but it regards war between Turkey and Russia as probable.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 2.—The Grand Duke Nicholas departed this afternoon for the army.

BERLIN, Dec. 2.—Bismarck spoke at the Parliament dinner. He laid stress repeatedly upon the neutral attitude Germany would assume in the event of warlike complications arising.

The weight which the prince attaches to Germany's relations with Austria took a particularly prominent place in his observations. He concluded his speech as follows: "If war breaks out, it is requisite it should be localized, and therefore England should be induced not to isolate herself from other powers, and engage in a quarrel with Russia."

PARIS, Dec. 3.—Russia has ordered twenty million cartridges from the United States.

From the Work.

WHISTLER, ALA.—Mr. Editor: Although the services of the week of prayer were very much hindered by the heavy rains then falling, yet they were the means of preparing the minds and hearts of a portion of the members of the church for future services, which resulted in the addition of several new members, and the triumph of grace of some of the difficulties previously existing, and the unification of the membership; which in my opinion was the greatest victory achieved.

For a number of years the Sunday school and church have been assembled by the jingling sound of a little old cracked car bell, more repulsive than inviting. Early in the year I set to work for a good bell, but met with but little encouragement. On consulting with Bro. Daly, the Sunday school superintendent, we concluded to have a lot of collecting cards printed and put into the hands of the Sunday school scholars. This was the key-note to success. Every one went to work in good earnest, and now we have a good bell, weighing three hundred and thirty-eight pounds, with an appropriate inscription cast on it, of which the little people are justly proud.

Last, but not least, on the fourth instant the parsonage was surprised by a number of ladies, who literally covered the center table with handsome presents for the pastor's wife, followed by a large lot of nice edibles, already prepared to the table.

Now, Mr. Editor, don't you think that the right way to surprise and storm a parsonage just before Conference? Demonstrations for the minister and his family, by which the people show that they are not unmindful of their wants, make him feel that his labors are not in vain, and invoke the blessings of him whose promise is: "Whosoever shall give a cup of cold water only in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward."

JOSEPH T. CURRY.

BUTLER CIRCUIT, ALABAMA CONFERENCE.—Mr. Editor: I have just closed my labors for the fourth year on the Butler circuit, Alabama Conference, which has been the most successful of the four. I am preparing to move, as my time is out. This is a trying time. It makes me feel sad to have to part with my good friends, with whom I have had so many happy seasons, and especially the good family who took us in when we were strangers, and gave us a comfortable home, and with whom we have lived ever since; and a truer man to Methodism I have never found than Prof. S. S. Mellen, who is now principal of the Mount Sterling High School, in Choctaw county, Ala. The location is as healthy as any in the State, and is accessible. We have fine society there, a good church, a fine Sunday school, and a young men's prayer meeting. It is truly a safe place for the education of the young. I think it due Prof. Mellen to say that he is doing much for the church.

We had a great revival at Mount Sterling last month, which resulted in twenty-two accessions to the church; conversions unknown. The church was greatly built up.

I have held many other good meetings during the fall. I held a meeting at Butler, with the assistance of Bro. A. Hood and a Baptist minister, which resulted in a great revival and thirteen accessions to the church. I then went to Bright Water, held a meeting, and received twenty into the church, and there were a number of conversions; after which I moved up to Oak Grove, where just a few days before a most terrific storm had passed and tore down the church. But the people, knowing the meeting was approaching, gathered in and rebuilt the house, and were prepared to carry on the meeting. And the Lord sent another storm—but of grace—and the place was made vocal with the shouts of the slain. Sixteen professed conversion and were added to the church. I trust they are such as shall be saved.

During the present year I have baptized: Adults, forty-five; infants, fourteen; received into full connection, eighty. The Lord be praised. My collections have been meager on account of short crops and scarcity of money. There are about twelve or fourteen NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATES taken on the circuit—not near as many as ought to be taken. But they are improving in this respect, and I think the list of subscribers will increase next year.

Most respectfully yours,

O. J. WRIGHT.

CHAPEL CHURCH, MOUNT CARMEL CIRCUIT, MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.—Mr. Editor: Some time since there appeared a letter in the ADVOCATE, by Rev. J. M. Whitehead, giving an account of a meeting at Chapel church, under my superintendency, which resulted in twenty-five accessions. I visited those good people, in company with Brother Whitehead, on the second Sunday in November. The services began at the appointed hour, with a beautiful lecture by Bro. Whitehead on religion, scientifically, practically and experimentally, after which several penitents came forward seeking the salvation of their souls. On Sunday the services consisted in prayer meeting at nine o'clock, and two sermons beginning at eleven o'clock, and an invitation to penitents, whereupon many came forward, crying: "What shall we do to be saved?" and "Lord, have mercy on us." While Sunday night's services were in progress the light of the Holy Spirit broke into several benighted souls. Result: Six additions to the church—one by letter, five by baptism, who received this holy ordinance immediately by our favorite mode. The meeting was continued on Monday and Monday night, resulting in five more accessions to the church—two by letter, and three on profession of faith, who had been baptized in infancy. Total accessions, eleven.

WILLIAM P. LONG.

OKOLONA, Miss., Nov. 22, 1876.

COVINGTON, ST. TAMMANY PARISH, LA.—Mr. Editor: God has blessed us and our labors this year. Although we have had no particularly great revivals, yet the work, by a gradual process, has been much strengthened and built up. Thirty-one have been added to the church, and a goodly number converted. Careless church members have been aroused to a sense of their duty, and backsliders have started anew to the kingdom of heaven. Conference, missionary and Bishops' assessment all overpaid. Preacher's and elder's salary paid with the exception of a few dollars, which we may yet receive. For all this we give thanks to God.

MALACHI B. SHARBROUGH.

NOVEMBER 20, 1876.

Homeward—Home.

MR. EDITOR: Castle Rock, of the Sierra Nevada (snowy mountain) range, was the next wonder presented to our gaze. It was a gray rock, ascending from the earthwork of the mountain many hundreds of feet high, and perhaps about two thousand feet in length. Domes, spires and towers of graceful proportions projected themselves upward from every part of the top, while Gothic columns were common about its sides. It seemed to be a deserted castle of the giants of "the long ago," ere man was dwarfed to his present stature. It is probably about seven thousand feet above sea level.

TOLLGATES

were common, and tolls shockingly high. For instance, at Soda Springs, a wild and romantic retreat on the upper Sacramento river, there was a little, miserable, dilapidated bridge over said stream, to cross which we had to pay fifty cents. Just three miles further on the Pit river ferry road commences. It is about forty-six miles in length, and serpentines between, around and over the mountains, with many dangerous places where a careless driver or frightened horses would tumble themselves and all aboard down into the deep, dark depths of inevitable destruction. The company which built this road failed, and the present firm bought it for only $4,000. A footman to pass over this road is required to pay seventy-five cents. We had to pay ten dollars toll for our two horse Oregon bus for both ways, having only hired it. This is nearly eleven cents a mile. If a man lacks money they levy upon some article of value, as the toll must be paid.

PIT RIVER

is a clear, dashing, roaring stream, full of large and beautiful trout and salmon. Above the aforesaid ferry there is a United States fish-hatching establishment. The eggs are placed in vessels, and several weeks after incubation they are shipped by hundreds of millions to different parts of the country to supply impoverished streams. Many of the fish which are thrown back, after being despoiled of their eggs, die, and are food for others.

THE CAMP

was pitched at the Pit river ferry for the night; and, not being able to remove the mountains and cast them into the sea or somewhere else, we were compelled to camp in the stable-yard of the tollgate-keeper.

On the tenth of October we reached Redding, the present northern terminus of the projected railroad through Oregon. Here we settled with our clever and gentlemanly driver, and parted from him and the balance of "the company, perhaps to meet them no more till the curfew of eternity tolls the knell of departing time. God bless them forever!

There are immense quantities of freight brought to Redding, and by wagon and otherwise distributed all over and through the mountains and plains around, which is mostly fit only for mining purposes. From this point we soon reveled

SACRAMENTO CITY.

It is in the great Sacramento valley, which is hundreds of miles in length, and perhaps from fifty to seventy-five miles in breadth. The Coast Range is its western and the Sierra Nevada mountains its eastern boundary. It is one of the immense grain fields of California. The land is rich; crops usually good; but generally the residences and other improvements, as far as I could see, were below ordinary. Very few orchards, bad water, marshes. Only wheat—nothing but wheat piled up in sacks along the road, awaiting shipment; and almost interminable fields, with small mountains of straw, looking out for the fire-brand to convert them to ashes. Malarial fevers are said to prevail throughout this valley, and one does not wonder at it. The Sacramento river passes through this valley, and before it reaches the city becomes as muddy as the Mississippi river. Not knowing any one in the city, and not being able to honor the heavy hotel bills, we found a quiet place in the suburbs, and pitched, Lot-like, our tent. Soon, however, we found our own church, and one of the stewards, who proved to be our old Sabbath school teacher in the Brook Street Methodist Episcopal Church, Louisville, Ky., when Bishop Kavanaugh was in charge. He is now a successful merchant. The weather was beautiful, our tent-life agreeable, and we were living well at a very moderate outlay. But a good sister and her kind-hearted Masonic husband insisted upon our making their home our home. This we refused to do, as they were in only moderate circumstances, unless they would let us divide table expenses, which they reluctantly consented to do. Here we spent nearly three weeks comfortably, and until our departure for the east. Of course we thought of those passages of sacred writ: "Be ye careful to entertain strangers," and "I was a stranger and ye took me in." Indeed, we feel under many obligations to several other friends of that town for valuable services rendered. May they get in this world a thousand-fold, and in the world to come life everlasting.

JAMES E. BRADLEY.

P. S. We reached Shreveport on the twenty-sixth instant, and were kindly cared for by Bro. McKnight, and the pastor, Rev. A. E. Goodwyn.

SHREVEPORT, LA., Nov. 28, 1876.

North Texas Conference.

APPOINTMENTS.

Jefferson District.—J. C. Smith, P. E.; Jefferson station, M. C. Blackburn; Soda Lake circuit, W. W. Horner; Atlanta circuit, R. G. Sewell; Linden circuit, S. J. Hawkins; Rockville circuit, T. A. Milam; Daingerfield, D. E. Fuller; Mount Pleasant, J. L. Davis; Gilmer circuit, J. M. Livingston; Longview, to be supplied by A. F. Scurlock; J. L. Terry, sup.; Coffeeville, S. H. Renfro.

Sulphur Springs District.—T. E. Sherwood, P. E.; Sulphur Springs station, T. M. Smith; Sulphur Springs circuit, A. F. Sherwood; Sulphur Bluff circuit, W. A. Shook; Oakland circuit, C. J. Cock; Greenville station, D. M. Proctor; White Rock circuit, E. S. Boyd, W. K. Dull, sup.; Bone Oak circuit, ——; D. B. Featherston, sup.; Winsboro circuit, J. A. White; Pittsburg circuit, R. Lane, R. P. Thompson, sup.; Mineola circuit, S. Jones; Sulphur mission, E. P. Chisholm.

Terrell District.—L. P. Lively, P. E.; Terrell and Will's Point station, R. M. Powers; Rockwall circuit, A. C. Allen; Farmersville circuit, B. H. Bounds; Kaufman circuit, O. Thomas; Elm circuit, H. W. Hawkins; Pleasant Grove, J. L. Angel; Forney mission, M. Simpson; Prairieville circuit, A. H. Brewer; Garden Valley circuit, J. B. Harris; Silver Lake mission, to be supplied.

Paris District.—John H. McLean, P. E.; Paris station, R. H. Reed; Roxton circuit, A. C. McDougald; Honey Grove circuit, C. E. Lamb; Dodd City circuit, to be supplied (by N. A. Keen); Ladonia circuit, J. W. Finer; Cooper circuit, L. P. Smith; Sylvan circuit, L. B. Ellis; Robbinsville circuit, James Graham; Clarksville and McKenzie circuit, J. E. Walker; Walker Station circuit, L. F. Palmer; Boston circuit, R. N. Brown; Texarkana mission, W. C. Blair.

Dallas District.—W. F. Easterling, P. E.; Dallas station, M. H. Neeley, S. Armstrong, sup.; Floyd station, J. R. Allen; Dallas circuit, M. H. Cullom; Plainoud Carruth station, D. J. Martin; Van Alstyne and McKinney, L. M. White; Seyone circuit, W. R. Manning; Trinity circuit, L. S. Ashburn; Honey Creek circuit, H. R. Hughes; Bethel circuit, J. Beverly; Grapevine circuit, W. S. Mays; Grapevine Springs mission, E. A. Rosser; Z. Parker, Bible agent.

Sherman District.—J. M. Blakley, P. E.; Sherman station, W. C. Hudslip; Bonham and Denison stations, W. D. Shell; Savoy circuit, to be supplied (by B. M. Williams); Pilot Grove circuit, M. W. Shearer; Bonham circuit, G. W. Eller; Whitesboro circuit, J. W. Hill; Dexter circuit, W. M. Robbins; Pilot Point station, J. W. Chalk; Pilot Point mission, G. S. Gatewood; W. E. Bates, sup.; Sherman circuit, D. P. Haggard.

Gainesville District.—W. H. Moss, P. E.; Gainesville station, J. R. Crowder; Gainesville circuit, I. N. Craven; Denton circuit, T. B. Norwood; Montague ct., J. C. Weaver; Elizabethan circuit, C. F. Ullmer; Decatur circuit, James McDougall; Maryville circuit, J. B. Smith; Cambridge mission, Rice R. Harris; Henrietta mission, to be supplied.

The Count Culminated.

As far as the electoral vote of Louisiana is concerned, the Returning Board completed its labors yesterday, and in the official journal to-day the returns of that vote will be promulgated, according to the figures given below:

HAYES ELECTORS.		TILDEN ELECTORS.
Kellogg	75,315	McEnery	70,868
Burch	75,177	Wickliffe	70,852
Joseph	75,011	St. Martin	70,850
Sheldon	75,057	Poche	70,835
Marks	75,018	Dellume	70,740
Levissee	75,013	Seay	70,825
Brewster	71,017	Cobb	70,823
Joffrion	71,730	Cross	70,758

The difference between this and the face of the returns can be shown by adding 2,017 votes to Republican electors, and 11,729 to the Tilden electors.

Last night it seemed to be understood, and so intimated by pretty good Republican authority, that the official journal would this morning contain the promulgated returns of the vote for the entire State ticket.—New Orleans Times, December 6.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1876.

FOR THE ADVOCATE.

PAIN.

BY ISAAC N. MAYNARD.

Vain is our life if we leave not behind
Some monument of love—
Some God-like deed of body or of mind,
First born of God above.

Vain all our struggles here for wealth or fame
If, like a miser, we Live but for self, not caring for a name
For immortality.

Vain all our thoughts if we forget this one—
"Yes, I am born to die."
The beggar and the king upon his throne
"There is the grave must lie."

Vain all our hopes of heaven if we refuse
Forgiveness here below,
The law of love "were better far to choose,
For Christ hath told us so.

Vain is all beauty that we daily see
If the glory be not given
To him who made all beauteous things for me,
On earth and there in heaven.

Vain is my life if I leave not behind
Some token of my love—
Some "sweet memorial" of the God-like mind
Recorded there above.

The Conversion of a Catholic Family.

MR. EDITOR: Many years have passed since the above-mentioned thing happened. After reading some articles on "The Bible in Schools" I was in deep thought how much good has grown from this. I know that much has been already recorded in the book of life, and I pray much may yet be done. Oh! never, never let the Bible be banished from the school-room. May every day's work be commenced by the reading of God's holy word. These thoughts brought to my mind the conversion of a Catholic family. My father, who at that time was one of God's faithful ministers (he has since been called to his reward on high,) was at home a very short while at any time, and had to have some one to attend to his farm. For this he had an Irishman. It so happened that father was for the second time sent back to C. circuit. So he kept his man P. the second year. Mr. P. by this time was able to send for his family. He had been for several years laboring and saving for that purpose. I was quite young at the time, and the joy of that meeting I will never forget; also the trouble, for one of the family died on the ship. He had a wife and several children, his old mother and two sisters. All of these lived in our yard. (The farm was only a short walk from the town of F.) His eldest sister lived in the house as housekeeper for my mother, who was in charge of the school at F. Now Mr. P. was anxious to educate his children; so they were all sent to school. His sisters also wished for instruction, and came for a few hours in the afternoon. It was always mother's rule to open and close school with the reading of the Testament; so she gave these Irish children a Testament. Her rule was always to explain, as far as able, what we had read in the holy word.

It was at the close of a long summer day when we, as usual, read our closing lesson, which, as well as I now remember, was the crucifying of our Lord. Everything was quiet—only the voice of the reader was heard. When Miss May's time came (she was an old girl—all of thirty) she began: "And set up over his head this accusation, written, This is Jesus, the King of the Jews." In a moment she was on her feet, pale and trembling, when she said: "What is this? What book are you making us read? Oh, you bad woman! You heretic! What have I done?" Here she threw the book down, at the same time making her sister (who was much younger) and nieces do the same. I never saw one in more distress than she appeared to be. It was a long while before she would be comforted. She said it was the first time she ever saw a Bible. "I thought," she said, "it was a history of some great man, till I read this lesson;" when all at once she felt she was reading of our Savior. Nothing would do her or any of them any good till they had seen the priest, which they did, starting next day. They were gone several days, when they got home all smiles. The priest had forgiven them. "But, oh! it was a hard struggle. I had to give him all the money I had saved all the year. But we are not allowed to read the Bible in your school any more." And no persuading did any good.

Time rolled on. The year was fast coming to a close. We had no thought of remaining longer with dear friends. But it was so arranged that we did remain, as papa was sent to the adjoining circuit. Mamma continued her school, and Mr. P. his old place. Our household remained unbroken. Miss May no longer attended afternoon school, but was allowed the use of the library. Another rule of our dear departed parent was to make one of us read aloud, on Sabbath evening, some good book that the servants could understand. I was reading Pilgrim's Progress. Miss May and the family of Mr. P. always came in to listen, and this book was a great favorite with them, especially with the old mother. After reading mamma would quietly open her Bible and read one or two chapters, and then give us her views of it. Among the servants was an old man, who was a great Hard-Shell Baptist in his belief, and was always ready to say something after mamma was through. And we children enjoyed that more than anything else. Old Sam's sayings were very amusing to the Irish members. He always closed his remarks with Paul's words: "I have planted, Apollos watered, but God gave the increase." That was always his benediction. After awhile Miss May and her brother would have something to say to old Sam in his debates, as he called them, and by degrees they would talk to mamma.

One day I found Miss M. reading the Bible. I was so much surprised that I told mamma. She told me to say nothing of it. In the spring a revival was commenced in the Methodist Episcopal Church, when, to the surprise of all, Miss M. and her brother both united, and before the close of the year all of the adult members of the family were in the church. I remember when the priest came to see them, and tried to get them back; but he did not succeed. I have often heard Miss M. say that the reading of the Testament in school was the cause of her conversion. After she gave it up she would listen to the others; and, if it was the word of God sent for all to read, why was she as a Catholic, and all Catholics, kept from it? These and kindred thoughts, and the examples of a Christian's daily life, opened her eyes; and she learned to thank God that her eyes were opened, and her lot cast among Christians.

Many of those who read this will perhaps remember it. Each one has this influence in some way. Let us labor to do good. "Cast thy bread upon the waters, for thou shalt find it after many days."—Ecclesiastes xi, 1. Who can tell the good that has been done from the reading of God's word in school?

MRS. S. J. B.

GREEN HILL, Ga.

Beulah Camp Ground, Natchitoches Parish, La.

MR. EDITOR: Pleasant Hill is twenty miles from Mansfield, immediately on the Natchitoches road. It is well named. I suppose it received its cognomen without reference to the people who to-day occupy it. For this reason alone it is now a "Pleasant Hill." The citizens are intelligent, refined, social and hospitable. The religious element prevails. The Methodist church is a credit to the place. It is neat, of good size and well proportioned. It is a monument of the enterprise of Bro. Parvin and the liberality of the people. A live Methodist Sunday school, under the superintendency of Bro. S. D. Chapman, is accomplishing much good. In connection with this congregation there is also a Sunday school in the country. Bro. Clark is the superintendent. An interesting weekly prayer meeting adds much to the religious interest.

I must say, further, for Pleasant Hill what can be said of but few places, large or small, in our country, and that is: The merchants do not sell whisky, and there is no "doggery" there. Thus far it is a "temperance town." I could name another village of about the same size, in which $12,000 in whisky is annually disposed of. Pleasant Hill also has a very neat and comfortable parsonage. If I mistake not this is largely due to the enterprise of Bro. Pipes.

It must not be forgotten that here, too, is located Pierce and Paine College. There is but little left now except the name. In prosperous days the two wings were built. But one stands. The other was destroyed by fire. It is occupied now by Prof. Moss, a graduate of Greensboro (Ala.) University. In connection with Mrs. Williams, an accomplished, experienced teacher, he has an interesting school.

The Pleasant Hill circuit, served this year by Bro. J. M. Franklin, covers an interesting field. The Sunday school, prayer and class meeting enterprises have been largely developed. The pastor reported eight Sunday schools, with an average attendance of two hundred and seventeen scholars. For one circuit surely this is something to be written. Our people are gradually awaking to the importance of this work. The ministry of children is making stronger appeals to our hearts. Happy day for the church when she comes fully to understand the gospel they preach!

The fourth Quarterly Conference, held during the camp meeting, was a season of great interest and strength to the official members. Bro. Shepperd Berry was licensed to preach. We had no applications, however, for admission into the traveling connection on trial, I am sorry to say. It seems to me that as a church we are greatly lacking in prayer to God for an increase of laborers. The paucity of active, earnest, living preachers—men of one work—is simply frightful. The Savior gives us the remedy: "Pray ye, therefore, the Lord of the harvest."

The camp meeting begun on Friday night, the sixth instant, and closed last night. It was well sustained throughout. There were some forty-five families, occupying seventeen tents. The pulpit and altar were well served by Bros. Pipes, J. S. White, J. M. Franklin, Cassity, Atwood, Williams and Hampton. The laymen proved themselves efficient workers. The attendance was not so large as expected. There was some disappointment also in the number of conversions and accessions. I do not know the number. Still there was a grand work done in building up the church. The membership returned to their homes strengthened in heart and life. There were many gracious seasons of refreshing.

Beulah camp ground was established in 1866—Bro. Porter the prime mover in the enterprise. He, poor, dear man, during this last meeting was sick—doubtless unto death. In all probability he has gone home to glory and to God. He lived well. He will die well.

It is growing late. I must bid you good-by again.

JOEL T. DAVES.

OCTOBER 11, 1876.

Rambling.

MR. EDITOR: Will you permit to your columns a few rambling thoughts? Being in feeble health, and by the advice of my physician, myself and wife left our home in Gadsden, Ala., in September last, to take a trip south for the benefit of my health. The first place of note where we touched was Birmingham. Here we spent a few hours, and passed on leisurely to Tuskaloosa, where we spent the Sabbath very pleasantly with the family of Rev. Frank Brandon, the pastor, and preached twice. Bro. Brandon's health was rather feeble. We came next to Gainesville, Ala., situated on the Tombigbee river. In this place I in time past spent four years as pastor, where I buried my first wife.

Some twelve miles from thence brought us to Scooba station, in this State. We came next to DeKalb (county site of Kemper,) and then on into Neshoba and Smith counties. In these sections of the State we heard of camp and protracted meetings, all attended with much success to the church of Christ.

The camp meeting on Trenton circuit, in Smith county, was conducted by the Rev. William H. Leith, P. E., and Jacob Holland, P. C. We were happy in passing a few days at this meeting with these kind brethren, where we formed many very pleasant acquaintances with preachers and people, and tried to preach for them three times.

The finances of this section of the Mississippi Conference seem to be improving, from what I could learn, and all the preachers are working zealously for the advancement of the cause of Christ, as the work of the Lord seemed to be prospering among them and in their hands. Parting reluctantly with these brethren, we journeyed on down to Columbia, on Pearl river; and, as we had spent our youthful days in this country, we met many old friends and brethren; here we enjoyed many pleasant greetings with loved ones. I reached the homes of my own brothers in Pearl county on Saturday, October 27, and preached for the people at Bird's chapel on Sabbath. How delightful to unite with old friends after years of separation! After spending twelve or fifteen days in hunting, fishing, and refreshing ourselves by mingling with beloved friends, we parted with them for this place (Pearlington,) a distance of forty miles, and spent an enjoyable night with an old-time friend on the Hobolochitto, Col. Leonard Kimball, with his most amiable wife and two nieces. These reunions were most delightful to an old superannuated Methodist preacher. Here we are seated in the family of our oldest and dear, afflicted sister. I think God my health is much improved by the trip. I am preaching still as I have strength.

Your brother in Christ,

T. MOODY.

Seashore Camp Ground.—Report.

The camp meeting for 1876, on Seashore camp ground, commenced on Wednesday, the nineteenth of July, and closed on Thursday, the twenty-seventh. The religious services were under the direction of Rev. J. B. Walker, D. D., presiding elder of the New Orleans district, assisted by Rev. S. H. Cox, presiding elder of the Mobile district.

The attendance was larger than in any previous year, amounting to at least 3,000 on Sunday, and during the encampment probably not less than 5,000 altogether. There were present in all seventy preachers, embracing Methodists, Presbyterians and Baptists, from Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, Louisiana and Texas, many of them men of acknowledged ability and distinction. The preaching was excellent—of a character highly spiritual, practical and direct to the point in hand—the conversion of souls, and a higher spiritual life in the church. The number of conversions was estimated at 150—generally clear and satisfactory, sometimes demonstrative, joyous, rapturous.

Perfect order existed throughout the encampment, and the exercises were highly spiritual and profitable. The church was greatly revived, and realized that God was again present to own and honor Seashore camp ground in saving souls, and in special blessings to his people.

During the year an unusual storm carried away both our bath-houses and wharfs, which have been renewed in an improved condition.

Four new renting tents have been erected, and galleries in front of the preachers' and ladies' tents, and two new private tents have been built, and enlargements and improvements made to many others. The grounds have been still further cleared up and improved, and 200 young trees have been set out for shade and ornament. In February last the trustees purchased the springs tract, west of and adjoining our first purchase, fronting 660 feet on the gulf, extending to the back bay, and containing a little over 100 acres, for the price of $1,500. A new spring has been opened near the old one, and both covered and put in fine order, and they furnish the encampment with an abundant and exhaustless supply of the most delicious water.

W. H. FOSTER, Pres't.

OBITUARIES.

Correspondents, please write names and dates very distinctly. We follow copy on proper names.

Obituary notices should be forwarded promptly and immediately. Give only points of general interest, such as will help the living. Details of funeral services, and such phrases as "mourn their loss," etc., are not edifying. Verses, either original or select, not admissible in this department. Give the locality distinctly and in full. In the case of infants only a simple announcement of the death, with names and dates, will be published.

☞ All obituaries received are published as soon as convenient. If, after a reasonable time, any such communication fail to appear, let a duplicate be sent instead of a complaint.

IN MEMORIAM.

MRS. SUSAN BREWER THOMAS was born in Wilbraham, Mass., in 1790, and died on July 25, 1876. She passed away in a moment of time. For several days previous she had visited the Seashore Camp Meeting. On that day she attended the eight o'clock service, and the love-feast which immediately followed; after it she went round, bidding farewell to her intimate friends, and then left for Biloxi, a town distant two miles. There at night she took the nine o'clock train for Mobile; went first into the sleeping car, and then just as the train moved off attempted to step on the car next to the sleeper, but missed her footing; in an instant she doubtless found herself in the presence of him who comes for his people, that he may receive them to himself. The opening sentence of her "Travels in Europe" may have then risen to her mind: "We crossed the Atlantic without seeing it." She had passed that inconceivable expanse which stretches between this earth and that place to which the Savior ascended, and of which the first gave notice to Mary: "I ascend to my Father and your Father, and to my God and your God." Two days before she had given at the morning experience meeting a delightful talk, recounting the goodness of God to her during her long pilgrimage, gratefully recalling the past, and with the vision of her spiritual eye rapturously regarded that vista of glorious things which appeared constantly nearing to her. As usual with her at such times, her speech flowed with almost poetic measure, and bright words imaged and tinged the fervent breathings of her soul toward the church and her Redeemer. But on this the last morning she arose again and uttered but one sentence: "That she had been listening with wonder at the experiences of that hour, and especially to the young ministers who had just spoken; and she now saw that God had still an abundance of sapphire for the beautiful stones of his palace, and that while he was about to remove the old furniture out of his house he had new pieces just as good with which to replace it." The speech reminded me of a similar occasion, the love-feast of the General Conference of 1866, held at Carondelet Street, New Orleans, one long to be remembered for its power and presence, which she set the audience on fire with the well-ordered sentences and glowing utterances of her fervent charity, calling up, as she then did, the names and memories of men that are as watchwords in the camp of American Methodism—Hedding, Fisk, Bangs, Soule, Winans, Drake and Lane—whom she had well known, and with whom she had often communed.

For nearly fifty years I could remember this gifted woman in Baltimore first, where she taught a few years; then at Wilbraham; then, after the lapse of many years, at Jackson, La.; and from that until this time meeting her at home, in the church, at Conferences, and wherever the people of God were wont to gather, and I never met her without feeling the impulse of her hopeful, youthful temperament. Such spirits are a boon to earth from heaven; they rise above the clouds which are half way up the mountain, and they transfer the sunshine of their own souls to those who dwell in shadows.

At a day when there was scarcely a graduate in the Methodist ministry, and but few Methodist schools, Miss. Brewer, at the instance of Dr. Fisk, started for the South, and during the period of her life afterward was instrumental in bringing into Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and other Southern States more than sixty accomplished teachers of high religious character. The result of the enlarged enterprise of this noble woman in the cause of education cannot easily be estimated. She had herself taught at New York, Baltimore, Wilbraham, Tuskaloosa, Montgomery, Jackson, La., and Washington, Miss. After some fourteen years of devotion to this calling she was married to Capt. David Thomas, of Jackson, La. This change in her situation and condition of life only turned her active mind and benevolent spirit upon new routes of useful work. She took a lively interest in the fortunes of Centenary College, and in all that concerned Methodism in the Southwest. Her most intimate friends were the great and good men who then cultivated these harvest fields. They have all gone, save a single watchman here and there, who waits anxiously the summons of the Master. In the sixty-seventh year of her age she ventured forth to visit Gethsemane and Bethlehem, that she might add her faith with the knowledge of the earthly home of her Lord, and that she might commune with places and ruins illustrious by many memories of myriads of great ones who have left the impress of their names and deeds upon history. This journey she successfully prosecuted, having visited in her absence Egypt, Palestine and Europe. A very pleasant and characteristic book of travels was the result of this visit to the East, which we shall often take up, and so recall to mind and heart one of the purest and best of earth.

J. C. KEENER.

IN MEMORIAM.

MRS. MARTHA KENNON, relict of the sainted Dr. R. L. Kennon, of precious memory, sweetly fell asleep in Jesus, November 2, 1876.

She was the daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth Bush, and was born in Columbia county, Ga., December 25, 1795. Her mother, Mrs. Bush, was a sister to Hon. William Few, a distinguished Congressman from Georgia, and by her first marriage the mother of Dr. William Lee, who ranked as general in the war of 1812. The subject of this memoir was married to Dr. Kennon at the age of nineteen years. She professed religion when but a child, but did not attach herself to the church until after her marriage. When her husband consecrated himself to the work of the ministry, we believe her consecration was as thorough as if the burden of the holy calling rested on herself. She had been favored with the advantage of a liberal education, and possessed all the elegant accomplishments necessary to adapt her to the amenities of any class of society. Her deep piety and stability of manners, combined with a fine mental discrimination and taste, eminently qualified her for the responsible position she was called to fill as the wife of a minister.

Their field of labor, for more than twenty years, lay in Alabama, where Dr. Kennon stood in the very front rank in the pulpit and councils of the church. His memory is still richly embalmed in the hearts of the older Methodists of Mobile, Tuskaloosa and Greensboro, where his labors abounded. And the loving spirit and untiring devotion of the companion of his bosom are sweetly interwoven with these sacred memories, for she held up the hands of him who bore the banner of the cross with an indomitable energy that yielded to no discouragements or reverses in fortune, until the flag-bearer fell at his post.

A few years after his death she removed to Mississippi. She lived in the city of Jackson from 1846 to 1864, after which she divided her time between her two daughters in Oxford and Brandon. At the time of her death she had been spending some time at Newton, Miss., with her daughter, Mrs. Jayne, where the latter was assisting her son in teaching.

No one loved the house of God more than she did, but her religion was not confined to particular seasons and exercises. If appeared in public, but it lived in private in the family and in the closet. It was a principle entering into all her feelings, habits and actions. She was in the fear of the Lord all the day. A distinguishing feature in her character was her kindness to the poor and afflicted. For such her heart was ever ready to sympathize, her hand to administer, and her purse to relieve. Her zeal and sacrifice for the relief of the suffering soldiers during the late war knew no abatement, as the living among the many to whom she ministered in the hospitals in Jackson and Brandon can testify. Nearly two hundred pairs of socks were worn by them the work of her own fingers. In her advanced years her labors were necessarily confined to the circle of her own family and friends; but she continued to work for Jesus to the last. Her labor of love was as the flowing of a perpetual stream from the fountain of a warm heart. Her heart was constantly moved toward her fatherless grandchildren, over whom she exercised a motherly care, earnestly desiring and praying that one or more of them should become ministers of the gospel. Those who were present during her last illness state that they never witnessed such patience, serenity and unspeakable joy in the midst of such bodily sufferings. She was apparently in the open vision of her Savior, and the many ascended saints who had worshiped with her at the same altar, and shared with her in the same conflicts and triumphs. In the vividness of her manifestations she repeatedly called them by name. She seemed to have a premonition of her approaching dissolution. On the second day of her illness she gave full directions as to her burial, requesting that her remains be taken to Brandon and laid by the side of her sister, Mrs. Ann McDowell, who died in December last. When loved ones wept she said: "Don't pray for my recovery, but that I may have grace to bear my sufferings. It is better to depart and be with Jesus." When asked by the pastor if she had no fear of death, she replied: "O no; it is but a step, and I long to make the crossing;" adding:

"Jesus can make a dying bed
Feel soft as downy pillows are."

She then prayed: "Lord Jesus, receive my spirit." Seeing her daughter weep, she said tenderly: "Darling, don't excite me. I want to speak to you while I have strength." After urging all to meet her in heaven, she sent loving messages to her absent daughter and each of her grandchildren. Her whole soul seemed to be filled with loving tenderness and gratitude, and she passed devout benedictions on all who had performed kind offices for her during her illness. She talked thus sweetly up to fifteen minutes of her last breath, and as, at her request, the song, "O bear me away on your snowy wings," etc., was being sung, she lifted her eyes toward heaven, as if she saw and welcomed the heavenly convoy. The clouds at length separated, and, "sweeping through the gates," washed in the blood of the Lamb, her disembodied spirit ascended to the church triumphant.

R. S. WOODWARD.

DIED, on Thursday, November 23, 1876, at nine o'clock P. M., at the residence of Mrs. C. B. C. Lehde, 661 Magazine street, New Orleans, J. NELSON PHINNEY, of Monument, Mass., aged thirty-four years, and a resident of this city for the past seven years. His remains were taken to Delaware City, Del., for interment.

Reared in the Methodist Church, he was a consistent and unblamable member of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. Much of his time engaged in the prosecution of his business in extensive travels through the Southern States, he punctually attended his services, and especially remembered to keep holy the Sabbath day, always resting, if possible, where he might be during his travels, till it had passed.

Feeling himself a steward of God, his hand was ever liberally open to the calls of the church and the poor, and in aiding worthy men struggling under business difficulties. His death was unexpected till a short time before it occurred, and when the intelligence of its approach was communicated to him, while expressing a preference for life, he added an entire submission to the will of God.

While we feel that the world has suffered loss by his decease, our sympathy for his mother and a large family circle, and a beloved wife, to whom he had been united but a few months, can be expressed only by the prayer that the same submission to the will of God which cheered his last moments will support them with the hope of a reunion in a world where sickness and sorrow are unknown. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord, for their works shall follow them."

R. A.

DIED, at the Waters homestead, Rapides parish, La., September 13, 1876, MRS. MAHALA M. WATERS, wife of the late Capt. William Waters, in the sixty-third year of her age. The above announcement comes in a note to the writer, with the request that a short obituary of the deceased be prepared for the ADVOCATE. Sister Waters joined the Methodist Church October 21, 1832. (Do not know the time of her conversion.) She was for many years a professor of religion, was a punctual attendant upon, and, according to her means, a liberal supporter of the church; to the sick and destitute was ever ready to extend a helping hand. She was "given to hospitality." In the years gone by many a weary itinerant—the writer among the number—has met a hearty welcome, and been hospitably and kindly entertained at the Waters homestead, not now the kind-hearted matron, too, of that once happy homestead is gone to the spirit world. She rests from her labors, and her works do follow her; and to those who knew her they will speak his her praise. May God bless the surviving children and grandchildren, and make them all heirs of his kingdom at last.

P. M. GOODWYN.

WILEY WILSON THOMAS died at the house of Bro. Reedy, Wheelock, Texas, October 8, 1876. He was born at Fort Hopewell, Tenn., May 7, 1816; was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church at a camp meeting in Shelby county, Ala., in 1832; entered the Alabama Conference at its first session, and was ordained deacon by Bishop Soule, and elder by Bishop Andrew. He served the church in the Alabama Conference until he located, to come to Texas, in 1860. He resentered the itinerancy in the Northwest Texas Conference in 1871, and continued therein until death. He received an effective appointment at the last Conference, being assigned to Wheelock circuit; but in consequence of failing health he was obliged to resign his charge. He continued to preach occasionally as long as he had strength to do so. His death occurred during the quarterly meeting he had gone to attend. He was greatly loved by the people he last served, and among whom he died.

"Servant of God, well done!
Rest from thy loved employ."

His end was peace.

B. W. KEESON.

ANSLEY GIDDENS was born in Iredell county, N. C., May 3, 1822; moved to Tennessee in 1828, and there married Miss Louisa P. Womack. He moved to Dallas county, Ala., in 1831, and lost his wife, October 27, 1849. He again married January 16, 1850, Miss E. N. Fardue. He was converted in September, 1860, at a protracted meeting held at Bethel church, Butler county, Ala., conducted by Revs. Hunter and Evans. He joined the Methodist Episcopal Church at Panola in 1863, from which time his was a consistent Christian life. His death occurred October 29, 1876, at Mount Carmel, Montgomery county, Ala. Bro. Giddens' life was a success, and his death was triumphant. Calmly he gave each member of his family counsel worthy to be heeded. Never have I visited a dying man who, amid suffering intense, could so resignedly await the Master's bidding. He died in peace, having no fears. In the death of Bro. Giddens the country has lost a good citizen, the church a true member, and the preacher a special friend.

B. L. SELMAN.

"To individual faithfulness, and to the energy of the private conscience, God has committed the real history and progress of mankind.—James Martineau.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1876.

THE OLD FARM HOUSE.

The easy chair, all patched with care,
Is placed by the cold hearthstone;
With witching grace, in the old fire-place,
The evergreens are strewn.
And pictures hang on the whitened wall,
And the old clock ticks in the cottage hall.

More lovely still, on the window sill,
The dew-eyed flowers rest.
While 'midst the leaves on the moss-grown eaves
The martin hands her nest.
And all day long the summer breeze
Is whispering love to the bended trees.

Over the door, all covered o'er
With a sack of dark green baize,
Lays a musket old, whose worth is told
To the events of other days;
And the powder-flask and the hunter's horn
Have hung beside it for many a morn.

For years have fled with a noiseless tread,
Like fairy dreams away,
And in their flight, all shorn of its might,
A father—old and gray;
And the soft winds play with the snow white hair,
And the old man sleeps in his easy chair.

Inside the door, on the sanded floor,
Light, airy footsteps glide,
And a maiden fair, with flaxen hair,
Kneels by the old man's side—
An old oak wrecked by the angry storm,
While the ivy clings to its trembling form.

An Interesting Relic.

BY REV. J. T. CRANE, D. D.

Relics interest an intelligent mind in proportion to the amount and the value of the truth which they certify, and the history of which they remind us. I confess that I have, in secret, marveled much over the collections of certain travelers in Palestine, who return home to exhibit triumphantly bottles of water from the Jordan, and pebbles from the shore of the Dead Sea. No sane man ever dreamed that the Jordan is a stream of water, or that there are pebbles on the shores of the Dead Sea, or supposed that either the water or the pebbles are in themselves particularly worthy of note. As well might a traveler bottle up a little of the air of Palestine, and, on his return, distribute diminutive breaths of it among his friends as a special favor.

But there lies before me, as I write, a relic which every Methodist will prize. It is Bishop Asbury's Hebrew Bible, or, to speak more accurately, a part of a Hebrew Bible, containing the first twelve books only. The title page gives no hint of its being only a part of the Old Testament. It also promises Dictionarium quinque Veteris Testamenti Hebraicum et Chaldaicarum, which lexicon does not appear. The volume is a 12mo of 610 pages, printed in Holland, in 1753, and, from the style of the binding and other evidences, I conjecture that the owner, for the sake of convenience, divided the Hebrew Bible into two parts, and had each bound by itself. It would thus fit the saddlebags of the itinerant better, and be more manageable generally.

The pages left blank by the printer now contain four inscriptions. Opening it on the left, in English fashion, we find these words, without date or view of any kind to show where or to whom they were written: "Francis Asbury's Hebrew Bible, left at Robert Hall, South Carolina." Opening it from the right, in Hebrew style, we find the owner's name written thus: "Francis Asbury's," but no date. Comparing the writing with the fac simile in Wakeley's "Lost Chapters," the signature proves to be genuine. On another page are these words: "William McKendree's, bequeathed by Francis Asbury," and again no date. I have no means at hand of verifying the fact, but I conclude that Bishop McKendree's will named thus noted his ownership, and how the book became his property.

The fourth inscription is in the well-known hands of Dr. George Peck: "This book was presented to George Peck by Rev. John M. Jones, of the Baltimore Conference, in the city of Alexandria, March, 1834."

If other proof were needed that Bishop Asbury, notwithstanding his incessant labors as an itinerant, was an industrious student, we find it abundantly in his journals. His references to books, and his comments on them, are, indeed, not as numerous nor as sharply critical as Wesley's, but there is evidence that he gathered up every golden moment for the purpose of gaining knowledge. The following extracts from his journal are of special interest in connection with the relic which prompted this writing:

"Lodged with Mr. Henry, a Jew. We read Hebrew part of the night, and I should have been pleased to have spent the night too accompanied with so good a sojourner." This was at Winnsboro, South Carolina, March 9, 1791.

At the close of the famous General Conference of 1792 Asbury journeyed southward, and notes, under the date of November 21, that he was "closely employed reading his Hebrew Bible."

The following is very significant: "We came to Little River bridge, crossed at S.'s ferry, and got lengthened cane, thoroughly wearied, to Brother Finch's. I expect we have been forced to ride twenty or thirty miles out of our way, among strangers, on account of high waters. My mind has been variously tried. I have been employed in improving myself in the Hebrew tones and points: this bring my horseback study." Journal, March 11, 1793.

This, then, is the identical book that the pioneer Bishop, in the midst of privations and labors which exceeded those of Wesley himself, still found time and energy to study with intense interest. But as we examine the well-worn volume we find numbers of the pages stained, as if they had been wet. Referring again to the journal, we find an occurrence named which may, perhaps, explain the discoloration:

"Monday.—Rose at five o'clock, and moved off pretty soon. We quickly hailed the ferryman, who had placed his that so as to be upset. He was obstinate, and could not alter her position. In shaped the horses, over went the skiff, our lives were endangered. The horses attained to the opposite shore by swimming, and, plunging through the mud, got on dry land. Our clothes and some of our books were wetted, but not spoiled."—January 23, 1811.

The Rev. Henry Boehm, the Bishop's traveling companion, tells the story more fully: "One of the most fearful perils he had was while I was with him at this ferry. I was holding the bridles of our horses, standing between their heads. Another ferryman came up with a canoe; I warned him not to let it strike our boat, but he did not heed the caution, and his canoe struck our scow, which so frightened one horse that he sprang against the other, and both went overboard. The Bishop and myself were also in danger of being knocked overboard and drowned, as the water was very deep. The Bishop was seated at the end of the scow, with his staff in his hand. One of the horses struck the staff and broke it; and a little more, and it might have broken his leg, or knocked the feeble old man overboard. * * * The Bishop's saddlebags were fastened to his saddle; mine were not, and they floated down stream. Our clothes, books and manuscripts were all well soaked. We spent hours in drying them, and then started on our journey."—Reminiscences, page 334.

This occurred in North Carolina, on Cape Fear river, at what was then called Governor Smith's Ferry.

The Rembert Hall to which reference is made as the place where the book was left by Bishop Asbury was somewhere in the central portion of South Carolina. The best light I have upon the subject is derived from the following record in Bangs's "Reminiscences." "We arrived at Camden, and put up with Samuel Matthis. On Sabbath morning Bishop Asbury preached. The Negro dinner was went to James Rembert's." The Hall was, therefore, near Camden, or, at the utmost, one day's ride from it, and as they were going to Charleston, I infer that it was southeast of Camden. But more important than the location is the fact that it was one of the South Carolina "homes" where the Bishop delighted to turn aside, and recruit his sorely-taxed energies among friends whom he loved, and who always gave him a generous welcome.

Boehm, describing a visit made by them in November, 1808, thus chronicles his impressions: "James Rembert, with whom we are staying, was a large man in body, and equally large in soul. He was very wealthy and very benevolent. He lived in a place called Rembert's Settlement, where was a church called Rembert's Chapel, and James Rembert was the beloved patriarch. Bishop Asbury had been here to Rembert's Hall several times before, and always had a hearty welcome."—Reminiscences, page 215. Bishop Asbury names him, in connection with Jacob Rumple and the elder Capers, saying of them that they were all "early friends to the Methodists in South Carolina," and that all three were then dead, having "left the world in the triumph of faith."—Journal, December, 1812.

New York Christian Advocate.

Feeding on God.

It is the grand endeavor of the gospel to communicate God to men. We have undertaken to live without him, and do not see that they are starving in the bitterness of their experiment. It is not, as with bodily hunger, where they have a sure instinct, compelling them to seek their food, but they go after the husks, and would fain be filled with these, not even so much as discerning what is their real want, or how it comes. For it is a remarkable fact that so few men, living in the flesh, have any conception that God is the necessary supply and nutriment of their spiritual nature, without which they famish and die. It has an extravagant sound when they hear it. They do not believe it. How can it be that they have any such high relation to the eternal God, or he to them? It is as if the tree were to say: What can I, a mere trunk of wood, all dark and split within, standing fast in my bed of ground, what can I have to do with the free, moving air, and the boundless sea of light that fills the world? And yet it is a nature made to feed on these, receiving them into its body to supply and vitalize and color every fiber of its substance. Just so it is that every finite spirit is inherently related to the infinite, in him to live and move and have its being. It was the knowledge of God, the eternal manifestation of God, the appropriation of God, and consciousness lighted up by this presence, to perceive of his fullness to receive of his might, to rest in his love, and be centered everlastingly on his glory. Apart from him it is an incomplete creature, a poor, dark fragment of existence, hungry, dry and cold. And still, alas! it cannot think so. Therefore Christ comes into the world to incarnate the divine nature, otherwise unapprehended before it; so to reveal God to its knowledge, enter him into its faith and being, make him a living bread, the food of its eternity. Therefore of his fullness we are called to be receiving of him freely grace for grace. When he is received he restores the consciousness of God, fills the soul with the divine light, and sets it in that connection with God which is life eternal.—Dr. Bushnell's Sermons for the New Life.

Christ as a Man.

These are John Stuart Mill's words in regard to Christ:

"It is Christ rather than God whom Christianity has held up to believers as the pattern of perfection for humanity. It is the God incarnate rather than the God of the Jews or of nature, who, being idealized, has taken so great and salutary a hold on the modern mind. And whatever else may be taken away from us by rational criticism, Christ is still left, a unique figure, not unapproached by his predecessors than all his followers, even those who had the direct benefit of his personal teaching. It is of no use to say that Christ, as exhibited in the gospels, is not historical, and that we know not how much of what is admirable has been superadded by the tradition of his followers. * * * Who among his disciples or among their proselytes was capable of inventing the sayings ascribed to Jesus, or of imagining the life and character revealed in the gospels? Certainly not the fishermen of Galilee; as certainly not St. Paul, whose character and idiosyncracies were of a totally different sort; still less the early Christian writers, in whom nothing is more evident than that the good which was in them was all derived, as they always professed that it was derived, from the higher source. * * * About the life and sayings of Jesus there is a stamp of personal originality combined with profundity of insight, which, if we abandon the idle speculation of finding scientific precision where something very different was aimed at, must place the Prophet of Nazareth, even in the estimation of those who have no belief in his inspiration, in the very first rank of the men of sublime genius of whom our species can boast. When this pre-eminent genius is combined with the qualities of probably the greatest moral reformer and martyr to that mission, who ever existed upon earth, religion cannot be said to have made a bad choice in pitching on this man as the ideal representative and guide of humanity; nor even now would it be easy, even for an unbeliever, to find a better translation of the rule of virtue, from the abstract into the concrete, than to endeavor so to live that Christ would approve our life."

THE BLIND SEAL SEE.—"One evening, about sundown," says the Rev. E. Kincaid, the missionary to India, "I stopped at a city on the Irawaddy. I sat on the boat, a short distance from the bank, and began to read from my tracts. The people sat on the shore; some, however, went to the town to say that a foreign teacher had come. The crowd increased, and I read on till sundown. At length a tall young man came wading to the boat and said: 'Teacher, have you the Acts of the Apostles?' Imagine my surprise at hearing such a question in that place. I replied: 'Yes.' He said again: 'Teacher, have you the Gospel of John?' He was evidently well educated. I asked, therefore: 'How did you learn about these books?' He told me that long ago his grandfather had obtained them from Mr. Judson, but had lost them in a great fire; and now, hearing of the foreign teacher, the old man had sent him for the hope of getting them again. I complied with his request and he hastened away. A storm soon came upon us, and I removed my boat to another part of the city, two miles distant.

"About eight o'clock in the evening the young man came again; he had been searching all along the shore for me. On his return to his grandfather, the latter inquired if the had asked the teacher to stay with him, and he had now come to invite me to his house. I went, and found the old man seated in the midst of his family. He put out his hand to feel for me, and I perceived that he was blind. His family had read to him, and he spoke of the comfort he had derived from John and the Acts. 'The eyes of my body,' he said, 'are dark, but the eyes of my mind are opened.'"

The custom of interlarding speeches with quotations from Latin and Greek authors has passed away. Formerly, however, those members of Congress who were college graduates were in the habit of "peppering and salting" their orations with choice extracts from the classics. On one occasion, in the House of Representatives, the eccentric John Randolph, of Virginia, made one of his peculiar speeches, and indulged in copious extracts from Latin and Greek poets. There was a member of the House named George Kremer, a representative of the primitive Dutch of Pennsylvania. As soon as Mr. Randolph had finished his speech Mr. Kremer rose, and, in a strain of well-acted indignation, poured forth a torrent of Pennsylvania Dutch upon the ears of the amazed Virginian. "Will the honorable gentleman from Pennsylvania," cried Randolph in his shrillest tones, "enlighten the House and the country by translating what he has just uttered?" "I have only to say in reply to my friend from Virginia," retorted Kremer, "that when he translates the dead languages, which he is constantly using for the benefit of his country members, into something like English, I will be equally liberal in translating my fellow Pennsylvania Dutch into something that the House can understand." The House roared with laughter, in which Randolph did not join.

EASTER DAY.—Mr. Spurgeon once went to preach in a church a little outside of London. The day was wet and muddy, and the pews of Mr. Spurgeon were plentifully covered with dirt. A good deacon in the vestry said: "Bro. Spurgeon, let me get a brush and take off some of that mud; you can't go into the pulpit in that state." "Don't be foolish, deacon," said Mr. Spurgeon, in his usual good-humored way; "don't you see the mud is wet, and if you try to brush it off now you will rub the stain into the cloth? Let it dry, and then it will come easy enough, and leave no mark." There is an admirable light here for every one. When evil spoken against as we may be for the sake of truth, just then throw mud on us, don't be in a hurry about brushing it off. Too great eagerness in this respect is apt to rub the stain into the cloth. Let it dry, and then, by and by, if need be, it can be removed by a little effort. If there is a little trouble in the church, don't foster it by haste and hurry in doing something. Let it alone—let it dry—and it will be more easily settled than you think now. Time has a wonderful power in such matters, and it is surprising how many things in this world would be far better arranged, and how many difficulties easily got over, by judiciously letting them dry.

An angry man opens his mouth and shuts his eyes.—Cato.

Religious Intelligence.

—The Lutherans have ordained three colored men to the ministry in North Carolina.

—The number of ordinations in the Church of England in September were 196, of whom 38 were university men.

—The Protestant Episcopal Evangelical Education Society received the past year nearly $25,000, with which it has aided seventy students.

—There are six Congregational churches and one mission in Savannah and vicinity. The largest of the churches has a congregation of four or five hundred.

—The Unitarians of Hungary have elected the Rev. Joseph Ferencz as their bishop. They have now one hundred and six churches. At the synod which chose the new bishop fifteen young men were ordained to the ministry.

—The Pope, on the occasion of the visit of four or five thousand pilgrims from Spain, appeared publicly in St. Peter's for the first time since Victor Emanuel entered Rome, six years ago. In his address to the pilgrims he referred to the wrongs he had suffered at the hands of the Italian government. "Who knows," he said, "that these afflictions of the church are not caused by sins of mine or by your failure to do your duty?" It was noticed that the holy father was pale and showed signs of increased feebleness.

—New York city has many fine churches, and many of these fine churches have very heavy debts. Here are some of the figures given: The Holy Trinity (Episcopal) has a debt of $250,000; Church of the Heavenly Rest, $150,000; Memorial Presbyterian church, $125,000; two other Presbyterian churches, $150,000; two Episcopal churches in Harlem, $70,000 each; a Methodist church, $10,000; 23 of the 27 Baptist churches have debts ranging from $15,000 to $75,000 each. The debts here referred to will make a total of about $1,700,000.

—The Yoruba mission on the West African coast has, as our readers are aware, been remarkably successful. Even during the years in which Europeans were excluded from the country the work of evangelization went steadily on, through the efforts of native Christians. The veteran missionary, Townshend, associated with the Yoruba mission from its commencement, now retires, and hence forth this enterprise will be entirely under native direction. Rev. James Johnson, formerly of Sierra Leone, and lately the pastor of a flourishing church at Lagos, will superintend the mission, in which there are four native ordained ministers, several well-qualified catechists, and two thousand native Christians. The chief stations are Abeokuta and Ibadan.

—The Madras mission of the American Lutherans (General Synod) in India makes a report every five years. According to the latest one, which brings the statistics down to 1875, there are 7 ordained missionaries connected with the mission, 2 native pastors, 2 evangelists, 2 catechists, 27 teachers of subdivisions, 2 Bible colporteurs and 26 teachers. The number of communicants is 1,543, of members, including children, 2,835; of backsliders, 241; and of scholars, 822. Since the beginning of the mission, there have been 3,663 baptisms, of which 355 were administered in 1875. The Anglo-vernacular High School, under the supervision of the Rev. H. L. Hill, has 6 teachers, and 127 pupils, who are included in the above statistics. We hope to receive a copy of the report soon, from which we can obtain further and fuller information of this apparently successful mission.

Mr. Barnum, of Harpoot, Eastern Turkey mission, mentions the arrival of the Sultan's telegram, which seems to have gone throughout the empire, appealing to faithful Moslems to rally against the "enemies of our race and our religion." This appeal to Moslem fanaticism has greatly excited the community. It makes the Turks rabid, and the Christians are in terror. Another missionary writes that the interior of Asia Minor is beginning to feel the excitement awakened by the Turkish Servian war. In many places the Turkish peasants take pleasure in sharpening their long, butcher knives before their Christian neighbors, and saying: "Only a few more days and we will give you your choice between Mohammedanism or death." The thing is meant as a grim joke, but forbodes serious consequences unless the Christian powers, warned by the massacres in Bulgaria, take united action in time.

The Malagasy churches of Madagascar have established a native missionary society, of which the Queen and the prime minister are members. It was formed at the January meeting of the union of the Malagasy churches, in the Province of Imerina, at which the prince and two chiefs of the Baptist tribe were present, and asked for missionaries for their people, who are represented as being very degraded. Two preachers, Ramisamanana and Rainbandzozefy, were appointed to return with the Baptist chiefs, and their expenses were provided for. The prime minister exhorted the chiefs to be diligent to learn. "We," said he, "were as ignorant as you are, and were idolaters, even as you are formerly; but when the word of God came we learned the evil of these things and gave them up; for the word of God alone is true wisdom, and the service of God and Jesus Christ is the best of all things." Prince Rasikora promised that his people would learn with all earnestness, and that the two missionaries should be well protected. In 1873 the number of professing Christians in Madagascar was estimated at half a million, with 700 churches and 26,000 children at school. Missions are carried on by the London, the Church and the Norwegian Missionary Societies, by the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, and by the Society of Friends.

Our Young People.

MORNING HYMN.

Dark night is gone away,
The sun is in the skies;
Again I see the light of day,
Again from sleep I rise.

Great God of all, here on my knees
To thee my thanks I pray;
How good to guard a child like me
By night as well as day!

I thank thee, Lord, for quiet rest,
And for thy care of me;
Oh, let me through this day be blessed,
And kept from harm by thee.

I know that thou on all dost look,
And all I do dost see;
So will I try to read thy book,
And to be loved by thee.

My father and my mother dear,
I would not vex this day;
But I am weak; then help me, Lord,
To mind each word they say.

From Our Little Friends.

GONZALES CO., TEX., Sept. 23, 1876.

DEAR EDITOR: As it has been a long time since I wrote you my first letter, that you were so kind as to publish, I feel anxious to write again. I still live with my uncle, W. J. Carnes. I left my mother's home more than a year ago. I did farewell to my mother, little brother and two sisters. One I will never see again on earth. My youngest sister died not long since. It grieves me much to think I will never see her again; but I know if I live right and become a good Christian, I will meet her in heaven, where parting is no more. I will try not to grieve at her loss. I know she is happy, and I should be content. The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away; blessed be the name of the Lord.

We are very healthy in Gonzales county. Crops are very good. There are some good camp meetings going on in several places; one just closed a few miles above, carried on by Rev. Thornberry, our circuit preacher. Thirty-two members joined and were converted. We hope to have a good meeting at our new church soon. Your little friend,

W. W. CARNES.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: We have a very flourishing Sunday school here in Bryan, which I attend regularly. Judge J. D. Thomas is our superintendent, and Rev. S. C. Littlepage is our pastor.

I will say, in answer, that the question asked by Jas. E. Mixon may be found in Acts xi, 5. I found this without any assistance whatever. Now I will ask a question: Where is the word reverend found in the Bible? It is mentioned but once.

It pleased the good Lord to take our little baby sister from us, whom we prized so much. She died on the eighth of October; was sick only two days. I have only one sister and three brothers left. I am not going to school now, but my sister is. She is two years older than I am. I am only eleven. Well, I will close for fear of wearying you.

Your little friend,

BERTIE SMITH.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: As I have never written to you before, I thought I would write a short letter. I think you are very kind to let the young folks have a corner in the ADVOCATE. Our Sabbath school is getting on finely since Bro. Sawyer has been here; and our congregation has increased also. Here he has been very ill. Hope and pray that he will be sent back to us next year. Oh, how I would like it, and I know that all the members of the Morgan Street church would be glad. He has been here for two years, and the members hope that the Bishop will send him back two years longer. I tell you he is a splendid preacher. I love my Sabbath school teacher, and am trying to serve her better. I am a member of the church, and am trying to be a Christian.

I am truly your friend,

MOREAU STREET CH., ——.

VICKSBURG, MISS., Nov. 27, 1876.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: I hope you will pardon me for troubling you again, but I thought I would drop you a few lines. Our Sunday school is growing in numbers and interest. We have raised for foreign missions in our Sunday School Missionary Society this year $15. We have a good superintendent. His name is Mr. H. W. Bushman. All the scholars love him very much, especially myself. My papa goes to Conference on the twenty-sixth of this month. We are going to have a Christmas tree for our Sunday school.

Your little friend,

MAGGIE NOUSWORTHY.

The Doe and Her Young.

BY GEORGE R. GRIFFITH.

The deer is a gentle, loving creature, intelligent, and capable of being perfectly tamed. At this season the timid doe, prompted by instinct, retires to the most sheltered nook of the woods, whose the hunter's step rarely falls, and the ever-pursuing fury of the hound shall not startle her soft little ones. She selects a hiding-place with much foresight, often near a spring, or rill fringed with grass, that hunger may not force her far away from her fawns. She now lives a very secluded life, and it is by the rarest fortune that the hunter discovers her. For weeks the life of the poor creature is but a series of alarms; she dares venture out only for a moment, and only when keen hunger drives her, for the fox, the weasel, and a host of lesser vermin, watch her going forth, to steal in and destroy her home.

Let the reader which with us at this cover. It is even an old hunter's boast to have witnessed a scene like this. We shall not have to wait long. Hark! she is coming even now. The trailing arbutus move slightly and part, and the doe trips out, half proudly and half timidly. She stops short, and nervously turns her large, quick ears, now forward, now backward, to test the rustling breeze for any unseen danger. A long time she stands with one foreleg slightly lifted, and her large liquid eyes search into every nook in the glen. She is gaunt, and her coat is dry and rough in spots, for her motherly cares and alarms have wrought severely upon the gentle creature.

At length, after a long while, she seems satisfied, trots a few steps away from the cover, but only to halt at a few rods' distance, and fondly looks back upon the spot that holds her treasures and her cares. Finally convinced that the coast is indeed clear, she starts off down the glen at a quicker, more decided trot, and is out of sight. She has gone to the brook, eighty rods away, to crop the wild water grass. One who has seen this will hardly again draw a trigger upon so motherly a creature.

Now that the doe is away, perhaps we may steal to her fawns. These treasures of hers! If so, we must be quick and silent about it, for she is likely not to be away long, and the most trifling whim getting into her head would send her back any moment. Let us creep to the far side of her retreat, and there wind our way flat on the ground, under the heavy spice bushes. This should be the spot, the center of the thicket, but where is her bed? You don't see it; a careless eye would not detect it. In that tangle of moss.

But our guide tells us to peer more closely and surely there is the slightest of pulsations under that blanket somewhere; it rises and sinks, as if to the faint breathing of sound sleep. He lifts the moss aside, and, ah! there they are, two of the truest of satin-coated, velvet-spotted nestlings, huddled up together. The little hoofs that hardly would cover a fifteen cent piece shine like polished ebony. What a look of innocent wonder is in the large, tame eyes. They do not start or shrink with terror, for they long to question. This one raises its head to lick your hand, and rubs its velvet nose against your palm, and appears really to like your caresses. But they shiver; the damp, raw air of this spruce thicket is too chilly, and we must hurry away, lest the anxious mother finds us in her nest, and be frightened away, never to return. So replace the moss, warm and downy, over the tender, little little beauties in their tint, coat of yellow, spotted with white, and we will go softly away, leaving no broken twig or a sign.

We have gazed our hiding-place not a second too soon, for there is a quick patter of hoofs upon the hard ground, and back bounds the doe all alert and refreshed. She does not pull now to test the breeze, but disappears instantly behind the dense screen of her cover. We shall see her no more to-day, so let us depart, and it, hereafter, as we cross the stream which is her resort, if a hound should strike this doe's trail we will call him off, for they sometimes drive the timid mother from her covert, and so be the little ones into danger.

HOW TO CURE A BAD MEMORY.—Your memory is bad, perhaps; but I can tell you two secrets that will cure the worst memory. One I mentioned above—to read a subject when strongly interested. The other is to not only read, but think. When you have read a paragraph or a page stop, close the book, and try to remember the ideas on that page and not only recall them vaguely in your mind, but put them into words, and speak them out. Faithfully follow these two rules, and you have the golden keys of knowledge. Besides intelligent reading, there are other things injurious to memory. One is the habit of skimming over newspapers, items of news, smart remarks, bits of information, political reflections, fashion notes, all in a confused jumble, never to be thought of again, thus diligently cultivating a habit of careless reading hard to break. Another is the reading of trashy novels. Nothing is so fatal to reading with profit as the habit of running through story after story, and forgetting them as soon as read. I know a gray-haired woman, a lifelong lover of books, who sadly declares that her mind has been ruined by such reading.

A help to memory is repetition. Nothing is so certain to keep your French fresh and ready for use as to have always on hand an interesting story in that language to take up for ten minutes every day. In that case you will not "forget your French" with the majority of your schoolmates.—Olive Thorne, in St. Nicholas.

At a collection made at a charity fair a lady offered the plate to a rich man who was well known for his stinginess. "I have nothing," was the curt reply. "Then take something, sir," said the lady, "you know I am begging for the poor."

At our last ministerial meeting an old lady, when she thought of the doctrine of total depravity, said: "Oh!" she said, "I think it is a good doctrine, if the people would only act up to it."

Rosseau used to say: "To write a good love letter you ought to begin without knowing what you mean to say, and to finish without knowing what you have written."

The Christian Advocate.

Organ of the Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences of the M. E. Church South.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1876.

REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D., Editor.

ROBT. J. HARP, PUBLISHER.

OFFICE—112 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS

Address, on all matters of business, Rev. R. J. HARP, 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

Address all communications designed for publication to Rev. LINUS PARKER, 112 Camp street New Orleans.

AGENTS—All the members of the Patronizing Conferences.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.
REV. EDWARD WADSWORTH, D. D.
REV. A. J. BRIGGS.
REV. J. W. RUSH.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. H. WATKINS, D. D
REV. JAMES A. GODFREY
REV. J. G. JONES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. CHRISTIAN KEENER.
REV. JOHN MATHEWS.
REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D.

CHANGE OF RATES.

The New Orleans Christian Advocate will be furnished to subscribers hereafter at the following rates, including postage:

One Year	$2 00
Six Months	1 13
Three Months	75

To all Ministers of the Gospel and widows of deceased traveling preachers, half the above rates.

FREE ONE YEAR

to any person forwarding to us four new yearly subscribers, with EIGHT DOLLARS.

Work Made Manifest.

Reports of work done, and of results, are among the most important things that occupy the columns of a religious paper or the time of an Annual Conference. The conversion of souls, and their admission to church privileges and duties, are items of vast significance for both worlds. The creation and improvement of church property, and the raising of funds for missions, and other religious and benevolent purposes, tell upon the welfare of society, and affect the eternal destiny of men. Every Christian feels an interest in these matters, and they are to him far more notable and important than a thousand other items which interest and excite the world at large.

Very natural it is also that those who have been instrumental in doing good and in building up the church should desire to have the credit of such success as has crowned their labors. Sometimes we have thought that the brethren exhibit some degree of over-anxiety about the credit due them, and that personal considerations obtrude. In a system like ours, or in any system for that matter, it is desirable that the effective and successful men should be known. But this is likely to be, and in a more weighty manner, where no particular pains are taken to secure to ourselves the last grain of merit which our work may possess. Real merit is very apt to find appreciation. Good fruit will somehow be traced to the tree that bears it. The great cathedral perpetuates the memory of its architect and builder, although his name is nowhere carved upon it. These reports are not always like those which the Queen of Sheba heard of Solomon's glory. Rather more than half is generally told.

There are results that cannot be gathered up in the form of statistics, and it may sometimes happen that those whose tabular showing is meager have done even a higher and better work than those who exhibit more appreciable results. It may sometimes happen. We must not press this conclusion too far. Figures, fairly set down, exhibit what is done in part; but there is a valuable and even a vital element which figures do not describe, and without which the figures themselves may be misleading. The results of a revival and a large accession of members will be better known a year hence. The spiritual state of the church, the spirituality, the religious intelligence, the liberality, the active usefulness, cannot always be inferred. Here is a Sunday school well organized, prosperous and well appointed, on paper; but what is it doing? What is the quality of its teaching, and the measure of its spiritual power? Last year the pastor received many members, this year but few, or vice versa. His best year's work may have been that in which figures can make no exhibit whatever. There is a vast difference in the quality of the work done, as between the work of the same man at different times, and as between the work of different men. The greatest showing of numbers does not always indicate the healthiest and most permanent results.

We never listen to reports, nor do we print them, without recalling Paul's admonitory and cautionary words about the one foundation, and the heed we are to take how we build thereupon. The superstructure of our building may be gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble. It is true that the sincere builder, though he build wood, hay, stubble, may be saved so as by fire, but by his unwisdom he forfeits any special reward. There are starless crowns. One defect of statistics is that they are not discriminating. We cannot certainly gather from them how much of the building is gold, silver, precious stones, and how much is made up of the lighter but more bulky materials. Knowledge of the workman and of the work will give some idea, but the figures alone are incapable of distinguishing that which shall stand from that which shall be burned.

With these necessary defects in reports, and with the evident impossibility of knowing all merit, and of giving just credit to those who "are laborers together with God," it is as comforting as it is admonitory to be assured that "every man's work shall be made manifest; for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is." Such a manifestation cannot be now. Our estimates may look in that direction, but they may be erroneous, and at best we can only approximate the final decision. People who are morbidly sensitive about the credit due them, and not readily accorded, may comfort themselves with the inspired declaration that their work will be duly estimated in that day. As for those noble and better souls who care little about the credit, so the work is done, and Christ's name is exalted, it would be a comfort to them if they needed it.

There will be a sifting some day—a day of revelation, and a revelation by fire. Work has to be tried long after the report of it has gone upon the earthly records. Of what sort it is there may be reason for doubt now, but the fire shall try every man's work. The trials of time, the temptations, the experiences of life, contact with the world, reveal much; but eternity alone can fully manifest the quality of our work. We must work for eternity. The annual review stimulates and encourages and reproves. The last and searching ordeal will be humiliating enough, unless the work has been well and faithfully done.

Mississippi Conference.

This body assembled in Natchez, November 29. Bishop Wightman was in the chair, and opened the Conference. He looks in excellent health, and presides with vigor. There is courtliness of manner, abundant patience, and at the same time a directness and energy most refreshing to witness. Dr. C. G. Andrews is the secretary this year and always, and no Conference has a better. Rev. John A. B. Jones, Rev. J. Smylie and John T. Cameron, Esqs., are the assistants, and have been for years. During the first day's session—Wednesday—the examination of the character of elders was completed. Friday finished nearly all the regular minute business. The subject of young preachers marrying was discussed lengthily on Thursday. Bishop Wightman and Dr. Marshall delivered their testimony against the expediency of marrying until the young men have passed their course of studies, and have established themselves as capable and effective preachers. This seemed to be the mind of the elder brethren generally. A disposition was evinced by the Conference to be somewhat rigid in the examination of the undergraduates, and to exact the full disciplinary standard of proficiency.

On Friday W. W. Hopper, Beverly Carradine, R. T. Davis, V. Hicks Nelson and Curtis D. Cecil were admitted into full connection. A class of promising young men. The Bishop gave them a good stout talk, and, through them, much sound advice to all the preachers. The preachers must be spiritual, living conductors of vital influences to the people. They must read discriminatingly—not many books, but make themselves masters of a few, and beware of wasting time on newspapers and light literature. Watson's Institutes and Sermons were especially commended to them. The book of human nature must be studied—the "day side" and the "night side" of it—the perishing condition of the people and the means of saving them. The Bishop advised emphatically against reading sermons, and for length laid down this rule: Make a landing as soon as you fail to interest your hearers. And many other wise and good things were said—pertinent and to general edification.

A band of noble young men were admitted on trial on Saturday, to wit: Clarence A. Powell, Benjamin F. Jones, J. Perry Drake, David M. Rush, Inman W. Cooper, Thomas C. Bradford, Few Ball, William W. Simmons, Benton S. Rayner. Of these Bro. Drake is a son of Dr. R. M. Drake, of precious memory; Bro. Cooper is a son of Preston Cooper, well known to Mississippi Methodists, and Bro. Rush is a professor in Centenary College.

Reports from Centenary, Whitworth, East Mississippi and Port Gibson represented these institutions as more prosperous than heretofore. The report of the committee on the Bible cause was up for discussion before we left, and the interests of the Southwestern Bible Society were ably represented by the agent, Rev. James A. Ivy. The place for the next session of the Conference was discussed at length, the contest being between Yazoo City and Jackson, Miss. The best talk was for Yazoo City, but Jackson received a majority of the votes.

The memorial service came on at eleven A. M. Saturday. The hymn, "Come, let us join our friends above," was given out by the Bishop, and the Conference stood and sung it heartily. Only one preacher had died during the year—Rev. James Long, a venerable superannuate, eighty-four years old, and a man of God. C. E. Gillespie read a brief and excellent memoir of the departed patriarch, several brethren gave feeling testimony to his worth, and the Bishop added a few words of great pathos. Bro. Long had been a Protestant Methodist until within the last few years. His was a long and faithful ministry, and his end was peace.

We were compelled to leave Natchez on Saturday evening before the reports came in. The only statistics we could gather are: Collections for domestic missions, $1,435; for foreign missions, $1 420 80; Conference collection, $1,770, leaving a deficit of something over $800. The collections generally, we understood, are a trifle more than last year. The receipts of the preachers have been exceedingly inadequate, not much over sixty per cent., we judge, having been paid on their allowances. This is a sad showing, especially in view of the reported spiritual prosperity and many conversions. Of the preaching, we heard Bros. Linfield and Galloway—both superior sermons. On Thanksgiving day, at eleven A. M., Bishop Wightman preached the first sermon in the handsome audience-room, up stairs, of the new church. The house was full, and the sermon a masterly one, and adapted to the occasion. Natchez had not seen a Methodist Bishop for many years, and the people appreciated this opportunity.

The Conference never appeared better than at this session. For ability, harmony, good looks and grace we know of no Conference that can claim pre-eminence. J. G. Jones, the venerable, contributes to the business and deliberations the fruits of a ripe experience. Drs. Watkins, Marshall, Andrews, are the D. D.'s. Linfield, Hunnicutt, Featherston, Ben. Jones, Forsyth, Leith, Godfrey, Price and a score of others, such as Ellis, Johnson, Adkisson and Woodward, are all wise and prominent in affairs. May God's blessing rest upon them all. It is a noble Conference, and it is doing a great work for Christ. Our home during our stay in Natchez was under the hospitable roof of Mr. T. C. Pollock, an elder in the Presbyterian Church. God bless him and his house. The secretary, Dr. Andrews, has promised to forward appointments in time for our next issue.

Ye Must be Born Again.

The necessity for this great spiritual renovation arises out of the fact that we have lost the holy "likeness and image" in which we were created. Inspiration declares that we are fallen and vile—from the crown of the head to the sole of the feet there is no soundness. We are covered with wounds and bruises that have not been bound up, nor mollified with ointment. Our "sins have separated between us and God." We are morally unlike and utterly incompatible with God. We cannot see his kingdom nor enter into his rest until we are renewed in the spirit of our minds. We know it is true everywhere, and of all elements and beings, that if incompatible they cannot be harmonized until the antagonism is destroyed or neutralized. Light and darkness cannot co-exist in the same place. Oil and water, being incompatible, will not unite unless a new and neutralizing element is introduced. Birds of like feather and beasts of like nature associate, and only such. Opposite natures remain apart. Among men, individuals of totally different education, sentiments and habits, finding nothing in common, soon separate for more congenial associations. This is strikingly obvious and true, spiritually considered. The sinner takes no pleasure in the society of the Christian as such, and because he is a godly man. It is true that as citizens, as members of the body politic and social; as parents and children, as men who buy and sell, there is much in common; and in all these relations their association may be pleasant. But when the sinner manifests himself, as such, by the violation of some law of God, he at once becomes in that regard, and to that extent, an unpleasant associate to the Christian. When the Christian brings out the devotional or self-denying side of his character he becomes an uncongenial and unsatisfactory companion to the sinner. The sinner does not sympathize nor participate—he looks on as a mere spectator. He may have intelligence and liberality enough to leave the believer in the undisturbed enjoyment of his habits and devotions, but this is the limit. He takes no part nor lot in the believer's songs and prayers.

Suppose, for illustration, we assume that the claim of God upon the sinner's affections and obedience could be set aside, and the unregenerate admitted into the society of the good and the glorified. What would be his condition? He would feel no love to God, and could take no delight in him, see no beauty that he should desire him. His ear would drink in no melody from the songs of the holy choristers, his tongue would not be turned to the strains of the blest. There would not be a chord in his heart that would vibrate in unison with the songs and sentiments of the blood-besprinkled bands and immortal millions of the new creatures in Christ Jesus. Heaven would be to the unregenerate man a wide and cheerless waste, and the sinner would feel the desolation of "a stranger in a strange land," and in the isolation and bitterness of his despair would wish to escape, and call for rocks and mountains to hide him. The moral fitness of things demonstrate, beyond all successful reply, that the sinner must be born again.

But the assumption we have been considering cannot be entertained. The immutable principles of the divine government cannot be set aside. God has not only promised his people that they shall be free from the harassing labors of this probationary state, but that "the wicked shall cease from troubling," and that he will separate between the righteous and the wicked—between those that serve him and those that serve him not. God has declared that the "pure in heart shall see him"—that nothing impure and unclean shall enter into his holy heaven. Nicodemus was a ruler of the Jews, a Pharisee, and, after the strictest sect, a man of prayers, alms and fasting, and yet the great Teacher said to him: "Nicodemus, honorable as you are, moral as you are, strict observer of the law as you are, you must be born again, or you cannot see the kingdom of God." Perhaps no unregenerate man had higher claims than Nicodemus, but the Master said it was imperative, if he would see the kingdom of God, that he should be "born of the Spirit."

The first and great commandment is that we must "love the Lord our God with all our heart." But the "carnal mind is enmity to God; it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be." It cannot love God until the carnal nature is crucified with Christ, and "raised to newness of life" "by the renewing of the Holy Ghost." Unrenewed men may be moral men, and the unrenewed man may give up bad habits, break off from bad associations, and even forsake bad opinions, but he cannot renew himself in the spirit of his mind. The same almighty power that created man in the likeness and image of God must restore that image—we must be "born of God." Love is the grand necessity. We may have all else, "all knowledge," "understand all mysteries," have "all faith," "speak with the tongues of men and angels, give all our goods to feed the poor," meet a martyr's doom, "and give our bodies to be burned," but without love all is unprofitable and vain, "a sounding brass, a tinkling cymbal;" but the carnal mind does not, cannot love God. We must be born again. How else can the muddy fountain send forth a pure stream? How the corrupt tree bring forth good fruit? Causes must and will produce effects like themselves—a holy life can only flow from a renewed and holy heart. No rite, no matter how solemn or scriptural or proper, can make us "new creatures."

"No outward forms can make us clean;
The leprosy lies deep within.
No bleeding bird nor bleeding beast,
Nor hyssop branch, nor sprinkling priest,
Nor running brook, nor flood nor sea,
Can wash the dismal stain away."

"We must be born again." W.

North Texas Conference.

MR. EDITOR: The North Texas Conference convened at Longview on the fifteenth and adjourned on the twenty-second instant. Bishop Doggett did not arrive until Thursday, jaded with the arduous labors of the German Mission, West Texas and Northwest Texas Conferences. There was a full attendance of the ministry and a large attendance of laymen. The ministerial members, with a few exceptions, are in the vigor of manhood, and zealous for the cause of their Master. The reports from the various works will show a deficiency of at least forty per cent. in the assessments for the support of the ministry. A little over $2,000 was raised for missions. The total membership throughout the Conference is something over nineteen thousand. While churches valued at $135,000 are reported, only eight parsonages have been provided for the embassadors of Christ.

Dr. Redford was present, representing the Publishing House at Nashville. His mission has been successful, while his ministrations among the people have been acceptable and instructive.

Several transfers were received. Among them were Edwards, of the Alabama Conference; Harris, of the Illinois; and Robert H. Reed, of the Kentucky, formerly of the Louisiana Conference. The Conference is full to overflowing, and it would be well for any member of another Conference who wishes to transfer here to ponder carefully the step before he takes it.

By invitation of the Conference Bishop Doggett delivered his centennial address on the progress of Methodism. More than one hour and a half was occupied in its delivery. It ought to be issued by our Publishing House at Nashville in pamphlet form for the masses of our members. It is a wonderful amount of information in a compendious form.

Inclosed I send you the appointments for the present Conference year.

J. F. SCURLOCK.

LONGVIEW, TEXAS, Nov. 27, 1876.

Southern University.

The Southern Watchman, published at Greensboro, Ala., has the following editorial notice of the university:

We are gratified to be able to state that this institution has begun its new session under most favoring auspices, and we feel authorized to predict for it a career of increasing usefulness and prosperity.

Perhaps we could not do a work more agreeable to our readers, or more profitable to the public at large, than by giving a brief statement of some of the grounds upon which the foregoing utterance is justified.

And, first, we have confidence in Chancellor Smith and his faculty. The chancellor is, in every sense of the expression, fitted for his position—a Christian gentleman, an accomplished scholar, a brave, true man. He not only knows what education is, in the broadest sense of the term, but from nearly thirty years' experience is fully qualified to adjust and direct the instrumentalities at his command to the work which he has undertaken. But, as even an able and faithful man might fail because of the delinquencies or incapacity of his subordinates, it may not be amiss to add, in this connection, that he has never been so well pleased with any corps of instructors with whom he has been associated.

It can hardly be necessary to commend the ability and faithfulness of Prof. Moore to the people of Alabama. Fully competent to the duties of any department in the university, he consults his own preference in adhering to his old chair, that of mathematics.

The other professors have been chosen with special regard to their aptitudes, and are all delighted with their work and their association.

The only man in the faculty that had not been tried, before the opening of the term, is Prof. A. W. Smith, of the Preparatory School. As to this gentleman, we need only state that the school is better conducted than at any former period in its history.

A faculty capable, faithful, and united, in spirit and purpose, under such a head, cannot but succeed.

Again, the work already done is a sure omen of success. In fact it is but the first fruit of what is to come. A more studious, orderly and courteous set of young gentlemen it has never been our good fortune to meet. Since Dr. Smith took charge of the university there has not been a misdemeanor among the students calling for extreme or even severe penalty. A stranger would scarcely perceive that there is a university in Greensboro but for the sight of students going to chapel, book in hand, in the morning, and returning home after evening prayers. We are satisfied that when those young gentlemen go home in the vacation they will have something to show as proof that their term's work has been well done. And when they go forth into the world, with the imprimatur of the Southern University, they will be men of whom their preceptors need not be ashamed.

Still further, the community is inspired with a confidence in the university never felt before. It could scarcely be otherwise under the existing state of facts. If Greensboro could endow the university it would be effected. If Greensboro could fill the university halls with students they would be filled. But Greensboro is doing her duty.

If the faculty could only board and educate young men gratuitously, as some others profess to do, no doubt we should soon be overrun with matriculates. This the Southern University does not undertake. And yet the charges are less here than at any institution of similar grade in this country. We are no advocates of the system of gratuitous education. We are convinced that when education costs nothing it is generally worth nothing. By the late circular sent out from the university it will be seen, however, that a five years' course here will cost less than $1,000. Any sensible man knows that this will be worth $10,000 in the actual income of dollars and cents. This is therefore one of the best investments that parents can make for their children, or the children for themselves. Verbum sat sapientibus.

Books and Periodicals.

NATIONAL REPOSITORY. JANUARY, 1877, Cincinnati: Hitchcock & Walden; New York: Nelson & Phillips.

This magazine is the successor of the Ladies' Repository. In keeping with its change of name, the National aims to be a monthly of general interest, and equal in respectability and culture to the very best periodicals of the day. A good beginning has been made in this first number. It is very tastefully gotten up—excellent illustrations, tinted paper, its whole material and mechanical execution of the best. Dr. Curry will succeed if he is supplied with the sinews of war. The table of contents is a very able and attractive one. Among the articles we note: From Suez to Jerusalem; Macaulay; Mother and Sister; Wesley's University Sermons; That Boy—Who Shall Have Him? George Sand; Precious—The Story of a Life. Price $3 a year in advance, postage paid.

DAISY TRAVERS OR THE GIRLS OF RIVE HALL. By Adelaide F. Samuels.

Twelve-mo, 248 pages. Price, $1.50. Very richly bound and illustrated.

WINWOOD CLIFF, OR OSCAR, THE SAILOR'S SON. By Daniel Wise, D. D.

Twelve-mo, 314 pages, illustrated. Price, $1.25.

THE WINGED LION, OR STORIES OF VENICE. By Prof. James DeMille.

Illustrated, 12mo, 323 pages, Price $1.50.

FLAXIE FRIZZIE. By Sophie May. Illustrated, 12mo, 182 pages. Price 75 cents.

These four books are stories of much merit, and will be the very thing for presents to young people. They are published by Lee & Shepard, Boston, and by Charles T. Dillingham, New York. For sale by Eyrich, New Orleans.

OUR WHY, SHOULD THE SPIRIT OF MORTALS BE PROUD? By William Knox. Illustrations by Miss L. H. Humphrey. Engraved by John Andrew & Son. Boston: Lee & Shepard; New York: Charles T. Dillingham, 1877.

A little poem on the brevity of life and the end of it—a poem full of tenderness and beauty, with an exquisite engraving illustrating the imagery of each stanza. A very handsome gift for the approaching holidays. For sale by Eyrich, New Orleans. Price, $2.

THE POETICAL AND PROSE WRITINGS OF CHARLES SPRAGUE. Boston: A. Williams & Co., 1876.

This is a new edition of Sprague's works, very handsomely gotten up, and the most satisfactory of any. It has an excellent portrait of the author, and a biographical sketch. Two hundred and seven pages, 12mo. Price, $1.50.

—Appleton's Journal for December is an unusually excellent number. It has a Frontispiece—Hackling Flax; Some of Our Game Birds, Illustrated; Old-Time France, Illustrated; Syria Under the Last Five Turkish Sultans; The Rocking Stone of Tregnie; Morris Island; George Sand at Home; The Tower of Percemont; New York, and other articles.

—The Galaxy for December has After Long Years; The Story of Aspasia; People and Pictures at the Fair; The Site of Constantinople; Prof. Hulfman's Folly; A Chapter on the History of Art in America; Gettysburg—Reply to Gen. Howard by Gen. Winfield S. Hancock, and other articles.

—Vick's Floral Guide for 1877 is a very beautifully illustrated pamphlet, published quarterly, at twenty-five cents a year. It contains a large and complete catalogue of seeds, plants, flowers and fruit trees. Published by James Vick, Rochester, New York.

—Scribner's Monthly for December has: Bay Shooting, Illustrated; Mr. Quatty's Great Speech; Our Diplomats and Consuls; Stogie-Cellared Plants, Illustrated; Lafayette College, Illustrated; Toad Lane; Rochdale, Illustrated; An American in Turkistan; Sauntering About Constantinople, and other articles.

—Ditson & Co. have in press, and will soon issue the following musical works:

Biographical Sketches of Eminent Musical Composers, arranged in chronological order, by Madame L. R. Urbino, including sketches of Mendelssohn, Beethoven, Mozart, Handel, Bach, Haydn, and all other musical celebrities. Price, $2.

World of Song, a book of 240 pages, sheet music size, comprising a fine selection of nearly 100 popular songs, ballads and duets in a cheap form, that would cost $30 to $40 if bought as separate pieces. The price will be $2.50 in boards, $3 cloth, and $4 full gilt.

—Morton's Monthly Home and School for November has: The Feast of Bulls, Illustrated; Practical Elocution; Menagerie and Museum; Notable Housewives; Studies in Nature and Art, and other articles.

CONFERENCE SESSIONS.

CONFERENCE.	PLACE.	BISHOP.	TIME.
Denver	Colorado Spgs.	Marvin	Aug. 25
Western	Nebraska City	McTyeire	Aug. 30
St. Louis	Washington	McTyeire	Sept. 6
Missouri	Hannibal	McTyeire	Sept. 13
Kentucky	Nicholasville	Keener	Sept. 13
Columbia	Corvallis, Ore.	Marvin	Sept. 15
W. Virginia	Charleston	Kavanaugh	Sept. 20
Illinois	Jacksonville	Paine	Sept. 20
S.W. Missouri	Miami	McTyeire	Oct. 4
Tennessee	Columbia	Keener	Oct. 4
Louisville	Louisville	Wightman	Oct. 4
Pacific	San Francisco	Marvin	Oct. 11
Indian Mission	Vinita, Ind. T.	McTyeire	Oct. 12
Holston	Bristol	Wightman	Oct. 18
Arkansas	Yellville	Keener	Oct. 18
Los Angeles	S. Bernardino	Marvin	Oct. 20
West Texas	Seguin	Doggett	Oct. 25
German Miss.	Brazoy Park	Doggett	Nov. 1
N. W. Texas	Calvert	Doggett	Nov. 8
North Texas	Longview	Doggett	Nov. 15
Memphis	Memphis	Pierce	Nov. 15
Virginia	Richmond	Kavanaugh	Nov. 15
N. Mississippi	Sarilla	Pierce	Nov. 22
Texas	Hunt-ville	Doggett	Nov. 29
N. Carolina	Greensboro	Kavanaugh	Nov. 29
White River	Batesville	Keener	Nov. 29
Mississippi	Natchez	Wightman	Nov. 29
Alabama	Greensboro	Paine	Dec. 6
N. Georgia	Sparta	Pierce	Dec. 6
S. Georgia	Saundersville	Pierce	Dec. 13
S. Carolina	Chester	Kavanaugh	Dec. 13
N. Alabama	Decatur	McTyeire	Dec. 13
Little Rock	Arkadelphia	Keener	Dec. 13
Louisiana	Trenton	Wightman	Dec. 13
East Texas	Henderson-ville	Doggett	Dec. 13
Florida	Monticello	Pierce	Jan. 11
Baltimore	Alexandria	Kavanaugh	Mar. —

Card of Thanks to Steamer Katie.

The undersigned ministers and laymen, passengers on the steamer Katie, en route to the Mississippi Annual Conference at Natchez, November 29, 1876, hereby express to Capt. Tobin and other officers of the boat their grateful appreciation of courtesies and favors received at their hands.

C. G. ANDREWS.
LINUS PARKER.
A. M. CAMPBELL.
N. B. YOUNG.
E. D. BRAME.
J. NICHOLSON.
J. L. FORSYTH.
D. M. RUSH.
THOMAS PRICE.
D. MERCHANT.
WILEY BROWN.

STEAMER KATIE, Nov. 28, 1876.

NOTICE.—Any of the members of the Louisiana Annual Conference who may desire to go to Trenton by rail, can procure round-trip tickets from New Orleans to Jackson for full fare and one-fifth one way, and return free. The Vicksburg and Texas road takes us to Monroe for full fare going, and returns us free. The time by rail from New Orleans to Trenton is twenty-four hours.

J. B. WALKER.

To be bodily tranquil, to speak little and digest without effort, are absolutely necessary to grandeur of mind or of presence, or to proper development of genius.—Balzac.

The law is not now a covenant, still it is a rule. Though we cannot be justified, we must be guided, by it.—First Timothy I, 8; Romans vii, 7.

If we look upon life as a gift of days, one at a time, all its duties can be done, all its burdens borne.

The shortest way to arrive at glory would be to do that for conscience which we do for glory.

After a long time the Lord of those servants cometh and reckoneth with them.

Publisher's Department.

Acknowledgements of Letters and Funds

RECEIVED BY MAIL,

For the Week Ending Dec. 2, 1876.

A—W G Andrews two letters $20, N W Ayer & Son, Philip Allen $4, J E Aiken.

B—T L Beard, J C Brogan $11.20, J Ball & Co, J M Berry $6.70, D B Brown, J Bowen, Horace Beauchamp, J L Britten, M C Blackburn, H F Hinkins, Boorum & Pease.

C—Hutchins & Ainsworth, Timmins Cotton $1.25, J M Curtis $5.80, J H Curtis $5, L C Calhoun $2, Cooper Bros $2, William D Christian, H M Crowder, W H Carley, Mrs Bella Carlile, Cassell, Petter & Galpin, R J Carroll 50 cents.

D—F A Dicks, R H Dabney, Charles T Dillingham, Donaldson & Co, H A Dalton 25 cents.

E—H M Ewells, M M Eastman.

F—E N Freshman & Bros, D F Fuller, Ella Forman, Edwin H Fay, D W Foster $1.50, J Haney, J Filley, Miss Beckie Farrell.

G—H Gwinner & Bro, J T Gresham, John Gibson.

H—E J Hale & Son, L Hughes, A H Hughes, Harper & Bros, Williston Herl, R H Howard $1, T J Hogan, J W Hogan $1, Joseph Q Hicks $10.10, Miss Kate Hubbard 25 cents, Charles Hutchings 50 cents.

I—Ivison, Blakeman, Taylor & Co.

J—H F Johnson $100, W J Joyce, C W Jackson, Miss F A Johnson $1.85, W J Johnson $1.

L—Henry Lindenmeyer, S H Love, J M Longmoor.

M—Moss, Wise & Co $3.80, W M Motley, G McPherson, E Martin, W R McKown $4.15, John H Malone, F A McKechnie, Mrs Louisa McNair, E M Montgomery 40 cents, William E Mickle $10, Alonzo Monk $2, D M Marsh $1, F A Mood, Mrs A J Munro, W F Mellen $15, Mitchell & Benson, H McCallen $2.

N—Evan Nicholson $2, J T Newcomer, C B Nugent, New York State Paint Company.

O—W P Owen $18.95.

P—George H Packer $2, John Pehrlink.

R—Irvin Roberts, C F Richardson, Thomas F Rangle, J K Randall, George P Rowell & Co, B H Ross, Rogers & Bro, F T Rayson.

S—Smith, Dixon & Co, W R Shaft, Frank D Skinner, J F Scurlock, H T Scott, State Agricultural and Mechanical College $70.84, M A Schaeffer, W W Sharpe & Co, E G Schehnert & Co, Mrs S H Spencer, J P Stevens 75 cents, Miss Carnelia J Sharbrough, W C Stevens Sheldon & Co.

T—James A Trime, O Taylor, Mrs S E H Tarrant, E W Tarrant $9.25, John F Tyler $7.01.

U—University Publishing Company.

V—F D Van Valkenburg $23.55, George P Vickers.

W—Horace Waters & Son, Thos Ward White, J Weaver & Co, H H Warren $1.50, T H Weldon, W H Woodruff, R H Withers & Co, J S Winn, L C Willborn, C R Williamson.

POSTOFFICES.

If all the preachers in whom the ADVOCATE is being sent, whose appointments will necessitate a change of postoffice, will advise us of it once they will save us much trouble.

LEGAL BUSINESS in St. Louis may be safely intrusted to William F. Meyer, Esq., whose card appears among our new advertisements. He is a safe, worthy, capable and attentive attorney. See his references.

SEWING MACHINES.—M. S. Hedrick, Esq., is one of our oldest merchants in the above line in the city, and none stands higher. He is prepared to fill all orders that may be intrusted to him for the "Wilcox & Gibbs Automatic Silent Sewing Machine," with late improvements and attachments, that render it the most perfect made. This machine is spoken of very highly by the ladies, as it adapts itself perfectly to all descriptions of work, being absolutely self-feeding, and never requiring change. We would advise our readers to either call on Mr. Hedrick or write to him, and we are satisfied they will be fairly dealt with.

THE CELEBRATED STEWART STOVE.—In our columns will be found the advertisement of J. H. Cammeyer, Esq., at 183 Poydras street, agent for the always-named stove for the State of Louisiana. Mr. Cammeyer, the worthy and enterprising agent, has been known to us for many years, and we take pleasure in recommending him to our readers. The Stewart stove, with all its improvements for saving labor, saving fuel, and accomplishing successfully the cooking of a variety of articles at the same time, is certainly unsurpassed.

CARPETS AND UPHOLSTERY.—Our readers will find in another column the advertisement of Messrs. Heath, Pippey & Lara, dealers in the above-named articles, as well as mirrors, moldings, shades, frames, chromos, engravings, etc.

They are fair and honorable dealers. Their goods are sold at the lowest market prices, and have always given satisfaction, so far as we have been able to learn from the numerous customers to whom we have recommended them.

PHOTOGRAPHS.—If any of our readers should want their likenesses taken they should call at Messrs. Marsour & Hoffmeister's, 153 Canal street, where they will find one of the finest galleries in the city. One of the firm was for some years with Sarony, of New York, who is considered one of the best photographers in the country. These gentlemen have recently come from New York, and are prepared to do work which we have not seen excelled in the South.

SHEPARD'S IMPROVED HOP YEAST is the name of a new and excellent article, just out. Mr. Shepard, the manufacturer, claims that it is the strongest and best article of the kind in town. It is made in our midst, and housekeepers and all interested in the art of bread-making should give it a trial. It is nicely put up in half-pound tin cans, and sells for ten cents a can. Our grocers are all purchasing it, and we are pleased to hear that it is beginning to sell rapidly.

CHINA AND GLASSWARE.—We refer our readers to the advertisement of M. L. Navra. His stock is full and complete in every department, containing art novelties worthy of attention. The reputation of Mr. Navra for giving up careful attention to orders, and liberal treatment of his patrons, is the best assurance we can offer our friends that they will have no cause to regret sending their orders to him.

A GOOD UP TOWN GROCER.—Mr. J. S. Twomey, corner of Magazine and Philip streets, will furnish our up-town readers with the best articles in his line, cheap and warranted, at low prices. If the trade of his customers is as well as he has treated us we are sure they will be pleased.

LEATHER.—Anton Braun, whose card appears in our issue of to-day, solicits a share of the patronage of our readers. He pays personal attention to orders intrusted to him, which are promptly filled at the lowest rates. Give him a call.

COAL.—We refer our readers to the advertisement of H. & C. Tyler, agents for A. Watson & Co., Pittsburg. Mr. Tyler is favorably known to the merchants. Those in need of coal at wholesale should see Mr. Tyler at 9 Carondelet street.

MESSRS. LEVY BROS. advertise their large and select assortment of dry goods in to-day's paper.

FOR French China dinner sets see the advertisement of E. Offner.

SEND to Jackson & Gallagher for circulars of the trade grams.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WHEELER & PIERSON,
NOS. 13 AND 15 CAMP STREET,
Opposite the City Hotel,
CLOTHING & FURNISHING GOODS
FOR MEN AND BOYS.

We invite visitors from the country to look at our stock. We keep good goods, sell at one price, and mark it in plain figures. Clergymen's trade solicited, and a liberal discount made to them.

LADIES! A soft and beautiful skin is the desire of every lady. A refinement: Pozzoni's Medicated Complexion Powder has been fully tested, and found to perform all that is claimed for it. It renders the skin delicately soft, removes all discolorations, eruptions, etc. Mothers can apply it to infants who become chafed with a variety of irritations. Price 50 cents and $1 per box. Sold by all first-class druggists and dealers. North Sixth street, St. Louis. (Lindell Hotel.)

WHAT NEXT! Consumptive Cured. When death was hourly expected, and consumption in the third stage, Wells' Dr. James's Consumption Remedy, which cured him entirely, and he has since enjoyed perfect health. It cures bronchitis, coughs, colds, asthma, and all throat and lung diseases. Sold by druggists. Price $1. Depot, 1,032 Race street, Philadelphia. Mention this paper.

WIDE AWAKE YOUTH'S PAPER.—For Sabbath-school, select and popular contributors, and sprightly, entertaining reading, the Youth's Companion has no superior among the youth's publications.

NOT every one can be President, but all can buy SILVER TIPPED Shoes for their children, and thereby lessen their shoe bills two-thirds. Also dry Wire Spatted Soles.

ASTHMA AND CATARRH.—See Dr. Lankell's advertisement. eow

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

McCRACKEN & HOFFMEISTER,
PHOTOGRAPHIC
ARTISTIC COMBINATION,
165 CANAL ST., NEW ORLEANS.
English, French, German, Spanish and Italian spoken.

S. M. HOYT,
BACK OFFICE, NO. 8 CARONDELET ST.,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
AGENT FOR
JOS. WALTON & CO.,
WHOLESALE COAL DEALERS,
PITTSBURG, PA.

WANTED.

AN EXPERIENCED SOUTHERN LADY, qualified to teach Music, the Languages and English branches, to take charge of a PRIVATE SCHOOL. A Methodist preferred. References given and required. Address
S. S. TAYLOR, Waynesboro, Miss.

WILLIAM F. MEYER, ATTORNEY AT LAW, No. 803 North Fourth street, St. Louis, Mo. Special attention to Insurance and Admiralty business. Refers to Messrs. Merrick, Reed & Foster, U. S. J. St. Whitaker, Messrs. Pritchard, Beckham & Co., Rev. Edmund Parker, and H. S. Buckner and Pierre A. Barker, Esqs., New Orleans.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

VEGETINE
PURIFIES THE BLOOD,

RENOVATES AND INVIGORATES THE WHOLE SYSTEM.

Its Medicinal Properties are Alterative, Tonic, Solvent and Diuretic.

VEGETINE is made exclusively from the juices of carefully selected barks, roots and herbs, and so strongly concentrated that it will effectually eradicate from the system every taint of Scrofula, Scrofulous Humor, Tumors, Cancer, Cancerous Humor, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Syphilitic Diseases, Canker, Falling of the Stomach, and all diseases that arise from impure blood. Sciatica, Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout and Spinal Complaints can only be effectually cured through the blood.

For Ulcers and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, Pustules, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tetter, Scald Head and Ring Worm, VEGETINE has never failed to effect a permanent cure.

For Pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints, Dropsy, Female Weakness, Leucorrhea, arising from internal ulceration, and other diseases and General Debility, VEGETINE acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secreting organs, allays inflammation, cures ulceration, and regulates the bowels.

For Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Headache, Piles, Nervousness and General Prostration of the Nervous System no medicine has given such perfect satisfaction as the VEGETINE. It purifies the blood, cleanses all of the organs, and possesses a controlling power over the nervous system.

The remarkable cures effected by VEGETINE have induced many physicians to and druggists whom we know to prescribe and use it in their own families.

In fact VEGETINE is the best remedy yet discovered for the above diseases, and it is the only reliable, BLOOD PURIFIER yet placed before the public.

THE BEST EVIDENCE.

The following letter from Rev. E. S. Best, pastor of M. E. Church, Natick, Mass., will be read with interest by many physicians. Also those suffering from the same disease as afflicted the son of Rev. E. S. Best. No person can doubt this testimony, as there is no doubt about the curative powers of VEGETINE.

NATICK, MASS., Jan. 1, 1874.

MR. H. R. STEVENS—Dear Sir: We have good reason for recording our VEGETINE a medicine of the greatest value. We feel assured that it has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age; for the last two years he has suffered from abscess of his leg caused by scrofulous affection, and was so ill, we feared that nearly all who saw him thought his recovery impossible. A council of nine physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his ever rallying, two of the number declaring that he was beyond the reach of human remedies, that even amputation could not save him, as he had not vigor enough to endure the operation. Just then we commenced giving him VEGETINE, and from that time to the present he has been continuously improving. He has lately resumed his studies, throwing away crutches and cane, and walks about cheerfully and strong.

Though there is still some discharge from the opening where the limb was fractured, we have the fullest confidence that in a little time he will be perfectly cured.

He has taken about three dozen bottles of VEGETINE, but likely does not like to be discharged as he feels well to be taking the medicine.

Respectfully yours, E. S. BEST,
MRS. L. C. P. BEST.

ALL DISEASES OF THE BLOOD.

VEGETINE will relieve pain, cleanse purify and cure such diseases, restoring the patient to perfect health after every sufficient physician and other remedies suffering for years in many cases, had failed. If you are a sufferer, you can be cured. Why is this so? Because VEGETINE works in the blood in the strengthening fluid. It can truly be called the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER. The first symptoms of disease originates in the blood, and VEGETINE expels those and act directly upon the parts and renovates into any desirable organ or part of the system.

RECOMMEND IT HEARTILY.

SOUTH BOSTON, Feb. 7, 1870.

MR. STEVENS—Dear Sir: I have taken several bottles of your VEGETINE and can conscientiously say it is a valuable remedy for dyspepsia, kidney complaint, and general debility of the system. I can heartily recommend it to all suffering from the above complaints.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. MONROE PARKER,
456 Allegheny Road.

PREPARED BY
H. R. STEVENS, Boston, Mass.
Vegetine is Sold by All Druggists.
gnw

IMMENSE REDUCTION
AT
M. L. NAVRA'S
CHINA PALACE!
129 Canal Street, Touro Building.

HAVING IMPORTED AND PURCHASED at auction a very large stock of

Crockery, China, Glassware
AND OTHER
HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS,

I propose to give my customers the benefit of my purchases by selling goods at less prices than ever before.

☞ Look at some of my prices and judge for yourselves.

A real French 130 piece DINNER SET, 115 pieces, for $12 00
A real French 100 piece TEA SET, 71 pieces, for 6 00
A Stone China 100 PIECE SET, 120 pieces, for 15 00
A Stone China TEA SET, 44 pieces, for 8 75
A Stone China CHAMBER SET, 11 pieces, for 6 00
Decorated CHAMBER SET, 11 pieces, for 12 75

Also the celebrated BUTTER CHURN. Warranted to make butter in from three to ten minutes. PAINTING AND DECORATING done on China on short notice.

Orders from the country will receive my best attention.

M. L. NAVRA,
CHINA PALACE,
129 Canal street, Touro Building,
sp 4 New Orleans.

HOLIDAY MUSIC BOOKS.

Two Splendid Volumes for Presents.

THE WORLD OF SONG!
Price In Boards, $2.50. Cloth, $3.00. Gilt, $4.00.

RARELY have we issued a book of songs containing such a variety of really first-class and popular Vocal Music—250 pages, full Sheet-Music size, Songs by forty-six different composers, and filling the compositions are many such gems as "Come Be My Bride," "Golden Locks Are Silver," "My Heart's Best Love," "She's a Rose, She's a Pet," and Millard's "Whippoorwill."

We publish a valuable collection in form with the "World of Song," send for catalogue of "Home Musical Library," and select one or more of its books for Christmas.

GEMS OF THE DANCE!
A Companion to the Gems of Strauss.
$2.50 In Boards. $3.00 Cloth. $4.00 Gilt.

The "Gems of Strauss" took a wonderful success, and this new work is fully its equal, and contains the very best "Dance" pieces, and many others by Gung'l, Lamothe, Faust, Coote, Zikoff and other eminent composers. 232 pages, full sheet-Music size, well filled with Waltzes, Polkas, Polkas, Quadrilles, etc.

Either book mailed, post free, for retail price.

OLIVER DITSON & CO.,
BOSTON.
C. H. Ditson & Co., 711 Broadway, New York. J. E. Ditson & Co., Sheets, Mc'Ke. & Walker, Philadelphia.

ANTON BRAUN,
55 ..... CHARTRES ST. 55
Hot Custom-house and Bienville, New Orleans,
IMPORTER AND DEALER IN
FRENCH AND GERMAN LEATHER,
Findings, Shoemakers' Tools, etc.
Finey Boot, Shoe and Gaiter Uppers constantly on hand and made to order.

$39 Each week to Agents. Goods Staple. $5,000 testimonials received. Terms liberal. Particulars free. J. Worth & Co., St. Louis, Mo.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS.
LORD & TAYLOR,
NEW YORK.

WE INVITE ATTENTION TO THE FOLLOWING DEPARTMENTS OF OUR ESTABLISHMENT. THE LOW PRICES AT WHICH GOODS ARE MARKED HAVE SPECIAL REFERENCE TO THE HOLIDAY SEASON, AND BARGAINS WILL BE FOUND THROUGHOUT THE HOUSE.

SILKS.

OF WHICH OUR STOCK IS THE LARGEST IN THE CITY, ARE OFFERED AS FOLLOWS: GOOD BLACK SILK at $1.50 per yard; WELL BETTER GRADE AT HIGHER PRICES; COLORED SILKS very good at .25 and up. A DRESS PATTERN OF EITHER WOULD BE AN APPROPRIATE GIFT.

DRESS GOODS.

IN DRESS GOODS OUR ASSORTMENT IS VERY LARGE, and PRICES RANGE from 2 c. to 82 and upward. VERY FINE TINTS OF GOODS ARE OFFERED AT 50c., 62c., 75c., and $1. THESE FABRICS ARE IN THE CHOICEST DARK CLOTH SHADES, and are very acceptable.

SHAWLS.

OUR SHAWL DEPARTMENT PRESENTS MANY ATTRACTIONS AS THE ASSORTMENT IS LARGE, NOVEL AND VARIED. REAL INDIA SHAWLS ARE OFFERED AS LOW as $8, A WIDE DECOR, CHEVIOT AND OTHER EQUALLY FINE CLOAKS, SELLING from $12 upward. THESE PRICES ARE BELOW ANYTHING YET OFFERED IN THIS MARKET.

Ladies' and Children's Suits.

THE LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S DEPARTMENT CONTAINS MANY NOVELTIES, BOTH IMPORTED AND OF OUR OWN MANUFACTURE. CASHMERE SUITS for CHILDREN HAVE SUITS at $18, and SILK SUITS at $8. WILL GIVE A GREAT DEAL OF ATTENTION TO LOW PRICES AT WHICH GOODS ARE SOLD IN THIS DEPARTMENT. A HANDSOME DRESS OR SUIT IS A VERY ACCEPTABLE PRESENT.

FURS.

IN THIS LINE OUR STOCK INVITES INSPECTION. FOR WELL SELECTED ASSORTMENTS AND LOW PRICES WITH THE BETTER GRADES PROPORTIONATELY LOW.

Ladies' Real Seal Sacques,

DARK SHADES AND FINE QUALITY, VERY DESIRABLE. from $75. THESE PRICES AFFORD POSITIVE BARGAINS.

UPHOLSTERY.

THE UPHOLSTERY DEPARTMENT CONTAINS DAMASK AND LACE CURTAINS, LAMPS, MOQUETTES, SATINS, CRETONNES, TAPESTRIES, PASSEMENTERIES, etc., for setting up PARLORS, and MANTEL MIRRORS, CORNICE POLES, CORNICES, SHADES, etc. PRICES AND QUALITIES ARE SOMETIMES ALL THAT WILL SECURE SALES, AND WE FEEL WE MAY REFER WITH CONFIDENCE TO OUR PRICES FOR THE HOLIDAYS AS A VERY SELECT LOT.

Gent.'s Furnishing.

DRESSING GOWNS, SMOKING JACKETS AND CAPS, SCARFS, TIES, UMBRELLAS, GLOVES, AND OTHER ARTICLES FOR GENTLEMEN SUITABLE FOR THE HOLIDAY SEASON. TO WHICH THE ATTENTION OF LADIES IS INVITED.

GLOVES.

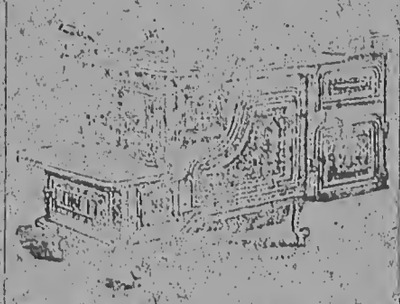
GLOVES OF THE MOST APPROVED MAKES IN ASSORTED SHADES AND COLORS. PUT UP IN QUANTITIES TO SUIT PURCHASERS.

ALSO

A LARGE AND CAREFULLY SELECTED LINE OF FANCY GOODS AND NOVELTIES, etc., WITH SMALL WARES OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, EXPRESSLY APPROPRIATE FOR THE HOLIDAY SEASON.

SAMPLES OF GOODS AND CATALOGUES OF LADIES', MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S FURNISHING GOODS SENT FREE ON APPLICATION. TO CARE PART OF THE COUNTRY, ORDERS FOR GOODS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION CAREFULLY FILLED WITH OUT CHARGE, AND GOODS PACKED AND FORWARDED TO DESTINATION.

Broadway and Twentieth St.
Grand, Chrystie and Forsyth Streets, N. Y.



The Celebrated Stewart Stove.
IMPROVED PATTERN OF 1878.

THIS best Cook Stove in the world. With best twenty years, and is more work with the same amount of fuel than any other. No coal was ever made. Persons in search of such a stove will find it to their interest to call and see it before purchasing elsewhere. Also for sale the celebrated Stewart Stove Furniture always on hand.

J. H. CAMMEYER,
183 Poydras St., Agent for Louisiana.

CARPETS.
ELKIN & CO.,
108 ..... CANAL STREET 108

ARE OFFERING NEW AND CHOICE PATTERNS IN MOQUETTE,
VELVET,
BRUSSELS,
THREE-PLY
AND INGRAIN CARPETS
At Greatly Reduced Prices.
FLOOR OIL CLOTHS,
COCOA AND CANE MATTINGS,
CURTAIN GOODS IN REPS, TERRYS, ETC.,
SMYRNA RUGS, ETTAMAN and TABLE COVERS,
WINDOW SHADES, NEW STYLES.

HEATH, PIPPEY & LARA,
IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN
CARPETS, FLOOR OIL CLOTHS,
UPHOLSTERY GOODS, WALL PAPER, Window Shades, Cornices, Lace and Net Draperies, Curtains, Mirrors, Moldings, Chromos, Engravings, etc., etc., etc.
☞ Frames made to order a specialty.
No. 90 Camp Street, New Orleans.

The Unique Hair Crimper.

NOVEL.
THING.
NEW.

IT IS NOVEL, SIMPLE, LIGHT, EASILY adjusted, and does not break the hair; does not wear out. Mailed, one pair 15 cents, two pairs 25 cents. Large discount to dealers. Agents wanted. WELES MFG. CO., 3 Salisbury st., Boston, Mass. eow

$3 WATCHES, Cheapest in the known world. Sample watch sent C.O.D. to Agents. For terms address QUETTE & CO., Chicago.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WM. H. SHEPARD,
MANUFACTURERS' AGENT,
AND WHOLESALE DEALER
IN
TEAS AND SPICES,
38 ..... CUSTOM HOUSE ST. 38
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

DR. PRICE'S
CREAM BAKING POWDERS.
STEELE & PRICE'S
RELIABLE BAKING POWDERS.
SHEPARD'S
IMPROVED HOP YEAST.
DR. PRICE'S
LEMON SUGAR.
DR. PRICE'S
ESSENCE JAMAICA GINGER.
DR. PRICE'S
SPECIAL FLAVORING EXTRACTS.
DR. PRICE'S
AMERICAN PERFUMES.
LAVINA'S
EXQUISITE FLOWER ODORS.
TOWNSEND'S
COUGH TROCHES.
BINBY'S
Mucilage, School Ink, Dry and Liquid Blue, Stove Polish, Shoe Dressing, Best Shoe Blacking, Etc.
CORKS.
Vial, Wine, Flask, Soda, Jar, Carboy, Bungs, Etc.
Common X and XX quality.
TEAS.
Oolongs, English Breakfasts, Gunpowders, Imperials, Young Hysons, Japans, Twankays, Etc.
All kinds and grades.
GROUND SPICES.
Black Pepper, White Pepper, Allspice, Jamaica Ginger, African Ginger, Cloves, Cinnamon, Mace.
In paper, 1-pound cans and in bulk.
All of the above for sale by
WM. H. SHEPARD,
38 CUSTOM HOUSE STREET.

New Goods for the Holidays.

JOHN S. TWOMEY,
COR. MAGAZINE AND PHILIP STS.

WOULD respectfully call the attention of friends of families to his large and well assorted stock of

Fresh Fancy and Staple Groceries, suitable for the holidays, by which to make compositions. Raisins, Currants, Citron, Mince Meat, Apple Butter, Peach Butter, Quince Butter, Orange Butter, Fruit Jams, Jellies, Pickles, Sauces, Preserves, Table Delicacies, Canned Fruits, Vegetables, Fish, Meats, Soups, Oysters, Sardines, Lobsters, Salmon, Mackerel, Herring, Anchovies, Sardines, Boneless Codfish, Cheese, Crackers, Biscuits, Cakes, Candies, Nuts, Fruits

Farm, Garden and Household.

Grape Management and Pruning.

The Massachusetts Plowman gives the following account of the plan pursued by a Mr. Blanchard in the cultivation of Concord grapes:

On a favorable soil, but in an exposed locality, he has ripened year after year, on each of his well-grown vines, from twenty to twenty-five pounds of grapes, in clusters, weighing from sixteen to thirty ounces each. He grows no small clusters, and, using only ground bone, ashes and plaster of Paris as fertilizers, spread broadcast on his land, his vines continue perfectly healthy. His success depends upon no local advantages which may not be found in almost every garden or farm. His method is as simple as it is successful. His ground was prepared as if for corn. In rows eight feet apart, running north and south, good layers are set eight feet apart. The roots are carefully covered about four inches deep; the surface of the ground kept level and free from weeds by a light cultivator or otherwise. The work of the first two years is to grow good, strong, healthy roots. To this end a single cane is grown and tied to a stake, pinching off the end if it grows too tall and slim. After the leaves fall, cut this to the ground, leaving only one or two buds, from the better of which to grow a similar one the second year. This is to be treated in the same manner, except that in the fall it is to be cut eighteen inches from the ground.

The third year a trellis running north and south should be erected, the lower rail or wire twenty inches from the ground, with two above, nine inches apart. No. 16 galvanized wire is the best for this. From the two upper buds of the cane, grow two shoots in opposite directions on the lower wire, pinching off the ends when they have grown four feet. These are to be permanent arms, never allowed to grow longer; but on these arms allow laterals to grow ten or twelve inches apart, tying them to the upper wires, but pinching them back occasionally to make them grow stunt. They should not grow much above the upper wire. If shoots should come out of these they should be pinched off in the same way. At the end of the season there will be two strong arms, each four feet long, with eight or ten laterals, bearing good, strong fruit buds. After the leaves fall prune the laterals leaving only two buds on each, with the auxiliary of arm bud at the junction.

In the spring, when the buds start, save the arm bud and the better one on each lateral, rubbing off the other. Let the arm bud bear only one cluster of grapes, the other two. When these shoots have made three leaves beyond the blossoms, pinch off the last leaf and the blossoms, except the three clusters above named, always saving the best clusters. They should now be tied to the second wire. When three more leaves are pushed out, pinch off two of them; do the same if shoots come out of these.

This is to be continued through the season, allowing the laterals to grow to the upper wire. Pinch out everything else that starts from the vine. In the fall there will be two laterals, and three good clusters of grapes at each joint of the arms. The vines should always be kept in this shape, with no longer arms, no more laterals and no more clusters of grapes. It is all the roots will bear and continue healthy. In order to keep the vine in this shape, prune in the following manner: Cut the lateral which grew from the upper bud and bears the two clusters, back close to the arm, and prune and treat the other one just as they were before. By letting the lateral which grows from the arm bud bear but one cluster, it will give stronger buds for fruiting the next year. This method of pruning directs the whole root power to the production of fruit and fruit buds, and avoids unsightly spurs which deform a vine; equalizes the labor of the vine, producing uniform results, never overtaxing it one year at the expense of the next.

ANTIQUITY OF THE TOMATO.—Several interesting statements are made by "Science Gossip" (English), showing the centuries since the culture of the tomato was known in gardens. Galen, who lived in the second century, uses the name Lycopersicum, now applied to the tomato, but it is not known to what plant he alludes. But an Italian writer, in 1561, thinks Galen meant the tomato. Dodoens, a Dutch botanist, describes it as grown in his time (in 1583,) and as eaten dressed with pepper, vinegar and oil. Gerard mentions it in his "Herbal," in 1597, and calls it pomum amoris, and describes red and yellow fruited sorts. Parkinson, in 1656, says it is cultivated only for curiosity, and "for the amorous aspect of beauty of the fruit." A century afterward Miller states it was used in soups. Coming down later, we remember its extensive use on the table, cooked and uncooked, about the year 1825.

Ladies who like otto of roses as a perfume can make it, in any reasonable quantity desired, at an almost nominal expense, by saving up the rose leaves which fall so plentifully at this season of the year. Take a two-gallon glass jar, and fill full of clean, freshly-picked rose leaves. Then cork it tight, and take a two-ounce vial, and fit the neck into the cork of the two gallon jar. Cut some sponge into narrow strips, soak them in good oil, free from smell or rancidity, put the strips into the small vial, turn it upside down, and put the neck into the bung of the large jar. Place them in the sun four days, and the heat will distill the rose leaves, and the aroma will ascend and saturate the oil in the sponge. Put in fresh leaves about four times, and you will have a small vial of the finest otto of roses that can be made.

Intoxicating music—"Ale to the chief."

MEDICAL.

ELECTRO-MAGNETIC CORDIAL.

The discovery of Dr. S. A. Richmond, in combining medical and electrical virtues, stamps him as one of the greatest benefactors of the age. His medicines are charged with electricity as they are compounded, retaining their medical virtues and adding the fire and force of electricity. The medicines are vitalized, and the life-currents of electricity sent through the debilitated frame, allaying pain, restoring the strength and bright bloom of glorious health and the elasticity and joyousness of spirit, that are lost by those suffering from disease.

This wonderful medicine is curing more diseases than all other known medicines since the beginning of the world. It is the best appetizer known, greatly promotes digestion, is a strengthening tonic to the stomach, imparts vigor and vitality to the whole circulatory system, and cures dyspepsia, and removes the acid secretion of the stomach. Puts new life into a lazy and torpid liver. It is the greatest blood purifier in the world. All the ladies agree that it cleanses the blood from all impurities; it at once imparts the rare gift of health to the cheek and does away with all cosmetics, emulsions and lotions for the complexion, bestows a fresh and spotless complexion upon both sexes, simply by freeing the blood from all impurities. We guarantee a pint bottle of our Electro-Magnetic Cordial is worth more than a whole barrel of Sarsaparilla compound to purify the blood. Thousands bear testimony to the wonderful curative and purifying power of our medicine. The most eminent surgeons, most skilled physicians, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed. Not only does our Electro-Magnetic Cordial Medicine excel all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin Diseases, but it is the only positive cure for Exhausted Vitality, Premature Decline in Man, Nervous and Physical Debility, Hypochondria, Gloomy Forebodings, Mental Depression, Loss of Energy, Haggard Countenance, Confusion of Mind and Loss of Memory, Impure State of Blood, and all diseases arising from the Errors of Youth, or Indiscretions or excesses of mature years.

Samaritan Nervine.

DR. RICHMOND'S SAMARITAN NERVINE is the most wonderful MEDICAL DISCOVERY known to the world, it being charged with Electricity, makes it still better than ever. It is a source of happiness to millions of suffering humanity, diffusing delightful joy and comfort to the afflicted. It is a sure cure for EPILEPTIC FITS, CONVULSIONS, SPASMS, ST. VITUS' DANCE, and all HYSTERICAL AFFECTIONS. It is the only known positive and sure cure for EPILEPSY.

Electro-Magnetic Liniment.

There is no pain which Dr. Richmond's Electro-Magnetic Liniment will not relieve; no swelling it will not subdue, and no ailment which it will not cure. This is a strong language, but it is true. It has cured hundreds of cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lockjaw, Palsy, Burns, Swellings, Caked-breasts, Scalds, Burns, Salt Rheum, Earache, etc., upon the human frame, and of Spavin, Sprains, Galls, etc., upon animals, it surpasses all other remedies. It is a counter-irritant, and all-healing pain reliever. Pimples blow away their crusts, the lame walk, unsoiling hides are made soft, harmless, and the wounded are healed without a scar. It is as humbug. It is nothing as good to "rub-le over lectire sold," and it will be found it does just what it pretends to do. Those who now suffer from Rheumatism, Pain or Swelling should call at once and get a bottle of this Liniment. If they will not give Dr. Richmond's Electro-Magnetic Liniment.

Electro-Magnetic Ointment.

Dr. Richmond's Electro-Magnetic Ointment is the best ever made. It is a sure cure for all diseases of the Eye, both acute and chronic. It works like a charm in Tetter, Ringworm, Itch, Erysipelas, Chilblains, Sore Throat, Piles, Diphtheria, Croup, Old Sores, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Felon, Eczema, Ringworm, Barber's Itch, Frosted Limbs, Chilblains, Fever Sores, etc., and cures all diseases of the eye. Our best physicians say, they never saw its equal. When once used in our families, you will never be without it or take any other. Health is always derived from the first day's use, and a perfect cure is guaranteed or money refunded. All these medicines are sold by Druggists everywhere. If not found in your drug store, send orders direct to us and they will be promptly filled. Inclose stamp for circulars, giving page of testimonials, also portrait of the most wonderful cures ever performed. Address

DR. S. A. RICHMOND, 7 Chestnut St., St. Louis, Mo.

For sale by

H. J. RIVET, 58 Chartres street, New Orleans.

SWAIM'S CELEBRATED PANACEA

It is as much a matter of surprise to many persons that a patented specific should be found for the cure of all diseases, as it is that so many persons suppose a patented specific should be found for the cure of all diseases; the fact is, however, that having enjoyed an established reputation for MORE THAN FIFTY YEARS, on account of its great value in diseases termed scrofulous, having been the means of restoration to health of thousands of DISEASED, SEASED PERSONS, it has received the indorsement of HUNDREDS OF PHYSICIANS who know its merits, and should be used by all who suffer from diseases arising from impurities of the blood, or even hereditary taint.

Its value in Chronic Rheumatism, Old Ulcers, Chronic Sores, White Swellings, etc., is known to thousands of Southern people.

Prepared at

Swaim's Laboratory,

South Seventh St., below Chestnut St.,

PHILADELPHIA.

THE JELESO WATER,

NO. 20 PORTLAND ST., NEW YORK.

WAIGHEN & CO., PROPRIETORS.

URAL MOUNTAIN

JELESO WATER

is a concentration of all the curative qualities of the most celebrated Mineral Springs in the world. Each bottle contains eighty doses, and is equal to seven hundred bottles of the Natural Spring Water.

As a tonic it is unsurpassed, having had most remarkable success in curing some of the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Nervousness, and General Debility. It is simple, harmless, and pleasant to take. It assists a gargle in its pure state for the first appearance of diphtheria, and all other throat diseases. It works like magic. Arrests the progress of and cures sore throat in less than twenty-four hours. It will greatly alleviate or entirely cure the worst cases of Rheumatism, Eczema and all other cases of fire, skin, Prickly Heat, Poisoning by Ivy, Sumac or Oak are quickly cured by the use of Jeleso Water. We consider it an indispensable medicine in every family. Yours most truly,

J. D. BALDIN,

Supt. Flushing, North Shore and Central R. R. of Long Island.

BLANCHARD HOUSE, New York, January 29, 1876.

DR. WARREN—Dear Sir: I have used your Jeleso Water in my family for the last two years with perfect success, and I consider it a valuable remedy for Dyspepsia and Throat Affections, of all kinds, with good and beneficial results. I believe it to be a very valuable remedy.

DR. E. C. STILLMAN.

CANCER CURED WITHOUT the KNIFE or PAIN and positively guaranteed by Prof. J. C. COMIN, M. D., 33 Lexington Ave., New York. Pamphlets of specimens can be seen at his office, and numerous living witnesses attest these facts. Send stamp for book.

J. FOERSTER'S

RICE AND CORN MILLS,

NOS. 100 AND 102 JULIA ST., AND 101, 103 AND 105 MAGAZINE STREET,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

MILLING RATES.

No. 1 Rice, three quarter cent per pound.

No. 2 Rice, one half cent per pound.

Eight sacks of straw returned for every 100 sacks of Rice received. Empty sacks furnished.

$55 to $77 a Week to Agents. Samples Free. P. O. VICKERY, Augusta, Me.

EDUCATIONAL.

Emory and Henry College

VIRGINIA.

THE collegiate year for 1876-7 begins on the FOURTEENTH OF SEPTEMBER next. It is divided into two terms of twenty weeks each, the first closing January 31, and the second beginning February 1, 1877.

For TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS deposited with the President at the beginning of the year we will give to a student, for the forty weeks, his tuition, board, fuel, room-rent, washing, library and contingent fees.

For information on special points or for a catalogue address E. E. WILEY, President, Emory P. O., Virginia.

EMORY COLLEGE.

THE FALL TERM of this long-established institution opens on Wednesday, SEPTEMBER 6.

Emory College, with a full Faculty and a thorough curriculum, is prepared to do first class college work.

TUITION—Fall Term, $25; Spring Term, $5. Board in good families, from $16 to $20 per month. Food and lodging can be procured at from $10 to $13 per month by boys willing to wait on themselves.

For further information address the President, ATTICUS G. HAYGOOD, Oxford, Ga.

Quitman M. & F. College.

QUITMAN, VAN BUREN CO., ARK.

FALL SESSION BEGINS MONDAY, SEPT. 4. This School, under the patronage of the Arkansas Conference, offers a quiet, healthy retreat to students. Good board can be had at eight to ten dollars per month. Tuition as low as can be had anywhere, ranging from $1.50 to $3 a month. Tuition free to children of ministers and to young men studying for the ministry.

For further particulars apply to REV. JAMES A. PEEBLES, President, Quitman, Van Buren Co., Ark.

MOORE'S SOUTHERN BUSINESS UNIVERSITY ATLANTA, GA. THE BEST PRACTICAL BUSINESS SCHOOL IN THE SOUTH. SEND FOR CATALOGUES.

MISCELLANEOUS.

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.

WE HAVE JUST OPENED FOR INSPECTION A complete assortment of FRENCH LACE CURTAINS, White and Ecru,

EMBROIDERED LACE BARS,

NOTTINGHAM CURTAINS, In White and Fancy Colors.

The last being something new and very fashionable.

COUNTERPANES,

FRENCH CRETONNES, From the lowest to the highest prices

ALSO

COMFORTS, BLANKETS,

And Everything pertaining to Housekeeping

D. H. HOLMES,

135 CANAL AND 13 BOURBON ST., NEW ORLEANS.

MITCHELL'S NEW OUTLINE MAPS.

7 Maps in a set. A Key goes with each set.

Small Series, with Names $10
Small Series, without Names $10
Large Series, without Names $20

LATEST, BEST, CHEAPEST.

E. H. BUTLER & CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

COUNTRY ORDERS

FOR

BOOTS AND SHOES.

PARTIES who will send to buy Boots and Shoes FOR CASH are invited to send to me for a card which explains HOW TO TAKE YOUR OWN MEASURE, thus enabling any one in the country to get a good fitting Boot or Shoe direct from the city at the LOWEST CITY PRICES.

Where we are favored with orders that exceed $10 the Freight thereon will be paid all over the ——. Where the order exceeds $20, we will also pay the cost of sending the money to us, whether by Express Money Order, Registered Letter, Bank Draft or otherwise.

Goods sent C.O.D. to all points where the Express Company or Parcels Post ungently.

Price list of ready made Boots and also instructions how to take your own measure, will be sent by mail upon application.

HIMBEL'S "PEERLESS" BOOT AND SHOE STORE,

No. 578 Magazine Street,

South of the Lafayette Square,

LOUIS HIMBEL, Agent.

NOVELTY IRON WORKS.

Now building Presses the size of Sheet Represented, which can be Rigged and Started under the Tallest Building and Ready for Operation

JANUARY 1ST NEXT.

Golding's Standard Press.

(Five Patents Secured.)

Exclusive control of State Right and Districts for sale. Apply at PATENT OFFICE in the NOVELTY WORKS, Corner Peters and Dryades streets.

ATTENTION!

M. ANDRIEU,

150 ..... POYDRAS STREET. 150

Home-Made Shoes at $3.50 a Pair.

City-made Boots and Shoes of all kinds and sizes, made of the very best material and workmanship, and at less prices than any other Store in this city. Keeps all kinds for Boys', Youths', Ladies', and Children's wear.

SHELDON, COLLINS & CO.,

MANUFACTURERS OF PRINTERS' INKS, Extra Black Book, News, Card, Job, Wood Cut, AND Colored Inks of Every Variety.

Office and depot 74 Frankfort street, New York.

GIBSON'S

Stained Glass and Decorative Establishment,

123 & 125 South Eleventh St.,

PHILADELPHIA.

CENTENNIAL SLIDES READY.

MAGIC LANTERNS & SLIDES WANTED ALSO FOR SALE PHILADA, PA.

Please send for Catalogue.

CENTENNIAL YEAR.

MISCELLANEOUS.

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE

RESPECTFULLY offers her services in selecting, purchasing and forwarding any article of apparel or personal adornment for Ladies' and Children's use, including MILLINERY, DRY GOODS, JEWELRY, BRIDAL TROUSSEAUX, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Trimmings, Underwear, Sewing Machines etc.

Scrupulous care with reference to the price and quality, and fidelity to the interest and fulfillment of the wishes of correspondents, will be sedulously carried out.

Spring and Summer Styles OF

LADIES' DRESSES,

IN IMPORTED FRENCH PATTERNS,

CENTENNIAL APRONS, RUCHES AND KERCHIEFS, fac-similes of the Fashions of 1776

Just received by

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE, NO. 96 CANAL STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

W. M. EVANS,

NO. 33 N. PETERS ST., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

SOLICITS CONSIGNMENTS OF

Wool, Moss, Hides, Rags, Bones, Metals,

And all descriptions of PRODUCE.

Personal and careful attention given to all business intrusted to my care. Quick sales and prompt returns made. Will fill orders for all descriptions of goods at lowest cash prices. Advances made on consignments. P. O. Box 2208.

R. T. BABBITT'S BABY SOAP.

Only the purest vegetable oils used in its manufacture. No artificial and deceptive colors to cover common and deleterious ingredients UNRIVALED for the TOILET and the BATH. Used in bathing children, will prevent eruptions, keep the skin soft and smooth, contribute to their health and prevent disease. Does away with all powders, chalk, or other emollients. A certain preventive of chafing, scalding, &c., in babies; the causes of half the crying and crossness of babyhood. Worth ten times its cost to every mother and family in Christendom. Packed in boxes of 12 cakes of 6 sizes each, and sent free to any address on receipt of $2.50. Address For sale by all Druggists. R. T. BABBITT, N. Y.

KEEP'S CUSTOM SHIRTS,

Made to measure. The very best 6 for $9.

KEEP'S PATENT PARTLY-MADE DRESS SHIRTS, the very best 6 for $7.

ON RECEIPT OF PRICE, EITHER OF THE above, with an elegant set of gold plated collar and sleeve buttons, will be delivered free to any place reached by the express, except California and the territories. Keep's Shirts are the only ones in the country that fit to perfection. We mean just what we say, and to give every one an opportunity of judging for themselves without cost, we will send samples and full directions for self-measurement prize to any address. We refer to purchasers of Keep's shirts everywhere.

KEEP MANUFACTURING CO., 457 and 459 Mercer street, New York.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Returning thanks for past favors, the undersigned desires to inform his friends and the public that he has removed to

152 and 154 Camp St., cor. Calliope,

WHERE HE CONTINUES TO

BUY, SELL, STORE, REMOVE, PACK And Repair Furniture

of every description. Pictures and Looking-Glasses framed. JOHN ROHR, Nos. 152 and 154 Camp street.

FURNITURE AND MATTRESSES

No. 155 CAMP STREET.

THE undersigned has a large stock of Furniture, which he will dispose of at prices that will DEFY COMPETITION. Give me a call and see for yourselves.

Furniture taken on storage. Repairs made at lowest rates. All Furniture and Bedding put in perfect repair and delivered to order. Mosses, Excelsior, etc., in bulk, done at the lowest possible prices on application to HENRY FROHE, 155 Camp street.

Piles! Piles!! Piles!!!

INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL, BLIND, Bleeding, and Itching, positively, perfectly and permanently cured by absorption. The cure is absolutely perfect and permanent. We use neither caustics nor instruments, and the cure is painless. We can refer to thousands of the very best people in Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Pittsburg, and in every State in the Union.

W. A. & W. L. McCANDLESS, 240 Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

DO YOUR OWN PRINTING!

NOVELTY PRINTING PRESS.

For Use of Schools and Amateur Printers, Schools, Societies, Merchants, Artisans, Lawyers, Physicians, Clergymen, Editors, Authors, Etc.

Child's ..... $3 to $5
Misses' ..... 20 to 50
Women's ..... 25 to 50
Men's Drawer 50
Supporters ..... 25 to 50
Sachet Charities 50
Stand Lamp 1
Armlet ..... 1 to 5

Ask your dealer for them. Sent by mail on receipt of price.

DOVE MANUFG. CO., Worcester, N. Y.

ADOLPH SUTTER,

GLASS STAINER.

Particular Attention Paid to Church Work.

Orders for all parts of the country promptly attended to.

210 N. SEVENTH ST., bet. Pine and Olive, ST. LOUIS, MO.

F. A. McKECHINE,

Engraver on Wood.

OFFICES OF Washington Street and 474 Congress street, Boston. Orders by mail will receive prompt attention. Terms, send three cent Stamp for sample sheet of Cuts for Cards and Envelopes.

T. W. ROTHICK,

UNDERTAKER,

271 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Embalming and Disinfecting. Bodies carefully shipped. Carriages and Cabs for hire.

GLASS STAINERS

CUTTERS, AND EMBOSSERS.

CHURCH WINDOWS A SPECIALTY.

Designs and Estimates furnished.

WM. COULTER & SON

141 E. 3d St., CINCINNATI, O.

ESTABLISHED IN 1825.

LEEDS' FOUNDRY,

Cor. Delord and Fourcher Sts.

CHROMOS.—We have over 3,000 of the best selling American and Foreign chromos ready for delivery. Rare opportunity for experienced solicitors. Send for catalogue. L. PRANG & CO., Art Publishers, Boston, Mass.

SAVINGS BANKS.

NEW ORLEANS SAVINGS INSTITUTION,

158 ..... CANAL STREET 158

Incorporated March 15, 1855.

OFFICERS.

DAVID URQUHART, President.
THOS. A. ADAMS, First Vice President.
THOS. ALLEN CLARKE, Second V. President.
CHARLES J. LEEDS, Third Vice President.
CHARLES KILSHAW, Treasurer.

TRUSTEES.

Thos. A. Adams, Thos. Allen Clarke, Charles J. Leeds, Samuel Jamison, A. Moulton, E. A. Palfrey, George Jonas, John G. Gaines, Christian Schneider, (Jas) Kohn, T. L. Bayne, David Urquhart.

Interest allowed on deposits.

LOUISIANA SAVINGS BANK AND SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY,

51 Camp Street.

CAPITAL $500,000

E. C. PALMER, President.
JAS. JACKSON, Vice President.

DIRECTORS.

ED. CONERY, J. H. KELLER, W. B. SCHMIDT, FRED'K WING, W. H. THOMAS, JAS. JACKSON, E. C. PALMER.

This Company insures against loss by Burglars, Thieves and Fire at low rates, and its capital gives security to Depositors.

Small Deposits received and Six per cent. interest per annum, paid semi-annually.

JOHN S. WALTON, Cashier.

BOOKS, STATIONERY, ETC.

JOSEPH GILLOTT'S

STEEL PENS.

SOLD BY ALL DEALERS

MANUFACTURERS' WAREHOUSE

No. 91 John Street, New York.

JOSEPH GILLOTT & SON

HENRY HOE, Sole Agent.

SONG HERALD

BY H. R. PALMER.

FOR

Singing Classes & Conventions.

A great improvement upon all of Mr. Palmer's former works, containing new ideas throughout. Every page sparkling with

NEW AND BEAUTIFUL MUSIC.

"THE SONG HERALD"

is the legitimate successor of SONG KING and SONG QUEEN, which have had a combined sale of over

350,000 COPIES!

All Other Similar Works are but Imitations.

Price, $7.50 Per Dozen. Single Copy sent on receipt of 75 cents. Specimen Pages free.

JOHN CHURCH & CO., CINCINNATI, O.

The Best and Cheapest Sunday School Library.

GRAND CHEAP LIBRARY.

No. 2.

Choice Illustrated Vols., large type, bound in Muslin, and not to any other Select Library. This Library contains over 12,000 printed pages, profusely illustrated with large full-page engravings, and many of the smaller size. All the volumes in this Library are valuable and instructive. The price of the Library is $28, from which we make a discount of twenty per cent. to Sunday schools, making the Net Price for 50 Large Books only $22. 0.

The books are different from those in No. 1, and some are larger.

SOLD ONLY IN SETS. Send for a catalogue of books of the size of these in this Library are usually sold at from $1 to $1.25 each. Nothing like this Library has been offered for such a small sum.

PUBLISHED BY THE

American Sunday School Union,

1122 Chestnut street, Philadelphia—ALEX. KIRKPATRICK.

7, 8 and 10 Bible House, New York—H. S. SCOFIELD.

40 Winter street, Boston—J. A. CROWELL.

48 Dearborn street, Chicago—W. R. POST.

267 N. Sixth St., St. Louis—S. PAXSON.

Songs of Glory

By JAS. H. FILLMORE,

has already reached the sale of over 50,000 copies. The new notation (specimen in the above cut) is heartily received as a great help to the mass of singers.

Songs of Glory

is full of sparkling gems of song, fresh and new, and must become immensely popular. Price 35 cts.; $3.60 per doz. by express, $4.20 by mail. FILLMORE BROS., Cincinnati, O.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Dr. C. B. White,

Office and Residence,

1107 CANAL STREET.

SAM. HENDERSON,

Cotton Factor, Commission Merchant, and Purchasing Agent,

16 CARONDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS.

"Does business on Grange principles and at Grange rates."

CARR'S CABINS, LUMBER, ETC.—To meet the demand for our Cabins we have added such machinery as enables us to turn them out promptly, faster but better and cheaper; so come on with your orders. Not forgetting that as Lumber Merchants we date back a quarter of a century, and with recently established telegraph communication with our Pearl River Mills, we can furnish at short notice anything from a plaster lath to a ship spar.

W. W. CARR & CO., No. 350 Delord street.

FOR LADIES ONLY.

LADY AGENTS WANTED to sell Mme. Grise's world's SKIRT SUPPORTING CORSET, universally approved, and is gradually superseding all others. Application only to MME. GRISE, 21 East Sixteenth street, New York.

PRINTING PRESSES from $3 to $350. SEND 10 CTS. TO W. Y. E. WARDS, 36 Murray St., New York.

L. C. MACLIN,

Office 71 Carondelet street, wholesale and retail dealer in Pittsburg, Virginia Cannel and Anthracite

COAL.

Full weight guaranteed. Yard, corner Second and Tchoupitoulas streets.

VINEGAR—How made in ten hours without drugs. Address F. SAGE, Springfield, Mass.

INSURANCE.

FACTORS' AND TRADERS' Insurance Company,

37 ..... Carondelet Street 37

Premiums for the year ending April 30, 1876 .....
Losses paid within the year .....
Reserved for unterminated risks April 30, 1876 .....
Net profits for the year .....

Cash dividends for the year:
Interest (semi-annually) ..... TEN PER CENT.
Premiums ..... TWENTY PER CENT.

Assets, April 30, 1876 .....

This Company continues to issue policies on River, and Marine Risks at current rates of premium.

E. A. PALFREY, President.
JOHN CHAFFE, Vice-President.
THOMAS F. WALKER, Secretary.

—TRUSTEES—

W. A. Johnson, John I. Noble, John Chaffe, Richard Milliken, John I. Warren, R. T. Buckner, Samuel Friedlander, A. A. Yates, John L. Adams, Isaac Scherck, R. M. Walmsley, A. H. May, W. C. Raymond, T. Lyle Lyon, S. H. Snowden, S. H. Boyd, Joseph McElroy, E. B. Wheelock, Cyrus Bussey, Wm. J. Behan, B. E. Eshleman, W. C. Black, Charles Chaffe, L. C. Jurey, Wm. Hartwell.

New Orleans Insurance Co

CORNER CAMP AND CANAL STS.

ESTABLISHED IN 1865.

Capital .....
Assets at their market value .....
Income for the year 1875 .....

The company insures FIRE, MARINE, RIVER RISKS. Issues Marine policies in London in case of loss.

President—J. TUYES.
Vice President—A. SCHREIBER.
Secretary—J. W. HINCKS.

DIRECTORS.

Ernest Merith, Placide Forstall, H. Gilly, Charles Lallie, W. Van Benthuysen, Pierre Pontz, A. M. Bickley, A. Schreiber, J. Tuyes, W. A. Bell, D. Fatio, D. D. Rogers.

AGENTS WANTED.

LOOK!

BOOK AGENTS, We are not issuing cheap books, and the largest and most complete family Bible published. Our Bibles have 2,000 ILLUSTRATIONS, and we give extra terms; with large premiums to good agents. For circulars, terms, etc., address ANCHOR PUBLISHING CO., F. A. Hutchinson, Pres't, 207 N. 8th St., St. Louis, Mo.

READY FOR AGENTS—THE

CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION

DESCRIBED AND ILLUSTRATED.

A graphic pen-picture of its history, grand buildings, wonderful exhibits, curiosities, great days, etc. Profusely illustrated, thoroughly popular, and very cheap. Is selling immensely. 5,000 Agents wanted. Send for full particulars. This is the chance of a lifetime to coin money fast. Sell the only reliable history. J. C. McCURDY & BROS., Pubs., 723 Sansom St., Philadelphia, Pa.

CAUTION! Be not deceived by premature, "half-baked" and telling what will happen in August and September.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE

CENTENNIAL

HISTORY OF THE U. S.

The great interest in the thrilling history of our country makes this the fastest selling book ever published. It contains a full account of the Grand Centennial Exhibition.

CAUTION.—Old, incomplete and unreliable works are being circulated; see that the book you buy contains 518 Fine Engravings and 1,000 Pages. Send for circulars and extra terms to Agents. Address NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., St. Louis, Mo.

In Press—Outfits Ready—The

CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION

described and illustrated.

A graphic pen-picture of its history, grand buildings, wonderful exhibits, curiosities, great days, etc. Profusely illustrated, thoroughly popular, and very cheap. Most sell immensely. 5,000 Agents wanted. Send for full particulars. This will be the chance of 100 lives to coin money fast. Sell the only reliable history.

NEW D. THOMPSON & CO., Publishers, St. Louis, Mo.

CAUTION! Be not deceived by premature books assuming to be "full," and telling what will happen in August and September.

AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE FOR OUR NEW

Centennial Family Bible,

AND BIBLICAL ENCYCLOPEDIA.

The best and cheapest in the market. Near 2,000 Pictorial Illustrations. Liberal commissions allowed. For terms and circulars write immediately to the ST. LOUIS BIBLE PUBLISHING CO., 205 Locust street, St. Louis, Mo.

$10 to $25 A DAY SURE MADE by Agents selling our Chromos, Crayons, Picture and Chromo Cards. 125 samples, worth $5, sent postpaid for $5 cents. Illustrated Catalogue free. J. H. BUFFORD'S SONS, Boston, Estab'd 1830.

"DON'T FORGET IT"—Singer's Safety Shuttle is worth all the Burglar Alarms ever invented. Agents wanted everywhere. Illustrated sample pamphlet for stamp. Address A. H. SINGER, 438 Walnut street, Philadelphia, Pa.

AGENTS Double their money selling the Chase Improved Reversible Rocker. Address Dr. Chase's Printing House, Ann Arbor, Mich.

MARVIN LINCOLN,

MANUFACTURER OF ARTIFICIAL LIMBS and various kinds of Surgical Appliances.

The Lincoln Artificial Arm a Specialty.

Artificial Limbs and Fingers neatly and faithfully applied. For information, circulars, testimonials, etc., address MARVIN LINCOLN, No. 3 Hamilton Place, Boston, Mass.

FIRE! FIRE!! FIRE!!!

GUARD AGAINST IT.

THE PEOPLE'S PUMP.

With 50 feet hose, and suction pipe for well 20 feet, for $

CHARLES W. KING, 27 Bevinshire street, Boston.

A. B. [illegible] RINGWALD & CO.,

[illegible] CANAL AND ROYAL STS.

WATCHES, JEWELRY, DIAMONDS AND SILVERWARE.

Watches and Jewelry repaired in the best manner. Goods sent C. O. D., and returnable if not suitable. Everything guaranteed to be as represented.

FLORIAN LAMBIE. FELIX LEGENDRE.

LAMBIE & LEGENDRE, COMMISSION Merchants and dealers in Country Produce. Office and Warehouse—17 TOULOUSE St., New Orleans, La.

Reference—Schmidt & Ziegler, Wholesale Grocers; Schmidt & Ziegler, Proprietors Level Cotton Press; Jules Gerdes, President New Orleans National Bank; Pike, Brother & Co., Commission Merchants; Cashier of People's Bank; Nauni Laundry, Cashier of Germania Bank; Jules Legendre, St. James; Felix F. Poche, St. James.

MEDICAL.

ANGELL'S
HOMEOPATHIC PHARMACY,

351 Julia St., near Camp New Orleans.

HOMEOPATHIC MEDICINES, BOOKS, CASES AND ALL OTHER ARTICLES USED IN HOMEOPATHIC PRACTICE.

TO MEET THE DEMAND FOR AIDS TO Domestic Practice, and proved by an extensive experience to be safe, generally successful and peculiarly adapted to family practice, remedies for the following diseases will be furnished by mail or express, with full directions as to their use:

For Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Fever, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus and Peristaltism, Worms, Colic, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Neuralgia, Headache, Sore Throat, Ear Disorders, Sore Mouth, Urinary Affections, Gravel, Piles, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Scrofula, Sore Eyes, and Nervous and General Debility—Fifty Cents each.

For Heart Affections, and Chill Drops, successful in Ague and Fever when other remedies fail—$1 each.

Phosphorated Bitters and Colic Drops—Fifty Cents each.

DR. R. ANGELL, SR.,

continues his visiting and office practice as usual, day or night, and will prescribe and furnish medicine by letter on a full statement of case, if desirable.

First prescription and medicine, three to five dollars; subsequent ones, two to three dollars. Consultation advice, free of charge, on inclosing stamped envelope. Office up stairs, 352 Julia street.

HOLMAN'S
and Ague and Liver Pad

CURES WITHOUT MEDICINE,
SIMPLY BY ABSORPTION.

The Best Liver Regulator in the World,

The only true cure for and preventive of malaria. It is every form of Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Yellow Fever, Sea Sickness, Neuralgia, Bilious Disorders, etc.

None genuine without the Trade-Mark and Signature of the Inventor on the wrapper.

For certificates, read the little blue book "Enemy in the Air," sent free on application to JENNES HART & CO., Proprietors, Memphis, Tenn., & 55 Custom House st., New Orleans.

For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists.

Price . . . . . $2 and $3.

THE ONLY TRUE AND PERFECT HAIR COLORER!

THE MYSTERY,
Or, Turner's Hair Tint!

HARMLESS! BEAUTIFUL! PERMANENT!

This preparation has received the indorsement of the scientific world, and wherever introduced has superseded all other preparations of the kind. No washing or preparation of the hair is necessary before using.

It is free from all Deleterious Ingredients, containing no Lead, Sulphur or other compounds which are injurious to the Hair or Personal by Absorption.

And its use saves both time and labor, as a few cups applied with a comb, once a month or so, to the hair or Whiskers, answers the purpose. The natural color being so perfectly assumed as to defy detection. Its great recommendation is in its Evaporation of Fluid, producing any desired shade, from light brown to the deepest black and entire absence of that dry and burned appearance produced by other Hair Dyes. The Mystery can be applied to a single hair; or spots that have changed can be restored to their original shade without applying all over the head, as is necessary when other Hair Dyes.

A sample box sent free by mail to any address in the United States upon receipt of price, One Dollar, by the inventor and proprietor,

JAMES TURNER, Chemist,
P. O. Box 2531. New Orleans.

Wholesale Agents.—L. L. Lyons, New Orleans; Shedeck, Finlay & Co., New Orleans; E. J. Hart & Co., New Orleans, and for sale by Druggists everywhere.

N. JENKINS' ANNIHILATOR.

A PURELY VEGETABLE COMPOUND, for the permanent cure of

Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia.

What the Annihilator will do:

From one to two bottles will cure any first attack of Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia.

From two to twelve bottles, according to duration of disease, will cure any case of Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia.

It is one of the best regulators of the circulation of the blood known.

N. JENKINS,
136 Camp street, New Orleans.

Wholesale Agents.—G. R. FINLAY & CO., New Orleans.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Bricks! Bricks! Bricks!
ROY'S BRICK YARD,

ST. BERNARD PARISH, four Blocks below the Slaughterhouse.

The undersigned respectfully informs Builders, Masters, and all consumers of Bricks, that he is positively manufacturing Bricks at his old Brick Yard, near the Slaughterhouse, where he has always on hand a large quantity of country-made Bricks and Kettle Tiles, ready to be delivered without detention.

FREDERIC ROY.

Orders left with S. Roy, at C. Cavarié & Son's, Agents, No. 38 Decatur street, or at the Brick Yard, will be promptly attended to.

JNO. F. LUTHER,
79 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,

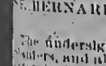
MANUFACTURER OF ALL KINDS OF School, College, Church, Class, Society and Fraternity

PINS, BADGES & MEDALS,

at short notice, and very reasonable.

Fine Presentation Medals a specialty. Orders by mail attended to.

Lower Coast Semi-Weekly Packet.



FOR PORT-EADS, SOUTHWEST Pass, Pilot Town, Fort Jackson and St. Philip Bayou Settlement. Points in Bache and all way landings. The new, swift, low-pressure Steamer

MARTHA,

W. S. Bassett, Master,

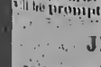
leaves for above every WEDNESDAY at 12 M., and SATURDAY at 5 P. M.

Returning every MONDAY and FRIDAY.

For freight or passage apply on board or to

BYRNE & CARLIN, Agents.

"SELF-INKING" "BEST"



PRINTING PRESS. OUTFIT and PRESS $10. Presses from $40 to $65. Rotary Presses from $45 to $125. Send stamps for catalogues.

H. HOWER & CO.,
50 North 9th street,
Philadelphia.

CARPET WAREHOUSE,

17 ..... CHARTRES STREET. 17

CARPETINGS—Wilton, Axminster, Velvet, Brussels, Tapestry, Three-Ply, etc.

FLOOR OIL CLOTH—English and American.

MATTINGS—500 rolls White, Check and Fancy.

WINDOW SHADES, Table and Piano Covers.

FURNITURE and CURTAIN GOODS in great variety.

BURLAPS, Table and Enamel OIL CLOTHS.

A. HROUSSEAU.

BUSINESS CARDS.

J. D. CRASSONS,
BOOT AND SHOE STORE,
NO. 26 FRENCHMEN STREET,
Between Victory and Moreau, Third District, New Orleans.

A large assortment of Boots and Shoes always on hand, and made to order. Ladies', Children's and Gentlemen's Shoes manufactured to order.

J. F. HOHRACHER,
MANUFACTURER AND DEALER IN
BOOTS AND SHOES,
NO. 237 CAMP STREET,
Between St. Joseph and Delord, New Orleans.
Country orders promptly attended to.

MARTIN WEYDIG,
NO 176 POYDRAS ST., NEW ORLEANS,
MANUFACTURER OF
SADDLES, HARNESS AND HOSE.

Firemen's and Military Equipments made to order. Dealer in all kinds of Leather and Rubber Hose, Leather and Rubber Pipes, Suctions and Fire Buckets, Horse Sheets and Blankets, Lap Dusters, Buggy Robes, Fly Nets and Whips, and all kinds of Saddlery Hardware. Country orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

H. SPIERING,
UPHOLSTERER,
651 ..... MAGAZINE ST. 651
Near Jackson, New Orleans.

Parlor Sets manufactured at New York prices. Spring, Hair and Moss Mattresses made. Loose Covers cut and made to order. Carpets laid, and taken up, cleaned and relaid. All work guaranteed.

G. SCIACCALUGA, IMPORTER,
And Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
GROCERIES, SHIP CHANDLERY, Etc.
Nos. 137 and 139 Old Levee St.,
Between Jefferson and St. Peter, New Orleans.

A full assortment of Paints, Oils, Oakum, Hemp and Manilla Rope. Keeps a complete assortment of French and Catalonia Wines, Italian Macaroni and Vermicelli, etc.

EDWARD SALLE. R. C. CAMMACK.
SALLE & CAMMACK,
COTTON FACTORS
AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS
No. 193 Gravier Street, New Orleans.

Liberal cash advances made on consignments of Cotton, Wool, Tobacco and Produce generally.

COAL ..... COAL ..... COAL.
B. D. WOOD & BRO.,
Corner Camp and Common Streets,
Opposite the City Hotel,

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in all Kinds of COAL. Pittsburg Coal delivered by boat-load or less on the coast, and shipped in casks or in bulk at lowest market rates. City trade supplied.

LUMBER—$7 PER 1,000 FEET,
AT
J. L. NEVERS,
SUCCESSOR TO
J. C. POOLEY, 305 JULIA STREET.

WOOD ..... COAL ..... LUMBER.
NO. 351 DRYADES STREET, between Clio and Erato streets. Best quality of Oak, Ash and Pine Sawed and Split Wood at lowest rates. Pittsburg and Anthracite Coal and Charcoal at the lowest market prices. Also agent for Abita Mills. Lumber sawed to order at the shortest notice. Orders left at my office, 351 Dryades street, or at 282 Calliope street, will receive prompt attention. Satisfaction guaranteed. SAM. SMITH.

LOUISIANA STEAM SASH, BLIND
AND
DOOR FACTORY,
ROBERTS & CO., PROPRIETORS
301, 303, 305 and 307 Gravier Street,
Country orders solicited. New Orleans.

WILLIAM VELDEN,
DEALER IN
WOOD, COAL AND ICE,
Corner Philip and Prytania Streets,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Meat and Fish kept on Ice free of charge.

BOOTS, SHOES AND TRUNKS,
OF VARIOUS QUALITIES AND PRICES
At Low Figures for Cash.

Country Merchants and Planters will do well to give me a call before purchasing elsewhere.

H. MUMME,
No. 54 Magazine street, and
No. 457 Dryades street.

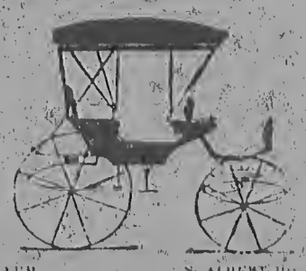
JOHN A. CAIRNS,
GENERAL ENGRAVER,
101 ..... CANAL STREET 101

Wedding and Visiting Cards neatly engraved and printed.

Special attention given to Crests, Monograms, etc., etc. Jewelry and Silverware marked artistically.

ADOLPHE J. LEROY & CO.,
BOOK BINDERS, RULERS,
AND BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURERS.
92 ..... Camp Street. 92
(Over James A. Gresham's,) New Orleans.

Music Books and Periodicals bound in any desired style.



J. A. LUM. S. AGENT TO R. R.

J. A. LUM & CO.,
MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN
CARRIAGES, HARNESS, ETC.
102 Gravier and 13 Union Street.
A SPECIALTY MADE OF CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

J. H. KELLER, MANUFACTURER OF

ALL KINDS OF LAUNDRY AND TOILET SOAPS.

JOHN L. ADAMS. JAY L. ADAMS. WM. H. BENADUM.
JOHN L. ADAMS & CO.,
WHOLESALE GROCERS,
AND DEALERS IN
PROVISIONS, LARD, OIL, ETC.
Nos. 13, 15 and 17 Peters Street,
(Formerly New Levee street,) New Orleans.

PELICAN.
IMPROVED RICE MILLS.
J. H. & A. JOHNSON, PROPRIETORS,
154, 156 and 158 Magazine St., New Orleans.

MILLING RATES—No 1 at ¼c. per pound; No. 2 at ⅛c. per pound. Address all orders for empty Sacks to P. O. Box 240.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DR. W. G. AUSTIN,
OFFICE AND RESIDENCE,
Corner Jackson and Magazine Streets,
New Orleans.
Entrance on Jackson street (Upper City Hotel.)
Office hours—8 to 10 A. M. and 3 to 5 P. M.

GEORGE J. FRIEDRICHS,
DENTIST,
155 ..... St. Charles Street 155
NEW ORLEANS.

DR. JOHN W. ADAMS,
SURGEON DENTIST.
Office and Residence—NO. 511 DAUPHINE ST.,
(Late Greatman street,) one door from corner of Spain, New Orleans.

Nitrous Oxide Gas administered for the painless extraction of Teeth. Teeth inserted on Gold, Silver and Vulcanite bases.

A. L. TUCKER,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
(Late of Franklin, St. Mary Parish, La.)
160 ..... COMMON STREET 160
(Upstairs.) New Orleans.

REMOVAL.—A CARD.—In obedience to the expressed wishes of many of my patrons I have removed my office from my residence, on Napoleon avenue, to TIVOLI CIRCLE, west side, corner of Delord street. This office has been selected by reason of its affording excellent rooms and the light, and for its central location and ease of access by car lines.

My patrons need scarcely be reminded that no efforts will be spared to render them the best service. In Dentistry the best is always the cheapest.

J. R. WALKER, D. D. S.

DR. C. J. BICKHAM,
RESIDENCE AND OFFICE,
611 Magazine St., Corner of Jackson,
NEW ORLEANS.

Office Hours—Eight to nine A. M. and three to four P. M.

DR. J. J. LYONS,
NO. 219 CARONDELET STREET
Between Julia and St. Joseph,
New Orleans.

E. T. MERRICK, former Chief Justice Louisiana. G. W. RACE. W. M. FOSTER.
MERRICK, RACE & FOSTER,
ATTORNEYS, COUNSELORS
AND SOLICITORS,
Corner of Camp Street and Commercial Place,
NEW ORLEANS.

MISCELLANEOUS.

GREAT JACKSON ROUTE.
NEW ORLEANS, ST. LOUIS
AND CHICAGO RAILROAD.

On and after Monday, Nov. 27, 1876,
Trains depart and arrive as follows, from Canal-Street Depot:

DEPART.
Mail	5.30 P. M.
Accommodation	7.30 P. M.
ARRIVE.
Mail	11.45 A. M.
Accommodation	9.40 A. M.

PULLMAN PALACE SLEEPING CARS TO St. Louis, Chicago, Louisville and Cincinnati.

Only one change of Sleeping Cars to Eastern cities.

Accommodation train runs as far as McComb City.

Tickets for sale and information given at No. 92 Camp street, corner of Common, under City Hotel.

A. B. SHELDON, Agent.
E. D. FROST, General Manager.

PLASTER PARIS MODELS
For Drawing Classes.

BUSTS, MASKS AND STATUES FROM THE Antique; life size, medium size, small size.
Torsos from life.
Fractions of the Human Body.
Anatomy from the Old Masters.
Animals. Heads of Animals.
Birds. Reliefs.
Brackets; Pedestals, Religious Statues.
Fruit and Flowers in Relief.
Large assortment of Leaves in Relief.
Orders by mail promptly attended to. Goods carefully packed and sent to any part of the United States. Prices to suit the times.

R. CASTELLUCCHI,
113 Grand street, New York.

H. J. RIVET,
DEALER IN
Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines
AND PERFUMERY AND IMPORTER OF FRENCH PROPRIETARY MEDICINES,
Cor. Bienville and Chartres Sts.,
NEW ORLEANS.

Proprietor of the Celebrated Perchaud Bitters.

GET THE BEST.

VIENNA AMERICA Self Inker ARE the best Presses from $2 to $15. The CENTENNIAL, just the Press for boys, $5; complete Printing Office, $5. Before you buy, send 2-cent stamp for new complete catalogue. I. C. W. WATSON, No. 13 Cornhill, Boston.

WM. B. RINGROSE,
No. 472 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS,
DEALER IN
New & Second-Hand Furniture.

Furniture bought, sold and exchanged. Now occupies the large and spacious store, 472 Camp St., between Thrall and Julia, just above St. Patrick's Church, for the purpose of taking Furniture on storage at the lowest rates. Jobbing, repairing and moving promptly attended to.

YOUR ATTENTION IS RESPECTfully called to the entire stock of

NEW AND SECOND HAND
BAROUCHES, ROCKAWAYS,

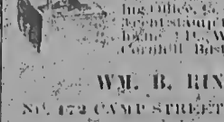
Top and No Top Buggies, Spring Wagons, etc., which are offered at extra large sacrifices within the next sixty days, on account of having to close up the account with my former partner, Jacob Jost, deceased. All vehicles warranted as represented. Call, examine and secure a bargain.

FRED. VERGER, late Jost & Verger, Nos. 1 and 1338 Second St., St. Louis, Mo.

Baxter, Bell & Co.'s Pure Liquid Paints

WARRANTED PURE, AND NOT TO CONtain Water or Alkali. These Paints are of many different shades, and for covering capacity, durability, fineness and beauty of finish they cannot be excelled by any other description of Paint. Liberal discount made to dealers. Send for sample card to the Agents,

SAMUEL M. TODD & CO.,
76 Magazine street, New Orleans.



SURESHOT VERmin Exterminator. Bugs, Roaches, Ants, Flies, Rats, and Mice sent free by mail on the receipt of 50 cents only.

W. FICHTENBERG,
70 Fulton street, New York.

MISS LOUISE SCHMITT,
First Premium Paten Corset Maker.

Corsets for Ladies and Children with detective figures are made to order, and guaranteed a perfect fit. No. 753 Camp street, between Delord and Calliope. The Magazine and Prytania Street cars both convenient.

MISCELLANEOUS.

C. C. C.

The Complete Cotton Cleaner, a New, Valuable and Money-making Machine to every Cotton producer or ginner,—thoroughly removes all Dust, Dirt, Sand and light Trash from cotton before ginning, and improves the quality of the lint from one to four grades.

No gin house should be without one of these "cleaners". It is light, simple, and easily adjusted to either Horse or Steam power, occasioning little or no increased draft, is readily understood, simple in operation, not liable to get out of order, and will pay for itself in less than ten days work.

Manufactured and sold by
Allison Brothers, Memphis, Tenn.
☞ Send for Circulars and Price list. ☜
FRIERSON & CO., Agents, 77 Carondelet St., New Orleans, La.

NATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHER

Edited by M. C. HAZARD. Is undoubtedly the best Teachers' Help published. Has the most thorough, helpful and inspiring lessons, the best corps of contributors, and the most popular editorial departments. Needs only to be examined in order to be taken. Terms, $1.50 per year. Clubs of five or more receive six Lesson Papers with each copy. Sample copy sent free on application to

ADAMS, BLACKMER, & LYON PUB. CO., CHICAGO.

COAL.

Pittsburg, Anthracite and Cannel Coal,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

Coal by first of barge load, delivered to planters on upper or lower coast. Steamers could dock at New Orleans and Baton Rouge.

Coal in casks for shipment to country customers by rail or steamboat.

W. G. WILMOT & CO.,
153 Perdido street, New Orleans.

TO THE PUBLIC.

AS CERTAIN PARTIES are advertising themselves as being "Sole Agents" of the best manufacturers of Perique Tobacco, at Grand Point, St. James parish, I would respectfully state that I am

THE DULY AUTHORIZED AGENT

Of the following manufacturers of Grand Point:

OCTAVE ROUSSEL,
LEWIS ROUSSEL,
AUGUSTAVE ROUSSEL,
E. ST. PIERRE,
And many others.

EDMOND BOURGEOIS,
No. 19 Conti street.

I. A. LACROIX,
PROPRIETOR OF THE
Pontchartrain Cheap Store,
COR. FRENCHMEN AND VICTORY STREETS.
Ladies', Gent's, Misses' and Children's
BOOTS AND SHOES
OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.

Always on hand, a full assortment of first-class goods at prices which defy competition. Call and examine my stock before purchasing elsewhere. My Motto—Quick Sales and Small Profits.

CISTERN-MAKER.

R. BRODERICK,
NOS. 132, 134 AND 136 DELTA ST.,
Between Camp and Magazine, New Orleans.

Constantly on hand an assortment of Cisterns. Second hand Cisterns always on hand. All orders promptly attended to.

PHILOSOPHICAL APPARATUS
FOR
SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES.

To illustrate all departments of Physical Science, Specialty, Sets Apparatus for Academic and Diagnostic Schools.

Magic Lanterns and Stereopticons.

Views from all Countries and respectfully solicited to illustrate Scientific Subjects.

Views made to order at reasonable prices. List on application. Catalogue of each respectively.

JESSE SHEPHERD CHEYNEY
Nos. 1 and 3 Third street, New York.
Successor to Anthony M. Queen & Co.

CHAIR WAREHOUSE.

20 DIFFERENT STYLES OF CANE SEAT CHAIRS, also CAMP CHAIRS, PATENT FOLDING CHAIRS and Settees.

CHAIRS for CHURCHES, PUBLIC HALLS, Schools, COLLEGES, Seminaries etc. Wholesale and Retail.

L. H. WISLER,
234 & 236 N. Sixth St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Dry Goods Cheap for Cash.

THE ATTENTION of Housekeepers and all others in want of Linen and Staple Dry Goods is called to the fact that

P. W. MOHR,
611 MAGAZINE ST., NEW ORLEANS,

is selling his entire stock at unprecedented bargains. Call and judge for yourselves.

OTTO ZEH,
General Engraver and Bank-Rubber's Tool Cutter.

(Designs made for Side and Back Stamps.)
N. W. COR. FOURTH AND MAIN STREETS,
(Second floor,) CINCINNATI, O.

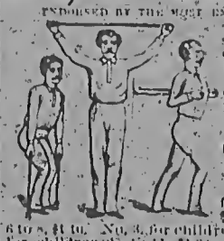
Hat Trade Mark Gilding Stamps, Shoe Ornamental Stiffening Stamps, Burning Brands, Door Plates, etc.

F. R. HARDON,
DEALER IN
MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS,
Nos. 27 and 29 Chartres Street,
Bet. Canal and Customhouse,
NEW ORLEANS.

FREE! $1 sample best article in the line, sent free to ladies or gents. Business respectable, profitable and pleasant for clergymen, teachers and others of genteel appearance and average ability. Send your ledgers and address P. F. RAY & CO., Chicago.

NEW ENGLAND CONSERVATORY OF MUsic. Largest in the world. 15,000 students in 10 years. 55 eminent professors. 115 lessons, for $15. E. TOURJEE, Music Hall, Boston.

ACENTS WANTED.
Goodyear's Pocket Gymnasium



ENDORSED BY THE MOST EMINENT PHYSICIANS.

The latest complete system of physical exercise ever devised for Home Practice.

1,000 in use of men, women, and children. Used standing, sitting, or reclining.

Hundreds of graceful movements.

For homes, offices, schools, hospitals.

Price List.—No. 1 for children 10 to 15 years $1. No. 2, for children 6 to 8, $1.10. No. 3, for children 8 to 10, $1.20. No. 4, for children 10 to 11, $1.30. No. 5, for ladies and children 14 years and upward, $1.40. No. 6, for gentlemen of moderate strength, $1.50. No. 7, used by ladies, children or gents. No. 8, for gentlemen of extra strength, $2.50. Full set, sent by express on receipt of $10; or $5 and No. 6, $6. No. 7 and 8 are fitted with a screw eye and hook to attach to the wall or floor. Agent of No. 7 (Agents $5) guaranteed a complete Gymnasium and Home for life. Sent postpaid on receipt of price. Exclusive agencies granted in unoccupied Territory.

Exclusive rights to sell the Pocket Gymnasium afford the largest possible returns per unit of investment. Its sales are nearly universal wherever it is placed before the public, and its merits fully understood.

For illustrated descriptive circulars, terms, etc., address

Goodyear Rubber Curler Company,
P. O. Box 5,156. 197 Broadway, New York.
RUBBER GOODS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

20,000
ORANGE TREES!
BY
W. R. STUART,
OCEAN SPRINGS, MISS.

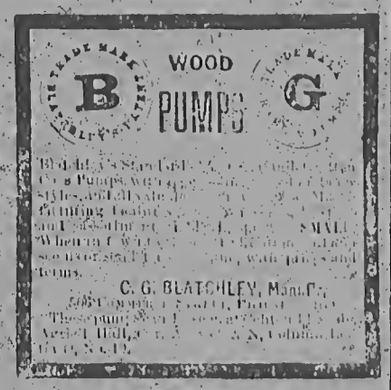
LOUISIANA SWEET, MANDARIN, BRAZILIAN, grafted on sour stock, and SWEET SEEDLINGS, own rooted. Price, from 20 cts to $1 each, according to size and number wanted.

Also SOUR SEEDLINGS for grafting or budding, and for ornamental trees, from 5 cents to 25 cents, according to number wanted.

Trees carefully packed and shipped to any point.

No fruit tree will stand transplanting and transporting better than the orange.

I make Orange Trees a specialty. tf



IRA W. PORTER & CO. Agents, Mobile, Ala.

PRUSSIAN SALVE

FOR BURNS, BRUISES, Sprains, INGROWN NAILS, MAKES, FROSTED FEET, CANCERS and SORES. A certain Cure.

A. BERTHELDEFFER, Manufacturer,
222 Chestnut street,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Price, 25 cts. Sent by mail. For sale by Druggists. Trade supplied. Agents wanted.

L. LYONS, Wholesale and Retail Agent, 42 and 44 Camp St., New Orleans.

ELECTRO STEREO TYPE FOUNDRY.
WOOD ENGRAVING AND PRINTING.
DODGE, CAMPBELL & CO., 124 & 126 Fifth St., Cincinnati, O.
Presses and Printing Material.

ANDREW J. AIKEN. JOHN W. WALL.
AIKEN & WALL
COTTON FACTORS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
18 Union Street, New Orleans, La.

Special attention given to orders for the purchase and descriptions of Produce, Agricultural Implements and Plantation Supplies.

J. A. BOURG,
COMMISSION MERCHANT,
147 ..... DECATUR STREET 147
Near Old Levee,
P. O. Box ..... NEW ORLEANS.

Will attend to the sale of Cotton, Sugar, Rice, Moss, Hides, Wool, Eggs, Poultry, Game of all kinds, Beeswax, Honey and every description of Garden Produce. Country orders solicited.

MENEELY & COMPANY,
Bell Founders, West Troy, New York.

FIFTY years established. Church Bells and Chimes. Academy, Factory Bells, etc. Improved Patent Mountings. Catalogues free. No agencies.

OPIUM AND MORPHINE HABIT ABSOLUTELY and SPEEDILY CURED. Painless. No publicity. Send stamp for particulars. DR. CARLTON, 187 Washington street, Chicago, Ill.

MACHINERY, TIES, ETC.

DANIEL PRATT'S IMPROVED
"Revolving Head" Cotton Gin.
PATENTED JULY 18, 1876.

Price Reduced to $4.50 Per Saw.

THIS GIN has been in use for the past three seasons, and several recent improvements have been added. It obviates all friction at the ends of the cotton box, prevents the roll from breaking, and gives a Larger Yield of Lint from the same Amount of Seed than any other Gin in use. The Revolving Head lightens the draft and causes the Gin to run faster with less driving power, thus doing a great deal more work within the same time, while economizing steam or animal power than any other Gin. The seed being ginned very close, the length of the staple is increased, producing cotton out this account of a greater market value. This improved value, given by length of staple, with extra production of lint, added to increased amount of work done, more than covers the cost of the Gin in every 100 bales ginned. Testimonials sent by mail on application.

JOS. B. WOLFE & CO.,
GENERAL AGENTS,
59 ..... Carondelet St. 59
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

BEN. F. WOLFE,
AGENT FOR THE STATE OF TEXAS,
22 ..... Main Street 22
HOUSTON, TEXAS.

OFFICE OF THE American Cotton Tie Co.,
(LIMITED)
47 CARONDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS.

TO DEALERS IN
IRON COTTON TIES,
Planters and Country Merchants Generally.

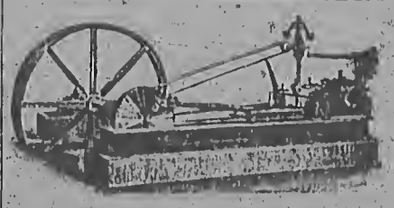
We beg to inform you that we are prepared, through our regularly established Agents, to supply the trade in any quantity with the following celebrated Ties:

THE ARROW AND SHIELD.
BEARD & BRO.'S LOCK TIE.
BRANCH, CROOKES & CO.'S LOCK TIE.

We also beg to inform the public that the interests of Messrs. Beard & Bro. and Branch, Crookes & Co. are now merged into and with the AMERICAN COTTON TIE CO. (LIMITED.) The following are the New Orleans Agents:

Stone & Tutt, Ogden & Bell,
Ellison & Boyd, Archer & Borland,
William Bulton, D. L. Bartlett & Co.

For the American Cotton Tie Co. (Limited):
R. W. RAYNE & CO.,
General Agents.

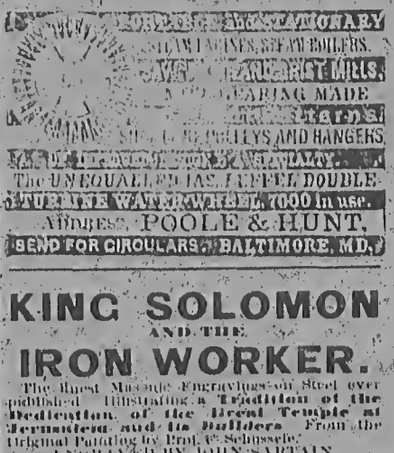


STEAM ENGINES,
BOILERS & MACHINERY
MANUFACTURED BY
L. & E. GREENWALD,
CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Having been established since 1847 we are prepared to supply the best MACHINERY to Southern and Western planters and buyers, promptly, at low prices.

Refer to John Burnside, Esq., and Stephen Allen, Esq., of New Orleans, and H. H. Tolson, Esq., of Shreveport, La.

The Cheapest, Simplest, and Strongest TIE in the market. Costs about one half the price of others. Traveling salesmen wanted on liberal commissions. Address R. C. GUDELOW,
20 and 21 Market street, St. Louis, Mo.



STEAM ENGINES AND BOILERS.
SAW MILLS AND GRIST MILLS.
MILL GEARING MADE TO ORDER.
SHAFTING, PULLEYS AND HANGERS.
THE UNEQUALED JAS. LEFFEL DOUBLE TURBINE WATER WHEEL, 7000 in use.
ADDRESS, POOLE & HUNT,
SEND FOR CIRCULARS. BALTIMORE, MD.

KING SOLOMON
AND THE
IRON WORKER.

The finest Masonic Engravings on Steel ever published. Illustrating a Tradition of the Dedication of the Great Temple at Jerusalem and its Builders. From the Original Painting by Prof. C. Schlosser. ENGRAVED BY JOHN SARTAIN.

Chief of Art Bureau, Centennial Exhibition.

It is of peculiar interest to Masons, as relating to the work of their ancient brethren.

We want a Few Bright Masons to act as Agents.

"It is Sartain's best work, and we think the finest engraving we have ever seen."—Masonic Review, Cincinnati, O.

"It is a perfect gem of art."—Keystone, Philadelphia.

For terms, territory and circulars, with full information for this and other engravings, address

BRADLEY & CO.,
60 N. Fourth St., Philadelphia.

76 VISITING CARDS, no 2 alike, 1 name, 30 cts. and a 3ct. stamp. 4 packs, 4 names, $1. Prettiest assortment you ever saw. No better work in the world, at any price! Common Cards at Unheard-of rates. Write plain. W. C. CANNON, 712 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

TEACHERS WANTED—To supply vacancies in Schools, Academies, and Seminaries in the different States. Send for "Mutual Plan." Address American Educational Union, 737 Broadway, N. Y.

New Orleans Markets.

ADVOCATE OFFICE,
New Orleans, Tuesday, Dec. 5, 1876.

MONETARY.

Considerable activity in premium bonds and consols shows growing confidence. Money for all regular calls is plenty. The increased receipts of produce and large sales would cause a large accumulation of capital, but the demand from the interior draws it from us. This will continue until the bulk of the crop is in market. Quotations unchanged. Gold, 109@109¼. Consols, 57⅝,58. City bonds, 32½.

COTTON.

We extract the following from the cotton statement of W. C. Watts & Co., dated Liverpool, November 17, 1876:

The Position, Etc.—The advance of ⅛d. per pound during the three weeks ending the tenth instant was, as we remarked in our last report, much more rapid than we, or in fact any one, expected; consequently the reaction this week is to some extent only a natural one. There have, however, been some special causes for the depression this week. In the first place, the receipts at the American ports have continued on a scale very much larger than generally expected, and up to last evening were 182,000 bales ahead of last season to same date. The tenor of advices from the Continent have also been such as to cause increased apprehensions of serious complications, and perhaps a great European war growing out of the Eastern question. At present the air is filled with rumors: that Russia is preparing for war, that the conference is likely to be a failure, even if it meets, which is yet by no means certain; that England is apprehensive of war, and is preparing for contingencies, etc. Then again, it now appears that a considerable proportion of the very large business recently done in Manchester in cloth and yarns was on speculation, and, inasmuch as there has been no adequate response in India and China markets for goods, etc., to the improvement in Manchester, that these speculators may, as deliveries are made, rest in that market and thus depress prices. Under such circumstances spinners have taken this week about 5,000 bales less than their consumption, but this leaves them with about 79,000 bales more than they held four weeks ago, and so limited a spot demand has been insufficient to absorb the fresh imports which have been pressed for sale.

Popular estimates of the Egyptian crop of this season now range from 2,250,000 to 2,500,000 cantars, against 3,000,000 last season; a falling off of 500,000 cantars would be equal to about 80,000 bales, which in pounds weight would be equal to nearly 110,000 bales American. On the other hand, the Egyptian, like the American crop of this season, is being forwarded from the interior so very rapidly as to unsettle confidence in current crop estimates. The receipts at Alexandria from the first of October to the fifth instant are reported at 669,968 cantars, against 403,439 last year, and 505,674 the year before.

DAILY EXCHANGE QUOTATIONS.

Day.	Low Ordinary	Ordinary	Good Ordinary	Low Middling	Middling	Good Middling.
Wednesday	.....	.....	11	11⅝	11⅞	12⅜
Thursday	.....	.....	10⅞	11⅝	11⅞	12⅜
Friday	.....	.....	10⅞	11⅝	11⅞	12⅜
Saturday	.....	.....	10⅞	11	11⅜	11⅞
Monday	.....	.....	10⅞	11	11⅜	11⅞
Tuesday	.....	.....	10⅞	11	11⅜	11⅞

DAILY QUOTATIONS AT THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT MARKETS.

Uses—Middling.

	Mobile.	Galveston.	Memphis.
Wednesday	11	11	11
Thursday	.....	.....	.....
Friday	11 @11⅛	11⅛	.....
Saturday	.....	11⅛	11⅛
Monday	11⅛@11⅜	11⅜	11⅜
Tuesday	11⅜	11⅜	11⅜

DAILY MOVEMENT OF NEW ORLEANS, NEW YORK AND LIVERPOOL MARKETS.

Day.	Receipts.	Sales.	Market.	Price.	Sales.	Market.	Price.
Wednesday	13,139	4,000	Dull	12¼	15,000	Firm	6 1-16
Thursday	7,772	3,000	Dull	12¼	12,000	Firm	6 1-16
Friday	6,000	5,000	Dull	12¼	10,000	Firm	6 1-16
Saturday	4,493	5,000	Steady	12⅜	6,000	Firm	6 1-16
Monday	14,788	6,400	Firm	12⅜	8,000	Firm	6 1-16
Tuesday	5,318	7,400	Easier	12⅜	12,000	Quiet	6 1-16
Total	56,862	31,400			85,000

COTTON STATEMENT.

	Bales.
Stock at all the United States ports	92,875
Stock at New Orleans	361,800
Net receipts at New Orleans	474,381
Net receipts last year	414,214
Increase	60,167
Net receipts at all ports of the United States	1,308,879
Net receipts last year	1,024,611
Increase	284,268
Stock in Liverpool	452,000
Of which American	173,000
World's cotton supply, November 3	2,582,330
Last year, same date	2,202,100

Sugar.—Owing to large receipts the market is not so firm; but receivers, by yielding, have been able to dispose of most of the accumulations. Quotations: Inferior, 5c.; common, 6½c.; fair, 7½c.; fully fair, 8½c.; strictly prime, 8⅝c.; choice, 8⅞c.; white clarified, 11@11½c.; yellow clarified, 9½@10c.; off-white, 10½c.; centrifugals, 8¼c.

Report of Dealers' Cash Prices

AT WHICH

COUNTRY ORDERS CAN BE FILLED:

REVISED AND CORRECTED WEEKLY.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

ARTICLES.	FROM	TO
Cotton scrapers	$4 00	— —
Cotton sweeps	3 00	4 50
Cultivators, Diam. and shovel-tooth	6 25	9 00
Cultivators, riding and walking	20 00	25 00
Shovels and spades	6 25	14 00
Axes	9 50	13 00
Shovel plows	3 00	5 50
Half do., with cutters	6 00	8 00
Manly's double-shovel plow	5 00	7 00
Straub's corn mills	115 00	250 00
Corn mills, Coleman's	125 00	225 00
H. J. West's corn mill	200 00	— —
Tunnard's corn and pea planter	15 00	— —
Cotton planter	15 00	— —
Wagons, Carts, Etc.:
Wagon, two-horse	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	100 00	115 00
Wagon, two-horse, thim. skein	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	90 00	100 00
Cane wagon	— —	200 00
Ox-wagon	80 00	125 00
Ox cart, complete	115 00	— —
Cane cart	110 00	115 00
Tongue cart, complete	— —	120 00
Plantation cart	— —	50 00
Baggage cart	65 00	75 00
Iron, ₱ lb.:
Swedes, assorted	7	7½
Hoop	4½	5
Sheet	4½	5
Nail rods	9	10
Castings, American	4½	5½

BUILDING MATERIAL.

Bricks, ₱ 1,000:
Lake	10 50	14 00
Country	9 00	10 00
Englished	45 00	47 00
Lime, ₱ bbl.:
Western	1 50	1 75
Cement	2 00	2 25
Plaster Paris	2 25	2 50
Lumber, ₱ M feet:
Floorings, dressed	16 00	18 00
Flooring, rough	— —	16 00
Ceiling, dressed	10 00	12 00
Weatherboards, dressed	14 00	16 00
Weatherboards, rough	— —	— —
Scantling	10 00	12 00
Siding, 1 inch	— —	3 75
Nails, best brands	3 20	— —
Shingles sizes proportionately higher	— —	— —
Glass, ₱ box of 50 feet:
French, 8 by 10	— —	3 50
French, 10 by 12	3 75	4 00
French, 10 by 14 to 12 by 20	4 00	4 25
French, 14 by 18 to 18 by 26	4 25	4 75
White Lead, best, ₱ lb	8	10
Paris Green, ₱ lb	30	— —
Put. Dryer, ₱ lb	12	14
Whiting, ₱ lb	— —	1½
Putty, in bladders, ₱ lb	— —	4½
Linseed Oil, ₱ gal	— —	70

SASH, BLINDS AND DOORS.

Size of lights.	Sash, per pair. Unglazed.	Glazed.	Blinds, per pair.
Window Sash, 4 lights:
8 by 10	65	$1 70	$2 00
10 by 12	75	1 90	2 25
12 by 16	$1 00	2 95	3 25
Sash Doors:		Single.	Double.
3 feet x 7 feet		$3 50	$4 50
3 feet x 8 feet		4 50	— —
3 feet 6 inches x 7 feet 6 inches		— —	4 25
Panel Doors:
2 ft. 8 in. x 7 ft. 3 in. thick		— —	$3 25
2 ft. 8 in. x 7 ft. 3 in. thick		— —	3 45
2 ft. x 7 ft. 2 in. thick		$3 75	4 50

GROCERIES.

Butter, ₱ lb.:
Western, choice	24	26
Goshen, choice	34	36
Coffee, ₱ lb.:
Rio, fair	18¾	19¾
Rio, good	20	21
Rio, prime	21¾	22¾
Java, choice Old	— —	31
Candles, ₱ lb.:
Star, best brands	— —	15
Chocolate, ₱ lb.:
Cocoa	58	60
Sweet	48	53
Canned Fruits, ₱ doz.:
Peaches, strawberries and pears	2 25	2 50
Corn Meal, ₱ bbl.:
Best, kiln dried	— —	4 00
Cheese, ₱ lb.:
Western factory	12½	14
N. Y. cream and English dairy	15½	16
Fish:
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in bbls	— —	29 00
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in kits	— —	8 00
Sardines, quarter boxes	— —	15½
Flour, ₱ bbl.:
Superfine	4 75	5 00
XX	5 75	6 00
XXX	6 25	6 75
Choice XXX	6 75	7 25
Choice family	7 50	8 00
Fruits:
Dried apples, ₱ lb	10	10½
Dried peaches, ₱ lb	9½	10
Raisins, ₱ quarter box	— —	80
Raisins, ₱ half box	— —	1 00
Raisins, ₱ whole box	— —	2 75
Bananas, ₱ bunch	1 00	3 00
Crackers, ₱ lb.:
Soda	5	6
Butter	6	7
Sugar	9	9
Gingernuts	9	12½
Oils:
Coal, in cans, best	— —	58
Insurance, in cans	— —	50
Coal, in barrels, best	— —	33
Lard, in barrels, best	1 10	1 12
Molasses, in barrels:
Common	40	42
Fair	44	45
Prime to choice	50	50
Golden and Roquet syrups	80	85
Half bbls. 5c and kegs 10c. more.
Rice, Louisiana, ₱ lb.:
No. 2	— —	3
Ordinary	5	5
Fair	5½	5½
Prime to choice	6½	7½
Soap, in boxes, ₱ lb.:
XXX Palm	— —	— —
Keller's magnolia	— —	5
Keller's olive	— —	8½
Starch, ₱ lb	4	5
Salt, in sacks:
Fine	1 30	35
Coarse	1 05	1 10
Sugar, in bbls.:
Good fair	7	8½
Prime	8	9
Choice	9	9½
Yellow clarified	10	10¾
White clarified	10½	11¾
Crushed	12	12½
Powdered	12	12¾
Spices, ₱ lb.:
Allspice	— —	18
Pepper	— —	20
Cloves	— —	30
Cinnamon	— —	32
Tea, ₱ lb.:
Black Oolong	— —	1 00
Green imperial	— —	1 25
Tobacco, manufactured, ₱ lb.:
Chewing, common	45	50
Chewing, fair	50	60
Chewing, prime	55	65
Chewing, choice	65	1 00
Smoking	45	1 00

GRAIN AND FEED.

Corn, ₱ bushel:
Yellow, choice	— —	— —
White, mixed	— —	80
Oats, ₱ bushel:
St. Louis	— —	— —
Texas	— —	50
Rieiera	— —	50
Bran, choice, ₱ 100 lbs	75	80
Hay, ₱ ton:
Prime timothy	18 00	21 00
Ordinary	— —	14 00
Cotton Seed Meal	26 00	28 00

PROVISIONS.

Bacon, ₱ lb.:
Breakfast	11½	11¾
Shoulders	— —	8½
Sides, clear rib	9¾	10
Sides, clear	10	10¼
Hams, sugar-cured	13½	14¾
Mess Pork, ₱ bbl	18 75	19 25
Dry Salted Meats:
Shoulders	— —	7¾
Lard, ₱ lb.:
Choice, in Kegs	11½	12
Choice, in Tierces	11	11¾

BALING STUFFS.

Bagging:
India	10	10¾
Jute	12¾	13¾
Ties, Arrow, best, per bundle, at 30	— —	— —
Ties and buckles	— —	8 50
Beard	— —	8 50
Twine, hemp	— —	10

SUNDRIES.

Leather, ₱ lb.:
Sole, hemlock	27	28
Sole, oak	38	40
Harness	35	45
Calf skins, ₱ dozen	20 00	75 00
Texas, rough, ₱ lb	24	26
Fertilizers, ₱ ton:
Sierra's raw-bone superphosph	65 00	— —
Sierra's fine-ground bone	45 00	— —
Cotton Seed in sacks	11 00	— —

DRY GOODS.

Brown Domestic, ₱ yard:
Standard brands, 7-8	— —	9
Standard brands, 4-4	— —	11
Bleached Domestic, ₱ yard:
Choice brands, 7-8	— —	10
Choice brands, 4-4	— —	12½
Calico, ₱ yard:
Common brands	4½	5½
Sprague, Allen & Hamilton	6½	7½
Ticking, ₱ yard:
Common brands	11	13½
Good	16	22
Gunnebags	— —	— —
Eight ounce	11½	12½
Stripes	10	12½
Checks	14	18
Denims	13	16

BOOTS AND SHOES.

Batchelor mud boots, ₱ doz	36 00	42 00
Common brogans, ₱ doz	— —	30 00
Canadian brogans, ₱ doz	12 00	15 00
Batchelor brogans, ₱ doz	13 00	16 50
Russets brogans, ₱ doz	16 00	19 50

Special Notices.

A Gem worth Reading!—A Diamond worth Seeing!

SAVE YOUR EYES!
Restore your Sight!
THROW AWAY your SPECTACLES.
By reading our Illustrated PHYSIOLOGY AND ANATOMY of the EYE SIGHT. Tells how to Restore Impaired Vision and Overworked Eyes; how to cure Weak, Watery, Inflamed, and Near-Sighted Eyes, and all other Diseases of the Eyes.
WASTE NO MORE MONEY BY ADJUSTING HUGE GLASSES ON YOUR NOSE AND DISFIGURING YOUR FACE. Pamphlet of 100 pages Mailed Free. Send your address to us also.

Agents Wanted,
Gents or Ladies. $5 to $10 a day guaranteed. Full particulars sent free. Write immediately, to
DR. J. BALL & CO., (P. O. Box 957)
No. 91 Liberty St., New York City, N. Y.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Snyder's Curative PADS.

WORN OVER PART AFFECTED, ABSORB ALL MALARIA FROM THE SYSTEM.

They positively cure the worst cases of Liver Pain, Heart, Kidney Spine, Bladder and Womb Ailments, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Costiveness, Soreness at pit of Stomach or Bowels, Female Weakness, Sick and Nervous Headache, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, Restlessness, etc., may be entirely eradicated by wearing one of our Pads. Many of our best citizens can attest to their merit.

The Liver and Lung Pad	$2 00
Kidney and Spinal Pad	3 00
Womb Pad for Female Weakness	3 00

☞ Ask your druggists for "Snyder's Curative Pad," and take no other, or inclose the price in a letter to us, and we will send them by mail. Address

E. P. SNYDER & CO.,
Manufacturers and Proprietors,
Indianapolis, Ind.

☞ For sale by L. L. LYONS, New Orleans.

A General Agent wanted for each State South, with whom a liberal contract will be made to supply the wholesale and retail trade. 8p ow

FOLEY'S Celebrated Gold Pens

AND PENCILS.

THE FINEST AND BEST.

CIRCULAR.—To those engaged in mercantile pursuits any invention that will facilitate their labor is highly worthy of notice, as well as of extensive patronage. One of the most important inventions of the present age is that of a pen that possesses the necessary qualities of firmness in mark and durability in use. Pre-eminently such are those of JOHN FOLEY, manufacturer of the GOLD PENS AND PENCILS, No. 2 Astor House. Their superior value is tested by the long time he has been engaged in our city in their manufacture. We, the subscribers, who know the value of FOLEY'S PENS from constant use of them for a number of years, cheerfully recommend them to those who wish for the best and most perfect Gold Pen ever made.

Signed by the following gentlemen and over one thousand others:

J. E. Williams, Pres. Metropolitan Nat'l and Bank. G. S. Coe, Pres. American Exchange Nat'l Bank. J. A. Beardsley, Cashier Nat'l Bank of N. America. Wm. A. Paul, President Corn Exchange Bank. R. H. Lawry, Pres. Nat'l Bank of the Republic. F. D. Tappan, Pres. Gallatin National Bank. C. F. Thompson, Cashier Continental Bank. I. H. Ogden, Cashier New York Co. N. Y. Bank. Clark, Dodge & Co. George D. Arthur & Co. White, Morris & Co. H. T. Morgan & Co. Verrilly & Co. American Express Co. Winslow, Lanier & Co. Adams Express Co. Chas. Dennis, Vice Pres. Atlantic Mutual Ins. Co. Daniel H. Smith, Pres. Commercial Ins. Co. Elwood Walter, Pres. Mercantile Mutual Ins. Co. Wm. L. Jenkins, President Bank of America. J. W. Lewis, Cashier Union National Bank. Wm. H. Post, Cashier Mechanics' National Bank. J. Buell, Pres. Importers' and Traders' Nat'l Bank. J. M. Crane, Cash'r Shoe and Leather Nat'l Bank. Wells, Fargo & Co. T. Ketchum & Co. United States Express Co. S. R. Chittenden & Co. Barclay & Living-ton. Johnson & Higgins. A. P. Wilmarth, Vice Pres. Home Fire Ins. Co. Morris Franklin, Pres. New York Life Ins. Co.

JOHN FOLEY,
GOLD PEN MANUFACTURER,
No. 2 Astor House, Broadway, N. Y.

Sold by many of the leading Stationers and Jewelers of New Orleans. 8pow

FAIRBANKS' SCALES,

GUARANTEED U. S. STANDARD.

FAIRBANKS'

COTTON AND SUGAR BEAMS.

Branch House—53 Camp Street.

FAIRBANKS & CO

CHURCH ORGANS.

WM. H. CLARKE & CO.,

CHURCH ORGAN BUILDERS,

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

Builders of the large Organ in Roberts Park M. E. Church, Indianapolis and other large Organs in various parts of the United States. Specifications and details furnished to Church Committees without charge. Special facilities for the construction of Instruments of every size for the Southern climate. Address P. O. Box 119.

N. B.—Mr. Clarke is well known as the author of popular works of Organ Music, familiar to all organists. 10 ow

DRY ROGERS' In Powder.

CITRATE OF MAGNESIA.

DURING the past twenty-five years it has received universal satisfaction as a pleasant aperient. It is the best medicine for Headache, Sickness of the Stomach, Heartburn, and all complaints arising from acidity, bilious and malarial fevers. It cools the blood and regulates the bowels. It is superior to Saratoga and most mineral waters. For sale by all druggists. Prepared by A. Rogers & Sons, New York City. ow

MIAMI MEDICAL COLLEGE

OF CINCINNATI.—Next session will commence Oct. 1, 1876. Preliminary session from Sept 15. Professors' tickets, $40

FACULTY.—John A. Murphy, M. D., Dean; S. Williams, M. D.; Wm. Clendenin, M. D.; Wm. H. Taylor, M. D.; J. R. Langle, M. D.; W. H. Mussey, M. D.; S. F. Richardson, M. D.; T. H. Kearney, M. D.; J. C. Mackenzie, M. D.; W. H. Davis, M. D.

For circulars address W. H. TAYLOR, M. D., No. 329 West Seventh street. ow

D. LANGELL'S ASTHMA & CATARRH REMEDY.

Having struggled twenty years between life and death with ASTHMA, I experimented by compounding roots and herbs and inhaling the medicine. I fortunately discovered a sure cure for ASTHMA and CATARRH. Warranted to relieve any case of Asthma in fifty, so the patient can lie down to sleep. By mail, $1.00 per box. Address D. LANGELL, Apple Creek, Ohio. For sale by Druggists. ow

ROSE-BUDS IN WINTER

STRONG POT ROSES, specially prepared for fall planting and quick bloom, sent safely by mail postpaid. Five splendid varieties, all labeled, for $1; 12 do $2; 19 do $3; 25 do $4; 35 do $5. For ten cents each additional, one magnificent Fremiant Rose to every dollar's worth ordered. send for our new Guide to Rose Culture, and choose from over 300 finest sorts. Address the DINGEE & CONARD CO., Rose Growers, West Grove, Chester Co., Pa ow

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE TRUTH AT LAST.

OFFICIAL REPORT

OF THE

Centennial Awarding Committee

ON THE

SINGER SEWING MACHINE.

THE United States Centennial Commission announce the following report as the basis of an award to the SINGER MANUFACTURING COMPANY, Elizabeth, N. J., for their FAMILY SEWING MACHINE:

REPORT.

A Shuttle Sewing Machine, embodying the following points of construction, viz.: A needle bar operated from the end of a rotating shaft in the overhanging arm; a shuttle supported in a shuttle carrier, moved transversely to the feed by means of a crank on a rotating shaft; a four-motioned positive feed, and a straight needle, with its eyes parallel with the direction of feed.

For the following reasons:

A SUPERIOR

Family Machine, embodying the greatest number of most approved mechanical devices to impart positive motions to the various parts, simplicity of construction, good workmanship, excellent quantity and quality of work done, originality, and for completeness of display.

A. T. GOSHORN, Director General.
J. R. HAWLEY, President.
ATTEST—MYER ASCHE, Assistant Secretary.

J. & P. COATS

have been awarded a Medal and Diploma at the Centennial Exposition, and commended by the Judges for

"SUPERIOR STRENGTH

AND

EXCELLENT QUALITY

SPOOL COTTON!"

A. T. GOSHORN, Director-General.
J. R. HAWLEY, Pres't.
ATTEST: R. BUTLER, Secretary pro tem.
ow

COUNTRY ORDERS.

PARTIES residing in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas and adjacent States, who buy their DRY GOODS FOR CASH, are invited to send for samples, which will be forwarded to them Free of Cost and Postage Paid, and where sales favored with an order which exceeds $5, the Freight thereon will be paid at my expense. Where the order exceeds $20 I will pay the cost of sending the Money, whether by Express, Money Order, Registered Letter, Bank Draft or otherwise.

The new postal law permits parcels weighing four pounds or less to be sent by mail, at the rate of one cent per ounce, so that parties ordering less than $10 worth can have their purchases sent to them through their postoffices at a very slight expense. Anywhere they desire packages sent by mail, they should make provision for the postage. Goods sent C. O. D. to all points where the Express Company or Packets have Agents.

As a matter of accommodation I will purchase articles outside of my line, which is confined to Fancy and Staple Dry Goods, but will not pay the freight thereon unless the order for Dry Goods bought at me exceeds $10. No charge will be made for purchasing articles out of my line to a limited extent.

Articles not corresponding to order can be returned.

Should I not be able to fill the order the money will be returned at my expense.

No charge made for Cases, Baling, Strapping, Drayage or Insurance.

My personal attention given to Country Orders. Having a resident buyer in NEW YORK constantly buying bargains, both at the large Auction Sales and at private sale, I am enabled to sell a large portion of my stock at very low prices, giving my customers the advantage of the bargains thus obtained. I am receiving new goods by every steamer from the North and Europe.

I have been in business more than TWENTY YEARS and the steady yearly increase affords a gratifying record of fair dealing, to which I refer with pride.

J. A. BLASKLEMAN,
Nos. 86 and 88 Magazine street,
Cor. St. Andrew, New Orleans.
RELIABLE CASH HOUSE.

THE TRUTH AT LAST

IN REGARD TO

Sewing Machine Awards by the Centennial Commission.

THE Commission grants awards of equal merit to all of the leading Sewing Machine Companies.

None received higher awards than the HOWE. It was unanimously decided that the Centennial display of work by this Company has never been equaled.

The Howe was the first, and is consequently the oldest Machine in the market.

To-day we can conscientiously claim the most durable Machine doing the most perfect stitching and the greatest range of work, and, further, can prove our claim by a practical demonstration.

Late improvements make it one of the lightest running first class Machines in the market.

For the sake of a high-sounding advertisement we will stoop to no false representations.

With the conflicting and bewildering claims of the different Companies before the public we can only invite an examination at the sales-room of

THE HOWE MACHINE COMPANY,
187 CANAL ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Send for price list.

ATTENTION, LADIES!

MME. DEMOREST'S GIFT PAPER PATTERNS, of the latest fashions, put up in illustrated envelopes, with full directions for use. Sent by mail to any address on receipt of price. Catalogue free. Address D. P. PERRY, 183 Canal St., New Orleans.

DR.
J. R. Knapp,
145 CANAL STREET,
FIRST-CLASS
DENTISTRY.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH which defy detection, and are comfortable and serviceable to wear, at GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.

Filling decayed Teeth so as to last for years,

WITHOUT PAIN,

By means of a new invention.

All work guaranteed. Consultation free. Call and examine work and prices. 8p

OPIUM and Morphine habit absolutely and speedily cured. Pamphlet on publicity. Send stamp for particulars. Dr. Carleton, 187 Washington st., Chicago, Ill.

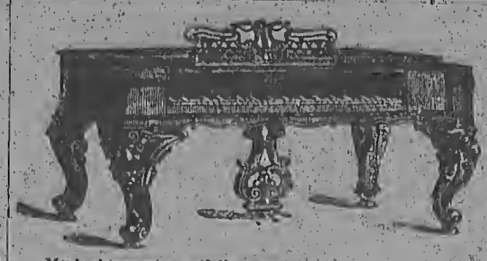
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, ETC.

JACKSON & GALLAGHER,

PIPE ORGAN BUILDERS,

915, 917, 919, Walnut St., St. Louis, Mo.

N. B. Church Organs Tuned and Repaired. Send for Illustrated Catalogue.



My Instruments are fully guaranteed.

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.

CAREFUL OBSERVERS

IN THE MATTER OF

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS

Will find it to their interest to examine

THE EXTENSIVE AND COMPLETE STOCK

OF

HOUSEWARE,

Of every description, kept by

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,

NO. 29 CAMP AND 116 COMMON ST.,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

And they will establish these facts.

1. OUR STOCK IS THE BEST.
2. OUR PRICES ARE THE CHEAPEST.
3. OUR METHODS ARE THE FAIREST.

With more than thirty years' experience in the Crockery trade, we claim a knowledge of the wants of this community not found in no one, and can fill them better than any house in the Southwest.

Please note what a little money will do toward adding to your

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS.

$1 00 will buy a White Granite TEA SET of 44 pieces.
6 50 will buy a French China TEA SET, same number of pieces.
10 00 will buy a French China Gold or Colored Band TEA SET, same number of pieces.
15 00 will buy an elegant Porcelain DeTerre (nearly equal to French China in appearance, and far more durable) DINNER SET, comprising 124 pieces, to wit:

12 Dinner Plates,	1 Soup Tureen,
12 Tea Plates,	1 Sauce Boat,
12 Soup Plates,	1 Salad Dish,
12 Preserve Plates	2 Covered Dishes,
12 Butter Plates,	2 Vegetable Dishes,
12 Tea Cups and Saucers,	2 Pickle Dishes,
12 Dinner Coffee Cups and Saucers.	4 Meat Dishes.

15 00 will buy the same assorted DINNER SET in One best White Granite Ware.
4 00 will buy the best White Granite CHAMBER SET, known as 11 pieces, comprising everything but Slop Jar and Foot Tub.
1 35 per dozen will buy the best White Granite DINNER PLATES.
1 25 per dozen will buy the best White Granite BREAKFAST PLATES.
1 10 per dozen will buy the best White Granite TEA PLATES.
1 00 per dozen will buy good, Table GOBLETS.
4 75 per dozen will buy the best Pressed Table GOBLETS.
75 cents will buy a beautiful Glass BERRY SET, Sugar, Cream, Butter and Spoon Holder.
Plain French China DINNER SETS (first choice,) 160 pieces, $30.

Gold Band and Decorated DINNER SETS at extraordinarily low prices and everything else required for housekeeping in any style at prices within the reach of every one.

The above list contemplates first class, regular goods, of good shapes and sizes, and will give entire satisfaction wherever they are placed.

Charges for packing and drayage: Dinner sets, $1; Tea sets, 50 cents.

We invite inquiries. Catalogues sent on application.

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,
No. 29 Camp street and 116 Common street,
New Orleans.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LEVY BROS.,

580 MAGAZINE ST., NEW ORLEANS

THE MOST POPULAR

DRY GOODS HOUSE

IN NEW ORLEANS.

Keep constantly on hand a select stock of STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS, consisting of Bleached and Unbleached Cotton, Calicoes, Flannel, Dress Goods, Hosiery, Corsets, Ribbons, Cassimere, Delaines, Merinoes, Blankets, etc.

A Specialty Made of Black Alpaca.

Our HELLA Kid Gloves are guaranteed, and money returned or another pair given in case they rip or tear while putting them on.

Orders from the country strictly attended to.

CROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE DEPOT

MOVED TO

NO. 5 CHARTRES STREET.

A NEW STOCK of the Elastic Stitch and Lock-Stitch Machines, with a complete assortment of Needles, Parts, Attachments, Silk Twist, Spool Cotton, Linen Thread, Oil, etc., just received and for sale at the lowest cash prices. The above goods are manufactured by and for the Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Company, and warranted the best in the market.

Caution to Our Patrons, Grangers and Their Agents.

There are parties here who are selling imitations of our goods, repainting and patching up old Machines to make them look like new, and selling them as such. No new goods of the above make can be purchased in New Orleans except from us, at No. 5 Chartres street. Agents wanted.

H. H. TRUE,
General Southern Agent.

RICHARD RHODES,

LATE F. CHARLEVILLE,

SPORTSMEN'S DEPOT,

53 ST. CHARLES ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Articles of All Kinds for Fishermen.

Rods, Nets, Hooks, Lines, and every desirable article for the Angler, wholesale and retail.

GUNS, RIFLES and PISTOLS of every variety and of direct importation. Also Sporting materials of all kinds. Game Bags, Shot Pouches, Flasks, and every article needed by Hunters, will be sold at the lowest prices for cash. Also the celebrated "Dead Shot" Gunpowder, Shot, Eley's Shells, Cartridges, etc., of the best quality, wholesale and retail.

R. RHODES.

HOYLE & ENGELSHEIM,

SOLE AGENTS FOR

DUPONT'S GUNPOWDER,

And Wholesale Dealers in the celebrated ST. LOUIS SHOT, Percussion Caps, Bar Lead, Etc.,

NO. 32 CANAL STREET,
Corner of Tchoupitoulas, New Orleans.

1877.——Postpaid.——$1.60.

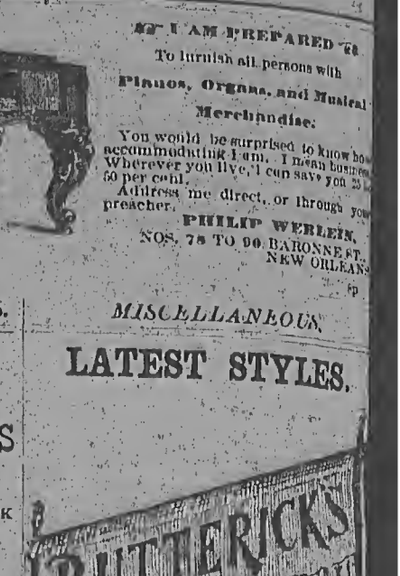
THE NURSERY.

A Monthly Magazine for Youngest Readers. SUPERBLY ILLUSTRATED. ☞ Send ten cents for a Sample Number. Subscribe NOW, 1876, and get the last two numbers of this year FREE.

JOHN L. SHOREY,
38 Bromfield street, Boston.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LATEST STYLES.



A DIRECTOR

The Singer Manufacturing Co.,

91 ..... CANAL STREET .....

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

What will the Weather BE TO-MORROW?

THE

Signal-Service Barometer

WILL TELL YOU.

It will detect and indicate correctly any change in the weather from 12 to 24 hours in advance. It will tell you what kind of a storm is approaching and from what quarter it comes—invaluable to navigators.

FARMERS

can plan their work according to its predictions. It will save 5 times its cost in a single season. There is an accurate thermometer attached which alone is worth the price of the combination. Will send it, express paid, to any address on receipt of $2. Send Money Order or Registered Letter.

AGENTS WANTED. Send stamp for circular.

H. W. POOL & CO.,
835 Broadway, New York

The Boston Traveler says: "We carefully inspected the above-described Signal-Service Barometer, and found it to be as stated by Messrs. Pool & Co., who are honorable and reliable." 8p

PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRY.

A. H. NELSON,

COMMERCIAL STATIONER,

PRINTER, BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURER AND LITHOGRAPHER.

The best assortment of Blank Books in the city. The finest specimens of Lithographic work to be seen in New Orleans.

NO. 57 CAMP STREET,
Sign of the Mammoth LETTER PRESS.
Call and prove my statements.

CHAS. D. LALLANDE,

IMPORTER AND DEALER IN

HARDWARE AND CUTLERY

88 TCHOUPITOULAS STREET

AND

No. 36 Peters Street,

NEW ORLEANS.

CRESCENT CITY OIL CO.,

23 UNION ST., NEW ORLEANS.

MANUFACTURERS OF

Cotton Seed Oil, Oil Cake

SOAP STOCK, and COTTON SEED MEAL for Cattle Feed and Fertilizing.

DIRECTORS.

Thos. D. Miller,	Duncan F. Kenner,
John W. Tuplin,	J. L. Harris,
Edward Ivy,	Thos. P. Leathers,
John

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1876.

A KINDLY DEED.

A kindly deed
Is a little seed
That groweth all unseen;
And o when none
Do look thereon,
Anow it springeth green.

A friendly look
Is a better book
For precept, than ynu'll find
Among the sages wise,
Or the libraries,
With their priceless wealth of mind.

The little dole
Of an humble soul,
In all sincerness given,
Is like the wings
Of the lark, as it springs,
Singing clear, to the gate of heaven.

Sunday Magazine.

Oriental Fruits and Flowers.

Some very interesting information is given by a writer in the Athenæum, in a criticism of some anachronisms displayed in the introduction of fruits and flowers in several of the Royal Academy pictures. He says that

"Oranges and lemons were unknown to the Greeks and Romans, and were first introduced into the countries of the Mediterranean by the Arabs, between the tenth and fifteenth centuries. Both are natives of Upper India, the orange being derived from the wild Citrus Aurantium of Gurhwal, Sikkim and Khasia, and the lemon, lime, and probably citron also, from the wild Citrus Limonum, of the valleys of Sikkim and Kumaon. The citron, Citrus medica, was the first cultivated variety, and early passed into Media, and was known to the Greeks and Romans. The word orange is simply the Sanskrit Nagrunya, and Hindustani Narungee, and Arabic Narung; and lemon, the Sanskrit Neembooka, and Hindustani Neemboo or Leemboo, made Leemoon by the Arabians. The Arabian and Persian medical writers, who give the Greek name of every drug which had one, and which names (Younnee) are in daily use in the remotest and most obscure bazars of India, give no Greek synonyms for oranges and lemons; but they give Marsecka as the Greek, and Atroglh as the Syrian, name of the Median apple or citron, which they themselves call Ooturuj and Toorunj. Mr. Armitage could easily make his orange and lemon trees citrons, and it happens that the citron is largely cultivated in India in pots, and might thus have been used in the decoration of the room of 'The Last Supper.' 'Media fert tristes succos.'

"Sharp-tasted citrons Median climes produce,
Bitter the rind, but generous is the juice:
A cordial draft, a present antidote.

Large is the plant, and like a laurel grows,
And did it not a different scent disclose,
A laurel were; the fragrant flowers contain
The stormy winds; tenacious of their stem.

"Still more appropriately might Mr. Armitage have introduced in his picture the Paliurus aculeatus, very common about Jerusalem, or the Zizyphus spina Christi, found in the dense underwood throughout the Jordan valley; and of one or other of which the crown of thorns placed on the Savior's head before his crucifixion was probably plaited. It would be most interesting and instructive if an historical garden could be formed at Kew or elsewhere, showing in separate borders the different plants introduced into Europe or Great Britain alone, during the successive centuries since the fall of Constantinople; for it was through the Turks at Constantinople that the taste for our modern flower gardens was introduced into Europe from Persia. There would be fifteenth, sixteenth, seventeenth, eighteenth and nineteenth century borders. Before the fifteenth century it would only be necessary to have separate borders for the plants of Homer, Virgil and the Bible. To a very late period people in England were content with the plants which grew in their own neighborhood, and in all gardens exotics should always be looked upon as but curiosities. There should be great jealousy as to their introduction, at least until they have become thoroughly naturalized, and they should never be allowed to overwhelm the home plants of any country. An English garden should be thoroughly English. The only exotics the cultivation of which should be courted, are the great historical plants, while the blazing upstarts of America and the Eastern Archipelago are in their right place only in their own burning or humid homes, or in scientific gardens and the rarer shows of horticultural societies. Nothing can be more charming than some of our old English gardens, which have been left untouched since they were first planted in the days of Queen Anne. Architects are bound to study synchronism as much as painters, and an architect who builds a liberal Elizabethan or Queen Anne's house ought to insist on surrounding it with an Elizabethan or Queen Anne's garden. A house and its garden are but parts of one picture, and should be self-consistent throughout; and if we choose to reproduce in the reign of Victoria—and such reproductions of the past have a delight for mankind—houses in the Queen Anne or Elizabethan style, it is inconsistent to place them in blazing International Victorian gardens of cosmopolitan flowers. No doubt English folk in Queen Anne's time would have grown calceolarias and lobellas if they could have got them, but they had them not—excepting the cardinal flower—and to introduce them, and especially in the vile form of ribbon-gardening round houses literally reproduced in the Queen Anne style, does a violence to the natural association of ideas which a true artist would avoid.

Very beautiful is the Persian's love for flowers. In Bombay I found the Parsees use the Victoria gardens chiefly to walk in, "to eat the air," "to take a constitutional," as we say. Their enjoyment of it was heartily animal. The Hindoo would stroll unsteadfastly through it, attracted from flower to flower, not by its form or color, but its scent. He would pass from plant to plant, snatching at the flowers and crushing them between his fingers, and taking stray sniffs at the end of his fingers, as if he were taking snuff. His pleasure in the flowers was utterly sensual. Presently a true Persian, in flowing robe of blue, and on his head his sheep-skin hat, would saunter in, and stand and meditate over every flower he saw, and always as if half in vision. And when at last the vision was fulfilled and the ideal flower he was seeking found, he would spread his mat and sit before it until the setting of the sun, and then pray before it, and fold up his mat again and go home. And the next night, and night after night, until that particular flower faded away, he would return to it, and bring his friends in ever-increasing troops to it, and sit and sing and play the guitar or lute before it, and they would all together pray there, and after prayer still sit before it, sipping sherbert, and talking the most hilarious and shocking scandal, late into the moonlight; and so again and again every evening until the flower died. Sometimes, by way of a grand finale, the whole company would suddenly rise before the flower and serenade it, together with an ode from Hafiz, and depart. This is the true æsthetic enjoyment of flowers, of which those can know nothing who introduce them impertinently into pictures or poems, or about houses, or in any way outrage their historical associations or their individuality.—George Birdwood.

Black, glossy, curl'd, the fleece of Kara-Kul,

England and France.

England and France are about as similar countries as can be found anywhere—at once neighbors and never to be united. They run into the same latitudes; they share the same geographical and commercial advantages; they are like in climate and soil; they have much common history, and many other elements apparently leading to the same conclusion. Yet in several respects they present a contrast so violent as to suggest the thought that they willingly recoil from one another's example and act by the law of mutual repulsion. When the natural circumstances are so much the same, it must be owing to institutions and customs that the United Kingdom is the most increasing people in the world, the French the least. Certainly if anything is amenable to will and design, it is the fulfillment of the primeval command to increase and multiply. On this side of the channel it is done abundantly; on the other side within sight of us, and much nearer to our metropolis than the greater part of our home territory, it is done with increasing difficulty. In this country we are all trained to believe the multiplication of our species a doctrine of nature, a necessary ordinance. It is at once a convincing proof that our laws are good and Heaven smiles on us. In France it is evident that other considerations are thought more important, or, at least, more interesting. For the whole of this century the fact has attracted the attention of all who wish to understand the character and destiny of France. The fact is now more remarkable than ever. A passage quoted on Monday by our Paris correspondent from the Economiste Francais points out that while France has long shown the lowest rate of increase to be found in Europe, that rate is diminishing. At the rate of the decennial period ending 1830, the population of France would double in one hundred and nineteen years. At the rate of the ten years ending 1870 it would require two hundred and sixty-five years to double itself. The rate of the first three quarters of this century altogether would require three hundred and thirty-four years to double the population, while Germany would double its population in ninety-eight years, Austria in sixty-two, Denmark in seventy-three, the British Isles in sixty-three, Sweden in eighty nine and Norway in fifty-one. But the tale is not half told. All this time the people of the British Isles, so increasing at home, are filling continents, fringing oceans and making the whole world their home. Everywhere a British colonist or voyager is sure to have his own countrymen a few miles off. North America and the great island continent under our feet belong to the English tongue. What France has to show in this way is so insignificant that it is a charity not to attempt enumeration. She would have to transport herself bodily, leaving not a soul behind, to do what we have done across the Atlantic.

The Trojan horse could not be a direr mischief in the walls than an English family of the normal dimensions anywhere on French soil; the Commune will not increase, places will not multiply, fields are not elastic, estates will not grow; France remains the same between mountains, rivers and seas. So France takes the next best thing—the best as she has persuaded herself. She is a country of gay bachelors, of mothers taking easily the cares they have brought on themselves, of fathers who continue unencumbered members of society, of children cast out into the world, and taught to be ignorant of Nature's first and sweetest and strongest domestic ties. That which to most Englishmen of all classes is the most delightful of ideas, at least in the prospect, the well-peopled home, is to the ordinary Frenchman, or Frenchwoman, banishment, isolation, burial, purgatory. Neither the social nor the economical, nor even the political arrangements of the country fit in with the numerous and increasing family. Of course it does not stop here. If the family is put out of the way, something else fills the void, and there ensues a new state of society, with other centers, other forces, other laws, than those which simple, yet genial Nature has made. It would be a calumny on the Frenchman to say that this is all his free and deliberate choice, and that he really from the beginning has desired that it should be so. It is due, indeed, to Nature herself to believe that he has generally entered life with the vision which she raises, it may be said, before all opening eyes. But he soon finds all the arrangements of life are against him, and framed upon altogether another supposition than the home and his family. In fact he finds it impossible to marry without a renunciation of all that he has now learned to enjoy and think the object of existence. Marriage long deferred, lightly treated, easily regarded, works out those results which are sure to follow every violence done to Nature and every disloyalty to her just bindings. What result can be more damnatory, what warning more serious, than the fact that France is gradually retrograding to a condition when she will be said to have forfeited Nature's birthright, the first blessing and first command. It is not for us or any neighbor to offer any suggestion that may seem corrective or remedial; but we may be allowed to see in all this sufficient reason why we should not hastily impart into our own system any seeming superiority in that of France. The London Times.

Story of a Pigeon.

A gentleman in Alyth, who owns pigeons, made the following observation in regard to the instinct of a pigeon of the common blue kind, such as are seen in dovecots all over the country; but the pigeon of which the observation is now to be recorded lived in a wooden dovecot fixed on the wall of a dwelling house. Two pigeons had built their nest in the top story of the dovecot, and had hatched their young, which came out of the egg about the middle of March, 1870. On the sixteenth day of March a very severe storm of snow and snow-drift set in at dusk. It must be noticed that the door of the dovecot looked to the northwest, from whence the storm was coming, so that the snow blew right into the portal where the young pigeons were lying, only a few days old. The storm was very severe—so much so that it was thought to be the hardest that had happened for many years, and the young brood would no doubt have perished but for the happy expedient that the father of the young pigeons adopted. He stood in the doorway with his tail spread out to the storm, and the wings in a fluttering position, evidently with the intention of stopping the draught, so as to shelter his naked offspring, until there he stood for hours, with the snow thick upon his back and tail, breaking the intensity of the cold. But for this the young must have died. And herein we have a very direct evidence of the truth of the saying that God tempers the wind to the shorn lamb; only with this addition, that the story gave evidence of the high power of instinct, especially when called into exercise by parental care.—H. Jaap, in the Scottish Naturalist.

A RECIPE.—The following recipe for a "pathetic marine poem" appears in a new English book: "Take one midnight storm, and one fisherman's family, which, if the poem is to be a real success, should be as large and as hungry as possible, and must contain at least one innocent infant. Place this last in a cradle with the mother singing over it, being careful that the babe be dreaming of angels, or else smiling sweetly. Stir the father well up until he disappears. Then get ready immediately a quantity of cruel, crawling foam, in which serve up the father directly on his reappearance, which is sure to take place within an hour or two, in the dull, red morning. This done, a charming saline effervescence will take place among the remainder of the family. Pile up the agony to suit the palate, and the poem will be ready for perusal."

The other day, in the Austrian art exhibition, in Memorial Hall, a gentleman was absorbed in the contemplation of Felix's large painting, "Pan and Bacchante," when two ladies from the country thrust themselves in front of him. "Oh! oh!" exclaimed one, "who can they be?" The other answered: "It must be Adam and Eve; they're both so naked!" "Seems to me, hardly them," said the first, "but I'll try and find it in the catalogue." After a good deal of search she discovered the number, and cried out: "Why, it's a Pan and a Batch'ant!" "I don't see any pan," remarked her companion, "and what is a bachant?" After a pause of bewilderment, the first said, as she turned away: "The name don't seem to fit!"

"The joys of religion are the encouragement of youth and the prop of old age. Without them we sicken even in the midst of prosperity; and with them adversity loses all its terrors. They sweeten our slumbers, they soothe our waking hours; at home and abroad, in private and in public, they are our constant companions, our richest treasures. The vigor of youth and the blush of health are transitory blessings; the pride of rank soon wearies; and riches make themselves wings and fly away; but the joy of a Christian, though it walks upon earth, hides its head in heaven. It is the gift of God; and God alone is able to deprive him of it."—Fuller.

Some years ago a minister was called in to see a man who was very ill. After praying with the man, as he was leaving the house he said to the man's wife: "My good woman, do you not go to any church at all?"

"Oh, yes, sir, we gang to the Barony Kirk."

"Then why in the world did you send for me; why didn't you send for Dr. Macleod, your minister?"

"Na, na, sir, indeed not; we wadna risk him to come to the house. Do ye na ken this a dangerous case of typhus?"

"Verily, for myself, I am so well pleased with Christ and his robe and honest-born cross—this cross that is come of Christ's house and is of kin to himself—that I should weep if it should come to exchange and bartering of lots and conditions with those who 'are at ease in Zion.' I hold still my choice, and bless myself in it."—Rutherford.

Scientific.

—A young living male gorilla was recently exhibited at Liverpool on its way to Hull, and thence to Germany. It had been brought from the West Coast of Africa by the German African Society's expedition, and measured three feet in height. This is the second specimen of a gorilla which has, with certainty, been seen living in this country. The first during its lifetime, twenty years ago, was mistaken for a chimpanzee.

—Hollow iron window shutters, designed to be partially filled with water as a protection against fire, are soon to come in use. On exposure to fire without or within the building, it is estimated that the thin sheet of water held in the shutters will tend to absorb the heat without injury to the iron. A small hole is made at the top of each shutter to allow for the escape of the excess of water caused by expansion.

—M. Husson has demonstrated before the French Academy of Sciences that grapes grown in the vicinity of limekilns are rendered useless for making wines, the flavor of the grape being destroyed. Before the same learned body Prof. Girardin, of Lille, laid down that as a safe rule the water of a river or stream, when blue-colored, is good for domestic use, and when green is suitable for industrial purposes only. The former contains more matter in solution.

—Recently at a meeting of the Science Conference at South Kensington, England, Prof. Roscoe gave an interesting account of the nature and uses of the till recently rare element vanadium. Pure vanadium was, he said, closely analogous in nature to phosphorous and arsenic, the poisonous effects of its salts on the animal system closely resembling those of salts of arsenic. Its most useful practical application would probably be as a permanent black dye, in place of the black aniline dye now used by calico printers, which was apt to injure the cloth.

—A spider, which by a movement of a portion of its body can produce sound, is the latest discovery in natural history. The apparatus by which this peculiar noise is produced consists of a comb, composed of a number of highly-elastic chitinous rods, situated on the inner face of the so-called maxillæ, and of a scraper, formed of an irregular row of sharp spines on the outer surface of the antennal claws. This apparatus is equally well developed in both sexes, as in most coleopterous insects, and is not confined to the males, as in the Orthoptera, Homoptera, and the stridulating spiders (Theridion) observed by Westring, in all of which the exclusive purpose of the sounds seems to be to charm or call the opposite sex.

—Among the many devices for preventing the spreading of contagion in hospitals is the practice of coating the walls of different wards with some insoluble glaze, which can be washed and kept perfectly sweet and pure. The most recently invented of these glazes is Griffith's enamel, which is said to be unaffected by the action of carbolic acid, and hence useful for coating the inner walls of fever wards in hospitals. Plates of iron covered with this enamel, and exposed to the prolonged action of sea water, are said to be kept fresh and clear from sea weed, the iron itself showing no signs of rust after the enamel is scraped off. It has been used by the British and other foreign governments. In India it is reported that it does not blister under the sun's heat. It has also been found effectual as a protection against white ants.

—The new and beautiful process of producing ornamental effects on sheets of mica has been introduced with peculiar success in France, and though heretofore confined to the adornment of lamps and shop windows, means have been contrived for employing it as a substitute for stained glass. The mica sheets, it is found, can be painted in the manner required, and the work preserved, it is said, by means of a varnish, or the painting may be fixed like enamel on the mica by the use of different pigments, and the aid of a furnace, the pieces of painted mica being afterward fixed, with the colored side within, on the glass. It is said that with ordinary care the junction of the pieces of mica in a mosaic or other work is quite imperceptible, so that in the case of a painted window there is no other fault but the size of the glass on which the mica is fixed.

—Several physicists have remarked on the visibility of the ultra violet rays in the solar spectrum. The experimenters are not quite agreed as to the limits or as to the tint presented by this light. Some new modes of showing the light have been devised by M. Smer. He projected the spectrum of zinc on a paper screen, and perceived beyond the violet a luminous band, which was bright enough to be seen by all the spectators. Repeating the experiment with a battery of thirty-six large Bunsen elements, he found the ultra violet light in the spectrum of the electric light. The phenomenon is still more apparent if you extinguish the less refrangible rays by means of glass colored with oxide of manganese; and if the flint prism be replaced by one of sulphide of carbon, the ultra violet light then appears a silver gray and its extent is nearly equal to that of the ordinary spectrum. It is composed of two bands, the first and wider of which is separated from the violet only by a dark narrow space; while the second band, brighter and broader, is separated from the first by a broad dark band. Zinc and tin give in the ultra violet spectrum their proper luminous bands, always with the same gray coloration of silver. But all of these appearances cease to be produced if, instead of projecting the spectra, one observes them directly with the spectroscope. They disappear even in the objective spectra when the battery used to give the electric light is not strong enough. Have we here, the author asks, a simple phenomenon of fluorescence of the paper on which the spectra is projected?

DOWN WITH THE PRICES!

IMPORTANT NEWS FOR THE LADIES!

LATEST STYLES!

LIST OF A FEW OF THE LAST

NEW STYLES OF PAPETERIES

RECEIVED DURING THE MONTH.

Each box contains One Quire of Paper, with Envelopes to match. Sent by mail on receipt of price.

METROPOLITAN ..... Price, 25 cents
Assorted colors, and handsomely put up.
MODUL ..... 25 cents
Assorted colors and sizes—very popular.
OUR BOYS ..... 25 cents
Assorted colors, red and blue edges embossed.
DAISY ..... 25 cents
Assorted colors, embossed flower emblem—choice.
LITTLE CORPORAL ..... 25 cents
Damask paper, colored edges, children's size.
EUGENIE ..... 25 cents
Assorted styles, with six steel pens.
MAGNET ..... 25 cents
Assorted tints, with paper assorted inscriptions.
FLORA ..... 30 cents
White, ruled, with embossed flower emblem.
TOILET ..... 30 cents
Assorted colors, with cake of perfumed soap.
COMPANION ..... 30 cents
Assorted colors, with bottle of violet ink.
BANNER ..... 35 cents
White, assorted sizes, with red and blue border.
ENSIGN ..... 35 cents
White, regular size, with colored edges.
JOSEPHINE ..... 35 cents
Assorted damask paper, embossed with flowers.
MONUMENTAL ..... Price, 40 cents
White and cream, embossed memorial hall, etc.
TOURISTS ..... 40 cents
Assorted tints, with bottle of ink, pen and pencil.
CREST ..... 40 cents
Assorted tints, with wax and taper instructions, etc.
LAUREL ..... 40 cents
White, with handsomely embossed envelopes.
MEMORIAL ..... 50 cents
White, ruled, large size, embossed picture.
LEAMINGTON ..... 50 cents
Damask, assorted colors, embossed, new style.
ELDORADO ..... 50 cents
Cream, extra paper, gilt edges, handsome box.
LANCERS ..... 50 cents
White, cross ruled, bordered edges—fine as silk.
MALMAISON ..... 60 cents
White, unruled, gilt edges, embossed—perfection.
SILVER THREADS ..... 60 cents
Assorted colors, gilt and silver edges—nobby.
HELORAMA ..... 75 cents
Perfection wove, unruled, Court Bath.
HAMILTON $1
Contains two quires of paper and envelopes, assorted styles and tints, extra handsome box.

Other New Goods on hand and received every week. Fifty other kinds of Papeteries, plain and mourning, on hand to select from, not enumerated above. At the

BOOK DEPOT,

Nos. 110 and 112 Camp Street, New Orleans.

ROBERT J. HARP, AGENT.

PRACTICAL REFORM AND STRICT ECONOMY

Are best attained by purchasing supplies where they can be bought cheapest.

Merchants, Lawyers and Dealers in Stationery,

Desiring to economize in their office expenses, at the same time having FIRST-CLASS ARTICLES in this branch of business, including all articles of Blank Books, Pens, Pencils, Envelopes, Paper, Ink, etc., will consult their interests by calling at HEADQUARTERS,

Nos. 110 and 112 Camp Street, New Orleans.

ROBERT J. HARP, AGENT.

THE LATEST!

THE CHEAPEST! THE BEST!

OF NEW STYLES OF PAPETERIES.

Each box containing one quire of Paper, and Envelopes to match. Mailed, post paid, on receipt of price.

STANWIX ..... Price, 30 cents.
Contains penholder, pen, violet ink and blotter.
CALEDONIAN ..... 30 cents.
Fine white, red ruled, plated paper.
OTTAWA ..... 30 cents.
Damask assorted colors, new style box
PELHAM ..... 35 cents.
Assorted colors, gilt edges, extra.
EXOTIC ..... 35 cents.
White, flower-stamped, ruled.
HANOVER ..... 35 cents.
White, ruled, plain and good.
CYPRESS ..... 40 cents.
White and cream, stamped flower emblem.
CROWN ..... Price, 50 cents
Assorted colors, gilt edges, large size.
CANTERBURY ..... 60 cents.
Assorted colors, mansard box, very heavy.
CUNARD ..... 75 cents.
White, bordered edges, cross ruled, etc.
BRUNSWICK ..... 75 cents.
Cream, extra fine, new patent box.
MANSARD ..... 75 cents.
White, flower-stamped, very handsome.
GAINSBOROUGH $1
Silver edges, fine paper, nobbiest thing out.

Also sixty other styles, at prices from 20 cents to $2 a box, and new goods constantly arriving at

NOS. 110 AND 112 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS.

ROBERT J. HARP, AGENT.

SCHOOL BOOKS!

The Largest Stock in the City.

THE MOST COMPLETE LINE IN THE SOUTH.

SPECIAL ATTENTION of dealers and teachers is invited to our immense stock of these staple goods, and catalogues mailed free to any address.
This being the GENERAL SUPPLY DEPOT for the TRADE of the SOUTHWEST, as well as the PUBLIC and PRIVATE SCHOOLS of New Orleans and the principal COLLEGES and ACADEMIES of this and adjoining States, enables us to offer the best possible discount to large buyers.
The immense quantity of SCHOOL BOOKS handled during the season, and our unsurpassed facilities for procuring stock, insure us against competition in this branch of business.
Also Slates, Blackboards, Globes, Maps and other material constantly on hand.
Write for prices and discounts to

ROBERT J. HARP, AGENT,

Book Depot, Nos. 110 and 112 Camp St.

Here is a rollicking story about a priest and a penitent. It is from a story entitled "Hogan, M. P.," just published in London. "There was a Kerry priest," began Ned Shea, "and he had the fashion of hearin' confessions wid a slate and pencil; an' he'd write down every sin, an' the price of it opposite. Well, one day a big mountainy fellow came to his duty, an' says he: 'I bruk a man's head last Hallow eve.' 'That's nine pence,' says the priest. 'I cut the tail iv Larry Kelley's cow.' 'That's a shillin'.' 'Oh, begob, a shillin' that is!' and down it went on the slate. 'I murthered me wife twice.' 'That's, thrupence—go on.' 'I kilt an Orangeman.' 'Whoo!' says the priest, rubbin' out everything; 'that clanes out all the rest.'"

Mr. Andrew Jervise, in his recently published volume of Scottish Epitaphs and Inscriptions, tells a story of an old minister who took a fearful revenge on one of his heritors who had spoken of him as too infirm for the parish. The very next Sunday he preached "two turns of the hour-glass," and was beginning the third when the offender rose to go. "Will ye say noo, Tilwilly, that I canna insist?"—(Anglice, preach.)

If there be any good in thee, believe that there is much more in others. It hurteth thee most of all to prefer thyself even to one.—Thos. a' Kempis.

That which makes death so dreadful is the consciousness of sin and the fear of damnation.—Heubner.

It is not one look, but the constant looking, at Jesus, that sanctifies and comforts.

Philip Henry says: "There is a disease to which children are subject, called the rickets, wherein their heads swell as large as two heads, and their legs are crooked, which hinders their going. We have many rickety Christians; they hear much, and their heads swell with empty notions and undigested opinions, but their legs are crooked, their walking is perverse. Every such person is a mocker of God, a deceiver of himself, a discourager of ministers, a barren soil, a bad servant, a beholder of his natural face in a glass, a builder of his house upon the sand."

Therefore, if you aspire to be a son of consolation—if you would partake of the priestly gift of sympathy—if you would pour something beyond commonplace consolation into a tempted heart—if you would pass through the intercourse of daily life with the delicate tact which never inflicts pain—if, to that most acute of human ailments, mental doubt, you are ever to give effectual succor, you must be content to pay the price of the costly education. Like him you must suffer—being tempted.—F. W. Robertson.

"The times are hard, my dear," said a man to his better half, "and I find it difficult to keep my nose above water." "You could easily keep your nose above water," replied the lady, "if you didn't keep it so often above brandy."

"Have you much fish in your bag?" asked a person of a fisherman. "Yes; there's a good eel in it," was the slippery reply.

The sunshine of life is made up of very few beams that are bright all the time.—Longfellow.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1876.

BRIGHT AND EARLY.

Halloo, halloo! calls Farmer Jo,
A pleasant day is breaking;
The sky is bright with morning light—
'Tis time the boys are waking.

Heigho, heigh-ho! to Farmer Jo,
Cry all the boys a-bounding;
All up at work, none known to shirk,
Long ere the horn is sounding.

Morning and noon—how very soon
The day of labor passes;
Whether it is sow, or plow, or hoe,
Or haying 'mong the grasses.

Work well begun is one-half done,
Is an oft-repeated saying;
An early start is no small part
Of any game we're playing.

J. W. Sanborn, in Young America.

The Walls of Rome.

In truth, throughout the whole history of Rome, the walls of the city are its most living monuments. The primeval wall of the oldest Rome is the most speaking monument of the days when the first Latin settlers on the Palatine had to guard themselves against Sabine enemies on the Capitoline and the Quirinal. The wall of Servius is the wall of that Rome which, already the head of Latium, grew step by step to be the head of Italy. It is the bulwark of Rome, first against the Etruscan and the Volscian, and in after times against the Gaul, the Epeirot, and the mightier Carthagenian. And there is one spot in its circuit around which the whole history of Rome seems to gather, and where the fate of Rome was decided in the last and most fearful of all her struggles with enemies within her own peninsula. Alike by Servius and by Aurelian the northeastern corner of the city, its weakest point by nature, was made specially strong by art. Here on the eastern side, where there was no river to embank, no cliff to scarp, ran the mighty Agger of Servius. Near the angle where this artificial bulwark joined the natural bulwark of the Quirinal slope, within the line of the Agger and defended by a vast hornwork, stood the Colline gate. This was the great entrance to that side of Rome which lay on the Colles, the spurs of the high ground, as distinguished from the Montes, the isolated hills rising from what was once the swampy ground by the river. Here was the natural point of attack for every enemy. In the early days of Rome legends tell us of fights by the Colline gate with the Volscians and the men of Tibur. Through the Colline gate the revolted army came back to overthrow the tyranny of the Decemvirs. Over the Colline gate, so the tale ran, Hannibal hurled his spear—a tale wild enough, but one which still shows at what point men looked for Hannibal to have entered Rome, if he had entered her at all. And it was by the Colline gate that Rome fought her last battle for her being against Italian enemies. It was there that Sulla saved her on the days when the last Pontius came to root up the wood which sheltered the wolves that so long had ravaged Italy. On that day Rome fought not for dominion, but for life; she had not to fight for life again till the Colline gate and the Servian Agger had passed away, and till Rome had found that she needed new ramparts to shield her against new enemies.

We pass from the inner circuit to the outer, from the walls reared to shield Rome against Italian enemies to the walls reared to shield her against enemies of our own blood. The building of the still existing walls of Rome was a sign that the wandering of the nations had begun, that the Teutonic race had begun to play its part in the drama of human history. Those walls were raised by Aurelian when the German was not only threatening on the Rhine and Danube, but had to be overthrown in battle on the soil of Italy. They were strengthened by Stilicho when the Goth was marching at will through the lands on both sides of the Hadriatic. From the Colline gate it is but a short step to the Salarian. Modern barbarism has swept away the actual gate through which Alaric entered Rome, but some stones are there which still stand as they stood on the night when the slumbering city was "awakened by the tremendous sound of the Gothic trumpet." But the whole of the northern and eastern side of Rome is one monument of Gothic warfare. We pass out of the city, if not by the Flaminian gate, yet by its modern representative; without the wall, above the modern Borghese gardens, rose the loftiest of the seven camps of Witiges; within the wall, high on the Pincian, stood the headquarters of Belisarius. We walk, as it were, between the besiegers and the besieged; we pass by the leaning mass of the muro torto, with its strange legends as old as the days of that great struggle, the point of the rampart which the apostle himself guarded, and which, weak as it seemed, Belisarius had no need to strengthen. We pass on by a long line of wall, now unbroken by a single gate, till we reach the Salarian again. A few yards more and we have reached the history of our own times. Between the modern Salarian and the now closed Nomentane gate we see a piece of modern wall, pierced by the modern gate of Porta Pia, with its flaunting inscription in honor of the present bearer of that name. In that wall we see a few yards of brickwork newer still than the rest. Hard by it hangs a garland recording the names of men who died in our own times to undo the evil work of ages; where the new wall looks newest was wrought the last deliverance of Rome. Through that breach the army of united Italy entered her capital. In that quarter the history of Rome seems indeed crowded into a small space. The army of Alaric and the army of Victor Emanuel entered Rome almost, as it were, abreast. One entry marked the beginning of the modern world—the world which grew out of the fusion of the two elements which were represented by the Roman and the Goth. The other entry marked the readmission of Rome within that world by her deliverance from the worn-out power which crumbled away as soon as it was no longer guarded by the bayonets of a foreign tyrant. From either point we soon make our way to the elder circuit. We are again by the Colline gate; we see that for the work of Victor Emanuel the work of Sulla was needed. On the older day the hosts of united Italy marched on Rome as against a common enemy to be wiped out. On the latter day the united hosts of Italy marched on Rome as her deliverers from an alien yoke. In the one struggle Rome fought to win back Italy as her possession; in the other struggle Italy fought to win back Rome as her head. But both scenes were parts of the same drama. In each case, though by such different means, Rome became the head of Italy. The Roman Dictator had to force the yoke of Rome upon unwilling Italy in order that the Italian King might one day free willing Rome from the yoke of the priest and the stranger.

Here indeed is history pressed into a small compass. With Sulla and Belisarius and the men of our own day before our eyes, we hardly care to dwell on the struggles of the days between them, on the raid of Robert Wiscard, or on the sack by the host of the dead Bourbon. But these, and much beside, the walls of Rome have looked on. From the oldest stone in Roma Quadrata to the last course of bricks laid to repair the breach of 1870, they bear their witness that the history of Rome, and with it the history of the world, is one unbroken tale.—E. A. Freeman's "Historical and Architectural Sketches."

Talking Naturally.

The Baptist Teacher says that "naturalness is one of the rarest and most admirable things in the world," and suggests that it ought to be much more abundant than it is, especially in religious conversation. On this topic it says:

Take, if you please, the matter of religious conversation, whether in the Sunday school class, or when all alone with a single human soul. The latter kind of interview is perhaps the most effective. The words that win are commonly the words that are spoken in quiet. Now, looking back to our childhood, most of us can remember some "awfully religious" people, from whose pious touch we instinctively shrunk, as from the embrace of a bear. And we remember others with whom religion was a life, a thing of beauty and a joy forever; in whom it seemed so natural, on whom it seemed to sit so gracefully, that they scattered fragrance and sunshine wherever they went, and we felt the sweet, attractive power even though they did not speak a word. And when they did speak they spoke so like themselves, with so much of spontaneity and cheerfulness and winsomeness, that delightedly we listened and longed for more. Why, they talked of Jesus just as if they had seen him, and of heaven just as if they had been there. And when they said: "Come, go with us, and we will do you good," we believed them, and we gave them our hands and Jesus Christ our hearts, and having obtained help of God, we have continued unto this day.

Doubtless there are many that are painfully conscious of the awkwardness of their attempts at religious conversation, and are ready to despair of their ability to do it properly. And yet we insist upon it, that anybody who can talk naturally about anything else, can talk naturally about religion. Let him resolutely and habitually set himself to work to do it. Let him fill himself with the truth of God; let him live right close to Jesus Christ; and by and by it will be just as easy and as natural for him to speak of the things that are heavenly as for a fountain that is full to flow, or for the birds to sing when the springtime comes to wake the world to beauty and to melody.

Eyesight.

Milton's blindness was the result of overwork and dyspepsia.

One of the most eminent American divines, having for some time been compelled to forego the pleasure of reading, has spent thousands of dollars in value, and lost years of time, in consequence of getting up several hours before day and studying by artificial light. His eyes never got well.

Multitudes of men or women have made their eyes weak for life by the too free use of the eyesight, reading small print and doing fine sewing. In view of these things, it is well to observe the following rules in the use of the eyes:

Avoid all sudden changes between light and darkness.

Never begin to read, or write, or sew, for several minutes after coming from darkness to a bright light.

Never read by twilight, or moonlight, or of a very cloudy day.

Never read or sew directly in front of the light, or window, or door.

It is best to have the light fall from above, obliquely over the left shoulder.

Never sleep so that, on the first waking, the eyes shall open on the light of a window.

Do not use the eyesight by light so scant that it requires an effort to discriminate.

Too much light creates a glare, and pains and confuses the sight. The moment you are sensible of an effort to distinguish, that moment cease and take a walk or ride.

As the sky is blue and the earth is green, it would seem that the ceiling should be a bluish tinge, and the carpet green, and the walls of some mellow tint.

The moment you are prompted to rub the eyes, that moment cease using them.—Dr. Hall.

The discourse is often much better than the speaker, as sweet and clear water often comes through dirty earth.—Franklin.

"I'm lost in grief," as the lily said when he was drowned in tears.

THE NEW ORLEANS

CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

A Weekly Family Newspaper.

ESTABLISHED IN 1850.

DEVOTED TO

RELIGIOUS & LITERARY CULTURE,

AND THE

ADVANCEMENT OF CHRISTIAN CIVILIZATION.

IT WILL BE FOUND TO CONTAIN ARTICLES FOR

COMFORTING THE DISTRESSED,

ENLIGHTENING THE YOUTH,

Reforming the Vicious and Cheering the Aged.

IN ITS YOUTH'S DEPARTMENT

IT WILL GIVE

True Pictures of Life, Sharp Delineations of Character,

EXPOSE PREVALENT VICES,

AND DISCOVER

The Hidden Snares which Endanger the Young.

IN ITS SECULAR DEPARTMENT

WILL BE INSERTED

The Choicest Original and Selected Articles

ON

Domestic Economy, Agriculture, Horticulture, Stock-Raising,

AND BE INTERSPERSED WITH

Letters, Sketches, Travels, Voyages,

ANECDOTES AND POETRY.

ALSO WITH

Criticisms of Books and Periodicals.

REPLETE WITH INFORMATION RELATING TO

SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERIES,

HISTORICAL FACTS,

CURRENT EVENTS AND

GENERAL NEWS.

CONTAINS VALUABLE RECIPES FOR

Relieving Suffering, Preventing Disease, Promoting Health,

AND ASSISTING

The Manufacturer, the Farmer and the Housekeeper.

IT WILL GIVE

THE MARKET REPORTS AND PRICES CURRENT

OF THE NEW ORLEANS MARKET EACH WEEK.

A number of our subscribers have interested themselves in getting their neighbors to subscribe, actuated solely by convictions of its beneficial influence upon society. Some of these have sent us from

TWENTY TO THIRTY SUBSCRIBERS.

CANNOT EACH READER secure at least ONE NEW SUBSCRIBER, and forward the name, or turn over the same to the nearest Agent? How could he bestow a greater benefit upon a family, spiritually and intellectually, for so small an effort?

Price, Including Postage, $2 Per Annum.

ADDRESS

ROBERT J. HARP, Publisher,

110 AND 112 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

THE HOLIDAYS ARE COMING!

PREPARE IN TIME!

STANDARD HOLIDAY GOODS

FOR

Lawyers, Preachers, Doctors, Teachers, Students and the Public Generally—Now in Store.

Webster's Unabridged Dictionary.

Latest Revised Edition. Price, $12. Is just what your Preacher wants, and every family should have one.

Worcester's Unabridged Dictionary,

Latest Revised Edition. Price, $10.

The Standard Family and Pulpit Bibles,

From $3 to $50 each. New styles of binding. Suitable for Family or Church presentation.

Sunday School and Pocket Bibles.

Assorted patterns and sizes, from thirty cents to $15 each. The very thing for Teachers and Scholars.

HYMN BOOKS

in a variety of sizes and bindings, from fifty cents to $10 each. Sent by mail on receipt of price.

POETICAL WORKS.

Handsomely bound, gilt sides and edges, comprising thirty-five standard authors. Sent by mail on receipt of price, $1.50 per volume.

JUVENILE WORKS,

such as CHATTERBOX, LITTLE FOLKS, NURSERY, PEEP SHOW, LITTLE PRATTLER, WIDE AWAKE, ROBINSON CRUSOE, ARABIAN NIGHTS, SANFORD AND MERTON, SWISS FAMILY, PILGRIM'S PROGRESS, etc. Beautifully illustrated and nicely bound. Sent, prepaid, on receipt of price, $1.50 each.

TOY BOOKS,

from the smallest Alphabet Book for five cents to the largest Illustrated Cloth Book at $1. Sent by mail on receipt of price.

ALPHABET BLOCKS

and Alphabet Cards, Building Blocks, Paper Dolls, Acrobats, Masquerade, Expression Blocks, Menagerie, Ye Hero, John Gilpin, and hundreds of other juvenile games, from twenty-five cents to $2 each.

ONE-DOLLAR will pay for a very nice book for children of any age, mailed to your address.

In addition to the above we have all the Standard Commentaries—most suitable gifts for Pastors and Students—Histories and Standard Works generally, Bible Dictionaries, Encyclopedias, Gold Pens, Writing Desks, Albums, etc. Write for what you want early, before the stock is culled, or call at the Book Depot, Nos. 110 and 112 Camp Street.

ROBERT J. HARP, AGENT.

Children's Services in Wales.

The reality of the children's services this summer on the sands at this well-known watering-place has been so genuine, and their indisputable good must of necessity permeate through so many English homes, that I venture to give a brief account of what came under my own individual notice.

They have been conducted, as all visitors to Llandudno, Wales, know, by that warm-hearted friend of children, Mr. Josiah Spiers. The children are called upon to build a church, which consists of a large circle of raised sand, on which they sit, in the center of the circle being a sand mound, which serves as Mr. Spiers' pulpit. Long before the hour of commencing, eleven A. M., the children begin to collect, and on the arrival of their much-loved friend it is very sweet to witness their bright look of hearty welcome. A well-known hymn is then sung, the words being circulated in leaflets by some of the elder children. A few words of simple, earnest gospel truth are delivered by Mr. Spiers, interspersed with many stories to keep the smaller ones' attention. More hymns are sung; and thus a most profitable and happy hour or so is passed.

The attention is wonderful. Of the good wrought Mr. Spiers himself informed me he had received manifold proofs, and many are the loving, earnest little epistles he receives when far away from Llandudno, though the full extent will only be known when the hearts of even little children will be made manifest in the glorious light of that eternal day. I can vouch for one dear little lamb of only six years, who afterward repeated to a still younger sister much that had been spoken, and almost every story told, concluding her account with: "Oh, I do so love him!" Mr. Spiers appears to possess in a very abundant degree the gift of thoroughly winning the children's love.

The services are continued at half-past six P. M., but it is not alone in these "services for children" that good work is done among them. One afternoon they were told to assemble at "The Church" (as above described) at three o'clock, when a ramble on the Great Orme was announced; after a hymn was sung, away they went, a joyous, happy band. When the summit was reached, various games were played, after which, while resting, a hymn was sung and the always ready kind words spoken, and then home to tea. Another afternoon, texts on the sands were given out, Mr. Spiers giving a text, the children making the letters with stones. One text, which was two hundred feet long, was: "The Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me." Another day they made, in a circle one hundred and seventy feet in circumference: "For what shall it profit a man if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" The children all having a hand in forming those texts, they are engraven on their minds; and so, in many ways, Mr. Spiers labors to win little lambs to their Savior.—Walter Roughton, in the Christian.

A Hibernian Lecture on the Moon.

There is no harm in presenting scientific facts in a lively manner, but the Dean of Cashel appears to have gone about as far in that direction as it is well to venture. A Tipperary paper devotes some columns to the dean's lecture on "The Moon, Considered as our Neighbor, Companion and Friend," and the way in which he makes merry over the lunar orb and our relations with it is, in a scientific man and grave church dignitary, something astounding. After a dissertation on our partner's fickleness and ours, the reverend gentleman says: "Still, like good, generous husbands, we make up to her for many of our shortcomings, and we actually give her about fourteen times as much light as she gives to us—a very fair allowance, perhaps an extravagant one, especially for people who have to borrow all they give." Having prepared our minds by this little sally—by no means the first in his lecture—the dean goes on: "I have said that our bright companion travels round us at the rate of forty miles a minute. Indeed, we're a lively pair, for we ourselves are meantime traveling along at the rate of seventeen miles a second, and carrying her along with us. Did it ever occur to you that whenever you take off your hat to a lady in the street you go between thirty and forty miles bareheaded through the air, but you never catch cold from such an act of courtesy?" After this digression the dean proceeds to his climax by informing us that "this sprightly companion of ours has another motion around her own axis, or, to make it more familiar, she whirls about on her toes, and, not to be outdone by her, we whirl about on ours in the same way, and then we waltz away forever through the great drawing-room of space."—Journal of Chemistry.

A curious discovery has been made with reference to the poet Crabbe, who, from 1814 to 1832, was rector of St. James' Church, Trowbridge, England. He died February 3, 1832, in the seventy-third year of his age, and was buried in the chancel of the church. Fifteen years afterward, in 1847, the church was restored by the late Rev. J. D. Hastings, who succeeded as rector Bishop Fulford, Bishop of Montreal. The workmen of the contractor, to lower the floor, had to reduce the size of the vault of the poet Crabbe. The skull of the poet Crabbe was taken away, and all efforts to trace it were of no avail. The other day it was returned to the church wardens, in a box, by some gentlemen who had been successful in finding it.

The Christian Advocate.

PUBLISHED BY ROBT. J. HARP, FOR THE ALABAMA, MISSISSIPPI AND LOUISIANA CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH SOUTH.

VOL. 22. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1876. NO. 50.

COMETH A BLESSING.

Not to the folly-blinded,
Not to the sleeped in shame,
Not to the carnal-minded,
Not to unholy fame;
Not in neglect of duty,
Not in the monarch's crown,
Not al the smile of beauty,
Cometh a blessing down.

But to the one whose spirit
Yearns for the greatest good;
Unto the one whose storehouse
Yieldeth the hungry food;
Unto the one who labors,
Fearless of foe or frown,
Unto the kindly-hearted,
Cometh a blessing down.

News of the Week.

DOMESTIC.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Dec. 6.—A fire broke out last night on the stage of the Brooklyn Theater during the performance of the "Twn Orphans." The flames spread rapidly, and the theater was soon enveloped in flames. The panic became general before the actors left the stage. The audience rushed for the door; women fainted, the aisles were blocked, and many were thrown down and trampled on. The ushers and police made every effort to induce the people to retire in good order, but without effect. The heat was intense—many fell helpless to the door.

Up to half-past eight P. M. two hundred and eighty-five bodies were taken from the ruins of the Brooklyn Theater. The work will be continued all night. The streets are still crowded; and the excitement is giving way to a feeling of intense gloom and depression. It is now feared the number of dead will reach three hundred. What might have added to the immense loss of life, and resulted in the killing of more ladies and gentlemen of the theater company, was the panic-stricken movement of the janitor at the stage door. As soon as he got an idea of what was going on inside he hurriedly locked the stage door, and kept back the astonished crowd by refusing admittance or egress. A party, headed by Mr. Paul Nicholson, however, broke open the door and pushed him aside.

In the excitement of the moment nobody took any count of the number who made their escape by this means, and who would otherwise have been sacrificed. This afternoon a gentleman living on Remsen street came to the police station and inquired for two friends, a Mr. George A. Grange and Mr. D. S. Morton, both of Galveston, Texas. They were stopping at the St. Nicholas hotel, in New York, with their families. The gentlemen came over to Brooklyn to dine with their friend on Remsen street, and after dinner they went to the theater, bought their tickets and went in, but he returned home. They have not been heard of since then, and have not returned to their hotel. Their families are wild with grief. Mr. Grange was a millionaire, leaving a wife and a child six weeks old. No trace of them has been found.

SAVANNAH, GA., Dec. 6.—A special from Tallahassee to the Morning News says: The testimony and argument being closed at eleven o'clock on Monday, the board commenced canvassing the returns in secret session. At ten o'clock on Tuesday morning it was rumored that the Republicans had carried the State, and shortly after a squad of United States troops, under a commissioned officer, was stationed in the capitol grounds. At two o'clock this morning the board adjourned and announced the Hayes electors elected by 946 majority.

The returns thrown out to accomplish this result will rob Drew of his majority by 24 votes, but will leave a Democratic majority on joint ballot.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—A review of telegraphic reports of the action regarding the electoral vote shows the following situation: Eight Republican electors of Alabama cast their vote for Mr. Hayes, without any credentials. The Democratic electors of South Carolina, under the sanction of a decree of the Supreme Court of the State, cast their votes for Mr Tilden.

The Democratic electors of Florida, under a pro[illegible] and certificates in their favor from a member of the Canvassing Board, who is also Attorney General of the State, cast their vote for Mr. Tilden.

The Democratic electors, under certificates from Gov. McEnery, of Louisiana, cast the vote of that State for Mr. Tilden.

A Democratic elector of Vermont, claiming office in place of Mr. Postmaster Sollace, cast his vote for Mr. Tilden, and appointed himself messenger to carry his vote to Washington.

The Republican electors of Oregon, without any certificates, cast their votes for Mr. Hayes. The electoral college of Oregon, as commissioned by the Governor, votes two for Mr. Hayes and one for Mr. Tilden. The summing up shows, covered by the broad seals of the States, 185 votes for Mr. Tilden and 184 votes for Mr. Hayes.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 8.—The Congressional committee have put clerks to work to obtain a copy of the returns of the election sworn to by the managers of precincts. These are the same returns which Senator Gordon requested the State House to permit him to have copied some weeks ago. They have since been in the possession of the Secretary of State, a member of the State Canvassing Board. Gen. Ruger has not yet answered the questions propounded to him by the committee from the Democratic House, but proposes to do so to-morrow morning. All quiet. Both parties seem waiting the action of the Congressional committee.

Judge Carpenter, of the third judicial circuit, this evening issued a temporary injunction, on the complaint of taxpayers, enjoining two banks in the city, which are the State depositories of public funds, from paying out any money on checks signed by F. L. Cardoza, claiming to act as public treasurer. Cardoza is the Republican treasurer, acting under Chamberlain, and it is claimed by plaintiffs that his term of office under the constitution expired on the third of December, and his successor has not yet qualified. If the injunction is sustained the Republican government will be left without any funds to carry on the government.

EUFAULA, ALA., Dec. 10.—The steamer Big Foot snagged and sunk ten miles above. Her passengers and crew were saved. The lower deck is under water. Two hundred bales of cotton floated off.

CHARLESTON, Dec. 11.—Sixteen negroes were arrested in Abbeville county, charged with the murder of two white men, whom they ambushed and shot, near Lowndesville, on Monday. Six of the negroes made a full confession, implicating their fellow-prisoners, and divulging a plot for the murder of the white men of the village and the capture of the women. Twenty of them were in the conspiracy, and they had begun the butchery by slaughtering the two white men. Of the sixteen arrested thirteen were started from Lowndesville to Anderson, the intention being to send them from Anderson to Abbeville by railroad. This roundabout course was adopted to avoid lynching by men who were said to be on the direct road from Lowndesville to Abbeville. The prisoners started for Anderson on Saturday under a strong guard, but up to evening have not been heard from. It is rumored that they have been intercepted and lynched by a party from Georgia, but no confirmation of the report has yet reached Charleston. Two of the prisoners had been hurt when captured, and the party may have stopped on the road to ease the wounded, especially as the weather has been so cold.

Hon. George A. Trenholm, Secretary of the Treasury of the Confederate government at the time of the collapse, is dead, aged seventy.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Over thirty vessels were reported ashore yesterday near Sandy Hook. Several were hauled off to-day.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Dec. 11.—Smith T. Van Buren, the only surviving son of ex-President Martin Van Buren, died to-day, aged sixty.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 11.—The present gale and cold weather on the Chesapeake is the most severe for years.

The captain and two of the crew of the oyster boat Anna Eliza froze to death.

FOREIGN.

HAVANA, Dec. 7.—Advices from Mexico to the first instant announce that Diaz had defeated Alatorre's army, and entered the city of Mexico and proclaimed himself provisional President. Lerdo had previously fled from the capital in the direction of Morelos. There he proposed to maintain the constitutional government. The garrison of Puebla has revolted in favor of Diaz.

Iglesias at first co-operated with Diaz, but has since repudiated him, and still maintains his position as an independent President at Guanyato. Diaz was raising a forced loan. Good order prevailed in the capital, but the whole country was divided, and the partisans of the three Presidents were rallying to their support.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 8.—The European plenipotentiaries held their first preliminary meeting upon the programme of the conference at the Russian embassy to-day. Much patriotic excitement prevails throughout Turkey. The sons of the best families are voluntarily enlisting.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—A Reuter telegram from Bucharest says: A panic has seized the population of Roumania, especially in the towns on the Danube. Many families have fled, fearing immediate invasion by the Turks. The newspaper, Romanuel, is publishing leading articles to calm the public mind.

A Reuter telegram from Constantinople says an agreement between the powers does not seem impossible.

The News states, in an official form, that England has accepted the American interpretation of the extradition treaty.

MATAMORAS, via Brownsville, Dec. 9.—News is received here from the interior that President Lerdo and cabinet were captured near the city of Mexico. Gen. Escobedo, secretary of war, and several others were shot. Lerdo was undoubtedly shot. Monterey, Saltillo, and the whole of the northern frontier, except Matamoras, is in possession of the supporters of President Iglesias.

PARIS, Dec. 9.—The political situation is considered very serious. There is now a direct conflict between the Left and President McMahon. The latter is asserted to be influenced by counsel which, though not reactionary, is unfavorable to the Republicans, and is resolved not to yield, while the Left are equally resolved to carry their ideas. A state of feeling exists which renders a compromise difficult.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—A special dispatch to the Standard from Constantinople says a conspiracy to depose the present Sultan was discovered on Tuesday night.

The conspirators, six of whom were found in disguise in the palace itself and arrested, had planned to carry off the ex-Sultan Murad in a steamer, which they had already engaged, to Athens; when there they intended to proclaim that Murad had recovered his reason, and that Sultan Hamid was consequently an usurper.

The prisoners are of various nationalities; one is a Greek, and is a brother to the chief dragoman of one of the principal foreign consulates.

MADRID, Dec. 11.—The Cortes has passed a law making education compulsory.

DRESDEN, Dec. 11.—Twenty-five miners were killed last night by an explosion in a colliery at Windberg.

On the Wings of a Dove.

The latest application of the "homing" faculty, as it is called, of the carrier-pigeon is the establishment of communication between lightships and the shore, at times when it is impossible to convey intelligence by any other method. The maritime code of signals is taken advantage of, and two or three letters are stamped on the wing, intimating the nature of the assistance required. The bird is then let loose, and makes its way to its haunts on shore. Experiments are just now being tried at Harwich, where, had carrier-pigeons been employed in this way only a few months back, every soul on board the ill-fated Deutschland would in all human probability have been saved. It has recently been shown that in a great many cases a "pigeon service" might be made to supersede the electric telegraph. This would be but reviving the practice of the great stock brokers at the beginning of the century. During the war relays of pigeons were kept all along the road from Paris to London, so that these speculative gentlemen obtained the earliest possible news of the course of events. The carrier-pigeon came into special prominence during the late siege of Paris; letters, photographed on the minutest scale, were carried to and fro by its means. The Prussians could not intercept the birds, and ended by adopting the system themselves. At the present time every fortress and fortified town in Germany is provided with flocks of trained pigeons, by which means communications could be sent into the town, if invaded by a hostile force. So much has the demand raised the price that a good traveler cannot now be obtained on the Continent for less than £6 or £7.

PEACOCK WORSHIP.—The following is from the Illustrated Missionary News, an English publication:

A missionary was traveling in central India, where the peacock was worshiped. He had several men with him to carry his tents and baggage. It was in a wild part of the country, where very little food could be bought, and where tigers are sometimes seen, so he carried a gun with him. One day, when they wanted something for dinner, he was quite disposed to shoot one of the wild peacocks, but was afraid to do so, lest he should displease his men. But one of their number was a native preacher who believed that the peacocks were sent by God for their food, so he persuaded the missionary to allow him to try and get one. This could not be attempted in the daytime. At night, when the whole party were quietly in their tents, and most of them asleep, the native preacher took the gun and crept warily under a tree in which there were some wild peacocks. Taking a steady aim, he fired, and instantly fell flat on the ground. It started the men in their tents, terrified at the noise. They looked around, but, seeing and hearing no one, they quietly lay down again to sleep. When all were perfectly quiet the adventurer got up and carried off his gun and his peacocks to the missionary's tent. The next day they had a peacock pie for dinner, and by some means managed to escape the wrathful indignation of the peacock worshipers. One reason why they worship the peacock is because their god, Subra-mannian, which is the Hindoo Mars, which has six faces and twelve arms, rides on a peacock. That idol is said to be the guardian of the Brahmins.

Periodicals.

—Roddy's Ideal is a beautifully illustrated 12mo, by Helen Kendrick Johnson. Published by G. P. Putnam's Sons, New York. A handsome present for young people. Price, $1.25. For sale by Eyrich, New Orleans.

We are indebted to Mr. Philip Werlein, Baronne street, New Orleans, for the following pieces of sheet music: Memories of Love, Ivy Schottish and New Era Waltz, for the piano.

For some are too proud to forgive themselves till the forgiveness of God has had its way with them, has drowned their pride in the tears of repentance, and made their heart come again like the heart of a little child.—George MacDonald.

Grant, we beseech thee, merciful Lord, to thy faithful pardon and peace, that they may be cleansed from all their sins and serve thee with a quiet mind.—Episcopal Prayer Book.

Curran was once asked by one of his brother judges: "Do you see anything ridiculous in this wig?" "Nothing but the head," was the reply.

Statistics of the M. E. Church (North.)

The New York Christian Advocate says: We have carefully compiled the subjoined summaries from the latest official statistical returns from the several Annual Conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church. With a single exception (Oregon, one of whose tables failed to reach us,) the returns are for the year 1876. Complete tables, giving all the items by Conferences, are now in course of preparation, and will probably be ready for our next number.

	For 1876.	Increase in last year.	Increase in ten years
Bishops	41
Ann. Conferences	85	8	24
Itin. preachers	11,561	138	3,751
Local preachers	12,566	d. 372	3,005
Total preachers	24,870	96	7,662
Lay members	1,618,536	31,091	551,376
Death of members during the year	19,561	d. 130
Children baptized	50,181	d. 2,057	10,665
Adults baptized	79,252	12,414	31,813
Total baptisms	129,433	10,357	42,478
Church edifices	17,649	1	5,152
Parsonages	5,077	44	1,563
Value of church edifices	$69,214,055	i. $2,130,179	$20,620,251
Value of parsonages	$9,423,980	i. $305,988	$3,072,502
Value of churches and parsonages	$78,637,015	i. $2,417,847	$14,622,055
Number of Sunday schools	19,466	79	5,721
S. S. teachers and officers	195,336	i. 12,128	52,605
S. S. scholars	1,327,379	79,501	353,853
Total teachers & scholars	1,522,531	i. 91,716	406,721

CONFERENCE COLLECTIONS.

	For 1876.	Decrease.
Conference claimants	$131,055 74	$19,720 16
For missions	507,083 87	35,707 74
Woman's For. Miss. Society	62,231 65	6,417 11
Church extension	37,911 55	3,015 38
Tract Society	13,985 40	2,629 81
Sunday-School Union	6,599 38	1,573 04
Freedmen's Aid	35,307 02	8,881 05
Education	25,068 91	10,762 83
Total	$852,351 04	d. $130,636 31

These collections do not include those for ministerial support, nor for any local missionary societies; nor do they include those for support of the American Bible Society, as the new rule requiring their report did not come into effect in time for a complete summary for 1876. Nor do these collections include the amounts received from legacies, nor from donations outside of the regular church collections. Of the amount contributed for the parent Missionary Society, the congregations gave $344,818.17, a decrease of $80,963.45; and the Sunday schools gave $162,215.70, a decrease of $14,744.59.

The new Annual Conferences include Central Alabama, East Ohio, Savannah, Norway, and Sweden. Several of the old Conferences appear with new names.

There is a larger increase of itinerant preachers this year than usual. The increase in 1875 was 69, and for the year previous 283. During the year 128 preachers located, and 120 died, making a net loss from these two items of 288; and yet the net increase is 438.

The falling off in the number of local preachers is also noteworthy. A considerable portion of this loss is reported from those Conferences which have adopted the plan of District Conferences. The net increase in the number of local preachers during the last decade is 3,907.

The number of lay members embraces 226,758 probationers, a net increase for the year of 30,551, and 1,386,892 members in full, a net increase of 2,650.

The report of church edifices (houses of worship—not including rented chapels shows a net gain of only a single church. The number erected was much smaller than usual, while several of the Southern Conferences lessened the number reported by rejecting rented chapels, which had erroneously been included in previous lists.

The number of parsonages shows a gratifying increase. The average annual increase for the last ten years is 156.

For the first time there is a net decrease in the estimated value of our church property. The total loss reaches the large sum of nearly $2,500,000. The continued depression of real estate in all parts of the country has led our trustees to revise the figures, and conform them more fully to diminished market values.

There is a gratifying net increase in the number of Sunday schools, but an extraordinary decrease in the number of teachers and scholars. Whether this loss arises from omissions in the returns to the Annual Conferences, or from an actual decrease in the personnel of our schools, will appear after we have had time to examine the Conference returns more carefully.

The results of the continued business depression of the country are seen in the great falling off in our Conference collections. The total loss for the year is $130,636.31, of which the parent Missionary Society loses $95,707.74. Only two of the collections show a gain, namely: those of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society and the cause of education. There is also an exceedingly unwelcome loss in the amount contributed for the support of the Conference claimants.

The nation that produces the most marriages is fascination.—Exchange. And perhaps the nation that produces the most divorces is alienation.—Norristown Herald.

Says Seth Green: "A No. 1 mackerel is a better temperance lecturer than John B. Gough ever was. At least it will make a person drink more water."

Annual Meeting of the China Mission.

SHANGHAI, CHINA, Dec. 13, 1876.

Rev. H. C. Kelley, D. D., Assistant Secretary Board of Missions:

My Dear Brother—Our annual meeting has just closed, and I feel sure it has proved to be a time of refreshing to us all. It is the first regular annual meeting we have ever had, where the exercises have continued for an entire week. Our native preachers have returned to their fields of labor to-day, feeling that they have more thoroughly consecrated themselves to the service of God, and are better prepared and feel more bold to point their dying fellow-men to Jesus the Savior. Our meeting has not only been productive of good to us all in a spiritual point of view, but the exercises from day to day have been of a most pleasant nature. Our Sabbath school anniversary was held on Sabbath afternoon, and lasted an hour and a half, and all present seemed to enter heartily into the spirit of the meeting. We had some fifty children present, and all passed off most pleasantly.

On Monday afternoon we had the meeting in reference to the Bible and tracts. It was a very pleasant meeting, and, notwithstanding the newness of such meetings, the speakers on the occasion did remarkably well for the natives. They have never witnessed such meetings before, and I am sure our native preachers have gone away with a greater determination to carry the word of God with them wherever they go. We have sold, the past nine months, of Bibles and tracts, $16,30, and have given away to the amount of $6,50. We have now two book stores in Shanghai, and one in Soochow. Bro. Parker, who has just left us, took with him books to supply our book store in that city.

The Bible Society, the past year, has given us a grant of $500, and of this amount we have already received about four hundred in books. There is still one hundred due us when we require the books.

Our missionary anniversary was held on Tuesday afternoon, and was a most interesting occasion. It was all new to the preachers and native Christians, but they all entered most heartily into the exercises, and it would have given you great joy to have heard the earnest speeches made and the excellent singing. After the speeches were made a report was given of missionary money collected the past year. It amounted to $3886. We hope to double that the next year. The amount collected for the poor was $23. These sums are small compared to what is given by Christian people in England and America, but this is only the beginning of such work for the church in China.

Our temperance meeting was held on Wednesday afternoon, and I am sure any of our Christian people would have been delighted if they could have been here and heard and understood the speeches made on the occasion. Some of them were as much to the point as any speeches on that subject to which I have ever listened. It was entirely new to them, and a strange subject for Chinamen to discuss, but all seemed to enter so heartily into it, and it was indeed one of our most interesting meetings during the week. I am sure they will not soon forget the occasion. Twenty-two came forward and signed the pledge not to drink wine. But few of them ever take any wine, except at some of their wedding feasts, and it is this we want to discourage. One man signing the pledge says, very emphatically: "Put me down that I certainly will not drink." He remembered the sad end of his poor father, who, it is said, died a drunkard in the street. Last evening (Thursday) was the close of the exercises. After preaching, by Bro. Foug, all were asked to reconsecrate themselves to the service of God. All knelt in silent prayer, and we felt it was a solemn time.

The audience of natives present, who were not church members, were exceedingly quiet, and possibly were at a loss to understand the nature of the services. After a time the silence was broken by prayer for the Holy Spirit to guide us all, and to fit us for the great work of saving souls. Upon the whole, it has been one of the most pleasant meetings we have ever had. An account of it will appear in our next China Visitor. And now let me ask the prayers of all Christians for us who are engaged in this work in one of the most difficult fields of missionary labor in the world. Especially let me ask them to remember our native preachers in prayer that the Spirit of God may rest upon them and guide them into all truth, and make them abundantly useful in bringing souls to Christ the Lord. Pray for us all, and I pray the blessing of God may rest upon all your efforts to promote the cause of Christ. With love to all, I remain yours in Christ,

J. W. LAMBUTH.

A Story About Eggs.

A traveler in Sicily paid his bill at an inn, and found out, after he had gone some distance on the road, that he had not been charged for a couple of hard-boiled eggs. He was a very honest man; but he had pressing business. So, instead of going back to pay then and there, he waited till he came his rounds again. This was not till ten years after. No wonder, therefore, when he asked the innkeeper, "Do you know me?" the man said, "Not I, indeed." "Well," replied the traveler, "ten years ago I ate two hard-boiled eggs in your house without paying for them. You didn't put them down in the bill; and I was in a desperate hurry, and couldn't come back when I found it out. But things have prospered with me since then; and I reckon that if I give you fifty pieces (twelve shillings,) that will fairly represent what the price of eggs has gained in my hands." But the landlord was a fraud; so he said: "Fifty pieces, indeed! I must trouble you for a deal more than that. It's just the want of those eggs that has hindered me from making my fortune." "How so?" "Why they would have turned to hens, and the hens would have given me chickens—a whole poultry-yard full. Well, with the poultry-yard I should have bought some sheep, and by now I should be quite a big flockmaster." But the traveler could not see things that way, so the inn-keeper put him into the court, and the judge pronounced against him. He appealed, but there didn't seem much chance of his being any better off, when a briefless barrister, much out at the elbows, touched him on the shoulder and said: "Leave it to me, and I'll get you righted." "Why, I've had the best lawyers in Palermo," replied the traveler; "how can you expect to do what they have failed in?" "Try me," said the other, and he was so urgent that the traveler said "Yes" just to get rid of him. The case was called, and the inn-keeper's counsel had made a grand speech, when there was a noise outside, and in rushed Mr. Briefless, flinging his arms wildly about, and looking like one who had seen a ghost. "Help!" cried he, "help! in the name of all the saints. What shall we do? All the big fish of Arenella are marching up to Palermo to eat us up, bones and all!" "Why, you madman," cried one of the judges, "who ever saw fish walking on dry land?" "And who, your excellency," replied Briefless, "ever heard of hard-boiled eggs turning into chickens." So the inn-keeper lost even his fifty pieces, and had to pay costs into the bargain.—All the Year Round.

A Queer Horse.

A QUADRUPED THAT CAN TALK.

There is a retired farmer named Long, says the San Francisco News Letter, residing on a small farm in Alameda county, who lives for nothing else but the pleasure of being near horses. He eats his meals in the stable, oftentimes passes the night in the same stall with a favorite pony, and among his equine pets is a mare who whinnies in answer every time he speaks to her. Our informant relates that the most perfect understanding evidently exists between Mr. Long and at least three out of the five horses in his stable. Two are recent additions; but even in their case the same affinity is seen in a lesser degree.

The training of horses, their obedience, docility, and tricks in a circus are no novelty. All of us have seen a horse fire a pistol, stand on two legs, waltz, lie down with its trainer, and perform a hundred acts of sagacity; but these are simply the result of patient training and systematic correction. What Mr. Long claims is far more astounding. He asserts that, from a life-long intimacy with horses, he understands their speech. He goes further, and declares that their nasal, guttural, explodent and unobstructed sounds have a different meaning, are used by the coalition of the brain and vocal organs, and that not only do his favorite horses understand him, but that every sound which they utter is perfectly plain to him. When arguing with him that, though he might comprehend the meaning of the sounds emanating from the vocal chords of a horse, yet it was a patent impossibility for a horse to understand the English language, he replied: "Living, eating and sleeping with my horses has given me the knowledge I possess; and the same intimacy has acquired for my horses the powers I claim for them." Here, turning to a slender, light-built gray pony, he said: "Billy, we are talking of you. If you understand what I am saying, turn your head round on the off side." The pony did so, and then resumed its feed. "Billy," he continued, "tell me your age, how long you have lived here, and on which side of you is your friend Vesta." The pony whinnied for about two minutes consecutively, and then, being loose in its stall, walked into the adjoining one, occupied by the mare Vesta. "Now," he continued, "do you and Billy walk down together to the trough and drink, while I make up your beds." Vesta and Billy walked quietly out and proceeded straight to the trough.

While they were out Mr. Long turned over the straw carefully with a fork and carried on an animated conversation with a roan gelding, about fifteen hands high, Vesta's neighbor on the other side. The name of the horse was Poley, and, after talking angrily to him for some minutes about some fault he had committed the day before, he ordered Mr. Poley to lie down, and not to get up until after Vesta and Billy had returned. Our informant saw but little in this to prove Mr. Long's claims, as many a horse will lie down at the word of command; but when, without a further word, Poley arose and walked out to the water-trough, after the return of the other two horses, the subject became as difficult of solution as before.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1876.

TRUST.

BY LEIGHTON.

Dost need God's help? to ask him to believe;
An answer rich in blessing he will give;
Then to thy work, and let a sweet content
And simple trust be with thy labor blent.

Dost thou forget what Christ, thy loving Lord,
So oft hast told us in his holy word
"What things soever ye desire of me,
But ask in faith, and I will give to thee?"

We were with sheep he in the desert found,
And won with words like these to holy ground;
And did he win thee that he might betray,
And cast thee, pleading, from his side away?

Doubt not your Lord, for doubting is the sin
Shortens the ladder leading up to him;
Ask and believe; twill lift you, by its height,
Out of the darkness into God's pure light.

These rays divine will guide thy stumbling feet,
Thy loving trust will make all labor sweet,
And midst thy toil will come the needed grace,
Or something richer far and better in its place.

That Misrepresentation.

MR. EDITOR: Dr. Mood's apology for his letter, if subjected to the same severe analysis of forced construction as our letter was, would place him in rather an unenviable light. His answer, if coming from "an old Texan," would of course be attributed to "unconquerable bias"—that is, the old Texan is influenced more by prejudice than by reason. Or if from "a novice" (a new-comer, we suppose,) to ignorance of facts, of which we are accused from beginning to end. We hope we are not of that list of novices "who, being lifted up with pride, fall into the condemnation of the devil." Dr. Mood should have remembered the injunction to "lay hands suddenly on no man." As he has disregarded this, we must be allowed, and by same even expected, to speak for ourselves. In review of the lumber item of our letter, Dr. Mood gently intimates that we are not moved by a spirit of "absolute fairness." Is this choice language? Is it what might be expected from the regent of a great university? A few hours' study of synonyms would doubtless lead Dr. Mood to review his own production if he could only recall it. As to the fence item, Dr. Mood told the anecdote in such a way as deprived it of its racy features. The witness said it was a "Buncombe fence," and not a lawful fence. People talk for "Buncombe" sometimes, though Dr. Mood being, of course, always moved by "a spirit of absolute fairness," means everything he says. We live in a finely timbered (for Texas) country, and the complaint among the planters is that they cannot replace their fences.

Dr. Mood gets around our "weather report" by saying that "the same may be said of any portion of the United States covering the same area as Texas." We reply that the same would be said of such area if it was all in one State, as it is in Texas. Our "sanitary report" is censured severely, when our language was mild, viz.: "We are not impressed with the healthfulness of the country." We stated what every physician in Texas meets with in his practice: that "pneumonia is the winter and spring disease, and congestions of every sort the summer and autumnal maladies." Dr. Mood considers us inaccurate about railroads being the foundation of Texan prosperity. He tells you what is not so, but he never says what is so in this connection. Col. R. Q. Mills, congressional representative from this district, and a very brilliant man too, advanced this same idea in a speech at this place not long since. We believe it is true that Texas' prosperity depends upon the excellence of her railroad system.

The fact that her population has increased from 600,000 to over 2,000,000 in six years is, we think, abundant evidence of truth in our assertion. People have more to do with the prosperity of Texas than soil and climate, or their beef and grass. We expect the railroads have brought more people to Texas than any other influence. The old towns, or, as Dr. Mood says, "villages," were broken up in great numbers, and absorbed by new towns on the roads. The towns spoken of by Dr. Mood are Texas cities, and were not included in our report. Our statement as to the church being greatly interested in Texas is incomprehensible to the doctor. We gave him the idea, but are not responsible for his capacity to receive it. Any class-leader can explain it to him, if he would only lay it before him. "The above allusions" to our letter were only skirmishers thrown to the front to guard the unsuspecting against our "reckless assault" upon over a million of people. The main point of attack is upon the character of Texas preachers. So says Dr. Mood. He moreover declares that we must recall our statements, or we must take our hat and leave. We hope humbly that after Dr. Mood has occupied the whole land there will be some little nook where we may live and labor,

"Little and unknown, Honored and loved by God alone."

We did make the statement quoted by Dr. Mood, believing it to be true. We did not convey any such idea as Dr. Mood has given to the winds in the following language: "Mark the words: To be a faithful Methodist preacher is either to hazard martyrdom, or to be proven graceless and abandoned."

We assailed neither Texas preachers nor her Christian people. We repeat it again: The cross has no truer heroes than Texas Methodist preachers. We repeat it again: That few of Christ's soldiers have more destroying elements to contend with than they have had and are now having.

One more item and we are through. Dr. Mood says: "Why is it that you (living and dead preachers arrayed by name against us) have lived in Texas, and are still believed to be good men and true?" "Says Bro. A.: "It is because you have not been faithful." This last quotation is not in my letter, but is so made as to lead the reader to believe that it is there.

In ignorance he called us "a stranger to Texas." For nearly twenty years we have been in close correspondence with relatives and friends in the very heart of Texas. For nearly ten years we have visited and traveled in various parts of Texas. After many vicissitudes we are now in Texas to stay. "We are," says St. Paul, "no longer strangers and foreigners, but fellow-citizens with the" Texans, both saints and sinners. We have reason to humbly believe that we have been a comfort to many of her saints, and an instrument in the conversion of many of her sinners. We came here for that alone, and for that alone we expect to remain.

As to the grounds of interest with which we looked forward to Bishop Doggett's visit, Dr. Mood hinted that we had possibly been unfaithful. In such a case we would not have been interested, but apprehensive. "Careless" again, Dr. Mood! As to our unfaithfulness, we collected our full assessment to aid in building a regent's house at Georgetown University. If this is sin, Dr. Mood, shall we "go and sin no more?" No, we shall welcome the agent to our work, and help him in every way possible. We hope all difference will cease, and that the preachers and people of Texas will regard us as a friend, and not as an enemy of Texas. We love friends too well, and enemies we regard too little, to leave the one to live among the other.

And now, with the truest feelings of our heart, we bid all the parties to this unfortunate affair a hearty good-by. Again, Mr. Editor, we invite you to Texas. R. H. ADAIR.

DeSoto Ct., Louisiana Conference.

MR. EDITOR: Bishop McTyeire says, in his Manual, that "there cannot be five Quarterly Conferences." What a pity! Did you never feel the need of the fifth?—nay, never, sometimes of the sixth? Ah, yes, all our trouble would end if we could only have six "quarters." The preachers would be ready with their reports. The Annual Conference statistics required to be taken by the presiding elder would be in form. The trustees could then, through their secretary, present reports of church property. And the stewards—poor, dear men—could be in "apple pie order." The crops would be sold, and there would be money in the country. Can't you arrange, in the next General Conference, brother, for six quarters?

But in the meantime we have but four. I am holding my fourth and last Quarterly Conference,

"It's a trying time,
A trying time,
A trying time, I say."
—Old Oak Circuit—Old song.

It is the time when the whole year, sometimes mighty heavy, rests on its smallest point. Things are brought to a focus. Loose ends are now gathered up. Figures stand forth in the fullness of august poverty. The upper is let down on the nether mill-stone. It is a time of strongly looking into the future when there is no future. Why can't we have six quarters?

In many respects the fourth quarterly meeting, just passed, for the DeSoto circuit, was very pleasant and profitable. The place was well chosen. It was at Woodside chapel. This is a new house, neat, tidy, inviting—built this year, irrespective of "hard times," through the quiet energy of the preacher in charge, Rev. John Pipes.

Woodside chapel has a pleasant site nine or ten miles eastward from Mansfield, on the Coushatta road. It was dedicated in May last. It has a good membership—fifty or sixty—and an interesting community. It is needless to say that the Conference was well entertained.

The DeSoto circuit is about thirty miles long and ten wide. It is on a line nearly direct from Kenchie to Woodside, making a slight detour to the right, taking in Bethel. It has been served the past three years by Bro. Pipes. In this time he has built two new churches and doubled the membership. In his work, as in many others, the outlook is encouraging in everything but the finances. The Sunday school and prayer meeting interests have not been neglected. Protracted and camp meetings are held, and revivals had. New members are added, and old ones revived and built up. But the question arises: Is there any settled, solid work done where there is a failure to meet fully the financial obligations? JOEL T. DAVES.

OCTOBER 18, 1876.

Dr. Pierce Waiting.—Dr. Myers Gone Over.

It takes a man to be master of a situation; and, such, indeed, is Dr. Pierce. When he writes he is master of the pen. When he preaches he is master of the subject he handles. And, honor to his declining years, he seems to be master of the infirmities of old age.

Just view him now as he stands upon Mount Nebo, and sees Canaan in the distance. And, like good old Moses, he takes the telescope of faith and brings the glorious promised land so near that there is nothing but the narrow stream of Jordan that keeps him from planting his feet upon its sunny banks. But he views the whole scene. He looks down and sees Israel marching, foot-sore and battle-scarred, through the wilderness, and ever and anon one crosses over before him. Not long since he saw Dr. Myers, weak and faint from toil and labor, and longing for the promised inheritance, lay off the armor of his warfare right upon the verge of the stream. And, as the armor was put off, a ship approached the banks, whose sails were pure and white, and floating to the breeze, on which was wafted the chorus, sung by ten thousand times ten thousand angels: Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out; and I will write upon him the name of my God and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem; and I will write upon him my new name.

O what a blessed thought, in these times of trouble that try men's souls, to know that such lights as these have been and are some of them still among us—men who have never bowed the knee to Baal! When I read in the ADVOCATE "Dr. Pierce's Tribute of Love to Dr. Myers" I thought of what a happy meeting they would soon have in "the beautiful home of the blessed." Then we will labor and wait, knowing that there will be a day of rest by and by. M. C. DOWNS.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Nov. 20, '76.

Texas Misrepresented.

MR. EDITOR: I have read with much satisfaction the second communication of Rev. R. H. Adair, Fairfield, Texas. Having entered protest against his first article, allow me to say to all who may have read it that I did not regard Bro. Adair as deliberately intending to libel his adopted State. I believed, as I wrote, that he had perpetrated "a careless and even rash" piece of letter-writing. I believe him to be a Christian gentleman and a worthy minister of Christ, incapable of willful wrong.

He thinks I should have communicated to him privately the objections raised to his statements, and let him correct in print what may have seemed rash or careless. Upon reflection, I am satisfied he is right, and believe it would have been more in accordance with the law of charity than the course I adopted. But his article having appeared in a newspaper, and many having taken great exceptions to it, I promptly followed the usual American precedent of opposing the statements made through the same medium in which they appeared.

Let me close by saying that Bro. Adair is not the first frank, open-hearted, good man who has paid a penalty for incautiously putting in print that which, if it had been spoken in ordinary conversation, would have likely met prompt and friendly correction, without awakening severe criticism or angry condemnation.

E. A. MOOD

SOUTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY,
GEORGETOWN, TEXAS.

One of the faults of this day is the sacrifice of truth to brilliancy. The lecture, and that style of pulpit which one might call the lecture pulpit, have been mainly responsible for this. Men who sell their talk in the best market will make talk to sell. Good preaching is the setting forth of one's convictions, and nobody has any right to preach anything which he does not honestly believe. Brilliant talk for the lecture platform is simply the utterance of any paradox which can be prettily illustrated. Those who go to listen to such talk never can detect the errors, for they go to have their thinking done for them. When people are better educated, and less crammed with mere school instruction, this style of thing will cease. Lectures for teaching are about the best things which a community can encourage. Lectures for mere amusement are apt to be among the worst. The Churchman.

OBITUARIES.

Correspondents, please write names and dates very distinctly. We follow copy on proper names.

Obituary notices should be forwarded promptly and immediately. Give only points of general interest, such as will help the living. Details of funeral services, and such phrases as "mourn their loss," etc., are not edifying. Verses, either original or select, not admissible in this department. Give the locality distinctly and in full. In the case of infants only a simple announcement of the death, with names and dates, will be published.

☞ All obituaries received are published as soon as convenient. If, after a reasonable time, any such communication fail to appear, let a duplicate be sent instead of a complaint.

BENJAMIN TRAVIS was born in the State of Georgia, January 10, 1813, and died at Havana, Hale county, Ala., October 4, 1876. The death of this good man has produced a feeling of profound regret throughout the whole section of country where he was known, and the church has sustained a loss from which it will not soon recover. In early manhood he removed to Hale county, Ala., where he passed the remainder of his life. For some years he was employed as a clerk in a store, first at Newbern and then at Havana. He subsequently bought out a merchant at New Prospect, where he carried on business for himself for eight or ten years. There, by close attention to business, he soon acquired a competency, and laid the foundation of that character which in after life was so eminent for industry, integrity and charity.

At the age of thirty he was most happily married to a daughter of old Father Willingham, of Flatwoods, and about two years afterward he was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, of which he continued a most active and useful member up to his death. He always attributed his religious impressions to the influence of Henry Thompson, a pious class-leader in his neighborhood; but the more immediate agent in his conversion was the Rev. Hardin Scales, the burden of whose preaching was holiness of heart and of life. With Bro. Travis religion was not a thing of mere sentiment, but the controlling principle of his life. Immediately after joining the church he took up family worship, and he never refused to pray in public when called on to do so. He was a faithful member of his church. He was emphatically a Methodist. He supported all its institutions, subscribed to its papers, patronized its schools, and contributed of his means to their support. His house was always a home for preachers. It afforded him great pleasure to entertain them, and he was often heard to say that the Lord blessed him in this work. No man in all this country ever had stronger friends among the traveling preachers than he did. He was jealous of the reputation of his brethren; it caused him deep sorrow to see members of his church wandering off into intemperance, or wanting in that strict integrity in business which is so important an element in Christian character. He was especially solicitous about the younger members of his church, and it troubled him much to see them engaging in those worldly amusements which are inconsistent with the vows of the church.

Bro. Travis was an industrious man. He accepted the doctrine of the apostle: that diligence in business is a cardinal principle in Christian character; that no man can be a servant of God who does not have an occupation, and pursue that occupation diligently; and his life has demonstrated how a man without fortune or friends may, by due attention to business and by honest dealing, acquire a competency and an enviable position in life. Though remarkably exact in trading, yet he never allowed himself to receive a cent which was not clearly his own; and in his instructions to his agents he required them always to take out of an account any item about which there was a shadow of doubt.

It was a principle with him to save all he could. He was a rigid economist. He thought it a sin to waste anything, even a match; thought it unfaithful to his Lord to use his means in purchasing fine clothes or indulging in high living. He thought it a great sin in many families to have costly entertainments that the money spent in this way ought to have been carefully husbanded and given to the poor; and in this he was persuaded that his views were in keeping with the constant teachings of the Savior.

He was a man of charity. He not only made all he could and saved all he could, but he gave all he could. No one knows the full extent of his charitable deeds, for he did not "let his left hand know what his right hand did." He made fewer allusions to his charitable deeds than any man that I ever knew. On one occasion a poor man had lost his house and all by fire. He went to Bro. Travis and inquired what he should do. In need of, and told him to go to his store and supply himself. A few years ago, on the breaking up of a firm of which he was a partner, when they were dividing out their claims on their customers, he asked to have all the widows' accounts turned over to him as a portion of his share, and there is reason to believe that in every case where the widow was not fully able to pay he sent her the account receipted. Honest men, struggling with poverty, ever found a friend in him, as we had abundant evidence when we looked over his papers after his death. Unostentatious as he was in his charity, although was known to justify the assertion of one of the most distinguished ministers, he who knew him that Bro. Travis was the most liberal man, for his means that he had ever known. Nor did he confine his contributions to the poor and needy. He was always ready to lend to any plans for the good of his church and community, and at his death he was engaged in erecting an academy building, in order to secure a good school in his town. He left a donation of $200 to the parsonage on his circuit, and he had firmly resolved to devote a large portion of his means to the relief of one of our most important educational enterprises in Alabama, though he died before executing that purpose. In spite of all this, he constantly prospered. He remarked to his partner, a short while before he died, that he was doing just as good a business as he desired. His life is an example of the great truth that liberality is a condition of worldly prosperity. "There is that scattereth, and yet increaseth; there is that withholdeth more than is meet, yet it tendeth to poverty." Verily, "the liberal soul shall be made fat."

Bro. Travis was a man of faith—that is, he believed in the gospel as a message from God to him. He rarely alluded to his Christian experience, and in this fact I find one strong proof of his spiritual health. Self-consciousness, whether relating to body or spirit, is a mark of disease. During the early portion of this year he told me that his life was a life of constant peace with God. On his death-bed he was entirely indifferent whether he lived or died, only that the will of the Lord should be done.

We cannot see how the church can get along in this section without Bro. Travis; but then we believe in the truth of the assertion that the Lord's workmen die, but his work still goes on. We can but pray that his mantle may fall on some one who will carry forward his great work.

PASTOR.

THE subject of this notice, JESSE A. HICKS, was born September 9, 1824, and departed this life, in Bibb county, Ala., August 23, 1876. At the age of twenty-six he joined the Methodist Episcopal Church South, at Milton, Autauga county. In all the relations of life—as parent, husband and friend—he was kind, indulgent, faithful and true, ever manifesting in his daily walk a consistent Christian life, avoiding the empty praise and flattery of men, and courting alone the favor of God.

His charities, which were many, partook of that quiet, unobtrusive kind which "would not let the right hand know what the left hand doeth." As a neighbor he was highly respected for those sterling virtues and qualities of heart and mind which rendered him, so useful as a member of society. During his severe and protracted illness his neighbors flocked to his house, and vied with each other in rendering aid and sympathy.

The physician who attended him in his last illness attests to his patience and submissiveness to his Christian resignation under most trying circumstances. He manifested no fear of death, and expressed no anxiety to live. Two days before his death, feeling that his time was drawing nigh, he quietly called his family around him, and with each he conversed without excitement, advising and admonishing, declaring that the way was clear, and that there was no fear of death in his heart. And thus this good man passed away from earth, leaving behind him unmistakable evidences of a pure Christian life. A faithful, loving wife and two dutiful children—a son and daughter—hope in the morning of the resurrection to meet with smiles of recognition the loved one who has gone before them to pillow his head upon his Savior's breast. R. A. MIMMS.

DIED, at her residence near Richland, Holmes county, Miss., Mrs. REBECCA D. ROGERS, wife of Mr. A. G. Rogers, in the fifty-eighth year of her life. Having passed through years of suffering, she departed this life of tears and sorrows, for a life of immortality and eternal happiness, on the tenth of October, 1875. On a lovely Sabbath evening, just as the sun was sinking down behind the western hills, she breathed her last, closing her eyes upon earthly things, friends and kindred dear, and turned to behold the smiles of a reconciled Father, whom she loved and faithfully served for many years in the Methodist Episcopal Church South. She lived an honored and useful life as a member of society, and was beloved by all who knew her; indeed to know her was to love her. As a wife she was faithful, a helpmate indeed. As a mother she was kind and gentle, and as a friend truly sincere.

She had for some time been expecting the fatal hour to come, and therefore was not surprised. In speaking of her approaching dissolution she was always calm and quiet, because of her unwavering faith in her Redeemer. Having been a creature of suffering for some years, patience was largely developed, having had her perfect work; but when death came it passed into the shrinking fortitude, which evinced to all who beheld her that there is a power and comfort in the religion of Jesus Christ. She was ever resigned and submissive to the providence and will of God, and sought to possess as her chief embellishment "even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which in the sight of God is of great price." To know how she triumphed over her trials and temptations by the grace of God would be encouraging to every Christian's heart. She leaves a husband and five children to mourn her death. A FRIEND.

BRO. GEORGE REEVES was born in Alabama, March 25, 1811, and died at his home in the parish of Calcasieu, La., May 1, 1876. He married Miss Mary Ryan, October 9, 1851, who survives him, and is patiently waiting her departure.

Bro. Reeves was led to Christ under the ministry of Rev. Wesley Evans, in Harrison county, Miss., in June, 1856. One incident bearing upon his Christian experience will reveal the man. He stated to the writer that for several years after he joined the church he was not satisfied: his business did not prosper, his farm was unproductive and his cattle busted. One day, at work in his field, the thought came into his mind to ask God to bless every effort he put forth in his business, on his farm, and in his orchard and garden. At once he began this course, and the result was rapid development in spiritual growth, and general prosperity in all his doings.

If he were but little known to the big world, his having lived was a blessing to many. The weary, the hungry, the needy found in him a friend; and the Christian one who delighted to talk about Christ. He came into the world a sinner, but left it a child of God through grace. For thirteen years he was a steward in the church, and at the Master's summons laid down his work on earth, and, triumphant through faith, fell asleep in Jesus. G. W. B.

DIED, in Franklin county, Miss., August 12, 1876, EDWARD E. CASTON. He was born April 1, 1834, in the county in which he died. He was converted a few weeks before his death. He had attended the administration of the gospel of the writer for some years, yet he never professed religion openly nor joined the church; but in his last sickness he gave the grandest evidence of his acceptance with God. For days before his death he exhorted all who came to see him to make preparation now for heaven. Others he had sent for, and exhorted them to a better life. His was truly a triumphant death. He was the only son of his parents, G. G. and Martha A. Caston, who are members of the Methodist Episcopal Church South; and he has left this consolation to them: that if "he cannot come to them they can go to him." "Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord."

J. E. JAGERS.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

Whereas, It has pleased almighty God, the great Master of the universe, in his infinite wisdom, to remove from our midst our little friend, MATTIE LINDSEY, who departed this life November 17, 1876;

Therefore we bow in humble submission to the will of our Maker, who doeth all things well. Still it is with feelings of deepest regret that we mourn the loss of our little Sabbath school scholar.

We sincerely sympathize with the bereaved family of the deceased in their deep affliction, and tender to them our heartfelt condolence.

By order of Pine Grove Sabbath school.

WILLIAM G. STEWART,
COLUMBUS GARLAND,
MISS MARY BUTLER,
Committee.

WEBSTER PARISH, LA., Nov. 26, 1876.

DIED, of swamp fever, STEPHEN B., eldest son of B. J. and Laura Bolster, in his fourteenth year. As day dawned on Sunday, November 19, 1876, the angel of death bore him to the spirit land, whither his infant sister had preceded him just one week. Stevie was a kind, pleasant and genial boy, full of life and happiness, and was a universal favorite. He was a pupil of Waverley School, and was fondly loved by his teacher and schoolmates. At Sunday school we shall miss him, and at the Temperance Council. But, ah! most sadly of all will dear little Stevie be missed by the loved and loving ones at home, where he was the idol. To them, in this great grief, we tender our true and earnest sympathy, praying God, for Christ's sake, to comfort their crushed hearts.

TOM. DONIPHAN,
FRANK SHEPARD,
MATTIE LOVELACE,
ANNA DONIPHAN,
On the part of the pupils.

DIED, near Monroe, La., on the fourteenth of September, J. GRAY, infant son of F. E. and Pauline C. Bowman, aged twenty months. Ah! like a dream—a summer dream—has he passed, leaving a dark shadow in the household, where he beamed for so brief a time "life's bright steam" in the hearts of his dear parents. The baby boy playing at his father's knee, and resting on his gentle mother's bosom, no more at morn or night will bless their eyes. The charm, "whose links were flowers," is broken. Too frail it was to hold so much of innocence and beauty. "The glad ears" wooed him, and the angels waited but for him to take him in his sweetness and purity.

S. C. C.

BROM A. MARTIN was born in Rockingham county, S. C., on the thirteenth of June, 1807; moved to west Tennessee in 1823; professed religion and joined the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in 1835, in which he continued a faithful member until 1874, when he moved to this State, and settled where he could not enjoy those privileges as formerly, but still retained his integrity. He joined the Masonic fraternity in 1811, and continued therein until death, and was buried with its honors. He died November 3, 1876, being sixty-nine years, four months and twenty-one days old. "How blest the righteous when he dies."

T. B. WALDEN.

MRS. MALINDA PHOEBE DENOYER, wife of Felix Denoyer, and daughter of John Howard, was born August 2, 1850, in Ouachita parish, La., and was married to Felix Denoyer in 1870. She joined the Methodist Episcopal Church South in October, 1875, and died November 1, 1876. When dying she said: "Tell Bro. White that I am prepared for this hour." Thus in the triumphs of the Christian faith passed away another member of our little church in the Colony, making the fourth one, all testifying that the same blessed religion that sustained and comforted in life was sufficient to give triumph in death. H. D. WHITE, P. C.

DIED, August 17, 1876, JAMES MARION, infant son of James H. and Fannie Moss Williams. "Children are a heritage of the Lord," and when we least expect it the Lord takes possession of his own. What a rich comfort there is in the words of Jesus in relation to children! What beautiful and consoling lessons in regard to their destiny does the religion of Jesus teach! Oh, parents, drink of the fountain of gospel consolation.

PHILIP MANOAH AUSTIN was born February 16, 1873, and died February 10, 1876, aged two years, eleven months and twenty-four days. The death of this little boy was a very sudden bereavement to his father and mother; but sudden and terrible as this bereavement is to the grieving parents, they can find abundant consolation in the certain assurance that he is now an angel of light.

JOHN H. EVANS, P. C.

PORT GIBSON, MISS., Oct. 18, 1876.

MARIUM ALICE JAMES, youngest daughter of David and Nancy James, was born July 7, 1872, and died of diphtheria, after many days of painful suffering, on Sunday morning, November 5, 1876, aged four years, four months and three days.

"Life is a span, a fleeting hour;
How soon the vapor flies!"

Thy will be done.

T. H. WALDEN, Pastor.

DIED, near Hickory, Miss., October 23, 1876, MATTIE ELTA, youngest child of W. H. and Annie Beard, aged one year, seven months and sixteen days.

"'Tis sweet to believe of the angels we love,
If we miss them below we shall meet them above."

A. C. H.

A good story is told of Spurgeon. His habit is to shut himself up on Saturdays. One Saturday a man called and insisted on seeing him. "Tell him," said the visitor to the servant, "that a servant of the Lord wishes to see him." The message was delivered and the following returned: "Tell him that I am engaged with his Master."

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1876.

THE WIND-HARP.

I set my wind-harp in the wind,
And a wind came out of the south
Soft, soft it blew, with gentle coo.
Like words from a maiden's mouth.
Then, like the stir of angels' wings,
It gently touched the trembling strings,
And O my harp gave back to me
A wondrous, heavenly melody.

I set my wind-harp in the wind,
And a storm from the north blew loud;
From the icy north it hurried forth,
And dark grew sea and cloud.
It whistled down the mountain's height,
It smote the quivering chords with might,
But still my harp gave back to me
Its tender, heavenly melody.

Ah, me! that such a heart were mine,
Responsive toned and true,
When all was glad, when all was shine,
Or when storms of sorrow blew,
That so, 'mid all the fret and strife,
The jarring undertone of life,
My life might rise to God, and be
One long, harmonious symphony!

Temple Bar.

Eddie's Mamma.

"I wish you were as pretty as Eddie Mason's mamma."

In surprise I laid down the jacket I had been hurrying to finish ere the daylight was entirely gone. The pale face of my fourth boy peered out from the easy chair in the far corner.

"As pretty! Why, Fred?"

And I made a mutual survey of the contrasted parties. I had been accounted a beauty before my marriage, and owns still, in spite of forty years and five children, called "stylish-looking" when I donned my best. I recalled Mrs. Mason's low, square figure, freckled face and large features, and smiled disdainfully.

"Yes, mamma, don't you think she is lovely? I run a race with Ed. every night to catch the first glimpse of her at the parlor window. You know Ed. never would stay after school to play on the common. I didn't find out the reason for some time, but it is because his mother always puts up her work at five minutes past four to watch for him, and there's such a big laugh in her eyes that Ed. and I begin one with our mouths as soon as we catch sight of her cherry necktie, and we swing our caps and cry, 'Hurrah for Tuesday evening,' or whatever day it is, just because we don't know what else to hurrah for. Ed. says she wears that red necktie because he likes it, and she has the cutest little white ruffles round her neck and sleeves. I know he ruffles them with those rousing hugs, and he always says the first thing 'You nice old mamma!' For hungry as a bear, and she laughs every time and says: 'Of course you are; give me your satchel, and go to the pantry, and take Fred with you.' Oh, but she is a bully mamma!"

And my boy paused, breathless from his enthusiastic recital of my neighbor's charming ways. Conscience was holding a stormy court in my heart, with wounded pride and sharp self-accusations, as I stitched and listened. I recounted her four babies under eight, her limited means and invalid mother-in-law. I knew I was a faithful, almost slavish mother to my children, careful that their home should be tasteful, the table well appointed, their apparel faultless. I thought of my fevered cheeks and aching back, the weekly tribute to the ironing board, and their immaculate shirt fronts, but I could not derive my customary satisfaction from these reflections. It had begun to dawn on me that apart from the labors of my hands I myself was capable of being a source of enjoyment to my family. My cheeks grew hot when I remembered my roughly-combed head and collarless neck of that morning and of every morning, the years that they came and went to school with rarely a mid or a glance.

Memory retouched a picture in my neighbor's sitting-room, where, mingling in at twilight, unannounced, I had found big and little gathered around the glowing grate, clapping their hands at the finale of one of mamma's stories. Seniors whispered: "Had you been more loving and genial, and made home more cheerful, your oldest boy might not now be spending from the office to spend an hour before tea at the billiard table." And back from the past, that for twelve years had been shadowed by a little grave, I seemed to hear the voice of my little Ellie, my only girl, pleading: "Won't you put away your work and take me on your lap, and tell me about that gentle Jesus Aunt Alice used to talk about?" But I was too busy, and before another month of twilights had deepened into night my angel went to be with him of whom she could not be taught on earth.

Fred, fearful from my silence of having offended me, had slipped off to the kitchen, and as I sat in the gathering darkness sorrowful tears plashed upon my folded hands. Alas, I had been careful and troubled about many things for my children's comfort, but had neglected holy, healthful heart culture.

Thickly around me in the dim light clustered the grim specters of lost opportunities for inviting the fetters of home-love and mother-love. If I had only snatched some moments from my busy life to have made myself one with them! With ruthless disregard to my already aching heart, I counted up the paltry sum total of a few minutes taken each day to make myself attractive to home eyes, the few words of prayer that would have smoothed my brow, hurled my little vexations that I so often regaled my family with, and given instead cheerful words and looks of welcome.

Blind, blind had been! And it was now too late. My mission in my boys' lives was almost fulfilled, the moulding period almost past. Eddie, by five years the youngest, was thirteen. But I would begin; yes, I would begin at once. My door of opportunity was not quite shut. And some mothers, younger mothers, who read these lines will begin. I feel an earnest and prophecy of it as I write. Some one will begin to let the sunshine of neat appearance, and careful dress, and bright smiles, and sympathizing words light up their homes. We have given ourselves, our time and thoughts to our dear ones, and there are those who, as well as God, love "the cheerful giver."

Biblical Allusions to Printing.

The Bible is frequently referred to as a source of information in regard to the ancient method of engraving, preserving records, making books, etc. Below will be found some of its most striking allusions to these topics:

And he said, What pledge shall I give thee? And she said, Thy signet, and thy bracelets, and thy staff that is in thine hand.—Genesis xxvii, 18.

So she wrote letters in Ahab's name, and sealed them with his seal.—Kings xxi, 8.

And because of all this we make a sure covenant and write it; and our princes, Levites, and priests, seal unto it.—Nehemiah ix, 38.

In the name of King Ahasuerus was it written, and sealed with the king's ring.—Esther iii, 12.

And a stone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den; and the king sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of the lords, that the purpose might not be changed concerning Daniel.—Daniel vi, 17.

With the work of an engraver in stone, like the engravings of a signet, shalt thou engrave the two stones with the names of the children of Israel; thou shalt make them to be set in ouches of gold.—Exodus xxviii, 11.

And further, by these, my son, be admonished: of making many books there is no end; and much study is a weariness of the flesh.—Ecclesiastes xii, 12.

Then Darius the king made a decree, and search was made in the house of the rolls where the treasures were laid up in Babylon. And there was found at Achmetha, in the palace that is in the province of the Medes, a roll, and therein was a record thus written.—Ezra vi, 1.

The paper reeds by the brooks, by the mouth of the brooks, and everything sown by the brooks, shall wither, be driven away, and be no more.—Isaiah xix, 7.

Having many things to write unto you, I would not write with paper and ink; but I trust to come unto you, and speak face to face.—Second Epistle of John, 12.

Oh, that my words were now written! Oh, that they were printed in a book! That they were graven with an iron pen and lead in the rock forever.—Job xix, 23, 24.

Oh, that one might hear me! Behold, my desire is that the Almighty would answer me, and that mine adversary had written a book.—Job xxxi, 35.

The sin of Judah is written with a pen of iron, and with the point of a diamond; it is graven upon the table of their heart, and upon the horns of your altars.—Jeremiah xvii, 1.—American Encyclopedia of Printing.

What Missions Do.

One of the speakers—a returned missionary—at the anniversary of the English Foreign Mission Society gave an account of the changes which have taken place in India during his term of service, which has been quite a protracted one. He said:

Thirty-five years ago there were no roads. He was obliged to follow mere cart tracks, and in so doing was on one occasion confronted by two tigers and a pair of cubs playing in the way. Now there are not only macadamized roads, but railways and telegraphs through the whole land. At that time there was comparatively little education for the poorer classes. Now schools exist all over the country, and the lower castes are getting their way upward by means of education. Then the missionary in all his journeyings was not permitted even to touch the drinking or eating vessels of the Hindoos. Now there are multitudes of people who are unwilling to let him go without food. While their Hindooism is not dead, it is, at least, to a great extent undermined. Many say: "We are not Christians, but we are too far advanced to bow down to idols any longer." Preaching in the vernacular, "singing" native tunes only, mingling among all classes of people, the missionary preacher is welcomed among the toiling poor of the northwest provinces. Referring to his own station at Delhi, the speaker said that he had gone thither immediately after the mutiny. Delhi then appeared hard as iron, without desire to receive the gospel. On leaving the city, a month before he left, three hundred and fifty members in the Delhi district, with a Christian population of more than six hundred persons, thirty-two schools are connected with the station, and the night meetings held at the several school-houses are attended each week by about two thousand persons, chiefly men.

"I DIE HARRY." It is said that in his last hours Bishop Butler, when conversing with his chaplain on those subjects which could then alone be interesting, thus expressed his uneasiness: "Though I have tried to avoid sin and to please God to the utmost of my powers, yet, from being conscious of my constant weakness, I am afraid to die."

"My lord," said his chaplain, "you forget that Jesus Christ is a Savior."

"True," replied the Bishop; "but how shall I know that he is a Savior for me?"

"My lord, it is written: 'Him that cometh unto me I will in no wise cast out.'"

"True," said the Bishop; "and I have read that scripture a thousand times, but I never felt its full value till this moment. Stop there; for now I die happy."—The Cottager's Monthly Visitor.

The new slang term "crooked" is defined as "the act of a man who bends his energies in the wrong direction."

ROTTEN ROW, LONDON.—Every day, morning and evening, Hyde Park is a most magnificent scene of pomp and show—the handsomest turnouts, the finest horsemen and horsewomen in the world—the prettiest girls, the roslest children, the most resplendent, if not the most elegant toilets. Almost every afternoon the Princess of Wales joins the throng for a half hour's drive up and down "The Ladies' Mile." Her equipage is a modest one, her coachman is less pompous, her footmen are less overpowering than those of many a rich American. A mounted policeman or two clear the way for her, but she has no guard, and, though the most popular woman in England, her coming causes no excitement, only a courteous doffing of hats by the gentlemen, and welcoming smiles from the ladies whom she meets. She is in black just now—one of those light intermittent attacks of mourning to which royal folks are subject—and she looks a little pale and quite thin. But she sits perfectly erect, and bows and smiles with as sweet and cordial a graciousness as in that first season when she won the hearts of all this people, coming as she did in good faith to be not only a daughter to the Queen, but to England as well. The Czar's little girl was not so wise. Proud and petted and imperious, she found things here little suited to her taste and temper. She is said to have fretted especially under her subordinate position at court, and has gone home declaring that she will never, never return to perfidious Albion. So it is possible the poor English people have looked their last on the discontented and disdainful little Muscovite, till such time, at least, as she has a new dignity to go upon, as the Princess of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha.—English Paper.

CHEERFULNESS IN OLD AGE.—"Isn't Aunt Charity a darling old lady?" said one of Aunt Charity's nieces.

She was, indeed, a sunbeam. The strong, resolute, brave face; the white hair under the plain cap; the sweet, smiling mouth, were all winning. We could depend on the motherly woman who was so jolly, so full of fun and frolic so ready to join in whatever mirth was afloat. Everybody came to her with their joys and their griefs, sure of sympathy. An hour with her was a tonic.

It is well for the old to be cheerful. They may have much to depress them. Health is failing. Friends are passing away. Another generation is on the stage. Other hands take up the world's work. They feel, perhaps with a bitter regret, that they are not needed as they once were. Nevertheless, they should cultivate every source of happiness which remains. The love of children and grandchildren, the greater dignity and larger leisure of life, and the quiet hours they can have for communion with God, should be appreciated highly. They should get into the habit of saying good-morning every day to this world, where they have had so many eager, busy, happy, and holy days.

COAST LIGHTS ENJOYED BY BIRDS.—It is a curious fact that during the month of April and October keepers of lighthouses along the coast are obliged to exercise the greatest vigilance in order to prevent injury to their lights through the breaking of the lantern glasses by birds flying against them at night. Ducks often dash against the panes with such force as to shatter heavy plate glass, and even wire netting, now used, is sometimes found an inadequate protection. The keeper of the new lighthouse near St. Augustine, Fla., states that almost every morning during last month he picked up from twenty to fifty dead birds, which had committed involuntary suicide in the above manner. It is estimated that at each of the large lighthouses on the coast some two thousand birds are thus yearly slaughtered, or in all about one hundred thousand annually. The circumstances also serve to indicate that the flight of the birds which migrate during the months named is accomplished in the night.—Scientific American.

FAITH.—The first exercise of faith upon Christ is the boldest and most vigorous, because it is for the saving of the life which the soul sees no recovery any way but in Christ; and it is the most noble, seeing it was under the discouragement of such mountains of guilt. It also gives Christ the greatest honor, for it is an act of greater confidence in him than any succeeding act can be. Now if thou didst put forth such a high and daring act of faith when all thy sins hung about thee, with how much more confidence mayest thou come now, since thou hast tried how successful thy first faith hath been! When the devil, with all his black legions, besets thee round, thou art not in a worse condition than at the first, when all thy sins did not only besiege thee, but possess thee.—Chirnock.

The Flemingsburg Rambler has a department of "Answers to Correspondents." In reply to "C. W." the Rambler says: "If you love the lady, and she loves you, we see no reason why you should'nt marry—provided you are each worth $50,000. But if you own nothing but a standing collar and a spur, and she nothing but a box of hairpins and a pair of striped stockings, why, don't do it."

Somebody has utilized pet and other names thus: For a printer's wife, Em; for a sport's wife, Bet-ty; for a lawyer's wife, Sue; for a tennister's wife, Carrie; for a fisherman's wife, Net-ty; for a slopmaker's wife, Peg-gy; for a carpet-man's wife, Mat-tie; for an auctioneer's wife, Bid-dy; for a chemist's wife, Ann Eliza; for an engineer's wife, Bridget.

"We must first be made good ere we can do good; we must first be made just before our works can please God; for when we are justified by faith in Christ then cometh good works.—B. Latimer.

Religious Intelligence.

—The Presbyterians have among the Germans in America 95 churches, 100 ministers, and 7,500 members.

—The Methodist mission in Pachuca, Mexico, has enjoyed an extensive revival. Seventy-three persons were received on probation in one day.

—In spite of all the commotion attendant on war, the missionaries of the American Board in Turkey have organized 14 new churches, and received 1,600 members into the native churches.

—Jewish silver shekels have lately been found near Jerusalem, belonging to the time of Simon Maccabæus, B. C. 141. On one side they have the cup of manna, and on the other the budding rod of Aaron.

—Hindoo music must differ considerably from ours. A missionary mentions that his assistants in an evangelistic meeting which he was conducting rendered efficient help with their voices and musical instruments. He could never make out that they played any particular tunes; but the audience, consisting of high-caste Hindoos, was delighted.

—A gentleman in Baltimore has given $500 for the benefit of the Pennimore Christian colony of the India mission of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and offers to endow two scholarships, of Rs. 2,000 (one thousand dollars each,) in the India Conference Theological and Normal School at Bareilly, on the condition that some other friends of the institution endow an equal number.

—At the last stated meeting of the board of managers of the American Bible Society, to promote the publication and distribution of the Scriptures in Japan, China, India and Siam, appropriations amounting to $41,500 were made to the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, the American Board, the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, and to the Japan Agency.

—The Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, closed the month of September with $9,540 less receipts—even including special gifts for the debt—than were reported at the same date last year. The debt of $36,188, which was reported at the Assembly, has therefore increased to $45,728. This does not include the usual shortcoming of the summer months, which would amount to many thousands, but is a decrease from the summer receipts of 1875.

—The American Board began its sixty-seventh autumn meeting on the third ultimo, at Hartford, Conn., Rev. D. Mark Hopkins presiding. The annual report alludes to the lack of theological students ready for missionary service. The receipts for the year were: Ordinary donations, $349,118; to extinguish the debt, $40,163; Centennial offering, $7,037; total, $393,320. The legacies were $44,891; other sources, $6,930. Entire income, $445,142. Expenses, $452,168.66. Last year's debt was $14,323. Present deficit, $31,050. This is a hopeful statement, as the debt has decreased $13,273.

—Hai-tau is a small island, about twenty-five miles long by thirteen wide, in the Province of Fuh-Kien, China. It has about a hundred thousand inhabitants, who are described as being "very intelligent and respectful." The Rev. N. J. Plumb, of the Methodist Episcopal mission in Foh Chau, writes to the Chinese Recorder an account of a visit made to this island, "where," he says, "we have had work commenced about a year and a half." Mr. Plumb's was, he thinks, the first missionary visit ever made by a foreigner to Hai-tau. He made a tour of the island, baptizing at one village six adults and six children, and at another a woman sixty-five years of age. There are now, in all, eleven members, ten baptized children, and six inquirers. The first preaching on the island was by a native, who had heard the missionaries in Foh Chau and been converted. He returned to his home and began to preach to his people; and the result is a chapel at the chief village, Tau-tau, and the nuclei of several congregations.

It is to be hoped that the present troubles in Turkey will not result in an increase of Russian influence and dominion. If the Turk is a hinderance in the way of missionary work, the Russian is a far greater one. Of this we have an illustration in the religious condition of the Russian Caucasus. Like the adjacent regions of Asiatic Turkey and Persia, this Russian province has a considerable number of Armenian Christians, who are spiritually destitute. But, while American missionaries have a large measure of liberty to labor in Van and Ezrum and Oroomiah and Tabriz, they can do nothing across the Russian border. There intolerance is systematized. The Russian government permits no man to change his religious profession, unless it be to become a member of the Greek Church. Within the denomination in which he was born each Russian subject is free; but outside of it he has no liberty whatever. Recently a Presbyterian missionary visited a congregation of evangelical Armenians in Shamokhi, a town of the Caucasus region. These Protestants, number five hundred members, are in sympathy with the American missions in doctrine and worship, and would be very glad to receive aid in the way of missionaries. For a long time the Russian government endeavored to suppress the church, and repeatedly sent away its teachers into other parts of the country. Finally it hit upon the expedient of making them Lutherans in form. The church was put under the nominal care of the Lutheran pastor of Tiflis, three hundred miles away. No one can be admitted into the congregation without an order to that effect from the Tiflis officials, both civil and ecclesiastical. It would be a sad day for the American missions in Turkey if, with Russian rule, such ley intolerance in religious matters were likewise introduced.—Independent.

Our Young People.

UNDER THE SNOW.

BY MRS. PARKER.

Beautiful things lie hidden
Under the snow;
Tulips and daffodils sleeping,
Myrtles with broad leaves are creeping,
And blue-eyed forget-me-nots peeping,
Under the snow.

Beautiful things lie hidden
Under the snow;
The crocus, and dear little daisies,
And arbutus in wonderful mazes,
It's sweet-scented flow'rets upraises
Under the snow.

Beautiful things lie hidden
Under the snow;
But they will awake in the morning,
When spring with warm sunshine is dawning,
They will peep out from under their awning,
Under the snow.

Our dear little Alice lies hidden
Under the snow;
The angels their kind watch are keeping,
O'er our treasure but treasure safe sleeping,
No pain and no sorrow or weeping,
Under the snow.

Yes, beautiful Alice lies sleeping
Under the snow;
But she will awake in the morning,
The bright resurrection day dawning,
No more to lie down, midst our mourning,
Under the snow.

A Lone Grave.

DEAR CHILDREN: How holy should the rich, the great and the poor live, since "it is appointed unto men once to die."

My father died when I was too young to recollect him; but he left me a legacy—not riches, not fame, but the hope of meeting him in heaven.

I have no father on earth—one in heaven. Have you a father? Then love him.

Though God called my father from me when I was young, yet he has been more than a father to me.

A child whom I know, while she was sick, asked her mother if she loved God, and then remarked that she wished papa loved God.

Does your papa love God? If not, go to him often and tell him about Jesus.

Dear children, do you ever think of the angel of death? I was coming from my father's grave one evening, and remarked that it was a sad thing to die; but a friend replied: "It is a glorious thing to die." I agree with my friend—it is a glorious thing to die in the Lord. Unless we die we cannot go to heaven and see Jesus.

I will tell you of a lone grave. In Yazoo county, Miss., about three miles south of Benton, is situated a grave of a dear unknown lady. She has been dead a long time, She died in the twenty-first year of her age. The young may die—the old must die. I do not recollect of ever meeting any one who knew who she was. Man forgets; God never forgets. "The righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance." This is the poetry on her tomb:

"Flowers were not forgot for lying here;
For though were flowers withered with the year,
Yet, yet we told them all so dear,
We thought them worthy of immortality."

She bore her illness with Christian patience. Her babe is buried with her; and recently some one has buried another babe near her, as if to keep her company.

If no one else is buried there, at the resurrection morn, three shining ones will come forth like Jesus.

LOLA.

VERNON, Miss., Sept. 8, 1876.

From Our Little Friends.

VERNON, MISS., Sept. 8, 1876.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: There are five of us—four sisters and one brother. We all read the ADVOCATE, and are very much pleased with its contents, especially the Child's Corner. Four of us are engaged in reading the Bible through together. Our youngest sister has not learned to read well enough to read with us. We are very much interested in the questions which are proposed, and always look them out. Tell Lettie Lewis that the answer to her question is found in First Kings xxii, 39. It was Ahab. Now we will ask some questions, and wish the little girls and boys to find the answers without any help: 1. Who passed from to swim, and what were they building? 2. What book in the Bible has not the name of God mentioned in it?

Our papa is the preacher in charge of Vernon circuit. We generally have a very good Sunday school in Vernon during the summer months, but freeze out in the winter. We have no house of worship, and have to use the court-house.

Very respectfully your little friends,

MOLLIE, CHARLIE,
GINNIE AND VIOLA.

CARSON, Miss., Nov. 20, 1876.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: Tell Miss May Millsaps that Methusalah was the oldest man; and his father was not, for God took him. My mother is a widow. Our father died when we were all small. He was a Methodist preacher. Every one missed him so much.

I will also answer Miss Annie Roberts' question. The sin that Moses committed was when he caused the water to come forth from the rock for the children of Israel to drink. He said: "Must we fetch forth water out of this rock," instead of giving God the glory.

Now I want some of the girls or boys to answer my question: What is the shortest verse in the New Testament? Will you please publish my letter? Your friend,

SIERA N. TOWNSEND.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: I am a little girl seven years old. My pa takes your paper, which I like very much. I cannot read, but my kind mother often reads the Child's Corner for me, and a kind and loving sister does my writing. I am going to school and learning very fast. We have a good and kind teacher, and we little girls and boys love him very much. I am sorry to say we have no Sabbath school. We have preaching every first Sunday. We have a good preacher, and he is loved by all. I am sorry to say I did not get to attend the camp meeting this year.

Mr. Editor, for fear of taking too much time and room in your paper I will close. Good-night, Mr. Editor.

Your little friend,

ANNA K. MARTIN.

MR. EDITOR: The question was asked by some of the little folks, some time since: Who built the ivory house? I find in First Kings xxii, 39, an ivory house was made by Ahab. I love the ADVOCATE very much, specially the Child's Corner.

LIZZIE CROSSLEY.

The Boys of My Boyhood

BY WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT.

The boys of the generation to which I belonged—that is to say, who were born in the last years of the last century or the earliest of this—were brought up under a system of discipline which put a far greater distance between parents and their children that now exists. The parents seemed to think this necessary, in order to secure obedience. They who believers in the old maxim that familiarity breeds contempt. My own parents lived in the house with my grandfather, and grandmother, on the mother's side. My grandfather was a disciplinarian of the stricter sort, and I can hardly find words to express the awe in which I stood of him—an awe so great as almost to prevent anything like affection on my part, although he was in the main kind, and certainly never thought of being severe beyond what was necessary to maintain a proper degree of order in the family.

The other boys in that part of the country, my schoolmates and playfellows, were educated on the same system. Yet there were at that time some indications that this very severe discipline was beginning to relax. With my father and mother I was on much easier terms than with my grandfather. If a favor was to be asked of my grandfather it was asked with fear and trembling; the request was postponed to the last moment, and then made with hesitation and blushes, and in confused utterance.

One of the means of keeping the boys of that generation in order was a little bundle of birchen rods, bound together by a small cord, and generally suspended on a nail against the wall in the kitchen. This was esteemed as much a part of the necessary furniture as the crane that hung in the kitchen fire-place, or the shovel and tongs. It sometimes happened that the boy suffered a fate similar to that of the eagle in the fable—wounded by an arrow feathered with a feather from his own wing; in other words, the boy was made to gather the twigs intended for his own castigation.

It has never been quite clear to me why the birch was chosen above all other trees of the wood to yield its twigs for this purpose. The beech of our forests produces sprays as slender as hazel, and as tough as the latter. Wherever the beech is common, cut its long and pliant branches for driving oxen. Yet the use of birchen rods for the correction of children is of very great antiquity, for in a "Discourse on Forest Trees," written three hundred years ago, Evelyn speaks of birchen twigs as an implement of the schoolmaster; and Loudon, in his "Arboretum," goes yet farther back: He says: "The birch has been used as the instrument of correction in schools from the earliest ages." The English poets of the last century make frequent mention of this use of birchen twigs; but the London's time, whose book was published thirty years since, he remarks that the use of these rods, both in schools and private families, was fast passing away—a change on which the boys both of England and the United States may well be congratulated—for the birchen rod was, in my time, even more freely used in the school than in the household.

St. Nicholas.

A BIG PLUM-PUDDING.—What do you think of this account from an old book of a big plum-pudding? The time referred to was the summer of 1819.

"On June 8, at Plugnton fair, near Exeter, the ancient custom of drawing through the town a plum-pudding of an immense size, and afterward distributing it to the populace, was revived. The ingredients which composed this enormous pudding were 160 pounds of flour, 170 pounds of beef suet, 140 pounds of raisins and 240 eggs. It was kept constantly boiling in a brewer's copper from Saturday morning to Tuesday, when it was placed on a car, decorated with ribbons, evergreens, etc., and drawn along the street by eight oxen."—"Jack in the Pulpit," in St. Nicholas.

"My poem is rather lengthy," she said, "and may be you won't have room for it this week." The editor yawned and replied: "Oh, yes, we could find room for it if it was twelve times as long. Our stove is a large one, you see."

A BIG PLUM-PUDDING.—What do you think of this account from an old book of a big plum-pudding? The time referred to was the summer of 1819.

"On June 8, at Plugnton fair, near Exeter, the ancient custom of drawing through the town a plum-pudding of an immense size, and afterward distributing it to the populace, was revived. The ingredients which composed this enormous pudding were 160 pounds of flour, 170 pounds of beef suet, 140 pounds of raisins and 240 eggs. It was kept constantly boiling in a brewer's copper from Saturday morning to Tuesday, when it was placed on a car, decorated with ribbons, evergreens, etc., and drawn along the street by eight oxen."—"Jack in the Pulpit," in St. Nicholas.

The Christian Advocate.

Organ of the Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences of the M. E. Church South.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1876.

REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D., Editor.

ROBT. J. HARP, PUBLISHER.

OFFICE—112 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS

Address, on all matters of business, Rev. R. J. HARP, 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

Address all communications designed for publication to Rev. LINUS PARKER, 112 Camp street New Orleans.

AGENTS—All the members of the Patronizing Conferences.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.
REV. EDWARD WADSWORTH, D. D.
REV. A. J. BRIGGS.
REV. J. W. RUSH.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. H. WATKINS, D. D.
REV. JAMES A. GODFREY.
REV. J. G. JONES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. CHRISTIAN KEENER.
REV. JOHN MATHEWS.
REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D.

CHANGE OF RATES.

The New Orleans Christian Advocate will be furnished to subscribers hereafter at the following rates, including postage:

One Year	$2.00
Six Months	1.15
Three Months	.75

To all Ministers of the Gospel and widows of deceased traveling preachers and theological students, to any person forwarding to us four new yearly subscribers, with FORTY DOLLARS.

FREE OF CHARGE.

Who Will Go for Us?

It was in the year that King Uzziah died that the prophet saw the Lord sitting upon a throne high and lifted up. The temple was filled with his train, and the mighty seraphim were there on wing, and crying one to another: "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts." There were the symbols of authority and power—the posts of the door moved at the voice of him that cried. And yet God on his throne, "high and lifted up," and with the six-winged seraphim burning above it, calls for a messenger to go to the people.

It is evident that volunteers from heaven, however ready and willing they might be, were not adapted to the mission. Their voice could shake the posts of the door, and fill the house with smoke, but it was not fitted to convey the divine message to man. It was the glory of Christ manifested in supreme and regal grandeur, and displaying his omnipotence, and yet there is a confessed dependence upon a human instrumentality. That the glorious One, amidst the flaming powers of heaven, should stoop to notice and commission the humbled and awe-struck penitent who cowered at the foot of his throne, is a significant feature in the scene. Passing through the shining ranks of angelic ministries, and stooping from the height of his power, and as one dependent suing for favor, God calls for a minister invested with the form and frailties of man.

A man is wanted, but he must be a sanctified man. Isaiah's ministry dated back of this vision, but this was to be a new induction, and he was to be more perfectly qualified for his work. Under the profound convictions of this manifestation of the divine glory he is penetrated with the sense of his unworthiness and sin. His lips were clean, after the ordinary standard of purity, and his sincerity, courage and devotion had been proved. But in the light of this glory, with this vision of the Lord himself, and with the voice of seraphim sounding in his ears, he felt that he was too sinful to be employed in a business so sacred. One glimpse of the King, and the seraphic chant that proclaimed his holiness, overwhelmed him. "Woe is me! for I am undone; because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips; for mine eyes have seen the King, the Lord of hosts." The converted man, when he is called to proclaim the gospel, needs this further and deeper conviction, this more profound discovery of his infirmities, and the necessity of a qualification that is special for his work.

With the glory of Christ, the holiness of God, the sacredness of his message, all weighing upon him, he may well exclaim: "Woe is me!" Lips that might be for common uses, and that might be filled for the utterances of business and society; lips that with little of incongruity or sacrilege might be opened in prayer and praise, are yet in painful and humiliating contrast with the purity of him whose word they are to declare. It may be that only after the work has been undertaken, and the preacher is in the midst of his terrible responsibilities, he is capable of this heart-searching self-examination, and able to reach the conviction of a higher and better preparation. It is out of the abundance of the heart that the mouth speaketh. The lips will be clean if the heart is, but scrupulously careful must the man of God be in his talk. His lips have spoken peculiar vows, they are opened to administer the ordinances, to comfort the dying, to breathe the benediction of dismissal, and to interpret a gospel of holiness. A special baptism is called for; even a conversion that comes after justification, and after the beginning of his ministry.

The live coal from off the altar can alone purify the lips and purge from sin. This is at once the symbol of atoning sacrifice, of consecration and of purity. The fire of Pentecost came from the altar of Calvary. The live coal from off the altar must, in a peculiar sense, touch the lips of him who is to be an embassador for God. For him there is a consecration of the lips, and a three-fold anointing of the holy One. The endowment of power is exhibited in the action of the seraphim as he snatches the live coal from the altar and swiftly flies with it to touch the prophet's lips. The symbol is a lesson for us. Before we can answer God's call effectively the ministry of burning must purify and kindle in us the flame of zeal and love. God's chosen messenger, then, is a man, sinful, humbled, confounded by the divine glory, but penitent, sanctified, and ready for any sacrifice. In this state of mind, with the vision of glory and the experience of grace fresh upon him, the voice of the Lord is heard: "Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?" Does God here associate himself with the seraphim and all the heavenly hosts? or is the question framed to suit the triune mystery? It is enough that the prophet is sent by the King, and that he goes for him, for the heavenly powers are interested. They are working for man, and it may be that man is working for them. In relation to them ours may be in some degree a vicarious ministry.

"Here am I; send me." The call must be clear to warrant such an answer; but, being clear, the response is a model of obedience and fidelity. It was a hard appointment, a work to appall the most heroic. But he went fortified by the vision of him who called. The throne high and lifted up was his defense, the seraphim were about him wherever he went, and the fire from the altar kindled in his heart and glowed in his lips. With a sure and divine warrant, what had the prophet to fear, and what did he care for hardship or even death? The unseen world was ever open to his faith, the strength of an unseen arm supported him. Behind him was heaven, its throne, ministries and voices, with its love and mercy and power. The sanctified man stands forth to the world, alone seen, alone heard, as the representative of God and his majesty, and as the messenger of his grace. But he is endued with a strange and supernatural power, and is surrounded by a guardianship invincible to the assaults of earth and hell. The ancient and the modern prophet are called, sent and protected by the same divine authority.

Epochal Remembrances.

Doubtless all men have them. In the case of the "chief butler," his memory was stirred and vow recalled by a great national calamity. We have no evidence that he had ever thought of Joseph from the moment of his prosperity. But now affliction quickened him to thought. The king's visions were portentous. The king's sorrow was the sorrow of the nation. Among the wise men of the nation were found none who could give relief. In this hour of national sorrow, his own personal prosperity forgotten, he remembers his sin. It was to him and his whole nation a crisis period. "I do remember my faults this day." He tells the story of his imprisonment, of his dream, of the interpretation, of his promise, and of his sin. Joseph is called from prison, interprets the king's dreams, and is set over the kingdom.

National sorrow will produce individual trouble. God not infrequently appeals to the man through his love of country. When other things fail, personal reflection and reformation may be wrought through public calamity. Men then know themselves to be not only "of unclean lips," but that they "dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips."

More frequently, however, are men made to remember through temporal affliction and loss. In the presence of a great loss, in the change from prosperity to adversity, from fatness to leanness, from fullness to hunger, they "remember their faults" and confess their wrongs. In prosperity men, like the rich fool, too often lean upon worldly good alone. All vows and promises, all talents for usefulness, lie hidden under the gross and worldly. It seems sometimes like a harsh remedy; but it is of the mercy of God. If the man is made to "remember" and is saved, who regards the wasting of the merely temporal?

But men can pass through national sorrow, and sustain the heaviest shocks of worldly, temporal loss unmoved; or, if moved at all, moved seemingly away from God. To such the gracious epochal period may come in bodily suffering. In the case of Job, first his property and family were taken, followed by grievous bodily suffering. This seems to be the process. It is hard for the stoutest of heart, reduced by the fires of member," confess and desire redisease to very weakness, not to "reformation.

There are thousands of gracious agencies without the immediate presence of personal or family afflictions and loss, bringing up these times of remembrance—these seasons of reflection. It is of the great mercy of God that men are not permitted to forget. This is just what he would do if left to himself.

The special office of the Holy Spirit is to stir remembrance. He is in the world "to convince of sin, of righteousness and a judgment to come." There are also special seasons favorable to this work. The camp and protracted meetings may be included. An earnest, zealous ministry, full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, live Sunday school work, attentive, prayerful parents, etc., may and do all tend to the desired result.

The difficulty with the world around us, however, is not so much the lack of means and agencies to move to reflection and reveal duty as the disposition to yield, and the moral courage to make the confession of wrong and do the work of amendment. It is hard to confess guilt and yet it is a brave act. It brings relief to the man, and through him, to do good to others. Still, with all its advantages, present and prospective, too often the language is: "Go thy way for this time." And the good Spirit obeys; sometimes never to return. And when they do come back—these times of serious thought and reflection—it is with a decrease of moral power to perform duty; and men thus come to be "past feeling." They can coolly entertain the most horrid thoughts of God, and be guilty of the most horrid actions toward men, without a sense of sin or danger.

Safety is in immediate confession—"I do remember my faults this day"—and immediate amendment.

D.

Mississippi Conference.

APPOINTMENTS.

Jackson District.—W. B. Hines, P. E. Jackson station, C. B. Galloway; Madison, D. T. Langford; Pearl River, H. H. Montgomery; Sharon, R. Bradley; Canton and Soule Chapel, W. C. Black; Dover, W. H. Nelson; Yazoo, J. H. Shelton; Yazoo City, R. D. Norsworthy; Jackson circuit, to be supplied by T. M. Ward; Silver Creek, J. W. Ellison; Brownsville, W. E. Ballard; Canton, W. E. M. Linfield, missionary to China, J. W. Lambuth; special agent of Publishing House, R. Abbey.

Vicksburg District.—F. M. Featherstun, P. E. Vicksburg, W. H. Watkins; Warren, E. M. Williams; Sunflower mission, to be supplied by J. S. Hutton; Clover Hill, C. A. Powell; Choctaw Landing, to be supplied; Rolling Fork, to be supplied; Mount Olivet, L. R. Featherstun; Rocky Springs, J. W. Saudell; Cayuga, C. E. Gillespie; Port Gibson, T. B. Holloman; Fayette, W. B. Lewis, A. B. Stewart; Kingston, J. P. Drake; Natchez, R. S. Woodward; Port Gibson Collegiate Academy, J. A. B. Jones, president.

Woodville District.—J. L. Forsyth, P. E. Woodville, E. H. Mounger; Wilkinson, T. Ball; Buffalo, W. W. Simmons; Bayou Sara, C. D. Cecil; Concord, D. M. Rush; Jackson (La.) and Pipkin's Chapel, C. G. Andrews; Clinton, J. W. McLaurin; East Feliciana, L. B. Robertson; Centenary College of Louisiana, C. G. Andrews, president, D. M. Rush, professor.

Summit District.—J. A. Godfrey, P. E. Summit, G. F. Thompson; Magnolia, H. P. Lewis; Odna Grove, P. Howard; Franklinton, R. T. Davis; Covington, M. B. Sharbrough, G. T. Vickers, sup.; Amite City, A. J. Coleman; St. Helena, J. S. Parker; Amite circuit, J. Ritchey; Bogue Chitto mission, E. A. Flowers; Meadville, B. F. Jones, C. C. Watkins, sup.; East Baton Rouge, L. Kendall; Springfield mission, D. A. Givens.

Brookhaven District.—W. L. C. Hunnicutt, P. E. Brookhaven station, J. T. Heard; Beauregard and Wesson, T. C. Bradford, E. F. Mullins, sup.; Scotland, J. Lusk; Brandywine, C. W. Campbell; Hazlehurst, J. M. Weems; Providence, A. M. Barrington; Georgetown, P. A. Johnson; Crystal Springs, B. Jones; Raymond, B. T. Pearson; Spring Ridge, W. D. Doginick; Bayou Pierre, W. Wadsworth; Wildworth Female College, H. F. Johnson, president.

Brandon District.—W. H. Leith, P. E. Brandon, R. Carradine; Pinola, W. W. Hurst; Raleigh, R. A. Sibley; Morton and Forest, J. J. Smythe; Philadelphia, L. Carley; Lake, J. D. Hays; Trenton, J. H. Holland; Newton, R. B. Downer; Walnut Grove, N. B. Young; Hillsboro, C. McDonald; Union, to be supplied (by M. M. Clark;) Carthage, T. W. Adams; Homewood mission, J. N. Williams.

Meridian District.—J. A. Ellis, P. E. Meridian, R. J. Jones; DeKalb, J. M. Gann; Marion, T. Y. Armstrong; Enterprise station, H. R. Singleton; Enterprise circuit, T. B. Walden; Shubuta, T. S. West; McGowan, B. S. Raynor; Paulding, D. P. Bradford; Ellisville mission, to be supplied; Spring Hill, J. C. Brogan; Wayne, D. A. Little; Waynesboro, D. G. W. Ellis; Clarke mission, A. L. McBryde; Lauderdale mission, to be supplied (by J. T. Graham;) East Mississippi Female College, J. W. Atkisson, president; East Mississippi Female College, J. A. Ellis, agent.

Transferred.—H. W. Featherstun, to the Los Angeles Conference; U. B. Philips, to the East Texas Conference; E. E. Hamilton, to the Memphis Conference.

REPORT ON FRATERNAL RELATIONS.

Whereas, A joint commission invested with plenary power, and representing the Methodist Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church South, has with great unanimity and fairness established a basis of fraternity between the two connections by a recognition of the equality of both bodies as legitimate and rightful claimants to the history, doctrines, usages and forms of government of the original Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States of America, organized under the direction of John Wesley, in the city of Baltimore, in 1784; and, secondly, by such an adjustment of pecuniary claims as shall forever quiet all controversy growing out of property held by either connection; it is, therefore,

Resolved, By the Mississippi Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, that we heartily indorse the decision of the said commission, and pledge ourselves to abide by the same.

W. H. WATKINS,
J. G. JONES,
W. E. M. LINFIELD,

Vicksburg, Miss., Dec. 1, 1876.

Mr. Spurgeon on Preachers and People.

Mr. Spurgeon, in an address at the laying of the foundation-stone of a new mission hall in London, said:

I believe there is not half as much ground for the anxiety people feel when they look at the various denominations in the church as they suppose. I have known one place in a town as dead as death could be, and another place was opened, and then both were filled.

I am always hearing it said that the great problem is to get the working classes to listen to the gospel. I do not believe that to be the problem at all, and I deny altogether that the working classes of London attend less at the house of God than other classes in London. In proportion to their numbers they attend as well as any other class. People come to the Tabernacle, and when they see the congregation coming out they say no working classes go there, because they would not be so well dressed. One of the first things I notice about a man when he turns from his evil ways is that he gets a decent suit of clothes. I don't believe any one in Europe could tell the difference between a workman in his best clothes and any other swell. I suppose two-thirds of my congregation at the Tabernacle are working men, and wherever you have a vigorous, living church you will find that the bulk of it is made up of the very men whom it is said to be the problem to get to go to the house of God.

There is a problem I should like to see solved, and that is how to get the people of the West End into church. I know there are hundreds of thousands of people living in the suburbs surrounding London, having large incomes and fine houses, who do not attend church any more than many of the work-people do. Let us look at the objections people urge to going out on Sunday. I admit there are persons who should never go to church—those who wear boots that squeak, and ladies whose umbrellas are always falling down with a snap. Then you find people who say they don't go because of the heat and the bad air. I could indicate some places where they could have three pews to themselves if they liked, and plenty of air. I often preach in country chapels where the people get packed like herrings in a barrel, and I have tried to get the windows open, but they wouldn't, for they never had been opened. I went into one of these places once, and it was so close and hot that I asked every gentleman near a window to smash a pane or two. There was soon a very grand smash, but then the beautiful fresh air streamed in. I paid the bill afterward, like an honest man, but it was much better to do that than hear the cruelty of preaching in such an atmosphere, or forcing people to listen when they were more disposed to sleep.

There's a common complaint that the preacher can neither be understood nor heard, and there is some truth in it. If men have anything worth being heard, they should speak out. I have heard of clergymen in Australia and Africa—I do not say in England—of whom it is said when you hear them once you hear as much of them as you want to hear. Preachers use various kinds of English—one with many-syllabled words, the other the Saxon their mothers talked, and which they themselves began to use when they prattled as children. I believe "high-falutin" is too much used in the pulpit. We preachers should speak so that people could not misunderstand us even if they tried to do so.

Some men deliberately stay away from communion because their wives have a large family, and these poor women cannot leave the children. I should like to whisper in the ears of some Christian young women that they might go and take care of the children for a Sunday and let the mother go out. As for the husbands, I don't think they always take their fair turn with their wives, for I see some Christian men out on a Sunday whose wives never get out for a month together.

I think, too, that people have a good deal to do with the filling of the churches, and that they might bring friends when they could; and certainly when they found it necessary to say the good man preaching had his wits a wool-gathering, they ought only to say it out in the country, when there was no one within a mile or so of them.

I'll tell you what I often find. When I go into a street and ask for a chapel, I am told it is round the corner by the Duke of Prussia, or the Marquis of Granby, or the Mother Red Cap; but I don't find that the churches are conspicuous places. Don't let this happen with you. Advertise, distribute handbills, for the life of business is black ink. You ought to distribute tracts—I mean good ones—and if I knew where you could get good ones I should tell you, for they are generally hard to find.

Small Colleges.

A writer in the Nation presents an argument for the smaller and younger colleges which commends itself to the friends of education in this latitude. He says:

If a college were of no use but to furnish facilities for education to students, it might be best, were it possible, to abolish some scores of the smaller ones, and give their property to the larger to increase their efficiency. But a college has other uses, and the public-spirited citizens of our new and growing communities are quick to see this, although some of our best writers on education seem strangely to overlook it. They see that the cities and towns which grow up about a college are ordinarily places of more culture, refinement and moral purity than others; that superior men are attracted to them with their families; that persons of better character are recognized as leaders of society, and influences of all kinds have a higher tone. A college, even though it be small, is a civilizing and enlightening power for the community where it stands and the surrounding country, and such a power is needed to counteract the sordid and downward tendencies which are always operating. A people engrossed in the pursuit of wealth need reminders of the intellectual life which they shall see and feel daily; and what reminder is there like a college, with its library and museum and laboratory, and its men devoted to intellectual pursuits? The smaller colleges have a local power which can hardly be supplied by anything else, and that power could not be transferred—it would be lost.

It is often assumed that the students of the small colleges would go to the larger ones if these did not exist. This is not so, I think. Most of them would not have been awakened to the value of an education, or to the practicability of acquiring it, if the college had not been near. Some would, but comparatively few. The small colleges draw to them men who would otherwise have remained farmers, mechanics and tradesmen, or taken the short cut to professional life. Most of those who would have gone to the larger colleges do go, as it is attracted to them by the superior advantages they afford. Furthermore, the students of the small colleges receive an impulse to further and higher education after their graduation. Appreciating the fact that their opportunities have not been the best, they set about making the deficiency. And so a very fair proportion of them will be found in the post graduate or professional departments of our largest colleges, and not a few at the universities of Europe.

Come down to the facts in the case, and it will be seen that the small colleges are doing much more for education in our country than they have credit for. They are the pioneers and subsoilers, "keeping alive," to use your own expressive words, "that devotion to intellectual work which is the salt of material civilization, and without which it would soon become a putrescent mass;" and this in regions where there is little else to keep such devotion alive. It is more necessary, after all, to awaken the love of intellectual pursuits in the people than to provide an appreciative few with the amplest facilities for learning; and in this the smallest colleges are certainly doing their full share.

A Foul-Mouthed Romish Prelate.

In last week's Intelligencer reference was made to the circular recently issued by the Romish Bishop of Minorca, denouncing Protestants in detail and he the Imp. We are now able to give a portion of the text of this malignant circular, which seems more suitable to the character of an emissary of the Prince of Darkness than of a minister of the meek and lowly Savior. The following is an extract from this precious document, which, as the reader will perceive, is a wholesale sentence of excommunication. This is the way it belches forth its diabolical maledictions: "We renew and reiterate our sentence of the highest order of excommunication against heretics of every sort, kind and description, against their pupils or adopted children, against their fathers, mothers, preceptors, and all who sit at meat with them. We fully excommunicate all who aid or look kindly at them; we excommunicate the domestic servants of all heretics; we excommunicate all and every person or persons who dare to let a house to a heretic or Protestant for school or services, and every one who gives money, or makes a loan, or leaves a legacy to such persons; we excommunicate every one who lives on terms of friendship with such heretic, and every one who dares to say or write one word in their defense. The clergy of my diocese are commanded to read this out on three successive Sundays during divine service, and take good care that all its injunctions be carried out to the letter."

Suppose Protestants should excommunicate in this country, and in other lands where they form the great majority, in the spirit of this intolerant circular, how would it operate? Let us see. They would renounce all associations or sympathy with Roman Catholics of every sort, kind and description, their pupils, children, fathers, mothers, preceptors, and all who sit at meat with them. They would neither aid nor look kindly on them. They would refuse to employ them as servants, laborers or operatives. They would refuse to let a house to Catholics, to give them money or alms, to make loans to them, or to live on terms of friendship or amity with them. They would consider Romanists as outlaws, who have no claim to pity, charity or aid in distress or sickness; and they would punish by all means in their power every person who should dare to say or write one word in their defense.

The Bishop of Minorca, and all other prelates of his sort, as wicked and inhuman as himself, know that their followers are perfectly safe from any retaliation, in kind, at the hands of Protestants. And it is because they count on this immunity as the certain result of the humanity which the Protestant faiths inculcate and make an essential part of religious life, that he has had the presumption to publish his insolent and atrocious circular.—Christian Intelligencer.

Repetitions of the Bible.

"God speaketh once, yea, twice, yet man perceiveth it not." Even children must have noticed the repetitions of the Bible. There appears no attempt to economize room, for the Book of Numbers could have been compressed into a twelfth of the space. Here everything is related with the precision of a catalogue or legal document. The same might be said of the Acts, where space, so to speak, is more precious. In a measure this is due to the fact that the Bible, as far as its human writers were concerned, is not one book, but a collection of books, covering a long space of time in their production, and without any mutual understanding, each author putting down what he considered necessary for his own purpose. Then, again, reiteration was characteristic of the Orientals, as seen in their poems, of which the Bible is the most beautiful specimen. The reason of all this is obvious. Are not children taught by iteration and reiteration? We impress knowledge and conviction on their minds by repeating many times the same thought in the same words. To complain of this repetition in the Bible is most unreasonable. It proves conclusively that the Bible is an old and genuine book, and that it was neither written in our time nor country. The object the inspired writers had in view was to render a deeper impression. It is in the words of the text—"God speaking once, yea, twice." The Lord in ancient times would send a prophet again and again with the same message to warn the people, and this heaping up of line upon line left them without excuse in the day of their trouble. It was the same in gospel times, and it is so in our own day. God sends to the people preacher after preacher, saying the same things, and there is nothing more grievous to God and to the minister than to see people growing hard under an awakening ministry. Every preacher repeats, or ought to repeat, his testimony, although a skillful preacher will vary his method and language. This is rendered necessary by the very nature of moral and religious truth, and the ingratitude of the human mind to receive it in its purity. People don't like monotony and limitation, and this should be avoided, because it is not of God. The clear and faithful reiteration of cardinal truth is of God, and becomes the strength of the teacher and preacher of Jesus Christ. John the Baptist's ministry was a repetition, calling upon the people again and again to repent. But there was variety in his preaching. Paul well knew the need of saying the same thing more than once. Christ himself, above all others, repeated his sayings freely. He did not deliver himself once for all in a studied manner, but had recourse to the topic again and again.—Donald Fraser, D. D.

A $1,000 PSALM BOOK.—There was a great concourse of antiquarians and "Historico-Genealogical" people yesterday morning, when the famous Bay Psalm Book was sold. The volume to the ordinary observer looks like a damaged copy of the Scriptures, but it was exceedingly valuable in the eyes of many. The first bid offered was $100, the next bid was $500, and it ran rapidly up to $100, bids to $1,000, where the auctioneer dwelt for a few moments, and it was finally struck off to Sydney S. Ryder, a bookseller of Providence, R. I., for $1,025. The book was the first ever printed in America, and bears date Cambridge, 1640. It was originally the property of Rev. Richard Mather, one of its authors, and given by him to Thomas Prince, who in turn bequeathed it to the Old South church, by will, dated October 7, 1758, and from that time till 1860 the book remained in the custody of the deacons and pastors of that church. In that year it was given by the church, through the proper agents, to the late Nathaniel Bradstreet Shurtleff, M. D. After Dr. Shurtleff's death the volume was catalogued with the rest of his library by Mr. Leonard, and would have been sold December 2, 1875, but for an injunction obtained by the deacons of the Old South church at that time. Since then the matter has been heard by the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, the injunction dissolved, and the book adjudged to belong to Dr. Shurtleff's estate, which is thus able to give to a purchaser a clear and undisputed title. This copy is in the original binding, old calf, and is absolutely perfect as regards the printed matter.—Boston Globe, October 13.

The living great should always bear in mind that the truth of history demands a faithful portraiture after they have left the stage of life.

*Appointments for Seashore district not received.

UNTO ALL.—There is something inexpressibly beautiful in the thought that God's Spirit is imparted unto all. The rock is hard, but its hardness can not prevent the warm beam from falling upon it. The heart may be hard, but the Spirit's influence, shot like a ray from the orb of God's mercy, falls lovingly upon it, and no hardness can turn it back. There is something large and lavish in all divine operations. God is full and rich, and is not compelled to practice a cautious economy in the outgoings of his beneficence. He pours his largess down upon us as the spring rains are poured upon the earth—upon rock and barren spots, as truly as upon the fruitful soil. And in nothing is this peculiarity more beautifully illustrated than in the dealings of the Holy Spirit with us. Why should the Spirit be given at all? Was not Christ enough? Was not Calvary a sufficient demonstration of Heaven's love for man? Does it not suffice when a man lies down and dies for his friend? What love is this which supplements Calvary with the Spirit, and to the gift of a Savior adds the gift of the Sanctifier? What charity is like the charity of the skies? What benevolence like that which opens the gates of mercy to the rebellious, and still prolongs its stay to guide them thither?

"But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us."—Golden Rule.

MARRIED.

HOUSTON—BUMGARDNER.—At the residence of the bride's father, in Bossier parish, La., November 22, 1876, by Rev. W. D. Shipton, Mr. John W. Houston to Miss Ella Bumgardner, both of Bossier parish, La.

JONES—RENISAN.—At the residence of the bride on Red river, Bossier parish, La., October 26, 1876, by Rev. W. D. Shipton, Mr. H. R. Jones, of Red River parish, La., to Miss Kate N. Renison.

RENDER—TYSON.—At the residence of the bride's mother, in Lowndesboro, Ala., October 25, 1876, by Rev. J. M. Mason, Mr. Lewis J. Render, of Greenville, Ga., to Miss Sallie M. Tyson.

SANDERS—THOMPSON.—At the residence of Mr. Hally, in Arkansas county, Ark., on the fifth of November, 1876, by Rev. A. Hunter, Rev. Robert H. Sanders, of the Little Rock Conference, to Mrs. Sarah F. Thompson, widow of Rev. Zac. Thompson, late of the Louisiana Conference.

ROBERTSON—WARREN.—At the residence of Dr. William H. Johnson, November 1, 1876, at three o'clock P. M., by Rev. B. H. Reynolds, Mr. James S. Robertson and Miss Susanna E. Warren, all of Lowndesboro, Ala.

NELSON—DASHIELL.—In Desoto parish, La., November 9, 1876, by Rev. John Price, Mr. John Nelson and Miss Juliet M. Dashiell.

WILLIAMS—WARNER.—At the Methodist Episcopal Church South, in Cahinda, La., October 26, 1876, by Rev. J. F. Wynn, T. C. Williams, Esq., and Miss Adela Varner, all of Caldwell parish, La.

DUDLEY—CRUM.—On the 30th of November, 1876, at Farmersville, Ala., by Rev. T. Y. Abernathy, Mr. Oliver C. Dudley to Miss Minnie E. Crum, both of Lowndes county, Ala.

BOYD—LAMKIN.—At the residence of the bride's mother, on the evening of November 22, 1876, by Rev. Ira B. Robertson, Capt. A. A. Boyd to Miss Fannie A. Lamkin, all of Summit, Miss.

WILKINS—PINKSTON.—At the residence of the bride's mother, near Forest, Miss., November 9, 1876, by Rev. Irvin Miller, Mr. John Wilkins, of Lake, Miss., to Miss Mollie Pinkston.

SMITH—FIGURES.—At the residence of Mr. J. Jackson, November 15, 1876, by Rev. D. Wright, Capt. D. H. Smith of Miss Henrietta Figures, of Choctaw county, Ala.

Publisher's Department.

POSTOFFICES.

To all the preachers to whom the ADVOCATE is going, whose appointments will necessitate a change of postoffice, will advise us at once; this will save us much trouble.

READVILLA SEMINARY.—The capital of the above-named institution has for more than thirty years enjoyed an enviable reputation as an educator of young ladies. A large number of cultivated and elegant ladies in Louisiana and in the Southwest owe their development and finish of culture to Mrs. Read. She is putting her efforts to promote the moral and mental welfare of those committed to her charge. With a true experience and deep sense of her responsibility for those intrusted to her, it is not to be wondered that such results should be realized. We cordially commend her advertisement in another column to the attention of our readers.

TEA AND COFFEE DEPOT.—One of our most enterprising and clever merchants is Mr. J. J. Martin, No. 5 Camp street, the proprietor of the Tea and Coffee Depot. This depot has become one of the institutions of the city, a great convenience to many families, and a blessing especially to many who have found it impossible to have coffee parched without being roasted and damaged by being burned, or ruinously browned and hastily ground. Mr. Martin's process for browning, as well as the use of his steam-steel mills, secures all the excellence in flavor that is in the berry, and puts a reliable article of coffee, freshly ground, within reach of all.

A GOOD BUTCHER.—Martin Lahmer, Jr., is one of the best in the city. Those who do their marketing at the stalls, Nos. 7 and 8 Magazine Market, will find as good meats as can be found anywhere; and if they want the best vegetables, fresh and well selected, we advise them to go to stalls 7 and 8 to the fruit market, Magazine street. Hotels, steamboats and ships will do well to know the advantages of selling their supplies from an honest butcher, who knows his business, and has the means to supply him to big and sell it to advantage. See his advertisement, and call from those wishing to purchase. See his advertisement for particulars.

WILLIAM VELDEN, dealer in wood, coal and ice, has an advertisement in to-day's paper. Mr Velden invariably sells good articles. We have dealt with him for years, and have never had cause for complaint. He will fill any orders promptly and satisfactorily. His yard is at the corner of Philip and Prytania streets.

Acknowledgments of Letters and Funds

RECEIVED BY MAIL,

For the Week Ending Dec. 9, 1876.

A—Oscar M Addison, C G Andrews, American News Company.

B—Baker & Sherry $20.02, Buslek, Stevens & Co, R A Blocker $3.10, Eugene F Bates, J H Butler & Co, Brower & Bro, D Bienvenu 25 cents, R Babington $59.58, W R Booker, W R Brown, Mrs S M Bell, Edw Booth, C Burns $2, Brewer & Thrasher.

C—Robert Carter & Bros, Claxton, Remsen & Haffelfinger, C C Cross $2, Cowperthwait & Co, J Sidney Carleton, J M Curtis $61, J H Carleton, Mrs J W Clark, E D Culler, H H Catching, Thomas R Curtis, J M Crews, Coe, Wetherill & Co $1.25, J R Crowder.

D—Charles T Dillingham, W J DeLacey, H Dunlose, L A Darling $17.48, R C DeWitt, James J Burbank $1, Donaldson & Co, Mrs S J Driskill $1, E P Dutting, J Perry Drake, Dodd, Mead & Co, W H Duan $2.50, Daughtry & Smiylie $25.

E—Eldridge & Bros, William M Evans, Erie Publishing Company, Eagle Pencil Company.

F—John L Ferguson $21.50, D W Foster two letters $50, J L Entrejl.

G—E L Gaddy $6, Gin Bros, Mrs Gray, Smith & Evans $2, H Gwinner & Bro $50.50, John T Grisham $2.

H—H H Henry, J E Harris, H H Hines, A G Haygood, E J Hale & Son, W R Holloway, William Harris $2, Willis Holmes $13.10, A A Houston $3.50, J W Harris, R T Hamilton $1, P W Harper $2.50.

I—B Illfelder & Co.

J—Mrs A H James $8, A Jarrow, W H Jaigy.

L—J B Lapsensatt & Co, A Le Blanc, Miss Addie W Langford 25 cents, J F Luther.

M—Morgan Envelope Company, J E Mason, W B Morris, J W McNeil, A H Moss, W R Manning, I Z T Morris.

N—Thomas J Nowell, J T Newcomer, W J Norris $2.

O—W P Owen, James Ormond.

P—P S Polly 2, J S Parker, Potter, Nixon & Co, A R M Powers, Mrs Mary S Packwood, A H Poole.

R—A H Rafford agent four letters, T R Roach, Samuel Raynor, R S Ricketts, George E Rowe $2.50, Mrs F Robinson $1.50, W M Richardson $57, Mrs Mary T Reed, John K Randall $20.83.

S—James Singletary $2, St Louis Advertising and Publishing Company $1.30, I N Sopee & Co, H B Singleton, H B Swafford, J M Scott, J G Schelp & Co, C L P Sheppard $13, P B Summers, Smith, Dismuke & Co, Louise Sandry.

T—Miss Sallie Trimble 2 cents, A E Thompson, S B Turner.

U—University Publishing Company.

W—W Woods, William Wood & Co, J W Wallis, Mrs H B Williams, W H Woodrow, E E Wilson, William A Wiggins, S Wood, R H Whitfield, Wingate & Swinford $50.61.

Y—Mrs Harriet W Young $1.50.

BOOTS AND SHOES.—Our friends in the country and city should read carefully the advertisement of E. Gimbel, in Magazine street, and give him a call during the holidays. He has just received from the North a large assortment of boots and shoes, which he is selling at prices exceedingly reasonable. Mr. Gimbel is receiving charged his manufacturing and is now prepared to offer great bargains and extra inducements to the trade. Read his article almost the same price as you can buy in Northern stores. Mr. Phillips, well known to the trade, is in charge of the store, and speaks a word in our favor.

HOWE SEWING MACHINE.—Those thinking of buying a sewing machine should read the advertisement of the Howe Sewing Machine Company on the last page of the paper. Mr. D. H. Perry is the collector and polite manager, and will be happy to give any information which readers may want respecting its machine. He is also agent for Madame Demorest's tri-paper patterns, sent upon receipt of price, with full directions for use, and sending mail on receipt of price.

COAL.—We refer our readers to the advertisement of S. M. Boyd, at No. 9 Carondelet street, back of levee. Mr. Boyd is no stranger here, having been for the last 20 years the wholesale coal agent of Boyd, Wilson & Co., from which firm he retired some years ago and went to Pittsburg, from whence he now comes as the representative of the great wholesale coal firm of J. Walton & Co. Planters and others should communicate with Mr. Boyd for coal at wholesale.

BOOTS AND SHOES.—Mr. John McGuinness has recently opened his new establishment at No. 113 Canal street, where he will be glad to see his old friends and customers. Mr. McGuinness is well known to a large number of the readers of the ADVOCATE, and they will be pleased to know that he has moved to such a central location. His special facilities for supplying the custom made work promptly and satisfactorily cannot be excelled.

P. J. CARRAHER, grocer, on Prytania street, invites the attention of residents of the Fourth and Sixth Districts to his advertisement on this page. Mr. Carraher has purchased the building on Prytania, corner of Pleasant and Toledano streets, and as he expects to make that his permanent place of business he thinks it will be to his interest, as well as to his customers, to sell cheap.

WE would direct the attention of our readers to the advertisement of the Advocate published in Baton Rouge, La. The Advocate is ably conducted. A sample copy will be sent to any one applying, and we feel sure we would succeed in getting a subscriber. Let our friends send for a sample copy and judge for themselves of the merits of the paper, and send in their names.

TURNER'S HAIR TINT.—Mr. Turner claims that his preparation is the only true and perfect hair coloring. We would suggest to those who are fifty and of the sex to read Mr. Turner's advertisement and get a sample bottle from him. Mr. Turner is a druggist.

MESSRS. JACKSON & GALLAGHER will soon open their new store and call attention.

ONE of the best places to buy dry goods is at Mr. Ogden's, on Canal street.

MR. OFFNER, 171 Canal street, continues to sell goods at astonishingly low prices.

ONE of the most attractive of the Canal street stores is M. D. Navra, China and Glass establishment.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WHEELER & PIERSON,

NOS. 13 AND 15 CAMP STREET,

Opposite the City Hotel.

CLOTHING & FURNISHING GOODS

FOR MEN AND BOYS.

We invite visitors from the country to look at our stock. We keep good goods, sell at one price, and mark it in plain figures. Clergymen's trade solicited, and a liberal deduction made to them.

LADIES! A soft and beautiful skin is the desire of every lady of refinement. Poinot's Medicated Complexion Powder has been fully tested, and found to perform all that is claimed for it. It removes the skin deliciously soft, removes all discolorations, eruptions, etc. Mothers can apply it to infants who become chafed with a surety of immediate relief. Price 50 cents and $1 per box. Sold by all first-class druggists and at depot 507 North Sixth street, St. Louis. (Lindell Hotel.)

WHAT NEXT! Consumptive Cured. When death was linearly expected, all remedies having failed, and Dr. H. James was experimenting, he accidentally made a preparation of Indian Hemp, which cured his only child of consumption. He now gives this recipe free on receipt of two stamps to pay expenses. Hemp also cures night sweat, nausea at the stomach, and will break a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address CRADDOCK & Co., 1032 Race street, Philadelphia, naming this paper.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

AMONG the exhibitors at the Centennial Exhibition may be mentioned the well-known organ manufacturers of Rutlebore, Vt., Messrs. J. Estey & Co. The "prominent absence" of such a firm from the "list of awards" has doubtless occasioned many questions as to the reason. The explanation is simple indeed. They did not compete. They simply exhibited their instruments on their own intrinsic merits, with no effort to obtain recognition except from the public.

We cannot too highly commend such a course as compared with some exhibitors whose sole aim seemed to be not to give the public pleasure in examining their wares, but to obtain the bronze medal.

Inquiry elicits the fact that Estey & Co. are the largest manufacturers and the heaviest exporters of their class, one-half of the entire amount of organs shipped to European markets being from this house.

RICHARD WAGNER, of whose ability to judge there can be no doubt, writes: "The tone of the Estey Organ is very beautiful and noble, and gives me the greatest pleasure. My great friend, Franz Liszt, is also charmed and delighted with them."

ALMÉ, Essipoff says: "I can play with exquisite enjoyment for hours on these beautiful instruments."

OLE BULL: "Excel in fine, powerful tone."

MAS. LUCCA: "I am surprised at their full, noble and organ-like tone."

RUBENSTEIN: "Tone full, noble and exceedingly animating."

There is no doubt about the meaning of such expressions as these from the leading musicians of the age, and Estey & Co. may well claim to lead the world.

THE Allcott cable is a national benefit; so are SLAVER TIPPED Shoes for children. Never wear through at the toe. Also try Wire-Quilted Soles.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FOR THE BEST AND CHEAPEST

TEA, COFFEE AND SPICES

GO TO THE

GREAT T DEPOT!

And Steam Coffee and Spice Mills,

No. 5 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Try our CHOICE BREAKFAST TEA, put up and sealed at Wholesale or Retail. Coffee roasted and ground to order.

NOTICE.—The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, with stores in every city in the United States, have found it impossible to supply the immense demand for their goods, consequently have established the Great T Depot, where the Public can find their goods. This is the only establishment in this city that can supply the public with the Genuine Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company's goods. Call and see us before purchasing elsewhere, and speak a word in our favor.

READVILLA SEMINARY,

IN OPELOUSAS, LA., 1859.

NEXT ANNUAL SESSION

OCTOBER 5, 1876.

EXPERIENCED and thoroughly qualified teachers are engaged in each department of the institution, and no labor is spared in the entire development of the pupil's mental faculties. Natural sciences and other subjects are regularly given in the evenings.

Music, Drawing, Painting and the Vocal and Modern Languages are a part of the ordinary course.

The number of pupils is limited, and every department of accurate home influence is secured in the strictest of the Seminary. Address

MRS. M. W. READ, Principal,

Baton Rouge, La.

NEW GOODS

AT

JOHN L. LAVELLE'S,

378 AND 380 MAGAZINE ST.

New Raisins	12½
Good Cal Raisins	10
New Currants	10
New Citron	15
Atmore's Mince Meat,	15
New Filberts	15
New Brazilian Nuts	15
Large New Pecans	15

WE GRIND our own Spices. Fully 15 per cent saved by buying of J. L. LAVELLE.

MARTIN LANNES, JR.,

BUTCHER,

Meat Stalls Nos. 37 and 38 Magazine Market.

Supplies Ships, Families, Hotels, etc., with BEEF, MUTTON, CORN Sausages, Lard, Fowls, Game, Eggs, Vegetables, etc., and in everything the market affords.

VEGETABLE STALLS NOS. 7 AND 8 MAGAZINE MARKET.

WILLIAM VELDEN,

DEALER IN

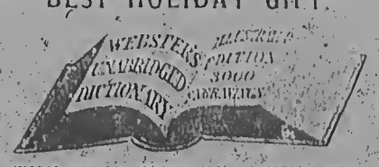
WOOD, COAL AND ICE,

Corner Philip and Prytania Streets,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Meat and Fish kept on ice free of charge.

BEST HOLIDAY GIFT.



THE STUDENT'S BEST HELPER.

CHANDLER & ASHBEY,

DEALERS IN

COAL AND WOOD

Yard Cor. Philip & Tchoupitoulas Sts.

Orders left at the Yard or at Chandler's store will be promptly attended to.

JOHN McGUINNESS,

113 CANAL STREET 113

Bet. Royal and Exchange Place, New Orleans, La.

LADIES' AND GENTLEMENS'

Boots and Shoes Made to Order.

A fine assortment of Ladies, Children and Gentlemen's Boots and Shoes always on hand. Also Valises, Trunks and Hats.

I HAVE COME TO STAY! And Once More, if for no other reason, I will keep the FRESHEST AND BEST GRADES, attend to orders with promptness and neatness, and sell at reasonable prices. Choice Family Flour, New Hams and Breakfast Bacon, Polished, Clarified and Brown Sugar, New Crop Green and Black Teas, Preserves, Pickles, Sauces, Canned Goods, and everything required for the table. Guaranteed satisfactory, and delivered free of charge.

P. J. CARRAHER,

Prytania, Cor. of Pleasant and Toledano Sts.

S. M. BOYD,

BACK OFFICE, NO. 9 CARONDELET ST.,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

AGENT FOR

JOS. WALTON & CO.,

WHOLESALE COAL DEALERS,

PITTSBURG, PA.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS.

LORD & TAYLOR,

NEW YORK.

WE INVITE ATTENTION TO THE FOLLOWING DEPARTMENTS OF OUR ESTABLISHMENTS. THE LOW PRICES AT WHICH OUR GOODS ARE MARKED HAVE SPECIAL REFERENCE TO THE HOLIDAY SEASON, AND BARGAINS WILL BE FOUND THROUGHOUT THE HOUSE.

SILKS,

OF WHICH OUR STOCK IS THE LARGEST IN THE CITY, ARE OFFERED AS FOLLOWS: 600 DOUBLE BLACK SILKS at $1.50 per yard; WITH BETTER GRADES AT HIGHER PRICES. CHECKED SILKS, very good, at $1.25 and up. A RICH PLAID PATTERN OF EITHER WOULD BE AN APPROPRIATE GIFT.

DRESS GOODS.

IN DRESS GOODS OUR ASSORTMENT IS VERY LARGE, and PRICES RANGE from 25c. to $2, and upward. EVERY FINE LINES OF GOODS ARE OFFERED AT 50c., 60c., 75c., and $1. THESE FABRICS ARE IN THE DARKEST DARK CLOTH SHADES, and are very acceptable.

SHAWLS.

OUR SHAWL DEPARTMENT PRESENTS MANY ATTRACTIONS. IN THE ASSORTMENT IS A LARGE, CHOICE AND VARIED LINE OF INDIA SHAWLS. ARE OFFERED AT LOW as $85, while DELOCA, CHEDDA AND OTHER QUALITIES, GRADES, SELLING UP TO $12 AND UPWARD. THESE PRICES ARE BELOW ANYTHING NOT OFFERED IN THIS MARKET.

Ladies' and Children's Suits.

THE LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S DEPARTMENT CONTAINS MANY NOVELTIES, BOTH IMPORTED AND OTHER OWN MANUFACTURE. CASHMERE SUITS AT $15, CAMELS HAIR SUITS AT $18, and SILK SUITS AT $35. WILL GIVE AN IDEA OF THE VERY LOW PRICES AT WHICH GOODS ARE SOLD IN THIS DEPARTMENT. A HANDSOME DRESS OR SUITS IS A VERY ACCEPTABLE PRESENT.

FURS.

IN THIS LINE OUR STOCK INVITES INSPECTION. FURS, SUCH AS SEAL SETS, MUFF AND BOA SETS, WILL BE THE DISTINGUISHED PROPORTIONATELY LOW.

Ladies' Real Seal Sacques.

DOUBLE SHADOW AND EXTRA QUALITY, VERY HANDSOME, from $75. THESE PRICES ARE POSITIVE BARGAINS.

UPHOLSTERY.

THE UPHOLSTERY DEPARTMENT CONTAINS DAMASK, SILK LACE CURTAINS, REPS, BROCATELLES, SATINS, CRETONNES, CHINTZES, LAMBREQUINS, etc., to be had with either AN A. MANTEL SHELF CONNECTION. CORNICES, CORNICE SHAPES. PRICES IN THESE GOODS AND SILKS ARE SUCH AS SHOULD ENABLE EVERY HOUSEKEEPER THAT DWELLINGS MAY BE RENEWED FOR THE HOLIDAYS AT A VERY SLIGHT COST.

Gent.'s Furnishing.

DRESSING GOWNS, SMOKING JACKETS AND CAPS, SCARFS, TIES, UMBRELLAS, GLOVES, AND OTHER ARTICLES FOR GENTLEMEN SUITABLE FOR THE HOLIDAY SEASON, DRAW THE ATTENTION OF LADIES IN SEARCH.

GLOVES.

OF ALL OF THE MOST APPROVED MAKES IN ASSORTED SHADES AND COLORS, SUPPLEMENTED TO SUIT PURCHASERS.

ALSO

A LARGE AND CAREFULLY SELECTED LINE OF FANCY GOODS, ORNAMENTS, etc., WITH SMALL WARES OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, EXCEEDINGLY APPROPRIATE FOR THE HOLIDAY SEASON.

SAMPLES OF GOODS AND CATALOGUES OF LADIES', MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S FURNISHING GOODS SENT FREE ON APPLICATION TO ALL PARTS OF THE COUNTRY. ORDERS FOR GOODS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION CAREFULLY FILLED WITH OPEARCH, AND GOODS PACKED AND FORWARDED TO DESTINATION.

Broadway and Twentieth St.
Grand, Chrystie and Forsyth Streets, N. Y.

IMMENSE REDUCTION

M. L. NAVRA'S

CHINA PALACE!

125 Canal Street, Touro Building

HAVING IMPORTED AND PURCHASED A LARGE AND CHOICE VERY LARGE STOCK OF

Crockery, China, Glassware

AND OTHER

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS,

I am enabled to offer to the trade the most extensive facilities for selling goods at lower prices than ever before.

☞ Look at some of our prices and be convinced yourself.

A good French China DINNER SET, 112 pieces for $10.00

A real French China DINNER SET, 112 pieces for $15.00

A Stone China DINNER SET, 112 pieces for $19.50

A Stone China TEA SET, 44 pieces for $5.00

A Stone China CHAMBER SET, 8 pieces, decorated $3.50

CHAMBER SET, 11 pieces, decorated $5.00

Also the celebrated BUTTER CHURN. Warranted to make it in from one to ten minutes.

PAINTING AND DECORATING done to order at short notice.

Orders from the country will receive my best attention.

M. L. NAVRA,

CHINA PALACE,

125 Canal Street, Touro Building,

New Orleans.

D. MERCIER & SONS,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

CLOTHING!

HATS, BOOTS, SHOES, FURNISHING GOODS, ETC.

Cor. Dauphine and Bienville Streets,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

The very best of French and English cloths made to order in the latest style. Prompt attention to customers, and satisfaction guaranteed. Orders from Country Merchants promptly executed on the most reasonable terms.

M. BRAUTH & HOFFHEINTER,

PHOTOGRAPHIC

ARTISTIC COMBINATION,

105 CANAL ST., NEW ORLEANS.

English, French, German, Spanish and Italian spoken.

WANTED.

AN EXPERIENCED SOUTHERN LADY, qualified to teach Music, the Languages and English branches, to take charge of a PRIVATE SCHOOL. A Methodist preferred. References given and required. Address

S. T. TAYLOR, Waynesboro, Miss.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WM. H. SHEPARD,

MANUFACTURERS' AGENT,

AND

WHOLESALE DEALER

IN

TEAS AND SPICES,

58 ..... CUSTOMHOUSE ST 58

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

DR. PRICE'S

CREAM BAKING POWDERS.

STEELE & PRICE'S

RELIABLE BAKING POWDERS.

SHEPARD'S

IMPROVED HOP YEAST.

DR. PRICE'S

LEMON SUGAR.

DR. PRICE'S

ESSENCE JAMAICA GINGER.

DR. PRICE'S

SPECIAL FLAVORING EXTRACTS.

DR. PRICE'S

AMERICAN PERFUMES.

LAVINA'S

EXQUISITE FLOWER ODORS.

TOWNSEND'S

COUGH TROCHES.

BINRY'S

Mucilage, School Ink, Dry and Liquid Blue, Stove Polish, Shoe Dressing, Best Shoe Blacking, Etc.

CORKS.

Vial, Wine, Flask, Soda, Jar, Carboy, Rings, Etc.

Complete Assortment, Nos. 1 to 24.

TEAS.

Oolongs, English Breakfasts, Gunpowders, Imperials, Young Hysons, Japans, Twankays, Etc.

All Grades and Prices.

GROUND SPICES.

Black Pepper, White Pepper, Allspice, Jamaica Ginger, African Ginger, Cloves, Cinnamon, Mace.

In paper packages and tin cans.

All these goods are in store and for sale by

WM. H. SHEPARD,

58 CUSTOMHOUSE STREET.

HOLIDAY MUSIC BOOKS.

THE WORLD OF SONG!

Price—In Boards, $2.50. Cloth, $3.00. Gilt, $4.00.

RARELY have we seen such a book of songs the children will want. Well really best Christmas and popular Vocal Music. 224 pages, full sheet music size, handsomely engraved throughout, and contains the complete songs as sung by sixty different children in concert, "Mr. Dickey's" Guilded Locks are Silver," "McHenry's Best Days," "She's a Rosy Sprite a Posy," and Millard's "Whippoorwill."

We publish a catalogue of these books, uniform with the "World of Song" and "Gems," send for catalogue of Classic Musical Literature, and select one or more of the books for Christmas.

GEMS OF THE DANCE!

A Companion to "Gems of Song."

$2.50 in Boards. $3.00 Cloth. $4.00 Gilt.

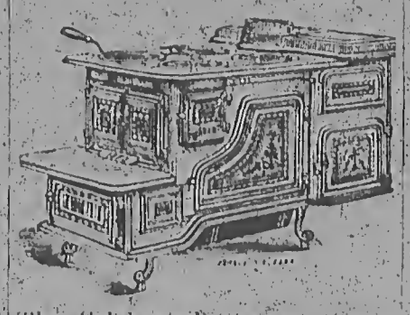
The "Gems of Strauss" had a wonderful success, and this new work is the very embodiment of the genius of Strauss' pieces, and many others by Gungl, Lanner, Faust, Conti, Ekert and other eminent composers. 224 pages, full sheet music size, well filled with Waltzes, Polkas, Polkas, Quadrilles, etc., etc.

Either book is sent post free, on receipt of price.

OLIVER DITSON & CO.,

BOSTON.

C. H. Ditson & Co., 711 Broadway, New York. J. E. Ditson & Co., 1228 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.



The Celebrated Stewart Stove.

IMPROVED PATTERN OF 1873.

THE best Cook Stove for the world. Will last longer, bake more and cook with less fuel than any other stove. Has a self-regulating oven, is easy to repair, and Stewart stoves always keep their shape.

C. H. TAYLOR,

Agent for Louisiana.

ALL BABYDOM NEEDS

NESTLE'S MILK FOOD,

OR FARINA.

A perfect food from Swiss Milk, Brown Bread (Graham) and Wheat. A rich supply of the blood. Also

SUPERFINE WHITE WHEAT,

GRAHAM FLOUR,

PINHEAD OATMEAL,

MONTREAL MILLS OATMEAL,

BROOKS' FAMILY PICKLES,

NEW STARCH PRESERVERS,

ALBERT'S BISCUITS, Grocer,

Cor. Prytania and Peoples Road.

FOR CHEAP

PRINTING

SEND TO THE

Pelican Book and Job Office,

113 & 115 POYDRAS ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Country orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

NEW WILCOX & GIBBS AUTOMATIC TENSION SILENT SEWING MACHINE. The latest and most marvelous invention of sewing mechanism. The only Sewing Machine that can be used successfully without instruction or experience. It is the lightest and lightest-running Machine made. Has new stitch regulator. Length of stitch indicated by numbers. Physicians recommend it in cases where they forbid the use of any other Sewing Machine. All kinds of Machine Needles, Lamb's Knitting Machines, etc.

M. S. HEDRICK,

No. 54 Chartres street.

$984 Made by one Agent in 57 days. 13 new articles, samples free. Address, C. M. LINGTON, Chicago.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SHIRTS! SHIRTS!

AND

WARM UNDERGARMENTS!

AT

UNUSUALLY LOW PRICES!

AND

NO COMMON GOODS.

Notice Prices of Underskirts:

Good warm Merino ..... $1 and upward.
Good English Merino ..... $1.50 and upward.
Best all wool ..... $2—all sizes.
Best Shaker, red or white ..... $2—all sizes.
Good Twilled Red Flannel ..... $1.50—all sizes.
Best Cotton Flannel, all sizes ..... $1.25 and $1.50.

Prices of Drawers equally low, except in Jean these, of very best quality, are only 75 cents per pair, all sizes. In finer goods, of Cartwright & Warner and other celebrated makes, a full line of sizes on hand, and at popular prices.

New Styles of Shirts.—All our Shirts reduced in price, but not in quality. A good White Shirt, any style, $1.25 and upward. A stylish Colored Shirt, any style, from $1 to $1.50, besides a full assortment of the finer grades, not quite as reduced prices.

A very large stock of HALF HOSE, British Half Hose, without seams, $3 and $4 per dozen. A full line of Fancy Half Hose, $3 to $6, and only at Walshe's can "Red Balbriggan" Half Hose, from Smyth & Co.'s, be found.

See the new stock of DRESSING ROBES, from $11 to $16.

A new assortment of UMBRELLAS, made with elegant selected sticks.

New Pocket-Books, Toilet Articles, Studs, Scarf Pins, Sleeve Buttons, Watch Chains and Charms; also all the choice styles of FASHIONABLE NECK WEAR, including all that is new in silk and wool. White and Fancy POCKET HANDKERCHIEFS and English and French Suspenders.

New styles of COLLARS AND CUFFS are weekly added to stock.

Kid Gloves, Cloth and other styles of GLOVES in fall, fine and colors.

Remember "NOT COMMON STOCK" but good goods at low prices.

B. T. WALSHE,

NO. 110 CANAL ST., NEAR ST. CHARLES,

NEW ORLEANS.

N. B.—Special attention called to a small but choice stock of Boys' and Children's Clothing, organized for one for immediate sale, and offered at New York manufacturer's prices. 5p 16

E. OFFNER,

"THE OLD RELIABLE."

CROCKERY, CHINA AND GLASSWARE,

SILVER PLATED WARE AND CUTLERY,

AND

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS

Sold Cheaper than ever before at the Old Stand,

171 Canal Street 171

Opposite the Varieties Theatre.

I SELL THE REAL FRENCH CHINA DINNER SETS OF 112 pieces for $19.50

TEA SETS of the same quality, 44 pieces $5.00

Decorated in a colors, something entirely new, for $7.50

Stone China CHAMBER SETS, only $3.50

Stone China DINNER SETS, 121 pieces, for $13.50

All other goods sold equally as cheap, and all goods are guaranteed.

☞ No charge for packing.

The Celebrated Butter Churn,

Makes Butter in from three to ten minutes, is sold very cheap.

All orders will have prompt and careful attention.

E. OFFNER,

171 Canal street,

5p opposite Varieties Theater.

The Centennial Bracket Saw

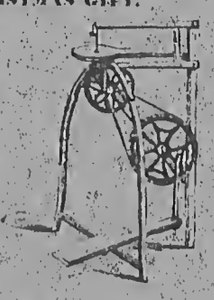
AS A CHRISTMAS GIFT.

EVERYBODY WANTS IT.

ALL DELIGHTED WITH IT.

Simplicity itself! Within your reach! saw two inches thick, for the finest inlaid work. Will make 250 strokes per minute. No. 2 Foot Power Machine, complete, $8.50. Blades and 25 Designs, all for $1.50.

Boys 8 years old can use it. Ladies delighted to learn to use it as well as gentlemen. A full swing in the rear.



RICE, BORN & CO.,

NO. 33 AND 35 CAMP STREET,

Branch Store, 78 Magazine Street, Warehouse, 116 and 118 Magazine St.

IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN

Foreign and Domestic Hardware,

Builders' Hardware, Trades' Cutlery, Stoves and Tinners' House Furnishing Goods. Sole Agents for the CHARTER OAK STOVE.

Stoves! Stoves! Stoves!

THE CHEAPEST AND THE "BEST."

THE "COTTAGE" COOKING STOVES. To which we call particular attention, are unsurpassed by any in this market for economy, durability, and most perfect BAKING. They carry a uniform heat in the oven, and can be adapted for burning COAL, COKE OR WOOD, without any additional cost. Every one sold under a written guarantee that they are represented or the money will be refunded.

Also, a variety of other COOKING STOVES of every grade and price, from the upwards.

HEATING STOVES.

A very large and complete assortment, suitable for Offices, Parlors, Churches, School Rooms, for all of which are offered at very low prices to suit the times. Also, dealer in

TINWARE OF EVERY KIND

and description, to suit the country and city trade which is offered at UNPRECEDENTEDLY LOW PRICES FOR CASH. Also, Sole Agent for the manufacture and sale of the Steam Washer, or Woman's Friend.

Will clean soap or clothes WITHOUT RUBBING. Every one sold is FULLY WARRANTED. It saves labor, wear and tear, and the annoyance of washday. It is truly a labor and clothes saving invention. Three hundred thousand have already been sold through the States since 1871.

☞ State and County Rights for sale.

Call and see it at No. 51 Magazine street.

or W. W. GOODWYN.

COAL. COAL.

H. & C. TYLER,

9 ..... CARONDELET ST. 9

will sell Pittsburg, Anthracite and Cannel COAL in quantities to suit customers, at the lowest market rates.

H. & C. TYLER.

T. A. BECK, COOPERAGE.

Office and Sales-Room, NOS. 23 & 24 NORTH FRONT ST., Manufactory, Carondelet Walk, bet. Roman and Prieur, New Orleans,

Have constantly on hand Sugar Hogsheads, Molasses Barrels, Half Barrels, Kegs etc., also a large assortment of Hoop Poles. Orders promptly attended to. Particular attention paid to Telmalog.

Farm, Garden and Household.

Oiling Harness.

A good harness is costly, but if properly used and cared for will last a good many years. If neglected it will soon need repairs, and in a short time become utterly worthless. In caring for a harness one great point is to see that it is suitably oiled. A work harness, in use on a farm, should be oiled twice a year, in the spring and fall. It should be taken entirely apart; the places where sweat and dirt have collected cleaned with a chip or an old case-knife, then washed clean in warm water, in which a little Castile soap has been dissolved. As they are washed the straps should be hung on a pole to dry.

When the outside is nearly dry, but before the moisture is all out of the leather, the oil should be applied. This may be done with a clean paint brush, which is the best thing for the purpose, a sponge or woolen cloth. A moderate quantity should be used, and if it does not soften the leather enough, another light coating may be applied when the first one is well dried in. This is better than it is to put on a great deal at once.

Care should be taken to obtain a good quality of oil for leather. There are some patent preparations in which a waterproof ingredient is added to oil, and also a little coloring substance to make the leather look black and glossy. An honest mixture of this kind is better than the crude oil. Cheap oils are generally poor. When dry the harness should be rubbed with Castile soap, then with a dry woolen cloth. When this is done it may be put together and used. This work should not be neglected until the hurry of planting and hoeing-time, but should receive attention now.—Live Stock Journal.

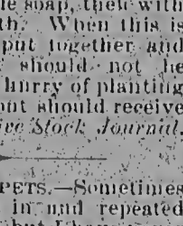
To CLEAN CARPETS.—Sometimes flour (dry) rubbed in and repeated will be efficacious; but I have never found fuller's earth to fail. Mix it in a paste and spread it on (with a knife) wet; cover it over with a cloth or paper pinned over to prevent tracking it around; leave on a day or two; if not then removed, renew the supply, and scrape carefully off when the grease is removed.—New York Times.

TROY PUDDING.—One cupful each of raisins, suet, molasses and milk, three and a half cupfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of saleratus. Stir all together and boil three hours. Serve with sweet sauce.

Case-knives, snuffers, watch-chains and other small steel articles may be preserved from rust by being carefully wiped after use, and then wrapped in coarse brown paper.

MEDICAL.

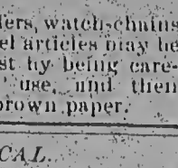
ELECTRO-MAGNETIC CORDIAL.



The discovery of Dr. S. V. Richmond, in combining medicinal electricity in firmer stamps and as one of the greatest benefactors of the age. All medicines charged with electricity as they are compounded, retaining their original virtues and adding the fire and force of electricity. The medicines are vitalized, and the life-current of electricity sent through the debilitated frame, allaying pain, restoring the strength and disordered organs to health and the elasticity and powers of spirit, that are lost by those suffering from disease.

This wonderful medicine is curing more diseases than all other known medicines since the beginning of the world. It is the best appetizer known, greatly promotes digestion, is a strengthening tonic to the stomach, imparts vigor and vitality to the whole circulatory system, and cures dyspepsia, and removes the acrid secretion of the stomach. Puts new life into a lazy and torpid liver. It is the greatest blood purifier in the world. All the ladies agree that it cleanses the bowels and all impurities at once imparts the rare hue of health to the cheek and does away with all cosmetics, cumloins and lotions for the complexion, because a fresh and spotless complexion upon both sexes, simply by freeing the blood from all impurities. We guarantee a pint bottle of our Electro-Magnetic Cordial is worth more than a whole barrel of Sarsaparilla compound to purify the blood. Thousands bear testimony to the wonderful curative and purifying power of our medicine. The most eminent clergymen, most skilled physicians, and our best citizens send testimonials of cures performed. Not only does our Electro-Magnetic Cordial Medicine excel all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional and Skin Diseases, but it is the only positive cure for Exhausted Vitality, Prostrate Decline to Man, Nervous and Physical Debility, Hypochondria, Gloomy Forebodings, Mental Depression, Loss of Energy, Impaired Countenance, Confusion of Mind and Loss of Memory, Impure State of Blood, and all diseases arising from the Errors of Youth, or indiscretions or excesses of mature years.

Samaritan Nervine.



DR. RICHMOND'S SAMARITAN NERVINE is the most wonderful MEDICAL DISCOVERY known to the world, it being charged with Electricity, makes it still better than ever. It is a source of happiness to millions of suffering humanity, thousands of lives saved after all other remedies failed. It is a sure cure for EPILEPTIC FITS, CONVULSIONS, SPASMS, ST. VITUS' DANCE and all HYSTERICAL AFFECTIONS. It is the only known positive and sure cure for EPILEPSY.

Electro-Magnetic Liniment.

There is no pain which Dr. Richmond's Electro-Magnetic Liniment will not relieve, no swelling it will not subdue, and no soreness which it will not cure. This is strong language, but it is true. It has cured more cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lockjaw, Palsy, Sprains, Swellings, Caked Breasts, Scalds, Burns, Salt Rheum, Earache, etc., than all other remedies in the world. All the Indian drugs, and of Strains, Spavin, Galls, etc., upon animals in one year, than have all other pretended remedies. It is a counter-irritant, an all-healing pain reliever. Cripples throw away their crutches, the lame walk, poisoning bites are rendered harmless, and the wounded are healed without a scar. It is the handing it is selling as no other article ever before sold, and it sells because it does just what it pretends to do. Those who now suffer from Rheumatism, Pain or Swelling deserve to suffer if they will not use Dr. Richmond's Electro-Magnetic Liniment.

Electro-Magnetic Ointment.

Dr. Richmond's Electro-Magnetic Ointment is the best ever made, it is a sure cure for all diseases of the Eye, both acute and chronic. It works like a charm in Ulcerations, Granulated Lids, Opacity of Corneæ, and all other diseases of the eye. An ointment for Piles, Burns and Scalds, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Eczema, Ringworm, Barber's Itch, Frosted Limbs, Chilblains, Fever Sores, etc., it surpasses all others in the world. Our best physicians of Boston say they never saw its equal. When once you try our medicines, you will never be without them. Take no other. Health is always derived from the first day's use, and a perfect cure is guaranteed or money refunded. All these medicines are sold by Druggists everywhere. If not found in your drug store, send orders direct to me and they will be promptly filled. Incose stamp for circular giving prices of medicines, also evidence of the most wonderful cures ever performed.

Address DR. S. A. RICHMOND, 71 Chestnut St., St Louis, Mo.

For sale by
H. J. RIVET, 58 Charlres street,
New Orleans.

J. FOERSTER'S
RICE AND CORN MILLS,
NOS. 100 AND 101 JULIA ST., AND 101, 106 AND 108 MAGAZINE STREET,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

MILLING RATES

No. 1 Rice, three-quarter cent per pound,
No. 2 Rice, one-half cent per pound.
Eight sacks of Bran returned for every 100 sacks of Rice received. Empty sacks furnished.

$55 to $77 a Week to Agents. Samples FREE. P. O. VICKERY, Augusta, Me.

MEDICAL.

VEGETINE
PURIFIES THE BLOOD,

RENOVATES AND INVIGORATES THE WHOLE SYSTEM.

Its Medicinal Properties are Alterative, Tonic, Solvent and Diuretic.

VEGETINE is made exclusively from the Juices of carefully selected barks, roots and herbs, and so strongly concentrated that it will effectually eradicate from the system every taint of Scrofula, Scrofulous Humor, Tumors, Cancer, Cancerous Humor, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Syphilitic Diseases, Canker, Falsetheas at the Stomach, and all diseases that arise from impure blood. Sciatica, Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout and Spinal Complaints can only be effectually cured through the blood.

For Ulcers and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, Pustules, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tetter, Scald Head and Ring Worm, VEGETINE has never failed to effect a permanent cure.

For Pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints, Dropsy, Female Weakness, Leucorrhea, arising from internal ulceration, and uterine diseases and General Debility, VEGETINE acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretive organs, allays inflammation, cures ulceration, and regulates the bowels.

For Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Headache, Piles, Nervousness and General Prostration of the Nervous System, no medicine has given such perfect satisfaction as the VEGETINE. It purifies the blood, cleanses all of the organs, and possesses a controlling power over the nervous system.

The remarkable cures effected by VEGETINE have induced many physicians and apothecaries whom we know to prescribe and use it in their own families.

In fact VEGETINE is the best remedy yet discovered for the above diseases, and it is the only reliable BLOOD PURIFIER yet placed before the public.

THE BEST EVIDENCE.

The following letter from Rev. E. S. Best, pastor of M. E. Church, Natick, Mass., will be read with interest by many physicians. Also those suffering from the same disease as afflicted the son of the Rev. E. S. Best. No person can doubt this testimony, as there is no doubt about the curative powers of VEGETINE.

NATICK, MASS., Jan. 1, 1874.

MR. H. R. STEVENS—Dear Sir: We have good reason for regarding your VEGETINE a medicine of the greatest value. We feel assured that it has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age; for the last two years he has suffered from necrosis of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so far reduced that nearly all who saw him thought his recovery impossible. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his ever rallying, two of the number declaring that he was beyond the reach of human remedies, that even amputation could not save him as he had not vigor enough to endure the operation. Just then we commenced giving him VEGETINE, and from that time to the present he has been continuously improving. He has lately resumed his studies, thrown away his crutches and cane, and walks about cheerfully and strong.

Though there is still some discharge from the opening where the limb was bruised, we have the fullest confidence that in a little time he will be perfectly cured.

He has taken about three-fifteen bottles of VEGETINE, but lately uses but little, as he declares that he is too well to be taking medicine.

Respectfully yours,
E. S. BEST.
MRS. L. C. F. BEST.

ALL DISEASES OF THE BLOOD.

If VEGETINE will relieve pain, cleanse, purify and cure such diseases, restoring the patient to perfect health after trying different physicians, many remedies, suffering for years, is it not conclusive proof, if you are a sufferer, you can be cured? Why is this medicine performing such great cures? It works in the blood, in the circulating fluid. It can truly be called the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER. The great source of disease originates in the blood, and no medicine that does not act directly upon it, to purify and renovate, has any just claim upon public attention.

RECOMMEND IT HEARTILY.

SOUTH BOSTON, Feb. 7, 1870.

MR. STEVENS—Dear Sir: I have taken several bottles of your VEGETINE, and am convinced it is a valuable remedy for Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaint, and general debility of the system. I can heartily recommend it to all suffering from the above complaints.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. MONROE PARKER,
386 Athens street.

PREPARED BY
H. R. STEVENS, Boston, Mass.
Vegetine is Sold by All Druggists.
nrm

SWAIM'S CELEBRATED PANACEA

Is not as many persons suppose a patented specific heralded for the cure of all diseases flesh is heir to, but, having enjoyed, an established reputation for MORE THAN FIFTY YEARS on account of its great value in diseases termed scrofulous, having been the means of RESTORATION TO HEALTH OF THOUSANDS OF DISEASED PERSONS, it has received the indorsement OF HUNDREDS OF PHYSICIANS who know its merits, and should be used by all who suffer from diseases arising from impurities of the blood, or even hereditary taint.

Its value in CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, OLD ULCERS, PHAGEDENIC SORES, WHITE SWELLINGS, etc., is known to thousands of Southern people.

Prepared at
Swaim's Laboratory,
South Seventh St., below Chestnut St.,
PHILADELPHIA.

THE JELESO WATER,
NO. 20 CORTLANDT ST., NEW YORK.
WARREN & CO., Proprietors.

URAL MOUNTAIN
JELESO WATER

Is a concentration of all the curative qualities of the most celebrated Mineral Springs in the world. Each bottle contains eighty doses and is equal to over one hundred bottles of the Natural Spring Water.

As a tonic it is unsurpassed, having had most remarkable success in curing some of the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Nervousness, and General Debility. It is simple, harmless, and pleasant to take. If used as a gargle in its pure state, in the first appearance of Diphtheria and all other throat diseases it works like magic. It arrests the progress of and cures such complaints in less than twenty-four hours. It will greatly alleviate or entirely cure the worst cases of Rheumatism.

Eczema and all other diseases of the Skin, Prickly Heat, Poisoning by Ivy, Sumac, or Oak, are quickly cured by the use of Jeleso Water. We will forward three bottles of the medicine to any part of the United States, free of expressage, on receipt of $4 per bottle. Send for Circular, containing testimonials and directions.

Appended are a few of the many certificates sent us:

As a family medicine and tonic it is simply invaluable. In my own case it has cured Dyspepsia of long standing.

JOHN F. MINES,
Managing Editor N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

Permit me to add my testimony to the efficiency of your "Jeleso" in cases of Dyspepsia of long standing. I have used two bottles of it, and I am now thoroughly cured. I shall most cheerfully recommend its use to all my friends, and I consider it an indispensable medicine in every family. I am most truly yours,

J. D. BARTON,
Supt. Flushing, North Shore, and Central R. R. of Long Island.

101 EAST 23D ST., NEW YORK,
January 29, 1876.

DR. WARREN—Dear Sir: I have used your Jeleso Water as a tonic, also for Dyspepsia and Throat Affections of all kinds with great beneficial results. I believe it to be a very valuable remedy.

DR. E. G. STILLMAN.

CANCER CURED WITHOUT the KNIFE or PAIN, and positively guaranteed by Prof. J. M. COMINS, M. D., 315 Lexington Ave., New York. Hundreds of specimens can be seen at his office, and as many living witnesses attest these facts. Send stamp for book.

EDUCATIONAL.

Emory and Henry College
VIRGINIA.

THE collegiate year for 1876-7 begins on the FOURTEENTH OF SEPTEMBER next. It is divided into two terms of twenty weeks each, the first closing January 31, and the second beginning February 1, 1877.

For TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS deposited with the President at the beginning of the year we will give to a student, for the forty weeks, his tuition, board, fuel, room-rent, washing, library and contingent fees.

For information on special points or for a catalogue address E. E. WILEY, President,
Emory P. O., Virginia.

Quitman M. & F. College.
QUITMAN, VAN BUREN CO., ARK.

FALL SESSION BEGINS MONDAY, SEPT. 4. This school, under the patronage of the Arkansas Conference, offers a quiet, healthy retreat to students. Good board can be had at eight to ten dollars per month. Tuition, as follows can be had anywhere, ranging from $1.50 to $3 a month. Tuition free to children of ministers and to young men studying for the ministry.

For further particulars apply to
REV. JAMES A. PEEBLES, President.
Quitman, Van Buren Co., Ark.

MOORE'S SOUTHERN BUSINESS UNIVERSITY ATLANTA, GA. THE BEST PRACTICAL BUSINESS SCHOOL IN THE SOUTH. SEND FOR CATALOGUES.

MISCELLANEOUS.

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.

WE HAVE JUST OPENED FOR INSPECTION

A complete assortment of

FRENCH LACE CURTAINS,
White and Ecru.
EMBROIDERED LACE BARS,
NOTTINGHAM CURTAINS,
In White and Fancy Colors.

The last being something new and very fashionable.

COUNTERPANES,
FRENCH CRETONNES,
From the lowest to the highest prices.

ALSO,

COMFORTS, BLANKETS,

And Everything pertaining to Housekeeping.

D. H. HOLMES,
135 CANAL AND 45 BOURBON ST.,
NEW ORLEANS.

MITCHELL'S
NEW OUTLINE MAPS.

7 Maps in a set. A Key goes with each set.

Small Series, with Names $10
Small Series, without Names $10
Large Series, without Names $20

LATEST, BEST, CHEAPEST.

J. H. BUTLER & CO.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

COUNTRY ORDERS
FOR
BOOTS AND SHOES.

PARTIES who wish to buy Boots and Shoes FOR CASH are invited to send to me for a card which explains HOW TO TAKE YOUR OWN MEASURE, thus enabling any one in the country to get a good-fitting Boot or Shoe direct from the city at the LOWEST CITY PRICES.

Where we are favored with orders that exceed $10 the Freight thereon will be prepaid at our expense. Where the order exceeds $20 we will also pay the cost of sending the money to us, whether by Express, Money Order, Registered Letter, Bank Draft or otherwise.

Goods sent C. O. D. to all points where the Express Company or Packets have agents.

Price list of ready-made goods, also instructions how to take your own measure, will be sent by mail upon application.

GIMBEL'S UPPER CITY BLUE BOOT AND SHOE STORE,
No. 578 Magazine Street,
Sign of the Lady's Boot.
LOUIS GIMBEL, Agent.

NOVELTY IRON WORKS.

Now building Presses on Stock Account, which can be furnished under the fullest guarantee, ready for operation

JANUARY 1 NEXT.

Golding's Standard Press.

(Five Patents secured.)

Exclusive control of Side Rights and District for sale. Apply to PATENTEE at the
NOVELTY WORKS,
Corner Peters and Toland streets.

ATTENTION!

M. ANDRIEU',
150 ..... POYDRAS STREET 150

Home-Made Shoes at $3.50 a Pair.

City-made Boots and Shoes of all kinds and styles, made of the very best material and workmanship, and at less prices than any other store in this city. Keeps all kinds for Gents', Boys', Ladies', and Children's wear.

FIRE! FIRE!! FIRE!!!
GUARD AGAINST IT.

THE PEOPLE'S PUMP.

With 50 feet hose, and suction pipe for well 20 feet, for $20.

CHARLES W. KING,
27 Devonshire street, Boston.

GIBSON'S

Stained Glass and Decorative Establishment,

123 & 125 South Eleventh St.,

PHILADELPHIA.

SHELDON COLLINS & CO.,
MANUFACTURERS OF PRINTING INKS,
Extra Black Book, News, Card, Job, Wood Cut,
—AND—
Colored Inks of Every Variety,
Office and depot 26 Frankfort street, New York.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.
Established in 1837.
Superior Bells of Copper and Tin, mounted with the best Rotary Hangings, for Churches, Schools, Farms, Factories, Court-Houses, Fire Alarms, Tower Clocks, etc. Fully Warranted. Illustrated Catalogue sent Free.
VANDUZEN & TIFT, 102 E. 2d St., Cincinnati, O.

CENTENNIAL SLIDES READY.

MAGIC LANTERNS & SLIDES WANTED
THEO. J. HARBACH ALSO FOR SALE PHILADA. PA.

Please send for Catalogue.

PRICES REDUCED, Best Quality ARTIFICIAL LIMBS, Established 40 years. DISAPPEARING TUBE, Adopted CENTENNIAL YEAR.
CHAS. M. EVANS, Manufr.
157 West Fourth Street, (Cincinnati, O.
Fourth and Market Sts., Louisville, Ky.

MISCELLANEOUS.

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE

RESPECTFULLY offers her services in selecting, purchasing and forwarding any article of apparel or personal adornment for Ladies' and Children's use, including MILLINERY, DRY GOODS, JEWELRY, BRIDAL TROUSSEAUX, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Trimmings, Underwear, Sewing Machines, etc.

Scrupulous care with reference to the price and quality, and fidelity to the interest and fulfillment of the wishes of correspondents, will be sedulously carried out.

Spring and Summer Styles
OF
LADIES' DRESSES,
IN IMPORTED FRENCH PATTERNS,

CENTENNIAL APRONS, RUCHES AND KERCHIEFS, fac-similes of the Fashions of 1776

Just received by
MRS. H. MOGRIDGE,
NO. 98 CANAL STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

New Goods for the Holidays.

JOHN S. TWOMEY,
COR. MAGAZINE AND PHILIP STS.,

WOULD respectfully call the attention of heads of families to his large and well-assorted stock of

Fresh Fancy and Staple Groceries,

suitable for the holidays, at prices to defy competition. Raisins, Citrons, Currants, Mince Meat, Apple-Butter, Peach-Butter, Quince Butter, Orange Butter, California Canned Goods, Turkish and French Prunes, Baby Cereal Food, Selected Whisal Grapes, Bartletts Pears, Cherries, Table Prunes and Jellies, Peaches, Strawberries, Pineapples, etc.

All goods guaranteed to give satisfaction, and delivered to any part of the city free of drayage.

B. T. BABBITT'S BABY SOAP.

Only the purest vegetable oils used in its manufacture. Not artificial and deceptive odors to cover common and adulterated ingredients. PERFECTLY PURE.

The TOILET and the BATH. Used in bathing children, will prevent eruptions, keep the skin soft and smooth, contribute to health, and prevent disease. Does away with all powders, cloth, or other emollients. A certain preventive of chafing, itching, etc., in babies, the causes of half the crying and crossness of babyhood. Worth ten times its cost to every mother and family in Christendom. Packed in boxes of 12 cakes of three, each, and sent free to any address on receipt of $2.50. Address

For sale by all Druggists. B. T. BABBITT, N. Y.

KEEP'S CUSTOM SHIRTS,

Made to measure. The very best 6 for 30.

KEEP'S PATENT EARTLY MADE DRESS SHIRTS, the very best, 6 for 9.

ON RECEIPT OF PRICE EITHER OF THE above, with a paper slip of cloth indicating size and sleeve lattens, will be delivered free by any Express in the United States except California and the Territories. Keep's shirts are only made in upon this system. We mean just what we say, and to give every one an opportunity of judging for themselves without risk, we mail samples and full directions for self-measurement free to any address. We refer to purchasers of Keep's shirts everywhere.

KEEP MANUFACTURING CO.
109 and 111 Mercer street, New York.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Returning thanks for past favors, the undersigned desires to inform his friends and the public that he has removed to

152 and 154 Camp St., cor. Carondelet

WHERE HE CONTINUES TO

BUY, SELL, STORE, REMOVE, PACK
And Repair Furniture

of every description. Pictures and Looking-glasses framed. JOHN BOHR,
Nos. 152 and 154 Camp street.

FURNITURE AND MATTRESSES
NO. 155 CAMP STREET.

THE undersigned has a large stock of Furniture, which he will dispose of at prices that will DEFY COMPETITION. Give me a call and see for yourselves.

Furniture taken on storage. Repairs made at lowest rates. All Furniture sent Bedding put in perfect repair and delivered to order. Moving, Packing, etc., to full done at the lowest possible prices on application to

HENRY C. HOFF,
155 Camp street.

Piles! Piles!! Piles!!!

INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL, BLIND, Bleeding, and Itching, positively, perfectly and permanently cured by absorption. The cure is an instantaneous, perfect and permanent. Wounds, neither cauterize nor instruments, and the direct pain. We can refer to thousands of the very best people in Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Pittsburg, and in every state in the Union.

W. A. & W. L. CANDLISS,
230 Arch Street,
Philadelphia, Pa.

DO YOUR OWN PRINTING!

NOVELTY PRINTING PRESS.

For Professional and Amateur Printers, Schools, Societies, Merchants, Mechanics, and Others. The BEST $10.00
The Largest $50.00
ROYAL C. WORDS $150.00
Printing Material.
Send 20 Cents for Catalogue. Boston.

DOVE EVERY KIND

DOVE MANF. CO., 6 Wooster St., N. Y.

ADOLPH SUTTER,
GLASS STAINER.
Particular Attention Paid to Church Work.

Orders from all parts of the country promptly attended to.

712 N. SEVENTH ST., bet. Pine and Olive,
ST. LOUIS, MO.

F. A. McKECHNIE,
Engraver on Wood.

OFFICES 247 Washington street and 178 Congress street, Boston. Orders by mail will receive prompt attention. Proofs, send three, containing for sample sheet of cuts for Cards and Envelopes.

T. W. BOTHICK,
UNDERTAKER,
277 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Embalming and Disinterring. Bodies carefully shipped. Carriages and Cabs for hire.

GLASS STAINERS
CUTTERS, AND EMBOSSERS.
CHURCH WINDOWS A SPECIALTY
Estimates and samples on application.
WM. COULTER & SON
102 & 104 East Second St., CINCINNATI, O.

ESTABLISHED IN 1825.

LEEDS' FOUNDRY,
Cor. Delord and Poucher Sts.

CHROMOS—We have over 5,000 cases of the best selling American and Foreign Chromos ready for delivery. Rare opportunity for experienced solicitors. Send for catalogue. J. LATHAM & CO., Art Publishers, Boston, Mass.

SAVINGS BANKS.

NEW ORLEANS
SAVINGS INSTITUTION,
154 ..... CANAL STREET 154
Incorporated March 15, 1855.

OFFICERS.

DAVID URQUHART, President.
THOS. A. ADAMS, First Vice President.
THOS. ALLEN CLARKE, Second V. President.
CHARLES J. LEEDS, Third Vice President.
CHARLES KILSHAW, Treasurer.

TRUSTEES.

Thos. A. Adams, George Jonas,
Thos. Allen Clarke, John G. Gainer,
Charles J. Leeds, Christian Schneider,
Samuel Jamison, Carl Kohn,
A. Monton, T. L. Bayne,
E. A. Palfrey, David Urquhart.

Interest allowed on deposits.

LOUISIANA SAVINGS BANK AND SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY,
51 Camp Street.

CAPITAL $500,000

E. C. PALMER, President.
JAS. JACKSON, Vice President.

DIRECTORS.

ED. CONERY, FRED'K WING,
J. H. KELLER, W. H. THOMAS,
W. B. SCHMIDT, JAS. JACKSON,
E. C. PALMER.

This Company insures against loss by Burglars, Thieves and Fire at low rates, and its capital gives security to Depositors.

Small Deposits received and Six per cent. Interest per annum, paid semi-annually.

JOHN S. WALTON, Cashier.

BOOKS, STATIONERY, ETC.

JOSEPH GILLOTT'S
STEEL PENS.

SOLD BY ALL DEALERS

MANUFACTURERS' WAREHOUSE,
No. 91 John Street, New York.
JOSEPH GILLOTT & SON.
HENRY HOE, Sole Agent.

SOLE
BY H. R. PALMER.
HERALD
FOR
Singing Classes & Conventions.

A great improvement upon all of Mr. Palmer's former works, containing new ideas throughout. Every page sparkling with

NEW, AND BEAUTIFUL MUSIC.

"THE SONG HERALD"

is the legitimate successor of SONG KING and SONG QUEEN, which have had a combined sale of over

350,000 COPIES!

All Other Similar Works are but Imitations.

Price, $7.50 Per Dozen. Single Copy, mail on receipt of 75 cents. Specimen Pages free.

JOHN CHURCH & CO.,
CINCINNATI, O.

The best and cheapest Sunday School Library.

GRAND CHEAP LIBRARY.
No. 2.

Uniform in size and style. Large type, bound in Muslin, and not to be equalled for cheapness. This Library contains over 12,000 printed pages, profusely illustrated with large full-page engravings, and many of the smaller size. All the volumes in this Library are valuable and instructive. The price of the Library is $25, from which we make a discount of thirty per cent., to Sunday Schools, making the

Net Price for 50 Large Books only $22. 50.

The books are different from those in No. 1, and some are larger.

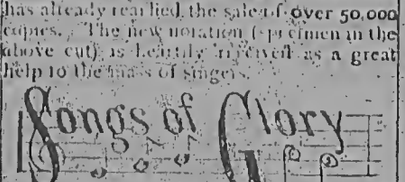
SCHOOLS, TAKE NOTICE. Send for a catalogue. Books of the second class in this Library are usually sold at from $1 to $1.25 each. Nothing like this Library has been offered for such a small sum.

PUBLISHED BY THE
American Sunday School Union,
122 Chestnut street, Philadelphia—ALEX. KIRKPATRICK.
7, Bond st. Bible House, New York—G. S. SCOFIELD.
16 White street, Boston—J. A. CROWLEY.
98 Dearborn street, Chicago—W. R. PORT.
207 N. Sixth St., St. Louis—S. PAXSON.

Songs of Glory.

By JAS. H. FILLMORE,

has already reached the sale of over 50,000 copies. The new notation (specimen in the above cut) is hailed universally as a great help to the mass of singers.



Is full of sparkling gems of song, fresh and new, and must become immensely popular. Price 35 cts., $3.60 per doz. by express, $4.20 by mail.

FILLMORE BROS., Cincinnati, O.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Dr. C. B. White,
Office and Residence,
167 CANAL STREET.

SAM. HENDERSON,
Cotton Factor, Commission Merchant, and Purchasing Agent,
107 PAILLET ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Does business on Grange principles and at Grange rates.

CARRE'S CABINS, LUMBER, ETC.

To meet the demand for our Cabins we have added such machinery as enables us to turn them out, not only faster but better and cheaper; so come on with your orders. Not forgetting that as Lumber Merchants we dole back a quarter of a century, and with recently established Telegraph communication with our Pearl River Mills, we can furnish at short notice anything from a plaster batten to a shipspar.

W. W. CARRE & CO.,
No. 230 Delord street.

FOR LADIES ONLY.

LADY AGENTS WANTED to sell Mme. Griswold's SKIRT SUPPORTING CORSET, universally approved, and is gradually superseding all others. Application only to MME. GRISWOLD, 21 East Sixteenth street, New York.

L. C. MACLIN,

Office, 31 Carondelet street, wholesale and retail dealer in Pittsburg, Virginia, Cannel and Anthracite

COAL.

Full weight guaranteed. Yard, corner Second and Tchoupitoulas streets.

VINEGAR—How made in ten hours without drugs. Address F. SAGE, Springfield, Mass.

INSURANCE.

FACTORS' AND TRADERS'
Insurance Company,
37 ..... Carondelet Street .....

Premiums for the year ending April 30, 1876.....
Losses paid within the year.....
Reserved for unterminated risks April 30, 1876.....
Net profits for the year.....

Cash dividends for the year:
Interest (semi annually).....TEN PER CE
Premiums.....TWENTY PER CE

Assets, April 30, 1876.....

This Company continues to issue policies on River, and Marine Risks at current rates of

E. A. PALFREY, President.
JOHN CHAFFE, Vice-President.
THOMAS F. WALKER, Secretary.

—TRUSTEES—

W. A. Johnson, W. C. Raymond,
John I. Noble, T. Lyle Lyon,
John Chaffe, S. H. Snowden,
Richard Milliken, S. H. Boyd,
John I. Warren Joseph McElroy,
R. T. Buckner, E. B. Wheelock,
Samuel Friedlander, Cyrus Bussey,
A. A. Yates, Wm. J. Behan,
John L. Adams, B. F. Eshleman,
Isaac Scherck, W. C. Black,
R. M. Walmsley, Charles Chaffe,
A. H. May, L. C. Jurey,
Wm. Hartwell.

New Orleans Insurance C
CORNER CAMP AND CANAL STS.
ESTABLISHED IN 1805.

Capital .....
Assets at their market value .....
Income for the year 1875 .....

The company insures FIRE, MARINE A RIVER RISKS. Issues Marine policies pa in London in case of loss.

President—J. TUYES.
Vice President—A. SCHREIBER.
Secretary—J. W. RINCKS.

DIRECTORS.

Ernest Merith, A. M. Bickham,
Pluchie Forstall, A. Schreiber,
H. Gally, J. Tuyes,
Charles Lallite, W. A. Bell,
W. Van Benthuysen, D. Fajo,
Pierre Pouz, D. D. Rogers.

AGENTS WANTED.

LOOK!
BOOK AGENTS, the b and fastest selling books, and the finest and complete family Bibles published. Our Bible
2,000 ILLUSTRATIONS, and we give terms, with large premiums to good agents.
circulars, terms, etc., address NATIONAL PU
LISHING CO., F. A. Hutchinson, Pres. 32
St., St. Louis, Mo.

READY FOR AGENTS—THE CENTENNIAL EXPOSITIO
DESCRIBED AND ILLUSTRATED.

A graphic pen-picture of its histo grand buildings, wonderful exhibi curiosities, great days, etc. Profuse Illustrated, thoroughly popular, and ve cheap. Selling immensely. 5,000 Agen wanted. Send for full particulars. This will the chance of 100 years to coin money fa
Get the only reliable history.
N. D. THOMPSON & CO.,
Publishers, St. Louis, Mo.

CAUTION! Be not deceived by pr worthless books, containing lit
"filling," and telling what will happen to A gust and September.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE NEW
FARMER'S BOOK

Gives full information on all kinds of Far Work, Drainage, Fertilizers, Rotation of C and Farm Stock. Includes a most valuable a Practical Treatise on House Building, and of legal forms and laws for farmers. The w reliable farmer's book ever published. For full d scription and terms address
J. C. McCURDY & CO., St. Louis, Mo.

AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHER
FOR OUR NEW
Centennial Family Bible,
AND BIBLICAL ENCYCLOPEDIA.

The best and cheapest in the market. Near 2,000 Pictorial Illustrations. Liberal commissio allowed. For terms and circulars address im diately to the ST. LOUIS BIBLE PUBLISHIN
CO., 355 Locust street, St. Louis, Mo.

$10 to $25 A DAY SURE MAD
by Agents selling o
Chromos, Crayons, P
Fire and Chromo Wells. 125 samples, worth $5, s post-paid for $3 cents. Illustrated Catalogue fre
J. M. HUFFORD & SONS, Boston. Estab'd 18

"DON'T FORGET IT"—Singer's Sa
Guard is worth all the Rotary Alar ever invented. Agents wanted everywhere. S
Xer-plated sample prepaid on receipt of 25 cen
Address A. H. SINGER, 438 Walnut street, Phil delphia, Pa.

AGENTS If you want the best selli article in the world, a a solid gold Patent Le
Watch, free of cost, write at once to J. BRIDE
CO., 307 Broadway, New York.

YES WE WANT an agent in every tow
Easy work at home. Write now and
YES will start you. $8 a day sure to all. SIM
SON & SMITH, 64 Portland st., N. Y.

AGENTS double their money selling "D
Chase's Improved Receipt Book."
Address Dr. Chase's Printing-House, Ann Arbo Mich.

MARVIN LINCOLN.
MANUFACTURER OF ARTIFICIAL LIMB and various kinds of
Surgical Appliances.
The Lincoln Artificial Arm
a Specialty.

Artificial Thumbs and Fingers neatly and tast fully applied.

For further information, circulars, testimonial etc., address MARVIN LINCOLN, No. 8 Hanco Place, Boston, Mass.

A. B. GRINWOLD & CO.,
COR. CANAL AND ROYAL STS.,
WATCHES, JEWELRY, DIAMONDS
AND SILVERWARE.

Watches and Jewelry repaired in the best ma
ner. Goods sent C. O. D., and returnable if no suitable. Everything guaranteed to be as rep sented.

FLORIAN LANGE. FELIX LEGENDRE.
LANGE & LEGENDRE, COMMISSION
Merchants and dealers in Country Produce.
Office and Warehouse—17 TOULOUSE ST.,
New Orleans, La.

References—Schmidt & Ziegler, Wholesale Gro
cers, New Orleans; Julien Denis, President Lever Steam Cotton Press; Jules Cassard, Vice President
Germania National Bank; Pike, Brothers & Co.
Bankers; Numa Laudry, Cashier of People's Bank;
Emile Legendre, St. James; Felix F. Poche, St.
James.

$39 Each week to Agents. Goods Staple; 10,0 testimonials received. Terms liberal. Pa ticulars free. J. Worth & Co., St. Louis, M

MEDICAL.

ANGELL'S

HOMEOPATHIC PHARMACY,

Julia St., near Camp New Orleans.

OMEOPATHIC MEDICINES, BOOKS CASES AND ALL OTHER ARTICLES USED IN HOMEOPATHIC PRACTICE.

O MEET THE DEMAND FOR AIDS TO Domestic Practice, and proved by an extenexperience to be safe, generally successful and ularly adapted to family practice, remedies for following diseases will be furnished by mail or ress, with full directions as to their use:

For Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, ooping Cough, Asthma, Fever, Diarrs, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus and ntum, Worms, Colic, Dyspepsia, lousness, Neuralgia, Headache, Sore throat, Ear Disorders, Sore Mouth, inary Affections, Gravel, Piles, Skin ases, Rheumatism, Scrofula Sore s, and Nervous and General Debility.

Fifty Cents each.

For Heart Affections, and Chill Drops, ssful in Ague and Fever when other dies fail—Sbeach.

Phosphorated Bitters and Colic Drops— Cents each.

DR. R. ANGELL, SR.,

inues his visiting and office practice as usual, day or night, and will prescribe and furnish medicine by letter on a full statement of case. If desirable.

first prescription and medicine, three to five subsequent ones, two to three dollars. ulation alone, free of charge, on inclosing ssed envelope. Office upstairs, 152 Julia street.

HOLMAN'S

ever and Ague and Liver Pad

CURES WITHOUT MEDICINE,

SIMPLY BY ABSORPTION.

The Best Liver Regulator in the World.

The only true cure for and preventive of malaria, discovery forms Liver Complaint, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Yellow Fever, Sea Sickness, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Bilious Disorders etc.

Name, genuine without the Trade Mark and Signature of the Inventor on the wrapper.

For certificates, read the little blue book "Enemy in the Air" sent free on application to JUNIUS HART & CO. Proprietors, Memphis, Tenn., & 58 Custom-house st., New Orleans.

For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists

Price ..... $2, and $3.

TRUE ONLY TRUE AND PERFECT HAIR COLORER!

THE MYSTERY,

Or Turner's Hair Tint!

HARMLESS! BEAUTIFUL! PERMANENT!

This preparation has received the indorsement the scientific world, and wherever introduced has superseded all other preparations of the kind. No washing or preparation of the hair is necessary before using.

Will free from all Deleterious Ingredients, contains no Lead, Sulphur or other compounds which are injurious to the Hair or Detrimental by Absorption; and for use saves both time and labor, as a few ns applied with a comb, once a month or so, to hair or Whiskers, answers the purpose, the color being so perfectly assumed as to defy tion. Its great recommendation is in its dition of tint, producing any desired shade, light brown to the deepest black and entire ence of that dry and burned appearance produced by other Hair Dyes. The Mystery can be plied to a single hair or spots that have changed e restored to their original shade without appearing all over the head, as is necessary when other Hair Dyes.

A single box sent free by mail to any address in United States upon receipt of price, One Dollar, the inventor and proprietor.

JAMES TURNER, Chemist,
P. O. Box 2534. New Orleans.

Wholesale Agents.—L. L. Lyons, New Orleans; Hesick, Finlay & Co., New Orleans; E. L. Hart & Co., New Orleans, and for sale by Druggists everywhere.

N. JENKINS' ANNIHILATOR.

A PURELY VEGETABLE COMPOUND, for the permanent cure of

Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia.

What the Annihilator will do:

1. From one to two bottles will cure any fresh attack of Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia.
2. From two to twelve bottles, according to duration of disease, will cure any case of Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia.
3. It is one of the best regulators of the circulation of the blood known.

N. JENKINS,
96 Camp street, New Orleans.

Wholesale Agents—G. R. FINLAY & CO., New Orleans.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Bricks! Bricks! Bricks!

ROY'S BRICK YARD,

BERNARD PARISH, four Blocks below the Slaughterhouse.

The undersigned respectfully informs builders, owners, and all consumers of Bricks, that he is extensively manufacturing Bricks at his old Brickyard, near the Slaughterhouse, where he has always on hand a large quantity of country made Bricks and Kettle Tiles, ready to be delivered without detention.

FREDERIC ROY.

Orders left with S. Roy, at 15 Cavarôc & Soult's, Agents, No. 38 Decatur street, or at the Brick Yard, will be promptly attended to.

JNO. F. LUTHER,

79 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK.

MANUFACTURER OF ALL KINDS OF

SCHOOL, COLLEGE, CHURCH, CLASS, SOCIETY AND FRATERNITY

PINS, BADGES & MEDALS,

at short notice, and very reasonable.

Fine Presentation Medals a Specialty. Engraving promptly attended to.

Lower Coast Semi-Weekly Packet.

FOR PORT EADS, SOUTHWEST Pass, Pilot Town, Forts Jackson and St. Philip, Buras Settlement, Pilottown, Balize and all way landings. The new, swift, passenger Steamer

MARTHA.

W. S. Bassett, Master,

leaves for above every WEDNESDAY at 12 M., and SATURDAY at 5 P. M.

Returning every MONDAY and FRIDAY.

For freight or passage apply on board, or to HUTE & PARLIN, Agents.

St. SELF-INKING BEST"

PRINTING PRESS, OUTFIT and PRESS $10. Presses from $1 to $5. Rotary Presses from $15 to $125. Send stamps for Catalogues.

H. HOOVER & CO.,
50 North 6th street,
Philadelphia.

CARPET WAREHOUSE,

17 ..... CHARTRES STREET 17

CARPETINGS—Wilton, Axminster, Velvet, Brussels Tapestry, Three-Ply, etc.
FLOOR OIL CLOTH—English and American.
MATTINGS—800 rolls White, Check and Fancy.
WINDOW SHADES, Table and Piano Covers,
FURNITURE and CURTAIN GOODS in great variety
BURLAPS, Table and Enamel OIL CLOTHS.
A. BRUSSEAU.

BUSINESS CARDS.

ANTON BRAUN,

55 ..... CHARTRES ST. 55

Ret. Customhouse and Bienville, New Orleans,

IMPORTER AND DEALER IN

FRENCH AND GERMAN LEATHER,

Findings, Shoemakers' Tools, etc.

Fancy Boot, Shoe and Gaiter Uppers constantly on hand and made to order.

J. D. CRASSONS,

BOOT AND SHOE STORE,

NO. 26 FRENCHMEN STREET,

Between Victory and Moreau, Third District, New Orleans.

A large assortment of Boots and Shoes always on hand, and made to order. Ladies', Children's and Gentlemen's Shoes manufactured to order.

J. F. HOHRBACHER,

MANUFACTURER AND DEALER IN

BOOTS AND SHOES,

NO. 237 CAMP STREET,

Between St. Joseph and Delord, New Orleans.

Country orders promptly attended to.

MARTIN WEYDIG,

NO. 170 POYDRAS ST., NEW ORLEANS,

MANUFACTURER OF

SADDLES, HARNESS AND HORSE,

Firemen's and Military Equipments made to order. Dealer in all kinds of Leather and Rubber Hose, Leather and Rubber Pipes, Suctions and Fire Buckets, Horse Sheets and Blankets, Lap Dusters, Buggy Robes, Fly Nets and Whips, and all kinds of Saddlery Hardware. Country orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

H. SPIERING,

UPHOLSTERER,

651 ..... MAGAZINE ST. 651

Near Jackson, New Orleans.

Parlor Sets manufactured at New York prices. Spring, Hair and Moss Mattresses made. Loose Covers cut and made to order. Carpets laid, and taken up, cleaned and relaid. All work guaranteed.

G. SCIACCALUGA, IMPORTER,

And Wholesale and Retail Dealer in

GROCERIES, SHIP CHANDLERY, Etc.

Nos. 157 and 159 Old Levee St.,

Between Jefferson and St. Peter, New Orleans.

A full assortment of Palmo Oil, Oakum, Hemp and Manilla Rope. Keep a complete assortment of French and Calabonia Wines, Italian Macaroni and Vermicelli, etc.

EDWARD NALLE. WM. CAMMACK.

NALLE & CAMMACK,

COTTON FACTORS

AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS

No. 193 Gravier Street, New Orleans.

Liberal cash advances made on consignments of Cotton, Wool, Tobacco, and Produce generally.

COAL ..... COAL ..... COAL.

B. D. WOOD & BROS.,

Corner Camp and Common Streets,

Opposite the City Hall.

Wholesale and Retail Deale in all kinds of COAL. Pittsburg Coal delivered by boat-load or less on the coast, and shipped in casks or in bulk at lowest market rates. City trade supplied.

LUMBER—$7 PER 1,000 FEET.

AT

J. L. NEVERS,

SUCCESSOR TO

J. C. POOLEY, 315 JULIA STREET.

WOOD ..... COAL ..... LUMBER.

NO. 351 DRYADES STREET, between Clio and Erato streets. Best quality of Oak, Ash and Pine Sawed and Split Wood, at lowest rates. Pittsburg and Anthracite Coal and Charcoal at the lowest market prices. Also agent for Abita Mills. Lumber sawed to order at the shortest notice. Orders left at my office, 351 Dryades street, or at 262 Calliope street, will receive prompt attention. Satisfaction guaranteed.

SAM. SMITH.

LOUISIANA STEAM SASH, BLIND

—AND—

DOOR FACTORY,

ROBERTS & CO., PROPRIETORS

301, 303, 305 and 307 Gravier Street,

Country orders solicited. New Orleans.

BOOTS, SHOES AND TRUNKS,

OF VARIOUS QUALITIES AND PRICES

At Low Figures for Cash.

Country Merchants and Planters will do well to give me a call before purchasing elsewhere.

H. MUMME,
No. 93 Magazine street, and
No. 451 Dryades street.

JOHN A. CAIRNS,

GENERAL ENGRAVER,

101 ..... CANAL STREET 101

Wedding and Visiting Cards neatly engraved and printed.

Special attention given to Crests, Monograms, etc., etc. Jewelry and Silverware marked artistically.

ADOLPHE J. LEROY & CO.,

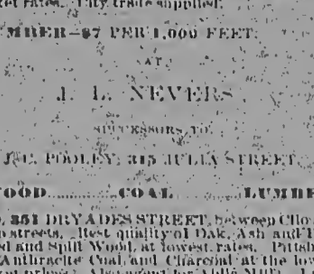
BOOK BINDERS, RULERS,

AND BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURERS,

92 ..... Camp Street. 92

(Over James A. Gresham's.) New Orleans.

Music Books and Periodicals bound in any desired style.



S. ALBERT ROBERTS.

J. A. LUM.

J. A. LUM & CO.,

MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN

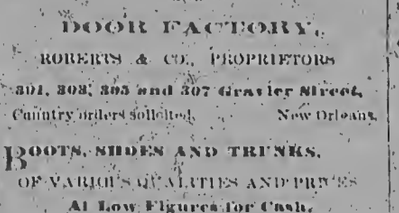
CARRIAGES, HARNESS, ETC.,

143 Gravier and 13 Tulane Street.

A SPECIALTY MADE OF CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

J. H. KELLER,

MANUFACTURER OF



ALL KINDS OF LAUNDRY AND TOILET SOAPS.

JOHN L. ADAMS. JAY L. ADAMS. WM. H. RENAUD

JOHN L. ADAMS & CO.,

WHOLESALE GROCERS,

AND DEALERS IN

PROVISIONS, LARD, OIL, ETC.

Nos. 43, 45 and 47 Peters Street,

(Formerly New Levee street.) New Orleans.

PELICAN

IMPROVED RICE MILLS.

J. B. & A. JOHNSON, PROPRIETORS,

154, 156 and 158 Magazine St., New Orleans.

MILLING RATES—No 1 at 4c. per pound; No. 2 at 3½c. per pound. Address all orders for supply Sacks to P. O. Box 205.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

WILLIAM F. MELLEN, ATTORNEY AT LAW, No. 108 North Fourth street, St. Louis Mo. Special attention to Insurance and Admiralty business. Refers to Messrs. Merrick, Race & Foster, Hon. J. S. Whitaker, Messrs. Pritchard, Bickham & Co., Rev. Linus Parker, and H. S. Buckner and Pierre A. Barker, Esqs., New Orleans.

DR. W. G. AUSTIN,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE,

Corner Jackson and Magazine Streets, New Orleans.

Entrance on Jackson street (Upper City Hotel)

Office hours—8 to 10 A. M. and 3 to 5 P. M.

DR. JOHN W. ADAMS,

SURGEON DENTIST,

Office and Residence—NO. 511 DAUPHINE ST.,

(Late Greatmen street,) one door from corner of Spain, New Orleans.

Nitrous Oxide Gas administered for the painless extraction of Teeth. Teeth inserted on Gold, Silver and Vulcanite bases.

A. L. TUCKER,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

(Late of Franklin, St. Mary Parish, La.)

160 ..... COMMON STREET 160

(Up stairs,) New Orleans

REMOVAL.—A CARD.—In obedience to the expressed wishes of many of my patrons I have removed my office from my residence on Napoleon avenue, to TIVOLI CIRCLE, west side corner of Delord street. This office has been selected by reason of its affording excellent rooms and fine light, and for its central location and ease of access by car lines.

My patrons need scarcely be reminded that no effort will be spared to render them the best service. In Dentistry the best is always the cheapest.

J. R. WALKER, D. D. S.

DR. C. J. BICKHAM,

RESIDENCE AND OFFICE,

610 Magazine St., Corner of Jackson,

NEW ORLEANS.

Office Hours—Eight to nine A. M. and three to four P. M.

DR. J. J. LYONS,

NO. 219 PARONDELET STREET

Between Julia and St. Joseph

New Orleans, La.

E. T. MERRICK, (formerly Chief Justice Louisiana.) W. W. RACE. W. M. FOSTER.

MERRICK, RACE & FOSTER,

ATTORNEYS, COUNSELLORS

AND SOLICITORS,

Corner of Camp Street and Commercial Place, NEW ORLEANS.

MISCELLANEOUS.

GREAT JACKSON ROUTE.

NEW ORLEANS, ST. LOUIS AND CHICAGO RAILROAD

On and after Monday, Nov. 27, 1876, trains depart and arrive as follows, from Canal-Shipp street Depot:

DEPART.

Mail ..... 5.30 P. M.
Accommodation ..... 9 P. M.

ARRIVE.

Mail ..... 11 A. M.
Accommodation ..... 9 A. M.

PULLMAN PALACE SLEEPING CARS TO St. Louis, Chicago, Louisville and Cincinnati.

Only one change of Sleeping Cars to Eastern cities.

Accommodation train runs as far as Brookhaven.

Tickets for sale and information given at No. 27 Camp street, corner of Common, and at City Hotel.

A. D. SHELDON, Agent.
E. D. FROST, General Manager.

PLASTER PARIS MODELS

For Drawing Classes.

BUSTS, MASKS AND STATUES FROM THE Antique, Ancient, Modern, Size, small and Torsos from life.
Fractions of the Human Body
Anatomy from the old Masters:
Animals, Heads of Animals.
Birds & Reliefs.
Brackets, Pedestals, Bologna, Statues,
Fruit and Flowers in Relief.
Large assortment of Leaves in Relief.
Orders by mail promptly attended to. Goods carefully packed and sent to any part of the United States. Trade to call the lines.

R. CASTELVECCHI,
119 Grand street, New York.

H. J. RIVET,

DEALER IN

Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines

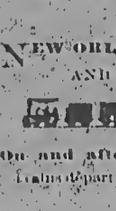
AND PERFUMERY, AND IMPORTER OF FRENCH PROPRIETARY MEDICINES,

Cor. Bienville and Chartres Sts.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Proprietor of the celebrated Peychaud Bitters.

GET THE BEST.



The "CENTENNIAL" Self-Inking Printing Press are the best. Presses from $2 to $75. The "CENTENNIAL" Job Printing Office, complete for boy, send 3 cent Stamp for 36 page Catalogue. Before you buy, send 3 cent Stamp for 36 page Catalogue. Before you buy, send 3 cent Stamp for 36 page Catalogue. Before you buy, send 3 cent Stamp for 36 page Catalogue.

Address, C. W. WATSON, No. 24 Fremont, Ohio.

WM. B. RINGROSE,

NO. 172 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS,

DEALER IN

New & Second-Hand Furniture.

Furniture bought, sold and exchanged. Second-hand Cradles and Spring Beds always on hand. Store 172 Camp St., between Girod and Julia, just above St. Patrick's Church, for the purpose of taking Furniture on storage at the lowest rates. Jobbing, repairing and moving promptly attended to.

YOUR ATTENTION IS RESPECTfully called to the choice stock of

NEW AND SECOND HAND

BAROUCHES, ROCKAWAYS,

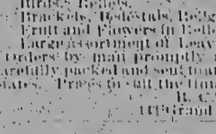
Top and No Top Buggies, Spring Wagons, etc., which are offered at extra bargains with the view of closing out, on account of having to close the concern with my former partner, Jacob Jost, deceased. All Vehicles warranted as represented. Call, examine and secure a bargain.

FRED. WEBER, late Jost & Yeaker,
Tremont Lots Second St., St. Louis, Mo.

Baxter, Bell & Co.'s Pure Liquid Paints

WARRANTED PURE AND NOT TO CONtain Water or Alkali. These Paints are of many different shades, and for covering capacity, durability, impress and beauty of finish they cannot be excelled by any other description of Paint. Liberal discount made to dealers. Send for sample card to the Agents.

SAMUEL M. TODD & CO.,
70 Magazine street, New Orleans.



STRENGTHENED with Exhibitator Mice, Roaches, Ants, Flies, Rats, and Mice sent (per by mail on the receipt of 50 cents each.

W. FICHTENBERG,
70 Fulton street, New York.

MISS LOUISE SCHMITT,

First-Premium Pulvin Corset Maker.

Corsets for Ladies and Children with detective figures are made to order, and guaranteed to perfect fit. No. 263 Camp street, between Delord and Calliope. The Magazine and Prytania street cars both convenient.

YOUR ATTENTION IS RESPECTfully called to the choice stock of

NEW AND SECOND HAND

BAROUCHES, ROCKAWAYS,

Top and No Top Buggies, Spring Wagons, etc., which are offered at extra bargains with the view of closing out, on account of having to close the concern with my former partner, Jacob Jost, deceased. All Vehicles warranted as represented. Call, examine and secure a bargain.

FRED. WEBER, late Jost & Yeaker,
Tremont Lots Second St., St. Louis, Mo.

Baxter, Bell & Co.'s Pure Liquid Paints

WARRANTED PURE AND NOT TO CONtain Water or Alkali. These Paints are of many different shades, and for covering capacity, durability, impress and beauty of finish they cannot be excelled by any other description of Paint. Liberal discount made to dealers. Send for sample card to the Agents.

SAMUEL M. TODD & CO.,
70 Magazine street, New Orleans.

STRENGTHENED with Exhibitator Mice, Roaches, Ants, Flies, Rats, and Mice sent (per by mail on the receipt of 50 cents each.

W. FICHTENBERG,
70 Fulton street, New York.

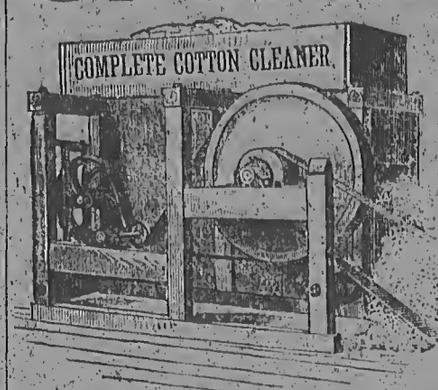
MISS LOUISE SCHMITT,

First-Premium Pulvin Corset Maker.

Corsets for Ladies and Children with detective figures are made to order, and guaranteed to perfect fit. No. 263 Camp street, between Delord and Calliope. The Magazine and Prytania street cars both convenient.

MISCELLANEOUS.

C. C. C.



The Complete Cotton Cleaner, a New, Valuable and Money-making Machine to every Cotton producer or ginner,—thoroughly removes, all Dust, Dirt, Sand and light Trash from cotton before ginning, and improves the quality of the lint from one to four grades.

No gin house should be without one of these "cleaners". It is light, simple, and easily adjusted to either Horse or Steam power, occasioning little or no increased draft, is readily understood, simple in operation, not liable to get out of order, and will pay for itself in less than ten days work.

Manufactured and sold by

Allison Brothers, Memphis, Tenn.

Send for Circulars and Price list.

FRIERSON & CO., Agents, 77 Carondelet St., New Orleans, La.

NATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHER

Edited by M. C. HAZARD. Is undoubtedly the best Teachers' Help published. Has the most thorough, helpful and inspiring lessons, the best corps of contributors, and the most popular editorial departments. Needs only to be examined in order to be taken. Terms, $1.50 per year. Clubs of five or more receive six Lesson Papers with each copy. Sample copy sent free on application to

ADAMS, BLACKMER, & LYON PUB. CO., CHICAGO.

The Centennial Manufacturing Co.,

No. 109 Walnut St., Philadelphia.

Whose Powder Polish is becoming so well known for its labor-saving properties in the cleansing of all Painted Walls, Wood Work, Glass, Tin and Copper Ware, etc., and the removing of any grease spots or other stains from the most delicate Carpets, Woolen or Silk materials without the slightest fear of any ill effect, as to be considered necessary in every family that has once tried it. The Company also manufacture a new article adapted to the Tanner's and Leather Finisher's trade, called

TANNERINE.

It has been but a short time on the market, has attracted the attention of the Shoe and Leather Reporter, The Harness and Carriage Journals, and the Polytechnic Review, all of which journals speak in the highest terms of its merits.

Skins cleaned by this process, which are pronounced equal or superior to French Calf Skins, may now be seen at Mr. Frank's Leather Store on Frederick street, or at the Tannery on the Old Basin, near Broad street. Samples, and all information with regard to it, will be forwarded, free to any address.

WM. L. TROUTE,
Company's Agent,
No. 67 Perdido St., New Orleans.
Agents wanted.

COAL.

Pittsburg, Anthracite and Cannel Coal,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

Coal by boat or barge load, delivered to planters at upper or lower wharf. Steamers coaled at New Orleans and Baton Rouge.

Coal in sacks for shipment to country customers by rail or steamboat.

W. G. WILMOT & CO.,
52 Poydras street, New Orleans.

TO THE PUBLIC.

CERTAIN PARTIES are advertising themselves as being "Sole Agents" for the "best manufacturers of Perique Tobacco" at Grand Point, St. James parish. I would respectfully state that I am for the following manufacturers of Grand Point, St. James parish:

THE DULY AUTHORIZED AGENT

OCTAVE ROUSSEL,
LEWIS ROUSSEL,
AUGUSTAVE ROUSSEL,
F. ST. PIERRE,
And many others.

EDMOND HAUTREGEOIS,
No. 19 Conti street.

J. A. LACROIX,

PROPRIETOR OF THE

Pontchartrain Cheap Store,

COR. FRENCHMEN AND VICTORY STREETS,

Ladies', Misses' and Children's

BOOTS AND SHOES

OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.

Always on hand, a full assortment of first-class goods, at prices which defy competition. Call and examine my stock before purchasing elsewhere. My Motto—Quick Sales and Small Profits.

CISTERN-MAKER.

R. BRODERICK,

NOS. 132, 134 AND 136 JULIA ST.,

Between Camp and Magazine, New Orleans.

Constantly on hand an assortment of Cisterns. Second-hand Cisterns always on hand. All orders promptly attended to.

PHILOSOPHICAL APPARATUS

FOR

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES.

To illustrate all department of Physical Science.

Specialties in Apparatus for Optical and Electrical Science.

Magic Lanterns and Stereopticons.

Views from all Countries, and a specialty of Views to illustrate Scientific Subjects.

Views made to order for scientific purposes. Price on application. Catalogues ten cents each.

JESSE S. THEYNEY,
No. 1 and 2 Bond street, New York.
Successor to James M. Queen & Co.

CHAIR WAREHOUSE.

77 DIFFERENT STYLES OF CANE SEAT CHAIRS, at 67 CAMP CHAIRS, PARLOR FOLDING CHAIRS.

Specialties

CHAIRS for CHURCHES, PUBLIC HALLS, Schools, COLLEGES, Steamboats and Hotels.

Wholesale and Retail.

I. H. WEBER,
414 & 25 N. Sixth St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

ELECTRO STEREO TYPE FOUNDRY.

WOOD ENGRAVING AND PRINTING

OFFICE, CAMPBELL & CO.'S PRESS, 178 Elm St., Cincinnati, O.

Presses and Printing Material.

J. A. ROBIN,

COMMISSION MERCHANT,

117 ..... DELAUNE STREET 117

Near Old Levee,

P. O. Lock Box 57. NEW ORLEANS.

Will attend to the sale of Cotton, Sugar, Rice, Moss, Hides, Wool, Furs, Poultry, Game of all kinds, Beeswax, Honey and every description of Garden Produce. Country orders solicited.

FREE! Samples best article in use; sent free. Reliable, respectable, profitable and pleasant for clergymen, teachers and others of genteel appearance and average ability. Send your letters and address D. P. Ray & Co., Chicago.

AGENTS WANTED.

Goodyear's Pocket Gymnasium

ENDORSED BY THE MOST EMINENT PHYSICIANS

The most complete system of physical exercise ever used for Home Practice. Used in use by men, women, and children. Used standing sitting or reclining. Hundreds of grateful testimonials. For practice colleges, schools, hospitals. Price List.—No. 1 for children 10 to 12 years $4. No. 2, 7 children 6 to 9, $5.50. No. 3, for children 8 to 10, $6.50. No. 4, for children 7 to 11, $7.50. No. 5, for ladies and children 11 years and upward, $8.50. No. 6, for gentlemen of moderate strength, $9.50. No. 7 used by ladies of high organization, $10. No. 8, for gentlemen of extra strength, $11. Full set, family size, each 1 to 7 and 2 and 3 sets, $60. No. 1 and 8 are fitted with a screw eye and hook to attach to the wall or door. A pair of No. 7 and 8 will make a complete gymnasium and Health Lift. Sent postpaid on receipt of price. Exclusive agencies granted in unoccupied territory.

Exclusive rights to sell the Pocket Gymnasium afford the largest possible returns for small investments. Its sales are nearly universal wherever it is placed before the public and its merits fully understood.

For illustrated descriptive circulars, terms, etc., address

Goodyear Rubber Cutlery Company,
P. O. Box 5,153. 697 Broadway, New York.
GENERAL DEALERS IN FANCY GOODS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION

20,000

ORANGE TREES!

BY

W. R. STUART,

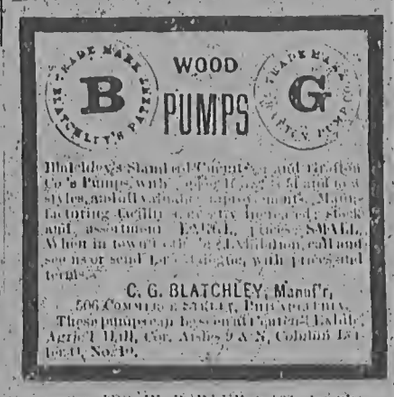
OCEAN SPRINGS, MISS.

LOUISIANA SWEET, MANDARIN, IRAZILIAN, grafted on sour stock, and SWEET SEEDLINGS, well rooted. Price, from 20 cents in bunch, according to age and number wanted.

Also 50,000 SEEDLINGS, for grafting or budding, and for ornamental trees, from 10 cents to 25 cents, according to number wanted.

Trees carefully packed and shipped to any point. No fruit trees will stand transplanting and transporting better than Orange.

I make Orange Trees a specialty. Ly



Blatchley's Standard Cistern and Broken Co.'s Pumps, with self-locking valves, in all sizes and styles, and all modern improvements. Manufactoring facility enables me to keep stock and assortment LARGE, Prices SMALL. When in town call at 24 Mobilion, call and see me or send for circular, with prices and terms.

C. G. BLATCHLEY, Manuf'r,
506 COMMERCE & SARLAT, PHILADELPHIA.

These pumps can be seen in operation at Exhibition Agricultural Hall, Cor. Aisles 9 & N, Column L 21 to 24, No. 10.

IRA W. PORTER & CO., Agents,
Mobile, Ala.

PRUSSIAN SALVE

Trade Mark.

CURES RINGBONES, Spavins, INGROWN NAILS, WARTS, FROSTED FEET, CANCERS and SORES. A sure cure.

J. H. RICHELDERFER,
Manufacturer
1024 Chestnut Street,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Price 50 cts. Sent by mail. For sale by Druggists. Trade supplied. Agents wanted.

I. L. EVANS & CO., Wholesale and Retail Agents, 67 and 69 Commerce St., New Orleans.

Dry Goods Cheap for Cash.

THE ATTENTION of Housekeepers and all others in want of Fancy and Staple DRY GOODS is called to the fact that

P. W. MOHR,

113 MAGAZINE ST., NEW ORLEANS,

is offering his entire stock at ruinously low prices. Call and judge for yourselves.

OTTO ZEITZ,

General Engraver and Book-Binders' Tool Cutter,

Designs made for Side and Back Stamps, 74 N. W. COR. FOURTH AND MAIN STREETS (Second Floor.) CINCINNATI, O.

Rat Trade Mark Cutting Stamps, Shoe Ornamental Stitching Stamps, Burning Brands, Dies, Plates, etc.

ANDREW J. AIKEN. JOHN M. WATT.

AIKEN & WATT,

COTTON FACTORS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS

16 Tulane Street, New Orleans, La.

Special attention given to orders for the purchase and all descriptions of Produce, Agricultural Implements and Plantation Supplies.

F. H. HARDON,

DEALER IN

MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS,

Nos. 27 and 29 Chartres Street,

Ret. Canal and Conti streets,

NEW ORLEANS.

MENEELY & COMPANY,

Bell Founders, West Troy, New York.

FIFTY years established. Church Bells and Chimes; Academy, Factory Bells, etc. Improved Patent Mountings. Catalogues free. No agencies.

OPIUM AND MORPHINE HABIT ABSOLUTELY and SPEEDILY CURED. Painless. No publicity. Send stamp for particulars. DR. CARLTON, 18 Washington street, Chicago. 10

NEW ENGLAND CONSERVATORY OF MUsic. Largest in The World. 1,000 students in ten years. 32 eminent professors. 115 lessons for $15. E. TOURJEE, Music Hall, Boston.

MACHINERY, ETC.

DANIEL PRATT'S IMPROVED

"Revolving Head" Cotton Gin.

PATENTED JULY 18, 1871.

Price Reduced to $4.50 Per Saw.

THIS GIN has been in use for the past three seasons, and several recent improvements have been added. It obviates all friction at the ends of the cotton box, prevents the roll from breaking, and gives a Larger Yield of Lint from the Same Amount of Seed than any other Gin in use. The Revolving Head lightens the draft and causes the Gin to run faster with less driving power, thus doing a great deal more work within the same time, while remaining free from or animal power than any other Gin. The seed being ginned very clean, the length of the staple is increased, producing cotton on this account to a greater market value. This improved value, given by length of staple, with extra production of lint, added to the increased amount of work done, more than covers the cost of the Gin in every 10 bales ginned. Testimonials sent by mail on application.

JOS. B. WOLFE & CO.,

GENERAL AGENTS,

59 ..... Carondelet St. 59

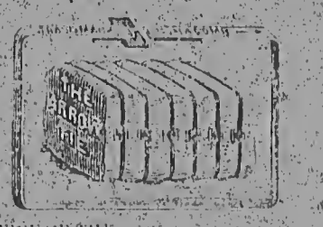
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

BEN. F. WOLFE,

AGENT FOR THE STATE OF TEXAS,

22 ..... Main Street. 22

HOUSTON, TEXAS.



OFFICE OF THE

American Cotton Tie Co.,

(LIMITED)

37 CARONDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS.

TO DEALERS IN

IRON COTTON TIES,

Planters and County Merchants Generally.

We beg to inform you that we are prepared, through our regularly established Agents, to supply the trade in any quantity with the following celebrated Ties:

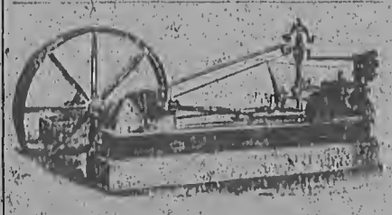
THE ARROW AND SIDE SLIT;
BEARD & HILL'S LOCK TIE.
BRANCH, CRIDER & CO.'S LOCK TIE.

We also beg to inform the public that the interests of Messrs. Beard & Bro., and Branch, Crooker & Co. are now merged into and with the AMERICAN COTTON TIE CO. (LIMITED.) The following are the New Orleans Agents:

Stone & Tutt, Ogden & Hall,
Chism & Boyd, Archer & Harland,
William Dillon, D. L. Ranlett & Co.

For the American Cotton Tie Co. (Limited.)

J. E. W. JAYNE & CO.,
General Agents.



STEAM ENGINES,

BOILERS & MACHINERY

MANUFACTURED BY

L. & E. GREENWALD,

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Having been established upwards of 30 years, we are prepared to supply the best MACHINERY, to Southern and Western planters and buyers, promptly at low prices.

Refer to John Burnside, Esq., and Stephen Albert, Esq., New Orleans, and H. H. Tilson, Esq., of Shreveport, La.

The Cheapest, Simplest, and Strongest TIE in the market. Costs about one-half the price of other ties. Traveling salesmen wanted on liberal commissions. Address H. P. HILLOW, 219 and 221 Market Street, St. Louis, Mo.

PORTABLE and STATIONARY
STEAM ENGINES, STEAM BOILERS.
SAW, FLOUR AND GRIST MILLS.
MILL GEARING MADE
ACCURATE by Patterns.
SHAFTING PULLEYS AND HANGERS
OF THE LATEST AND BEST STYLE.
The UNEQUALLED JAS. LEFFEL DOUBLE
TURBINE WATER WHEEL, 7000 in use.
ADDRESS, POOLE & HUNT,
SEND FOR CIRCULARS. BALTIMORE, MD.

KING SOLOMON

AND THE

IRON WORKER.

The finest Masonic Engravings on Steel ever published. Illustrating a Tradition of the Dedication of the Great Temple at Jerusalem and its Builders. From the original Paintings by Royal Academician,

ENGRAVED BY JOHN SARTAIN.

Universally commended by the Craft. Those desirous of entering the Masonic relating to the work of the Craft should send for circular.

We want a Few Reliable Masons to act as Agents.

It is Sartain's best work, and we think is the finest engraving we have ever seen.—Masonic Chronicle, Cincinnati, O.

"It is a perfect gem of art."—Grand Master, Indiana.

For terms, territory, and circulars, with full information for this and other engravings, address

SHADDEY & CO.,
48 N. Fourth St., Philadelphia.

75 VISITING CARDS, no 2 alike, 1 name, 30 cts. and 1 ct. Stamp. 4 packs, 4 names, $1. Prettiest assortment you ever saw. No better work in the world, at any price! Common Cards at Unheard-of Rates. Write plain. W. C. CANNON, 713 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

TEACHERS WANTED—To supply vacancies in Schools, Academies, and Seminaries in the different States. Send for "Mutual Plan." Address American Educational Union, 717 Broadway, N. Y.

New Orleans Markets.

ADVOCATE OFFICE,
New Orleans, Tuesday, Dec. 12, 1876.

MONETARY.

Owing to the balance of trade being in our favor, large shipments of gold continue to be made from England to this country, which is the principal cause of the decline in that article, in accordance with the law of supply and demand. Coin of all sorts has varied during the past week from 107½ to 108½, closing at buying a year, London, Paris and New York should be market unchanged, as is the case with all.

Bonds and coin collected a little from day to day. Gold is better and held at 32¾, the latter for 57. New York sight exchange ¼ per cent. discount.

SUGAR AND MOLASSES.

Sugar of low grades neglected, while the better grades are firm. Quotations are (per pound, in hogsheads, on the levee.) Inferior, 5½c.; common, 6½c.; fair, 7½c.; prime, 8½c.; choice, 8¾c.; yellow clarified, 9½@10c.; off whites, 9½@10¼c.; white clarified, 11c.; yellow centrifugal, 8¾@8¾c.

Molasses (per gallon; in barrels, from levee, in lots.). Demand fair. Sales made at an advance. Market closed active. Common, 32½@35c.; fair, 42c.; prime, 44c.; choice, 47c.; centrifugal, 38@43c.

COTTON.

COTTON STATEMENT.

	Bales.
Stock in New Orleans	27,858
Net receipts at New Orleans	33,102
Net receipts at New Orleans last year	19,157
Increase	13,945
Net receipts at all ports	2,100,023
Net receipts at all ports last year	1,781,091
Increase	318,932
Stock in Liverpool	463,000
Of which American	180,000
World's supply	1,063,175
Last year	950,175

DAILY MOVEMENT OF NEW ORLEANS, NEW YORK AND LIVERPOOL COTTON.

Day.	Receipts.	Sales.	Market.	Sales.	Market.	Price.	Stock.	Market.	Price.	Stock.	Market.	Price.
Wednesday	1,000	3,000	Steady	1,000	Easy		15,000	Firm		650,000	Firm
Thursday	1,000	3,000	Steady	1,000	Steady		15,000	Firm		650,000	Firm
Friday	1,000	3,000	Active	1,000	Firm		15,000	Firm		650,000	Firm
Saturday	1,000	3,000	Active	1,000	Quiet		15,000	Firm		650,000	Strong
Monday	1,000	3,000	Steady	1,000	Quiet		15,000	Steady		650,000	Steady
Tuesday	1,000	3,000	Steady	1,000	Quiet		15,000	Steady		650,000	Steady
Total	6,000	18,000		6,000		Middling	15,000		Middling	650,000		Middling

DAILY EXCHANGE QUOTATIONS.

Day.	Low Ordinary.	Ordinary.	Good Ordinary.	Low Middling.	Middling.	Good Middling.
Wednesday			10¾	11	11⅜	11⅞
Thursday			10¾	11⅛	11⅜	11⅞
Friday			10¾	11⅛	11⅜	11⅞
Saturday			10¾	11⅛	11⅜	11⅞
Monday			10¾	11⅛	11⅜	11⅞
Tuesday			10¾	11⅛	11⅜	11⅞

DAILY QUOTATIONS AT THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT MARKETS.

Class—Middling.

	Mobile.	Galveston.	Memphis.
Wednesday	11⅛	11⅛	11⅛
Thursday	11⅛	11⅛	11⅛
Friday	11⅛	11⅛	11⅛
Saturday	11⅛	11⅛	11⅛
Monday
Tuesday	11⅛	11⅛	11⅛

GENERAL MARKET.

The continued dullness in all branches of trade produced by fears of the future is causing much suffering among merchants, especially the smaller and weaker class, who find it difficult to obtain funds to meet expenses and pay current bills. Country merchants are indisposed to lay in heavy stocks, buying only sufficient to keep up assortments. Retail dealers all complain of light sales. Prices of all commodities are very low.

Breadstuffs—Are dull. Sales light. Market unchanged.

Provisions.—Demand light. Sales nearly reduced to retail quantities.

Grain and Feed.—Corn is steady. Oats firm. Bran and hay quiet.

Groceries.—Demand small but steady, and for staple goods mostly.

Hardware, Dry Goods, Etc.—Rather more doing in these departments. As the stock of country merchants must be kept up, they order from month to month, and in many instances by every trip of their respective packets.

Rice.—Receipts moderate; demand good. We quote: Prime 5¼c., no choice in market, fair 4¾c., common 3¼c., No. 2 at 2¾c.

TIMBER MARKET.

Yellow pine logs, of 20 inches diameter and over, $6@$7 ₩ 1,000 feet.

Cypress logs, sound timber, free from shake and pecks, and 25 inches in diameter, $7@$10 ₩ 1,000 feet.

Black walnut logs, averaging 34 inches in diameter, and not less than 14 feet long, $20@$25 ₩ 1,000 feet.

White oak logs, of 20 inches in diameter and over, $11@$18.

Poplar logs, of 20 inches and over in diameter, $5@$7.50 ₩ 1,000 feet.

(All rafts are carefully measured, and cubic contents reduced to board measure.)

Cotton wood—For large sound logs, $2.25@$3 ₩ cord.

Ash logs, of 12 inches and over, $2.25@$2.75 ₩ cord.

Sycamore logs, $2.50 ₩ cord.

(Logs measured in cubic measure and contents reduced to cords.)

Demand is good for wood logs at present. There is an occasional call for magnolia, beech and cherry.

Report of Dealers' Cash Prices

AT WHICH

COUNTRY ORDERS CAN BE FILLED.

REVISED AND CORRECTED WEEKLY.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

ARTICLES.	FROM	TO
Cotton scrapers	$4 00	— —
Cotton sweeps	3 00	4 50
Cultivators, Dixon and shovel-tooth	6 25	9 00
Cultivators, riding and walking	20 00	35 00
Shovels and spades	6 35	14 00
Axes	9 50	18 00
Shovel plows	3 00	5 50
Half do., with cutters	6 00	8 00
Mauly's double-shovel plow	5 00	7 00
Straub's corn mills	115 00	280 00
Corn mills, Coleman's	120 00	425 00
T. A. West's corn mill	200 00	— —
Tunnard's corn and pea planter	15 00	— —
Cotton planter	15 00	— —
Wagons, Carts, Etc.:
Wagon, two-horse	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	100 00	115 00
Wagon, two-horse, thim. skein	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	90 00	100 00
Cane wagon	— —	200 00
Ox wagon	80 00	125 00
Ox cart, complete	115 00	— —
Cane cart	110 00	115 00
Tongue cart, complete	— —	120 00
Plantation cart	— —	55 00
Bagasse cart	65 00	75 00
Iron, ₩ lb.:
Swedes, assorted		7½
Flat	6½	7½
Steel	14	7
Nail rods	9	10
Castings, American		8½

BUILDING MATERIAL.

Bricks, ₩ 1,000:
Lake	10 50	14 00
Country	8 00	10 00
English fire	45 00	47 00
Lime, ₩ bbl:
Western	1 50	1 75
Cement	2 00	2 25
Plaster Paris	2 25	2 50
Lumber, ₩ 1,000 feet:
Flooring, dressed	16 00	18 00
Flooring, rough	— —	16 00
Ceiling, dressed	10 00	12 00
Weatherboards, dressed	14 00	16 00
Weatherboards, rough	— —	— —
Scantling	10 00	12 00
Shingles, ₩ 1,000	— —	3 75
Nails, best brands	3 25	— —
Smaller sizes proportionately lighter	— —	— —
Glass, ₩ box of 50 feet:
French, 8 by 10	— —	3 50
French, 10 by 12	3 75	4 00
French, 10 by 14 to 12 by 20	4 00	4 25
French, 14 by 16 to 18 by 30	4 25	4 75
White Lead, best, ₩ lb	— —	10
Paris Green, ₩ lb	— —	— —
Pat. Dryer, ₩ lb	— —	14
Whiting, ₩ lb	— —	1½
Putty, in bladders, ₩ lb	— —	4
Linseed Oil, ₩ gal	— —	50

SASH, BLINDS AND DOORS.

	Single.	Double.
Window Sash, 12 lights:
Size of lights. Weighted. Glazed.	Per pair.	Per pair.
8x10	$1 75	$2 00
10x12	1 90	2 25
10x16	2 50	3 25
Sash Doors:	Single.	Double.
3 feet x 7 feet	$3 50	$3 75
3 feet x 8 feet	4 00	— —
3 feet x 7 feet 6 inches	— —	4 25
Panel Doors:
2 ft. 8 in. x 7 ft. 1¾ in. thick	— —	$3 25
2 ft. 8 in. x 7 ft. 1¾ in. thick	— —	3 45
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1¾ in. thick	$3 75	4 00

GROCERIES.

Butter, ₩ lb.:
Western, choice	24	26
Goshen, choice	31	36
Coffee, ₩ lb.:
Rio, fair	13½	13¾
Rio, good	20	21
Rio, prime	21½	22½
Java, choice O. G	— —	34
Candles, ₩ lb.:
Star, best brands	— —	15
Chocolate, ₩ lb.:
Cocoa	— —	60
Sweet	18	33
Canned Fruits, ₩ doz:
Peaches, strawberries and pears	2 25	2 50
Corn Meal, ₩ bbl:
Best, K. D.	— —	5 00
Cheese, ₩ lb:
Western factory	13	14
N. Y. cream and English dairy	15	16
Fish:
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in kits	— —	2 00
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in kits	— —	3 00
Sardines, quarter boxes	— —	15
Flour, ₩ bbl.:
Superfine	4 75	5 00
XX	5 75	6 00
XXX	6 25	6 75
Choice XXX	6 75	7 25
Choice family	7 50	8 00
Fruits:
Dried apples, ₩ lb	10	10½
Dried peaches, ₩ lb	8½	10
Raisins, ₩ quarter box	— —	80
Raisins, ₩ half box	— —	1 60
Raisins, ₩ whole box	— —	2 75
Bananas, ₩ bunch	1 00	3 00
Crackers, ₩ lb.:
Soda	8	9
Butter	8	9
Sugar	8	9
Gingernuts	8	12½
Oil:
Coal, in cans, best	— —	38
Lubricating, in cans	— —	50
Coal, in barrels, best	— —	33
Lard, in barrels, best	1 10	1 12
Molasses, in barrels:
Common	35	42
Fair	42	45
Prime to choice	50	55
Golden and Rennet syrups	60	65
Half bbls. 5c. and kegs 10c. more.
Rice, Louisiana, ₩ lb.:
No. 2	— —	3½
Ordinary	— —	5
Fair	5½	5¾
Prime to choice	6½	7½
Soap, in boxes, ₩ lb.:
XXX Palm	— —	7
Keller's magnolia	— —	5
Keller's olive	— —	6½
Starch, ₩ lb	— —	5
Salt, in sacks:
Fine	1 35	35
Coarse	1 05	1 10
Sugar, in bbls.:
Good fair	— —	8
Prime	— —	9
Choice	— —	10
Yellow clarified	— —	10½
White clarified	10½	11½
Crushed	12½	12¾
Powdered	12½	12¾
Spices, ₩ lb:
Allspice	— —	18
Pepper	— —	20
Cloves	— —	50
Cinnamon	— —	50
Tea, ₩ lb:
Black Oolong	— —	1 00
Green Imperial	— —	1 25
Tobacco, manufactured, ₩ lb:
Chewing, common	45	50
Chewing, fair	50	55
Chewing, prime	55	65
Chewing, choice	1 00	1 10
Smoking	90	1 00

GRAIN AND FEED.

Corn, ₩ bushel:
Yellow, choice	— —	57
White, mixed	— —	55
Oats, ₩ bushel:
St. Louis	— —	— —
Texas	— —	— —
Ogdens	— —	50
Bran, choice, ₩ 100 lbs	— —	80
Hay, ₩ 100:
Prime timothy	85 00	90 00
Ordinary	— —	70 00
Cotton Seed Meal	26 00	28 00

PROVISIONS.

Bacon, ₩ lb.:
Breakfast	14	14½
Shoulders	— —	8½
Sides, clear rib	9½	9¾
Sides, clear	10	10½
Hams, sugar-cured	13½	16½
Mess Pork, ₩ bbl	18 75	19 25
Dry Salted Meat:
Shoulders	— —	7½
Lard, ₩ lb.:
Choice, in kegs	11½	12
Choice, in tierces	11	11½

BALING STUFFS.

Bagging:
India	10	10½
Jute	12½	13½
Ties, Arrow, best, per bundle, of 40 ties and buckles	— —	3 30
Beard	— —	3 50
Twine, hemp	— —	16

SUNDRIES.

Leather, ₩ lb.:
Sole, hemlock	27	28
Sole, oak	35	40
Harness	35	45
Calfskins, dozen	70 00	75 00
Texas, rough, ₩ lb	24	26
Fertilizers, ₩ ton:
Stern's raw bone superphosph	65 00	— —
Stern's fine ground bone	45 00	— —
Cotton Seed:
In sacks	11 00	— —

DRY GOODS.

Brown Domestic, ₩ yard:
Standard brands, 4-4	7	8
Standard brands, 4-4	9	11
Bleached Domestic, ₩ yard:
Choice brands, 7-8	8	10
Choice brands, 4-4	9	12½
Calico, ₩ yard:
Common brands	4½	5½
Sprague, Allen & Hamilton	6½	7½
Ticking, ₩ yard:
Common brands	15	18½
Good	19	22
Osnaburgs:
Eight ounce	11½	12½
Stripes	10	12½
Checks	14	18
Denims	12	18

BOOTS AND SHOES.

Batchelor mud boots, ₩ doz	36 00	42 00
Common mud boots, ₩ doz	— —	30 00
Common brogans, ₩ doz	12 00	15 00
Batchelor brogans, ₩ doz	15 00	16 50
Russetts' brogans, ₩ doz	16 00	19 50

Special Notices.

A Gem worth Reading!—A Diamond worth Seeing!

SAVE YOUR EYES!
Restore your Sight!
THROW AWAY your SPECTACLES,
By reading our Illustrated PHYSIOLOGY AND ANATOMY of the EYESIGHT. Tells how to Restore Impaired Vision and Overworked Eyes; how to cure Weak, Watery, Inflamed, and Near-Sighted Eyes, and all other Diseases of the Eyes.

WASTE NO MORE MONEY BY ADJUSTING HUGE GLASSES ON YOUR NOSE AND DISFIGURING YOUR FACE. Pamphlet of 100 pages Mailed Free. Send your address to us also.

Agents Wanted,

Gents or Ladies. $5 to $10 a day guaranteed. Full particulars sent free. Write immediately, to DR. J. BALL & CO., (P. O. Box 957, No. 91 Liberty St., New York City, N. Y.

THE SCHOOL FOR BOYS.—Rev. F. M. Grace, A. M., once a professor in the East Tennessee University, and afterward president of Hiwassee College, puts into his paper, the Iron Age, Birmingham, the following notice:

"Hiwassee College closed its annual exercises May 25. We learn from the biennial catalogue that the number of students was one hundred and eighty-six, many of them from Alabama and other gulf States. There is no better school in the world for a boy than Hiwassee. Address President John H. Brunner, Hiwassee College, East Tennessee." cfw

Appointments for Quarterly Meetings.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

SEASHORE DIST.—FIRST ROUND.

Columbia, at Columbia	Jan. 6, 7
Pearlington, at Pearlington	13, 14
Ocean Springs, at Ocean Springs	20, 21
Moss Point, at Moss Point	27, 28
Pascagoula mission, at Salem	Feb. 3, 4
White Plains, at White Plains	10, 11
Chickasawhay mission, at Mutual Rights	Mar. 3, 4
Enon, at Enon	10, 11
Soule mission, at Soule Chapel	17, 18
Westville, at Westville	24, 25
Franklin, at Wesleyana	Apr. 1, 2
Mount Carmel, at Good Hope	8, 9

A full attendance of the district members at the first quarterly meeting is earnestly requested, as important business will be transacted.

My postoffice is Amite City, La.

11 THOMAS PRICE, P. E.

BRANDON DIST.—FIRST ROUND.

Marion and Forest, at Grange House	Dec. 16, 17
Trenton, at Trenton	23, 24
Lake, at Lake	30, 31
Brandon	Jan. 6, 7
Fannin, at Union	13, 14
Carthage, at Hosiun	20, 21
Walnut Grove, at Scotland	27, 28
Newton, at Newton	Feb. 3, 4
Hillsboro, at Hillsboro	10, 11
Philadelphia, at Pine Grove	17, 18
Union, at Smith's ch'l	24, 25
Raleigh, at Oak Ridge	Mar. 3, 4
Homewood mission, at Homewood	5

The district stewards will meet at Lake on Saturday, December 30, at eleven o'clock A. M.

WM. H. LEIGH, P. E.

MERIDIAN DIST.—FIRST ROUND.

Enterprise station	Dec. 16, 17
Shubuta and Mt. Gowan, at Shubuta	23, 24
Meridian station	30, 31
Wayne circuit, at Scott's chapel	Jan. 6, 7
Waynesboro circuit, at Waynesboro	13, 14
Clark mission, at Shady Grove	20, 21
Marion circuit and Lauderdale mission, at Coker's	27, 28
Paulding circuit and Ellisville mission, at Paulding	Feb. 3, 4
Enterprise circuit, at Zion's Hill	10, 11
Shubuta circuit, at Bethel	17, 18
De Kalb circuit, at Pleasant Ridge	24, 25

The district stewards will meet at the Methodist church in Meridian on Wednesday, January 4, 1877, at eleven o'clock A. M.

11 JOHN A. ELLIS, P. E.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Snyder's Curative

PADS.

WORN OVER PART AFFECTED, ABSORB ALL MALARIA FROM THE SYSTEM.

They positively cure the worst cases of Liver, Lung, Heart Kidney, Spine, Bladder and Womb ailments; Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Costiveness, Soreness, or ill of Stomach or Bowels, Female Weakness, Sick and Nervous Headache, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, Restlessness, etc., may be entirely eradicated by wearing one of our Pads. Many of our best citizens can attest to their merit.

The Liver and Lung Pad	$2 00
Kidney and Spinal Pad	3 00
Womb Pad for Female Weakness	3 00

☞ Ask your druggists for "Snyder's Curative Pad," and take no other, or inclose the price in a letter to us, and we will send them by mail. Address

E. F. SNYDER & CO.,
Manufacturers and Proprietors,
Indianapolis, Ind.

☞ For sale by J. L. LYONS, New Orleans.

A General Agent wanted for each State South, with whom a liberal contract will be made to supply the wholesale and retail trade. 26mch

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION
A WEEKLY PAPER FOR YOUNG PEOPLE
AND THE FAMILY

THE COMPANION aims to be a favorite in every family—looked for eagerly by the young folks, and read with interest by the older. Its purpose is to interest while it amuses; to be judicious, practical, sensible, and to have really permanent worth, while it attracts for the hour.

It is handsomely illustrated, and has for contributors some of the most attractive writers in the country. Among these are:

J. T. Trowbridge, Louisa M. Alcott,
Edward Eggleston, J. G. Whittier,
James T. Fields, Louise C. Moulton,
Rebecca H. Davis, C. A. Stephens,
Mrs. A. H. Lenowens, Harriet P. Spofford,
Edward Ev't Hale, Julia Ward Howe.

Its reading is adapted to the old and young; is very comprehensive in its character. It gives

Stories of Adventure,	Stories of Home and
Letters of Travel,	School Life,
Editorial upon Current Tabis,	Poetry,
Topics,	Selections for Declamation,
Historical Articles,	Anecdotes, Puzzles,
Biographical Sketches,	Facts and Incidents,
Religious Articles,

Subscription Price $1.75. Specimen copies sent free. Please mention in what paper you read this advertisement.

PERRY MASON & CO.,
41 Temple Place, Boston, Mass.
6ow

SULLIVAN & BELGER,

NO. 97 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS,

DEALERS IN

Gas Fitters' and Plumbers' Materials,

Gas Fixtures, Pumps, Bath-Tubs, Ranges, Iron, Lead and Tin-lined Pipes, Sheet Lead, Fittings of all descriptions, Brass, Steam, Waterand Gas Cocks, Valves, Plugs, etc. Thirty per cent. discount on Iron Pipe; all other goods in proportion. cow

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE TRUTH AT LAST.

OFFICIAL REPORT

OF THE

Centennial Awarding Committee

ON THE

SINGER

SEWING MACHINE.

THE United States Centennial Commission announce the following report as the basis of an award, to the SINGER MANUFACTURING COMPANY, Elizabeth, N. J., for their FAMILY SEWING MACHINE:

REPORT.

A Shuttle Sewing Machine, embodying the following points of construction, viz.: A needle bar operated from the end of a rotating shaft in the overhanging arm; a shuttle supported in a shuttle carrier, moved transversely to the feed by means of a crank on a rotating shaft; a four-motioned positive feed, and a straight needle, with its eyes parallel with the direction of feed.

For the following reasons:

A SUPERIOR

Family Machine, embodying the greatest number of most approved mechanical devices to impart positive motions to the various parts, simplicity of construction, equal workmanship, excellent quantity and quality of work done, originality, and for completeness of display.

A. T. GOSHORN, Director General."
J. R. HAWLEY, President.
Attest—MYER ASCHE, Assistant Secretary.

COUNTRY ORDERS.

PARTIES residing in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas and adjacent States, who buy their DRY GOODS FOR CASH, are invited to send for samples, which will be forwarded to them Free of Cost and Postage Paid, and where I am favored with an order which exceeds $10 the freight thereon will be prepaid at my expense. Where the order exceeds $20 I will pay the cost of sending the Money, whether by Express Money Order, Registered Letter, Bank Draft or otherwise.

The new postal law permits parcels weighing four pounds or less to be sent by mail, at the rate of one cent per ounce; so that parties ordering less than $10 worth can have their purchases sent to them through their postoffices at a very slight expense. And where they desire packages sent by mail they should make provision for the postage. Goods sent C. O. D. to all points where the Express Company or Packets have Agents.

As a matter of accommodation I will purchase articles outside of my line, which is confined to Fancy and Staple Dry Goods, but will not pay the freight thereon, unless the order for Dry Goods bought of me exceeds $10. No charge will be made for purchasing articles out of my line, to a limited extent.

Articles not corresponding to order can be returned.

Should I not be able to fill the order, the money will be returned in my presence.

No charge made for Cases, Baling, Strapping, Drayage or Insurance.

My personal attention given to Country Orders, having a resident buyer in NEW YORK constantly buying bargains, both at the large Auction Sales and at private sale. I am enabled to sell a large portion of my stock at very low prices, giving my customers the advantage of the bargains thus obtained. I am receiving new goods by every steamer from the North and Europe.

I have been in business more than TWENTY YEARS, and the steady yearly increase affords a gratifying record of fair dealing, to which I refer with pride.

J. A. BRASELMAN,
Nos. 586 and 588 Magazine street,
Cor. St. Andrew, New Orleans.
RELIABLE CASH HOUSE.

THE TRUTH AT LAST

IN REGARD TO

Sewing Machine Awards by the Centennial Commission.

THE Commission's grants awards of equal merit to all of the leading Sewing Machine Companies.

None received higher awards than the HOWE.

It was unanimously decided that the Centennial display of work by this Company has never been equaled.

The Howe was the first, and is consequently the oldest Machine in the market.

To-day we can conscientiously claim the most durable Machine, doing the most perfect stitching and the greatest range of work, and, further, can prove our claim by a practical demonstration.

Late improvements make it one of the lightest running first-class Machines in the market.

For the sake of a high-sounding advertisement we will stoop to no false representations.

With the confusing and bewildering claims of the different Companies before the public we can only invite an examination at the sales-room of

THE HOWE MACHINE COMPANY,
183 CANAL ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Send for price list.

ATTENTION, LADIES!

MME. DEMOREST'S CUT PAPER PATTERNS, of the latest fashions, put up in illustrated envelopes, with full directions for use. Sent by mail to any address on receipt of price. Catalogue free. Address D. P. PERRY,
183 Canal St., New Orleans.

DR.
J. R. Knapp,
145 CANAL STREET,
FIRST CLASS
DENTISTRY.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH which defy detection, and are colorless and serviceable to wear, at GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.
Filling decayed Teeth so as to last for years,
WITHOUT PAIN.
By means of a new invention.
All work guaranteed. Consultations free. Call and examine work and prices. 8ly

FAIRBANKS' SCALES.
GUARANTEED U. S. STANDARD.
FAIRBANKS'
COTTON AND SUGAR BEAMS.
Branch House—53 Camp Street.
FAIRBANKS & CO.

HEATH, PIPPEY & LARA,
IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN
CARPETS, FLOOR OIL CLOTHS,
UPHOLSTERY GOODS, WALL PAPER, Window Shades, Cornices, Lace and Nottingham Curtains, Mirrors, Moldings Chromos, Engravings, etc., etc., etc.
☞ Frames made to order—a specialty.
No. 99 Camp Street, New Orleans.

OPIUM and Morphine habit absolutely and speedily cured. Painless; no publicity. Send stamp for particulars. Dr. Carleton, 187 Washington St., Chicago, Ill.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LEVY BROS.,
580 MAGAZINE ST., NEW ORLEANS
THE MOST POPULAR
DRY GOODS HOUSE
IN NEW ORLEANS.

Keep constantly on hand a select stock of STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS, consisting of Bleached and Unbleached Cotton, Calicoes, Flannel, Dress Goods, Hosiery, Corsets, Ribbons, Cassimere, Delaines, Merinoes, Blankets, etc.

A Specialty Made of Black Alpaca.

Our BELLA Kid Gloves are guaranteed, and money refunded or another pair given in case they rip or tear while putting them on.
Orders from the country strictly attended to.

CROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE DEPOT
MOVED TO
NO. 5 CHARTRES STREET.

A NEW STOCK of the Elastic-Stitch and Lock-Stitch Machines, with a complete assortment of Needles, Parts, Attachments, Silk Twist, Spool Cotton, Linen Thread, Oil, etc., just received and for sale at the lowest cash prices. The above goods are manufactured by and for the Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Company, and warranted the best in the market.

Caution to Our Patrons, Grangers and Their Agents.

There are parties here who are selling imitations of our goods, repainting and patching up old Machines to make them look like new, and selling them as such. No new goods of the above make can be purchased in New Orleans except from us, at No. 5 Chartres street. Agents wanted.

H. H. TRUE,
General Southern Agent.

RICHARD RHODES.
LATE P. CHARLEVILLE,
SPORTSMEN'S DEPOT,
55 ST. CHARLES ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Articles of All Kinds for Fishermen.

Rods, Nets, Hooks, Lines, and every desirable article for the Angler, wholesale and retail.

GUNS, RIFLES and PISTOLS of every variety and of direct importation. Also Sporting materials of all kinds, Game Bags, Shot Pouches, Flasks, and every article needed by Hunters, will be sold at the lowest prices for cash. Also the celebrated "Dead Shot" Gunpowder, Shot, Eley's Shells, Cartridges, etc., of the best quality, wholesale and retail.

R. RHODES.

HOYLE & ENGELHEIM,
SOLE AGENTS FOR
DUPONT'S GUNPOWDER,
And Wholesale Dealers in the celebrated ST. LOUIS SHOT, Percussion Caps, Bar Lead, Etc.,
NO. 32 CANAL STREET,
Corner of Tchoupitoulas, New Orleans.

1877.——Postpaid.——$1.00.

THE NURSERY:
A Monthly Magazine for Youngest Readers.
SUPERBLY ILLUSTRATED. ☞ Send ten cents for a Sample Number and Premium List.
JOHN L. SHOREY,
36 Bromfield Street, Boston.

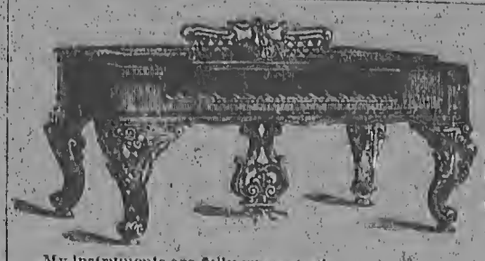
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, ETC.

JACKSON & GALLAGHER,

PIPE ORGAN BUILDERS

915, 917, 919, Walnut St., St. Louis, Mo.

N. B. Church Organs Tuned and Repaired. Send for Illustrated Catalogue.



My Instruments are fully guaranteed.

☞ I AM PREPARED ☜
To furnish all persons with Pianos, Organs, and Musical Merchandise.

You would be surprised to know how accommodating I am. I mean business. Wherever you live, I can save you 25 to 50 per cent.
Address me direct, or through your preacher.
PHILIP WERLEIN,
NOS. 78 TO 90 BARONNE ST.,
NEW ORLEANS.
4 6p

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.

CAREFUL OBSERVERS
IN THE MATTER OF
HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS
Will find it to their interest to examine
THE EXTENSIVE AND COMPLETE STOCK
OF
HOUSEWARE,
Of every description, kept by
W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,
NO. 29 CAMP AND 116 COMMON ST.,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

And they will establish these facts.

1. OUR STOCK IS THE BEST.
2. OUR PRICES ARE THE CHEAPEST.
3. OUR METHODS ARE THE FAIREST.

With more than thirty years' experience in the Crockery trade, we claim a knowledge of the wants of this community second to no one, and can fill them better than any house in the Southwest.

Please note what a little money will do toward adding to your

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS.

$4 00 will buy a White Granite TEA SET of 44 pieces.
6 50 will buy a French China TEA SET, same number of pieces.
10 00 will buy a French China Gold or Colored Band TEA SET, same number of pieces.
18 00 will buy an elegant Porcelain DeTerre (nearly equal to French China in appearance, and far more durable) DINNER SET, comprising 124 pieces, to wit:

12 Dinner Plates,	1 Soup Tureen,
12 Tea Plates,	1 Sauce Boat,
12 Soup Plates,	1 Salad Dish,
12 Preserve Plates,	2 Covered Dishes,
12 Butter Plates,	2 Vegetable Dishes,
12 Tea Cups and Saucers,	2 Pickle Dishes,
12 Dinner Coffee Cups and Saucers,	4 Meat Dishes,

15 00 will buy the same assorted DINNER SET in the best White Granite Ware.
4 00 will buy the best White Granite CHAMBER SET, known as 11 pieces, comprising everything but Slop Jar and Foot Tub.
1 35 per dozen will buy the best White Granite DINNER PLATES.
1 25 per dozen will buy the best White Granite BREAKFAST PLATES.
1 10 per dozen will buy the best White Granite TEA PLATES.
1 00 per dozen will buy good Table GOBLETS.
1 75 per dozen will buy the best Pressed Table GOBLETS.
75 cents will buy a beautiful Glass BERRY SET, Sugar, Cream, Butter and Spoon Holder.
Plain French China DINNER SETS (first choice) 100 pieces, $30.

Gold Band and Decorated DINNER SETS at extraordinarily low prices, and everything else required for housekeeping in any style at prices within the reach of every one.

The above list contemplates first-class, regular goods, of good shapes and sizes, and will give entire satisfaction wherever they are placed.

Charges for packing and drayage: Dinner sets, $1; Tea sets, 50 cents.

We invite inquiries. Catalogues sent on application.

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,
No. 29 Camp street and 116 Common street,
New Orleans.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LATEST STYLES.

ADDRESS
The Singer Manufacturing Co.,
91 CANAL STREET
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

What will the Weather BE TO-MORROW?
THE
Signal Service Barometer
WILL TELL YOU.

It will detect and indicate correctly any change in the weather to 24 hours in advance. It will tell you what kind of a storm is approaching and from what quarter it comes—invaluable to navigators.

FARMERS

can plan their work according to its predictions. It will save 50 times its cost in a single season. There is an accurate thermometer attached which alone is worth the price of the combination. Will send it, express paid, to any address on receipt of $3. Send Money Order or Registered Letter.

AGENTS WANTED. Send for circular.

H. W. POOL & CO.,
835 Broadway, New York.

The Boston Traveler says: "We carefully inspected the above-described Signal Service Barometer, and found it to be as stated by Messrs. Pool & Co., who are honorable and reliable."

6p

PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRY.

A. H. NELSON,
COMMERCIAL STATIONER,
PRINTER, BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURER AND LITHOGRAPHER.

The best assortment of Blank Books in the city. The finest specimens of Lithographic work to be seen in New Orleans.

NO. 57

The Christian Advocate.

PUBLISHED BY ROBT. J. HARP, FOR THE ALABAMA, MISSISSIPPI AND LOUISIANA CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH SOUTH.

VOL. 22. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1876. NO. 51.

THE DIRGE OF THE YEAR.

O'er the mountain drear,
Through the forest sere,
The winter blast is wailing,
And flowerets fair,
In their fragrance rare,
Beneath its might are falling.

Through the cold, black night,
O'er the church-yard's height,
The winter blast is sweeping,
And it seems to sigh,
As it hurries by,
For the dead who beneath are sleeping.

For scattered there,
Like flowerets fair,
Or leaves of the forest dying,
While the winter blast
Comes wailing past,
Our loved and lost are lying.

The minster's bell
In melodious swell
O'er hill and dale is pealing,
[illegible] came
Of the blessed time
Is the grand old tale revealing.

This tale of old
Is once more told
Of the Prince of Peace and Glory,
For the ivy green
In the church is seen,
And tells of the "old, old story."

The old man's tears
For the by-gone years
O'er his wasted cheeks are stealing,
And his silent woe
For his hopes laid low
Awakes at the joy-bells pealing.

Like a shrond of white
Lie the snow-wreaths bright
O'er the friends of his manhood perished,
And the faithful wife
Of a lengthened life,
Whom from youth to age he cherished.

But not in vain
Is the sacred strain
Which the Christmas chimes are ringing:
As the joy-bell rings,
To the King of kings
The old man's hopes are clinging.

Dublin University Magazine.

News of the Week.

DOMESTIC.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 13.—Early yesterday a rush of ice from a point north of here forced itself upon the ice in the harbor opposite this city, and carried it down stream with great rapidity, taking with it several steamers lying at the bank in the southern part of the city. The Fannie Kenner sunk opposite the arsenal, probably a wreck. The Southern Belle and Jennie Baldwin also sunk; loss not heavy, being small boats. Among others carried down are the Centennial, Alex. Mitchell, Minnesota, Bayard and Davenport.

Later reports show that nearly all the boats of the Keokuk and Northern line were in winter quarters, and supposed to be secure from damages. When the ice started the steamers were forced from their moorings and carried down the stream. The War Eagle and Golden Eagle, two large, valuable boats, are on shore in such a manner as to block the passage, and other boats crowded in and caused a complete jam.

The ice moved several times during the afternoon and night, and forced the boats upon one another, doing great damage. The Centennial had almost all of her upper works torn away; the Mitchell was crushed nearly to pieces; the Davenport sunk; the Bayard is almost completely destroyed; the Rock Island, War Eagle, Golden Eagle and Andy Johnson were all badly damaged. The Rob Roy and Northwestern, which were uninjured, raised steam, and the Red Wing and Minneapolis, with lumber barges, were pulled out and taken to the bar, about a quarter of a mile below the arsenal, where they were considered safe. At midnight it was thought the hulls of the Centennial and Andy Johnson would be saved. The Golden Eagle and War Eagle might be rescued in a very leaky condition. The loss is roughly estimated at $200,000. No insurance on the boats of the Keokuk and Northern line. The Mitchell, War Eagle, Golden Eagle and Andy Johnson belonged to the Keokuk line. The Centennial was owned by Thomas W. Davidson, and cost $40,000.

ROOMS NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE,
Washington, D. C., Dec. 13, 1876.

To the People of the United States:

The National Democratic Committee announce as the result of the Presidential election, held on the seventh of November, the election of Samuel J. Tilden, of New York, as President, and Thomas A. Hendricks, of Indiana, as Vice President of the United States. We congratulate you on this victory for reform. It now only remains for the two houses of Congress, in the performance of their duty on the second Wednesday in February next, to give effect to the will of the people thus expressed in the constitutional mode by a majority of the electoral votes, and confirmed by a majority of all the States, as well as by an overwhelming majority of all the people of the United States.

By order of the Executive Committee.

ABRAM S. HEWITT, Chair'n.
FREDERICK O. PRINCE, Sec.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13, 1876.

An address has to-night been issued by the Democratic committee. It is the last desperate attempt to prop a falling cause. Gov. Hayes has been fairly elected by a clear majority of the electoral votes. There is no indication that any right-minded citizen has a doubt as to the result. The address of the Democratic committee is an impudent and audacious attempt to prejudice and pervert the public judgment. Hayes and Wheeler are elected, and the will of the American people will be carried out and maintained.

Z. CHANDLER,
Chair'n Republican Nat. Com.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 14.—The inauguration of Gov. Hampton took place in front of Carolina Hall this afternoon. The square in front of the hall was densely packed by persons of both races, and the housetops were covered with spectators. At half-past three P. M. Gov. Hampton was escorted to the stand amid demonstrations and great enthusiasm. The members of the General Assembly occupied the space immediately surrounding the stand, with the crowd in the rear. Gov. Hampton then read his inaugural address.

NATCHITOCHES, LA., Dec. 14.—The steamer Homer sank opposite Payne's Landing, on Red river, at half-past three P. M. to-day. The cabin passengers were all saved. Ten deck passengers were lost. The boat and cargo are a total loss.

BUFFALO, Dec. 15.—Rev. Simon Howard, Presbyterian missionary for forty years in the Holy Land, is dead.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The following explains itself:

WASHINGTON, D.C., Dec. 10, 1876.

To Editor Constitutionalist, Augusta, Ga.:

The statement going the rounds of the papers that I am advising a friendly acceptance by the people of the South of the inauguration of Mr. Hayes is utterly unfounded. I never have and never shall advise them or any other people to give a friendly acceptance of any administration inaugurated by the grossest frauds and most palpable usurpation.

While I might not advise forcible resistance to an administration thus inaugurated, yet I never could give it the sanction of my approval or friendly acceptance. For the overthrow of such a dynasty I should rather appeal to the peaceful instrumentalities of the constitution. There are the legislative halls, the judiciary and the ballot-box, the latter of which should ever be held as sacred as the ark of the covenant.

ALEX. H. STEPHENS.

BROWNSVILLE, TEXAS, Dec. 17.—Several merchants from the interior of Mexico arrived here yesterday, and they confirm the news of the capture of Lerdo, and the death of Escobedo, and the capture of the city of Mexico by Gen. Diaz. Iglesias, from Leon, ordered Diaz to hold the city of Mexico and proclaim the presidency of Iglesias, which Diaz declined to do, unless he could name four members of the cabinet. This was refused by Iglesias, when Diaz proclaimed himself provisional president, and the revolution now continues between the rival pretenders, who are preparing for the new struggle. Reynoltas still holds Matamoras, and refuses all communication with the revolutionary chiefs until some one of them can show proper authority from Iglesias to demand the Plaza, which none of them have, and he positively refuses any communication with the bandit Cortina. His soldierly conduct would make him many friends but for the fact that he is proceeding to collect a tax of three per cent. on merchants, which they protest is unlawful and arbitrary. Gen. Rocha is still here endeavoring to get Reynoltas to turn over to him. At present all is an uncertainty as to affairs in Mexico, as it is not known which may prove the stronger, Diaz or Iglesias.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 18.—There was another unsuccessful ballot for United States senator in the Democratic House to-day. Everything quiet. The Congressional and Senatorial committees are working actively but quietly. There are rumors of a compromise between the Republicans and the Democrats, favorable to the latter.

OMAHA, Dec. 18.—Seven car loads of silk worm eggs, valued at $3,000,000, passed eastward.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—A Reuter dispatch from Paris announces that the following telegram from Constantinople was received there to-day: At the preliminary meeting of the conference yesterday, under the presidency of Gen. Ignatieff, the Russian embassador, the plenipotentiaries commenced by discussing the questions concerning Servia and Montenegro, and agreed upon the following points, which will be officially sanctioned later: The conference admitted the expediency of a rectification of the Montenegrin frontier, to be determined by an international meeting at Ragusa. It would comprise the addition of eleven districts, all named, to Montenegro.

The Prince of Montenegro would go to Constantinople to pay homage to the Sultan for the new territories conceded to him.

The conference admitted that the Servian territory should be evacuated by the Turks, the prisoners of both sides returned, and the armistice prolonged until the conclusion of peace. It was further agreed that the valley of the Drina should be regarded as the western frontier of Servia—this rectification implying the definite cession of Little Zwornick to Servia. These first results confirm the expectations of an understanding between the powers.

The Times' Vienna dispatch reports a greatly improved feeling on the part of Turkey.

A special from St. Petersburg to the News says: Great hopes of a peaceful solution are entertained in the highest quarters.

The correspondent of the Standard at Constantinople telegraphs the following: I learn from undoubted authority that the conference will certainly result in peace, a mode of satisfying all just demands and providing sufficient guarantees having been found.

PARIS, Dec. 12.—The crisis is ended. M. Simon has been appointed president of the council and minister of the interior, and M. Martel minister of justice. Dufaure and Marcere retire. The other ministers remain as at present.

VIENNA, Dec. 13.—A correspondent of the Times states: Confirmation comes from Constantinople that quite an unexpected and marked approach has been effected between the views of Russia and England. This seems due, above all, to the assurances given by Gen. Ignatieff concerning the aims of Russian policy.

LONDON, Dec. 14.—A Reuter telegram from Constantinople states that preliminary conferences are progressing rapidly. The plenipotentiaries themselves affirm that the conference is in a fair way toward a successful issue.

PARIS, Dec. 14.—Dispatches on the bourse report a two months' prolongation of the armistice.

PARIS, Dec. 15.—Le Temps announces that the Russian embassador in Paris has received a letter from Prince Gortschakoff declaring Russia's instructions to Gen. Ignatieff. The Russian plenipotentiary at the Eastern conference will show that she has not arrived at an irrevocable decision. The movements of Russian troops should not cause surprise. The minister of war merely wished to prepare himself while diplomacy was endeavoring to avoid a conflict.

LONDON, Dec. 15.—The Standard's dispatch from Alexandria states on good authority that the Khedive is dissatisfied with his American officers, and has notified them that the contract will not be renewed.

BELGRADE, Dec. 18.—It is believed an armistice to the first of May is about being concluded.

WHY WE USE THE RIGHT HAND.—The habit of using the right hand in preference to the left among those people whose monuments date from the remotest antiquity appears to be a universal fact, and this is accounted for by the anatomical mechanism of the human body. It is known that the right lung, liver-lobe and limbs exceed in size those of the left side, involving, of course, a greater amount of tissue structure and a larger supply of nerves and blood vessels for their nutrition. A person walking in a dense fog figures with his feet the segment of a circle, and, if he is right-handed, he takes a direction to the left, because the right leg naturally takes a longer stride. The left side of the brain is larger than the right, and, as it appears that the power of verbal articulation in the right-handed is confined to a certain convolution on the left side, the conclusion is arrived at that, in speaking and thinking, the left side of the brain is used, this being the result of dextral education. The opinion has also been expressed by some medical writers that amnesia and aphasia in right-handed men indicate disease of the left brain, and that summer palsy and writer's cramp show the results of excessive working of the left brain.

COME TO CHRIST AT ONCE.—I say to every man who is within the hearing of my voice: If there are any of you who have made up your mind that you will be Christians when God shall enlighten your consciences, and shall enable you to judge between right and wrong, and who are waiting for such enlightenment, you are waiting needlessly; for there is not a man in this community who does not, in regard to the great essentials of life, know what is right and what is wrong. In the large departments of life you are just as sure of what is right and what is wrong as you ever will be. Heaped up your conclusions have been. You have stores of conclusions on this subject. The trouble is that you want motive power. And there are hundreds of men who, if they would forsake the evil that they know, and perform the right that they know, would find the first result to be feeling that their convictions, their moral sense, had become more powerful and sensitive.

Among the forms of insect life there is a little creature known to naturalists which can gather around itself a sufficiency of atmospheric air, and, so clothed upon, it descends into the bottom of the pool; and you may see the little diver moving about dry, and at his ease, protected by his crystal vesture, though the water all around be stagnant and bitter. Prayer is such a protector; a transparent vesture—the world sees it not; a real defense—it keeps out the world. By means of it the believer can gather so much of heavenly atmosphere around him, and with it descend into the putrid depths of this contaminating world, that for a season no evil will touch him, and he knows when to ascend for a new supply. Communion with God kept Daniel pure in Babylon.—Dr. Hamilton.

Two Icelanders, Jow Thorkellsson and Sligindur Wraksson, recently descended into and explored the interior of an Icelandic volcano. These adventurous Norsmen, the first who have ever undertaken such an errand, penetrated three thousand feet into the crater of an active volcano, Asya, in Iceland, and there witnessed all the symptoms of an actual eruption. At the bottom they discovered, seething and bubbling amid cloud sounds of reverberating thunder, a lake of boiling hot water. They also saw an opening six hundred feet wide, but were prevented from entering by the volumes of sulphurous smoke which effectually barred their further progress. They returned, however, with much information of a scientific character.

A city young man who read: "Now is the time for husking bees," chased a bee fifteen minutes to ascertain what kind of a husk it had on.

Ulric Zwingle.

"A good preacher," said the eloquent Zwingle, "will win souls not by enforcing religion, but teaching the gospel, just as it is in God's word. He will attract to what is lovable by presenting in his own life an example of humility, patience, purity. If he is an able adviser in worldly matters, a tender, genial friend to rich and poor, doing his duty through evil and good report, banishing self, without guile or malice, aiming only at God's glory, he is a faithful preacher of the gospel, a real physician of souls, a follower of Christ and the apostles." In this sketch it is said he was, though unconsciously, drawing a life-like picture of himself.

Ulric Zwingle, the earliest preacher of the Reformation, was the son of a magistrate of Wildenhaus, Switzerland, born January 1, 1484. He was sent for his education to Berne, where he acquired so high a reputation for scholarship as to be eagerly sought by the order of Dominicans. At twenty-two years of age he was appointed pastor at Glavis, and became a prominent preacher of the times. He was expelled, however, for expressing new ideas on religion, and for avoiding penances and other practices of the church. In 1516 he entered the monastery of Notre Dame des Ermites, where he met with some noble spirits. With Geroldsech, director of the abbey, he formed a life-time friendship. Together they read the Bible and liberal writers, and discoursed of the ignorance and corruption so prevalent, and formed important plans to be executed afterward. In the close intimacy of the confessional he prepared the people to dispense with it.

Zwingle was one year in advance of Martin Luther in openly proclaiming against the sale of indulgences, respecting which each one was for a time ignorant of the other's views. These men possessed the same love of truth and the same fearless courage in applying it to the wants of the world. Luther depended on the energy of his native genius, while Zwingle had the advantage of the finest instructors, a classical education, and a calm, thoroughly disciplined soul. He was intimately acquainted with the Greek Testament, and the Greek authors. His captivating powers as an orator drew great crowds to listen to his searching discourses.

The Senate of Zurich had directed him to visit every canton in the curacy, to expound the New Testament, and discard everything not taught there. His course excited strong opposition. Attempts were made for his assassination, and the magistrates of Zurich surrounded his house with a nightly guard.

In 1523, after he had returned to the Romish Church his salary of fifty florins, Pope Adrian the Sixth wrote to him, offering a new pension and distinguished honors if he would hold his peace, adding: "Your well-known zeal and fidelity induce us to present such testimonials of our regard. We send our embassador to carry such tokens, being confident of your devotion to our cause, and that you will do all in your power to promote our interests." Far from yielding to such seductions, Zwingle gave himself more publicly to the spread of the gospel, and to establishing more firmly among the Helvetians the truths of the Bible.

Zwingle was a strong advocate for law and order. He preached a powerful sermon, entitled "Divine and Human Law," in which he earnestly insisted on the necessity of submitting to lawful government, and rejected with scorn the idea that the Reformation favored insubordination. He was at once a vigorous theologian, a warm friend to progress, and an ardent patriot.

In 1525 he was elevated to the rectorship of the gymnasium by the authorities of Zurich. Here he performed acceptably the threefold duties of preacher, writer and professor, and the same year the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was celebrated for the first time as a simple commemoration.

But Zwingle's life came to a sudden close. Five of the Roman Catholic Swiss cantons had put themselves against the Reformers in battle array at the same time, aided by the powers of Austria. October 10, 1531, there was a heavy battle, three leagues from Zurich. The Reformers were overwhelmed, and their most valiant, prominent men were slain. Zwingle fell at the front, lance in hand, cheering his comrades. Looking up to heaven, he exclaimed: "What is it that I fall! The body may perish—the soul lives!"

Being seized by the enemy, he was asked whether he would confess. On his refusal he was instantly pierced to the heart. His body was burned, and his ashes scattered by the executioner.

But the cause for which Zwingle lived and died was triumphant. The temporary defeat was followed by successive victories, that secured peace and equal liberty and rights to the Roman Catholic and the Protestant.—Translated from Les Protestants Celebres, by Sarah Gould, in Christian Intelligencer.

A case of general average—"Aren't you rather obliged for half price?" said a car conductor to the elder of two boys. "Well," remarked the youth, "I am under fourteen, and this boy with me is only six. That don't make twenty, and you will take two boys under ten for half price each"—and he took them.

THE LORD WILL PROVIDE.—A mother, one morning, gave her two little ones books and toys to amuse them while she went up stairs to attend to something. A half hour passed quietly away, and then one of the little ones went to the foot of the stairs, and in a timid voice called out:

"Mamma, are you there?"

"Yes, darling."

"All right," said the little one, and went on with her play. By and by the question was repeated:

"Mamma, are you there?"

"Yes, darling."

"All right," said the child again, and once more went on with her play.

And this is just the way we should feel toward Jesus. He has gone up stairs, to the right hand of God, to attend to some things for us. He has left us down in this lower room of this world to be occupied here for awhile. But to keep us from being worried by fear or care, he speaks to us from his word, as that mother spoke to her little ones. He says to us: "Fear not; I am with thee. I will never leave thee nor forsake thee." "Jehovah-Jireh, the Lord will provide."—Rev. Dr. Newton.

The following on "donation parties," from the Burlington Hawkeye, is rather overdrawn, but the point of it is none too sharp: "The donation party season is opening rather early this year, and the ministers are wishing they had put off their centennial holidays. The other night they had a donation party at a minister's out on North Hill. They brought him two dollars' worth of beans, four dollars' worth of wood, and a dollar's worth of potatoes, and ate up five dollars' worth of cake, one dollar's worth of cream, one dollar's worth of apples, two dollars' worth of nuts, broke seven dollars' worth of furniture and knick-knacks, ruined a sixty-dollar carpet by breaking a lamp on it, and finally went away and left the gate open, and a forty-five-dollar cow got out and hasn't been seen nor heard of since. The next day the sufferer went around and rallied the clergymen of the city, and they formed an 'anti-donation society league.' They have sent on to Chicago for terrier dogs and shot-guns, which are expected to arrive some time next week."

We notice some recent investigations in regard to the trichinæ of pork, which should induce us in this warm season to be careful about using it until it is well and thoroughly cooked. The per cent. of swine suffering from this terrible pest varies greatly in different countries. It is said, for instance, that about three per cent. of our own hams, take the country through, are trichinous. In the hams that come from South America, where the hogs are largely fed on the refuse of the sugar mills, the ratio rises to five per cent., while the Germans insist that but one hog in ten thousand with them is found to be actually suffering in this way. They ascribe the greater spread of the trichinæ here to the fact, that among us the hogs are so frequently fed with the offal of the slaughter-house. The trichinæ seem to be about the same everywhere, and produce the same effects. In the commencement the digestive organs are affected. When the insects enter the muscles these become very sore and lame, with attendant severe pain. Then follow dropsy and death rapidly; or, in a few cases, death finally follows a slow wasting away of several months.—New York Christian Advocate.

THE CHRISTIAN IN THE WORLD.—A true Christian living in the world is like a ship sailing on the ocean. It is not the ship being in the water which will sink it, but the water getting into the ship. So in like manner the Christian is not ruined by living in the world, which he must needs do while he remains in the body, but by the world living in him.

The world in the heart has ruined millions. How careful are mariners in guarding against leakage, lest the water entering into the vessel should by imperceptible degrees cause the vessel to sink. And ought not the Christian to watch and pray, lest satan thus entering in bring him to destruction, both to body and mind? The world and the things of the world press upon us at all points. Our daily avocations, yea, our most lawful enjoyments, have need to be narrowly watched, lest they insensibly steal upon our affections, and draw our hearts away from God.

MARRIED.

ADAMS—PUGH.—At the residence of Dr. W. S. Mitchell, on Thursday, December 14, 1876, by the Rev. J. F. Girardi, J. S. Adams, of New Orleans, to Miss Augusta S. Pugh, youngest daughter of the late James T. Pugh, of Assumption parish, La. No cards.

CLATON—LOPER.—At the residence of the bride's father, in Jasper county, Miss., November 16, 1876, by Rev. T. Y. Armstrong, Mr. E. J. Clatton, of Lauderdale county, Miss., and Miss Rebecca Loper. May their lives be long and happy.

CLATON—HARVY.—At the residence of the bride's mother, November 23, 1876, by Rev. T. Y. Armstrong, Mr. William H. Claton and Miss Corrilla Harvy, all of Lauderdale county, Miss. May they ever have sunshine and peace through life.

In a suburban school a teacher gave out the word "psalter" to a class in spelling. It was a "poser" to all till it reached the foot of the class, when a curly-headed little fellow spelt it correctly; and, on being asked to define it, shouted out: "More salt!"

The Unbelief that Troubles.

It is that of faith in God, but not in Christ. "Ye believe in God, believe also in me," was the remedy Jesus gave his disciples for their sorrow. Let not your heart be troubled. As God is divine, possessing all power in heaven and earth, so am I divine, possessing all power in heaven and earth. Therefore, as you thus "believe in God, believe also in me." Being divine—being God—though I go away, I will be present with you.

The trouble of the disciples is the trouble of the world to-day. Their cure is our cure.

It seems easy for men to believe in God—in his actual being, in his attributes, in his interest in the affairs of men even, but not in Christ. God is everywhere present in nature. There is a solid body of solid witnesses. The physical world, in all its grandeur and sublimity, lies out before them. And when there is a voice within struggling to proclaim, "There is no God," another louder and stronger voice cries: "Thou fool!" "Ye believe in God, believe also in me." Christ is God.

There is an active, real rejection of Christ as the divine Son of God—as God himself. Men can write books, ostensibly religious, without a mention of his blessed name. Their hearts harden toward him, and attempt to get to God without his mediation. Such have great trouble. They have a God without means of finding his presence. As to the way in which they reach this state, and the strangeness of it, we pass for the present.

But there is a practical unbelief in Christ commanding more of our sympathy. This is found in the multitude of men and women around us. There is no question as to his divinity, of his sonship, of his godhood, of his power to save; but it practically avails nothing. They are not saved from sin and made clean by his blood. Many say: "Lord, Lord, but do not the things he commands." They are "troubled." Their Lord is taken away, and they know not where he is laid.

Unbelief in Christ destroys hope. There can be no true, real hope in God and heaven but through faith in Christ. No man can get to the Father but by the Son. He is the Daysman. There is a sort of general notion of and reliance on God's mercy, giving men a delusive, false hope. But sad is the state and hopeless the heart and troubled the life of him who believes not in Christ.

It destroys also charity—love to God and love to man. We may have all knowledge and all wisdom, and apparently benevolence, but without this charity man is only a sounding brass and tinkling cymbal. "Now abideth faith, hope and charity"—a precious trinity. But they are linked together—they cannot be divorced. Faith in Christ brings hope. Faith and hope bring charity.

Without faith in Jesus, without hope in God, without charity to all, what is man? He is desolate, truly. His heart will be troubled. He is disqualified for life's duties and obligations. He is unprepared to seek a wife—she to seek a husband. As husband, father, neighbor, friend and citizen he is shorn of his strength, wisdom and courage. The motives prompting to action are all gross and tend to death, only as they are inspired by the grace of the Lord Jesus.

Having no promise of the life to come, the man has no promise of the life that now is. The spiritual and temporal are divinely joined. Faith in Christ only prevents men from divorcing those that God hath joined. The temporal become gross and dangerous when unsanctified by the blessings of God. Men become selfish, covetous and unclean. He has no promise of the life that now is, nor of the one to come. His moral forces become desolate wastes. Unprepared to live right and unprepared to die right, to the extent of his influence he becomes an enemy of man, as well as of God. His life tends to separate others from Jesus. He is a double curse, and works a double death. His sorrows are bitter, his troubles grievous, his losses great. He has no healer for the wounds of life, and finds no balm in Gilead.

The unbelief that brings trouble is unbelief in Christ as God. "Ye believe in God, believe also in me."

D.

No man should part with his own individuality and become that of another.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1876.

GOOD-NIGHT

Good-night!
Thus the weary we invite,
Waning day to silence flows,
Now all busy hands repose,
Till the darkness wakes to light,
Good-night!

Seek repose!
Let the weary eyelids close
Silence reigns in all the street,
Save the watchman's measured beat,
And the night breathes, as still we Seek repose!

Good-night!
Sleep till day-spring wakes on high,
Fearlessly, until the day
Strews new cares upon thy way
Watchful is the Father's eye,
Good-night!

Ola's Trial.

"Are you going to the party, Arthur?"

"No."

"What! not going? Why not?"

"You know I belong to the church now, and the rules prohibit dancing."

"Pshaw! What of that? These Methodists here are as antediluvian as Wesley or Fletcher. In this progressive age all such old-fashioned notions are ridiculed, or should be. I don't believe there is any harm in dancing. The church allows it everywhere else. When I was in Molton I knew a dozen or more members that attended dancing parties, and the church took no notice of the matter whatever. We'll miss you, Arthur, if you don't go. Fred. Hollingsworth is here, and he'll be sure to be there. It's evident he came here to see Miss Ola, and if you don't watch him he'll win the prize yet."

"Fred. Hollingsworth here! When did he come?"

"Yesterday. Why, Arthur, what a recluse you are making of yourself lately. I have not met you before in a week."

"I have been away on business, four or five days; reached home after dark last night."

"Well, I have an engagement this evening, and must leave you. I'll expect to see you at the party."

"I'll go, I reckon. Good-by."

"I hit the mark that time. I knew he would go if he knew Fred. was here," soliloquized Everett Russell as he walked on. "I really thought Arthur had more firmness. How he loves Miss Ola! I'll try Leighton; perhaps I can persuade him to go. I don't like the church any way, and intend to get back all the members I can."

"Good-evening, Leighton. You are going to the party to-night, I suppose, are you not?"

"No, sir."

"Ah, indeed! Why not?"

"I've joined the church now, and do not attend such places."

"There it is again. Just what Arthur Dudley said at first, though he finally concluded to go."

"Is it possible! Is he going? I am sorry to hear it."

"Yes, he is going, and you must go too. We can't well do without you. Really you must go, if it is only to oblige me."

"I would like to oblige you, but I can't go."

"But, Leighton, there can't be any harm in dancing; and if you won't dance, go—the more the merrier, you know."

"No, I had about as soon dance as to go. Five weeks ago I took upon myself the vows of the Methodist Church to subject myself to the discipline of the same, and to support its institutions; and I am sure, were I to attend this party, I would be wandering away from what I know to be my duty. No, Everett, if Arthur will, let him go. His decision does not influence me in the least."

"Well, if you won't go, I must leave you. Good-day," and Everett Russell walked away with more respect for Leighton than when he entered his lowly workshop.

"Hurrah for Leighton!" he said. "He is the right sort, after all. When a man takes such solemn, binding vows, let him abide by them. He is right. If ever I join the church I mean to observe the rules, and not bring reproach on the membership."

And what of Leighton Leicester? He returned to his work with a happiness in his heart entirely new. This was his first temptation since he united with the church, and, having the courage to resist it, he was rewarded with a joy hitherto unknown—an abiding consciousness of having discharged his duty. Leighton Leicester was the only son of a widowed mother. With two children—Leighton and Mary—Mr. Leicester and his wife, some fifteen years ago, had moved from an adjoining State, and settled in the quiet little village of L. Mr. Leicester was a mechanic by trade—a just and worthy man, respected and beloved by all who knew him. By their industry and economy they managed to educate their children, and live comfortably. Four years before our story begins Mr. Leicester had died, and two years after Mary married and moved to a distant State. Leighton still lived with his mother; and, like his father, a mechanic, was respected and beloved by all around him. In the quiet village of L. aristocracy was unthought of; and though some of the wealthiest men of the State resided there, except an occasional trip to some watering-place in summer, or to the city in winter, they lived as retired as their poorest neighbors. Rich and poor mingled together in uninterrupted peace and harmony.

Miss Ola Vaughn was the pet and pride of the village, but adulation had no power to destroy the beauty of her heart. Unconscious of her worth and power, she went about doing good to the poor around her. In childhood she had attended the same school with the other children of the village, many of whom were her classmates; and though her father sent her off to the high school to finish her education, she returned to L. the same warm-hearted girl. She was the only daughter of Mr. Vaughn; and it had always been a settled thing, by the villagers, that some day the houses of Dudley and Vaughn would be united by the marriage of Mr. Arthur and Miss Ola. They had been almost constant companions for fifteen years. Was it surprising that they loved each other? Miss Ola, during her stay in the city the preceding winter, had formed the acquaintance of Mr. Hollingsworth, who, being fascinated by her unpretending beauty and manner, had come out to L. to lay his hand and fortune at her feet. Arthur had never encountered a rival before, and the knowledge of Fred.'s visit rendered him very uneasy. "I know," he said, "I will be violating the rules of the church if I go to this party; but shall I sit with folded hands and see Fred. bear off the prize? It is true I can see her to-morrow; but then it may be too late. I know he came here to see her, and how do I know but she may accept him? I have always thought that some day we would marry, though I have never spoken a word on the subject. I am sure I love her better than life; but how do I know she reciprocates my affection? I will go to the party. Yes, I will go, and learn my fate to-night." When, at a late hour, he entered Mrs. Circey's parlors, handsome men and beautiful women were merrily dancing. He paused at the threshold to observe the company, and was not long in singling out from among the lovely faces that met his gaze the one that had proven the load-star of his life. As he stood regarding her, as she gayly laughed and talked with her partner, Mr. Hollingsworth, all the fiends of purgatory seemed to invade his senses, and the green-eyed monster made him his victim. After a few minutes he made his way through the crowd to his hostess, and in the pleasant salutations forgot his temporary embarrassment. The dance being ended, he was accosted by scores of friends, for he was a favorite everywhere. Chancing to glance across the room, where he had last seen Miss Ola, he saw her start and turn pale as she recognized him. Mr. Hollingsworth noticed her agitation, but, ignorant of the real cause, proposed a walk on the veranda, as the warmth of the room was oppressive. She quietly acquiesced, and permitted him to lead her away. Though she endeavored to rally and appear affable, her companion knew a change had come over her usually buoyant spirits; and when, a few minutes later, she saw Arthur take his place on the floor among the dancers she felt faint and heart-sick. Excusing herself to Mr. Hollingsworth on plea of indisposition, she bade adieu to her hostess and retired. On reaching home she locked herself in her room, and during the long, dreary hours of the night she wrestled with her heart. From her earliest recollection she had loved Arthur, not because she felt that he loved her, but because she had always believed him honorable and upright, and one altogether worthy of her affection. She felt now that she could no longer respect him whom she had so lately heard promise before God and witnesses to renounce the vain pomp and glory of the world, to submit himself to the rules of the church, and to be governed thereby, and had afterward heard him affirm the same in private. She could no more render unto him the regard which had characterized their former acquaintance.

She made some trivial excuse for remaining in her room until summoned to the parlor to see Arthur, when and where she told her of his unchanging love, and asked her to be his bride. This was the most severe trial of her life; but she told him frankly she would never trust her happiness to the keeping of a man who had so unscrupulously forfeited his solemn vows. In vain he plead and pressed his suit; but she was firm in her rejection, and he left the house scarcely knowing whither he went, but with hopes of happiness forever blasted. When, the next day, he gathered together his goods and sailed for a foreign land, great was the surprise of the good people of the village; but when it became known that Miss Ola had also rejected Mr. Hollingsworth, their astonishment was supreme. Ola struggled bravely with her crushed hopes. Though all noticed her changed, sad expression, none ever knew how deep the arrow had pierced her tender heart. But ere many months elapsed she conquered her dejection, being sustained by a sense of duty, and mingled once more in the gay circle, loving and beloved by all who knew her. And when a few years had passed, and fortune had favored Leighton Leicester's ardent labors, he removed from his humble cottage to a beautiful residence on the outskirts of the village. He gave up his shop and engaged in the mercantile business; then he sought the hand of Miss Ola, whom he had always fondly loved, and was accepted. In prosperity and usefulness they passed the happy days away, and were only pained in after years to learn of the death of their friend, Arthur Dudley, which occurred in a far-off, strange land, after he had wasted his substance in riotous living. He died a degraded, wretched pauper, cursing the hour when first he yielded to temptation and forfeited his plighted vows as the first step to his disgrace and abandonment.

CAMMIE C. MILLS.

Mansfield, La.

MR. EDITOR: Mansfield has a pleasant, healthy location, and a good country to sustain it. Doubtless, but for the war and the subsequent ruinous rule it would have met the most sanguine expectations of its most sanguine friends.

Everybody is waiting for two things: First, a change in the government; secondly, the railroad. They believe both are coming, and that right speedily. If so, Mansfield must take a second growth, and will no doubt become one of the most pleasant little inland cities to be found in our State.

There is one thing that will always cause Mansfield to stand out in bold relief among her peers, change or no change, railroad or no railroad, and that is the location here of Mansfield Female College. It is, in the first place, a massive, impressive, handsome building. It is well situated, overlooking the town and suburbs in all directions. It gives an air of stability and importance to its surroundings. The very spirit of honest, practical, every-day learning seems to hang about its walls. It has a substantial inclosure of some ten acres or more, forming beautiful recreation grounds. There is nothing pent up or close about it. Its halls and rooms are now pretty well filled, though far short of the number that its real merit demands. President Armstrong is an experienced, faithful teacher. He is an honest, solid man. He has charge of our college. It is the only female college we have in the State. The daughters of truveling Methodist preachers are here educated free of tuition. It is a real college. The most thorough training is given. The location is healthy. The community is good—no better anywhere. Church privileges, and moral and religious influences, all that could be desired. The cost of a full course is less than in many other institutions far less meritorious. It is a Methodist college, but no sectarian religious bias is sought to be imparted. There is a fine corps of teachers. And now the question arises: Why will our people send their daughters away from home, when at less cost in money and anxiety they can be as well, if not better, educated near them? Why is it that our preachers, without saying one word in behalf of their own college, will see the daughters of their members go off to build up some other institution, and that, too, in many instances of our most inveterate foes? Can we do this and remain guiltless? Mansfield Female College ought to-day to have three hundred, yes, five hundred pupils, instead of barely one hundred. Under Bro. Armstrong's wise rule it is daily growing.

One who knows anything of its history cannot look upon this massive three-story brick building without thinking of our dear old brother, Dr. Thweat. To his talent, energy, real merit and moral worth we owe this college. If he never has erected to his memory the monument he deserves, this college building will keep him in mind for generations to come. The people of Mansfield and of DeSoto parish cannot afford to forget or neglect him in his old age and decrepitude. He is now very feeble, and will doubtless soon go home to his Father. He is the guest of his son-in-law, Mr. Thomas, some ten miles from Mansfield. In company with Bro. Pipes, it was my privilege to spend yesterday with him. It was to me an occasion of strength, and yet of sadness too. God's ways, to short-sighted man, seem strange sometimes. But for the doctor's peculiar affliction he would to-day, even in his old age, be a power in the church. His patience, cheerfulness and spirit of rejoicing is almost marvelous. Some are called to suffer, others to do God's will.

The fourth and last Quarterly Conference for this station is now in progress. We had interesting fast day services yesterday morning and night.

This is Bro. Brown's first year in the station. He is much beloved by his charge. Very truly,

JOEL T. DAVES.

OCTOBER 21, 1876.

OBITUARIES.

Correspondents, please write names and dates very distinctly. We follow copy on proper names. Obituary notices should be forwarded promptly and immediately. Give only points of general interest, such as will help the living. Details of funeral services, and such phrases as "mourn their loss," etc., are not edifying. Verses, either original or select, not admissible in this department. Give the locality distinctly and in full. In the case of infants only a simple announcement of the death, with names and dates, will be published.

☞ All obituaries received are published as soon as convenient. If, after a reasonable time, any such communication fail to appear, let a duplicate be sent instead of a complaint.

BRO. JAMES A. COMBS was born December 13, 1824; was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church South A. D. 1851, and died, at his residence, near Woodville, Miss., on the twelfth day of August, 1876, in prospect of a glorious immortality. For many years he was a faithful friend of the church, and served it to the best of his ability. As steward for several years he was true to the trust confided in him. As far as he was known he was believed to be a zealous adherent of the cause of Christ. For the prosperity of Zion his prayers ascended; for her weal the pulsation of his heart throbbed and his hands labored; and many years he lived, as he testified on his dying bed, with a conscience void of offense toward God and man.

Bro. Combs' health began to fail a year or more ago. He suffered much, but bore it with Christian fortitude. He often said he should never get well, and welcomed death as a kind messenger sent from his heavenly Father to take him home to heaven. A few evenings before his death he called his wife to his bedside and said: "I must leave you and go home. Meet me there." Then turning to his youngest child, he said: "I must make your young heart sad. Be a good girl, and meet me where parting is no more." A few days before he died he said to his youngest son: "I thank the blessed Lord that I have lived to see all my children members of the church of my choice." Just before his departure he asked his son to read the fourteenth chapter of the gospel as recorded by St. John, and to sing that sweet hymn, "Amazing grace, how sweet the sound," and pray for him. He responded in hearty unison. Lastly he called the family around him, bidding them all farewell, extracting a promise from each of them to live a holy life, that they might constitute an unbroken family in heaven, and then united in singing that lovely hymn, "On Jordan's stormy banks I stand," with the chorus, "I'll stand the storm; we'll anchor by and by." Thus passed away Bro. James A. Combs. No husband ever left a sweeter consolation to his wife, no father ever left a richer legacy to his children than Bro. Combs left. The indubitable evidence of his salvation was given in the honest hour of death, when the mind was sound and every faculty conscious. In the death of Bro. Combs this community loses a good citizen, and the church of God a valuable member, while the tears of relatives and friends shed over his death will not soon be dried.

WILLIAM FINN.

MR. P. S. HOLMAN was born in Texas, December 17, 1813, and died in Mansfield, La., November 4, 1876.

The deceased, though born in Texas, was reared in Louisiana, as his father moved here in his infancy. Most of his life was spent in the vicinity of Mansfield, where for a number of years he had been identified with the business community in mercantile pursuits.

During the war he was a soldier in the army of the Confederate States, and it was while a prisoner on Johnson's Island that he contracted the disease (consumption) of which he died. He possessed virtues of character which shining out prominently in all the relations of life, attracted to him a large circle of friends. In social life he was kind and generous; in the army he was a soldier brave and unflinching; in business his course was one of unswerving integrity. His friendship was true and lasting, and for his friends he was always ready to do or suffer. The crowning excellence of all was that these virtues all flowed from that high-toned principle which ennobled his manhood. This was exhibited by the entire want of that passionate enthusiasm which is so characteristic of some, and by the uniform calmness and deliberation which marked his life. Some time before his death he realized that his end was approaching, and he deliberately began to "set his house in order." After seeking religion for a time he experienced a change, but not the satisfactory consciousness of acceptance with God which he desired. He, however, joined the church, partook of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper, and continued to use the means of grace, and to avail himself of all the helps at his command, his experience constantly deepening and his hope constantly brightening, until a strong faith "lent its realizing light," and made "The clouds disperse,

The shadows fly."

"Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord." May God comfort and sustain his surviving sister, the only one left of his father's household.

J. M. B.

MR. EDITOR: Our home is very much desolated by the cruel murder of my brother, SAMUEL H. BLOCKER. He was involved in a difficulty, which was caused from a delicate matter, of which he himself was innocent. However, he met in a combat with and was finally shot dead on the eleventh day of October, 1876, in the parish of Vernon, La., by one James H. Self. He had not the presence of friends nor relatives to stand by him in his struggles and death; but on the reverse, J. H. Self was well surrounded with relatives to help, if needed, and to relate the case as they saw fit. So I will not attempt, as I cannot give you, a full history of the case.

Samuel H. Blocker was born in Leake county, Miss., on the sixth day of February, A. D. 1836. In the year 1859 we moved to the parish of Calcasieu, La. There he was raised, and was married to Miss H. O. James, daughter of W. H. and M. A. James, from the State of Alabama. Then, after spending something over two years in Louisiana, he moved to Hamilton county, Texas; and after remaining there about fourteen months he and his family came back to Louisiana on a visit, and for the purpose of moving mother and her family to Texas. After remaining with us nearly two months he was forced to meet the monster—death.

Bro. Samuel joined the Methodist Episcopal Church South at Oak Grove, Sugartown early in life. The first clause of his religious experience was one of great interest. He was very much devoted to a prayerful and pious life. After a few years of said experience he began to stray off a-ten before his death he became more sober, serious and dutiful. His wife says she had discovered a great change in him during the last few weeks of his life. He was a very free, open-hearted man—nothing hidden in conduct. He was shot dead while striving for his own rights, privileges and honor. He leaves his widowed mother and her family, his wife and two children to mourn his absence. His body sleeps in the grave-yard at Elizabeth chapel, on the borders of the Anacoco prairie; but we trust his spirit sings at home in heaven.

R. M. BLOCKER.

MRS. ALMIRA KENDRICK was born in Greenville, Butler county, Ala., November 8, 1852, and died in the same place, November 5, 1876.

In early life she sought and found the Savior precious in the pardon of sin and the renewal of her nature; and, warm in her first love, she consecrated herself to the Savior by uniting with the Methodist Episcopal Church South, and continued a faithful member of the same until death. She lived the life of a Christian, and died the death of the righteous. Her death was the brightest and happiest moment of her life. There was no shudder or shrinking back at its approach. A few hours before she passed away, just as she was entering the valley, the writer, her pastor, visited her and talked with her, concluding with prayer and singing; and while singing "I am trusting, Lord, in thee," her countenance seemed to light up with the very brightness of heaven; and, raising her feeble hands, she began to shout the praise of God, and continued to talk of heaven and praise the Savior until her voice was silent in death.

A few moments before she died she called the family around her bed and kissed them, bidding them all an affectionate farewell; and, turning to her father and husband, she said: "I thought it looked so dark for me, but it is all bright—O so bright!" and, fixing her eyes upon some object not seen by any one around her, she sweetly fell asleep.

M.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

The following tribute of respect was adopted by Bethesda Sunday school, Georgetown circuit, Mississippi:

Whereas, It has pleased an all-wise God, in his providence and goodness, to suffer this afflicting hand to lay heavily on our brother and co-laborer, James L. Hester, and Virginia C. Hester, his wife, in the loss of three of their children in one week, to wit: Mary died on the seventh of October, Ella died on the ninth, and George Wm. on the thirteenth, the two last being prompt and diligent members of our Sabbath school; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we sincerely regret the loss of Ella and George from our Sunday school brotherhood, but will bow with humble submission to the will of Him who doeth all things well, believing that our loss is their eternal gain.

Resolved, That we tender to the bereaved family our sincere and heartfelt sympathy.

Resolved, That their class-place be decorated with the usual sign of mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE and Capitolian for publication, and that they be spread on the journal of our Sunday school.

J. G. ENOCH,
MISS FLORENCE RETLEDGE,
T. HUGH WANSLEY.

OCTOBER 21, 1876.

MRS. HARRIET ELIZABETH GIBSON, daughter of Rev. R. and Mrs. R. Williamson, died at her father's residence in Leflore county, Miss., October 27, 1876. She was born in Carroll county, Miss., November 12, 1845, and was married to Mr. A. F. Gibson January 29, 1868. Sister Gibson was dedicated to God in her infancy by holy baptism, and was reared in the pale of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, where she ever lived an honored and useful member. She gave her young heart to God at the early age of ten years, and from that time forth lived to the enjoyment of experimental Christianity, and her life was a comment on the Bible. She was never known to attend dances or other places of amusement of doubtful propriety. She bore testimony to the very last that there was a reality in the religion she professed. Sister Gibson leaves four little children. They were all that seemed to trouble her when she became conscious that she was so soon to leave them to the cold charities of the world; but when she had consigned them to God's care, and given her aged parents such instructions as her failing strength would allow, she seemed to be perfectly resigned, and soon passed away in great peace, and the waiting angels carried her spirit up to glory, where she has ransed from cares, pains and toils, and waits to welcome the loved ones left behind.

O. A. OATS.

WILLIAM G. HESTER, the subject of this sketch, was born in Neshoba county, Miss., December 18, 1850. He joined the Methodist Episcopal Church South in 1867, under the ministry of Rev. N. B. Young, and lived ever after a faithful and consistent member of the church. He was married to Miss Eliza Dallas, January 19, 1873, and died of typhoid pneumonia, after a painful illness of fourteen days, October 14, 1876. Our deceased brother was of a retired, unobtrusive disposition, and hence had never taken an active part in the cause of religion, yet his constant attendance upon public worship, and his punctuality upon the Sabbath school exercises, of which he was an honored and beloved member, indicated the deep interest he felt in the success of the church. His spiritual condition was not, up to the time of his fatal attack, satisfactory to himself, but during his sickness, which he seemed to apprehend would prove fatal, he prayed earnestly for a brighter manifestation of the divine presence, and about a week before his death the light broke in upon his soul in great power, and he was enabled to rejoice from an assurance of God's pardoning and renewing grace. He leaves a widow and one child—a sweet little daughter—an aged father and mother, several brothers and other relatives.

D. G. W. ELLIS.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

BESTER CHAPEL SUNDAY SCHOOL, Miss.

Whereas, In the dispensations of Divine Providence a breach has been made in the midst of us by the removal from our school and from the scenes of his earthly joys, of our esteemed friend and schoolmate, W. G. HESTER; and whereas, By the sweetness of his disposition and the nobleness of his young manhood he had greatly endeared himself to us; therefore,

Resolved, That while we feel deeply the loss we have sustained by his death, yet we desire humbly to submit to the will of Him who ruleth all things well, and in whose hands are the destinies of his creatures.

Resolved, That our sympathy and condolence be extended to the smitten and bereaved ones, whose hearts are now shrouded with grief on account of his loss, and that we mingle our tears with theirs, sorrowing yet not without hope, since he left for them, for us, for all, the rich heritage of preparation to meet his God in peace.

R. H. BARR,
T. L. ROBINSON,
J. T. MABRY,
Committee.

DIED, on the tenth of August, 1876, near Tyertown, Pike county, Miss., Sister ANGELINE SMITH, wife of William Smith, and daughter of Sira and Lina Magee, in her fiftieth year.

Though strictly moral and piously inclined, Sister Smith did not attach herself to the church until about ten months before her death, when it was the privilege of the writer to baptize and receive her into the Methodist Episcopal Church South upon the most satisfactory evidence of a saving faith. And, lest her example should encourage others to defer their return to God, she deplored the folly of such a course by regretting her long delay, and assuring her friends that she was much happier than out of the church. Owing to her retiring disposition, together with the nature of her disease, she said but little upon the subject of death; yet the fortitude and meekness with which she bore her last sickness, and the faithfulness and happiness of her religious life, enable us to "sorrow not as others, who have no hope." May her life but bless example be followed by her bereft husband and afflicted children.

T. HOWARD.

IN MEMORIAM.

Died, October —, 1876, Mrs. LUE MOORE, daughter of Rev. Dempsey Sparkman. She united with the Methodist Episcopal Church in her youth, and remained a consistent member until death.

"A charge to keep I have," etc., was her favorite hymn. We learn from this fact that she believed not only in the immortality of the soul, but that some preparation was necessary in order that it might enjoy the sweet society of heaven; furthermore, that she was conscious of her helplessness without divine aid, and evinced her faith in God by the earnest prayer for his assistance. None who knew her in the daily routine of duty will doubt that she received it.

She lived as a Christian, died as a Christian, and has gone to the Christian's home in glory, and from that peaceful home calls to the loved ones here.

M.

MISS LOUISA JANE ARRINGTON was born October 1, 1849, and died October 25, 1876. Reared in the bosom of the church, she early united with it, and lived and died in the faith of the gospel. She was good to all, patient in tribulation, uncomplaining in her sufferings, and resigned to the will of the Lord. She was a faithful child, a loving and devoted sister. Many will remember having heard her shout the praises of God at the camp meeting at Pilgrim's Rest camp ground, embracing the first Sunday in September last.

J. C. RIGGS.

MRS. VIRGINIA E. JONES died, after a brief illness, in New Orleans, at two P. M., November 11, 1876. My sister was born in Richmond, Va., August 16, 1827, and from childhood knew her Savior. While not in connection with any church organization she ever felt it her duty, for Christ's sake, to be found doing good. Her record at the last day will bear inspection. Her last hours were unconscious, yet I, who knew her so well and so long, have no fears in her death.

ROBERT H. BOYKIN.

DIED, near Pine Ridge, Miss., October 12, little VINNIE, daughter of P. B. and M. A. Mullins, aged two years, seven months and two days. Darling little Vinnie suffered three weeks, but bore her sufferings with great patience. She was endowed with more than ordinary intellect. But, alas! the "grim monster," death, claimed her for its victim. She was consigned to the Crystal Springs cemetery, by the side of her angel Sister May, who preceded her to the "better land" three years before.

C. M. B.

DIED, in Carroll parish, La., on the eighteenth of August, 1876, of congestion, IRVIN ROZIER, eldest son of Craven and Mary Ann McLemore. This sweet little child had just commenced to make glad the hearts of his parents when the tender bud was called away, to be transplanted in the more genial clime of blissful immortality, to make one in the family of our heavenly Father.

C. T. M.

Thy name is thy child; guard it well.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1876.

SAFE HOME, SAFE HOME IN PORT.

Safe home, safe home in port!
Rent cordage, shattered decks,
Torn sails, provisions short,
And only not a wreck;
But oh, the joy upon the shore
To tell our voyage perils o'er!

The prize, the prize secure!
The athlete nearly fell;
Bare all he could endure,
And bare not always well;
But he may smile at troubles gone
Who sets the victor garland on.

No more the foe can harm!
No more of staggered camp,
And cry of fight alarm,
And need of ready lamp,
And yet how nearly he had fallen!
How nearly had that foe prevailed!

The lamb is in the fold,
In perfect safety penned;
The lion once had held,
And thought to make an end;
But One came by with wounded side,
And for the sheep the Shepherd died.

The exile is at home!
O nights and days of tears!
O longings not to roam!
O alas and doubts and fears!
What matter now, when—so meet cry—
The King has wiped those tears away.

O happy, happy bride!
The widowed doors are past;
The Bridegroom at thy side,
Thou all His own at last!
The sorrows of thy former upbraid but fruitless swallowed up.

Faith and Science.

The statement in the first verse of the first chapter of Genesis, that in the beginning God created the heavens and the earth, is the strongest mode of stating the fact furnished by the Hebrew language. It states that the world is a creature; that matter is created is an article of faith. Not so, however, is it that the world was necessarily created in six literal days of twenty-four hours each. We may view the verse last quoted as an introduction to all the rest of the first chapter of Genesis in stating that matter was made. The fourth commandment has been used as an argument in favor of the theory that the days mentioned were periods of twenty-four hours, but the essence of the reason for the divine resting was not the number of hours of resting, but the proportion of time, which recalls Dr. Chalmer's beautiful suggestion that in dividing the seven decades of a man's life he should use the first six of them in active work and the last of them as its Sabbath. But some may say that this theory of periods of creation has been invented for the purpose of answering the assaults of modern geologists. A glance at the history of the two theories is a sufficient answer.

St. Augustine, whom you all know not only as a great theologian, but also, like St. Paul, of high literary and scientific acquirements, suggested the theory that the world was created during periods as distinguished from days. Leonardo da Vinci, a man of universal and wonderful genius, about the sixteenth century, was the first to call attention to the study of geology, and as a science it has had but little standing until the present century; so that we find that the Bible has been the leader of scientific thought; that imperfect science has caused misunderstanding of its statements, and that upon further progress of science its perfect truth has been established.

Men of science are wont to regret that theologians do not know a little of science, and so I frequently regret the ignorance of scientists of Greek, Hebrew, and especially of logic. There is a great difference between collecting facts and reasoning upon them. A simple illustration coined for the purpose will exhibit this point. Suppose a man comes to me and says that on the first of January, 1877, we shall be on a gold basis because the price of coal has fallen, and insists that I shall believe this. I ask him his reasons, and he says he has just been to the gold mines of Colorado and the coal mines of Pennsylvania. I venture to differ with him, not seeing the logical connection. He triumphantly asks me whether I have ever been into a coal mine, then whether I have ever been into a gold mine. I tell him that I have never been in either. He says that he has been into both, and I say that I possess reasoning faculties, and shall insist upon exercising them upon the facts which he has derived from his observation.

There is nothing in the point that there are diverse readings of the Scripture. I would ask whether there are not diverse readings of fossils? Faith rests on the testimony of the living God. Let me illustrate this, so that the children may understand what I mean. Suppose a boy, the son of a father who lived in a foreign country, has left to him his father's will, his estate, and a history of his early days and of his family. In the latter he finds an account of the old school-house where his father was taught, the fields in which he played, and the friends with whom he associated. The boy goes back to his father's home, visits the old school-house and meets his father's friends. Now, because he meets friends of his father not mentioned in the history, does he believe that the whole story is false? Every lawyer will tell you that omission is not contradiction. The office of science is to corroborate the word of God, even in those most advanced in their condition. It is publicly confessed, and especially in geology, where materials are so scattered and the gaps so many, that it cannot be relied on for evidence against the testimony on the other side. Especially does this apply to recent writings. A writer in Appleton's Encyclopedia, apparently an earnest believer in the doctrine of evolution, states that discoveries made in regard to sponges in 1875 change entirely the doctrine of evolution. So that these people claim to overthrow the Mosaic account by a theory invented within four years. Rev. John Hall on the Hypothesis of Evolution.

Rector's wife (severely): "Tommy Robinson, how is it you don't take off your hat when you meet me?" Tommy: "Well, marm; if I take off my hat to you, what be I to do when I meet the parson himself?"

Praying for What We Don't Expect.

I happened once to be staying with a gentleman a long way from here. A very religious kind of a man he was; and in the morning he began the day with a long family prayer that we might be kept from sin, and might have a Christ-like spirit, and the mind that was also in Christ Jesus, and that we might have the love of God shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost given unto us. A beautiful prayer it was, and I thought what a good kind of a man you must be. But about an hour after I happened to be coming along the farm, and I heard him hallooing and scolding, and going on finding fault with everybody and everything. And when I came into the house with him he began again. Nothing was right, and he was so impatient and so quick-tempered. "'Tis very provoking to be annoyed in this way, Daniel. I don't know what servants in these times are good for but to worry and vex one with their idle, slovenly ways."

I didn't say nothin' for a minute or two. And then I says: "You must be very much disappointed, sir."

"How so, Daniel? Disappointed?"

"I thought you were expecting to receive a very valuable present this morning, sir, and I see it hasn't come."

"Present, Daniel?" and he scratched his head, as much as to say: "Whatever can the man be talking about?"

"I certainly heard you speaking of it, sir," I says quite coolly.

"Heard me speak of a valuable present? Why, Daniel, you must be dreaming. I've never thought of such a thing."

"Perhaps not, sir, but you've talked about it; and I hoped it would come whilst I was here, for I should dearly love to see it."

He was getting angry with me now, so I thought I would explain.

"You know, sir, this morning you prayed for a Christ-like spirit, and the love of God shed abroad in your heart."

"Oh, that's what you mean, is it?" and he spoke as if that weren't anything at all.

"Now, sir, wouldn't you be rather surprised if your prayer was to be answered? If you were to get a nice, gentle, loving kind of spirit coming down upon you, all patient and forgiving and kind. Why, sir, wouldn't you come to quite frightened like, and you'd come in and sit down all in a faint, and begin as you might be going to die, because you felt so heavenly minded."

He didn't like it very much, and I, not I delivered a testimony, and left a lesson for myself to learn. You're right, Captain dog, you're right. We should start very often if the Lord was to answer our prayer.—Irish Christian Advocate.

Serpents in Literature.

There are serpents which lurk among the flowers of literature. Many books which attain beautiful flowers of thought are very dangerous ones. Some authors who are very popular on account of the vigor of their thoughts, the variety of their information or the originality of their style are not safe guides. There is an absence of divine truth, and a latent skepticism in their works, which make their very gracefulness, and their works dangerous companions. Infidelity has struck its poison-fang into many a young heart while the eye has been resting on writings like these. And though some so poisoned have been afterward cured, few have got entirely rid of the evil holds in their minds by the bad or doubtful books they read when young. Some were stung fatally, and when they least expected it. A gentleman in India, while searching for a book among several others, felt a slight pain in his finger, like the prick of a pin; he took no notice of it; but soon his finger and arm began to swell, and in a short time he died. A small but deadly serpent was afterward discovered among the books. So also many have received, while reading a pernicious book, a wound which, though it seemed but slight, proved fatal to the soul. Oh, that the young may listen to advice from those who know the danger, and not rashly try to gather flowers where such serpents lark.

These remarks apply especially to books of a licentious tendency, and to much of the poetry which is popular with great numbers. Mr. Jay says: "What have I seen in a long ministry, of the dire effects of evil associations and licentious principles!" The following remarks of Mr. Todd should be seriously pondered. He writes strongly because he feels deeply, having seen the sad consequences of such publications: "Beware of bad books! The world is flooded with them; they are permitted to be in our pathway as part of our moral discipline. I do entreat my young readers never to look at one, never to open one. They will leave a stain upon the soul which can never be removed. If you have an enemy whose soul you would visit with heavy vengeance, you have only to place one of these destroyers in his hand!"

With regard to what are considered works of a purer class of the novel kind, he says, speaking of Sir Walter Scott: "The very strength of the spell which he exerts should warn you that there is danger in putting yourself in his power." On this subject John Foster says: "I have often maintained that fiction may be more instructive than history. I think so still; but, viewing the vast rout of novels as they are, I think they do incalculable mischief. I wish we could collect them all together, and make one vast fire of them. I should exult to see the smoke of them ascend like that of Sodom and Gomorrah; the judgment would be as just." What would he have said had he been living now?

"The French clown Arlob is seventy-six years old, yet he still makes a fool of himself." How true to life!

French and English Clergy.

It may not be without interest, says the Journal des Debats, to compare the financial position of the French clergy with that of the similar body in England, as shown by statistics officially issued in the two countries. The Cardinal Archbishop of Paris receives from the State 60,000f.; the Cardinals of Bordeaux, Rouen, Cambria, Rennes, and the Archbishop of Algiers, each 30,000f.; 12 other French archbishops, 20,000f.; and the 69 Bishops of France and Algeria, each 15,000f. A sum of 92,000f. is, moreover, allowed to the episcopacy for the expense of diocesan visits. In England the stipends of the prelates vary from £4,000 to £5,000. The Archbishop of York and the Bishop of London each receive £10,000, the Bishop of Durham, £8,000, and the Archbishop of Canterbury, the primate, £15,000. In France the Vicars-General of Paris receive annually 4,500f.; those of the 18 archbishopries, 3,500f.; of the dioceses of Algiers, Constantine and Oran, 3,600f.; and of the dioceses of France, to the number of 187, each 2,500f.; or in all 495,800f. The 15 canons of Paris receive each 2,400f., and the 11 of Algiers the same, while the other 680 canons in France only get 1,800f. each, a total of 1,157,000f. Relative to the cures, the archpriest of Notre Dame, at Paris, receives 2,400f.; the 65 other corresponding ecclesiastical dignitaries in France, 1,600f.; and the 3,371 permanent cures in the country, stipends varying from 1,600f. to 1,200f., giving a total of 4,339,400f., with certain sums in addition for casual expenditure. Finally, the State gives 31,349,000f. to 30,992 acting priests in France; 633,000f. to 331 in Algeria; and 1,175,000f. to 1,270 vicars. The Established Church in England counts 13,051 ecclesiastics, of whom 6,752 receive an annual sum of from £200 to £500; 1,882 an average revenue of £572; and 9 a stipend of £2,000 each, while the rector of Halsall has £3,500.

THE SACK TREE.—A notable tree is the sack tree of western India, the inner bark of which forms very good material for sacking, and also for cordage. It often attains a height of one hundred feet, with a diameter of six. The native method of making sacks of this material is very simple. Usually about one foot in diameter is chosen, and from this a section of the length desired for the sack is cut. This log is steeped for some time in water, in order to soften the bark, and is then beaten with clubs. In this way the outer bark is removed, and the inner detached and rendered soft and pliable. Next it is folded over on itself at the end, like skinning a squirrel, and turned inside out. All that is required to complete the sack is that one of the ends be sewed up, which is readily done. But a sack may be made without a stitch or seam. This is done by arresting the process of skinning some two or three inches above the farther end of the log, and then sawing off the latter at that point. The sack has then a solid wooden bottom. These sacks are extensively used in western India, Ceylon, and serve their purpose well. The same material is sometimes employed in the manufacture of clothing and for paper-making. To prepare it for the former purpose the bark is stripped off in pieces which are then thoroughly soaked and beaten out till the texture becomes white and rough, like rep. It is then cut according to the required shapes, and stitched together.

AN EXTRAORDINARY FIRE-PROOF SUIT INVENTED BY A SWEDE.—Recently an exhibition of the new Oestberg fire-extinguishing apparatus took place on the Linden-strasse, in Berlin, in the presence of the Emperor, the Empress, the Crown Prince, the Grand Duke of Baden, the Swedish minister, the Ministers of War and Interior, and other distinguished persons. The inventor, who is a Swede named Oestberg, and Messrs. Brandt and Nawrocki, who had charge of the exhibition, were presented to the Empress before the experiments took place. Capt. Ahlstrom appeared in a peculiar-looking costume, made of the Oestberg invention, and walked into an immense fire made of wood and saturated with petroleum. The heat of the fire was so intense that no one else could approach within eighty paces without being burned or scorched. The captain, however, walked around in the glowing pile perfectly undisturbed, leaning on the burning wood, and finally quietly seating himself on the coals. He remained in the fire for fifteen minutes, and on his coming out every one pressed around to see how much he had been injured. He was unharmed, and, in spite of the Emperor's asseveration that he had seen enough of so dangerous an experiment, Capt. Ahlstrom went again into the fiery oven. On finally emerging he took off the suit, and appeared clothed in red flannel. The Empress said: "One must see this to form any just conception of it."

STRANGE EFFECT OF THE AFRICAN CLIMATE.—Francis John Pocock, an Englishman and Stanley's companion in his African explorations, in one of his letters to his parents speaks of the difficulty of remembering anything in Africa. A brother who accompanied him died; but even this event he could keep in his mind only a short time. He says: "This is an awful country to forget; you lose all understanding. If you want to remember anything you must write it down." I am sure poor Ted's death was not in my mind one hour. It is the way with everybody. Of course a thought crossed my mind very often, but not to think of it."—New York Ledger.

Prayer is a sincere, sensible, affectionate pouring out of the soul to God through Christ, in the strength and assistance of the Spirit, for such things as God has promised.—Bunyan.

Smiles are smiles only when the heart pulls the wires.

Religious Intelligence.

—The minutes of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church show that the additions on profession of faith last year were 18,240.

—Of the 4,744 ordained ministers in the Presbyterian Church, only 3,396 are regularly employed in the work to which they were consecrated.

—The missionaries and native evangelists in the Turkish empire now address on every Sunday an aggregate of from 18,000 to 20,000 hearers.

—The Lutherans are strong in Kansas. There are about twenty thousand of them in that State, including German, Swedish and Norwegian Lutherans.

—At the annual meeting of the Moravian Historical Society recently a paper was read describing the trials of the first missionaries among the Indians in the last century.

—A calculation has been made of the average contribution per member in the leading denominations of this country for foreign missions. The Methodists give forty-three cents a member, the Presbyterians a little more, the Baptists a little less, and the Episcopalians thirty-eight cents.

—The women connected with the Methodist Episcopal mission at Hungchau, China, have introduced a new feature into their work. On the first day of the Chinese New Year a Chinese female prayer meeting was begun in the school-house. It has been kept up daily since, three foreign and four native women in turn conducting the services.

—The Bible Christians, an English branch of Methodism, reports a net increase of 2,241 members for the past year. The statistics are: Itinerant preachers, 284; local preachers, 1,825; chapels, 890; deaths, 900; emigrations and removals, 2,065; full members, 28,915; on trial, 1,352; Sunday-school teachers, 9,342; scholars, 51,658. The book-room profits for the year are £2,551, and the missionary income is £11,500.

—The Presbyterians do not intend to have the first council of their great Alliance spoiled by giving free rein to those who have papers to read. It is suggested that topics upon which there are serious differences of opinion should be avoided, and all papers are to be forwarded to the Edinburg committee for inspection at least two months before the meeting of the Alliance, which is to open July 3, 1877. Among the topics recommended for treatment are the following: "The Adaptation of Presbyterianism to Present-day Wants;" "Harmony of the Reformed Confessions," and "Lessons to be Learned from Other Systems." The education of ministers and of the young, evangelical methods, infidelity and preaching are subjects which it is expected the Alliance will consider.

—The Disciples of Christ held their general missionary convention this year at Richmond, Va. This convention has under its care home and foreign missions and Sunday schools. The receipts for the year have been $82,000, besides the amount raised by the various State boards. The report of the general board states that progress is being made in gathering the statistics of the denomination. During the last seven years 261 new congregations have been formed and 6,500 additions made to the churches under the auspices of the General Convention. The number of members connected with this denomination is variously estimated at from 301,000 to 700,000. The Disciples in recent years have been putting forth extraordinary efforts to improve their organization and their educational facilities, and they are altogether a people who ought to be better known, especially in the East.

—Two of the three divisions of the Church Missionary Society's Nyanza expedition have started for the interior. The exploration of the rivers Wami and Kingani proves them to be impracticable for navigation, and the scheme of a water route to the interior has been given up. The old Bagamoyo route was therefore taken, and a small army of porters engaged to carry the luggage. Mr. O'Neill's party set out first, with fifty porters. He expected to reach Mpwapwa early in August and select a site for the proposed mission station. The second party, led by the Rev. C. T. Wilson, left Zanzibar the last of July, with the intention of joining O'Neill at Mpwapwa. If the members of the expedition had been able to avail themselves of the benefits of Mr. Price's discovery they might have saved themselves much trouble and delay, and the society a great deal of expense. This discovery, which we have fully described, offers the most practicable, expeditious and least expensive route to the great central plateau of Africa, and the old Bagamoyo route, with its many drawbacks, will be abandoned for that of Saadani.

On July fourth of this year the English Church Missionary Society gave valedictory dismissal to seventeen missionaries at Islington. Of these seventeen laborers eight are young men, newly appointed; and most of the others either go to different fields from those they formerly occupied or return to stations from which they had been absent for years. Not very long ago the Lake Nyanza party was sent forth, and ere long five missionaries are to be dismissed to India and Palestine. No missionary society is extending its work so rapidly as is this representative association of the evangelical section of the Church of England. In East Africa, in southern India, in Palestine, in China, Japan and British North America new fields are being entered upon with surprising vigor, while old ones in frequent instances are being committed to a native pastorate. The steady increase of missionary contributions in Great Britain render this onward movement possible, while societies in our own country, and notably the American Board, are obliged to cut down their appropriations and cripple their work on account of the failure of proper pecuniary support.

Our Young People.

A CHRISTMAS SONG.

BY MRS. HATTIE S. ROSSELL.

The oak is a strong and stalwart tree,
And it lifts its branches cheerily,
And catches the dew right gallantly
In many a dainty cup,
And the world is brighter, and better made
Because of the woodman's stroke.
Descending it sang, or falling in shade,
On the sturdy form of the oak.
But stronger, I ween, in apparel green
And trappings so fair to see,
With its precious freight, for small age or great
Is the beautiful Christmas tree.

The elm is a kindly and goodly tree,
With its branches bending low;
The heart is glad when its form we see,
As we ride to the rivers flow.
And the heart is glad, and the eyes beam mild
And joy illumines the face,
Whenever a goodly elm is found,
Because of its beauty and grace.
But Kinder, I ween, more goodly in sheen,
With branches more drooping and free,
The fairest of whose leaves fitfully weave
Is the beautiful Christmas tree.

The maple is supple and lithe and strong,
And claimeth our love now,
When the days are lustrous and quiet and long
And the world is fair to view,
And laborers in beauties and graciousness—
A monarch right regally dress,
With strangers, strange, and peasants of rest
It seemeth of all the best.
More lissome, I weet, the bright trees and sheen
And the curling, sunny and free,
And the banners soft, that are held aloft
By the beautiful Christmas tree.

How to Do Good.

DEAR CHILDREN: Some time ago I told you of a little girl who did much good. I promised to tell you of the class of boys and girls she got together in her quiet way, and taught to do good. Never think you are too young to do good, or that you can do nothing for the good of others. You each have your influence in some way among your playmates, and what you do or say is remembered long after you have forgotten it. So you can't be too careful of your words, and remember, if your friends are vexed at anything, and use a harsh word, never reply back in the same way, but remember the words of our Father: "A soft answer turneth away wrath."

But I am forgetting little May. I hope you have not forgotten her story I told you of. She was very poor, and as she saw the boys and girls around her breaking the Sabbath, and doing many wicked things, her heart was much troubled, and she prayed for help to teach them a better way. She remembered that all children love to hear a good story. So she got among some boys who were busy, one bright Sabbath morning, at a game of marbles. Think of that! To you I hope it sounds very wicked to think of any one doing such a thing. But these boys had never been taught any better. Their parents were bad, wicked people, and May knew she had a hard task before her. She said to these boys, "Boys, when you are through that game come, I want to tell you a nice story." Some of them came to hear—not all, for the game went on. She was not discouraged, but glad to get even the few that listened to her as she told them of the birth of our Lord and Savior. When she was through one asked if it was a true story. She told them it was, and as they listened she told them, in her own way, of the childhood of him who died that all might be saved. One called out to his companions to come, as May was telling them of a jolly boy, who was a regular "Jack," and such remarks soon got her quite a crowd, when she told it all over, and was glad to answer anything. As she told them, some believed her story, but others doubted it. One boy said he believed it was true, for he had heard a fellow tell the same story down at the Sailors' Home; and thus they talked it over.

In this way she began her good work, and Sabbath after Sabbath she could be seen reading or talking to the poor ragged boys of the street, till they looked on her as something superior to themselves; and then her quiet example did much to make them love her. She did not tell them how to do good, and herself do bad, but she showed them by her daily walk and conversation. One and soon another came for her to teach them how to read. She was glad to do it, and soon had quite a class around her. She was not forgotten by her good friend, Mr. E., all this while. He gave her books to help her on in the good work; and in less than one year from the morning she told her first story of our Lord and Savior she had a class of many boys and girls. All did not try to learn to read, but they were ever willing to listen to her stories from the Bible; and many were the seed sown by the wayside that sprang up. Much good was done.

If my story, taken from the life of a good woman, can do any good, then am I truly rewarded.

Your friend, S. BLANCHARD.

Agnes Institute, Stewart Co., Ga.

From Our Little Friends.

HARRISONBURG, Oct. 22, 1876.

MR. EDITOR: I am a little girl hardly nine years old, living on the Ouachita river. My teacher, Mrs. Norwind, gave me some of the letters written by the little folks in your good paper; so I thought I would write to you and see if you would publish a little Baptist girl's letter. We have a good day and Sabbath school. Our town is very small, and we have but one church—that is a Methodist; so we have a union Sunday school; our teachers take a great interest in it; and as we were so long without any we are real glad when Sunday evening comes. We are very sad at home now. My dear good Grandpa Tuthiergo, who has been living in your city for a long time, died last week. I expected to make him a visit this winter, and then I could have seen you, but I don't know now when I can go; but I mean to study very hard, and I am nearly ten years old now; so I can understand Tom's big words. If you will make us a visit I will cook you a nice dinner on my little stove that grandpa gave me last Christmas.

LIZZIE TABLATERRO.

Note by the Editor. Thanks to our little Baptist friend. Glad she is learning to cook as well as to spell.

MISS GRACE MOSS, Natchez.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: I too take an interest in your column for "The Young People." We have a Sabbath school, and love it dearly. We love our superintendent and teachers, and try to encourage them by being punctual and having good lessons. We love our ministers, and try to encourage them. Aunt tells us that we are highly blessed with church and Sabbath-school privileges. O that we may improve them properly! A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver is in Proverbs xxv, 11. Now will some of the "little people" tell us what became of the brazen serpent that the children of Israel looked upon in the wilderness, when bitten by the fiery flying serpent, and were healed? Yours truly,

CLEA VARNADO, JR.

MR. EDITOR: I have been wanting to write a long time. I am nearly ten years old, and have two brothers. We have a nice Sunday-school. My uncle, H. W. Drake, is our beloved superintendent. There are about thirty-eight scholars. I am a regular attendant. I have been six months without missing a Sunday and will have two prizes. Mr. Clegg is our pastor; we love him very much. Tell Bettie Lewis that Ahab built the house of ivory, and she may find it in First Kings xxii. Who killed six hundred men with an ox-goad? In what book, verse and chapter? Your little reader,

KATIE MOORE.

Power of a Hymn.

Good hymns live in the memory like texts of the Bible, and they often do as much good. One very sweet in sentiment and melody reclaimed two gamblers in China, may be familiar to our readers.

One sang "O, where shall rest be found Compare to the rest of God?"
I, in a dream, heard the lay
Than fever have been sweet.

Nearer my Father's house,
While the many mansions be Nearer the great white throne,
Nearer the jasper sea,

Nearer the bound of life,
Where we lay our burdens down,
Nearer leaving the cross,
Nearer gaining the crown.

Two Americans—one a young man, the other over forty—were drinking and playing at cards in a gambling-house in China. While the older one was shuffling the cards the younger began to hum, and finally sing in a low tone, but quite unconsciously, this hymn. The older one threw down the cards on the floor and said:

"Harry, where did you learn that tune?"

"What tune?"

"Why, that one you have been singing."

The young man said he did not know what he had been singing. But when the older one repeated some of the lines he said they were learned in the Sunday-school.

"Come, Harry," said the older one, "come, here's what I've won from you. As for me as God sees me, I have played my last game and drank my last bottle. I have misled you, Harry, and I am sorry for it. Give me your hand, my boy, and say that, for old America's sake, if for no other, you will quit this infernal business."

Col. Russel H. Conwell, who was then visiting China, and was an eye-witness of the scene, says that the reformation was a permanent one.—Youth's Companion.

A GOOD RULE. The best rule for Christian people to observe is to tell folks of only what will give them pleasure. Whoever speaks a word that causes a heartache sins. Whoever disturbs the peace and tranquillity of a mind, even by fe-hearsing any perambulating gossip, lessens the joy of a life, to whose joy it is his duty in Christ to minister. Life is too short, and joys too few, for us to mar the peace of the one or lessen the number of the other. If any reader of these lines has been in the habit of telling people unpleasant things, we sincerely hope the perusal of this article will cause him to stop doing it.—Golden Rule.

A few years since, at the celebration of an anniversary, a poor pedler who was present, being called upon for a toast, offered the following: "Here is health to poverty; it sticks to a man when all his friends forsake him."

A mother's heart is schooled by fear.

The Christian Advocate.

Organ of the Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences of the M. E. Church South.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1876.

REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D., Editor.

ROBT. J. HARP, Publisher.

OFFICE—112 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS

Address, on all matters of business, Rev. R. J. HARP, 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

Address all communications designed for publication to Rev. LINUS PARKER, 112 Camp street New Orleans.

AGENTS—All the members of the Patronizing Conferences.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEE.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.
REV. EDWARD WADSWORTH, D. D.
REV. A. J. BRIGGS.
REV. J. W. RUSH.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. H. WATKINS, D. D.
REV. JAMES A. GODFREY
REV. J. G. JONES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. CHRISTIAN KEENER.
REV. JOHN MATHEWS.
REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D.

CHANGE OF RATES.

The New Orleans Christian Advocate will be furnished to subscribers hereafter at the following rates, including postage

One Year	$2 00
Six Months	1 15
Three Months	75

To all Ministers of the Gospel and widows of deceased traveling preachers, half the above rates.

FREE ONE YEAR

to any person forwarding to us four new yearly subscribers, with FOUR DOLLARS.

The Reasoning of the Blind Man.

The thing known was very plain. It was one thing and that thing a matter of personal assurance. "One thing I know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see." The Pharisees were in a dilemma. They could not admit that Christ was of God, but somehow a notable miracle had been wrought. Miracle or no miracle, Christ could not be other than a sinner and an impostor. After all their quibbling and perplexities they persisted in holding to their cherished unbelief. But they could neither argue nor frighten the man whose eyes had been opened out of his simple faith. He knew that his eyes had been opened, he knew that Christ did it, and he had common sense enough to know that a mere man—especially a sinner—could not perform this wonderful work.

Whatever the consequences might be, however inexplicable the fact and puzzling to the enemies of the Savior, he stands firmly upon the one ground of experience. He does not care to meet the opposition with dialectical subtleties. He was no match for them in the trickery of words, and there was a limited field of knowledge as yet for him. The dogma of the hierarchical dignitaries he leaves undecided. Whatever Christ was, he had healed him, and they were left to draw their own conclusions. Beyond this healing he knew nothing; but, knowing this, the conclusion which inevitably followed was clear enough. Mr. Hume's position about the incredibility of miracles did not embarrass the Pharisees. They believed in miracles, but not in Christ's miracles. The dogma of some of our modern scientists, that miracles are absolutely impossible, was no part of their system. To reject Christ in the face of this miracle was a course most difficult to vindicate.

Surely the man, his parents and friends were all mistaken. Jesus we know to be a sinner; he cannot be of God, because he keepeth not the Sabbath day. He is pressed and exhorted to give God the praise by denying the agency of Christ in the work wrought upon him. Amidst all this confusion of words, and the attempt to shake his confidence, the man that was born blind had one ground that could not be touched. The knowledge of that one thing—a thing he could not help knowing, and which he knew better than others could—was his sufficient reply to the sophistries and threats of the enemies of the Savior.

This line of argument for Christianity may be followed almost indefinitely. Christianity is a great fact. Its doctrines, institutions and effects upon the world are conceded. The author and founder of it, and the substance of it, could not have been a sinner. Christ must have been all that he claimed to be, and all that his followers believe respecting him. Christianity is itself as wonderful a miracle as the opening of the eyes of a blind man, and infinitely more wonderful. The moral miracle of a single conversion should be to us a stronger confirmation of Christ's character as the Son of God than the gift of sight to one born blind.

Conversion to the believer himself is the highest and most satisfying of all the evidences. His experience is a fact, open and clear to his own consciousness, and this fact carries with it all that is essential in regard to the truth of religion and the Bible. Other evidences are valuable to awaken and convince unbelievers, and they have their helpful uses for him, but the crown of all evidence is the heartfelt sense of sins forgiven and a renewed nature. A man converted by the gospel has in himself the seal of its truth, and of all that is material to divine revelation. Hume may come at him with his imposing statement that it better accords with observation that witnesses should lie than that miracles should be wrought. Huxley and Spencer may assail him with their materialistic assumptions that miracles are absurd and simply impossible, and that things spiritual and immortal are without reasonable foundation. Science, metaphysics and logic may do what they can, but he that believeth on the Son hath the witness in himself. He may be no match for the learned skeptics and atheists in meeting their array of postulates and conclusions. Whether evolution or creation by series, or whether the nebular hypothesis or some other be the right one he may not know, but the fact of Christ being in him the hope of glory, and that the living power of faith now possesses his soul, is as clear as the noonday sun.

Whatever things astounding and startling in scientific discovery or speculation may be announced, there is no panic in his heart. He feels no concern for Moses, Christ or the gospel. The inward witness, the testimony of experience, is not shaken. He knows that the gospel is true, and that Christ is both the power and the wisdom of God. He might reply to Darwin and to Tyndall, and to all of like views: Whether your conclusions be right or wrong I know not; whether everybody came from the star dust, and from the jelly fish and tadpole, I know not; "one thing I know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see." This one thing, however, is more than all other things, because it is the seal and assurance to him that the Bible is God's word, and that Christ is the Savior of sinners. He has in the gift of the Holy Spirit the earnest of the resurrection and eternal life. Doing the will of God, he knows of the doctrine, and is armed against the attacks of infidelity.

For the most of us this is the most practicable path to peace, as it is for all the highest and most satisfactory evidence. The need of the soul is this clear and comfortable experience of divine things. To know this one thing, to realize in ourselves the transforming power of truth, to have felt the grace of Christ so vividly, so certainly that we can abide upon it as upon a rock, while the waves of unbelief and infidelity rage around us, is the great need of all. As it is the sublimest of all testimonies, and the deepest of all experiences, so is it that which enters into the privileges of all. But few can be philosophers, astronomers or men of science, and passing few can know much in the various fields of research and discovery, but all may know that Christ has opened the eyes of the soul.

Alabama Conference.

Leaving New Orleans by the Mobile railroad on Monday at 5 P. M., at sunrise we reach Montgomery, Selma at 11 A. M., and Greensboro on Tuesday night at 9 P. M. Preachers and laymen gather thicker and thicker at various points on the route, and when we reach the Marion junction the train to Greensboro is overflowing. We found Bishop Paine, Dr. Summers, Dr. Mitchell and others at Selma, and by the time we reached our destination it seemed as if nearly the whole Conference had arrived at the same hour. Judge Coleman, with book and lights, was on hand to announce the homes, and the brethren were soon distributed. Our home was with J. E. Webb, Esq., Dr. Allen S. Andrews being, as sometimes in other years, our associate. Mr. and Mrs. Webb are Presbyterians, and the dispensers of a generous hospitality.

Greensboro claims about two thousand inhabitants, and is a place of much intelligence and refinement. It is in the midst of a rich and beautiful country, and its spacious and handsome residences indicate that it has been a town of great wealth and prosperity. Like nearly every section of our richest South, this has suffered much, but there are left the elements of a brighter future. The Southern University, with its fine campus and handsome building, is, of course, the chiefest attraction and ornament. We were greatly pleased by the general appearance of the college, and glad to learn that the patronage is encouraging. Dr. Hopkins, professor of natural science, showed us through the building, and, of course, took us into the laboratory. We found it in working order, and very well supplied with chemical and philosophical apparatus. The university has a tolerably full and a very accomplished and able faculty. The president, Dr. Luther M. Smith, is assisted by such men as Profs. Moore, Hopkins, Lewis, Verdel, Grote and Arthur W. Smith. With such a splendid property, with such a faculty of devoted educators, and with Alabama delivered from the throttling grasp of political adventurers, the institution ought now to receive a large patronage. The Methodists of Alabama have no more important trust committed to them, none more vital to the welfare of the church and the people.

The Conference held its sessions in the court-house, a very comfortable and convenient place. On Wednesday morning, at 9 o'clock, Dec. 6, Bishop Paine opened the Conference. He stated that his health was very much improved, and his appearance indicated remarkable vigor for a man of his years. So far as we could judge he went through his onerous duties with as little fatigue, and with as much readiness and accuracy, as when we first saw him in the chair of an Annual Conference twenty five years ago. It feasts the eye and heart to look upon him, grand and beautiful in his age, and to listen to his golden words. We glorify God in him. R. B. Crawford is the secretary, as of yore, and James M. Mason the assistant. This Conference is noticeable for the tallness of its members and their strong physique. A good many of them are like towers—such of them, for instance, as Dr. Mitchell, A. S. Andrews, Foust, Shores, Lightfoot, Angus Dowling, Motley, the Grahams, A. J. Briggs, Urquhart, Crawford, W. S. Turner, Powers, Hawkins, and others whom we do not now recall. The Conference is also somewhat remarkable for the number of its hale and effective old men. Drs. Ellison and Mitchell have done hard work as presiding elders. Walter H. McDaniel, A. S. Dickinson, M. C. Turrentine have been on the effective list this year. Then the proportion of educated men is greater than in most of our Conferences. The young men and undergraduates have, for the most part, received diplomas. Dr. Summers belongs to the Alabama Conference, and his presence is always felt and appreciated. We imagined the doctor was looking somewhat thinner and whiter than usual, and bearing the marks of hard and confining labor. On occasion we were struck with the ability of the leading members in debate. Questions of interest and importance were presented in every possible light, and most thoroughly sifted.

On Saturday morning the report on books and periodicals was presented and read by G. W. Briggs. It was admirably written and well read, and, after some hearty exhortations by Dr. Summers and others, was adopted with something approaching enthusiasm. The brethren, clerical and lay, have pledged themselves to work harder than ever for the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, and to do their utmost to circulate our church literature. The presiding elder of the Mobile district and the pastors of the Franklin and St. Francis Street churches of Mobile were elected as the members of the joint publishing committee of our paper. Eleven choice young men were admitted into full connection: John O. Keener, Richard S. Holcombe, Christopher H. Kelly, James M. Crews, Ritchie J. Briggs, Francis M. Peterson, John P. Sanders, James S. Rencher, Andrew J. Lamar, William D. Owens, Wade H. Weatherby. Bishop Paine, before propounding and explaining the usual disciplinary questions, referred to the time, fifty-seven years ago, when he assumed these solemn vows, and in tender and forcible language impressed upon his young brethren the importance of the work upon which they were entering as traveling preachers. Dugald H. Carmichael, Edward E. Cowin, J. W. Menefee, John Wesley and Charles B. Pilley were received on trial. The next Conference is to be held in Montgomery.

On Saturday night the missionary anniversary was held. Speeches by Josiah Barker and Dr. Allen S. Andrews. We did not ascertain the amount of the collection. The collections for missions this year, foreign and domestic, reach the neighborhood of $6,000, and about equally divided. On Sunday, at 11 A. M., in the Methodist church, Bishop Paine preached to a crowded house, and ordained the deacons. We were ministering to the Presbyterian brethren at the same hour, but the sermon of the Bishop was reported to us as one of his best. At 3 o'clock Dr. Summers preached in the Methodist church, after which the elders were ordained. The doctor's sermon was adapted to the occasion, instructive, stimulating and comforting. At night Rev. Henry D. Moore preached in the Methodist church, and Rev. T. F. Mangum in the Presbyterian church. We heard neither, but a good report came to us of these eloquent expounders of the gospel. Our account closes with Sunday. Leaving before day on Monday morning, we were not able to obtain any satisfactory statistics. From what we could gather, we judge that the support of the preachers is as good as last year, that the various collections are a trifle better, and that the Conference has as many preachers as it can station. This year no member of the Conference has died. The obliging secretary, Bro. Crawford, has promised to forward appointments. The adjournment will probably be reached on Monday night.

The editor was most cordially welcomed by the Conference, and most patiently heard. Our NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE seems to be in high favor in this Conference, and, in spite of the troublous times and scarcity of money, we have no doubt they will do more to increase our circulation this year than they have ever done. God bless the members of the Alabama Conference. They are a noble band of generous, warm-hearted and devoted Methodist preachers and laymen.

APPOINTMENTS.

Mobile District.—S. H. Cox, P. E. St. Francis street station, F. R. Hill; Franklin street station, E. Wadsworth, F. M. Peterson; Tontoganville, A. J. Lamar; St. Paul's, John A. Peterson; Eastern Shore, D. H. Carmichael; Grand Bay mission, W. M. Winn; Whistler station, W. S. Wade; Citronelle circuit, John S. Frazer; St. Stephens, J. C. Johnson; Pensacola, P. H. Lightfoot; Warrington, J. H. James; Milton station, J. O. Andrew; Yellow River mission, W. H. Hasty; Pollard, W. P. Dickinson; Black Water mission, W. Hargrove Morris; Mount Pleasant circuit, G. M. Rober; Bladon Springs, W. H. Wild; Oaktuppa, to be supplied; P. G. Nash, chaplain in United States army.

Greensboro District.—A. H. Mitchell, P. E. Greensboro station, J. Lewis, Jr.; Demopolis, G. Waverley Briggs; Livingston, C. R. Williamson; Newbern, to be supplied by F. Billing; Belmont, J. W. McCann; Gaston, Alexander Hood; Cuba, J. M. Patton; Butler, H. M. Moss; Forkland, D. J. Wright; Gainesville, C. B. DuBose; Eutaw, J. R. Peavey; Greene, to be supplied (by W. B. Nabors; Havana, J. S. Moore; I. S. Hopkins, professor in Southern University; T. O. Summers, editor Christian Advocate.

Selma District.—J. W. Rush, P. E. Selma station, W. M. Motley; East Selma, W. A. Rice; Summerfield, R. S. Holcombe; Plantersville, B. F. Blow; Okmulgee mission, C. Strider; Uniontown and Cedar Grove, R. J. Briggs; Spring Hill, G. Hawkins; Orrville, J. W. Shores; Rembert Hills, E. Cowan; Choctaw Corner, W. Ira Powers; Independence, J. B. Anderson; Peach Tree, George F. Ellis; Suggsville, B. D. Gayle; Grove Hill, B. C. Glenn; Marion station, John E. Foust; Brush Creek, J. M. Brown; Centenary Female College, A. D. McVoy, president; Suggsville High School, W. A. Montgomery.

Prattville District.—A. J. Briggs, P. E. Prattville station, W. A. McCarty; Autaugaville, A. C. Hundley; Lowndesboro, J. M. Mason; Randolph, R. A. Mears; Centerville mission, W. H. McDaniel; Clanton, T. Y. Abernethy; Verbena, W. W. Graham; Pleasant Hill, J. M. Crews; Monterey, N. Gillis; Sepulga, J. M. Scott; Graylila mission, to be supplied (by M. Padgett); Camden, E. W. Soloman; Bell's Landing, J. L. Skipper; Monroeville, J. S. Peavey; Georgiana, M. M. Graham; Garland mission, R. Smille; Evergreen, J. S. Rencher; Brewton mission, to be supplied by W. S. Douglas.

Montgomery District.—M. S. Andrews, P. E. Montgomery station, A. S. Andrews; Wetumpka, John O. Keener; Elmore, W. P. H. Connerly; Tallassee, W. B. Neal; Loachapoka, M. C. Turrentine; Tuskegee station, E. L. Loveless; Tuskegee circuit, D. M. Hudson; Auburn, M. E. Butt; Opelika, R. B. Crawford; Salem, L. F. Dowdell, J. H. Lockhart sup.; Crawford, C. S. Hurt; Hurtville, W. K. Norton; superintendent of American Bible Society in Alabama and North Mississippi, T. J. Rutledge; professor in A. and M. College, B. B. Ross.

Eufaula District.—H. D. Moore, P. E. Eufaula station, J. Bancroft; Glenville, W. H. Ellison; Valula, J. W. Solomon; Beulah, D. C. Crook; Enon and Midway, J. S. Williams; Perote, J. L. Mathison; Clayton and Louisville, S. A. Pilley; Henry, A. Dowling; White Pond, W. D. Owens; Pea River, W. H. Weatherby; Ozark, H. M. Gills; Newton, E. H. Wardlaw; Columbia, C. B. Pilley.

Union Springs District.—O. R. Blue, P. E. Union Springs station, G. W. Glenn; Union circuit, W. S. Turner; Gilmer mission, to be supplied; Pine Level, B. L. Selman; Rocky Mount, L. Patterson; Fort Deposit, E. P. Birch; Greenville station, T. F. Mangum; Greenville circuit, W. H. Morris; Rutledge, E. M. Turner; Oaky Streak, to be supplied; Troy and Brundige, J. Barker; Troy circuit, O. S. Perry; Briar Hill, W. B. Adams; Greenville Collegiate Institute, H. Urquhart; colporteur of American Bible Society, A. M. Jones.

Mariana District.—E. Phillips, P. E. Mariana station, C. H. Kelley; Greenwood, J. P. Sanders; Holmes' Valley, D. C. Standley; Calhoun, J. A. Green; Geneva, J. W. Menefee; Big Creek, John Wesley; Cerro Gordo mission, to be supplied; Freeport station and Walton mission, L. C. Calhoun.

Transferred.—R. S. Woodward and C. W. Calhoun, to Mississippi Conference; R. G. Walker, to South Georgia Conference; P. H. Moss, to Louisiana Conference; J. T. Curry, to North Alabama Conference; S. P. Richardson, to North Georgia Conference.

Louisiana Conference.

This Conference met at Trenton, La., December 13, and adjourned on Sunday night, December 17. A very pleasant session. We shall have more to say about it next week. The appointments only can be given in this number of the ADVOCATE.

APPOINTMENTS.

New Orleans District.—Linus Parker, P. E. Carondelet street, John Mathews; Felicity street, J. B. Walker; St. Charles street, to be supplied; Moreau street, S. H. Schroeder; Louisiana avenue, John T. Sawyer; Algiers, S. H. Werlein; Lafourche mission, Lewis A. Reed; Plaquemine and Grosse Tete, T. R. Fauntleroy; Baton Rouge, A. E. Goodwyn, P. Lane, sup.; editor NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, Linus Parker; New Orleans Depository, Robert J. Harp; Southwestern Bible Society, James A. Ivy; Centenary College; principal Preparatory Department, A. G. Miller.

Delhi District.—James L. Wright, P. E. Monroe and Delhi, P. H. Moss, J. Lane Borden; Trenton, C. W. Carter; Bastrop, H. O. White; Lind Grove, W. P. Owen; Oak Ridge, N. S. Cornell; Rayville, T. H. McClendon, Winnsboro, T. S. Randle; Oakley, A. M. Wailes; Waterproof and St. Joseph, Baxter Clegg; Tensas, to be supplied; Floyd, B. F. Alexander; Lake Providence and Pecan Grove, R. S. Trippett.

Homer District.—J. A. Miller, P. E. Homer, J. A. Parker, W. P. Kimball, sup.; Lisbon, Thomas J. Upton; Haynesville, Joseph H. Stone; Minden, James E. Bradley; Sparta, R. M. Crowson; Arcadia, J. F. Patterson; Vernon, J. M. McKee; Indian Village, C. W. Hodge; Louisville, W. H. Whatley; Downsville, F. G. Hoenti; Farmerville, R. T. Parish; Webster, A. A. Cornett.

Shreveport District.—R. Randle, P. E. Shreveport, J. T. Daves; Mooringsport, William Hart; Caddo, J. M. Johnson; Logansport mission, to be supplied; DeSoto, J. Pipes; Marshfield, J. M. Brown; Pleasant Hill, J. B. Cassity, J. M. Franklin, sup.; Natchitoches and St. Maurice, Thos. J. Hough; Natchitoches circuit, to be supplied; Anacoco and Leesville, to be supplied; Springville, Philip Allen; East Point and Lindsay's chapel, to be supplied (by J. C. Reid;) South Bossier, J. W. Medlock; North Bossier, G. M. Liverman.

Alexandria District.—S. H. Cooper, P. E. Alexandria and Pineville, C. Keener; Rapides, J. L. P. Sheppard; Montgomery, J. W. Hearn; Harrisonburg and Sicily Island, C. R. Godfrey; Centerville, D. A. Boddie; Columbia, J. F. Wynn; George Jackson, sup.; Castor, to be supplied (by W. Biggs;) Sabine, to be supplied; Colfax, W. D. Stayton; Bayou Boeuf, F. White; Evergreen, R. Parvin; Spring Creek, J. F. Seurlock.

Opelousas District.—J. E. Cobb, P. E. Opelousas, J. J. Billingsley; Washington, P. S. Isbell; Vermilionville, Robert A. Davis; Grand Coteau, J. V. Pointer; Abbeville, E. B. Faust; Pauperville, A. Hoffpauir; New Iberia, M. C. Manley; Franklin, B. F. White; Pattersonville and Morgan City, A. E. Clay; Lake Charles, J. D. Harper; Grand Chenière, G. T. Freeman; Sugartown, to be supplied (by P. Galvin;) Calcasieu mission, W. B. Pilley.

Transferred.—J. S. White, to Memphis Conference; W. E. Munsey, to St. Louis Conference.

White River Conference.

LITTLE ROCK, December 7, 1876.

MR. EDITOR: I send you the minutes of the White River Conference, which closed its session November 6. The town of Batesville entertained the Conference with elegant hospitality. The weather was dry, and cold enough to make a Louisianian think of his orange trees. The preaching was well attended, and a religious interest was awakened which resulted in one or two conversions. The missionary meeting was thought to have been a success, considering the general depression of business and the suspended presidential election. Taking it, however, just by itself, without either shading or any specially favorable lights, it indicated a low missionary pulse. I am satisfied that the church needs a conviction of the neglect of this duty as much as ever a sinner needed conviction of sin by the awakening power of the Holy Ghost. It must be stated in palliation that the support of the ministry has been very meager during the past year; and the steadiness of the preachers in attending to their work, despite their poverty, has been something heroic.

There was a considerable decrease in membership, mainly attributable to sudden zeal in rewriting and clearing of registers. I do not speak of that ordinary "regulating" of class books which every Conference hears about—the scapegoat of failure—but of a crusade most extraordinary against church records, which we may hope will never be started again in the bounds of the White River work—some preachers striking off as many as 300, and others 200 or 100 names. It will be a good and highly important undertaking for the presiding elders to examine closely all the lists of these excommunicants, and see if some of them may not have been unduly cut off. All such should be put on again immediately. There are members in the hills and hollows of many a circuit who have never been visited by a preacher, and who can only get to church once or so a year. It will not do to reckon such as dead spiritually or physically.

This body is composed largely of young men, and they have the prospect of achieving great results for our church in this State.

Six were received on trial: M. J. F. Beasley, Samuel G. Shaw, Wesley A. Lindsey, John R. Steele, Charles L. Freeman and Charles B. Hunton. Five were received by transfer: Josephus Anderson, N. B. Fizer, B. S. Raynor, L. G. Rogers and L. D. Webb. One was readmitted: Joseph A. Parker. Two were discontinued at their own request: T. W. Morton and Henry E. Robertson. Nine were received into full connection: Zachary T. Bennett, George M. Hill, James F. Jenigan, Richard D. Moore, Frank Ritter, John A. Corbitt, W. C. Malone, M. B. Umstead and Samuel L. Cochran. John H. Priddy, F. M. Petty and E. A. Stevenson were located at their own request.

There are but two superannuated members: B. Lee and B. Rhyne—men who have borne the heat and burden of the itinerant life for many years, and have accomplished much for Methodism in Arkansas. They are now venerated and beloved of their brethren, and of all who know them. What so beautiful as gray hairs in the way of righteousness! Such men are the glory of a Conference.

James B. McKamy died full of peace, and leaves a precious memory.

About sixty-five per cent. upon the widows' and orphans' claims was raised, and $903 88 for missions. The entire membership is set down for the year at 11,371. Next Conference is to be held at Augusta.

I was very glad to be the guest, for a night, of Ex-Gov. Baxter. The State is greatly indebted to his good sense, shrewdness and firmness for its escape from carpet-bag rule. He is a Methodist, and is as remarkable for his modesty as for his integrity of character.

I inclose you the appointments.

Truly yours, J. C. KEENER.

APPOINTMENTS.

Searcy District.—James M. Talkington, P. E. Searcy station, John H. Dye; Searcy circuit, M. B. Pearson; Elpaso circuit, N. B. Fizer; Mineral circuit, B. S. Rayner; Bayou Meto circuit, to be supplied (by I. N. Pace;) Beebe circuit, Z. T. Bennett; Judsonia circuit, L. D. Webb; Grand Glaize, Thomas Vincent; Jacksonport station, J. M. Clark; Big Creek, M. B. Umstead; Augusta station, E. Orgain; Jacksonport circuit, Charles B. Hunton.

Helena District.—George A. Dannelly, P. E. Helena station, Josephus Anderson; Helena circuit, T. A. Craig; Mariana station, to be supplied (by J. L. Denton;) Forrest City station, C. H. Ford; Forrest City circuit, A. Davis; Prairie circuit, Frank Ritter; Wheatly mission, T. H. Howard; Devlew station, J. C. Carter; Augusta circuit, E. T. Jones; Cotton Plant, M. C. Morris; Clarendon circuit, S. G. Shaw; Valley Grove, W. H. Pendergrass; Marnelle circuit, M. J. F. Beasley; Laconia circuit, A. P. Satfold; Pleasant Valley, J. E. Jenigan; Richwood, S. D. Evans.

Batesville District.—H. T. Gregory, P. E. Batesville station, J. W. Boswell; Batesville circuit, T. J. Settle; Smithville circuit, to be supplied (by W. H. Phipps;) Pocahontas and Powhatan, R. G. Brittain; Pocahontas circuit, S. Bayliss; Walnut Hill circuit, S. L. Cochran; La Crosse and Evening Shade, E. A. Garrison; Philadelphia circuit, B. F. Hall; Evening Shade circuit, T. P. Hare; Salem circuit, J. R. Steele; Bennett's Rim circuit, W. A. Lindsey; Bathesda circuit, J. J. Alexander; Walnut Ridge, J. A. Parker; Corning, J. G. Miller.

Jonesboro District.—E. M. Baker, P. E. Jonesboro circuit, W. R. Young; Shiloh circuit, L. G. Rogers; Harrisburg circuit, J. M. Steel; Wittsburg circuit, G. A. Shaefer; Taylor's Creek circuit, W. C. Malone; Bayou Deview circuit, C. L. Freeman; Greensboro circuit, A. C. Griffin; New Hope, to be supplied (by R. Diggs;) Black Oak, J. F. Armstrong; Gainesville, W. M. Watson; Oak Bluff R. D. Moore.

Mississippi District.—W. R. Foster, P. E. Osceola circuit, J. A. Corbitt; Chickasawba, R. M. McAlister; Frenchman's Bayou, G. M. Hill; Marion station, to be supplied (by B. Medlin;) Marion circuit, Benoni Harris; Tymyer mission, W. H. Pasehall; Walnut Bend station, T. J. Brickle.

Transferred.—A. R. Bennick, to Northwest Texas Conference; G. J. Aryent, to Memphis Conference.

Next session of the Conference to be held at Augusta, Ark.

THE BIBLE.—There are no stories so beautiful, so interesting, as the Bible stories. There is no book in which we find such grand and touching poetry, such terse and deep sayings. Here is something for every one. The soldier, who likes to read of battles; the sailor, who likes to read of storms and shipwrecks; the lover of nature, who likes descriptions of scenery and of the glories of creation; the philosopher, who likes to study the human heart; the sorrowful, the weak, the sick, the aged, the dying—all find here food for their minds, and comfort for their souls.—Adolph Saphir.

The thing which an active mind most needs is a purpose and direction worthy of its activity.—Bovee.

How hard it is for the man who has nothing to say to keep his seat.

Ever remember that "one hour to-day is worth two to-morrow."

Publisher's Department.

Acknowledgments of Letters and Funds
RECEIVED BY MAIL.
For the Week Ending Dec. 16, 1876.

A—N W Ayer & Son, Edwin Alden, George F Archer $4.60, J B Ashley, D Appleton & Co, T A S Adams $7, D W Alexander $2.

B—Baker & Sperry, Hamrick & Pease, W H Bennett $24 45, R Bradley $5, Rusick, Stevens & Co $2.70, George W Brown, W E Ballard, D H Brown $4.50, Mrs G Binling $23, A D Bayliss, J M Bonn, T F Bradford, J S Bennett, K W Babb, G W Buchanan, Ball, Hutchings & Co $21.35.

C—William J Carleton, Martin E Cady, John Collins, M D Carroll, Mrs J W Clark two letters $1.25, Catching & Ainsworth $23.15, S P Coffeen $2.50, W W Carson, Aboudein Carr $2, O Chandron $2, John Church & Co, W F Compton James D Crabtree, M Cady $1.60, L Cobley, John Clinton, Beverly Carradine.

D—E P Dutton, R A Davis $4, Oliver Ditson & Co, H DuBose, George J Dicks & Son, Daughtry & Smylie $10, John W DeVilbiss $1.50, Dosh & Herrell, W L Ditto.

E—Esterbrook Steel Pen Manufacturing Company, O W Evans, H Enochs, Eddie J Ely 40 cents, W G Elder, H Ernshtruck.

F—Furness & Wales, N Futrell, C H Ford, H L Fuller Thomas W Flowers $1, Leroy W Fairchild, Mrs J M Fuqua 30 cents, W F Ferris, Lewis B Featherston, Eberhard Faber, G—J Hilliot & Son $15, W Gridman, James A Gilfrew, Mrs K A Griswold $10, E A Garrison $2, W F Graves, Garza & McKeough.

H—John W Hollan, W W Harding, Hearst Bro, P S Harris two letters $2.45, E J Hale & Son, J H Hill, Harper & Bros, Hallonion Bros $18.61, Miss Ellen Hamerton $2.25, T B Hallonion, W E Hamblett, J S Harris, W S Harrison, M J Hamilton 25 cents, Mrs R E Holt 50 cents.

I—Irvine, Blakeman, Taylor & Co.

J—P A Johnson, W S Jones Jr 50 cents, H F Johnson, Mrs Johnston, Mrs Sallie E Johnson, B Jones.

K—John O Keener, Mrs Mary C D Kelly, A T Kendrick, Katz & Adels, C H Kelly, S C Kirkland $5.

L—Will H Leith, B C Langford, W E M Linsold, W S Lagrone, Thomas A Lesbyne, W C Lewis, Walter Lipscomb 75 cents, J R Lippincott & Co.

M—John W McMaster, William H Methany, Morgan Bayou Company three letters, J W Mizell, H H Montgomery, D J Martin $1.05, Miles, Dudley & Co $18.55, Andrew McGregor, J M Marr, P W McDonald, J E Mayhew $5.25, T L Moody $5.50, S Moore $10.55, Samuel Morris, Mrs J H Mockbee, A L McBride $2.

N—New York State Paint Company, Newcomer & Hamilton two letters, A H Neylan, J McNicholson.

O—James Ormond two letters, O Osborn & Son.

P—W H Perry $1, Miss L Lizzie Perry 50 cents, L M Proctor, T C Parish $1, Potter, Ainsworth & Co, Powers Paper Company, L Parker $41.75, M Peck $2, John Pridgen $1.60, C B Pilley.

R—George P Rowell & Co three letters $2.75, Runge & Co, Mrs Ellen Rast $1, Mrs N W Reed $5, S A Richmond, H S Rhoads, A H Rodford $24.75, J M Roberts $1.85, Reisinger, D M Rush.

S—E G Selchow & Co, John L Shorey $3, C W Sanford, Mrs W J Sankey, P B Saffold, W R Smart, Sheldon & Co, J P Stevens $1.50, Mrs P M Sharkey 30 cents.

T—Mrs J J Tilden, Charles Thomas, Charles Taber & Co, E W Thompson, James A Tone $6.25, W W H Woodruff two letters, A H Ward $2, Fred White, O D Watkins, R S Woodward, W W Wilkinson, Mrs Sarah D Wilkins 50 cents, B H Woods & Bro, Thomas G Williden.

Y—William H Young.

Z—J H Zellin & Co $31.50.

POSTOFFICES.

If all the preachers to whom the ADVOCATE is being sent, whose appointments will necessitate a change of postoffice, will advise us at once they will save us much trouble.

OUR Indy friends are directed to Danziger's advertisement; on this page. Holiday goods of every variety are offered at prices which seem to leave small margin for profit to the seller. It is unnecessary for us to do more than call attention to the fact that this is a special advertisement for the holidays, as Danziger's establishment is well known to every lady who "goes shopping." A call at this store will well repay the visitor.

FINE PUBLIC CARRIAGES.—Our estimable fellow-citizen, T. W. Bothick, Esq., has recently received from Messrs. James Cunningham & Son, of Rochester, N. Y., some of the finest carriages that have ever been seen in New Orleans. Our old friend has determined that no design in his line shall surpass him in the South by the fine display of carriages. Mr. Bothick is one of our old and respected citizens.

PHOTOGRAPHS.—We advise our readers to visit the gallery of Mr. Roth, 11 Frenchmen-street, and examine his permanent photographs, which he claims to be faideless, and every way superior to the ordinary work. By taking the Royal street car it will let you off at the door. Country readers who intend coming into the city, and propose having their likenesses taken for the holidays, should note this fact.

SHOE STORE.—There is no excuse now for wearing torn shoes. Mr. L. Hindel, 558 Magazine street, is offering ladies and children's shoes at prices within the reach of everybody. Before we remind the readers of the ADVOCATE, both in the city and country, to call and examine his fine stock, Mr. Phillips, known for many years to the people of New Orleans, is the salesman.

HAIR GOODS.—George T. Schilling refers to the public, during the holidays, an elegant assortment of hair goods, jewelry and fancy articles. Mr. Schilling's taste in this branch of business is fine, and those wishing to get handsome presents could not do better, we think, than purchase at his store. Orders from the country will be promptly attended to.

HOME MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.—Any one wishing to have shoes made to order and a good fit guaranteed, would do well to consult the advertisement of J. Rinte. His establishment is at 24 Canal street. Orders from the country will receive prompt attention. Parties in the country can leave their measures and have the shoes shipped them when finished.

GROCERIES.—John Cahill, 843 and 845 Magazine street, advertises in to-day's paper a fine assortment of groceries, teas, etc. His establishment is first-class, and he proposes by careful attention to the wants of his customers, to retain a large part of the trade of the upper city. He will deliver goods free to any part of the city.

M. L. NAVRA, at the China Palace, on Canal street, has a splendid assortment of china, glass and crockery for the holidays. It is a pleasure to look at the beautiful articles displayed in his store. His prices are very low—a fact which will be found in his advertisement. Call at the China Palace for presents for your friends.

ANY ONE troubled with a cough or cold is referred to the advertisement of the Indian Turnip Pectoral Balm, manufactured by Mr. B. Wallace, of this city. It can be procured at most drug stores, and usually from country merchants. Where this is not the case an order should be sent to one of the agencies given in the advertisement.

ATTENTION is called to the notice, in another column, of the price of ice manufactured by the Louisiana Ice Manufacturing Company. This is one of the important industries of our city, and we are glad to note the evidence of its prosperity.

HOUSEKEEPERS will find the advertisement of Isidore Levi, with A. Peiser & Co., of interest. The prices for crockery and glassware are so low that no one need hesitate to purchase, and Mr. Levi feels confident that an examination is all that it requires to induce housekeepers to patronize his establishment. Wholesale buyers are invited to inspect the stock.

M. L. NAVRA will fill orders from the country for China and glassware with care and dispatch.

JACKSON & GALLAGHER will send their illustrated catalogue of pipe organs on application.

STAPLE and fancy dry goods for sale at Levy Bros.', 583 Magazine street.

SEE the advertisement of E. Offner, on this page.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WHEELER & PIERSON,
NOS. 13 AND 15 CAMP STREET,
Opposite the City Hotel,
CLOTHING & FURNISHING GOODS
FOR MEN AND BOYS.

We invite visitors from the country to look at our stock. We keep good Goods, sell at one price, and mark it in plain figures. Clergymen's trade solicited, and a liberal deduction made to them.

LADIES! A soft and beautiful skin is the desire of every lady of refinement. Pozzoni's Medicated Complexion Powder has been fully tested, and found to perform all that is claimed for it. It removes the skin delicately soft, removes all discolorations, eruptions, etc. Mothers can apply it to infants with safety. Sold by all first-class druggists and at depot on North Main street St. Louis. Mindell Hotel.

WHAT NEXT! Consumptive Cured. When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed, Dr. H. James, a experimenting, he accidentally made a preparation of Indian Hemp, which cured his only child of consumption. He now gives this recipe free, on receipt of two stamps to pay expenses. Hemp also gives night sweats, raises it the stomach, and will break a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address Cheek & Co., 1402 Race street, Philadelphia, naming this paper.

A PAPER FOR YOUNG PEOPLE. The Youth's Companion, of Boston, is one of the most brilliant and surprising successes in newspaper history, and in breadth of miscellaneous reading has no superior.

ASTHMA AND CATARRH.—See Dr. Lange's advertisement. new

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

COUNTRY ORDERS
FOR
BOOTS AND SHOES.

PARTIES who wish to buy Boots and Shoes FOR CASH are invited to send to me for a card, which explains HOW TO TAKE YOUR OWN MEASURE, thus enabling any one in the country to get a good-fitting Boot or Shoe direct from the city at the LOWEST CITY PRICES. Where we are favored with orders that exceed $10 the freight thereon will be prepaid, at our expense. Where the order exceeds $20 we will also pay the cost of sending the money to us, whether by Express Money Order, Registered Letter, Bank Draft or otherwise. Terms cash. If you wish goods sent C.O.D. to all points where the Express Company or Packages have agents, 10 per cent must be sent with order. Price list of ready-made goods also instructions how to take your own measure, will be sent us application.

GIMBEL'S UPPER CITY BLUE BOOT AND SHOE STORE,
No. 578 Magazine Street,
Sign of the Lady's Boot.
LOUIS GIMBEL, Agent.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS,
HAIR GOODS,
JEWELRY AND FANCY ARTICLES.

G. T. SCHILLING'S,
15 CANAL ST. 150
Branch Store—709 Dryades.

Largest assortment in the South. All new styles, comprising Celluloid Floral Crosses, Chains, Sprays, Real Shell and Ivory Combs, Balls, Lapiz and Black Garnet Sets, Stone and Gold Ornaments and Sets, Etcan Pins for the Opera and Theater. French and German Perfumery in endless variety. Particular attention paid to country orders. Prices the lowest.

PERMANENT PHOTOGRAPHS.
NO MORE FADING.

Having bought the right of gallery to make LAMBERTYPE PATENT PHOTOGRAPHS, I assure the public that I can furnish now not only pictures that will never fade but also far superior to the ordinary work. Call and see specimens at ROTH'S,
Portrait Painter and Photographer,
No. 11 Frenchmen street, near Esplanade.

JOHN CAHILL,
Wholesale and Retail Grocer,
And dealer in Groceries, Teas, etc.,
613 MAGAZINE STREET 615
Corner of Jackson, New Orleans.
Goods delivered to all parts of the city free of drayage.

CARPET WAREHOUSE, 17 CHARTRES STREET.
CARPETINGS—Wilton, Axminster, Velvet, Brussels, Tapestry, Three-Ply, etc.
FLOOR OIL CLOTH—English and American.
MATTINGS—50 rolls White, Check and Fancy.
WINDOW SHADES, Table and Piano Covers.
FURNITURE and CURTAIN GOODS in great variety.
HURLAPS, Table and Enamel OIL CLOTHS.
A. IROM'S SEAL.

NOTICE.
OFFICE LOUISIANA ICE MANUFACTURING CO.,
No. 10 Bienville street, December 20, 1876.

From and after this date the price of Ice at the Company's factory will be as follows:
Block Ice, made of river water, $8 per ton.
Clear Ice, made of distilled water, $12 per ton.
SIMON HOSSELIN, Secretary.

HOLIDAY MUSIC BOOKS.
17 Splendid Volumes for Presents.

Uniform in Style, Binding and Price; which is for each Book: In Boards, $2.50; In Cloth, $3.00; In Cloth, full Gilt, $4.00.

THE WORLD OF SONG

Is the largest and best volume of Vocal Music for the price ever published. It contains 240 pages, full Sheet-Music size, and is filled with the best Songs and Duets of the day.

GEMS OF THE DANCE

is the largest and best volume of Instrumental Music, 240 pages, full Sheet-Music size, filled with the best recent compositions of Strauss, Lamothe, Ziehrer, Faust and others. It is a companion to the famous "GEMS OF STRAUSS."

Also Vocal.
Gems of English Song.	Marco's Irish Melodies.
Gems of Scottish Song.	Silver Wreath.
Gems of German Song.	Instrumental.
Wreath of Gems.	Gems of Strauss.
Shower of Pearls.	Home Circle, Vol. I & II.
Operatic Pearls.	Pianist's Album.
	Pianoforte Gems.

Also The Musical Treasure, both Vocal and Instrumental, Organ at Home, for Reed Organs, and Piano-at-Home, with Piano Duets.
Either book mailed, post free, for retail price.
OLIVER DITSON & CO.,
BOSTON.
C. H. Ditson & Co., 711 Broadway, New York.
J. E. Ditson & Co., Successors to Lee & Walker, Philadelphia.

WILLIAM F. HELLEN,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
No. 108 N. Fourth Street, St. Louis, Mo.

Special attention to Insurance and Admiralty business. Refers to Messrs. Merrick, Race & Foster, Hon. J. S. Whitaker, Messrs. Pritchard, Hickman & Co., Rev. Linus Parker, and H. S. Buckner and Pierre A. Barker, Esqs., New Orleans.

Greensboro Female College,

Ala. Rates of Tuition Reduced One-Third. First-Class Professors, and the Finest Instrumentals in the South. Spring Term Opens January 1.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!
HAPPY NEW YEAR!
THE GRAND POPULAR HOLIDAY SALE
AT DANZIGER'S.
Nothing Like It Ever Seen Before
$100,000
IN HOLIDAY GOODS!
IN IMMENSE VARIETIES!

CHOICE PRESENTS.
USEFUL PRESENTS.
DESIRABLE PRESENTS,
TO SUIT

THE POPULAR PURSE.

We take pleasure in extending a general invitation to the New Orleans public to visit our spacious stores and examine our extensive assortment of Holiday Goods.

Purchase presents made by accumulate our many friends and customers who attend calling for the holidays. Prices marked on all goods in plain figures. So one should fail to call at DANZIGER'S before buying their HOLIDAY PRESENTS, as we are displaying the most extensive assortment of the city, at prices that cannot be equaled.

Merry Christmas!
Happy New Year!
Holiday Goods!
Danziger's Holiday Sale!

OUR GRAND DISPLAY OF HOLIDAY PRESENTS.

For your SILKS at DANZIGER'S. Splendid Black Silks for the Holidays, splendid Fancy Silks for the Holidays, splendid Black Velvets for the Holidays, splendid Colored Velvets for the Holidays.

What to Buy.—Whole quarty Ladies' Handkerchiefs in beautiful boxes. Splendid quarty Mens' Handkerchiefs in beautiful boxes. Children's Handkerchiefs. Pretty boxes. Silk Handkerchiefs in all styles. Embroidered Handkerchiefs, the all styles of real Embroidery.

What to Buy.—Ladies' and Gents' cashmere scarfs, hand-knitted, in the rare Ladies' Stocks. Silk Ties and Ecarfs in all kinds. Ladies' Gloves. Gents' Gloves. Fancy Gloves. Misses' Gloves. Gents' own importation, children's Fur Cloaks, splendid qualities.

What to Buy.—Ladies' Fur Capes, large size, in Fur Cashmeres, Silvers, Real Coon, Black Rio, Lynx, Sable, Chilla. Ladies' Silks, Choice Dress Cashmeres.

What to Buy.—Beautiful Photograph Albums, Choice Standard Books, Real Russia Leather Pocket Books, Gentlemen's Silk Cravats, fancy handles.

What to Buy.—Choice assortment of fancy Sash Ribbons, Coral Necklaces, Broaches, with silver. Everything for Children's Fancy Stocking, in fact everything suitable for Holiday Presents.

DANZIGER'S,
203 CANAL STREET. 203
Between Bourbon and Rampart
BRANCH STORES:
230 ROYAL STREET, corner St. Philip.
228 ROYAL STREET, one door from St. Philip.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—To accommodate the patronage of our customers, Royal street will be open daily during Christmas and New Year week from 10 o'clock in the morning to 10 o'clock in the evening.

OTHER DEALERS MAY ADVERTISE LIBERAL CREDIT TERMS and CHEAPER THAN EVER, but when you wish to secure REAL BARGAINS go to China, Glass and Crockery Ware,

TO THE TRADE.
ISIDORE LEVI
WITH A. PEISER & CO.,
NO. 21 MAGAZINE STREET,

Where you can buy, at Retail:

A Real French China DINNER SET, 115 pieces, for	$18 00
TEA SET (same quality goods), 44 pieces	5 00
Stone China DINNER SET, 121 pieces	12 00
TEA SET (same quality goods), 44 pieces	4 00
Decorated CHAMBER SET, 11 pieces	3 00
Stone CHAMBER SET, 10 pieces	2 50

And all other goods throughout the Largest, Cheapest and Most Reliable House, and to Wholesale Buyers as straightforward dealers as they would wish to find.

Goods being imported direct, with no intermediate profit to pay, enables us to offer the Best Inducements to All Buyers.

COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA.

Remember that for all Affections of the THROAT AND LUNGS, Lapluce's Indian Turnip Pectoral Balm is the only remedy so far having effectency of action with a most palatable savor. Give it a trial. Prepared and sold at all well-assorted drug stores, and by the proprietor, 204 and 206 Fulton street, Mobile depot—DuBose & Co., 20 Water street; St. Louis depot—Richardson & Co., 209 N. Main street.

JOHN RUNTE,
Home-Made Boots and Shoes,
SEWED AND SCREWED,
23 CANAL STREET 23
Between Front and Peters, New Orleans.

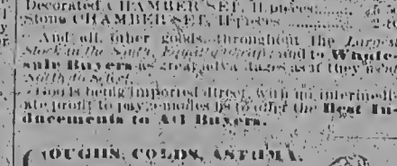
Orders from the country and city solicited. Exact measure taken. A good fit guaranteed. All orders left will meet with prompt attention. Quick Sales and Small Profits is the motto.

NEW GOODS
AT
JOHN L. LAVELLE'S,
370 AND 381 DRYADES ST.

New Raisins	12 15 18 20
Cleaned Cal Raisins	10
New Currants	12
New Citron	25
Ammon's Mince Meat	10
New Figs	10
New Brazilian Nuts	12
Large New Pecans	15

WE GRIND our own Spices. Fully TEN PER CENT. SAVED by buying of JOHN L. LAVELLE'S.

BABBITT'S TOILET SOAP.



And has to-day the public that best knows its merits. Why? Because it combines all the purifying, cleansing and healing properties of the best Toilet Soaps, with the addition of Pure Cocoanut Oil, which renders it the most delightful and effective skin purifier and beautifier ever offered to the public. For Sale by all Druggists.

S. M. BOYD,
BACK OFFICE, NO. 9 CARONDELET ST.,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.,
AGENT FOR
JOS. WALTON & CO.,
WHOLESALE COAL DEALERS,
PITTSBURG, PA.

The Unique Hair Crimper.

NOTHING NEW. IT IS NOVEL, SIMPLE, LIGHT, EASILY adjusted, and does not break the hair; does not wear out. Mailed, one pair 15 cents, two pairs 25 cents. Large discount to dealers. Agents wanted. WELLS MFG. CO., 19 Sudbury st., Boston, Mass. eow

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

COTTON PLANTERS, ATTENTION!

Save Your Unopened Cotton Bolls. Read the Following Certificates, and Profit by the Experience of Others.

OFFICE OF CLARKE, JOHNSON & CO.,
MEMPHIS, TENN., December 9, 1876.

MESSRS. ALLISON BROS., MEMPHIS, TENN.—Dear Sirs: I have had successful operation on my plantation, in Bradley's bending, Ark., with your Complete Cotton Cleaners, and truly find it "an indispensable machine" in my gin house. It does its work to perfection all you claim for it in removing the sticky dust and light leaf trash, and in addition to this, it enables me to save all the cotton apparently in my fields in unopened and frosted bolls. These would be a total loss, as I know of no gin on which they can be cleaned; but by running through your "C. C. C." they are opened and separated, in such a manner that I can, on my "Champion Gin," make a sample of cotton for which I can to-day offer 10 cts. per pound, that in making what I consider a net profit from all the thirty bales of cotton which I can secure, for which but the "C. C. C." would be a total loss, while with its assistance I expect to make nearly a thousand bales.

The profit resulting from the use of your "C. C. C." is such as to be immediate and no planter should, this season especially, be without some of them. Yours, etc.,
E. E. CLARKE.

MEMPHIS, TENN., December 2, 1876.

MESSRS. ALLISON BROS., MEMPHIS, TENN.—Gents: Last season I ran one of your "Complete Cotton Cleaners" in the Mississippi bottom, and in addition to the certificate which I have already given while in the fields after picking is practically finished. I found that by using your "C. C. C." those unopened bolls were not a favorable condition for ginning on my "Champion Gins," producing a sample of cotton worth from 8c. to 10c. per pound.

I believe confidently in the claims of this operation on the bolls now left in the cotton fields that I would be glad to enter into a contract to undertake with any parties who have and wish to dispose of them, as I want all I can get of them. Yours, etc.,
H. R. BOYD.

ROWLEY LANDING, Mississippi River, ARK., January 25, 1876.

MESSRS. ALLISON BROS., MEMPHIS, TENN.: I have built the "Complete Cotton Cleaner," bought of you, and constructed one of it works to perfection. After more than paid for itself in two weeks' work. I can ginand make a good sample of cotton from the pick just from the ground, as also that gathered from the OPENED BOLLS UNOPENED BOLLS. Such ginning garnered with ordinary care, is IMPROVED FROM 50 TO 100 PER CENT. IN GRADE—THIRD IS WORTH AS present prices. With the aid of the "C. C. C." I can also work upland gin cotton without trouble. Yours, etc., J. McH. MERIWETHER.

The crop of frosted and unopened bolls remaining in the cotton fields is unusually large this year, and we cannot too strongly urge upon the planter the necessity of gathering every dollar's worth of what he has to raise a bale to produce. The Complete Cotton Cleaner thoroughly opens up the bolls, enabling them to be ginned, or otherwise they would rot in the fields, a total loss. To large planters especially this can be made an item of immense running into the thousands, and possibly saving many of them from harassing debt, which would otherwise secure from the shortness of their crops. The "Complete Cotton Cleaner" is now in the market and sold by

ALLISON BROS., MEMPHIS, TENN.,

Who will take pleasure in answering all inquiries. Send for circulars and Price List.

ERIERSON & CO., Agents, 77 Carondelet St., New Orleans.

FOR THE BEST AND CHEAPEST
TEA, COFFEE AND SPICES
GO TO THE
GREAT T DEPOT!
And Steam Coffee and Spice Mills,
No. 5 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Try our CHOICE BLEND COFFEE, roasted and ground at 20 cents per pound. Consumers appreciate it at once.

NOTICE.—Parties wishing Mills and Low large steam boilers and engines, are kept in stock at our establishment to supply the immediate demand of our goods consequently none but the FIRST-CLASS GOODS can be had of us. This is an indisputable fact, patent to any one calling on our store, and speaks volumes in our favor.

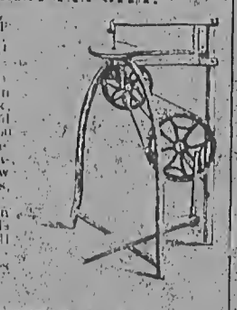
E. OFFNER,
"THE OLD RELIABLE."

CROCKERY, CHINA, GLASSWARE,
SILVER PLATED WARE, CUTLERY,
AND
HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS
Sold Cheaper than ever before at the Old Stand,
171 Canal Street, 171
Opposite Varieties Theater.

I SELL THE REAL FRENCH CHINA DINNER SETS (115 pieces) for $19.50
TEA SETS of the same quality of pieces, decorated in six colors, something entirely new, for 6.50
Stone China CHAMBER SETS, 10 pieces 3.00
Stone China DINNER SETS, 121 pieces for 12.50
All other goods sold equally as cheap and all goods are guaranteed.
No charge for packing.

The Celebrated Butter Churn,
Making Butter in from three to ten minutes, is sold very cheap.
All orders will have prompt and careful attention.
E. OFFNER,
171 Canal Street,
Opposite Varieties Theater.

The Centennial Bracket Saw
AS A CHRISTMAS GIFT.



EVERYBODY WANTS IT
ALL DELIGHTED WITH IT.
Simplicity simplified! What can you saw with a Scroll Saw? Two inches thick, of the most fanciful work. Will make 500 strokes per minute. No. 2 Foot Power Machine complete, 24 Saw Blades and 24 Designs, all for $1.50.
Boys 9 years old run it. While fun is gained in profit as well as pleasure.
Will saw to inches in the clear.

RICE, BORN & CO.,
59 AND 61 CAMP STREET,
Branch Store, 97 Magazine Street. Warehouse 116, 118 and 120 Magazine St.
IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN
Foreign and Domestic Hardware,
Builders' Hardware, Graves, Cutlery, Shovels and Bangles, House-Furnishing Goods. Sole Agents for the CHARTER OAK STOVE.

D. MERCIER & SONS,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN CLOTHING!
HATS, BOOTS, SHOES, FURNISHING GOODS, ETC.,
Cor. Dauphine and Bienville Streets.
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

The very best of French and English Cloths made to order in the latest style. Prompt attention to customers, and satisfaction guaranteed. Orders from Country Merchants promptly executed on the most reasonable terms.

M. TRAUB & HOFFMEISTER,
PHOTOGRAPHIC
ARTISTIC COMBINATION,
105 CANAL ST., NEW ORLEANS.
English, French, German, Spanish and Italian spoken.

WANTED.

AN EXPERIENCED SOUTHERN LADY, qualified to teach Music, the Languages and English branches, to take charge of a PRIVATE SCHOOL. A Methodist preferred. References given and required. Address
S. TAYLOR, boro, Miss.

WM. H. SHEPARD,
MANUFACTURERS' AGENT,
AND WHOLESALE DEALER
IN
TEAS AND SPICES,
58 CUSTOM HOUSE ST 58
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

DR. PRICE'S
CREAM BAKING POWDERS.
STEELE & PRICE'S
RELIABLE BAKING POWDERS.
SHEPARD'S
IMPROVED HOP YEAST.
DR. PRICE'S
LEMON SUGAR
DR. PRICE'S
ESSENCE JAMAICA GINGER.
DR. PRICE'S
SPECIAL FLAVORING EXTRACTS.
DR. PRICE'S
AMERICAN PERFUMES.
LAVINA'S
EXQUISITE FLOWER ODORS.
TOWNSEND'S
COUGH TROCHES.
BIXBY'S
Mucilage, School Ink, Dry and Liquid Blue, Stove Polish, Shoe Dressing, Best Shoe Blacking, Etc.
CORKS.
Vial, Wine, Flask, Soda, Jug, Carboy, Bungs, Etc.
Common, X and XX in stock.
TEAS.
Oolongs, English Breakfast, Gunpowders, Imperials, Young Hysons, Japans, Twankays, Etc.
All kinds and grades.
GROUND SPICES.
Black Pepper, White Pepper, Allspice, Jamaica Ginger, African Ginger, Cloves, Cinnamon, Mace.
In quarter-pound cans and in bulk.
All of the above goods in store and for sale by
WM. H. SHEPARD,
58 CUSTOM HOUSE STREET.

IMMENSE REDUCTION
AT
M. L. NAVRA'S
CHINA PALACE!
120 Canal Street, Touro Building.

HAVING IMPORTED AND PURCHASED at auction a very large stock of Crockery, China, Glassware
AND OTHER
HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS,
I propose to give my customers the benefit of my facilities by selling goods at less prices than ever before.

Look at some of my prices and judge for yourselves:

A real French China DINNER SET, 115 pieces, for	$19 00
A real French China TEA SET, 44 pieces, for	6 00
A Stone China DINNER SET, 121 pieces, for	13 00
A Stone China TEA SET, 44 pieces, for	3 50
A Stone China CHAMBER SET for	2 75
Decorated CHAMBER SET, 11 pieces, for	6 00

Also the celebrated BUTTER CHURN, Warranted to make butter in from three to ten minutes. PAINTING AND DECORATION Chinaware done at short notice.
Orders from the country will receive my best attention.
M. L. NAVRA,
CHINA PALACE,
120 Canal street, Touro Building,
New Orleans.
6p

COAL. COAL.
H. & C. TYLER,
B CARONDELET ST. D
will sell Pittsburg, Anthracite and Cahaul COAL, in quantities to suit customers, at the lowest market rates.
H. & C. TYLER.

W. A. BECK, COOPERAGE.
Office and Sales Room, NOS. 21 & 23 NORTH FRONT ST. Manufactory, Carondelet Walk, bet. Roman and Prieur, New Orleans.
Have constantly on hand Sugar Hogsheads, Molasses Barrels, Half Barrels, Kegs, etc.; also a large assortment of Hoop Poles. Orders promptly attended to. Particular attention paid to Trimming.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SHIRTS! SHIRTS!
AND WARM UNDERGARMENTS!
AT
UNUSUALLY LOW PRICES!
NO COMMON GOODS.

Notice Prices of Undershirts:

Good Warm Merino	$1 and upward.
Good English Merino	$1.50 and upward
Best all wool	$2 all sizes.
Best Shaker, ribbed white	$2 all sizes.
Good Twilled Red Flannel	$1.50—all sizes.
Best Cotton Flannel, all sizes	$1.25 and $1.50.

Prices of Drawers equally low, except in Jean Drawers, of very best quality, are only 75 cents per pair, all sizes. In finer goods, of Cartwright & Warner and other celebrated makes, a full line of sizes on hand, and at regular prices.

New Styles of Shirts. All our Shirts received in press, and may be quality. A good White Shirt, any style, $1.25 and upwards. A stylish Colored Shirt, any styles from $1 to $1.50. Besides a full assortment of the finer grades, and all of the best patterns.

A very large stock of HALF HOSE, British Half Hose, a great variety, 25 and 37½ per dozen. A full line of Fancy Half Hose, $1 to $3, and only at White's "Sign of the Flag Handkerchief." Half Hose, from Smyrna to Cashmere.

See the new stock of DRESSING ROBES, from $11 to $30.

A new assortment of UMBRELLAS, made with selected sticks.

New Pocket Books, Toilet Articles, Shirt Bosom Pins, Sleeve Buttons, Watch Chains and Charms, also all other styles of FASHIONABLE NECK WEAR, embracing all kinds in silk and wash. White and Fancy POCKET HANDKERCHIEFS, and Embroidered French Suspenders.

New styles of COLLARS AND CUFFS are now stocked in stock.

Kid, Castor, Cloth and other styles of GLOVES, in all sizes and colors.

Remember, NO COMMON STOCK, but good goods at low prices.

B. T. WALSHE,
No. 110 CANAL ST., NEAR ST. CHARLES
NEW ORLEANS.

N. B.—Special attention called to assortment and choice stock of Furnishing Goods, consigned to me for Holiday Sales, and delivered at New York manufacturers' prices. 5p

FOR THE HOLIDAYS.
LORD & TAYLOR,
NEW YORK.

WE INVITE ATTENTION TO THE FOLLOWING DEPARTMENTS OF OUR ESTABLISHMENTS. THE LOW PRICES AT WHICH OUR GOODS ARE MARKED HAVE SPECIAL REFERENCE TO THE HOLIDAY SEASON, AND BARGAINS WILL BE FOUND THROUGHOUT THE HOUSE.

SILKS,
OF WHICH OUR STOCK IS THE LARGEST IN THE CITY, ARE OFFERED AS FOLLOWS: GOOD BLACK SILK at $1.50 per yard, WITH BETTER GRADES AT HIGHER PRICES. COLORED SILKS, very good, at $0.25 and up. A DRESS PATTERN OF EITHER WOULD BE AN APPROPRIATE GIFT.

DRESS GOODS.
IN DRESS GOODS OUR ASSORTMENT IS VERY LARGE, and PRICES RANGE from 25 cts. to $2 and upward. VERY FINE LINES OF GOODS ARE OFFERED AT 50c., 62c., 75c. and $1. THESE FABRICS ARE IN THE HIGHEST DARK CLOTH SHADES, and are very acceptable.

SHAWLS.
OUR SHAWL DEPARTMENT PRESENTS MANY ATTRACTIONS AS THE ASSORTMENT IS LARGE, CHOICE AND VARIED. REAL INDIA SHAWLS ARE OFFERED AS LOW AS $15; with BROCA, CHEDIA AND OTHER EQUALLY FINE GRADES, SELLING from $12 upward. THESE PRICES ARE BELOW ANYTHING YET OFFERED IN THIS MARKET.

Ladies' and Children's Suits.
THE LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S DEPARTMENT CONTAINS MANY NOVELTIES, BOTH IMPORTED AND OF OUR OWN MANUFACTURE. CASHMERE SUITS for $9.50; CAMEL'S HAIR SUITS at $18, and SILK SUITS at $25, WILL GIVE A GOOD IDEA OF THE VERY LOW PRICES AT WHICH GOODS ARE SOLD IN THIS DEPARTMENT. A HANDSOME DRESS OR SUIT IS A VERY ACCEPTABLE PRESENT.

FURS.
IN THIS LINE OUR STOCK INVITES INSPECTION, FOR WE SELL A GOOD FUR SET—MUFF AND BOA FOR $5 WITH THE BETTER GRADES PROPORTIONATELY LOW.

Ladies' Real Seal Sacques,
DARK SHADES AND FINE QUALITY, VERY DESIRABLE, from $75. THESE PRICES ARE FOR POSITIVE BARGAINS.

UPHOLSTERY.
THE UPHOLSTERY DEPARTMENT CONTAINS DAMASK, LACE CURTAINS, REPS, ROCCAILLES, SATINS, CRETONNES, CHINTZES, LAMBREQUINS, etc., together with PIER AND MANTEL MIRRORS, CONNECTING CORNICES, CURTAINS, SHADES, etc. THE PRICES IN THESE GOODS ARE SO REASONABLE THAT HOUSEKEEPERS MAY BE RENEWED FOR THE HOLIDAYS AT A VERY SLIGHT COST.

Gent.'s Furnishing.
DRESSING GOWNS, SMOKING JACKETS AND CAPS, SCARFS, TIES, UMBRELLAS, GLOVES, AND OTHER ARTICLES FOR GENTLEMEN'S WEAR SUITABLE FOR THE HOLIDAY SEASON, TO WHICH THE ATTENTION OF LADIES IS INVITED.

GLOVES.
GLOVES OF THE MOST APPROVED MAKES IN ASSORTED SHADES AND COLORS, PUT UP IN QUANTITIES TO SUIT PURCHASERS.

ALSO
A LARGE AND CAREFULLY SELECTED LINE OF FANCY GOODS, ORNAMENTS, etc., WITH SMALL WARES OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, EXCEEDINGLY APPROPRIATE FOR THE HOLIDAY SEASON.

SAMPLES OF GOODS AND CATALOGUES OF LADIES', MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S FURNISHING GOODS SENT FREE ON APPLICATION TO ALL POINTS IN THE COUNTRY. ORDERS FOR GOODS TO BE EXECUTED WITH DISCRETION CAREFULLY FILLED WITH OUT CHARGE AND GOODS PACKED AND FORWARDED TO DESTINATION.

Broadway and Twentieth St.
Grand, Chrystie and Forsyth Streets, N. Y.

ALL BABYDOM NEEDS
NESTLE'S MILK FOOD,
OR LACTEOUS FARINA,
prepared from Swiss Milk, Brown Bread Crust and Sugar. A fresh supply of the above. Also SMITH'S CRUSHED WHITE WHEAT,
GRAHAM FLOUR,
PINHEAD OATMEAL,
MONTREAL MILLS OATMEAL,
BROOKS' FAMILY PICKLES,
NEW SHAKER PRESERVES,
ALBERT G. PHELPS, Grocer,
Cor. Prytania and Felicity Road.
5p

Farm, Garden and Household.

Dangerous Soap.

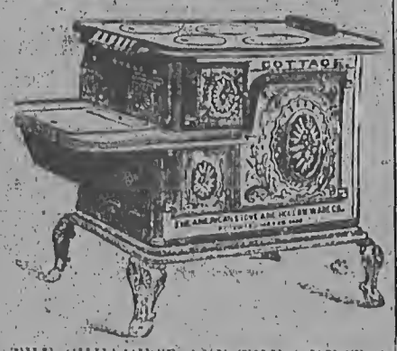
We have remarked of late the introduction into the market, under high-sounding names, of various strong potash combinations, intended for laundry and cleansing purposes. One of these preparations, which appears to contain more caustic potash than any other ingredient, lately caused the death of a child who accidentally ate some of it; and we have found the same stuff strong enough to remove old hard paint from wood work when merely wetted by the same and allowed to rest thereon for perhaps one hour or two. We advise our readers to let such preparations severely alone; they are nuisances to clothes, and, except to cleanse kitchen floors or other grease-soaked places, should not be used. Even the ordinary low-grade soaps are heavily charged with soda and impurities; which, the manufacturers say, they are obliged to add, in order to hold them own with fraudulent dealers who adulterate still more heavily; and these soaps are also highly destructive to fabrics. It is much better economy to purchase a good quality, even a superior quality of white soap for household purposes, for the extra cost of the soap will, in the end, be more than saved in the lessened wear of clothes or oil cloths, and of paint. It is hardly necessary to add that strong alkali soaps should never be used on the skin, as their effect is corrosive and harmful. The object of using soap for the toilet is simply to overcome the natural oil which exudes from the body and render it possible for the water to combine therewith; and a very little of the soap is ample for this purpose.—Scientific American.

How Coffee Came to be Used.—It is somewhat singular to know the manner in which arose the use of the common beverage of coffee without which few persons in any half or wholly civilized country in the world now take breakfast. At the time Columbus discovered America it had never been known or used. It only grew in Arabia, or Upper Utopia.

The discovery of its use as a beverage is ascribed to the superior of a monastery in Arabia, who, desirous of preventing the monks from sleeping at their nocturnal services, made them drink the infusion of coffee, on the reports of shepherds, who observed that their flocks were more lively after browsing on the fruit of that plant. Its reputation spread through the adjacent countries, and in about two hundred years it had reached Paris. A single plant, brought there in 1714, became the parent stock of all the French coffee plantations in the West Indies, and the French and Spanish all over South America and the West Indies. The extent of the consumption now can hardly be realized. The United States alone annually consumes it at a cost, on its landing, of from $15,000,000 to $16,000,000.

HARDWARE, STOVES, ETC.

Stoves! Stoves! Stoves!



THE CHEAPEST AND THE "BEST."

THE "COTTAGE" LOOKING STOVES, to which I call particular attention, are unsurpassed by any in the market for economy, durability and most perfect BAKING. They carry a uniform heat in the oven and can be adapted for burning COAL, COKE or WOOD, without any additional cost. Every one sold makes a full guarantee to do as they are represented or the money will be refunded.

Also, a variety of other COOKING STOVES, of every grade and price, from $15 upward.

HEATING STOVES.

A very large and complete assortment, suitable for Offices, Parlors, Churches, School Rooms, etc., all of which are offered at very low prices to suit the times. Also, dealing in

TINWARE OF EVERY KIND

and description, to suit the country and city trade. Which is offered at UNPRECEDENTEDLY LOW PRICES FOR CASH. Also, Sole Agent for the manufacture and sale of the Steam Washer, or Woman's Friend.

Will cleanse your clothes WITHOUT RUBBING. Every one sold is FULLY WARRANTED. It saves labor, wear and tear, and the annoyance of wash day. It is truly a labor and clothes saving invention. Three hundred thousand have already been sold throughout the States since 1874.

☞ State and County Rights for sale.

Call and see it—No. 34 Magazine street.

D. W. W. GOODWYN.

The Celebrated Stewart Stove.

IMPROVED PATTERN OF 1873.

THE best Cook Stove in the world. Will last twenty years, and do more work with the same amount of fuel than any other stove that was ever made. Always on hand. Repairs for old Stewart Stoves always on hand.

J. H. CAMPMAN,

233 Poydras St., Agent for Louisiana.

J. FOERSTER'S

RICE AND CORN MILLS,

NOS. 109 AND 111 JULIA ST., AND 164, 166 AND 168 MAGAZINE STREET,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

MILLING RATES.

No. 1 Rice, three-quarter cent per pound.

No. 2 Rice, one-half cent per pound.

Eight sacks of bran returned for every 100 sacks of Rice received. Empty sacks furnished.

$55 to $77 a Week to Agents. Samples Free. P.O. VICKERY, Augusta, Me.

MEDICAL.

VEGETINE

PURIFIES THE BLOOD,

RENOVATES AND INVIGORATES THE WHOLE SYSTEM.

Its Medicinal Properties are Alterative, Tonic, Solvent and Diuretic.

VEGETINE is made exclusively from the juices of carefully selected barks, roots and herbs, and so strongly concentrated that it will effectually eradicate from the system every taint of Scrofula, Scrofulous Humor, Tumors, Cancer, Cancerous Humor, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Syphilitic Diseases, Canker, Faintness at the Stomach, and all diseases that arise from impure blood. Sciatica, Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout and Spinal Complaints can only be effectually cured through the blood.

For Ulcers and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, Pustules, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tetter, Scald Head and Ring Worm, VEGETINE has never failed to effect a permanent cure.

For Pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints, Dropsy, Female Weakness, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration and uterine diseases and General Debility, VEGETINE acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretive organs, allays inflammation, cures ulceration, and regulates the bowels.

For Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Headache, Piles, Nervousness and General Prostration of the Nervous System, no medicine has given such perfect satisfaction as the VEGETINE. It purifies the blood, cleanses all of the organs, and possesses a controlling power over the nervous system.

The remarkable cures effected by VEGETINE have induced many physicians and apothecaries whom we know to prescribe and use it in their own families.

In fact VEGETINE is the best remedy yet discovered for the above diseases, and it is the only reliable BLOOD PURIFIER yet placed before the public.

THE BEST EVIDENCE.

The following letter from Rev. E. S. Best, pastor of M. E. Church, Natick, Mass., will be read with interest by many physicians. Also those suffering from the same disease as afflicted the Rev. Mr. Best. No person can doubt this testimony, as there is no doubt about the curative powers of VEGETINE.

NATICK, Mass., Jan. 3, 1871.

MR. H. R. STEVENS—Dear Sir:—We have good reason for regarding your VEGETINE medicine of the greatest value. We feel assured that it has taken the place of calomel in our family. It is now several years since my health has been so much impaired by scrofulous affection and was so far reduced that nearly all who saw me gave up my recovery. My physician, a council of physicians could give us help, the faintest hope of his ever talking, two of the number declaring that he was beyond the reach of human remedies, that even Aspinwall Oil could not save him, as he had not vigor enough to endure the operation. At this worst moment my wife induced me to use VEGETINE, and from the first dose I began to mend. Though there is still some discharge from the spine, where the disease formed, the doctor pronounces me sound. Have taken eight bottles of VEGETINE, and have used a little in the family when sick, and have found it to be all that is claimed for it. Respectfully yours,

E. S. BEST.

MRS. LUCY E. BEST.

ALL DISEASES OF THE BLOOD.

If VEGETINE will relieve pain, cleanse, purify and cure such diseases, restoring the patient to perfect health after trying different physicians, many remedies, suffering for years, and in every case proof of you can be cured. Why is this medicine performing these great cures? It works in the blood, the vitalizing fluid. It can truly be called the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER. The great source of disease originates in the blood, and no medicine that does not act directly upon it can possibly and permanently cure any blood disease or humor.

RECOMMEND IT HEARTILY.

SOUTH BOSTON, Feb. 7, 1870.

MR. STEVENS—Dear Sir:—I have taken several bottles of your VEGETINE, and am convinced it is a valuable remedy for Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaint, and general debility of the system. I can heartily recommend it to all suffering from the above complaints.

Yours respectfully,

MRS. MONROE PARKER,

38 Athens Street.

PREPARED BY

H. R. STEVENS, Boston, Mass.

Vegetine is Sold by All Druggists.

SWAIM'S CELEBRATED PANACEA

Is not as many persons suppose a patented specific heralded for the cure of all diseases flesh is heir to; but, having by gradual and established reputation for MORE THAN FIFTY YEARS on account of its great value in diseases termed of the blood, having been the means of RESTORATION TO HEALTH OF THOUSANDS OF DISEASED PERSONS, it has received the indorsement of HUNDREDS OF PHYSICIANS who know its merits, and should be used by all who suffer from diseases arising from impurities of the blood, or even hereditary taints.

Its value in CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, OLD ULCERS, CHRONIC SORES, WHITE SWELLINGS, etc., is known to thousands of Southern people.

Prepared at

Swaim's Laboratory,

South Seventh St., below Chestnut St.,

PHILADELPHIA.

THE JELESO WATER,

NO. 20 CORTLANDT ST., NEW YORK.

WARREN & CO., Proprietors.

URAL MOUNTAIN

JELESO WATER

Is a concentration of all the curative qualities of the most celebrated Mineral Springs in the World. Each bottle contains eighty doses and is equal to over one hundred bottles of the Natural Spring Water.

As a tonic it is unsurpassed, having had most remarkable success in curing some of the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Nervousness, and General Debility. It is simply harmless, and pleasant to take. If used as a gargle in its pure state, on the first appearance of sore throat and all other throat diseases it works like magic. Arrests the progress of and cures such complaints in less than twenty-four hours. It will speedily relieve and entirely cure the worst cases of Rheumatism, Eczema and all other diseases of the skin, Prickly Heat, Poisoning by Ivy, Sumac, or Oak, are quickly cured by the use of Jeleso Water. We will forward three bottles of the Jeleso Water to any part of the United States, free of expressage, on receipt of $1 per bottle. Send for circular, containing testimonials and directions.

Appended are a few of the many certificates sent us:

As a family medicine and tonic it is simply invaluable. In my own case it has cured Dyspepsia of long standing.

JOHN F. MINES,

Managing Editor N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

Permit me to add my testimony to the efficiency of your Jeleso, in cases of Dyspepsia of long standing. I have used two bottles of it, and I am now thoroughly cured. I shall most cheerfully recommend it to all my friends; and I consider it an indispensable medicine in every family.

Yours most truly,

J. D. BARTON,

Supt. Flushing, North Shore, and Central R. R. of Long Island.

107 East 23d St., New York, January 20, 1870.

MR. WARREN—Dear Sir:—I have used your Jeleso Water as a tonic, also for Dyspepsia and Throat Affections of all kinds with great beneficial results. I believe it to be a very valuable remedy.

DR. E. G. STILLMAN.

CANCER CURED WITHOUT the KNIFE or PAIN and positively guaranteed by Prof. J. M. COMINS, M. D., 315 Lexington Ave., New York. Hundreds of specimens can be seen at his office, and as many living witnesses attest these facts. Send stamp for book.

EDUCATIONAL.

READVILLA SEMINARY,

INCORPORATED IN 1859.

OPENS ITS

NEXT ANNUAL SESSION

OCTOBER 1, 1876.

EXPERIENCED and successful Teachers are engaged in each department of the institution, and Lectures adapted to the improvement of the pupils in Literature, Natural Science and other subjects are regularly given by able educators.

Music, Drawing, Painting, and the Ancient and Modern Languages are a part of the optional course.

The number of pupils is limited, and every advantage of agreeable home influences secured to the residents of the seminary. Address

MRS. M. W. READ, Principal,

Baton Rouge, La.

Emory and Henry College

VIRGINIA.

THE collegiate year for 1876-7 begins on the FOURTEENTH of SEPTEMBER next. It is divided into two terms of twenty weeks each, the first closing January 31, and the second beginning February 1, 1877.

For TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS, deposited with the President at the beginning of the year, we will give to a student, for the forty weeks, his tuition, board, fuel, room-rent, washing, library and cold bath fees.

For information on special points or for a catalogue address

E. E. WILEY, President,

Emory P. O., Virginia.

MOORE'S SOUTHERN BUSINESS UNIVERSITY ATLANTA, GA. THE BEST PRACTICAL BUSINESS SCHOOL IN THE SOUTH.

SEND FOR CATALOGUES.

MISCELLANEOUS.

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.

WE HAVE JUST OPENED FOR INSPECTION

A Complete Assortment of

FRENCH LACE CURTAINS,

White and Ecru,

EMBROIDERED LACE BARS,

NOTTINGHAM CURTAINS,

In White and Fancy Colors.

The last, latest and most elegant new and very fashionable

COUNTERPANES,

FRENCH CRETONNES,

From the lowest to the highest prices.

ALSO

COMFORTS, BLANKETS,

And Everything Pertaining to House Furnishing.

D. H. HOLMES,

135 CANAL AND 15 BOURBON ST.,

NEW ORLEANS.

MITCHELL'S NEW OUTLINE MAPS.

Maps in a set. A Key Book with each set.

Small Series, with Names $10

Small Series, without Names $10

Large Series, without Names $20

LATEST, BEST, CHEAPEST.

J. H. BUTLER & CO.,

Philadelphia, Pa.

NOVELTY IRON WORKS.

Now building Presses on Stock Account, which can be furnished under the following guarantee: ready for operation

JANUARY 1 NEXT.

Golding's Standard Press.

(Five Patents secured.)

Exclusive control of State Rights and Agencies for sale. Apply to PATENTEE at the

NOVELTY WORKS,

Corner Peters and Delord streets.

PLASTER PARIS MODELS

For Drawing Classes.

BUSTS, MASKS, AND STATUES FROM THE Antique, life size, medium size, small. Torsoes from life. Fractions of the Human Body. Anatomy from the Old Masters. Animals, Heads of Animals. Birds, Relief. Brackets, Pedestals, Religious Statues. Fruit and Flowers in Relief. Large assortment of Leaves in Relief. Orders by mail promptly attended to. Goods carefully packed and sent to any part of the United States. Prices to suit the times.

R. CASTELLUCCHI,

141 42d and 43d Street, New York.

ATTENTION!

M. ANDRIEU,

159 ..... POYDRAS STREET 159

Home-Made Shoes at $3.50 a Pair.

City-made Boots and Shoes of all kinds and styles, made of the very best material and workmanship, and at less prices than any other store in this city. Keeps all kinds for Gent's, Boys' Ladies' and Children's wear.

FIRE! FIRE!! FIRE!!!

GUARD AGAINST IT.

THE PEOPLE'S HOME

With 50 feet hose and 8 nozzles for a 2-story 20 feet, for $25.

CHARLES W. KING

Devonshire and Oliver Sts., Boston.

GIBSON'S

Stained Glass and Decorative Establishment,

123 & 125 South Eleventh St.,

PHILADELPHIA.

SHELDON, COLLINS & CO.,

MANUFACTURERS OF PRINTING INKS, Extra Black Book, News, Card, Job, Wood Cut, AND Colored Inks of Every Variety.

Office and depot 26 Frankfort Street, New York.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.

Established in 1837.

CENTENNIAL SLIDES READY.

MAGIC LANTERNS & SLIDES WANTED. ALSO FOR SALE. THEO. J. HARBACH PHILADA. PA.

Please send for Catalogue.

PRICES REDUCED, Bell Metal (Copper and Tin) Mixed for Bells. CHEAPEST IN THE United States CENTENNIAL YEAR.

GLASS, M. EVANS, Manufr., 152 West Fourth Street, Cincinnati, O. Fourth and Market Sts., Louisville, Ky.

MISCELLANEOUS.

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE

RESPECTFULLY offers her services in selecting, purchasing and forwarding any article of apparel or personal adornment for Ladies' and Children's use, including MILLINERY, DRY GOODS, JEWELRY, BRIDAL TROUSSEAUX, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Trimmings, Underwear, Sewing Machines, etc.

Scrupulous care with reference to the price and quality, and fidelity to the interest and fulfillment of the wishes of correspondents, will be sedulously carried out.

Spring and Summer Styles

OF

LADIES' DRESSES,

IN IMPORTED FRENCH PATTERNS,

CENTENNIAL APRONS, RUCHES AND KERCHIEFS, for sale at the Fashion of 1776.

Dress made by

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE,

NO. 98 CANAL STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

New Goods for the Holidays.

JOHN S. TWOMEY,

COR. MAGAZINE AND PHILIP STS.,

WOULD respectfully call the attention of friends and families to his large and well-assorted stock of

Fresh Fancy and Staple Groceries,

Suitable for the holidays, at prices to defy competition. Raisins, Citrons, Currants, Mince Meat, Apple Butter, Peach Butter, Quince Butter, Orange Butter, California Canned Goods, Turkish and French Prunes, Table Cream Fruits, Selected Wheat, Grapes, Burton Pears, Cherries, Table Prunes and Apricots, Peaches, Strawberries, Pineapples, etc.

A good guarantee for every article sold, and delivered in any part of the city free of drayage.

KEEP'S CUSTOM SHIRTS,

Made to measure. The very best 6 for $9.

KEEP'S PATENT PARTLY MADE YOKE SHIRTS, the very best, 6 for $7.

ON RECEIPT OF PRICE, EITHER OF THE above, with a regular set of gold plated collar and sleeve buttons, will be delivered free of expense by mail to any address in the United States, except California, Nevada and the Territories. Keep's shirts are only made in one quality, the best. We never depart from what we say, and to give every one an opportunity of ordering by mail with confidence, we send samples and self-measurement free to any address. We refer to purchasers in every city in the Union. Keep's shirts are everywhere.

KEEP MANUFACTURING CO.,

109 and 111 Mercer St., New York.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Returning thanks for past favors, the undersigned desires to inform his friends and the public that he has removed to

152 and 154 Camp St., cor. Carondelet,

WHERE HE WILL BE PLEASED TO

BUY, SELL, STORE, REMOVE, PACK And Repair Furniture

of every description. Mirrors and pictures neatly framed. JOHN ROSS,

Nos. 152 and 154 Camp street.

FURNITURE AND MATTRESSES

NO. 155 CAMP STREET.

THE undersigned has enlarged his stock of Furniture, which he will dispose of at prices that will DEFY COMPETITION. Call and see for yourself.

Furniture taken in storage. Repairs made at lowest rates. All furniture and bedding put in perfect repair and warranted to give satisfaction. Moving, packing, etc., done with care. Orders left at my residence, 155 Camp street, will receive prompt attention.

HENRY ROBERTS,

155 Camp Street.

Piles! Piles!! Piles!!!

INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL REMEDY. A specific for Piles, Fistula, Ulcers, Sores, Wounds, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Sprains, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Chilblains, Frost Bites, Sore Throat, Sore Eyes, Sore Breasts, Sore Nipples, Sore Heads, Barber's Itch, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles, Fever Sores, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chronic Sore Eyes, Inflammation of the Eyes, Granulated Eyelids, Scald Head, Ringworm, Pimples on the Face, Blotches, Boils, Carbuncles, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Quinsy, Croup, Diphtheria, Toothache, Earache, Headache, Female Complaints, Leucorrhœa, Prolapsus, Ulceration of the Uterus, Spinal Diseases, Kidney Diseases, Dropsy, Gravel, Stone in the Bladder, Gout, Erysipelas, Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Mumps, Sore Throat, MEDICAL.

ANGELL'S
HOMEOPATHIC PHARMACY,
632 Julia St., near Camp New Orleans.

HOMEOPATHIC MEDICINES, BOOKS, CASES AND ALL OTHER ARTICLES USED IN HOMEOPATHIC PRACTICE.

TO MEET THE DEMAND FOR AIDS TO Domestic Practice, and proved by an extensive experience to be safe, generally successful and peculiarly adapted to family practice, remedies for the following diseases will be furnished by mail or express, with full directions as to their use:

For Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Fever, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus and Infantum, Worms, Colic, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Neuralgia, Headache, Sore Throat, Ear Disorders, Sore Mouth, Urinary Affections, Gravel, Piles, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Scrofula, Sore Eyes, and Nervous and General Debility—Fifty Cents each.

For Heart Affections, and Chill Drops, a specific in Ague and Fever when other remedies fail—$1 each.

Phosphorated Hillers and Colic Drops—Fifty Cents each.

DR. R. ANGELL, SR.,

continues his visiting and office practice as usual, by day or night, and will prescribe and furnish medicine by letter on a full statement of case, if reasonable.

First prescription and medicine, three to five dollars; subsequent ones, two to three dollars. Consultation along, free of charge, on interesting stamped envelope. Office up stairs, 632 Julia street.

HOLMAN'S
Fever and Ague and Liver Pad
CURES WITHOUT MEDICINE.

SIMPLY BY ABSORPTION.

The Best Liver Regulator in the World.

TRADE MARK.

The only true cure for each and every variety of Malarial Fever, Liver Complaint, Intermittent, Remittent, Bilious Fever, Yellow Fever, Nervousness, Neuralgia, Bilious Disorders, etc.

Notice genuine without the Trade Mark and Signature of the Inventor on the wrapper.

For certificates, read the little white book, "Sent by the Air," sent free on application to JESSUP, HART & CO., Proprietors, Memphis, Tenn., & 58 Customhouse st., New Orleans.

For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists.

Price ..... $2 and $3.

THE ONLY TRUE AND PERFECT HAIR COLORER.

THE MYSTERY,
Or, Turner's Hair Tint.

HARMLESS, BEAUTIFUL, PERMANENT!

This preparation has received the indorsement of the scientific world, and wherever introduced has superseded all other preparations of the kind. No washing or preparation of the hair is necessary before using.

It is free from all Deleterious Ingredients, such as Lead, Sulphur, or other compounds which are injurious to the Hair or Person, by Absorption.

And its use saves both time and labor, as a few drops applied with a comb, once a month or so, to the Hair or Whiskers, answers the purpose, the natural color being so perfectly assumed as to defy detection. Its great recommendation is its gradual abstraction of tint, producing any desired shade, from light brown to the deepest black, and entire absence of that dry and burnt appearance produced by other Hair Dyes. The Mystery can be applied to a single hair, or spots that have changed can be restored to their original shade without applying all over the head, as is necessary when using other Hair Dyes.

A sample box sent free by mail to any address in the United States upon receipt of price, One Dollar, by the inventor and proprietor,

JAMES TURNER, Chemist,
P.O. Box 2534. New Orleans.

Wholesale Agents.—L. L. Lyons, New Orleans; Woodstock, Finlay & Co., New Orleans; E. J. Hart & Co., New Orleans, and for sale by Druggists everywhere.

N. JENKINS' ANNIHILATOR.
A PURELY VEGETABLE COMPOUND, for the permanent cure of

Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia.

What the Annihilator will do:

From one to two bottles will cure any first attack of Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia.

From two to twelve bottles, according to duration of disease, will cure any case of Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia.

It is one of the best regulators of the circulation of the blood known.

N. JENKINS,
106 Camp street, New Orleans.

Wholesale Agents—G. R. FINLAY & CO., New Orleans.

MISCELLANEOUS.

RICHARD RHODES,
LATE F. CHARLEVILLE,

SPORTSMEN'S DEPOT,
53 ST. CHARLES ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Articles of All Kinds for Fishermen.

Rods, Nets, Hooks, Lines, and every desirable article for the Angler, wholesale and retail.

GUNS, RIFLES and PISTOLS of every variety and of direct importation. Also Sporting materials of all kinds, Game Bags, Shot Pouches, Flasks, and every article needed by Hunters, will be sold at the lowest prices for cash. Also, the celebrated "Dead Shot" Gunpowder, Shot, Eley's Shells, Cartridges, etc., of the best quality, wholesale and retail.

R. RHODES

Bricks! Bricks! Bricks!
ROY'S BRICK YARD,
ST. BERNARD PARISH, four Blocks below the Slaughterhouse.

The undersigned respectfully informs builders, founders, and all consumers of Bricks, that he is extensively manufacturing Bricks at his old brick yard, near the Slaughterhouse, where he has always on hand a large quantity of country-made Bricks and Bevelled Tiles, ready to be delivered without detention.

FREDERIC ROY.

Orders left with S. Roy, at C. Cavaroc & Son's Agents, No. 34 Decatur street, or at the Brick Yard, will be promptly attended to.

Lower Coast Semi-Weekly Packet.

FOR PORT EADS, SOUTHWEST Pass, Pilot Town, Forts Jackson and St. Philip, Buras Settlement, Pointe-a-la-Hache and all way landings. The new, swift, low-pressure Steamer

MARTHA,

W. S. Russell, Master,

leaves for above every WEDNESDAY at 12 M. and SATURDAY at 5 P. M.

Returning every MONDAY and FRIDAY.

For freight or passage apply on board, or to HITE & CARLIN, Agents.

$7. SELF-INKING "BEST"

PRINTING PRESS, OUTFIT and PRESS MFR. Presses from $1 to $65. Rotary Presses from $150 to $125. Send stamps for catalogues.

H. HOOVER & CO.,
50 North 8th street,
Philadelphia.

MENEELY & COMPANY,
Bell Founders, West Troy, New York.

FIFTY years established. CHURCH BELLS and CHIMES; ACADEMY, FACTORY BELLS, etc. Improved Patent Mountings. Catalogues free. No agencies.

BUSINESS CARDS.

ANTON BRAUN,
55 ..... CHARTRES ST. 55
Bet. Customhouse and Bienville, New Orleans,
IMPORTER AND DEALER IN
FRENCH AND GERMAN LEATHER,
Findings, Shoemakers' Tools, etc.
Fancy Boot, Shoe and Other Uppers constantly on hand and made to order.

J. B. CRASSONS,
BOOT AND SHOE STORE,
NO. 28 FRENCHMEN STREET,
Between Victory and Moreau, Third District, New Orleans.
A large assortment of Boots and Shoes always on hand, and made to order. Ladies', Children's and Gentlemen's Shoes manufactured to order.

J. F. BOHRACHER,
MANUFACTURER AND DEALER IN
BOOTS AND SHOES,
NO. 237 CAMP STREET,
Between St. Joseph and Delord, New Orleans.
Country orders promptly attended to.

MARTIN WEYDIG,
NO. 170 POYDRAS ST., NEW ORLEANS,
MANUFACTURER OF
SADDLES, HARNESS AND HOSE,
Firemen's and Military Equipments made to order. Dealer in all kinds of Leather and Rubber Hose, Leather and Rubber Pipes, Suctions and Fire Buckets, Horse Sheets and Blankets, Lap Dusters, Buggy Robes, Fly Nets and Whips, and all kinds of Saddlery Hardware. Country orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

H. SPIERING,
UPHOLSTERER
651 ..... MAGAZINE ST. 651
Near Jackson, New Orleans.
Parlor Sets manufactured at New York prices. Spring, Hair and Moss Mattresses made. Loose Covers cut and made to order. Carpets laid, and taking up cleaned and relaid. All work guaranteed.

G. SCIACCALEGA, IMPORTER,
And Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
GROCERIES, SHIP CHANDLERY, Etc.
Nos. 157 and 159 Old Levee St.,
Between Jefferson and St. Peter, New Orleans.
A full assortment of Pastas, Oil, Oakum, Hemp and Manilla Rope. Keep Constantly assortment of French and Catalonia Wines, Italian Macaroni and Vermicelli, etc.

EDWARD SAUER. R. C. EMMA'S

SAUER & GAMMACK,
COTTON FACTORS
AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS
No. 183 Gravier Street, New Orleans.
Liberal cash advances made on consignments of Cotton, Wool, Tobacco and Produce generally.

COAL. COAL. COAL.
B. D. WOOD & BROS.,
Corner Camp and Common Streets,
Opposite the St. Charles Hotel.
Wholesale and Retail Dealers in all kinds of COAL. Pittsburg Coal delivered by boat-load or lighter on the coast, and shipped in casks or in bulk at lowest market rates. Only trade supplied.

LUMBER—87 PER 1,000 FEET.
AT
J. L. NEVERS'
Successors to
J. C. PRIOLEY, 315 JULIA STREET.

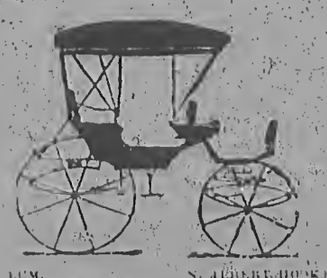
WOOD ..... COAL ..... LUMBER.
NO. 851 DRYADES STREET, between Clio and Erato streets. Best quality of Oak, Ash and Pine Sawed and Split Wood at lowest rates. Pittsburg and Anthracite Coal and Charcoal at the lowest market prices. Also, cheap for Cash, Mantle Mills. Lumber sawed to order at the shortest notice. Orders left at my office, 851 Dryades street, or at 282 Calliope street, will receive prompt attention. Satisfaction guaranteed. SAM. SMITH.

LOUISIANA STEAM SASH, BLIND
—AND—
DOOR FACTORY,
ROBERTS & CO., PROPRIETORS
301, 303, 305 and 307 Gravier Street,
Country orders solicited. New Orleans.

BOOTS, SHOES AND TINKS,
OF VARIOUS QUALITIES AND PRICES
At Low Figures for Cash.
Country Merchants and Planters will do well to give me a call before purchasing elsewhere.
H. MEMME,
No. 51 Magazine street, and
No. 451 Dryades street.

JOHN A. CAIRNS,
GENERAL ENGRAVER,
101 ..... CANAL STREET 101
Wedding and Visiting Cards neatly engraved and printed.
Special attention given to Presid. Monograms, etc., etc. Jewelry and Silverware marked artistically.

ADOLPHE J. LEROY & CO.,
BOOK BINDERS, RULERS,
AND BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURERS,
92 ..... Camp Street. 92
(Over James A. Gresham's.) New Orleans.
Music Books and Periodicals bound in any desired style.



J. A. LEM. N. THIBERT-HOOKER.

J. A. LEM & CO.,
MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN
CARRIAGES, HARNESS, ETC.,
182 Gravier and 13 Union Street.
A SPECIALTY MADE OF CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

J. H. KELLER,
MANUFACTURER OF

Office, 110 Gravier St. ESTABLISHED 1849.
ALL KINDS OF LAUNDRY AND TOILET SOAPS.
JOHN L. ADAMS. JAY L. ADAMS. WM. H. RENAUD.

JOHN L. ADAMS & CO.,
WHOLESALE GROCERS,
AND DEALERS IN
PROVISIONS, LARD, OIL, ETC.
Nos. 43, 45 and 47 Peters Street,
(Formerly New Levee street.) New Orleans.

PELICAN
IMPROVED RICE MILLS.
J. H. & A. JOHNSON, PROPRIETORS,
154, 156 and 158 Magazine St., New Orleans.
MILLING RATES—No 1 at 4c. per pound; No. 2 at 3½c. per pound. Address all orders for empty Sacks to P. O. Box 285.

BUSINESS CARDS.

ANDREW J. AIKEN, JOHN W. WATT.
AIKEN & WATT,
COTTON FACTORS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
16 Union Street, New Orleans, La.
Special attention given to orders for the purchase of all descriptions of Produce, Agricultural Implements and Plantation Supplies.

WILLIAM VELDEN,
DEALER IN
WOOD, COAL AND ICE,
Corner Philip and Prytania Streets,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Meat and fish kept on ice free of charge.

F. B. HARDON,
DEALER IN
MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS,
Nos. 27 and 29 Chartres Street,
Bet. Conti and Customhouse
NEW ORLEANS.

JOHN McGINNESS,
113 ..... CANAL STREET 113
Bet. Royal and Bourbon, Bank's New Orleans, La.
LADIES' AND GENTLEMEN'S
Boots and Shoes Made to Order.
A large assortment of Ladies', Children's and Gentlemen's Boots and Shoes always on hand. Also Valises, Trunks and Hats.

CHANDLER & ASHLEY,
DEALERS IN
COAL AND WOOD,
Yard, Cor. Philip & Tchoupitoulas Sts.
Orders left at Yard or Telephone Office will be promptly attended to.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DR. W. G. AUSTIN,
OFFICE AND RESIDENCE
Corner Jackson and Magazine Streets,
New Orleans.
Entrance on Jackson street. Office hours, 8 to 10 A. M. and 2 to 4 P. M.

DR. JOHN W. ADAMS,
SURGEON DENTIST,
Office and Residence—No. 511 ESPLANADE ST.,
(Late Gretna, opposite Carrollton Railroad depot.)
Nitrous Oxide Gas administered for the painless extraction of teeth. Operations executed on Gold, Silver and Vulcanite.

A. L. TUCKER,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
(Late of Plaquemine and St. Mary Parish, La.)
100 ..... COMMON STREET 100
(Up-stairs.) New Orleans.

REMOVAL.—In response to the expressed wishes of many of my patients, I have removed my office to No. 177 CARONDELET, west side, corner of Delord street, where I will be pleased to see them. Office hours as before. Residence, 177 Carondelet street. Telephone connection.
J. R. WALKER, D. D. S.

DR. C. J. BICKHAM,
RESIDENCE AND OFFICE,
642 Magazine St., Corner of Jackson,
NEW ORLEANS.
Office Hours—Eight to nine A. M. and two to four P. M.

DR. A. J. LYONS,
NO. 210 CARONDELET STREET
Between Julia and St. Joseph,
New Orleans, La.

R. T. MERRICK, former, late Justice Louisiana. G. W. RACK. W. R. FOSTER.
MERRICK, RACE & FOSTER,
ATTORNEYS, COUNSELORS
AND SOLICITORS,
Corner of Camp Street and Commercial Place,
New Orleans.

MISCELLANEOUS.

H. J. RIVET,
DEALER IN
Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines
AND PERFUMERY, AND IMPORTER OF FRENCH PROPRIETARY MEDICINES,
Cor. Bienville and Chartres Sts.,
NEW ORLEANS.
Proprietor of the Celebrated Pectoral Bitters.

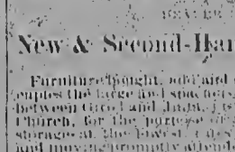
GET THE BEST.

WHEELER & WILSON'S AMERICA Sewing Machines ARE the best. Possessing all the latest improvements, including the CENTENNIAL, just the thing for work. Complete Printed instructions. Everything required sent free. Call or send for circular. New Orleans Office, 78 Camp st. WM. WATSON, No. 78 Camp st.

WM. B. RINGROSE,
NO. 172 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS,
DEALER IN
New & Second-Hand Furniture,
Furniture bought, sold and exchanged. Now occupies the large and spacious store 172 Camp St., between Girod and Julia, in Grace St. Patrick's Church, for the purpose of making Furniture on storage at the lowest rates. Jobbing, repairing and moving promptly attended to.

YOUR ATTENTION IS RESPECTfully called to the elegant stock of
NEW AND SECOND HAND
BAROUCHES, ROCKAWAYS,
Top and No Top Buggies, Spring Wagons, etc., which are offered at extraordinary bargains in the next sixty days, as my aim is to close up the affairs of W. D. Mayo, late partner, now deceased. All Vehicles warranted as represented. Call, examine and secure a bargain.
TRIPLE YEARLY Sale Just Ended
Rockaway Co., Second St., St. Louis, Mo.

Baxter, Bell & Co.'s Pure Liquid Paints
WARRANTED PURE, AND NOT TO CONtain Water or Alkali. These Paints are of many different shades, and for covering capacity, durability, fullness and beauty of finish they cannot be excelled by any other description of Paint. Liberal discount made to dealers. Send for sample card to the Agents.
SAMUEL M. TOUP & CO.,
76 Magazine street, New Orleans.



SURESHOT VERMIN Exterminator.—Bugs, Roaches, Ants, Fleas, Rats, and Mice. Sent free by mail, on the receipt of 50 cents only.
W. FICHTENBERG,
76 Fulton street, New York.

MISS LOUISE SCHMITT,
First Premium Patent Corset Maker.
Corsets for Ladies and Children with defective figures are made to order, and guaranteed a perfect fit. No. 253 Camp street, between Delord and Calliope. The Magazine and Prytania Street cars both convenient.

OPIUM AND MORPHINE HABIT ABSOLUTELY and SPEEDILY CURED. Painless. No publicity. Send stamp for particulars. DR. CARLTON, 187 Washington street, Chicago, Ill.

$3 WATCHES. The finest in the known world. Fortune ... address COLLTERATO, Chicago.

MISCELLANEOUS.

COW

NATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHER
Edited by M. C. HAZARD. Is undoubtedly the best Teachers' Help published. Has the most thorough, helpful and inspiring lessons, the best corps of contributors, and the most popular editorial departments. Needs only to be examined in order to be taken. Terms, $1.50 per year. Clubs of five or more receive six Lesson Papers with each copy. Sample copy sent free on application to ADAMS, BLACKMER, & LYON PUB. CO., CHICAGO.

FOLEY'S
Celebrated Gold Pens
AND PENCILS.
THE FINEST AND BEST.

CAUTION.—To those engaged in literary pursuits, any invention that will facilitate their labor, is highly worthy of notice, as wells of extensive patronage. One of the most important requisites of the present age is that of a pen that possesses the necessary qualities of firmness in mark and durability in use. Preeminently such are those of JOHN FOLEY, manufacturer of Pens, GOLD PENS AND PENCILS, No. 2 Astor House. Their superior merits is tested by the long time he has been engaged in our city in their manufacture. We the subscribers, who know the value of FOLEY'S PENS, from constant use of them for a number of years, cheerfully recommend them to those who wish for the best and most perfect Gold Pen ever made.

Signed by the following gentlemen and over one thousand others:

J. E. McIlhaney, Pres. Merchants National Bank, A. S. Gray, Pres. Mechanics and Traders' Ins. Co., J. A. Beard, Esq., Cashier Nat'l Bank of N. America, Wm. A. Field, President Exchange Bank, R. H. Lewis, Esq., Nat'l Bank of Commerce, E. Tupper, Pres. Citizens' Bank, A. P. Thompson, Cashier Confidential Bank, F. O. Dugleux, Agent New York Co. Nat'l Bank, Clark Dudley & Co., Cook, Cobb, Arthur & Co., White, Morris & Co., H. T. Morgan & Co., Vernuyl & Co., American Express Co., Winslow, Lanier & Co., Adams Express Co., Chas. Dennis, Vice Pres. Atlantic Mutual Ins. Co., Daniel D. Sojer, Pres. Commercial Ins. Co., Edward Walter, Pres. Mercantile Mutual Ins. Co., Wm. B. Jenkins, President Bank of America, T. W. Lewis, Cashier, Fifth National Bank, Wm. H. Cox, Cashier Merchants' National Bank, J. Buell, Pres. Importers and Traders' Nat'l Bank, J. M. Crane, Cashier Second National Bank, Wells, Farge & Co., E. Ketchum & Co., United States Express Co., S. B. Chittenden & Co., Barclay & Livingston, Johnston & Higgins, N. F. Wingarth, Vice Pres. Home Fire Ins. Co., Morris Franklin, Pres. New York Life Ins. Co.

JOHN FOLEY,
GOLD PEN MANUFACTURER,
No. 2 Astor House, Broadway, N. Y.
Sold by dealers in Stationery and Jewelry throughout the United States.

COAL.
Pittsburg, Anthracite and Cannel Coal,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.
Coal delivered from barges, boats, or cars, to planters on upper portion of coast. Steamers required at New Orleans and Baton Rouge.
Orders taken for shipment to country customers by rail or steamboat.
W. L. WILMOT & CO.,
Real Estate Agents, 56 Carondelet street, New Orleans.

TO THE PUBLIC.
ANY PERSON PARTIES Advertising themselves or being "Sole Agents" of the "best manufacturers of Perique Tobacco" at Grand Point, St. James parish, Louisiana, respectfully state that I am

THE DULY AUTHORIZED AGENT
Of the following manufacturers of Grand Point.
OCTAVE ROUSSEL,
LEWIS ROUSSEL,
AUGUSTAVE ROUSSEL,
F. ST. PIERRE,
And many others.
EDMOND ROTHROCK,
No. 14 Carondelet street.

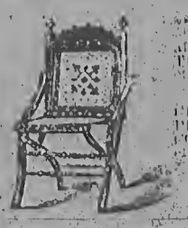
J. A. LACROIX,
PROPRIETOR OF THE
Pontchartrain Cheap Store,
COR. FRENCHMEN AND VICTORY STREETS,
Ladies', Gents', Misses' and Children's
BOOTS AND SHOES
OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.
Always on hand a full assortment of first-class goods at prices which defy competition. Call and examine my stock before purchasing elsewhere. My Motto—Quick Sales and Small Profits.

CISTERN-MAKER.
H. BRODERICK,
NOS. 132, 131 AND 130 JULIA ST.,
Between Camp and Magazine, New Orleans.
Constantly on hand an assortment of Cisterns. Second hand Cisterns always on hand. All orders promptly attended to.

PHILOSOPHICAL APPARATUS
—FOR—
SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES.
To the various departments of Physics, Chemistry, Astronomy, Mechanics, Optics, Acoustics, Pneumatics, Hydrostatics, Electricity, Galvanism, Magnetism, Meteorology, Pyrometry, Steam, Navigation, Surveying, Engineering, Mathematics, Geology, Mineralogy, Botany, Zoology, Anatomy, Physiology, Hygiene, Natural Theology, Logic, Rhetoric, Political Economy, Civil Polity, Constitutional Law, International Law, Mental Philosophy, Moral Philosophy, Metaphysics, Ethics, Aesthetics, Psychology, Phrenology, Physiognomy, Pathognomy, Ideology, Theology, Ecclesiastical History, Civil History, Natural History, Ancient History, Modern History, Chronology, Archæology, Ancient Languages, Modern Languages, Literature, Rhetoric, Belles Lettres, Fine Arts, Painting, Sculpture, Architecture, Music, Poetry, Dramatic Art, Gymnastics, Military Tactics, Naval Tactics, Engineering, Civil Engineering, Military Engineering, Naval Engineering, Mining Engineering, Agriculture, Horticulture, Arboriculture, Floriculture, Pomology, Viticulture, Sericulture, Apiculture, Domestic Economy, Commerce, Book-keeping, Penmanship, Drawing, Painting, Engraving, Lithography, Printing, Phonography, Telegraphy, Photography, Magic Lanterns and Stereopticons.

Navy traders and Furnishers and a specialty of whaling facilities. Selling agents for Messrs. Ashton & Co., Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, manufacturers of the celebrated Ashton Patent Steel Anchors, and other improvements in Anchors, Cables, Chains, etc. Agents for CHENEY BROS., Silk Manufacturers, South Manchester, Conn. Office, 64 Broad street, New York. Successors to Lewis Meriam & Co.

CHAIR WAREHOUSE.



ALL DIFFERENT STYLES CANE SEAT CHAIRS, also CANE CHAIRS, TABLES, FOLDING CHAIRS, etc.

Specialties—
CHAIRS for CHURCHES, PUBLIC HALLS, Seances, HOTELS, Steamboats, etc. Wholesale and Retail.

L. D. WISLER,
237 & 225 N. Sixth St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

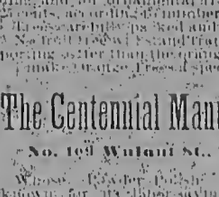
I HAVE COME TO STAY!—And therefore if for no other reason, I will keep the FINEST STAND BEST GOODS, attend to orders with promptness and courtesy, and sell at reasonable prices. Choice Family Flour, New Hams and Breakfast Bacon, Crushed, Clarified and Brown Sugar, New Crop Green and Black Teas, Preserves, Pickles, Sauces, Canned Goods, and every article required for the table, guaranteed satisfactory, and delivered free of charge.
P. J. CARRATER,
Prytania, Cor. of Pleasant and Toledano Sts.

FREE! Samples, best article in use, sent free to ladies or agents. Business respectable, profitable and pleasant for clergymen, teachers and others of genteel appearance and average ability. Send your letters and address DOE, FAY & CO., Chicago.

NEW ENGLAND CONSERVATORY OF MUsic. Largest in the world. 15,000 students in ten years. 52 eminent professors. 115 lessons for $15. E. TOURJEE, Music Hall, Boston.

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENTS WANTED.
Goodyear's Pocket Gymnasium
INDORSED BY THE MOST EMINENT PHYSICIANS.



The most complete system of physical development ever devised for Home Practice.

A month's use by men, women, and children. Used standing, sitting or reclining.

Hundreds of special movements.

For homes, offices, school-rooms, etc.

Price List. No. 1 for children from 4 to 8 years, $1. No. 2, for children from 8 to 11, $1.50. No. 3, for children 11 to 14, $2. No. 4, for ladies and children, $2 and upward. No. 5, for gentlemen of moderate strength, $2.50. No. 6, for gentlemen of average strength, $3. No. 7, used by ladies, children, or gents, ... No. 8, for gentlemen of extra strength, $4. Full set, complete, one of each number, $15. No. 1 and 2 are simply a rubber cord and handle. No. 3 and upward are furnished with a screw eye and hook to attach to the wall or floor. A pair of No. 3 (or 4, 5, or 6) makes a complete Gymnasium and Health Tie. Sent, postpaid, on receipt of price. Exclusive agencies wanted in unoccupied territory.

Exclusive rights to sell the Pocket Gymnasium afford the largest possible returns for small investments. Its sales are nearly universal wherever it is placed before the people and its merits fully understood.

For illustrated descriptive circulars, terms, etc., address

Goodyear Rubber Cutler Company,
P. O. Box 3,705. 697 Broadway, New York.
Manufacturers of EVERY DESCRIPTION.

20,000
ORANGE TREES!
W. R. STUART,
OCEAN SPRINGS, MISS.

LOUISIANA SWEET, MANDARIN, BRAZILIAN, grafted on Sour stock, and SWEET SEEDLINGS, well rooted. Price, from 25 cents to $1 each, according to size and number wanted. Used standing, sitting or reclining.

Also SOUR SEEDLINGS for grafting or budding, and for ornamental trees, from 10 cents to 25 cents, according to number wanted.

These are the trees used and shipped to any point. No frost. Good stand guaranteed. Planting and transplanting better than the average. Correspondence respectfully solicited.

The Centennial Manufacturing Co.,
No. 109 Walnut St., Philadelphia.

Whose Leather Polish has become so well known for its labor saving properties in the cleansing of all Painted Work, Glass, Tin and Copper Ware and the removing of any grease spot or other stains from the most delicate Carpets, Woolen or Silk Materials without the least injury to the color of the article, as to be considered a necessity in every family that has once tried it. The Company also manufacture a new article adopted by the Farmer and Leather Finisher's trade, called

TANNERINE.

It has become in a short time in the market, has attracted the attention of the Shoe and Leather Reporter, the "Harness and Carriage Journal," and the Polytechnic Review, all of which papers speak in the highest terms of it.

Skins cleaned by this process, which are pronounced quite superior to French Calf Skins, can now be seen at Mr. Frank's Leather Store on Poydras street, or at the Tannery on the Old Basin, near Bayou street. Samples, and all the Tannerine can be had from agents, and at the Warehouse in New Orleans.

WM. A. HOUPE,
Company's Agent,
No. 67 Perdido St., New Orleans.
Agents wanted.

MARTIN LANNES, JR.,
BUTCHER.
Meat Stalls Nos. 37 and 38 Magazine Market.

Supplies Steamships, Families, Hotels, etc., with BEEF, MUTTON, PORK, Sausages, Tripe, Fowls, Game, Eggs, Vegetables, etc., and everything in the market line.

VEGETABLE STALLS NOS. 7 & 8 MAGAZINE MARKET.

J. C. MILLER,
(Successor to Cross & Miller.)
SAIL-MAKER,
107 ..... POYDRAS STREET. 107
Agent for COTTON DUCK of all widths and descriptions. Tarpaulins and Awnings constantly on hand. Awnings, Awning Curtains and all other work to any pattern made to order at shortest notice and at lowest prices.
J. C. MILLER,
No. 107 Poydras street.

PRUSSIAN SALVE

BURNS, BUNIONS, Sprains, ARROW HEADS, Wounds, FROST BITES, FEET SWEATING, Corns, CHILBLAINS, Sores and Stiff Joints.
H. HEIDELBERGER,
Manufacturer,
No. 6 Dock street,
Philadelphia, Pa.
Price 75 cts. Sent by mail. For sale by Druggists. Trade supplied. Agents wanted.

J. L. LYONS, Cor. Canal and Bienville Sts., New Orleans, Agent. 42

ELECTRO STEREO TYPE FOUNDRY.
WOOD ENGRAVING AND PRINTING.
Nos. 174, 176, 178 and 178½ Lake St., Chicago.
Presses and Printing Material.

Dry Goods Cheap for Cash.
THE ATTENTION of Housekeepers and all others is invited to several Entirely Staple DRY GOODS specialties in the line that

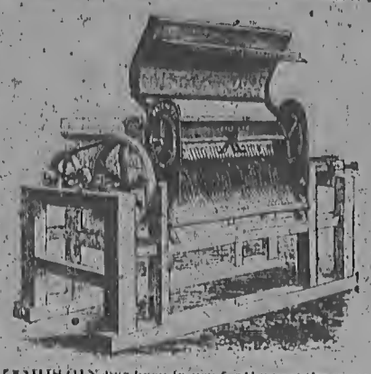
P. W. MOHR,
419 MAGAZINE ST., NEW ORLEANS,
is offering his entire stock at suppressed selling prices. Call and judge for yourselves.

OTTO ZEH,
General Engraver and Book-Binders' Tool Cutter,
(Dealing made for Side and Back Stamps.)
N. W. COR. EIGHTH AND MAIN STREETS,
(Second Floor,) CINCINNATI, O.
Hot Trade Mark Dipping Stamps, Shoe Ornamental Stitching Stamps, Burning Brands, Door Plates, etc.

J. A. HOFRO,
COMMISSION MERCHANT,
117 ..... DECATUR STREET 117
Near Old Levee.
P. O. Lock Box 877. NEW ORLEANS.
Will attend to the sale of Cotton, Sugar, Rice, Moss, Hides, Wool, Eggs, Poultry, Fruits of all kinds, Beeswax, Honey, and every description of Garden Produce. Country orders solicited.

MACHINERY, TIES, ETC.

DANIEL PRATT'S IMPROVED
"Revolving Head" Cotton Gin.
PATENTED JULY 25, 1871.
Price Reduced to $4.50 Per Saw.



THIS GIN has been in use for the past three seasons, and several recent improvements have been added. It obviates friction at the ends of the cotton box, prevents the roll from breaking, and gives a Larger Yield of Lint from the Same Amount of Seed than any other Gin in use. The Revolving Head lightens the draft and causes the Gin to run faster, with less driving power, and does a great deal more work within the same time, with the same animal power, than any other Gin. The seed being ginned very close, the length of the staple is increased, producing a cotton on this account of a greater market value. This improved value, given by length of staple, with extra production of lint, added to the rapid ginning of seed, more than covers the cost of the Gin in every locality we must. Testimonials sent by mail on application.

JOS. B. WOLFE & CO.,
GENERAL AGENTS,
59 ..... Carondelet St. 59
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

BEN. F. WOLFE,
AGENT FOR THE STATE OF TEXAS,
22 ..... Main Street. 22
HOUSTON, TEXAS.

O. K. COTTON TIE.

OFFICE OF THE
American Cotton Tie Co.,
(LIMITED.)
17 CARONDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS.

TO DEALERS IN
IRON COTTON TIES,
Planters and Cotton Merchants Generally.

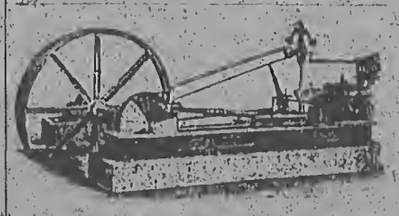
We beg to inform you that we are prepared through our regularly established Agents to supply the trade in any quantity with the following celebrated Ties:

THE ARROW AND SIDE SLOT.
BEARD & HIGGS' LOCK TIE.
BRANCH, TROOKES & CO.'S LOCK TIE.

We also beg to inform the public that the interests of Messrs. Beard & Higgs, and Branch, Trookes & Co. are now merged interested with this AMERICAN COTTON TIE CO. (LIMITED.) The following are the New Orleans Agents:

Stone & Tutt, Gaten & Bell,
Chisholm & Boyle, Archer & Borland,
William Dufour, H. L. Ranlett & Co.

For the American Cotton Tie Co. (Limited.)
R. W. RAYNE & CO.,
General Agents.



STEAM ENGINES,
BOILERS & MACHINERY
MADE TO ORDER BY
I. & E. GREENHALD,
CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Having been established since 1847, we are prepared to supply the best MACHINERY to Southern and Western planters and buyers, promptly, at low prices.

Refer to Gen. Barnard, Gen. Field, Stephen Adlen, Esq., of New Orleans, and H. H. Gibson, Esq., of Shreveport, La.

The Cheapest, Simplest, and Strongest TIE in the market. Costs about one half the price of other Ties. Traveling salesmen wanted on liberal terms. Address R. C. ELDRIDGE, 210 and 221 Market street, St. Louis, Mo.

PORTABLE and STATIONARY
STEAM ENGINES, STEAM BOILERS.
SAW, FLOUR AND GRIST MILLS.
MILL GEARING MADE
Without Patterns.
SHAFTING, PULLEYS AND HANGERS.
OF IMPROVED DESIGNS, A SPECIALTY.
The UNEQUALLED JAS. LEFFEL DOUBLE
TURBINE WATER WHEEL 7000 in use.
ADDRESS, POOLE & HUNT,
SEND FOR CIRCULARS. BALTIMORE, MD.

KING SOLOMON
AND THE
IRON WORKER.
The finest Masonic Engravings on Steel ever published. Illustrating a Tradition of the Dedication of the Great Temple at Jerusalem, and its Builders. From the Original Painting by Prof. C. Schussele.
ENTRANCED BY JOHN SARTAIN.
Chief of Art Bureau, Centennial Exhibition.
It is of peculiar interest to Masons, as relating to the work of their ancient brethren.
We want a Few Bright Masons to act as Agents.
"It is Sartain's best work, and we think the finest engraving we have ever seen."—Masonic Review, Cincinnati, O.
"It is a perfect gem of art."—Keystone, Philadelphia.
For terms, territory, and circulars, with full information for this and other engravings, address
BRADLEY & CO.,
66 N. Fourth St., Philadelphia.

75 VISITING CARDS, no 2 alike, 1 name, 30 cts. and a 3ct. stamp. 4 packs, 4 names, $1. Prettiest assortment you ever saw. No better work in the world, at any price! Common Cards at Unheard-of rates. Write plain. W. C. CANNON, 712 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

TEACHERS WANTED—To supply vacancies in Schools, Academies, and Seminaries in the different States. Send for "Mutual Plan." Address American Educational Union, 737 Broadway, N. Y.

New Orleans Markets.

ADVOCATE OFFICE,
New Orleans, Tuesday, Dec. 19, 1876.

MONETARY.

The features of financial affairs are much the same from week to week, in spite of political excitement. The moneyed interests of business men are managed with steadiness of purpose. There has been but little speculative demand for any of the bonds and stocks offered. The movements in State consols and city bonds show a willingness on the part of holders to accept lower prices. This is owing rather to need for money than want of confidence. The quotations for the former are 72@73, and the latter 20@31c., with large sales. The demand for discounts is not as great as last week, owing to sales of staple products, which enable factors to pay up old scores with greenbacks rather than individual promises to pay, which certainly speaks well for the management of New Orleans merchants. However, the rates for commercial paper remain unchanged. We quote exceptional at 9@10 per cent.; A1, 12@15 per cent., and mortgage nominal.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE ASSOCIATED BANKS,

At the close of business, Friday, Dec. 15, 1876.

RESOURCES.

Specie	$3,6[illegible]
Currency	2,812,567 11
Clearinghouse exchanges	1,851,172 55
Checks on other local banks and bankers	93,817 11
Domestic and foreign exchange	2,511,267 68
Due from distant banks and bankers	861,761 69
Loans and discounts	11,967,561 76
Other cash assets	3,861,007 71
Total	$28,702,220 23

LIABILITIES.

Circulation	$ 881,097 50
Deposits	13,760,354 40
Due distant banks and bankers	1,210,369 61
Other cash liabilities	459,451 01
Total	$16,312,556 16

L. N. MAYNARD, Manager.

COTTON.

The movement during the six business days has not been strong; on the contrary, for two days cotton factors were forced to submit to a decline of ⅛. However, on Monday and Tuesday they stood up to the quotations with nerve. Receipts are largely in excess of sales. Buyers find ample offering, from which to make their selections. Our annexed tables give the daily condition, sale and receipts of this and several other markets.

COTTON STATEMENT.

	Bales.
Stock in New Orleans	238,118
Receipts at New Orleans	250,326
Receipts at New Orleans last year	370,220
Increase	57,743
Receipts at all United States ports	2,051,056
Receipts at all United States ports last year	1,965,011
Increase	290,045
Stock at Liverpool	488,000
Of which American	250,000
Total receipts at Liverpool since September 1, 1876	812,000
Of which American	326,000
World's supply	2,700,477

DAILY EXCHANGE QUOTATIONS.

Day.	Low Ordinary	Ordinary	Good Ordinary	Low Middling	Middling	Good Middling
Wednesday	10¼	11¼	11¾	12	12¼	12¾
Thursday	10¼	11¼	11¾	12	12¼	12¾
Friday	10¼	11¼	11¾	12	12¼	12¾
Saturday	10¼	11¼	11¾	12	12¼	12¾
Monday	10¼	11¼	11¾	12	12¼	12¾
Tuesday	10¼	11¼	11¾	12	12¼	12¾

DAILY QUOTATIONS AT THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT MARKETS.

Class—Middling.

	Mobile.	Galveston.	Memphis.
Wednesday	11¼	11¼	11¼
Thursday
Friday	11¼	11¼	11¼
Saturday	11¼	11¼	11¼
Monday	11¼	11¼	11¼
Tuesday	11¼	11¼	11¼

DAILY MOVEMENT OF NEW ORLEANS, NEW YORK AND LIVERPOOL MARKETS.

Day.	NEW ORLEANS. Receipts	Sales.	Market.	NEW YORK. Sales.	Market.	Price.	LIVERPOOL. Sales.	Market.	Price.
									Middling
Wednesday	8,872	2,500	Easier.		Quiet.	12 7-16	15,000	Steady	6 13-16
Thursday	10,100						10,000	Dull	6 13-16
Friday	12,707	6,700	Quiet.				5,000	Easier.	6 13-16
Saturday	4,125	7,000	Firm.	533	Quiet.	12 5-16	12,000	Steady.	6 13-16
Monday	13,276	7,300	Steady.	1,144	Steady.	12 5-16	5,000	Easier.	6 13-16
Tuesday	10,338	9,200	Firm.	121	Quiet.	12 5-16	12,000	Steady.	6 13-16
Total	59,417	33,600			Quiet.	12 5-16	8,000	Easier.	6 13-16
					Dull.	12 5-16	80,000

SUGAR AND MOLASSES.

Sugar.—The continued large receipts keep the gimlet rangers busy working off stocks. The demand, however, is fair for medium and good styles of sugar, while the common and inferior qualities are neglected, and sales made at irregular rates. Quotations are: Inferior, 5c.; common, 6¼c.; fair, 7¼c.; fully fair, 7¾c.; prime, 8c.; choice, 8¼@8½c.; clarified, yellow, 9¼@10c.; white, 11c.; centrifugals range from 8¼ to 9¼c.

Molasses.—Heavy receipts cause dullness. Sales to a moderate extent at about the following figures: Common, 35c. per gallon; fair, 40c.; prime, 43c.; strictly prime, 45@47c.; and strictly choice, 50c.

GENERAL MARKET.

Breadstuffs.—Firm, and holders storing for higher figures, owing to close of navigation above. Speculation feeling evident, but sales large. Quotations are, for flour: O, $5.25@$5.50; XX, $5.75; XXX, from $6.25 to $7; choice extra, $7.50.

Corn Meal.—Stock light. Almost none at all in first hands. Jobbing at $3.25.

Corn.—Very firm at 60c. for choice yellow; white, 62½@65c.

Report of Dealers' Cash Prices

AT WHICH

COUNTRY ORDERS CAN BE FILLED,

REVISED AND CORRECTED WEEKLY.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

ARTICLES.	FROM	TO
Cotton scrapers	$4 00	— —
Cotton sweeps	3 00	4 50
Cultivators, plain, and shovel
tooth	6 25	9 00
Cultivators, riding and walking	20 00	35 00
Shovels and spades	6 35	14 00
Axes	9 50	13 00
Shovel plows	3 00	5 50
Half do., with cutters	6 00	8 00
Manly's double shovel plow	5 00	7 00
Straub's corn mills	115 00	280 00
Corn mills, Coleman's	120 00	425 00
B. J. West's corn mill	200 00	— —
Tannard's corn and pea planters	15 00	— —
Cotton planter	15 00	— —
Wagons, Carts, Etc.:
Wagon, two-horse	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	100 00	116 00
Wagon, two-horse, thim. skein	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	90 00	100 00
Cane wagon	— —	200 00
Ox wagon	80 00	125 00
Ox cart, complete	115 00	— —
Cane cart	100 00	115 00
Tongue cart, complete	— —	120 00
Plantation cart	— —	65 00
Bagasse cart	65 00	75 00
Iron, Bills:
Swedes, assorted		7½
Hoop	4½	7
Sheet	4½	7
Nail rods	9	10
Castings, American	4½	5½

BUILDING MATERIAL.

Bricks, ₩ 1,000:
Lake	10 50	14 00
Country	9 00	10 00
English fire	45 00	47 00
Lime, ₩ bbl.:
Western	1 50	1 75
Cement	2 00	2 25
Plaster Paris	2 25	2 50
Lumber, ₩ 1,000 feet:
Flooring, dressed	16 00	18 00
Flooring, rough	— —	16 00
Ceiling, dressed	10 00	12 00
Weatherboards, dressed	14 00	16 00
Weatherboards, rough	— —	— —
Scantling	10 00	12 00
Shingles, ₩ 1,000	— —	3 75
Nails, best brands	3 20	— —
Smaller sizes proportionately higher	— —	— —
Glass, ₩ box of 50 feet:
French, 8 by 10	— —	3 50
French, 10 by 12	3 75	4 00
French, 10 by 14 to 12 by 20	4 00	4 25
French, 14 by 18 to 18 by 24	4 25	4 75
White Lead, best, ₩ lb	— —	10
Paris Green, ₩ lb	30	— —
Pal. Dryer, ₩ lb	12	14
Whiting, ₩ lb	— —	1½
Putty, in bladders, ₩ lb	— —	4½
Linseed Oil, ₩ gal	— —	70

SASH, BLINDS AND DOORS.

Window Sash, 12 lights:

Size of lights.	Sash, per pair. Unglazed.	Glazed.	Blinds, per pair.
8x10	$1	$1 70	$2 00
10x12	1 65	1 95	2 25
10x16	$1 40 @ 1 60	2 95	3 25

Sash Doors:	Single.	Double.
3 feet x 7 feet	$4 50	$4 70
3 feet 6 x 7 feet	3 80	— —
3 feet 6 x 7 feet 6 inches	— —	4 25

Panel Doors:
2 ft. 8 in. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	$3 25
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	3 45
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	$3 75 @ 4 00

GROCERIES.

Butter, ₩ lb.:
Western, choice	34	34
Goshen, choice	34	38
Coffee, ₩ lb.:
Rio, fair	18¾	19¾
Rio, good	20	21
Rio, prime	21¾	22¾
Java, choice O. G	— —	34
Candles, ₩ lb.:
Star, best brands	— —	15
Chocolate, ₩ lb.:
Cocoa	38	60
Sweet	18	33
Canned Fruits, ₩ doz.:
Peaches, strawberries and pears	2 25	2 50
Corn Meal, ₩ bbl.:
Best, K. D	— —	6 00
Cheese, ₩ lb.:
Western factory	12½	14
N. Y. cream and English dairy	15½	16
Fish, ₩ bbl.:
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in bbls	— —	22 00
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in kits	— —	3 00
Sardines, quarter boxes	— —	15½
Flour, ₩ bbl.:
Superfine	— —	5 25
XX	5 75	6 00
XXX	6 25	6 75
Choice XXX	6 75	7 25
Choice family	7 50	8 00
Fruits:
Dried apples, ₩ lb	10	10½
Dried peaches, ₩ lb	9½	10
Raisins, ₩ quarter box	— —	80
Raisins, ₩ half box	— —	1 60
Raisins, ₩ whole box	— —	2 75
Damsons, ₩ bunch	1 00	3 00
Crackers, ₩ lb.:
Soda	6	6
Butter	8	7
Sugar	8	9
Gingersnaps	9	12½
Oil:
Coal, in cans, best	— —	38
Insurance, in cans	— —	50
Coal, in barrels, best	32	33
Lard, in barrels, best	1 10	1 12
Molasses, in barrels,
Common	30	32
Fair	41	45
Prime to choice	48	50
Golden and Roquet syrups	80	85
Half bbls. 5c and kegs 10c. more.
Rice, Louisiana, ₩ lb.:
No. 2	— —	3
Ordinary	4¾	5
Fair	5¾	5¾
Prime to choice	6¾	7¾
Soap, in boxes, ₩ lb.:
XXX Palm	7	—
Keller's magnolia	— —	5
Keller's olive	— —	6½
Starch, ₩ lb	4	5
Salt, in sacks:
Fine	1 65	35
Coarse	1 05	1 10
Sugar, in bbls.:
Good fair	— —	8
Prime	9	9
Choice	10	9¾
Yellow clarified	10¾	10¾
White clarified	10¾	11¾
Crushed	12	12¾
Powdered	12	12¾
Spices, ₩ lb.:
Allspice	— —	18
Pepper	— —	20
Cloves	— —	60
Cinnamon	— —	52
Tea, ₩ lb.:
Black Oolong	— —	1 00
Green Imperial	— —	1 25
Tobacco, manufactured, ₩ lb.:
Chewing, common	45	50
Chewing, fair	55	55
Chewing, prime	80	85
Chewing, choice	65	1 00
Smoking	80	1 00

GRAIN AND FEED.

Corn, ₩ bushel:
Yellow, choice	— —	60
White	62	65
Oats, ₩ bushel:
St. Louis	— —	48
Texas	— —	— —
Gatem	— —	50
Bran, choice, ₩ 100 lbs	80	160
Hay, ₩ ton:
Prime timothy	— —	22 00
Ordinary	— —	— —
Cotton Seed Meal	28 00	28 00

PROVISIONS.

Bacon, ₩ lb.:
Breakfast	— —	13
Shoulders	— —	8
Sides, clear rib	9¾	9¾
Sides, clear	10	10¾
Hams, sugar-cured	13¾	14¾
Mess Pork, ₩ bbl	18 75	19 25
Dry Salted Meat:
Shoulders	— —	7¾
Lard, ₩ lb.:
Choice, in kegs	11¾	12
Choice, in tierces	11	11¾

BALING STUFFS.

Bagging:
India	10	10¾
Jute	12¾	13¾
Ties, Arrow, best, per bundle, at 30 lbs and buckles	— —	3 30
Bisard	— —	3 50
Twine, hemp	— —	16

SUNDRIES.

Leather, ₩ lb.:
Sole, hemlock	27	28
Sole, oak	35	40
Harness	35	45
Calf-skins, ₩ dozen	30 00	75 00
Texas rough, ₩ lb	24	28
Fertilizers, ₩ ton:
Sterrit's raw-bone superphosph	45 00	— —
Stern's fine ground bone	45 00	— —
Cotton Seed:
In sacks	11 00	— —

DRY GOODS.

Brown Domestic, ₩ yard:
Standard brands, 4-4	9	9
Standard brands, 4-4	10	11
Bleached Domestic, ₩ yard:
Choice brands, 4-4	8	10
Choice brands, 4-4	9	12½
Calico, ₩ yard:
Cabbana brands	6¾	8½
Sprague, Allen & Hamilton	6¾	7¾
Ticking, ₩ yard
Common brands	16	18½
Good	19	22
Osnaburgs:
Eight ounces	11½	12½
Stripes	10	12½
Checks	14	15
Denims	13	18

BOOTS AND SHOES.

Batchelor mud boots, ₩ doz	36 00	42 00
Common mud boots, ₩ doz	— —	30 00
Common brogans, ₩ doz	12 00	15 00
Batchelor brogans, ₩ doz	15 00	18 50
Hamilton brogans, ₩ doz	16 00	19 50

Special Notices.

A Gem worth Reading!—A Diamond worth Seeing!

SAVE YOUR EYES!

Restore your Sight!

THROW AWAY your SPECTACLES,

By reading our Illustrated PHYSIOLOGY AND ANATOMY of the EYE SIGHT. Tells how to Restore Impaired Vision and Overworked Eyes; how to cure Weak, Watery, Inflamed, and Near-Sighted Eyes, and all other Diseases of the Eyes.

WASTE NO MORE MONEY BY ADJUSTING HUGE GLASSES ON YOUR NOSE AND DISFIGURING YOUR FACE. Pamphlet of 100 pages Mailed Free. Send your address to us also.

Agents Wanted,

Gents or Ladies, $5 to $10 a day guaranteed. Full particulars sent free. Write immediately, to DR. J. BALL & CO., (P. O. Box 957) No. 91 Liberty St., New York City, N. Y.

Appointments for Quarterly Meetings.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

BROOKHAVEN DIST.—FIRST ROUND.

Brookhaven station	Jan. 6, 7
Hazelhurst station	13, 14
Hebron and Wesson, at Wesson	20, 21
Crystal Springs station	27, 28
Raymond circuit, at Raymond	Feb. 3, 4
Spring Ridge circuit, at Oak Hill	10, 11
Georgetown circuit, at Mount Pleasant	17, 18
Providence circuit, at New Hope	24, 25
Bayou Pierre circuit, at Pleasant Valley	Mar. 3, 4
Scotia circuit, at Sweet Water	10, 11
Brandywine circuit, at Sarepta	17, 18

The district stewards will please meet at the parsonage, in Hazlehurst, on Friday, January 12, 1877, at eleven o'clock A. M. They are: R. S. Ricketts, F. D. Wimberly, R. H. T. S. Hilliard, D. McRee, H. F. Hoskin, B. H. Catchings, Willis Barnes, Jesse Thompson, I. V. Enochs, T. A. Catchings and T. I. Hunter.

21 W. L. C. HUSSUTTE, P. E.

JACKSON DIST.—FIRST ROUND.

Jackson station	Jan. 6, 7
Jackson circuit, at Timon's	13, 14
Brownsville circuit, at Edwards	20, 21
Madison circuit, at Madison station	27, 28
Canton station	Feb. 3, 4
Pearl River, at Pearl River	9, 10
Sharon, at Lone Pine	16, 17
Camden and Sonle chapel	23, 24
Yazoo circuit, at Benton	Mar. 2, 3
Silver Creek, at Palmetto Home	9, 10
Yazoo City	16, 17
Dover circuit, at Fletcher's chapel	23, 24

The district stewards will please meet the presiding elder at Canton on the eleventh day of January, at Phillips & Jones' drug store, at eleven o'clock A. M.

21 WM. B. HINES, P. E.

WOODVILLE DIST.—FIRST ROUND.

Woodville station	Jan. 6, 7
Clinton station	20, 21
East Feliciana, at Oak Grove	27, 28
Wilkinson, at Bethel	Feb. 3, 4
Jackson and Pipkin's chapel, at Jackson	10, 11
Concord, at Concord	17, 18
Bayou Sara, at Bayou Sara	24, 25
Buffalo	Mar. 3, 4

The preacher on Buffalo circuit will please let me know the place of the first quarterly meeting.

The district stewards will meet in Jackson, January 13. Brethren, please attend, if possible.

21 J. C. FORSYTH, P. E.

SUMMIT DIST.—FIRST ROUND.

Summit, at Summit	Jan. 6, 7
Bogue Chitto, at Bogue Chitto	13, 14
Meadville, at Meadville	20, 21
Amite, at Liberty	27, 28
St. Helena, at Center	Feb. 3, 4
Magnolia, at Magnolia	10, 11
China Grove, at China Grove	17, 18
Franklinton, at Mount Hermon	24, 25
Covington, at Covington	Mar. 3, 4
Amite City, at Amite City	10, 11
Springfield, at Springfield	17, 18
East Baton Rouge, at Beech Grove	24, 25

The recording stewards will please bring their record books to the Quarterly Conference. Brethren, do not fail in this. If you cannot attend, send the journal.

The district stewards will meet in Magnolia at eleven A. M., February 10, 1877.

21 JAMES A. GODFREY, P. E.

SEASHORE DIST.—FIRST ROUND.

Columbia, at Columbia	Jan. 6, 7
Pearlington, at Pearlington	13, 14
Ocean Springs, at Ocean Springs	20, 21
Moss Point, at Moss Point	27, 28
Pascagoula mission, at Salem	Feb. 3, 4
White Plains, at White Plains	10, 11
Chickasawha mission, at Mutual Rights	Mar. 3, 4
Ebon, at Ebon	10, 11
Soule mission, at Soule chapel	17, 18
Westville, at Westville	23, 24
Rankin, at Wesleyana	Apr. 1, 2
Mount Parnel, at Good Hope	8, 9

A full attendance of the official members at the first quarterly meeting is earnestly requested, as important business will be transacted.

My postoffice is Agnie City, La.

14 THOMAS PRICE, P. E.

BRANDON DIST.—FIRST ROUND.

Morton and Forest, at Grange House	Dec. 16, 17
Trenton, at Trenton	24, 24
Lake, at Lake	30, 31
Brandon	Jan. 6, 7
Fannin, at Union	13, 14
Carthage, at Goshen	20, 21
Walnut Grove, at Scotland	27, 28
Newton, at Newton	Feb. 3, 4
Hillsboro, at Hillsboro	10, 11
Philadelphia, at Pine Grove	17, 18
Union, at Smith's chapel	24, 25
Raleigh, at Oak Ridge	Mar. 3, 4
Homewood mission, at Homewood

The district stewards will meet at Lake on Saturday, December 30, at eleven o'clock A. M.

11 WILL H. LEITH, P. E.

MERIDIAN DIST.—FIRST ROUND.

Enterprise station	Dec. 16, 17
Shiloh and Mc Gowan, at Shubuta	24, 24
Meridian station	30, 31
Wayne circuit, at Scott's chapel	Jan. 6, 7
Waynesboro circuit, at Waynesboro	13, 14
Clark mission, at Shady Grove	20, 21
Marion circuit and Lauderdale mission, at Colon's	27, 28
Paulding circuit and Kittsville mission, at Paulding	Feb. 3, 4
Enterprise circuit, at Zion's Hill	10, 11
Spring Hill circuit, at Bethel	17, 18
DeKalb circuit, at Pleasant Ridge	24, 25

The district stewards will meet at the Methodist church in Meridian on Wednesday, January 3, 1877, at eleven o'clock A. M.

11 JOHN A. ELLIS, P. E.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.

MOBILE DIST.—FIRST ROUND.

St. Paul's	Dec. 30, 31
Franklin street and Cunningville	Jan. 6, 7
Whistler	13, 14
Eastern Shore, at Sibley's	20, 21
Mount Pleasant, at Stockton	27, 28
Pollard and Blackwater	Feb. 3, 4
St. Francis street	10, 11
Citronelle	17, 18
Pensacola	24, 25
Warrington	25, 26
Milton and Yellow River mission	Mar. 3, 4
Grand Bay	10, 11
St. Stephen's, at St. Stephens	17, 18
Bladon and Oktuppa, at Mount Zion	24, 25

24 S. H. GRAY, P. E.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Snyder's Curative

PADS.

WORN OVER PART AFFECTED, ABSORB ALL MALARIA FROM THE SYSTEM.

They positively cure the worst cases of Liver, Lung, Heart Kidney, Spine, Bladder and Womb ailments, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Restlessness, Sickness at pit of Stomach or Bowels, Female Weakness, Sick and Nervous Headache, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, Heedlessness, etc., may be entirely eradicated by wearing one of our Pads. Many of our best citizens can attest to their merit.

The Liver and Lung Pad	$2 00
Kidney and Spinal Pad	3 00
Womb Pad, for Female Weakness	3 00

☞ Ask your druggists for "Snyder's Curative Pad," and take no other, or inclose the price in a letter to us, and we will send them by mail. Address

E. F. SNYDER & CO.,
Manufacturers and Proprietors,
Indianapolis, Ind.

☞ For sale by I. L. LYONS, New Orleans.

A General Agent wanted for each State South, with whom a liberal contract will be made to supply the wholesale and retail trade. sp nrh

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE TRUTH AT LAST.

OFFICIAL REPORT

OF THE

Centennial Awarding Committee

ON THE

SINGER

SEWING MACHINE.

THE United States Centennial Commission announce the following report as the basis of an award, to the SINGER MANUFACTURING COMPANY, Elizabeth, N. J., for their FAMILY SEWING MACHINE:

REPORT.

A Shuttle Sewing Machine, embodying the following points of construction, viz.: A needle bar operated from the end of a rotating shaft in the overhanging arm; a shuttle supported in a shuttle carrier, moved transversely to the feed by means of a crank on a rotating shaft; a four-motioned positive feed, and a straight needle, with its eyes parallel with the direction of feed.

For the following reasons:

A SUPERIOR

Family Machine, embodying the greatest number of most approved mechanical devices to impart positive motions to the various parts; simplicity of construction, good workmanship, excellent quantity and quality of work done, originality, and for completeness of display.

A. T. GOSHORN, Director-General.
J. R. HAWLEY, President.
Attest—MYER ASCHE, Assistant Secretary.

COUNTRY ORDERS.

PARTIES residing in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas and adjacent States, who favor their DRY GOODS FOR CASH, are invited to write for samples, which will be forwarded to them Free of Cost and Postage Paid, and where I am favored with an order which exceeds $10 the Freight thereon will be allowed at my expense. Where the order exceeds $20 I will pay the cost of sending the Money, whether by Express, Money Order, Registered Letter, Bank Draft or otherwise.

The new postal law permits parcels weighing four pounds or less to be sent by mail, at the rate of one cent per ounce, so that parties ordering less than $10 worth can have their purchases sent to them through their postoffices at a very slight expense. And where they desire packages sent by mail they should make provision for the postage. Goods sent C. O. D. to all points where the Express Company or Packets have Agents.

As a matter of accommodation I will purchase articles outside of my line, which is confined to Fancy and Staple Dry Goods, but will not pay the freight thereon unless the order for Dry Goods bought of me exceeds $10. No charge will be made for purchasing articles out of my line, to a limited extent.

Articles not corresponding to order can be returned.

Should I not be able to fill the order the money will be refunded at my expense.

No charge made for Packs, Balling, Strapping, Drayage or Insurance.

My personal attention given to Country Orders. Having a resident buyer in NEW YORK, constantly buying bargains, both at the large Auction sales and at private sale, I am enabled to sell a large portion of my stock at very low prices, giving my customers the advantage of the bargains thus obtained. I am receiving new goods by every steamer from the North and Europe.

I have been in business more than TWENTY YEARS, and the steady yearly increase affords a gratifying record of fair dealing, to which I refer with pride

J. A. HRASELMAN,
Nos. 56 and 58 Magazine street,
Cor. St. Andrew, New Orleans.
RELIABLE CASH HOUSE.

THE TRUTH AT LAST

IN REGARD TO

Sewing Machine Awards by the Centennial Commission.

THE Commission counts awards of equal merit to all of the leading Sewing Machine Companies.

None received higher awards than the HOWE.

It was unanimously decided that the Centennial display of work by this Company has never been equaled.

The Howe was the first, and is consequently the oldest Machine in the market.

Today we can conscientiously claim the most durable Machine, doing the most perfect stitching and the greatest range of work, and, further, can prove our claim by a practical demonstration.

Late improvements make it one of the lightest running first-class Machines in the market.

For the sake of a high-sounding advertisement we will stoop to no false representations.

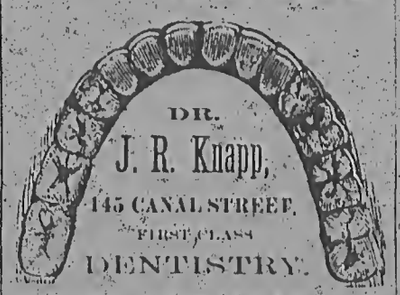
With the conflicting and bewildering claims of the different Companies before the public we can only invite an examination at the sales-room of

THE HOWE MACHINE COMPANY,
183 CANAL ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Send for price list.

ATTENTION, LADIES!

MME. DEMOREST'S CUT PAPER PATTERNS, of the latest fashions, put up in illustrated envelopes, with full directions for use. Sent by mail to any address on receipt of price. Catalogue free. Address MME. E. P. PERRY,
183 Canal St., New Orleans.



ARTIFICIAL TEETH which defy detection, and are comfortable and serviceable to wear, at GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.

Filling decayed Teeth so as to last for years.

WITHOUT PAIN,

By means of a new invention.

All work guaranteed. Operations free. Call and examine work and prices. sp

FAIRBANKS' SCALES.

GUARANTEED U. S. STANDARD.

FAIRBANKS'

COTTON AND SUGAR BEAMS.

Branch House—53 Camp Street.

FAIRBANKS & CO.

HEATH, PIPPEY & LAMA,

IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN

CARPETS, FLOOR OIL CLOTHS,

UPHOLSTERY GOODS, WALL PAPER, Window Shades, Cornices, Lace and Nottingham Curtains, Mirrors, Moldings Chromos, Engravings, etc., etc., etc.

☞ Frames made to order a specialty.

No. 99 Camp Street, New Orleans.

OPIUM and Morphine habit absolutely and speedily cured. Painless; no publicity. Send stamp for particulars Dr. Curtis, 18 Washington st., Chicago, Ill.

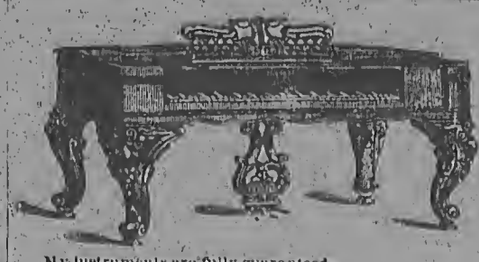
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, ETC.

JACKSON & GALLAGHER,

PIPE ORGAN BUILDERS,

915, 917, 919, Walnut St., St. Louis, Mo.

N. B. Church Organs Tuned and Repaired. Send for Illustrated Catalogue.



My instruments are fully guaranteed.

☞ I AM PREPARED

To furnish all persons with Pianos, Organs, and Musical Merchandise.

You would be surprised to know how accommodating I am. I mean business. Wherever you live, I can save you 25 to 50 per cent.

Address me direct, or through your preacher.

PHILIP WERLEIN,
NOS. 78 TO 80 BARONNE ST.,
NEW ORLEANS.

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.

CAREFUL OBSERVERS

IN THE MATTER OF

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS

Will find it to their interest to examine

THE EXTENSIVE AND COMPLETE STOCK

OF

HOUSEWARE,

Of every description, kept by

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,

NO. 29 CAMP AND 116 COMMON ST.,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

And they will establish these facts:

1. OUR STOCK IS THE BEST.
2. OUR PRICES ARE THE CHEAPEST.
3. OUR METHODS ARE THE FAIREST.

With more than thirty years' experience in the Crockery trade, we claim a knowledge of the wants of this community except to no one, and can fill them better than any house in the Southwest. Please note what a little money will do toward adding to your

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS.

$4 00 will buy a White Granite TEA SET of 44 pieces.

6 50 will buy a French China TEA SET, same number of pieces.

10 00 will buy a French China Gold or Colored Band TEA SET, same number of pieces.

15 00 will buy an elegant Porcelain De Perre (nearly equal to French China in appearance, and far more durable) DINNER SET, comprising 124 pieces, to wit:

12 Dinner Plates,	1 Soup Tureen,
12 Tea Plates,	1 Sauce Boat,
12 Soup Plates,	1 Salad Bowl,
12 Preserve Plates	2 Covered Dishes,
12 Butter Plates,	2 Vegetable Dishes,
12 Tea Cups and Saucers,	2 Pickle Dishes,
12 Dinner Coffee Cups and Saucers,	4 Meat Dishes.

15 00 will buy the same assorted DINNER SET in the best White Granite Ware.

4 10 will buy the best White Granite CHAMBER SET, known as 11 pieces, comprising everything but Slop Jar and Foot Tub.

1 35 per dozen will buy the best White Granite DINNER PLATES.

1 20 per dozen will buy the best White Granite BREAKFAST PLATES.

1 10 per dozen will buy the best White Granite TEA PLATES.

1 00 per dozen will buy good Table GOBLETS.

1 75 per dozen will buy the best Pressed Table GOBLETS.

75 cents will buy a beautiful Glass BERRY SET, Sugar, Cream, Butter and Spoon Holder.

Plain French China DINNER SETS (first choice,) 160 pieces, $30.

Gold Band and Decorated DINNER SETS at extraordinarily low prices and everything else required for housekeeping in any style at prices within the reach of every one.

The above list contemplates first class, regular goods, of good shapes and sizes, and will give entire satisfaction wherever they are placed.

Charges for packing and drayage: Dinner sets, $1; Tea sets, 50 cents.

We invite Inquiries. Catalogues sent on application.

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,
No. 29 Camp street and 116 Common street,
New Orleans.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LEVY BROS.,

580 MAGAZINE ST., NEW ORLEANS

THE MOST POPULAR

DRY GOODS HOUSE

IN NEW ORLEANS.

Keep constantly on hand a select stock of STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS, consisting of Bleached and Unbleached Cottons, Calicoes, Flannel, Dress Goods, Hosiery, Corsets, Ribbons, Cassimere, Delaines, Mermoes, Blankets, etc.

A Specialty Made of Black Alpaca.

Our HELLA Kid Gloves are guaranteed, and money returned or another pair given in case they rip or tear while putting them on.

Orders from the country strictly attended to.

CHURCH ORGANS.

WM. H. CLARKE & CO.,

CHURCH ORGAN BUILDERS,

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

Builders of the large Organ in Roberts Park M. E. Church, Indianapolis, and other large Organs in various parts of the United States. Specifications and details furnished to Church Committees without charge. Special facilities for the construction of instruments of every size for the Southern climate. Address P. O. Box 119.

N. B.—Mr. Clarke is well known as the author of popular works of Organ Music, familiar to all organists. sp now

DRY ROGERS' In Powder.

CITRATE OF MAGNESIA.

DURING the past twenty-five years it has received universal satisfaction as a pleasant aperient. It is the best medicine for Headache, Sickness of the Stomach, Heartburn, and all complaints arising from acidity, bilious and malarial fevers. It cools the blood and regulates the bowels. It is superior to Saratoga and most mineral waters. For sale by all druggists. Prepared by A. Rogers & Sons, New York City. eow

The Christian Advocate.

PUBLISHED BY ROBT. J. HARP, FOR THE ALABAMA, MISSISSIPPI AND LOUISIANA CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH SOUTH.

VOL. 22. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1876. NO. 52.

THE NEW YEAR.

I greet thee, brave and coming year
With thy nowrizzled, snowy hair,
And dash away the rushed tear
Would dim thee with its dull presage.

Hope dances from her dewy bower
Thy early footstep to beguile;
And Love, as fresh as Eden's flower,
Shall wave thee onward with a smile.

Why carry to thy record fair
The cares, the sorrows, buried, past?
Let them float backward on the air,
And perish like the ocean blast.

Despair our speech has iron-bound,
The stoutest heart has often quailed;
We've flouted Fortune as she frowned,
But was it Fate, or we, who failed?

Oft Destiny holds the surprise,
Fate, smiling, slowly drops her mask;
Our pain was blessing in disguise,
And health was hidden in the task.

We weave but blindly at the loom,
Nor see the picture, save in parts;
Not ours to mark the gleam or gloom,
But labor on with patient hearts.

When the bright angel overhead
The soul-wrought tapestry unfurls,
Perhaps the tears we slowly shed
May gleam amid the gold like pearls.

The sorrow which has crushed the lily,
A lily blooms, an azure flebl;
And daily care and toil and strife
In bird and flower may stand revealed.

One thing is left us undisturbed—
We still can work and love and give,
No matter how the life's perturbed,
If, living, we learn how to live.

Then come, thou young and sturdy year,
Come with proud port, and step elate;
If dawn is dark, noon may be clear;
Come, give us heart for any fate!

M. E. W. S., in Evening Post.

News of the Week.

DOMESTIC.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—In the Senate Mr. Hitchcock, of Nebraska, introduced a bill supplemental to the act for the appointment of Representatives in Congress among the several States, according to the ninth census; referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections. It provides for an additional representative in Congress from the State of Nebraska.

The Senate reconsidered the votes by which the bill to establish a Territory of Pembina was ordered to a third reading and passed on the eighth of August last.

The name of the new Territory which is to be organized out of a portion of the present Territory of Dakotah was then changed from Pembina to Huron, and the bill was passed.

House.—The question of the right of committees of the House to compel the production of dispatches by telegraph companies came up in the form of a report made by Mr. Lynde, of Wisconsin, from the Judiciary Committee, affirming that right. An amendment was offered by Mr. Hurd, of Ohio, representing the minority of the committee, which required that a description of the telegrams need to be set forth specifically in the subpena.

A substitute was offered by Mr. Knott, of Kentucky, chairman of the Judiciary Committee, asserting in more direct terms the right of the House to compel the production of telegraphic dispatches, and declaring that there is nothing in how that gives any more privileges to telegraphic communications.

After a debate, in which Mr. Garfield, of Ohio, took the ground that the privacy of the telegraph should be held as sacred as that of the post-office, and in which Mr. Hewitt, of New York, asserted that the sanctity of postoffice correspondence was more imaginary than real, and that his letters passing through the New York postoffice during the last month had been uniformly tampered with, Mr. Hurd's amendment was rejected and Mr. Knott's amendment adopted.

RICHMOND, Dec. 20.—In the Senate to-day Senator Johnson's resolution, condemning Federal interference in the affairs of South Carolina, and representing Virginia's sympathy for the people of that State, was further discussed, all an amendment inserted calling on South Carolina to continue in their forbearance, etc.; after which it was adopted—yeas 31, nays 4. The negative votes were cast by Republicans.

LITTLE ROCK, Dec. 20.—Last night's conflagration was brought under control between eleven and twelve o'clock. The flames were confined to Miller & Pensel's line. Loss estimated at $40,000. Insurance less than half that amount.

CHARLESTON, Dec. 21.—The meeting of Conservative taxpayers to-night was the largest ever held within doors in Charleston. Hibernian Hall, the most spacious in the city, was densely crowded, and the lower floor packed with those unable to find room in the hall, where the meeting was held, and the street outside was lined with hundreds of persons who could not squeeze into the building.

The proceedings were entirely harmonious, and the following resolutions were unanimously adopted, and a committee appointed to carry them into effect:

Resolved, That the Conservative citizens of Charleston, Democrats and Republicans, do recognize Wade Hampton, and none other, as the lawful Governor of South Carolina. To him alone will they yield, as Governor, obedience and support, and to him they pledge such aid, assistance, moral, financial and material, as may be required for the establishment and maintenance of the constitutional government of which he is the head.

Resolved, That we recognize W. D. Simpson, and none other, as the lawful Lieutenant Governor of South Carolina, and that we recognize the House of which the Hon. W. H. Wallace is speaker as the legally constituted House of Representatives of South Carolina.

Resolved, That D. H. Chamberlain, having been defeated at the polls as a candidate for re-election, and placed in office upon the declaration of an illegal General Assembly, by the unwarrantable use of military force, is regarded by us as an usurper, and we avow our unchangeable resolution never to recognize him as Governor, and our inflexible determination to repudiate his every act and every act of the pretended Lieutenant Governor, and every act of the pretended General Assembly, as being without authority of law, null and void.

LITTLE ROCK, Dec. 21.—Another fire broke out here this evening. Several buildings were burned. Probable loss $100,000.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—The Texas Pacific matter appears to be settled. A compromise has been effected between that corporation and the Huntington or Southern Pacific party. This arrangement permits Huntington to build seven hundred miles on the Pacific end, with amicable arrangements for pooling and low freights. Scott is to build from Red river to junction with Huntington. This compromise removes all organized opposition. This arrangement was effected late yesterday. The full committee will report a bill January 4. New Orleans will have a branch with the same rights to rates as a main line.

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 22.—The Supreme Court sustains the Democratic demurrer to the answer of the Canvassing Board, and grants a peremptory order to the board to recanvass from the face of the returns. This gives the State to Tilden by a small majority, and of course elects the balance of the Democratic ticket, including both Congressmen. The Democrats are quietly but heartily enjoying their victory. Counsel for the board gave notice of a motion to answer. The court adjourned to nine A. M. to-morrow, and announced its determination to adjourn sine die to morrow.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 22.—The State Senate and Republican House adjourned sine die this evening.

The Democratic House adjourned sine die. This action leaves the two State governments acting upon their own responsibility. Chamberlain has made a large number of nominations of county officials, which were confirmed by the Senate in executive session. Hampton has the assurance of funds, and is proceeding also to organize county governments.

LITTLE ROCK, Dec. 22.—The fire was the work of an incendiary. It started in the rear of Berry's paper warehouse. Hayes' mill was saved. The loss will not exceed $20,000. This is the sixth fire here within six days.

A vigilance committee was formed here to-day.

Two ineffectual attempts were made to fire houses last night.

TALLAHASSEE, FLA., Dec. 23.—The Supreme Court met at twelve M. to-day. The counsel for the board withdrew the motion made yesterday, that he be allowed to answer. The court made the writ peremptory, and ordered the board to recanvass by the twenty-seventh instant, and file the report of their action on that day, and then took a recess until four o'clock to make up its record.

SALEM, OREGON, Dec. 23.—The Democratic State Central Committee call meetings on the eighth of January throughout the State. They indorse Grover's action.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 25.—The Department of Justice has received the following points in the decision of the Supreme Court of Florida, in the matter of the State Board of Canvassers. The board has no judicial powers under the law creating it. It declares and determines who has been elected, as shown by the returns. The certificate of the board declaring the result is not a judicial judgment nor is its declaration a judicial declaration. The power given by the statute to the Canvassing Board is only ministerial. It must count the returns as a whole, and the face of the returns cannot be altered; nor can they be rejected unless the returns are false, irregular or fraudulent. Therefore the Supreme Court made its writ peremptory, and ordered the board to recanvass the vote by the twenty-seventh of December, and file the report of the result on that day.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—The Times, in its leading editorial, says: The plenipotentiaries have concluded the most difficult part of their task by agreeing that some kind of occupation is necessary. Midhat Pasha must soon pronounce his decision on their proposals. We fear the Turkish ministers are inclined to take the hazard of absolute resistance. They seem to think they can foil the conference by plunging Europe into a tremendous war.

A severe gale, accompanied by torrents of rain, prevailed throughout the United Kingdom on Tuesday and Wednesday nights. The gale was particularly severe on the Scotch coast, where marine disasters are unrelated.

A dispatch from Constantinople to Reuter's Telegram Company says the preliminary conference held its sitting yesterday. The plenipotentiaries have agreed to formulate their proposal in terms acceptable to all parties. It is stated that the plenary conference will meet on Thursday next. The Turkish constitution is to be promulgated immediately. The nomination of Midhat Pasha to the Grand Vizierate has been very well received, and it is believed will hasten a solution of all difficulties.

HAVANA, Dec. 24. The English mail steamer from St. Thomas, December 17, brings advices from the city of San Domingo to December 10. Another revolution had taken place in San Domingo. President Gonzales, who was called back to power when Espaillet was deposed, again resigned his office on the ninth instant, and embarked for Mayaguez Porto Rico. This event was the result of a general rising of the Baezist party in the streets of San Domingo. Fighting followed and continued several days. When President Gonzales heard that the northern provinces had likewise risen against him he resigned to prevent further bloodshed, and retired to the United States consulate, whence he took ship for Porto Rico. Immediately after his resignation a provisional government was organized and a vessel dispatched to Curacoa, where ex-President Baez resided, to convey to him news of his restoration to the presidency. It is affirmed that the principal cause of Gonzales' resignation was the treason of Gen. Villanueva, who the President had always considered his best friend and firmest supporter. When Gonzales heard that the general had joined the revolution against him he gave up the struggle. Commerce was completely paralyzed by these events, and money was scarce. All was quiet in the republic of Hayti.

North Texas Conference.

APPOINTMENTS.

Jefferson District—J. Clark Smith, P. E. Jefferson station, M. C. Blackburn; Sola Lake circuit, W. W. Horner; Atlanta circuit, R. G. Sewell; Linden circuit, S. J. Hawkins; Kellyville circuit, T. J. Milton; Dangerfield circuit, D. F. Fuller; Mount Pleasant circuit, J. J. Davis; Gilmer circuit, J. M. Langston; Longview circuit, to be supplied by J. F. Scurlock; J. L. Terry, sup., Coffeeville circuit, S. H. Renfro.

Sulphur Springs District—Thomas E. Sherwood, P. E. Sulphur Springs station, Thomas M. Smith; J. C. Randall, sup.; Sulphur Springs circuit, J. F. Sherwood; Sulphur Bluff circuit, W. A. Shook; Greenville station, David M. Proctor; White Rock circuit, E. S. Boyd, W. K. Dull, sup.; Lone Oak circuit, to be supplied by Francis Walker; E. B. Featherstone, sup.; Winsboro circuit, J. H. White; Pittsburg circuit, R. Lane, R. R. Thompson, sup.; Mineola circuit, Samuel W. Jones; Sulphur mission, E. P. Chisholm.

Terrell District—I. P. Lively, P. E. Terrell and Wills Point circuit, R. M. Powers; Rockdale circuit, A. C. Allen; Farmingsville circuit, B. B. Bounds; Kaufman circuit, C. P. Thomas; Elmo circuit, R. W. Hawkins; Pleasant Grove circuit, J. S. Angel; Forney mission, M. C. Simpson; Prairieville circuit, V. H. Brewer; Garden Valley circuit, J. K. Harris; Silver Lake circuit, to be supplied.

Paris District—John H. McLean, P. E. Paris station, R. H. Read; Roxton circuit, A. C. McDougal; Honey Grove circuit, C. E. Lamb; Dodd City circuit, to be supplied by N. A. Keen; Ladonia circuit, John W. Piner; Cooper circuit, L. P. Smith; Sylvan circuit, L. B. Ellis; Robinsville circuit, James Graham; Clarksville and McKenzie circuit, J. H. Walker; Wicker Station circuit, L. E. Palmer; Boston circuit, R. N. Brown; Texarkana mission, W. C. Blair.

Dallas District—W. F. Easterling, P. E. Dallas station, M. H. Neely, S. Armstrong, sup.; Floyd Street station, J. R. Allen; Dallas circuit, M. H. Cullum; Plano and Carruth station, E. J. Martin; Vanalstyne and McKinney station, E. M. White; Seyon circuit, W. R. Manning; Honey Creek circuit, H. B. Hughes; Trinity circuit, J. S. Ashburn; Bethel circuit, John Beverly; Grapevine circuit, W. S. May; Grapevine mission, F. A. Rosser.

Sherman District—J. M. Birkley, P. E. Sherman station, W. C. Hatsin; Bonham and Denison station, W. D. Shelton; Savoy circuit, to be supplied by B. M. Williams; Pilot Grove circuit, M. W. Shearer; Bonham circuit, George W. Ellis; Whitesboro circuit, T. W. Hill; Dexter circuit, W. M. Robbins; Pilot Point station, J. W. Chalk; Pilot Point mission, George S. Gatewood, W. E. Bates sup.; Sherman circuit, D. P. Haggard.

Gainesville District—W. H. Moss, P. E. Gainesville station, J. R. Crowder; Gainesville circuit, L. N. Craven; Denton circuit, T. B. Norwood; Montague circuit, J. C. Weaver; Elizabethtown circuit, C. E. Ulmer; Decatur circuit, James McDugall; Marysville circuit, J. B. Suttle; Cambridge mission, Rice B. Harris; Henrietta mission, to be supplied.

Parker, agent Bible Society, attached to Dallas district.

A telegram received here yesterday (December 22) furnished the intelligence that almost the entire town of Homer, La., was destroyed by fire early that morning. Twenty-one stores were burned. The origin of the fire is not stated, but the supposition was that it was an incendiary's act.

At a recent exhibition of paintings a lady and her son were regarding with much interest a picture which the catalogue designated as "Luther and the Diet of Worms." Having descanted at some length on its merits, the boy remarked: "Mother, I see Luther and the table, but where are the worms!"

Tell the truth about your health.

Letter from Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 7, 1876.

MR. EDITOR: President making is the one great, all-engrossing question here. The electoral entanglements must get untangled before any other business can be done. The news of each day brings important phases to some of the important questions. News twenty-four hours old is quite stale, so that no news can be conveyed by letter.

The representative Democrats are in caucus this afternoon. The committees of investigation are off for South Carolina, Florida and Louisiana. What they will do when they reach those points respectively is not known. Everything centers in the one all-important vote. The news this morning is that Oregon will furnish the one vote. But then that will be "fraud and corruption not to be submitted to."

It is most remarkable that this government is a hundred years old, has elected a President every four years, under a written constitution, and yet we have no law for the election and installation of a President applicable to all conditions of things. It is not a settled matter whether Congress has or has not the power of inquiring into a fraud or mistake, be it ever so great or apparent, in an electoral vote sent up to the Vice President. Arguments on both sides of this question are brought forward by some of our best jurisconsults. It is a question of inference or deduction, and not of written law plainly stated. This is the great question now.

Let me suppose a case. Suppose Louisiana, or any other State, acting under a republican constitution, should enact a law that all voting for civil officers shall be by a Board of Voters appointed by the Governor; that this vote shall be plenary and unrestricted, except that they shall vote only for candidates nominated by the people, voting in the usual way. This, I suppose, would be a clear violation of the constitution, and those voting and claiming office in this way might be deemed conspirators, and punishable by indictment, etc.

How far such a supposed case answers to the facts in Louisiana is a question only man may answer for himself. But suppose it states the case in the three Returning Board States correctly, only in verbiage somewhat different from that generally used—what then is to be done? That is the practical question, and at this particular crisis it is the gravest and most mighty question ever presented to the American people; yes, ever, ever!

The solution of that question will likely either avert or bring on a civil war such as has not been known in modern times.

The burning of the Brooklyn Theater is the largest and most appalling disaster of the sort that ever occurred in America or in Europe. Just think, that from fashion, fun and frolic, in the space of three minutes hundreds of men, women and children tumbled into piles of ten, twenty and forties, side suffocated, and charred beyond recognition!

While the policemen were gathering the dead bodies out of the cars and ashes it was advertised that the other theaters in Brooklyn would be "closed for ten days." Why? Why close them, or any of them? If a similar accident had happened in a cotton factory, would cotton spinning have been suspended for ten days? If in a church, would religious services be suspended for ten days? How unconsciously is disclosed the true animus of theaters!

But in this city the theaters are not closed, nor to be closed "for ten days." They are in full glee of the utmost fashion and foolery. This morning the desks of the members of the House of Representatives were all supplied with the "small bills" of the "National" Theater, explaining how "Mrs. Oates" could make female prostitution appear genteel, with "bright, sparkling music and unceasing fun." The French Revolution tells about "the balls of the victims," and we can frolic over a theater full of dead and the wail of the living.

The deep undertone of feeling here concerning the result of the presidential election is heavy and deep. Many very sober-minded men seriously fear that we are on the eve of a war, one of the minor results of which will be a total disruption of the republic, and an entire loss of a popular government. Let us pray for the intervention of Divine Providence. One of our fool city editors—I do not know how many such we have—says he sees the danger, but considers prayer too homeopathic a remedy. An ignoramus thinks that nothing is necessary to make a man but a schoolmaster and tailor. My own advice is that men everywhere pray for the peace of the country and the integrity of civil freedom.

I heard a very thoughtful man say that if we should get through these political entanglements without a war he would ascribe greater wisdom to our statesmen than he had ever done before. The key to relief is likely to come, if at all, from Oregon, Florida, South Carolina or Louisiana. It is said that Stephens, of Georgia, and Conkling, of New York, have each prepared their best arguments on the power of Congress in the anticipated exigency, and, though on different sides of politics, there is an entire agreement between them.

Mr. Stephens is quite unable to walk—is carried in and out of the hall in a chair; a giant mind almost without a body—the engine of the Great Eastern put into a skiff!

R. ARMEY.

North Mississippi Conference.

This Conference was held at Sardis, Miss., November 22-27, Bishop Pierce presiding. The following are the appointments:

Holly Springs District—J. D. Cameron, P. E.; Holly Springs, J. W. Lowrance; Holly Springs circuit, R. P. Mitchell; Early Grove, T. Y. Ramsey, Jr., J. K. Morris, sup.; Byhalia, J. E. Entrell, P. J. Eckles, sup.; Marshall, T. Cameron; New Salem, E. Johnson; Emory, C. N. Terry; Ashland, J. A. Bowen; Snow Creek, to be supplied by J. H. Mitchell; S. B. Carson, sup.; Cornersville and Bethlehem, M. C. Pegues; Hickory Flat, D. C. Brown; Pleasant Grove, H. C. Parrott.

Sardis District—Amos Kendall, P. E.; Hernando and Cold Water, S. C. Stone; Horn Lake and Hinds chapel, M. M. Dunn; Lovetown, S. A. Ellis; Cockrum, R. M. Davis; Pleasant Hill, to be supplied by R. M. Gwynn; Chulahoma, J. W. Luter; Mount Vernon, B. B. Brown; Como and Fredonia, W. B. Murrah; Senatobia, W. J. O'Bryant; Longtown, H. C. Morehead; Evansville mission, J. T. Moody; Sardis and Davis' chapel, W. T. J. Sullivan; Sardis Female Seminary, W. T. J. Sullivan, president.

Grenada District—J. H. Brooks, P. E.; Batesville, J. J. Brooks, J. W. Bates, sup.; Eureka, J. W. Poston; Coffeeville, J. P. Dancer; Charleston, J. R. Roberson; Grenada, T. W. Dye; Grenada circuit, G. W. Brinman; Water Valley, J. M. Boon; Springdale mission, to be supplied by J. B. Hudgins; Wesley chapel, B. F. Phillips; Oxford, J. J. Wheat; Oxford circuit, G. W. Boyls, A. M. Houston, sup.; Caswell, D. C. Foust, W. Troy, sup.; Bunner, R. A. Ellis; Calhoun, J. M. Hampton; Grenada Female College, D. D. Moore, president; University of Mississippi, J. J. Wheat, professor.

Greenville District—J. H. Scruggs, P. E.; Greenville, T. Page; Deer Creek, W. L. Peebles; Sunflower, J. D. Murff; Concordia and Australia, D. Plows; Rosedale, D. O. Hughes; Bolivar, J. S. Oakley; Friar's Point and Austin, W. P. Barton; Jonestown, W. A. Dollar; Cherry Hill, J. E. Douglass; Tallahatchie, H. R. Caldwell; Clarksdale, N. R. Hamer; Greenwood and Hazeldell, Q. A. Oats.

Winona District—J. W. Knott, P. E.; Winona and Carrollton, E. H. Moon; Winona, T. C. Parrish; Black Hawk, K. A. Jones; Valden, T. J. Newell; Durant, A. P. Sage; Richland, H. D. Howell, G. D. Wade, sup.; Ebenezer, J. S. Carlton; Newport, W. C. Losier, J. P. Commander, sup.; Attala, W. S. Lagrone, A. R. Hines, sup.; Kosciusko, T. A. S. Adams; Liberty, W. W. Williams; Stubbs, D. N. Foose; Bellefontaine, W. C. Green.

Columbus District—R. G. Parter, P. E.; Columbus, W. W. Wadsworth; Columbus circuit, J. E. Thomas, J. E. Eggleston; Macon, W. S. Harrison; Sparta, S. W. Miller; Starkville, T. S. Campbell; Crawfordville, S. M. Thames; West Point and Tibbee, J. A. Babb; Brooksville, J. W. Perry; Shuqualak, R. A. Burroughs; Webster mission, W. R. Ralney; Louisville, J. D. Newsom; Plattsburg, A. W. Langley; Chester, B. F. Morris.

Aberdeen District—T. Y. Ramsey, P. E.; Aberdeen, W. Murrah; Verona, T. C. Wier; Athens, P. Fleuling; Vinton, T. J. Lowry; Houston, H. E. Smith, J. M. Wyatt; Siloam, J. T. Cunningham; Okolona, to be supplied; Okolona circuit, W. D. Matthews, W. M. Adams; Tupelo, J. B. Stone; Richmond, G. W. Brown; Saltillo, G. W. Gordon; Pontotoc, T. J. Harris; Fulton, L. D. Worshiam; Verona Female College, T. C. Wier, president.

Tuka District—J. Johnson, P. E.; Tuka, J. E. Markham; Tuka circuit, J. C. Lowe, W. T. Smith, sup.; Jacinto mission, to be supplied; Corinth, J. W. Hommill; Corinth circuit, T. G. Freeman; Burnsville, to be supplied; Kossuth, R. A. Nesbett, D. W. Babb; Jonesboro, J. W. Hooch; Ripley, B. W. Stubbs, D. M. Cogdell; Hatchie mission, to be supplied; Booneville and Rienzi, J. Bancroft; Baldwyn, J. F. Evans; New Albany, E. B. Ramsey; Marietta, T. J. Taylor; Bay Springs, J. McEthannan.

Transferred—B. F. Beasley, to Texas Conference; N. B. Fizer, B. S. Rayner, to White River Conference; John Mitchell, to West Virginia Conference; D. A. Beardsley, to Louisville Conference; Thomas Joyner, to Memphis Conference; and sup. to Collierville and Moscow; E. L. Hamilton, to Memphis Conference.

Texas Conference.

APPOINTMENTS.

Galveston District—N. A. Cravens, P. E.; St. John station, William Shappard, Galveston; St. James station, I. G. John, Galveston; Bay mission, to be supplied by P. E. Nicholson; Shearn Church station, Robert T. Nabors, Houston; Washington station and Harrisburg circuit, Thomas B. Curtis, B. T. Kavanaugh, sup.; Columbia and Sandy Point, F. Z. T. Morris; Brazoria and Gulf Prairie, F. A. McAshan; Velasco circuit, William M. Stockley; Hockley circuit, to be supplied; Clear Creek mission, to be supplied; editor Texas Christian Advocate, I. G. John.

Austin District—J. W. Whipple, P. E.; Austin station, Horatio V. Phillpott; Swede mission, Carl Chanquist; Austin circuit, W. G. Nelms; Elgin circuit, John M. Whipple; Bastrop circuit, F. B. Rodgers; Winchester circuit, John S. Clower; Giddings circuit, Frederick L. Allen; Cedar Creek circuit, Daniel Morgan; Live Oak circuit, Oscar F. Hotchkiss; Coldwell circuit, Milton H. Porter; Birch Creek mission, to be supplied; regent of Soule University, E. A. Mood.

Chappell Hill District—R. Alexander, P. E.; Chappell Hill station, T. W. Rogers; Jacob Matthews, sup.; Brenham circuit, B. D. Dashiell; Independence, Rufus T. Beasley; Travis mission, T. B. Buckingham; Burton circuit, J. L. Lennons; Hempstead station, U. C. Spencer; Bryan station, E. S. Smith; Bryan circuit, A. W. Smith, S. J. Graves, sup.; president Soule University, J. C. Miller; president Chappell Hill Female College, E. D. Pitts.

Huntsville District—S. C. Littlejage, P. E.; Huntsville station, Frank P. Mitchell; Dodge mission, to be supplied; Willis circuit, T. S. Saddler; Plantersville and Courtney, J. M. Wesson; Navasota and Millican circuit, P. C. Archer; Anderson circuit, R. W. Archer; Prairie Plains circuit, T. B. Saffold; Madisonville circuit, G. H. Phair; Zion circuit, S. H. Williams; Cold Springs, John C. Huckabee; president Andrew Female College, J. M. Pugh.

Columbus District—R. W. Kennon, P. E.; Columbus station, J. T. Williams; Oso, A. L. P. Green; Navidad, Wesley Smith; Alleyton mission, to be supplied; San Felipe, H. H. Brookes, G. D. Parker, sup.; Richmond and Bernard circuit, Thomas Whitworth; Matagorda mission, S. H. Brown; LaGrange mission, C. L. Farrington.

Transferred—Joseph Norwood, to West Texas Conference, and stationed at Brownsville, Mexican Mission district.

Superannuated—J. G. Johnson, John H. Davidson, J. M. Turner, A. B. F. Kerr, T. W. Blake, C. J. Lane, W. C. Lewis, A. Henkle.

The New York Herald has a letter from the city of Mexico, dated December 10. Diaz occupies the capital, to the satisfaction of a majority of the population, but the revolution is by no means at an end. Iglesias, ex-Vice President, has established his seat of government in Guanajuato, and refuses all compromise with Diaz. Diaz's army, moving against Iglesias, consists of fifteen thousand men, with eighty pieces of artillery.

Diaz will command in person, leaving the government in the hands of Gen. Juan Mendez. It is estimated that there are sixty thousand men under arms throughout the country, the greater part of whom are supporting Diaz or Iglesias. De Tejada at last accounts was nearing the port of Acapulco, where it is supposed he has embarked for San Francisco or Panama.

Little notice is taken of his movements since his flight from the city of Mexico. Gen. Mejal was ordered to leave the country ten days ago. He left for Vera Cruz, whence he goes to Europe or the United States.

SEASHORE DISTRICT, MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.—The appointments of this district were not received with the rest of the appointments, published two weeks ago. They are as follows:

Thomas Price, P. E.; Moss Point, Joseph B. K. Smith; Ocean Springs, A. B. Nicholson; Pearlington, Inman W. Cooper; Pascagoula, Charles W. Calhoun; White Plains, David Merchant; Chickasaha, T. C. Wimblish; Enon, John A. Vance; Soule, L. P. Meador; Westville, G. W. Brown; Bankin, John H. Evans; Mount Carmel, D. W. Dillehay; Columbia, Charles J. Phillips.

A CARD.—Please state in the ADVOCATE that my postoffice will be Sharon, Madison county, Miss., after this. Very truly,

H. H. MONTGOMERY.

HAZLEHURST, December 11, 1876.

What a weight of significance the thought should bear to most men that they write with their right hand!

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1876.

NEW YEAR LINES.

BY D. BONAR, D. D.

Do not dream away the lifetime
'Twas not given thee for a dream
Tis a fragment of the eternal
Which thou must, thou must redeem

Every hour is more than gold
Every moment 1 is a gem
Treasure up those hours and moments
Here are princely pearls in them

Be not selfish; earth's greatest sickness
Needeth selfless hearts to-day
To go forth among the dying,
And to soothe the beds of pain.

Doff the purple, don the drapery
Take the helmet or the shield
Drop the garland, seize the weapon
Make the class cede take the field

Lie not down among the roses,
Carry it all the way a sword
What is it to be idle or
Of a self denying Lord

Be not weary; for the warfare
Hard and fierce will seem to be,
And the rest will be exhausting
On the green or on the sea.

Report of the Committee on Books and Periodicals, Alabama Conference.

Your committee having given such consideration as their time allowed to the books and periodicals submitted to their notice, beg leave to make the following report:

The agent furnishes the following exhibit of the Publishing House for the year ending July 1, 1876:

Assets.....
Liabilities.....

Balance in favor of the house.....

The indebtedness of the house has been reduced during the past year $5,685.20, and the capital increased $9,150.22. It has now a net capital of $315,851.77, including an elegant building adapted to all the uses for which it is designed, together with a stereotype foundry and necessary fixtures, and machinery of every description requisite to its business. This institution, thus thoroughly furnished, is, however, like some grand vessel eager for the voyage, yet fettered to the shore. It is shackled by an immense debt, which entails untold perplexity and care. It is struggling just now beneath a pressure unprecedented in its history. It is menaced by great and immediate disaster, and all avennes of escape that offered a retreat in the past are now effectually closed. We are thoroughly convinced, from authentic statements submitted to our consideration, that the present is the supreme crisis in the history of the house. This crisis must be met. One way in which it may be materially modified will suggest itself when we state that there is due the house, and principally from the preachers, the the sum of $77,212.69. This amount, if collected, would relieve the agent of much embarrassment and greatly facilitate his work. We and our people owe a part of it, and inasmuch we are responsible for the present pressure. If we would realize this fact, and hasten to efface this growing reproach; if we would see that our Sunday school literature is used in every Sunday school; if we would furnish ourselves with catalogues, distribute them among the people, and devote a portion of our time to the circulation of our standard works—if such a course as this was universally pursued it would soon, under the blessing of God, place the house on that eminence which it merits, and relieve it of the terrible incubus which has for so many years rested with its crushing weight upon it. The house has recently issued a number of new books, together with new editions of many of our standard works. Among these the following have been specially submitted to the committee:

"Manual of the Discipline," by Bishop McTyeire. This new edition contains fourteen recent decisions of the episcopal college.

"Russell Morton," by the popular author, Timothy Trhamer. A little volume which promises to take rank with "Fred. Breuning" in our Sunday-schools and in private libraries.

"Sermons," by Rev. Bishop E. M. Marvin, D. D. In praise of this book too much can scarcely be said. Intensely spiritual, and written in an engaging style, each sermon is like a Corinthian pillar—a union of strength and beauty. No Methodist preacher's library is complete without it.

"Journal of the General Conference." This publication was issued some time since, yet, strange to say, but few copies have been sold. We should certainly manifest interest enough in this the highest of our church assemblies to procure and read its proceedings.

Catalogues descriptive of these and other publications of the house can be obtained from Rev. A. H. Redford, Nashville, or Rev. R. J. Harp, New Orleans.

The Christian Advocate, edited by T. O. Summers, D. D., LL. D., is issued weekly by the house. It is the sense of your committee that this periodical has here of late sharpened its Methodistic tone, and is dealing more with the "living present," and less with the buried past. We hail with joy this indication, and await in hope the "glorious summer." We commend it to your earnest support.

To the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, the organ of our own Conference, we refer with pride and pleasure. In tasteful dress it still continues its weekly visits to nearly eight thousand families, bearing with it the condensed wisdom of the current literature, purified by the salt of Christian sentiment. Its editorials are models. Brief, striking, able, they are adapted to the encouragement and culture of the church, and to the detection and exposure of the many errors that are percolating through the social soil, and poisoning the fountains whence move and flow the streams of thought and feeling. Among its varied departments, the children's corner is rapidly becoming one of the most interesting. Thousands of young eyes weekly scan its columns, and thousands of young hearts have been won not only to the editor, but, we trust, to the Savior through its means. As to Dr. Parker and his editorial management of the paper, we reiterate with emphasis the language of the committee of last year: "A better choice could not have been made." We applaud the sentiments of the earnest speech with which he favored us at the opening of the session. What we truly need as a church is constancy in attachment; not bigotry, not exclusiveness, but constancy—constancy to given principles, and to a given faith, which has been spoken in love and professed in seriousness. This earnestness, this constancy, should speak through our periodicals, should ring in their editorials and clothe their articles; and in the earnestness with which its accomplished editor spoke we find, we think, an augury of all that we could wish in this particular for the periodical in question.

There are two other periodicals circulating within our bounds—the Southern Review and the Southern Christian Advocate. We heartily commend them to the patronage of both preachers and laymen.

The report is respectfully submitted.

G. WAVERLEY BRIGGS,
Chairman.

Not Under Law, but Under Grace.

MR. EDITOR: The language that heads this article is the language of the Apostle Paul. It is also the language of Mr. Wesley, from which text he preached a very valuable and interesting discourse, that ought to be found in every Methodist's library. There are those whose exposition of the subject is too irrationally absurd to admit of an argument, for they claim that the law, as contained in the Ten Commandments, has passed away, been destroyed. Hence we are not under law. They say that it is not a violation of the law to break the Sabbath, because there is no law respecting the Sabbath. I have heard Methodists, endeavoring to condemn the narrow, contracted notions advanced above, assume the position that we are not only under grace, but under law. One position is as much antagonistic to the teachings of the Bible as the other. It is derogatory to God, and degrading to the character of heaven to admit the possibility of the law having been destroyed; and it is also a solecism and contradiction to assert the possibility of being under law and under grace at one and the same time. The apostle says emphatically, in his letter to the Romans, vi, 14: "For sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under law, but under grace." Again, he says to the Galatians: "But before faith came we were kept under law (condemned:) wherefore the law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith (not by law.) But after that faith is come we are no longer under a schoolmaster" (the law.)

Now let us consider for a moment the spiritual condition of those to whom the apostle addressed the words of the text. To be "under law" is one thing; to be "under grace" is another very different and glorious thing. To be under both at once, I repeat, is an anomaly, a contradiction in terms. To be "under grace" is nothing more nor less than to sustain a vital connection to the vine, Christ Jesus. To be "under law" is simply to be condemned by the law. A man cannot possibly be a saint and a sinner at the same time—that is, a state of condemnation cannot coexist with a state of justification. The three things—"in the flesh," "under law" and "sinning"—always go together. Where one is, all are found; and the three things—"in the spirit," "under grace" and "holiness"—always go together. Where one is, all are found. "For when we were in the flesh the motions of sins, which were by the law, did work in our members to bring forth fruit unto death." "But now we are delivered from the law," etc. Now is it not as clear as the sun that to be "in the flesh," to have on the old man, is to be under guilt and condemnation "under law?" It is not equally clear that to have on the new man, Christ Jesus, we are delivered from the law; hence "under grace?" A professing Christian who lives in the commission of sin is a sinner unmistakably, "under law." "He that hath my commandments and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me." And as certainly as cause produces effect, he alone is "under grace." A justified state involves grace to keep us from violating the law, which alone would bring us under it. Says one: "Am I not under the laws of the State of Alabama? Certainly I am not, for my life is in perfect harmony with the laws, and certainly I shall ever sustain a peaceful relation to the government till I by some misdemeanor violate one of her laws. Then, and not till then, would I be considered under law." Says one: "God has laws, and he governs by law." True, we are not to violate, but to fulfill them. "He came in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin condemned sin in the flesh, that the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us who walk not after the flesh, but after the spirit." Hence it is plain that to walk after the flesh is to violate law. To walk after the spirit is to fulfill law. The former brings us "under law;" the latter "under grace." "Where is boasting, then?" It is excluded. By what law? Of works? Nay, but by the law of faith." "Before faith came I was condemned." Bless God for faith! By faith we are justified, by faith we are sanctified, by faith we reach the highest possible perfection of our being. The Lord increase our faith. In conclusion I respectfully state that a solution of the problem, "under law" and "under grace," at the same time, is truly desired. Who will give it?

LAYMAN.

Cane Ridge Missionary Society, Jefferson County, Miss.

MR. EDITOR: The Apostle Paul says: "Render, therefore, to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honor to whom honor."—Romans xiii, 7.

"Honor" is due the officers and members of the Cane Ridge Missionary Society, of Fayette circuit, Mississippi Conference. This society was organized about two months before our Conference in Canton, in 1875, and raised $1 that year for missions before Conference. This year they raised $18.05—a handsome sum for a little, unassuming country Sunday school missionary society. They decided, at their last meeting before Conference, to divide this amount equally between the foreign missionary cause and the Conference collection, which was done. Their plan is simple. Initiation fee, ten cents; monthly dues, five cents. Any person, whether a member of the Sunday school or not, may become a member of the society. They have a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, elected semi-annually; and they hold their meetings monthly. We believe that similar societies might be organized at almost any church in the country. Thereby the children would be trained to give, and our collections would be greatly increased.

W. B. LEWIS, P. C.

CANE RIDGE, JEFFERSON CO., MISS.,
December 5, 1876.

The Marriage Fee.

MR. EDITOR: Many of the young men are now taking wives of the fair daughters of the land. As a general rule they call on the ministers of the gospel to perform the ceremony, which is right. A minister, we think, is the most suitable person to perform that office, and if one can possibly be had he should be engaged to tie the knot. But do our young men who marry know that a fee is expected? It is always looked for, and would be appreciated. We do not suppose that half of the marriage ceremonies are paid for—at least we judge from our own experience. We have married some of the handsomest and best-to-do couples in our region of country, who have not only not paid for the service, but have not even shown any appreciation of it that we know of. As to the amount of a fee, let it be such as you would not be ashamed to think of in days to come.

JUSTICE.

From the Work.

SOUTH BOSSIER, LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.—Mr. Editor: The last quarterly meeting is over, and with full, overflowing collections we will be off next Tuesday for Conference. Hope to meet all the brethren with cheerful faces and genial smiles. We have been well cared for during the year, and our good sister, E. Cannell, has given us a nice turkey to make merry with on Christmas day. I hope, dear doctor, all our brethren will fare likewise in this Conference this year. "It is more gracious to give than to receive." And O! how glad it does make us feel. Our circuit is on the look-up, spiritually and financially. Forty to forty-five per cent. of heads of families hold family prayer. That God may bless the people and save the country is our desire. G. M. LIVERMAN.

FILLMORE, LA., December 3, 1876.

The Lady Who Refused Washington.

The eldest sister of Miss Mary Cary had married George William Fairfax, at whose house he was on a visit, when she captivated a young man, who paid her his addresses. His affection, however, was not returned, and the offer of his hand was rejected by Miss Cary. This young man was afterward known to the world as Gen. George Washington, the first President of the United States of America. Young Washington asked permission of old Mr. Cary to address his daughter before he ventured to speak to herself. The reply of the old gentleman was: "If that is your business here, sir, I wish you to leave the house, for my daughter has been accustomed to ride in her own coach." It has subsequently been said that the answer of Mr. Cary to the stripling Washington produced the Independence of the United States, and laid the foundation of the future fame of the first of heroes and the best of men—our immortal Washington—as it was more than probable that had he obtained possession of the large fortune which it was known Miss Cary would carry to the altar with her, he would have passed the remainder of his life in inglorious ease. It was an anecdote of the day that this lady, many years after she had become the wife of Edward Ambler, happened to be in Williamsburg when Gen. Washington passed through that city at the head of the American army crowned with never-fading laurels, and adored by his countrymen. Having distinguished her, among the crowd, his sword waved toward her a military salute, whereupon she is said to have fainted. But this wants confirmation, for her whole life tended to show that she never for a moment regretted the choice she had made. It may be added, as a curious fact, that the lady Gen. Washington afterward married resembled Miss Cary as much as one twin sister ever did another.—From Bishop Meade's "Old Churches and Families of Virginia."

PRICE OF FOOD IN OLD TIMES.—Amid the never-ending comments on the high price of provisions, it is difficult for us to realize the fact that a time existed in Britain's history when wheat, as food for one hundred for a whole day, was worth only a shilling, and the average price of a sheep four pence. In the reign of Henry the First the price of wine was raised to six pence a quart for red, and eight pence a quart for white, in order that the sellers might be enabled to live by it. When wheat was at six shillings a quarter eight bushels, the farthing loaf was to be equal in weight to twenty-four ounces if made of the whole grain, and to sixteen ounces if consisting solely of white. And when wheat was only one shilling and six pence per quarter, as it sometimes was, the farthing white loaf was to contain sixty-four ounces, and the whole grain ninety-six. Think of purchasing a six-pound loaf of good wheaten bread for a farthing! In the nineteenth year of the reign of Edward the First the price of provisions in the city of London was fixed by the Common Council at a tariff by which two pullets were sold at three half pence; a partridge or two woodcocks for the same, while a fat lamb was to be six pence from Christmas to Shrovetide, and the rest of the year four pence. In the fourteenth century Parliament fixed the price of a fat ox at forty-eight shillings, a shorn sheep at five shillings, two dozen eggs at three pence, and the best wine at twenty shillings per tun. An act of Parliament, passed in 1533, settled the value of beef and pork at a half penny per pound, and veal at three farthings.

THE MYSTERY OF DREAMS.—A man fell asleep as the clock tolled the first stroke of twelve. He awakened ere the echo of the twelfth stroke had died away, having in the interval dreamed that he had committed a crime, was detected after five years, tried and condemned; the stock of finding the halter around his neck aroused him to consciousness, when he discovered that all these events had happened in an infinitesimal fragment of time. Mohammed, wishing to illustrate the wonders of sleep, told how a certain man, being a sheik, found himself, for his pride, made a poor fisherman; that he lived as one for sixty years, bringing up a family and working hard, and how, upon waking up from his long dream, so short a time had he been asleep that the narrow-necked gourd bottle, filled with water, which he knew he overturned as he fell asleep, had not time to empty itself. How fast the soul travels when the body is asleep! Often when we awake we shrink from going back into the dull routine of a sordid existence, regretting the pleasanter life of dreamland. How is it that sometimes when we go to a strange place we fancy that we have seen it before? Is it possible that when one has been asleep the soul has flouted away, seen the place, and has that memory of it which so surprises us? To a word, how far dual is the life of man, how far not?—London Times.

The first step toward making a man of your son is to train him to earn what he spends; the next best step is to teach him how to save what he earns.

'Tis a mercy to have that taken from us which takes us from God.—John Jenning.

OBITUARIES.

Correspondents, please write names and dates very distinctly. We follow copy as to proper names.

Obituary notices should be forwarded promptly and immediately. Give only points of general interest, such as will help the living. Details of funeral services, and such phrases as "mourn their loss," etc., are not edifying. Verses, either original or select, not admissible in this department. Give the locality distinctly and in full. In the case of infants only a simple announcement of the death, with names and dates, will be published.

☞ All obituaries received are published as soon as convenient. If, after a reasonable time, any such communication fail to appear, let a duplicate be sent instead of a complaint.

HARMONY SUNDAY SCHOOL, ELMORE CO., Ala.,
October 2, 1876.

DIED, at his residence in Elmore county, Ala., on the fifth of October, Bro. J. D. WALL. He was born in Coosa county, Ala., December 25, 1833; joined the Methodist Episcopal Church south in September, 1851, and had for two years past been superintendent of the Sabbath school at Harmony.

We claim for our brother honesty, a clear head and a pure heart. He was a true friend, an obedient son, a kind brother, a devoted husband and father, a noble and generous Christian, and died in the hope of the Christian's final reward. We should keep fresh in our memory the good example he has left, and follow in the steps he has trod; for which purpose we offer the following preamble and resolutions:

Whereas, It has pleased almighty God, in the dispensation of his providence, to call to himself our worthy superintendent and brother; therefore,

Resolved, That in his death the Sabbath school has lost one of its most useful members, the community a valued citizen, and the church a strong support.

Resolved, That while we mourn his loss, and miss his counsel and association, we bow with humble resignation to the will of him who doeth all things well.

Resolved, That we cherish his memory, and commend the Sabbath school, the many Christian virtues that adorned his life.

Resolved, That we extend to the bereaved family our heartfelt sympathies, praying upon them the guidance and protection of him who hears the young ravens when they cry.

Resolved, That a copy of this memorial be furnished the sorrowed family, and that a copy be sent to the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE for publication.

H. H. HUNTER, Chairman.

J. B. HANNON,
J. W. HUNTER, Secretaries.

TRIBUTE TO THE LATE JOHN B. REYNOLDS, OF NEW IBERIA.

At a church meeting, held at the Methodist church, New Iberia, September 21, 1876, in memory of Bro. John B. Reynolds, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased our heavenly Father to remove from the church on earth to the church in heaven, one aged and dearly beloved brother in Israel, John B. Reynolds; be it Resolved, That we bow with submission to the providence of God in the removal of our worthy and esteemed father in Israel, John B. Reynolds, who was born June 24, 1803, in Lafayette parish, La.; was converted and joined the Methodist Church at a camp meeting near Tallahassee, Fla., in the year 1824; removed to Louisiana in the year 1837, and became a co-worker with Rev. Thomas Johnson, who is still living, in building up the cause of Christianity in this community. He served faithfully and successfully as many years as class-leader, Sabbath school superintendent, and steward of the church, until he was laid upon a bed of affliction with rheumatism, where he lay and suffered for nearly ten years, when, on Sunday morning, September 10, the Lord called him home.

Resolved, That in the Christian life of Bro. John B. Reynolds we have a perfect demonstration of the power and divinity of experimental religion and sanctification.

Resolved, That the editors of the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE and the New Iberia Sugar Bowl be requested to publish these resolutions.

SAMUEL ROOKS, Chairman.
J. R. FREEMAN, Secretary.

DIED, at the residence of her father, in Elmore county, Ala., on the twenty-fourth of May, 1876, Mrs. MARY B. [illegible] H. PARKER, wife of Rev. G. Parker, and daughter of James and Elizabeth Dorris.

The deceased was born in Coweta county, Ga., on the tenth of March, 1815. While an infant her parents removed to Alabama. She embraced religion early in life and became a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, her parents being members of the same. Her Christian experience was remarkably clear. She left behind her a full and satisfactory evidence of her acceptance in the Beloved, testifying a short time before her death, that Jesus and the angels were around her bedside. Her husband asked her, as she was entering the river, if Jesus was still with her. She answered that he was, and soon fell asleep in the arms of Jesus. She left a mourning husband, whose comfort is fled, though she can not come back to him, he can go to her. She leaves also an infant son. She leaves a bereaved father, mother and four brothers to mourn her loss. She was a consistent Christian for many years. We believe she is now in the heavenly world.

JAMES A. BILLINGSLEY.

DIED, near Leesville, Vernon parish, La., September 17, 1876, BILLIE DEAR HARRIS, only son of S. J. and Caroline Franklin, aged one year, ten months and twenty-nine days. He was sensible, and called for his papa, to the last. O may his last words ever be fresh in his father's memory—"Come home, papa." J. F.

DIED, October 16, near Rocky Springs, Claiborne county, Miss., of congestion of the lungs, AUGUSTA EVELINE, daughter of J. W. and Joan Bell, aged seven years, three months and nine days. Gussie has gone home to her Savior. N.

LITTLE WILLIAM LEE, son of R. J. and M. J. Carroll, died October 17, 1876, aged two years nine months and thirteen days. "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven." R. J. CARROLL.

OAKLEY, Franklin Parish, La.

DIED, in Vernon parish, La., October 18, 1876, little MINAH ALICE, daughter of John and S. C. Franklin, aged eight years, two months and three days. She was sick eight days, during which time she suffered much. On the second day of her sickness the family physician was called in, and when he asked her how she felt she replied: "O dear doctor, I am dying. I'll soon be with little Johnny and the angels in heaven." Her physician was very attentive, and no doubt used his skill to its utmost extent, but her friends and connections also paid the best attention, but all this could not save her. The Lord had called her, and she seemed to be sensible of the call. While she lay upon her death-bed, even in the pangs of death, she sang: "How firm a foundation, ye saints of the Lord." She died without a struggle. O blessed hope! one day meeting our lovely MINAH ALICE.

HER PARENTS.

DIED, in Yoseiusko, Miss., October 1, 1876, JOHN LAIRD, infant son of J. T. and M. Laird, aged thirteen months.

Laird was a child whose sprightliness and great disposition attracted every one who knew him. It was but natural that a parent's heart should cleave to him. The deeper wound he died from the fact that within the more than two years as they had buried their first-born, MARY, a sweet child of four months. Now they are childless, bereft, stricken, God knows! And yet how rich in heaven! Their children there will call their coming, and the reunion will be sweeter than the bitterness of parting was keen. May God comfort them with richer faith. Knowing what is Christ him, may they learn that sweet still it is to kiss the rod.

T. N. S. ADAMS.

WARREN BERRY, son of Bro. Berry and Sister Roberson, of Lauderdale county, Miss., died, after a short illness, October 5, 1876, aged three years. The death of sweet little Warren was indeed a severe stroke to his heart-stricken parents. It pierced and rendered the little fellow, and the family. May true the saying that "God loves a cheerful giver." But the bereaved parents are consoled with the fact that they will meet him again, with brother Warren, who preceded him to the better land.

CHARLES BANCROFT.

LILLIAN LEE, daughter of W. W. and M. L. Walden, departed this life September 11, 1876, near Bahala chapel, Lawrence county, Miss., aged one year, six months and twenty-four days.

Little Lillian was a sweet little babe, and had she lived long enough to grace herself closely around the hearts of her now bereaved parents, brothers and sisters. She had only tasted of life when God took her.

B. T. PERSON.

DIED, at Newton, Miss., on Thursday, October 19, 1876, ARCHIE WARNER, infant son of A. J. and Carrie E. Brown, aged eight months and twenty-eight days. Another flower, just beginning to bud, has been transplanted by the Father's hand to the pure clime of heaven, to bloom in endless glory. May God in his goodness sustain the afflicted family. PASTOR.

DIED, of diphtheria, near Hickory Station, Newton county, Miss., October 4, 1876, LAWYER KENDALL, son of W. E. and C. E. Flowers, aged two years, six months and two days.

"Sweet little babe, why so quickly fled,
And laden life so short a while?
He was for earth too pure, 'twas best
The Father only took his own."

ANOTHER sweet little babe has gone on to join the celestial band in heaven. LILLIAN LEE WALDEN departed this life September 11, 1876, aged one year, six months and twenty-four days.

"Shall we meet her at the river
Where the bright angels feet have trod?"

HISCOW T. PERSON.

NEW HOPE, FRANKLIN, MISS., Sept. 25, 1876.

REUBEN R., youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brewer, of Stewart county, Tenn., was born December 25, 1874, and died August 22, 1876. Reuben was a cheerful and interesting child, the comfort and joy of his parents, a cheerful sunbeam in the house. But God has taken the dear one to himself, and removed him from a world of sorrow and sin.

B.

DIED, in Freestone county, Texas, on her way to Hamilton county, sister ELIZABETH DEAN HARVEY, aged twenty-seven years. She was born in Rankin county, Miss. She leaves a husband, three children, father, mother and some brothers to mourn her loss. She was a consistent Christian for many years. We believe she is now in the heavenly world.

JAMES A. BILLINGSLEY.

DIED, near Leesville, Vernon parish, La., September 17, 1876, BILLIE DEAR HARRIS, only son of S. J. and Caroline Franklin, aged one year, ten months and twenty-nine days. He was sensible, and called for his papa, to the last. O may his last words ever be fresh in his father's memory—"Come home, papa." J. F.

DIED, TOMMY LOUIS, son of T. P. Gallifoux and his wife, of Caddo parish, La.

On the twenty-fifth of March, 1870, there was a little boy sent us from God's own hand, and for six and a half years, through winter and summer, seed-time and harvest, our hearts were gladdened by his merry voice and our hearth brightened by his winsome smile. His life was a sweet, happy visitation, and we are forever thankful for the blessed fruits of the little missionary's sojourn in our home circle. On the fifteenth of September, 1876, his work was finished, and God recalled the dear little spirit to himself, drawing upward, by the invisible chords of love, our hearts, which were so closely knit with his. Three other little children,

Subscribe for the Christian Advocate—the pioneer paper.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1876.

THE HOLLY.

BY MARIE LE BARON.

Imperishably green the holly leaves,
And bright as blood the berry-red that weaves
Its brilliance through the boughs' branches dense.
No bird can build within its spiked fence,
Nor sun in peerest rnin its leafy drops
Where the ruddy ivy-tendrils stroll at will.
Beside within the church-yard, where the graves
Rise in their grassy ranks, like broken waves,
And sturdier grows woman in death as had
Palsied beneath its black mockery of shade.
The summers call with song and bird and flower
Its leaves shake off the touch of vernal shower;
The autumn flings her radiance far and wide,
Till earth is garbed in beauty as a bride,
Yet ever stands the holly dark, severe,
Like a grim warder o'er a desolate year.
The winter comes, gone is the leafy screen
That, late, earth's Orient tent of splendor made;
The vines, like serpents fiery-eyed, turn brown,
And blossoms, throw their garlands, withered, down;
Still shines the holly with its cheery berries,
And redder berries flash along its edges,
The snows, new-fallen, deck it slightly here,
To gleam, like emerald, for the festival near.
Now is its victory! To the festival hall,
Its glittering leaves entwreath the pictured wall;
Above the fire-place, where the hickory glows,
Its spoil, framed, forges the threaten mistletoe
From the pearl, where wife and wife meet and greet,
It, rustling, laughs at scorch-yard wind that moaned;
And where it hangs on high o'er mistletoe, hears
The Christmas vows of lovers said.

Strange type of the art that, o'ertly, braves
With strong roots, cankerlike, rooted, inside rise,
Bearing the winter's storm; the summer's sun,
While plotting downfall of man's power and ruin,
Type of grim death, whose shadow hangs always
Above the gayest, and lessen company of mirth's throngs.

Salt.

Through the Old and New Testament we find many references to this great purifying agent. Every sacrifice which was offered to the Lord Jehovah was to be mingled with salt. Thus we read in the second chapter of Leviticus: "And every oblation of thy meat offering shalt thou season with salt; neither shalt thou suffer the salt of the covenant of thy God to be lacking from thy meat offering: with all thine offering thou shalt offer salt." So in Ezekiel we read: "And thou shalt offer them before the Lord, and the priests shall cast salt upon them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt offering unto the Lord." Turning to the pages of the New Testament, we find our Lord and his apostles referring to salt. St. Paul speaks of the strengthening, purifying influence by which the country, even the conversation of Christians should be distinguished under this emblem of salt. "Let your speech be always with grace, seasoned with salt."

Salt signifies three things: first, as representing the principle of life and incorruption which should exist in the soul of every true Christian; and, secondly, to show how each separate Christian should spread abroad and diffuse that principle, and thus become a great source of life and purity to all with whom he has to do. First, he is to be salt. "Every sacrifice shall be seasoned with salt"—that is to say, every person who is really giving up to God must be full of this life-giving principle, this salt of the heart. Secondly, our Lord uttered these words: "Ye are the salt of the earth;" meaning that individual Christians are to be, by their holy lives and by their love to God, and their zeal for Christ, are to be means used to restrain and to break down the wickedness and to keep in check the corruption of this evil world. Thirdly, he speaks thus: "Salt is good: but if the salt have lost its savor, wherewith shall it be salted?"—that is, by neglect or quenching this quickening principle loses its power, freshness and its virtue, how can it again be restored to its former vigor? This useless, worthless, powerless salt is fit neither for the land nor yet for the dunghill, but men cast it out.

And now the question arises: What is really meant by this emblem of salt? What is the state of soul so indispensable to every follower of Christ, and without which he must be rejected as useless, profitless and worthless? I would answer: It is the grace of God in the heart of man, whereby he is made holy and kept holy. What salt is to the body, that religion is to the soul. Salt purifies, renovates, invigorates, and hinders corruption and arrests decay. So the love of God, which is religion, this, too, purifies, renovates, invigorates the soul; this hinders spiritual corruption, this arrests spiritual death. Religion is meant to make people holy as well as happy. Christianity, with all its blessings and privileges, comes to us and offers us not only pardon and peace, but life and purity. The true Christian is he who is most like his Lord. The true Christian is he who day by day grows in grace, in unselfishness, in unworldliness, in courage, in fruitfulness, in devotedness to God. A merely barren faith will be of little avail; a love of listening to what are sometimes called "gospel sermons," a love of listening to heart-stirring declarations of the tender love of Christ for sinners, followed by no corresponding desire to follow Christ and to imitate Christ—this will not save the soul; every sacrifice must be salted with the salt of God's grace, every Christian must be led by God's Holy Spirit; faith must never be divorced from works; the knowledge of gospel truths must ever be accompanied by the "salt" of a holy and a religious life.—Church Bells.

How Far Is it to Canaan?

"How far is it to Canaan?" asks the doubting Christian; "for I am sadly afraid I shall never get there. My sins are a heavy burden to me, and I long to be rid of them, if indeed there is hope for such a one as I."

Go on, poor doubting Christian; take fresh courage, and quicken thy step. Canaan is not so far off but thou shalt reach it at last; and if thou couldst know how willing the Savior of sinners is to receive thee, it would shed a sunbeam on thy dejected countenance. I have a word of comfort for thee:

"I, even I, am he that blotteth out thy transgression for mine own sake; and will not remember thy sins."—Isaiah xliii, 25.

"How far is it to Canaan?" inquires the afflicted Christian; "for I have lain a long time upon the bed of suffering. 'Weariesome nights are appointed to me.' I am full of tossing to and fro until the dawning day. "O that I had wings like a dove; for then would I fly away and be at rest."

Be of good cheer, afflicted Christian. The heavier the cross the more pleasant will be the crown. If we suffer with Christ, we shall be glorified with Christ. I have a word to refresh thy fainting soul:

"The sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us."—Romans viii, 18.

"How far is it to Canaan?" sighs the bereaved Christian; "for I am a lonely and desolate pilgrim. All that were dear to me upon earth are taken away. My tears have been my meat day and night, and my soul yearns for the land where there shall be no more death, neither sorrow nor crying."

Pass on, bereaved Christian; the more lonely thy pilgrimage the more pleasant will be the company of the "shining ones" that awaits thee, and the sweeter thy reception at the end of thy journey. The Lord whom thou seekest hath a special care and pity for his desolate ones. Take the words with thee, and may they refresh thy spirit: For even though they be desolate, "the redeemed of the Lord shall return, and come with singing into Zion; and everlasting joy shall be upon their head: they shall obtain gladness and joy, and sorrow and mourning shall flee away."—Isaiah li, 11.

"How far is it to Canaan?" asks the dying Christian; "for the swellings of Jordan are risen about my soul. Fearfulness and trembling are come upon me, and the terrors of death are fallen upon me. Alas, I shall sleep where I shall not see the land that flows with milk and honey."

Look up, dear dying Christian; for yonder is the bright and morning star. The night is far spent, and the day is at hand.

"When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest through the fire thou shalt not be burned, neither shall the flame kindle upon thee. Fear not, for I am with thee."—Isaiah xliii, 2, 5.

"Who is this that cometh up from the wilderness, leaning upon her beloved?"—Song of Solomon viii, 5.

"Sister, thou art fast hastening to the land of Immanuel, where the inhabitant shall no more say, I am sick; the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity."—Isaiah xxxiii, 24.

"Mr. B., sir, from Boston." The head was raised. "A letter," says B., "from Dr. Cooper." I could go no further. The scene was too ludicrous. As B. held out the letter I struck the figure smartly, exclaiming: "Why don't you receive the letter like a gentleman?" They were all petrified with astonishment; but B. never forgave me the joke."

WHEN MEN ARE AT THEIR BEST.

Dr. Beard states that from an analysis of the lives of a thousand representative men in all the great branches of the human family, he made the discovery that the golden decade was between forty and fifty; the two next between twenty and thirty, the one between fifty and sixty. The superiority of youth and middle life over old age in original work appears all the greater when we consider the fact that all the positions of honor and prestige—professorships and public stations—are in the hands of the old. Reputation, like money and position, is mainly confined to the old. Men are not widely known until long after they have done the work that gave them their fame. Portraits of great men are delusions; statues are false. They are taken when men have become famous, which, on the average, is at least twenty-five years after they did the work which gave them fame. Original work requires enthusiasm. If all the original work done by men under forty-five was annihilated, they would be reduced to barbarism. Men are at their best at that time when enthusiasm and experience are almost evenly balanced. This period, on the average, is from thirty-eight to forty. After this the law is that experience increases, but enthusiasm decreases. Of course there are exceptions.

It's Mighty Improvin'.

The Irish peasantry have tales of a parabolic character—stories which, by means of striking action or circumstance, set forth a hearty moral. On hearing such their usual phrase is: "Oh, it is mighty improvin'." And that, too, is what Molly Malone, a worthy washerwoman, used to say—and say almost invariably—after hearing a sermon on Sunday. One day, however, her clergyman, who was not quite content with this generality, spoke to her respecting his discourse, and Molly suddenly became what they call in Ireland a little bothered. Nevertheless, she got out of her difficulty with one of those parabolic answers which are such favorites with her class, and which, while it completely evaded the question, satisfactorily replied to it.

"Well, Molly, you liked the sermon, you say."

"Oh, yes, your riverence, it was mighty improvin'."

"And what part of it did you like best?"

"Well, sure, sir, I liked every part."

"But I suppose there were some portions of it that you were more struck with than you were with others."

"In troth, plaze your riverence, I don't remember any part exactly, but altogether 'twas mighty improvin'."

"Now, Molly, how could it be improving if you don't remember any part of it?"

"Well, your riverence sees that linen I've been washing and dhrying on the hedge there?"

"Oh, certainly."

"Wasn't it the soap and wather made the linen clane, sir?"

"Of course they did. Or, no doubt of that, Molly."

"But no a dhrop of the soap and wather stay in it. Well, sir, it's the same thing wid me. Not a word o' the sarmint stays in me—I suppose it all dhries out o' me—but I'm the better and cleaner for it when it's over, for all that."

THE WORK OF INSECTS.—The following calculations show the immense value of tiny, insignificant-looking worms:

Great Britain pays annually $1,000,000 for dried bodies of the insect known as the cochineal; while another peculiar to India—gum chellad, or earlier its production—is scarcely less valuable. More than 1,500,000 human beings derive their sole support from the culture and manufacture of the fibers spun by the silk worm, of which the annual circulating medium is about $200,000,000 in England alone, to say nothing of the other parts of Europe. $50,000 are spent every year in the purchase of foreign honey, while the value of that which is native is not mentioned; and this does not include the large pounds of wax imported annually. Besides, there are the nut-galls, used in making ink; the cantharides or Spanish fly, used in medicine. In fact, nearly every insect known contributes, in some way, to swell commercial profits. Even the dreaded Colorado potato bug may become useful, as may be seen from the following note which we clip from an exchange: "In order to travel from a hospital manufacturing firm of Indianapolis for one thousand gallons of potato bugs may be classed as one of the curiosities of commerce. It has been discovered that these insects possess qualities which make a good substitute for the Spanish fly, and there is a prospect that, from being regarded as an unmitigated pest, they may become a source of actual profit."

A SLIGHT COMMOTION.—When Bainbridge sat to Jarvis the old weather-beaten seaman invariably fell asleep. This annoyed Jarvis, and for the first time in his life he found that his wit and humor were of no avail in forcing his sitter to a proper wakefulness. Whereupon, when Jarvis reached that point in the execution of his painting that the expression was to be caught, he commenced a tirade against the navy, questioned the heroism of its officers and men, and kept up his batter until the old commodore started from his chair, and approaching Jarvis, shook his fist in his face, and thundered out he would not "allow a face-maker to speak against his profession." Another instant and a personal assault might have ensued, when Jarvis sprung aside, burst into a hearty laugh, and told the commodore he had to wake him up somehow, or else the picture would have no more expression than a gunner's swab. His head of Bainbridge is one of the best pictures Jarvis ever painted.

An English correspondent relates the following good story of an English coachman who had evidently never puzzled his head with chronology, or any other kind of ology. A friend of mine was riding on the outside of a North Devon coach, from Barnstable to Ilfracombe, when the driver said to him: "I've had a coin gev' me to-day two hundred years old. Did you ever see a coin two hundred years old?" "O, yes! I have one myself two thousand years old." "Ah," said the driver, "have ye?" and spoke no more during the rest of the journey. When the coach arrived at its destination, the driver came up to my friend with an intensely self-satisfied air and said: "I told you, as we drav' along, I had a coin two hundred years old." "Yes." "And you said to me as you had one two thousand years old." "Yes, so I have." "Now it's a lie." "What do you mean by that?" "What do I mean? Why, it's only 1807 now."

THE WEAKER VESSEL.—A sailor was recently brought before a magistrate for beating his wife, when the magistrate attempted to reach his heart by asking him if he didn't know his wife was the "weaker vessel." "If she is, she ought not to carry so much sail," replied Jack.

Nature often cures consumption, man seldom.—Dr. W. B. Hall.

Religious Intelligence.

—The new Baptist church of Chicago, recently dedicated, has several reporter's seats and desks placed on either side of the platform.

—Of the two hundred and ninety-five Congregational churches in Connecticut, one hundred and eighty-two are over a hundred years old. A great many have exceedingly venerable buildings.

—The British Wesleyan Time Book is in press. Two editions of words and music in the old notation and one edition in the Tonic Sol-fa notation will be published. In each edition the volume will be a complete hymn book, with a tune to every hymn.

—The Free Church of Italy has held a General Assembly at Turin. Thirty churches were represented. Resolutions were passed in favor of the observance of the Sabbath, increased attention to Sunday school work, and expressing hope for a revival throughout Italy.

—A London exchange says: "Westminster (Methodist) Training College, England, has obtained from among its present candidates for admission fifty-three first-class Queen's scholars, being a larger number than that of any other training college for males in the kingdom."

—Free Town, the colony of freedmen on the Island of Mombasa, East Africa, is continually receiving new recruits. Nearly four hundred liberated slaves are now settled there, and are under the superintendence of Commander Russel, formerly of the British navy. Mr. Price, who founded the settlement, returns to England, after two years' labor, with health seriously impaired.

—They have Sunday night prayer meetings out there in Japan, it seems, some of them on a grand scale. A late letter says: "About two thousand people assembled last Sabbath evening, with torches, bells, conch-shells and drum, and marched round the reservoirs, where the water is kept which feeds the rice fields, calling on the god of rain or dragon supposed to inhabit the reservoir to send rain, that rice may be cheap."

COLORED BAPTISTS.—There are more than 1,000 colored members of Baptist churches in the United States, of whom about 100 are in Virginia. Seven institutions to educate colored Baptist ministers have been established. All of them are sustained chiefly by the American Baptist Home Mission Society. It is expected that the new corresponding secretary, Rev. S. S. Cutting, D. D., will vigorously maintain and enlarge these institutions.

The Spanish authorities do not seem inclined to give the religious toleration clause of the constitution a liberal interpretation. This clause permits Protestants to have worship, but forbids offensive demonstrations. From the action of the mayor of San Fernando it appears that an open chapel door falls within the rule applying to "offensive demonstrations." He has ordered the pastor to keep it closed. The government supports the prefect of Valladolid in forbidding the sale of Protestant Bibles in the streets of that town. It is reported that the German and British governments are remonstrating with that of Spain concerning these persecutions of Protestants. A dispatch from Barcelona notices the growing desire of the Spanish clergy to obtain the suppression of all Protestant schools. They argue that the people, inasmuch as they are of full age, have no right to be instructed in any religion save the Catholic.

—In Travancore the Church Missionary Society has had very large accessions. On a recent visit the Bishop of Madras confirmed 400 persons in the Cottayam district, and was unable to reach one village, where 211 candidates were awaiting him. At one place an interesting incident occurred in connection with the laying of the corner-stone of a new church. Four wrought stones were laid on the living rock, each by two men. The first two had been Syrians, the next Shanars, the third Parahs, and the fourth Pularies. Thus these men of diverse and hostile castes illustrated the unity of their faith and baptism. The returning Metropolitan, Mar Athanasius, sent several of his priests to represent him at the missionary service. Mr. Baker, who is the superintendent of the Cottayam mission, states that there are not only large accessions of professing Christians every year, but that a greater moral feeling, a closer regard for the Scriptures, and earnestness in educational efforts are becoming more and more apparent among the people.

A correspondent of the Liverpool Post says that until recently there were no Protestant places of worship in Austria; but now, with the sanction of the State, such churches are appearing at Innspruck and elsewhere. The Roman Catholic priests, who have lost much of their influence over the young men, begin to fear that Protestantism will make headway among the people. They got up a demonstration recently at Bulzen (Austrian Tyrol), which was intended to be a very imposing affair. The peasants from southern Austria and north Italy poured into the little town, headed by their priests. On the evening before the fete the mountains were illuminated with bonfires. Sacred hearts and crosses blazed on the slopes, and rockets rose on high. The next day there were processions and bands, and old colors of the war of 1809, and priests in canonicals and monks in cowls, and prayers chanted by all classes as the procession moved on. Still it was told it was a failure. The great test was the dinner. The landlord of our hotel was told he might expect about five hundred invited guests of note; but when I went into the theater where the banquet was to be held there were not over one hundred and twenty present. I was told that the same bands and groups of peasants marched and countermarched, to give the appearance of great numbers."

Our Young People.

WHY DID JESUS DIE?

Oh, why did Jesus leave his home
Above the bright blue sky,
And all the joy and triumphs there,
To come to earth to die?

'Twas love, pure love, which brought him from Above the bright blue sky;
Twas love, forever love, which made him realize
The suffering, blood and die.

And now he's gone, and lives again
Above the bright blue sky;
And all who taste his saving grace
Shall live with him on high.

Oh, blessed home of endless rest!
Sweet land of peace and joy!
How loud will be the song of praise
Above the bright blue sky!

From Our Little Friends.

WASHINGTON, PENNSYLVANIA.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: I want to write to you and tell you of the nice Sunday school we had this year. Mumma and my sister and brothers used to go with me to it. We loved to go, and our preacher, Mr. Davis, came and addressed us. We had a nice little picnic too. Just as soon as the spring-time comes we are going to have another Sunday school. I do wish I could go every Sunday. How happy the little girls must be then, I can't.

We had such a good quarterly meeting this year, and I heard Mr. Godfrey preach. Everybody was delighted with his sermon.

To-morrow the ADVOCATE will come, and then we will know who our preacher is for next year. I do hope Mr. Davis will be sent here again. He is such a good Christian, and we had so many good preachers to come and preach for us this year. Hoping that you will have a great many new subscribers for the ADVOCATE, I am your little friend, ROSA JANE MAY (11 years).

MR. EDITOR: The many interesting letters I read from the Sabbath-school girls and boys encourage me to take a part with them. I, too, am a Sabbath-school scholar, entered at three years of age, and have not been out in nine years. I love the Sabbath, school, and am sorry to learn that a great many children are deprived of its benefits. We have a large and interesting school at this place, of which my papa has been superintendent twenty-five years.

The answer to Amanda A. Howell's question is found in Proverbs xxv, 11. The answer for A. C. Mills is the apostles and brethren in Judea.—Acts xi, 1.

Ask the girls and boys: Who in the New Testament are required first to show piety at home, and where found?

LIZZIE CROSSLEY.

OKOLONA, MISS.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: The first I see the dear old ADVOCATE the more I like it. I particularly love the Child's Corner; therefore, if I am capable, I wish to help to make it entertaining to others. For this purpose I send you this letter, which I hope you will do me the honor to publish, if in your judgment it is worthy of publication. I am very sorry that we still have no Sunday school here, and I am not going to a Sunday school at present. I study my school books through the week at home, and read the Bible on Sunday. I wish to ask my little friends a Bible question: Who buried the body of Jesus, and how long did it lie in the grave? I sometimes give out the hymn for my father at family prayer. I am trying to grow better every day. Pray for me.

YOUR friend,

LOUINDA JANE LONG.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: I am a reader of the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, and am deeply interested in reading the nice little letters which I see in the young folks' column, so much so that I thought I would try and write one too. The ADVOCATE is truly a welcome messenger here. My father has been taking it as long as I can remember, and is well pleased with it. I wish to ask the little folks: What chapter in the Bible has every verse to end with the word "ever?" I will close. Your little friend of ALLIGATOR, MISS.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: In your paper of September 21 Bettie Lewis asks the question: Who built the "ivory house?" She will find, by referring to First Kings xxii, 39, that Ahab did it. Now I will ask: Who took down the brazen serpent? We have a flourishing Sabbath school here, numbering over two hundred scholars. Judge Rogers, our superintendent, is a most excellent one. We take the ADVOCATE, and I love it very much. Fearing I will tire your patience, I will close.

Your little friend,

CHARLIE BASS.

BLACK HAWK, MISS., Nov. 19, 1876.

MR. EDITOR: May Millsaps, the little girl who asked the question about Methusalah, is my cousin, though we have never seen each other. Methusalah was the oldest man, and his father, Enoch, did not die—he was translated. Please tell Annie Roberts that the answer to hers is: The sin of Moses was this: He was angry with the people for murmuring so much, and when the Lord told him to take the rod and speak to the rock, he took the rod and struck the rock twice, and acted as if he had the power to bring the water, and therefore "fell short to sanctify the Lord before the people." The account of this is found in the twentieth chapter of Numbers.

Yours respectfully,

LETTY JONES.

Three Helps.

"Mother, I shouldn't think God would punish children for doing what they can't help it," said little Annie, who sat looking out of the window a long time thinking.

"Do what, dear?" said his mother, turning.

"Don't they use their helps to do right?" asked his mother.

"What helps?" said Jamie.

"He has given them a guide book in the first place. It clearly tells the right way and the wrong way, and what they need to do to become and to stay in bed. Everybody consults that book they can't mistake about the way," said his mother.

"Is it the Bible you mean?" asked Jamie.

"Yes," she answered; "and lest we should get in the dark, or puzzled about the meaning of our guide book, God has given another help. That is, the Holy Spirit—which he says will open the eyes of the blind, and will guide you in the right path, and put way, and that is how you to get into heaven. Oh, but, guide your truth, that you need make no mistake, and have no excuse for doing wrong."

"But I should think, Jamie, when you get the Holy Spirit, I can get my Bible, that's sure. It is in my very hand."

"God will give you the Holy Spirit if you ask him for it," said his mother. "He says: 'Ask, and you shall receive.' The Bible also says the Holy Spirit is to be your infirmities."

"I don't know what that means," said Jamie, quickly.

"When we are a person weakly, sickly, and not able to do what he wants to, we say he is infirm," he needs help. God sees how we stumble and get sick and miss the right way, how weak we are, he gives us the Holy Spirit to make us strong."

"That is wonderful!" said Jamie, "how God knows everything."

"Besides this," said his mother, "he has put a little voice inside of you which, when you are inclined to do wrong, says: 'No, no, no!' and when you do right says, 'Yes, yes, my dear child,' very sweetly sometimes."

"A voice?" said Jamie; "that small, small voice my teacher tells about, and says it is conscience?"

"Don't you think, Jamie," asked his mother seriously, "that God has done his part to the little boys and girls too, to do right, to try to know the right, to do the right also?"

"Mother," answered Jamie, after a few moments thinking, "I think God has done his part well, I am sure. Then why don't they?"

"Because they don't mind God's helps," said his mother. "If they would study their guide books, ask the Holy Spirit to enlighten and help them, and hearken to that kind little voice inside, I am sure no child would go astray."

Tears came into the little boy's eyes, and drop after drop ran down his flushed cheeks. "Mother," said he, "we've got no excuse for being wicked. God is good, very good."—Christian Work.

A HEROIC BOY.—Some years ago a steamer took fire on the St. Lawrence river, and became a complete wreck. Very many, in their attempts to escape death by fire, met with a watery grave. A boy named Narcisse Lamontayne, aged thirteen years, saved eight children from the wreck. He accomplished his noble deed by seizing the door of a state-room, placing the children upon it, and pushing it before him while he swam. By several such trips he succeeded in landing on a dry rock, on an island near the beach, eight of the children that were on board the ill-fated vessel.

Now this, boys, is true courage. Many a boy who can double his fist, and make a great threatening noise before his playmates, would have been too great a coward even to have attempted what the noble Narcisse Lamontayne so bravely accomplished.—Sunday-School Visitor.

A BOY'S FAITH.—Two little boys were talking together about a lesson they had been receiving from their grandmother, on the subject of Elijah's going to heaven in the chariot of fire. "I say, Charlie," said George, "don't you be afraid to ride on such a chariot?"

"Why, no," said Charlie, "I shouldn't be afraid if I knew that the Lord was driving."

And that was just the way David felt when he said: "What time I am afraid, I will trust in thee." He knew that neither chariots of fire nor anything else could hurt him if God was present as his protector and friend.—Sunday-School World.

One may live as a conqueror or a king or a magistrate, but he must die a man. The bed of death brings every human being to his pure individuality, to the intense contemplation of that deepest and most solemn of all relations—the relation between the creature and his Creator.

What can be more foolish than to think that all this rare fabric of heaven and earth could come by chance, when all the skill of art is not able to make an oyster!—Jeremy Taylor.

The Christian Advocate.

Organ of the Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences of the M. E. Church South.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1876.

REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D., Editor.

ROBT. J. HARP, PUBLISHER.

OFFICE—112 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS

Address, on all matters of business, Rev. R. J. HARP, 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

Address all communications designed for publication to Rev. LINUS PARKER 112 Camp street New Orleans.

AGENTS—All the members of the Patronizing Conferences.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.
REV. EDWARD WADSWORTH, D. D.
REV. A. J. BRIGGS.
REV. J. W. BUSH.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. H. WATKINS, D. D.
REV. JAMES A. GODBEY
REV. J. G. JONES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. CHRISTIAN KEENER
REV. JOHN MATHEWS.
REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D.

CHANGE OF RATES.

The New Orleans Christian Advocate will be furnished to subscribers hereafter at the following rates, including postage:

One Year	$2 00
Six Months	1 15
Three Months	75

To all Ministers of the Gospel and widows of deceased traveling preachers half the above rates.

FREE ONE YEAR

to any person forwarding to us four new yearly subscribers, with EIGHT DOLLARS.

Holliday Thoughts.

The compliments of the season to everybody connected with the ADVOCATE office—to the printers, clerk, pressman. After these, to all readers and subscribers who pay for their paper cheerfully and punctually; and, after these, a happy New Year to all the world!

The holiday spirit is too strong in human nature to be overcome by circumstances. Man, the fact, is a holiday animal. All nations, civilized and barbarous, Christian and pagan, have their days of festivity. Human nature seems to demand them. It is not altogether for rest, because the idle and luxurious take to them with avidity; nor is it a religious sentiment, since the wicked and profane are foremost in the observance. The young people are most enthusiastic and jubilant, but the old folks also feel the spell, and the sluggish current of life is quickened in their veins. Besides the natural tendency to holidayism in human nature, the Christmas and New Year's spirit has been strengthened and confirmed in us by uges of custom and habit. It is hereditary, and it is in us, just as many other things are, through ancestral influences. It is born in us, it is in the marrow and bone, in the very heart of the people.

This deep normal sense of New Year has its uses for good. It is well to count the years, not only that we may know how old the world is, but that we may know how old we are ourselves. Besides our birthdays, as individuals, we have one birthday for all—a day that has its reminders and lessons for all living men. It is an observatory to which we all climb once in a twelve-month to look about us and above us, and from which we endeavor to scan the past and the future. These days are as high places or water-sheds in the pilgrimage of life, from which the streams of memory flow in one direction and the streams of hope in the other. They are as milestones in the journey—in beating how far from the starting-point, how near the end. The year is like a ship freighted with its more than a thousand millions of passengers. Since she weighed anchor last January she has been out in many a gale, and plowed through wide and troubled seas; her course has been through sunshine and storm, through belts of calm and zones of pestilence; and millions who embarked in health and flushed with expectation have been shrouded and buried in the deep. The port is reached, but it is to sail again and again, until all this cargo of life is swallowed up and exchanged for other throngs, to follow and to be followed by the same round of mortal doom. The good ship 1876 is at her pier, the trip is made, and the good ship 1877 is now under way, her sails bent to the breeze, and already in the offing. We are all aboard, the headlands are sinking behind us, and our eyes and hearts are turning from the shores of the past toward the boundless hereafter.

Except men are Christians, we know not why they should rejoice. Another year has come, but is not another gone? Are they not older, and but little wiser or better? One more year of sin is laid to their account, and the time of recompense is nearer. It is something, however, to be alive. "Why should a living man complain?" Surely "a living dog is better than a dead lion." There is time for repentance, opportunity for prayer. The blow, in mercy, was suspended last year, and the sinner may yet agree with his adversary before the wrath, which has gone forth, shall cut him down. Doubtless the Christian would have been happier in heaven, but he lives not for himself. For his Master's work, for the good of the world, for his household, he has been spared. Let him rejoice herein, and do with his might what his hand findeth to do. If a slothful servant hitherto, let him begin to work in earnest, for the time is short. Your dying hour is somewhere in the coming years. Be watchful. Be ready.

What part have sorrowing and troubled people in these days of gladness? Some of them may rejoice that one more year of their wretchedness is gone. They part with the dead year without regret and almost wish that they had died with it. And the new year opens with darker clouds, and with forebodings sadder than the old. We must fall back upon our faith in God—the true reserve and stronghold to which infinite goodness always seeks to drive us. "These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb." We salute you, afflicted children of our Father, and congratulate you on the blessedness of your lot. The glory til you shall be revealed, and the far more exceeding and eternal weight of it is being wrought for you. To none can we so confidently predict a happy New Year as to those who have learned in the school of affliction, and know whom they have believed. Their blessedness is surer than that of any other. We know that all things work together for their good. We would not put a check upon the rejoicing of any; but if all others should be dumb and cheerless, let the afflicted saints rejoice in the Lord. All things are yours—life, death, things present and things to come, all are yours.

Are there holidays in heaven? Are there periods marked by the time-table of eternity, epochs that flash with greater brightness in that always sun-bright clime? By our own calendars we measure how long our sainted friends have been there. The first Sabbath in heaven; the first Christmas; the first New Year in glory! Thus we think of them, and wonder if these days are noted by them. So many seasons, so many years in paradise. Thank God they are beyond all this. Theirs is a life "unmeasured by the flight of years." They need no restful pause from heavenly employments; they require no monitors to tell the passing hours; and, where all is perfect bliss, there is no occasion to snatch a fitful pleasure from a world of delight. With them it is Christmas evermore—a Christmas without a tear. And heaven is a happy New Year indeed—a year which has no end, and no alloy of sin or sorrow; a year that never waxes old—always new; hoary as eternity, fresh as the bloom of childhood; ancient as the throne of sapphire; and young as the dew that sparkles on the healing trees, and drops into the river of life.

Louisiana Conference.

Trenton is on the right bank of the Ouachita, and about two miles above Monroe. Our way thither from Greensboro, Ala., was by rail. Leaving Greensboro at four o'clock on Monday, we reached Selma at late breakfast-time. Taking the train west at five P. M., we passed through Meridian about midnight, breakfast at Jackson, are in Vicksburg at eleven A. M., and crossing the Mississippi by ferry, we are at Delta, and shortly on the rail again for Monroe. At six P. M. we reach Monroe, and are hospitably entertained for the night by Rev. J. Lane Borden at the Ouachita College. The next morning Bro. Trippett takes us in his buggy to the seat of the Conference and in good time for the opening. We have had good hours all through this round of Conferences, but none was better than our home at Trenton. Col. P. C. Standifer had the Bishop and five brethren besides for his guests. The table was generous, wood abundant, and the society of the household refined and agreeable. The entertainment of the Conference was universally satisfactory. The hospitality of Trenton cannot well be surpassed. Preachers and laymen all spoke in the highest terms of the manner in which they had been entertained. The pastor, Rev. H. O. White, seconded by his liberal people, had made thoughtful preparations for everybody, and for all the wants and conveniences of the Conference.

The Conference was held in the Methodist church, and was opened by Bishop Wightman at nine o'clock on Wednesday, December 13. The attendance of preachers was large, and the Bishop, remarking upon their appearance, observed that they looked remarkably well, and well dressed, for a ruined people. None had died during the year. The attendance of laymen was small—fewer being present than for years past. The business was not hurried, but it was conducted with dispatch, and everything was done and ready for adjournment by twelve M. on Saturday. The missionary anniversary was held on Friday night. The secretary, Rev. J. T. Daves, read an impressive and eloquent report, Dr. Walker delivered one of his best speeches, and the president, Rev. John Mathews, brought up the collection. Something over $230 was realized—the greater part given by the preachers. At the same hour a meeting was held in Monroe and a collection taken.

We could not get at the figures of any of the statistics before adjournment. All the collections, however, are considerably behind, and the support of the preachers will not exceed fifty per cent. on their meager allowance. In a few instances they have been paid, but the deficit with the most is sadly great. Rev. C. G. Andrews, D. D., president of Centenary College, was among the visitors, and most heartily welcome. His ministrations in the pulpit, and his address to the Conference, made a marked impression, and were gratefully appreciated by all. President Armstrong, of Mansfield Female College, was present during the session, and made a very handsome and telling speech in behalf of that institution, and the cause of female education. He represented the college to be on rising ground and with improving prospects. Bro. J. L. Borden has opened a female school in Monroe—the Ouachita College; has at this time seventy-five pupils, with the assurance of over one hundred on the first of January. This institution is at an important point, has spacious buildings and grounds, and a full and accomplished faculty. Only opened in October last, the success of Bro. Borden has been most gratifying.

There was night preaching during the session in the Methodist and Baptist churches in Trenton, and in the Methodist church in Monroe. On Sunday the Presbyterian church in Monroe, and the Baptist church in Trenton, were opened to the Conference. Bishop Wightman preached like a lion at eleven A. M., and ordained the deacons. Dr. Walker preached at three P. M., after which the elders were ordained. At night there was to have been a sacramental service before the reading of the appointments; but the crowd was so great as to render this impracticable, and in its stead Rev. A. E. Goodwyn gave us a pertinent and brief exposition, and the Bishop followed with a rousing talk, and then came the appointments, and then the hurried farewells.

This was Bishop Wightman's first appearance at the Louisiana Conference as its presiding officer. The love and prayers of the brethren will follow him. All were delighted and edified by his ministrations. The ADVOCATE was most favorably reported on by the committee on church literature, and the Conference promised to increase its circulation. Bro. Ivy represented the Southwestern Bible Society, and we judge that the preachers will take more interest in sustaining it than for some years past.

On Monday morning before daylight Sister Standifer was ready with a sumptuous breakfast, the colonel had considerately arranged for our ride to Monroe, and by eight A. M. we were again on the train for Vicksburg. Crossing the ferry at three P. M., Drs. Marshall and Watkins greet the throng of preachers, and take those who wait for the steamer to their homes, while those of us who go on by rail are furnished with such a luncheon as a set of hungry men know how to appreciate and enjoy. We part with our good Bishop in the latter dark at Jackson, Miss., and Dr. Walker, Bro. Mathews and the editor take the down train at three o'clock in the morning, and are in the Crescent City at twelve M. on Tuesday, December 19. One more Conference year is over. Another is begun. The next Conference is to meet at Opelousas, the place of its first session, more than thirty years ago. We append the following from the minute business of the session:

Admitted on trial—Shepard Halsey Wolein, T. Kimbrek Faupl Le Roy, J. B. Cassity, Thomas J. Hough and J. L. P. Shepard.

Remaining on trial—D. A. Boddie and Abel Hollander.

Discontinued at his own request—D. M. Ward.

Admitted into full connection—John F. Patterson and George T. Freeman.

Readmitted—W. D. Stayton.

Trustees—J. A. Parker, from Little Rock Conference; Philip H. Moss, from Alabama Conference; James E. Bradley, from Columbia Conference; A. A. Cornett, from Northwest Texas Conference.

Deacons of one year—W. R. Whatley, T. S. Randle, J. W. Henrn and A. M. Walles.

Elected deacons—John F. Patterson and George T. Freeman.

Ordained deacons—John F. Patterson, G. T. Freeman, J. B. Cassity, L. L. P. Shepard and J. M. Marson.

Traveling preachers elected and ordained elders—A. E. Clay, John T. Sawyer, J. Sheldon White, J. J. Billingsley, William Hart, J. D. Harper and E. B. Faust.

Who are superannuated—W. P. Kimball, J. M. Franklin, George Jackson and Patrick Lane.

Who are superannuated—Jesse Fulton, H. C. Thweatt, J. S. Davis, W. E. Doty, E. W. Yancey, P. M. Goodwyn, Joel Saunders, Philip H. Diffenwierth and J. C. Reid.

Probabilities.

The political situation, like the weather, varies from day to day, and from week to week. The investigating committees are at work, and their reports may affect public opinion so far as to influence the course of the Republican leaders and the President. They will insist upon counting in and inaugurating Hayes if they are assured of a sufficient popular support. At this time the conviction of the more hopeful is that the election for President will go into the House of Representatives, and that Tilden will be elected and inaugurated. There are those, however, who still believe that Tilden and Hendricks will be declared duly elected by Congress, and that the Republican party and the country will peacefully accept the result. There is now but little apprehension of a civil war. The indications of a peaceful adjustment have become stronger of late, and we have reason to hope that the crisis will be passed this time without violence or bloodshed. The Supreme Court of Florida has ordered the vote of that State to be recanvassed, and has decided that the Board of Canvassers can only exercise ministerial powers. This may change the result in Florida, and help to a peaceful and generally satisfactory solution. The Louisiana Returning Board will ever be regarded here, and probably throughout the whole country, with as much abhorrence as was the Bastile by the French people. The bad eminence and notoriety of this infamous partisan device to defraud the people of their rights has not been exceeded by anything of villainy or oppression in the history of republics. We cannot believe that the American people are so utterly degraded as to submit their destiny and welfare to the will of four irresponsible and unprincipled men. A way of escape, we trust, will be found. In the meantime let our people attend to their affairs, be calm, and guard against social disorder. The fall and winter business has been greatly depressed, real estate is almost without marketable value, but the crops have been good, the staples are moving at a fair price, and we judge that the worst is reached. Let us be of good cheer and pray for the common weal.

Death of Rev. J. H. Linn, D. D.

Dr. Redford, writing to the Nashville Christian Advocate, says:

On Tuesday evening, December 5, I was in Louisville, and called to see my friend and brother, Dr. Linn, having learned that he was very ill. For several days his mind had wandered, but during the day Sister Linn informed me that he had some lucid intervals. He was asleep when I entered his room, and did not awake during my stay. I was anxious to converse with him, for I felt that he would soon be called from the sorrows of this life to the raptures of the heavenly state. I left Louisville a few hours later and returned home. On the eighth I received a letter from the Rev. H. C. Morrison, pastor of Broadway church, in which he said: "Dr. Linn is thought to be dying." A few minutes later a telegram from the Hon. James S. Lithgow informed me of his death, which occurred on the eighth inst., at ten o'clock A. M.

I feel sad, too sad to write, but cannot refuse this humble tribute to one whom I loved so well, and with whom I had been so long and so intimately associated. I shall know him from the time he entered the Kentucky Conference in 1838 and had been intimately associated with him since 1850, when I was appointed to the Louisville district. I was then a young man, and almost every preacher in the district was my senior. In the city of Louisville, Parsons, Stevenson, Holman, Schon, Hall, Linn and Young were prominent. With the exception of Bro. Young, whom I met in Texas a few weeks since, they have all passed away, and to-day rejoice before the throne. The courtesy shown me by these older brethren is fresh in my memory yet.

Death of the Rev. John Harrell.

A telegram to Bishop McTyeire, from one of the teachers at Asbury Manual Labor School, Creek Nation, brings intelligence, says the Nashville Christian Advocate of the death of the superintendent of our Indian missions. The Rev. John Harrell died December 8. In addition to his labors at the school he preached once a month at Vinita, and at this place his death occurred—of what form of sickness we do not yet know. His excellent wife had preceded him but a few weeks to the spirit-land. So heavy was that bereavement on his spirit that but little ailment of body was needed to complete the dissolution.

At the late session of the Indian Mission Conference his brethren, by resolution, requested Bro. Harrell to prepare and deliver at the next session a semi-centennial address, giving the leading facts in his own ministry, and that of the Conference, of which he was in hardly a figurative sense the father. "Father Harrell" is the name by which he has for some time been called. Of fine mental capacity, of pure and elevated character, of deep spirituality, and consecrated to giving the gospel to the Indians, John Harrell lacked only the educational advantages of Eliot or Worcester to equal them in the largeness and permanency and fame of his life-work.

Help for the Publishing House.

The pressure that has come upon our Publishing House is waking up its liberal friends and bringing them to the rescue. We hope to hear of many such responses as the following, which we clip from the Nashville Christian Advocate:

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS.

We are authorized by a lady to say that she will be one of five hundred persons who will give one hundred dollars each to aid the Publishing House. She is the wife of a Methodist itinerant preacher.

THE ORMAN PROPOSITION.

The Rev. James A. Orman, of the Tennessee Conference, proposes to be one of one hundred persons who will give five hundred dollars each toward relieving the Southern Methodist Publishing House of its indebtedness. Who will respond to this liberal offer?

We have just received the following responses:

Put "Arlington" down for $500 on the Orman proposition.

Yours truly, D. WEAVER.

Robert A. Young, D. D., adds his name to the list—$500.

Statistics of the Alabama Conference.

We are indebted to Rev. L. S. Holcombe, one of the assistant secretaries, for the following items:

Local preachers, 201; white members, 28,381; colored members, 18; infants baptized, 1,156; adults baptized, 1,923; number of Sunday schools, 322; number of Sunday school teachers, 1,829; amount for Conference collection, $1,255.07; amount for missions, $5,651.72.

Who are admitted on trial?—Edward E. Cowin, Dugald H. Carmichael, John Wesley, Charles B. Pilley, J. W. Menefee.

Who remain on trial?—Robert J. Walker, Gilbert M. Roper, James B. Anderson, Joseph C. Johnson, Bascom C. Glenn, Walter P. Dickinson, Orion S. Perry, Howell M. Moss, John R. Peavey, William H. Hasty.

Who are discontinued?—Miles M. Dawson, John W. Clark.

Who are admitted into full connection?—John O. Keener, Richard S. Holcombe, Christopher H. Kelly, James M. Crows, Ritchie J. Briggs, Francis M. Peterson, John P. Sanders, James L. Rencher, Andrew J. Latoar, William D. Owens.

What traveling preachers are elected elders?—Philip H. Lightfoot, Charles B. Williamson, Emmet W. Solomon, Philip H. Moss, James L. Mathison, John M. Brown, John S. Frazer.

Our Sunday school publications for January appear in a new dress, very bright and comely, and in excellent taste, and such as befits the character of the contents which the editorial and industrious editor and his contributors provide. Let all our families and Sunday schools order the Magazine, Visitor and Little People. They are worth ten times the subscription price. Dr. Cumming has made the following report:

Will the preachers and Sunday school friends, who have so generously supported us during the year, send in a club to supply all our people with a copy of our periodicals? We will send specimen copies to any school or family that does not take them, if some one will furnish the name. Brethren of the ministry, will you see that every Sunday school in your charge is supplied this year? Send us the names of any to whom you wish specimen copies sent, and they will be forwarded immediately. We cannot speak in praise of our own work, but we could furnish many testimonials from prominent Sunday school workers, placing our periodicals in the first rank.

While at Greensboro we were glad to make the acquaintance of Rev. Thomas Ward White, pastor of the Presbyterian church at that place and also president of the Greensboro Female College. Mr. White is doing double work, and doing it well. It was our privilege to occupy his pulpit on Sunday morning of the Conference session, and to make the acquaintance of several of his people. Lack of time and opportunity prevented a visit to his popular school.

It is a higher exhibition of Christian manliness to bear trouble than to get rid of it.

Books and Periodicals.

STONE RIDGE. Etchings from the sketch book of a country pastor. Edited by the Rev. Charles A. Smith, D. D. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott & Co., 1877.

Pastors have the materials for the most entertaining books. Their contact with all sorts of people, their opportunities for the study of character, and their intimate acquaintance with all classes and conditions, furnish a rich repository of incidents and anecdote. Dr. Smith gives us the lights and shades, the grave and humorous aspects of pastoral experience and observation. It is a book to inform and to entertain. One hundred and eighty-eight pages, 12mo. For sale by Eyrich, New Orleans.

CHRIST THE TEACHER OF MEN. By A. W. Pitzer. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott & Co., 1877.

A glance at the table of contents exhibits the general scope of the work. We have: The Spirit of the Learner, The Prophetical Office of Christ, The Extent of Christ's Teaching, Christ the Covenant Prophet, Christ Teaching Through the Holy Ghost, Christ the Revealer of God, The Credentials of Christ, The Temptation of Christ. The author's theology is evidently Calvinistic, but he has elaborated his great theme in a manner that cannot fail to instruct every class of devout readers. Every chapter abounds in profitable suggestions, strong and luminous arguments, and in views which will command the respect of the thoughtful student of the way of salvation. For sale by Eyrich, New Orleans.

THE GOLD OF CHICKAREE. By Susan and Anna Warner. New York: G. P. Putnam's Sons, 1876.

A stout volume of 426 pages. Not having read it, we can only say that the well-known authors of "Wide, Wide World," "Dollars and Cents," and "Wych Hazel," have written it. It is probably equal in merit to anything hitherto produced by these gifted women. Price, $1.50.

—Scribner's Monthly for January, 1877, has: Day-Dreams, Illustrated; Norway and the Norsemen, Illustrated; Concerning Cheapness; John Burroughs, Illustrated; Ghosts; The English Workingman's Home, Illustrated; A Winter on the Nile, Illustrated; What our Churches Cost Us, and other articles.

—Lippincott's Magazine for January has: Pictures from Spain, Illustrated; Translations from the French of Francois Coppee; Our Floor of Fire, Illustrated; Phillias and his Predecessors; Nature Abhors a Vacuum; The Young Man Who Went West; Letters from South Africa, and other articles.

—Golden Hours for January has, among other entertaining things: The King's Cousin; Bunches of Holly, Illustrated; Content, Illustrated; Roche's Faith, Illustrated; New Year's Day in China; Calico Curiosities; A Little Sermon on One Cent; Rub in the Tub, Illustrated.

—The Galaxy for January has: The Administration of Abraham Lincoln; Lucille's Letter; Some old Almanacs; Our Rural Divinity; On Reading Shakespeare; From Normandy to the Pyrenees; The Ballad of Constance; Monsieur Delille, and other articles.

The Aldine, part 18, has the following illustrations: North Aisle of Westminster Abbey; A Rain Squall; Croda Rossa; The Three Pinnacles; First Singing of the Marseillaise; Reynard in Luck; An English Farm Scene; A Sick Orang Outang; Carved Boudoir Stand.

The World of Song is a collection of popular songs, ballads and duets, with an accompaniment for the piano-forte or reed organ. Oliver Ditson & Co., publishers, Boston. Two hundred and forty-eight pages, with index. The volume contains many beautiful songs.

—We have received the Scholar's Hand Book, part 7, on the International Lessons from January to July, 1877. Studies about the kingdom of Israel. By Rev. Edwin W. Rice. Published by American Sunday School Union, Philadelphia.

—The Southern Musical Journal for December has been received. Besides the usual amount of reading matter, this number contains several pieces of fresh music. Ludden & Bates, publishers, Savannah, Ga.

—St. Nicholas for January has an excellent store of good things for the young people, any amount of pictures, and some stories for the very young people.

—Ware's Valley Monthly for November, the American Agriculturist for December, and Appleton's Journal for January have been received.

Faith is the root of all blessings; believe, and you shall be saved; believe, and your mist needs be sanctified; believe, and you cannot choose but be comforted.—Jeremy Taylor.

Resignation is putting God between one's self and one's grief.—Madame Swetchine.

Publisher's Department.

Acknowledgments of Letters and Funds RECEIVED BY MAIL.

For the Week Ending Dec. 23, 1876.

A—American Tract Society, N W Aver & Son, George B Archer, three letters, Phillis Allen, Edwin Alden E M Alford 50 cents, Miss Maggie Ashcraft $2, Miss Annie Andrews 25 cents.

B—Mrs N B Bowman $2, H P Bowen, J C A Bridges $5, S C D Brafford $2, Mrs R M Barring ton $2, George W Brown, J W Bates $7 50 pins, J B Butler & Co, Burnum & Pease, D R Bine, J C Brogan $1 50, H L Bailey $2.

C—S H Cox $2, Lelia Coddington, W Cooper, Robert Carter & Bros, Miss Ellie Cain $1, L Carley $2 50, T H Casey $2, Central Presbyterian, J H Carrington $5 50, James Carson $10, Mrs J P Cunningham, Christopher & Ainsworth, Campbell Printing Press and Manufacturing Company, Charles A Cragg, Mrs J W Clark $5 cents, H T Chivis $2 cents, T J Campbell $1 25, Joseph P Carry, $5 50, Currie & Co $27, S L Cushing, Henry Conner, W J Carleton.

D—E P Dutton & Co, Dodd, Mead & Co, H S Downer, R Day $5, H S Dewey, W A Crumply, Rev Charles P Dillingham, E G Duval, Thomas Whaley $1 50, T M Davis, Charles H Dixon, Lazard Duberrard $1, J Derry, Drake $3, P W Dyer, Thomas Dean & Co.

E—John D Enoch, E G W Ellis.

F—E Parrell's Sol Fryer, Patrick Farrell, A Friend, D W Foster, J M Franklin $1 25, H Fenwick, Nelson Forsythe, J D Frederick $2, A W Freeman $2, Mrs J M Farrar Fillmore Bros.

H—H Gaffney & Bro, Professor Eugene Gardner, G W Wareham & Co, John Gibson, Gordon & Wade.

H—E J Hale & Sons, M J Hughes, M L Hall, Hall & Co, J J Honeycutt, A Hopkins, Charles L Harris, A C Hindley, N B H, Hamilton, Rev Hogue, H J Hilton, W A Huntington & Co, J J Hodge, Wells & Johnson & Co, H Jolley, Mrs Jo E Johnson, A M Jones, S A Johnson.

K—H Kennedy $2, G W Kesler, N Kahrel, James E Kirk $10, J O Kooper $1.

L—W E M La Hotte $5, J W La Fayette, Dewey & Co, L E Lee, Fall River Line, Mrs Clara Lee, Mrs Mary Pleasants.

M—A P Stewart, H P Smith, S C Shipley, Rev Sandy & Co, Mrs S M Sylvan & Co, Estes & Brayton, Mrs C E Stewart, J H Smith, Cable Building, J W Hyde & Co, A P Stringfellow, T S T Taylor $25, J F Co, H K Thurber & Co, University Publishing Company.

W—William M Wood, James P McElhaney, Sarah R Williamson, Lewis, W D Wheeler & Son, H O White, Bascom Ward, H Ware & Bro.

NO CREDIT.

The Book Committee have instructed the Book Agent to sell no books on credit. Those in arrears will please make immediate payment. Brethren, the times are very unfavorable for collecting small accounts, and accordingly I call on all who are in debt to us to settle without delay. Those who do not will please excuse us for refusing to let them have books.

A. H. REDFORD, Agent.

POSTOFFICES.

If all the preachers to whom the Advocate is sent, who would do much more than pay for it by a single effort to get subscribers, would only make a practice of postoffice work and do it at once, they would save us much trouble.

LIFE INSURANCE.—The subject of insurance is one that has of late attracted nearly every one with whom providence or misfortune has placed us in contact. It is a matter of vital importance to those who have made no provision for their families in case of the death of the husband and father. As every one would like the advantages arising from the investment, the only question to be decided is, what company to insure in. The Mobile Life Insurance Company seems to be a good one, and judging from their published statement, under the management of efficient officers. We would advise our readers who contemplate insuring to send on to the company and procure their rate book, and examine into the plans on which they propose to do business.

SAFES.—If parties in want of a safe will step into No. 27 Chartres street and see Mr. Boyle the agent, we think they will be suited. He has a very large stock of finished safes on hand and constantly manufacturing. He is ably prepared to fill all orders on the shortest notice. Contracts for vaults will be made in the city. Parties in the country will do well to correspond with Mr. Boyle and get his terms before ordering elsewhere.

SEWING MACHINES.—Parties wanting sewing machines should read carefully the advertisement of the Howe Sewing Machine Company in this issue of the Advocate, and we would call the special attention of the ladies to the new improvements of the Howe machine. Mr. Perry will be at home to receive orders and sell machines. Parties wishing to purchase machines will find it to their interest to call on Mr. Perry before buying elsewhere.

DRY GOODS.—The attention of our readers is called to the advertisement of A. A. Parker, in this issue. There have been large quantities of dry goods, also of fancy goods and notions, purchased at the late sales in New York, which are now being opened at the store of A. A. Parker, and will be sold at wholesale prices. Merchants will find it to their interest to call on Mr. Parker and examine his stock before purchasing elsewhere. Mary will please to send us a call.

JEWELER.—We call attention to the card of Mr. J. C. Meyer in the Advocate this week. Mr. Meyer has manufactured quite a large number of articles for the Centennial Exposition, and will be pleased to see his friends at the Centennial Exposition. He has also a large stock of every description, and will be pleased to see all of his friends at his store, and examine his stock.

CARPETS.—The card of the old and well-known carpet house of A. Brandon will be found on this page. In addition to carpets they carry a full stock of window shades, curtains, oil cloths, etc. Mr. Brandon will be pleased to see his old friends at his store, and will, as in the past, give satisfaction to all buyers.

LEATHER.—Our readers in the country are referred to the advertisement of Frank Co., one of the oldest houses in their line in the city. They are thoroughly intelligent men, and can fill your order to your satisfaction. Their house has a very large stock of finished saddlery on hand and constantly manufacturing. Has ably prepared to fill all orders on the shortest notice. Contracts for work will be made in the city. Parties in the country will do well to correspond with Mr. Roy and get his terms before ordering elsewhere.

SEWING MACHINES.—Parties wanting sewing machines should read carefully the advertisement of the Howe Sewing Machine Company in this issue of the Advocate, and we would call the special attention of the ladies to the new improvements of the Howe machine. Mr. Perry will be at home to receive orders and sell machines. Parties wishing to purchase machines will find it to their interest to call on Mr. Perry before buying elsewhere. Those in need of crockery, China, or glassware are referred to E. Offner's advertisement.

DRY GOODS.—The attention of our readers is called to the advertisement of A. A. Parker, in this issue. There have been large quantities of dry goods, also of fancy goods and notions, purchased at the late sales in New York, which are now being opened at the store of A. A. Parker, and will be sold at wholesale prices. Merchants will find it to their interest to call on Mr. Parker and examine his stock before purchasing elsewhere. Mary will please to send us a call.

CARPETS.—The card of the old and well-known carpet house of A. Brandon will be found on this page. In addition to carpets they carry a full stock of window shades, curtains, oil cloths, etc. Mr. Brandon will be pleased to see his old friends at his store, and will, as in the past, give satisfaction to all buyers.

LEATHER.—Our readers in the country are referred to the advertisement of Frank Co., one of the oldest houses in their line in the city. They are thoroughly intelligent men, and can fill your order to your satisfaction. Their house has a very large stock of finished saddlery on hand and constantly manufacturing. Has ably prepared to fill all orders on the shortest notice. Contracts for work will be made in the city. Parties in the country will do well to correspond with Mr. Roy and get his terms before ordering elsewhere.

AT M. L. NAVRA'S China Palace, 129 Canal street, all articles of China and glassware can be procured at reasonable prices.

LEVY BROS., 589 Magazine street, pay particular attention to country orders for dry goods.

THOSE in need of crockery, China, glassware are referred to E. Offner's advertisement.

FOR CHURCH ORGANS see Jackson & Gallagher's advertisement.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

BISHOP McTYEIRE'S DECISION, Hon. J. P. Stockton's Review of same, St. John's Church Trial, etc., a pamphlet of 111 pages; price, 25 cents. For sale by Southwestern Book and Publishing Company, St. Louis, Mo. 16

WHEELER & PIERSON,
NOS. 13 AND 15 CAMP STREET,
Opposite the City Hotel,
CLOTHING & FURNISHING GOODS
FOR MEN AND BOYS.

We have visitors from the country to look at our stock. We keep nothing but what is new, and must be first-class. Clergymen's trade solicited, and a liberal deduction made to them.

LADIES! A rare and beautiful article for the toilet. Pozzoni's Medicated Complexion Powder has been fully tested, and found to possess all the qualities claimed for it. It removes the sallow appearance of the skin, and gives it a clear and healthy color. Mothers can supply it to their children with perfect safety. It is a source of infinite comfort. Price, special and sample rates. Sold by druggists generally. Depot for Northern and Eastern States, 53 Fourth street, St. Louis, Mo. 16

WHAT NEXT? Constantine Cassel. Mardi Gras will be here presently, and the question is, what shall we wear? Dr. H. James' Woman's Friend has been celebrated as a preparation for Indian Cholera, which carries off a large number of persons in a few hours. Its composition is such that it will relieve the most violent attack in a few minutes. Sold by druggists. 16

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

NEW SUNDAY MAGAZINE
REV. DR. DEEMS,
Editor.

Frank Leslie's Sunday Magazine.

WORTH MUCH AND COSTS LITTLE.

Published by FRANK LESLIE,
537 Pearl St., New York.

A PAPER FOR THE PEOPLE.

THE LOUISVILLE
COURIER-JOURNAL.

Largest, Best and Cheapest Family Paper in the South. Illustrated Supplement.

HENRY WATTERSON,
Editor.

The COURIER-JOURNAL is the Democratic Journal, established in 1844, the Courier, in 1845, and the Democrat, in 1868. The Courier-Journal is the consolidation of these papers, and is the Democratic organ of Kentucky. It is published every morning in the year, and is delivered by carriers in the city, or sent by mail, postage paid, at $10 a year; $5 for six months; $2 50 for three months; 75 cents a month.

TO AGENTS AND CLUBS.

A liberal commission will be allowed to Agents who procure subscribers to the Courier-Journal.

Any one sending us Ten Cooks, Tourists and Tidies, or Prentice's Poems, will be entitled to a copy of the Courier-Journal for one year.

Any one sending us Ten Magazines or Papers, at any club rate, will be entitled to a copy of the Courier-Journal for one year.

Any one sending us Ten Cooks, Tourists and Tidies, or Prentice's Poems, will be entitled to a copy of the Courier-Journal for one year.

A Splendid Map of the South,

Size 28 x 42 inches, mounted on cloth and rollers, will be sent, postage paid, to any address for $2. Address WEEKLY COURIER-JOURNAL, Louisville, Ky.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Daily Courier-Journal,	$10 00
Sunday Courier-Journal,	2 00
Weekly Courier-Journal,	2 00

Specimen copies sent free. Address as above.

W. N. HALDEMAN,
Proprietor,
Louisville, Ky.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

A CARD.

AS IT has been extensively reported by rival Sewing Machine Companies and their peddlers that the manufacture and sale of the GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINES had been suspended, and the machines and the parts could no longer be obtained, I beg leave to state that the business of manufacturing the machines has only been changed, and that the supply will be better and better, and the sale of those celebrated Machines more vigorously pushed than ever before. The popularity of the GROVER & BAKER Machines is hard to overcome, and it is only by such means and misrepresentations that many of the private agents can effect a sale of their machines.

GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINE DEPOT,
CHARTRES STREET,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

COATES'
PURE LINEN THREADS.

Tailors, Shoemakers, Weavers, Saddlers and FAMILY USE.

Standard Needles for the Following Machines:

Wheeler & Wilson,	Howe,	Singer,
Grover & Baker,	Florence,	Wheeler & Wilson,
Lamb,	Weed,

Put up in 100 yards each.

GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINE DEPOT,
CHARTRES ST., NEW ORLEANS, LA.

FIRE AND BURGLAR-PROOF
SAFES
ALWAYS ON HAND AT PRICES TO SUIT THE TIMES.
OLD SAFES
NEW AND REPAIRED.

A. TROY, Agent
NEW ORLEANS BRANCH OF Diebold Safe and Lock Co.,
H. P. BUCKLEY,
STEAM GAS AND BATH
STEM-WINDING WATCHES.
DIAMONDS,
JEWELRY AND SILVER WARE.

SUN & FALLS
BELL FOUNDRY
Church, Academy, Factory, Depot, Steamboat, Ship, Locomotive, Plantation, Fire Engine, etc.
Sizes and Prices with Wheel Hanging and Frame Complete.

JOHN BRYAN & CO.,
LEATHER AND SHOE FINDINGS,
No. 112 Poydras St., New Orleans.

NEW BOOKS FOR SINGING CLASSES!
JOYFUL NOTES
HOURS SONG
IS THE BEST ROUND NOTE BOOK IN THE FIELD.
FILLMORE BROS., Publishers,
CINCINNATI.

GASH'S CAMBRIC FRILLING

The Mobile Life Insurance Co.

THIS Company has been in successful operation for the past seven years, and has paid to the families of deceased members the sum of $1,000,000. Its rates are low, and its policies are liberal. Its assets are invested in the most reliable securities, and are ample to meet all its liabilities. Its officers are men of the highest character and standing. Its agents are gentlemen of intelligence and integrity. Its business is conducted with economy and prudence. Its management is conservative and safe. Its prospects are flattering. Its future is promising. Its record is clear. Its reputation is unsullied. Its character is unimpeachable. Its credit is unquestioned. Its stability is unshaken. Its success is assured. Its friends are numerous. Its enemies are few. Its agents are active. Its policies are popular. Its dividends are large. Its losses are small. Its expenses are low. Its profits are great. Its business is increasing. Its field is extensive. Its opportunities are many. Its duty is plain. Its path is clear. Its course is onward. Its motto is progress. Its aim is perfection. Its end is success.

J. C. MEYER, JEWELER,
321 CANAL STREET 321
Between Royal and Bourbon Streets,
DEALER IN
FINE WATCHES, LADIES' AND GENTS' GOLD CHAINS, JEWELRY, ETC.

I have the exclusive agency of Meylan and Hodges, which were awarded the Highest Premium at the Centennial Exposition, also the Diamond Setting, Display and Finish, No. 2 Gold Case, Lever Barrel Watch.

LOOK!
BOOK AGENTS, the finest and fastest selling books on Bible History, and most complete Bible published. Our Holy Land ILLUSTRATIONS, and new extra terms to agents, with large premiums to good agents. For circulars, terms, etc., address ANCHOR PUBLISHING CO., E. A. Hutchinson, Pres't, 210 Pine St., St. Louis, Mo.

T. W. BOTHICK,
UNDERTAKER,
274 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.
Embalming and Disinfecting. Bodies carefully shipped. Carriages and Cabs for hire.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

A. A. PARKER,
FANCY AND STAPLE
DRY GOODS,
ALSO
Ladies' and Misses' Underwear.

I AM OPENING A LARGE STOCK OF NEW FALL AND WINTER GOODS at such prices as to defy competition. Regiveve, and would call special attention to my Home-made Underwear, every garment guaranteed satisfaction in fit, work and trimming, and I promise to refer the ladies to those who have used it.

178, Canal St., between Baronne and Dryades Sts.,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

THE TRUTH AT LAST
IN REGARD TO
Sewing Machine Awards by the Centennial Commission.

THE Executive Committee of the Centennial Commission, after a careful examination of the merits of all the leading sewing machines exhibited at the Centennial Exhibition, have awarded to the HOWE MACHINE COMPANY the highest premium for the best Sewing Machine on exhibition.

Some reasons for the award given the HOWE: It was practically the only machine that did continuous work in the Exhibition. The display of work by this Company has never been equalled.

The Howe was the first and is now recognized as the best Machine in the market.

Having always been recognized as the standard, the Howe Machine Company has kept pace with the times, and has constantly improved its machine, so that to-day it is the most perfect Sewing Machine in the market.

The improvements made in it are of the most practical character, and not for the mere purpose of change.

For the past year a large portion of our force has been employed in perfecting and improving our machine, and we claim to have produced the best machine in the market.

We have always claimed for the Howe Machine that it was the best, and we now claim that it is the best, and we will stand or fall by that claim.

We have no second or third class machines to offer, but one grade only, and that the best.

We will not be undersold by any responsible house, and we will make no false representations.

We are manufacturing and offering for sale the Howe Machine, and no other.

We are not connected with any other Sewing Machine Company, and have no interest in any other Sewing Machine

Farm, Garden and Household.

How to Carve and Help at Table.

It is considered an accomplishment for a lady to know how to carve well at the brown table. It is not proper to stand in carving. The carving knife should be sharp and thin.

To carve fowls (which should always be laid with the breast uppermost) place the fork in the breast, and take off the wings and legs without turning the fowl over, cut off the merry thought, cut slices from the breast, take off the side bone, cut off the side pieces, and then cut the carcass in two. Divide the joints in the leg of a turkey.

In carving a sirloin, cut thin slices from each side next to you. It must be put to the fire with the tenderloin underneath. Begin it nearest from the tenderloin. Help the guests to both sides.

In carving a leg of mutton or a ham, begin by cutting across the middle to the bone, first a tongue across, and then deep and high from the middle.

Carve a saddle of mutton by separating the shoulder and ribs, and thus divide the joint.

To carve a loin of veal, begin at the smaller end and separate the ribs. Help each guest to a piece of kidney and fat. Carve pork and mutton in the same way.

To carve a fore of veal begin at the top and help the stuffing with each slice. The chine of veal, separate by the great knife, and the cutter is asking which part is preferred.

In carving a pig, it is customary to divide it on the side before it comes to the table, as to many persons the head is revolting. Cut off the limbs and divide the ribs.

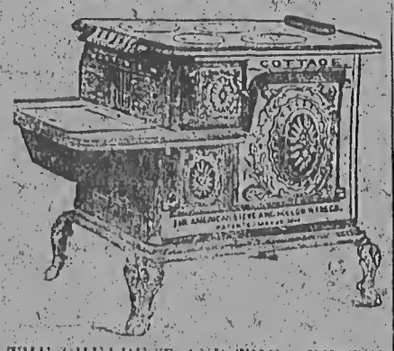
In carving venison make a deep incision down to the bone to let out the juices, and then the broad end toward you, cutting deep in thin slices.

For a saddle of venison, cut from the tail toward the other end, on each side, in thin slices. Wax plates are very unpleasant with hot food, and should be kept entirely for cold meats. Warm plates are desirable for all meat.—New York Ledger.

Travelers and others should remember that the Christian Advocate saves readers by merely permitting advertisements to appear in its columns, but rather, to grow thereby. All of its advertisers have been long and favorably known to the public, and the very happiest results to them and to those who have been induced to patronize them, have been the universal testimony. Indeed, nature never intended the manufacturer of a mere article of merit should long have been driven about with the grasping beggar, a few miles of trellis, keeping both vine and fruit off the ground and strictly to the yield and the quality. When such is sought, a less expensive ground may be accomplished by obtaining upon the premises.

HARDWARE, STOVES, ETC.

Stoves! Stoves! Stoves!



THE CHEAPEST AND THE "BEST."

THE "COTTAGE" COOKING STOVES, the which in all particulars, are not surpassed by any in this market for economy, durability, and most perfect BAKING. They carry a smaller load than the Yeoman and can be adapted to burning COAL OIL or Wood, with or without the grate. Every one of them is fully warranted to do as represented or the money will be refunded.

Also, a variety of other COOKING STOVES of every grade and price, from $12 upwards.

HEATING STOVES.

A very large and complete assortment, suitable for Offices, Parlors, Churches, School Rooms etc., all of which are offered at very low prices to suit the times. Also, dealers in

TINWARE OF EVERY KIND,

and description, to suit the country and city trade, which is sold out at UNPRECEDENTEDLY LOW PRICES FOR CASH. Also, Sole Agent for the manufacture and sale of the

Sterm Washer, or Woman's Friend,

Will cleanse your clothes WITHOUT RUBBING. Every one sold is FULLY WARRANTED. It saves labor, wear and tear, and the annoyance of washday. It is truly a labor and clothes saving invention. Three Hundred thousand have already been sold throughout the States since 1871.

☞ State and County rights for sale.

Call and see at No. 54 Magazine street.

O. W. W. GOODWYN.

The Celebrated Stewart Stove.

IMPROVED PATTERN OF 1873.

THE best Cook Stove in the world. Will last twenty years, and do more work with the same amount of fuel than any other Stove that was ever made. Price $45. Repairs for Stewart Stoves always on hand.

H. CYMPMAN,

123 Poydras St., Agent for Louisiana.

J. FOERSTER'S

RICE AND CORN MILLS,

NOS. 109 AND 111 OLIVE ST., AND 104, 106 AND 108 MAGAZINE STREET,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

MILLING RATES

No. 1 Rice, three quarter cent per pound.
No. 2 Rice, one-half cent per pound.
Eight sacks of Bran returned for every 100 sacks of Rice received. Empty sacks furnished.

$55 to $77 a Week to Agents. Samples Free. P. O. VICKERY, Augusta, Me.

MEDICAL.

VEGETINE

PURIFIES THE BLOOD,

RENOVATES AND INVIGORATES THE WHOLE SYSTEM.

Its Medicinal Properties are Alterative, Tonic, Solvent and Diuretic.

VEGETINE is made exclusively from the roots of carefully selected barks, roots and herbs, and so strongly concentrated that it will thoroughly eradicate from the system every taint of Scrofula, Scrofulous Humor, Tumors, Cancer, Cancerous Humor, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Syphilitic Diseases, Canker, Enlargement of the Stomach, and all diseases that arise from impure blood. Scrofulous, Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout and Spinal Complaints can only be effectually cured through the blood.

For Ulcers and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, Pustules, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tetter, Scald Head and Ring Worm, VEGETINE has never failed to effect a permanent cure.

For Pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints, Dropsy, Female Weakness, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration and other diseases and General Debility, VEGETINE acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates all the secretions, allays inflammation, tones the entire system, purifies the blood, and restores the patient to perfect health.

For Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Headache, Piles, Nervousness and General Prostration of the Nervous System, no medicine has given such perfect satisfaction as VEGETINE. It purifies the blood, cleanses all of the organs and imparts a controlling power over the secretions.

BLOOD PURIFIER.

Prepared by VEGETINE

THE BEST EVIDENCE.

The following letter from Rev. E. S. Best, pastor of M. E. Church, Natick, Mass., will be read with pleasure by many people. Also those suffering from the same disease is afflicted the son of the Rev. E. S. Best. No person can doubt this testimony, as the reputation of the author is a guarantee of the truthfulness of VEGETINE.

NATICK, Mass., Jan. 1, 1874.

MR. H. R. STEVENS—Dear Sir: I have good reason to speak a word for VEGETINE. We have used it in our family with the most satisfactory results. We believe that it has been the means of saving the life of our son, who was afflicted from infancy with a humor, caused by vaccination. Before he had taken the first bottle of VEGETINE he was much better, and now he is entirely free from the humor. We have given VEGETINE to other children with the most satisfactory results, and we cheerfully recommend it to all who are afflicted with any impurity of the blood. Yours truly,

REV. E. S. BEST.

ALL DISEASES OF THE BLOOD.

I HEARTILY RECOMMEND IT HEARTILY.

MR. H. R. STEVENS, Boston, Mass.

MR. STEVENS—Dear Sir: I have taken several bottles of your VEGETINE, and can say that it is a valuable remedy for Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaint, and general debility of the system. I can cheerfully recommend it to all suffering with any of these complaints.

MRS. MONROE PARKER,
Attleboro', Mass.

PREPARED BY

H. R. STEVENS, Boston, Mass.

Vegetine is Sold by All Druggists.

SWAIM'S CELEBRATED PANACEA

Is not as many persons suppose a patent medicine for the cure of all diseases, but is held in high, having enjoyed an established reputation for MORE THAN FIFTY YEARS on account of its great value in all cases of disorder of the system, having been the means of RESTORING TO HEALTH HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF DISTRESSED PERSONS. It has received the indorsement of PHYSICIANS who know its merits, and should be tried by all who suffer from diseases arising from impurities of the blood, or even debility only.

Its virtue in CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, Gout, Eruptions, Chronic Sores, White Swellings, etc., is known to thousands of Southern people.

Prepared at

Swaim's Laboratory,

South Seventh St., below Chestnut St.,

PHILADELPHIA.

THE JELESO WATER,

NO. 20 COURTLANDT ST., NEW YORK.

WARREN & CO., Proprietors.

URAL MOUNTAIN

JELESO WATER

Is a concentration of all the curative qualities of the most celebrated Mineral Springs in the world. Each bottle contains eighty doses and is equal to over one hundred bottles of the Natural Spring Water.

As a tonic it is unsurpassed, having had most remarkable success in curing some of the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Nervousness, and General Debility. It is simple, harmless, and pleasant to take. It used as a gargle in its pure state, up the first appearance of diphtheria and all other throat diseases it works like magic. By testing the progress of and cures upon complaints in less than twenty four hours. It will greatly alleviate or entirely cure the worst cases of Rheumatism.

Eczema and all other diseases of the skin, Prickly Heat, Poisoning by Ivy, Sumac, or oak is speedily cured by the use of Jeleso Water. We will forward three bottles of the medicine to any part of the United States, free of expressage, on receipt of $1 per bottle. Send for Circular, containing testimonials and directions.

Appended are a few of the many certificates sent us:

As a healthy medicine and tonic it is simply invaluable. In my own case it has cured Dyspepsia of long standing.

JOHN F. MINER,
Managing Editor N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

Permit me to add my testimony to the efficiency of your "Jeleso" in cases of Dyspepsia of long standing. I have used two bottles of it, and I am now thoroughly cured. I shall most cheerfully recommend it to all my friends; and I consider it an indispensable medicine in every family. I am most truly yours,

J. D. BARTON,
Supt. Flushing, North Shore, and Central R. R. of Long Island.

161 East 23d St., New York,
January 29, 1876.

DR. WARREN—Dear Sir: I have used your Jeleso Water as a tonic, also for Dyspepsia and Throat Affections, in all of which with great beneficial results. I believe it to be a very valuable remedy.

DR. E. G. SULLIVAN.

CANCER CURED WITHOUT the KNIFE or PAIN, and positively guaranteed by Prof. J. M. COMINS, M. D., 345 Lexington Ave., New York. Hundreds of specimens can be seen at his office, and all many living witnesses attest these facts. Send stamp for book.

EDUCATIONAL.

Emory and Henry College

VIRGINIA.

THE collegiate year for 1876-7 begins on the FOURTEENTH OF SEPTEMBER next. It is divided into two terms of twenty weeks each, the first closing January 31, and the second beginning February 1, 1877.

For TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS deposited with the President at the beginning of the year we will give to a student, for the forty weeks, his tuition, board, fuel, room-rent, washing, library and contingent fees.

For information on special points or for a catalogue address E. E. WILEY, President, Emory P. O., Virginia.

MOORE'S SOUTHERN BUSINESS UNIVERSITY ATLANTA, GA. THE GREAT PRACTICAL BUSINESS SCHOOL OF THE SOUTH. SEND FOR CATALOGUES.

MISCELLANEOUS

COUNTRY ORDERS

FOR

BOOTS AND SHOES.

PARTIES who wish to buy Boots and Shoes FOR CASH are invited to send to me for a card which explains HOW TO TAKE YOUR OWN MEASURE, thus enabling any one in the country to get a good-fitting Boot or Shoe direct from the city at the LOWEST CITY PRICES.

Where we are favored with orders and covered by the Dollar Bill given will be prepaid at our expense. Where the order exceeds $20 we will also pay the cost of sending the money to us, whether by Express, Money Order, Registered Letter, Bank Draft or otherwise.

Goods sent C. O. D. to all points where the Express Company or Packet have agents.

Price List of ready-made goods, also directions how to take your own measure, will be sent by mail upon application.

GIMBEL'S "FREE CITY" BLUE BOOT AND SHOE STORE,

No. 328 Magazine Street,

Sign of the Lady's Boot.

LOUIS GIMBEL, Agent.

NEW GOODS

AT

JOHN L. LAVELLE'S,

329 AND 331 ROYAL ST.

Low Ruffles
Hand Cord Rugs
New Curtains
New Cloths
Ashore's Mixed Mats
New Fibres
New Brazilian Mats
Linen Mats
Lace Mats

WE DRINK no whiskey. Therefore GIVE TEN PER CENT. SAVING to buyers at J. L. LAVELLE'S.

MITCHELL'S

NEW OUTLINE MAPS.

Maps mounted on Rollers and varnished.

Small Series, with Names $10
Small Series, without Names $10
Large Series, without Names $20

LATEST, BEST, CHEAPEST.

H. BUTLER & CO.,
Publishers, Philadelphia.

NOVELTY IRON WORKS.

NOW building Presses in stock and will be furnished under the following prices, ready for operation

JANUARY 1 NEXT.

Golding's Standard Press,

(Five Patents secured.)

Exclusive control of States Rights and Licenses for sale. Apply to PATENTEE at the NOVELTY WORKS, Corner Peters and D'Abadie sts.

PHILOSOPHICAL APPARATUS

FOR

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES.

To illustrate all departments of Physics. Selected Specially for Southern Use.

Magic Lanterns and Stereopticons.

Views from all Countries, and in great variety.
Views to illustrate Scientific Subjects.
Views made to order at reasonable prices.
Catalogue on application. Catalogue fourteen cents each.

JOHN E. CHRYSNEY,
No. 1 and 3 Bond Street, New York.
Successor to James W. Queen & Co.

PLASTER PARIS MODELS

For Drawing Classes.

BUSTS, MASKS AND STATUETTES FROM THE Antique, Life Size, Bust and Statuettes. Busts from the Flaxman, Ethe Human Body. Anatomy from the Old Masters. Animals, Heads of Animals. Birds, Reliefs. Brackets, Pedestals, Religious Statues. Fruit and Flowers in Relief. Large assortment of Leaves in Relief. Orders by mail promptly attended to. Goods carefully packed and sent to any part of the United States. Prices to suit the times.

E. CASTELLUCCI,
141 and 143 Grand Street, New York.

ATTENTION!

M. ANDRIEU,

150 ..... MAGNOLIA STREET 150

Home-Made Shoes at $3.50 a Pair.

Opposite Boots and Shoes of all kinds and styles, Made of the very best materials and workmanship, and at a saving to purchasers of from 25 to 50 per cent. Keeps all Kinds for Gents, Boys, Ladies' and Children's wear.

FIRE! FIRE!! FIRE!!!

GUARD AGAINST IT.

THE PEOPLE'S PUMP!

With 50 feet hose, and Sprinkling pipe, for $12.50.

CHARLES W. KING,
27 Lincoln Street, Boston.

GIBSON'S

Stained Glass and Decorative Establishment,

123 & 125 South Eleventh St.,

PHILADELPHIA.

SHELDON COLLINS & CO.,

MANUFACTURERS OF PRINTING INKS, Extra Black Book, News, Card, Job, Wood Cut AND Colored Inks of Every Variety.

Office and depot 26 Frankfort street, New York.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.

Established in 1837.

CENTENNIAL SLIDES READY.

MAGIC LANTERNS & SLIDES WANTED ALSO FOR SALE THEO. J. HAFFACKER PHILADA, PA.

Please send for Catalogue.

PHILA. REDUCTION WORKS,
CHEAPEST in the U. S. during CENTENNIAL YEAR,
CHAS. M. EVANS, Manager,
122 West Courtlandt st. (2d floor), Cincinnati, O.
Fourth and Market Sts., Louisville, Ky.

$3 WATCHES. Cheapest in the known world. Sample watch and chain sent to any address on receipt of $3. For terms address CUTTER & CO., Chicago.

MISCELLANEOUS.

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE

RESPECTFULLY offers her services in selecting, purchasing and forwarding any article of apparel, or personal adornment for Ladies' and Children's use, including MILLINERY, DRY GOODS, JEWELRY, BRIDAL TROUSSEAUX, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Trimmings, Underwear, Sewing Machines etc.

Scrupulous care with reference to the price and quality, and fidelity to the interest and fulfillment of the wishes of correspondents, will be assiduously carried out.

Spring and Summer Styles

OF

LADIES' DRESSES,

IN IMPORTED FRENCH PATTERNS,

CENTENNIAL APRONS, JOUPES AND REDINGOTES, for sale of the Fashions of 1776

Just received by

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE,

No. 90 CANAL STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

New Goods for the Holidays.

JOHN S. TWOMEY,

COR. MAGAZINE AND PHILIP STS.,

WOULD respectfully call the attention of heads of families and his large and well-assorted stock of Fine Fancy and Staple Groceries, suitable for the holiday orders to defy competition. Raisins, Currants, Citron, Mince Meat, Apple Butter, Peaches, Cherries, Strawberries, Gherkins, Pickles, Olives, Capers, Sauces, Catsup, Tea (Oolong, Young Hyson, Gunpowder, Imperial, Black and Green), Coffee (Java, Rio, Laguayra, Mocha), Spices, Turkish and French Prunes, Honey, Cereal Food, Selected Wheat, Grapes, Barley, Peas, Cherries, Table Fruits and Jellies, Peaches, Strawberries, Pine-apples, etc.

Orders carefully and promptly attended to, and delivered to any part of the city or suburbs.

KEEP'S CUSTOM SHIRTS,

Made to measure. The very best 6 for $9.

KEEP'S PATENT PARTLY-MADE DRESS SHIRTS, the very best 6 for $7.

ONE SET OF PLATE, LETTER OR FIGURE of above, with an elegant set of best plated or fine steel stencil letters, with the privilege of changing in any proportion, from one to the other, as often as desired, for $1.50. Cautions against imitations and counterfeits. Keep's shirts are only made in one quality, the best. We claim first what we say, and to give every one an opportunity of selling for them (we will not sell, we make samples and full directions for self-measurement free to any address. We refer to merchants of Keep's shirts everywhere.

KEEP MANUFACTURING CO.,
143 and 145 Mercer Street, New York.

TO THE PUBLIC.

In returning thanks for favors, the undersigned desires to inform his friends and the public that he has removed to 159 and 161 Camp St., cor. Carondelet.

WM. HILL.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE FOR PACK AND Repeating Firearms

FURNITURE AND MATTRESSES

AT 155 CAMP STREET.

THE undersigned has on hand a large stock of Furniture, consisting in part of Parlor Suits, Chamber Suits, Bureaus, Wardrobes, Sofas, Lounges, Tables, Chairs, Mattresses, Feather Beds, Pillows, Bolsters, Cribs, Cradles, Bedsteads, Washstands, Looking Glasses, Pictures, Picture Frames, Carpets, Oilcloths, Mats, Rugs, Stoves, Kitchen Furniture, Crockery, Glassware, Tinware, Woodenware, Hardware, Cutlery, Brushes, Baskets, Brooms, Buckets, Tubs, Churns, Clothes Wringers, Clothes Horses, Clothes Lines, Clothes Pins, Clothes Baskets, Clothes Bags, Clothes Racks, Clothes Reels, Clothes Dryers, Clothes Hangers, Clothes Pegs, Clothes Poles, Clothes Props, Clothes Rods, Clothes Stands, Clothes Trees, Clothes Wringers, Clothes Horses, Clothes Lines, Clothes Pins, Clothes Baskets, Clothes Bags, Clothes Racks, Clothes Reels, Clothes Dryers, Clothes Hangers, Clothes Pegs, Clothes Poles, Clothes Props, Clothes Rods, Clothes Stands, Clothes Trees.

Piles! Piles!! Piles!!!

I GUARANTEE, UNDER SEAL, TO CURE PILES, Fistula and Fissure, or refund the money. Sent by mail for $1. Circulars free. Address DR. J. A. LINDSEY, Box 1,230, St. Louis, Mo.

W. A. G. L. McCANDLESS,
124 Arch Street,
Philadelphia, Pa.

DO YOUR OWN PRINTING!

NOVELTY PRINTING PRESS.

For Professional and Amateur Printers, Schools, Societies, Manufacturers, Merchants, etc.

Prices, $15.00, $30.00 and $50.00

Send 3 cent stamp for Catalogue of Printing Material.

C. C. Chapman & Co., General Ag'ts, Boston.

Children's 15 to 25c.
Misses' 30 to 50c.
Women's about 75c.
Men's Drawers
Socks from 15 to 50c.
Scotch Garters 25 to 50c.
Calf or Kid Gaiters 75 to $1.00.
Ask your dealer for them. Sent by Mail or Express at our price.

DOVE MANF'G. CO., Worcester, Mass.

ADOLPH SETTER,

GLASS STAINER.

Particular Attention Paid to Church Work.

Orders from all parts of the country promptly attended to.

218 N. SEVENTH ST., bet. Pine and Olive,

ST. LOUIS, MO.

F. A. McKECHNIE,

Engraver on Wood.

OFFICES: 26 Washington Street and 178 Progress Street, Boston. Orders by mail will receive prompt attention. Printers, send three cent stamp for Sample Free Cut Cuts for Cards and Envelopes.

FOR CHEAP

PRINTING

SEND TO THE

Pelican Book and Job Office,

124 CAMP AND 125 DRYADES ST., NEW ORLEANS.

County orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

NEW WILCOX & GIBBS AUTOMATIC TENSION LIGHT SEWING MACHINE. The latest and most marvelous invention in sewing machines. The only S wing Machine that can be used equally well by night or day. Lamp-light is often objected by ministers, physicians, merchants and others where they forbid the use of any other Sewing Machine. All kinds of Machine Needles, Light's Kalamo Machines, etc. M. S. HEDRICK,
No. 41 Charles street.

L. C. MACLIN,

Office, 31 Carondelet street, wholesale and retail dealer in Pittsburg, Virginia Canned and Valley Coal.

COAL.

Full weight guaranteed. Yard, corner Second and Felicity Streets.

GLASS STAINERS

CUTTERS, AND EMBOSSERS.

CHURCH WINDOWS A SPECIALTY

Estimates and samples on application.

WM. COULTER & SON

1124 DOLLE, 26 St., Cincinnati, O.

ESTABLISHED IN 1825.

LEEDS' FOUNDRY,

Cor. Leland and Fourcher Sts.

CHURCH—We have over 3,000 of the best selling Attention and Foreign Chromes ready for delivery. Rare opportunity for experienced solicitors. Send for catalogues. J. LATHAM & CO., Art Publishers, Boston, Mass.

SAVINGS BANKS.

NEW ORLEANS

SAVINGS INSTITUTION,

150 ..... CANAL STREET 156

Incorporated March 15, 1855.

OFFICERS.

DAVID URQUHART, President.
THOS. A. ADAMS, First Vice President.
THOS. ALLEN CLARKE, Second V. President.
CHARLES J. LEEDS, Third Vice President.
CHARLES KILSHAW, Treasurer.

TRUSTEES.

Thos. A. Adams, George Jones,
Thos. Allen Clarke, John H. Hales,
Charles J. Leeds, Christian Schneider,
Samuel Jamison, Carl Kohn,
A. Moulton, T. L. Bayne,
E. A. Palfrey, David Urquhart.

☞ Interest allowed on deposits.

LOUISIANA SAVINGS BANK AND SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY,

51 Camp Street.

CAPITAL $500,000

E. C. PALMER, President.
JAS. JACKSON, Vice President.

DIRECTORS.

ED. CONERY, FRED'K WING,
J. H. KELLER, W. H. THOMAS,
W. B. SCHMIDT, JAS. JACKSON,
E. C. PALMER.

This Company insures against loss by Burglers, Thieves and Fire at low rates, and its capital gives security to depositors.

Small Deposits received and Six per cent. interest per annum, paid semi-annually.

JOHN S. WALTON, Cashier.

BOOKS, STATIONERY, ETC.

JOSEPH GILLOTT'S

STEEL PENS.

SOLD BY ALL DEALERS

MANUFACTURERS' WAREHOUSE,

No. 91 John Street, New York.

JOSEPH GILLOTT & SON

HENRY HOE, Sole Agent.

SONG HERALD

BY H. R. PALMER.

FOR

Singing Classes & Conventions.

A great improvement upon all of Mr. Palmer's former works, containing new music throughout, in every page sparkling with

NEW AND BEAUTIFUL MUSIC.

"THE SONG HERALD"

Is the legitimate successor of SONG KING and SONG QUEEN, which have had a combined sale of over

350,000 COPIES!

All Other Similar Works are but Imitations.

Price, $3.50 Per Dozen. Single Copy sent on receipt of 75 cents. Specimen Pages free.

JOHN CHURCH & CO.,

CINCINNATI.

The Best or Cheapest Sunday School Song Book is the one you are using. Try one of the following and be convinced:

No. 1.

50 Choice Illustrated Vols., each differing in Music and Matter from any other Series. Libraries, Teachers, and others may select from the entire list. Specimen pages free. Returned with the same privilege and allowance as the Library. Any volume and the entire Library, is from which we make a special offer good for one week, to Sunday Schools, making the

Net Price for 50 Large Books only $22.00.

The books are different from those in No. 1, and some are larger.

Send 25 cts. for Specimen Books for a catalogue of these and other Libraries.

PUBLISHED BY THE

American Sunday School Union,

11-2 Chestnut street, Philadelphia—ALEX. KINKPATRICK,

7, 8 and 10, Bible House, New York—G. S. SCOFIELD,

10 Winter street, Boston—J. A. CRAWFORD,

No. 9 North Fourth street, Cincinnati—W. R. PARK,

207 North Sixth St., St. Louis—S. PAYSON.

MISCELLANEOUS.

BABBITT'S TOILET SOAP.

Babbitt's Soap

And now offers to the public The Purest Toilet Soap in the World, only the purest vegetable oils used in its manufacture.

"Use Her as the Nursery it has No Equal"

Worth $10 a box to every mother who will use it. Sample box containing 3 cakes of assorted odors sent by mail, postage paid, on receipt of 25 cents. Address B. T. Babbitt, New York City.

☞ For Sale by all Druggists.

Dr. C. B. White,

Office and Residence,

107 CANAL STREET.

SAM. HENDERSON,

Cotton Factor, Commission Merchant, and Forwarding Agent,

10 CAROLINDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Does business on Orange principles and at Orange rates.

YOUR ATTENTION IS RESPECTFULLY called to the entire stock of

NEW AND SECOND-HAND

BAROUCHES, ROCKAWAYS,

Top and No Top Buggies, Spring Wagons, etc., which are offered at EXTRA BARGAINS within the next sixty days, and as I am about having to close up the account with my former partner, Jacob Jost, deceased. All Vehicles warranted as represented. Call, examine and secure a bargain.

PIED. A. FAHRE (late Fahre & Yeakel)
1336 and 1338 Second St., St. Louis, Mo.

CARRIE'S CABINS, LUMBER, ETC.—To meet the demand for our Cabins we have added such machinery as enables us to turn them out and ship faster but better and cheaper; so come on with your orders. Not forgetting that as Lumber Merchants we date back a quarter of a century, and with recently established telegraph communication with our Pearl River Mills, we can furnish at short notice anything from a plaster lath to a ship spar.

W. W. CARRIE & CO.,
No. 150 Poland street.

FOR LADIES ONLY.

LADY AGENTS WANTED to sell Mme. Griswold's SECURE SUPPORT) NO CORSET, universally approved, and is gradually superseding all others. Application only to MME. GRISWOLD, 21 East Sixteenth street, New York.

PRINTING PRESSES FROM $3 TO $350 SEND 10 CTS TO WM. EDWARDS, 86 CHURCH ST. NEW YORK

VINEGAR—How made in ten hours without drugs. Address F. GAUL, Springfield, Mass.

INSURANCE.

FACTORS' AND TRADERS'

Insurance Company,

37 ..... Carondelet Street 37

Premiums for the year ending April 30, 1876 ..... $682,851
Losses paid within the year 277,674
Reserved for unterminated risks April 30, 1876 88,569
Net profits for the year 131,008

Cash dividends for the year,
Interest (semi annually) ..... TEN PER CENT.
Premiums ..... TWENTY PER CENT.

Assets, April 30, 1876 ..... $1,388,653

This Company continues to issue policies on Fire, River, and Marine Risks at current rates of premium.

E. A. PALFREY, President.
JOHN THAFFE, Vice-President.
THOMAS F. WALKER, Secretary.

—TRUSTEES—

W. A. Johnson, W. C. Raymond,
John I. Noble, T. Jefferson,
John Claffe, S. H. Snowden,
Richard Milliken, S. H. Boyd,
John T. Warren, Joseph McIntosh,
H. T. Burkner, E. B. Winchester,
Samuel Friedlander, Lyons Bussey,
A. A. Yates, Wm. J. Behan,
John I. Adams, H. F. Eshleman,
Isaac Schorck, W. C. Black,
H. M. Williamsley, Charles Claffe,
A. H. May, L. C. Jurey,
Wm. Hartwell.

New Orleans Insurance Co.

CORNER CAMP AND CANAL STS.

ESTABLISHED IN 1805.

Capital .....
Assets at their market value .....
Income for the year 1875 .....

The company insures FIRE, MARINE AND RIVER RISKS. Issues Marine policies payable in London in case of loss.

President—J. TUYES.
Vice-President—A. SCHREIBER.
Secretary—J. W. HINCKS.

DIRECTORS.

Ernest Merrill, A. M. Bickham,
Pluvide Parsath, A. Schreiber,
H. Tuffly, J. Tuyes,
Charles Lafitte, W. N. Bell,
W. Van Benthuysen, B. Fabo,
Pierre Pontz, D. D. Rogers.

AGENTS WANTED.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE

CENTENNIAL

HISTORY OF THE U. S.

The great interest in the startling history of our country makes this the best selling book published. It contains a full account of the Centennial Exhibition.

CAUTION.—As the genuine and valuable works are being circulated, see that the book you buy contains 718 Fine Engravings and 1,067 Pages. Send for circulars and extra terms to Agents. Address NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., St. Louis, Mo.

In Press—Outfits Ready.—The

CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION

described and illustrated. A graphic pen-picture of its history, grand buildings, wonderful exhibits, curiosities, great days, etc. Profusely illustrated. Beautiful premium, and very cheap. Just what is needed. 5,000 Agents wanted. Send for full particulars. This will be three times 100 years to coin money fast. Get the only reliable history.

N. D. THOMPSON & CO.,
Publishers, St. Louis, Mo.

CAUTION! Be not deceived by pretended and worthless imitations. Some will tell you what will happen in August and September.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE NEW

FARMER'S BOOK

Gives full information on all kinds of Farm Work, Drainage, Fertilizers, Rotation of Crops and Farm Stock. Includes a most valuable and practical treatise on House Building, and has all legal forms and laws for farmers. The most complete farmer's book published. Full terms to agents. Address J. C. McCURDY & CO., St. Louis, Mo.

AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE FOR OUR NEW

Centennial Family Bible,

AND BIBLICAL ENCYCLOPEDIA.

The best and cheapest in the market. Nearly 2,000 Pictorial Illustrations. Liberal commissions allowed. For terms and circulars write immediately to the U. S. BIBLE PUBLISHING CO., 505 Locust street, St. Louis, Mo.

$10 to $25 A DAY SURE MADE by Agents selling our Chromos, Crayons, Picture Cards, Frames, Stereoscopes, and Specialties. Largest and most reliable house in the business. Circulars free. Address P. W. ZIEGLER & CO., 723 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, Pa.

"DON'T FORGET IT!"—Singer's Safety Chart is worth all the Bunglar Alarms ever invented. Agents wanted everywhere. Sample chart sent prepaid on receipt of 25 cents. Address A. H. SINGER, 438 Walnut street, Philadelphia, Pa.

AGENTS If you want the best selling article in the world, and a solid Gold Patent Lever Watch, free of cost, write at once to J. BRIDE & CO., 707 Broadway, New York.

YES WE WANT an agent in every town. Easy work at home. Write now and we will start you. $5 a day sure to all. SIMPSON & SAMPLE, 46 Cortlandt st., N. Y.

AGENTS double their money selling "Dr. Chase's Improved Receipt Book." Address Dr. Chase's Printing-House, Ann Arbor, Mich.

D. MERCIER & SONS,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

CLOTHING

HATS, BOOTS, SHOES, FURNISHING GOODS, ETC.

Cor. Dauphine and Bienville Streets,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

The very best of French and English Cloths made to order in the latest styles. Prompt attention to customers and satisfaction guaranteed. Orders from Country Merchants promptly executed on the most reasonable terms.

MARVIN LINCOLN.

MANUFACTURER OF ARTIFICIAL LIMBS and various kinds of

Surgical Appliances.

The Lincoln Artificial Arm a Specialty.

Artificial Thumbs and Fingers neatly and tastefully applied.

For further information, circulars, testimonials, etc., address MARVIN LINCOLN, No. 3 Hamilton Place, Boston, Mass.

A. B. GRISWOLD & CO.,

COR. CANAL AND ROYAL STS.,

WATCHES, JEWELRY, DIAMONDS

AND SILVERWARE.

Watches and Jewelry repaired in the best manner. Goods sent C. O. D., and returnable if not suitable. Everything guaranteed to be as represented.

FLORIAN GANDE. FELIX J. LEGENDRE.

LANGE & LEGENDRE, COMMISSION Merchants and dealers in Country Produce. Office and Warehouse—17 TOULOUSE ST., New Orleans, La.

References—Schmidt & Ziegler, Wholesale Grocers, New Orleans; Jules Denis, President Levee Steam Cotton Press; Jules Cassard, Vice President German National Bank; Fike, Brother & Co., Bankers; Numa Landry, Cashier of People's Bank; Emile Legendre, St. James; Felix F. Pochs, St. James.

MISS LOUISE SCHMITT,

First Premium Paris Corset Maker.

Corsets for Ladies and Children with, defying figures are made to order, and guaranteed a perfect fit. No. 265 Camp street, between Poland and Calliope. The Magazine and Prytania Street cars both convenient.

$39 Each week to Agents. Goods Staple, in constant demand. Testimonials received. Terms liberal. Particulars free. J. Worth & Co., St. Louis, Mo.

MEDICAL.

ANGELL'S

HOMEOPATHIC PHARMACY,

52 Julia St., near Camp New Orleans.

HOMEOPATHIC MEDICINES, BOOKS CASES AND ALL OTHER ARTICLES USED IN HOMEOPATHIC PRACTICE.

TO MEET THE DEMAND FOR AIDS TO Domestic Practice, and proved by an extensive experience to be safe, generally successful and particularly adapted to family practice, remedies for the following diseases will be furnished by mail or express, with full directions as to their use:

For Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Fever, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus and Cholera Infantum, Worms, Colic, Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Worms, Colic, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Neuralgia, Headache, Sore Throat, Ear Disorders, Sore Mouth, Urinary Affections, Gravel, Piles, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Scrofula, Sore Eyes, and Nervous and General Debility—Fifty Cents each.

For Heart Affections, and Chill Drops, successful in Ague and Fever; when other remedies fail—$1 each.

Phosphorated Bitters and Colic Drops—Fifty Cents each.

DR. R. ANGELL, SR.,

continues his visiting and office practice as usual, day or night, and will prescribe and furnish medicine by letter on a full statement of case, if desirable. First prescription and medicine, three to five dollars; subsequent ones, two to three dollars. Consultation alone, free of charge, or inclosing stamped envelope. Office upstairs, 52 Julia street.

HOLMAN'S

Liver and Ague and Liver Pad

CURES WITHOUT MERICINE,

SIMPLY BY ABSORPTION.

The Best Liver Regulator in the World.

Sign of Man.

The only True cure for and Preventive of malaria, Bilious fever, Liver Complaint, Dumb Chills, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Yellow Fever, Sick Stomach, Nausea, Sick Headache, Bilious Diarrhœa.

Notice genuine without the Trade Mark and Signature of the Inventor on the Wrapper.

Clear certificates, read the little blue book "Facts," sent free on application to HOLMAN, HART & CO., Proprietors, Memphis, Tenn., & 52 Customhouse, New Orleans.

For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists Price $2 and $3.

THE ONLY TRUE AND PERFECT HAIR COLORER.

THE MYSTERY,

Or, Tutter's Hair Dye!

HARMLESS! BEAUTIFUL! PERMANENT.

This preparation has received the indorsement of the scientific world, and wherever introduced has superseded all other preparations of the kind. It is the only preparation of the hair in existence that

Is free from all Deleterious Properties, Stimulates Luxuriant Growth, Restores Gray Hair to its Original Color, Prevents the Hair from Falling Out, Removes Dandruff, Heals all Diseases of the Scalp, Makes the Hair Soft, Pliable and Glossy, and Imparts to it the Most Delightful Perfume.

And it possesses both time and labor, as a few applied with a comb, once a month or so, to Hair or Whiskers, answers the purpose, the natural color being subsequently assumed as to duration. Its great recommendation is its Action at Once, producing any desired shade, light brown to the deepest black, and entire change of hair-dye and acquired appearance produced by other Hair Dyes. The Mystery can be used on a single hair, or spots that have changed can be restored to their original shade without applying all over the head, as is necessary when other Hair Dyes.

One box sent free by mail to any address in United States upon receipt of price, One Dollar, by inventor and proprietor,

JAMES TURNER, Chemist,
P. O. Box 2231, New Orleans, La.

Wholesale Agents—L. L. Lyons, New Orleans, Hasluck, Finley & Co., New Orleans; E. J. Hart & Co., New Orleans, and for sale by Druggists everywhere.

DR. JENKINS' ANNIHILATOR.

A PURELY VEGETABLE COMPOUND, for the permanent cure of

Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia.

What the Annihilator will do.

From one to two bottles will cure any case of Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia.

From two to twelve bottles, according to form of disease, will cure any case of Rheumatism or Neuralgia.

Made of the best regulators of the circulation the blood known. S. JENKINS,

86 Camp street, New Orleans.

Wholesale Agents—A. R. FINLAY & CO., New Orleans.

MISCELLANEOUS.

RICHARD RHODES.

LATE F. CHARLEVILLE,

SPORTSMEN'S DEPOT,

88 ST. CHARLES ST., NEW ORLEANS

Articles of All Kinds for Fishermen:

As Nets, Hooks, Lines, and every desirable article for the Angler, wholesale and retail.

GUNS RIFLES and PISTOLS at every variety at direct importation. Also Sporting materials of all kinds, Game Bags, Shot Pouches, Flasks and every article needed by Hunters, will be sold at the lowest prices for cash. Also The celebrated "Eley" Gunpowder, Shot, Eley's Shells, Caps, etc., of the best quality, wholesale and retail.

R. RHODES.

Bricks! Bricks! Bricks!

ROY'S BRICK YARD,

BERNARD PARISH, four Blocks below the Slaughterhouse.

The undersigned, respectfully informs builders, owners, and all consumers of Bricks, that he is largely manufacturing Bricks at his old Brick Yard near the Slaughterhouse, where he has always on hand a large quantity of country made Brick and Kettle Tiles, ready to be delivered without detention.

FREDERIC ROY.

Orders left with S. Roy, at C. Navarre & Son's, No. 38 Decatur street, or at the Brick Yard, will be promptly attended to.

Upper Coast Semi-Weekly Packet.

FOR PORT EADS, SOUTHWEST Pass, Pilot Town, Fort Jackson and St. Phillip Burns Settlement. Pointe Fleche and all way landings. The new, swift, pressure Steamer

MARTHA,

W. S. Russell, Master,

Will for above every WEDNESDAY at 12 M., SATURDAY, at 5 P. M.

Leaving every MONDAY and FRIDAY.

For freight or passage apply on board, or to

BITTE & CARLIN, Agents.

SELF-INKING "BEST"

PRINTING PRESS, OUTFIT and PRESS $10. Presses from $1 to $65. Rotary Presses from $45 to $125. Send stamps for catalogues.

H. HOOVER & CO.,
50 North 9th street,
Philadelphia.

MENEELY & COMPANY,

Bell Founders, West Troy, New York.

Forty years established. CHURCH BELLS and CHIMES; ACADEMY, FACTORY BELLS, etc. Improved Patent Mountings. Catalogues free. Agencies.

BUSINESS CARDS.

JOHN RUNTE.

Home-Made Boots and Shoes,

SEWED AND SCREWED,

23.....CANAL STREET.....23

Between Front and Peters, New Orleans.

Orders from the country and city solicited. Exact measures taken. A good fit guaranteed. All orders left will meet with prompt attention. Quick Sales and Small Profits is my motto.

ANTON BRAUN,

35.....CHARTRES ST.....35

Bet. Customhouse and Bienville, New Orleans,

IMPORTER AND DEALER IN

FRENCH AND GERMAN LEATHER,

Findings, Shoemakers' Tools, etc.

Fancy Boot, Shoe and Galter Uppers constantly on hand and made to order.

J. D. CRASSONS,

BOOT AND SHOE STORE,

NO. 28 FRENCHMEN STREET,

Between Victory and Marais, Third District, New Orleans.

A large assortment of Boots and Shoes always on hand, and made to order. Ladies', Children's and Gentlemen's Shoes manufactured to order.

J. F. ROHRBACHER,

MANUFACTURER AND DEALER IN

BOOTS AND SHOES,

NO. 237 CAMP STREET,

Between St. Joseph and Delord, New Orleans.

Country orders promptly attended to.

MARTIN WEYDIG,

NO. 170 POYDRAS ST., NEW ORLEANS,

MANUFACTURER OF

SADDLES, HARNESS AND HOSE.

Firemen's and Military Equipments made to order. Dealer in all kinds of Leather, Rubber Hose, Leather and Rubber Pipes, Sheetings and Fire Buckets, Horse Shoes and Blankets, Lap Dusters, Whips, Fly Nets and Whips, and all kinds of Saddlery Hardware. Country orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

G. SCIACCALUGA, IMPORTER,

And Wholesale and Retail Dealer in

GROCERIES, SHIP CHANDLERY, Etc.

Nos. 157 and 159 Old Levee St.,

Between Bienville and St. Peter, New Orleans.

A full assortment of Pure Old Oil, Italian and Manilla Rope. Keeps constantly assortment of French and Italian Wines, Italian Macaroni and Vermicelli.

EDWARD NALE. W. T. CAMPBELL.

NALE & CAMPBELL,

COTTON FACTORS

AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

No. 103 Gravier Street, New Orleans.

Liberal cash advances made on consignments of Cotton, Wool, etc., and Produce generally.

COAL. COAL. COAL.

B. L. WOOD & BROS.,

Corner Camp and Cumming Streets,

(Opposite the City Hall.)

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in all kinds of COAL. Pittsburg Coal delivered by the boat-load to consignees and shipped on cars to order at lowest market prices. City trade supplied.

LUMBER AT PER 1,000 FEET

F. L. NEVERS,

Foot of Poydras and Levee.

WOOD. COAL. LUMBER.

NO. 351 DRYADES STREET, between Clouet and Euterpe sts. Best quality of Oak, Ash and Pine sawed and split Wood at lowest rates. Pittsburg and Anthracite Coal on hand and Chartered at the lowest market prices. Also agent for Avis Mills' Improved Sawed Shingles, the cheapest, the shortest-lasting. Orders left at my office, 351 Dryades street, or at 252 Dauphine street, will receive prompt attention. Satisfaction guaranteed. SAML. SMITH.

LOUISIANA STEAM SASH, BLIND

AND—

DOOR FACTORY,

ROBERTS & CO., PROPRIETORS,

301, 303, 305 and 307 Gravier Street,

Country Orders Solicited. New Orleans.

BOOTS, SHOES AND TRUNKS

OF VARIOUS QUALITIES AND PRICES

At Low Figures for Cash.

Country Merchants and Planters will do well to call on the small profit house where

H. HAMEL,

No. 51 Magazine street, and No. 10 Decatur street.

JOHN A. CAIRNS,

GENERAL ENGRAVER,

101 CANAL STREET 101

Wedding and Visiting Cards neatly engraved and printed. Special attention given to Crests, Monograms, etc., etc. Jewelry and Silverware neatly engraved.

ADOLPHE J. LEROY & CO.,

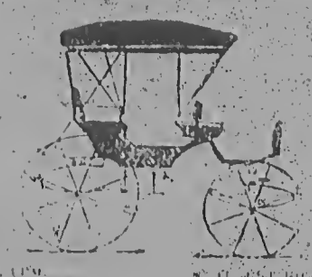
BOOK-BINDERS, RULERS,

AND BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURERS,

92 Camp Street. 92

(Over James A. Gresham's.) New Orleans.

Music Books and Periodicals bound in any desired style.



J. A. LEH & CO. N. O. C. A. BUGGY.

J. A. LEH & CO.,

MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN

CARRIAGES, HARNESS, ETC.

102 Gravier and 13 Union Street.

A SPECIALTY MADE OF CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

J. H. KELLER,

MANUFACTURER OF

Office, 110 Gravier St. ESTABLISHED 1849.

ALL KINDS OF LAUNDRY AND TOILET SOAPS.

JOHN I. ADAMS. JAY L. ADAMS. WM. H. BENARD.

JOHN I. ADAMS & CO.,

WHOLESALE GROCERS,

AND DEALERS IN

PROVISIONS, LARD, OIL, ETC.

Nos. 43, 45 and 47 Peters Street.

(Formerly New Levee street,) New Orleans.

PELICAN

IMPROVED RICE MILLS.

J. B. & A. JOHNSON, Proprietors,

154, 156 and 158 Magazine St., New Orleans.

MILLING RATES—No 1 at 5c. per pound; No. 2 at 4c. per pound. Address all orders for empty Sacks to P. O. Box 2467.

BUSINESS CARDS.

JOHN CAHILL,

Wholesale and Retail Grocer,

And dealer in Groceries, Teas, etc.,

643.....MAGAZINE STREET.....643

Corner of Jackson, New Orleans.

Goods delivered to all parts of the city free of drayage.

COAL.....COAL.

H. & C. TYLER,

9.....CARONDELET ST.....9

will sell Pittsburg, Anthracite and Cannel COAL, in quantities to suit customers, at the lowest market rates.

H. & C. TYLER.

ANDREW J. AIKEN, JOHN W. WATT.

AIKEN & WATT,

COTTON FACTORS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

46 Union Street, New Orleans, La.

Special attention given to orders for the purchase of all descriptions of Produce, Agricultural Implements and Plantation Supplies.

WILLIAM VELSEN,

DEALER IN

WOOD, COAL AND ICE,

Corner Phillip and Peyfanta Streets,

NEW ORLEANS, La.

Meat Good Pitcher can be free of charge.

F. R. HARDON,

SALESMAN

MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS

Nos. 27 and 29 Chartres Street,

Bet. Conti and Customhouse streets,

NEW ORLEANS.

JOHN McGINNESS,

113 CANAL STREET 113

Bet. Royal and Exchange Place, North side.

LADIES' AND GENTLEMEN'S

Boots and Shoes Made to Order.

A fine assortment of Ready-Made Gentlemen's Boots and Shoes always on hand. Also Valises, Trunks and Bags.

CHANDLER & ANDREW,

DEALERS IN

COAL AND WOOD.

Yard, Cor. Philip & Tchoupitoulas Sts.

Orders left at Yard or at Carondelet depot will receive prompt attention.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

WILLIAM T. HELEN,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

No. 108 N. Fourth Street, St. Louis, Mo.

DR. W. C. MUNN,

Corner Jackson and Magazine Streets,

New Orleans.

DR. JOHN W. ADAMS,

SURGEON DENTIST,

Office and Residence, 240 Carondelet Street,

(Late Professional Rooms and Residence, 240 Carondelet Street, New Orleans.)

All operations in Dentistry performed in the most careful and skillful manner.

A. L. TICKER,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

Office, Franklinton, St. Tammany Parish, La.

Office, COMMON STREET, 109

Opposite Custom House, New Orleans.

REMOVAL. AGAIN. Having now in the possession of myself and family, the house and premises No. 1 Carondelet Place, corner of Napoleon avenue, to which I have removed my residence, and having fitted up the same with all the modern conveniences and improvements, and for the purpose of taking boarders and others by the day, week or month, I am now prepared to accommodate all who may favor me with their patronage. Dentistry performed in the most skillful manner. Dr. Walker's Vitalized Air administered when desired.

J. H. WALKER, D. D. S.

DR. C. J. RICHIAU,

HOMŒOPATHIC PHYSICIAN,

619 Magazine St., Corner of Jackson,

NEW ORLEANS.

Office Hours—From 8 to 10 A. M. and 2 to 4 P. M.

DR. J. J. MAYNES,

NO. 240 PAVIA OR GEST STREET,

Between Dauphine and Burgundy,

New Orleans.

E. T. MERRICK, (former Chief Justice) } Counsellors
O. W. RACK, } at Law.

MERRICK, PACE & POITEVENT,

ATTORNEYS, COUNSELLORS

AND SOLICITORS,

Corner of Camp Street and Commercial Place,

New Orleans.

MISCELLANEOUS.

H. J. RIVET,

DEALER IN

Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines,

AND PERFUMERY AND TOILET ARTICLES,

FRENCH PREPARATIONS, ETC.

Cor. Bienville and Chartres Sts.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Proprietor of the celebrated Rivet Cologne.

GET THE BEST.

A NEW AND IMPROVED SEWING MACHINE.

The CENTENNIAL, Price $30.

Has the latest improvements. Runs light, makes the lock stitch alike on both sides, and is unsurpassed for family use. Every machine warranted for three years. Send for circular. Agents wanted. Address

W. M. WATSON, No. 6 Faneuil Hall Square, Boston.

WM. B. RINGROSE,

NO. 172 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS,

DEALER IN

New & Second-Hand Furniture.

Furniture bought, sold and exchanged. Now occupies the large and spacious store, 47 Camp St., between Canal and Bank, in Cabaret St. Patrick's church, for the purpose of taking Furniture on storage at the lowest rates. Jobbing, repairing and moving promptly attended to.

"FRESHOT" EVER and Exterminator.—Roaches, Ants, Flies, Rats and Mice sent freely mail on the receipt of 50 cents only.

W. H. TEN EYCK,
78 Fulton Street, New York.

Baxter, Bell & Co.'s Pure Liquid Paints

WARRANTED PURE, AND NOT TO CONTAIN Water or Alkali. These Paints are of twenty different shades and for covering capacity, durability, fineness and beauty of finish they cannot be excelled by any other description of Paint offered in this market to dealers. Send for sample card to the Agents,

SAMUEL M. TODD & CO.,
76 Magazine street, New Orleans.

MISCELLANEOUS.

COTTON PLANTERS, ATTENTION!

Save Your Unopened Cotton Bolls.—Read the Following Certificates, and Profit by the Experience of Others.

OFFICE OF CLARKE JOHNSON & CO.,
MEMPHIS, TENN., December 2, 1876.

MESSRS. ALLISON BROS., Memphis, Tenn.—Gents: I have in successful operation on my plantation, at Bradley's Landing, Ark., one of your Complete Cotton Cleaners, and truly find it an indispensable machine for my ginhouse. It does to perfection all you claim for it in removing the dirt, dust and light leaf trash from cotton, in addition to lint, it enables me to save all the cotton in opening on my grids in unopened and frosted bolls. These would be a total loss, as I know of no gin on which they can be ginned; but by running through your C. C. C. they are opened and separated in such a manner that I can, on my cotton gin, make a sample of cotton for which I put on sale 1 cent per pound above what I consider a fair quotation of at least thirty dollars on every bale of cotton sent to market in a hundred bales.

The profit resulting from the use of your C. C. C. in such a case is immense, and no planter should, this season especially, be without one of them. Yours, etc.,

E. E. CLARKE.

MEMPHIS, TENN., December 2, 1876.

MESSRS. ALLISON BROS., Memphis, Tenn.—Gents: The last season I ran one of your Complete Cotton Cleaners in the Memphis cotton, and in addition to the work I have already given which pertains to the cleaning of lint, I experimented fully as much in working on the opened and frosted bolls. Unopened bolls were not the rule with me, but the exception, as I ginned from the ground, as nearly as possible, every boll of cotton that matured on the stalk. I found that I could gin a sample of cotton worth from 25 to 50 cents per pound.

I believe I can safely put the cotton I ginned on the bolls now left in the fields, during the month of December, at from 10 to 15 cents per pound, and that I would be glad to contract on a certain number of bales with parties who have cotton on the bolls, that I will find out for them. Yours, etc.,

R. E. DAVIS.

MESSRS. ALLISON BROS., Memphis, Tenn.—Gents: I have had the Complete Cotton Cleaner in full operation, and find it does all the work it is recommended to do. My cleaner has paid for itself in two weeks' work. I can also add that I have experimented fully as much in working on the opened and frosted bolls, and have found that I can gin a sample of cotton worth from 25 to 50 cents per pound. I believe I can safely put the cotton I ginned on the bolls now left in the fields during the month of December, at from 10 to 15 cents per pound, and that I would be glad to contract on a certain number of bales with parties who have cotton on the bolls, that I will find out for them. Yours, etc.,

R. E. DAVIS.

MESSRS. ALLISON BROS., Memphis, Tenn.—Gents: I have had the Complete Cotton Cleaner in full operation, and find it does all the work it is recommended to do. My cleaner has paid for itself in two weeks' work. I can also add that I have experimented fully as much in working on the opened and frosted bolls, and have found that I can gin a sample of cotton worth from 25 to 50 cents per pound. I believe I can safely put the cotton I ginned on the bolls now left in the fields during the month of December, at from 10 to 15 cents per pound, and that I would be glad to contract on a certain number of bales with parties who have cotton on the bolls, that I will find out for them. Yours, etc.,

R. E. DAVIS.

The crop of cotton and cotton seed in Louisiana and Mississippi for 1876 will be very large, and we cannot urge too strongly upon planters the necessity of saving every dollar's worth of what he has planted and is growing. The Complete Cotton Cleaner will do this work, and we refer to the above testimonials, which we could duplicate from hundreds of others, as evidence that it does all we claim for it. Planters, especially this cold backward season, cannot afford to leave cotton on the bolls to be destroyed by frost, when with a Complete Cotton Cleaner they can gin it out, and have the seed for planting next year. Remember, the Complete Cotton Cleaner is manufactured and sold by

ALLISON BROS., MEMPHIS, TENN.,

Who will also supply all parts of the Cleaner, and will be glad to receive orders for the same.

FRIERSON & CO., Agents, 77 Carondelet St., New Orleans.

NATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHER

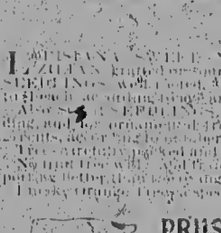
Edited by M. C. HAZARD. Is conducted by the best Teachers' Help published. Has the most thorough, helpful and inspiring lessons, the best corps of contributors, and the most popular editorial departments. Not to be examined in order to be taken. Terms, $1.50 per year. Clubs of five or more receive six Lesson Papers with each copy. Sample copy sent free on application to

ADAMS, BLACKMER, & LYON PUB. CO., CHICAGO.

The Centennial Manufacturing Co.,

No. 143 Walnut St., Philadelphia.

TANNERINE.



AGENTS WANTED.

Goodyear's Pocket Gymnasium

Goodyear Rubber Caster Company,
P. O. Box 4722. 750 Broadway, New York.
Mention this paper in writing us.

20,000

ORANGE TREES!

W. R. STUART,

CLEAR SPRINGS, MISS.

PRUSSIAN SALVE

FOR

CUTS, BURNS, BRUISES, Sprains, BROWN NAILS, CORNS, BUNIONS, BITES, FELON, CHILBLAINS, SORES, SCALDS, BOILS, SORE NIPPLES, CHAPPED HANDS, SORE EYES, TETTER, CHAPPED LIPS, PILES, SALT RHEUM, FEVER SORES, TOOTHACHE, ERUPTIONS, and all diseases requiring an external remedy.

This Salve is warranted to give perfect satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. For sale by druggists generally. Price 25 cents per box.

CISTERN-MAKER.

R. RHODERICK,

Nos. 123, 125 and 127 Old Levee St.,

Between Conti and Bienville, New Orleans.

Will attend to the sale of Cotton, Sugar Hhds., Mules, Hides, Wool, Eggs, Poultry, Game of all kinds, Beeswax, Honey, and every description of Garden Produce. Country orders solicited.

ELECTRO STEREOTYPE TYPE FOUNDRY.

WOOD ENGRAVING AND PRINTING

Presses and Printing Material.

Dry Goods Cheap For Cash.

THE ATTENTION of Country Merchants and Planters is invited to my large and well selected stock of Dry Goods, Notions, Boots and Shoes, Hats, Caps, Clothing, Hardware, Groceries, Provisions, Tobacco, Cigars, Wines, Liquors, etc., etc., which I am offering at the lowest cash prices.

P. W. MOHR,

ALGIERS, OPPOSITE NEW ORLEANS.

OTTO ZEIL,

General Engraver and Book-Binders' Tool Cutter,

Designs made for Sole Leather Pack Stamps.

N. W. COR. FOURTH AND MAIN STREETS,

(Second Floor,) CINCINNATI, O.

Has Trade Mark, Cotton, Screw, Stencil and other Ornamental Stamps, Stamps, Lettering Brands, Door Plates, etc.

J. A. BOTTO,

COMMISSION MERCHANT,

117 DECATUR STREET 117

Near Old Levee,

P. O. Lock Box 2. NEW ORLEANS.

Will attend to the sale of Cotton, Sugar Hhds., Mules, Hides, Wool, Eggs, Poultry, Game of all kinds, Beeswax, Honey, and every description of Garden Produce. Country orders solicited.

FREE! Samples best article in use, sent free to ladies or gents. Business respectable, profitable and pleasant for clergymen, teachers and others of genteel appearance and average ability. Send your letters and address D. E. BAY & CO., Chicago.

NEW ENGLAND CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC. Largest in the world. 1500 students last ten years. 32 eminent professors. 115 lessons for $18. E. TOURJEE, Music Hall, Boston.

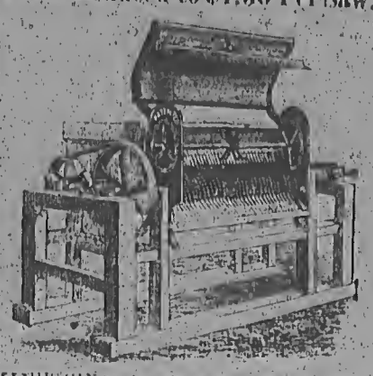
MACHINERY, TILES, ETC.

DANIEL PRATT'S IMPROVED

"Revolving Head" Cotton Gin.

PATENTED JULY 18, 1871.

Price Reduced to $4.50 Per Saw.



THIS GIN has been in use for the past three seasons, and several recent improvements have been added. Heavy bites all the way around the cotton box prevents the fall front breaking, and gives Larger Yield of Lint than the Same Amount of Seed than any other Gin in use. The "Revolving Head" lights the drill and rakes the lint off with greater ease, less driving power, and doing a cleaner, more even work with the same time. No extra steam or animal power than is required for the ordinary Gin now being claimed. Very close ginning. Length of the staple is increased, producing a much heavier sample. Judge a great deal by the "Lint Turn Out" Gin, given by length of staple, with every other thing being equal. Every machine warranted to give entire satisfaction. Send for circular, containing names of more than fifteen hundred of the most prominent planters in every parish in Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Alabama and Arkansas.

JOS. B. WOLFE & CO.,

GENERAL AGENTS,

59 Carondelet St. 59

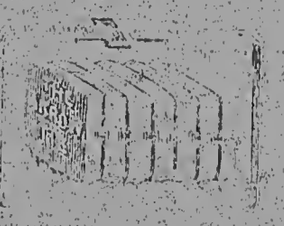
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

BEN. F. WOLFE,

AGENT FOR THE STATE OF TEXAS,

22 Main Street. 22

HOUSTON, TEXAS.



OFFICE OF THE

American Cotton Tie Co.,

LIMITED.

17 CARONDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS.

To the Planters:

IRON COTTON TIES,

Planters and Country Merchants Generally.

We beg to inform you that we are prepared, through our new factory, to supply you with the celebrated Ties

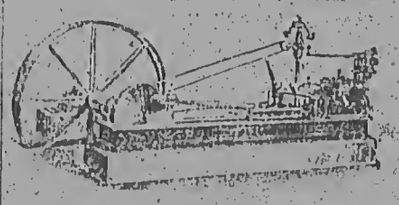
THE ARROW AND SHOE STAY.
BEARD & BRO.'S BUCK TIE.
BRANCH CROSS & CO.'S LOCK TIE.

We also beg to inform the public that the Interests of Messrs. Beard & Bro. and Branch, Crooker & Co. have been transferred to and with the AMERICAN COTTON TIE CO. (LIMITED.) The following are the New Orleans Agents:

Stewart, Hall & Co. Gibbon & Bell.
Clerget & Bell. Victor Maillard.
Wilkins & Jamison. D. L. Jaudon & Co.

For the American Cotton Tie Co. Limited:

R. W. RAYNE, & CO.,
General Agents.



STEAM ENGINES,

BOILERS & MACHINERY

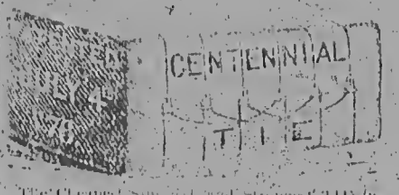
MANUFACTURED BY

L. & R. GREENWALD,

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Having long established shops in this city, we are prepared, through our new factory, to supply orders promptly. Orders left with Messrs. Gibbon & Bell, 59 Carondelet street, New Orleans, will receive prompt attention.

R. C. HOLLOWAY,
Agent for Louisiana and Mississippi.



The Cheapest, Simplest and Strongest Tile in the market. Requires but one piece to form the bond. Every Tile guaranteed to be perfect. Address

R. C. HOLLOWAY,
Box 1, Station D, St. Louis, Mo.

PORTABLE and STATIONARY

STEAM ENGINES & BOILERS.

SAW, FLOUR AND GRIST MILLS.

MILL GEARING MADE

Without Patterns.

SHAFTING, PULLEYS AND HANGERS.

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

The UNEQUALED JAS. LEFFEL DOUBLE TURBINE WATER WHEEL, 7000 in use.

ADDRESS POOLE & HUNT.

SEND FOR CIRCULARS, BALTIMORE, MD.

KING SOLOMON AND THE IRON WORKER.

The Finest Masonic Engravings on Steel ever published. Illustrating a "Tradition of the Great Temple at Jerusalem and its Builders." From the Original Painting by Prof. J. Schnitzler.

ENGRAVED BY JOHN SARTAIN.

Churches, Lodges, Colleges and Children will find it peculiarly interesting. Masons will be interested in the work of their brethren in Christ.

We want a Few Bright Masons to act as Agents.

It is Sartain's best Engraving, and we think the finest Engraving we have ever seen.—Masonic Review, Cincinnati, O.

$10 a day or more can be made at it.—Keystone, Philadelphia.

For terms, territory, and circulars, with full information for this and other engravings, address

BRADLEY & CO.,
48 N. Fourth St., Philadelphia.

75 VISITING CARDS, no 2 alike, 1 name, 30 cts. and 3ct. stamp. 30 4 packs, 4 names, $1. Prettiest assortment you ever saw. No better work in the world, at any price! Common Cards at Unheard-of rates. Write plain. W. C. CANNON, 712 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

TEACHERS WANTED—To supply vacancies in Schools, Academies, and Seminaries in the different States. Send for "Mutual Plan." Address American Educational Union, 737 Broadway, N. Y.

New Orleans Markets.

ADVOCATE OFFICE, New Orleans, Tuesday, Dec. 26, 1876.

MONETARY.

Banks are discounting nearly all the paper that is considered desirable, leaving street lenders long dates and second-rate names to select from. Sales of specials at 10@12% per cent. per annum at 20@ with slight fluctuations. Gold moves at 107@107¼.

Bank sight exchange on New York, ¼ per cent. discount. Sterling exchange, bank 60 days, at 487½ for currency and 483½ for gold.

London Money Market—Bank rate, 2 per cent.; United States 6-20's, 1881, 106; United States 10-40's, 107.

Rate of interest here unchanged.

COTTON.

The movement on Wednesday and Thursday was brisk, particularly for clean Saturday and the higher grades; as compared with the week, and in some instances ¼ of a cent, was obtained on Thursday. Sales on Friday and Saturday were less, owing to difficulty of finding suitable lots offered, as many sellers prefer to wait for better prices since the decline in Liverpool is somewhat checked. The large crop estimates are by no means aside. Monday being a general holiday, no business was done. On Tuesday sales were light, and market firm. For further particulars see following tables.

DAILY EXCHANGE QUOTATIONS.

Day.	Low Ordinary.	Ordinary.	Good Ordinary.	Low Middling.	Middling.	Good Middling.
Wednesday
Thursday
Friday
Saturday
Monday
Tuesday

DAILY QUOTATIONS AT THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT MARKETS.

Day.	Mobile.	Galveston.	Memphis.	New York.	Liverpool.
	Middling.	Middling.	Middling.	Middling.	Middling.
Wednesday
Thursday
Friday
Saturday
Monday
Tuesday

COTTON STATEMENT.

	Bales.
Stock (gross) in New Orleans	202,178
Receipts at New Orleans	6,681
Receipts at New Orleans last year	583,994
Increase	43,588
Receipts at all United States ports	2,370,120
Receipts at all U. S. ports last year	2,0?,?58
Increase	302,??
Stock at Liverpool	491,000
Of which American	260,000
Total receipts at Liverpool since September 1, 1876	981,000
Of which American	681,000
World's supply	2,??,??3

SUGAR AND MOLASSES.

The fever presents a disagreeable view to pedestrians who undertake to push their way around hogsheads, barrels, drays and floats, through the slush; and yet here is found our great saccharine market, where buyer and seller meet. The sugar sheds are proven the very thing needed by our busy levee men, as well as by the owner of sugar and molasses, during this severe weather. Hundreds of hogsheads and thousands of barrels are safely housed and sheltered from the rain, and out of the mud.

Sugar.—Unchanged. Sales fair and at full prices, which are: Inferior 5c.; common, 6½c.; fair, 6½c.; fully fair, 7½c.; prime, 8c.; choice, 8½@8¾c.; claried, yellow, 9½@10c.; white, 11c.; centrifugals range from 8¼ to 11c.

Molasses.—Better grades in good demand. Inferior neglected, at prices same as last week, viz.: Common, 35c. per gallon; fair, 40c.; prime, 43c.; strictly prime, 45c@47½c; and strictly choice, 50c.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Breadstuffs, Provisions and Feedstuffs are firm but quiet, orders being confined to coast, Texas and railroad routes, as the tributaries are so low that light-draft boats cannot navigate several of them. A boat has returned from the mouth of Red river, being unable to cross the bar at the mouth. The upper rivers are still closed by ice. Hopes are entertained that the gorge at Columbus will soon break up and release the boats that are waiting at Cairo.

TIMBER MARKET.

Yellow pine logs, of 20 inches diameter and over, $6@$7 ₱ 1,000 feet.

Cypress logs, sound timber, free from shake and pecks, and 25 inches in diameter, $7@$10 ₱ 1,000 feet.

Black walnut logs, averaging 34 inches in diameter, and not less than 14 feet long, $20@$25 ₱ 1,000 feet.

White oak logs, of 20 inches in diameter and over, $14@$18.

Poplar logs, of 20 inches and over in diameter, $5@$7 ₱ 1,000 feet.

(All rafts are carefully measured, and cubic contents reduced to board measure.)

Report of Dealers' Cash Prices

AT WHICH

COUNTRY ORDERS CAN BE FILLED.

REVISED AND CORRECTED WEEKLY.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

ARTICLES.	FROM	TO
Cotton scrapers	$4 00	— —
Cotton sweeps	3 00	4 50
Cultivators, Diam. and shovel-tooth	6 25	9 00
Cultivators, riding and walking	20 00	35 00
Hoes and spades	6 33	14 00
Axes	9 50	13 00
Shovel plows	3 00	5 52
" all do. with cutters	6 00	8 00
Manly's double-shovel plow	5 00	7 00
Straub's corn mills	115 00	280 00
Corn mills, Coleman's	120 00	225 00
B. J. West's corn mill	280 00	— —
Tunyard's corn and pea planter	15 00	— —
Cotton planter	15 00	— —
Wagons, Carts, Etc.:
Wagon, two-horse	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	100 00	115 00
Wagon, two-horse, thim. skein	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	90 00	100 00
Cane wagon	— —	200 00
Ox wagon	— —	125 00
Ox cart, complete	115 00	— —
Cane cart	110 00	115 00
Pointe cart, complete	— —	120 00
Plantation cart	— —	55 00
Baggage cart	65 00	75 00
Iron, etc.:
Hoes, assorted	7	7½
Hoops	4½	5
Steel	4½	7
Nail rods	4½	5½
Castings, American	4½	5½

BUILDING MATERIAL.

Bricks, ₱ 1,000:
Lake	12 50	13 00
Country	9 00	10 00
English fire	45 00	45 00
Lime, ₱ bbl.:
Western	1 50	1 75
"	2 00	2 25
Plaster Paris	2 25	2 50
Lumber, ₱ 1,000 feet:
Flooring, dressed	16 00	18 00
Flooring, rough	— —	16 00
Ceiling, dressed	10 00	12 00
Weatherboards, dressed	14 00	16 00
Weatherboards, rough	— —	12 00
Sawing	10 00	12 00
" scantling	— —	3 75
Nails, best brights	3 20	— —
Smaller, sizes proportionately
Bigler	— —	— —
Glass, ₱ box 60 to 100 feet:
French, 8 by 10	— —	3 50
French, 10 by 12	3 75	4 00
French, 10 by 14 to 12 by 20	4 00	4 25
French, 14 by 18 to 18 by 26	4 25	4 75
White Lead, best, ₱ lb	— —	10
Paris Green, ₱ lb	30	— —
Ind. Brown, ₱ lb	12	14
Whiting, ₱ lb	— —	1½
Putty, in bladders, ₱ lb	— —	4½
Linseed Oil, ₱ gal.	— —	70

SASH, BLINDS AND DOORS.

Window-sash, 12 lights:

Size of lights.	Sash per pair, Unglazed.	Glazed.	Blinds, per pair.
8x10	90	$1 70	$2 00
10x12	65	1 95	2 25
10x16	$1 00	2 95	3 25

Sash Doors:	Single.	Double.
6 feet 6 inches	$4 50	$5 70
7 "	4 70	— —
8 feet 6 inches	— —	4 25

Panel Doors:

2 ft. 4 in. x 6 ft. 6 in. thick	$3 25
2 ft. 8 in. x 6 ft. 6 in. thick	3 45
3 ft. 0 in. x 6 ft. 6 in. thick	3 75 4 10

GROCERIES.

Butter, ₱ lb:
Western choice	32	34
Goshen choice	45	48
Coffee, ₱ lb:
Rio, fair	18½	19½
Rio, good	20	21
Rio, prime	21½	22½
Java, choice O. G.	— —	31
Candles, ₱ lb:
Standard brands	— —	15
Chocolate, ₱ lb:
Cocoa	28	30
Sweet	28	33
Canned Fruits, ₱ doz.:
Peaches, Strawberries and pears	2 25	2 50
Corn Meal, ₱ bbl:
Best, K	— —	4 00
Cheese, ₱ lb:
Western factory	12½	14
N. Yetreum and English dairy	15½	16
Fish:
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in bbls	— —	22 00
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in kits	— —	8 00
Sardines, quarter boxes	— —	15
Flour, ₱ bbl:
Superfine	5 25	5 25
XX	5 75	6 50
XXX	6 25	6 75
Choice XXX	7 25	7 50
Choice family	7 50	8 00
Fruits:
Dried apples, ₱ lb	10	10½
Dried peaches, ₱ lb	9½	10
Raisins, ₱ quarter box	— —	1 80
Raisins, ₱ half box	— —	1 90
Raisins, ₱ whole box	— —	2 75
Raisins, ₱ bunch	1 00	3 00
Crackers, ₱ lb:
Soda	5	6
Butter	8	9
Sugar	7	8
Gingernuts	7	12½
Oil:
Coal, machine, best	— —	58
Illuminating, in cans	— —	50
Coal, in barrels, best	32	33
Lard, in barrels, best	1 10	1 12½
Molasses, in barrels:
Common	40	42
Fair	41	43
Prime to choice	48	50
Golden and Toquet syrups	80	85
Half bbls. 5c and kegs 10c. more.
Rice, Louisiana, ₱ lb:
No. 2	— —	3
Ordinary	4½	5
Fair	5¾	6½
Prime to choice	6¾	7½
Soap, in boxes, ₱ lb:
XXX Palm	7	8
Keller's magnolia	— —	5
Keller's olive	— —	6½
Starch, ₱ lb	4	5
Salt, in sacks:
Fine	1 30	1 35
Coarse	1 05	1 10
Sugar, in bbls:
Good fair	7	7½
Prime	8	8½
Choice	9¼	9½
Yellow clarified	10¼	10½
White clarified	10¾	11¼
Crushed	12	12½
Powdered	12	12½
Spices, ₱ lb:
Alspice	18	18
Pepper	20	20
Cloves	60	60
Cinnamon	32	32
Tea, ₱ lb:
Black Oolong	— —	1 00
Green Imperial	— —	1 25
Tobacco, manufactured, ₱ lb:
Chewing, common	45	50
Chewing, fair	50	55
Chewing, prime	60	65
Chewing, choice	90	1 00
Smoking	90	1 00

GRAIN AND FEED.

Corn, ₱ bu:
Yellow, choice	— —	60
White	62	65
Oats, ₱ bushel:
St. Louis	— —	48
Texas	— —	45
Tulane	— —	50
Bran, chaice, ₱ 100 lbs	— —	90
Hay, ₱ cwt:
Prime timothy	— —	1 20
Ordinary	— —	1 00
Cotton Seed Meal	20 00	23 00

PROVISIONS.

Bacon, ₱ lb:
Breakfast	— —	13
Shoulders	— —	8
Sides, clear rib	9½	9¾
Sides, clear	10	10½
Hams, sugar cured	13½	14½
Mess Pork, ₱ bbl	15 75	19 75
Dry Salted Meats:
Shoulders	— —	— —
Lard, ₱ lb:
Choice in kegs	11¾	12
Choice in tierces	11	11¾

BALING STUFFS.

Bagging:
India	9½	10½
Jutes	12½	13½
Ties, Arrow, best per thousand, at 30 days	— —	3 30
Iron and buckles	— —	3 50
Hoard	— —	3 50
Twine, hemp	— —	18

SUNDRIES.

Leather, ₱ lb:
Sole, bends	27	29
Sole, oak	25	27
Harness	33	35
Calf skins, ₱ dozen	60 00	75 00
Axes	— —	26
Fertilizers, ₱ ton:
Stern's raw bone superphosph.	65 00	— —
Stern's fine ground bone	45 00	— —
Cotton Seed:
In sacks	11 00	— —

DRY GOODS.

Brown Domestic, ₱ yard:
Standard brands, ¾	7	9
Standard brands, 4-4	9	11
Bleached Domestic, ₱ yard:
A below brands, ¾	8	10
Choice brands, 4-4	9	12½
Calico, ₱ yard:
Common brands	4½	5½
Sprague, Allen & Hamilton	6½	7½
Batting, ₱ yard:
Common brands	10	11½
Good	12	22½
Gunnebags:
Eight ounce	11½	12½
Stripes	10	12½
Checks	11	15
Denims	12	18

BOOTS AND SHOES.

Batchelor hand boots, ₱ doz	36 00	42 00
Common mud boots, ₱ doz	— —	30 00
Common brogans, ₱ doz	12 00	15 00
Batchelor brogans, ₱ doz	15 00	16 80
Russets' brogans, ₱ doz	15 00	19 80

Special Notices.

A Gem worth Reading!—A Picture worth Seeing!

SAVE YOUR EYES!

Restore your Sight!

THROW AWAY your SPECTACLES,

By reading our Illustrated PHYSIOLOGY AND ANATOMY of the EYE SIGHT. Tells how to Restore Impaired Vision and Overworked Eyes; how to cure Weak, Watery, Inflamed, and Near-Sighted Eyes, and all other Diseases of the Eyes.

WASTE NO MORE MONEY BY ADJUSTING HUGE GLASSES ON YOUR NOSE AND DISFIGURING YOUR FACE. Pamphlet of 100 pages Mailed Free. Send your address to us also.

Agents Wanted,

Gents or Ladies. $5 to $10 a day guaranteed. Full particulars sent free. Write immediately, to DR. J. BALL & CO., (P. O. Box 9574) No. 91 Liberty St., New York City, N. Y.

Appointments for Quarterly Meetings.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

VICKSBURG DIST.—FIRST ROUND.

Warren circuit, at Bovina	Jan. 20, 21
Fayette, at Ebenezer	27, 28
Kingston, at Washington	Feb. 2
Natchez	3, 4
Cayuga, at Cayuga	10, 11
Rocky Springs, at Rocky Springs	17, 18
Port Gibson	24, 25
Mound Bluff, at Satartia	Mar. 3, 4
Clover Hill	10, 11
Rolling Fork	17, 18
Vicksburg	24, 25

The district stewards will please meet in Vicksburg, March 21, 1877.

28 T. M. FEATHERSTON, P. E.

BROOKHAVEN DIST.—FIRST ROUND.

Brookhaven station	Jan. 6, 7
Hazlehurst station	13, 14
Beaver Creek and Wesson, at Wesson	20, 21
Crystal Springs station	27, 28
Raymond circuit, at Raymond	Feb. 3, 4
Spring Ridge circuit, at Oak Hill	10, 11
Georgetown circuit, at Mount Pleasant	17, 18
Providence circuit, at New Hope	24, 25
Bayou Pierre circuit, at Pleasant Valley	Mar. 3, 4
Scotland circuit, at Sweet Water	10, 11
Brandywine circuit, at Sarepta	17, 18

The district stewards will please meet at the parsonage, in Hazlehurst, on Friday, January 12, 1877, at eleven o'clock A. M. They are: R. S. Ricketts, F. D. Wimberly, R. C. T. S. Hilliard, D. McRee, H. F. Burkin, B. H. Catching, Willis Barnes, Jesse Thompson, I. V. Enochs, T. A. Catching and T. L. Hunter.

21 W. L. C. HUNNICUTT, P. E.

JACKSON DIST.—FIRST ROUND.

Jackson station	Jan. 6, 7
Jackson circuit, at Timon's	13, 14
Brownsville circuit, at Edwards'	20, 21
Madison circuit at Madison station	27, 28
Canton station	Feb. 2, 3
Pearl River, at Pearl River	9, 10
Sharon, at Lone Pine	16, 17
Camden and Sofie chapel	23, 24
Yazoo circuit, at Bedoth	Mar. 2, 3
Silver Creek at Palmetto Home	9, 10
Yazoo City	16, 17
Dover circuit, at Fletcher's chapel	23, 24

The district stewards will please meet the presiding elder at Canton on the eleventh day of January, at Phillips & Jones' drug store, at eleven o'clock A. M.

21 WM. H. HINES, P. E.

WOODVILLE DIST.—FIRST ROUND.

Woodville station	Jan. 6, 7
Clinton station	20, 21
East Feliciana, at Oak Grove	27, 28
Wilkinson, at Bethel	Feb. 3, 4
Jackson and Pipkin's chapel, at Jackson	10, 11
Concord, at Concord	17, 18
Bayou Sara, at Bayou Sara	24, 25
Buffalo	Mar. 3, 4

The preacher on Buffalo circuit will please let me know the place of the first quarterly meeting.

The district stewards will meet in Jackson, January 13. Brethren, please attend, if possible.

21 J. L. FORSYTH, P. E.

SUMMIT DIST.—FIRST ROUND.

Summit, at Summit	Jan. 6, 7
Bogueschitto, at Bogueschitto	13, 14
Meadville, at Meadville	20, 21
Amite, at Liberty	27, 28
St. Helena, at Center	Feb. 3, 4
Magnolia, at Magnolia	10, 11
Chinn Grove, at Chinn Grove	17, 18
Franklinton, at Mount Hermon	24, 25
Covington, at Covington	Mar. 3, 4
Amite City, at Amite City	10, 11
Springfield, at Springfield	17, 18
East Baton Rouge, at Beech Grove	24, 25

The recording stewards will please bring their record books to the Quarterly Conference Brethren, do not fail in this. If you cannot attend, send the journal.

The district stewards will meet in Magnolia at eleven A. M., February 10, 1877.

21 JAMES A. GODFREY, P. E.

SEASHORE DIST.—FIRST ROUND.

Columbia and Columbia	Jan. 6, 7
Purvington, at Purvington	13, 14
Ocean Springs, at Ocean Springs	20, 21
Moss Point, at Moss Point	27, 28
Pascagoula mission, at Salem	Feb. 3, 4
White Plains, at White Plains	10, 11
Chickasawhia mission, at Mutual Rights	Mar. 3, 4
Enon, at Enon	9, 10, 11
Scotia mission, at Scotia chapel	17, 18
Westville, at Westville	24, 25
Franklin, at Wesleyanna	31, Apr. 1
Mount Carmel, at Good Hope	Apr. 7, 8

A full attendance of the official members at the first quarterly meeting is earnestly requested, as important business will be transacted.

My postoffice is Amite City, La.

11 THOMAS PIPPY, P. E.

BRANDON DIST.—FIRST ROUND.

Morton and Forest, at Grange House	Dec. 16, 17
Trenton, at Trenton	23, 24
Lake, at Lake	30, 31
Brandon	Jan. 6, 7
Fannin, at Cuba	13, 14
Carthage, at Chisholm	20, 21
Walnut Grove, at Scotland	27, 28
Newton, at Newton	Feb. 3, 4
Hillsboro, at Hillsboro	10, 11
Philadelphia, at Pine Grove	17, 18
Union, at Smith's chapel	24, 25
Raleigh, at Oak Ridge	Mar. 3, 4
Homewood mission, at Homewood

The district stewards will meet at Lake, on Saturday, December 30, at eleven o'clock A. M.

11 WILL H. LEITH, P. E.

MERIDIAN DIST.—FIRST ROUND.

Enterprise station	Dec. 16, 17
Shubuta and Mc Gowan, at Shubuta	23, 24
Meridian station	30, 31
Wayne circuit, at Scott's chapel	Jan. 6, 7
Waynesboro circuit, at Waynesboro	13, 14
Clark mission, at Shady Grove	20, 21
Marion circuit and Lauderdale mission, at Coker's	27, 28
Paulding circuit and Ellisville mission, at Paulding	Feb. 3, 4
Enterprise circuit, at Zion's Hill	10, 11
Spring Hill circuit, at Bethel	17, 18
DeKalb circuit, at Pleasant Ridge	24, 25

The district stewards will meet at the Methodist church in Meridian on Wednesday, January 3, 1877, at eleven o'clock A. M.

11 JOHN A. ELLIS, P. E.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.

EUTAULA DIST.—FIRST ROUND.

Eufaula station	Jan. 6, 7
Villula, at Jernigan	13, 14
Theulah, at Spring Hill	27, 1
Clark, at Post Oak	27, 28
Union and Midway, at Midway	Feb. 3, 4
Newton, at Olivan Grove	10, 11
Clayton and Louisville, at Clayton	17, 18
Glenville station	24, 25
Perote, at Perote	Mar. 3, 4
Henry, at Abbeville	10, 11
Pea River, at Liberty	17, 18
White Pond, at Zion chapel	24, 25
Columbia, at Friendship	31, Apr. 1

The district stewards will meet in Eufaula, January 21, 1877. My postoffice is Eufaula, Ala.

28 HENRY D. MOORE, P. E.

CLANTONVILLE DIST.—FIRST ROUND.

Antaugaville, at Antaugaville	Jan. 6, 7
Prattville station	13, 14
Pleasant Hill, at Farmersville	20, 21
Sophia circuit, at Asbury	24
Monterey circuit, at Monterey	27, 28
Clanton circuit, at Maplesville	Feb. 3, 4
Randolph circuit, at Randolph	7
Verbena circuit, at Deatsville	10, 11
Camden, at Mount Carmel	17, 18
Lowndesboro circuit, at Lowndesboro	24, 25
Ball's Landing, at Tallassehee	Mar. 3, 4
Monroeville, at Monroeville	10, 11
Georgiana, at Georgiana	17, 18
Evergreen, at Evergreen	24, 25

Preachers in charge of mission will report at the Quarterly Conference of the charges to which they are attached. The district stewards will meet at Lowndesboro on the twenty-fourth of February. Delegates to the District Conference will be elected this round.

ANDREW J. BEARD, P. E.

28 Summerfield, Ala.

GREENSBORO DIST.—FIRST ROUND.

Livingston	Jan. 6, 7
Eutaw and Greene	13, 14
Havana	20, 21
Newbern	27, 28
Forkland	Feb. 3, 4
Cuba	10, 11
Graton	17, 18
Butler	24, 25
Belmont	Mar. 3, 4
Gainesville	10, 11
Demopolis	17, 18
Greensboro	24, 25

28 A. H. MITCHELL, P. E.

MOBILE DIST.—FIRST ROUND.

St. Paul's	Dec. 30, 31
Franklin street and Toulminville	Jan. 6, 7
Whistler	13, 14
Eastern Shore, at Sibley's	20, 21
Mount Pleasant, at Stockton	27, 28
Pollard and Blackwater	Feb. 3, 4
St. Francis street	10, 11
Citronelle	17, 18
Pensacola	24, 25
Warrington	25, 26
Milton and Yellow River mission	Mar. 3, 4
Grand Bay	10, 11
St. Stephen's, at St. Stephen's	17, 18
Bladon and Oktuppa, at Mount Zion	24, 25

21 S. H. COX, P. E.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Snyder's Curative PADS.

WORN OVER PART AFFECTED, ABSORB ALL MALARIA FROM THE SYSTEM.

They positively cure the worst cases of Liver, Lung, Heart, Kidney, Spine, Bladder and Womb ailments, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Costiveness, Soreness in pit of Stomach or Bowels, Female Weakness, Sick and Nervous Headache, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, Restlessness, etc., may be entirely eradicated by wearing one of our Pads. Many of our best citizens can attest to their merit.

The Liver and Lung Pad $2 00
Kidney and Spinal Pad 3 00
Womb Pad for Female Weakness. 3 00

☞ Ask your druggists for "Snyder's Curative Pad," and take no other, or inclose the price in a letter to us, and we will send them by mail. Address

E. F. SNYDER & CO.,
Manufacturers and Proprietors,
Indianapolis, Ind.

☞ For sale by J. L. LYONS, New Orleans.

A General Agent wanted for each State South, with whom a liberal contract will be made to supply the wholesale and retail trade. 8p nru

THE TRUTH AT LAST.

OFFICIAL REPORT

OF THE

Centennial Awarding Committee

ON THE

SINGER SEWING MACHINE.

THE United States Centennial Commission announce the following report as the basis of an award to the SINGER MANUFACTURING COMPANY, Elizabeth, N. J., for their FAMILY SEWING MACHINE:

REPORT.

A Shuttle Sewing Machine, embodying the following points of construction, viz.: A double bar operated from the end of a rotating shaft, in the organ hanging arm; a Shuttle supported in a shuttle carrier, moved transversely to the feed by means of a crank on a rotating shaft; a four-motioned positive feed, and a straight needle, with its eyes parallel with the direction of feed.

For the following reasons:

A SUPERIOR

Family Machine, embodying the greatest number of most approved mechanical devices to impart positive motions to the various parts, simplicity of construction, good workmanship, excellent quantity and quality of work done, originality, and for completeness of display.

A. T. GOSHORN, Director General.
J. R. HAWLEY, President.
Attest—MYER ASCHE, Assistant Secretary.

COUNTRY ORDERS.

PARTIES residing in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas and adjacent States, who buy their DRY GOODS FOR CASH, are invited to send for samples, which will be forwarded to them Free of Cost and Postage Paid, and where I am favored with an order which exceeds in the Freight thereon will be prepaid at my expense. Where the order exceeds $20, I will pay the cost of sending the Money, whether by Express, Money Order, Registered Letter, Bank Draft or otherwise.

The new postal law permits parcels weighing four pounds or less to be sent by mail, at the rate of one cent per ounce, so that parties ordering less than $10 worth can have their purchases sent to them through their postoffices at very slight expense. And where they desire packages sent by mail they should make provision for the postage. Goods sent C. O. D. to all points where the Express Company or Packets have Agents.

As a matter of accommodation I will purchase articles outside of my line, which is confined to Fancy and Staple Dry Goods, but will not pay the freight thereon unless the order for Dry Goods bought of me exceeds $10. No charge will be made for purchasing articles out of my line to a limited extent.

Articles not corresponding to order can be returned.

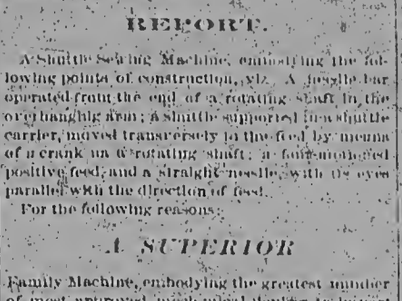
Should I not be able to fill the order the money will be refunded at my expense.

No charge made for Cases, Baling, Strapping, Drayage or Insurance.

My personal attention given to Country Orders having a resident buyer in NEW YORK constantly buying bargains, both at the large Auction Sales and at private sale. I am enabled to sell a large portion of my stock at very low prices, giving my customers the advantage of the bargains that I obtain by receiving new goods by every steamer from the North and Europe.

I have been in business more than TWENTY YEARS and the steady yearly increase of trade is a gratifying record of fair dealing, to which I refer with pride.

S. A. BRASHEAR,
Nos. 580 and 588 Magazine street,
Corner St. Andrew, New Orleans.
RELIABLE CASH HOUSE.



DR.
J. R. Knapp,
145 CANAL STREET,
FIRST CLASS
DENTISTRY.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH, which defy detection, and are comfortable and serviceable to wear, at GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.
Filling decayed Teeth so as to last for years,

WITHOUT PAIN,

By means of a new Invention.

All work guaranteed. Consultations free. Call and examine work and prices. 8p

HEATH, PIPPEY & LARA,
IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN
CARPETS, FLOOR OIL CLOTHS,
UPHOLSTERY GOODS, WALL PAPER, Window Shades, Cornices, Laces and Nottingham Curtains, Mirrors, Moldings, Chromos, Engravings, etc., etc., etc.
☞ Frames made to order—a specialty.
No. 89 Camp Street, New Orleans.

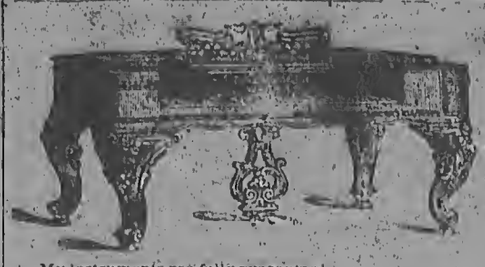
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, ETC.

JACKSON & GALLAGHER,

PIPE ORGAN BUILDERS,

915, 917, 919, Walnut St., St. Louis, Mo.

N. B. Church Organs Tuned and Repaired. Send for Illustrated Catalogue.



My Instruments are fully guaranteed

WE ARE PREPARED

To furnish all persons with Pianos, Organs, and Musical Merchandise.

You would be surprised to know how accommodating I am. Wherever you live, I can save you 25 to 50 per cent.

Address me direct, or through your preacher.

PHILIP WERLEIN,
NOS. 78 TO 80 BARONNE ST.,
NEW ORLEANS.

MISCELLANEOUS.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

THE GRAND POPULAR

HOLIDAY SALE

AT

DANZIGER'S.

Nothing Like It Ever Seen Before

$100,000

OF

HOLIDAY GOODS!

IN

IMMENSE VARIETIES!

CHOICE PRESENTS,
USEFUL PRESENTS,
DESIRABLE PRESENTS,
TO SUIT
THE POPULAR PURSE.

We take pleasure in extending a cordial invitation to the New Orleans public to visit our spacious stores and examine our extensive assortment of Holiday Goods.

Immense preparations made to accommodate our many friends and customers who intend getting for the holidays. Prices marked on all goods in plain figures. No one should fail to call at DANZIGER'S before buying their HOLIDAY PRESENTS, as we are displaying the most extensive assortment in the city, at prices that cannot be equaled.

Merry Christmas!

Happy New Year!

Holiday Goods!

Danziger's Holiday Sale!

OUR GRAND DISPLAY OF HOLIDAY PRESENTS.

Buy your SILKS at DANZIGER'S. Splendid Black Silks for the Holidays; splendid Colored Silks for the Holidays; splendid Black Velvets for the Holidays; splendid Colored Velvets for the Holidays.

What to Buy.—Choice quality Ladies' Handkerchiefs in beautiful boxes. Children's Handkerchiefs in pretty boxes. Silk Handkerchiefs, all styles. Lace Handkerchiefs, in all styles of real and imitation.

What to Buy.—Cuffs and Collars, immense assortment. Kid Gloves in boxes, choicest shades. Silk Ties and Lace Ties, beautiful goods. Ladies' Cloaks, our own importation. Misses' Cloaks, our own importation. Children's Fur Cloaks, splendid quality.

What to Buy.—Ladies' Fur Capes, large sizes, Indian Opossum Shawls. Beautiful Black Brochet Shawls. Choice Dress Silks. Choice Dress Cashmeres.

What to Buy.—Beautiful Photograph Albums, Choice Real Skin Pocket Books. Real Russia Leather Pocket Books. Gentlemen's Silk Umbrellas, pretty handles.

What to Buy.—Choice assortment of pretty Sash Ribbons, Coral Necklaces, Bracelets, all styles, Pearl Card Cases, Children's Fancy Sashes. In fact, to buy useful presents, call at

DANZIGER'S,

203 CANAL STREET 203

Between Burgundy and Rampart.

BRANCH STORES:

239 ROYAL STREET, corner St. Philip.

228 ROYAL STREET, two doors from St. Philip.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—To accommodate the public our store, No. 203 Canal street, will be open daily during Christmas and New Year week from 6 o'clock in the morning till nine o'clock in the evening.

LEVY BROS.,

580 MAGAZINE ST., NEW ORLEANS

THE MOST POPULAR

DRY GOODS HOUSE

IN NEW ORLEANS.

Keep constantly on hand a select stock of FANCY AND STAPLE DRY GOODS, consisting of Bleached and Unbleached Cotton, Cashmere, Flannel, Dress Goods, Hosiery, Corsets, Ribbons, Cassimere, Jeanines, Merinoes, Blankets, etc.

A Specialty Made of Black Alpaca.

Our BELLA Kid Gloves are charmingest, and money refunded or another pair given in case they ripp or tear while putting them on.

Orders from the country strictly attended to.

OTHER DEALERS MAY ADVERTISE IMMENSE REDUCTIONS and CHEAPER THAN EVER, but when you wish to secure REAL BARGAINS in

China, Glass and Crockery Ware,

GO TO THE VETERAN OF THE TRADE,

ISIDORE LEVI

WITH A. PEREIRA CO.,

NO. 24 MAGAZINE STREET,

Where you can buy, at Retail:

A Real French China DINNER SET, 115 pieces, for	$18 00
TEA SET (same quality goods), 44 pieces	8 50
Stone China DINNER SET, 124 pieces	12 00
TEA SET (same quality goods), 44 pieces	3 00
Decorated CHAMBER SET, 11 pieces	5 50
Stone CHAMBER SET, 11 pieces	2 50

And all other goods, throughout the Largest Stock in the South, Equality Cheap; and to Wholesale Buyers as great advantages as if they went North to select.

Goods being imported direct, with no intermediate profit to pay, enables us to offer the Best Inducements to All Buyers.

FAIRBANKS' SCALES.

GUARANTEED U. S. STANDARD.

FAIRBANKS'

COTTON AND SUGAR BEAMS.

Branch House—88 Camp Street.

FAIRBANKS & CO

OPIUM and Morphine habit absolutely and speedily cured. Painless; no